Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

Interviews With People Who Helped Build Lincoln County

(Continuing the account as recorded in a diary of a trip made in a covered wagon from Lone Elm, Kansas, to Capitán, New Mexico, by Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. LaMay, their six-months-old daughter, Fay, and Bales Burham, Mrs. Ferguson's brother. Time: Fall of 1893.)

Oct. 4—Wednesday. Clear and cold. Found a road and after following it for about 12 miles we came to Pampa, a watering station on the Santa Fe. Also found we had straight sailing down the road to Panhandle City. Good roads, fine weather and all feeling gay. We have camped for the night at a windmill 12 miles from Panhandle City.

Oct. 5—Thursday. Noon at the city. Not much of a place. Camped for night 10 miles east of Amarillo.

Oct. 6—Took dinner about 4 miles out of town. Shot two curlew. Pulled into town about 4 o'clock. We decided to go across the plains to Fort Sumner, so loaded up with 3 weeks' rations which left the boys very much broke. A man gave the baby some candy, which Mamie and I had to show her how to eat. Camped just outside of town. Amarillo is a very small place. Bought Fay her first pair of shoes. We had our curlew and pigeons for supper, which everyone pronounced fine.

Oct. 7—Saturday. Noon at a big lake, where we had self-invited company—a Mr. Mike, or something like that. Our location this evening is uncertain, but we have plenty of grass and sawed wood so can make no complaint except that it has been a little warm all day.

Oct. 8—Clear and cold. We got a late start and proceeded to lose the road at once. Noon by a dry lake. Pulled out south from there and found the road about 5 p. m. Camped for the night 10 miles from La Plata.

Oct. 9—Monday. Quite cold and windy. We are now on the same road that I (Bill) came over last year with an outfit before I settled down. I feel old today, it being my 27th birthday and being a married man perhaps has something to do with my feelings. We reached La Plata about 2 p. m. Found the town moved away so camped tonight in a pasture. There seems to be plenty of cattle. Shot three ducks and one curlew, so we are fixed for tomorrow. It is now bedtime, so, hoping that before another birthday rolls around we will all be located comfortably and gypsy life a thing of the past, I will say goodnight—Bill.

Oct. 10—Tuesday. We crossed the line into New Mexico (our future home) at 10 minutes past 4 this afternoon and spent our first night in the Territory. Mamie thinks she doesn't like it any better than Texas—it is so windy and she can't make pies out of Juniper berries.

Oct. 11—Wednesday. Boy went on an antelope hunt just before camping time and got lost but found us just in time for dinner. We found out about 5 p. m. we had got on the wrong road (not an unusual thing for us) so pulled into Cedar Breaks and camped for night. Quite a pretty place.

Oct. 12—Pulled out through Apache Canyon. Bought some mutton and antelope meat from a Mexican (very fine). Camped for night close to Bent Smith's tank.

Oct. 13—Friday. Reached the place to go out of the breaks onto the plains, about noon. After dinner we pulled up the hill after a hard struggle. It was the worst hill we have had. We only made about 5 miles. Camped close to the Horseshoe headquarters.

Oct. 14—Saturday. We made a long drive today. Have had no water for miles, not since nine o'clock this morning. Think we are about 7 miles from Sumner and water. Intend to get away early in the morning.

Oct. 15—Sunday. Got a fine start. Reached Sumner about 10 o'clock. Found water for mules, which they were glad to get, being it was the first they have had in 24 hours. Pulled on to the Pecos River and by leading the mules across and letting them drink and view the situation we crossed all right. Drove about a mile and took a short pass, then pulled out again.

Races and Contests At County Fair in Capitán Sept. 15

Goat roping, turtle races and a fair Queen contest are to be features of the afternoon events at the Lincoln County Fair in Capitán on September 15. Three turtle races are planned, also such other events as kids' races and presentation of awards. Juniors will compete in the goat roping, barrel race and stake race, with adults competing separately. The cutting horse contest and reining contest will be open to anyone. MANY WILLING HANDS

Thursdays have been work days at the fair grounds and there will be more as much remains to be done before Saturday, September 15.

Manuel Baca, assistant secretary to the State Tax Commission was in Carrizozo Monday, meeting with county and municipal officials on the 1936-37 budgets. He met with county officials Monday morning and in the afternoon reviewed the municipal budgets for Carrizozo and Corona.

Lincoln county's assessed valuation for 1936 has been established at $14,253,963, compared with $13,951,073 last year. It is estimated that this year's county budget will be slightly higher than last year's total which was $232,743. Of this amount $30,526 was raised by taxation.

A levy for both of the county hospitals, in amount 1/2 mill, will again be presented for the voter's approval. Due to the transfer by the Southern Pacific to Alamogordo of the Bonito water system, the company will be relieved in 1937 of paying taxes on the system's assessed valuation of $311,951. Of this amount the state set the valuation of Bonito dam alone at $25,478.

School districts in the county will lose revenues from this source in approximately the following amounts: Capitán, $243,271; Carrizozo $52,000 and Corona $16,600.

SCHOOL SPENDING STARTLES SOLOMS

Santa Fe, Aug. 29 — New Mexico's nine-week election campaign opens next week. So do public schools throughout this state, while the seven state-supported institutions of higher learning open a week later. And these events are not unrelated.

In addition to electing two congressmen, the governor and a slate of other state officials, as of Nov. 8 New Mexico voters also will elect a new Legislature. Under the state constitution, the Legislature controls not only the budgets of all state departments, but also most of the finances whereby the public schools are operated.

School spending in New Mexico has come in for some rather close scrutiny by one of the interim committees created by the 1935-36 Legislature to study all expenditures of state funds. The members of that committee have been startled by some of their findings.

In a telephone conversation with the News Wednesday, George Fuchs, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, said they were ready to go to work at once securing easements when the necessary right-of-way papers were sent by the Highway Commission.

Mr. Fuchs stated that he thought there would be no difficulty securing easements. "We will secure the agreements and build the required fences as soon as the papers are in our hands," he said.

Mr. Fuchs added that if the papers did not arrive before the Commissioners' September 6 meeting a call would be made to the Highway Department regarding the matter.

Grizzlies Prep for Tularosa Game

Two a day practice sessions were on tap for the Carrizozo Grizzlies during the initial ten days of practice sessions, with 36 candidates eyeing starting berths for the 1936 opener with Tularosa September 7 at the Grizzly field.

Coach Albert Burch, hampered by the loss of a number of key players from the 1935 squad, sent his charges into overtime practice sessions as he looked for replacements for the veterans lost by graduation.

The hopes of Coach Burch are bolstered by the return of Eddie Pope and Billy Hicks at the end spots, Greg Pino and Robert Firman at the tackles and last year's workhorse, Jessie Nowell at guard.

The center position was still a wide open battle in practice sessions, and a number of underclassmen including Louie Sandoval, Lewis Greer, Byron Taylor to transfer from Deming, Pat Aguilar, Bobby Stearns (transfer from Vaughn) are starting a wide open battle for starting line positions for the opener with Tularosa.

Returning Grizzly backfield men include Vick Lopez, Lonnie Nowell, Scott Lewis and Lake Hite. Nowell and Hite were starters in nearly every contest last year and are expected to do their share in totting the ball this year.

Although lacking in experience from past Grizzly campaigns, Robert Simpson, Lucy Gallegos, Sammy Hicks, Maxie Saucedo and Sunny Shrum are making a firm bid for game time in the season opener.

"Although we are lacking in weight and experience, our spirit in practice sessions has been high," Coach Burch said this week, "and we hope to be ready for the Wildcats September 7."

Once a thriving little village, "Way back in the days of old With a thousand busy people Who came there to dig the gold. Grocery stores and blacksmith shops And liquor stores so bold That anything they cared to drink Could legally be sold.

Gambling halls did flourish too In the little mining town— Miners met in poker games And laid their money down. The only law that counted much They carried on their hips, It depended on the quickest man And they took no chance on slips.

A struggling string of buildings, Some old and falling down. Remain to tell in silence The history of this town. The old mines there can still be seen Among the rocky hills, And underneath the old mill shed Still stands a huge stamp mill. Just one solitary miner, Feeble, gray and old, Lives to tell the thrilling story Of how they mined the gold. Gone are the days, but not forgotten When, through the heat and cold Many men came to this town To dig the yellow gold. Some men have crossed the shore Great Divide, Others have stayed away, The rest, somewhat like this town, Are ragged, old and gray,

She will be at the office of the New Mexico Department of Public Welfare in the court house, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

"Several important changes were made in the social security coverage of farmers and ranchers," Miss Penfield said this week. "One of these changes applies to the optional method of figuring farm or ranch self-employment earnings.

Starting with 1956, a farmer whose gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800 may report as his net earnings from farming either his actual profits or two-thirds of his gross farm income. For example, suppose a farmer sells his products for $1,500 in 1956, making no profit at all. If he wants to use the optional social security tax on two-thirds of $1,500, or $1,000.

"If his gross income is over $1,800 and his net profit from farming is less than $1,200, he may report either the actual amount of his profit from farming, or he may use the optional method and report $1,200.

"Using another example, suppose a farmer sells his products for $4,300 in 1956, but expenses cut his profit down to $750. He can report either the $750 (ac-

MONEY AND BANKING
In Everyday Living

GOOD KNIVES require good care. Authorities recommend a sharpening steel for sharpening most fine cutlery, oil stone for the edging of hollow-ground blades.

NOT EVERYONE in a given income group has the same financial responsibilities. Not everyone has the same income, but perhaps a glance at the AVERAGE SAVINGS OF ONE income group will help you to decide on your own savings potential. It is estimated that over 50% of American families with income after taxes between $4000 and $5000 save, on the average, close to $500. Are you saving proportionately as much? Perhaps you really can't. On the other hand, it just may be that you CAN do as well, or even better, if you take two firm steps. First, after reviewing your personal spending—right down to the small change—with a critical eye, determine to eliminate all that is clearly unnecessary or extravagant, and to add what you thus salvage to what you previously thought you could save each pay period. Second, start the habit of depositing your new savings total the day you get paid—that will give force to your determination. We invite you to build your cash reserve at our bank, where so many other financial services you want to use are available under the same roof.

WE FINANCE Appliances... Building Improvements... Cars — we could almost go through the alphabet listing home and family needs for which we extend low cost bank credit. When you need a loan for any sound purpose, talk it over with us!

Boss Gets Letter Describing Meeting Of Old Timers

Dear Boss:

It was quite a surprise to be present when those old timers met.

First the old driver got out of his car and inquired, anyone here know Leslie? Key and Littleton and Sanchez all looked at each other, then looked back at the one who had just gotten out of the car. Yeh! We know him they replied. Why? Well I'm looking for my pal he stated. Don't I know you fellows? Well I guess so replied each of the trio. Where's McFarland—where is McFarland? he inquired. Mac's been dead these last few years, was the reply. How's a fellow goin' to get a decent drink here in Carrizozo? was the next question. Well, we had Donito water—! Donito water? I'm not talking about water.

Who's taken McFarland's place? Bless my old soul if it isn't Leslie! Say, Leslie, I just dropped by to see how minings going, say I've made my millions now; You got any rock-course you have, bless my patsy, shore you always did have rock, now what is it, copper, gold or silver? "Uranium!" RO! Why Leslie, don't you remember your old pal—Cummins, you know? The one used to pal around with you. Well I've made my million now.

Say, I don't have much time

JEST IN FUN

A vivacious young Texan shocked her Boston-reared beau by drawing on her gloves as they started down the street on their first date.

"Where I come from," chided the young man, "people would as soon see a woman put on her stockings in public as her gloves."

"Where I come from," retorted the young lady, "they'd rather."

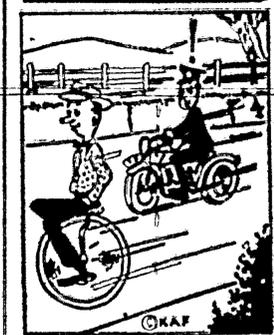

Customer: "Have you any good after-shave lotion?"

Clerk: "We surely do. Here's a little number that drives the girls crazy. It smells like a new car."

Suddenly he saw a driverless car rolling slowly down the street. Thinking quickly, he ran to the car jumped in, and pulled on the emergency brake with a jerk. As he got out, feeling proud, a man walked up.

"Well," said the hero, "I stopped it."

"Yeah, I know, I was pushing it."

BASEBALL DAYS IN CARRIZOZO

In the 1920's the El Paso railroad shop baseball team ran a special train to Carrizozo when it had a game with the Lincoln County team. The train was loaded with rooters for the El Pasoans, and between the visitors and the Carrizozo fans the ball park could hardly accommodate them.

The El Paso team came to Carrizozo several times in a season. The Carrizozo team also traveled to El Paso but it couldn't get up a special train for a trip because the town was too small. Winning wasn't too important to either team—they played mainly for the fun of it. Some of the members of the Carrizozo team still living are Willie Gallacher, rancher of Carrizozo; Pat Duran and Bill Norman of Tugumcarl, and Harry Norman, in Northern New Mexico.

THE TINKLING SANDS

The tinkling sands of the California desert are an eerie sound at night when a traveler first hears them. They are about eight miles wide and begin some 18 miles west of Yuma, Ariz., on the road to Los Angeles.

C. G. Perry of Lordsburg first experienced the phenomenon about 1926 when he was driving the then unpaved road at night.

If the wind is blowing as a traveler enters the sands—and it blows often along that stretch—there is unexpectedly a sound like thousands of tiny tinkling bells. The sound is loud or faint depending on whether the wind is blowing strongly or gently. The tinkling is especially noticeable at night and is most distinctly heard if a traveler stops his car.

The tinkling is caused by the movement of sand particles against each other as the wind lifts them.

Many Hollywood snow and desert scenes were made in these sands in years past because the location was handy, and being near the Colorado River and at such a low altitude, shallow wells provided an abundance of water. After a movie was made, the wells were capped and most of the buildings destroyed.

The Vic Rohlas of Albuquerque enjoyed a vacation at Eagle Creek last week.

Probation Office Quotes Sections From State Marriage Laws

The Probation Office in Carrizozo has been advised by C. C. Chaso Jr., juvenile attorney, that any person falsifying their age, or granting permission for a juvenile to obtain a marriage license shall be prosecuted in accordance with our State statute which the News has been requested to publish. It follows:

57-1-17—Any person who shall willfully violate the law by deceiving or attempting to deceive or mislead any officer or person authorized to perform the marriage ceremony in order to obtain a marriage license or to be married, contrary to law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars or more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

13-8-18—Contributing to juvenile delinquency—Any person who shall commit any act or omit the performance of any duty, which act or omission causes, or tends to cause or encourage the delinquency of any person under the age of 18 years, shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by fine not exceeding $1000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The juvenile committing the offense shall be dealt with in accordance with the Juvenile Code, which reads as follows:

Battle Grasshoppers on Ranged Lands of State

Ranchers, check your rangelands now for adult hoppers and become familiar with the grasshopper situation in your area. If you have hoppers on your range, tell your county agent, attend grasshopper meetings in your county, discuss the grasshopper situation with your neighbors, and continue this battle against grasshoppers by cooperating with grasshopper control project officials.

Ranchers who wish to control hoppers on their land form a committee and elect a chairman. The committee then collects the ranchers' share—20c an acre—from all who wish to participate in the control program. The money is deposited in the bank under the name of the ranchers' committee. The state and federal governments put up their share and plans are laid for control operations.

If the nymph survey in the spring indicates that control is necessary, officials of the grasshopper control project get planes and insecticides into infested areas and supervise the spray program. If the nymph survey shows that control isn't needed, then the money collected from ranchers is refunded.

Don't let the grasshoppers eat more grass than your livestock. Help control them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap and children spent Sunday at Portales and Clovis. They attended the McKinley family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Monroe of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ab Burns and daughter, Clara Nell, visited the J. P. McKnight in Riverside.

Has someone lost a little black Chihuahua dog? There is one that stays at the crossing waiting for a certain car to come back. Several have tried to pick up the little dog to care for it, but he always runs away.

Along the Way..

By PAUL BAKER

A Carrizozo citizen blew his stack the other day when he drove over Highway 37 to get to his home from Ruidoso. There is a long way to go, via Honda, and he said he wished after his trip on 37 he had taken the roundabout way over paving. It had recently rained and he said the ruts were inches deep. How much longer are people going to have to beat up their cars to get from over Ruidoso way to the county seat without going fifty miles out of their way? There is talk that the State Highway Commission is planning to continue the paving on Highway 37 through to Highway 380. We would like to see it get out of the talking stage into actual construction; also surfacing the stretches from 380 into Nogal and from Corona into Cedarvale. We are all in favor of good highways everywhere, but looking close to home, let's get some paving on these heavily traveled dirt roads!

It seems to me that the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners deserve a hand for the time and effort they spend issuing surplus commodities. They not only take charge of the issuance themselves (with the able assistance of Mrs. Charles Jones) but go so far as to deliver them to people who have no means of transportation to come get their allotments. George Fuchs left the warehouse Monday with 12 boxes of staples for eligible persons over Ruidoso way.

This is only a printer's gripe, but we would like to see our schools place more emphasis on (1) reading (2) spelling and (3) word division. Anyone who works with the printed word (and many do at one time or another during their lifetime) knows how important it is to read readily, spell correctly and be able to divide words properly. Practices in reading out loud teaches proper pronunciation, which in turn is a big asset in spelling and in word division. There is a right way and a wrong way to divide words. Dividing them properly makes for easier reading. Many dictionaries give rules for word division and they are not hard to learn.

Three different pairs of birds have made nests at separate times below the roof at our home. The housing shortage is apparently confined not only to people in Carrizozo. I don't know the language of the birds, but they must have a way of telling other couples: "We just moved out of a nice apartment and you can move right in"... Do any old timers remember an incident that happened back in 1909 when a circus was in town? Seems that a bunch of saddles and bridles disappeared from town along with the circus. A. T. Roberts says that on his recent trip to California he ran across a man who said he was with that circus. The man said the gear was left at the circus by a bunch of cowboys who came to town to celebrate. The circus pulled out and the saddles were later sold in Arizona for $5 apiece... Ralph Dunlap tells a story about a nurseryman who, when he sold trees, gave his customers a bottle of pills. A pill was to be dissolved in water and applied regularly to every tree. The trees did very well. Some time later the customer was talking to the nurseryman and asked: "By the way, what is in those pills we are using on the trees?" The nurseryman replied: "Nothing but sugar and a little coloring. What helps the trees is that they are watered regularly."... Birthday congratulations to Jake Fulmer (August 29).

Annister, Ala. to go sightseeing with them. Mrs. Hodge says she and her sister plan another such trip probably within the next year or two and will visit other scenic wonders of the south and eastern part of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sliener and two children are moving to Cloudford this week. These young people are Presbyterian missionaries who will work with the church at Cloudford.

Lincoln Family Back From Trip to Maine

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Marson and family have returned from a 6500-mile trip, after having traveled through 19 states and two provinces of Canada, and report a wonderful trip. They had no trouble, except for two flat tires, during the entire trip. While in Maine visiting Mr. Marson's family the children had fun going out on a lobster boat and helping haul in the lobster pots.

Mr. Marson met up with an old school chum who is now commissioner of sea and shore fisheries, who gave him a treasure chest of Maine sea foods.

School started Monday, Aug. 27. All the children are happy.

"Sam" bears that beg along the roadside of Glacier National Park have been trapped and carried 80 miles away, only to return to their bandon stations within a few weeks.

Depressions left in rains by heavy furniture can be raised by attaching with a hot iron pressed on a damp cloth and then brushing with a stiff brush.

INSIDE CAPITAL

One of these was the fact that on the basis of its per capita income, New Mexico apparently is spending more on public education than any other state.

THOROUGH STUDY DUE TO BE RECOMMENDED

In the matter of school expenditures, New Mexico not only is at the very top in its average income category, it is considerably above the 48-state average for teacher salaries paid.

Regardless of income, the State of New Mexico is spending more per capita on higher education than almost any other state in the Union.

Thus the interim legislative committee created to study state finances as a whole has been so impressed by its findings regarding educational expenditures, it plans to urge the next Legislature to assign a special committee to make a thorough study of school spending.

ALIEN YET DIFFERENT

Comparisons are said to be odious. But they are also inevitable, particularly in a political campaign where the voters face a choice between two such as Republican ex-Governor Edwin L. Mechem and the incumbent Governor, John F. Simms.

They are similar in numerous particulars. Both are lawyers, both once served in the Legislature. Both are essentially conservative, yet both prefer informality to pomp and ceremony.

Each has school-age children—Governor and Mrs. Simms have five youngsters, and the Mechems have four.

Both of the gubernatorial candidates seek considerable advice, then act on their own judgment in most instances. As Governor, Big Ed Mechem paid little heed to some of the old-line Republican leaders, while John Simms has done the same for a number of Democrats during his first 20 months in office.

However, in the matter of campaigning, these two are entirely different. Mechem takes it slow and easy, in a friendly and unhurried manner which has proved quite effective in a state such as this. Simms seems more nervous, naturally more hurried.

On the other hand, while the Mechems did comparatively little entertaining, Governor and Mrs. Simms are much more convivial and entertain many guests, official and personal.

So alike yet so very different. LIMITED ACCESS

Whatever the outcome of the current hassle over limiting access to major highways to be built or improved with federal aid—such disputes are not new in this state.

What was to have been an important connective by-pass at Santa Fe was projected several years ago, with access to be possible at only a few points, and a score of city streets to dead-end along the proposed route.

Planned by the State Highway Department under approval of federal highway officials, that project was finally dropped due to vigorous local protests. Opposition by the city government was effective then by reason of the fact that much of that proposed route lay within the city limits here.

Whether public opposition can quash pending plans for limiting access to long stretches of federal highway between towns, remains to be seen.

Need More Living Space? Fix Up Attached Garage

Owners of small homes with attached garages are catching on to one of the neatest tricks yet devised to gain more living space at a minimum of cost.

Acting on the theory that the family deserves more consideration than the family car, they're turning their one- and two-car garages into bedrooms, larger kitchens, playrooms—anything that fills their needs or suits their fancy.

And the cash savings are big because the new-found living space already has a roof, concrete floor, and three framed walls.

The home handyman-and-wife team can do much of the work themselves on this project. They can install insulation, put down tile floors, and do interior finishing.

Mats and blankets of mineral wool insulation, because of their lightness and ease of handling, are a favorite installation project for the husband-and-wife team. Only a few ordinary tools are needed, and when the job is done, the family knows its new living space will be easier to heat in winter and will stay cooler in summer.

Thick mineral wool is virtually essential to sound in a room converted from a garage. The reason is that three walls and the roof of an attached garage usually are masonry surfaces, which depend on outdoor temperatures.

A customer should be called in to handle major carpentry, plumbing, painting and heating installations.

Garages are best reconversioned into all or part of the garage, that containing windows or doors. It's best to get over the garage door and install a window or door in the side of the garage, not at the front of the house, not at light and ventilation. Other windows are necessary, too—perhaps a widow wall at the rear overlooking your garden, perhaps one or more windows at the side.

It is economical to replace a garage door with a large grouping of windows, for little new wall framing, sheathing, and siding need be added when that is done. Penderose pine window units are available in a wide range of stock sizes to fit openings of various dimensions.

Attached garages, too, can become new living space by a growing family with a minimum of remodeling. It's best to get over the garage door and install a window or door in the side of the garage, not at the front of the house, not at
