FT. STANTON

By DAN KUSIANOVICH

Rev. Charles L. Conder, Protestant chaplain, held his last service and preached his last sermon to his congregation that filled the chapel last Sunday. Rev. Conder was extremely well liked and respected by all those who knew him. The patients of Fort Stanton, his large congregation, the Boy Scouts and his many friends in Lincoln County will miss his always cheerful attitude, advice, guidance and help. Seen in the crowded chapel were Dr. and Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Truman Spencer, Jr. and children from Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. LaMay of Nogal, Mrs. Marshall and Eddie Penfield of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Pavey of Hondo.

Dr. and Mrs. Hathaway returned from a vacation in Wisconsin where they witnessed the summa cum laude graduation of their son, David, who was also awarded a Fulbright scholarship and will go to England for a year to continue his studies.

Dr. and Mrs. Roger of Snyder, Texas, stopped over for a brief visit with the few friends still remaining at Fort Stanton. Dr. Roger was stationed here several years ago. They enjoyed their vacation in Ruidoso and plan to return next year.

Joe Aldaz and Miss Rosella Gonzales have been given temporary appointments to help with necessary office work due to change over from Department of Public Welfare to its own administrative board, effective July 1, 1937.

Mrs. Flora Chavez resigned to be with her husband in Fort Bayard.

Dr. and Mrs. Jordahl of Fort Defiance, Ariz., spent a week end with Dr. and Mrs. Hathaway.

Johnny Kusianovich will leave Roswell Saturday morning with 73 other Boy Scouts for the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. Some 50,000 Scouts are to participate and during this trip they will tour Washington, New York City, Detroit and many other points of interest.

KOB radio station announced Monday morning that the Socorro tuberculosis hospital is to be closed and most of the patients transferred to Fort Stanton and Albuquerque.

Avoid Being Target For Bolt of Lightning

Yearly toll from lightning throughout the country is about 600 persons killed, two and a half times that number injured, and more than $100,000,000 in property loss. Much of this, says the Lightning Protection Institute, could be avoided by practicing a few simple rules.

Lightning's danger is more often great to people whose occupations or hobbies keep them outdoors. The most hazardous period occurs just before the storm, when dark clouds gather in the sky and the atmosphere actually feels charged. And the most dangerous places to be are on the golf course, whether in the open or in an exposed shelter; in a boat; in water swimming; atop a hill; at the beach; under an isolated tree near a wire fence, clothesline, overhead wires or towers; or riding a bike, tractor, horse or farm machinery.

Safety places are in a building protected with lightning rods and grounds; in a steel-framed building; or inside your car. If these shelters are not available, seek protection in a ravine, under a cliff, in a ditch, in a cave or flat on the ground.

If you are indoors in an unprotected building, don't stand in doorways or near open windows. Keep away from metal objects: the fireplace, the sink, and telephone, and the television set.

In a building with a properly designed and installed lightning rod and grounding system, the family is perfectly safe. Such a system safely escorts a lightning bolt into the ground or dissipates it into the air.

Oldest Show at Art Gallery Has New Look

Santa Fe—The Forty-fourth Open-Door Exhibition, popularly called "The Fiesta Show," which opens at the Museum of New Mexico Art Gallery August 18, has a new look.

The exhibition, open to all adult painters, sculptors and print makers of New Mexico, is offering, for the first time purchase awards, awards of merit and honorable mentions. These will be a Museum of New Mexico purchase award of $150 for a water color painting; a School of New Mexico purchase award of $150 for small sculpture; a School of American Research award of merit in the amount of $100 for other media, with the exception of water color painting; six schools of American Research $25 awards of merit for all media; and 50—more or less—Hanging Committee honorable mentions.

safety, write to Lightning Protection Institute, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 4, Illinois.

If you are outdoors in a threatening thunderstorm and you notice a sensation that feels like your hair is beginning to stand on end, you may be getting set up to become a lightning target.

Best thing to do, says the Lightning Protection Institute, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 4, Ill., is to lie down immediately—in a ditch or a depression if possible. By lying prone, the Institute advises, you may cease to be the "highest object in the area" in which positive electrical ground charges congregate in order to be as close as possible for an explosive meeting with their negative opposite contained in storm clouds.

Newspaper at Roy Suspends Publication

With the suspension of the Roy Record, announcement of which was made some weeks ago by Editor-Publisher Karl Guthmann, Harding County, Johns Catron and becomes the second county of the state not having a newspaper within its confines.

The area has had its newspaper since shortly after the building of the tracks of the El Paso and Southwestern thru the mesa section in 1904, and at times there have been two weeklies in Roy.

Continuing drouth has brought about the departure of a material portion of the rural population of the county, affecting both the advertising and circulation income of the publication.

Worldwide Air Tickets Available at SP Depot

International and domestic airline tickets for Trans World Airlines' flights will now be available to Lincoln County residents at the Carrizozo Southern Pacific station. E. L. Taylor SP's agent announces.

This new service to the traveling public became effective Monday, July 1, Taylor said.

Carrizozo is one of 237 western communities covered by the broadened service in Arizona, California, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon and Texas where TWA is not now represented.

"SP has always provided travelers with information and service on trains, buses, steamships, sightseeing tours, resorts and hotels. Now we are pleased to offer this additional service," Taylor declared. "We think it is a good example of cooperation between two forms of transportation to better serve the traveling public."

OLD-TIME CAMP MEETINGS

(Editor's note: Floy Skinner has attended camp meetings for more than 80 years. From his home in Nogal, he can look to the Tabernacle of Nogal Mesa, site of the famous Lincoln County camp meetings held each July. The present gatherings are more formal and organized than those which Skinner attended as child and adult at Angus, Bonito City, Nogal Canyon, Nogal Lake and Tulareosa. Some of his recollections of the meetings held more than a half century ago follow.)

Sometimes 250 people came to the camp meetings which generally lasted about 10 days. You'd see from 30 to 50 covered wagons in a green valley, in which families had come from miles around in Lincoln County. Country people were very religious. The meetings also gave them a chance to do a lot of visiting.

Cowboys rode in, on their horses, and at night they'd throw their saddles and blankets on the ground and those would be their beds. Sometimes the cowboys rode young broncs they were breaking. When they got ready to leave and saddled up, you might think a rodeo was going on.

Our "tabernacles" then were built just for one camp meeting. Men cut poles with forks in the top, set the poles in the ground, and put brush over the forked tops to provide shelter for the congregations.

My father, J. W. Skinner, was not an evangelist but he preached at the meetings, and my mother helped with the services.

There might be half a dozen preachers at a camp meeting. Some were good and some not so good; some were well read and some not.

There wasn't any set time for a preacher to deliver his message. He would start off for an hour, and I remember some of them preached for three hours. They shouted until the "bells rang." When he was played out, a preacher stopped.

We seldom had an organ at the camp meetings, and we never had a choir. When people said we'd sing, we just joined in and sang.

Ordinarily, we had morning, afternoon and evening services. Some days when a camp meeting got real fervent, there wasn't any intermission.

Parents brought their children of course. They were under restrictions, but like kids at home they played and fought. Children had to attend services.

One camp meeting in particular sticks in my mind. This one was about 1898 and was held about 1 1/2 miles below Angus. People were camped all over that valley, and it was open range for your horses.

Among the people at the meeting were O. P. Humphrey and his family. Humphrey had about 300 head of goats and two shepherd dogs, which he brought to camp. The goats grazed during the day and were driven in near the camp at night.

Mr. Humphrey nailed a board between two old trees that are still standing at the meeting site, and he and his wife set up a free restaurant for single people who hadn't brought much food with them. Humphrey butchered goats and served meat. There was goat milk, too, and beans and fruit for the hungry.
