FLOY SKINNER

I might mention a few incidents that took place out on the pipeline. We had some trouble on Eagle Creek one evening and I took one of my helpers along to see if the water was cut off. It was a mean night. It had rained and the road was really muddy. This side of the Crockett Hill we overtook Mr. English. He was stuck in the mud and we helped him get out and started on again. Before we got to Alto the generator on the pickup had quit and the lights and the ignition wouldn't work together. By cutting off the lights we had electricity enough to run the car. It was pouring down rain but we went on up and fixed the pipeline. Trash had come down and closed the screen. When we got through we were soaking wet.

I said to my helper: "Which would you rather do—sit in this car all night or go home in the dark without lights?" He said: "Just make it light on yourself." I said I was hungry and I was going home, lights or no lights. It was dark and raining, but I would have made it pretty good, except that now and then my helper would get nervous and strike a match. On a dark night a light like that will blind you—you can't see anything. I'd wait a little while until my vision came back and I could see those old ruts and also I could tell by the feel of the car whether it was in the ruts or not. It was 15 miles home, but we made it safely through the rain and mud and not even a lightning bug to help us.

Another time I had trouble out in White Oaks draw. The pipeline had been run over by a bulldozer and we didn't have any water. After I got it fixed about dark and started back, the tie rod on the pickup broke. I could control one front wheel but had no control of the other. The wheels would spread out and take off. I figured on it for a little while and decided to take a piece of chain and fasten it to the bumper on the loose wheel and tie it back to the side of the running board so that the wheel couldn't cut one way or the other.

I got back in and started out but I found I still couldn't manage to go forward. She'd take off for the barbit. So I said I'll try you backwards and I saw I could operate her. Jake Palmer passed me up here on the road and asked me what the friction was. I told him I'd got her whipped. I drove backwards all the way from White Oaks Canyon to Nogal, between 18 and 19 miles.

Another time, in 1923, we had a windstorm and a big snow. It was one of the worst blizzards, I guess, that was ever known in this part of the country. It froze 18 or 20 head of cattle in one corner of the fence out here at the Reservoir. The storm blew down 49 telephone poles on the company's line that went to Coyote. In a day or two I took two men and we went out to set up the poles. The snow was drifted in places but we set up that bunch of poles that day and started back at dark along the pipeline road. Just as we drove through the gate on the White Oaks road, about 2 1/2 miles east of the railroad tracks, out went our gas. I said: "Boys, do you want to sit here all night or walk back to town?" They said, for us we're ready to go. So we got out and walked eight miles into town.

Lots of time we'd work on the pipeline all day fixing leaks and then we'd get a call from the Bonita or somewhere that the line had blown out. So we'd head for that. Once we had worked all night in White Oaks canyon. It was an awful place. We uncovered about sixty feet of pipe and took out one joint and put in another. Along about daylight we got it fixed and also fixed some other leaks on the way back. Then about five that evening we got word that another leak had broken out on Nogal Mesa. We went over there and along about 9 o'clock that night a bunch of the boys were in the ditch digging away. I heard something that sounded like somebody snoring. I looked around and there was one of these boys standing on the bank. He was asleep and snoring like a horse, standing up.

Another time we had a blow-out on the Bonita and a bunch of us got there just before dark. We found that the pipe had blown out at the bottom. There was a hole 10 feet or more in the ground filled with water. We thought we'd eat first and then go to work and fix the pipe. We built a big bonfire and spread out our lunch. A. E. Zimmerman and one of the boys were a little late getting there. We had the supper prepared and were eating when they drove up. We said, come on boys, the lunches are ready. This boy who was with Zumwalt decided he would walk around the crowd and get on the other side. Doing so he fell into the hole and went out of sight. It was December and we had to do some work to get him out of there and rush him home so he could change his clothes. He happened to live up the creek a couple of miles. Such incidents as that were rather common on the pipeline. One time when we were working along up there we had a fellow who carried hot tar in one pot and sawdust in another bucket. When we'd make a joint he'd swab and coat that joint with hot tar and then he'd take his hand and cover that over with sawdust to keep the tar from running off. This time he forgot and stuck his hand in the wrong pot. When he did that he tore off down that steep hill. He had run about three steps when one of these old pipe slabs slapped him and he also caught his toe on a rock and made a crash landing. We helped him up and doctored him the best we could but in the meantime we couldn't keep from laughing. Every once in a while something like that would happen that would get us to laughing at one of the fellows and he'd usually get mad. We had one fellow that we'd taken down the line to fix the telephone line. He had told us he was a real telephone man so we took him along to climb the poles. We went down on the flat where some insulators were out the poles. We said: "Put on your climbers and go up and fix it." He put them on but couldn't climb any more. He'd press his legs against the pole and couldn't make his spurs hold. He'd get up a few feet and slip back. Zumwalt and I got to laughing. We rolled on our backs and laughed. That made the old boy mad. We said: "Well, you said you were a good climber so we thought we'd give you a chance." He said: "If you fellows would carry a good pair of spurs I'd show you. When I get home I'm going to sharpen these spurs." We said OK, the blacksmith shop is ready. Help yourself.

62nd Army Band To Give Concert in Carrizozo July 18

The 62nd Army Band from Fort Bliss will give an open air concert in Carrizozo Wednesday, July 18, at the football field. The performance will be in front of the grandstand. Lights will be turned on for the concert. Time is 7 o'clock. The Army band, with 35 people, is under the baton of Chief Warrant Officer Gordon O. Booth. The band played last year and again last month at Red Canyon. The performance is under the auspices of Red Canyon. Lt. Col. John J. McCarthy has arranged for the concert with the cooperation of Supt. R. G. Firman. The public is cordially invited to attend and hear this outstanding band. The concert will last approximately two hours. There is no admission charge.

From 1925 through 1929 Doug Cain worked with me on the pipeline. He now lives at Truth or Consequences where he owns some big ranches. During the time we worked together we looked after both the Bonita and the Three Rivers pipelines. One time we made a trip to Three Rivers. While we were there we stopped at a big corral belonging to the Hatchet Cattle Co. In this corral was a large stock shed, built in an L-shape. We went inside this shed. Cain was some distance ahead of me and I'm in a corner in the shed. In a moment he came out with his hat in his hand, running as hard as he could. "Look out, Skinner!" he yelled. "There comes a wild bull!" I turned and made my getaway by scaling an 8-foot fence. When I topped out I looked back to see what had happened to Cain. He was standing there really laughing. I said: "What went with the bull?" He said "Skinner, I was always curious to know how fast you could run and I thought this would be a good place to test you out." Some time later we were on the Bonita looking after the pipeline. The Bonita had considerable water in it. We had stopped at a place close to the river. When we started again we had to cross the stream. Cain said "I believe I'll ride astraddle the hood across the creek." He jumped up on the hood and I

Eagle Creek Storage Not in Sight This Year

Directors of the Eagle Creek Intercommunity Water Supply Association, meeting Monday night in Ruidoso, heard a report by Frank C. Boyce on negotiations for storage facilities on Eagle Creek. Mr. Boyce, attorney for the association, returned last week from Washington where he conferred with U. S. Senator Dennis Chavez and staff. Though no funds are available for building the storage facilities this year, Sen. Chavez said he would continue to work for an appropriation. A portion of the stored water on Eagle Creek would be made available for Army use through the Bonito pipeline.

An official of the association said this week that when Captain and Ruidoso agreed to the Bonito transfer, they were assured by Sen. Chavez that he would assist these communities in developing a source of water supply on Eagle Creek. The annual meeting and election of officers of the Eagle Creek Association will be August 13 in Capitlan.

Civil Defense Test July 20 Nationwide

All regular radio and television programs will go off the air for 15 minutes July 20, coast to coast, to permit the Federal Civil Defense Administration to test the emergency broadcasting of essential information during a simulated mass nuclear attack. Vernon Petty, civilian defense director for Carrizozo, announces that an air alert will be sounded for 15 minutes, starting at 1:10 p.m., MST. A CDA order requires all radio and TV stations to go off the air on July 20, opening day of Operation Alert 1956, for 15 minutes, beginning at 1:10 p.m., MST. Stations adequately equipped will shift to the Conelrad wave lengths, 640 and 1240 ky, to broadcast defense information concerning the simulated enemy attack by bombers and missile-launching submarines on 76 target cities and ports. Mr. Petty states that the Carrizozo Ground Observer Corps at the Kenneth Means Texaco station has been doing an outstanding job of spotting and reporting planes daily over a 24-hour period.

Lions Club to Have Another Picnic

The Carrizozo Lions Club has set Thursday, July 13, as the date for another picnic for members, their families and guests. The outing will again be at Nogal Lake, starting at 6:30 in the evening. The Club will furnish hot dogs and cold drinks. At a board of directors' meeting Tuesday noon, an agreement was approved to submit to the Carrizozo board of trustees. It asks that the Club be given the right to beautify a small park, triangle in shape, across E avenue from the Carrizozo hospital. The request was made that the park be named Lions Park and be under the Club's supervision as long as they fulfill their obligation to keep it up. Major and Mrs. Harold Hoffman and family from Denver, Colo., were in Carrizozo Thursday night to see Annabelle Durcan and family. Major Hoffman is Mrs. Durcan's brother.

Religious Service at Trinity Bomb Site

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce has been asked to cooperate with the Alamogordo and Tularosa Chambers of Commerce in a religious service on Sunday, July 15, at the historic Trinity Bomb site. It will be the first religious service ever to be held on the spot where mankind entered the atomic age 11 years ago. People of all faiths are being asked to participate. A committee, headed by Billie Holder, chairman of Alamogordo, suggests that communities, where possible, form motorcades to travel to Trinity site. Services will begin at 5 p.m., but the gates which surround Trinity site will be opened at 3 p.m., so that the public will be able to inspect the results of this first awesome explosion. Trinity site can be reached via U. S. Highway 54 to Ocuera, 15 miles south of Carrizozo. State and military police will be there to escort visitors. Due to the isolated location of Trinity site, deep within the guided missile range, it is recommended that all vehicles carry water bags or thermos jugs of drinking water for a four-hour period. The services end at 7 p.m. They have been given the approval of the White House for they are in complete accord with President Eisenhower's Atoms for Peace plan.

To Spray 'Hoppers' Over 62,000 Acres

County Agent Ralph Dunlap states that 62,000 acres of range land are slated to be sprayed in Lincoln County in the near future. After signing the contract and putting the money in the Picacho Grasshopper Control Fund the ranchers were told by Mr. Fulkerson to expect it to take about 15 days for the contract to be let and the airplanes to start spraying the area. Those pledged to spray are A. S. Patterson, Curtis Hill, Frank Peters, Fuller ranch and Charles Fuller. There is a possibility of another 20,000 acres being added in the Tinnie area. It will depend upon one individual, as the grasshopper contract has to be let in a block, the county agent says, adding: "Control work will be done with airplanes flying 2 oz. aldrin in a gallon of diesel per acre. After surveying the area for several days last week, it is felt that the hatch is not yet complete as the rains have been spotted. Moisture is required before the eggs will hatch. If the area has a good rain, the ranchers will notice a tremendous number of grasshoppers about a week after the rain. At present, the grasshoppers are between one and three weeks old, with a few adults five weeks old or older. Spraying must be done within a short time after the grasshoppers become adults, or they will start laying eggs. At present rate, a large number will become adults during the last of July or the first part of August."

County Votes Funds For Road Project

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners, meeting Monday passed a resolution authorizing the expenditure of approximately $5,000 toward construction of a paved road from Ruidoso to the Mesquero Reservation line. The resolution, as adopted, follows: "Be it resolved that the County of Lincoln cooperate with the Indian Service of Mesquero and the Village of Ruidoso in the construction of a paved road approximately two miles in length along Carrizo Creek from the junction west of State Road 37 to the Mesquero Indian Reservation line." In other business, the commissioners: Approved a plat for Ponderosa Heights subdivision in Ruidoso, owned by Lloyd L. Davis. Robert Lydick represented H. F. Kannady, consulting engineer. Consented to a request by County Agent Ralph Dunlap to clear a strip on the Slaughter ranch for airplanes to land for the purpose of spraying grasshopper infested lands. Took under advisement a request for county cooperation toward construction cost of the Salado dam. This dam is a project of the Upper Hondo Soil Conservation District. Its estimated cost is $349,300 of which the SCD will attempt to raise $20,000. The county has been asked to contribute $2,000, the balance of the money to come from other sources. Bert Pfingston, Peter Hurd and Clem Wlenford appeared before the commissioners on behalf of the Upper Hondo SCD. The commissioners approved a plat presented by D. E. Morgan for the third addition to the Cree Meadows Heights subdivision. The board studied a preliminary draft of the new budget. They will meet again August 6.

Capitan Water Bonds Sold to State

General obligation bonds of the Village of Capitan, in amount of $53,000 have been sold to the State Treasurer, the News was informed this week. The bonds are now in the process of being printed. Capitan has a tentative agreement with Alamogordo to tie into the Bonito pipeline, trading Eagle Creek water for Bonito water. It is understood that when the final agreement is signed Capitan will build its pipeline, bringing Bonito water into the village, where it will be filtered before being put into the mains. W. F. Turney & Associates are engineers for the Capitan water improvement project.

Hitch Hiker Killed When Car Overturns

John Johns, hitch hiker on a ride from Winslow, Ariz., to visit his wife who is a patient at Fort Stanton hospital, lost his life in a Highway 530 traffic accident in Socorro county last Saturday morning. A car in which Johns was a passenger, driven by P. H. Reeves of Fort Worth, failed to negotiate a sharp curve while going east about a mile west of the main entrance gate to Red Canyon. The time was 7 o'clock in the morning. The car went over an embankment and tipped over. Johns was thrown a distance of approximately 33 feet. Reeves was pinned behind the steering wheel. Johns sustained three fractures of the jaw, a compound fracture of the skull and a fractured thigh bone. He died early the following Sunday morning, after being brought to Carrizozo hospital by civilian ambulance. Pfc. Cunningham and Pfc. Morris, military personnel at Red Canyon, were dispatched at once to the scene of the accident to regulate traffic. Captain L. C. Barricell, medical officer, assisted by Sp/2 Sidney J. Orphy and Sp. J. C. Duhose Jr. and Pvt. Robert A. Gottron, ambulance driver, gave emergency treatment to both men. The military police remained on duty while State Patrolman James T. Clayton, who had been notified by Red Canyon, arrived to complete the investigation for the state. Officer Clayton praised the Red Canyon officers and men for their promptness in arriving at the scene and their efficiency in treating the injured men. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thornton are visiting relatives in Arkan-

Record Number Planes Land on R. C. Field

A total of 145 visitors, including high ranking military officers and civilians, visited Red Canyon last Friday. They arrived in 11 of the Otter aircraft and six other miscellaneous aircraft. This was the largest number of aircraft ever to visit the range camp at one time and called for the construction of taxi ways between the various runways. The work was done in three days by the enlisted engineer personnel at Red Canyon. What was described as a "whopping big lunch" that ran through prime roast beef to olives and cherry pie, was served under the direction of M/Sgt. Russell, mess steward. The visitors were briefed by Lt. Gen. Wood, Lt. Gen. Stanley R. Mickelson, former Fort Bliss Commander and commanding general of the Army Anti-aircraft Command, Colorado Springs, Colo., and by colonels in charge of the shoot. Before the first shot, officers explained that a piloted B-45 jet bomber from Biggs Air Force Base was over Alamogordo, and headed for Red Canyon at about 500 m.p.h. Through a complicated use of radar, the bomber was tracked, the actual position of it offset and the first Nike fired at a place on the simulated course. The men then fired two Nikes at a radio-controlled drone target plane so far from the launching area the Nike's explosions were barely discernible. Nikes fired Friday raised to 903 the number so far blasted off Red Canyon Range, officers said. In addition to the Norfolk men, personnel to be assigned to the defense of Milwaukee, Wis., and Hartford, Conn., fired the all anti-aircraft missiles.

Sewerage Survey Nears Completion

The Carrizozo town board, at a special meeting Monday night heard a report on progress made on the survey for the sewerage system. Sam Sampson, engineer for Ashley G. Chassen and Associates, stated that the survey of elevations for the line had been made. The survey will be completed after a decision is made on the location of the sewage disposal plant, a tentative site for which has been selected on the Trueman Spencer ranch northwest of town. Mr. Sampson said that Carrizozo is well situated for the economical construction of a sewer system, having a gentle slope toward the proposed disposal plant. The only problem, he stated, is 10-foot alleys which will add somewhat to construction costs. Within approximately 45 days Mr. Sampson said the plans and specifications on the system should be ready for submission to the council for final approval.

By DOROTHY GUCK

Lincoln County offers a greater variety of entertainment and interest to the tourist and newcomer than most counties in the Southwest. There are Apache Indian dances, rodeos, horse races, Billy the Kid Pageant, and many local community festivities. The panorama of majestic mountains and colorful plains, fruitful valleys and spacious stock ranges form a lure to even the most adamant bypasser. But the most unique attraction of Lincoln County is an opportunity for a spiritual experience, awe, inspiring, and good—the Cowboy Camp Meeting. This year, for the sixteenth consecutive year, ranchers, residents, and visitors will gather on Nogal Mesa for a four-day encampment, beginning Wednesday evening, July 18, and ending Sunday night, July 23. Speakers this year will be Rev. Bob Goodrich of Dallas, Texas, who has been at many Nogal Mesa Camp Meetings, and Rev. Glenn Harris of Birmingham, Michigan.

The Nogal Mesa Camp Meeting is interdenominational. It is run by the ranchmen of the county under the direction of Rev. Ralph Hall and Rev. Roger Sherman and assisted by cattleman, Joe Evans. With 23 acres of camping space under the pinon and junipers, there is ample room—for everyone caring to bring their camping equipment and stay the full time. Meals are served cafeteria style three times daily with plenty of barbecued beef and cowboy chuck. Collection plates are not passed and money is not solicited. It is only asked that all partaking of the ranchmen's generosity attend all the religious services which are held in the tabernacle three times daily at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 7 p.m. Group meetings are held at other hours.

MEN MEET AT PRAYER TREE

The men have their own services without the aid of a preacher, out in the open beside their Prayer Tree, each afternoon at 4:30. Donations are gladly accepted if you feel like giving, for many expenses are incurred, but no record is kept of the giver or the amount he donates. A large pine tabernacle seats the many hundreds who attend services, with open sides in the building to allow a view of the Tularosa Basin, the distant Magdalena Mountains, and the nearby White Mountains and the Sacramento.

Chimes have been installed in the church at the little town of Nogal which is perched half way down the mountain from Nogal Mesa, and as they ring through the country, visitors to the Camp Meeting will enjoy their music. Rev. Bill Lytle of Corona will again have charge of the choir and welcomes all volunteers who wish to sing. Each year improvements are added to the grounds. A new extension has been built to the kitchen to afford protection to the dishwashers, and these wishing a cup of the ever-brewing coffee. With Jim Valdez as cook, the ranchmen ladling the food, and the facilities of the long dining hall, a thousand people can be fed in 45 minutes. Altitude at the camp is 7,000 feet, and there has never been an encampment without some rain which chills the air and makes jackets mighty comfortable. A new bridge will be completed by the Highway Department at the turnoff from Highway 350, five miles west of Capitlan, and fifteen miles east of Carrizozo. The camp grounds may also be reached off State Road 37 by turning at Nogal Lake.

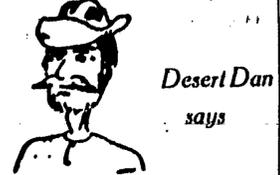

Other camp meetings that are interdenominational held in the Southwest under the direction of Ralph Hall and Roger Sherman are Valentine, Neb., June 21; Rapid City, S. D., June 23; Saratoga, Wyo., July 5; Simla, Colo., July 5; Elko, Nev., July 12; Clayton, N. M., July 12; Montosa, N. M., July 18; Sonota, Ariz., August 2; Perkinsville, Ariz., August 9 and Glenwood, N. M., August 23. Two circuits of camp equipment will be used. "Join with the cowboys of Lincoln County in giving thanks to God for the beauties of the world which are yours to enjoy on Nogal Mesa."

Sitton Well in Nogal Down 150 Feet

Elzy Perry Jr. was continuing drilling Sunday on a water well for A. P. Sitton Jr. in Nogal. Drilling was through a hard formation at 150 feet. Water at 30 g.p.m. had been encountered at 30 ft.

Mr. Perry completed a well last week on the Yabarro farm in the Ruidoso Valley. It produced 1000 g.p.m. at 150 feet over a four hour test period. A well previously drilled for Jim Tully yielded 1000 g.p.m. at 90 feet.

The well of L. R. LaMay, approximately 600 feet northeast of the new Sitton well in Nogal, continues to be a good producer. At a depth of less than 100 feet it produces better than 200 g.p.m. steady pumping. Mr. LaMay estimates that the R.E.A. power cost of pumping 12,000 gallons is 30 cents.

They are located in the northwestern part of Cuba in a country that Mr. Grantham says is similar in its higher elevations to the countryside around Nogal. Most of the annual rainfall of 65 inches falls during the summer months.

Average summer temperature is 80 degrees, with high humidity. The lowest temperature is around 55 degrees. Farming is on a small scale in that part of Cuba, with vegetables, tobacco and bananas the main crops.

THE FATHER OF LINCOLN COUNTY

Saturnino Baca may be called the father of Lincoln County. As a member of the Territorial Legislature from Socorro in 1869, he introduced the bill which created Lincoln County. The county comprised all the territory which now forms Lincoln, Chaves, Eddy, Roosevelt, Lea, and part of Otero Counties. Friends wanted the new county named Baca but he insisted upon the name Lincoln in honor of the martyred President.

Baca was born in Valencia County in 1830. In the early days he was sent to California with a party of government surveyors, who were to survey a road from Arizona to California. His job was to keep account of the miles traveled each day.

At the beginning of the Civil War, Baca offered his services to Gov. Henry Connelly, and in 1861 was made a first lieutenant in Co. E, First New Mexico Cavalry, which was a part of the regiment commanded by Kit Carson, government scout and Indian fighter. Before the war was over, Baca was promoted to captain of Co. E and remained at its head until his discharge in 1867. He took part in the battle of Val Verde on the Rio Grande.

Following the war, Captain Baca served at Fort Stanton, Fort Wingate and Fort Barcom in New Mexico and at Fort Defiance in Arizona.

Captain Baca became the first probate judge in Lincoln County. In 1875 he was elected sheriff and served for three years. Later, he was a county commissioner. In 1897 he was appointed a member of the New Mexico Penitentiary Commission.

He was in the midst of the Indian fighting in the early days and was also active in the Lincoln County War during the days of Billy the Kid.

Captain Baca lost an arm during the summer of 1883 as a result of a bullet wound in an elbow in a dispute over cattle and sheep range.

His wife died in 1914. Had she lived a few months longer, they would have celebrated their 75th wedding anniversary. They had 11 children. Baca died at the age of 94 in Lincoln in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Frank Salazar. He was buried in Lincoln Cemetery.

On Removing Warts

A Las Cruces woman told of this odd remedy for removing a wart. When she was a child living in Mesilla, she had a large wart on her hand. A Spanish-American woman told her to cut the wart off, take a kernel of corn, place the pointed end in the spot where the wart had been cut and turn the kernel until blood showed. Then she was to throw the kernel of corn to the chickens. If a chicken ate the corn, the wart would disappear. Her wart did go away.

A HARROWING EXPERIENCE

The incident of the murdered deputy and his slugged friend occurred in 1893 or 1894 when Hidalgo and Luna were part of Grant County and Silver City was the county seat. The only means of communication was by telegraph, and the only means of travel by horseback or buggy. The sheriff in Silver City had deputies in various towns. Frank Shultz was the Lordsburg deputy.

Shultz was taking two Mexicans to Silver City. He was accompanied by J. P. Ownby, who was not an officer but went along for company. They went by way of Gold Hills, the old wagon route. It was a good 50 miles to Silver City.

They traveled by buckboard and the handcuffed Mexicans rode behind them. In a moment when Ownby was off guard, the Mexicans lunged and knocked him out of the buckboard, grabbed the deputy's six-shooter and killed him. They then unharnessed the horses and rode away bareback. Presumably they got into Mexico, for they were never found.

Hours later during the night, Ownby regained consciousness. He was aware that there were prospect holes around that part of the country, and fearing that he might fall in one in the darkness he stayed where he was. He was found the next morning by an unidentified person.

R. B. Ownby of Lordsburg said his grandfather's experience so weakened him that he never fully recovered. Several years later Ownby died of pneumonia.

Visitors to California Had Pleasant Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson and family and Mrs. Gertrude Morris have just returned from a week's trip of much interest. Mrs. Morris accompanied them as far as Safford, Ariz., where she visited Jack's father, L. B. Robinson and his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hawthorne and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Paxton while Ethel and Jack and their family continued on their journey to California to visit her brother and family at Santa Monica, and her sister and family in Los Angeles.

C. B. Williams, her brother and Mrs. J. L. Tucker gave a surprise birthday party for Ethel on her birthday Tuesday, July 2. This lovely gesture was a complete surprise.

Ethel received many lovely gifts. Places of interest they visited were Disneyland; also Trader Horns' animals that he captured in Africa and are used in the movies. They visited the Old Mission in the San Fernando Valley which was built in 1779, then Knotts' Berry Farm.

The children had a grand time playing in the sand on the Zuma beach and the Santa Monica, Long Beach and Malibu beaches.

The fireworks on Santa Monica beach the 4th of July were beautiful and impressive—long to be remembered.

On the trip out it had rained the night before so it was very cool and cloudy across the desert which they did appreciate but on the return they had to use the cooler as it was warmer. They said it was an enjoyable and happy trip.

VACATION HINTS

A little "fact-finding" while you are vacationing this summer will go a long way toward insuring a happier stay and, more important, getting you back home again as fit as when you left.

It doesn't have to be an elaborate process — just a quick check into the possibility of unlooked-for hazards in the spot you have selected—whether it be for a two-week stay or a two-hour picnic.

A bit of this inquisitiveness, for instance, would have spared one family a load of unwanted excitement and possible serious injury. It seems they had selected an inviting looking spot alongside a sparkling little brook to enjoy a picnic lunch. What they didn't know — and could have learned from the filling station operator down the road—was that the owner of the property was a slightly deranged person who delighted in taking after visitors with a trusty shotgun. Fortunately his aim was as bad as his reason and they escaped badly frightened, but unharmed.

This business of looking into places before you stay can be summed up in a paraphrase of a famous slogan: "Ask the man who's been there," according to F. W. Braun, vice president in charge of accident prevention for Employers Mutuals, Wausau.

What are some of the things your quick check for safety should include? Here is a seven-point check list suggested by Braun:

1. The presence of snakes, ticks or other dangerous or bothersome insects.
2. Poison ivy and other irritating plants.
3. Water supply—is it plentiful and pure?
4. Underwater hazards that may not be apparent to a first visitor.
5. Vicious animals pastured or running wild on public lands.
6. The reputation of the area for freedom from holdups and crimes against campers and picnickers.
7. Temperature and the extremes of weather that may be encountered.

Braun points out that a family shouldn't assume that danger is always present and spoil their long-anticipated vacation fun, but adds that it is equally foolish to assume that there is no danger and have a vacation of a life—cut short.

WHEAT QUOTA TO BE VOTED

Friday, July 20, is the date when growers will determine how they want to market their 1957 wheat crop, R. Archie Perkins, chairman of the Lincoln County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers this week.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat or grain on a farm in 1957 are eligible to cast ballots in the wheat quota referendum. Polling places will be set up in Carrizozo, N. M. for Lincoln county, July 20, 1956 from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

A two-thirds favorable vote will mean that marketing quotas and penalties on excess wheat will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop. Under quotas, too, price support to growers in the commercial area who comply with their wheat acreage allotments will be at the full level available—between 75 and 90% of parity.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove quotas the quotas will not be in effect, and the available price support on the 1957 wheat crop to those who comply with farm wheat acreage allotments will be at a level of 50% of parity.

When a marketing quota program is in effect, the excess wheat of a grower who does not comply with his farm wheat acreage allotment and who has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on the farm will be subject to a marketing quota penalty. This penalty will be equal to 45% of the May 1, 1957 parity price of wheat.

Chairman R. Archie Perkins emphasized that the vote is on wheat marketing quotas and not wheat allotments. Whether or not the vote is favorable on the quotas, acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1957 wheat crop.

Marketing quotas have been approved by growers voting in referendum for the past three wheat crops. Last year, 77.3% of the growers voting favored quotas for the 1956 crop.

1956 FRUIT CROP BELOW AVERAGE

John O. Kiling, extension economist at New Mexico A&M College, says preliminary reports indicate that New Mexico will have a very light peach crop this year, and that apple production in the state will vary from about a 30% crop in Otero County, to an estimated 90% crop in San Juan County (Lincoln County is estimated at about 50% or 120,000 bushels). Apple production for the entire state is now estimated at 411,000 bushels, as compared to the 1954-55 average of 592,000 bushels.

For the nation, the 1956 crop of deciduous fruit promises to be about the same size as last year's but considerably below average, due mainly to last November's severe freeze in the Northwest and to late spring frosts in the eastern part of the United States, Kiling states.

Peach prospects, nationally, are below average, but better than last year when the Southern states had a complete failure. The 1956 peach crop is forecast at 61,843,000 bushels—19% larger than last year and almost equal in size to the 1954 crop, but 8% smaller than the 1954-55 average.

The 1956 forecast of pears is 29,327,000 bushels; just slightly below last year, and about 3% below average, the economist adds.

BIDS TO BE LET TO 4-LANE 54 FROM ALAMO NORTH

The State Highway Department announces that bids will be let July 27 for construction of a four-lane highway from Alamogordo north toward Tularosa.

This new construction on Highway 54 will tie in with the new four-lane section built through Alamogordo.

USDA SETS WOOL INCENTIVE LEVEL

Wool growers are about to hit the jackpot. Approximately two million dollars will soon be distributed to New Mexico growers by their county ASC office under the incentive wool payment plan, says J. Richard Stauder, extension sheep and wool marketing specialist at New Mexico A&M College.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently announced the national average wool price received for the 1955 marketing year as 42.8 cents a pound.

Shorn wool payments will be 44.9% of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool sold, Stauder explains. The payment rate on lambs, those lambs sold for slaughter, will be 77 cents per hundredweight.

No payments will be made on mohair marketing during the 1955 marketing year, because the average price received by producers was above the support price.

The percentage rate of 44.9% is the amount needed to bring the average return per pound of shorn wool up to the incentive level of 62 cents per pound.

One cent per pound will be deducted from the growers incentive payments for promotion of lamb and wool. This money is turned over to the American Sheep Producers Council to be expended for promotional purposes only, Stauder adds.

FLOY SKINNER

started the car. It was a '27 Model T. I gave her all the gas she'd take.

I plowed through the creek as fast as she'd go and Cain got the full contents of all the water in the creek. When I stopped on the other side he said: "What's the idea of all this?" I said: "Cain, I was always curious to know how fast this pickup could cross one of these creeks."

Cain and I worked together about three years. We really enjoyed our work together, although we worked hard.

One thing I'd like to mention is that about 1893 my father saw the need for orchards in the county. He got the agency from Stark Brothers Nursery and sold and delivered trees all over the county. He started many farmers in the orchard business.

Later he went into the boot and shoe business. He taught some of the grandchildren the shoemaker's trade. Today, John Skinner of Portales has quite a large boot, shoe, saddlery and western store, George Skinner of Clovis has a similar type of store.

There are only two left from the family of my mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Skinner—myself and my sister, Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt. There were six in the family, four boys and two girls.

Next year, as I mentioned before, will be my 50th anniversary with the Southern Pacific Company. Mrs. Skinner and I will also celebrate our fiftieth wedding anniversary.

I have lived a good portion of three-quarters of a century. During the early years of my life and for a number of years after that, we had the necessities of life but that was about all. Today, with everything that leads to comfort and happiness, life can be much more satisfying.

The luxuries we enjoy today were unheard of when I was a boy. Young folks especially should appreciate their heritage, made possible by the greatness of the American people and their struggles down through the years. I am thankful to have lived through one of the greatest periods in the history of mankind. I'd like for the young folks to read and understand what the Creator has given them in America. It will surely lead them to try to make the most of their lives. (The End)

CONTRACTORS' MAN WIELDS SMOGUN

SANTA FE, July 11 — Guy Mayes, office manager of the contractors' license board, has declared war on the highway department, the engineers' board, Republican critics of the administration; spread his wings in defense of the purchasing office, and is showing signs of forays in other directions.

Since taking the post with the contractors a few months ago the 63-year-old Mayes has—

Filed with the attorney general an auditor's report that showed his predecessor, George Roy paying himself $10 a day extra for holding examinations outside Santa Fe.

Filed with the attorney general a report showing the proceeding board chairman, William G. Lineberry, as having put himself on the payroll for the better part of a year at around $400 a month;

Accused the highway department of a $250,000 scandal in road construction at Espanola;

Called for replacement of four of the five members of the engineers' board;

Accused three of the five-member highway commission as non-cooperative in advancing the progress of the state.

JUMPS REPUBLICANS ON PURCHASING

In his most recent statements Mayes attacked "Republican critics" of the administration for espousing state purchases on the lowest bid. "If the purchaser's taste runs to Maxwell House," he said, "no one has a right to tell him he has to drink Arbuckle because the price is right."

He recalled that Ralph Jones, Republican member of the highway commission and an Albuquerque automobile dealer, had forced two flat bed trucks on the highway department on the basis of a low bid when the department wanted dumps and had no use for the flat beds. That was before Jones was a member of the commission.

"In most cases," Mayes said in his prepared statement, "Democrats got the choice of dealerships and now the Republican political writers want us to take an inferior product in order to make it real cozy like."

FIRED THREE TIMES

Mayes, an engineer who in 18 years with the highway department was fired three times for his outspoken observations is particularly critical of the engineers' board and his old highway department.

In his last release from the contractors' office he jumped the highway department "scandal" on five miles of road in the Espanola-Riverdale area.

"A quarter of a million dollars worth of ignorance and inefficiency in connection with location and design will some day cause much damage to all adjacent property lying east of the highway," he wrote. "The people up there are not happy with what they are getting and are pretty apt to be out against the state when their adobe houses begin to melt."

RECREATION NEWS

Dodgers Down Yankees, 7-1

The Dodgers came back from a two-game losing streak last Tuesday afternoon to down the Yankees, 7-1, in Carrizozo recreational league play.

Last week the Yankees had pounded out two wins over the Dodgers, 8-1 and 9-4, to assume a two game lead until Tuesday afternoon's action.

Martin Vega and "De-De" Ortiz shared the mound chores for the Dodgers while Jerry Beltran and Sunny Shrum hurled for the losers. Last week Beltran, Shrum and Andy Lopez handcuffed the Dodgers for the Yankees double win.

The two clubs will swing into action again Thursday afternoon and approximately 27 bids from the ages eight through 18 will see action.

SURVEY MADE

A survey conducted at the recreation center, the high school gym, revealed that a daily average of 32 boys had used the facilities during the first three days of this week.

Thus far the hours set aside for the girls from 1-3 on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons have been a disappointment to the recreation committee, inasmuch as the girls are not taking advantage of this time and have shown little interest to date.

It was stated that hours of 1-3 on Tuesday and Thursday will continue to be set aside for the girls for at least another week in order for them to show that they are interested in the program.
