Far From Home With No Driver's License

A California motorist who was traveling without a driver's license and was in a hurry to be on his way, paid two separate fines in Lincoln County last week.

The motorist, Claude L. Roberts, of South Gate, Calif., was first arrested at Hondo following a minor traffic accident. For failure to have a license to drive he was fined $5 and $5 costs in Justice of the Peace John Mackey's court.

Later he was picked up in a road block at Carrizozo. Still no driver's license. This time he paid a fine of $5 and $5 costs in Justice of the Peace John Mackey's court.

State Patrolman Clayton reminds motorists in New Mexico to check their licenses occasionally as, under the new law, they expire at the end of the month during which birth dates occur.

GRIST & GRITS

Maybe nobody ever shoots Santa Claus, as the late Al Smith said, but in Lima, Peru, the other day some people throw rocks at one of his agents.

In the north temperate (?) zone there have been cold spells in May as far back as anybody can remember, and yet every year when it turns cold in May people are surprised to the point of flabbergastion.

By and large, South Americans welcomed Vice President Nixon on his recent visit with outstretched hands—palms upward.

"Stocks Decline Up to 3 points,"—headline. There are days when a headline writer doesn't know which end is up.

This is a strange spring in many respects, one highly unusual aspect being that so far no college boys have pulled off pearly raids.

The reason the average person is such a strong supporter of free speech is that he hopes to become independent enough some day to say what he darn pleases.

People will gamble on anything. They're beginning to save money now on the long chance that it may again be worth something some day.

Some are beginning to fear that prices will never come down—that they have gone into permanent orbit.

Overheard, mother of 12 (children, not years of age) speaking: "I wish somebody would invent an automatic machine that would wash and fluff-dry children."

In a sack dress a girl looks about as well going as coming, and she is no sight for sore eyes either way.

A woman told the authorities she didn't know why she hit her husband with a smoothing iron. She probably did it just because. Women are funny people.

"How Large is Your Grocery Bill?"—Catchline of ad. Too.

"A lion is just as afraid of you as you are of him," says an animal trainer. Surely the king of beasts isn't such a coward!

"The average person spends one-fourteenth of his time eating," says a statistician. This is an expensive way to spend time.

"In proportion to its size, what is the heaviest thing in the world?"—From a quiz column. Those who have been or are under one will probably say it's a woman's thumb.

It's extremely rare that a person soft pedals his own chin music.

"Curiosity is a strong incentive to living," says a psychologist. Yes, indeed. For example, women outlive men.

New Feed Store Opened in Corona

Elbert E. Owen has opened a feed store in connection with his builders' supply store in Corona. He has stocked a complete line of Purina feed.

Mr. Owen has made a hobby of raising chukkar partridges and the poulters are now hatching weekly in incubators at Roswell. Around 700 chukkar eggs from his own breeding flock are being set.

Mr. Owen has found that a Purina chow, made especially for game birds, is a very satisfactory ration for chukkas.

The Purina laboratory is constantly at work improving its line of livestock and poultry chows and also developing new types of feed, such as monkey chow, guinea pig chow, and a laboratory chow for rats and mice. The above animals are now being used extensively in scientific research.

Purina also makes a trout chow in six different particle sizes. This chow, which floats on the water, is a nutritionally complete feed for all ages of trout. Three commercial trout farms in Ruidoso are using the Purina product.

Expect Consumers To Use Less Beef

A downturn in beef consumption is likely to continue the rest of this year, accompanying an expected 4% drop in production, according to C. R. Keaton, extension economist at New Mexico A&M College.

On the other hand, pork production will increase and broiler supplies will be adequate. While smaller beef supplies will help the pork picture, lower retail prices likely will be necessary to encourage consumers to step up pork purchases. The prices of poultry meat will be about the same as last year, which will tend to stabilize all meat prices. Lamb supplies will not be much different this year, but may carry slightly higher price tags.

In capsule form, here are other livestock predictions:

Not as much decrease in 1958 cattle inventories as some anticipated; no appreciable change in number of cattle fed; larger calf crop in prospect; feeder cattle outlook promising, but watch discounts for "heavier" cattle and possible heavy run of fed cattle this spring; slaughter cattle prices are expected to decline in early summer.

The best pasture conditions in New Mexico since 1942 and a record feed crop have resulted in ranchers holding back more breeding stock and bidding higher for stock to build up their herds, says the economist. Prices of stockers will reach the year high during the early summer months.

Hog producers may be at the top of a price "rollercoaster," with a bad dip late this year a strong possibility. The dip isn't likely to be as severe as in 1955, however.

On U. S. farms, total motor vehicles outnumber horses and mules almost two to one.

S. F. Carloadings Dip in First Quarter

All indicators of long-range growth for Southern Pacific continue good, even though no immediate pick-up in current business levels is expected, the railroad's stockholders were told this week.

The nation-wide business decline—coupled with severe California storms early this year—brought a 11.9% first-quarter dip in carloadings, President Donald J. Russell reported at SP's annual meeting in Wilmington, Delaware.

The long-range view is bolstered, however, by more favorable outlook for construction starts, and by signs of continuing industrial growth in the eight western and southwestern states served by SP, he said.

"Diversity of our transportation services means we will get a substantial share of the traffic created by this growth," Russell added.

Cost of 1958 storms to Southern Pacific Company, its president disclosed, was $4,800,000 before taxes.

Capitan Woman's Club Installs New Officers

A meeting of the Capitan Woman's Club was held May 15 at 8 p.m. The program was the installation of officers, directed and led by Mrs. Ray Provine.

The installation program was very impressive, with the center table decorated with lighted candles and flowers contributed for the occasion by Mrs. Bill Edgar, Jack Earling, and others.

As Mrs. Provine called each officer by name and told each one her duties, Mrs. Ross Flatley, past president, planned a white chrysanthemum corsage on each.

The officers installed were: President, Mrs. Milton Jones; vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Hall; secretary, Mrs. Hugh Calhoun; treasurer, Mrs. Lewis Stratton; parliamentarian, Mrs. Travis Werner and historian, Mrs. Jack Hasler.

The song America was sung and the Woman's Club creed, and the pledge of allegiance repeated.

Mrs. William Holmes presented the land title to the club for land for Capitan Park.

Mrs. Travis Werner, Milton Jones, D. O. Murphy, and W. W. Hall reported on the state convention at Hobbs.

News Notes from Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Rev. R. C. Gunstream and several Nazarene pastors of the New Mexico district are working at the Nazarene Camp enlarging the dining hall to be ready for the summer camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lucas had 324 laying cages delivered to their farm last week for hens they have raised. They deliver eggs to Ft. Stanton once a week.

Mrs. Boan Zumwalt has been visiting her daughter and husband, Gil and Chloe Peters, on the lower Bonito for a few days.

O. B. and Mable Shook from Las Cruces were in Ruidoso Downs last week and while there, drove over to Bonito to visit. While here they had a short "old time" chat with Frank English, too.

Earl Bragg and Ben Pfingsten drove from Nogal over to spend a few hours on the Bonito before Earl left again. He expects to be gone about 18 months this time. He went to Ruidoso Downs to see his brother Johnnie before leaving.

Bob and Mary McProud from Orogrande, had coffee with us Sunday. They think the mountains are beautiful—after being in Orogrande awhile.

The country is green now—and for the first time in a long time there will be lots of fruit if frost doesn't hit—but Ernest and Nora Blood from Alto say it can happen until after the 30th of May. Then, of course, we could have hail like they had at Ruidoso Downs last week. It did considerable damage.

Frank English drove down to Roswell Saturday evening to see his granddaughter, Susan English, in a recital. He came back to his farm Monday.

There was a good attendance at the Angus Sunday School and preaching Sunday. Jimmie Kerr, a young student in Capitan High School, preached a fine sermon. Some special songs were sung by Carol Allen Bonnell and Judy LaMay and Carol Allen and Jimmie Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hickam and three young daughters were on the Bonito Sunday. Earl works for the telephone company. He said we might get telephones on the Bonito by February, 1959.

Down at the Primary Election Tuesday, George Dingwall told us fishing was fair in Eagle Creek cause he caught his limit—he couldn't say too much for Bonito where he fished too—because he sorta got in quicksand and after getting out decided he didn't want a mess of fish anyhow.

Ross Cop from Ruidoso was over for a visit Sunday. He drives a big water truck on the new road over there.

J. C. Foster and family from Odessa were in Ruidoso over the week end, and came on over for a little information about the hunting season.

Bryan and Jeanette Cazier will be on their farm about the 30th of May for awhile. Dee Hickman's nephew is working for Bryan. He is from California and a real good looking young bachelor. Dee says he sure likes home cooking, so don't all you girls come to Bonito at once—he'd like his meals sorta scattered out.

Lula Runnels joined with other mothers as a special guest at an honored Mother's Day banquet given by the Xi Psi, Beta Sigma Phi and Phi sorority Chapters in Ruidoso recently, at Carrizo Lodge; about one hundred and fifty people attended.

The highest inhabited town on earth is Gartok, a busy trading center in western Tibet, the National Geographic Magazine says. Gartok stands at 15,100 feet above sea level, an altitude higher than the tallest mountain in the United States.

LEROY McKNIGHT'S ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McKnight entertained the 13 seniors and 22 other friends for Penny at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Louise Ferguson, last Thursday night, May 15.

These young people have enjoyed many years together all through the grades, as well as many such happy parties. They enjoyed to the utmost a turkey dinner with the good food and trimmings.

Each senior was given a box of stationery with their names engraved on it. They also danced and enjoyed looking at their pictures taken through their school years.

It was a delightful evening for all of them. It was intended for a lawn party but the weather changed that.

Teachers and friends present were Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith.

Taxpayers Ass'n Says Recession is Not Due to Lack of Government Spending

(In a bulletin issued this week, the New Mexico Taxpayers' Association analyzes a situation where an economic setback has occurred in spite of the fact that governmental spending is at a postwar peak.)

The economy is ill. Congress is going to prescribe treatment. The question is: what course of treatment will they decide to adopt? The proposal is to increase government spending or to cut taxes.

Before writing the prescription, Congress should consider the cause of the sickness. One thing is certain—the cause is not lack of government spending. Expenditures by government—federal, state and local, have been soaring skyward.

This is what has happened: Consumer purchases of durable goods have fallen off sharply. As an example, automobile production last week hit a new six-year low and was less than one-half of the comparable week in 1957. Steel mills are operating at about one-half of capacity. All durable manufacturing for the first quarter in 1958 was in the aggregate about 15% below the first quarter of 1957. (Durable include home building materials, household appliances, etc.)

As a result, business spending on new plant and equipment has been drastically retarded. The drop from 1957 to 1958, according to official estimates, ranges from 13% in commercial and related businesses to 38% for railroads.

There are 5,100,000 people out of work, but there are nearly 63,000,000 employed. Unemployment is the result of the recession, not its cause. The cause is the curtailment of buying by the employed. What will induce them to buy? As every merchant knows, price reductions move goods. The problem today is how to reduce prices enough to induce potential buyers of durables to buy now.

Taxes are a large part of the price of every product on the market. Excise and business income taxes are being maintained at wartime and emergency rates in the midst of a recession. The federal excise tax on passenger automobiles was increased from 7% to 10% during the Korean War as a temporary measure. The wartime rate has been kept in effect ever since. Its reduction would amount to $150 on an average priced car.

During World War II, a tax of three percent was imposed on transportation of freight and the rate on passenger fares raised to 10% to discourage travel and conserve shipping space. Railroads are now in financial difficulties, unable to purchase equipment which would give work to thousands. Is there any sense in retaining a policy of discouraging travel and adding to shipping costs?

The World War II rate of 10% on local telephone service—designed initially to prevent further overloading of lines which could not be expanded because of wartime materials and manpower shortages—is in effect today. Why?

The tax on income of corporations was increased to 52% during the Korean War as a temporary measure. Each time the increase was due to expire, it has been renewed. It is now due for reduction to 47% on July 1, 1958.

The five percentage point reduction would mean a $2 billion shot in the arm to American industry. It could result in lower prices on goods produced, thus stimulating sales. It could mean greater investment in plant and in development of new products. In either event, jobs would be created—jobs which are essential to restoring prosperity to our economy.

The advocates of vastly increased government spending for depression-type programs apparently are blind to a number of pertinent facts. For example, the current recession started in 1957, following two years of mounting government spending and in the face of commitment to a third successive annual budget rise.

PLYMOUTH SAVES YOU MONEY ON GAS... MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN VICTORY PROVES IT!

New "Fuel-Saver" Choke that helped clinch title as standard equipment on all Plymouth V-8s Found for pound, Plymouth uses less gasoline than either of the "other two" cars in the low-price "3". This was proved beyond doubt when a 1958 Plymouth V-8 was officially declared winner of the low-price car competition in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. Plymouth's competitors also entered cars with 6-cylinder engines (supposedly more economical) but Plymouth beat every car in its class—V-8s and 6s alike!

This title-winning Plymouth is exactly the same Belvedere V-8 with Torqueflite Automatic Transmission that you can buy right off your Plymouth dealer's floor.

These tests prove that every Plymouth has built-in economy features not found in the "other two". For instance—one of the most important factors in Plymouth's smashing win is the new "Fuel-Saver" Choke that you get at no extra cost on all Plymouth V-8s. This ingenious device employs a triple-stage vacuum piston and a new thermoplastic element to reduce the amount of fuel you use in warming up the engine. So it can save you even more on short-distance drives—the kind most people make.

Among the many other savings Plymouth gives you is the $140 you save on standard-equipment Torque-A-Ride Ride. The "other two" charge up to that much extra for their best suspension systems.

So if you are dollar-conscious, better hustle over and talk terms and trade with your Plymouth dealer. He wants your business, and he'll go all out to get it!

Trinity Methodist Church News

By Rev. ROBT. DITTERLINE
You and your friends are always welcome to worship with this friendly church, where the truth is always preached.
Saturday, May 24, is the anniversary of John Wesley's "heart-warming experience" of 1738. Sunday, May 25, will be observed as Pentecost Sunday—the birthday of the Christian Church. With this in mind, the pastor will preach on the subject of "The Consequences of the Indwelling Spirit." Please read the entire second chapter of the Book of Acts.
The Junior Fellowship and MYF will meet at 5:30 p.m. The evening worship service will be at 7 p.m.
Wednesday, the 28th, Circle 1 of the W.S.C.S. will meet at 2:30 p.m., and the Divine Circle will meet at 7:30 p.m. All ladies of the church are urged to attend.
There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday, and read your Bible daily.

A Sermonette

By HAROLD C. ELY
A very important thing in this life is success. Included in success are profit, power and prestige—things that all ambitious people desire. Many devote their entire lives to achieve these ends.
It takes determination, patience and persistence to complete what one sets out to do, also it usually takes many hours of hard work and devotion to the tasks of obtaining the things one desires. When one reaches these lofty positions he knows that he is looked upon as a successful, above average, individual of wisdom, and is set up as a fine example to follow.
If one could obtain the things mentioned, he is rightly commendable. But if that would be all in this individual's life, when he comes to the end of this life he could look back on his utter failure. Why? For the simple reason he has left God out, and when one leaves his Maker out of his life he can only fail.
Jesus tells of one such (Luke 12:16-21). A very successful man in this life which proved to be a failure in the end. Not because he was rich, not because he had great possessions, but because he forgot God. The most dangerous and perilous condition anyone can get into is to ignore the Creator. "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and the nations that forget God."
For true and lasting success one must put God first in his life, Matthew 6:33.
In the light of the Holy Scriptures it is very foolish and sinful to use our God-given powers to grasp for His gifts and ignore the Giver. For the profit, power and prestige would in the end turn into miserable failure, "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" Matt. 16:26.

Delegates Nominated To Attend Boys and Girls State Convention

The faculty of the Carrizozo High School has nominated Marilyn Harkey to the American Legion Auxiliary as first choice for the annual Girls' State meet at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, June 15-22, 1958. Andrea Ventura was nominated as alternate.
Marilyn Harkey has accepted the nomination and will attend the session. On her return she will be expected to give a report before the sponsoring organization and to the school. She should be able to make a great contribution to the development of democratic ideals in the school next year.
Boys' State nominees were Patrick Aguilar, Eddie Bob Hemphill, Joe Petty, and Harry Rickerson, with the first two being designated the nominees and the latter two the alternates. Patrick Aguilar is being sponsored to the annual meeting of New Mexico Boys' State at New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell June 7-14, 1958, by the American Legion.
Eddie Bob Hemphill is being sponsored by the Carrizozo Parents-Teachers Association. These boys will be expected to report on their experiences to their respective sponsoring organizations, and to make a real contribution to the development of a democratic attitude in the student body next year.

Carrizozo Students Elect Council Officers

On Wednesday, May 7, the student-body of the high school elected the student council officers for next school year.
The election climaxed a brief campaign which was highlighted by an assembly at which the several candidates were presented to the students by their campaign managers.
At the same assembly candidates for cheer leaders were presented and each led the group in a trial cheer or two. Candidates for president were these four boys: Patrick Aguilar, Harry Rickerson, Ralph Petty, and Luis Sandoval. Marilyn Harkey was the only candidate for secretary and Glenda Jones the only candidate for treasurer.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes, Patrick Aguilar, is president of the Student Council for 1958-59.
Harry Rickerson, who received the next high vote count was elected vice president, Marilyn and Glenda were elected to their respective offices.
It is hoped that the work of the council for the next year will begin with the attendance of the president and at least one other officer with the sponsor at the Student Council Workshop late in the summer.
Frank Wagner, high school principal for next year, will sponsor the Carrizozo High School Student Council.

School Insurance Bid Awarded Ruidoso Firm

At a meeting held in the Lincoln County Court House on Monday, representatives of the schools of Lincoln County opened sealed bids on insurance for the school buses of the county for 1958-59.
The White Mountain Insurance Agency of Capitan and the Dan D. Swearingin Insurance Agency of Ruidoso submitted bids for the same company, the American Employers' Insurance Company, and the bids were identical, totaling $1706.63.
Both bids were below the bid of $2,735.55 submitted by the Clarke Insurance Agency of Ruidoso.
It was felt that, in view of Mrs. Werner's long and successful service to the county in this capacity, that the bid should go to the White Mountain Insurance Agency and the schools voted unanimously to award the contract to her.

Tween Us Teens

By MARY (Ginger) NICKELS
Boy, this is the week! The week all the school kids wait for, from the beginning of school; the last week! One of our seniors, Bill Payne was so happy about graduating, he even wrote about it! I confiscated Bill's article, so here it is:
"Farewell say the Seniors to C.H.S. We've flipped the chips and now we're cooling our heels to jive around in search of better deals. Now the five time circles for us are over, the night we get the sticks (diplomas). We'll chop our tops, and rock around 'till day comes bright.
"To you, the squareheads that are still around, we leave our swingin' luck.
"Other than this, we've nothing to say, but, man, it's the coolest to be out of this crazy rock and roll joint! Dad, I dig this coolhead freedom the most, ghost. So get hep, Shep! Roll over, Grover; put on the stops, pop, and we'll cool it around."
Well, that's one version, any way.
Also, this week, the Zozo HI students received their 1958 annuals. The annual staff, Pat Vigil, Meiba Sneed, Ralph Petty, Lee Adell, Baker, Glenda Jones, Marilyn Harkey, T. J. Jiron and their sponsor, Mr. Wagner, are really to be commended on their fine work! It's a great book!
Say, how about these songs you hear over the radio these days; To give you two classic examples: "The Purple People Eater" and "Dear 53310701." Now, who ever heard of anything eating purple people? As a matter of fact, who ever heard of purple people? Of course, we all know that 53310701 is Elvis' serial number, so at least we can explain that one!
Well, watch out for the Purple People Eaters, all you purple people, and I'll see ya next week.

AROUND THE COUNTY

I visited several orchards last week with W. J. Wiltbank, extension horticulturist, and John J. Durkin, extension entomologist. The Fred McTelgue orchard, and a few McDaniel mites were noted on one tree in A. T. Pfingsten's orchard.

Mites are most easily noted on the watersprouts in the shaded center of the tree. If over 3 are noted on the leaves, it is time to start spraying. If any mites are noted include a miticide in your next spray application. Some good miticides are Kelthane, Syston, and DN-111.

Some other promising insecticides that will kill codling moth, and aphids, as well as mites are Guthion, trithion, and diazinon. A. T. Pfingsten has some trial plots of these insecticides in his orchard.

Vegetables in Meats Increase With Income

About 11 cents out of the average American food dollar for at-home eating is spent for vegetables, potatoes, sweet potatoes, dry beans and peas. Sixty-five cents of a dollar spent for vegetables goes for fresh vegetables; 11 cents for frozen, and 24 cents for canned.

Studies show also that Americans use about 5.2 pounds of vegetables per person per week. Of this, 3.23 pounds are fresh vegetables; 1.47 pounds, canned, and .32 pound, frozen.

The higher the income, particularly in the upper income range, the more vegetables we eat. Fresh vegetable servings average slightly higher with successively higher incomes, and go up significantly in the over $10,000 a year bracket.

Canned vegetables increase sharply up to the middle incomes, but then level off. Use of frozen vegetables rises consistently throughout the whole income range. Use of fresh potatoes rises among the lower income families, but is down in the higher-income homes. And fewer dry beans and peas are used in homes with the higher income.

Over-all vegetables and potatoes account for about 12% of the total value of all food eaten at home.

got a little leaf burn. Growers should always follow the recommendations put out by manufacturers. One pound per 100 gals. was recommended in this case. Apply the amount needed in several sprays.

Powdery mildew was noted in most orchards, especially Jonathan trees in the Hondo valley. Powdery mildew is more active during the damp weather we have been having lately. Control should be applied early, as the fruiting wood for next year can be seriously affected. Use sulfur at 4 lbs. per 100 gallons for karathane for mildew control in your cover sprays. At least two applications are required for control.

Mr. Mendola was having an excessive amount of blasting of the apple blossoms on the trees during the past week. This is due to poor pollination of the blossoms. Poor bee activity, and solid blocks of Red Delicious apples, was the explanation W. J. Wiltbank gave for the fruit blasting.

Bart Pavey has a small acreage of onions planted for commercial production. They look good so far, although considerable time will be required to weed them. The pecan grafts done on his tree three years ago may bear fruit this year, as there are some catkins on the grafted Texham limb.

Kennecott to Sponsor Workshop Class at Highlands University

Hurley, N. M.—For the second year, a workshop on the "Role of Industry in the American System" will be conducted at Highlands University in Las Vegas from July 21 to August 22. The workshop again is being sponsored by the Chino Mines Division of Kennecott Copper Corporation.

In announcing Kennecott's contribution, W. H. Goodrich, Chino general manager, said, "It is our hope that this workshop will promote a better understanding of the contribution of industry to the American way of life."

The workshop program is designed to give public school teachers, administrators, and senior college students throughout the southwest a clear overall view of the structure and function of American business and industry.

The five week workshop will include discussions on organization of modern industry, and industry's place in the general economy of the nation. A study will be made of present industrial development in the state of New Mexico, including discussions on ranching, oil, mining, manufacturing, transportation and communications.

Boushelle to Teach Photography at A&M Homemakers College

J. Paul Boushelle, professor of English at New Mexico A&M College, will teach beginner and advanced classes in photography at the second annual Homemakers College.

J. Paul Boushelle

More than 1,000 homemakers are expected to register for the course which will be held June 2-5 on the A&M campus.

Homemakers will be given training in several major subject fields such as clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, home management and home furnishings, family life, landscape gardening, public affairs, successful meetings, and living in a satellite age.

Minor class topics include photography, rocks and lapidary, flower arranging, book reviews, crafts, Western folk songs, New Mexico pottery, and flora of the Southwest. General assemblies throughout the four-day course will feature outstanding speakers from over the United States.
