Town Board Hears Zoning Arguments

Members of the Carrizozo town board, meeting Tuesday night heard arguments both for and against changing Carrizozo's zoning ordinances. About twenty citizens attended the meeting.

Action was deferred on a request by James L. Wells to build an Assembly of God church on lots 5 and 6, block 47, of the McDonald addition.

A petition was presented asking the board to zone this block and blocks 16 and 7 north along E. avenue for residential building only, with $7500 minimum building requirements.

The petition also asked that the minimum building requirements be raised from $5,000 to $7,500 in blocks in the Harkey addition, and several adjacent blocks.

The board took no action Tuesday night on the petition, but asked Mr. Wells if the church could find a suitable location outside the blocks named in the petition.

Mr. Wells said the church planned to build immediately and the board agreed to give prompt approval to another site provided a suitable one is found.

The board approved two building permits, one by Mr. Wells for $2500 to move frame dwelling on lots 7 and 8, block 45; also to Arturo Samora permit for $2500 to add two rooms to dwelling.

J. E. Thornton, president of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, asked the board to consider assisting in the improvement of the Carrizozo cemetery, which at the present time is without water service.

He said the water well at the cemetery is out of condition and that the water pipes leading from it were rusted. He said that the money could probably be raised to put in new pipes if arrangements could be made with the town for water.

TOWN TO BID ON SEWAGE DISPOSAL SITE
The board passed a resolution authorizing Town Clerk Johnson Stearns to submit a bid to the state for a 40-acre tract of land which is the site selected for the town's sewage disposal plant.

When the town secures this site, Federal grant funds will also be available for completion of the town's plans for a new garbage disposal. Al Seay has requested that he be considered when the town is ready to arrange for garbage collection and disposal.

Bills were approved in the amount of $363.24 for completing the tennis courts on the school grounds. Two additional slabs have been laid, posts erected and nets purchased, also an approach built to the courts.

Utilities Manager Lloyd Topliff is to set poles and install floodlights at the courts for night tennis or other activities. It was reported that recreation funds from the cigarette tax are coming in at a better rate than (Continued on Back Page)

Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce Suggests Area Committee for Development

A suggestion that chambers of commerce in four Lincoln county towns form an area development committee was made this week by Evan F. Mahaney, manager of the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce.

His letter, addressed to chambers of commerce in Capitán, Carrizozo and Ruidoso, follows: Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce Carrizozo, N. M. Gentlemen:

As you may know, the Economic Development Commission has recently started some extensive campaigns to interest industrial and commercial firms in locating new plants in New Mexico.

The Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce is going all-out to interest industry into locating in our area. We have a committee working on such a project, several reference books and quite a bit of accumulated data for the Ruidoso area.

Of the six people we have contacted about locating a small industry in Ruidoso, we have received two replies, one stating that his firm would soon come to Ruidoso to discuss plans further.

However, there have been several that we have not been able to even answer because of the need. For instance, one architectural firm hopes to develop an industrial site of 750 acres. This calls for two things which we in Ruidoso do not have one being 700 acres of industrial

Along the Way..

By PAUL BAKER
FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF CARRIZOZO OUTLOOK

The Carrizozo Outlook, which is now merged with the Lincoln County News, celebrates its 50th anniversary this year. Though the records at the News office show the anniversary date to be this week, it was found on checking original files at the court house that Vol. 1, No. 1 of the Carrizozo Outlook was published January 4, 1907.

A paper, Republican in politics, (Lee H. Rudiselle, editor) the Outlook commenced publication September 8, 1904 in White Oaks. The plant was moved to Carrizozo in 1907.

Concerning this move, Editor Rudiselle commented: "The only excuse we will offer for starting the Outlook in Carrizozo is that we believe there is need of a newspaper in our town, and incidentally we hope to be able to make a living out of it, and perhaps a little money besides."

The Outlook's first issue was four pages, six columns wide. Two pages were local news and two pages "boller plate." Its advertisers were the Carrizozo Trading Company, gen'l mdee; Holland Brothers, druggs; The Exchange Bank, Jackson-Galbraith Foxworth Co., lumber; Welch & Titworth Capitan, and the Alamogordo Improvement Company which advertised townsite property in Carrizozo.

(News items from the Carrizozo Outlook, Jan. 4, 1907):

Miss Minnie Bourne was on the sick list. Miss Bernice Lane of White Oaks was visiting her friend, Miss Helen Canning in White Oaks. Mrs. W. C. McDonald and daughter Francis came home from El Paso. F. C. Hendrickson, sign painter, completed a sign on the front of F. M. Thompson's Jewelry & Music Store. Deputy Sheriff J. W. McAdams of Corona was in town. He reported business brisk in the lively little town up the road. Eugene Craft from the Indian Territory, secured a quarter section near town. The Gallachera gave a delightful dance at their home in White Oaks New Year's Eve. The Old Abo Company in White Oaks had reached the 1,430-ft. level and drifting was begun; also in White Oaks the Wildcat boys were working on the North Homestead mine. In other mining news, a carload of over 22 tons of ore was sent to the El Paso smelter by the Lincoln Consolidated Copper Co. The iron-silver-copper ore came from the company's Lincoln and Seven-Come-Eleven claims.

(From the files of the Outlook, published in White Oaks, Sept. 15, 1904):

Paul Mayer started for the World's Fair. Col. George W. Prichard attended the territorial convention at Albuquerque. Tom Pridemore, block ranch foreman, was in White Oaks, along with Jim Brent, former Lincoln County sheriff. Willie Gallacher was enrolled at A&M College. W. J. Conner from the Bonito was visiting the Comroys and Dr. M. G. Paden returned from Roswell where he took Brent and Mel Jr. to the New Mexico Military Institute.

Does anyone have a copy of the December 1910 issue of the Coronet magazine? If so, Clyde Shultz of Carrizozo would like to borrow it for a short time.

The county is falling short of its goal for the American Cancer Society fund drive and Johnson Stearns, county chairman, hopes the county will rally to the support of the society which is saving human lives every day. The county's quota is only $360 and less than half of that amount has been raised to date.

Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

THE STRALEY FAMILY IN NEW MEXICO

By C. S. (TODGIE) STRALEY

On May 10, 1912, my family arrived in Ancho — my father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Straley, my oldest sister Sadie and five younger sisters and brothers. My two oldest brothers Harry and Tom soon joined us.

We came from Sterling City, Texas, and made the trip in two covered wagons. We came by way of Roswell, through the Captains by Encinoco and on through the Jicarilla mountains.

There was a small settlement in Jicarilla proper. Several houses, a store and post office, made up the town and there were ranchers and miners to form a nice community. Among them I remember the Reconciler, Mr. Norton, the Brookins boys, the Dales, McBrayers, Haskins, Nick Maes, the Carvajals and Salamon Aragon.

We passed the J. E. Wilson place which is still headquarters for the D. W. Wilson ranch. The next place was the pump houses at the site of the first wells used by Ancho and the old E. P. & S. W. Hallway, now the Southern Pacific. Two or three families lived there. One I remember as the Rufus Cheate family. Mr. Cheate's son Francis returns now and then for a visit with the Wilsons, Hightowers and other friends.

Soon after this we saw dust and smoke ahead, denoting some sort of activity. We also followed and crossed a narrow gauge track which aroused our curiosity. (Incidentally, the track was for the car hauling shale to make the brick.) Although Ancho was our destination for the time being we did not know what to expect.

On arriving there we saw a brick plant and a plaster mill in operation. The plant made Ancho No. 1 brick and tile. The plaster mill was known as the Gypsum Products Co. and made a gypsum-and-cinder block.

With both plants operating, Ancho had a good payroll. The top wage was $1.75 per day and the men were paid with "due bills" which were negotiable at the company store. At this time G. F. Graves was postmaster and the company storekeeper.

The brick kilns were fired with wood and this made jobs for mule men, as a lot of cordwood was hauled in with teams of horses, mules and burros. It was also Mr. Graves' job to measure the cordwood.

We first came to Ancho because in Roswell my father learned that some of his old friends in central Texas had settled here. We stopped here to see them and look the country over. These friends of dad's were Frank Thompson and Mrs. Bud Richardson.

MR. AND MRS. T. J. STRALEY

In a short time dad bought a 160-acre homestead relinquishment from Jess Carter, a son-in-law of Mr. Thompson's. Then we were settled in our first New Mexico home. It was located 1 1/2 miles northeast of Ancho.

On Saturday after getting settled, I told my mother I was going to town to get a haircut. When I got to Ancho and found there wasn't a barber shop nearer than Carrizozo, I wondered what we had done in coming to such a small place as Ancho.

But we stayed, as there was a school for the kids, also Sunday School and church services. We were brought up with a religious background. Rev. Perkins was the Methodist minister. I had attended grade and high school in Sterling City.

At that time this was a country of wide open range. If a man had a well he could graze the country. Among the ranchers in the surrounding country I remember the Comreys, Harry and Ed; D. L. Spald, "Granddaddy" Cooper and his son Jim, Sam Woods, Allen Hightower, Guy and Pick Warden, Sherwood and Henry Corn, the Gallachera, W. E. Lovelace, Frank Maxwell, John E. Wilson, Bill Guthrie, Sam Fambrough and the Spences. Elzy and Howard Perry were the best known well drillers.

R. G. Firman to Head Carrizozo Lions Club

R. G. Firman was elected president of the Carrizozo Lions Club at Monday's noon luncheon of the club.

Other officials elected were Paul Baker, first vice-president; Austin Wooten, second vice-president; Lloyd Topliff, third vice-president; and L. Z. Manfro secretary-treasurer.

Doll Ray, Lion tamer; Doll Ray, tall twister; board of directors, Fred H. English, Russell Eddings, Harold Covey and Jeta Voss.

The luncheon was attended by sixteen. Guests were Wayne Hamilton of Carrizozo and Don Roush, field service secretary of the New Mexico Education Association.

Mr. Roush, who was introduced by R. G. Firman, program chairman, spoke briefly on the proposed reorganization of the State Board of Education.

The reorganization is incorporated in an amendment to the State Constitution which is to be voted on by the electorate in the general election next year.

It would replace the present seven-member board with a ten-member board, one member to be elected from each of the ten judicial districts in the state. This board would then appoint a State Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Roush stated the purpose of the reorganization was to take the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics. The state school board would then operate in the same manner as local school boards.

He said the reorganization has the support of leaders in education in the state, including Mrs. Georgia Lusk, present State superintendent of public instruction.

Ancho was a thriving community when the new brick plant was built by the Phelps-Dodge Corporation. The plant had sixteen kilns and four mchobolacks.

THE JUVENILE CODE OF NEW MEXICO

By GINA ALLEN

Executive Secretary, Third Judicial District Youth Commission

FIRST OF A SERIES

Little more than a hundred years ago an eight year old boy was "hung by the neck until dead." Why? Because he had set fire to a neighbor's barn.

Such punishment was common in our recent past. Children were hung, burned at the stake, jailed, cast in irons, and starved for their misdeeds. The drastic treatment effectively did away with children, but not with juvenile delinquency.

Centuries of harsh punishment had done nothing to protect society from young criminals, but in the late 1800's juvenile crime was diminishing in certain areas. These were the areas where child labor laws had taken children out of the sweat shops and put them in schools; where church and social workers had improved home and neighborhood environments and offered help to families in trouble; where doctors, sanitarians and psychologists worked to prevent and cure physical and mental illnesses.

People began to understand that bad children were made, not born. The society that bred juvenile delinquency could work to prevent it, now that some of the causes were known. Moreover, children who got into trouble could be helped to become useful, law-abiding citizens of the future.

It was to give such help to children that the first Juvenile Court was set up in Cook county, Illinois, in 1899. Since then, all states have passed legislation establishing juvenile courts, whose purpose is to correct rather than to punish the youthful offender.

The laws governing the juvenile court in the State of New Mexico are contained in the Juvenile Code which has been in effect since 1955. This Juvenile Code affects all of us, and our children, yet few people have read the code or understand its provisions.

For this reason this newspaper will publish sections of the code, with explanations, until the entire code has been published. The juvenile court was set up by the people; through their legislators, and it is important that the people understand its workings and its purposes.

The juvenile court is not a punitive court, but is a court of rehabilitation. It strives to correct rather than to punish. Neither is a probation officer a police officer. A probation officer is a person trained in social welfare who aids the court in diagnosing the causes behind a delinquent and recommends corrective therapy.

The Juvenile Code is contained in several sections of New Mexico Statutes, beginning with Section 13-8-19. The first several sections read as follows:

13-8-19—Juvenile Court Established. There is hereby established in each judicial district of this state a court to be styled as the "Juvenile Court of the . . . Judicial District for . . . County, New Mexico." Said court shall be a court of record, and the judge and clerk thereof shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations.

This section creates and establishes a juvenile court on a district basis, for if it were done on a county basis there would have to be a separate juvenile court for each county.

13-8-20—Definitions—(a) "Court" means juvenile court.

(b) "Judge" means judge of the district court who shall also serve as judge of the juvenile court.

(c) "Juvenile attorney" means the district attorney, who shall also serve as the juvenile attorney.

(d) "Juvenile" means a person less than 18 years of age.

(e) "Adult" means a person 18 years of age or older.

(f) The singular includes the plural, the plural the singular, and the masculine the feminine, when consistent with the intent of this code (13-8-19 to 13-8-73).

13-8-21—Employees Compensation. The judge shall appoint all employees, including probation officers, needed to carry on the professional, clerical and other work of the court, and their compensation shall be paid out of the court fund of the district court.

13-8-22 — District Court Clerk to Serve as Juvenile Court Clerk. The clerk of each district court shall also serve as clerk of the juvenile court. Said juvenile court clerk shall keep a record of all juvenile court proceedings; shall keep a separate docket to be known as the juvenile court docket; shall enter all orders and decrees given by the court in a separate record to be known as the juvenile court record; and shall perform in a proper manner any other duties assigned by the court to said clerk.

ORIGIN OF "APACHE" The Indian groups given the name of "Apache" by the early Spanish colonists in New Mexico were not one tribe at all, but a varied people of Athabaskan stock. Some of the Apache tribes, whose beliefs and traditions varied greatly, were the Mescalero, Chiricahua, Jicarilla, Lipan, Pinal, Mimbreno, White Mountain and Navajo.

CARRIZOZO MAN EXPLAINS USE OF DIVINING ROD IN LOCATING WATER WELLS

The electrical make-up of the human body determines whether or not a person can use a divining rod to locate water, according to A. F. Roselle of Carrizozo. The divining rod, or forked branch, has been a hobby with him for many years, and for the last 15 years a subject of active experimentation.

The human body generally has an electrical make-up like a storage battery — positive and negative polarity — Roselle explained. That sort of make-up nullifies use of a divining rod, but if the body has only a positive or negative polarity then a person can successfully use a divining rod to locate water. And those most apt in using the rod have proved to be altogether negative, Roselle said.

The Carrizozo jeweler does not believe that use of the divining rod should be called "water witching." Its use, he said, should be known and thought of as a natural science because it is simply taking advantage of natural laws for man's benefit.

In looking for water, he said, one capable of using the rod must also take into consideration weather conditions which will nullify its effectiveness. If the wind is blowing from the northwest or southeast, you might as well not look for water, for those conflicting air currents will nullify the electrical phenomenon that makes possible the discovery of water, Roselle said.

He said he has located a number of wells with the forked branch. These included one at Tularosa, where a farmer planned to irrigate 80 acres, and another near Carrizozo.

The jeweler said he is altogether negative in electrical make-up and became so through accident some years ago. He was working with a high tension coil, he said, got caught in the circuit and could not get out.

Lincoln County News

Carrizozo, New Mexico FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1957

Finally, he was able to make himself heard, and someone turned off the switch. After the accident, he was able to use the divining rod.

In the body's electrical make-up, Roselle said, the left hand and right foot are positive in polarity, and the right hand and the left foot are negative.

The only dependable type of divining rod in seeking water is the forked branch, according to Roselle. In looking for water, the branch always is held upright with each fork grasped in doubled fist and the palms upward. The switch will begin turning down when one is within 60 or 75 feet of water, but it will not turn completely down until the diviner is directly over water. The downward turning of the switch is irresistible, and the forks will break if the diviner tries to hold them back, Roselle declared.

In the hands of a person with negative polarity the rod will turn forward in moving downward, and backward if the person is positive.

Any wood is suitable for a divining rod the jeweler said. If the wood is dry, and the diviner wants to determine whether it is water or something else towards which the rod is turning, water should be put on the rod, and then if it turns completely downward water is right there beneath you.

Many different things can cause a rod to turn as though to water, Roselle said. Any positive electric current will cause the rod to turn towards phosphorous, magnetic iron, uranium, or to any living creature with the exception of cold-blooded species, such as serpents.

Roselle said that he has a machine which he also uses with the rod in locating water. He takes a bottle of sealed pure water, in which a wire is sealed so that it may be plugged into the machine. When this is done it produces a positive electric current which he follows with the divining rod. The electric beam, Roselle said, will lead from the machine to water even many feet away from the place of beginning. This occurs, he said, when resistance units are employed, which can determine to a great degree the volume of water. He said he did not feel free to explain the resistance units until further experimentation.

He doesn't use a metal rod for locating water because it turns too easily towards other substances such as phosphorous, magnetic iron or uranium.

Roselle is experimenting with the divining rod in the location of minerals.

News Notes From Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Bonito Lake Closed to Fishing Until June 1

Friday the Bonito Lake was closed to fishing until June 1, when it will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

A permit will have to be bought on arrival at the dam for $3. This will last until Labor Day, when the dam will again be closed. No boating or wading will be allowed.

The spring-filled hole above the lake known as the "Blue Hole" was recently stocked by the Game Department for fishing, but it is now also closed to the public.

Will Rogers and Elvis Garland are now stationed on top of the dam checking cars for the Forest Service. Last Sunday, cars were going almost like the 4th of July up and down the road in Bonito Canyon.

Thirty Attend Angus Community Hymn Sing

Eula Corder, superintendent of the Angus Sunday School, wants everyone to know there will be community hymn singing at the school house every Tuesday night, at 7:30 p.m.

She invites anyone to come and join in the singing and fellowship. Refreshments will be served.

Last week there were 30 present at the singing and everyone was anxious for that many or more to be there each Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Millap and baby were week end guests of the Barney Hayes.

A. B. Kelley and wife spent the week end with the Corder's at their Angus store.

Boyd and Lena Mrs. Lucas at Angus received a card from Iver Ingwall saying his wife Evelyn was in bed with a back ailment. The Ingwalls lived on the Lucas place three years. We are sorry to hear about Evelyn. Her back troubled her when they lived here. They live in Tucuman now.

The Lucases have 500 baby chicks. They sell eggs, milk and butter from their farm. They recently bought two Jersey milk cows.

J. T. Crawford and son Teddy were week end visitors at Runnels. A party of five went fishing by horseback up the north fork of the Ruidoso. They reported snow so deep in places the horses had trouble going along the trail.

Bob McFroud from Alamogordo was on the Bonito Sunday looking the fishing situation over, and had a fish dinner.

Lula Runnels was "baby sitting" for her daughter, Bonnie and husband, Joe—Cae—from Thursday until Sunday this week while Joe and Bonnie attended a Community Public Service meeting in Silver City.

Jay Keith and family are moving to Carrizozo next week. Jay worked for the Southern Pacific for several years as guard at Bonito Dam. He is now employed by the town of Carrizozo.

There will be a farewell supper for them and a get together for the community having Jim and Bonnie McEuen, bus drivers, as guests too at Bonito Store.

We're asking everyone to bring a covered dish; and forks, plates and cups for everyone except the Keiths and McEuens.

F. R. Whitley of the Nazarene Camp at Angus has worked in Las Cruces for the past winter carpentering. He says he will be glad to get back for the summer.

Mrs. Whitley has been alone most of the time so she'll be glad, too, for Fred to stay home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lora Morris went to Roswell Wednesday on business while there they visited Minnie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ward. They found both of them feeling fine.

Speaking of kind deeds; the Morris boys have filled a lot of "chug" holes in the forest road between Cazars and Crockett Canyon. It sure makes riding easier. Oh yes, what did they fill em with? Chips from their wood pile and if ya don't believe they level those bumps, come see us.

Zeke Eineda of Hondo paved the way for the 5th and 6th grade teams to win their section of the meet by running up a total of 51 points to become high point man of the day. Zeke won seven first places to put Hondo in front of Ruidoso by a score of 69 to 82.

The following boys made up the 5th and 6th grade squad: Zeke Eineda, Tony Benavidez, Mike Gonzales, Stanley Thomas, James Morris and David Montoya. All of these Hondo boys earned points for their team by placing in one or more events.

Hondo Seniors Go To Colorado Springs

Seniors of the Hondo Valley High School left Tuesday afternoon, April 30, by a special chartered bus for a five-day trip to Colorado Springs and Denver. Accompanying them on the trip were Supt. and Mrs. F. S. Montes.

High points of the sight-seeing excursions included Pike's Peak, Miracle House, Garden of the Gods, Will Rogers Shrine, the zoo in Colorado Springs and the gold mines of Cripple Creek. They returned to Hondo Sunday evening, May 5.

and treed him again about 200 yards away. Shorty hurried over for his second shot, but at the crack of the gun the lion repeated the performance. Now, though, when the dogs pressed too close he charged, and the dogs came running to Shorty several times with the big cat after them.

Finally, the lion turned, weakened from loss of blood, and gave Shorty an opening for another shot. He dropped him with a neck shot but not until one of his dogs had been mauled.

Magazine Article Describes Lion Hunt

T. J. (Shorty) Lyon of Mogollon, New Mexico, well known government lion hunter, admits in May's Outdoor Life that even he occasionally gets fouled up on a hunt. In a story called "Very Big Lion," he relates how it happened once, while trailing a big cat in the Charlie Munns Canyon.

For hours the dogs had pushed the cat hard through the area's craggy bluffs, finally treeing it in a big spruce at the bottom of the canyon. Shorty moved in with his 22 Special for what he thought would be a quick, clean kill.

Then it occurred to him that his scope wasn't mounted tight. It was old and worn, and one end had worked loose. He'd neglected to fix it before starting on the hunt. So he had to use the open iron sights. But even these now seemed to have fuzz on them.

Still, figuring it an easy shot, he took aim, fired, and knew right away he'd made a mess of it. Instead of falling out of the tree the lion turned his head down, ran along the tree trunk until he was 15 feet above ground, then jumped out over the dogs and hit the ground running.

The dogs lit out after the cat

Santa Fe, May 6 (Special)—An estimated 200 persons, representative of business and industry in all parts of New Mexico, are expected to come here for the 41st annual meeting of the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico on May 17.

E. L. Moulton of Albuquerque, longtime business and civil leader and Association president, said he believes that every subject on the full day's program is of vital importance to people interested in government and to the State.

This is the second time the Association has arranged a conference meeting of this type. Moulton said last year's meeting here was so well received it was decided to make it an annual event.

NORTHSIDE FEARS BURROUGHS' ROOM
Santa Fe, May 8—Growing favor in eastern New Mexico for Rep. John Burroughs of Portales for the Demo nomination for governor next year has Democrats in this area and the organized labor boys on the hunt for a candidate of their own.

Burroughs, successful Roosevelt county business man, opposed labor in the workmen's compensation battle of the recent session and is feared by the northside crowd as one who might cut them out of the heavy job patronage which they enjoy.

If Burroughs continues to gain in eastern New Mexico there is likely to be a hard push in this end of the state for District Judge Paul Tackett of Albuquerque or maybe for Land Commissioner Murray Morgan of Alamogordo.

Both are likely to be hard to get. Tackett would be required to quit his place on the bench which runs through 1960 and Morgan would be required to give up almost certain reelection as land commissioner to gamble on the governor run.

Meanwhile Rep. Bill Culbertson of San Miguel and Corporation Commissioner Seven-Foot Pickett are ready to go without anything to lose.

CAPITOL FAMILY NOT SO HAPPY
The big capitol family is getting along like a houseful of feuding half-brothers.

School Superintendent Georgia Lusk is refusing to pay four employees in the surplus materials section who were taken out of her jurisdiction by an executive order issued by Gov. Ed Mechem.

Auditor Jim Hannah is plotting a law suit against the comptroller to block an exchange of duties by the two officials set up by the legislature.

The pen administration and employees have been accusing each other for a month before a Santa Fe grand jury.

Two Corporation commissioners, Pickett and John Block, have refused to give Commissioner Jim Lamb his turn at being chairman.

Secretary of State Natalio Buck is sore because the governor won't let her yard and miller force take care of the executive residence.

The governor is suing the auditor and State Treasurer Joe Grant for a show-down on the hay buying program.

Payrollers are writing letters to editors complaining about the new levy on salaries for the support of state Demo headquarters.

It sounds serious but they still speak to each other in the hallways and go to lunch together.

TAOS SCHOOL MAN ENTERS MEER RACE
Taos county teachers are sponsoring Taos Municipal Superintendent Joe Otero for vice president of the New Mexico Education Association. The job is preliminary to becoming president. Barney Caton, Alamogordo superintendent, is also a candidate. The teachers elect next fall.

MECHEM CONTINUES FAVORS TO DEMOS
Republican Gov. Ed Mechem is hiring influential Democrats in a manner that suggests an effort for a Demo-Republican fusion in next year's elections.

Selection of A. F. (Hookey) Apodaca of Las Cruces for a pleasant job in the bureau of revenue was regarded here as intended to bring a considerable Democratic group into the Mechem camp. The Apodacas are of numbers and of respectable influence in Dona Ana.

The appointment of Rich Grisom to the tax commission was viewed here as a bid for support of Grisom's Democratic friends in Roosevelt and other points around the state.

There have been half a dozen appointments of less well-known Democrats of local influence.

MECHEM UNHAPPY WITH RUSSELL
Governor Mechem is sore at John Dale Russell, his $18,000-a-year director of the board of educational finance, for spouting off against the money being spent on inter-collegiate athletics at a time when it was too late to do anything about it.

Russell is director of the board which made the college budgets providing a subsidy of some $375,000 for the athletic program and the governor thinks he should have done his complaining at that time.

It was Russell's remark that the money would have afforded a $600-a-year raise for college professors that got the profs in a stew against the footballers.

Mechem played football at Azules and is a regular at the University games.

Gov. Mechem Declares Tuesday, May 14, to Be Hospital Auxiliary Day
A proclamation issued by Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, and countersigned by Natalie Smith Buck, secretary of state, proclaims Tuesday, May 14, to be New Mexico Hospital Auxiliary Day. The proclamation follows:

Whereas, the unselfish devotion of the women of New Mexico is one of the greatest assets of the hospitals of New Mexico, and

Whereas, this devotion is largely responsible for the establishment of Auxiliaries to our hospitals, and

Whereas, such Auxiliaries are proving invaluable to all served by our hospitals, now

Therefore, I, Edwin L. Mechem, governor of New Mexico, hereby proclaim Tuesday, May 14, to be New Mexico Hospital Auxiliary Day.

Teenagers Enjoy Joint Birthday Parties
Ruth Payne, Julie Robinson, Lewis Greer and Sammy Hicks celebrated their birthdays with a party at the lodge hall. A large group of teenagers enjoyed dancing and playing shuffle board.

Refreshments of soft drinks, ice cream, punch float and cake were served.

J. A. Herford of Carlsbad visited the A. P. Sitons the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner attended the Fiesta at T. or C. Homer McDaniell returned home from Albuquerque Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner were business callers in Roswell Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap and family attended the 7th and 8th Grade party in Capitan Friday. Ralph had charge of the games.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ward of Tularosa visited Mr. and Mrs. Randall Greer Sunday.

Albert Carter returned to his home in Tularosa after visiting the past week with the Randall Greers.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lackey and family visited Mrs. Lackey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sitton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Witham of Pocatello, Idaho, stayed for a short visit with Jimmy's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Witham and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox went to Las Cruces Saturday to see their new grandchild, David Allen.

Sam returned Sunday but Elva will stay to help Donna and the baby for a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner will observe their golden wedding anniversary, on Sunday, May 13. An open house will be held in their home at Nogal.

All of their friends and relatives are extended a cordial invitation to attend the celebration in the afternoon.

The Indians who hunted buffalo on the eastern plains of New Mexico had only two domesticated animals before the Spanish introduced the horse to them. These animals were the turkey and the dog, the latter being used as a beast of burden.

NATALIE RUNNING FOR CONGRESS
Natalie Buck, the secretary of state from Carlsbad who is not eligible to run again is planning to try for Congress. It looks like a steep hill for the young lady but Georgia Lusk made it in 1946 upon stepping out of the state school superintendent's office so why not Natalie?

Mrs. Buck isn't the first secretary of state to harbor the ambition. Secretary Cecelia Tafoya Cleveland (her name was at that time) who had enjoyed a popular two-term administration also tried for Congress in 1946 and ran sixth in a field of eight going for the two nominations.

Another popular lady who suffered the political handicap of her sex was Louise Coe of Lincoln, long a member of the state senate and the only woman to serve in that body. She tried for the Demo nomination for Congress in 1940 and ran sixth in a field of nine.

Joe Tondre of Los Lunas has been employed as a field officer for the state bureau of revenue. Tondre served the earlier Mechem administration for several months as pen-warden and later as assistant liquor director. He was the Republican nominee for governor in 1942. The Republicans have hired Adolfo D. Martinez of Taos who was a 1956 candidate for sheriff in the Democratic primary as a field man at $290. David M. Gillespie of Colfax has also gone on at that rate. Educational circles are interested in the news that Raymond Huff, famous Clayton educator and long-time chairman of the state board of education is leaving the government service next summer to return to his Union county ranch. There are some who would like to bring him out for state school superintendent. He's a Democrat.

Land Commissioner Murray Morgan has put the last of his 10 field men in state cars, (mostly pick-up trucks.) Otis Wetzel of Clayton, Cliff Stevenson of Portales and Frank Mann of Albuquerque had been pulling down around $150 a month for driving their own cars.

NOGAL NEWS Coe's Orchestra and Hondo Talent Bring Evening of Merriment to Fort Stanton

By DAN KUSLANOVICH

The patients of Fort Stanton Hospital went to sleep in a very happy mood Monday night and many continued dreaming of the wonderful evening given to them by Coe's orchestra and the Hondo dancers. The whole evening was like an enchanted dream, many said the next day.

Coe's orchestra brought out of the past the nostalgic refrains of the "Chisum Trail" and other cowboy songs that they and their fathers had sung to quiet cattle at night; mothers murmured to their babes in the cribs and people sang to entertain themselves and their friends. You could almost hear the milling and bellowing herds, the singing cowboys and the clanging and rattling of a chuck wagon.

Dan Storm, the Lincoln County historian, did a duet with Wilbur and Dan made his guitar speak the language of the prairies, mesas, cowpokes and pastores, and Wilbur's fiddle added the whispering murmurs and sighs and plaintive beauty that only a good fiddler can express.

Then the boys took it up again. Ralph Bonnell and Elzy Perry Jr. added their melodies to Wilbur's and Dan's music, the soft and romantic music of old Spain and Mexico, of Seville and Madrid.

Both the musicians and the dancers responded to the clamor for encores but the time was limited and Louise graciously asked to be "invited again." And all the patients and personnel want them to come back often because no other entertainment had pleased them as much.

Then refreshments were served and patients retired very happy and contented. Next day many came to tell us how grateful they were to Coe's orchestra and the Hondo dancers and Fernin Montes who originated these dances in the valley to perpetuate the finest traditions of Spain and Mexico.

Over the past many years the patients of Fort Stanton have been entertained by some of the best professional talent but no entertainment was ever better understood and more appreciated than Coe's orchestra and our other local talent.

Since November 12, 1951, more than 65 million passengers have traveled a total of nearly 40 billion miles in Pullman cars without suffering a fatality. In the same period more than 190,000 people have died in highway accidents.

Orchard Surveys

Orchard surveys were sent out to all fruit growers, requesting information on crop prospects for 1957. To make the estimate as accurate as possible, I would like to have all the surveys returned.

The late blooms on the apple trees, especially the Red Delicious have greatly improved the apple prospects. Growers should make a special effort to get these late blooms sprayed at the correct time so that all their fruit will be worm-free.

Watch Date for ASC Grazing Program

Ranchers should keep an eye on the newspaper for the latest developments in the deferred grazing program to be initiated under the Agricultural Stabilization Committee. At present the program has been approved on the national level and getting started on the state level is being carried out. Whether payments will be made on federal and state lands has not been cleared up yet.

Brucellosis Testing to Move into San Patricio

Testing for brucellosis will proceed from the Glenaca area on towards the San Patricio and Hondo areas this next week. Over 170 of the 304 known cattle owners have tested cattle now. The 50% mark will be passed shortly.

Irrigated Pastures Need Fertilizer

Irrigated pastures will respond to fertilizers better than most crops. But it's important to take a look at the kind of pasture and the condition of the soil before you start fertilizing.

The pasture mixture—or to be more exact, the proportion of grasses to legumes—has a lot to do with the fertilizer you should put on. Legumes need low of phosphate. Grasses, on the other hand, are heavy users of nitrogen. By varying the fertilizer you use, you can help regulate the ratio of grass to legume forage produced.

For pasture mixtures containing balanced amounts of grasses and legumes, use 60 pounds of available nitrogen and 45 pounds of available phosphorus. Mixtures with a high proportion of grasses and light proportion of legumes should be fertilized with 40 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphate. For mixtures that are mostly legumes, but more grass is desired, use 100-140 pounds of nitrogen applied as several split applications of 35-40 pounds each. This will help keep a balance of legumes and grasses. Where a high percent of ladino clover is desired use up to 100 pounds of phosphate.

All the phosphate may be applied in one application each spring. The nitrogen should be applied in applications of 35-40 pounds per acre as the grass shows a need for it. Lighter and more frequent applications work best on sandy soils, while the heavier and less frequent applications are satisfactory on heavy soils.

Circular Describes Growing of Gardenias

The whiteness of its petals in contrast to the glossy deep green of its leaves, its fragrance and decorative shape have made the gardenia a favorite flower for corsage use. The potted plant also is sold for the Easter trade or other special occasions.

In the North, gardenias are grown in greenhouses, but in the mild, moist South they are grown as ornamental flowering shrubs and also for the cut-flower industry. Because the blooms keep well in storage, they can be grown for shipping. The largest volume of these blooms comes North for Memorial Day.

For the commercial grower or home gardener in the South or for the commercial or home greenhouse owner in the North, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has revised its publication on gardenia culture. Single copies of "Gardenia Culture" (leaflet 199) just off the press, may be procured from your county extension office.

Protect Beef Cattle From Vicious Hornflies

It's hornfly season again—time to give the cattle their spring spraying and to oil up their back rubbers.

Hornflies cost New Mexico cattlemen about $3 million every year. These vicious little flies suck blood from the necks and backs of cattle, causing reduced energy and extreme irritation. Beef cattle protected from hornflies gain from 40-70 pounds more per head over a three-month period than unprotected cattle.

Page 5
Lincoln County News
FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1957

A thorough spraying this spring at round-up time—plus back rubbers set up at water holes, salt licks, and loafing areas—will protect your cattle from hornflies.

Spray with DDT, methoxychlor or TDE (DDD). Use 8 pounds of 50% wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. Spray the backs and sides of each animal thoroughly, using about 2-3 quarts of spray on each mature animal. Back rubbers, well supplied with insecticide throughout the summer, do an excellent job of protecting cattle on the range. Repair old back rubbers and set up new ones where cattle congregate.

Use a 5% solution of DDT, toxaphene, or methoxychlor in stove oil or a light grade fuel oil (not used motor oil) to saturate the back rubber. To prepare this solution, add 1 quart of a 25% emulsifiable concentrate to 4 quarts of oil or one-third quart of a 60% emulsifiable concentrate to 4 quarts of oil. Ready-mixed 5% solutions containing a repellent are also available.

Ask your county agent for Circular 263, "Stop Those Hornflies," which gives plans for making a back rubber, and Circular 228, "Let's Control Livestock Pests," which tells how to control all livestock pests.

Cattlemen to Set up Fact Finding Office

Livestock marketing, meat packing buying practices, and meat merchandising appear to be the most serious problems facing the livestock industry today said Dick Snyder, President of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association.

"In recent years our industry has progressed rapidly in developing better cattle, more economical feeding practices and in increased beef production, but we have failed to reap the benefit of this improvement price-wise. Cost of meat at the butchers counter has remained high while the price of cattle has declined seriously since the all-time high in 1951," Snyder said.

In an effort to overcome this marketing problem, the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association last week agreed to join with more than twenty other western and southern states to establish a "Fact Finding Office" and employ a full time analyst. The work will be done in cooperation with the American National Cattlemen's Association in Denver, Colorado.

Check Air Cleaner On Tractor Daily

The most neglected part of your tractor or car is the air cleaner. You have to breathe to stay alive—and so does your tractor or car. So, the air it "breathes" must be clean, and the only way is through an air cleaner.

Dust breathed into the cylinders is the engine's worst enemy. One of the reasons that older tractors often had a short engine life was because of a lack of good air cleaners.

Between spring and summer work, it's wise to remove the air cleaner from the tractor and wash the separating screen thoroughly to remove any fine dust or other similar material that may have accumulated. If the air cleaner has a gasket, see if it's in good condition. Otherwise, put on a new one.

Check the oil in the air cleaner at least once a day. Clean the cup whenever there is one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch of dirt collected on the bottom, or whenever the oil begins to thicken.

If you're using a detergent oil in the cleaner, fine dust particles may be carried by the oil. So if the oil is thick, change it regardless of how much dirt is in the bottom of the cup.

Never put used oil in the cup. Old oil already contains dirt and probably is diluted with unburned fuel. If that happens, the fuel will evaporate out of the mixture when it's in the air cleaner, and the oil will be too heavy to perform its intended function.

Always put new oil in the air cleaner and keep it at the level marked on the cup.

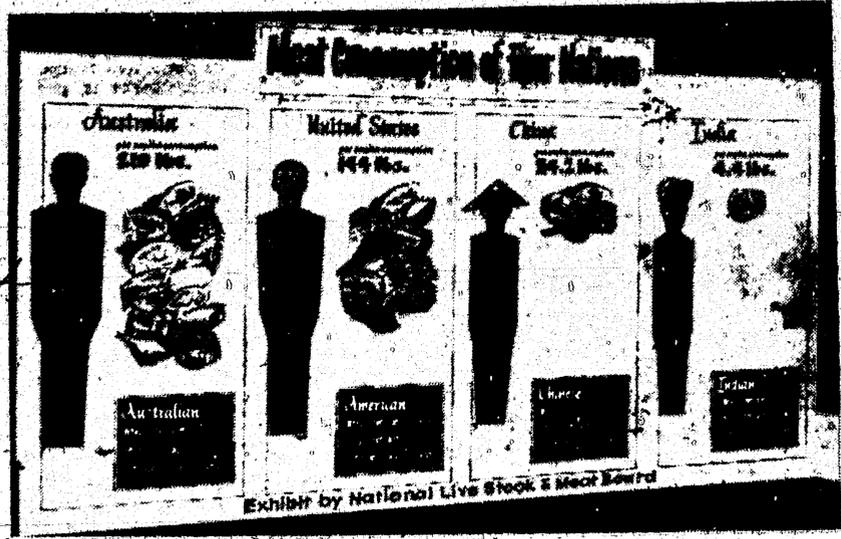

N. M. Sheep Producers To Meet in Roswell

More than 300 New Mexico sheep producers are expected to meet in Roswell, Monday, May 13, in a quarterly meeting of the New Mexico Wool Growers Association, Inc.

W. C. Haase, of the Agricultural Research Department of Swift and Company, Chicago, will review position of major packers in seeking to modify the Consent Degree of 1920.

Prof. F. E. Neale, associate director of Animal Husbandry, State College, will demonstrate a newly developed wool shrinking machine.

Little Tesuque Creek near Santa Fe is running more water now than Big Tesuque normally runs. This is good news not only for the residents of the Tesuque community but for fishermen as well.

How meat eating affects the health and physical condition of the peoples of the world is shown in this exhibit of the National Livestock and Meat Board. The display is one of several to be shown at Homemakers College at New Mexico State University.

NEWS FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL

By CLINTON P. ANDERSON
United States Senator

Through last-minute efforts last year in the House and Senate, in which all members of the New Mexico Congressional delegation participated, sufficient money was appropriated to proceed with preliminary construction of Navajo Dam. Thus work began on base camp and agreement was reached with the State of New Mexico on the location and construction of an access road.

Throughout these discussions those of us in Congress constantly stressed the need for construction to start in fiscal 1957—that means by the end of June of 1957—on Navajo Dam so that it could keep pace with the other storage units. As you know, a contract for Glen Canyon Dam in Arizona has been signed and work will start there within a short time.

Once again it appears that Navajo Dam is facing a construction "stretchout" Congress learned last week that the Bureau plans to award a construction contract for Navajo Dam in "late fiscal 1958." This would mean a year's delay from the time desired by those of us in Congress. Thus work still must be done year by year, to translate a law into dams, lakes, power turbines and irrigation ditches.

The Atomic Energy Commission has announced the signing of a contract for another Ambrosia Lake uranium concentrate mill. This mill, to be built at a cost of $10 million by Kermac Nuclear Fuels, will be the largest in the country when completed. It will have a capacity of about 3300 tons of ore per day, compared with the 3000-ton capacity of Anaconda's Blue-water mill which currently is

Says Tarantula "Sheep In Wolf's Clothing"

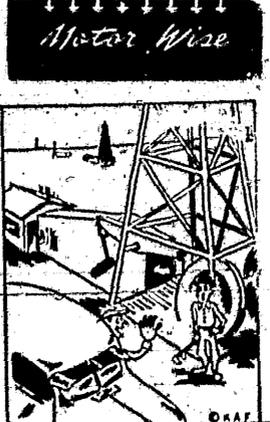

Age-old superstitions die hard, but Weldon D. Woodson wrestles one down convincingly in his article, "Tarantula," in the May issue of New Mexico Magazine.

"Watch out—tarantula!" sends a chill down one's spine, Mr. Woodson admits, "but actually, the black widow is the only spider we should fear."

Tarantula in the Southwest is called the "Goliath" spider. It is a cousin to the large European wolf spider that got its name from Taranto, Italy, away back then. Its bite was supposed to cause "tarantism," an affliction marked by an uncontrollable desire to dance. Hence, "tarantella."

All a hoax, says Mr. Woodson. The tarantula is as harmless as a bee, and less likely to bite. It is docile toward man, unless teased, and its bite is no worse than two or three bee stings.

The big spider is often seen walking on highways in New Mexico and is fairly easy to see.

Junior Play "Twixteen" Presented Friday Night

Laughs will be the order of the evening when the Carrizozo Junior High School presents the three-act comedy, "Twixteen." The play will be presented at 8 o'clock p.m., May 10, in the school auditorium.

The action of the play centers around a teenager, Wayland Dobbs, who wants to be muscular and popular with the girls. His erstwhile friends thwart him from his objectives at every turn. His sisters and parents are no help either.

For the outcome see "Twixteen." Patsy Ann Long will entertain at the intermissions on the piano.

Two Zozo Trackmen Place One and Two in State Track Events

By BILLY LOPEZ

In the State track meet held last week end in Albuquerque, two Carrizozo High School seniors, Billy Hicks and Greg Pino came out with first and second places in the 800 yard run and pole vault.

Billy Hicks was undefeated all during the track season in the 800 yard run. In state he ran a fast 2:04.7 half-mile which was 1.3 seconds better time than the previous day when they ran the preliminaries to qualify for the finals. Billy's time in winning the half mile was only two tenths of a second off the time run by Class A trackmen.

Greg cleared the 11 ft. 1 in. mark but failed to clear the 11 foot 4 1/2 inch mark which would have broke the B class record. Both boys together scored a total of 11 points—which was good for eighth place in the meet.

Spring Is Time to Clean Up on Roaches, Too

Your spring cleaning time can be cockroach control time, too. When you finish cleaning a room, finish up with a thorough application of a recommended insecticide before you replace everything. Sanitation plus insecticides is the answer to your household pest problems.

What insecticides will do is the job! Dieldrin, chlordane, decodrin, malathion, or lindane are all effective. They are sold under several different trade names, so read the active ingredients statement on the label before you buy a product.

Liquid and dust forms are available at farm supply stores, nurseries, department stores and drug stores. Mix liquid concentrates as directed and apply them with a paint brush. Treat moldings, window and door sills, openings around pipes and ducts and any other places where roaches may cover or hide. Before treating closets and drawers, remove all books and papers, apply the insecticide, let it dry, then get in new clothes.
