WOLF BAIT

A. N. Runnels of New Bonito City and John Greer paid an old-time trapper, who caught wolves in Mexico and collected the bounty in the United States. The last ingredient was used in the smallest quantity.

The four ingredients were anise oil, fish oil, sweet anise and asafoetida, Runnels said.

Put a drop or two of this bait on a piece of rabbit, an old piece of hide or even a stick, and you, as good as had a wolf in a trap, provided one came near enough to get a sniff, Runnels said.

The bait seemed to make the unusually wary wolf sniff curiously, Runnels said. He added that it was the only bait that he and Greer could trap a timber wolf with. Bobcats and raccoons were just as strongly attracted by the bait.

Runnels, a retired Southern Pacific railroader, who began working for the railroad in 1909, has lived on Bonito Creek for many years. Before the building of Bonito Dam in 1930, he said the high-pitched howling of the timber wolves at night in the forest around his home, some eight miles below the dam, was a common sound.

BEAR TRAP UP A TREE

Some 35 years ago A. N. Runnels lashed a 25-pound bear trap to a tree limb, a rancher on Bonito Creek. Black and brown bear were forested mountains, and ranchmen and other residents hunted and trapped the animals.

Robinson, who now lives in eastern New Mexico, set the trap beneath a tree along the north fork of the Bonito and tied a small sack of apples to a limb. On the second night that the trap was ready a bear stepped into it while reaching for the apples.

There was a foiled drag on the trap. The bear, instead of pulling the trap and drag on the ground in an attempt to get free, climbed a big quaking aspen.

The trap chain got wrapped around the tree as the bear climbed and the foiled drag caught in a crotch. The bear found himself hanging down and the animal's weight tore his foot loose from the trap. A three-footed bear must have leaped the Bonito country after that, but, so far as Runnels knows, no one ever saw the bear.

THE MAN ON THE MOUSE-COLORED HORSE

Mr. Shaley of Tularosa was a familiar figure in the Bonito country in Lincoln County in the late 1800's and shortly after the turn of the century. He rode a mouse-colored horse, known as a grayer, and carried a little quirt in his right hand. It was said he was the only man who could ride the horse without trouble.

The old man, who lived in a little adobe house in Tularosa, was a sort of traveling evangelist, and he attended all camp meetings within riding distance. He was always welcome in homes along Bonito Creek. When he was staying with family, he said grace at meals, read the Bible, and held prayer at night.

The old man was respected by old and young. "Tom Skinner at Nogal said, 'I remember seeing you pass my place on the Bonito on the 10th of a blue. You are

Mr. Shaley visited the Skinner home once or twice a month. At one time he induced the Skinner, Reed, Vest and O. F. Humphrey families to attend a camp meeting in Tularosa. The families traveled by wagon. They were three days on the road, covering from 15 to 50 miles a day.

The families stayed about a week at the camp meeting in Tularosa, which was then just a Spanish-American town. There were many small grape vineyards in and around the village. The vineyards and houses were fenced with black and white stock. Some vineyards of an acre or more were fenced with white.

Yeso Rancher in Legislative Race

(As a public service the News opens its columns for the opening announcement of all applicants for political office. Following is the statement of qualifications by J. Lewis Merritt of Yeso.—Ed.)

J. Lewis Merritt, who has announced his candidacy for State Representative, subject to the Democratic primary, has been a resident of New Mexico since November, 1911. At that time he purchased the old Red Bluff ranch and has been in the ranching business at Yeso ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt and two sons and daughter came to Lincoln County from Chaves county and before that they lived in Otero county.

Mr. Merritt became interested in ministerial work in 1936 while living at Pinon. He helped establish the Church of Christ at Weed and at the present time is minister of the Church of Christ at Vaughn.

He is a vice-president of the New Mexico Wool Growers Association, Inc. and first vice-president of the New Mexico Association of Soil Conservation districts, being re-elected to a second term in January.

He is also president of Central New Mexico Electric Cooperative, which serves 11 counties in the state, including portions of Lincoln County. Mr. Merritt is chairman of the board of supervisors of the Mado Soil Conservation District, which serves the eastern part of Lincoln county and the northern half of Chaves county. He is also president of the New Mexico Farm and Ranch Safety Council, formed last August by various farm organizations in the state. His election as president was in January of this year.

Until recently Mr. Merritt was precinct chairman for 12 years for the Democratic party at Lon. This precinct has been consolidated with Corona.

"The only promise I can make," Mr. Merritt says, "is that I will work to the best of my ability each day to serve the people of Lincoln County. I feel that my record in the ranching business is proof that I am qualified to make a businesslike approach to our problems."

Manual Chavez, district court clerk, is a patient in Carrizozo hospital this week.

any Santa Fe, Feb. 19—Bigger than any rate deal that the utilities ever hoisted on the sup citizens is the proposition hustled thru, the recent legislature to spend some $9 million of public money to relocate utility lines on public roads.

The utilities had their lines and poles on the public road right-of-way as semi-trespassers in the first place. They had been allowed to use the right-of-way without cost under signed agreements to get off on thirty days' notice.

When it came time to get off to make room for the new, wider roads they rushed to the legislature and just like that got a law passed requiring the public to pay the $9 million moving cost.

Supreme Court STUDIES VALIDITY

The legality of the thing is presently in the supreme court. The morality and the rationality of the thing have outraged a few who have gone to the trouble of examining the deal. And there's wonderment all around about what kind of persuasion guided the measure through the legislature with only nine of 98 members casting dissenting votes.

Some legislators shrug off criticism of the law with the explanation that most all of the money involved is federal dough. ("That 'federal' stuff is the two cents a gallon federal tax that local says pay every time they buy gasoline.")

The money for moving the telephone, poles and pipelines, one intelligent legislator explained, is from funds that the state must spend to qualify for further appropriations. That's correct and every million spent moving telephone poles and pipelines is a million less for roads.

LEGISLATORS TAKE RATES AUTHORITY

The major argument of the utilities contended that rate increases would follow if they had to pay for moving their lines, and second that it wasn't right to put the cost of moving off the roads on the users of telephones, electricity and gas when it should be met by the road users.

The legislators swallowed that stuff.

They forgot, maybe, that the state is spending more than $300,000 a year for utility rate regulation and that there are legally armed bodies to determine if rate increases are justified.

There's a good possibility that the utilities could pay their own moving expenses and justify no rate change. There is evidence all around that we're paying too much for most all utility service at present in comparison with rates charged elsewhere.

And it is kind of fogging the issue to try to separate the road users from the utility users. There's all the same saps.

ONLY 3 OF 98 VOTED AGAINST

The $9 million gift of public money to the utility coupon clipper bill through the senate with only six of the 92 members voting against it. They were Sens. Harold Agnew, Los Alamos; Tibo Chavez, Belen; Fim Carr, De Baca; Gene Lusk, Carlsbad; Charlie Royall, Silver City and the late Albert Wallace of Harding.

In the house only three voted against the utilities—Reps. Morgan Nelson of Chaves; Clarence Rothgeb of Albuquerque; and Boucher of Belen.

There were seven who just happened to be out when the roll was called in the bill. Somewhere else were Reps. John Burroughs of Postales, the one who is running for Demo nomination for governor; wonder what he would say if asked now how he would have voted had he been present; Tom Bolack of Farmington, an ambitious Republican figure whose absence from his desk relieved him of getting on record on the subject; Jack Campbell of Roswell and Anderson Carter of Postales, a couple of the leading figures in the chamber; Arthur Beech of Albuquerque; and Jack Malone of Dona Ana.

Since we have so many friends now we enjoy reading your paper and feel we still are members of your community.

Our home is open to everyone and anytime that we can be of service look us up and we shall consider it an honor to help.

Editor, News:
The New Mexico March of Dimes has once again enjoyed the generosity of the people of New Mexico in a very successful 1958 fund drive.

A great part of that success is due to the support given the March of Dimes by the Lincoln County News. Without your telling the story behind our appeal that "Survival is Not Enough" and the continuing need for funds for the rehabilitation of the polio stricken, many lives would be less bright today.

On behalf of the thousands for whom the vaccine came too late allow me to express our sincerest thanks.—Morry Yashvin, State Chairman, 1958 March of Dimes.

Editor, News:
I wish to thank my friends for the nice complimentary things they've said by letter and in person, regarding my recent saga of my first fifty years or so in New Mexico, which was published in this paper. Also for their compliments regarding my poor efforts at writing up the Captain news for the Reddoso paper. A great big and sincere thank you.—Ethel Keathley, Box 22, Captain, N. M.

THE CLOVERDALE PICNIC

Cloverdale is a far-away place. It is virtually a "sea of grass," little disturbed by the plow, the kind of country where cattlemen established their "kingdoms" a century ago. The range lands reach toward the Animas Mountains on the east, the Peloncos on the north, the Coronado National Forest on the west and Mexico on the south.

Off this beaten path in southwestern Hidalgo county, the ranch people live close to the earth. And in this far-away, picturesque and beautiful country, the Cloverdale picnic is held August. It is one of the last genuine ranch-country picnics in the Southwest.

After the boys came home from World War I, Cloverdale people put on their best bibs and tuckers and gave them a picnic in August 1919. That was the beginning of the annual Cloverdale picnics, said Mrs. Eva Pendleton Henderson of Lordsburg, who ranches for years in the Cloverdale country and still attends the picnics.

Occasional picnics had been held, but the one in 1919, called the Victory picnic in honor of the Cloverdale country veterans, established it as an annual event. It is now sponsored by the Coronado Legion Post at Animas.

The picnics are always held in August after the rains have come and the beaves have grown fat. When there was a post office at Cloverdale, people would have a get-together meeting as they came for their mail, and news of the picnic date would be spread by word of mouth around the countryside. Beaves for barbecuing were donated by ranchers and the Diamond A, the more common name for the Victoria Land and Cattle Company. Others gave money to buy bread, pickles, onions. Whoever might be going to Douglas, Ariz., was given the money to buy the food. It was a four-day round trip by horse and wagon. In later years, the money remaining from the food fund was left in trust with Felix Gauthier, Animas storekeeper, to be applied on supplies for the next year's picnic.

Ranchers in the Cloverdale country, who have helped carry on the picnic for years, are Mrs. Marguerite Sanford Robertson, Al Fields, Henry Eichs, George Ed Pendleton, and the men of the Diamond A outfit.

People came—and still come—many miles to the picnics, from New Mexico and Arizona, from west Texas, even as far away as California. The number at the picnics has seldom been below 500 and has been as high as 700. The picnic site, on the edge of the Coronado National Forest, often is referred to as Mescal Flat.

Men barbecued the beaves in a pit on a gentle slope. The cowboys set up three-foot-wide board tables, and men, women and children stood up around them to eat lunch, supper and breakfast.

In 1919 the picnic was enlivened by horse races and bronc riding, but these events have been discontinued.

In later years, the women sat under trees and played bridge and visited. Women contributed 10 cents each, and with this money prizes for the bridge winners were bought.

Before the dancing began at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the women changed into fresh dresses behind bushes or trees or at a nearby neighbor's home.

Men and women danced until sundown on a platform with 1 x 12 board seats around it. Elmer Turner and Bill Hughes furnished the music for many of the dances in the early days. Jess Hill added for polkas and waltzes and two steps, and many quadrilles, called B-flats or square dances. At sundown, people had a big supper and then went back to dancing.

Many of the old-time dances still are seen on the platform, but the modern ones predominate and rock 'n' roll even has a place. Jess Hill no longer fiddles; an orchestra from Douglas has taken his place. The dances cost $1 in the earlier days; now they're $2.

During the dance you might see a cowboy reach down under a bush and bring out a bottle of mescal, wonderful medicine for snake bite, and also handy to slake the thirst if the water supply, first hauled in barrels and now in tanks, ran out. Probably the mescal added a few higher notes of hilarity to the picnic, but the dances never were drunken affairs, Mrs. Henderson said.

The dancing continued until daylight. Most of the people stayed overnight. Some of the oldest ones and the children slept in bedrolls or went to the cabins of chivalrous ranchers. Some

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Peebles returned from T. or C. last Tuesday having been away about three weeks.

The Alan Johnsons of Carrizozo spent the day Thursday with the George Dingwalls.

Mrs. John Casey and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Casey of Roswell were visiting the George Creel family last week end.

Mrs. J. H. Adkison, W. H. Adkison and Mrs. L. P. Coasitt of El Paso were here last Tuesday to attend the funeral services at Angus for Mrs. Floy Skinner. They came by and spent the night at their Little Creek ranch, returning home on Wednesday.

The Wayne Hamiltons of Carrizozo were up on Sunday to see the F. B. Lindamoods.

Some Attitudes Make For Unsafe Driving

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association, and is elaborated in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets. If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel.

Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong; some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up—to become mature.

Sleepiness. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drink coffee or Coke to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets, etc., may dull reflexes or impair co-ordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effect of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision, certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age—and, of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

Those who had slept were up at dawn and breakfasted with the all-night dancers on roasted beef heads, bread and coffee before leaving for home.

"My, my, I'm sick of 'lazy shuffle' of it, I've had my fill. Gimme me an old-time breakdown—music by Windy Bill. These old times I never shall forget. And that wallin', frisky fiddle, I think I hear it yet. Salute the lovely critters, swing and let 'em go. Climb the grapevine around 'em, All hands do si do."

Southern Pacific's Net Earnings Up In 1957

Southern Pacific weathered 1957's national-wide business decline and continued rising costs with a net income above that of 1956.

Diversity of operations and the large capital improvement programs of recent years made possible this showing, explained Donald J. Russell, president of the railroad, in announcing SP's 1947 earnings recently.

Net income for the SP transportation system and its wholly-controlled affiliates amounted to $54,507,086, or $6.02 a share, in 1957. This compares with $54,304,275 and $6.01 per share in 1956.

"But our earnings are still too inadequate, and the regulatory coats under which we operate too out-dated," Russell declared, "for us to make all the improvements we need, or diversify as much as we should. Our railroad plant is not earning what it should."

As part of SP's efforts to examine every detail of service and adjust to changing transportation trends, the railroad continues to make substantial savings in 1957—"but not enough," said Russell, in trimming passenger service deserted by the public, and in closing small stations, built a few miles apart during the 19th Century, but unnecessary now in the day of the automobile and telephone.

"Local groups frequently oppose these attempts to modernize our operations, and necessary approvals of state regulatory commissions are often difficult to obtain," the SP president declared, "but it is unrealistic to keep running empty trains which serve no public need."

Heritage of State Reflected in Song

By MARIE ALICE ASKEY
(In New Mexico School Review)

The life of Elizabeth Garrett, the composer of the state song of New Mexico, "O Fair New Mexico," truly reflects the heritage of our state. She was the daughter of Pat Garrett, a famous pioneer peace officer of the old Southwest.

Elizabeth was born at Eagle Creek, in the White Mountain Ranch home near Ruidoso. She was one of eight children, living in an atmosphere of Spanish culture, created by her gracious mother, Apolinaria Gutierrez, who was fondly called "Madracita" by the Garrett children.

At an early age, Elizabeth lost her sight, and her father was determined that she should not be afraid of the darkness into which she was plunged. Mr. Garrett was a patient, gentle, considerate man with his little daughter, never too busy to explain in great detail the answers to her many questions. He taught all his children to ride and often took them and the child, Elizabeth, with him on long trips.

When Elizabeth was six, her father entered her in the Texas State School for the Blind at Austin, Texas. Here her formal musical education began. As a small child, she had shown great musical ability and was encouraged in her music by her mother. From the school in Austin, Elizabeth graduated with honors and was given a musical scholarship. She continued her musical education in Chicago and in New York, where she studied with the best music teachers. She was an outstanding student in the Herbert Witherspoon Studio, studying organ, piano and voice.

While in New York, she visited with Helen Keller and her teacher, Anne Sullivan. A warm friendship between the two women continued throughout Elizabeth's life and many letters were exchanged.

When Miss Garrett had finished her studies, she went on a concert tour, singing many of her own compositions in the recitals. She had a rich dramatic soprano voice and was an accomplished pianist. One of her earliest compositions was "O Fair New Mexico," written in 1914, in Santa Fe, and sung by her on all her concerts. The Ontario, Canada, P.T.A. was so struck by the beauty of the song that they asked for permission to use the tune, substituting the words, "O Fair Ontario."

The legislature of New Mexico adopted the song as the official state song in 1916, but Miss Garrett did not receive any money for the right to use the song until 1937. An annuity for all rights was given her at this time. As she later explained, she had written the song, inspired by the love of the state of New Mexico, not for the money she would receive.

After touring the country, Miss Garrett came to Roswell to settle. Her home was full of bright rich colors and she was always surrounded by bright flowers. The words of her songs are full of descriptive adjectives. She always felt that she could see.

In Roswell, Miss Garrett, belonged to many organizations and was active in the Business and Professional Women's Club. On the night of October 16, as she was coming home from a meeting of the Humane Society, she had an accident from which she did not recover. Miss Garrett was buried in Roswell, October 17, 1947.

Those who know and enjoy our state song will not forget Miss Garrett, however. She has been rightly called "New Mexico's First Lady of Song."

Reimbursed expenses, etc., for 1957 as they have in the past," according to a statement by Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of Internal Revenue. "All Internal Revenue district offices are being so informed."

"This action is taken because the decision to include a new line in the 1957 income tax return Form 1040 was not made public until ten months of the tax year had passed, and hence had a retroactive effect. Taxpayers have emphasized to the Service that most employees who receive reimbursements for expenses file bills and receipts with their employers and do not retain copies. To attempt now to secure data would place too great a burden on many taxpayers.

"This decision does not change the long-standing rules which the Revenue Service has been following with respect to substantiation of deductions when a taxpayer's return is audited.

"For the year 1958, all individual taxpayers who incur expenses in connection with their employment should keep adequate records of their expenditures and reimbursements so that for 1959 and later years they will be in a position to supply adequate current information from their own personal records."

In the singles A. F. Struve placed eighth, McEuen eleventh, Jim Payne sixteenth and Garland Alyis twentieth.

Cowden bowled next to the highest in singles score, 230, just one under the top 231.

In the high series, with no handicap, Cowden rolled 642. In all events, Cowden ended up third and Payne fourteenth.

Grizzlies Divide Week End Games

Carrizozo split the week end games with Cloudercroft and Hondo beating a cold Cloudercroft squad 58 to 45, but were caught sleeping by Hondo, 68 to 50.

The B squad won both games taking the Cloudercroft Bees 39-23 with everyone playing. Saturday night the Hondo Bees put the pressure on the Grizzlies Bees before losing 60-51.

Friday night at Cloudercroft the Grizzlies made 80% of their shots the first quarter to pull out 17-4 from the cold Cloudercroft five, who are seeded in their district, and almost duplicated the performance the second quarter making the half time score 34-11.

The Cloudercroft squad came roaring back the second half to outscore the Grizzlies in the third quarter 19-13 and final quarter 15-11.

The Grizzlies played the best ball game of the season, and hit the highest percent of shots from the floor until the fourth quarter when they started missing free shots. They missed 6 in the first 3 quarters.

The scoring on the Grizzly team was all about even like it should be when playing together, with Agullar and Saucedo making 12 each, followed closely by Firman and Herrera with 11 and 2 points each and Petty and Beltran making 8 and 6.

High for Cloudercroft and the night was Navarro with 15, followed by Cox and Flores with 12 and 10.

Hondo Wins Out After Fast Start

Saturday night at Hondo, the Eagles took Zozo 68-50 and had command at the first of the game and continued so throughout the entire game.

The Grizzlies got off to a stumbling start and could never quite get settled down. The pressing defense kept the Zozo five off balance and the outcome was due to hurried shots and poor passes, as one fan put it. The Grizzlies seemed to run when they should have slowed down and were standing when they should have been running, shot when they should pass and passed when they had open shots. And that seems to give a good picture of the game.

The Hondo squad got out in front the first quarter with Trujillo and Gomez netting 6 points each and followed by Montes with 4 and Maez with 2 for 18 points. The Grizzlies were held to 3 baskets by Laabs, Firman and Petty and a free shot by Saucedo making 7 points.

The second quarter the Grizzlies tightened the defense and the Eagles made only 13, with Pineda getting 6. The Grizzlies were still outscored, being held to 10 points.

The third quarter started out as if the Zozo cagers would close the gap, then Maez started to hit and poured in 5 baskets and the whole Eagle team got into the scoring column making 24 points, while the Zozo squad made 16 by the shooting of Agullar with 6, Beltran with 4 and single baskets by Saucedo, Herrera and Firman.

The start of the last quarter saw Hondo with a 55-33 lead and the best the Grizzlies could do was to cut that down four points by the end of the game after numerous substitutions by the Hondo bench. The Eagles made one basket the final quarter and 11 free shots while the Zozo team had 4 baskets and 3 free shots. There were 46 fouls called in the game with Hondo making 22 points via the foul line and Zozo 18.

This week end will find N.M.M.L. here at 2 p.m. for a single game Friday, and Tulareon Saturday with both A and B teams.

member of the squad got to play in the game and 8 men got into the scoring column, against the younger Cloudercroft team.

The Cloudercroft Bees only made 7 baskets from the floor and nine free shots to get their 23 points. Fuller was high for his team and the night with 10 points.

The Zozo Bees were moved around to get every one in but managed to get 17 field goals while making 5 out of 11 charity tosses. Fred Vega was high with 9 points followed by Gallegos and Shrum with 8 and 7 points respectively.

Saturday night the Zozo bees were pushed all the way by the Hondo Bees, and their inability to hit free shots, before overcoming the Hondo team 60-51.

The Zozo squad made 23 field goals to Hondo's 11 but made only 14 of 30 free shots while Hondo made 11 field goals and 29 of 44 free shots.

Leading the Hondo Bees was Herrera with 15, followed by Blesa with 12. Zozo scoring honors were the same with 15 points for Shrum and 12 for Payne.

The Zozo Bees finish the season against the Tulareon B squad Saturday night, Feb. 22 at the Zozo gym.

Tigers Defeat Tulie In Overtime Game

BY JERRY LOEB

The Tulareon High School gym was the scene of high school basketball at its best Saturday, Feb. 15, as the Capitan Tigers outscored the Tulareon Wildcats two points in an overtime to clip the Tulie boys by a final score of Capitan 45, Tulareon 46.

The Tigers promptly bounded into the lead following the buzzer starting the first quarter. McKnight, Herrera and Jones racked up 6, 6 and 1 points respectively for a total of 13 points.

T. Montoya, E. Montoya and Smith hit for a total of 9 points for the Wildcats, thus completing the score at the end of the first period of play.

Tiger Roy Herrera continued his previous scoring streak throughout the second quarter as he again contributed 8 points for the Tigers, followed by Vance with 6.

The breadgaining for the Wildcats progressed evenly among the players. Sandoval, T. Montoya, Little, E. Montoya and Brusuelas scored with 1, 5, 2 and 2 points respectively. Halftime score, Capitan 27, Tulareon 21.

The third quarter was practically a standstill as far as scoring was concerned. Vance and McKnight popped the net with 10 points for Capitan while Sandoval, the Montoya boys and Little proceeded to cut the cords with 10 for Tulareon.

The hardwood skirmish tightened considerably in the fourth stanza as the Wildcats showed fire, and outscored the visitors 6 points. The Montoya duo, aided by Brusuelas and Little, racked up 13 points.

Efforts of Vance and McKnight totaled 7 points for the Tigers, tying the game. The buzzer sounded the end of the 4th quarter as McKnight fired a shot one which bounced out of the hoop.

Both teams seemed packed with hustle and determination as they invaded the court for the beginning of the three minutes overtime. The Tigers promptly took the lead over the Wildcats when Vance hit a jumpshot.

Tulareon apparently was not fazed by the Tigers. Little hit a jumpshot, deadlocking the game again. With a minute left in the game, McKnight ripped the cords with a lay-up to give the Capitan boys the winning two points.

Final score Capitan 45, Tulareon 46.

The Tigers will play their last scheduled game of the season when they take on the Texico Wolverines at Capitan, Friday, February 21.

The Capitan Woman's Club held its usual meeting last Thursday night with a good attendance. All enjoyed Martin Litvin's lecture on the author James Jones and his books "From Here to Eternity" and "They Came A-Running."

We had three inches of snow last Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hickman left last Sunday for El Paso where Dee will enter a class in the Chevron school being held for three days. Rev. Sparks is taking care of Dee's Chevron Station during their absence.

Mrs. Lasiter of Lincoln who works at Ft. Stanton entered the Medical Center in Roswell Tuesday, Feb. 11 for emergency surgery. She will have to remain there for ten days if all goes well and we do hope it does.

Supt. Bill Hall took four young people to Las Cruces to attend the district meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship last Friday afternoon, returning Sunday afternoon.

The Lincoln County Road Planning Committee annual meeting is planned for March 3 in Carrizozo starting at 10:30.

While visiting in the Hondo Valley I noticed several ranches starting to shear. Frank Peters and Ed Nelson each were shearing a small group of ewes that are to lamb early. Shearing operations will get in full swing by March 1 with ranchers in Lincoln County planning to shear during March.

Home Ec Girls Away to Good Start

By SELMA TEAGUE

The Home Economics girls are off to a good start and are doing their sewing this first six weeks. Mrs. Joyce May, a former, Home Ec teacher, gave us an excellent demonstration on how to bathe, powder and diaper a baby.

Mrs. Fay Clark brought her baby to the Home Ec Department one afternoon and demonstrated how to wash his head, bathe him, dry his body, powder him and change diaper. We all enjoyed Buddy so much. He gave us all a big friendly smile.

Mrs. Clegg, our elementary principal's wife, gave us a good demonstration on how to set a Valentine's table.

She baked a large valentine-shaped cookie, mounted on card-board and covered with foil and ruffled around with pink net lace. Then she baked two small valentine heart cookies for candleholders.

She brought her beautiful grass linen table cloth that her son sent her from Arabia, to show to the girls. She set a very decorative valentine table for us.

The FHA girls had their annual FHA Sweetheart ball February 17 from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. We decorated our gym with valentine colors and hearts. We used Mrs. Clegg's valentine cookies as the centerpiece for our buffet style refreshment table.

Mrs. Frances Lebow served all of us some of her delicious cake which was appreciated by all F.H.A. girls.

T. J. Jiron, the F.H.A. president, crowned Angie Grubb as our Sweetheart Queen and Louise Sandoval as Sweetheart King. Mr. and Mrs. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe, and Mr. Cole were chaperones for this gala affair. We appreciate their help in making this a success.

Our home economics state supervisor, Miss Dicks, visited us February 17. She was well pleased with our Home Ec Department and the way the girls were progressing.

We all enjoyed the film "Molly Grows Up" and soon we will see another film, "How To Do It With Flowers."

We are looking forward to a demonstration from our County Home demonstration agent, Miss Jasper, about fabrics and their use.

Clara Nell Burns will demonstrate how to shampoo and set hair soon. The girls will demonstrate how to care for the hands and finger nails and give each other a manure.

'Tween Us Teens

By MARY (Glasgow) NICKELS

What lanky blond cowboy, turned mayor, bought a snazzy passionate purple '58 Pontiac? Right, Wayne Withersal. Man, that sure is some car, too!

There was a Baptist youth meeting at Ruidoso last Saturday night. Those from Carrizozo who attended were Mrs. T. E. Kelley, Margaret Shrum, Don Hoyle, Dean Thomas and Mary Nickels. We had an awfully good time and the Ruidoso kids were just wonderful to us.

I was reading an article in the Readers Digest the other day called "Nine Words That Can Stop Juvenile Delinquency." Those nine words are "Put Father Back at the Head of the Family," by Judge S. S. Leibowitz of Boston's highest criminal court. Actually, I don't think this is all the cause of juvenile delinquency, but it certainly is a contributing factor. Think of all the times your dad's told you to do something. Immediately, some mothers might jump up and tell dad to "Quit picking on the poor kid," or "Leave the poor child alone."

No wonder parental respect has hit a new low! What father can keep up discipline if he can't raise a finger to enforce his requests? Of course, as I said, this is not the only cause for teens getting on the wrong track, but it sure helps! So let's help keep Dad at the head of the family, okay?

As we all know, Carrizozo played Cloudcroft at Cloudcroft last Friday. We beat 'em too, 53 to 45! Then there was the Hondo game, but let's not talk about that!

Monday night the Sweetheart Ball was held in the high school gym. It certainly was a nice dance and the gym was beautifully decorated. One couple was heard talking:

She—Do you know the difference between walking and dancing?
He—No.
She—I didn't think you did. Let's go sit down!

Gotta bop along—Ginger.

Lydia Chavez Reigns As Valentine Queen

In keeping with the tradition of hearts, candles and queens, Hondo High School students held their annual general election to determine the Valentine Sweetheart of Hondo High for the year of 1958. Each class first elected a candidate to represent them.

During the half of the Carrizozo-Hondo basketball game Saturday night, the lovely queen candidates, dressed in formal, marched to the stage with their escorts and paused while the student body president, James Sanchez, announced the lucky winner, Lydia Chavez, Junior class candidate.

Then as Lydia Torres from Hondo played the march music, the happy queen and her court walked majestically from the stage amid the applause of well wishers.

"All-American" Look

"Sack" Look

"Schnook" Look

WILL TODAY'S "SACK" LOOK BE TOMORROW'S "SCHNOOK" LOOK? According to health authority Raymond A. Wilson, the girl on the right may be tomorrow's "Miss America" unless present fashion trends are altered. Wilson, founder of the world's largest health organization, American-Health Studios and Silhouette Figure Form, International, charged that this country's designers are ruining the health and beauty of American women and that the healthy, All-American girl is a "Vanishing American." Wilson, who presently has more than 2,500,000 studio members in his national health program, said, "While our organization helps make women more curvaceous—these so-called fashion stylists try to cover them up with bags and sacks—It's unnatural, unhealthy, and Un-American!"

A Sermonette

By HAROLD C. ELY

Jesus Christ has always been regarded the greatest figure in human history. Though there were many great men of the past none can be compared with Him.

While still a young man the tide of opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away, one betrayed Him, one denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies, went through the mockery of a trial and was nailed to a cross between two thieves.

It looked like He failed. His disciples and friends were sad and disappointed. Then the great miracle took place. He who died that men might live conquered death and the grave, arose from the dead and was among them forty days.

He looked like He failed. His disciples and friends were sad and disappointed. Then the great miracle took place. He who died that men might live conquered death and the grave, arose from the dead and was among them forty days.

More pages are printed about Him every week than any hundred of the world's greatest men. Men voluntarily contribute several million dollars every year to support institutions which bear His name, counting it a privilege and pleasure.

Though His active ministry was short (about three and one-half years) He has done more to regenerate and soften the hearts of mankind than all the philosophers and moralists combined and started the greatest and most worthy movement in history.

God has indeed highly exalted Him and some day every knee will bend and every tongue shall confess that He is King indeed.

Though His will is not done on earth as it is in Heaven at the present His Kingdom will come and will have no end.

The Lord Jesus Christ is perfect and complete, you can no more add to Him than you could add to the sky. It is impossible to go beyond Him. He will always be ahead of us.

His teachings have done more to eradicate human slavery than all other agencies combined. It has been proven by countless thousands that His words are true, as He said, "Whom the Son sets free is free indeed."

Cattlemen Name Operating Committees

Cattlemen representing all counties in New Mexico have been appointed to operating committees which will serve during the 44th annual convention of the New Mexico Cattle Growers in Albuquerque, March 23, 24 and 25, according to Dick Snyder, Clayton, president.

These committees will work out recommendations for association action in all phases of the land and livestock industry in New Mexico and their plans will be submitted to the more than two thousand ranchers who are expected to attend the meeting.

Reuben Pankey, Truth or Consequences will serve as chairman of the General Resolutions Committee. He is also a vice president of the association.

Other committee chairmen include Public Lands, Will Orndorf, Blingham; and National Forest, Phil Harvey of Carrizozo.

The USS Swordfish sank a Japanese merchant ship, December 15, 1941, to become the first U. S. submarine to sink an enemy warship.

on earth as it is in Heaven at the present His Kingdom will come and will have no end.

The Lord Jesus Christ is perfect and complete, you can no more add to Him than you could add to the sky. It is impossible to go beyond Him. He will always be ahead of us.

His teachings have done more to eradicate human slavery than all other agencies combined. It has been proven by countless thousands that His words are true, as He said, "Whom the Son sets free is free indeed."

Because of Him, we that have turned our lives over to Him trusting in Him have hope even in a troubled and despairing world.

He said He would surely return for His redeemed ones, those that have taken Him at His word, believed and accepted Him, whom to know aright is life eternal.

N. M. Net Taxable Property Passes Million Dollar Mark

Santa Fe, Feb. 20. (Special)—New Mexico's net taxable value of property passed the billion dollar mark in 1957 for the first time, the Taxpayers Association of New Mexico reported this week.

The important milestone was achieved partly on the strength of big gains made in recent years in mining values.

The Association reported last year's net taxable valuations reached $1,029,901,777. Corporate valuations made up 52.6% of the total, at $541,931,670, a gain of $59,450,481 from the previous year, when corporation values made up 51.4% of the total.

Local valuations, made by county assessors, increased $32,548,905, the percent of the total dropping from 48.6 in 1956 to 47.4% in 1957.

Valuations of producing mines, which were $68,559,294 in 1954, have shown a spectacular jump to $114,866,867 in 1957, a gain of 67 percent.

In the same period, oil and gas production went from $97,425,854 to $132,665,195, an increase of 36%. Pipe line values went up almost 15 million, from $35,903,227 to $70,269,894.

In all, $341,532,906, or one-third of the state's taxable value, is directly attributable to its natural resource industries.

The Association's current Tax Bulletin carries a complete breakdown of property values.

RECORDS SHOW RUSSIANS SKY ON AGREEMENTS

A reason why President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles are reluctant to hold a "summit conference" with Russia at this time is found in some information gathered by U. S. News & World Report. Since 1943 there have been 19 top-level conferences, in which the chiefs of state or foreign ministers participated. Forty agreements were made — and the Soviet government has kept exactly 3 of them.

It happened in Chino:

Lost clerk lost mine

Sylvester Pattie said goodbye to his future in mining when he sent a trusted clerk to Santa Fe with $30,000 in gold bullion.

Pattie, a trapper along the San Pedro River, was the first American to operate Santa Rita's copper mine. In 1825 he and a party of trappers — with Apaches doggedly trailing them — hoped to save their furs and supplies by hiding them in an old mine opening.

The Indians, however, ran off their horses, took the furs and ransacked the supplies. The stranded Pattie, who was fortunate to escape with his life, investigated the mine. Satisfied as to its possibilities, he arranged to lease the property from heirs of Don Francisco Manuel Elgueta, the first profitable owner-operator.

Pattie did well, developing the mines and a large ranch a few miles away.

In 1827 he sent his clerk to Santa Fe to buy supplies and equipment with $30,000 in gold. When a letter from the clerk failed to arrive as planned, Pattie's son, James, searched from Santa Fe to Chihuahua, Mexico, but never found him.

The financial loss was too great for Pattie, and with barely enough money to pay off his obligations, he was forced to give up mining and return to his traps.

Pattie's loss was typical of the hazards of the times. Today there are other hazards to the successful production of copper from low grade ore — and one of the most important is soaring costs.

In an effort to reduce this hazard, Kennecott is seeking economies in a wide variety of ways: through work simplification, expanded use of employee suggestions, improved methods, better use of supplies and equipment and the most efficient use of the work force.

This program is of tremendous importance to Kennecott and to New Mexico. It will help Kennecott continue to operate successfully. And successful operations mean continued benefits, including tax payments, that aid in the development of New Mexico.

Can the Leftovers - Less Dishes to Wash

Want to wash several hundred fewer dishes this year? Then don't use a refrigerator dish when you open a can of food - store the leftover contents in the opened can.

The American Can Company, noting that the average family uses the contents of 830 cans a year, points out that opened cans may be superior to dishes because both the can and its contents are sterilized during processing.

The United State Department of Agriculture supports this claim by reporting "It is just as safe to keep canned food in the can it comes in, if the can is cool and covered, as it is to empty the food into another container."

"Space Trip to Moon" At Sweetheart Banquet

By FERN SHAW

The Sweetheart Banquet given by the Corona Baptist church was held Wednesday evening, February 12.

To carry out the theme "Space Flight to the Moon" the decorations were stars, a moon, space ships of various designs, numerous satellites and Sputnik and nutnik. Runways outlined by tiny electric lights centered the tables and were populated by all sorts of space figures.

The delicious food was served by waiters referred to as mechanics in charge of refueling.

Fifty-five people were passengers on the initial flight of the space ships Komet's Kiss. The pilot and co-pilot were Captains Val N'Tyne and Lady Love (Bill Hays and Inita Carnell.) Hatrell Fuller as toastmaster was known as Captain Dan Cupid, navigator.

Telegrams were delivered to each guest by the stewardess and read aloud for the enjoyment of all. A varied program of skits, songs, monologs and pantomimes generally related to the space theme were given for the third stage of the journey.

The fourth stage saw arrival at the moon on the spiritual sphere. A girls' quartet sang, "Who Will Our Pilot Be." Then the speaker of the evening, Rev. Vernon Meeks, spoke of "Christ Our Pilot."

For the return flight, a film "This My Son" was shown.

It was generally agreed that this space trip was novel, entertaining, and worthwhile. Hearty and sincere thanks were given to all those who had contributed to making this banquet one to be long remembered.

The Corona Women's Extension Club will meet Thursday, Feb. 27, and not the 20th as was reported last week. All regular meetings of the club are on the 4th Thursday. We are sorry about the mistake in last week's news.

News Notes From Along the Border

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Rev. Bernard Culbertson and family are living at the Nazarene camp at Angus for awhile. He has been pastor in a Lovington church.

Fred Whitley was in Albuquerque last week doing some carpentry work.

Eula Corder and a young couple from Angus went on a business trip to Lovington last week. Carlton Britton from the Block Ranch in the Capitans and Montie Coe from Budozo spent the week end on the Bonito and had fun riding sleds in this last four or five inch snow we had.

Ben Pfingsten wants to say thanks to everyone who helped him physically, mentally and financially while he has been "knocked out."

year. The chances are that they would rather talk about something else than their vote favoring the gift to the utilities.

HIGH RATES THREATENING

One utility officer explaining his version of the law said that much of the utility moving cost would be paid by out-of-state people driving across the state in gasoline taxes, which would be better than charging up the whole cost to local people in higher utility rates.

That's more of the "higher rates" threatening which should not intimidate anyone if the state rate-making bodies were whipped in line to keep rates fair.

CECELIA'S ENTRY SHOULD HELP

Entry of Cecelia Tafuya Clevo-lan of Ugh. N. M., in the lipstick run for Demo secretary of state, is viewed here as damaging the prospects of Betty Fiorina of Santa Fe and as helping Beatrice Gottlieb of Santa Fe, the two main contenders up to this point. Cecelia could become a mainliner herself in the field as it is developing.

Eveline Robinson of Los Alamos is running close to the leaders and there continues a possibility one or more castids get getting in.

NEW CANDIDATE TO SLAM PICK

Watch Cole Moffett, the politically unknown from Albuquerque who has joined the Demo run for governor, for continued attacks on Seven-Foot Pickett. He seems to be cast in the role played by Bob Stephens of Santa Fe in 1956 whose lambasting of Pickett got him a measly 6000 votes but enough to keep Pickett from beating Gov. John Simms. Maybe Moffett doesn't even know how valuable he may be to such as maybe John Burroughs of Portales.

Miss Ely is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Ely of Carrizozo. She is a senior elementary education major. She is president of the Bible club and parliamentary of Royal Academia society.
