Editor, News:

Could you put some information in the News to help hunters know where to hunt. They have been up here most every day, since this is in the Bonito, too. There's no designated lines where to begin on the Bonito-Hondo area for this special hunting. Hunters are disgusted when they lose time and don't know where to legally hunt—Louise Runnels.

(Game Conservationist Marion Embrey could not be contacted Wednesday for information on the boundaries, but the Big Game Hunting Proclamation, available from license vendors, should be helpful, as it defines roads outlining the legal hunting boundaries.)

A fire-extinguisher salesman was one of several hunters prosecuted over the week end for leaving campfires unattended in the Hondo-Bonito area. Failure to tag deer was another frequent violation that brought prosecutions.

Marion Embrey of the Department of Game and Fish reports that an estimated 500 to 600 hunters took out 200 deer over the week end, and there's "plenty room for more hunters."

By MRS. W. R. (Grace) McAFEE Fortalee, N. M.

I'm tired, I'm whipped, I'm worried to the bone, I can't lift the receiver to answer the phone, and all of this means I'm in a bad way.

If I lack energy to pass the time of day

And what's the matter? You well may ask.

Just what has been my horrendous task?

You see, it's November, late in the year, and my man is gonna go huntin' a deer.

I've aired the quilts and the smelly bedroll, The strength required has taken its toll;

The gun is cleaned and shined to perfection (He who never sees my silver collection)

His knife is sharpened — "aw rata," I mutter, Mine wouldn't cut the proverbial butter,

A list of groceries to me he'll tell There's goes the budget all shot to —

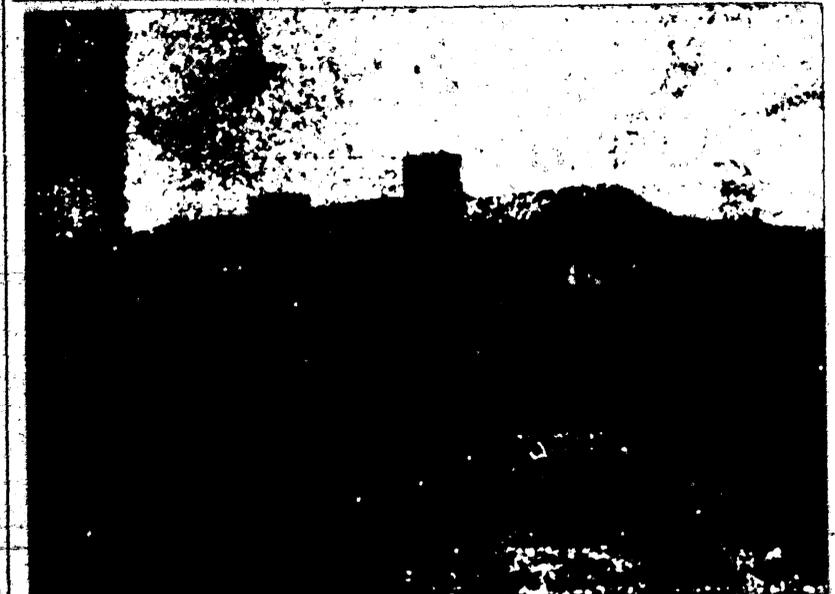

He's off at last. From the city he flees, The poor deer to hunt with a cannibal's glee;

I fall in my chair so thankful at last The season's opening has finally past.

Then home is the hunter, home from the hills, At $4.50 per pound the locker he fills;

But eatin' the stuff isn't the work, I fear It's the bull that's shot in re-shootin' the deer.

Anahem, Calif., "Bulletin": "Possibly the most terrifying news to come off the press wires in a decade is the advent of 'subliminal' commercials for TV and movies. This diabolical idea involves the use of a visual advertising message flashed on the screen with such split-second swiftness that the eye and mind do not record it, but the subconscious does. Thus, Mother, while sweeping over the floor, may all the time be building up an inner but inexorable urge to sink out and buy a flagon of Purple Passion perfume."

Corona Now Has Good Water Supply

Mayor G. C. Brown says Corona now has a good supply of water for the town. The third well has been completed, except for setting in the casing. The well was drilled by Bill Ferguson of Encho.

Brodie and Enix Construction Company have completed digging ditches for the water line, but as yet have not been able to get all the lines covered.

The rainy weather has delayed the job, and the muddy streets have caused lots of motorists to get their cars stuck in the mud. So much mud and wet weather in Corona has not been experienced for many years.

Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

(Recollections of early days in Texas and New Mexico, related by Mrs. Rose Sitton of Carrizozo, in an interview Nov. 3, 1957.)

By MRS. ROSE SITTON

My name is Rose Sitton. I was born December 14, 1878, in Circleville, Texas. My parents were John and Emma McGuire. My mother was a Eubank. She came to Texas from Kentucky in 1853, along with her father and two uncles and their families. The trip took three months. On the way two young men joined the party. One of them was John McGuire, who liked the company so much he never left and later married Emma Eubank.

The original family and their children took up homesteads around the San Gabriel river in Williamson county, about 25 miles northeast of Austin. The river bottom was filled with wild pecan and plum trees and wild grapes. One kind of grapes was called Mustang and were so strong they would take the skin off your mouth, but they were good for making grape jelly and pies. There was also a smaller grape we called winter grapes and you could eat them. There was plenty of timber to cut for wood.

The homesteads settled on by members of the family were in the form of a circle and that was how Circleville got its name. It had a store and a postoffice and a country doctor. That made up the town.

When I was five or six years old the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway built its line through Texas. The track crossed the San Gabriel river at Circleville. While the line was being built my brother and I would take eggs and sell them to the men who were working on the railroad. The day the first train came through we had a big picnic.

My father ran one of the first cotton gins in that part of the country. He died when I was 4 years old and my mother passed away when I was 9. I was the youngest of a family of eight children. My brother Joe and sister Mary, both unmarried at the time, kept up the home. Not long before my mother passed on and before we moved to Taylor, six miles away, I had started to school at a little one-room schoolhouse along the road and beside the river. The children carried water to the schoolroom from the river. The building was also used for Sunday school and for church services whenever a preacher came along. The schoolhouse had two doors, one on each side. On Sundays the women would go in one door and sit on benches on that side and the men would go in the other door and sit on the opposite side. The young folks, when they come, would sit on benches in the middle of the room.

I graduated from high school in Taylor in 1896. A girl friend and I became interested in art and we took lessons from an artist who had married a Taylor businessman. After graduation I studied art under her for a year and did several paintings that I still have. I can say that my interest in painting has enriched my life.

I was married September 20, 1898 to Alva P. Sitton. He had charge of the ice plant and was terworks in Taylor. We had been married only three months when my sister passed away, leaving a six weeks old baby, Florence Rose. We raised Mary, as we called her, along with our own child, Alva Jr., who was born October 9, 1901.

Meanwhile a sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ely Knight, had located in Tularosa. About 1901 they bought a little place with an orchard. He used to sell fruit in Cloudercroft and at Ft. Stanton. They bought a farm for us and we moved to Tularosa April 25, 1911. But the farm work was too strenuous for Mr. Sitton, whose health was not good. A family by the name of Jim Darboys had a homestead out on the flats. Mrs. Darboy told me one day that the engineer, Mr. Mattingly, at Fort Stanton was leaving and she thought Mr. Sitton could get the job. He went up there and was told he could have the job as soon as it was vacant. He went to Fort Stanton in March of 1912.

Mary and Al and I moved there as soon as school was out in Tularosa. My nephew Joe Knight took us in a wagon that was loaded to the hills. The first day we reached the summit of the Sacramento and camped for the night. Early the next morning we were on our way.

The mules were small and their burden was heavy, but we had no trouble until we reached the foot of Devil's Canyon. They simply could not make the grade. It was late in the afternoon and Alva Jr. walked to Ft. Stanton for help. As he went up the hill he had a narrow escape. A rattlesnake at the edge of the road struck at him. He had not seen the snake but it missed him by the margin of a step he had just taken forward.

Fort Stanton sent the ambulance and a pair of mules and they pulled the loaded wagon up the hill. It was dark when we got to Fort Stanton and I was very happy to get there.

Mr. Sitton was chief engineer at Fort Stanton until August, 1919, when his health again failed and he had to give up the work. We moved back to Tularosa.

(Next week Mrs. Sitton will tell how the first public school in Fort Stanton was established.)

One of the first rodeos held in America was that reported in the early 1840's by Captain Mayne Reid, an early western writer. He described a celebration in Santa Fe, New Mexico, after a roundup, in which the cowboys "contested" with each other for the best roping and throwing.

Another world dictator has died—peace to his ashes! Reference is made to France's Christian Dior, who for many years and to a great extent dictated women's fashions.

Those who have served in the U. S. Army are surprised to learn that it recently assigned an outstanding mathematical genius to the job of stenographer clerk—instead of making him third assistant cook and bottle washer.

Kennecott Reduces Labor Force at China

Hurley, N. M.—Layoff notices have been given to approximately 180 employees of the China Mines Division of Kennecott Copper Corporation in connection with the company's current program to reduce its cost of operation, W. H. Goodrich, general manager, states.

The reduction in force will have become effective in most instances by November 1, Goodrich said. He emphasized that the layoffs are only one part of our cost cutting campaign. We will make substantial savings in elimination of waste and in streamlining our methods for more efficient operation.

Goodrich said the layoffs were initiated after a study of jobs throughout the company's mine at Santa Rita and mill, smelter and power plant in Hurley and that the jobs which were eliminated were found not to be necessary.

"We have consulted with the unions representing these people," he added, "and have told them of our program. We are asking that the unions help us in our efforts to keep China in business."

"This cost reduction program," Goodrich said, "was initiated to enable the company to meet competition in the copper market. We must be able to sell our copper at the price the customer is willing to pay or go out of business."

CAPITAN

By MARGARET RENCH

We have seen the sun only a few times this last week. It has been misting rain, foggy and cold. Our ground and forest is damp and remains so. Hunters who are hunting on this special hunt are having a time. The deer are wise but quite a number of hunters have been successful.

On Halloween I enjoyed the visits of the many little children. Their costumes were varied and cute and I enjoyed them each one.

Ray Luck is home visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Luck. They were with him for a few weeks, returning last week. Ray killed a deer last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gaeton and sons spent last Saturday in El Paso shopping and at the dentist's office.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Black are in El Paso, visiting relatives and friends for a few days.

The Capitán Music Boosters will meet next Monday night, Nov. 11 in the Home Economics room at the high school.

Ed Hathaway of Tishomingo, Okla., came Monday and took his sister, Mrs. Adda Sellars, home with him. He and his wife hope to have her with them for a few months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Francis of Portales were business visitors here this past week. It is always so nice to see them.

Our postoffice is getting a new ceiling which will make it a more cheerful and pleasant place to work in.

Mrs. Louise Ferguson, who teaches school in Carrizozo, was home over this last week end.

Amy Botsford has been in Artesia for these last three weeks taking shots for a pollen allergy. She has been going to school there. She has been feeling much better and her parents hope to bring her home soon.

Capitan High School's Two New Teachers

An Interview By RALPH VANCE

Capitan High School boasts the addition of two new teachers to its teaching staff, Jack Hasler and Monte Jones.

Jack Hasler was born in Elmore, Ind., and completed both elementary and high school at the same place. He was an active member of the baseball, basketball and track teams and became interested in the field of physical education.

After graduation from high school he attended Texas Technological College for two and a half years and then enrolled in Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, where he earned his Bachelor and later his Master's degrees.

After obtaining the latter, Mr. Hasler joined the teaching staff at Floyd, N. M. Here he taught science as well as coaching basketball, track and baseball.

This year at Capitan he teaches biology, general science, and citizenship. Besides being assistant football coach he is head basketball coach and will assist in track.

Mr. Hasler has a wife, Rosa Marie, and one daughter Rosie Elaine, eight years old.

Monte Jones was born in Caucacy, N. M. He attended grade school at Tingo, N. M. While in high school he participated in numerous athletics: Football, basketball, boxing, track, wrestling and baseball.

After completing high school, Mr. Jones enrolled in Eastern New Mexico University where he received his degree in the field of education.

He began his teaching career this year at Capitan High. He teaches the eighth grade and is the seventh and eighth grade coach.

Mr. Jones and his wife, Linnie Lee, have a baby boy, Monte Lynn, six weeks old.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Hasler both like Capitan very much and Capitan is certainly pleased to have them and their families in the community.

Government Christmas Trees on Market

If you've ever spent time touring a Christmas tree lot, shaking out one tree after another, looking for just the right one, you may have an easier time of it this year. New standards for Christmas tree grades, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, went into effect November 1.

Use of the new standards is on a voluntary basis. If a dealer wants to get a particular quality in trees, he can order by grade.

There will be three grades—U. S. Premium, U. S. No. 1, and U. S. No. 2. The grades are based on such qualities as density, taper, balance, freshness and freedom from deformities. U. S. Premium is the tree most shoppers consider "perfect"—straight, symmetrical, well-filled branches, evenly tapered to the top, fresh, clean and healthy. U. S. No. 1 is almost as good, but more variations in shape are allowed. A U. S. No. 2 may have more sparse foliage and may be full on only two sides.

All trees carrying U. S. grades will be fresh. But a family who wants a tree to stand in a corner or against a wall where a flat or "thin" side won't show, may be able to buy a No. 2 grade tree for less.

The standards were developed by the Agricultural Marketing Service at the request of the National Christmas Tree Growers Association and several state associations. The Christmas tree industry last year handled nearly 30 million trees.

Shorn Wool Incentive Price Announced

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound of wool has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the 1958 marketing year beginning April 1, 1958. The 1958 price is the same as for the 1955, 1956, and 1957 marketing year programs.

Under the National Wool Act of 1954, the wool incentive payment program is authorized to run four years, from 1955-56 marketing year through the 1958-59 marketing year which ends March 31, 1959.

The incentive price is established under the National Wool Act of 1954, which directs the Secretary of Agriculture to take into consideration prices paid and other cost conditions affecting sheep production in determining a support price that will encourage an annual production of 300 million pounds of shorn wool.

Conservation Reserve Offers More Aids

Recent changes in the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve offer some extra advantages to landowners who sign contracts under the program for 1958.

Any farmer or landowner who has acreage that could be planted to shrubs and trees would be wise to check with his local ASC committee to find how these changes might affect him. Sign-ups under Conservation Reserve contracts are beginning this month and will continue through April 15.

One change of interest to many landowners is more flexibility in the length of the contracts. Previously all tree and shrub plantings were under 10-year contracts only. Now, at the option of the producer, 5-year and 10-year contracts are avail-

"Great Plains" Plan Provides for Water and Soil Conservation

Long-term help is now available to farmers and ranchers in Lincoln County for soil and water conservation plans which will protect their land from erosion and other climatic hazards.

This help is provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the Great Plains Conservation Program authorized by Congress last year. The county extension office can give information about the program, but administrative details will be handled by the Soil Conservation Service. Local SCS offices will pass upon applications for help and will provide technical advice and assistance to farmers and ranchers who wish to take advantage of the program.

The Great Plains Conservation Program provides for financial aid in establishing practices under an approved conservation plan. The plan must be carried out over a period ranging from 3 to 10 years.

To apply for cost-sharing aid under the Great Plains Conservation Program, a farm or ranch operator must have a definite plan, including needed measures for protecting his soil or conserving available moisture. In drawing up such a plan, he can obtain help from his county agent or from the Soil Conservation Service. Payments will be made when the plan, or some identifiable part of it, is carried out.

The Great Plains Conservation Program is part of a total program for this area developed by the Department of Agriculture and the Great Plains Agricultural Council. It applies only in counties designated by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The Great Plains Conservation Program supplements other cost-sharing and credit programs such as the Agricultural Conservation Program which has been available for some years on an annual basis through local ASC committees. A contract under this new program will not cancel or alter any other agreements already made.

'58 Wool and Lamb Promotion Financing

The wool and lamb producers' self-help promotion program under the National Wool Act will be financed by deduction from the 1957 program payments on the same basis as from the 1955 and 1956 program payments, according to J. B. Stauder, extension wool marketing specialist at New Mexico A&M College.

Funds for advertising, promotional, and related market development activities on wool and lambs will be obtained through deductions from 1957 wool payments made to producers in the summer of 1958. Deduction rates will be 1 cent per pound from shorn wool payments, and five cents per 100 pounds of live weight from unshorn lamb payments. These rates are the same as those made from the payments received by producers this year under the 1956 program.

Stauder says the promotion program is implemented by agreement between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., providing for advertising, promotion and related market development activities under Section 706 of the National Wool Act of 1954. By a majority referendum vote in 1955, producers favored the agreement.

Farm Real Estate Prices Continue To Climb

Farm land values in New Mexico rose 1% during the year ending July 1, 1957, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's quarterly report on current developments in the farm real estate market.

Nationally the dollar value of farm real estate continued its long term upward trend during the year reported, bringing farm values to an all-time high. Across the nation, farm values rose 8%, with the largest increases in the eastern two-thirds of the country. In only one state—New Mexico—values increased by less than 2%.

Generally favorable crop prospects in mid-1957 and continuing pressure to enlarge existing farms were considered dominant agricultural forces in strengthening farm values. Other important factors cited by the report were continued high level of business activity, a slowly rising general price level, and need for space for an expanding economy.

Increases in value were smallest in those states most severely affected by drought during 1956. In these states increases ranged from 1 to 4%. Sharpest increases occurred in Florida with 17%, followed by New Jersey with 12%, and Delaware and Rhode Island with an 11% increase each.

'Tween Us Teens

By MARY (Ginger) NICKELS

Here we are after Halloween. I guess we all survived the ordeal. There were some of the most interesting costumes you ever saw! One little kid came to our house sporting a suit of long underwear! What next?

I hope you watched the Ed Sullivan show last Sunday. If you didn't you missed Jimmy Rodgers. He sang "Honeycomb" and "Lips Sweeter Than Wine." They were both really good!

Golly, I guess all we've been reading about these days is Mutnik and these mysterious lights that stop cars! We know what Mutnik is, but what are the lights? They're getting close so I hope we find out pretty soon! I think that Russia ought to be proud of Mutnik because it represents a real advance in science! I do hope that we get ahead of them. (Natch!) Are they going to put apes in their satellites next?

(Speaking of animals, did you see the octopus and his girlfriend walking down the street hand in hand, hand in hand, hand in hand?) I wonder what it will feel like to set foot on the moon! It would be pretty novel to be the first one up there! We're going to have some trouble though, if more of our teens don't become scientists and mathematicians! Come on kids, let's beat those Russians! See you later, alligator.

PONTIAC'S PERENNIAL FAVORITE is this big, luxurious and exquisitely styled Star Chief four-door Catalina designed to make the heart of every motorist beat faster. Solidly built on a 124-inch wheelbase, the Star Chief Catalina is synonymous with big car styling and comfort, and is available in four models; two and four-door Catalinas, a four-door, slim pillar sedan and a four-door Custom Safari station wagon. Among the fine features of this series is the big "Tempest 395" V-8 engine and "prestige" interior of glamorous leather and fabric.

City Garage to Show '58 Pontiac

Sixteen all-new models in four series—headed by a "dream car" series of two family sports-type cars—are presented by Pontiac in 1958, General Motors' Jubilee year.

A new body, new chassis, new of these countries.

This is a great day to be a Christian. Our faith has never confronted greater dangers or greater opportunities.

The joint meeting of the WSCS will be 7 p.m. in the afternoon on Wednesday the 13th.

Our district conference will be at Christ Methodist Church in Albuquerque the 14th and 15th.

"Tempest 395" V-8 engine, new optional equipment and a new Bonneville series of family size "dream cars" mark what the division calls "the boldest advance in 50 years."

"These bold new cars are both a tribute to GM's Golden Jubilee and our own 50th anniversary," S. E. Knudsen, GM vice-president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said in announcing the new cars.

"Fifty years ago America's pioneer motorists welcomed the new Oakland, predecessor car to Pontiac. But outside of having wheels, engine and a body of sorts, the 1908 Oakland bore no resemblance to the sleek 1958 Pontiacs we will present in our dealers' showrooms November 9.

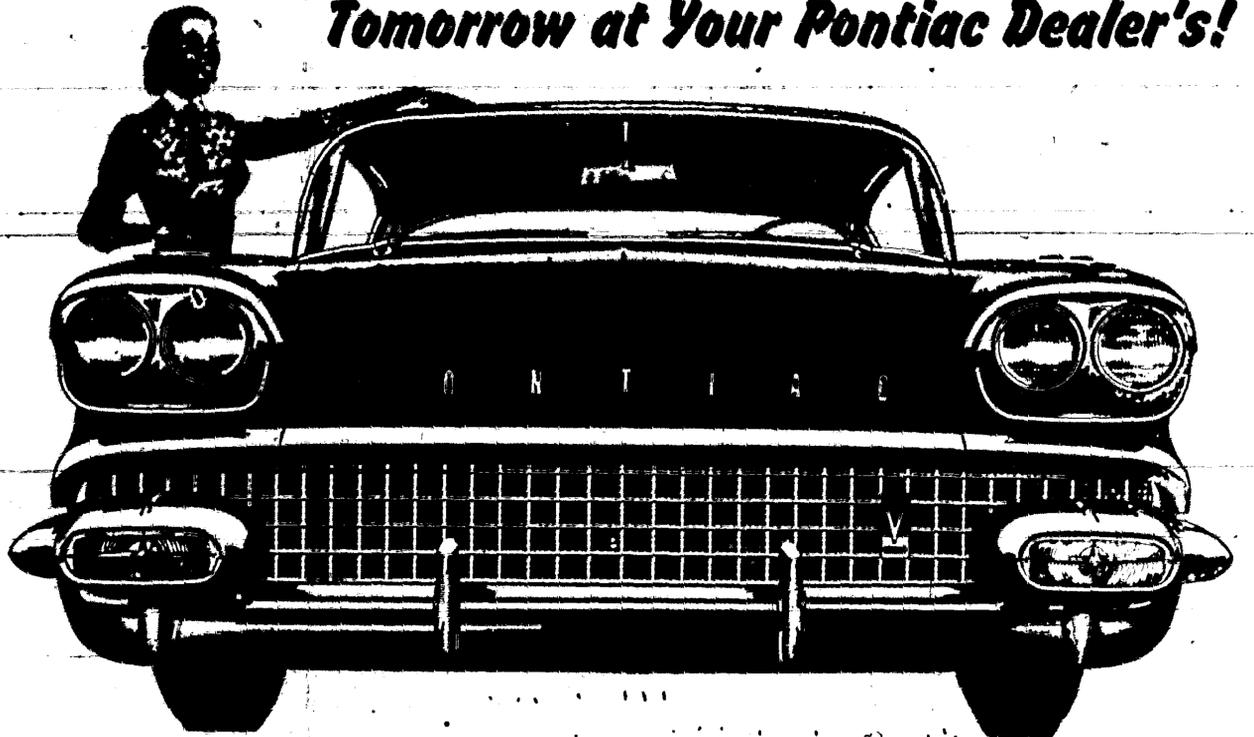

These cars are lower, longer, wider and combine high performance and comfort with high style and luxurious interiors," Knudsen said.

In addition to the top-of-the-line Bonneville convertible and sport coupe, Pontiac offers other new innovations for '58. Among them are a convertible in the lowest priced Chieftain line, air ride suspension as an option on all models, along with improved fuel injection, introduced by Pontiac last year.

The new "Tempest 395" V-8 engine is bigger than ever, with displacement increased from 347 to 370 cubic inches, and designed to deliver power where most needed—in the traffic range.

To Graduate from Highlands in December

Tom Taloya, son of Mr. and Mrs. Procopio Taloya of Corona will complete his practice teaching in Business Education at Robertson High School, Las Vegas, N. M., in December. Upon completing his practice teaching he will receive his B.A. degree from New Mexico Highlands University.

While at Highlands Tom has been very active in extra-curricular activities. He was student body vice-president in 1956-57, member of Kappa Sigma Kappa national fraternity, manager of the Student Union, manager of the Duplicating office, member of the Newman Club, member of the Circle "K" Club, counselor at Mortimer Hall, senior Class Student Senate Representative, member of the Highlands disciplinary board, and at the present time is in charge of Ford Hall.

Upon completing his B.A. degree at Highlands University this December, Tom plans to work on his master's degree at the University of New Mexico.

The Corona school annual carnival was held last Saturday night. The school wishes to thank each and all who helped in making the carnival a success. The net profit was $377.73. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keelin were here from Alamogordo this past week shipping cases of their own. They own a Special Machine of Corona.

Estimate 600 Hunters Killed 200 Deer in Special Hunt

It was estimated that there were approximately 600 hunters in the Corona area, with around 200 getting their deer, during the special deer hunt Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1-2. Foggy and damp weather prevented much hunting the last day of the season.

Regular deer season will be November 9-18. There will be a hunters' dance at the Corona gymnasium Saturday, Nov. 9.

Farewell Party for I. H. Burgess Family

I. H. Burgess, former teacher and principal of Corona High School, is retiring and moving to Las Cruces.

A farewell party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Burgess by the Corona school faculty and friends at the school recreation room at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Gifts were presented by the faculty members, the Corona Baptist Church, Student Council and Presbyterian Fellowship.

Refreshments of cake, punch and coffee were served. The Burgesses have been in Corona since 1945. They have sold their property, and their home here. They will be greatly missed by their many friends, who regret losing such fine citizens from our community. They have helped much in making Corona the town it is today. We hope they will be happy in their new home.

Mrs. Williamson, mother of Mrs. Bill Lytle, returned from the hospital at Carrizozo Monday, and is improving.

Mrs. Marlene Dayton of Rodeo, N. M., is the new second truck operator at the Southern Pacific Depot in Corona. She has three sons and one daughter. Her oldest son, Lewis, is attending A&M at Las Cruces, Phillip is a junior, Sharron a sophomore and Mitchell is in the fourth grade in the Corona school.

Maurice Weeks is back as third truck operator at the Southern Pacific depot in Corona. He was here a few years ago.

The Mathis Tobacco Station in Corona has a new man in charge. He is Nully Amaya of El Paso. Robert Rivers who formerly had the station is working for Adams Construction Co.
