

RAMBLIN' AROUND

By PAUL BAKER

Father's Day is near at hand—a day when the so-called "head of the house" is king for a day. It's good while it lasts and the old boy is certain to feel he isn't such a bad sort after all. But Pop will probably be thankful, too, for that day, and count his blessings. If he hadn't been a father, he would have been only half-educated. He wouldn't know the latest slang, the newest dig tunes or the hottest comic books. He would long ago have forgotten how to fly a kite or mend the kitchen sink. He wouldn't be half the guy he is, if he hadn't learned to be patient while Junior practiced on his horn and little sister exercised the piano. He writes themes, figures arithmetic and learns to spell. Yes, Father gets educated and tamed. He works all day and walks the floor half the night. Let's give him a salute—

Daddy, good old Daddy, Head of the fam-i-lee

Carrizozo will get some advertising as being an honest town as a result of an incident that happened this week. Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Roy of Cincinnati, O., stopped to eat at a local restaurant. Later when they had driven away a short distance, Mrs. Roy missed her purse and then remembered she had left it on the trunk of the car. They returned to the cafe and reported the loss to City Marshal Gallegos. Just then a man drove up in a pickup with a Dona Ana county license and handed the officer a purse that he had found on the street. It was Mrs. Roy's and contained a considerable amount of money. The finder of the purse drove away without being identified. All Harkeys and their kin had a centennial celebration last Saturday at Harkeyville Park in San Saba, Texas. The event was commemorative of the 100 years the Harkeys have been in Texas—from 1855 to 1955. It was expected that more than 500 Harkey kinfolks would be present. John W. Harkey, one of the New Mexico branch, was not able to attend due to the press of ranch work, but sent a telegram of congratulations. The State Dental Board is to hold examinations next week to admit qualified applicants to practice in the state. Does Carrizozo need a dentist? Ask Mrs. H. T. Ray. She had to go to Alamogordo for dental work last week and before she got out of town her car was filled with youngsters on the same mission. The way we heard it, it wasn't a Sunday school picnic. One youngster had a toothache and howled all the 60 miles. As if that wasn't enough, a tire blew out and had to be changed. Quite a day!

Wash Tubbs and Captain Easy have shared many exciting experiences in their popular comic strips that appear in many daily papers over the nation. Right now Captain Easy is in the midst of a guided missile epic in the vicinity of Carrizozo. Strange and mysterious things are going on in the action between Captain Easy and the Good Guys and the "Comrades" on the other side. Mrs. Julia Sherrill and Frank Boyce called our attention to the strips now appearing in the Herald-Post, in which Carrizozo is frequently mentioned.

Writing in the Las Cruces Citizen, Editor Homer Gruver reviews the highlights of the controversy over Sherman Ford, Jr., editor and publisher of the Grants Beacon. At their recent convention in Ruidoso, Mr. Ford asked the New Mexico Press Association to back him up in a libel suit instituted against him in the Grants. The publishers withheld their support until the case develops further. In his comments on the unpleasant situation in Grants, Editor Gruver says "There's two sides to every story and two sides to Mr. Ford's trouble in Grants. On one side: The city officials, the county officials and the school officials resent this 'young whippersnapper' from New York' coming into Grants and trying to 'reform' the town. On the other hand, Mr. Ford is a good-looking, intelligent young man of 24. He has some writing experience; has even had a book published. He is a crusader and a non-conformist. I believe, every publisher stands behind him in the fundamentals he is upholding; to get those in local politics to live up to the law; especially that law which provides that all records, minutes, and meetings of elected bodies shall be made available to the press." In conclusion, the Las Cruces editor offers some sage advice, which applies not only to newspaper publishers, but everyone else as well: "I hope that he (Mr. Ford) will learn soon that this is a much more pleasant world to live in if we respect the rights and good wishes of others, rather than run around your patrimony."

Court Order Bans Bonito Transfer Pending Hearing

According to a press dispatch from Alamogordo, the district court at Santa Fe will hear on June 27 arguments in the dispute over water rights in the Bonito stream system. The news item stated: "The state engineer has been barred from approving applications to transfer Bonito water rights to Alamogordo, Holloman Air Force Base and other communities on the west side of the Sierra Blanca mountains. "The court order was obtained by George Shipley, Alamogordo attorney representing several Carrizozo residents who protest the transfer. The June 27 hearing is on that order. "Notice of the applications for transfer of the rights appeared in a Roswell newspaper. Shipley, in getting the court order, contended the publication did not meet requirements of the law specifying the notice appear in a newspaper within the bounds of the affected area. "The attorney said the manner of publication prevented his learning of filing of the applications until the deadline for protesting had passed. The state engineer disallowed a protest lodged at a May 3 hearing at Carrizozo because the protest was filed too late."

ROSWELL MAN HELD ON MORALS CHARGE

Steve R. Sanchez of Roswell has been bound over to district court under $2000 bond on a charge of indecent handling of a female minor. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice of the Peace Clarence E. Shaw this week. Sanchez was arrested on a Carrizozo street Monday night when City Marshal Gallegos saw him making improper advances to the girl as she was on her way home.

with a perpetual chip on our shoulders."

Wednesday's El Paso Times carried a story about a modern Davey Crockett:

"Born in a 'dobe house in Old NM, Con-rard Hilton, King of the Hotel Peers."

The fascinating story of Conrad Hilton's success began with his birth in an adobe house in San Antonio, N. M., one of seven children. He was a boyish representative in the New Mexico Legislature, a second looney in World War I. . . got started in the hotel business in an oil boom town in Texas. . . now operates 27 hotels in five countries and has eight more under construction in the U. S. and abroad.

Conrad Hilton's success ties in with the remarks made by Robert R. Young, chairman of the board of the New York Central Railroad Co., to the graduating class of Culver Military Academy in Culver, Ind. (Newsweek): "Beware of inherited wealth. The joy of getting it better than spending. I have often marveled at the fact that so many large Eastern businesses are headed by Western boys. Is it because the son of the well-to-do Eastern family is exposed to social temptations which sap his energies and dull his perceptions, thus causing him to be outrun in life's race despite his heritage of accomplishment and family connections? . . . The Western boy at work in New York, bolstered, perhaps, by a little quiet homework, keen and fresh each morning, has proved himself tough competition for the man who wears the club tie. . . If you are an heir, or should marry one, be sure that your path is eased rather than greased by your patrimony."

R. M. Shafer Named GOP County Chairman

At a county convention held in Carrizozo Tuesday night, R. M. (Bob) Shafer was elected chairman of the Republican Lincoln County Central Committee. He fills the expired term of Marvin H. Roberts.

Central-committee officers re-elected were Mrs. Lloyd Vigil, vice-chairman; Albert Richardson, secretary; and John W. Wright, treasurer.

Three members were elected to the State Central Committee. They are Lloyd Vigil, Orlando Montes, and Wm. Glen Bradley. Precinct chairmen attended from Carrizozo, Capitán, Hondo, Nogal, White Oaks, Arabela and Green Tree.

Services in Corona For Roy Yancey

Funeral services are to be held in Corona Friday for Roy Yancey, lineman, who lost his life Monday while working on a high voltage line at Tulsa, Okla. While details are lacking, it is believed he came in contact with a hot wire while climbing a pole.

Mr. Yancey worked for the REA in Corona and in Albuquerque before going to Tulsa.

Among his survivors are his wife and four children; his mother and father; three brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Alma Miller Dies in Plainview

The sad news arrived in Carrizozo Wednesday afternoon telling of the passing of Mrs. Alma Miller, at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. G. Sargent, in Plainview, Texas. Mrs. Miller, 61 with cancer, had been in a coma for several weeks.

Services are to be held in Plainview either Friday or Saturday, under the direction of Lemon's Funeral Home.

Mrs. Miller was 53 years of age. She was born in Coryell County, Texas, and spent most of her life in that state. She came to Carrizozo in 1946 to manage the Carrizozo Country Club. During her residence here she made countless friends who mourn her passing.

Survivors, in addition to her mother, are three brothers, B. E. Sargent of Aztec, N. M.; Dot Sargent of Plainview; and Joe O. Sargent of Carrizozo; three sisters, Mrs. Annie Tilton, Mrs. Archie Old and Mrs. Jack Kurtze, all of Plainview.

B. E. Sargent came to Carrizozo Thursday and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Joe O. Sargent to Plainview.

Barbecue and Dance At Strickland Ranch

A group of parents of the Corona community are working together to put on a barbecue and dance at the Lyman Strickland ranch Saturday, June 18.

Tickets for the pit barbecue will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Dance tickets will be $1 per couple.

Proceeds from this project will be given to next year's Junior Class of Corona.

4-H Club Members Return from Camp

Twenty-seven 4-H members and leaders have returned from their camp held south of Cloudcroft. While at camp, the group participated in hikes, riffery, softball, and volleyball. Each evening was filled with activities such as skits and games, square and moker-type dances.

The theme of the camp was modeled after the State government with eight parties participating. Carrol Jones of Capitán and Judy McKnight of the Hondo Valley Club were elected lieutenant governor and secretary of state, respectively.

Jim Casey of the Hondo Valley Club was chosen as the best dressed sheriff during a contest the second evening.

The political party, led by Mrs. J. P. McKnight, put on a skit on hats constructed of material at hand. Pine cones and wood chips as well as many other articles were used.

The trip from 4-H camp was hampered slightly by a rain which made the road slippery. The only thing that concerned the group was that the rain did not cover a larger area.

Meeting to Discuss Grasshopper Control

Although the recent damp weather did not help the grass, it has hatched large numbers of grasshoppers. At present, the hoppers are small and little noticed, but as they grow and increase in size they will be easily seen.

A meeting is planned at the City Hall in Capitán on Thursday night, June 16, at 7 p.m., to consider this problem. A representative of the grasshopper control division of the Department of Agriculture will be at the meeting.

"If it is felt that grasshopper control is needed, a committee will be elected to represent the group in the control program."

County Agent Ralph Dunlap said this week, adding: "Also, as I plan to go to a summer school at Colorado A&M, the committee can act if needed during that time."

County TB Ass'n Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

New Mexico has the second highest incidence of tuberculosis among all our states, a group was informed Tuesday night in Carrizozo.

The occasion was the annual meeting of the Lincoln County Tuberculosis Association and the principal speaker was G. R. Pierson, field representative for the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association, with headquarters in Santa Fe.

Mr. Pierson pointed out that there is a large reservoir of tuberculosis infection in New Mexico and for that reason this state receives the largest grant-in-aid of all the states.

Prior to the meeting at 7 o'clock sandwiches, salad and dessert were served by ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. C. O. Brewster presided over the business meeting and the report of the secretary and treasurer was made by Mrs. Julia Sherrill.

The following officers and committee members were elected for the current year; Dr. J. P. Turner, president; Mrs. C. O. Brewster, vice-president; Mrs. Julia Sherrill, secretary; Mrs. Fred English, treasurer; Mrs. A. N. Spencer, seal sale chairman; R. G. Firmán, chairman of health education; Clarence E. Shaw, case finding chairman; Paul Baker, public relations;

Mrs. P. M. Johnson, budget and program chairman; committee on constitution and by-laws; R. G. Firmán, Mrs. English and Mrs. Spencer.

ASSOCIATION COUNTY-WIDE

An official board is to be appointed to represent the Lincoln County Tuberculosis Association in all parts of the county. Suggested names will be sent to the State Association for confirmation.

In his remarks, Mr. Pierson said "The Lincoln County chapter has had a very active program in the past and it is our hope that it will be continued." He praised the County Association for its fine record in the seal sale last year. Lincoln County exceeded all other counties in the state in funds raised, based on wealth and population. Activities of the Association are financed by the sale of Christmas Seals each year.

One of the activities has been to assist the Mobile X-ray unit, which took 1325 chest X-rays in the county. The Association paid for many follow-up films on chest X-rays.

Fifty years ago, Mr. Pierson said "a diagnosis of tuberculosis was a death sentence. Today it can be cured, but the first step is prevention and that is the function of the health education committee. To treat TB, it must first be discovered by your local physicians and your case finding committee."

A film was shown, "You Can Help," showing the progress made in the fight against TB throughout the years.

Attending the meeting were Mr. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Brewster, R. G. Firmán, Mrs. Birdie Walker, Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Mrs. Edna Littleton, Mrs. Julia Sherrill, Mrs. A. N. Spencer, Mrs. Fred English and Clarence E. Shaw.

Fiesta Day will begin at 12 noon with dinner being served, featuring a Mexican combination plate, sandwiches and desserts. Bingo, prizes, games and dancing will follow.

The feature of the evening will be a musical program with local talent, beginning at 7:30. A dance with orchestra will conclude the evening.

Runaway Boys Are Arrested in Carrizozo

Two run-away boys, headed for the West Coast, got only as far as Carrizozo in their flight from Shreveport, La., and this week are right back where they started from. The youths were picked up June 3 on Highway 380 by State Patrolman Eddie Apodaca and brought into Carrizozo.

Investigation disclosed they had broken into the Hondo Trading Post the night before and taken $1.94 in pennies and a flashlight. Shreveport authorities were glad to have the boys returned as both had been in difficulty there.

Food Commodities To Be Distributed

George Fuchs, chairman of the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners, announced this week that food commodities will be available for issue June 27 and 28 to all public assistance clients and to needy unemployed families.

Applicants for the commodities should contact Lorena S. Casey at the County Welfare Office.

The distribution of commodities—milk products, shortening, beans and rice—will be made at the Courthouse on the above two days.

OK Bonds for New Estancia High School

Voters of the Estancia School District by a narrow margin last week approved the issuance of bonds in the amount of $103,000 to build a new high school with an auditorium-gymnasium.

The vote was 121 for and 115 against. The bond issue was defeated in an election two years ago.

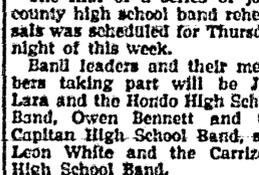

Voting by precincts was: Estancia, 83 for the bond issue, 69 against; Ewing, 12 for, 1 against; McIntosh, 13 for, 2 against; Willard, 2 for and 44 against.

Sets Record

VAN NUYS, CALIF.—National Guard Pilot Lt. John M. Conroy made aviation history by zooming across the country and back to complete the first sunrise-to-sunset trip between the coasts. The 5088-mile round trip between Van Nuys and New York, which took 11 hours, 26 minutes and 33 seconds, made good Conroy's plan to have breakfast here, lunch in New York City and dinner back here. When Conroy, 34, landed his F96A Sabre jet at 6:26:18 PM at San Fernando Valley Airport, he was later fired to salute the officers' dance of the 146th fighter wing. He is now leaving plane with (L to R) Barbara J. Jeane, pushing Williams, 1 in buggy, Lt. Lt. John Conroy holding Timothy.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

WELFARE LISTS OPEN, SNOOPERS TO BE CHECKED

SANTA FE, June 16—Welfare department rolls were thrown open to inspection June 10, three weeks before the mandatory date, in a form more complete than anticipated, and under a system that is supposed to keep tabs on all who come to look.

The freak law permits looking at the lists, shouting the names from the roof tops and listing them on telephone pole bulletins, but prohibits publication of any one or more names in a newspaper or their use by radio or television did not require the opening of the rolls until the end of the month. It also forbids revelation of records concerning children but the department has opened a list of those on the Aid to Dependent Children program because only the names of the parents are listed.

The lists are on file at each county office of the welfare department showing all in the county, their names, addresses and the sum received for the month, who are on the welfare lists. The only exceptions are the few coming under the child welfare program.

The scheme to check the identity and motive of each person who comes to look at the records is arrogant and without support in the law. No welfare social worker or bureaucrat has the right to demand a citizen's motive or his business as a prerequisite to seeing a public record. Any who try it should be referred to the district attorney and falling action there to the attorney general in Santa Fe.

Meanwhile the Santa Fe Mexican is planning to test the law forbidding newspaper publication of the names. Editor Joe Lawler said that unless there is reversal of present plans the paper would publish the entire June list of Santa Fe welfare rollers and then stand back and let the prosecutors do their best to uphold a law that says a newspaper may not publish a public record.

The welfare department crowd doesn't like the law and is likely to ask for its repeal. They think the public list will be utilized by bill collectors, gossip and those trying to exploit the unfortunate. They don't mention it but the open records also threaten to show up the welfare workers for any chiselers who appear on the rolls and to rule out the playing of favorites among the welfare clients which come workers indulged in during the closed list period.

LAS CRUCES JUDGE CALLED ON CARPET

The supreme court will hear arguments Monday on permanently barring Judge Bill Scoggin of Las Cruces from further action in the divorce case of J. and Mrs. Horton E. Ryan of Las Cruces in which the high court has already over-ridden the Las Cruces jurist twice on his orders pertaining to a 15-year-old daughter of the couple.

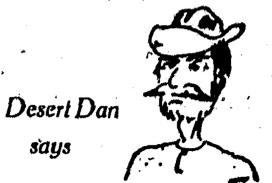

The child who wanted to stay with her father after Scoggin had awarded custody to the mother was jailed by the judge in Las Cruces without charges being filed and committed to the insane asylum at Las Vegas on an order which the supreme court held was illegal and void. An asylum officer said no mental or nervous disorder had been observed in the child. District Attorney C. C. Chase who was ordered by Scoggin to file an incontestible delinquency charge against the girl testified she was not incorrigible, that she had never been filed on before and did not have a bad school record. Earlier Scoggin had told the girl she would be sent to the reform school if she violated the court's order awarding her to the custody of her mother.

SENATOR CHAVEZ SHOWS HIS POWER

Sen. Dennis Chavez, chairman of the Public Works committee, has pulled his rank on the state-house by blocking a $750,000 road project in Santa Fe county. Denny ordered U. S. Public Roads Bureau financing of the federal aid job withdrawn until the committee was satisfied that by-passed residents of the Te-saque settlement were not getting a bum deal. The highway department had already conducted hearings on the location of the road and had agreed to the by-pass and set June 27 for letting the job to contract. Chavez, at the head of the Senate committee, can stop most any federal aid job in the state as the whim moves him. The federalists put up two-thirds of the money.

Better Highways Not Complete Answer to Traffic Accidents

Philadelphia — A network of superhighways crisscrossing the country will be a boon to traffic movement but will prove incapable of reducing traffic accidents the 40 to 50 percent that has been promised unless the program includes proper traffic law enforcement, Paul H. Blaisdell, traffic safety director of the Association of the Casualty and Surety Companies declared today.

Mr. Blaisdell, speaking to the Mid-Atlantic Highway Conference in session here, stated that "we do not have one single shred of evidence with our existing post-war creations in superhighways to support the promise that a better highway, alone and unaided, will greatly reduce our traffic accident experience."

"Instead, we have ample proof that until modern highways have the accompaniment of stepped up traffic law enforcement and tighter driver control, there is just as great a likelihood that our accident troubles will increase. The growing favorable traffic casualty record of the present turnpikes and superhighways dates only from the day that modern techniques of enforcement were applied freely, firmly and impartially."

NEED TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

Mr. Blaisdell, who spoke on behalf of the insurance organization's Accident Prevention Department, declared that the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies "... supports fully the program for a better national system of highways." Modern highways, he emphasized, if accompanied by modern enforcement, would make a major contribution to traffic accident prevention but warned against relying on a national good highways program as an exaggeration of safety possibilities.

"It would appear to be a statement of the obvious," he pointed out, "to say that the building of adequate modern highways would reduce traffic accidents. Our common sense alone will indicate that the elimination of curves, the widening of pavement, the improvement of surface, the correction of grades and the redesign of intersections would greatly improve the flow of traffic and would so engineer safety into the roadway that accidents should drop sharply."

"A look at the record, however, tends to shatter this idealism. Reports of the states tell us that 78 percent of the fatal traffic accidents take place on straight level roads, with the remaining 22 percent on some combination of curve, turn, grade or crest of hill. Moreover, the experience with our eastern turnpikes tells us that when the highway is

Jas. A. Cooper Sr. and Jas. A. Cooper Jr., were visitors in White Oaks from Ancho.

Several misfortunes were reported in Ancho during the week. Twelve of Nathan Adler's fine year-old hens disappeared Sunday night. The Ancho store was broken into the same night; also four head of cattle were killed by railroad trains.

Among those attending teachers' institute in Carrizozo were Bessie White, Iona Stevens, S. H. Nickels, Alma Roberts and Ula Edmiston of Carrizozo; Miss Ethel Phillips of Ft. Stanton; Mrs. Vula Thompson of Tinnie; Miss Lillie Starnes, C. Y. Belknap and P. L. Reed of Capitan; Miss Alma McNaughton and Geo. H. Webb of White Oaks; Miss Dora Clements and E. A. Haggard of Corona; Mrs. M. L. Blaney of Ocurti; and G. E. Cardwell of Nogal. Entertainment included an excursion to the Mal Pais, with supper served there.

L. R. LaMay loaded-out a hundred yearlings, sold to Ellis Richardson. W. M. Ferguson and Lin Branum disposed of 200 yearlings to a Panhandle buyer, at a good price.

W. M. Barnett was grading the Carrizozo-Corona road between the Experiment Station and Nogal draw.

Mr. Frank Maxwell and little son returned from an extended visit to West Virginia.

P. C. Baird, sheriff of Mason County, Texas, with Mrs. Baird and their daughter, were in Carrizozo visiting their sons, John B. and Roy Baird.

Little Elmer Eaker, the hustling newsboy, was confined to his bed by illness.

Nelsen Main Speaker At State REA Meet

About 65 representatives of New Mexico rural cooperatives attended the recent state REA convention at Las Vegas.

Principal speaker was Anchor Nelsen, national REA administrator. Nelsen told the group that "grass roots initiative has paid off in our program. Local people have done much to stimulate the use of electricity on the farm."

Pointing to the impressive growth of rural electrification, Nelsen said, "After 20 years of rural electrification cooperatives, more than five million farms or 95 per cent of the total in the United States are electrified. REA systems (950 electric co-ops) serve 53 per cent of these farms with electricity. "Back in 1935 only 3.3 per cent of the farms in New Mexico were electrified." Nelsen stated. "Today, more than 75 per cent have electricity."

Loans to co-ops in the state during the fiscal year, he said, (Continued on Page 7)

MONEY AND BANKING
 In Everyday Living

IF THERE'S A MORTGAGE on your home, do you have the amount of the mortgage covered by life insurance? If you take out a policy for this purpose, the proceeds will pay off the mortgage in the event of your death, so that your family would have no further payments to make. Such insurance offers another advantage: As the year goes by, the policy builds up a cash surrender or loanable value, which you can borrow against during your lifetime should emergencies arise.

"I'd like to pay you now," said a lady we know to the man who had refinanced her home, "but my husband has the checking account in the family. I'll have to wait until he gets home." The solution for this couple might be a joint checking account with us: One account opened by two people. Either person may make a deposit. Both sign an agreement that either may draw checks against the account; thus either may pay a bill by check promptly and conveniently.

A BANK'S "ACCOUNTING" of the conduct of its business is its periodic Statement of Condition. Ours tells where we stand financially: Tells you, for example, what part of total deposits is invested in mortgages and other loans to local individuals and businesses. You see how we put depositors' money to work soundly and in the interest of serving the whole community. Stop in for our latest statement of condition; ask us any questions about it that may occur to you; and find out how we can serve YOU.

THE FIRST PLANE AT LORDSBURG

The first airplane landed at Lordsburg in the fall of 1911 on the same day that the circus was showing in town. People wanted to see both, and the plane was the favorite attraction. Arrangements were made with the Southern Pacific Railroad roundhouse to blow the whistle when the plane arrived, and Claude Fuller recalls. The whistle blew while the circus was under way, and something like a stampede started at the circus. People liked to have torn down the circus tent in getting out.

The plane landed about a half mile from town. Some went in the few cars available, some on horseback, a few in buckboards, but most of the people on foot.

The airplane was at Lordsburg about 45 minutes. The people who stampeded out of the circus tent decided to go back and see the rest of the performance. When they got there, the tent was being taken down.

Piloted by C. P. Rogers, the plane was the first that ever crossed the United States. His sponsors were advertising a drink, Vin-Fizz, and as the plane circled over Lordsburg the pilot threw out advertising streamers. Rogers' wife and his sponsors followed the plane in a special train carrying gasoline for his engine.

Rogers took off from Lordsburg about 4 o'clock that afternoon and made the hop to Wilcox, Ariz. He started his flight in Jacksonville, Fla., and his destination was Long Beach, California.

The pilot's plane fell while he was stunting flying on his arrival over Long Beach, and he was killed.

FIRST BATHHOUSE

The first bathhouse preceded the city of Truth or Consequences.

When S. L. Benick came to New Mexico in 1902, a pool had been dug out at what is now the foot of Main Street and almost opposite the front of the present post office in Truth or Consequences.

A wall and a floor had been built around the pool and it was covered with a brush roof. The spring waters came up to about a man's neck.

People traveled to the spring in wagons and camped. They had to bring their own food because the nearest store was at Las Palomas seven miles south. Bathers took their turn in the healthful spring waters. The baths were free since the land was on government reserve.

The site of the first bathhouse now is used as a drinking spring. (Any New Mexico folklore contributions may be addressed to Ted Raynor, 2715 North San Marcial Street, El Paso, Texas.)

Family Reunion Held in Ruidoso

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Luallin of Ruidoso were hosts at a family reunion recently. They had her mother and two of her sisters and their families with them. The visitors were Mrs. Leona Porterfield of O'Donnell, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Haynie of Raymondville, Texas; and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Copelin of Tahoka, Texas.

Refinish Furniture In Your Spare Time

Want to do some refinishing of all old pieces of furniture during some of your spare time? You can, and it's not such a tedious job as you might figure.

It's a lot easier to remove the old finish than it used to be. In fact, this is one of the easiest parts of the job if you have a can of paint and varnish remover handy.

Take an old paint brush, dip it in the remover, and spread it over the finish that you want to take off. Wait for about two minutes and you can scrape the old paint or varnish right off as easily as you could scrape off a coat of butter. If the old coating is too thick, you may have to give the remover more time to work. Or it might take two applications.

It's a lot easier to refinish furniture that is fairly plain rather than with lots of "gingerbread" on it. But you can do a fine job on either one if you have the patience and lots of energy. Use a rag to get into the fancy work of the furniture. You can wipe the old paint off.

One of the important steps following the paint removal is to make sure that you finally get rid of the remover. You can usually do this by going over the wood with a little steel wool.

As a final touch before you begin with the new finish, go over the wood with a bit of fine sandpaper. Do this, of course, after you have let the wood dry thoroughly.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Two years ago when the U.S.P.H. Hospital at Ft. Stanton was closed we were transferred to Fort Worth, Texas, and after almost two years in Texas (which we did not like), we decided to accept a job offered by the Alaska Native Service here at Mt. Edgecumbe.

We arrived at our new home May 24, 1955. We like Alaska and our new home very much. The people are wonderful and are from most every State in the Union. They are very friendly and helpful.

The country is beautiful — high, snow-capped mountains and deep blue bays. We live on a tiny island and our nearest town, Sitka, is 500 yards across the bay. Sitka is the fourth largest city in the territory with 2000 persons. So it is a "City" in the Territory.

We wish to extend our greetings and best wishes to all our friends and one-time neighbors of Lincoln County. We miss our friends and families and also miss New Mexico, which we are sure we shall always call "Home."

We enjoy the letters from many friends, but would have to have the "Lincoln County News," so that we may know about those we don't write to and also know what's going on in our home County.

Please air mail the paper as it would take weeks to get it by regular mail (if we did receive it). Write what the cost would be for a year and we will mail a check.

Jim and I shall say "hello" to all the patients and ex-patients of Fort Stanton wherever they may be.

ALTO BRIEFS

(AILEEN HALEY LINDAMOOD)

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McRae and Hamel of Midland are enjoying a short stay in their summer home at Eagle Creek Lodge. Their weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. William McMillan, also of Midland.

Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Van Pelt and Mr. and Mrs. Jim McEuen and Jimmy Ray were in Roswell visiting Mr. and Mrs. Barney Luck. The Lucks will be remembered by all at Alto as they lived here for many years before moving to Calif.

A/C and Mrs. Roy J. Casey of March Field, California, visited his aunt, Mrs. George Creel of the Hi Mesa Ranch.

George Dingwall was a business visitor in Carrizozo Friday of last week.

Mrs. Earl Jordan and daughter, Judy, of Albuquerque are in Ruidoso for an extended stay with Earl Jordan. He is superintendent of the construction work on Highway 37 for J. W.

Jones Construction Co. They are welcome and frequent visitors at the Alto store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lineol White and family of the Hi Mesa Ranch returned Tuesday from a trip to El Paso.

The construction workers for J. W. Jones and all of us at Alto were saddened last week by the untimely and tragic death of Frank Jipp. His fellow workers regarded him with great admiration and esteem. And though we at Alto knew him for only a short time we feel we have lost a cheerful friend. No greater memorial could be erected to him than the one his friends erect when they say they miss his sunny disposition and ready smile.

A well is being drilled at the Ruidoso Chinchilla Farm near Alto.

Guy Dabney and Carolyn of the Hi Mesa country were by the store on Friday.

Mrs. Rolla Markland and sons of Socorro were here the past week with Mr. Markland who is the dynamite expert for the J. W. Jones Construction Co.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Anderson and children of Las Cruces visited the George Dingwalls the past week end. Jetta and Edith

News of County Episcopal Churches

Sunday School hour at the Church of the Holy Mount, Nob Hill, Ruidoso, will be at 10 instead of 10:30 a.m., commencing Sunday, June 19, it is announced by Mrs. Vic Lamb, superintendent and Rev. Charles L. Conder, Vicar.

Morning prayer and sermon will be given at Fort Stanton at 10:00 Sunday, June 19, by Rev. Charles L. Conder, Hospital Chaplain, and at Holy Mount, Ruidoso, at 11 a.m. by Lay Readers from St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of Roswell.

Rev. Conder left Carrizozo Monday in company with Rev. C. L. Henry of La Union and Rev. Kenneth L. Rice of El Paso, to attend Clergy Conference at the Gellenthart Ranch north of Las Vegas and will return Friday.

Services at Glencoe are now held at 7:30 a.m. on the second and fourth Sundays of each month.

Ann, their daughters, stayed for an extended visit and were joined by Mrs. Edith Crawford of Carrizozo.

Bill Mills of Portales is a visitor at Joe Rodger's at Eagle Creek Lodge this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Nabours, daughter, Nita, and Gloria Weems of Cameron, Texas, have arrived at their summer home at Eagle Creek for their vacation.

Agricultural Aviation - Fast Growing Industry

Agricultural aviation has come a long way since the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station made the first experimental application of insecticide from an airplane in 1919.

The following figures from the Civil Aeronautics Administration point this up. One cultivated acre out of every six in the United States, is now being treated by aircraft with dust, spray, fertilizer, or other kinds of agricultural chemicals. Aerial crop control is done in every state on a total of more than 200 types of crops. More than 7000 aircraft are operated by private aerial applicator firms, and the total annual flying time in this business in 1933 was 722,000 hrs.

The annual amount of chemical dispensed by air has grown to $44,000,000 pounds of dust-type materials and 80,000,000 gallons of liquid sprays. Aerial pest control, weed control, and fertilizing add an estimated $3 billion to annual farm income.

Despite the tremendous growth in agricultural aviation, only recently have airplanes been specifically designed for this purpose. Most planes used in aerial application today were designed for some other purpose and then converted.

Applicators have often displayed ingenious ability in converting planes for agricultural purposes. They have been aided by some research in this field by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. But there is a need for further research to increase the effectiveness of treatments, reduce costs, and eliminate hazards to crop and man.

* ABOUT PEOPLE

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McDaniel and family spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Barnum. Mrs. John Tilch and daughter, Joan, and son, Johnny, returned home Sunday evening. They had been visiting Mrs. Tilch's mother and sister in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Huffman are in Hacketts town, N. J., visiting his sister, Mrs. A. S. Curtis, and family. They will return to Carrizozo in about a month.

Mrs. Betty Howell and son, Roy, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shafer. Mrs. Howell was recently a patient in the Carrizozo Hospital.

A/C Robert E. Berry and his sister, Miss Era Berry, left Monday for Albuquerque where they are visiting their sister, Mrs. Walter Schoonover, and family. Sgt. Berry will leave soon for Dover, Del., which will be his base as a member of an inter-continental flight crew. Miss Berry will return to Carrizozo this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Werner and children of Espanola were in Carrizozo this week visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wooten and children left Tuesday for Des Moines, N. M., for a visit with their son, Ben Wooten, and family. The Dewey Wootens will continue their vacation in New Mexico and in El Paso.

Station Wagons Now Very, Very Smart!

The station wagon of today is quite a different vehicle from those of just a few years ago. Some 1935 models are really something! No longer do they all carry the somewhat dubious title of "station wagons." The names have been changed to Suburban, Westchester, Estate Wagons, etc. Along with the change in designation has come a great deal of restyling. No longer are they finished in varnished wood, which before too long could take on a weather-beaten appearance unless the owner regularly provided a good sanding and varnishing job, like the treatment required by a smart cruiser or speed boat.

A demonstration of the best known methods of hair and scalp treatments to be given to the citizens of our city.

HAIR AND SCALP AUTHORITY
HERE TO TELL TRUTH ABOUT BALDNESS

A personal demonstration will be held from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. on Saturday ONLY, June 18, 1935, in the Motel Petty in Carrizozo, New Mexico by the Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The Merrill Consultant is being sent here for the express purpose of explaining to the people of our city, the facts and the truth about hair and scalp disorders. He will explain the 18 common scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose their hair. He will demonstrate the proper methods of hair and scalp hygiene that have been proven successful for thousands of Americans from coast to coast. The Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants will give you, FREE, a complete hair and scalp examination and tell you why you are losing your hair, or why you are having trouble with your scalp.

Hopeless Cases Are Few
First, the Merrill Consultant is quick to tell the hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. Once a man is completely, shiny bald, nothing can be done. But the hopeless cases are few. Because, if the hair roots are still alive, (evidenced by the presence of light, colorless fuzz,) the Merrill Consultant can perform what sometimes seem to be wonders. In the private examination, these facts will come to light.

No Charge For Examination
The examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires a full 20 to 30 minutes. And, there is no charge for this examination. After the examination, you will be told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. After starting the treatment, you will make regular reports to the Merrill Laboratory in Wichita Falls, Texas. An expert will check your progress regularly, and keep in touch with you throughout your course of treatment. As you will be shown at your interview, Merrill offers you a written guarantee of satisfaction.

The Merrill Consultant will occupy a suite of rooms in the Motel Petty in Carrizozo, New Mexico on Saturday, June 18 from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. Ask at the desk for the Merrill Consultant and see what can be done for your troublesome hair and scalp condition.

NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY
You need not have an appointment to take advantage of this clinic. All examinations are private and you will not be embar-

New Hair Is Permanent
"If every man or woman will follow our directions faithfully during treatment and after finishing treatment, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," says this authority. "We know our treatments will work from our thousands of testimonials. It all depends on the individual person's faithful observance of a few simple rules."

Guarantee Proves Results
Merrill Hair and Scalp Consultants GUARANTEE, in a written certificate given to each new client, that if you are not responding satisfactorily to treatment at the end of 30 days, that all money paid on treatments will be graciously refunded. "We do this to overcome skepticism," says the Merrill Consultant. "Most of our clients are happy, satisfied men and women, confident that they will regain their hair and remove all traces of imbedded dandruff and other malicious hair and scalp ailments that prevent natural growth. This guarantee is for those who want to be assured that they will get their money's worth, and that is exactly what we intend to give them!"

A Trivial Note
Thousands of men and women have been helped by the Merrill methods. Because of their tremendous success in this field, it should be said here that there are some who cannot benefit from these treatments. Any person who is sick, shiny bald, is destined to remain so. If there is any sign of fuzz, no matter how short or colorless, there is a definite chance that hair may be re-grown in time. "We have no cure-all," says our expert. "But if you take care of your hair, we can help you have healthy, normal, lasting hair that you will be proud of all your life."

MISS JUDITH PERKINS BECOMES BRIDE OF RONALD L. THIELE

Miss Judith Baye Perkins became the bride of Ronald L. Thiele at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 5, in the First Baptist Church in Roswell. The double ring ceremony was read before an altar flanked with baskets of white gladioli and stock tied with white satin bows and with candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perkins, and Mr. Thiele is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Thiele of Bell Gardens, California, who were present for the wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and Chantilly lace with fitted bodice and square neckline. Her illusion veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls. Her something old was a string of pearls; gift of the groom's mother. She carried a white Bible borrowed from her sister and wore a sixpence and tiny blue sachet in her shoe. Her flowers were white rosebuds centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants wore waltz length dresses with bouffant skirts and fitted bodices. Their headresses were bandeau of tulle and tiny flowers matching their nosegays.

Miss Barbara Enright, maid of honor, wore bridal pink and carried a nosegay of pink and white rosebuds showered with aqua mist cornered ribbon. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Anthony Frangella, and Miss Sherrill Perkins, cousin of the bride, wore aqua mist dresses and carried nosegays of pinocchio pink sweetheart rosebuds, tied with bridal pink tulle and showered.

The junior bridesmaids were Miss Jane Perkins, sister, and Miss Barbara Bryan, cousin of the bride. They wore floor length dresses of pale yellow, and their flowers were yellow rosebuds and white stock tied with yellow shower ribbons.

Best man was Anthony Frangella. Ushers were Marshall Ivey and Richard Isler. Terry Kyle was the organist and accompanied Miss Louetta Frizelle who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

A reception followed in the church annex. The table was laid with lace with a centerpiece of white rosebuds. Miss Patricia Savage played for the reception, and Miss Gloria Wright was in charge of the guest book at a table centered with a 50-year anniversary candle. Mrs. J. R. Isler and Mrs. Ted Franklin presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. M. O. Rogers and Mrs. R. A. Perkins cut the cake.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. J. T. Perkins of Truth or Consequences, and Mrs. B. Greenwood of Corona, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shipman of Downey Calif., aunt and uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Wright and sons of Victorville, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hillger, Mrs. Perkins Prestridge, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hillger and Dave Hillger of Truth or Consequences; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Perkins and Band, Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Owen and Wanda Blanche, and Billy Glen Bryan of Corona.

 Joe: "Good idea. You teach her what's right."

The timid customer in a restaurant squirmed and fidgeted. Finally he beckoned the waitress and looking embarrassed, he said, "Could you tell me where the smoking room is?"
 "Oh, said the waitress, "you can smoke right at this table."

GAME DEPT. NEWSLETTER

MINNOWS GROW UP

Regulations of the Department of Game and Fish have a good deal to say about minnows, but one important matter is left to the fisherman's good sense. That matter is the disposition of the excess minnows.

What passes for a minnow is very often a tiny carp or buffalo fish. Both of these are rascals so far as game-fish habitat is concerned. And the buffalo-fish not only messes up the habitat, he also eats the adherent-fish eggs right off their sticks, like so much corn off the cob.

What it all adds up to is this — If you want to keep on catching game fish, don't empty your minnow bucket into the fishing water.

BUDWORM CONTROL

Chemical treatment of New Mexico's budworm-infested forests is at last getting under way, in parts of Carson, Santa Fe, Cibola and Lincoln National Forests. Spray sufficient to cover 470,000 infested acres has been furnished by Congress. It will be used on federal lands and the interspersed private tracts. However, the law requires that owners of these private tracts must help pay the cost.

When spruce budworm attacks are heavy, entire trees are stripped and killed. Such areas turn brown, as if scorched. A light attack reduces growth and weakens the trees, making them susceptible to later destruction by other insects. In normal years the spruce budworm is kept under control by its numerous insect parasites and predators and by wild turkey, which feed on bugs and worms.

Tests made from 1948 to 1951, with DDT sprayed in fuel oil, reduced the infestations by 97 to 99 per cent. The effect on wild-life was carefully observed. Birds, bees and mammals are not affected by the concentration which is being used in the present project. Some fish were found susceptible, but not cut-throat or rainbow trout. Nevertheless, the areas surrounding Jemez and Pecos Hatcheseries of the Department of Game and Fish will be omitted from treatment.

Ray Bell, the Department's chief of law enforcement, will act as safety officer during the spraying of the infested timberland.

COOK THAT BEAR MEAT

Trichinosis is a disease ordinarily transmitted to humans by insufficiently cooked pork. Three fatal cases in Pennsylvania were traced to pork sausage which had been smoked for three days and then eaten without further cooking.

Of interest to the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish is that another case of trichinosis in Pennsylvania was caused by eating bear meat. Thorough cooking is the best protection against this serious disease, and smoking is evidently no protection at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barber of Los Alamos were week end visitors of Mrs. Ida Parker.

Patent System, 165 Years Old, Spurs U. S. Inventiveness

Washington — Whoever uses a safety pin, answers a telephone turns on a light, or regains health by a new "wonder drug," can thank United States patent law — 165 years old in April — for spurring American inventiveness.

Since April 10, 1790, the man who builds a better mousetrap has had the right to protect his invention by a contract with the United States Government, which guarantees his ownership for 17 years. Then the patent becomes public property.

By thus adding what Lincoln called "the fuel of interest to the fire of genius," the patent system has produced more real wealth than all the gold mines on earth, the National Geographic Society says.

ABE'S APRONS

Lincoln's words are carved over the Patent Office door. Lincoln himself received a patent for a device to lift river boats off sandbars. Asked what he considered the first invention, he is said to have replied, "Man's first discovery was the fact that he had no clothes — whereupon he invented aprons."

Section 8, Article 1, of the American Constitution gave Congress power "to promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries." But the issuance of letters patent from a government to inventors was known long before.

As early as 1640, a man named Joseph Jenks petitioned the court of Massachusetts for a patent to an engine "for mills to go by water."

That first Federal law in 1790 required approval of all patents

by the President, the Secretaries of State, and War, and the Attorney General. Patent No. 1, signed by George Washington, went to Samuel Hopkins of Vermont for a method of "making pot and pearl ashes."

Since then, the roll call of inventors who received United States Letters Patent rings with names of genius: Eli Whitney for a cotton gin; Cyrus McCormick and the reaper; Samuel F. B. Morse's "telegraph signs"; Alexander Graham Bell for the

2,4-D is Killer of Rayless Goldenrod

Good news, ranchers! It's goodbye to rayless goldenrod, a poisonous plant which kills hundreds of cattle on New Mexico ranges every year. This cat-killing menace can be easily and effectively controlled by the chemical weedkiller, 2,4-D, according to results of a demonstration recently completed at the Circle Bar Ranch at Bueyeros in Harding County. Last summer, Norman Libby, owner of the ranch, set up 13 one-acre plots on rangeland badly infested with rayless goldenrod. Then, with the help of Harding County Agent Roy Fleming and the Department of Agriculture Services at New Mexico A&M College, Libby applied three different chemicals at different times. The weedkillers ranged in price from $4 to $13 a gallon, but 2,4-D, the most effective, was also the cheapest—only $2 an acre. The other chemicals were MCP and 2,4,5-T. When 2,4-D was applied in the summer, a 98 per cent kill was effected by early fall. The same kill was found in the spring after 2,4-D had been applied in the preceding fall. Both the amine and the low volatile ester forms of 2,4-D were applied at the rate of 2 pounds (or 2 quarts) of active material dissolved in enough water to spray an acre. A pint of Kerosene was also added to each 10 gallons of water, to act as a spreader. "Spraying in the summer is most effective in controlling rayless goldenrod," says County Agent Fleming, "because the plants are killed before their seed is spread." For complete eradication of the poisonous plants, the Circle Bar Ranch will spray the plots again this summer to kill young goldenrod plants which have developed from seed.

Wheat Farmers Vote On Marketing Quotas

Saturday, June 25, wheat farmers in commercial wheat states will vote in a referendum on marketing quotas for the 1956 wheat crop. If at least two-thirds of the voters approve quotas, they will be in effect for the 1956 crop with penalties on wheat harvested in excess of wheat acreage allotments. Also, under quotas, price support will be available to growers who comply with their wheat allotments, at a level probably between 75 and 82 per cent of parity. If quotas are not approved, quotas and penalties will not be in effect, and the price support level for cooperating farmers will be 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

A&M Schedules Seven Wool Grading Schools

Seven three-day schools featuring practical training in wool grading and sheep breeding will be held at New Mexico A&M College in July and August, Ivan Watson, extension animal husbandman, announced today. The first school is slated for July 11, 12, and 13. Subsequent schools will be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of each week thereafter in July and August with the exception of August 1, 2, and 3. The New Mexico Wool Growers, Inc., co-sponsor of the schools, will supply 250 representative New Mexico fleeces of all grades and yields, which will be used to teach wool grading and market values of grease wool. Conducting the schools will be P. E. Neale, professor of animal husbandry, J. Richard Stauder, extension sheep and wool marketing specialist, William D. McFadden, assistant professor of agricultural economics, and Mr. Watson. "The training sessions have been spread over a two-month period so that ranchers, wool graders, warehousemen, county extension agents, and others may attend on the most convenient dates," Watson said. "In order to provide each grower training facilities and equipment, each of the schools will be limited to about 20 trainees. For this reason, sheep and wool producers and others who wish to attend a specific school should make reservations at least two weeks in advance, signifying first and second choice dates." Correspondence regarding the schools should be directed to either Watson or Neale at New Mexico A&M College, State College. There will be no charge for the short course. One hundred and thirty-five ranchers, wool graders, warehousemen, county extension agents and students from four states attended similar schools at New Mexico A&M last year.

News & Views From The Nation's Capital

By JOHN J. DEMPSEY
Representative in Congress

Washington, June 16—What looks suspiciously like a cold war counter-maneuver by the Communists is the invitation by the Kremlin to Dr. Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the West German government, to a conference in Moscow, an invitation timed just ahead of Dr. Adenauer's visit to the United States. I am inclined to the belief that it is significant for two reasons. It adds credence to fairly well authenticated reports of internal troubles in Russia as well as in the Satellite countries. It also fits in with the familiar "divide and conquer" strategy of Stalin and his successors.

While attention of the Western Powers is largely devoted to affairs at the summit, Russia seems more intent on bilateral negotiations below that high peak of diplomacy. The Adenauer invitation, coupled with overtures being made to Japan, the Soviet demand for neutralization provisions in the Austrian peace treaty and the recent flirtation with Tito in Yugoslavia, has set a very definite pattern of Communist intentions. They are moves that the United States, Britain and France cannot regard with equanimity.

Bids for expanded trade relationships between Russia and the countries before which she is dangling inducements, political and economic, must be considered, in some degree at least, as desperation moves to bolster an ailing economy behind the Iron Curtain. In appraising Communist motives we must bear in mind the strategy Russia has employed successfully in fomenting and abetting open warfare in Korea, Indo-China, Formosa and other vulnerable spots. Russia does not stand to lose anything substantial by this present diversionary action. She could suffer a psychological loss. The tangles the Kremlin seeks are not Russia's now. We have been instrumental in building up the economies the Communists hope to exploit.

While we are conjecturing about what may happen at the summit, it would be well for us to find more about what is happening below. That may be what the President has in mind when he warns against too much optimism about definite results from the forthcoming Big housemen, county extension agents and students from four states attended similar schools at New Mexico A&M last year.

INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY GIVEN IMPETUS

Action of the House in authorizing $38 million for completion of the Inter-American Highway in three years should be hailed with satisfaction in the Southwest. The many delays in building that important artery into Central America and eventually into South America have not helped our relationships with our neighbors south of the border. In urging support of the authorization I told the House that further delay would result in increasing our share of the cost another $14 million, and added:

"But saving in construction costs is not the only incentive for the earliest possible completion of the Inter-American Highway. It will serve as a truly good-neighbor traffic artery in establishing better business, cultural, and mutual defense relationships with our friends to the south. If we are to be perfectly honest with ourselves we are forced to admit that in this period of critical world situations we have been inclined to place greater emphasis on our relationships in faraway parts of the world than we have close by. Perhaps the cold war has forced this situation upon us but I still believe the stronger the alliances we have in this Western Hemisphere the more secure we shall be. "A goodly part of the billions we have been pouring into foreign lands will not bring even a small part of the return in friendship and security that this comparatively small investment in the Inter-American Highway will bring."

Bill Would Correct Abuse of Mining Laws

Washington—What has a hot-dog stand got to do with mining? The answer is not so simple as one might suspect, says the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Sometimes the connection is more than a little surprising. To encourage discovery of needed minerals, federal law permits citizens to stake out claims on public lands in order to set up mining operations. The conditions are easy to meet—and, as it has turned out, easy to abuse. In recent years, says the Chamber, the abuse has been considerable in the 11 western states. Thousands of claims of dubious legality to the public lands have been filed ostensibly for mining purposes, but actually to obtain valuable timber, sites for summer cabins, filling stations, and hot-dog stands. The principal evil of these illegal claims, the Chamber is convinced, is their threat to sound conservation practices. Some of these claims have resulted in the ruthless cutting of Frank Brown, Jr., Carlton, Oregon, bred and sold this ram for $1,000, which topped the 85th California ram sale. The ram was bought by W. J. Wagoner and Weldon Craig, Livermore, Calif., at the sale where 1,940 rams and ewes were sold at an average price of $126 per head. The top selling pen of three rams in the sale was Hampshire consigned by Two Sisters Ranch, Klamath Falls, Ore., and sold to Melvin Preston, LeGrand, Calif., for $400 each. Buyers at the sale wanted big-faced rams. Eight breeds and some cross breeds sold, of which over 60 per cent were Hampshires. Topping all breed averages at $144 were 859 Hampshire rams. Averaging $85 per head were 270 Hampshire ewes.

Others have interfered with the legitimate grazing of livestock on the public lands. Reforestation and proper watershed protection become impossible under these conditions, so that both timber and valuable water are lost, the Chamber points out. Finally, illegal claims have blocked off many areas which could be used for public recreation. Legislation (H.R. 5501) to prevent the use of mining claims for other than mining purposes now is before Congress.

Week-End Driving Becoming Safer

The weekend driver is becoming less of a threat in New Mexico and has become a major factor in the reduced traffic toll for 1955, according to James F. Lamb, chairman of the New Mexico Traffic Safety Commission. "Traffic fatalities on Saturday and Sunday are running 26% behind the figures for the same days during the last two years," Lamb said, adding that education and enforcement have apparently been effective in striking at the foremost traffic problem, the "Sunday driver." The decline in weekend traffic deaths must be attributed to the fact that drivers are becoming aware of the need for defensive driving tactics on crowded highways and also to the increased courtesy among highway users, said Lamb.

The Chairman concluded by saying that "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" is succeeding thus far as fatalities for the first twelve days of the program are running three behind the same period last year.

The corrugated paper used annually for packaging and shipments from the Gulde Lamp Division of General Motors would cover a 100,000-acre farm.

ACTION ON GAME REFUGES

At the June 6 meeting of the State Game Commission the following game refuges were abolished: Bonita-White Mountain in Lincoln County; Fox Mountain in Catron; Pederal in Rio Arriba; Langford Ranch in Otero; Clavall in Roosevelt and DeBaca; Liberty and Crossroads in Roosevelt.

Ruidoso refuge in Lincoln County and Cloudercroft in Otero were amended because parts of village limits and a trap-shooting range belonging to a sportsmen's club encroached on them.

Clayton Lake refuge in Union County was created by the Commission. McCabe refuge in Roosevelt County had been previously abolished, but as a result of local protest, the Game Commission ordered the Department to restudy the situation. The Department reported that the refuge had no further game-management value. The Commission therefore determined that the abolishment will stand. The area is a quail and antelope section.

LOW WATER

New Mexico's water-supply outlook remains poor, according to a special Federal-State cooperative snow survey issued May 15. As of May 1, Elephant Butte reservoir contained 122,100 acre feet. The 10-year average is 713,500 acre feet. Caballo held 8700 acre feet; 10-year average 172,500. Conchas contained 131,200; 10-year average 318,000. But at Alamogordo, where the 10-year average is 31,900, there were 80,000 acre feet on May 1. The foregoing information is derived from the Crop Report of the Santa Fe Railway.

SIDEWINDER WANTED

Have you ever seen a sidewinder in New Mexico? This type of rattlesnake has been unofficially reported as seen in the State from time to time, according to Biologist Howard Campbell of the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish. He would like to get official documentation. In New Mexico Magazine's Mail Bag this month, Campbell asks "Does the sidewinder really occur in New Mexico?" He suggests that in addition to the sidewinder, there may be other rattlers that "sidewind" under certain conditions. He will welcome information on the subject.

55,000 TROUT FOR CIMARRON RIVER

The New Mexico Department of Game and Fish made its final haul on June 7 in the restocking of brown trout in Cimarron River, for E. T. Springer of Cimarron. It took two trips to McNary, Arizona, to pick up the 55,000 fingerlings.

This planting make restitution of game fish damaged last fall by treatment of water in Eagle Nest Lake with rotenone to kill off the rough fish. Repair of the gate valves was under way at the same time, and a miscalculation caused the rotenone to enter into the Cimarron River. Eagle Nest Lake is owned by E. T. Springer, and is operated under the terms of a Class A lake permit. Restocking of the Cimarron River was, therefore, Springer's responsibility. Since Springer elected to stock with 2-and-3-inch trout, no fishing will result this season from the plantings. But the Department has already stocked the Cimarron with catchable rainbows and will continue to do so all summer. Fishing should therefore be fine, especially in view of the fact that rough fish were removed last fall.

RABIES IS A FATAL DISEASE
The public is again warned of the danger of rabies. Any person bitten by an animal, whether a domestic or a wild animal, should immediately contact his physician and also the County Health Department at his county seat.

Where possible, the animal should be taken alive and confined; if that is impossible, animal should be killed and the head should be taken for laboratory examination. The County Health Departments will assist in submitting heads to the Public Health Laboratory in Albuquerque.

If the animal is found to be rabid, the victim of its bite must undergo preventive treatment, without fail and without delay. Rabies, once it develops, is 100 per cent fatal.

The Litterbug Begins to Read Signs
Albuquerque — Now that the fishing and camping season is here again our forest rangers and others' thoughts turn to empty beer cans, disposed tissue miscellaneous camp trash. This is the of a teeming multitude of litterbugs.

Litterbugs are mobile almost beyond belief. They permeate the furthest reaches of the sylvan hinterland. And in their wake is strewn an appalling assortment of indigestible waste. Nevertheless this cloudy picture is beginning to develop a silver lining.

Litterbugs are becoming literate. They are beginning to read and heed the signs. Here and there little shafts of sunlight, like "Ropes of Maya," come peeping through. Anti-litterbug campaigns are beginning to pay off.

will total $2,362,000. Nationally, he said, loan funds for the fiscal year 1956 will be ample. About $185 million have been set aside for installation and improvement loans to local co-ops.

Nelsen said he expects all power requirements in the United States to double by 1965 and triple by 1975. This, he pointed out, will mean a stronger agriculture and a stronger America. The annual convention featured a business meeting of directors, reports from committees, and election of officers.

Re-elected as state president of the Association was Paul L. Frost of Artesia; Flavio Vigil, Mora, was named vice-president; and John R. Morgan, Clayton, secretary-treasurer. Oliver Kimbrough, Clovis, was re-elected national committeeman.

Miss Maxine Hays Weds Earl E. Hammer In Roswell Ceremony

Miss Maxine Hays became the bride of Earl E. Hammer at a small afternoon garden wedding at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Marvin Hamiter in Roswell, Saturday, June 11.

The double ring service was read by Rev. Lewis Merritt, uncle of the bride. Attendees were June Fisher of Roswell, a cousin, and Earl Burgess of Abilene, Texas.

The bride wore white pique in princess style, and carried a white Testament, to which was attached white carnations. Miss Fisher wore pink linen.

A reception was held under a large willow tree. Mrs. Gene Curtis was in charge of the punch bowl, and the cake was cut by Mrs. Marvin Hamiter.

After a short wedding trip the couple will return to Abilene where both are students at Abilene Christian College.

Miss Hays, now Mrs. Hammer, is a 1933 graduate of Corona High School, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hays of Los Angeles, Calif. He plans to teach after earning his Master's Degree in Education.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kuykendall of Roswell were here the past week end visiting their sons, Lee and Claud, and their families. Joan and Gladys, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Kuykendall, returned to Roswell with their grandparents to spend a week.

Bill Turner, and his sister, Beverly, have returned from a visit with relatives in Texas and Arkansas.

PATENT SYSTEM

first telephone; Charles Good-year with vulcanized rubber; Thomas A. Edison for the incandescent lamp, phonograph, and motion picture camera; the Wright brothers for powered flight.

It took until 1911—121 years—for the first million patents to be issued. Patent No. 2,000,000 was awarded in 1935. No. 2,500,000 in 1950. Each year now sees about 40,000 new patents.

SAFETY PIN'S INVENTOR

Edison probably holds the record for number of patents issued to one inventor; he received some 1100. Less well-known is the safety pin's inventor, a man named Walter Hunt, who also produced America's first true sewing machine, paper shirt-collars, an ice plow, and a pair of shoes that enabled a circus performer to walk up walls. He patented his pin in 1849.

Since 1905, trade-marks have been protected under a registration act. President Hoover made new hybrid plant species patentable in 1930.

As recently as 1933, the giant American Telephone & Telegraph Company discovered to its chagrin that it had somehow failed to register the familiar "Bell System" bell as its trade-mark. An enterprising young man named Smith in Washington, D. C., however, had gone through all necessary steps. To recover its traditional symbol, Bell Telephone willingly bought him a new house in suburbs.

AROUND TOWN

Mrs. R. E. Berry who recently visited her mother, Mrs. Fannie Hutchins, in Campbell, Calif., reports her mother is very much improved in health. While on her trip to the coast, Mrs. Berry visited a number of relatives, including a niece, Mrs. Kenneth Downing in Los Gatos, Calif.—a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mabey, and several nieces and nephews in Artois, Calif.; a niece, Mrs. Tex Barnett and family in Oroville, and her son, Walter Berry, and family in Logans, Ore. Her son, R. E. Berry, was waiting there for her. He had just arrived aboard ship from Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fulmer and baby daughter Allison arrived in Carrizozo late Tuesday night to spend a week with Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fulmer. They will return to Chicago next Monday and Bill will resume his studies at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Tom G. James of Chicago is the house guest of Mrs. Sadie Rolland in Carrizozo. Mrs. James and her husband lived in Lincoln County for 20 years and made many friends. He was manager for the O-Bar-O Ranch. Jack White, proprietor of the Encino Motor Co., was a Carrizozo business visitor Wednesday.

A former Santa Fean, Mr. White opened a garage in Encino seven weeks ago.

Willie Gezelle, youthful Belgian citizen, who has been working in and around Carrizozo for several months, has returned to his home in Detroit.

Mrs. Edna Laramie returned last Wednesday from Davonport, Ia., where she took her father, Theodor Lantau, to make his home with another daughter, Mrs. A. B. Ausbrook. It is believed Mr. Lantau's health will be improved by living at a lower altitude.

Miss Jean Ross of Ft. Worth, Texas, is assisting with vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church in Carrizozo.

Beth Sweet, a college classmate, spent the past two weeks visiting Alma Eaker in Carrizozo.

Mrs. Jimmy Duncan is on two weeks' vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blana and family of Wichita, Kans., and Mrs. Harold Wardrip and family, also of Wichita, are visiting her.

TRACTOR CARE DURING SUMMER

By J. LEO DIRNBERGER Extension Agricultural Engineer New Mexico A&M College

In mid-summer a balky or stalled tractor means real grief. Avoid trouble by remembering that your modern work horse—like old Dobbin—needs daily grooming.

Keep it clean and you'll keep it running, advise tractor manufacturers. A tractor has to breathe so give both the air cleaner and oil filler cap daily attention—twice a day if fields are extremely dusty.

Its a simple job to service the air cleaner. If it's the dry type, just disassemble and empty accumulated dirt; if it's the oil type, clean according to instructions in the manual, then freshen with new oil. Remove any material that might have been sucked up against the air intake screen.

Care of the oil filler cap is an easy but important chore. Merely dip it in a solvent—dry cleaner is good—to wash dust and grime off the filter screen inside.

Give the battery, ignition cables and spark plugs some attention; most operators don't until trouble pops. A dirty ignition system can stop a tractor dead in its tracks especially in damp weather. Wipe off ignition cables, coil, distributor and spark plug insulators every day or two. Grease attracts dust, and dust, when damp, becomes a moist-wick causing the high voltage to leak or short circuit and engines to miss, stall or fail to start. Moisten the rag with solvent for a good job.

Keep tabs on hours of tractor operation and clean and adjust spark plugs every 100 hours; that's equal to 4,000 to 5,000 miles on your car.

In hot weather, don't neglect the battery; keep up the water level and make sure the holes in the vent plugs are not clogged with dust—pent-up gas pressure can split cell coatings. Never use an open flame around a battery unless you want a miniature H-bomb.

Make checking the oil level and lubrication, daily habits. Overheating, which can result in expensive havoc, has a number of causes but first check the fan belt.

Commercial radiator solutions will usually remove obstructions in the cooling system but in severe cases the radiator may need a reverse flush treatment with a solvent cleaner and compressed air. If this doesn't do the job, the radiator will have to be removed and taken to a radiator shop to be rodded out. Alkaline cleaners such as washing soda are effective in removing grease and loosening rust particles. To reduce scale formation, oxalic acid and the sodium sulfite cleaners have proved satisfactory, especially when the manufacturer's recommendations for use are followed.

And speaking of heat and labor, check your own. Ridding hours on end in the sun without a break is as foolhardy as running the tractor endlessly without attention. A breakdown in health can bring grief, too. Better climb off when there are signs of fatigue, find some shade, and have a thermos of milk, coffee, or lemonade. Truck drivers, factory and office people work better after a break—and so can you.

If Americans maintain the last 80 years' rate of progress for the next 80 years, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the income of the average family will be $25,000 of 1933 purchasing power. Present average family income is $5,000.

INSIDE CAPITAL

eratic chairman, Johnny Vigil, who works in the accounting department of the corporation commission under Pete Baca, is leading a movement for Baca to replace Pedro Ortiz y Pino in the $10,000 a year finance officer place in the bureau of revenue. Ortiz y Pino, a veteran in the job, is unpopular among northern New Mexico Democrats because of his role in the same job under the Republicans. He's popular however with his bosses and not likely to be replaced.

STATEHOUSE IN A HURRY

Democratic job hunters are fussing because the revenue bureau with a payroll of 420 is retaining 100 from the former Republican administration, among half a dozen in supervisory jobs. A new extreme in suppression of public information was hit the other day when the superintendent of the reform school at Springer got "hostile," according to Sheriff Bill Josey of Colfax, when he and an assistant district attorney attempted to investigate a stabbing at the state institution which had resulted in a boy being hospitalized for two days. The institution is developing a record of attempting to cover up unpleasant developments. Also unannounced by the school was the resignation of six out of eight of the institution's school teachers. State department of education officials are estimating that a recent state board order against transporting grade school children out of their home districts to San T. C. Jaramillo's La Joya school in Socorro county will lead to the transfer of four La Joya teachers at grade level and leave but two. It is the worst tap Jaramillo has suffered in more than a decade of fighting for the schools which yields him a $7500 salary and his wife $3100.
