Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

Interviews With People Who Helped Build Lincoln County

JOHN W. DALE

My name is John W. Dale. I was born April 6, 1872, in Illinois. When I was less than a year old, my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dale, and my grandparents moved in a covered wagon to a farm south of San Antonio, Tex. My father was killed at Sander- son, Texas, and in 1891 my mother and sister and myself came to New Mexico.

We stayed in Roswell a short time and then went up to Las Vegas, where we spent the winter. Las Vegas was known as the meanest town in New Mexico. There was a mob of about fifty that robbed people for their money. Their leader ran a saloon in Old Las Vegas. He was finally killed.

I was working in a livery stable run by a man named M. L. Cooley. One night while I and a friend were walking down a street, three of this mob stood across the street and shot at us five times, but we got away. Cooley told me one morning that three men were hanging from his windmill tower. I asked him if he knew why they got hung. He said no, he didn't try to find out.

A man named Billy Green, and his brother, ran a restaurant in Las Vegas. Billy Green was a deputy sheriff and he got in bad with the mob. One day some men rode in and shot the front out of Green's restaurant, trying to kill the two brothers.

They finally caught one of the mob and he gave them some names. The gang was rounded up, and I hauled some of them up to the pen.

We went back to Roswell and I got a job working on the new railroad that they were building east out of Roswell. I had my mother and sister to support and wanted to earn more money, so I got a job riding broncs. In those days bronc riders got $43 a month and their board, which was about $20 more than regular cow hands got. My first job was to bring a bunch of wild horses to Lincoln County that had been sold to W. C. McDonald's Bar-W Ranch. There wasn't a house in Carrizozo then.

On my way back to Roswell I stopped in Lincoln and met up with Bill Minters who was foreman for the Block outfit. He hired me as a bronc rider. That was in 1895.

You had to be a bronc rider to work for the Block. We used to ride two broncs a day on the average. They had 400 head of saddle horses and four branding wagons, with eight or nine men to a wagon. They had about 65,000 head of cattle and I've seen 500 calves branded at one fire.

We would drive the cattle to Las Vegas on their way to market. One time we made a drive with over 300 head of bulls, which we branded before starting out and it was a good thing we did. There were seven on this trip, besides the cook: Bill Minters, the boss; myself, Jim Laffery (his son runs a drug store in Alamogordo), Red Weaver, Johnny Pilkey, George Moore, a cook who was a Spanish-American and a colored man we called "Nigger Lasses." Sometimes along the trail all of us would be riding broncs at one time.

One morning one of the bulls played out and wouldn't get up. Bill Minters kept twisting his tail to get him going, which he finally did. The bull jumped up and started after Bill. Bill ran away and then looked around to see how close the bull was, and fell down. The bull straddled him. Weaver roped the bull and pulled him off. If that bull hadn't been dehorned it would have killed Bill for sure.

I remember on that bull drive we had three fights in one night. A couple of fellows drifted into camp and they had a canteen of whiskey.

They wanted me to take a drink and when I refused they started after me with knives in their hands. I got to a pile of rocks and stopped them. One of the boys came over with a six-shooter to help me, but I told him we wouldn't see a gun as we had plenty of rocks. The two

Driver Enters Town Too Fast for Safety

Barnard J. Beaulieu of Oscura was fined $100 in Judge John Mackey's court Tuesday for driving while intoxicated and his driving license was suspended for a year.

Severo M. Gallegos, Carrizozo town marshal, states that Beaulieu's car, coming into town at a high rate of speed, narrowly missed the gas pumps at Paul's place, swerved across the highway and struck a car parked in front of Jonnie's Bar.

The car that was struck and knocked over the curb belonged to Doyal L. Parnell of Oscura. Both cars were demolished by the impact, but there were no injuries.

Officer Gallegos estimated that the speed of Beaulieu's car when it struck the one that was parked was around 60 mph.

Voters to Choose Repr. in Congress

New Mexico will elect a successor next Tuesday to the congressional post made vacant by the death of Representative Antonio M. Fernandez.

A special election has been called for the voters to choose between Tom Bolack and Lt. Gov. Joseph M. Montoya, nominees, respectively, of the Republican and Democratic parties.

The polls will open at 8 in the morning and close at 7 in the evening Tuesday, April 9. For this special election all Carrizozo voters of both precincts 14A and 14B will cast their votes at one place—the Eljo Hall.

Similarly in Bldoso, voters of both Precincts 13A and 13B will have one voting place—the American Legion Hall.

Lincoln County had 4,273 voters registered at the last general election, of whom 3,001 cast ballots. This was 72-plus of the total registration. A considerably lighter vote is expected at this special election.

The county clerk's office will remain open Tuesday night until all ballot boxes are received.

New Owners for El Cibola Hotel

In a deal recently concluded Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Stearns have purchased the El Cibola Hotel from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harkey. The transaction also included the building occupied by the Lincoln County Motors.

Part of the consideration was the Stearns property in Negal. Mr. and Mrs. Harkey have moved to Negal and Mr. and Mrs. Stearns and family are now making their home at the El Cibola.

New Utility Connections

Recent utility connections in Carrizozo were made to the residences of John Guess, Keith Johnson, Willard Hutton, Espinosa Jantregui (recreation hall), Leo Romero, E. E. Lubojacky, Nellie Guevara and Wm. E. Byrd.

trouble makers went back to the wagon and got the cook to drink their whiskey.

That same night Lassos got into a fight with one of the stray cowboys and knocked him down. To top it off the two strangers finally got into a fight.

Lasses was a pretty good cowboy. We used him a good deal for horse wrangling. I remember one time Lassos got on a pretty tough bucking horse and rode him out. We asked him how it went and he said: "That horse rides good when he's buckin' but he's a rough son of a gun to ride when he starts to lope." Lassos married a Spanish-American woman.

One time when I was at the Block ranch a couple of Indians came along with two horses that they had trouble staying on. They asked us to break the horses. We—that is, myself and my brother-in-law, Bill Hazelwood—asked the Indians what they would give us. They said a Navajo blanket and a deer hide. We rode the horses and I took the deer hide. The Indians left but I figured they would still have trouble with those horses because they were afraid of them.

Carrizozo Trustees Review Plans for Traffic Separation

At a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, the Carrizozo town board of trustees conferred with two officials of the State Highway Department regarding the placement of traffic dividers and islands on Highway 54 through town.

After a highway cement crew started the work last week, the town board received protests from property owners on both sides of the highway at its intersection with E Avenue.

The Highway Department was represented by Bob Conrad, assistant traffic and safety director, and E. E. Smith, safety supervisor. They explained that the Highway Department was acting on a request made two years ago by H. G. Welk, utilities manager, for traffic separation at this point.

The board members and the two highway representatives made an on-the-spot investigation of the construction and the News is informed that it was tentatively agreed to shorten the present strip, move it more to the center of the highway, cut curbing on the west side to permit parking and to place two islands at the Phillips 66 station.

Town board member Leandro Vega, Mayor Wayne C. Withers, Clerk Johnson Stearns and F. A. English met last Thursday in El Paso with W. B. Hollis, president of the El Paso Electric Co.

They discussed the possibility of buying electric power from the El Paso utility, but were told the company had no transmission line north of Alamogordo. The board was to meet this week with representatives of the Community Public Service Company to further discuss buying electric power.

At Tuesday night's regular board meeting a resolution was passed granting Alamogordo an easement for a pipeline into Carrizozo to bring water to the Southern Pacific installations. The request was made by J. W. Hopkins, representing the S.P.

Building permits were granted for the St. Rita's Convent and for Robert Vega to construct a frame dwelling, 28x32.

Mayor Withers will represent Carrizozo in any problems that may arise as the contractor begins the construction of sewer lines through town.

Three Men Injured When Car Overturns

Three men were treated in Carrizozo hospital early Wednesday morning after their car failed to make a curve 9.3 miles west of Carrizozo on Highway 53.

They were traveling east in a car driven by Douglas A. Belmonte, 23, of Albuquerque. Passengers were Wesley Tidwell, 23, and Daniel Hagen, 42, also of Albuquerque.

The vehicle, out of control, overturned once and a half times. The men were treated for cuts, bruises and internal injuries, none serious.

The accident was investigated by State Patrolman James Clayton, Manuel Chavez and Hoppy Gutierrez, and the wreck was picked up by the Means Motor Supply.

Belmote has been fined on for failure to keep his vehicle under control.

"GREATEST AGGIE"

Wally Ferguson of Capitlan was elected Greatest Aggie in the all-campus popularity elections held recently at New Mexico A&M, Wally, a junior agriculture major, is the son of Mrs. Louise Ferguson.

A member of Alpha Gamma Rho, national social fraternity, he has been an active member of the "A" Club, and has served as president of McPle Hall, the athletic dormitory.

Work Starts on Carrizozo's New Sewerage System

Ground was broken this week for Carrizozo's new sewer system and disposal plant.

Trenching started at the site of the disposal plant, located northwest of town, about 2,000 feet off Highway 330. For the next ten days work will consist of running a line from the disposal site to the corner of the townsite.

Sam Sampson of the firm of Ashley Olsen & Associates, is the project engineer. Dennis Walker of the P. B. Burn Company is superintendent of construction and Ernest Huchan is foreman.

FEDERAL ASSISTANCE GRANTED SEWER PROJECT

A telegram received Wednesday by Mayor Wayne C. Withers from Congressman Jack Dempsey stated that the town's request for Federal assistance in its outfall sewer and sewerage treatment plant had been approved.

The grant was for $17,180 and the total estimated cost of the project is $25,516.

Six men were employed at the start of construction, five of whom are local men. It is expected that approximately twenty additional men will be added to the crew in about a week.

Mr. Sampson states that gates, valves, fittings and cast iron pipe for the disposal plant are on order and construction of disposal plant will start in approximately 30 days. Tentative date for completing the project is mid-August.

Town officials ask the cooperation of the townspeople in showing the contractor where they want their sewer "stub-outs" (connections). A stub-out in the main sewer line is included in the contract.

Stub-outs will be placed in the main sewer line on all occupied lots, where there is a present connecting sewer line, a cesspool, or a privy.

The contractor is A. A. Drooks, whose bid of $40,500 was the lowest of three submitted.

The new convent, which will be the home of four Sisters of Mercy, will be a one-story structure of Cinder block construction. It will have five bedrooms, refectory, community room, chapel, kitchen, utility room and a parlor for visitors.

The architect is Ken Fowler, who is associated with Wm. Ellison, Albuquerque architect.

The new convent, which is across the street from the St. Rita school, replaces a structure built when the Sisters of Mercy established a convent in Carrizozo.

Scoutmaster Resigns After 7 Years' Service

A plea for the Carrizozo Lions Club to continue to sponsor Troop 53 Boy Scouts was made Monday by Duane S. (Pete) Myers, district Scout executive, of Roswell.

Mr. Myers, who was a guest at the noon luncheon of the club, spoke briefly after Spence Devitt, Scoutmaster for the past seven years, announced his resignation. The club members gave Mr. Devitt a big hand for having served twice as long as the average Scoutmaster.

The Boy Scout committee of the club is to meet in the near future with parents of boys belonging to Troop 53 and attempt to get a new Scoutmaster.

Mr. Myers said that successful Scouting must have the cooperation of the parents. Lions Clubs, he added, are one of the largest sponsors of Scouting in the world.

Membership pins were given to Russell Eddings and Albert Burch. Austen Wooten was a guest at the luncheon.

President F. O. Brown appointed a nominating committee of Paul Baker, Doll Ray and Russell Eddings.

R. G. Firman thanked the club for their support of the C Club banquet. "The youngsters thoroughly appreciate having the backing of the community," he said.

Four Areas Report On Roll Call for Red Cross Funds

Four communities in Lincoln County have made initial reports in the 1957 Red Cross fund campaign.

The contribution of $50 from the Corona Community Chest was the first to be received by Marvin H. Roberts, county ARC treasurer.

Since then reports have been made by Mrs. D. O. Murphy and Mrs. J. R. Provino for Capitlan; Mrs. Nina Nelson for the Tinnie-Hondo area; and Mrs. Charles Fuller for Piacheo.

Included in the $403 received to date are a number of generous donations from ranch owners in the county.

The National Red Cross headquarters announced this week that the organization's flood relief commitments in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia now have topped $3,000,000.

Mrs. Fred Sweet Jr. and Mrs. C. A. Snow are co-chairmen for the Carrizozo area. They will be assisted in the membership canvass by other volunteer workers.

Mrs. Ernestine Shell will serve as Ruldoso Roll Call chairman for the 1957 Red Cross Roll Call.

She will be assisted by Dan Sweenhgin as vice-chairman, who'll work with members of the Rotary Club to which he belongs, was to solicit memberships from Ruldoso business firms.

In asking the community to be generous toward the Red Cross, Mrs. Lucy Vanderstock stated in last week's Ruldoso News that last year when a forest fire threatened Bldoso, district and area Red Cross officials contacted her and offered any assistance that might be needed.

"The Red Cross was ready to act," she said, "even before it was determined whether we would need help. By giving even a small contribution you will have a part in the work of your American Red Cross."

The Red Cross was also on the job in last week's snowstorm. The Reno County chapter of Hutchinson, Kansas, prepared relief parcels which were dropped by National Guard helicopter to stranded Rock Island train passengers and automobiles stalled on Highway 66.

Other Red Cross aid was centered at Winona, Kansas, and Dodge City, and Berger, Texas.

Along the Way..

BY PAUL BAKER

April is Cancer Month in New Mexico and the slogan for the crusade is "Trade Dollars for Lives." Johnson Stearns is the crusade chairman for Lincoln County.

Mrs. Tess Potter, newly appointed executive director for the state, explains the need for a successful April Cancer Crusade. "In the past," she says, "we have not raised enough money to carry on an adequate educational service program in our state, much less do our fair share in providing funds for research."

"A service program directed towards helping the patient by furnishing dressings, transportation to medical centers for treatment, drugs, and help on defraying the cost on diagnostic aids, will amount to more than twice as much as was raised last year, or around $35,000."

Town Marshal Severo Gallegos is in receipt of a letter from L. B. Scott, pastor of the Bonita Community Church, 6410 North Blackstone, Fresno, Calif., seeking information about the heirs of Ben Rue, formerly of Lincoln.

The letter states in part: "My mother's Uncle Ben Rue moved to Lincoln, N. M., about 1898. The last we heard from him was about 1910, but he had five children: H. Rue, a boy; Emma, Lenzie, Lizzie and Henry. I have found a George Rue at Lincoln and I wrote him, but got no answer. Linnie Rue married a man by the name of Dud Lincoln.

"If you can find any trace of the Rueos I have mentioned, we will be very thankful, as the government has put money in escrow for the purchase of some property and the heirs must be found if at all possible."

Sen. J. G. Moore tells a story about an absent-minded newspaperman, sitting in at one of the committee hearings, who voted "aye" when a vote vote was called for. The chairman, who noticed the unusual procedure, promptly called for a vote by roll call.

Sombody lost the scorebook, but anyway the Arkansas Travelers girls' basketball team acknowledged the Red Canyon boys in to submission Tuesday night by a margin of "10 or 11 points, or maybe it was 13."

The game, won by a capacity crowd in the Carrizozo gymnasium.

A Roswell holdup suspect played a game of hide and seek with law enforcement officers early Saturday morning, but he was finally tagged out.

State Patrolman James Clayton was requested to set up a road block to arrest an armed robbery suspect, who was stated to have held up a Roswell filling station and stolen a '55 Pontiac convertible.

The suspect was headed west on Highway 70. He pulled into a service station at Riverdale and heard an attendant remark that there was a road block ahead.

The suspect turned back toward Roswell. His car was spotted by a deputy and the man was later picked up west of Roswell.

Alex Jenkins, Corona's town marshal, in Carrizozo Tuesday, said Corona had received another rain and three or four inches of snow. The moisture received to date this year, he said, is the best since 1943.

Application Deadlines For Wool program

In a notice to wool producers, the Lincoln County ASC office states that applications for payments on wool and unstored lambs must be filed in the county office by April 30 for the 1956 marketing year which ended March 31, 1957.

All wool sold between April 1, 1956, and March 31, 1957, must be turned in for payment for the 1956 program.

All wool sold after April 1, 1957, must be turned in on the 1957 wool program. The County ASC office reminds producers to turn in wool and lamb invoices as soon as possible after they are sold.

Head Coach Says U. of N. M. Football Is on the Upgrade

"We are rebuilding our football team at the University of New Mexico and we'll be better next year," Dick Clausen, head coach told those attending the C Club banquet last Thursday at the Carrizozo Woman's Club.

The 1956 U. of N. M. football team, in Coach Clausen's first year, won 4 and lost 6 in the Skyline conference. He predicted that the Lobos would have a "real good team" in about two years.

Football and basketball letters were awarded Grizzly team members at the annual banquet. The football awards were given by Coach Albert Burch and the basketball awards by Coach John Volgt.

Basketball awards were made to Pat Aguilera, Emilio Beltran, Robert Firman, Billy Hicks, Scott Lewis, Larry Ortiz, Joe Petty, Greg Pino, Rodger Pope, Maxie Saucedo, Robert Simpson and Bobby Stearns manager.

Greg Pino was honored by being chosen as "Greatest Grizzly" for the year. This distinction is voted on by the faculty and is based on the youth's record in scholarship, leadership and his attitude toward his fellow students and faculty.

The "Greatest Grizzly" award was started by former Coach Ken Willis. Billy Hicks was the recipient last year.

Also presented team members at the banquet was a large "Sportsmanship Trophy" which the 1956-57 Grizzlies were awarded at the district basketball tournament. The trophy was accepted for the team by Billy Hicks, tri-captain.

In introducing Coach Clausen, Supt. R. G. Firman said that he was a graduate of the University of Iowa and that, before coming to New Mexico, he had coached with unusual success at Coe College, Iowa.

There are three qualities a good athlete must have, Coach Clausen said, and he listed them in order of importance as: Desire, he must like to play; physical condition; and ability. While ability is important, the coach said, desire to play the game and physical condition are more important.

"To be successful in athletics or in any line of endeavor," the coach stated, "you must learn to get along with other people. Strive to develop an interest in other people and thereby become a good conversationalist. Learn to admit your mistakes. That takes courage. Also learn how to smile." And last, but not least, he urged all to have some kind of religious faith.

Lake Hite, president of the C Club, thanked Coach Clausen for coming to Carrizozo to speak; also the Lions Club for assisting with financing the dinner, and the Carrizozo Woman's Club for donating the use of the clubhouse.

The dinner meeting was concluded by a film on the New Mexico-Montana football game, narrated by Coach Clausen.

Mayor Farmington, 1952-1954
Elected to the N. M. Legislature Nov., 1956, on Republican ticket, receiving highest number of votes of any state or county candidate running for office on either ticket.

TOM BOLACK was born May 18, 1918, in Cowley County, Kansas, and was reared on a ranch... Trapped furs, broke horses and made ranch hand in youth... Started as tool dresser in the oil fields at 16 years of age. Came to New Mexico as Superintendent of the Hoopah Oil Field at Prewitt, N. M., in 1942... One of his greatest services to New Mexico was his financial aid and leadership in the passage of the Upper Colorado River Project bill which gave this State a share in the construction for water storage from the Colorado River. In this fight he was chairman of the Great Roots "Aquanates," which was the publicity group authorized by the Upper Colorado River Commission to carry the fight through Congress. The organization was non-partisan, and was successful in assisting legislation that now gives the West the greatest reclamation project in history. Included is the Navajo dam in San Juan county, a project sought by county and state boosters for the past half century.

In this work Bolack made many contacts with United States Senators and Congressmen and other State and National officials. His work was wholly non-partisan in every respect throughout this service, and he worked voluntarily without salary or expense account.

A HONDO STORY

One night at a school dance one of the boys found a rattlesnake on the front steps of the schoolhouse. This woman told them they had to burn the rattlesnake and the stairs in exactly the same spot as the snake was found, or the mate would come and cause great harm to someone. They did as she told them.

A few weeks later when the school was having a carnival they found another rattlesnake. They were all frightened. The old woman said there was nothing she could do because they hadn't done what she told them the first time. The first boy that found the snake became very sick and died and the second one became sick.

(The above story, from the Folklore Archives of Highlands University, Las Vegas, was told by Bernice Caudillo.)

THE GOOD FRIDAY DANCE

The people of Mountaintop were having a dance on Good Friday. Such enjoyments seem to be forbidden on that day by the Catholic religion. The dance started. About halfway through it the girls noticed a fellow suddenly appear out of nowhere. From then on the girls were mad about him. They just couldn't stay away. If all went on for half of the dance. Suddenly one of the cowboys noticed the good-looking person wasn't dancing, but seemed to be floating about three inches off the floor. He uttered the word "God," and in an instant the man was gone.

Some people say it was the devil. Still, on Good Friday at that certain dance hall the music of a western band can be heard.

THE LADY DRESSED IN WHITE

A few months ago, a lady dressed in white would walk the streets of Carrizozo, screaming and crying as she walked. When people saw her, she would run to the northeastern side of town and disappear. She would return after a few days, only to disappear again.

A NUN

At Carrizozo, a nun lived in a large house. When she died, she was buried under the floor of the house and a few nights later she was seen walking in circles on the roof of the house.

(The two above items are from the Highlands University Folklore Archives. They were told to John Makinovy by Edgar and Carleen Lee.)

VERSE WITH NEWS

The Outlook, a weekly newspaper in the former mining town of White Oaks, printed the following item and verse in its December 22, 1901, issue:

Invitations are out for what promises to be the finest entertainment of the year, in the way of a Leap Year party, which will be given by some of the young ladies of White Oaks at the Town Hall, Monday evening, December 23.

I palmt and perfume till I'm weary, a weary,
I gather of wrinkles a crop,
I wait while the world grows dreary, quite dreary,
For the question which never will pop.

It may give my darling a core shock, a core shock,
It may even cause him a fright,
But I mean to take time by the forelock, the forelock;
He will dance to my music to-night.

Changing Partners

Little Ann was all eyes at the church wedding. "Did the lady change her mind?" she whispered to her mother.

"No, dear. What makes you think so?"
"Cause she went up the aisle with one man and came back with another."

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

TUESDAY'S ELECTION APATHETIC AFFAIR

Santa Fe, April 3—This thing coming up Tuesday looks like New Mexico may choose a congressman on a basis of apathy rather than a positive expression of public sentiment.

Reports from eastern and southern New Mexico are almost uniform in anticipation of an exceedingly light vote.

A good many people don't know an election is set for April 9, a lot more don't care and even in this political capital you encounter people who don't know who's running.

The situation would seem to favor the Demo candidate, Lt. Gov. Joe Montoya but I wouldn't even be sure of that. There seems to be more interest in the election in the counties of heavy Spanish American population where Montoya has his best following. The apathy is largely in areas where sentiment seems to prevail for Republican Tom Bolack of Farmington.

Sentiment doesn't mean anything if the people don't vote.

EXCITEMENT IN ROSWELL

A conspicuous exception to the don't-give-a-heck attitude is in Roswell where the neighbors are in one of the frequent fights with Demos battling Demos and with Montoya and his friend, Ernie Tucker of Roswell, the Democratic state chairman, likely to be the goats.

Tucker is also the not very popular mayor of Roswell which has brought about a union of the anti-mayor people and the anti-Tucker in what 100% like a majority force. I like to stick my neck out predicting the outcome of elections but it would be foolish to try to anticipate the result of an election which is not likely to attract a representative vote.

MEEHEM TOUGH ON RETIREMENT

Gov. Ed Meehem marred the retirement prospects of two individuals in his veto spree. One measure he knocked out was known in the legislature as the Castner Bill. It would have enabled Bob Castner, presently the finance officer of the state health department, to have gone back and picked up retirement credit for the four years he was auditor, 1931-34. The other was a proposed simple amendment of the judges retirement act which would have granted retirement credit for all time on the bench rather than limiting it within a certain period. The only judge affected by the proposal was Supreme Court Justice H. A. Kiker. It would have qualified him at once for retirement whenever he chose to take it, instead of laboring through 1965 under the present law.

HAY FRIGHTENS CAPITOL OFFICERS

You haven't heard the last of the hay program. It's keeping some Santa Fe-people awake nights worrying over the possible effects of a legal showdown on giving away up to $230,000 of state dough.

ALREADY ATTY. GEN. FRED STANDLEY HAD HELD THE GIVE-AWAY ILLEGAL AND HAS SUGGESTED TO GOV. ED MEEHEM THAT A COURT TEST BE UNDERTAKEN.

If the court agrees that using the money to buy hay for drought suffering farmers was illegal what then about the $230,000 or the part of that amount that was actually spent? It would have to be recovered, and from whom?

That's what has them worried. It could be held that the ranchers who got the money would have to give it back. It's possible

E. I. Harkey Given Surprise Birthday Party

On Wednesday, March 27, Mrs. E. I. Harkey gave "Sparky" a surprise party honoring his 50th birthday. A delicious buffet supper was served to 46 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Robinson and son John of Capitan and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bingham of Ruidoso were among the out of town guests.

A delightful time was enjoyed by all. Mr. Harkey was the recipient of many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stoneman and children were business visitors in Ruidoso last Saturday.

George Perry and Bert Pfingsten of Glencoe were in Ancho on business last week.

Why Should You Eat A Good Breakfast?

Breakfast-skippers rob themselves of potential alertness and efficiency during the late morning hours. Dieters are wrong if they think missing breakfast is a practical way to lose weight.

An adequate breakfast supplies a half to one-third of the day's total food requirements and makes a good contribution of most the essential nutrients.

Basic foods considered essential are: fruit, breakfast cereal, milk, bread, and butter. Such a breakfast pattern is termed "balanced" because it contains food that should be included in every morning meal. It is a basis on which a breakfast of any desired size may be developed.

Emphasis on the breakfast meal is needed because a national survey reports, for instance, that only one out of five children go to school with a good breakfast.

Sixty per cent of the teen-age girls habitually eat a breakfast entirely inadequate to their physical needs.

Boys need it, too. Twice as many older teen-age boys have poor breakfast eating habits when compared to the younger teen-age group.

As for women, only about 40% of the women say they have good breakfasts.

Only 56% of the men say they have good breakfasts.

INSIDE THE CAPITAL

That the state officials who authorized the expenditure — the former governor and board of finance — could be held responsible, or possibly other state officers who were in on the paying out of the money.

REPUBLICANS FIND A JOB FOR ROBINS

Harry Robins, the Republican state chairman in the first McChesem administration, has joined the bureau of revenue payroll at $250 a month for part-time legal service in Albuquerque, his home. Bob Valdez, the former corporation commissioner, is in an Albuquerque hospital resting after a light heart attack.

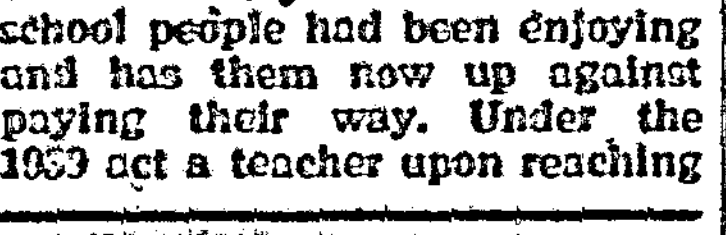

The union boys have finally found a Republican they like. He is Sen. Richard Pousma of Gallup who has spent most of his adult life as a missionary doctor who talked and voted for labor straight down the line in the recent session.

Dan Sedillo, the former Democratic corporation commissioner who bolted the Demos in support of McChesem for governor, has begun to get some insurance business from the state. He sold a $335 bond the other day and has some bigger business on tap.

TEACHERS PAY MORE AND RECEIVE LESS

The teachers retirement act passed by the recent legislature ends an 18-year free ride the school people had been enjoying and has them now up against paying their way. Under the 1933 act a teacher upon reaching

LINCOLN

Lincoln is a busy place, with all the work going on putting in the town's new water system.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Maes visited their daughter Priscilla and her family in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Downing spent several days last week working on their house in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Ramey were in Lincoln for the weekend. Edward Penfield and Mrs. Martin had guests from Holloman Sunday. Joanne and Johnnie Amastae spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Mrs. Annie Ramey and Barbara and Maurilda McGrew attended a movie in Carrizozo Sunday evening.

Mrs. Helen Meeks, Alice Rogers, Irene Forbus and children, were in Lincoln Saturday, visiting and shopping.

Mrs. Nelle Zamora was able to come into town Tuesday. She is feeling some better after her stay in the Carrizozo hospital.

Jennie Lee Maes is now doing office work at Fort Stanton. She has been working as a nurses' aide.

Mrs. and Mrs. Daniel Brenton had as house guests recently Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Edna Westfall of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten is reported slightly improved in the hospital at Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pfingsten visited Mrs. Maggie Pfingsten last week.

Television reception has improved in Lincoln since the completion of the new tower near Roswell.

60 after 20 years work could quit at $150 a month and she paid nothing into the program. Under the new one they're nicked for 3% of their pay and get less retirement pay. One quitting at 60 with 20 years service under the new plan would qualify for $111 a month.

The 1937 act favors high salaried ones such as superintendents and college presidents with no limit on how much they may draw under a formula based on salary and time. The act provides that no teacher presently in the schools or on retirement will get less than she would have been paid under the old law.

Control Orchard Pests With Spring Sprays

As buds begin to swell on apple and pear trees, apply a delayed dormant spray to kill mites, scales, and aphids.

Many fruit tree pests spend the winter on the trees. They become active as the trees begin to grow in the spring. Dormant oil applied before or soon after the green tips begin to appear will kill destructive pests. It should be applied at the rate of 4 gallons per 100 gallons of mixed spray. Oil will give excellent control if it is applied thoroughly to all parts of the tree.

In orchards where powdery mildew is a problem, use 7½ gallons of liquid lime sulfur per 100 gallons of spray instead of oil. It will aid in the control of powdery mildew and will kill all the pests on the trees except aphids. Add 1 pint of nicotine sulfate per 100 gallons of spray for aphid control.

In areas where trees are leafing out or where weather conditions prevented the application of a dormant or delayed dormant spray, apply Genite-923 during the pink stage. Genite will control mites only. Add BHC or malathion for aphid control. If scales are present, add parathion for both aphid and scale control. Sulfur or Karathane should be added for powdery mildew control.

Peach trees should also be sprayed during the delayed dormant stage to control mites, aphids, and peach twig borers. Dormant oil at 2 gallons per 100 gallons of spray, plus DDT or lead arsenate, should be applied. If mildew is a problem, apply liquid lime sulfur plus nicotine sulfate.

In areas where trees have already bloomed, the trees should be sprayed even though the fruit is set. After most of the petals have fallen, apply DDT or lead arsenate in combination with malathion plus wettable sulfur.

Never apply insecticides during the bloom stage. Apply them before the blossoms open or after most of the petals have fallen.

Non-bearing trees need to be protected from orchard pests, too. Inspect them regularly for insect and disease outbreaks and spray them when necessary.

New Mexico Range Grasses Are Lacking In Some Minerals

Are some New Mexico range grasses lacking in certain minerals? The answer is yes.

A statewide survey in early fall, when grasses were near their peak in nutrients, has shown phosphorus deficiencies in one-third of the state. Similar analyses of grasses in the spring also showed a great lack of phosphorus over the entire state.

The calcium situation was less severe. Although the amount of this element found in range grasses in the spring is below the requirement for cattle, this condition is improved by the high calcium content of browse and the water from most wells.

Numerous analyses for trace minerals have been run on forage from various parts of New Mexico. All have shown these elements to be present in abundance. From these results, we may conclude that the mineral problem in New Mexico can be solved by a practical plan for providing the needed amount of phosphorus and calcium.

Several methods of feeding mineral supplements have been tried. The method recommended for New Mexico is to keep a salt-mineral mixture before the cattle continuously. This method requires minimum labor and meets the needs on most New Mexico ranges. Cattle usually will not consume as much mineral as accepted standards require and may not eat any of the mixture if on salt grass.

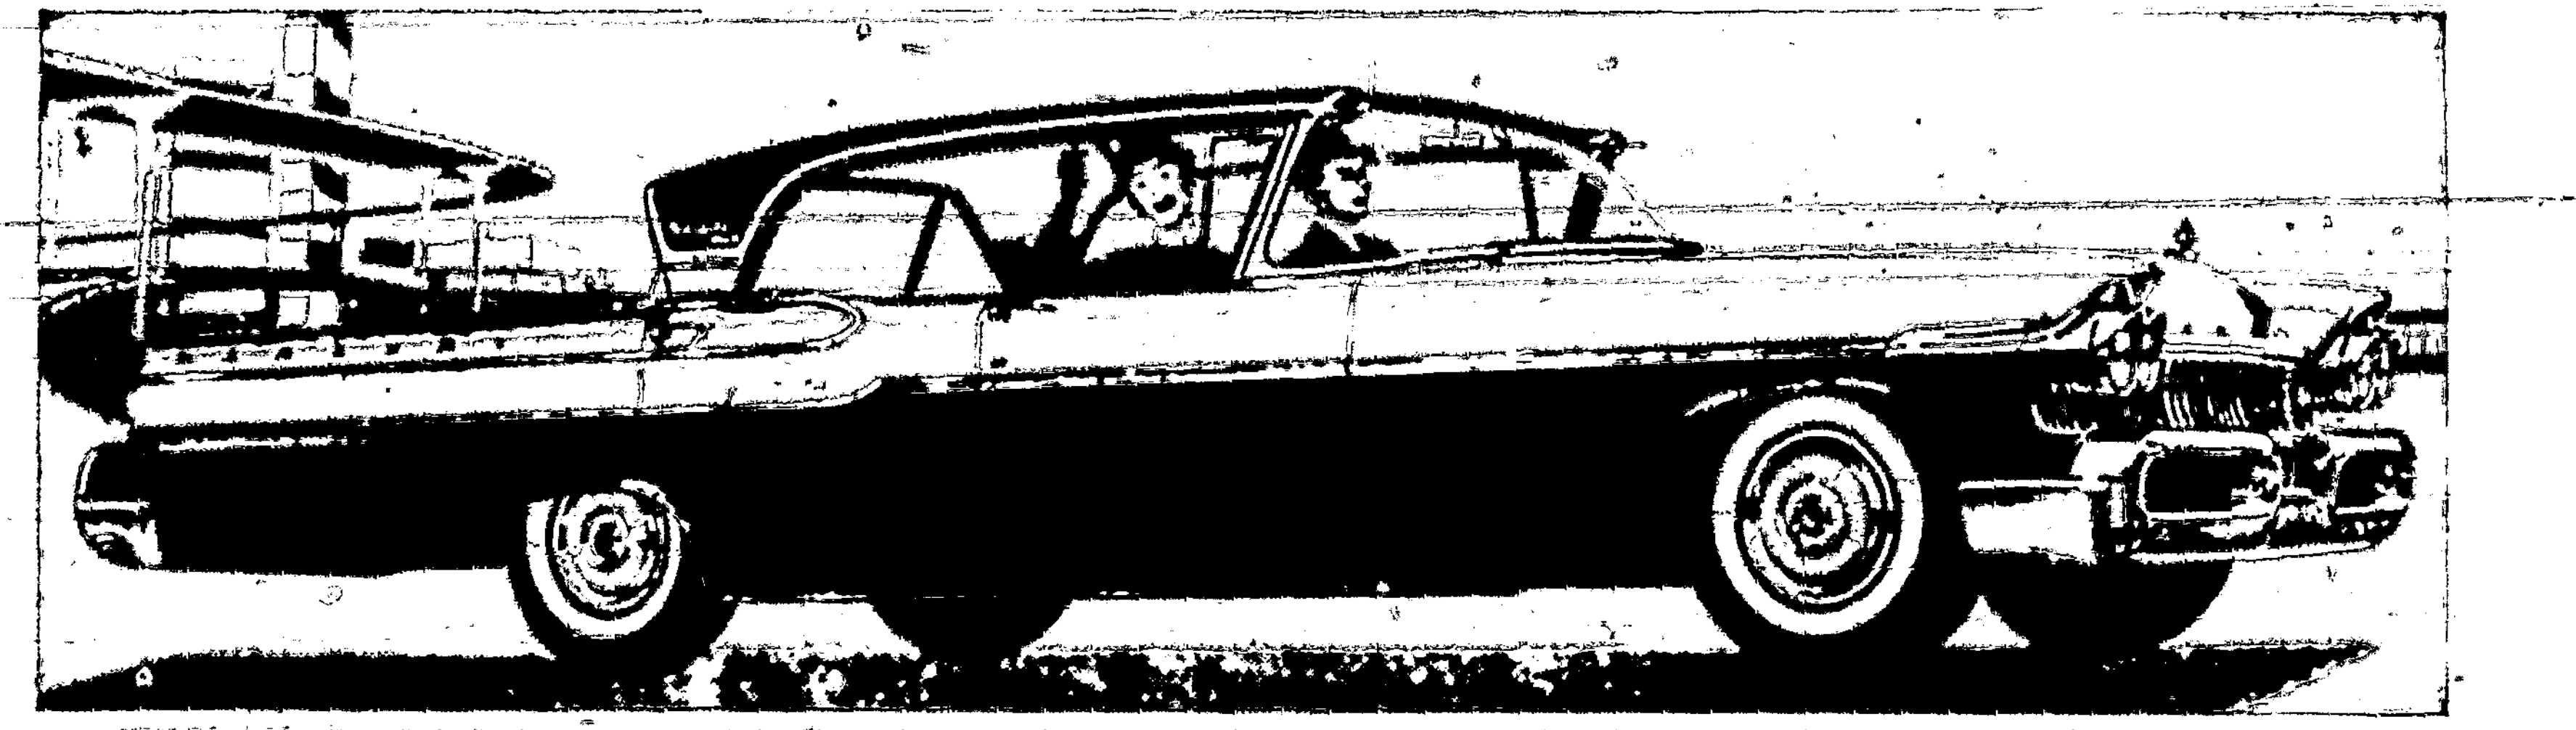

Livestock can obtain phosphorus and calcium from many sources. The choice is principally a question of palatability and price. A supplement of no value unless cattle will eat it. Steamed bone meal is the most dependable source. Bone block is cheaper and is often sufficiently palatable. Sometimes, though, its palatability may be low.

SS Tax Requirements For Domestic Workers

Housewives employing a maid, cook or laundress and paying cash wages of $50 or more in any calendar quarter, are required to withhold 2 1/2% of their cash wages as social security tax.

The employer then matches this amount and forwards the total to the district director of Internal Revenue at the close of each quarter.

This announcement was made jointly here this week by J. Hasler Strickland, district manager of the Roswell Social Security Administration office and S. P. Vidal, Albuquerque district Internal Revenue Service Director.

The revenue official explained that the tax is paid to IRS on a simple, easy-to-use form called Form 942, which any revenue office can provide. He pointed out that such wages include payments in cash, check, or money order.

According to Vidal, Form 942, showing name, social security number, wages paid and tax withheld from each household employee, should be complete and sent to revenue's district director within one month after the end of the calendar quarter.

That's by April 30, for the January-March period.

Strickland said that the law applies to such domestic workers as maids, cooks, waiters, butlers, housekeepers, governesses, valets, baby sitters, janitors,

Many Complete Red Cross First Aid Course

The Forest Service recently completed a nine-week course in first aid given by the Red Cross under the direction of Dr. Bram Vanderstock in Ruidoso.

The nine study courses consisted of two hours each. Their work and attendance was far above average and Lincoln County is very proud and happy to have added such an able group to its "first aid corps," Mrs. Vanderstock commented.

Those completing the course included LaMoynne Peters, Fred Pfingston, Paul Jones, Marvin Jones, all of Capitan; Ray V. Billberry, G. B. Alvis, Jim D. McEuen, Jake B. Hightower, L. W. Peebles and C. L. Peebles of Alto; Ted Zumwalt of Nogal; Jake B. Salas of Green Tree; Adrian Hill, Fred R. Swetnam and Claude M. Hobbs of Ruidoso.

Letters to Editor Asks Return to State Of B. of L. M. Lands

Texas Louisiana and California, after years of vicious agitation, aided and abetted by every newspaper in the three states, obtained Federal recognition of their claims to the tidelands and the underwater oil fields. Over the years this successful climax to their battle will result in hundreds of millions of dollars in income for these states with badly needed revenues for schools and for state government.

Here in New Mexico we have a situation comparable to the tidelands in Texas. We have 1 1/2 million acres of oil, gas and grazing lands which are administered by the Bureau of Land Management. The BLM is a caretaker agency set up to administer the public domain until such time as it had been settled and passed into private ownership, or turned over to the states.

Oil, gas, minerals, timber and the grazing rights on these 1 1/2 million acres are being exploited by the BLM. In recognition of the fact that this exploitation is depleting the natural resources of the state, New Mexico is given 37 1/2% of the revenues obtained from their administration. On the 1 1/2 million acres, last year, New Mexico received $4 1/2 million. This contrasts sharply with $27 million taken in by the State Land Office on 13 million acres of trust lands. Where the BLM takes in $10.68 for each administrative dollar spent, the State Land Office takes in $34.00.

In other words, our state's natural resources are being drained away at a more rapid rate than their actual value, and we are only receiving a small portion of that. This is something worth fighting for. These lands, administered exactly as the Land Office administers its present trust lands, would bring in revenues of over $30 million a year. This money could be pledged to the general fund of the state. It would provide a relief to our taxpayers and at the same time would provide our state government with the funds to adequately fulfill the obligations of government.

This land is ours. It belongs to the people of New Mexico, even more surely than the tidelands belong to Texas. Let's go after them. It is a project which will take years to accomplish, but the sooner we start, the sooner we can expect to achieve our end.

MURRAY E. MORGAN, Commissioner of Public Lands

Fermin S. Montes Honor Society Initiated

In an impressive candlelight ceremony at the Hondo gym on March 17, eight students of the Hondo High School were initiated into the newly chartered chapter of the National Honor Society named in honor of Supt. F. S. Montes.

In charge of the installation service were the officers of the Capitan chapter, Joe Aldaz, Phoebe Taylor, Mick Guck, Roy Herrera, Sally Cloud and Helen Sedillo who were accompanied by their faculty sponsor, Mrs. Emogene Hall.

Receiving the outstanding honor of becoming members of the society were James Sanchez, Johnnie Gomez, Fedda Perry, Patricia Nunez, Nora Sanchez, Rosella Gonzalez, Roman Pacheco, and Olivia Herrera.

As a basis for the ceremony the aims of leadership, scholarship, character and service, the high standards of the honor society were strongly impressed on the new members who took their pledges on a candlelight stage grouped around a table which had as its centerpiece a large arrangement of cut flowers.

Albert Gomez, faculty sponsor of the Hondo chapter, was in charge of the service.

New Mexico Apple Market Goes Modern

Brand names, grading, and color packs - marketing practices long associated with other fruit areas - are rapidly coming into use in New Mexico.

Producers in all areas of the state are joining together to keep pace with present market trends and requirements by forming centralized packing, storing, and selling operations.

In recent years, 75% of all apples bought for retail sales were volume purchases in truck or carlot loads of one grade and one variety. This buying trend has made it difficult for the small grower when it came to marketing his crop.

Some of the advantages New Mexico growers have found in centralized operations are: They can better concentrate on harvesting while the association takes care of packing and selling.

There is usually better labor and better use of labor at the shed.

It is possible to make use of more expensive machinery necessary to grade and pack for the better markets; the pack of fruit can be standardized under one label - essential for repeat sales and needed advertising.

Growers do not call to one another in their efforts to market their crop, and buyers are not able to beat down prices by playing one grower against the other.

Sen. Chavez Would Bolster Sagging GI Housing

The wrangle over sagging GI housing market, caused by the spiraling interest rates, may obscure the more weak parts of the housing program in New Mexico, in the opinion of Senator Dennis Chavez.

The direct veteran loan for home building should be encouraged through some added financial incentive, if need be, he believes. According to a survey made by his office, Lincoln County, with 1,020 World War II veterans, had a total of only 25 veterans who have obtained GI home loans. This is a percentage of 2 1/2 of the county's veteran population.

Editor, News: As a newspaper man, you're familiar with the unhappy stories of once-great sports figures who, by having failed to provide for their future, are reduced to begging handouts. Such lack of foresight isn't the exclusive property of athletes, of course - it happens to lots of us. It just hits us harder when it involves a once mighty star who may have been our own childhood idol. We're particularly proud that Mickey Mantle, the Yankee great, is one athlete who keeps his eyes on the future - and that Savings Bonds are his idea of a great way to save. - O. # News Notes From Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

J. T. Crawford, wife Loree, son Ted, and daughter, Sarita were on the Bonito Saturday from Jal, looking at cabin sites in Bear Canyon. Loree is a school bus driver at Jal. She drives about 40 miles a day with 52 boys and girls. J. T. works for Pan-American Oil Co.

Bob McProud and Dutch Coltharp and son from Alamogordo spent the morning Saturday at Nogal Lake, fishing. They had good luck but said they will be glad when the Game Department puts some fish in Bonito Dam so they can have some pretty scenery along with good fishing.

Evelyn Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hunt was killed in a car accident last week. Her husband was driving and in a serious condition in the hospital. Evelyn's mother was Winnie Coe. The particulars aren't known at this writing.

Ben Pfingsten and brother Charlie, who is visiting with Ben a few days, came over to get subscriptions to the Lincoln County News. Charlie lives in Lubbock, Texas, and says he wants to keep up with folks in Lincoln County. Ben subscribed for the Lincoln County News for his nephew, Robert E. Pfingsten, better known as "Texas Bob," from El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Byers, who have a big plant nursery in Ruidoso, subscribed to the Lincoln County News. They have a wonderful selection of evergreens and flowers. I saw about 900 potted roses, in all colors Mrs. Byers told me, and they have about 850 perennials to pot. It was interesting to see how their place has spread out.

Most everyone likes potted flowers, and most every woman likes pretty hair. In Hazel Brittenback's Beauty Shop you can get a swell hair-do and see many beautiful plants as well as unusual ones.

Wheeler's museum on Highway 70 near the race track will have their museum open again in two or three weeks with added antiques in their shop for sale. Also in the museum they have added a lot of valuable antiques. Mrs. Wheeler has a collection of over 100 dolls, all sizes and ages, in the museum. Some she has dressed and others have their original dresses.

SS Tax Requirements For Domestic Workers

Housewives employing a maid, cook or laundress and paying cash wages of $50 or more in any calendar quarter, are required to withhold 2 1/4% of their cash wages as social security tax. Prevailing to 1957 the tax was 2%.

The employer then matches this amount and forwards the total to the district director of Internal Revenue at the close of each quarter.

This announcement was made jointly here this week by J. Hunsler Steigland, district manager of the Roswell Social Security Administration office and S. P. Vidal, Albuquerque district Internal Revenue Service director.

The revenue official explained that the tax is paid to IRS on a simple, easy-to-use form called Form 942, which any revenue office can provide. He pointed out that such wages include payments in cash, check, or money order.

According to Vidal, Form 942, showing name, social security number, wages paid and tax withheld from each household employee, should be complete and sent to revenue's district director within one month after the end of the calendar quarter. That's by April 30, for the January March period.

Strickland said that the law applies to such domestic workers as maids, cooks, waiters, butlers, housekeepers, governesses, valets, baby sitters, janitors,

Spanish Mission Takes Services to Oscura

Sunday school is being brought to Oscura for the first time in several years by the Spanish mission of the First Baptist Church of Carrizozo. The hour for Sunday School in Oscura is 7 o'clock p.m. every Thursday, at the Montoya store. Rev. Ernest R. Hill is pastor of the Spanish mission. He also conducts services in Carrizozo Sunday School at 10, worship service at 11, Training Union at 7 and evening worship at 7:30.

Spanish mission services are held in Capitlan every Sunday with Sunday School at 2 p.m., and worship and preaching service at 2:30.

Rev. Hill who has recently been ordained, came to Carrizozo from Alamogordo. He is married. The couple have three children, two of whom are in school. They are making their home in Carrizozo.

Fermin S. Montes Honor Society Initiated

In an impressive candlelight ceremony at the Hondo gym on March 17, eight students of the Hondo High School were initiated into the newly chartered chapter of the National Honor Society named in honor of Supt. F. S. Montes.

In charge of the installation service were the officers of the Chapter: Capt. Joe Aldaz, Phoebe Taylor, Mick Guck, Roy Herrera, Sally Cloud and Helen Sedillo who were accompanied by their faculty sponsor, Mrs. Emogene Hall.

Receiving the outstanding honor of becoming members of the society were James Sanchez, Johnny Gomez, Freddy Perry, Patsy Nunez, Nora Sanchez, Rosella Gonzales, Roman Pacheco, and Olivia Herrera.

As a basis for the ceremony the aims of leadership, scholarship, character and service, the high standards of the honor society were strongly impressed on the new members who took their pledges on a candlelight stage grouped around a table which had as its centerpiece a large arrangement of cut flowers.

Albert Gomez, faculty sponsor of the Hondo chapter, was in charge of the service. Jaundresses, furnace men, gardeners and chauffeurs for private cars.

Many Complete Red Cross First Aid Course

The Forest Service recently completed a nine-week course in first aid given by the Red Cross under the direction of Dr. Bram Vanderstock in Ruidoso.

The nine study courses consisted of two hours each. "Their work and attendance was far above average and Lincoln County is very proud and happy to have added such an able group to its first aid corps," Mrs. Vanderstock commented.

Those completing the course included LaMoynne Peters, Fred Pfingsten, Paul Jones, Marvin Jones, all of Capitlan; Ray V. Bilberry, G. B. Alvis, Jim D. McEuen, Jake B. Hightower, L. W. Peebles and C. L. Peebles of Alto; Ted Zumwalt of Nogal; Jake B. Salas of Green Tree; Adrian Hill; Fred R. Swetnam and Claude M. Hobbs of Ruidoso.

New Mexico Apple Market Goes Modern

Brand names, grading, and color packs — marketing practices long associated with other fruit areas—are rapidly coming into use in New Mexico.

Producers in all areas of the state are joining together to keep pace with present market trends and requirements by forming centralized packing, storing, and selling operations.

In recent years, 75% of all apples bought for retail sales were volume purchases in truck or carlot loads of one grade and one variety. This buying trend has made it difficult for the small grower when it came to marketing his crop.

Some of the advantages New Mexico growers have found in centralized operations are: They can better concentrate on harvesting while the association takes care of packing and selling.

There is usually better labor and better use of labor at the shed.

It is possible to make use of more expensive machinery necessary to grade and pack for the better markets; the pack of fruit can be standardized under one label—essential for repeat sales and needed advertising.

Growers do not sell to one another in their efforts to market their crop, and buyers are not able to beat down prices by playing one grower against the other.

Letters to Editor Asks Return to State Of B. of L. M. Lands

Editor, News: Texas, Louisiana and California, after years of vicious agitation, aided and abetted by every newspaper in the three states, obtained Federal recognition of their claims to the tidelands and the underwater oil fields. Over the years this successful climax to their battle will result in hundreds of millions of dollars in income for these states. It provides all three states with badly needed revenues for schools and for state government.

Here in New Mexico we have a situation comparable to the tidelands in Texas. We have 14 1/2 million acres of oil, gas and grazing lands which are administered by the Bureau of Land Management. The BLM is a caretaker agency set up to administer the public domain until such time as it had been settled and passed into private ownership, or turned over to the states.

Oil, gas, minerals, timber and the grazing rights on these 14 1/2 million acres are being exploited by the BLM. In recognition of the fact that this exploitation is depleting the natural resources of the state, New Mexico is given 37 1/2% of the revenues obtained from their administration. On the 14 1/2 million acres, last year, New Mexico received $2 1/2 million. This contrasts sharply with $27 million taken in by the State Land Office on 13 million acres of trust lands. Where the BLM takes in $10.88 for each administrative dollar spent, the State Land Office takes in $34.00.

In other words, our state's natural resources are being drained away at a mere fraction of their actual value, and we are only receiving a small portion of that. This is something worth fighting for. These lands, administered exactly as the Land Office administers its present trust lands, would bring in revenues of over $30 million a year. This money could be pledged to the general fund of the state. It would prove a relief to our taxpayers and at the same time would provide our state government with the funds to adequately fulfill the obligations of government.

This land is ours. It belongs to the people of New Mexico, even more surely than the tidelands belong to Texas. Let's go after them. It is a project which will take years to accomplish, but the sooner we start, the sooner we can expect to achieve our end.

Sen. Chavez Would Bolster Sagging GI Housing

The wrangle over sagging GI housing market, caused by the spiraling interest rates, may obscure the more weak parts of the housing program in New Mexico, in the opinion of Senator Dennis Chavez.

The direct veteran loan for home building should be encouraged through some added financial incentive, it need be.

Lincoln County News FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1957

he believes. According to a survey made by his office, Lincoln County, with 1,020 World War II veterans, had a total of only 25 veterans who have obtained GI home loans. This is a percentage of 2.4 of the county's veteran population.

TO PROVE TO YOU WHAT THE EXPERTS, ALREADY KNOW ABOUT AMERICA'S NUMBER 1 ROAD CAR!

Drive the Champ!

First the automotive writers said, "Keep your eye on Pontiac... this one's a sleeper!" Then the California Highway Patrol chose Pontiac after three days of grueling competitive tests of six of America's top performers. Next, in the top stock car event of the year, NASCAR's 160-mile Daytona Grand National*, Pontiac outperformed everything on the beach including super-charged and fuel injection cars!

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN—Slip into that roomy driver's seat. Gently nudge the accelerator and feel Pontiac's barrel-chested 347 cu. in. Strato-Streak V-8 go into action. Put its instant response and Precision-Touch Control to a traffic test. Choose your own rough stretch and feel it disappear under Pontiac's Level-Line Ride. Then head for the open road and give that deep-breathing power plant a chance to show its mettle in the fresh open air. Man—you've got a champ on your hands for sure! And to make it even more fun—there's a chance to win a free Pontiac! Just follow the instructions at the right—you may be a winning driver!

HERE'S ALL YOU DO!

- Go to your nearest authorized Pontiac dealer during April and test drive the 1957 Pontiac.
- Fill out the official entry blank and deposit it with your dealer. That's all there is to it!

Subject to Local, State and Federal Regulations.

*DAYTONA GRAND NATIONAL CHAMP
A stock 317-hp. Pontiac with Tri-Power Carburetion—winning option on any model—beat all competing cars regardless of class, power or price in the 1957 stock car competition of the year!

As a newspaper man, you're familiar with the unhappy stories of once-great sports figures who, by having failed to provide for their future, are reduced to seeking handouts.

Such lack of foresight isn't the exclusive property of athletes, of course—it happens to lots of us. It just hits us harder when it involves a once mighty star who may have been our own childhood idol.

We're particularly proud that Mickey Mantle, the Yankee great, is one athlete who keeps his eyes on the future—and that Savings Bonds are his idea of a great way to save. — O. John Davis, Advertising Sales Executive, U. S. Savings Bond Div.

It was an American naval explorer, Lieutenant Charles Wilkes, who in 1840 first recognized that Antarctica probably was a great continent, the National Geographic Society says.

Louise Coe Receives 'Apple' From Teachers

An especially honored guest at the Southeastern District meeting of schools that took place in Hondo on April 2, was Mrs. Louise Coe of Glencoe.

This gesture of appreciation was in observance of the one hundredth birthday of the National Education Association which had requested that schools all over the United States honor their lay citizens who had aided in the educational progress of their communities.

Louise Coe well deserves the signal honor that has been bestowed upon her. Beginning her educational efforts teaching in a small one-room school in Glencoe in 1910, she has worked consistently toward the betterment of education.

She is a pioneer in the field of consolidation, her initial work taking place in the San Patricio area in 1918 where she helped to bring a three-teacher school into existence.

After serving as county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Coe served for 16 years in the State Senate of New Mexico, the only woman who has ever served in that capacity.

In an unprecedented move in its history, she was made the chairman of the Education Committee while the Republicans held the majority of seats. Her work in school consolidation in the state is a matter of record, and her influence contributed a great deal toward the establishment of the high school at Hondo in the early 20's.

At the State Teachers Convention in Albuquerque in October of this year lay citizens from all of the school communities over the state who have been recipients of "apples from the teachers" will convene for a banquet. The Hondo Valley teachers have been proud to present their apple to Louise Coe.

of the church.

She also has worked for the Student Volunteer Movement and has won many college students for full time Christian service.

At present Miss Turner is an executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in the San Francisco office. She works with women's organizations advising, helping, writing, speaking and teaching.

Beginning Monday afternoon the meeting will conclude at noon Tuesday. Miss Turner will speak at the Monday evening meeting.

"Nothing Sex Like Newspaper Ads"

"At the retail level, nothing sells like newspaper advertising. If the product has newsworthiness, is priced right, and if in-store promotion follows through."

"That statement was made the other day by a Philadelphia advertising man, speaking at a sales forum. He gave the example of one of his clients, who gained $8 million in retail sales over a three-months period for an advertising expenditure of less than $100,000. He added: "The real payoff of this promotion came as the result of newspaper advertising."

The other and newer media have their places—but they can't supplant the newspaper. That goes for the papers in the little towns no less than those in the great cities.—Ind. News Review.

"I believe," said the cheery one, "that for every single thing you give away, two come back to you."

"That's my experience," the pessimist said. "Last February I gave away my daughter, and she and her husband came back in August."
