CHAVEZ PROBLEM YACKE DEMOCRATS

Santa Fe, July 2.—Democrats gathering here next week to write a platform and select a state chairman face two problems.

1.—Keeping U. S. Sen. Dennis Chavez in a good mood, and 2.—matching the Republicans on their proposals to control roadside billboards; rewrite the law on truck taxes and to throw out the guaranteed-profit-on-liquor law.

SEABORN COLLINS NO CHAVEZ MAN

The Burroughs people appear to have reached agreement on Seaborn Collins of Las Cruces for state chairman. The former national commander of the American Legion was the campaign chairman for Burroughs in the primary.

Whether Chavez will accept him is the major point of interest in the July 12 meeting here. The people who have selected Collins are the Democrats who a year-and-a-half ago were organizing to defeat Chavez in retaliation for his part in the 1936 defeat of Demo Gov. John Simms.

Collins is real close to our Chief, the senator, having cleared with him before accepting the position in the primary campaign with Burroughs, a circumstance that is not conducive to Chavez cooperation. Our senators, Clinton Anderson and Chavez, don't go for promoting each other's influence. Collins would be an Anderson chairman in a Chavez election year.

COULD DRIVE CHAVEZ AWAY FROM THE PARTY

It is possible that some agreement may be reached in which Chavez would accept Collins and in which the Burroughs people would split their big campaign money with Chavez and he would go along with Burroughs.

LIQUOR TRUCKS ARE DIFFICULT

Not so important as keeping Dennis Chavez happy, but still of consequence are the liquor price, billboard and truck tax deals that the Republicans have brought out into the open.

It will be something to watch, the Demo handling of these subjects.

The Republican proposal to knock out the guaranteed-profit-on-liquor law has caught on all over the state. The Demos would have a hard time supporting the proposal with Paul Case, the Burroughs member, owning the journal that lists the official prices of liquor each month.

The truck tax situation, in which a new big out of state operators are having hundreds of thousands a year under the 1935 truck tax code while small local operators are paying more, is hard for the Democrats to handle because the big outfits are major supporters of the Democrat Burroughs for governor.

The roadside billboard control proposal made by the Republicans isn't very heavy, but it has attracted popular favor and would be difficult for the Democrats because of the support they enjoy from the billboard people.

MISS ANN MILLER SOME FOR SENATE

Florida Becerra, head of the Miss, MHI union in Grants county, the one that was expelled from CIO because of communist domination, is after the same nomination for the state senate place vacated by Charlie Russell who moved to Arizona. Another applicant is Mill Upson, railroad yardman.

Tax collections and more recently, a school bond place Las Cruces near the top of New Mexico list of bond towns. The school bond place, however, Carrizozo is still a poor place behind Albuquerque in the state of its bond towns.

THE IMMACULATE CLEAR VISION OF VIRGINIA WOOLF

Reviewed by
MARTIN LITVIN

Once there lived an English lady named Virginia Woolf who wrote finely thought-out novels and books of criticism. Mrs. Woolf and her husband Leonard, who resided in a section of London called Bloomsbury—a district noted for artistic inhabitants, operated their own publishing firm called the Hogarth Press at 52 Tavistock Square.

Mrs. Woolf was one of the finest writers of her time because she perceived aspects of life with an infinite exactitude that was almost frightening in the way it went not merely to the fabric of existence but to the very fiber.

However, Mrs. Woolf's technique of stating what she recognized about people's thinking and behavior utilized oblique, vague hints, and her writing has an abstract, preoccupied quality; one is impelled to the disquieting conjecture that something inhibited the author from complete utterance.

An example of Mrs. Woolf's art is her 1927 novel "To the Lighthouse" (Hogarth Press, London).

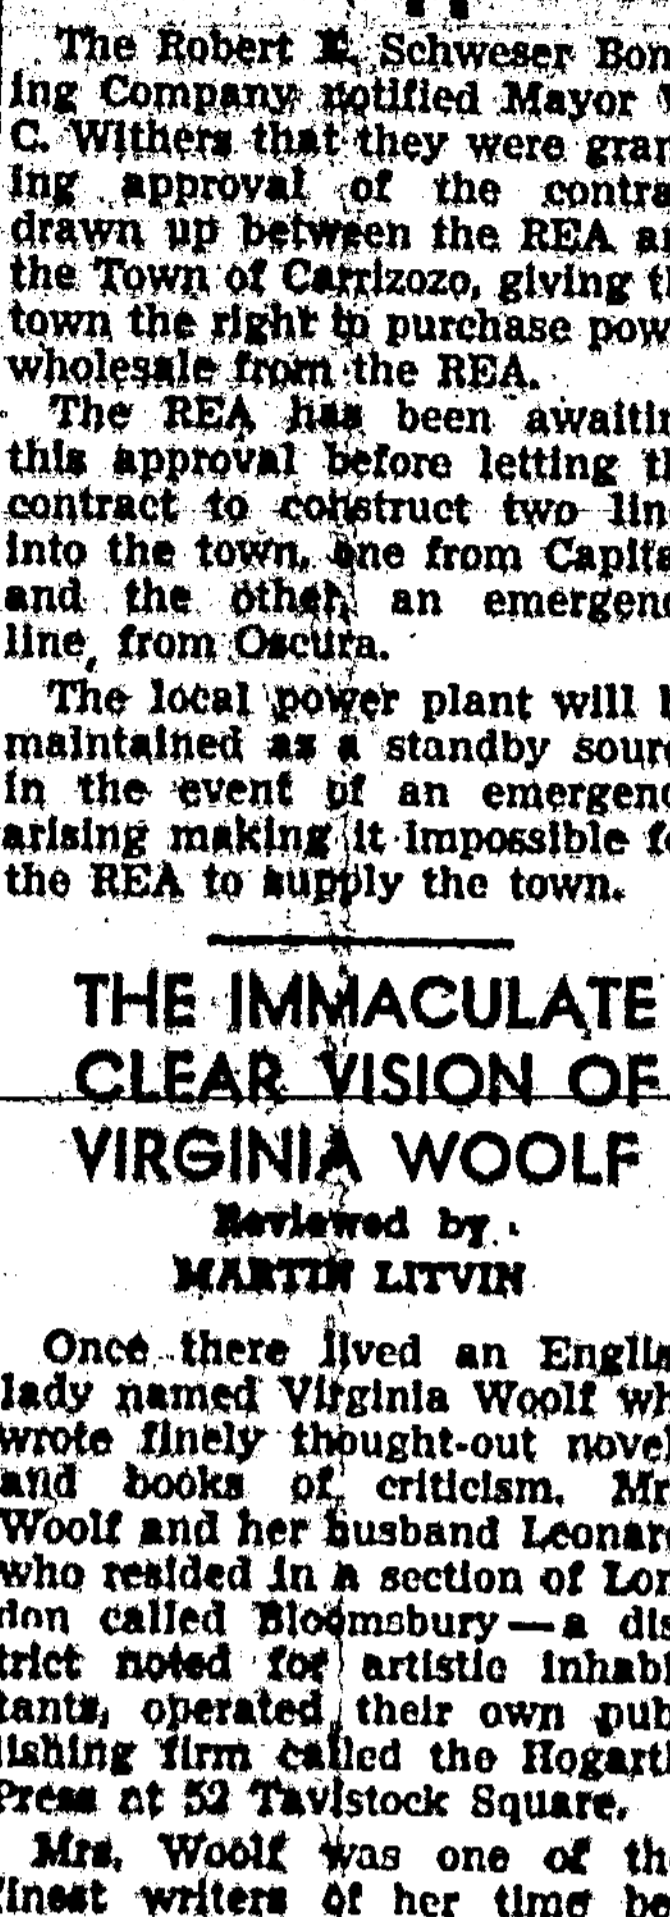

The story's secondary physical setting is a summer home in the islands north of Scotland; the time is vaguely before and after the first great war.

At first glance, the book is about the residents of the summer home: a family named Ramsay, their friends and servants. Nearby is a lighthouse, and each character sees himself in some degree of relation to it.

Another character wonders what life within the lighthouse is like, but soon ventures into other topics of thought; still another character thinks of the voyage necessary to reach the lighthouse and wonders if the trip is worth the effort.

Technically, Mrs. Woolf relies on that literary device called the stream of consciousness to project her concept of life. There is an immaculate, unswerving quality to her thinking that is like a silent pool in whose surface may be seen an occasional very clear reflection. Mrs. Woolf's prose sometimes grows lyrical; this bit about Mrs. Ramsay's feeling is illustrative:

JOHN B. CARABEJAL, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldimar Carabecal of Capitan, was sworn into the Army recently by Captain Billy H. Wasson at the Army recruiting main station in Albuquerque.

Young Carabecal, who graduated this year from Capitan High School, will take a course in Army Aircraft Maintenance at the Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Alabama, as soon as he completes his basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

Mrs. W. A. Honeycutt Feted At Party

Mrs. W. A. Honeycutt, the former Christine Jones, was honored at a wedding shower given at the home of Mrs. Travis Werner, Thursday, June 26. There were twenty-five guests present at the occasion. Decorations were attractive and unusual: an umbrella above the large table, and hanging from the umbrella were many colored streamers and ribbons. Underneath this, and on the table, were the many gifts from friends of Mrs. Honeycutt.

Good Water Supply Assured Town

Mayor W. C. Withers announced today to the News that the Town of Carrizozo has brought in a new well located approximately 1100 feet south-west of the present well. Drilled by Jim Hamm to a depth of 145 feet and cased with 10 inch casing, Mayor Withers pronounced the well a successful venture. A thirty-six hour test was made. During the first two hours, the well held at 105 feet while being pumped at the rate of 500 gallons per minute. For the next thirty hours 530 gallons per minute were pumped while the level held at 100 feet. No perceptible change was noted in the water level.

Polio Funds Needed Here

The Lincoln County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has used up all available local polio-fighting funds and has had to turn to national headquarters for help. This was revealed today by Mrs. J. P. Turner, chapter chairman, when she announced the receipt of a check for $1,275.00 from the national headquarters of the March of Dimes organization.

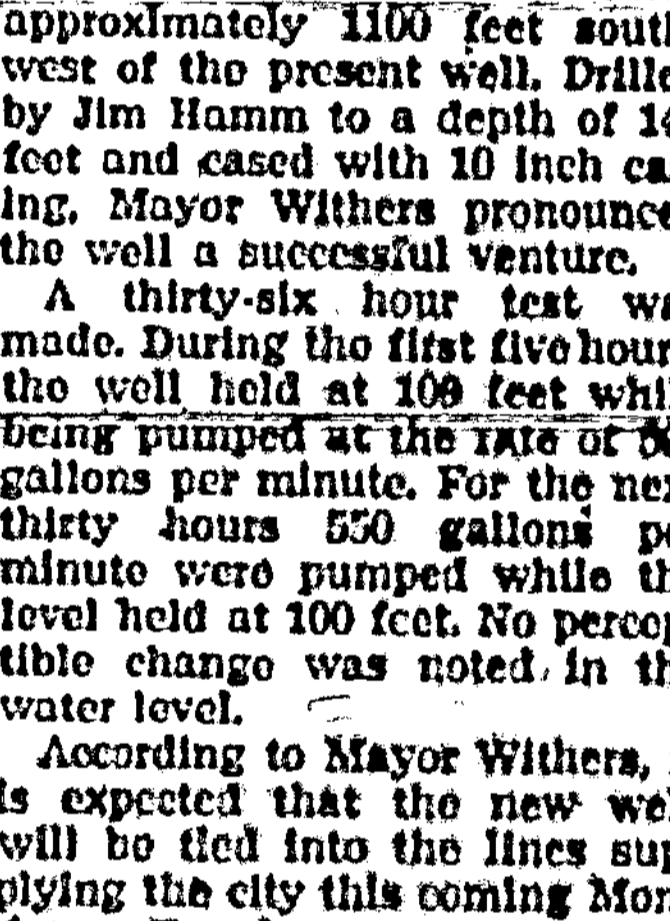

The money will be used to assist local polio patients with hospital, medical and appliance bills," Mrs. Turner said. "Although there have been no 'new' polio cases in our area, so far this year, this money is vitally needed for the rehabilitation of 'old' cases. Some of the patients now being helped were stricken in 1932."

Lincoln County's situation illustrates the national polio problem today, according to Mrs. Turner. "New" cases continue to decline, but the cost of taking care of "old" cases has declined very little. Last year, about 90% of all March of Dimes patient aid funds went to help persons who were stricken with polio in 1936 or earlier.

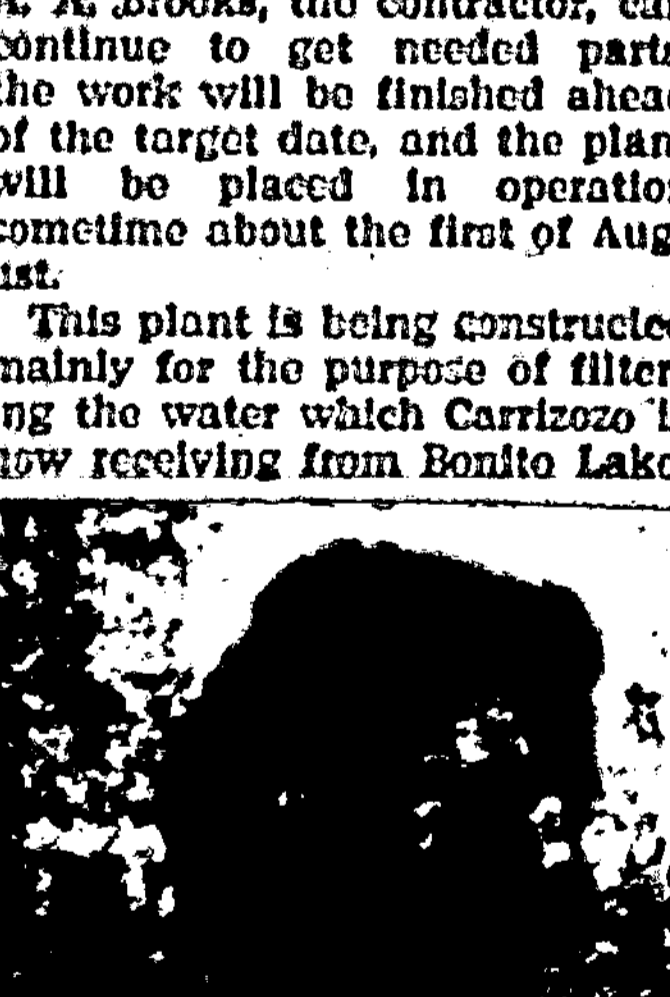

Locally, seven polio patients are being helped by the March of Dimes organization. The polio chapter chairman also stressed the importance of all three Salk shots for residents of this area. "The fact that there is a successful polio vaccine sitting on drugstore shelves is no guarantee that there will not be polio epidemics this summer," Mrs. Turner said. "The vaccine has to be injected into people's arms to do any good. I urge all persons to see their doctor or the local health department about starting their series of three Salk shots right now."

JOHN B. CARABEJAL, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldimar Carabecal of Capitan, was sworn into the Army recently by Captain Billy H. Wasson at the Army recruiting main station in Albuquerque.

Recreation Program Offers Added Classes

The city recreation program has added several special activities under the supervision and instruction of qualified instructors.

Ceramics is offered once a week on Monday at 9 a. m. under the supervision and instruction of Mrs. Helen Wrye. This class runs for two hours. Textile painting is being offered on Wednesday at 9 a. m. under the supervision and instruction of Mrs. J. R. Lara. This class is being offered for two hours. All girls and boys of school age are urged to enroll now, since the classes are just being established. Invitation is extended to all adults interested. Mrs. Wrye and Mrs. Lara are assisted by Mrs. E. L. Taylor.

The story telling hour is held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a. m. in the Junior High building. Attention should be given to the fact that this hour is offered for the children of preschool age and primary age. Parents should note that this is an hour well spent by the children and also much enjoyed. Parents interested in further details call Mrs. Jane Turner or Mr. Lara, phone number 373-J.

We wish to extend our thanks to the members of the Carrizozo Odd Fellows' Lodge for donating their shuffle board table for use in the light games program offered in the school gymnasium. It has proven to be one of the most popular games.

The light games program is held daily from 9 a. m. until 11 a. m. in the school gym. These two hours are supervised, and the following games are offered to all boys and girls of all ages: Tennis, table tennis, horseshoes, badminton, basketball, kickball, shuffle board, billiards, checkers, chinese checkers, puzzles, and other small games.

A twirling class under Miss Adellina Grubb's instruction numbers eight girls of various ages. This class meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Friday from 11 a. m. to 12 noon, in the school gym.

TEAMS FORMED FOR LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

Two teams were formed and a game schedule is now being worked out to enable them to compete against each other and other near by little league teams. Another team can be made if enough boys attend practice sessions regularly.

Members of both teams have played the Ft. Stanton little league, in Carrizozo. They played a return game on Tuesday, July 1, in Ft. Stanton. Fort Stanton won 19-14. The coaches and managers for the teams are Fred McDonald, Fred Chavez and Glenn Duke, who work with the boys from 5-7 p. m. These three men are to be commended for giving their time for such a worthwhile activity.

Many people and business concerns have contributed to the success of the little league program, both in materials as well as in time. Any persons that are interested in helping to set up two back stops for the two little league ball diamonds may call Mr. Lara, phone 373-J.

The two teams will henceforth be known as the Indians and the Tigers. Members of these teams are for the Indians: Wayne McDonald, Sammy Vigil, Michael Ortiz, Joe Beltran, Mickey Beca, Bill McVeigh, Jimmy Lovato, Pearl Jiron, Richard Lopez, and David Martinez. Also Tommy Ortiz, Lynn McDonald, Eddie Lovato, Ernest Chavez and Ernest Aragon.

For the Tigers the players are Gerald Posey, Freddie Martinez, Buddy Hill, Dennis Palmer, Billy Grubb, Phillip Ortiz, Dusty Voss, Gilbert Lucero, Max Zamora, Danny Armstrong, Glenn King, Gilbert Montes, Eugene Chavez, Manuel Torres, Garry Armstrong and Sam McBride.

Members of both these clubs are from the ages of 9 to 12. Games are played under regular little league regulations and the fields and equipment conform to specifications.

The schedule printed in the Lincoln County News should be saved and posted in the home so that all parents will be able to better inform their children. This is especially true of those that are taking part in the summer music program. It should be noted that the work accomplished this summer in music will determine where the boy or girl will be placed next fall when school starts.

Mrs. Clyde Ward Visits Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Mill Hall of Capitan were hosts over the week end to their two daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Collins of Roswell, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ward of Moron, Texas.

Many women and girls are going to the extremes in dressing these summer days. They are wearing sack dresses that are too loose, shorts that are too short or slacks that are too un-slack.

We wouldn't mind the summer humidity nearly so much if it didn't make up so adhesive.

Almost everyone does! Even if you have no large block of securities or expensive jewelry, just count your hard-to-replace important personal papers. Kept about the house or office, they are exposed to the triple risk of loss by misplacement, fire, theft. HERE'S HOW MICRO-MIXING HELPS YOU

Micro-Mixing makes it possible to distribute a quantity of rare ingredient no larger than a match throughout a ton of chow.

Some modern feed ingredients are so powerful that a quantity no larger than a match is all it takes for a ton of Chow.

This presents a production problem. If mixing wasn't done RIGHT, one bird might down the whole flock's portion in a single peck.

Thanks to Purina's Micro-Mixing process, this doesn't happen. This amazing, exclusive process blends tiny amounts of ingredients into every thimbleful of Purina Chows. Every bird or animal fed the Purina Way gets its share of each ingredient in the ration... helping you avoid waste and increase efficiency.

Micro-Mixing provides a safety factor, too. Some modern feed ingredients, which produce amazing results when fed in the right amount, are dangerous when overfed. When you feed Micro-Mixed Purina Chows you know you're feeding your birds and animals enough of the things they need... and not too much!

Whatever your feeding need... WE HAVE A PURINA CHOW FOR YOU!

Poultry and livestock feeding today is a specialized business... Purina's business. Our complete Purina line means we can provide rations designed for YOUR specific needs!

Come in and let us help you solve your feeding problems the Purina way

Love Story

It seems this girl was so co-ax about the service she got from her Phillips 66 Dealer that she'd buy only one gallon of this Fuel at a time... just so she'd have an excuse to come back please!

It was rather trying for this Phillips 66 Dealer, considering all the free services he provided for every customer on every visit: brushing out inside the car for example; cleaning the windows off; washing; checking the tires, battery, and radiator.

It wasn't just about as you'd expect. Such an obliging fellow, she decided, would be a handy man around the house. So she hooked him!

The trouble is, of course, that most Phillips 66 Dealers are so dedicated to their jobs that house-hold chores get short shrift. No more here for wives. Obvious moral for motorists:

By MARY (Ginger) NICKELS

The very first thing I want to do this week is congratulate Beverly Williams and Lewis Greer on their marriage. Also, good luck to Frances Ortiz and Eddie Hoguine.

Say, remember Cavan, the colt who won the Belmont States when Tim Tam Goodf? Well, he's gone lame! (What a jolt to his owner!) Don't worry though, he's going to be okay real soon. Welcome home to Clyde Dawson of Ft. Stanton who has been attending school in Denver.

Latest candidate for the Teenagers Hall of Fame: Bobby Dan Crenshaw for his excellent brahma bull riding at Santa Rosa.

Friday is the Fourth of July, one of the best holidays of the year. I think, not only because you can buy fireworks and make loads of noise, but because it represents one of the most wonderful days in history, the day our independence was declared way back in 1776. This holiday is a tribute to those hard-fighting statesmen and citizens who drafted and signed the Declaration of Independence, the whole basis of our American freedom. (If it hadn't been for them, our country would probably be drastically different! There is no way of telling what the United States of America might have been!)

Because of the Declaration we have "Old Glory"—the red, white and blue symbol of American enlightenment and liberty and our magnificent Constitution, without which we would be almost lost. There would be nothing to enfeeble our young soldiers to deeds of bravery on the fields of battle.

So on this Fourth of July, I salute the Declaration of Independence, the men who wrote it, and those who fought for it. We, along with past and future generations, live in an America of which we can be truly proud.

With all the holiday traffic this week end, remember what the Boy Scouts say, "Don't gamble in traffic, the cars may be stacked against you, and car tricks end in a grand slam!"

Schedule of Events Given for Meetings Held on Nogal Mesa

By DOROTHY GUCK

The Nogal Mesa Ranchmen's Camp meeting was first established in 1948 on 23 acres of land in the Lincoln National Forest. The campgrounds may be reached from Highway 980, the turn-off being about 5 miles west of Capitan and 12 miles east of Carrizozo. The turnout, a dirt road, called Indian Divide, is well marked and passes Nogal Lake south of the campgrounds to join State Road 37.

When the annual Camp meeting opens this year July 13, the same daily schedule will be observed as in former years. Everyone is welcome to come and camp on the grounds free of charge, or drive over to attend the daily services. Meals are served free only to those who attend the tabernacle services which are interdenominational. Campers are expected to furnish their own equipment; and the 7000 foot altitude of the grounds makes jackets and blankets necessary.

Breakfast is served about 6 a.m., with a short service following. The next religious service is in the tabernacle about 10:30 a.m., with dinner at noon. Services are again in the tabernacle at 2:30 p.m. These are

News Notes from Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Traffic was "terrific" over the week end up the Bonito Canyon, some folks going picnicking and some fishing. James Littleton and Dale LaMay who work for the Forest checking cars on top of the dam, checked 156 cars Saturday and 187 cars Sunday after 8 a.m. and said that between 75 and 100 cars had gone around the dam before they went to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Leeley M. Hust and Nancy Ann Marr of Tularosa spent a night on the Bonito fishing this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Freeland of Ruidoso and Captain stopped in for a Coke Sunday.

Fishing Sunday and having a picnic lunch above the dam were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harcrow, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Anderson.

Joannine L. Johnson and Ruth Aguayo visited Anne Mae LaMay and Bonito City Monday.

They are spending a few nights with parents Dudge and Mayme LaMay at Nogal. Joannine subscribed to the News.

Guess who showed up on two tired horses like the old days in Bonito City? Two May Young boys from Nogal, just out riding. But that's a long way to ride horseback for a Coke. Longtime ago it was probably White Mule.

Bob and June Shook and family. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stuart stopped for a visit Saturday. They live in Roswell.

Ally and Joan Johnson from Las Cruces, visited and fished on Sunday with us mountain folks. They were looking happy and having fun.

Texas Bob and Ben Pfingsten were visitors in Estancia, N. M. last week with the A. B. Zumwalt family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thompson, their three boys and Dwight Callens from Roswell, spent the week end in the Callens house. Tommy is field technician for Dresser Industries, Inc. His office is in Dallas. Tommy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slim Thompson from Fort Stanton, met them at Bonito City and they had a barbecue steak supper. Slim and Jewel Thompson had been to Albuquerque where they saw Mary and Ike Brooks, who are remembered by many friends in Lincoln County. They also visited Slim's sister, Mrs. James.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sultermeyer, Jr., and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sultermeyer, Sr., were on the Bonito Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Daniels of Tucumcari, and Rabern Hegenmaier of Randolph, Kansas, were Bonito visitors Monday.

Charlie Stearns, Ross Coe and Wayne Estes are playing western music at Wagons Westward, a new attraction for Ruidoso and Highway 70. The place is located near the old location of Ruidoso Junction. Huge wagons in a circle are made into places to eat. The wagons are blown with white tops. Typical of the old days, when wagons were coming west and stopped in a circle, making a wagon corral. There are yucca plants around to add a touch of New Mexico atmosphere. The owner, Howard Hamilton, is cook and manager. He serves real western food, and makes folks appreciate the west with his friendly personality.

NEW DRIP-DRY PROCESS

Your local dry cleaner may soon be able to apply wash-wear finishes to your cotton clothes.

Scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, working with the National Institute of Drycleaning at Silver Springs, Md., have developed several crease-holding wrinkle-resisting resin finishes that are inexpensive and may be applied by standard dry-cleaning equipment.

Cotton wash-wear garments have been on the market for some years, but the finish always has been applied to the fabric before it is made up into clothing. This has made it difficult, or impossible, to get flat seams, hems or pockets, or to press in flat pleats. The new process may be found especially helpful in setting permanent pleats in women's cotton skirts.

The most promising of the new finishes developed by USDA and industry is under test now and results so far are good. The finish appears to hold pressed-in creases well, yet to resist wrinkles. Various cotton fabrics have been tested with highly satisfactory results. These are cotton prints, denim, sateen, cord, broadcloth, gingham, corduroy, and suiting materials.

The process for dry cleaners consists of wetting the garment in a special resin solution, then shaping, pressing, drying and heat-setting the finished material in a single operation, followed by treatment to complete the setting of the finish. Finally, the garment is washed and tumble-dried before delivery to the owner. Because it is necessary to get just the right amount of resin solution into the garment, to have pressing equipment at uniform temperature, to hold the garment on the press for just the right length of time, and to use the same care in the aftercare, it is not a job to do at home.

The finish will not last the life of the garment, but cost studies indicate it should be inexpensive enough to justify renewal.

ENJOY WATER SAFETY

The "ole swimmin' hole" takes hundreds of lives through drowning every year, and nearly half the victims are ranch and farm people.

Records show that poor judgment and lack of skill are to blame for most of these tragedies. Nine out of ten drowning victims are non-swimmers. This means that one of the best ways to halt such tragedies is to make sure members of your family can swim. Youngsters should be given the chance to learn while they are young. Many pools and beaches hold group swimming classes every summer.

Even if you're an expert swimmer, obey safety rules. Don't swim alone or when you are tired or overheated. Wait at least an hour after eating before going into the water. And don't swim in unfamiliar water by yourself.

If you're a fisherman, you should also know how to swim, as drownings often occur when a boat overturns far from shore, the county agent advises. To prevent such accidents, take only as many people as your boat can handle safely. Make everyone stay seated when the boat is moving. Watch the weather to avoid getting caught in a storm.

U. S. Inspection Insures Good Fruits and Vegetables

Purchasers of frozen, canned, and dried fruits and vegetables may have wondered about the meaning of a shield-shaped mark on some of these processed items stating that the product "was packed under continuous inspection of the U. S. Department of Agriculture." They may also wonder why this stamp is found on some and not on other processed foods.

The stamp is an assurance that the product marked is clean, wholesome, and of good quality. More specifically, it means that a federal inspector stationed in the plant where it was packed, has checked the premises and equipment for sanitation, has kept constant watch on the quality of raw materials used, and has checked samples of the finished product for quality. Besides, the plant, to qualify for inspection services, has met rigid requirements as to lighting, ventilation, water supply, plant construction, equipment, and operating procedures.

In some cases the stamp will also carry a U. S. grade number, reflecting the judgment of the inspector regarding the quality of the product.

Federal inspection of fruits and vegetables is voluntary. The producer has paid a fee for the services of the inspector, and he has met the requirements set by the Department of Agriculture as a standard of completely ready-to-serve.

The Gas Tax Claims

June 30 to Sept. 30

The farm owner, tenant or operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm may claim a refund of three cents on each gallon purchased from July 1, 1957 through June 30, 1958. This applies only to gasoline purchased for use on a farm.

Claim must be made on Form 2240—nothing else. According to C. R. Keaton, extension economist at New Mexico A&M College, those who filed a claim for refund in 1957 will receive this form through the mail. Others who wish to claim a refund should ask the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue Service to send them one.

Send the claim, Form 2240, to the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue Service, Albuquerque, N. M. The claim should be filed after June 30 and not later than September 30, 1958. The law does not permit late claims to be paid or more than one claim to be filed for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1958.

Six Foot Rattlesnake

Killed at Edge of Mal Pais

The 6-ft. rattlesnake that was hanging recently on a cactus at the Mal Pais roadside park was killed by O. M. Vandergriff. He was hiking on the Hogg ranch, 18 miles west of Glouch, when he ran across the big snake, which he said had "plenty of fight." It was about four inches through at its middle and had nine rattles and a button.

FLEA BEETLE

Several people have reported having trouble with insects in their garden. One of the most noticed insects is the flea beetle which jumps when disturbed. It is a small shiny beetle that eats holes in plant leaves, especially cabbage, turnips and radishes. This beetle can be controlled with Rolonone, DDT, or Methoxychlor dust or sprays.

next? After Q there are a number of letters the last of which is scarcely visible to mortal eyes, but glimmers red in the distance. Z is only reached once by one man in a generation. Still, if he could reach R it would be something. Here at least was Q. He dug his heels in at Q. Q he was sure of. Q he could demonstrate. If Q then is Q—R—then R—he braced himself. He clenched himself.

"So much does Mrs. Woolf dwell on the presence of the lighthouse as a challenge to man that a second glance at the book discloses the primary physical setting to be the climate of human thinking and the true hero to be the human mind. Her statements of people's desires contain recurrent notes sounding of desperation, a significant point.

In the climate of human thinking, hunger for expression of ultimate truth is rarely appeased, but many people learn to continue living in the presence of this vast frustration as effectively as those who live on dangerous frontiers and know that undefined, hostile forces are just beyond the horizon.

The important thing to realize is that expression of truth first depends on self-understanding; for example, to acknowledge the existence of a need, one should see oneself as an integral part of the need and, above all, realize not why, but how one is a part. Real expression of truth is possible and one should continue not with blind hope that necessary self-understanding may be achieved, but with conviction and sure knowledge that self-understanding can be achieved. The notes of desperation in Mrs. Woolf's expressions hint that she was haunted by an image of man possessed of an overwhelming inability to realize himself.

All people are faced with the problem of crossing a bay to reach a lighthouse, even if the beam shines cold, sterile light. In producing a body of work that had endured, Virginia Woolf reached the lighthouse many times, but her fear of missing fulfillment tormented her to suicide. Although the scope of her insight reached far horizons, Mrs. Woolf lacked the ability to perceive her own salvation.

Controls for this insect as well as many other insects are contained in the new publication of Insects and Diseases of Vegetables in the Home Garden. A copy can be obtained from the county agents office.

HAIL

Hail took a heavy toll in the orchards around Hondo last Friday. Hail was reported as big as two inches in diameter. The extent of the damage can not be estimated until a complete survey has been made. A few orchards reported to have received hail were A. T. Klingstein, and Fred McTeigue. This will affect the early fruit marketing, as a large part of the early apples come from this area.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—The "let-age" appearance of our new room air conditioner makes it stand out like a sore thumb in our early American living room. Any idea what we can do to make it look like it belongs?

A—Try hiding the air conditioner behind louver shutters of ponderosa pine. When stained in natural wood tones, these shutters suit any early American decor, and the louvers permit the air conditioner to operate efficiently.

Q—Roots from a tree in front yard get into a drainpipe and I have to pay a plumber annually to ream the roots out. Is there any other solution to this problem?

A—Next time the drain seems to be nearly plugged, mix a solution of .4 ounces of copper sulphate crystals to one gallon of water and pour down the pipe. The roots will stop the solution and give it a chance to work. It burns off root ends without damaging the tree. One treatment a year usually is enough.

'Prefab' Church Costs Less

Prefabrication is making it possible today for communities throughout the country to build new churches at costs far lower than conventional construction. An example is the 30-by-70-foot Episcopal church above. Built on the outskirts of Baltimore, Md., for the congregation of St. Margaret's Mission, the church has a full-sized sanctuary, nine classrooms, and full basement with storage and boiler rooms. Its total cost was $37,000, plus $10,000 for 2½ acres of wooded land.

Comfort was one of the chief considerations of the designers. They specified an asphalt shingle roof in white to reflect heat from the summer sun. The asphalt shingles also provide an economical roof that is durable and dependable.

Thick mineral wool insulation in the ceiling and walls is another comfort factor. The insulation helps make services and other church activities more comfortable in Maryland's hot summers, and makes the church easier and more economical to heat in winter.

Windows were especially selected because they are simple and dignified, yet functionally modern. They are windowed down units of ponderosa pine which open outward for full ventilation. The units are ideal for prefabrication since they consist of frames and sash put together at the factory. These arrive at the building site ready for installation.

Other features of the church are a 16-foot ceiling, rock seats, and folding doors between basement classrooms.

In addition to the church, a prefabricated rectory was constructed nearby. Church and rectory were ready for use 80 days after contracts were signed.

Tourists Flock To American Shrine

FAME "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere" painting, by William K. Leitch, N.A., is admired by a group of visiting tourists at the Old North Church, Boston, as Rev. Clifford Chadwick tells the story of the Revolutionary War event. Below the painting are the lanterns which were hung in the Old North belfry for the one-by-land, two-by-sea warning. This original Leitch carving inspired by the historic "Ride" and Leitch's famous novel, "The Fate of a Nation and Other True Stories," has been placed in a special shrine at the Old North Church, Boston. Through the years, the shrine has been a place of pilgrimage for many thousands of tourists who have come to see the shrine and the painting. The shrine is a fine example of the Old North Church's history and the role of Paul Revere in the Revolutionary War.
