

Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

(Recollections of Lincoln County as it was years ago are recalled in a letter to the News, written by Oscar C. Watson of 1541 Colburn St., Los Angeles 49, Calif.)

By O. C. WATSON
Our home is in Los Angeles, however, last March we came to Vernal, Utah, to look after my wife's mother who was 99 on September 25.

One day soon after arrival my wife, Sue, was in a prominent store talking to Bill Littell, the owner. In the conversation, "White Oaks" was mentioned and Sue told him that I lived these in my youth. Of course I went up to meet him and we have discussed almost daily our experience in Lincoln County. Each week he gives me your "Lincoln County News." I find it very interesting, especially items "40 years ago" when former friends and neighbors are mentioned. Also, "Along the Way" and "Ramblin' Around Lincoln County," which prompts this letter.

(Bill Littell, an acquaintance of Mr. Watson, was born August 2, 1906, in Owensboro, Ky. He came to White Oaks in October of 1913, and worked in the North Homestead, South Homestead and Little Mack mines; also at the coal mines owned by the Lincoln County Light and Power Co. Mr. Littell left in May, 1942.)

I was born March 30, 1874, on a farm some 40 miles east of Uvalde on Sabinal River, Texas. My father, Alfred Carson Watson, was born in Arkansas and mother, Sarah Jane, in Texas. I understand when married he was about 15 and she 17. There were 15 children. Two sisters and a brother died before I was born. Now living, nine of us—four sisters and five brothers. Three sisters live in California, one brother in Old Mexico, others in El Centro, Colorado Springs and Tulsa, Okla.

My father is buried at Las Cruces and my mother at Carlsbad, and a sister, about 8, at White Oaks.

Around 1896 we moved from El Paso in a covered wagon, drawn by a pair of balky mules, and I being the eldest rode a burro. We settled on what I hear is still known as "Watson Lake" on the mesa near Nogal, where dad had taken up a homestead of 160 acres surrounding the lake which was 400 yards long by 250 across.

He had supplies shipped from Chicago by Montgomery Ward including barbed wire. With the help of us older boys we killed the prairie dogs, and with a yoke of oxen, "Britt and Pony," fenced the farm around the lake with cedar posts and barbed wire.

Dad planted everything which grows in high altitude and I remember especially the corn, egg and tall and pretty growing out of the virgin soil.

It seems we kids walked some two miles to a log cabin schoolhouse in Nogal. I recall one of the teachers was Mrs. Roberts, wife of a captain of the Texas Rangers. Her niece, Lily Roberts, was near my age, married a cattleman by the name of Jim Hinkle, later governor of New Mexico and banker at Roswell.

Our family enjoyed the lake, swimming in summer, duck shooting in the fall and skating on ice 12 inches thick in the winter. A very amusing incident I remember. We had a large burro which we were all fond of, and among other things in his shipment, had a barrel of oatmeal stored in the kitchen. "Old Blue" broke in and ate most of the oatmeal before he was discovered.

When our gorgeous crop was about matured, along comes a terrific cloudburst and the family watched the entire crop washed into the lake. Being broke, we moved to White Oaks. Dad bought a meat market, then placed in Jicacilla and raised stock, later moved to High Rolls and Alamogordo. He passed away at Las Cruces.

From age 16 to 20 my experience in White Oaks was most interesting.

I understand the Old Abe mine was a prospect owned by three attorneys, H. B. Ferguson, a delegate to Congress, Territory of New Mexico, of Albuquerque; John Y. Hewitt and Wm. Watson of White Oaks. Watson, being an experienced miner, had a friend by the name of Anderson who was a millman.

They had no work and believed in the mine, so they suggested to the other two owners they would do the prospecting, with a grubstake and an understanding that Anderson would erect and have charge of the mill if successful, which promise was kept.

How long they prospecting I do not know, however, one brilliant sunny early moon, following heavy rain the night before, while walking up the trail they had traveled daily a long time, one of them noticed a piece of white quartz with a glitter, and picked it up.

It proved to be wire gold, so they decided to dig a shaft on

Along the Way..

By PAUL BAKER

Editor, News: I am enclosing a story about Lincoln County, should you find it worth publishing. My memory may be at fault, since it is nearly 64 years ago, and I have been "ramblin' around" in other places.

We are leaving Vernal, Utah, on or about December 1 and will be in Los Angeles.

My last visit to White Oaks was in June 1897, with a special agent of my company, selling life insurance. Dr. Paden made our medical examinations and I recall, among others, a policy sold to Mr. McDonald before he was governor. I spent two nights at his home on the Carrizozo ranch. We were royally entertained by him and his fine wife. We did good business in Lincoln County, a good deal of the time using a hired team and surrey, with driver, from Paul Mayer's at White Oaks.

By Oscar C. Watson.

Editor, News: We enjoy getting your paper very much. It's coming to our mail box out of Willard, but will you please send it in a wrapper back to Cedarvale till the first of May so we can get it every week on time—Mrs. Howard Gustin, Cedarvale.

After reading the Class C all-state football selections announced by the Associated Press, one wonders where the collecting board sits and who does the selecting.

We have no fault to find with many of the selections, though the preponderance of selections from Class 1C in the northern part of the State has a definite geographical flavor.

Certainly the championship Ruidoso team deserves all the recognition they were given; also places given on the first and second teams to other outstanding players in the "Southern" area.

What we object to is the omission from placing in "honorable mention" or higher rating several more outstanding players from the Class 3C teams of Carrizozo and Captain. These two teams furnished rugged competition to the champs and played a rough schedule.

In the interest of fairness to all players in Class C competition we suggest that in the future members of the selecting board be required to see all the teams in action at least once.

Is that asking too much? From the "Elmgold Record," Mount Airy, Iowa: "The dog has many friends because the wag was put in his tail instead of his tongue."

The spot. Result, a rich pocket within 15 or 20 feet. They mined 50,000 and started mining on a big scale and built a 20-stamp mill.

Being young, I had various jobs in and out of the mine and can remember walking through drifts to my work; also shoveling behind "Cousin Jack," a miner, with the usual miner's candle; seeing tiny strings of wire gold hanging from the ceiling.

I recall two of the most important, fascinating incidents, I was helper in the blacksmith shop one morning when the superintendent came in. He sent the blacksmith out, locked the door and told me not to mention our purpose to anyone.

I handled the bellows and he re-buffed tailings from the mill into two bricks of yellow gold.

Another time I was working alone on the top floor of the stamp mill in the crusher room where the assorted ore was dumped in from the ton cars. With a heavy sledge hammer I happened to break in the middle a chunk of ore weighing 25 or 30 pounds and as I lifted it the lower half was suspended by wire gold.

An ore sorter on the yard stole two small sacks which milled $2500. He got drunk one night, bragged and told where he had hidden the ore in two prospect holes. He was not arrested, however, but was ordered to leave before morning. He disappeared and was never seen or heard from again to my knowledge.

Bids to be Asked For Filtration Plant

At their meeting on Tuesday night, the Carrizozo Town Board of Trustees took further action to secure funds to build a filtration plant.

Town Clerk Johnson Stearns was authorized to complete negotiations with the bonding firm that handled the water revenue bond issue to sell an additional $20,000 unissued bonds remaining from the original issue.

This money will be used to build a filtration plant to treat water from the Bonito pipeline to which the town has a water right of 115,000 gallons daily.

W. E. Turney & Associates of Albuquerque have been authorized to prepare specifications for the plant and it is expected plans for biddets will be ready within 30 days.

In other action Tuesday night the board changed the fee for new water connections to a flat fee, as follows:

A charge of $50 to be made for installing water line up to 80 feet, with 1/2-inch meter; $75 with 1-inch meter and $115 with 1 1/2-inch meter.

Action by the town board will be necessary when a property owner requests water service that calls for an extension of the main water line.

A building permit was granted Wm. and Elizabeth MacVeigh, $1500, to add two rooms to present dwelling.

Youths Processed For Piffing Car

Five cases were disposed of by Judge W. T. Scoggin in district court Tuesday, in connection with piffing a car in Ruidoso. Four were juveniles and the fifth, an adult, an accessory to the fact.

Three juveniles from Roswell were placed on probation in the custody of their parents and a fourth youth from Green Tree was committed to Springer until age 21.

Two of the juveniles were assessed $125 probation costs, the third $250, and driving licenses of two, suspended for 60 days. All property taken from the car was recovered.

In the case of State vs. Marvin E. Burrows, charged with helping an accessory to the fact, he was placed on probation one year and charged $250 court costs.

State of New Mexico vs. Arthur Loughry, charged with grand larceny, Loughry, previously on probation, was sentenced to from one to not less than ten years for breaking probation.

Eight years of this sentence were suspended. On the grand larceny conviction he was sentenced to not less than one year nor more than five, two years of which were suspended. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Loughry was convicted of stealing tires from a trailer. A final decree of divorce was granted Lela Hayhurst, plaintiff, from David Hayhurst. The plaintiff was given custody of a minor child and awarded $50 monthly support.

District court reconvenes December 8.

Due to a number of requests for large size street maps of the town of Carrizozo, Clerk Johnson Stearns has made arrangements to have a number of the maps reprinted from the one at the city hall.

The price of the large map, 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, is $2. Small maps, 2 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches, may be bought for 50¢ a dozen.

Two Arrested After Country Club Breakin

A half hour after they had broken into the Carrizozo Country Club two itinerants were in custody Wednesday morning at the county jail.

They were James W. Jones and Alfred M. Crook who gave their address as Indianapolis, Ind. They were said by Sheriff S. M. Ortiz to have ridden a freight into Carrizozo and slept in a boxcar overnight.

They were hitch-hiking to Ruidoso and after leaving Carrizozo around 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning paid a visit to the Country Club, helping themselves to groceries, cigarettes and chewing gum.

The pair were spotted by Police Chief John Connell as they fled on foot to the southeast.

Sheriff Ortiz drove his car along the fence line and got ahead of the two. They offered no resistance after he fired a warning shot.

DULL DEMOCRATS COME TO LIFE

Santa Fe, Dec. 4—The dull Democrats went into a rock and roll with the opening of December.

Ex-Land Commissioner Johnny Walker was pulling on the gloves to slug it out with Dennis Chavez for the U. S. Senate nomination.

State Sen. Gene Lusk was hippling up to the edge of the governor fight, and all down the line candidate buds were popping out like the season was May.

The Walker entry caused others to become bold. Austin Brooks over in Clovis started talking out loud about his interest in the nomination for governor; Rep. Albert Matlock from the same county let it out that he would accept a call to the governor's place; Tom Wiley of the New Mexico Education Assn. said that he was still a possible starter.

HENRY EAGER SAYS HE'S IN

Former State Sen. Henry Eager said that he had ordered campaign material from the printers for a run for lieutenant governor; Dick Robinson, attorney general 1953-56 and an entry for Congress in 1956, was making like a candidate for some office as yet undisclosed; there was talk in the north about getting Flo Sedillo of Belen in the run for Henry Kiker's place on the supreme court, and generally hopes for an orderly closely controlled Democratic primary went down the drain.

Happiest of all about the development was Seven Foot Pickett the corporation commissioner who would like to run against seven for the nomination for governor would be content with two or more opponents.

It looked like he would get them. Lusk is real serious about going into the race perhaps as a running companion with Senator Chavez. Rep. John Burroughs is reported in to stay; Joe Bursay is still a lively prospect for the run and Demo State Chairman Ernie Tucker hasn't denied any of the talk about his yen for the governor's job.

TROUBLES MOUNT FOR DENNIS CHAVEZ

Senator Chavez who looked like he never had it so good in October was up to his neck in trouble at the first of December.

Walker had gone through a change of mind in deciding to challenge for the nomination. The crowd of influential and well-heeled Democrats that stood with John Symms when he was governor and when he got beat last year had awakened with new thoughts of revenge on the senator for his part in the Slimms defeat. Scores of north-side Democrats who lost their state jobs when Slimms lost the election were suddenly piling new blame on Chavez. Most all the Democratic state officials were either openly or under the table against the senator.

Land Commissioner Murray Morgan is slated to be at the head of those supporting Walker with the biggest payroll in the Democratic part of the statehouse. There is hardly anybody in Santa Fe who hasn't heard Atty. Gen. Fred Standley say that Chavez should be turned out for his action in 1956. Corporation Commissioner John Block was set to run against the senator when Walker intruded, and the capital has been alive with talk on what course Sen. Clint Anderson will take in the contest. Our Clint would be the senior senator from New Mexico if Chavez should lose, a dubious distinction among the saps but apparently important to senators.

UNEMPLOYED ONES ARE THE FOREST

Forest of all at Chavez are north-side politicians who lost their jobs in the Slimms debacle but it is doubtful if they will hurt him very much in a contest with angle Johnny Walker. That crowd would have liked another candidate of a Spanish name such as Rep. Joe Montoya or even Johnny Block whose parents were named Salazar.

Walker must look to the east and north for his main support and he has hope of doing well in Albuquerque where the old Slimms influence is strongest.

All the politicians remember 1952, the last time Chavez ran, when Diamond Tooth Miller, a strictly for laughs candidate who advertised himself as the "best senator money can buy," carried the important counties of Lea, Chaves and San Juan, and got 31% of the state vote.

DIAMOND TOOTH A PUBLISHER

Old Diamond Tooth, incidentally, is getting out a mimeo.

Kennecott President Listed in 'America's 50 Foremost Businessmen'

New York — One of the most highly coveted honors in the business world was accorded President Charles R. Cox of Kennecott Copper Corporation when Forbes Magazine awarded him a citation for being one of "America's 50 foremost businessmen."

In saluting the foremost businessmen, Forbes Magazine in its November issue points out that it is honoring "the 50 men who stand at the pinnacle of today's business world," and that "our criticism for naming them was nothing less than the judgment of their peers and fellow businessmen, the men who are in the best position to evaluate their capabilities."

"Schenectady-born steelman Cox came to Kennecott on the heels of a corporate disaster, the company's retiring president, president-elect and vice-president had all perished in a plane crash. The company faced a fiscal problem of large dimensions, too.

By 1948, its management had banked more than $250 million in more or less idle cash and short term government securities, was giving it less and less the look of a mining company more and more that of a sort of corporate Fort Knox. Moreover, the solid but slow-changing old firm was sadly lacking in cost-consciousness, research, and public relations.

"Fast-working Charlie Cox rolled up his sleeves. He cut costs by pruning deadwood throughout the executive tree, overhauled financial policies, and diversified the company's investments in aluminum, titanium and gold, moved into tin and columbium.

"Cox also set up copperdom's first central research center and broadened Kennecott's public and labor relations programs which are now second to none in the metals industry. In just seven years he has completely remade a proud old company."

THREE SHOTS, THREE DEER

An Albuquerque man fired three shots, killing three buck deer. He attached his deer tag to the first kill. Reserve Conservation Officer Paul Jones of Capitan, who had witnessed the whole procedure, picked up the illegally taken bucks and turned them over to the Department of Game and Fish for donation to needy families.

Judge Grelsen of Capitan, however much he may have admired the marksmanship involved, rather frowned on this sorry example of sportsmanship. The offender was fined $200 and permitted to keep the one legally taken deer.

SAVE THE PELTS

Bobcat and coyote pelts may be marketable, and the Albuquerque office of the Fish and Wildlife Service suggests that all good pelts be salvaged "until you are informed otherwise."

BOBCAT HAS BIG FAMILY

Rabbit hunters in the sandhill country west of Caprock early this fall were suddenly aware of an old female bobcat "spitting and growling at them. They shot her "as it were, in self-defense," according to the account given the Fish and Wildlife Service. They then discovered her den, which contained five small kittens with their eyes still unopened. This appears to be an unusually large litter for the species.

TROUT SEASON CLOSES

November 30 is closing date of regular trout season. However, certain waters open to year-round fishing are listed in Regulation 370 of the State Game Commission.

Season also closes November 30 on all species of fish, in Laguna Linda, Ramah and Bluewater Lakes, Bluewater Creek and on the Acoma Indian Reservation.

"ALMOST, BUT NOT ENOUGH" is our verdict on how close competitive cars have come to matching the Sweep-Wing 58. Take style. Other new cars are "almost" as low in inches, but still seem high and boxy in look. Some of them are "almost" going to this, but not enough to really make a difference. Then take performance. None of the other 1958 cars have anything to match the sweep-free, dip-free, vibration-free ride of Toronado-Aire. (It's standard equipment.) Most of them still don't even have push-button driving! So after you've seen the "almost" cars, come in and drive a Sweep-Wing 58. You'll see why we say: They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

JOHN MOFFITT AND ED DOHENY

John Moffitt was a miner at Kingston in the early days when Ed Doheny, a little bright-eyed Irishman, taught school in the silver mining boom town in Sierra County. Although Moffitt died in El Paso a few years ago, he never left Kingston. Doheny, who would always grub-stake anyone if he had the money, went to California and became an oil multimillionaire.

For years after Doheny had become rich, Moffitt occasionally would come into a bank at Hot Springs (now Truth or Consequences) and say to the banker:

"Make me out a draft for $250 on Ed Doheny in Los Angeles."

The bank then would wire Doheny asking if the draft would be paid.

The wire was always answered with one word—"Yes."

Moffitt used to say that the reply could have been shorter—it could have been "No."

The Kingston man had a bunch of mining claims. However, he never posted a mine, and that oversight once resulted in a suit for $1700 being brought against him by merchants and labor. Moffitt had given bond and lease on the mine. The merchandise and labor had been supplied to the leaseholder. Because the mine was not posted Moffitt was responsible for the debts created by the operations of the leaseholder.

The claim came up for public sale. Finally, Moffitt bid close to the judgment, and the mine was knocked down to him.

After his successful bid, Moffitt went to the Hillsboro bank, drew a draft on Doheny and sent the customary wire.

Doheny's reply was much longer than usual. It read:

"I'll pay the draft, but let the mine go to hell and come to California."

Finally, the banker asked Moffitt if he would mind telling him how he got such a stand-in with Doheny—his friend of former years in Kingston.

This is the story Moffitt told to the banker:

Late one afternoon he came down from the mine at Kingston, where he was shift-foreman, with a $100 paycheck in his pocket. He bought a few rounds of drinks. As he started home, he saw Doheny across the street.

"Hello, John," Doheny called. "I want to see you. I do not know why I had not thought of you before. My wife is very sick. I've got to get her to a lower altitude, but I haven't any money and none of my friends have."

Moffitt reached into his pocket handed Doheny all the money he had, and said, "Ed, if that is not enough, I've got some more in the bank."

"I'll send this back to you some day," Doheny said.

"It'll be all the same if you don't," Moffitt replied.

The Doheny's went to California. After he had made his millions, the little Irishman never forgot the kindness of his friend in Kingston. The Literary Digest in the 1920's rated Doheny the third richest man in the United States.

More Protein in Meat And Fewer Calories

By LOE JASPER

(County Extension Agent)

Calorie watchers can eat more meat and still not be afraid of gaining excess pounds. A recent study conducted at Oklahoma State University determined that meat contains more protein and less calories.

Today's labor saving devices require less physical activity during both working and leisure time, thus making a lower calorie intake necessary. Although we need fewer calories, our bodies still need ample protein.

Farmers and ranchers are now processing a lean-type beef animal which will produce a meat with less calories to meet the consumers needs. Processors and meat packers have also trimmed meat to remove much of the visible fat.

Until recently, meat was considered high in calorie content because studies conducted on the nutritive value of meat was on the entire portion which included the outer rim of fat.

Studies have now shown that most meat eaters trim the visible portion of fat from the meat, thus reducing the calorie intake and pounds gained by the consumer.

Outlook For Fruits In The Years Ahead

USDA's Outlook and Situation Board, in its annual forecast for fruits in the year ahead—predicts a world demand for fruit equal or a little better than during the past year.

It figures that if growing conditions are average, the '58 crop of deciduous fruit may turn out a little larger than the '57 crop. Citrus fruits seem likely to have about the same output in '58-'59 as in prospect for '57-'58.

In the past 20 years, production of all fruits combined has increased about one-third. Practically all the increase was in citrus, the production of which doubled.

In use, fresh fruit has tended to go down a little, and processed fruits to go up. The board says over the next few years, fresh fruit use may decline further, while canning and freezing will likely increase further.

Among canned fruits, increases have been especially heavy in applesauce, cranberry sauce, peaches and pears. Use of these products can be expected to continue heavy.

The board expects production of tree nuts to run larger than the near-average crop this year. With prospects for continued high consumer income in '58, it estimates consumer demand for fruit will probably stay fairly stable.

Prices to Farmers Seen Stable in 1958

Farmer's prices and incomes seem likely to average about the same in '58 as this year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture economist says the most significant changes in farm product prices now in view for 1958 are somewhat lower prices for wheat and hogs.

On the other hand, with cattle numbers going down, the specialists look for further price improvement. Prices paid by farmers have tended to level off the past few months, and they see some, further slight increases likely from higher interest and tax payments and

Capitán Pupils Write About Their Pets

Pupils of Mrs. Hattie Lacey's fifth grade in Capitán were recently given an assignment by their teacher to write about their pets. Following is a paper turned in by Richard Griego about "My Dog":

Once I had a black and white dog with a white stripe down his throat. His name is Blackie. One day we went hiking, we came to a river my dog went a head. He stopped a moment I went where he was. There on the dirt laid a wounded hawk I picked him up, his wing was hurt. We went back to the house. I took my first Aid Kit out I put some medicine on the wing. My dog barked loudly I asked him what was the matter he barked again I think he wanted me to follow him. There on the porch was a mother hawk. I went inside and brought the baby hawk out where she was. The baby hawk jumped down where she was. My dog was jumping up and down with joy. The baby hawk was again with its mother.

Skiing Was Fine for Thanksgiving Holidays

Leck Lane has a new ski pull on the ski run this year. Leck rents toboggans, skis and sleds. The last several inches of snow made the skiing fine for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Leck keeps a warm fire going for folks to warm their feet and there's a shelter for lunches and coffee should anyone want to stay all day and brew their coffee on the camp fire.

Billie and Bobby LaMay, Montie Coe and Robert and Benny took a sled and a "saucer sled" to the ski run Thanksgiving Day and had fun.

The Roy LaMay family have been home with colds. Judy was even in the hospital a few days. Tom Bragg stayed with them until he got his cows delivered along with Roy's and then rode back to the Parsons Mine hotel where he lives.

The Thanksgiving community supper at Capitan Wednesday night was a big success as was last year's. There were songs and a good short sermon by the new preacher, Paul Reynolds.

A letter recently from Uncle Bill and Aunt Mollie Copeland in California says they are having a wonderful time and will have lots to tell us when they get home. They are at Cal-Mex Motel in San Ysidro just three miles from Tijuana border where Aunt Mollie says she likes to shop.

Lola Mitchell from Lubbock, Texas, was on the Bonito last week to make some cute center-pieces for Anna Mae LaMay and Louise Runnels. Anna Mae's was for Thanksgiving and Louise's is for Christmas on the fireplace mantel. We need her around all the time.

Bud and Orene Crenshaw and sons Kenneth and Bobby Dan were on the Bonito Thanksgiving for a visit. They've had lots of snow in White Oaks too, where Orene "bucks" it to carry mail to Carrizozo.

Lloyd and Irene Coe had a big Thanksgiving Day at Ruidoso for Mayme and Elwood Stearns, Irene's parents from Arizona. Frank Stearns from Dexter, Charles Stearns who is in Arizona at present, and the Tommy LaMay family from the Bonito.

Jim Beal, new dentist at Ruidoso, is booming more popular every day. He has his office at present in the former George Zimmerman home near where his new home and dental office will soon be completed. His attractive wife is his nurse and I've heard several fine compliments on his "no hurt ya" work and that's the kind of dentist we want, huh?

Joe Rodgers from Ft. Sumner, where he's employed with the Fish and Wildlife Service, was by to visit recently. He and Bobby Witham had made a business trip to Deming.

Zip Franklin and family were in their trailer home at Angus over the week end. Zip and Ralph Brown did some flying over the country one day. Zip said Ralph Brown is a real flier and that he is. I'd trust him to take me to the moon — if I wanted to go.

Ralph and Hattie Brown's last daughter of five girls married recently and was given a shower at Carrizo Lodge on Carrizo Creek. Bride, Mrs. Scott (Pat) Haley really received the beautiful gifts and many fancy cookies and delicious punch were served from an attractive table. I enjoyed seeing all the pretty ladies.

Trinity Methodist Church News

By REV. E. DITTELKNE

You are cordially invited to attend the services of our church. Persons of all races, colors and creeds are welcomed at our services and organizations.

Sunday, Dec. 3, is Universal Bible Sunday. The Holy Bible is now being translated into 1100 various tongues. During 1950 the American Bible Society distributed at home and abroad 1,007,560 bibles; issued 17,250,000 bookmark reading lists for the Thanksgiving-to-Christmas period.

The theme for the morning service will be "The Bible Speaks To Us Today." The pastor will also use several various translations of the Bible; therefore, if you can bring a different translation, please do so.

At the evening service the theme will be "The Methodist Position on Baptism and The Lord's Supper." This is the second message based on the doctrines and beliefs of the Methodist Church. We urge you to attend and learn more about the Methodist Church.

The Good Life: There may be some who feel that, while worship may be very good for those who like it, what has all this got to do with ethical problems? The Christian answer, of course, is that worship has everything to do with ethical behavior.

The reason for the answer returns us at once to the doctrine of man. If man is wise enough and virtuous enough to solve his daily problems, then quite clearly man does not need God to help him, nor would man need to practice constant worship. But if man on his own is not able to solve the good life, then he needs desperately the means of God's power.

See you Sunday.

'Tween Us Teens

By MARY (Ginger) NICKELS

Everybody who went to the basketball game Friday night in Carrizozo saw Hondo come out first by the skin of their teeth. The score was 54-48. And just think, we only had seven-teen points at the half—that's good ball playing in anybody's language! Then there was the game at Weed Saturday night. We won by one measly point. (One more minute and they'd have won) The score was 45-44. But all things considered, we played two real good games. Remember, it's not whether you win or lose but how you played.

Hondo Students Enjoy

"Six Weeks" Party

Hondo High's Thanksgiving party proved a huge success to the sixty students who were able to attend. The main attraction of the evening was the newly acquired juke box that has just been placed in the recreation hall.

The juke box, a Student Council project, was brought in from Roswell on Wednesday afternoon by Ben Sanchez, Freshman Student Council representative, and Julian Salcido, 8th grade representative. The boys were accompanied by Mr. Hamilton, the Student Council sponsor.

Among the youngsters present at the party were Diana Montes, Virginia Torres, Freda Kimbrell, Freddie Titworth, Edward Sanchez, Orlando and Roman Pacheco, all alumni of Hondo High School who are now attending college. Other guests at the party included Ben Sanchez, Mrs. Benito Silva, Ethel Maez, John Romero, J. P. McKnight and Ernest Silva.

During the evening, an estimated 35 songs were played, and many of the students danced to all of them. It was an exhausted but satisfied group that left for home at 10:15.

Scientists discovered that the Navy-built base in Mario Byrd Land, Antarctica, sits on ice 7900 to 9750 feet thick.

the game! I think Carrizozo can be mighty proud of its basketball team. (Thanks to Robert Firman for the info.)

You'll never guess who I ran into in Roswell, Thursday! Our former teacher, Spence Devitt! Small world, huh? We all miss him but Roswell sure got a good teacher!

Did anybody watch the Ed Sullivan show on TV Sunday night? The "Crickets" were on singing "That'll Be The Day" and their newest hit "Peggy Sue." After that, Sam Cook was on with "You Send Me" and later who should appear but Bobby Helam singing "You Are My Special Angel." Wow!

Hey! How about that crazy plane crash Monday afternoon? The owner called my dad at about 4:15 p.m. and said not to be surprised if we saw a plane sitting beside the road on our ranch. It seems that he had a little mishap. He was en route to El Paso in an Aircoupe. When he stopped at Socorro to get gas and oil somehow the oil filter cap turned up a.w.o.l. The engine, of course, churned out all its oil in flight and he ended up looking for a place to land! A little dirt road on our place was under him so that's where he lit. Fuzzle — who was the mystery pilot?

Then there was the teacher who cleared his throat in the midst of an exam and said gently: "Will some generous student who isn't using his textbook be kind enough to let me have the use of it for a few minutes?" (Oh well),

See you next week—Ginger

Grizzlies Split Two Week End Games

Saturday night's game, played at Weed, was a rough and tumble affair. The Grizzlies started out to swamp the home town cagers but during the second and third quarters the fouls held the Grizzlies down to a slow pace.

Weed's only points from the end of the first quarter to the third quarter were 9 free shots. Weed pulled ahead on the shooting of S. Gurley who led both teams, with 27 points.

Four men on the Weed roster got in the scoring column, while none of the Grizzlies contributed points to the winner's cause. B. Herrera was high with 9, followed by Larry Ortiz with 8. The Grizzlies brought up their free throw percentage to 58% after dropping to a low of 44% against Hondo.

Coach Burch says the Grizzlies are "coming slowly but surely up the basketball trail. They are now in the toughest part of the season for them—learning to play together and basic man to man defense."

Carrizozo Moves Into Higher Phone Bracket Due to Growth

Russell F. Eddings, manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, said this week that the number of telephones in Carrizozo has climbed to the point where the rates are no longer in line for a community of this size.

For rate purposes, he stated, all communities in New Mexico served by his company, are classed in groups depending on the number of telephones in service. The rates charged for service is the same for all communities in their respective groups.

The rate schedules are higher for the larger communities where there are more telephones, and hence service is more valuable, and lower for the smaller communities where there are not so many phones.

"All telephone exchanges in the state with between one and four hundred telephones, pay the same rate," Mr. Eddings said. "Since Carrizozo has grown to 460 telephones it has been reclassified into the next higher telephone rate group."

"This will increase the telephone rates here to correspond to the rates paid in other exchanges in the same group, and is consistent with the tariffs on file. This increase will be effective January 1, 1958."

"The number of telephones in Carrizozo went over the top for its present group in December 1957. Because we did not make a reclassification of this exchange at that time, it means that telephone users here have been getting the benefit of lower rates since that time."

"I know that no one likes to pay more money for anything, but the community has outgrown its group, and in order for telephone users here to pay their fair share of the total telephone bill, it is necessary to reclassify Carrizozo with other exchanges of comparable size."

"All residence telephone rates here, regardless of the kind of service, will go up only 25 cents per month. There will also be increases for business phones depending upon which of the several services are involved," Mr. Eddings concluded.

LAST HOLD-OUT LOSES ROAD JOB

Ira Socha Miller, assistant highway engineer ousted from influence in July and fired at the end of November, was the last hold-out of the old Simms Democratic administration in the department. Others who cooperated with the Simms administration have hastened to conform to the new control. The commission is still three Democrats and two Republicans but four of the members have fallen in line to go along more or less with the Republican administration.

Democrats Tony Hoffmann and Eber McKinley, Republicans Charlie Williams and Old Hatfield, Commissioner George Lavender, Santa Fe Demo, is the outside man.

Post Office Patrons Are Responsible for "Stilborn" Mail

Lincoln County postmasters wonder which among you who read this are parents of "stillborn" mail. Have you ever been to a post office morgue to see the sad corpses collected there?

If you were a writer you could find in the dead letter files of the postal service rich materials for any sort of creative effort: a romantic tale, a murder mystery, a story of international intrigue, a human interest yarn, a treatise on governmental efficiency and economy, or a discourse on parental neglect. This is especially so at Christmas time, when the numbers of letters and packages which can neither be delivered or returned is several times the checking figure for the other months of the year.

Why is it that thousands of letters with their infinite variety of messages fall every day to accomplish their missions in life? Postmasters say there are many reasons, some the result of misunderstanding, others the consequence of carelessness. Sometimes mail is sent on its way with no address at all. Infrequently, though too often, the stamps are left off and the addressee fails to respond to the notice that mail is being held for postage.

Occasionally, the sender transposes the number in a street address. In other instances, the ill-literate letter is directed to the wrong post office. Once in a while the addressee moves and fails to leave a forwarding address. The most frequent error is that of furnishing insufficient address and omitting the return
