MRS. RUFINA MONTOYA MAES OBSERVES 76TH BIRTHDAY AT HER HOME IN LINCOLN

MRS. RUFINA MAES AND DAUGHTER MAGGIE DIAZ

Mrs. Rufina Montoya Maes celebrated her 76th birthday Saturday, April 6, at her home in Lincoln. She was born at Lincoln on April 6, 1861.

She has five children: Hilario Maes and Susie Kossage of Alamogordo; Roman Maes of Lincoln; Cruz and Ernesto of San Pedro, Calif.; and Maggie Diaz who makes her home with her mother at Lincoln.

Mrs. Maes has 12 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. Her husband, Enrique Maes, passed away at Lincoln, May 31, 1914. Mrs. Maes is the daughter of Lucio Montoya and Mrs. Maria Inez Miranda Montoya.

Her father, Lucio Montoya, took part in the Lincoln County War, and he is mentioned in the chapter entitled "The Three Days Battle" in a book written by Walter Noble Burns entitled "The Saga of Billy the Kid."

Mr. Burns mentioned in his book that one Frank Crawford and Lucio Montoya were killed by a man by the name of Herrera. According to reliable sources Crawford was killed on that day while he and Montoya were coming down on the South Hill, but some say Mr. Burns got the wrong information, as Lucio Montoya died a natural death in 1923 in Lincoln at age of 78.

Hilario Maes and family returned to Alamogordo Sunday morning, while Joe Delgado and Nick Kossage stayed until Sunday night to help build the pump house which will house the pump to be used in connection with the community water system in the town of Lincoln.

The work is progressing well and over two miles of underground pipe have been laid.

Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

E. L. Taylor, SP agent at Carrizozo recently received an interesting letter from A. A. Freidberger, who worked for the E. P. & S. W. Ry. at Coyote fifty years ago. Mr. Freidberger now lives at Longville, Minn. His letter, dated March 24, 1937, follows:

The news dispatches tonight over the radio describe a blizzard that seems to be raging around your area. Fifty years ago, exactly to the day, I was night telegrapher at Coyote, the second siding above Carrizozo, when another blizzard raged which blocked the division for nearly two weeks and caused me to nearly lose my life.

Coyote (it may not be there now) was a night job, no day operator, and until spring track work opened up there was no section gang. As I recall there was not even another habitation between Coyote and Carrizozo to the south and between there and Ancho to the north.

I kept a pony and a pup and spent most of my day hours riding, hunting and exploring. I got all the sleep I wanted on duty, as few trains ran. I had a call bell in the office and the dispatcher, a Mr. Corbett, was my friend. He kept me posted on trains, as he did other "owls," so we had lots of time to ourselves.

The day the storm started had been beautiful and clear, so I walked with the pup back to the "flak" about three miles away to get a few ducks (always plenty of them on the water) and while there the sky suddenly became overcast. In a few minutes a blinding snowstorm set in, with flakes as big as a silver dollar. Shortly I was wading through the snow with all landmarks obscured.

It still had not turned cold. Soon I had to carry the pup, then cache my rifle and everything else I could discard. I staggered on all night, trying to keep my sense of direction; often had to burrow in a snowbank to rest. Then it turned cold. About noon the next day I came across the pole line. The tops of the poles were sticking out above the snow. Then I couldn't tell which way to go, but took a chance and wallowed on, still carrying the pup.

I took the right direction and hit the track just a mile north of the station. When I hit the bunk I don't think I stirred for 24 hours except to put coal on the fire. Everything was completely tied up, but for a wonder the telegraph line remained clear and working.

Later it was determined four feet of snow had fallen in less than ten hours. The wind had whipped up terrific drifts and it had turned bitter cold. I could hear the snow plows reporting from up and down the line and saw every wedge plow (all the E. P. & S. W. had) were stuck and derailed. Some had as many as three engines pushing.

The line wasn't opened for about two weeks; after that it had been secured from the Rock Island.

The Golden State Limited was stuck in a drift at Gallinas. I believe it was, and before help came to them on snowshoes they had consumed all the food and fuel and had begun to chop up the wooden baggage cars to keep from freezing. Many of the passengers became hysterical.

Finally, beautiful spring weather came and a section gang and foreman (Dan Bullard, an ex-Texas ranger) came to work a month or so later. Then I had another unusual experience. Dan had four children, including a little early headed boy aged about 5, who took sick one night. Dan called me to ride to White Oaks for the doctor. I got permission from the DS to close up, saddled the pony and took off across the plain toward the mountains. It was a beautiful clear moonlit night. I took the narrow canyon trail, the short cut, and got over there around daylight, routed out the doctor, then went to eat. The only restaurant had just opened up.

While I was eating, the doctor and another man came in and I remarked: "Good heavens, man! I thought you would be through the canyon by now!" Looking out the front window I saw a team hitched to a light spring wagon, a small box on the bed behind.

The still younger said: "Well, from what you tell me, I don't know whether I will be needed, or the undertaker. The child evidently has chicken morbus."

Oh! they want to take the wagon trail around the mountain peak, about ten miles further than the trail.

Buckhorn Cactus Used as Supplemental Feed on the W. W. Gallacher Ranch

Bill Gallacher stands beside a Ford tractor, equipped with grader blade and pulling a trailer-drawn butane tank. The process of securing the cactus (five tons per hour) is described as very economical. The operating cost is between $1.50 and $2 an hour. Bill built the trailer, mounted the tank and installed the burner.

Buckhorn, or cane cactus, common to New Mexico's range lands, has been successfully used in supplemental feeding since January of this year on the W. W. Gallacher ranch, 20 miles northwest of Carrizozo.

Cactus over an area of approximately five or six thousand acres on the Gallacher ranch has been secured for removal of the spines. This is done by a butane burner which generates between 2000 and 3000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The cattle have been eating, on the average, between 15 and 25 pounds of the cactus each day. The cactus has been their main diet, supplemented with a milo, salt mixture, of which the cattle consume about a half pound each daily.

The cattle are entering the spring range season in excellent condition. The Gallachers have found that the range cows have nearly doubled their milk production for the benefit of their calves. The cattle in fact prefer the treated cactus to hay.

Not a loss has been attributed to this cactus feeding and no cattle were lost through blight. There was no evidence of scouring after the first week, due mainly to the salt and milo salt supplement.

The Gallachers plan to continue the feeding of cactus every spring in order to increase milk production. The cactus has a high sugar content.

Tularosa Basin Gas Co. Reduces Metered Rate

Doll Ray, manager of the Tularosa Basin Gas Co. in Carrizozo, announces that due to a wholesale drop of 1 cent per gallon in the price of L-P gas, his firm has reduced its rate accordingly for metered service, effective April 16.

Mr. Ray states that the New Mexico Public Service Commission has specified that any fluctuation in the wholesale cost of L-P gas be reflected in the price his firm charges its consumers.

Duplex Under Construction

The town of Carrizozo has issued a building permit in the amount of $5,000 to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Callaway for the construction of a duplex north of the Turner-Spencer clinic on E ave.

saddles. That horse saved me from four renegade Apaches, escaped from the Mesquero Reservation, who jumped me on the narrow trail when returning, but that's another story.

As I approached Coyote station later, I could hear Dan's wife from a distance, screaming. The child had died before the doctor could save its life, so the undertaker was needed.

Delegates Selected for New Mexico Boys' and Girls' State Conventions

Delegates and alternates to the 1937 New Mexico Boys' State and Girls' State have been announced by Wendell Watson, Carrizozo High School principal. Larry Ortiz and Robert Firman Jr. will be Carrizozo's delegates to Boys' State to be held June 8-15 on the campus of New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell. Rodger Pope and Robert Simpson are alternates.

The American Legion Post and Carrizozo Parent-Teacher Association are sponsors of the delegates. All registration fees, expenses while in attendance, and transportation will be provided by the above organizations.

Everly Witham will represent Carrizozo in Girls' State on the University of New Mexico campus June 9-16. Lee Adell Baker is the alternate. The American Legion Auxiliary sponsors the girl to Girls' State.

New Mexico Boys' State is a citizenship training project sponsored by the American Legion Department of New Mexico. Its purpose is to educate our youth in the duties, privileges, responsibilities, and rights of American citizenship.

The program of Boys' State has been developed on the fundamental assumption that you can best "learn to do by doing" and that a basic knowledge of the fundamentals of our form of government will bring to every citizen the realization that in a democracy the security of his rights and privileges depend upon his individual acceptance of the responsibilities inherent in them.

New Mexico Girls' State is a citizenship training project sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Department of New Mexico. Its purpose is to bring to the girls of New Mexico a knowledge of the fundamental principles of American government through actual practice; to educate young girls in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship; to arouse in each a love for the American form of democracy and to point out as future voters and office holders, the contribution women can make to the welfare of the city, state, and nation.

To be eligible for membership in either Boys' State or Girls' State, a student must be in the junior class and must return to his school next year.

The selection of delegates is based on the personal qualities of leadership, character, scholarship, service and citizenship.

Testimony Ends in Fish and Game Case For County Pioneer

A Department of Fish and Game case occupied a full-day Tuesday in District Court in Carrizozo.

The case concluded at 6 o'clock at which time Judge A. J. Walker announced that he would present his decision at a later date, following submission of written briefs and findings of fact.

Action for separate damages were brought by three plaintiffs, Malcolm L. Simpson, Mike Anaya and Earl H. Brixey, of Vaughn. They ask $23,550 each from each of three defendants, James T. Clayton, J. S. Shaul and Willis Lovelace Jr., who in their official capacities took the three men into custody the evening of May 11, 1934, for an alleged game violation.

Messrs. Simpson, Anaya and Brixey were found guilty and fined in justice of the peace court in Carrizozo May 12, 1934. They appealed to district court and were acquitted of the charge of illegal hunting, at a jury trial on July 1, 1935.

The present court action has been brought by Simpson, Anaya and Brixey for damages alleged to have resulted from "unlawful arrest and forcible detention, against their will."

G. T. Watts, attorney for the three plaintiffs, opposed three attorneys for the defendants: Theo. A. Jones of Albuquerque, Asst. State Atty General Santiago E. Campos and ex-State Atty General Walter Kagel.

Many witnesses were called to the stand for examination and cross-examination. Plaintiff's attorney G. T. Watts called the three defendants to the stand as adverse witnesses. A typical remark in their examination is illustrated in the cross-examination of Mr. Shaul:

"You did not have in your possession a warrant for the arrest of either plaintiff and a violation of the law had not been committed in your presence."

Attorneys for the defense, in lengthy examination of witnesses, attempted to prove that the officers had sufficient evidence to warrant the detention of the three men for a violation of the state game laws.

The state attempted to link the three men with the sound of a shot and a deer carcass, described by defense witnesses as being freshly killed.

Witnesses called to the stand included the three plaintiffs in the present suit, the three defendants; also Jake Hill, Frank Bradney, Mrs. Frank Bradney, former justice of the peace Clarence E. Shaw, former sheriff Glen W. Bradley, Sheriff S. M. Ortiz and Attorney Geo. L. Zimmerman.

Interest in the case was evidenced by the presence in the courtroom of a number of spectators. Also attending were Ray Bell of the State Department of Fish and Game; District Conservator Marion F. Embrey and

Services at Angus

Lincoln County has lost one of its oldest pioneers and most beloved residents.

Mrs. Maggie M. Pflingsten of Lincoln passed away Saturday night at the Carrizozo Hospital after an illness of several weeks. She was 80 years of age.

Services were held Tuesday, April 16, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Angus Community Building. Interment was in the Angus cemetery.

The Rev. Jesse F. Allen, Baptist pastor of Green Tree, was in charge of the services. Mrs. Pflingsten had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1912.

Mrs. C. J. Moore, Mrs. M. E. Britton, Mrs. Louise Cummins and Betty Dow sang "Rock of Ages" and "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Phillips.

Memorial bearers were LeRoy McKnight, Ralph Bonnell, John Thoman, George Perry Sr., J. E. Phillips and Edward Penfield.

Arrangements were by the Shaw Mortuary.

Maggie M. May was born in 1876 in Cedar Valley, Missouri, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe May. When about nine years of age she came with her parents first to Colorado and then to Lincoln County in 1894.

In 1933 her father homesteaded a place near Angus. On November 1, 1934, she was married to Fred Pflingsten and soon after they moved to a homestead on Nogal Mesa. Mr. Pflingsten passed away in 1935.

Mrs. Pflingsten chose to spend the last years of her life in her comfortable home in Lincoln. Here the quiet and neighborly atmosphere matched the serenity of her own character. It was this characteristic, along with her ever present sense of humor and lively spirit that most endeared her to her friends and family.

She is survived by two sons, A. T. Pflingsten of Hondo and Fred W. Pflingsten of Captain; a daughter, Mrs. Edna Zumwalt of Tucson; three sisters, Adde Henley of Reserve, N. M.; Eva Pflingsten of Garrison, Ky.; and Clara Grayson of Tucuman; also by four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Chino Mines Employees Set Safety Record

Hurley — Employees of the Hurley smelter of the Chino Mines Division of Kennecott Copper Corporation have set a new safety record.

The smelter recently completed 152 days of work without a lost-time accident, bettering the previous mark of 128 days. A minor accident snapped the new record-breaking streak.

Smelter employees were given a special "Safety Stock Dividend" in the form of a merchandise order in recognition of the record. The certificate, signed by W. H. Goodrich, Chino general manager, commends employees for the new mark.

Orchardists Offered Fruit Spray Schedule

The Agricultural Extension Service, New Mexico AEM College, offers orchardists a new fruit spray schedule. The schedule gives recommendations on chemicals to use for the control of various orchard pests, time of application, information on cultural practices which affect pest control, and post-harvest sprays.

John J. Durkin, extension entomologist, who prepared the schedule, says a good fruit pest control program will give greater production, better fruit, and more profit. Good cultural practices—plus chemicals—are the only practical means of reducing insect and mite infestations. For best control, the right chemicals must be applied at the correct time, in the proper way, and in the recommended amount.

Although chemicals are the best weapons for combating orchard pests they should be used as a supplement to good orchard management, the entomologist says. Single copies of the new fruit spray schedule are available at county extension service offices.

Ancient Civilization in America

The Olmecs, a mysterious race of American Indians that flourished some 400 years B. C., built elaborate tombs and monuments of basalt rock in southern Mexico, the National Geographic Society says. Findings indicate these people had a knowledge of mathematics and developed a calendar that the Maya may have borrowed.

FRIENDSHIP is best proved by deeds. Why do Americans have more than $80 billion in savings deposited in banks? Because safety for deposits is the bank's first concern... because so many other financial services are available under the same roof... because the bank offers savings aids and experienced counsel to help depositors get ahead; and because banked savings earn money for the depositor without his having to invest. Truly, America's banks have proved — to 73½ million people so far — that "the bank is the saver's best friend!"

EL SANTO ENTIERRO AT MESILLA

At 7:30 o'clock Good Friday night the finely-toned bells of San Albino Church on the Plaza in historic Mesilla will begin tolling. And as the tolling of the bells begins in lamentation for the death of Jesus on the Cross, three altar boys will step from the church doors. The three will pause, and the boy on each side of the cross-bearer will light a candle.

The altar boys will lead the procession of El Santo Entierro (the Holy Burial) around the Plaza, which symbolizes the taking of the body of Jesus to the tomb after His death on the Cross. The Good Friday night observance is unique in the United States, as far as the Rev. G. Fernandez, pastor of San Albino, knows. A native of Spain, Father Fernandez introduced the centuries-old Spanish religious custom to San Albino Parish four years ago.

After the three altar boys will come the little children, each pausing to light a candle on emerging from the church, and then forming into two lines. They will be followed by the teenagers, bearing lighted candles.

Then will come the adults, also carrying glowing candles. The women will wear veils and mantillas, and many will be dressed in black, as in a funeral procession. The men and children will be soberly garbed, too, for this is not a festive occasion in any sense.

Near the end of the two lines of adults will walk the four mayordomos of Mesilla, bearing the statue of Christ in a casket, open on the top and sides, which had been placed in the middle of the church. Twelve boys, clad in purple tunics with cinctures, and representing the Twelve Apostles, will walk beside the casket, six on each side.

The statue of Christ is more than five feet long, and it is a very old one, given to Mrs. A. Armendariz of Mesilla by a Franciscan priest in Tularosa. It is jointed, which is unusual for a statue, and its hair is human. The cruel iron nails lie beside the pierced hands and feet of the Savior, and blood is represented upon His chest.

As Father Fernandez, clothed in black cope, and the remainder of the altar boys emerge from the church to join the procession, it will be halfway around the Plaza.

Only three sounds will be heard during the procession—the tolling of the bells, the slow beating of a drum to which the sorrowful marchers will keep step, and the scraping of their feet against the surfaced street around the Plaza. It will be a silent expression of sorrow and penance by the worshippers.

Against the darkness of the night and the somberness of the marchers' dress will be the wavering flames of hundreds of candles.

Before re-entering the church, the people will extinguish the candles. The statue will be borne back into the church, and people will remain to pray as long as they wish. The statue and casket will remain in the church

ALTO BRIEFS

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Car Damaged, Deer Killed, In Collision

Lowell Morgan, who commutes between Ruidoso and Socorro, stopped at Lindamoods at 5 p.m. Monday the 15th to report that he hit and killed a deer 200 yards south of us. Marian Embrey was notified and came from Capitan to pick it up. The impact did considerable damage to the right side of Mr. Morgan's car but he was able to continue his trip to Socorro.

Wilford Adkison of El Paso week ended at his Little Creek ranch.

Mrs. Robert Williams of Amarillo was here last week.

The Alan Johnsons of Carrizozo drove up Sunday to see the Geo. Dingwalls.

Mrs. Don Watson of Roswell came by with the Bill Van Pelts on Saturday.

The Chris Stars of Portales are building on their Gavilan property just south of Alto.

The D. A. Kincaids of Albuquerque spent the past week end here.

On Saturday the G. A. Jays of Ruidoso visited at Alto.

The Marnie Badillos of Ruidoso drove over on Sunday to say hello.

Lawrence Peebles was confined to his bed with a cold the past week end.

Clint Branum of Albuquerque was by Thursday on his way home after a business trip to Mesalero.

Ben Grelsen of Capitan and F. J. Osorio of Carrizozo were in the vicinity Wednesday on property assessment work.

Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Stanley Hightower and sons George and John were at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. W. N. Hightower, Friday and Saturday of last week. Stanley has re-enlisted in the Service and returns to Gary, Ind., for further schooling in radar.

Paul Douglas of Ruidoso had Mr. Merhson of Mayhill with him on Wednesday when they were in the community on business.

Mrs. S. B. Bostian and Mrs. Leonard Surriger of Ruidoso stopped by Wednesday on their way home from Carrizozo.

Jean Rankin and Del Foster of Roswell were here on Wednesday the 10th.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ambrose of Ft. Worth and Mrs. F. W. Maxwell of Denton were here last Monday. They were returning from a trip to Daming and couldn't pass up driving over to see our view. Mrs. Ambrose has Eagles Nest Resort and Club in Fort Worth.

until Saturday morning when they will be returned to Mrs. Armendariz' home.

El Santo Entierro will be preceded by two other Good Friday services in San Albino. The Stations of the Cross will be observed at 3 p.m. Two of the stations will be within the church and the remaining 12 on the Plaza. The service will last about 30 minutes. An hour-long service, including a procession in the church, will begin at 5.

Father Fernandez, who has lived in the United States 24 years, came to San Albino Parish five years ago, shortly after Easter. When he saw the statue of Christ belonging to Mrs. Armendariz, he conceived the idea of introducing to his parish the Good Friday night procession which he had often witnessed in his native Spain. He believes the statue was made for Santa Entierro processions. The only other one he has seen in this area was in Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in Juarez, Mexico.

Each year an increasing number of persons have taken part in the procession, Father Fernandez said. Last year there were 800.

Band and Choruses Ending Successful Year

By JOE ALDAZ

The accomplishments of the Capitan band and the Senior and Junior Choruses have been many in the past year.

When the school year started the band consisted of 30 members. Throughout the year it has picked up 11 members. Thus far it has 41 members.

The Senior Chorus has 45 members. The Junior Chorus has 30. Sixteen in the Senior Chorus are boys. During the first part of the year all members were girls. When football season ended the boys enrolled in chorus. The Junior Chorus has 11 boys.

During the year the band and choruses attended many functions. In Las Cruces they competed in the Spring concert. Both organizations entertained the people at Christmas with a Christmas Concert. During this same month the choir strolled through Capitan-singing Christmas carols.

The band attended the Hondo Clinic and marched in the Eastern New Mexico State Fair parade in Roswell.

The two groups will present a concert in the Capitan gymnasium April 25. The choir will sing in the operetta May 2 in the Capitan gym.

The people of Capitan have much to be proud of in their band and choruses. They are a credit to the school.

Music Boosters Aid Band and Chorus

By CAROL ALLYN BONNELL

The Capitan High School Music Boosters are concluding a highly successful season due to the superb cooperation shown by all members and the community.

In the course of the 1936-37 term the Music Boosters sponsored several fund-raising projects. At the annual School Carnival their cakewalk was a much enjoyed event.

A booth at the county fair, hot-cake supper, and game night, lamb raffle, pie supper, meals served during the grade school tournament, and a hilarious minstrel show also proved to be great steps toward their goal.

The Music Boosters have

WILL HARRISON'S

LEAD THE DEMOS

Santa Fe, April 17 — Last week's election created a new combine in state politics that may change the looks of things — Our Clint and Little Joe Montoya.

Senator Anderson and the recently elected congressman are prepared to move in on control of the state Demo organization and they are the logical ones to take over. The election was a personal victory for Montoya and for Anderson who came from Washington to help his young friend. The old party organization, made up of friends of ex-Gov. John Simms, didn't show much muscle in the ballot jousting.

Montoya takes over as the Anderson partner in Congress as raised a total of $834 to date, from which they purchased several band instruments and 17 new band uniforms.

Mrs. Lee Smith and Mrs. Leroy McKnight served splendidly as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Formerly known as the Capitan Band Boosters, the club, at the suggestion of music director J. Sande Morrison, has become the Capitan Music Boosters, supporting both the band and chorus.

For their diligent and untiring work the Capitan High School Music Boosters receive the sincere thanks of Capitan High School.

Mrs. C. A. Snow, Mrs. Anna Brazel and Mrs. Mathews attended a dinner given for Mrs. Brazel honoring her 82nd birthday. The dinner was given by her daughter, Mrs. Beula Hartley, at her home. Lorene, her youngest daughter, attended, too. Happy birthday, Mrs. Brazel. We hope you have many more happy, healthy ones.

was the late Tony Fernandez before he died Nov. 7. The difference in the new combine and the old one is that Montoya is up to his ears in state politics which Tony ignored with grand disdain.

ONLY CHALLENGER IS SEN. CHAVEZ

The other congressional partnership is that of Sen. Dennis Chavez and Rep. John J. Dempsey who are not in a very good position to challenge Clint and Joe for control of New Mexico Democrats. Chavez is commonly blamed for the debacle of last November when the first governor in a quarter of a century was denied a second term, Demo John F. Simms.

And Chavez, contrary to all his statements of support for Montoya in the special election for Congress, did not extend himself according to the record of election results.

Dempsey, once a powerful figure in New Mexico elections, has withdrawn and many are expecting the ageing representative to step aside next year.

NEED CANDIDATE AND CHAIRMAN

The Clint and Joe leadership of the Demos has as its No. 1 problem—the re-conquest of the governor's suite on the second story of the statehouse.

That isn't easy and the only champ so far suggested is Anderson himself. That is goofy.

the river that flows on wheels

More petroleum moves over Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year, these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

trading a seat in the U. S. Senate for the governorship of New Mexico, and would mark up a new high of sacrifice in the interest of the dear old party.

People trying to get Clint to do it recall the blumping defeat he handed Ed Mechem, the governor in the senatorial run of 1954.

TOURIST MAN BURSEY HAS INSIDE TRACK

First up on the agenda of re-making the Demo structure is the selection of a state chairman to replace Ernie Tucker of Roswell.

Tucker is in dispute with the Anderson-Montoya people. He was the leader in the great defeat of 1956; his county alone among the eastside Democratic group went Republican in the special election, and the most burning episode of all concerns that $25-a-plate dinner in Albuquerque which was advertised as a function to raise money for the Demo candidate for Congress, but which resulted in relief for Tucker who was behind in his $1,000 a-month salary and for other party obligations; Montoya did not get the $6,000 profit.

Talked about for the chairmanship are:

Joe Bursley of Santa Fe, the long-time director of the tourist bureau who is a sweet character but not very forceful;

Adair Gosselt of Carlsbad who operates under high steam but might not be able to devote enough time to the job;

Ralph Trigg of Albuquerque, Anderson's friend, who doesn't have much popular support, and several others.

A GREAT TRIUMPH FOR NATIVE GROUP

Last week's election was a great triumph for the Spanish-American element in New Mexico. A block of counties that were unanimously Republican in voting for president and governor five months before gave the Demo Montoya his victory.

Santa Fe and Rio Arriba alone overcame Bernalillo, the huge Republican area which had been expected to offset all the nine Spanish-American counties.

Santa Fe alone produced more than 2100 margin for Joe which was just slightly short of the 2400 margin he gained in the Demo stronghold of the six counties of the southeast—Lea, Chaves, Eddy, Roosevelt, Quay and Curry.

SOME COUNTIES OUT OF LINE

The big questions about the election were in Socorro, which is almost all Spanish-American where Montoya squeaked thru with only 31 lead. Observers were inclined to attribute it to the Republican leadership of Holm Bursum, mayor, who was one of the managers of Tom Bolack, Republican opponent of the Democrat.

And in San Miguel, another area of predominant Spanish-American population where the Montoya vote was way off expectation. That was attributed to a bunch of people trying for jobs in the big state mental hospital under the Republican administration.

The Demo loss of heavily Democratic Roswell was apparently the result of antagonism to Mayor Ernie Tucker, the state Demo chairman.

Las Cruces produced only a couple of hundred for the Demo, far below the predicted figure, and no one has explained it so far.

The Montoya slight lead in the heavily anglo counties of the east and south was attributed to the influence of Sen. Anderson.

FILO DISAPPOINTS DEMOCRATS

Sen. Dennis Chavez said that he was for the Montoya, the youngster who might challenge him next year, but the voting didn't indicate that he did very much. What seems to be the strongest remaining area of Chavez influence, McKinley county, voted against Montoya, and Valencia county which ordinarily votes overwhelmingly as dictated by Chavez-man Filo Sedillo came through with much less than Sedillo ordinarily produced.

A few days before the election Senator Chavez announced that Sedillo had quit his $14,000-a-year place with a Chavez senate committee and was returning to New Mexico to campaign for Montoya. That sounded great

Mrs. Shirley Goodloe was one of the hostesses at the tea given Tuesday of last week by the Ancho Ladies at the Presbyterian held in Corona.

Mrs. B. W. Wilson has returned from her visit in Los Angeles and Tujunga, Calif., and in Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wilson and Mrs. R. E. Risinger were T or C visitors Saturday. Mrs. Risinger and Mrs. Wilson attended the Rebekah mid-term meeting and Mr. Wilson visited his uncle, Dr. E. N. Wilson. They returned Sunday morning in order to be present for the christening of little Kenneth Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sweet Jr., at the Methodist Church in Carrizozo.

We are very fortunate to have new neighbors in the Jcarillas. Mr. and Mrs. Hank Means have bought the old Means' mining claims and will make this their new home. The children, Richard, Joey and Joyce are enjoying the freedom of the outdoors. Mr. and Mrs. Falls, parents of Mrs. Means, have been assisting her in the move.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Miller and son Jim made a business trip to Roswell, Monday and Tuesday. While there they were the guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Drake.

Mrs. Hughey of Claunch was a pleasant Ancho visitor Tuesday. She visited for a while with Mrs. Kille.

for the Demos but the Valencia results, 1800 to 2800, was not up to expectation. Sedillo had either lost his control or was not trying very hard, according to the observations of politicians.

Glenda Stoneman Attends FHA Meeting

Ancho's lovely Glenda Stoneman, a Junior in Carrizozo High School and Queen of the school carnival November of 1956, was one of four girls who accompanied Miss Abeyta, Home Ec teacher to Santa Fe last Friday for a meeting of the Future Home Makers of America.

Glenda reports a highly successful convention with 450 New Mexico girls in attendance. The meetings were interesting and instructive and each girl was inspired to higher ambitions and left with a great desire to be fortunate enough to again be chosen to attend the annual convention of the F.H.A.

They made their headquarters at the Pueblo Courts and were accorded the finest of entertainment.

The banquet, held at the Indian School, was one of the highlights, with several State dignitaries attending, among them Governor Mechem and his gracious first lady.

The picnic held at the Girl Scout Lodge in the mountains, was delightful with fun and good food.

There were several tours of the city and points of interest. They visited San Miguel Church, the oldest mission in the United States; the Palace of the Governors and the Museum. They found the State Capitol very interesting and the Cathedral very beautiful.

The Seaton Village held great attraction. Mr. Seaton, who died at the age of 26, was a fine artist and he was the world's most famous of all animal painters.

Glenda enjoyed the convention and learned much from it.

The Upper Colorado River Storage Project took another step toward reality last week with the opening of bids for Glen Canyon Dam. This is the largest dam planned in the system of works which eventually will provide irrigation water and electric power for the new empire that is building in the Upper Colorado Basin.

I was especially encouraged by the favorable bids received. The lowest, roughly $163 million, is about a third less than engineers estimated. If the dam can be completed for this figure, it will make it even more feasible than we expected. I feel that at last the dreams of those of us who brought about the passage of Public Law 453 are beginning to come true.

Maxine Lee Scranton of Roswell; Dorothy Jeanne Linder of Roy; Robert E. Peterson of Portales and Jerry Calvani of Carlsbad have been chosen to represent more than 7500 New Mexico 4-H club boys and girls at the 27th National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D. Named alternate conference delegates were Irene Abaskin of Albuquerque and Dwight Walker of Clayton.

News Notes From Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

"WORLD GIFT SHOW" TO BE AT BONITO CAFE

A World Gift Show, sponsored by Marjorie McIntyre, will be held at Arvel and Louise Runnels Cafe April 27, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited. Teenagers are invited to come along and dance. There's room for both parties. Refreshments will be served.

The Cleo Roes have the Light House Laundry in Ruidoso. It is located across the road from Billy McCarty's ice plant. They have complete laundry service. Cleo's sister, Betty Jo Abrego, from Covina, Calif., visited them three days last week.

Paul and Lois Mayer who spend the winter in Mesa, Ariz., will soon be back to their "Idle Moments" cabin on the creek. They'll be as welcome as the singing birds and blossoms.

Frank English Sr. and his son, Dr. Frank English Jr. and his family spent the week end on their farm on the Bonito.

Laura Lee Keith will be our princess at the Apple Blossom Festival at Hondo April 20. Laura Lee is not only very pretty, she is talented.

ALAMOGORDO ATTORNEY IN TOASTMASTERS' CONTEST

On May 4, George L. Zimmerman, Alamogordo attorney, will represent Area 4 of Toastmasters in the district speech contest at Albuquerque.

The former Carrizozo lawyer won the Area 4 speech contest as the representative of Alamogordo Toastmasters in the area contest held at Holloman Air Force Base last month and in which the finalists of 180 competitors met in speech competition. They were from El Paso, Silver City, Hurley, Las Cruces, Alamogordo and Holloman.

Elmo Traylor of Clayton and Dick Traylor of Lordsburg will leave this week for their annual fishing trip to Mexico. I know a lot of boys who would like to make that trip with Dick and Elmo.

Ross Coe made a motorcycle trip to Ruidoso Saturday, April 13, from Oro Grande where he is employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad. He planned to go to the White Sands that night where motorcycle clubs from several states were to spend the night in the sand dunes.

FORM "NO RUIDOSO" MOTORCYCLE CLUB

Cleo Roe and family, and Lloyd Coe and family from Ruidoso visited the Tommy Lally family Sunday. Cleo and Lloyd reported a motorcycle club has been formed in Ruidoso, named "No Ruidoso Motorcycle Club." It is chartered by the A.M.A. (American Motorcycle Association). They now have 13 charter members.

Plans for the first event will be a 105-mile endurance run between Ruidoso and Bonito. A definite date for the run hasn't been set because of too much snow on part of their run.

Nora and Earnest Blood from Alto, Bill and Thelma Williams, and friends from Amarillo, Tex., were Bonito visitors Sunday.

Alice Wright has been in Ruidoso several days with her daughter and family. Her granddaughter Linda was operated on for appendicitis in the Ruidoso Hospital. Linda is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bell were mighty pleasant folks to visit last week. They want to sell their place at San Patricio. They have been there a long time and want a smaller place where there isn't so much work for them.

Louise and Tom Babers went to Tucson to visit their son, Billy, for four days recently. Louise sold everything was beautiful, with blooming trees, and the weather was warm.

Bob Moore is having a grand opening for his service station in Ruidoso (next to the Navajo Lodge) April 20. They will have lollypops and balloons for little boys and girls, and hand lotion for the ladies. The Moores are landscaping in front of their Alpine Motel across the road from their station.

Janice Cooper who owns the Modern Beauty Shop in downtown Ruidoso is anxious for ladies to know that this year she has a reducing system. She invites you to come in and learn about it.

Si Simon from Mokins Lodge, Ruidoso, reports he caught his limit of fish four days in succession last week at Nogal Lake.

Charlotte Allen Zimmerman began her kindergarten classes on April 10, at the Florino Stockton's School.

On April 4, 5, 6, and 7 George L. Zimmerman, vice-president of the Sertoma Club of Alamogordo, represented that organization at the Rocky Mountain regional

Farm and Ranch

By RALPH DONLAP
County Extension Agent

A large number of growers are asking about a product that can be put in feed and eliminate sheep ticks as well as cattle lice. This product contains nicotine and sulphur and I am skeptical if it will accomplish the results that it is reported to have.

No systemic poison has been reported on the open market by any research project that I know of, although several are in the process of being examined.

Before buying any of the product, I would ask for the published results from an independent reliable research concern, such as an experiment station, showing that it is efficient in killing animal parasites.

COUNTY-WIDE SHEEP DEMONSTRATION JUNE 14

A county-wide sheep demonstration is planned for June 14, at the Joe Skeen ranch south of Pecos. Use of the wool "squeeze" machine will be the theme of the demonstration. At this time, growers will be shown the machine in actual use, and also hold discussions on the results from the use of it during shearing this spring.

FUTURE WEATHER WILL DETERMINE FRUIT CROP

The fruit prospects in the Hondo Valley still depend on what the weather ahead will be like. Although the freeze has killed the early blossoms, there still are enough late blossoms to provide a full crop if no more freezes come to hurt the fruit. Present indications are that the early fruit, such as peaches, apricots and plums are likely to be scarce, but all fruit will depend on the coming weeks of weather.

Wool Squeeze Machine Helping Sheep Men

After using the wool "squeeze" machine on several flocks throughout Lincoln County, I feel that it will be a great help towards helping the grower with a wool improvement program. It convention in Pueblo, Colo. He was delayed by snow in Walsenburg, Colo.

will serve as an excellent index to finding the better producing animals in any one herd.

From the few observations that I made, it seems that it will consider all factors that affect wool production better than has been done before. It seems to emphasize the fact that wool length alone will not give the most clean wool, but that large body size, and good density are also important.

Some of the best clean wool producing animals have been those with a large body and a fleece that is of uniform density.

Another thing that has been almost universally true of the herds tested is that some of the ewes in the best herds are much better comparatively than the best bucks in the same herds.

This has brought up the question to the growers "Where can I find a buck to compare with these ewes in wool production?" As time progresses, I feel this question will be one most hard to answer.

4-H CLUBS SELLING SAFETY REFLECTOR TAPE

The El Capitan and Hondo Valley 4-H clubs are selling reflector tape to put on cars as well as farm vehicles. This will not only help make the highways safer, but also help the boys and girls to earn a little money towards paying camp expenses. If you want to make your car safe, plan to buy a bumper strip from one of the 4-H members, and also help them at the same time.

April 25-May 4 is National Home Demonstration Week.

New Dances Presented At Hondo Fiesta

Students of the Hondo High School, under the capable direction of Mrs. Fernin S. Montes, are busily working on new dance routines to be presented at the Mexican Fiesta on April 27, at 8 p.m. at the Hondo gym.

Outstanding in the group of new dances, and one of Spanish origin, is la jota whose intricate steps are executed to the rhythmic clack of the castanets. From the provinces of Aragon, Catalonia and Valencia this dance will be done by twelve couples.

La cucaracha, cockroach, is sometimes done in Mexico by children who take as the theme of their song various things that they observe in life about them.

The State of Guerrero, Mexico, is the origin of a number called la Chilena-Guerrerense. The motif of the native, Indian pre-vals in this as the boys and girls carrying bandanas dance to the accompaniment of singing, the girls demurely holding their kerchiefs in front of their faces. They reveal them to their "novios" only when the tempo of the music changes.

The Paso Doble, a New Mexican two-step, which is still popular in parts of New Mexico, will be another feature of the repertoire of 13 dances to be given against a background of a typical flower garden of a Mexican hacienda or granja.
