

Ramblin' Around
Lincoln County

Mrs. Helena D. Jones kind-ly gives the News permission to publish the following his-torical narrative which she wrote about Charley Seringo, the famous cowboy detective.

AND EAT-EM-UP JAKE
THE COWBOY DETECTIVE

Part II

"Come here, Zuble," Dad said, "I want you to meet Charley Seringo, the great cowboy detective."

I said I had met him up on the Mesa as I rode off. Mr. Seringo said "She was kind enough to show me the place."

Dad looked at Old Slim and said, "Kinda went in a hurry, didn't you?"

"Yeah," I answered, all the while keeping an eye on Mr. Seringo to see if he'd told Dad how fast I left him on the Mesa, "Old Slim's kinda sappy. You haven't been graining him long, have you?"

Seringo never batted an eye, so I knew he would "do to take along," as Dad would have expressed it.

Pointing to the wolf hound stretched out by Seringo, Dad said, "and this is Eat-Em-Up-Jake." The dog looked at me as if to say, "how do you do?"

I felt like my education had been sadly neglected for I couldn't say a word. Just imagine that beautiful aristocratic dog named "Eat-Em-Up-Jake!"

As the afternoon wore on, Dad and Seringo talked of many places and events—present and past. The talk got around to the War and Billy-the-Kid. Eat-Em-Up-Jake and I sat and listened.

When Dad said the War, we all knew he meant the Lincoln County War, not the Spanish-American War or the Civil War of the Revolution. Some times a stranger would ask: The War? You mean—? Dad would look at him with an icy glare out of those blue eyes over that hawk nose and whoever the stranger was was bound to feel like I did when Eat-Em-Up-Jake looked squarely at me after our introduction.

I could hear the cook in the kitchen starting the fire in the stove before Dad told me to show Seringo where to put his horse, saddle and bed-roll. We had plenty of beds so he wouldn't need his. He took good care of his horses. They were well curried, brushed, watered and fed before we went back to the house to supper.

Dad never allowed any dog in the house. All of us were just holding our breaths when Eat-Em-Up-Jake followed Seringo in and laid down by his chair. Dad ignored us and the dog and went right on with his conversation with Seringo.

After supper Seringo gathered up some scraps from the table and took them out on the back porch for the dog. Our dogs gathered around but never ventured close after one growl and curled lip from Jake. After he had finished he came around to the front yard where Dad and Seringo were talking and the rest of us were listening to the stories.

Soon we saw some car lights coming down off the Mesa and knew the Bonnell's were coming down for some music. We all gathered in the parlor. Eat-Em-Up-Jake, too. He laid down by Seringo's chair and watched the proceedings with great interest.

Dad never missed a chance for an evening of music. If no one came in we enjoyed it by ourselves. He put each of us through our paces like a director. He played the fiddle, Wilbur, the guitar, Anne, the mandolin, Sydney (Mrs. Bonnell, our eldest sister) the piano. If she wasn't present then Edith or I had to take that place. When he finished his selections he handed the violin to Wilbur and said, "Now, give us some Mexican music." Anne would take the guitar and Wilbur would play the sweetest music I ever heard. Then Dad would tell me to sing. If I hung back he'd say, "do what I tell you!"

He'd been paying for voice and piano lessons all winter and I knew it was up to me to show some results. Annie Laurie was his favorite as well as "The Bold Privateer," that mother had taught me. He said it was Billy-the-Kid's favorite song.

After everyone had gone I wanted to get Dad off and find out what Seringo wanted, but it was the next morning before I succeeded.

"What does he want? Why did he come here?"

"He says he's gathering material for a book about Billy-the-Kid." Dad said, then added as if to himself, "and looking for outlaws."

Other men and women had been there for the same purpose, but none was so colorful as he.

He stayed with us for a few days then moved up to Bonnell's. He was there all summer and became one of the family. He helped us with the brand-up and Alamogordo will be the 1959 convention city of the state convention of Lions Clubs. Alamogordo won the bid without competition at Tucuman where 600 Lions and their wives concluded this year's convention on Tuesday.

The Ruidoso Lions club sent a delegation of four, Bill Hart, Carmon Phillip, Leroy Gooch and Joe Coe. Four were present from Socorro, three from Tularosa and a delegation of 30 from Alamogordo, including wives. Paul Baker represented the Carrizozo club.

The Lions were entertained at Sunday's barbecue with trampolonic acts by Anthony Gallegos and Miss Marguerite Kelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelt of Tucuman.

Dick Eastwood, state representative, will be present. Mrs. Turner urges all persons interested in the work of this organization to come and take part in the meeting.

Eight members of the Carrizozo school band are attending band camp at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. They are Bill Hartman, clarinet; Robert Rickerdon, trombone; Sonny Shrum, saxophone; Pat Vigil, cornet; Johnny Vigil, clarinet; Adeline Grubb, alto sax; Angelina Grubb, flute and Harry Rickerson Jr., alto sax.

Mrs. Edith Crawford has returned from Las Cruces for the summer.

Town Will Consider Paving Requests

The Carrizozo Town Board of Trustees discussed the matter of paving additional streets in town, at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night at the town hall.

It was brought out that Mark Walters, builder, could secure FHA money for additional homes if the streets were paved. Mayor Withers suggested that property owners desiring paving present a petition signed by the affected property owners and that the board would consider such petition.

A. A. Brooks, contractor for the town's new filtration plant, informed the board that a large valve would be set into the Bonito line Wednesday morning. The connection for Carrizozo's Bonito supply was made at the substation south of town. Water in the pipeline was shut off all morning so that the valve could be placed in the line.

Other town board business: The board voted to buy five 40-ft culverts to channel drainage down E avenue and across Highway 390.

Among occupation licenses approved were those for Esther Thompson, Garrard Hotel; Jack Simpson, fruit and vegetables, in Key building on E ave.; Rocket Cafe (Charles R. West) and the Mitchell Plumbing Company of Hobbs.

Approved building permits for S. O. Barnes to set and repair house, cost $1500; to Walter Leonard, to set 34x34 building on prepared foundation on lot back of Woman's Clubhouse, cost $2500.

Town Clerk Johnson Stearns read a letter from the New Mexico Department of Public Health promising assistance in preparing a garbage ordinance regulating fees to be charged, frequency of collection and type of garbage containers.

A letter to the board from Will Ed Harris informed the board that a portion of his land outside the city limits was being used as a street without his permission.

The board set Monday and Tuesday, June 16 and 17 to meet with Sterling Codifiers regarding redrafting and printing the town ordinances.

Accepted the resignation of Walter Metzer as chief of police, effective June 1.

Hired Cecil I. Clark as chief of police on 90-day trial basis at $200 month for first month. Mr. Clark's application stated he was a trained police officer and had served as chief of police in the city of Shelton, Wash. His application was accompanied by four references.

The council voted to retain the services of Patrolman Lipe Mirabal.

Four applications were submitted for the job of park attendant, from John Mackey, Isidoro Gutierrez, Ralph Lopez and Juan Sandoval. The job pays $75 a month. The matter was tabled until June 16.

Clarence E. Shaw submitted an application for the position of police magistrate. The board took no action due to the fact that it has not received a resignation from Paulino Aldaz, who was elected to the office.

Present at the meeting were town officials Mayor Withers, Trustees Leandro Vega, L. Z. Manire, Austin Wooten, C. D. May, Town Clerk Stearns and Utilities Manager Toplift.

The Daniel S. Elliot estate was closed in probate court on Tuesday. The property has been purchased by Paul and Clara Baker. Frank Vega this week was completing remodeling of the Elliot home.

FIRED PATROLLERS CLAIM TOP RELIEF

Santa Fe, June 4—People seldom quit or get fired at the statehouse without having gone for a couple of years without a day off. The scuttled game warden, Homer Pickens, claimed 30 days vacation pay, accumulation of two full years without an hour off the job. It came to $360.

$550 A MONTH
FOR TAPE RECORDER

The highway people were caught by Finance Director Ed Hartman paying an employee for sick time to which he wasn't entitled. The department responded by removing Lamar Floyd as personnel director at $600 a month and putting him on as a tape recorder operator at public hearings at $550. Those tape recorders must be real technical, hard-to-run devices.

TALK ABOUT BUREY WAS FOR TEN DAYS

The talk from the John Burroughs people about putting Joe Bursey in as Demo state chairman was window dressing to fool the saps. Burey, an unsuccessful one in the run against Burroughs for nomination for governor, wouldn't take the job under the conditions that are almost sure to prevail, and the Burroughs managers wouldn't have him. It was tossed out for public consumption as an indication of harmony in the party.

DEMOS CELEBRATE SPRINGERS' HELP

Colfax county Democrats are celebrating what they think is the recruitment of one of the state's biggest Republicans to their crowd—Ed Springer of Cimarron. Springer who raised the war chest for Republican campaign for the best part of 30 years has busted wide open against Republican Gov. Ed Mechem in connection with the firing of Game Warden Homer Pickens. Colfax neighbors are telling that he will support the Demo John Burroughs against Mechem.

CHAVEZ SILENT ON MORGAN WIN

Senator Dennis Chavez who traveled the state passionately, appealing for the defeat of Demo Land Commissioner Murray Morgan and didn't get it, doesn't appear to be feeling too good about the result. Morgan invited the senator, who was so interested in public lands during the campaign, to attend the Santa Fe meeting this week of the western land commissioners. Chavez regretted in one paragraph and didn't say a word about Morgan's $2,000 to $3,000 win over the Chavez candidate Leo Downey.

NEXT GOVERNOR CONTROLS ROADS

The big interest and the extra big money in this year's campaign for governor is largely related to the circumstance in which the next governor may name four of the five highway commissioners—that's the commission that is spending $65 million a year. All the members except George Lavender of Santa Fe, Republican Gov. Ed Mechem was supposed to name two members last year but the Democratic senate wouldn't take them. As a result this new governor will have the Mechem quota plus his own. Of course it could be Mechem again, and he could get turned down again.

LUSK PLUNKED
1956 EFFORTS

State Sen. Gene Lusk of Carlsbad who was a prominent prospect for the Demo governor run and didn't run and then was a prominent prospect for the Demo appointment for the Congressional vacancy made by the death of John J. Dempsey and didn't get it, is being talked of by fellow Democrats as washed up in the party.

Eddy, Lusk's county and one in which he has had a big voice, was one of the few that went against the successful John Burroughs for governor.

Critics of the slim young lawyer are telling that he should have made his bid in the risky governor-run, that he was seeking an easy route to a big job in trying for appointment as candidate for Congress, and that he offended the powers that are likely to be in control for a long time by opposing them in the primary gubernatorial contest.

branding. On Sundays he would sit on top of the round picket corral with the rest of the spectators while the boys rode the broncos. All the cowboys for miles around came in to show off their prowess before the girls. Eat-Em-Up-Jake was there, too, as close to Seringo as possible, watching all the excitement, but never mixing in any of it.

The last time I saw them was the evening before we had to go back to Roswell to school. "Had to go" was the way I felt about it. Mother would say over and over, "riches and friends will come and go, but a good education will stay with you all the days of your life." Like Eat-Em-Up-Jake I heard the words, but they didn't change my attitude.

As I hung up my saddle for the last time and put my arms around Old Slim's neck, I was near to tears. Slim had showed

 The commies say the American workers are being exploited by the capitalists. That's a hard one to believe when you see the boss goin' out with his help for a coffee break.

We like to see the postal workers get a raise, but it's too bad it had to happen to a nice old guy like Uncle Sam. He tells other business men to hold the line on wages and prices, then hands out a postage wage increase and ups the price of stamps.

Fort Carson, Colo. (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. Bonifacio S. Zamora, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bonifacio M. Zamora of Captain recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Carson, Colorado.
 Zamora is a 1957 graduate of Captain High School.

State Employment Sets New Record

Overall employment in New Mexico's non-agricultural industries set a new April record at 212,800 wage and salaried workers, according to M. F. Miers, chairman, executive director of the Employment Security Commission.
 This figure exceeds by 2,900 the March revised total of 210,000, and by 8,000 the employment recorded in April 1957.
 The 30-day increase of 2,900 reflects gains in all major industry groups, except mining and transportation.

20 Years Ago

(From the files of the Lincoln County News, June 2, 1936)
 Mrs. S. H. Nickels, assisted by Mrs. Henry Hoffman, had a party for the children in her schoolroom, and their mothers.
 A meeting was to be held June 10 in Corona to try to get some action on surfacing Highway 54 from Tucumcari to Tularosa.
 The $20,000 bond issue to repair the courthouse carried in the county's 22 voting precincts, 518 for to 329 against.
 Mayor Richard tossed the first ball in the donkey baseball game, attended by a large crowd. Don English knocked the ball into center field and was promptly bucked off by his donkey. Attorney John Hall and Chas. Fouch turned in star performances.
 The death of Scott Oral Sproles was mourned. He was born in 1880 at Benhams, Va.
 Carrizozo Lodge, I.O.O.F. conferred the initiatory degree on three candidates in Alamogordo. Making the trip were Paul Wilson, A. L. Burke, Louis Burke, Bradley Smith, Eugene Dow Jr., Lawrence Drago, J. M. Carpenter, W. J. Langston, Calvin Carl, J. F. Tom, Howard Barnes, Herman Kelt, Colonel Jones, John Rowland, Jack Pierce, S. B.  There was to be a total eclipse of the sun June 7 over a diagonal path across the United States.
 L. H. Rudisello of White Oaks paid tribute to school teachers, past and present, including Mrs. Gumm and Mr. Koonce, Mrs. Mae (Gillmore) Miller, Mrs. Paul Mayer, Mrs. Dudley, Miss Sara D. Aguayo and Miss Donnie Franka.
 Seventeen more county men were called to the colors. They included Wesley G. Brown, Bertrand Fenix, James S. Hipp, Fred Burleson, Elton D. Boone, Joe W. Sandler and David E. Sandler.
 German U boats attacked and sank 11 American vessels along the Jersey coast.
 Ernest Dingwall was again employed by the Southwestern after an absence of a year and a half.
 Carrizozo visitors included Mrs. P. S. Burns and Mrs. George L. Castle from Oscura, Senator J. V. Tully from Glenoco, Fred Pfingston and family from Lincoln and Master-Frank Gurney from El Paso.
 Tom Butler quit scraping china and went to work shovelling coal on the Southwestern.

News Notes from Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Loss and Minnie Morris gave a party last week for a group of young folks and neighbors. Everyone had a good time and refreshments of cake, cookies and coffee.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Hutchison, son Rudy, daughter Pearl and friends spent a recent week end at the Nazarene camp. To get out of Alamogordo and come to the mountains is a real treat to them.
 Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dailey, state plumbing inspector, from Carlsbad, were in Ruidoso and in the Bonito country on business.
 Frank Stearns, Carlton Britton, Joe Freedland and Robert Runnels took a fishing trip up South Fork Bonito last week. They had one pack mule, "Matcho," and a horse, along with Alice and Tom in Tom's pickup to haul them and their camping equipment. They stayed until Friday and caught a lot of fish but none you'd call a big one. Carlton's mother, Pauline, his sister Natalie, Marie Edgar, and daughter Willa came from the Capitan Mountains, to get Carlton. We had a jolly visit.

 George Morris and family from White Oaks visited Loss and Minnie Morris and fished in the South Fork of the Bonito. George and some boys from Red Canyon have been helping D. L. Jackson at White Oaks to clean up the cemetery there.
 A. B. Kelly and family have moved to their cabin at Angus for the summer. They live in Big Springs, Texas.
 Howard Barton and family spent a week end at Angus.
 Charles Corder, Red Kelly and Johnnie Dale Hayes were in Roswell on business last week.
 Bob and Mary McProud were Bonito visitors from Orogrande. Bob caught a mess of fish in the creek.
 Lewis Thomas and family from Tularosa were on the Bonito fishing. They spent all day looking for a fishing place—and that evening found one—believe Lewis caught some fish—he didn't stop by to report. He and wife, Crystal are going to Las Vegas to summer school soon. Both teach in Tularosa Grade School. They have two mighty pretty daughters, growing up fast.
 Charlie Lewis and Fred Coe from the Ruidoso country stopped by Bonito City on their way up to see Alice and Tom at Parson's mine. They found Tom trying to plow with "ole Brownie"

Angus Cemetery Association Elects New Committee at Annual Meeting

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Many people passed through the Angus Cemetery on Memorial Day to put flowers on graves and do some cleaning, then met around noon for the usual basket picnic lunch under the tall pines at the Angus community building.

Some of the good ladies near Angus, two I know of, Mrs. Eula Corder and Ruth Hayes, had cleared the building a few days before Memorial Day.

After lunch a meeting was held for all who were interested, to elect a new committee for this community building and cemetery.

Floy Skinner of Nogal was elected president, while Bert Pfingsten was chairman of the meeting and continued through the meeting with Floy.

About 35 people elected the following to act on the six-member committee: Mrs. Grace Hobbie for the Ruidoso area, Charlie Peebles for Alto, Mrs. Lee Robinson for Capitán, Mrs. Hattie Phillips for Fort Stanton and Lincoln, Ben Pfingsten for Nogal, and E. L. (Sparky) Harkey for Carrizozo.

These members are to act for an indefinite time. Lydia Peebles who is acting secretary-treasurer now was re-elected.

Louise Runnels was elected to act as publicity and advertising, should anything be necessary.

A committee was selected to have the stage in the community building lowered to the floor level for more space when funerals are held. Some thought that would keep the preacher from being seen by the crowd but Bert Pfingsten said we'd just have to get taller preachers. On this committee are Charlie Peebles, Gil Peters and Louise Runnels.

It was decided to give Barney Hayes at Angus the old wood stove that has served a long time but takes up lots of room. The nice gas stove now sits to one side—while this old wood stove was sort of in the middle of the floor.

Gladys Peebles gave a report on the lighting program. Lights were installed in the building last year. Bill Hart and Joe Coc, electricians at Ruidoso did the wiring with materials at cost and labor donated. Charles Corder, and Lawrence Peebles helped them on their donated time too.

Gladys made a motion that the secretary write the BEA for a reduced minimum on the lights since the building is only used for religious purposes, elections and funerals. It was voted to do so. Sparky Harkey told us that Ancho had asked for a reduced rate for that reason and the BEA cut their $3 minimum in half.

It was also decided that the Sunday School organization at Angus not be penalized for lights and heating because their work is for a good cause.

Alice Wright was not at the meeting but has suggested that in the stage removing some of the men might have time to build a little cupboard to one side so that a few dishes, cups, coffee pot or such might in time be donated for elections or use for any meetings held in the future. I believe this is a real idea.

A standing vote of thanks was given for the untiring efforts of the outgoing members on the Angus community committee.

NEWS NOTES FROM ALONG THE BONITO

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Powell of Las Cruces, Mrs. Bobbie, and Francis Rhodes, her son Jimmie and Neal Ross were at Angus Memorial Day. Pansy (Mrs. Powell) said they liked Las Cruces fine and they both feel better there.

Mrs. Espy from Carrizozo was seen at the gathering having a jolly visit with her relatives and friends. Two people at the gathering who lived in Lincoln County at one time were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hust from Las Cruces. Clark is 90 years old and shook hands with lots of people who hadn't seen him in a long time. I had always wanted to meet him so we had a little chat. He told me to tell the Coes that if he had stayed in Nogal long enough he would have been mayor of the town. Folks have told me since I was a little girl about Clark Hust and his funny stories and ready answers—it was good to meet him and his wife.

On Sunday their two daughters drove them up the Bonito Country. Clark wanted a drink of water out of the Bonito Creek. He said it was the purest water in the world. One daughter, Mrs. Wilma H. Billups from Las Cruces and the other daughter from Indiana were going to take their parents to the horse races at Ruidoso Downs in the afternoon. One of the Hust boys works at Ruidoso Downs—Wilma gave me some good news notes on their family but I misplaced them so hope to get them in the news soon.

Herbert Reddy and daughter Dorothy Parnell from Ruidoso Downs were at Angus Memorial Day. Mrs. Reddy wanted to come visit with their many friends but wasn't feeling good.

Charlie Pfingsten and two of his children from Lubbock made the trip for Memorial Day at Angus. Charlie says he reads his Lincoln County News religiously.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbie from Ruidoso visited the cemetery and joined in the meeting.

Last week Bill Renshaw from El Paso stopped in Bonito Cafe to ask about horses to ride to the Old Parsons Mine. He said his

Angus Cemetery Ass'n Had a Fine Meeting

Louise Runnels has written a fine account of the Angus Cemetery Association meeting, but I might add a few additional details on the reports made.

Mrs. Charlie Peebles, who was instrumental in arranging the picnic supper held there in August 1957, gave her report. At the supper $237.55 was realized toward financing the installation of the BEA in the building. Joe Coc and Bill Hart of Ruidoso donated their work. Charles Corder, Bonito, and Lawrence Peebles, Alto, worked right along with the electricians. After paying for the material used and the monthly bill, the light fund now stands at $133.75.

Mrs. Henry Peebles gave her report on the memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson. Out of this fund of $307.00, a butane heater and gas tank was installed by Leonard Surginer of the Tru-Gas Company of Ruidoso. He donated his work and sold the gas tank at cost.

Mrs. Charles Corder and Ben Pfingsten reported on the Sunday School and church held in the building each Sunday at 9 in the morning. They are grateful for its use and the association is pleased to have them use it. They extended a cordial invitation to all to attend each Sunday.

Last week end Mr. and Mrs. Doc Carraway of Ft. Worth and Mr. and Mrs. W. Willson of Dallas visited the Walter Schneiders at the Ruidoso Chinchilla Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osbourne and Chuck of Safford, Arizona, visited the Charlie Martins over the holiday week end.

The Stanley Hightowers of El Paso spent the week end with Mrs. W. N. Hightower and Mrs. Pete Beal of Ruidoso.

The Hamilton McRaes arrived Saturday from Midland to meet Hamel at Eagle Creek Lodge. He came from Tucson having completed his second year at the university there.

AROUND THE COUNTY

Recently I had a call in reference to bugs some people had in one of their buildings. Upon seeing them, the bugs were identified as cockroaches. These have been brought in with some boxes of stuff that had been bought last August in El Paso.

Anytime you buy second hand furniture such as a refrigerator, stoves, or living room furniture you should take precaution by treating them with some insecticides to kill cockroaches. This is much easier than trying to get the cockroaches out of the house after they once get in. Some insecticides you can use for cockroach control are chlordane and dieldrin. For more information on cockroach control the bulletin on "Cockroaches and How To Control Them" can be obtained from the county extension office.

Two Wool Schools At A&M This Summer

Two wool schools will be held this summer at New Mexico A&M College. Ivan Watson, extension animal husbandman, announced this week.

They will be a continuation of the training in sheep and wool production, grading, and marketing begun at the college more than ten years ago.

The schools are two-and-one-half day affairs. They will be held in Neala Hall on the A&M campus July 21-23 and August 18-20.

Instructors will be J. E. Standen, extension wool marketing specialist; William D. Standen, assistant professor of agricultural economics, and Watson.

Approximately 125 ewes will be used in the grading and shrinkage studies. The new "reverse machine" invented by A&M professor F. E. Neale will be used to determine shrinkage in place of an ordinary machine.

Date to Remember

Plant Insecticides May Poison Livestock

Never use plant pesticides on livestock. If you want them to live, protect your farm animals from chemical poisoning.

That's the conclusion of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Scientists research shows occasional cases of livestock poisoning by plant insecticides and herbicides.

Though the same material may be used in preparations designed for use of animals as for plants, the concentration and chemical formula may be vastly different. And the difference can mean a sick animal. Insecticides are 'safe' only when used as intended by the manufacturer and as directed.

Another important rule is never over treat plants to be used as livestock feed. Some highly poisonous insecticides can be used safely, because directions call for quantities too small to cause animal poisoning.

Less toxic compounds may be more dangerous where larger than recommended quantities are used. Again, it is important to follow the manufacturer's instructions, and never to guess at quantities.

Poison symptoms appearing in animals fed pesticide-treated materials may be the same as even more serious disorders such as rabies, pseudorabies, and encephalitis. Diagnosis is difficult, but animals suffering from pesticide poisoning alone will usually recover completely under good care, provided, of course, that the poisoning is not too severe.

Chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides such as DDT, DDE, methoxychlor, benzene hexachloride, dieldrin and endosulfan act on the central nervous system. Symptoms may be seen in the form of tremors, convulsions, or respiratory paralysis. Organic phosphorus compounds used for plant pest control are closely allied to the nerve gases developed for chemical warfare. These include parathion, methyl parathion, malathion, Tapu, Systox, and Guthion. They also affect the nervous system, and produce paralyzed breath with difficulty, drooling, and ataxia.

Chemical weed killers rarely cause livestock deaths unless they are sprayed directly on the animals.

By MARY (Glasco) NICKELS

Say, wasn't that an absolutely fabulous concert at Red Canyon Monday night, given by the 424th Army Band at Ft. Bliss? Golly, we ought to have more of those!

And what about that crazy hepped-up square dance at the tennis court, sponsored by Freddy and Dorothy Current? I understand it was a huge success!

Oh, by the way, do you remember Capt. Robt. Hogan and his wife Pearl? (They lived here about three years ago.) Well, they were in Zozo Thursday night, on their way back to El Paso. We were all real happy to see them!

You know, nowadays, practically every other car you see is a foreign sports car. Most of us can't tell one from another, so to help us out, here is a little information I picked up about them.

Most of the true sports cars owned by Americans consist of six foreign makes, the most popular being the British MG, the car that pioneered the sports car invasion. The latest model, the MG-A, is more stylish than its ancestors the TC, TD and TF. It comes in convertible and hardtop versions. Its 4-cylinder, 62 horsepower engine will push the car to 100 m.p.h. It's a tough racing competitor in its class.

In roughly the same class is the Triumph TR-3. Its 4-cylinder, 100 horsepower engine enables the TR-3 to bolt to 60 m.p.h. in twelve seconds. Its maximum speed is 110 m.p.h. It uses disk brakes on the front wheels.

Slightly larger and more powerful is the Austin Healy. With a 102 horsepower, 6-cylinder engine, the Austin Healy can accelerate to 60 m.p.h. in eleven seconds and reach a top speed of 115 m.p.h. It can carry four passengers in a pinch, but it sure would be a pinch!

Then comes the queen of the British sports cars, the Jaguar. In its XK-150 version, it reaches 60 m.p.h. in just over eight seconds and has a top speed of almost 130 m.p.h.

From Germany comes the Porsche, designed by the man who fathered the Volkswagen. Although small in size, the Porsche is big in performance, reputation, and price. It comes as a roadster, coupe, or convertible, with any combination of 60, 100, or 110-horsepower engine.

Of course there is the Mercedes-Benz with its 240-horsepower engine supplied by a fuel injection system. The 300-SEL model streaks to 60 m.p.h. in less than eight seconds and hits its stride above 150 m.p.h. Many sports car experts consider this car a bargain at $5,000.

The Ferrari, Morgan, Giata, AC and many others you can figure out for yourselves!

Then there was the salesman who was trying to sell a sports car.

"This is the finest car on the road," he said. "It will go 285 m.p.h. and stop on a dime."

"Anything else?" he was asked.

"Yes, it has a putty knife that comes out and scrapes you off the windshield when you stop."

Memorial Service For Byron Taylor

A short and impressive Memorial service for Byron Taylor was held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday June 3, 1958, at the Trinity Methodist Church in Carrizozo. Rev. Robert N. Ditterline and Rev. Harold Ely officiated at the service.

In his remarks, Rev. Ditterline quoted one of Byron's statements: "Take advantage of all the opportunities that lay ahead of you and make something out of yourself. Being still young you don't realize all the hardships of life, that is the reason you must make something of yourself now; and not wait till the last minute to do so, because then it will be too late." Rev. Ditterline stated that to him these remarks were a sermon in itself and something that we as mortal creatures should think about very seriously.

These were Rev. Ditterline's concluding remarks: "May we realize that death is not the end; that we should enjoy and love this life that God gave us; and make something out of our life before it is too late. Truly God will be a very present help in time of trouble, if we will only let Him come into our hearts and administer there."

INSIDE THE CAPITAL

dates, Congressman Joe Montoya and Sen. Dennis Chavez. None is proposed for Santa Fe jobs.

On the Republican side there is only one — Eljero Baca for lieutenant governor.

Both parties had tried to maintain a balance in which the state secretary, lieutenant governor, auditor and one corporation commissioner would be of Spanish background, as well as one of two of the four New Mexico has in Washington.

That seems to be doomed. Senator Chavez and Congressman Joe Montoya have no likely Spanish-American successors in sight and the prospect of keeping representatives of that racial group in some state offices is dim.

The secretary of state job, for a long time reserved for Spanish-American women, has been eight years in angle hands with two angles running this time. Two angles are going for auditor, and the Demos who have been winning the lieutenant governor place for 30 years have an angle running this time. The Spanish descent has a representative in the corporation commissioner name of Buck who isn't up for election this time.

COWBOY DETECTIVE

down considerable during the summer and was willing to tolerate a little petting. As I came out of the barn and across the corral Seringo and East-Em-Up Jake were standing by the gate.

"Don't be sad, Little 'Un," he said, "the time will soon pass and before you know it you will be back to sing and ride in the valley, again."

"Yes, sir, I know," was all I could manage to say. Then East-Em-Up-Jake came over and put his long nose in my hand.

When Dad came to town for the Thanksgiving holidays, the first thing I wanted to know was: Are Seringo and East-Em-Up-Jake still up there?

"No, they have been gone quite a while, October I reckon."

"Did he write the book?"

"I didn't see it if he did. Could have, though?"

"Did he catch any outlaws?"

"Not that I know of. Didn't see any."

The "catch any outlaws" statement was just a joke to me at the time, but since the rumor has persisted all through the years that Billy-the-Kid was alive, I have been wondering about it. The most logical place for a detective to look for him would have been in the Jack's Peak area, for that is where the mining town of White Oaks is located. It was the Mecca of all the adventurous young men of that era. From there to the Ruidoso Valley and the Coe ranch would be the natural sequence. If "The Kid" as Dad called him had been still alive Dad would have known it and would have taken care of him to the best of his ability. To live with us and become one of us as Seringo did was the only way to prove or disprove the rumor.

NEWS ALONG THE BONITO

father built some of the buildings at the Parsons Mines 50 years ago. His father's name was Ed Ronshaw.

Betty Boderick, and Belle O'Rear from Carrizozo were Bonito visitors last week.

Dale LaMay is working for the Forest Service, checking cats at Bonito Dam.

Bob and Mary McProud from Orogrande were guests at Bonito City over the week end. Bob caught some nice fish to take back to the flats.

Francis and Harold Sellers had visitors and enjoyed the cool weather in their trailer house over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Copeland from Ruidoso Downs and Lola Mitchell from Lubbock came to Bonito City last week. I always enjoy a visit with Uncle Bill and Aunt Mollie. Lola gathered old roots to make fancy TV lamps and centerpieces — the one she made for me in about 20 minutes is beautiful. Lola also entertained a group with a taffy pull that night at Bonito City—her taffy recipe is an unusual one.

Mrs. Doo S. Williams and Mrs. Alta Hickman from Captain stopped in Bonito Cafe for a Coke Sunday—was nice seeing them.

Francis Rhodes and Neal Ross were on the Bonito sightseeing Saturday.

Joe and Oma Nagy from El Paso, Mrs. L. R. LaMay from Nogal and Mrs. Faye Wooten from Carrizozo visited Mr. and Mrs. Tommy LaMay in Philadelphia Canyon Saturday.

Jim Byler is making home made pies again this summer to sell at the Bonito Cafe. Lots of folks are going up and down the road but not too many spending money. We don't know if it's Jim's pies that affect the business of the "No Fishing in the Bonito Dam" but we're guessing the latter—Jim's pies are delicious.

Robert L. Ruess left Sunday for the Block Ranch where he and Carlton Britton will "cowboy" and help mark lambs for several days.

Fred Sweet has been just about bedfast the last week with arthritis. He talks me here a proud granddad — Papa and Fred Jr. have a baby girl born in the Carrizozo hospital last week. They live in Alamogordo.

Fern Sweet is home with Fred and Dora Sweet in Albuquerque for the summer.

Abundant supplies of dairy products are available for the enjoyment of everyone as the quality cheese, eggs and dairy products...
