A Greenhorn Tries Skiing

Lee Robinson, for many years a National Park guide at Carlsbad Caverns, has transferred to Yellowstone National Park. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and children are making their winter home at Mammoth Hot Springs in the park. Their children attend school in a nearby town. Lee couldn't resist the temptation to go gliding along on skis over the oceans of white snow. He wrote this humorous account of his experience, set to the tune of "Strawberry Roan":

I left Carlsbad Caverns back in '56
And headed for Yellowstone,
Way out in the sticks,
Where the elk, and the coyote and buffalo roam
And the Tower Falls station to be our new home.

One thing that I noticed as I looked around
Was acres of white stuff all over the ground,
I asked the Chief Ranger, (I wanted to know)
He said "You dern caveman, it's nothing but snow."

It felt cold as the dickens, as it naturally would,
Made that long handed underwear feel mighty good;
I asked him again, of what use could it be?
And he said it was handy if you wanted to ski.

He told about skiing, said "It's so much fun
To go to the top and take a long run"
He stirred up my interest — I said, "That's for me,
I'm going right now and learn how to ski."

I returned to the station, and up in the barn
I found those old skis that weren't worth a darn;
Turned up on the ends like a worn-out shoe,
They don't look too good but I'm sure they'll do.

I put on the bindings and fastened them tight,
In this business of skiing, it's got to be right;
Found two old broom handles to serve as a pole
And headed for the mountain, with skiing my goal.

I got to the bottom and started to climb,
Kept falling back, can't make any time;
Climb about six feet, and slide back nine."
My wife yelled, "Keep going, you're doing just fine!"

Alamo Favored to Repeat in Tourney

A slightly favored Alamo-goer five will put their claim to a third straight championship on the line in the Carrizozo Annual Freshman Tourney at 1:15 this afternoon (Friday) when they open play against Hondo in the annual classic.

Friday afternoon's session will conclude with St. Peter's of Roswell, who defeated the Carrizozo Cubs last Saturday, 27-15, battling a strong Bulldogs club.

Corona and the Alamogordo Frosh "B" who replaced Tularosa, teams will collide at 7 o'clock Friday evening, with host Carrizozo and arch rival Capitan closing the first day's activities around 8:30.

The semi-final session will get underway at 1 o'clock sharp Saturday, with the battle for third place slated for 7 Saturday evening, with the championship scheduled to follow.

Three handsome trophies await the winner, runner-up and third place teams in the tournament.

Last year the Carrizozo Frosh battled their way to the finals of the tourney, before being ousted by Alamogordo's undefeated Frosh. The Grizzlies edged Corona by one point in their opener and ousted Roswell in the semi-finals to gain runner-up berth. Later in the year the Grizzlies went on to capture the Bean Valley Championship, defeating Corona, Estancia, and Vaughn for the title.

Spring-like weather has not as yet adversely affected fruit prospects, County Agent Ralph Dunlap informed the News Thursday morning.

Replying to a question about whether the fruit trees were responding to the warm days, he said his information was that the nights had been cold enough to keep the trees dormant.

Otero County Electric Coop. Presents Proposal to Buy The Carrizozo Municipal Power and Light System

A proposal by the Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc., to purchase Carrizozo's electric power system was presented to the town trustees at a special meeting last Monday afternoon.

The proposal was presented as the basis for discussion. The Otero County Cooperative, it was pointed out, could only negotiate the purchase of the plant and distribution system. Any agreement reached would be subject to approval of Rural REA authorities in Washington.

The Otero County Electric Cooperative was represented by Jay D. Lassiter, manager, and Wm. M. Selgenhaller, attorney for the utility. Two trustees, L. Z. Manire and Leandro Vega, were unable to attend the special meeting, being out of town on business. Mayor Wayne C. Withers and Trustees R. L. Sherrill and A. T. Roberts asked the two officials many questions, some of which are summarized below.

The sum of $250,000 was proposed by the cooperative as a purchase figure for Carrizozo's electrical generating and distribution system. This would take care of the town's indebtedness on the system and its ice and locker plant. The Coop, however, would turn the ice and locker plant back to the town.

The Coop proposed to spend upward to $250,000 additional for a 33,000-volt transmission line from Capitan and to rebuild a considerable part of Carrizozo's present distribution system.

The Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc., is now serving 3047 meters over a wide area in Otero and Lincoln Counties. All users pay a $5 membership fee in the utility, which is refundable at time of discontinuance of service.

Rates for Carrizozo consumers would be the same as those elsewhere in communities served by the Otero Electric Coop., as follows:

First 50 kwh	10c
Next 50 kwh	7c
Next 200 kwh	4c
All over 300 kwh	2c

Commercial Rates:
First 50 kwh 10c
Next 50 kwh 7c
Next 400 kwh 4c
Next 3000 kwh 3c
Over 500 kwh 2c

Carrizozo would be sold power for its street lighting at the flat rate of $24 each for a 150-watt bulb, the Coop to take care of maintenance, but the town to furnish bulbs.

The Coop proposes to have an office in Carrizozo for billing purposes and a maintenance man on duty.

The present power plant in Carrizozo would not be kept as a standby unit, due to the expense of operation and maintenance, and would be dismantled.

The Coop plans an additional power plant to Carrizozo from another direction, but such is not available at the present time.

Lights for the football field would be supplied at a flat rate of $24 per year. Mr. Lassiter stated that the present lighting installation at the football field was dangerous. The Coop has recently made a survey of Carrizozo's power generating plant and distribution system.

County-wide Meeting On Bangs Control

A county-wide meeting on bangs disease control is to be held Saturday, Feb. 16, at the Carrizozo Woman's Clubhouse.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. with a covered dish meal. Dr. Nordstrom, in charge of the Bangs disease control program, will be the principal speaker.

MOTORIST FIRED AFTER WRECKING GAS PUMPS

Two gasoline pumps in front of the Snafer Motor Co. were struck by a car and demolished Friday night.

The motorist, who drove his car from the scene of the accident was later identified as Sgt. Connie Allison. He pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace John Mackey's court March 2 and was fined $75 for reckless driving and $75 for not reporting an accident.

Plan to Develop Jones Iron Mines

A group of Socorro and Albuquerque men are making plans to start hauling iron ore within the next two weeks from the Jones Iron Mines in the Oscura Mountains in Socorro county.

The News was informed the ore will be trucked to Carrizozo.

The Jones Iron Mines, comprising 16 claims, were last worked in 1949. There is reported to be a great body of undeveloped ore, with a grade of better than 50%.

Soldiers Told Facts About Ghost Town

Four soldiers from Holloman Air Force Base learned something about a ghost town last Saturday.

They discovered that White Oaks, while many years removed from its boom days, is still far from being a deserted and unincorporated place.

In White Oaks last Saturday Bud Crenshaw observed that four soldiers had come to town and in true Western style were shooting up the place, using rocks as ammunition. Windows of vacant buildings were their special targets and a door of an unoccupied house was also broken down.

But told the soldiers that White Oaks was off limits for such conduct but it only started an argument and to avoid trouble he came into Carrizozo and filed a complaint at the sheriff's office.

By this time the soldiers had started back to HAFB and were picked up on Highway 54 by Deputy Sheriff Fred Richardson and Crenshaw. The men were returned to Carrizozo.

Asked the reason for their conduct, the men said they had read that White Oaks was a ghost town and supposed that the property did not belong to anyone and had no value.

Following a conversation at the sheriff's office they were convinced otherwise and after paying a fine of $10 each and costs, left with a healthier respect for ghost towns.

Spring Wheat Signups Being Taken by ASC

The Lincoln County ASC Office announces that spring wheat agreements are being taken on the Soil Bank program under Acreage Reserve. Farmers have until March 8, 1957, to sign agreements.

A farmer who has planted wheat in the spring of any one year between 1947 to 1956 may qualify even though he normally planted wheat in the fall of the year.

If any farmer, who has a 1957 wheat allotment set up for his farm, can qualify on any one year between the years stated, he will be eligible to sign up under the Acreage Reserve program.

For further information contact your ASC County Office.

The ASC office also announces that the Secretary of Agriculture has extended the grazing provision on Acreage Reserve until February 23, 1957.

Cub Scouts to March in Parade

Carrizozo Cub Scouts will be up bright and early Saturday morning, getting ready to leave at 6:30 for a big day in Roswell.

Saturday is the 47th anniversary of Boy Scouting and will be celebrated in Roswell with a street parade starting at 9:00 o'clock. The parade is expected to last for an hour and a half.

The Carrizozo Cubs have been learning marching steps on the football field and thirty or more will march in the parade. They will carry a sign "Carrizozo," given them by the local Chamber of Commerce.

At the end of the parade the Carrizozo Cubs will vote for the "Best-Marcher." The winner will be honorary mayor of Carrizozo for a day and be given the honor of presiding at a council meeting.

Cub Scout leaders and parents will provide the transportation to Roswell. They urge as many parents as possible to make the trip and encourage the Cubs.

Important Decision Faces Town Board

At their regular meeting Tuesday night the Carrizozo town board of trustees, with all members present, continued discussion of the proposal of the Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc., to purchase the town's electrical generating and distribution system.

A number of points were brought up for consideration, among them being:

Any interruption, by storms or repairs on the single transmission line from Capitan would leave the town without power during such time the line was out. This might cause loss of stored frozen foods.

The rates proposed by the Cooperative would be lower than the town's existing rates, but the town would have to pay for all electricity now used for the locker plant, ice plant, street lights, well pump, and any other municipal use.

Revenue from the town's municipal power plant now pays for some of the town's services, such as police protection, park maintenance and garbage collection. These services have not been self-supporting. During the past three months the cost of police protection showed a deficit of over $300. Garbage collection for the same period showed a deficit of $129.

Without the revenue from its own power plant the town would have to find ways and means of putting these necessary services on a self-supporting basis either by increasing fees or taxes.

The town's only other sources of revenue come from the school district apportionment of tax money, from business license fees, dog taxes, building permits, drivers' licenses, traffic violations and other fines, auto license apportionment and gas tax (1/2 cent).

The water department and the ice plant are operating in the black but the locker plant, except for the month of November, consistently operates at a loss.

These are some of the problems that are being weighed by the trustees and mayor.

Also brought out in the discussion was the fact that the town's indebtedness on its light and power plant stood at $252,000. Payments to date amount to $200,00, leaving a balance of $52,000. Interest on the bonds is 4%.

The two Fairbanks-Morse engines are nearing their capacity output of power and are already requiring some maintenance expense. It is predicted that the time is not far distant when a third new engine may be needed to take care of the growing needs for power, thus adding more to the debt.

Present at Tuesday night's meeting were Mayor Wayne C. Withers, Trustees, R. L. Sherrill, Leandro Vega, L. Z. Manire and A. T. Roberts and Town Clerk Johnson Stearns.

The trustees approved a building permit to Albert Snow to erect a garage, 29 by 24, of cement construction.

They approved a business license for Dr. Bob O. Dond, veterinarian, for an animal service and pet supplies in the former George Zimmerman law office across from the courthouse. The building is now owned by H. Elfred Jones.

Major Withers stated that Robert P. Lowe, sanitarian for the New Mexico Department of Public Health, and Ashley G. Classen, sewer project engineer, would meet in Carrizozo Thursday at 1 p.m. for a pick-up and inspection tour of the proposed system.

Mrs. J. P. Turner, who was present at the meeting of the trustees, said she would have information to present soon on a summer recreation program for Carrizozo.

Bill Would Increase Sales Tax

Santa Fe -- The Republican leader in the Senate Tuesday proposed raising the New Mexico school sales tax by 50%.

This would bring the tax to three cents on each dollar of retail sales.

Sen. J. G. Moore introduced the bill, stating the primary purpose would be to give needed money to cities and counties, and "stop the continuing increase of property tax, which is growing completely out of bounds."

County Grants 25-Yr. Franchise to Electric Cooperative

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting Monday granted a 25-year franchise to the Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc., to operate within Lincoln County.

A petition for such a franchise was presented the board by Wm. M. Selgenhaller, attorney for the cooperative. Jay D. Lassiter, manager for the cooperative, accompanied Mr. Selgenhaller when he presented the petition to the board.

The franchise gives the cooperative rights of way easements along county roads and through unincorporated areas. The electric utility is at the present time serving users in Capitan, portions of Green Tree, Picacho, San Patricio, Tinnie and Hondo.

Its board of nine members has three Lincoln County representatives—George Sienega, Milton Mable and Charles Fuller.

Mr. Lassiter said it was the policy of the board of directors of the electric cooperative to hook up everyone where the cost of service could be paid out over a period of 25 years. This investment could amount to as much as $1,000 to serve a customer, he said, and that sum would build almost a mile of single phase line. Where the cost of service exceeds the amount that could be repaid with 25 years, ranchers often pool resources and share the cost of bringing in new service.

The utility franchise also applies to the RFA, a cooperative telephone utility.

Supt. Fermin S. Montes appeared before the board to inquire about setting up a recreation committee for the Hondo Valley, using available funds from the cigarette tax. He said a seven-member board from various parts of the school district had been considered. At the board's suggestion, Mr. Montes submitted a list of nine names for their consideration.

BRIDGE UNREPAIRED

W. W. Gallacher reported to the board that a bridge on a county road, used by his ranch and other ranches, had not been repaired, though the material for making repairs was on the site. He stated that developers of the Jones Mines had inquired about the strength of the bridge to hold up loads of ore. Commissioner Clint Sultemeier said he would consult with the mine operators about reinforcing the bridge to carry such loads or building a by-pass around it.

The commissioners approved the purchase of a 1957 Oldsmobile for the sheriff's office.

County Treasurer John E. Wright was authorized to reinvest maturing bond money in short term U. S. Treasury notes.

Messrs. W. H. Christian and H. F. Kanady submitted an unfinished plat of Bullock Downs Heights subdivision. County Clerk Inice Hust was instructed to file the plat as soon as it is completed.

The commissioners approved the bond of Lee Lawing as constable of Precinct 10.

Clerk Inice Hust announced that the bond of Justice of the Peace Alton Gray of Green Tree had been filed with the district court clerk.

The commissioners appointed a registration board of Wilbur McKnight, Herbert Smith and Charles A. Jones.

February 12 and 22 were designated official holidays for county offices.

Mrs. Dorothy Hanny and A. E. Triviz, state extension personnel, met with the county commissioners Monday about hiring a home agent.

Present at the meeting were Commissioners Alfonso Soto, chairman; Emmett Reese and Clint Sultemeier.

The commissioners meet again March 4.

Acid Treatment Fails To Improve New Well

The attempt to find a source of softer well water for Carrizozo's use has been given up temporarily at least.

Well No. 1, which was cased and "acidized" over the week end, failed to increase its flow of water, estimated at around 40 g.p.m. The town trustees decided to try to develop the well on the advice of geologists from the School of Mines. The quality of water in this well was such that it was hoped that acid could be increased to furnish a substantial part of the town's needs.

Cost of the well exploration has been $3,440.82.

Lions District Governor Visits Carrizozo Club

Thomas P. Foy, district governor of the Lions club, was guest speaker at a Zone 3 meeting in Carrizozo Wednesday evening.

Fifty-nine Lions from Alamogordo, Tularosa, Cloudercroft and Carrizozo were present at a dinner meeting at the grade school cafeteria.

Guests included J. H. Hightower, zone chairman, and Dale Dodds, deputy district governor, both of Alamogordo. It was Mr. Hightower's official visit to the Carrizozo Lions club.

F. O. Brown, president, presided at a short-business meeting and introduced Mr. Dodds.

Elect Members to School Boards

Polling a total of 152 votes, Johnson Stearns, Carrizozo town clerk, led a field of four candidates in the Carrizozo school district election Tuesday.

Mrs. W. H. Rickerzon, with 93 votes, was second and also won a six-year term on the school board.

Other votes cast were 56 for Mrs. William J. MacVeigh and A. A. Young, 33. Fred English received 1 write-in vote.

The Board of Education will meet at 2 o'clock Friday to canvass the election returns. The newly elected board members will be sworn in March 1.

THREE BOARD MEMBERS ELECTED IN CAPITAN

In the Capitan municipal school district election, Hollis Cummins, with 106 votes, was elected to the two-year term.

Elected to six-year terms were Jack Robinson with 103 votes and R. E. Britton with 146.

Over 500 votes were recorded in the Capitan election.

LIGHT TURNOUT IN CORONA SCHOOL ELECTION

In the Corona School Board election, E. L. (Labo) Sharp and A. C. Hester were elected.

Only 45 votes were cast.

Funds Grow for March of Dimes

Under the leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth MacVeigh a group of Carrizozo Mothers marched for the March of Dimes on January 31 and collected $150 for this worthy cause.

To date the following Lincoln County communities have reported these amounts raised for the 1957 March of Dimes:

Ancho	$35.00
Nogal	41.74
Fort Stanton	40.02
Capitan	249.63
White Oaks	252.03

YUCCA BAR LARIAT ROPES IN $167.27

A 75 ft., 5 in. larlat roped in $167.27 for the March of Dimes in a contest just concluded at the Yucca Bar. Every year Joe Sargent, proprietor, drops a cowboy's rope over the backbar, the idea being to guess the length of rope and at the same time drop a donation in the March of Dimes contest.

This year's near perfect guess was by Benito Gallegos whose estimate was 75 1/2 feet, short just 1/2 inch from the actual measurement.

The rope's length was carefully measured by three arms of the law, Hopy Gutierrez, Severo Gallegos and Jim Clayton.

Second closest guess was that of George Robinson of Lubbock —75 ft., 4 inches. He won the $2 kpot.

J. P. Turner, county March of Dimes chairman, wishes to thank all for the fine support given the polo drive.

El Paso Goes Western For Livestock Show

The Southwestern Livestock Show, with its world championship rodeo, is in progress in El Paso and will continue over the week end.

BIG FOG DEALERS GET TAX DISCOUNT

Santa Fe, Feb. 6—It is already clearly apparent that 1957 is not the year for breaking the guaranteed profit laws that always get a lot of attention during the campaign but somehow develop support when the legislators gather.

Efforts against the legal maintenance of high prices on liquors, cigarets, barber service and many nationally "fair-traded" items collapsed before they got off the ground.

Most all the talk has been about guaranteed profits on liquor but the cigarette law has some even more interesting features.

Like the liquor law the cigaret statute requires wholesalers to mark up cigarets to a specified minimum, provides that retailers must make another mark-up and in effect forces retailers to buy only from New Mexico retailers.

ONE FIRM CLAIMS $62,000 DISCOUNT

But the cigaret law goes further in a unique provision which grants a discount on the purchase of cigaret stamps by large wholesalers. Those buying stamps in lots of $1,000 or more get a four per cent reduction.

The discount last year was approximately $26,000 for the Rocky Mountain Wholesale Co. of Albuquerque which is operated by Jack Beaty, Albuquerque Democratic chairman.

Ponce Wholesale Mercantile Company, an Oklahoma firm with branches in New Mexico claimed a discount in the neighborhood of $62,000.

Ponce and Beaty sell more than half the cigarets smoked in New Mexico. They gained the position through a 1955 act which requires that all New Mexico cigaret tax stamps must be affixed within the state.

REPUBLICANS HIRING FAST

The new Republicans at the statehouse found places for about 230 of their stripes in the big bureau of revenues during January. The jobs and local auto license agencies filled during the month accounted for almost half of the posts in the bureau.

The change-over was made with conflicting viewpoints among the Republicans. Gov. Ed Mechem on one hand was critical of Democratic job holders who walked out when the Republicans took over without staying on a while to help their successors. At the other end of the building, Mechem subordinates were firing Democrats who had stayed around to help with only one day's notice of termination.

Mechem, it appears, will go much further this time in cleaning out Democrats than he did in his earlier administration.

STATEHOUSE SHORT TAKES

New Land Commissioner Murray Morgan still makes his smokes with brown paper and Tuxedo tobacco. . . . Bob Tatchert, the new liquor director who has a job that most Republican politicians would give their right arm to hold, is the son of a prominent Democratic Santa Fe family. Mother Ruth Tatchert served in the legislature and his father, the late Dan Tatchert, was active in Demo politics for decades. . . . Young Tatchert is a Republican but of not long enough pedigree to satisfy many old timers in the party. . . . The Gordon Shermacks of Santa Fe are doing good in the "family plan." Mr. Shermack is assistant district attorney at $375 and securities commissioner in the state bank department at $500. Mrs. Shermack, also a lawyer, is getting $350 a month from the legislative council. It adds up to $1823 a month for the couple from public jobs.

MONTOYA MOUNTS TOWARD CONGRESS

Gov. Joe Montoya early this week had tied up only about a fifth of the votes he will need to win the Democratic nomination for Congress in the party convention Feb. 23, but he was regarded here as almost sure to take the nomination.

Montoya's score was 124 instructed delegates (Santa Fe 79, Socorro 17, Mora 12, Sandoval 16) with 602 needed for nomination.

Others holding instructed delegations are Mrs. Cleo Fernandez, widow of the late Congressman A. M. Fernandez, 24 from Colfax; Rep. Tom Morris, 22 from Quay; Rep. Anderson Carter, 26 from Roosevelt; Osborn Brooks of Clovis, 40 from Curry; Melvin Tays, 33 from Otero.

As this was written Montoya had failed to get instructed delegations only from Valencia. (Continued on Back Page)

Frank Maxwell Elected To Grazing Board

As a result of the Advisory Board Election for New Mexico District No. 4, the following persons were elected to serve a three-year term: E. J. Isaacks and A. B. Cox of Las Cruces, Elmer W. Hepler of Carlsbad, J. B. Runyan of Hope and Frank Maxwell of Clauficé.

Dr. O. R. Smith and two children, Shelley and Buddy, Dr. H. D. Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. Art L'Heureux and family, all of El Paso, spent the week end at the Banton Ranch.

Norman Crider in Nelson Eddy Show

Norman Crider, who has entered a career in show world as a professional baton twirler, is currently a part of the Nelson Eddy show at the Palmer House Empire Room in Chicago's Hilton hotel.

This spring Norman will be a featured star with an ice show at the Hilton hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garcia of Oakland, Calif., visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callaway in Carrizozo for the past ten days.

Quality of Produce and Marketing Methods Stressed to Producers

"Many improvements could be made in the methods and practices of marketing produce," Fred McKinstry, president of Cromble and Company, El Paso, told truck farmers and orchardists at the recent Fruit and Vegetable Short Course. "Being a good producer — one who grows high-quality produce — is not sufficient," he said. "By far, the more complex part is to take this well-grown, high-grade produce and so merchandise it that the ultimate retail price will furnish a fair profit for every handler from the farmer to the consumer."

C. E. Heilbusch, Denver representative of Safeway Stores, Inc., also stressed the need for quality produce. "Quality," he asserted, "is the key-word in fruit and vegetable production and if there isn't control over this quality, producers will soon be out of the picture. Grower organizations can be responsible for their members maintaining this quality."

Meeting in separate groups on the final day of the short course, truck crop farmers and orchardists considered industry problems of current interest. Talking on apple maturity and storage, Dr. D. T. Sullivan, assistant in horticulture at A&M, told the orchardists that apples must be picked at maturity, not green, and not overripe, to store profitably. "Indications of maturity," he said, "are ground color changes, firmness of the fruit, soluble solids content, and days from full bloom. Researchers at the New Mexico A&M Experiment Station are working on these indications of maturity to determine their value under New Mexico conditions."

Dr. J. V. Enzie, head of the College's Horticulture Department, told the group that some of the more important factors involving the size of fruit are fruit-leaf ratio, availability of moisture, size and condition of leaves, and pollination influences. All are interrelated, and an unfavorable condition of any

HAY INVESTIGATION TOO HOT TO HANDLE

Santa Fe, Jan. 20.—A scheme for investigation of the hay-for-ranchers program, which has cost the state some $700,000 and the federal $2.5 million was quickly dropped—there were too many important people involved.

Signing up for the public assistance on the declaration that they could not maintain their foundation herds without help from outside were some of the most prominent people of New Mexico and some from neighboring states.

There were also a good many who used or tried to use the $10 certificates ($7.50 federal, $2.50 state) for most everything except applying on the purchase of a ton of hay as intended.

The would-be investigators quickly changed the subject after learning that neighbors and friends all over the state were involved.

PLEDGES DITCHED IN LEGISLATURE

Party platforms and party unity have flown out the legislature windows. The break-up came over repeal of the welfare laws, taxes, and the explosive proposal to take workmen's compensation cases out of jury courts and put them before a commission. Workmen's comp produced the biggest fight last time and again threatens to overshadow everything else in the legislature.

Democrats promised in their platform to retain the jury trials. Now 18 of the 24 Demo members of the senate have signed up as sponsors of a bill to do away with the system. The subject shattered Democratic unity in the house long before it was scheduled to reach that chamber. An effort by members of the house Democratic caucus committee to line the party up against the workmen's comp proposal brought an exchange of accusations that members were trying to use the party organization for their personal aims. Demo Floor Leader Mar Chacon, who tried to organize party members against the bill was answered with accusations that he had acted contrary to the party platform in taking the lead for repeal of the welfare laws, a Republican platform pledge.

CERTIFICATES JUST LIKE MONEY

There were reports from reliable sources of such instances as—

A stockman who tried to use the $10 certificates intended to help him buy hay to pay a note at a bank. The certificates are almost like cash.

One who got an allowance to buy hay to keep his basic breeding herd intact using the money to fatten stock in a feed yard for market.

One who had raised all the hay he needed for his stock who made a paper deal to sell it to a neighbor and then bought it back using the $10 certificates on the price of each ton. He was paid for feeding his own hay.

One who got assistance to purchase several hundred tons of hay and then used the $10 certificates to buy only 25 much hay as the certificates would cover, putting up no money of his own.

One who used the certificates to buy hay, then traded the hay for more cattle and then had the brass to try to get a new allotment for his increased herd.

DEMOCRATS PROMISED IN THEIR PLATFORM TO RETAIN THE JURY TRIALS

Now 18 of the 24 Demo members of the senate have signed up as sponsors of a bill to do away with the system. The subject shattered Democratic unity in the house long before it was scheduled to reach that chamber. An effort by members of the house Democratic caucus committee to line the party up against the workmen's comp proposal brought an exchange of accusations that members were trying to use the party organization for their personal aims. Demo Floor Leader Mar Chacon, who tried to organize party members against the bill was answered with accusations that he had acted contrary to the party platform in taking the lead for repeal of the welfare laws, a Republican platform pledge.

On the Republican side members are divided down the middle on the welfare proposal and Senate Republican Floor Leader J. G. Moore was the first to come out with a bill for a huge tax increase (50% advance of the sales tax) after Gov. Ed Mecham had set party policy in saying no new taxes were needed.

Discussion in both parties is such that party-line voting may be expected only on trivial or strictly political subjects, and resemblance of platform programs will be purely coincidental.

JUDGES THINK WELL OF SELVES

About the most self respecting people in our midst are our judges. They are proposing retirement pay for themselves of $10,000 a year; the present rate is $6,000. The pay they propose for themselves is $15,000 for the district judges, now at $12,000, and $17,000 for the supreme court members who are now at $15,000.

The Pacific, largest of all oceans, was the first to be spanned by commercial aircraft, the National Geographic Society says. The historic flight was made by Captain Eddie Musick, first chief pilot of Pan American Airways, in November, 1935.

MONEY AND BANKING In Everyday Living

BUYING OLD FURNITURE? Here are tests suggested by an expert to help you select chairs that will stand up in normal use. Be sure legs are all the same height. Test tightness by kneeling on the front edge of the seat, then pushing firmly against the back. Look for corner blocks attached to the underside of the seat frame—a sign of strength. Tap an upholstered seat: If it ooga, springs are worn out.

A SIDEWALK INTERVIEW
Q: Today's topic is, "Why do you save at a bank?" Your reason, sir? A: Well, I'm not ready to invest; but I like my money to earn interest while I'm waiting to use it.
Q: Thank you... and you, madam? A: It's so convenient—I can do all my banking under one roof.
Q: Thank you. This lady, please. A: My banker's so helpful. He always makes me feel right at home! Q: And this gentleman volunteered. A: My reason for saving at a bank is that it's safe—and safety's what I want for my reserve cash. Q: Well, there you are, ladies—and gentlemen—four people, four different reasons. On one thing, however, everyone seems agreed: There is nothing quite like money in the bank! (Why not open your bank account, with us?)

MANY PEOPLE find it profitable to plan their borrowing in advance; to list probable credit needs for a year or so ahead, then talk the whole thing over with us. Try it. You don't start paying for low-cost bank credit here until the time you actually need and use it; but you can make arrangements now, and be ready when the time comes.

It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

The first dance of the season was given Saturday evening at the school house in Parsons. Col. Emerson brought a car load of maidens to the dance from Nogal. He should be given a vote of thanks for never before had there been enough ladies at a Parsons dance. On the way home from the dance with his precious freight, Col. Emerson ran into the car belonging to Tom Bragg, which had become tired and stopped to rest in the middle of the road.

WHY THE WIND CRIES OUT ON THE MESA

(Editor's note: The following story was told to a school teacher in the East Pecho School, north of Las Cruces, about 20 years ago by one of her pupils, a De La O Boy.)

Many years ago a young girl, who lived with her grandmother, wanted very much to go to a dance. The woman refused to let her granddaughter go, saying that good girls did not attend dances unchaperoned.

The girl, however, was determined to go. She waited until her grandmother was fast asleep. Then she poured hot lead in the old woman's ears so that her grandmother would not hear her when she left the house for the dance.

It was a very bright moonlight night. When the girl returned to her home on the mesa in the early morning hours, she heard the wind crying around the corner of the house. The frightened girl rushed into the house and looking all around but she could not find her grandmother.

The girl ran out into the bright moonlight. She saw a shape—what had been her grandmother—howling in agony. When the girl realized that she had killed her grandmother, she started running through the hills, calling and crying out her sorrow.

That is why the wind cries out on the mesa on nights when the moon shines brightly. It is the girl, wandering and crying out her sorrow.

MAKING WHITEWASH

Some 45 years ago men brought gypsum from the White Sands and sold it to people in Las Cruces and vicinity for 50 cents a sack for making whitewash. The gypsum was put in a tub and mixed with rain or ditch water—which was softer than pump water—to prevent the whitewash from becoming gummy. The mixture then was heated on a stove.

Pedro Maese of Las Cruces, who was then eight or nine years old, has a vivid memory of making whitewash, for it was his job to help his mother with this task. As a child he spent many hours stirring tub after tub of the mixture. His mother whitewashed the inside of the house first, and if any was left over the outside was given a coat.

Brushes for whitewashing, Maese said, were made from a 12-inch square of sheepskin, which was folded with the wool on the outside. A piece of wool six or eight inches long then was inserted and the sheepskin sewed around the stick to make a handle. The people made brushes because they often lacked the money to buy them for whitewashing.

Concho and Crucita Maese, Pedro's parents, lived in the Bosque on the east side of the Rio Grande at Las Cruces. Four other families also lived there. It was called the Bosque Vedado, a vedado being a place where one has to cut the brush to plant crops. Maese still lives in the same house. The only other family still living in the former Bosque Vedado, is the Ogaz family.

In Pecho, on the west side of the river, people in the early days got lime from Pecho Mountain to make whitewash. The first residents had dugout-like homes in the banks, which were covered with brush and mud. Women daubed mud on the interior walls and then whitewashed them. In making the whitewash, the lime was burned in open ovens or fireplaces on the Pecho Arroyo banks and then mixed with water.

North America's native elk used to range over much of the United States and Canada, says the National Geographic Society. Indians called it "wapiti"; English colonials named it elk after Europe's big deer. As settlers slaughtered for meat and skin, the elk retreated westward. Like the bison or buffalo, it barely escaped extinction.

Discipline Discussed At PTA Meeting

By CIRINA ALDAS

The February 4 PTA meeting was held in the library of Capitan High School at 7:30 with President Jack Aldrich presiding.

Mrs. Lee Smith, Mrs. Earl Pryor, and Mrs. Jack Robinson were elected as a committee to nominate the slate of next year's officers.

Reverend Charles Conder was in charge of the program. The members were asked to form themselves into four groups to discuss the general topic "Discipline." It was defined as "That which produces the well-integrated individual."

The groups were given 15 minutes to discuss the topic. Then the four groups joined together in a symposium to present their views on discipline. Rev. Charles Conder acted as chairman.

Athletic Activities Discussed at Meeting

By IRENE ZAMORA

Attending the Sierra Blanca Activity Association meeting Monday night at Hondo High School were Duane Darling, principal; Coach Lewis Stratton, Johnnie Carvajal and Penny McKnight, third year students of Capitan High.

They presented the views of the Capitan High School concerning basketball tournaments among the schools of this section. They also participated in the discussion on cutting up grade school and junior high tournaments, and a refereeing training program for high school boys.

The grade school-junior high tournaments are to be held at Capitan High School, March 1 and 2.

Capitan Tigers Edge Vaughn

By JOE ALDAS

The Capitan Tigers edged the Vaughn Eagles, 58-55, in a nip-and-tuck game played at Vaughn, February 1.

The Eagles started out fast as they connected for four fast baskets to lead 8-0. The Tigers rallied and trailed by only 1 point, 14-13, at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter Mick Guck connected for 10 points to lead his crew to a 28-25 half time advantage.

Beginning the second half the hosts fired up and outscored the visitors 17-12. The Eagles led by 2 points in the final quarter. With the Eagles leading 52-50, Joe Aldas tied it with 2 charity tosses and Mick Guck added 2 more to pull ahead. LaMay and McKnight each added a basket to win 58-55.

Guck, McKnight and Vance hit for 13, 16, and 13 points respectively to lead the Tigers. F. Montoya took scoring honors for the evening and for Vaughn with a total of 21 points.

The Capitan B team also prospered as they took a 42-31 win from the Vaughn B's. Lujan hit for 17, followed by Kerr with 12 for Capitan. For Vaughn, Sineros had 15.

QUESTION ANSWERED

A motorist whose car was stuck in a muddy ditch calmly set about digging the wheels free until a curious passerby beset him with a string of questions.

"What are you doing, mister, digging yourself out of the mud?"

"No," replied the irritated motorist. "My motor just died and I'm digging a hole to bury it in."

COMPETITIVE SPIRIT

"In Billy Hicks, we have one of the finest, if not the finest player in the district. His competitive spirit has kindled many a win for us this year."

"Greg Pino has one of the finest attitudes of any player I have ever seen and doesn't know the meaning of the word quit. Two boys who have been improving with each game are Rodger Pope and Scott Lewis and would be a credit to any team in the state."

"The other three lads who have played a lot of ball this year and have made up for their inexperience with desire, are Joe Petty, Emilio Beltran and Maxie Saucedo, all Sophomores. The loss of Lake Hite, with a back injury, and Lewis Greer, due to ineligibility, has hurt our bench support."

"The morale is high in the Grizzly camp and the boys believe they will enjoy playing as an underdog in the district tournament."

The Grizzlies have but one game left to play before the district tournament and it is with a strong Hondo team on February 15.

The Grizzly "B" team owns the top record of the year, 12-1, with a team composed entirely of underclassmen.

The Grizzly frosh team has a good record, which is 4 and 3. The frosh own a win over a very strong Alamogordo team and the Zoza Frosh could go all the way in the frosh tournament this year.

While the seventh and eighth grade have no record to brag about they have given up no games without a real struggle. The Jr. High record is: Won, 0, and lost, 8.

The Fifth and Sixth graders have a season record of 3-3. The Cubs can say they haven't been beaten very badly by any one team this year and they are always fighting to win.

THE GRIZZLY VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Grizzlies Drop Two Over Week End

By DONALD HOBBS

The Carrizozo Grizzlies lost two games over the weekend. One loss was to Ruidoso, 64-51 and the other went to St. Peters of Roswell, 50-53.

The Varsity record for the season is 10 and 10 with one game left to play.

The games played in January were by far the toughest tests on the Grizzlies' schedule. Seven of the teams played during January are expected to be seeded in the district in which they play. Fort Sumner will undoubtedly be seeded in their district, while Corona is rated the number one team in their own district.

Hot Springs is at the top of the list and Eunice is favored to take state this year. Estancia has shown an ability to win by defeating Wagon Mound, Ruidoso and St. Peters will undoubtedly be seeded in this district.

The season record last year at this time was identical to this year's, 10 and 10.

It looks as though the district record is up for grabs as the records show. Carrizozo has beaten Ruidoso once and lost two contests to the Warriors. The Grizzlies have been beaten by El Peters two times by a total margin of three points. While Hagerman has been beaten handsily by Ruidoso and St. Peters, they have the only district win over Eunice.

Carrizozo is definitely a dark horse in the district tourney along with Capitan, Jal, Lake Arthur, Hondo and Dexter.

Coach Volgt states: "Actually we have had a good season with only one starter back from last year. We are an improved ball club since our opener. We have been outclassed only once this year and that was when Eunice defeated us 53-27."

Specialists will answer questions and discuss irrigation problems with farmers during the exposition. Plan to be on hand for this important conference. Registration starts at 8 a.m. February 15, and the program gets underway at 9:30 a.m.

Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful men with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination are all-important.

Greenhorn on Skis

Well, I finally made it right up to the top, I'm panting and puffing and ready to drop;

Rented a while and got ready to go. My wife's down there watching, so I'll give her a show.

I take a deep breath and then say a prayer As my feet go straight up, and I'm left in the air; My bottom hit first and I want you to know. That a sidewalk is soft compared to that snow.

I managed to struggle back up on my feet, Brushing the snow from my legs and my seat;

One ski pointed north and the other one west, I could hardly stand up, but was doing my best.

I looked down the hill that I planned to descend, Sliding so gracefully and gong with the wind;

The hill looked much longer and steeper to me, My courage starts ebbing, that's real plain to see.

But I finally got started, going down through the snow, Picking up speed, but I want to go slow;

Have no control, I can't stop or turn, I thought to myself, this is no way to learn.

Then I lost my balance, the ski left the ground And I started spinning around and around;

They looked like a windmill cut loose from its mast As I rolled down the hill and the aspens whizzed past.

I finally got stopped in a monstrous snowbank, I hit it so hard I resembled a tank!

Went in head first, all the way to my knees, With my skis and my feet waving there in the breeze.

When I finally dug out, I was all scratched and bruised With my wife standing, watching, completely amused;

A swore then and there, that it was the last, My skiing experience was all in the past.

My mother once told me with vigor and vim, Stay away from the water till you learn how to swim.

The same thing applies, you can take it from me, Stay out of the snow till you learn how to ski.

Ft. Stanton Praised For Fine Record

Doctors B. Sedlacek and E. F. McIntyre, Medical-Social Worker Inez Tyler and Secretary Mrs. I. Faesano, all of the U. S. Public Health Service, Division of Indian Health, spent several days at Fort Stanton reviewing Indian patients' cases with Dr. George J. Hathaway, medical director of Fort Stanton and Dr. Bela Szgeit, associate director. About forty patients, mostly Navajo children, have been found apparently cured and ready for discharge in the near future.

This again demonstrates that Fort Stanton still ranks as one of the best sanatoria in the United States for the treatment of tuberculosis. An average daily children-patient census is 85 and since the State took over Fort Stanton from the Public Health Service on July 1, 1953, not one child died from pulmonary tuberculosis.

The U. S. Public Health Service is considering some new plans in connection with the treatment of Indians at Fort Stanton. These may include other tribes (at present only Navajos are treated); the convalescence of patients now in sanatoria in California and Colorado and geriatrics. The visiting U. S. Public Health Service doctors expressed highest degree of satisfaction with Fort Stanton.

Coincident with the above was the regular meeting of the Medical Advisory Board, consisting of Dr. D. H. Cahoon of Roswell and Doctors Joseph Gordon, Roger McQuigg, J. Gordon Strance and C. R. Beeson of Albuquerque.

Dr. and Mrs. Hathaway entertained at dinner the doctors and other U. S. Public Health Service personnel Saturday evening. Present also was Murray A. Hintz, State Welfare Director, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kuslanovich and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hathaway. The young doctor Hathaway just returned from a tour of duty in Germany and is presently attached to the medical staff of the Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque.

Zozo Sixth Graders Nip Undeclared Capitan

In a basketball game played Tuesday on the home court, Carrizozo's Sixth Grade team defeated previously undefeated Capitan 20-20. Luis Borja, using his height to advantage, racked up 18 points on nine field goals.

Capitan's leading point producers were Lynch and Carbajal with 8 and 7 points respectively. This brought Zozo's record to 4 won and 3 lost.

The winless eighth graders from Carrizozo ran into more bad luck and dropped a 24-15 decision to Capitan. Capitan clinched the victory from the free throw line sinking ten charity tosses to Zozo's three.

Leading point makers for Capitan were Padilla and Carbajal with seven points apiece. Carrizozo's leading point maker was Farmer with six.

Late last week the Carrizozo eighth graders dropped a 25-14 decision to Ruidoso. At the same time the Carrizozo Sixth Graders defeated Ruidoso 18-13, with Bill of Zozo capturing point honors with 13 points on six field goals and one free toss.

Auto Theft Conviction Draws Sentence in Pen

James Preston Winton, who has been held in the county jail since the first of the year, was taken to the state penitentiary this week by Sheriff S. M. Ortiz.

Appearing before W. T. Scroggin on January 31, Winton was sentenced from 1 to 5 years for car theft.

Donald Turner of Albuquerque entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving, was fined court costs of $150 and was given an additional sentence of conditional suspension of his driver's license for 90 days.

Probation Officer Manuel Chavez reports that 31 boys and 12 girls were processed through the probation office last month.

District court convenes again February 8.

The graders and other equipment are in Nogal and up Nogal Canyon.

INSIDE THE CAPITAL

and Tcos among the northern counties. It appeared likely that he would pick up delegations from perhaps two more counties in the area.

ONE-COUNTY MEN OPPOSE MONTOYA

Montoya's delegate number is puny but it looms mighty big when compared with what other hopefuls have been able to attract. So far none has been able to get support outside his own county.

The Democrats of neither Bernalillo, which alone holds 265 delegate votes, and the Little Texas group of six counties with 307 delegates, have been able to center on a single candidate. If they go into the convention divided as it now appears they will, Montoya could win the nomination on the first ballot.

Meanwhile, it appears that whoever is elected to Congress April 9, will get it on a tiny fraction of the total vote of the state. This is the first special election for Congress or any other office New Mexico has ever held. However, there have been many special elections on constitutional amendments and other questions, and some of them might excite such as the time Gov. Clyde Tingey tried to repeal the two-term limit attracted 21,000. Last year's general election attracted 250,000.

NEW GOVERNOR AT SANTA FE

Gov. Ed Mechem has been telling Republican delegates that he will hire their people when they send applicants with qualifications for the jobs they seek. Trouble is, most Republicans haven't had a chance to get experience at public work.

Mechem continues his veneration for age. Wallace Barnes, the new tourist director, is in the lively seventies. . . . The new governor plans to ditch the full-time, $3400-a-year, live-at-home associate tax commissioner, and return to the part-timers at $3,000 a year. . . . Joe Lawley, managing editor of the New Mexican in Santa Fe, imitates Mechem's voice to the point that even Dorothy Mechem is confused. His tape recording lampooning the governor's address to the legislature was a high point of the El Paso Press convention. . . .

Pet Deer Makes Brutal Attack

A dramatic example of the danger in keeping a pet deer comes to the Department of Game and Fish from Missoula.

The deer, a 165-pound white tailed buck, had been raised in captivity from a fawn and was used in exhibits throughout the state. An employee of the Missouri Conservation Department was doing some work in the deer's pen when the deer (fortunately antlerless at this time of year) butted him from behind.

Although the man weighed just about as much as the deer, he was thrown eight feet. He regained his footing, only to be tossed again, this time over the deer's back. Once more he got to his feet, and was thrown a third time. Finally he threw the deer off balance and outran it to the gate, while the deer remained reared up and striking with both front feet.

Except for the fact that the deer had shed its antlers, the man would certainly have been severely gored, and probably killed.

The deer was subsequently killed.
