

Ramblin' Around Lincoln County

(Several years ago the Glenside Woman's Club undertook an ambitious project of compiling a history of Lincoln County. A number of interesting accounts of early days were written by old-time residents and sent to the club, but the history was not finished. Mrs. Helena LeMay became custodian of the material and has kindly given the News permission to print some of the letters. The following is the second.—Ed.):

REMINISCENCES OF LINCOLN COUNTY AND WHITE OAKS

By Old Sages and Stagers. No. 17X

By JOE STECK

My Dear Major: To fulfill my promise I will give you a few lines, and if you see fit you can publish the same.

I left Silver Cliff, Colorado, the day after the Presidential election in '90, and started for White Oaks via Pueblo, La Junta and the A.P. & S.F. R.R. to Las Vegas. About the 10th of November I left Vegas to come on to White Oaks, but "man proposes and God disposes."

After being out four days on the road and having beautiful weather, we camped one night this side of the Alkali Wells in the timber, where we turned in. The weather was fine, sky clear, moon shone bright, and everything was lovely and serene.

Towards morning I woke up and found myself nearly covered with snow, and still falling. The wind blew at a great rate, and everything was all but lovely and serene. We decided stopping where we were until the end of the storm, and we stayed three nights and two days.

On the third day we left and got as far as the Greathouse ranch. Greathouse and Cook kept a store and camp house for travelers on the Vegas and White Oaks road. They wanted a man to drive their team and haul water from the Abol Lake for their ranch. Having heard on the road that times were dull at White Oaks I accepted the situation.

I found at the ranch, besides Greathouse and Cook, some six or seven other men whom I took to be cowboys. Things went on smoothly for a week or more. Travelers came and went. I attended to my business of hauling logs for a corral, and water when needed.

One day the above mentioned cowboys went away, but returned about three days afterwards. The next morning, after daylight, I got up, went out to where my team was picketed.

When about 300 yards from the house somebody yelled, "Halt!" I naturally turned around to see what was up, when to my great surprise two men had their guns pointed at me.

They ordered me to approach them, all the time keeping their guns pointed at me. I went like a little man.

When I got to them they got behind me and ordered me to march towards what I supposed was a bunch of fallen timber—and so it was, but there were men behind it, two bold, bad, ferocious looking men, with plenty of guns and ammunition.

When I got amongst them one of my captors said: "Captain, we've got one of them, the — of —" and I did not resent it even a little bit. They ordered me to lie down with them, and I did so.

They wanted to know if Billy the Kid, Billy Wilson, or Dave Rudabaugh were in the house. I told them I did not know. They doubted my word and still I didn't allow myself to get mad. They gave me a description of the men they were after and I told them that three such look-

3 Panel Sessions to Highlight Youth Commission Meet

Two prominent speakers and two student and one adult panel make up an outstanding program for the District Youth Commission meeting March 26 in the Junior High School auditorium in Carrizozo.

Speaker and moderator of the panel topic "Traffic" will be Captain Pen Winston of the New Mexico State Police.

Chris Barnette, judge of the juvenile court for Caddo Parish, Louisiana, will bring a message based on his years of experience in juvenile court development in that state.

He has served on numerous boards and committees in Louisiana in relationship to child welfare and juvenile courts and juvenile correctional institutions.

The all-day Youth Commission meeting in Carrizozo, starting at 9 in the morning is open to the public and parents and all other interested persons are invited to attend.

The program follows: Junior High Panel—(9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.) Topic "What Makes for Popularity in Junior High."

Moderator, Rev. Hugh Bailey of Ruidoso. On the panel are Dorothy Garrison and John Clegg of Carrizozo Junior High; Monica Salcido and LeRoy Gomez of Hondo Junior High; Patricia Phillip and Steve Bonnell of Capitlan Junior High; Paul Mauldin and Bonnie Wiendorf of Ruidoso Junior High; Dean Minor and Rand Perkins of Corona Junior High.

Senior High Panel (10:45 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.)—Topic "Traffic". Moderator, Capt. Pen Winston, New Mexico State Police—Robert Firman and Beverly Witham, Carrizozo; Patsy Nunez and Jas. Sanchez, Hondo; Judy LaMay and Walter Jones, Capitlan; Margie Rentro and Clyde McClintock, Ruidoso; Sherrill Perkins and Bill Hays, Corona.

Adult Panel (2 p. m. to 4 p. m.)—Topic "Traffic and Cause of Crime". Moderator, Frank Carr of Alamosa. On the panel are Rev. Croninberger, Ruidoso; Mrs. Joelyn Wright, Hollywood; Rev. Lytle and Mrs. Archie Perkins, Corona; Louise Runcles, Bonto; Lenoy McKnight, Capitlan; Al Bucky and McKinley McTeague, Hondo; Hazel English and Kino Ortiz, Carrizozo.

Rev. George Lechel of Santa Rita Catholic Church will give the invocation at 7:30 p. m.

ing men were in the house. Then they told me they were a sheriff's posse from White Oaks and would have the notorious trio dead or alive.

After a consultation among themselves, more coming from different posts around the house, they decided that perhaps I was not so hard a citizen as I looked, and if I would give 'em my word of honor to come out again I could carry a dispatch into the house telling the boys to surrender, as a posse of 13 men from White Oaks had come during the night, surrounded the house on all sides, and large parties from Lincoln were en route with provisions and everything necessary for a siege, and they had better surrender at once as there was no show for escape.

I took the note in and delivered it to the one I knew to be Billy the Kid. He read the paper to his comrades who all laughed.

CARRIZOZO INVITED TO TAKE PART IN BLOSSOM FESTIVAL

Carrizozo High School has been invited to take part in the Apple Blossom Festival in Hondo, according to word received this week from Mrs. Mickey Thomas, Soc's Patricia Jess Lara, Carrizozo band director, and his 14-piece dance orchestra, "The Star Dusters," are playing for the festival.

WILL HARRISON'S Inside the Capital

FIFTY ENTRANTS, ONE CALLED STOOGES

Santa Fe, March 12 — Fifty racers got away from the primary starting line with only one among them being publicly accused of being a stooge running to hurt another candidate rather than win himself.

Johnny Farmer of Las Vegas, the one called a stooge, said it wasn't so and that he was dead set on winning the Demo nomination for U. S. Senator.

Former Land Commissioner Johnny Walker, also going against Sen. Dennis Chavez, called Farmer a stooge and Farmer called Walker an "idiot." Thereafter each called the other a variety of things not suitable for listing here.

COULD HUNT WALKER AND HELP CHAVEZ

The political unknown Farmer who came to the state in 1934 from the Amarillo area may be a serious candidate but is conceded little chance to do anything more important than hold down the Walker total.

Robert Stephens, another one labelled as a stooge, got only 8,000 of 100,000 votes cast in the 1930 government primary, but it was enough to keep Seven-Foot Pickett from beating Gov. John Simms who made it by 3,000.

There is nothing synthetic about the way Walker and Farmer feel about each other. Farmer helped Walker in his first run for land commissioner in 1932 and after Walker took over they had a violent break-up which is still burning.

THE TIMID ONES STAYED AWAY

Some of those who didn't file also made news in state politics. Ralph Trigg of Albuquerque made a grand entry into the arena five days before the filing date as perhaps the strong man in the governor run and then pooped out on filing day.

As it turned out Our Clint the senator who had sponsored Trigg in most every job he ever had wouldn't go along with the deal which had been worked up by the Chavezes.

Bob Peterson of Santa Fe who looked like kind of a freak candidate from the start, didn't pay the $25 ante for the governor run when it was time to put up or shut up. He apparently didn't find the sponsorship he was hoping would materialize. He wanted to fight Pickett.

Carlos Trujillo of Taos who had been running for auditor for two years didn't file for the race, took a job with Senator Chavez

Worn Out Bridge To be Demolished

Acting on the request of Everett R. Doman, forest supervisor, the County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday voted to demolish a worn out bridge on county road No. 2, approximately 4 1/2 miles north and 1 mile east of Capitlan.

Mr. Doman wrote that "continued use of this over-age bridge can only lead to an accident in the future."

The commissioners approved a recreation committee for the Ruidoso school district, recently selected at a meeting of the Ruidoso PTA. They are C. L. Wright, chairman, Hollywood; H. R. Jackson, Hollywood; Mrs. Gladys Nosker, Glenoco; Mrs. Bill Hutsch, Ruidoso and Wade Hedgecock, Ruidoso.

A petition was received from 13 property owners on Hart Drive, Paradise Canyon subdivision, requesting blading and grading their road which they termed "almost impassable." The commissioners voted to take care of the request as soon as the weather permits.

Approval was given to a plot of Palo Verde Slopes, to subdivide into lots and streets. The property, off Highway 70, is owned by Blanche Reynolds of Green Tree.

Beginning April 7 the commissioners will meet as a board of equalization. They will spend several days reviewing tax schedules.

District Court

Following jury trial in district court March 10, Pete Swan was found guilty of the charge of breaking and entering. He was sentenced by Judge W. T. Scoggin to serve not less than one nor more than three years in the state penitentiary. Defendant to pay costs of prosecution.

Two others were implicated in the alleged theft of liquor from Sherry Miller's package store. Charges against Frank Vallejos were dismissed but Adolph Swan was fined on in justice of the peace court on the charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

After testimony of State Patrolman James Clayton and Town Patrolman John Connell, A. Swan was found guilty and fined $50, and 30 days in jail. Two divorcees were granted. To the plaintiff in the case of Marian Jane (Sally) Chadwick pl. vs. Aubrey Danco Chadwick def. The custody of twin children was awarded the plaintiff.

A divorce was granted the plaintiff in the case of Margaret Stenney pl. vs. Harry D. Stenmer.

In other district court action, Homer Thomas Woodruff of Holoman Air Force Base, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling house in daytime. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than six months nor more than 3 years.

Testimony was presented that Woodruff entered the home of State Patrolman Bob Journey at Hondo and stole, among other articles, a table radio and metal filing cabinet, destroying seven years of records and reports.

State vs. Orlando Sanchez, charged with driving while intoxicated. Entered plea of guilty. Given deferred sentence of one year, revoked driving license and placed on probation 1 year. Assessed $150 costs to be served at rate of $1 a day until paid.

Electors May Register Up to Three Days Prior To Municipal Election

Electors desiring to vote in municipal elections may continue to register up to three days prior to the election.

Up to Wednesday noon of this week no additional filings had been made for the Carrizozo municipal election to be held April 1.

Candidates for town office may file up to two weeks prior to the election.

To Core Drill Properties Of N. M. Copper Corp.

Citing a recent increase in the domestic price for copper, John Keel, vice president and director of the New Mexico Copper Corporation, said in Carrizozo this week that he expected a resumption in copper mining in the near future.

"A number of bills are pending in Washington," he said, to raise the duty and curtail imports on a number of metals. This will give impetus to our domestic producers of copper, lead and zinc.

Mr. Keel who represents the New Mexico Copper Corp. on business affairs in the East, has been in Carrizozo for a number of meetings and conferences. He returned to Washington Monday by way of Denver.

Mr. Keel revealed that an independent and well-known mining engineer is expected this week to make a report on the New Mexico Copper Corp. properties. C. E. Degner, manager, will then confer with West Texas financial interests.

Plans are to engage a major mining concern to core drill all of the corporation's properties in the Water Canyon and Bonto areas.

Capitan Tigers Third In Regional Tourney

After dropping the opening regional game to Hatch, the Capitan Tigers came back to win the consolation game and third place, from Lordsburg.

Capitan led all the way to down Lordsburg 61 to 48. Vance sparked the Tigers all the way and in a fast opening quarter they led 14 to 5. The score was Tigers 27, Lordsburg 20 at the half and 40 to 34 at the end of the third period.

Eunice became regional champion by defeating Hatch Saturday night, 65 to 61.

Other Class B regional winners and thus eligible for the state tournament were:

- 1B—Moriarty 53, Kirtland 52. 2B—El Rito 50, Pojoaque 41. 3B—Eunice 63, Hatch 61. 4B—San Jose 62, Ft. Sumner 49.

Services in Santa Fe Saturday Morning for Repr. John J. Dempsey

The funeral mass of Representative John J. Dempsey is to be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Francis Cathedral with Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne officiating.

The body of the longtime congressman and former governor laid in state from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday at the Capitol in Washington.

A movement is under way to name the proposed Navajo dam for the late Congressman. His efforts while sick in behalf of the Navajo dam appropriation are said to have hastened his death.

College Band to Play in Carrizozo

State College, N. M.—The New Mexico A&M College Concert Band will play in Carrizozo March 18 during its annual spring tour.

The band will present a concert at 1 p. m. at Carrizozo High School. Each year the band makes a spring concert tour of New Mexico high schools.

The program will feature outstanding standard and contemporary works for wind band. Soloists to be featured are Norbert Carnovale, brass instructor at New Mexico A&M; Vern Malec, freshman from Chicago, Ill., clarinetist; Gary Van Horn, senior from Bellingham, Wash., saxophonist.

Director of the band is Ray Tross.

Hospital Corpsman Loses Life in East

A press dispatch from Portsmouth, Va., tells of the tragic death of Ezell M. Clarke Jr., USN hospital corpsman first class.

He was killed when a bumper Jack apparently slipped, bringing the weight of an abandoned automobile onto his head at the George Washington trailer court at Portsmouth.

His wife Gloria, 24, found him shortly after 4 p. m. One of the dead man's neighbors at the trailer court said Mr. Clark had crawled beneath the car to salvage an axle.

The young man, a native of Ruidoso, had been a resident of the court for six months. He was attending the medical administration technician school at the Naval Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Harris drove to Brownfield, Texas, Monday.

At the conclusion of the telephone hearing in Carrizozo recently, James P. Lamb, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, said he would issue a dissenting opinion. Commissioners Ingram Pickett and John Block voted to grant the increase.

The News feels that Commissioners Block and Pickett acted properly on the basis of a formula established previously by the Commission. However, we give Commissioner Lamb credit for standing by his convictions.

In his dissenting opinion, dated March 5, Commissioner Lamb sums up his objections as follows:

"Basically the classification of telephone exchanges, and the development of rates according to such classification, is a method of spreading operating revenue requirements allowed by the Commission. These operating revenue requirements are established in a general rate case, and are built up after the allowable rate of return is fixed, from that return.

"I doubt very much that such a classification can be arbitrarily applied without full consideration of all existing conditions, as to investment, earnings, and expenditures in the state as a whole.

"I would disapprove the present filing and leave the company to propose a general rate increase if and when it feels that it might justify the same on the record. At that time, the proper classification of exchanges could also be resolved.

"I dissent."

The weatherman is one individual who can keep on making mistakes and still hold his job. The U. S. forecaster who predicted a March "drier and colder than normal in the Southwest" just could be a little red-faced. Snow and rain seemed to have arrived from all directions and as a result this area is having the wettest March in something like 15 years. Nogal Mesa seems to be in the midst of the "pennies from Heaven" with between four and five feet of snow having fallen.

The Lucks have recently moved to Choctaw, Okla., and Mr. Bradford writes that his address after this week will be Aurora, Colo.

R. M. (Bob) Ross, who now lives in Springerville, Arizona, writes that fishing should be good over there this year. "I should say the best ever." He continues: "At the present time Big Lake and Crescent Lake are both frozen over solid and last Thursday (Feb. 28) there was two feet of snow on top of the ice. Since then it has been snowing continuously up there and my guess is that there is about four feet of snow on both lakes.

"One of my duties with the Forest Service is official weather observer at Springerville and most reports of the outlying districts are called in to me. This year, just here in town, we have received three times the moisture that we had last year.

"Last Saturday the trout were biting at Luna Lake and when the sun came out, they quit, so the reports went. Our administrative office was out at Beck's Lake about two weeks ago and caught a nice 5-pounder."

Cardinals Win 3 of 4 In District Tourney

The Corona Cardinals won three of four basketball games in district 3B tournament to win consolation.

In the opening game the Cardinals lost out to Bernallillo 53 to 51 in an overtime. The Cardinals were ahead the entire game, but their two guards, Lee Mulkey and Johnny Erramoupe fouled out during the last three minutes of the game which hurt Corona.

Erramoupe was, high point man for Corona with 14 points.

The next day, Friday, Corona beat Manual in a close game 47-45. Mulkey was high point man in this game with 16 points.

Saturday morning Corona won an easy game from Stanley 64-53 where the reserves played most of the game. Again Mulkey and Erramoupe were high with 18 and 19 points, respectively.

In the final game for consolation Corona beat La Joya 60-59 in another overtime. De Proctor put in the tying basket at the end of the regular game to give Corona a chance in an overtime.

Corona had four players who counted heavily in Corona's scoring. They were Bob Hays, Dee Proctor, Lee Mulkey, and Johnny Erramoupe.

La Joya had nearly a one man team by the name of Griego who scored 35 points by himself.

Bill Hays was Corona's outstanding defensive player, being assigned to the opponent's top scorer in nearly every contest.

Corona's coach is Andrew Moses, assistant coach, Gerald Stewart.

Anniversary Banquet by Ft. Stanton Cub Scouts

Fort Stanton (Special)—"43 in 53" was the keynote of the anniversary celebration held by Pack 125, Cub Scouts of America, in the Episcopal community house of Fort Stanton at 6 p.m., February 20. A banquet for 30 people was served, following an opening prayer by Rev. Charles Dawson, Episcopal rector.

The U-shaped banquet table was decorated in a motif of blue and gold, the Cub Scout colors. The centerpiece, designed and executed by Miss Viola Griego of Fort Stanton, was an artificial miniature tree whose stem and branches were in blue and flowers of yellow blooms.

The entire was beef Stroganoff. The den mother and her assistants were presented corsages. A large cake, shaped in a design of "43 in 53" baked by Mrs. Charles Mason of Lincoln and frosted in blue and gold, was served for dessert.

Highlight of the evening was a miniature speed car race. Cub pack members had built model racers to scale and each car was approximately four inches long, painted in a bright color.

Eddie Griego, whose black racer took first place in the judging for craftsmanship, was awarded a Cub Scout knife. In the race itself, first place was taken by the orange racer of Billy Marson, winning Billy a Cub Scout knife. Arthur Zamora's yellow speedster took second place and he won a five-power telescope.

Cub Scout awards were as follows: Golden arrow and silver arrow to Eddie Griego, Arthur Zamora and Stanley Good; wolf badge to Bobbie Griego, Billy Marson and Joe Pfingsten.

In a brief program members of the Cub Pack sang songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Charles Dawson. Billy Marson recited a poem. Colonel Lawrence Varner, Fort Stanton superintendent, acted as master of ceremonies and Mrs. Varner, den mother, spoke briefly on the significance of Cub Scouts in the Fort Stanton community.

Activities of the Carrizozo FHA

By SELMA TRAGUE

Our FHA president, T. J. Jiron, called a meeting of the FHA girls during home room period Monday and Tuesday.

Pauline Gallegos, Frances Ortiz and T. J. Jiron are on the committee to plan a dinner for the FHA girls at the Steak House after church Sunday, March 23.

Lee Adell Baker and Marilyn Harkey gave roses to the teachers last Monday.

Belle O'Rear, Wadene Montgomery and Jean McGuire are to take flowers to the hospital Tuesday, March 25.

Beatrice Najjar, Lorene Sanchez, Frances Ortiz, Dolores Chavez and Pauline Gallegos, assisted by T. J. Jiron, are to display the FHA creed and the purpose of FHA on March 26.

Helen Vega, Terrie Portillo, Patsy Chavez and Dolores Zamora, plan a tea for the Eighth Grade girls and introduce them to FHA on March 27.

Friday, March 28, there is no school, due to a teachers' meeting in Magdalena. Therefore, we will have our candy sale on Saturday, March 29, along with our bake sale to raise funds for our FHA.

Mrs. Fred English visited our Home Ec department Tuesday and invited five or six of us to help the PTA serve their St. Patrick's dinner March 17, beginning at 5:30. Mary Alice King, Julie Robinson and Clara Nell Burns volunteered to help.

Schools Provide Music At Ruidoso Meeting

The Carrizozo flute trio of three girls—Opal McBrayer, Angelina Grubb and Mary Nickels—played two numbers for the Lincoln County Farm Bureau joint meeting with the Ruidoso Lions Club on Tuesday.

Their selections were Dance des Milordins by Tschalkowsky and Classic Fantasy by George Walk.

Joe Lara, Carrizozo band director, and Mrs. Lara accompanied them to Ruidoso.

Members of the Hondo band played a piano solo and a guitar duet with their own guitar accompaniment.

There was a large turnout for the meeting, presided by a dinner with the Lions Club as hosts.

Ford Cars Led All Sales In County, 1957

More people in Lincoln County bought Ford passenger cars in 1957 than any other make, according to final and official registration figures just released by R. L. Polk and Company, the automobile industry's statistic gathering agency.

The figures show that 88 Fords were registered in Lincoln County during the year, compared to 61 for Ford's closest competitor.

Nationally, Ford led all year by selling about eight cars every minute of the selling day. This is figured on the basis of 310 selling days—16 hours each day.

County Postmasters at Tularosa Dedication

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Postmasters from many surrounding communities gathered in Tularosa Saturday to greet their fellow postmaster, E. W. "Dink" Myers, the occasion being the dedication of the new post-office building there.

Taking part in the dedication program were Postmaster Myers, Rev. Grady McCullough, Mayor Walter Ray, Chamber of Commerce President Earl Haggard; Glenn Armstrong, district operations manager; W. D. Brewer, regional director of Denver, and Father Lucian.

The Cub Scouts had charge of the flag raising ceremony and band music was by the Tularosa High School band.

Among the attending postmasters were Dorothy Parnell, Green Tree; Mable Wimberly, Hollywood; Joe Dryden, Ruidoso acting postmaster; Mrs. Pearl Stearns, Nogal; Louise Babers, San Patricio; Mabel Vigil, Carrizozo acting postmaster; Gladys Nosker, Glencoe; Matthew Price, Fort Stanton; Mrs. Love, Three Rivers; Mrs. Sylvia Deppe of Weed; Mrs. Sadie Munson, Sacramento; Mrs. Forehand, Mountain Park and Aileen Lindamood, Alto.

Former Tularosa postmasters present were Dale Dodds, Mrs. Vera Clayton and R. M. McNatt.

The high collapse of the party came while Republicans held the governor's office, elective courthouse jobs in 13 of the 32 counties, 31 of the 98 seats in the legislature and a flock of federal jobs from the Republican administration.

The give-up attitude developed 16 months after New Mexico voters gave the Republican president a tremendous 40,600 margin and the Republican candidate for governor a lead of 11,200.

The despondency was all the stranger in consideration of the Republican trend in Albuquerque which accounts for a fourth of the state. All 10 of the city's legislators are Republican and the courthouse is full of them.

BLAME GOVERNOR FOR PARTY DROP
Gov. Ed Mechem is at the bottom of much of the trouble. Republicans from all over accuse him of non-cooperation and a lack of interest in the party.

He didn't help the situation by stubbornly refusing to say if even he would take a place on the ticket at the time others were trying to recruit candidates for the ballot.

Mechem's recognition of some Democratic elements in jobs and other patronage and his refusal to go along with some Republican leaders has perhaps strengthened him personally while breeding despondency in the party.

One prominent Republican who has retired to an outlook role said that he and others were prepared to launch an intensive Republican reorganization effort after Mechem leaves office. They couldn't do it as long as he is in, he said.

TUCKER STRAINED
Democratic State Chairman Ernie Tucker is having a rough battle for another term as mayor of Roswell. It's against Bert Ballard, the one he beat last time. Ballard is also a Demo.

Some of Tucker's pals have been charging that money from the $40,000 Republican Lincoln day dinner is being used against him in the campaign.

Trinity Methodist Church News

By Rev. MORT DITTERLINE

You and your friends are always welcome to worship with this friendly church, where the truth is always preached.

Rev. R. L. Willingham, our district superintendent, will preach for us at the 11 o'clock service Sunday. Come and bring your friends and hear this man of God as he brings us a message from his heart. Please remember that there is a nursery for those who wish to make use of it during the morning service.

There will be a covered-dish luncheon immediately following the morning service. All who worship with us are cordially invited to bring something good to eat—stay for the worship service—then remain for the hour of fellowship and eats. Then attend the Quarterly Conference at 2:30 p.m. Brother Willingham will preside over the conference. He will hear the reports of this present conference year; the recommendations for next year; we will have the election of a building committee and the election of the officers of our church for the conference year 1958-59.

There is a choir rehearsal at 5 p.m. If you like to sing, come and be with us. The Junior Fellowship and the MYF will meet at 5:30 p.m. There will be no evening services this Sunday.

There will be a joint meeting of the W.S.C.L. Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., March 12. All ladies of the church are invited to attend.

Find the strength of your life. Worship regularly in the Lord's house on the Lord's Day. See you in Church Sunday.

The next meeting will be held April 12 at the home of Mrs. E. R. Brady.

LORDS AND DUKES OF DEMO PARTY

Santa Fe, March 5—Folks attending the Albuquerque Democratic dinner in honor of the congressional delegation must have gone away wondering if they had elected themselves some lords or dukes after hearing Rep. Joe Montoya thank them for "coming to pay homage to us."

Homage, huh. The 16-pound dictionary says it is a ceremony by which one acknowledges himself to be a vassal or a lord; obsequious; reverential regard.

Vassal, if you don't remember, is a subject, servant, sometimes a slave.

Guess those congressmen are more important than you saps realize.

REPUBLICANS GIVE UP EASY

Republicans looked like they were taking a dive without being clipped in all that trouble they had in getting up a state ticket.

The high collapse of the party came while Republicans held the governor's office, elective courthouse jobs in 13 of the 32 counties, 31 of the 98 seats in the legislature and a flock of federal jobs from the Republican administration.

The give-up attitude developed 16 months after New Mexico voters gave the Republican president a tremendous 40,600 margin and the Republican candidate for governor a lead of 11,200.

Carrizozo PTA to Meet March 11

The regular Carrizozo PTA meeting has been changed from Monday, March 10, to Tuesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. It was necessary to make this change in order to get Fred Hinger from the State Department of Education as the speaker.

Mr. Hinger is State Director of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. He will work with the elementary teachers and students Tuesday afternoon, teaching them folk dances and games. He will also address the high school students Wednesday morning, giving them some new ideas on how to use their leisure time.

Since the cigarette tax brings $65,000 revenue each month to the state, which is subdivided among the different counties and cities on the basis of the sales in each unit, it becomes very essential that we study and know the different ways and means which this money can best be used for the recreation program.

The PTA publicity committee endorses Mr. Hinger as a good speaker and as a person who knows the field of physical education and recreation. "We hope the citizens and PTA members of this community, will make a special effort to be present at this meeting," the committee adds.

Mrs. J. G. Moore is program chairman for the month. The theme of the program is "Healthy Children Are Happy Children." In addition to the speaker, pupils from the two Fourth Grade classes will do two folk dances.

Refreshments will be served as usual.

Alter Society Plans for St. Josephs Fiesta

The St. Marys Alter Society held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Alma Torrez in Tinnle. Mrs. Sabina Torrez presided at the meeting and Rev. George Lechel led the group in prayer.

Fourteen members were present. It was planned that St. Josephs Fiesta, in Picacho on March 19 will begin with vespers on the evening of the 18th and Solemn High Mass be held on the evening of the 19th, starting at 6 p.m.

A new feature will be held for the first time on St. Josephs Fiesta. Light lunch and refreshment booths will be set up at the Picacho school and water and refreshment booths be available after the evening Mass.

All the members of the Alter Society will assist the chairman of each committee. Mrs. Adeline Kimbrell has been named on the foods committee and Mrs. Rosemary on the entertainment committee.

The next meeting will be held April 12 at the home of Mrs. E. R. Brady.

REMINISCENCES OF LINCOLN COUNTY AND WHITE OAKS —By Old Sages and Stagers. No. 1X By JOE STECK

My Dear Major: To fulfill my promise I will give you a few lines, and if you see fit you can publish the same.

I left Silver Cliff, Colorado, the day after the Presidential election in '80, and started for White Oaks via Pueblo, La Junta and the A.P. & S.F. R.R. to Las Vegas. About the 10th of November I left Vegas to come on to White Oaks, but "man proposes and God disposes."

After being out four days on the road and having beautiful weather, we camped one night this side of the Alkali Wells in the timber, where we turned in. The weather was fine, sky clear, moon shone bright, and everything was lovely and serene.

Towards morning I woke up and found myself nearly covered with snow, and still falling. The wind blew at a great rate, and everything was all but lovely and serene. We decided stopping where we were until the end of the storm, and we stayed three nights and two days.

On the third day we left and got as far as the Greathouse ranch. Greathouse and Cook kept a store and camp house for travelers on the Vegas and White Oaks road. They wanted a man to drive their team and haul water from the Abol Lake for their ranch. Having heard on the road that times were dull at White Oaks I accepted the situation.

I found at the ranch, besides Greathouse and Cook, some six or seven other men whom I took to be cowboys. Things went on smoothly for a week or more. Travelers came and went. I attended to my business of hauling logs for a corral, and water when needed.

One day the above mentioned cowboys went away, but returned about three days afterwards. The next morning, after daylight, I got up, went out to where my team was picketed.

When about 300 yards from the house somebody hollered, "Halt!" I naturally turned around to see what was up, when to my great surprise two men had their guns pointed at me.

They ordered me to approach them, all the time keeping their guns pointed at me. I went like a little man.

When I got to them they got behind me and ordered me to march towards what I supposed was a bunch of fallen timber—and so it was, but there were men behind it, two bold, bad, ferocious looking men, with plenty of guns and ammunition.

When I got amongst them one of my captors said: "Captain, we've got one of them, the — of —" and I did not resent it even even a little bit. They ordered me to lie down with them, and I did so.

They wanted to know if Billy the Kid, Billy Wilson, or Dave Rudsbaugh were in the house. I told them I did not know. They doubted my word and still I didn't allow myself to get mad. They gave me a description of the men they were after and I told them that three such look-

3 Panel Sessions to Highlight Youth Commission Meet

Two prominent speakers and two student and one adult panel make up an outstanding program for the District Youth Commission meeting March 26 in the Junior High School auditorium in Carrizozo.

Speaker and moderator of the panel topic "Traffic" will be Captain Pen Winston of the New Mexico State Police.

Chris Barnette, judge of the juvenile court for Caddo Parish, Louisiana, will bring a message based on his years of experience in juvenile court development in that state.

He has served on numerous boards and committees in Louisiana in relationship to child welfare and juvenile courts and juvenile correctional institutions.

The all-day Youth Commission meeting in Carrizozo, starting at 9 in the morning is open to the public and parents and all other interested persons are invited to attend.

The program follows: Junior High Panel—(9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.) Topic "What Makes for Popularity in Junior High." Moderator, Rev. Hugh Bailey of Ruidoso. On the panel are Dorothy Garrison and John Clegg of Carrizozo Junior High; Monica Salcido and LeRoy Gomez of Hondo Junior High; Partelia Philpot and Steve Bonnell of Capitlan Junior High; Paul Maudlin and Bonnie Wiendorf of Ruidoso Junior High; Dean Minor and Rand Perkins of Corona Junior High.

Senior High Panel (10:45 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.)—Topic "Traffic." Moderator, Capt. Pen Winston, New Mexico State Police—Robert Firman and Beverly Withom, Carrizozo; Patsy Nupcz and Jas. Sanchez, Hondo; Judy LaMay and Walter Jones, Capitlan; Margie Renfro and Clyde McClintock, Ruidoso; Sherrill Perkins and Bill Hays, Corona.

Adult Panel (2 p. m. to 4 p. m.)—Topic "Tree and Cane of Curfew." Moderator, Frank Carr of Alamogordo. On the panel are Rev. Croninberger, Ruidoso; Mrs. Joelyn Wright, Hollywood; Rev. Lytle and Mrs. Archie Perkins, Corona; Louise Rannels, Bonito; Leroy McKnight, Capitlan; Al Booky and McKinley McTeigue, Hondo; Hazel English and Kino Ortiz, Carrizozo.

Rev. George Lechel of Santa Rita Catholic Church will give the invocation at 7:30 p. m. ing men were in the house. Then they told me they were a sheriff's posse from White Oaks and would have the notorious trio dead or alive.

After a consultation among themselves, more coming from different parts around the house, they decided that perhaps I was not so hard a citizen as I looked, and if I would give 'em my word of honor to come out again I could carry a dispatch into the house telling the boys to surrender, as a posse of 13 men from White Oaks had come during the night, surrounded the house on all sides, and large parties from Lincoln were en route with provisions and everything necessary for a siege, and they had better surrender at once as there was no show for escape.

I took the note in and delivered it to the one I knew to be Billy the Kid. He read the paper to his compadres who all laughed.

FIFTY ENTRANTS, ONE CALLED STOOGES

Santa Fe, March 12 — Fifty racers got away from the primary starting line with only one among them being publicly accused of being a stooge running to hurt another candidate rather than win himself.

Johnny Farmer of Las Vegas, the one called a stooge, said it wasn't so and that he was dead set on winning the Demo nomination for U. S. Senator.

Former Land Commissioner Johnny Walker, also going against Sen. Dennis Chavez, called Farmer a stooge and Farmer called Walker an "idiot." Thereafter each called the other a variety of things not suitable for listing here.

COULD HURT WALKER AND HELP CHAVEZ

The political unknown Farmer who came to the state in 1934 from the Amarillo area may be a serious candidate but is conceded little chance to do anything more important than hold down the Walker total.

Robert Stephens, another one labeled as a stooge, got only 6,000 of 100,000 votes cast in the 1936 government primary, but it was enough to keep Seven-Foot Pickett from beating Gov. John Simms who made it by 3,000.

There is nothing synthetic about the way Walker and Farmer feel about each other. Farmer helped Walker in his first run for land commissioner in 1932 and after Walker took over they had a violent break-up which is still burning.

THE TIMID ONES STAYED AWAY

Some of those who didn't file also made news in state politics.

Ralph Trigg of Albuquerque made a grand entry into the arena five days before the filing date as perhaps the strong man in the governor run and then pooped out on filing day.

As it turned out Our Clint the senator who had sponsored Trigg in most every job he ever had wouldn't go along with the deal which had been worked up by the Chavezes.

Bob Peterson of Santa Fe who looked like kind of a freak candidate from the start, didn't pay the $25 ante for the governor run when it was time to put up or shut up. He apparently didn't find the sponsorship he was hoping would materialize. He wanted to fight Pickett.

Carlos Trujillo of Taos who had been running for auditor for two years didn't file for the race, took a job with Senator Chavez.

Worn Out Bridge To be Demolished

Acting on the request of Everett R. Doman, forest supervisor, the County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday voted to demolish a worn out bridge on county road No. 2, approximately 4 1/2 miles north and 1 mile east of Capitlan.

Mr. Doman wrote that "continued use of this over-age bridge can only lead to an accident in the future."

The commissioners approved a recreation committee for the Ruidoso school district, recently selected at a meeting of the Ruidoso P.T.A. They are C. L. Wright, chairman, Hollywood; H. R. Jackson, Hollywood; Mrs. Gladys Nosker, Glencoe; Mrs. Bill Hutsch, Ruidoso and Wade Hedgecoke, Ruidoso.

A petition was received from 13 property owners on Hart Drive, Paradise Canyon subdivision, requesting blading and grading their road which they termed "almost impassable." The commissioners voted to take care of the request as soon as the weather permits.

Approval was given to a plot of Palo Verde Slopes, to subdivide into lots and streets. The property, off Highway 70, is owned by Blanche Reynolds of Green Tree.

Beginning April 7 the commissioners will meet as a board of equalization. They will spend several days reviewing tax schedules.

District Court

Following jury trial in district court March 10, Pete Swan was found guilty of the charge of breaking and entering. He was sentenced by Judge W. T. Scogghie to serve not less than one nor more than three years in the state penitentiary. Defendant to pay costs of prosecution.

Two others were implicated in the alleged theft of liquor from Sherry Miller's package store. Charges against Frank Vallejos were dismissed but Adolph Swan was fined on in justice of the peace court on the charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

After testimony of State Patrolman James Clayton and Town Patrolman John Connell, A. Swan was found guilty and fined $50, and 30 days in jail.

Two divorces were granted. To the plaintiff in the case of Marjane Jane (Sallye) Chadwick pl. vs. Aubrey Ranco Chadwick def. The custody of twin children was awarded the plaintiff.

A divorce was granted the plaintiff in the case of Margaret Slemmer pl. vs. Harry D. Slemmer.

In other district court action, Homer Thomas Woodruff of Holoman Air Force Base, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling house in daytime. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary for not less than six months nor more than 3 years.

Testimony was presented that Woodruff entered the home of State Patrolman Bob Journey at Hondo and stole, among other articles, a table radio and metal filing cabinet, destroying seven years of records and reports.

State vs. Orlando Sanchez, charged with driving while intoxicated. Entered plea of guilty. Given deferred sentence of one year, revoked driving license and placed on probation 1 year. Assessed $150 costs to be served at rate of $1 a day until paid.

Electors May Register Up to Three Days Prior To Municipal Election

Electors desiring to vote in municipal elections may continue to register up to three days prior to the election.

Up to Wednesday noon of this week no additional filings had been made for the Carrizozo municipal election to be held April 1.

Candidates for town office may file up to two weeks prior to the election.

To Core Drill Properties Of N. M. Copper Corp.

Following a recent increase in the domestic price for copper, John Keel, vice president and director of the New Mexico Copper Corporation, said in Carrizozo this week that he expected a resumption in copper mining in the near future.

"A number of bills are pending in Washington," he said, to raise the duty and curtail imports on a number of metals. This will give impetus to our domestic producers of copper, lead and zinc.

Mr. Keel who represents the New Mexico Copper Corp. on business affairs in the East, has been in Carrizozo for a number of meetings and conferences. He returned to Washington Monday by way of Denver.

Mr. Keel revealed that an independent and well-known mining engineer is expected this week to make a report on the New Mexico Copper Corp. properties. C. E. Degner, manager, will then confer with West Texas financial interests.

Plans are to engage a major mining concern to core drill all of the corporation's properties in the Water Canyon and Bonito areas.

Capitan Tigers Third In Regional Tourney

After dropping the opening regional game to Hatch, the Capitan Tigers came back to win the consolation game and third place, from Lordsburg.

Capitan led all the way to down Lordsburg 64 to 43. Vapco sparked the Tigers all the way and in a fast opening quarter they led 14 to 5. The score was Tigers 27, Lordsburg 20 at the half and 46 to 24 at the end of the third period.

Eunice became regional champion by defeating Hatch Saturday night, 65 to 61. Other Class B regional winners and thus eligible for the state tournament were:

- 1B—Moriarty 53, Kirtland 62. 2B—El Rito 50, Pojoaque 41. 3B—Eunice 63, Hatch 61. 4B—San Jose 62, Ft. Sumner 46.

Services in Santa Fe Saturday Morning for Repr. John J. Dempsey

The funeral mass of Representative John J. Dempsey is to be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Francis Cathedral with Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne officiating.

The body of the longtime congressman and former governor laid in state from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday at the Capitol in Washington.

A movement is under way to name the proposed Navajo dam for the late Congressman. His efforts while sick in behalf of the Navajo dam appropriation are said to have hastened his death.

College Band to Play in Carrizozo

State College, N. M.—The New Mexico A&M College Concert Band will play in Carrizozo March 18 during its annual spring tour.

The band will present a concert at 1 p. m. at Carrizozo High School. Each year the band makes a spring concert tour of New Mexico high schools.

The program will feature outstanding standard and contemporary works for wind band.

Soloists to be featured are Norbert Carnovale, brass instructor at New Mexico A&M; Vern Malec, freshman from Chicago, Ill., clarinetist; Gary Van Horn, senior from Bellingham, Wash., saxophonist. Director of the band is Ray Tross.

Hospital Corpsman Loses Life in East

A press dispatch from Portsmouth, Va., tells of the tragic death of Ezell M. Clarke Jr., USN hospital corpsman first class.

He was killed when a bumper jack apparently slipped, bringing the weight of an abandoned automobile onto his head at the George Washington trailer court at Portsmouth.

His wife Gloria, 24, found him shortly after 4 p. m. One of the dead man's neighbors at the trailer court said Mr. Clark had crawled beneath the car to salvage an axle.

The young man, a native of Ruidoso, had been a resident of the court for six months. He was attending the medical administration technician school at the Naval Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Harris drove to Brownfield, Texas, Monday.

The weatherman is one individual who can keep on making mistakes and still hold his job. The U. S. forecaster who predicted a March "drier and colder than normal in the Southwest" just could be a little red-faced. Snow and rain seemed to have arrived from all directions and as a result this area is having the wettest March in something like 15 years. Nogal-Mesa seems to be in the midst of the "pennies from Heaven" with between four and five feet of snow having fallen.

It's a toss-up which of these News subscribers moves around the most — the B. L. Lucks or Fred M. Bradford. The Lucks have recently moved to Choctaw, Okla., and Mr. Bradford writes that his address after this week will be Aurora, Colo.

R. M. (Bob) Ross, who now lives in Springerville, Arizona, writes that fishing should be good over there this year. "I should say the best ever." He continues:

"At the present time Big Lake and Crescent Lake are both frozen over solid and last Thursday (Feb. 28) there was two feet of snow on top of the ice. Since then it has been snowing continuously up there and my guess is that there is about four feet of snow on both lakes.

"One of my duties with the Forest Service is official weather observer at Springerville and most reports of the outlying districts are called in to me. This year, just here in town, we have received three times the moisture that we had last year.

"Last Saturday the trout were biting at Luna Lake and when the sun came out, they quit, so the reports went. Our administrative officer was out at Beckers Lake about two weeks ago and caught a nice 5-pounder."

At the conclusion of the telephone rate hearing in Carrizozo recently, James F. Lamb, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, said he would issue a dissenting opinion. (Commissioners Ingram Pickett and John Block voted to grant the increase.)

The News feels that Commissioners Block and Pickett acted properly on the basis of a formula established previously by the Commission. However, we give Commissioner Lamb credit for standing by his convictions.

In his dissenting opinion, dated March 5, Commissioner Lamb sums up his objections as follows:

"Basically the classification of telephone exchanges, and the development of rates according to such classification, is a method of spreading operating revenue requirements allowed by the Commission. These operating revenue requirements are established in a general rate case, and are built up after the allowable rate of return is fixed, from that return.

"I doubt very much that such a classification can be arbitrarily applied without full consideration of all existing conditions, as to investment, earnings, and expenditures in the state as a whole.

"I would disapprove the present filing and leave the company to propose a general rate increase if and when it feels that it might justify the same on the record. At that time, the proper classification of exchanges could also be resolved. "I dissent."

Hostesses for the occasion will be the Meses, Will Orndorf, William Wrye, Lewis Farris, Richard Cole and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy. Mrs. R. G. Firman, president, urges all members to attend this interesting and important meeting.

THE ROMANCE OF COMMERCE has universal appeal. Rare is the man or boy who has never dreamed of sailing the seven seas aboard an adventure-bound freighter; rare the woman or girl who has never longed to visit exotic foreign market-places, with their profusion of fine silks, perfumes, precious gems. How many people, on the other hand, have ever given thought to the romance of banking? Yet banking is undeniably a business to stir the imagination; for bank credit helps in making, moving and marketing goods the world over.

There's Gold in the Hills at White Oaks

There's still gold in the White Oaks area if you have the time and patience to look for likely samples, according to Bob Koonce, writing in the March issue of New Mexico Magazine.

White Oaks is almost deserted today, he says, but it is interesting enough to attract many tourists. It once had a population of 4000, after Baxter and Wilson made a rich strike there in 1879. Miners flocked to the area and gold mining boomed, while not far away, the bloody Lincoln County War was raging.

In its heyday, says Koonce, the place was noted for its baseball teams. Fine homes were built. In 1899 the community worked to get a railroad extension from El Paso, but failed, and then it gradually declined to a ghost camp.

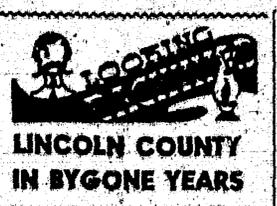

Some of the famous mine names in those good old days were North Homestake, Smuggler, Little Nell and Old Abe. The Old Abe glory hole produced $3,000,000 worth of ore, the article says.

Kennecott Buys Nevada Copper Property

Ely, Nevada—Purchase of Consolidated Coppermines Corporation mining properties in White Pine County by Kennecott Copper Corporation was announced recently by J. C. Kinnear Jr., general manager of Kennecott's Nevada Mines division.

The sale includes Consolidated Coppermines Tripp pit, its contiguous holdings in Kennecott's adjacent Liberty and Veteran pits, numerous mining claims, water rights, surface buildings, equipment, the company-owned community of Kimberly, and other real estate. Involved in the transaction were only the White Pine County properties, with Coppermines still retaining its other interests.

Kinnear said Kennecott Coppermines and their predecessors have worked side by side at Ruth and Kimberly for 50 years. All of Coppermines ore has been milled, concentrated and smelted by Kennecott's reduction plant at McGill.

SP Cuts Westbound Freight Schedule

Southern Pacific announced March 5 that it is reducing its Westbound transcontinental freight schedules by 24 hours, effective March 12.

The one-day schedule reductions will apply, SP said, on all freight moved from Chicago and St. Louis, and through those gateways, to California. Proportional reductions in schedules will be made to other points along the SP routes.

STATE GAME DEPARTMENT

NUTRIA NOT RECOMMENDED

The sale of nutria as a "valuable pelt producer" is getting plenty of opposition from state conservation agencies all over the nation.

"West Virginia Conservation" for February now comes up with this colorful indictment of the nuisance rodent: "A six-letter name, nutria, could stand for as much trouble as the carp, English sparrow and the starling. It is gradually taking its place among the underworld of Nature's delinquents."

Pairs of breeding nutria have been offered for sale at high prices in many parts of the country, with considerable misinformation as to prices brought by pelts. The facts are that the pelts are not valuable, and the animals are a menace to other species of wildlife once they escape captivity. They take food which would otherwise serve those animals. Moreover, they destroy cultivated crops, dams, ditches, etc.

The New Mexico Department of Game and Fish discourages the establishment of nutria in this state.

FISHING THROUGH ICE

Fishing through the ice is a sport rarely available to New Mexico fishermen, but this year some trout fishing has been done through ice at Nogal Lake.

WATER PROSPECTS IMPROVE

Great quantities of snow in the high country give promise of fine fishing and excellent forage for wildlife this year. In the Guadalupe, the Capitans, the Sacramentos, Gila and Sangre de Cristo ranges, streams are running high and springs long dry are in fine condition. The Rio Grande is already running.

Recollections of Gene Rhodes

(Editor's note: Eugene Manlove Rhodes, famous New Mexico author, is still remembered by old-timers in Sierra County. The following incidents about Rhodes, most of them firsthand, were related by an old-time Sierra rancher.)

EXACTNESS IN WRITING

"I want to know how it feels to be shot at," Gene Rhodes said to the rancher. The cowboy accommodated Rhodes.

They were in the headquarters of the TTX Ranch, a former store building in Engel, where Rhodes stayed when he came to town.

Center poles between 12 and 15 inches wide and adzed down to six or eight inches in thickness supported the roof.

The rancher picked up a six-shooter, and Rhodes stepped behind one of the poles.

"I shot head high," said the cowboy, "and the bullet went over halfway through the pole. Gene never dodged. He showed no fear. I don't think he knew what fear was."

The following incident shows how Rhodes strove for exactness in his writing. Some time after he had gone to New York State and married, he wrote from Appleton, asking the rancher if he could tell him the exact distance across the stockade at the Aleman Ranch in Sierra County. The cowboy went to the ranch, measured the distance and sent the information to Rhodes.

Rhodes walked into a bank in Hot Springs, (now Truth or Conscience) and asked for his old-time rancher friend, who was running the bank at that time. He had come back to visit New Mexico and Sierra County in particular. Rhodes wasn't in good health, and aside from that he didn't look like the man who had left New Mexico years ago. He was wearing goggles and golf-like trousers, and he had a rotator.

After the two had swapped recollections of old times for a while, Rhodes said he had stopped in San Marcial. He had found an old-timer there, Gene Thoroughgood, an Englishman who was somewhat of a bookworm. The banker asked Rhodes what Thoroughgood had told him.

Rhodes replied that Thoroughgood had said: "You used to reach down from the saddle and twist off the scatoon grass, but it's so bare now a red ant looks as big as a horse."

40 CARLOADS OF STEERS

The Diamond A was shipping about 40 carloads of steers to California. The shipper didn't appear, and old man Jasper of the Diamond A rounded up a crew consisting of Frank Calhoun, Rhodes and another rancher. Jasper gave each one a $20 gold piece for expenses.

It was about 2 o'clock in the morning when the three arrived in Albuquerque from Engel with the carloads of steers. While waiting for the yardmaster, they went into the Santa Fe Railway Station, which had old-fashioned red settees and a cannonball stove. The three were working wrangle clothes. Rhodes had a slightly odd appearance, for he had torn the brim of his hat and had cut out the flopping piece.

Rhodes saw a traveler resting on a settee, a hand on his head. The man was looking up Central Avenue.

"Sir," said Rhodes, "will you please tell me the time?" The fellow ignored Rhodes.

"But," said the rancher who was with Rhodes, "you couldn't ignore, belittle or insult him and get away with it."

Rhodes turned to his companions and said angrily:

"That gentleman apparently is deaf and dumb. If I didn't think he was, I'd beat his brains out."

The fellow still ignored Rhodes.

RHODES COULD HOLD HIS OWN IN CONVERSATION

Gene Rhodes loped into Chuchillo on a half-broken horse. By some grapevine he had heard that two well-known Americans, Dist. Atty. Jerome of New York, who had prosecuted Harry Thaw for murder, and William Kent, head of the Municipal League in Chicago, were stopping on the way back from a hunting trip along the Gila River.

The store and stage owner at Chuchillo, a long-time south-westerner, wondered how he would entertain the two men while they were waiting for the stage to Engel. As it turned out, Rhodes did most of the "entertaining" by arguing with Jerome and Kent.

The storekeeper asked the two travelers if they would have a drink. They said they would enjoy one, and the old-timer set out a bottle of whisky with glasses and ditch water. Jerome and Kent served themselves. Rhodes stood at one end of the small bar, and drank a soft drink.

After drinking some of the whisky and ditch water, Jerome said: "I have drunk worse whisky, but not often."

While the storekeeper was thinking of something to say in defense of his whisky, Jerome broke out and said:

"I don't see why in hell you people want statehood when the

PIONEER DAYS OF MARCH 1958

Recently the REA patrons were asked to write their senators and representatives at Washington and let them know how much rural electrification means to them. Giving the matter some serious thought I wrote them that we had everything the cities have and more for we have modern conveniences and the beautiful mountains for a background. The Washington politicians answered promptly and courteously.

With the recent snows we have had I think I could now write more convincing and realistic letters to Washington! The first snow of the week on Tuesday didn't bother a bit, but the wet snow that hit Wednesday night changed things over night.

By morning we had a foot and a half and still snowing. The heavy wet snow piled up on the telephone and REA lines and that was it. We had neither electricity nor telephones when we woke up at 5:30 a.m. due to the coolness of the house and bed. (When the electric sheet goes off it doesn't take long to discover it).

The greatest discomfort encountered was inadequate heat. Having a gas furnace is nice until there's nothing to make the blower send the heat upstairs to warm the rooms. Luckily the temperature was mild and the fireplace did a fair job of heating the front of the house.

Most annoying was the lack of water. Electrification of the water system is fine until there's nothing to run the pumps.

Without lights, radio or TV it made for a very dull time. No entertainment, news or contact with others makes one realize how many things are taken for granted and until we're without them we hardly appreciate this modern world of ours.

Thursday the snow was too heavy for the mail car to go to Captain. Friday Bonnie McEuen went over and back in the blizzard that arrived Friday afternoon. By Saturday there were 10 foot snow drifts on the highway between Alto and Captain and nothing went that way.

Neither the Captain nor Ruidoso school buses made their run on Thursday or Friday and if the highway north isn't opened by the state highway department the Captain bus can not make its run on Monday.

This all brings up a definite decision on my part. The pioneers can have their "Good Old Days" but give me modern conveniences like lights, central heating, water, radio, telephone and TV.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of the telephone and REA crews service was resumed as soon as possible.

MRS. PEEBLES INJURED IN JEEP MISHAP

Thursday Mrs. Charlie Peebles suffered minor but painful injuries in a jeep mishap on their Little Creek ranch. She was with Charlie and Lawrence east of the house, feeding the stock in the deep snow.

The jeep fell into a deep hole under the snow and threw them into the windshield and back onto the seats.

Mrs. Peebles' head was cut and it required some stitches to close it. X-rays were taken when she reached the Ruidoso hospital to determine her injuries.

She will remain there several days for observation. The men were shaken up but not hurt.

SNOW DRIFTS CLOG ANGUS-CAPTAN ROAD

Tuesday morning of last week we had about six inches of snow that melted quickly and Wednesday afternoon at 4 it really began to snow. By morning we had a foot and a half and the snow continued through the day.

The state maintenance cleared the highway late Thursday evening opening the road from Captain to Ruidoso.

Friday the sky was partly cloudy and by 1 p.m. it started to snow again and about 3 or 4 inches fell by nightfall when it stopped. The wind came up in the night and by morning the drifts were so deep the road was impassable from Angus to Captain.

South to Ruidoso the highway was open but at no time did they have the heavy snowfall we had from Alto north.

The J. B. Hightowers were in Alamogordo for a recent week and visiting relatives.

Geo. Dingwall and Guy Dahnew attended the Road Planning Committee meeting in Carrizozo March 3rd.

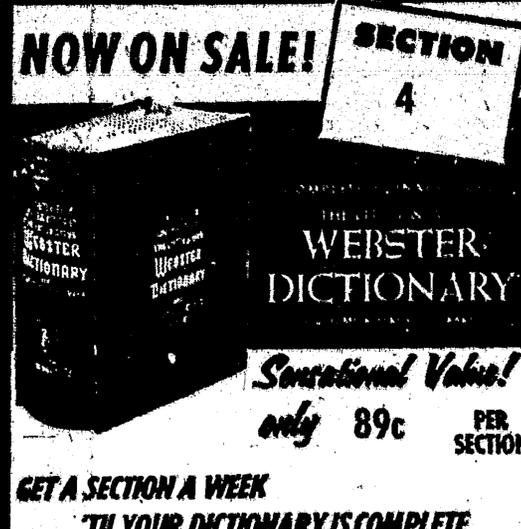

Louise Runnels stopped by on Wednesday on her way to Ruidoso from her Bonito City home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Creel, Prentiss and Barbara Ann were in Roswell for the day March 1.

The work on the Ruidoso pipeline reached its last week in time to add to the muddy conditions.

Demonstrations Given At 4-H Club Meetings

By JANICE McKNIGHT

February 3 Miss Lois Jaaper came to her regular project meeting in the high school library with the girls of the 4-H Club.

Betty Lou Jones and Janice McKnight gave a team demonstration on setting a table.

Frances Jones and Nancy Hall also gave a team demonstration on how to make tortillas.

The regular meeting was held February 5 in the City Hall. Shorty Jones called the meeting to order. Due to the absence of Mary Guck, Mary Ann McKnight acted as secretary.

The demonstrations were presented again with Alma Walker and Esther Otero giving a demonstration on setting a table.

The leaders attending were Beasy Jones and Marie Walker. Milt Jones was a visitor. He had two new members Joy Kay Smith and Sharon Hayes.

Child Needs Storage For His Playthings

Where do you want storage for children's toys? The kitchen, bath, living room, and child's sleeping area are probably the main places. Here are suggestions for giving your child more room for his playthings:

The child needs storage where he plays. This makes it easy for him to "be good" and put his things away. It also keeps things handy for him to use and makes it easier for you to keep the house neat.

Shelves are probably the best storage as the child can learn to arrange things neatly. He can take pride in keeping toys and books in order.

A box can serve as a place to put things, but it doesn't encourage neatness. When his toys are thrown in a box, he's less likely to learn to take good care of them.

If space is limited, you may need to use a rack hung from the wall, but with the top open so he can reach it easily. Similar to the box, it doesn't encourage being careful of the toys.

A drawer in the bottom of the cupboard or dresser can be used, too. Be sure it's low enough for the child to reach easily.

Children like to be near you so you'll want some storage in the kitchen. Let him have a bottom drawer or a low shelf away from the stove and from your busy area.

In the bathroom you'll only need a small amount of storage for tub toys.

A closed shelf or drawer will help keep playthings in the living room neat.

News Notes From Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

"Snow Time Ain't Sugar Time" in the Mountains

Tuesday night we had 9 inches of snow and it was still snowing when we were all snug in bed. Suddenly the little light went out on our electric blanket and soon all over the house we were yelling "Electricity is off!"

We knew that, by now, somewhere, the men who keep our electricity going would be out in the snowstorm, so we had no gripes. "Bout this time our little two-house phone rang; yes, it was Lula: "Hello, are your lights out? We have already put some more blankets on our beds!"

Next morning when we peeked from under the covers we could look out the window and see the boughs of trees almost touching the ground—a beautiful picture.

"Mother!" yelled Robert, "bet the school bus doesn't come today!"

"Oh, boy!" says Benny, "Now I can get out and shoot a bird for the cat with my BB gun!"

Building a fire in the fireplace wasn't funny since all the wood in three days of wet weather got "putrified" damp. We still didn't gripe, though, just thinking of the folks all around who were perhaps depending on electricity for heat—and breakfast. Again we wondered if the faithful men who keep lights going would soon be able to get home and relax.

The snow on our TV wire to the ground had a round ring, meaning 4 inches frozen to it, and our little private phone line broke, but Arvel quickly repaired it.

I thought Robert might go on a strike this day, come cow-milking time. The snow now measured 23 inches and was still falling. After a hot breakfast of elk steak, gravy, biscuits and jelly the little helper was ready to go on his milking chore and Benny went along to feed the horses. They thought it was fun 'cause you see, the barn isn't far from the house.

This deep snow reminds me of the days when we always had big snows in the winter when we Coe kids went to school at Alto. We rode from our home on Eagle Creek four miles to Alto. That was some thirty years ago. Many times the snow would touch the horses' bellies.

The most wonderful Christmas I remember ever having was "at" the Alto schoolhouse during a big, deep snow. We heated rocks in our fireplace before leaving home, wrapped them in gunny sacks and put our feet on them. They kept our feet warm all the way to Alto and back home. We went in the wagon pulled by the mule team we had for many years—"Ole

Tommy Zumwalt from Nogal has pruned Bryan Cazar's fruit trees and Tom Babers from San Patricio was coming to Bonito to prune Frank English's orchard but the snow canceled his trip for awhile.

Sharon Hayes spent the night with Frances Jones in Capitan this week so she could go to the 4-H club meeting. Our little Bonito boys didn't get to go to the meeting because of the roads.

Fred Sweet Jr. and family were here recently to visit Fred's dad. Lately Fred Sr. hasn't been feeling too good, but he is staying close to home and taking care of himself, though it was a little rough passing the time with electricity off a couple of days and he couldn't watch his TV programs.

County Commissioner Emmett Reese and W. S. Campbell from Ruidoso Downs came by Bonito City March 4 after having been to Carrizozo to file for the offices they seek this year — Emmett for commissioner, second term, on the Democratic ticket, and W. S. Campbell for justice of the peace at Ruidoso Downs on the Republican ticket.

Jill, Ira and Wilma June Young put chains on their jeep and started up the canyon to take a few things to Alice Wright on Sunday. There was too much snow and they had to turn back at the dam.

The students of the Hondo High School, under the direction of Superintendent and Mrs. F. S. Montes, have won the love and admiration of the hundreds of people who have watched their past performances.

Their colorful costumes, the grace and poise with which these old-time dances are being preserved, and the enthusiasm displayed by these young dancers, assures everyone of another full house and another outstanding fiesta.

Someone will come see her. Arvel and Ira Young took her a bottle of butane a few days ago. She was OK, but low on wood.

It will be fun sking at the Ruidoso ski course now. The road is always graded to the ski course by the Ruidoso city grader.

Snow now measures 26 inches but has slowed down, so we are shoveling trails to the school bus stop, mail box, barn, clothes line, garage and the fast diminishing wood pile. The snow is so deep and white, it looks like bluing has been added.

Now, as I'm ready to mail this bit of news and snow story, it has in all, since March 3, snowed 31 inches on the Bonito and most of our trails are filled with snow that fell Friday and drifted Friday night.

Rehearsals Start for Mexican Fiesta at Hondo High School

Rehearsals have already started in preparation for the sixth annual Mexican Fiesta to be presented at Hondo by the Hondo High School Friday, April 11, at 8 p.m.

Peter Hurd, famous artist of San Patricio, will be master of ceremonies for the 1958 fiesta. Pedro, as he is called by many of his friends and neighbors, has traveled extensively in Mexico and is admired by many for his excellent mastery of the Spanish language in singing his boleros, huapangos and ranchero songs. Many pleasant evenings have been spent in his home in San Patricio by his many neighbors listening to his Mexican songs.

The setting for this year's Mexican Fiesta is in a square in San Marcos, Mexico, celebrating the feast of San Marcos, which in Mexico comes the latter of April. Being fiesta time, the vendors from the neighboring towns arrive at dawn to display and sell their wares.

Mexican and New Mexican dances, ranging from the Indian and ranchero dances, through rituals and comic dances, to the Mexican National Hat Dance, will give spectators a full evening of entertainment.

Observers of other fiestas acclaim the dances full of beauty and charm. No one who ever sees the Jarabe Tapatio, the El Vals de Los Panos, Chiapanecas, and others, can ever forget the joyful excitement of these masterful pieces.

The students of the Hondo High School, under the direction of Superintendent and Mrs. F. S. Montes, have won the love and admiration of the hundreds of people who have watched their past performances.

Their colorful costumes, the grace and poise with which these old-time dances are being preserved, and the enthusiasm displayed by these young dancers, assures everyone of another full house and another outstanding fiesta.

PONTIAC SWEEPS NASCAR

SAFETY HIGHWAY PASSING TESTS!

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA.

Pontiac again proves it is AMERICA'S NUMBER 1 ROAD CAR

in the year's toughest test of SAFETY, HANDLING AND PERFORMANCE!

HOUSEWIFE VICKI WOOD AND HER '58 PONTIAC taught men drivers a lesson in winning the 50 m.p.h. safe passing event. The stated Mrs. Wood reported, "... our new Pontiac handled and performed like a dream ... so smooth and easy I couldn't believe it!"

Winner of the 50 m.p.h. passing event and high over-all winner of the safety tests with his standard 4-door Pontiac Catalina, magazine auto expert Jim McMichael cracked, "I could have told them before the tests started—this '58 Pontiac is in a class by itself!"

Chances are you'll never be up against the precise and exacting demands that NASCAR puts on test cars and drivers. But you can put Pontiac through your own everyday driving paces and learn why test drivers call Pontiac America's Number 1 Road Car.

You'll discover that the industry's hottest team of engineers has created a car so advanced in basic design that it brings with it a totally new kind of driving. Give the nod to its Tempest 396 V-8 with power trimmed precisely to your wish. Corner it, park it, maneuver it to the point of abuse and you marvel at your absolute command in every type of driving situation.

Come in—drive and safety-test America's Number 1 Road Car. You'll discover it's by far the biggest money's worth on the market!

Using Squeeze Machine For Herd Improvement

During the past week I worked with two ranchers using the wool squeeze machine in their herd improvement program.

S. P. Johnson Jr. was ear tagging each of his younger ewes and squeezing each fleece. He plans to use these records to sort his herd this fall.

Lewis Merritt used the collar and tab method of identifying the ewe and fleece. A standard was set up for each grade of sheep and they were marked, each ewe according to the grade she rated. His number 1 group had 6 1/2 more pounds of clean wool, number 2 group 5 1/4 to 6 1/4 pounds of clean wool and number 3 group under 5 1/4 pounds of clean wool.

Moisture Best in Years
The rain and snow received during the past week has brightened the outlook for spring weeds. The moisture in the ground is the best it has been in several years.

This might be the year for ranchers to think of vaccinating for overeating. Lambs on lush green pasture can very easily be affected and it is usually the biggest best-doing lambs. If you plan to vaccinate, the best way to do it is to vaccinate the ewe 2 to 4 weeks before lambing.

Another method is to feed Aureomycin to help prevent losses.

Liners for Pouring Cement
Among new helps for do-it-yourself farmers are plastic and rubber form liners for use in pouring concrete structures.

With the New Mexico A&M Extension, liners can be bought in a variety of textured surfaces and patterns to give a pleasing appearance to the finished surface.

Also, as the cement does not stick to the new materials, a glass smooth finish is possible. Oiling of form boards is done away with and there is no warping of the forms because of water soaking.

Liners are good for repeated use.

The Market News
Additional moisture during the past week has advanced stocker and feeder prices from 25 to 50 cents higher. Fall contracts reported are choice 700 pound feeder steers at $22 for October delivery; good to choice 450 pound stock calves for fall

Surprise! Two gracious ladies of our county, Mrs. Eileen Lindamood and Mrs. Gwen Dawson, sent me clippings from the Dulose News. Thanks a lot!

Since all this "to-do" about Russia started, I've been reading about its educational system. For one thing, Russia puts much more of her national wealth into education than we do; then she selects her most able students and gives them special courses in science, math and technology.

If the youths chosen succeed in their school work, their college and graduate training are paid for by the state.

Not only that, Russia even pays the students to attend college if they don't qualify for a university, there is the technical, roughly equivalent to our two year technical institute, which the state also pays for. Their teachers are paid more, too.

Can you believe that our average American professor earns just one and a half times as much as a factory worker, while a Russian teacher earns eight times as much as a factory worker? No wonder we're behind! How can we expect to keep up, with such existing conditions in education?

Susan Spencer writes that she will be home in about four weeks for Easter. She says that she'll sure be glad to see all her old friends again!

Mary Alice and Sandra King, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Taylor and Barbara, Dick Harman, Frank Metzger, Clara Nell Burns, Ben Brasher, Harold Adams, and Harley Chard were among those who went to Alamogordo to a Methodist Youth meeting last Tuesday night. They had a very good time, and the Alamogordo kids were wonderful hosts.

By the way, did you see Jack Aldrich's letter in the El Paso Times? According to him, we seem to need more candidates for governor. Why don't you run, Jack? Your dog story reminded me of this one:

Bob and Sue were walking their dogs. They stopped to rest a minute and the dogs started rubbing noses affectionately.

"I wish I were doing that," remarked Bob.

"Go ahead," replied Sue, "it's your dog."

"Well, dog my cats, and I'll see ya next week—Ginger."

"Grandpa, why don't you get a hearing aid?"

"I don't need it, son. I hear more now than I can understand."

Letters to Editor

Editor, News:

We here in the mountains and near Nogal Mesa feel we have been thoroughly neglected by someone. What do you call it—"Pass the buck?"

At any rate the Forest Service tells us the county is supposed to grade our roads. The county tells us the Forest Service is supposed to grade the roads up here and from the looks of the roads, both the county and the Forest Service think Alamogordo is supposed to work the roads, since they own Bonito Lake.

Roy and Tommy LaMay went out Saturday to try and get a grader to come to this part of the world (sometimes I feel that way) to knock the snow out of the school bus could run. On this route nineteen children ride Loss Morris' bus to meet Bonnie McEuen on Highway 48 at Angus.

These boys had no luck finding a county grader but luckily found a state grader and the men were good enough to grade our road from Crockett Canyon up the creek so the bus could run and some of the children can now get to the bus.

We know all of this snow has kept the blades busy, but ours was scheduled to be worked 3 or 4 weeks ago we were told.

Miss Dicks, our State Home Ec Supervisor, plans to visit our Home Ec department Friday, March 14. We always appreciate her visits so much for she is most helpful in outlining our work so we can carry on more efficiently.

Mrs. Brewster Mallett visited our Home Ec department Monday afternoon and expressed her regret for not being able to lecture to the girls on child care because of her moving to Colorado. We regret to lose her and will miss her work so much. Our elementary principal, J. T. Clegg, visited 6th period Home Ec Class Monday.

Clara Nell Burns will demonstrate how to give a hair shampoo and set next Friday. She will shampoo Mary Alice King's hair. Julie Robinson will demonstrate a finger nail manicure on Fay Clark.

Those making A or A-minus this six weeks in Home Ec were Frances Schlarb, Sandra King, Mary Alice King, Sharon Ferrera, and Fay Clark.

Those making B's were Ramona Baroz, Laura Lee Keith, Willie Mae Moody, Pat Sorrells, Cecilia Chavez, Minnie Narvez, Mary Lou Borja, Clara Nell Burns, Angie Grubb, Julie Robinson, Lorene Sanchez, Patsy Long, Helen Vega, Mary Ellen Otero, Belle O'Rear, Ojal McBrayer, and Ruby Keith.

We regret to lose Willie Mae Moody from our home room class who moved back to her parents' home near Houston.

Correction: Lee Adell Baker and Marilyn Harkey will give roses to the teachers Monday, March 24. If anyone ever deserved roses teachers do. Thanks to our FHA girls.

State TB Ass'n Plans Organizational Work

Nearly 30 persons, representing 11 organizations and associations interested in TB, met in Santa Fe recently to work for a unified and coordinated program of TB control in New Mexico. Priority TB problems were set forth as follows:

Public information and education with emphasis for special groups such as physicians and legal groups to counteract the growing apathy.

Follow-up and Case-finding—Members of the group pointed out that there are 400 persons with active TB in New Mexico who are not receiving hospital care. There is an increased need for approximately 30 Public Health nurses to provide more follow-up care to the non-hospitalized patient. There is an immediate need for funds to pay for drugs for both pre and post hospital care of TB patients.

Adequate Hospital Care—There is no indication of a decrease in either the incidence or prevalence of tuberculosis in New Mexico in the next ten years. There is no promise of a new TB drug which will "sterilize" or kill the TB bugs in humans. There should be no expansion of the present facilities at this time, but this does not preclude future development of more acceptable facilities to a desired total of 400 beds.

Rehabilitation—The need for training and education of our tuberculosis patients was forcefully brought home by John Card, director of rehabilitation at Fort Stanton. "To spend thousands of dollars caring a patient of TB and then turn him out without preparing him for a suitable job or vocation is poor medical and business practice," he said.

A Sermonette

By HAROLD C. ELY

"Is Life Worth Living" is a question often asked, especially when everything seems to go wrong. In order for one to find the true meaning of life and how to obtain it he must go to the oldest and yet newest book the Holy Scriptures which is the Word of God.

Jesus said "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." John 10:10. Jesus Christ, who is the key to the Scriptures, is the way, the truth and the life. There are those who would disagree and say "To me pleasure is life." Again we find true pleasures are found in the Lord (Psalm 46:12), proving that Christian religion is a joyful religion. Anything outside of God is not life but death, for He is the source of all life.

Many feel they do not need God because they think they can take care of themselves forgetting it is God that gives the

Services in Alamogordo For Former Senator

State Land Commissioner Murray Morgan and Mrs. Morgan stopped briefly in Carrizozo Monday. They were en route to Alamogordo to attend funeral services for A. L. Dunn, a close friend of the family.

Mr. Dunn lost his life Saturday afternoon when a pickup he was driving overturned on a road near Truth or Consequences.

He was a former senator for Lincoln and Otero County. Services were Tuesday in Alamogordo.

St. Patrick's Day Dinner Carrizozo PTA

The annual St. Patrick's day dinner by the PTA is to be in the Carrizozo Junior High School on March 17.

The Bible says (Deut. 8:18). The Bible says "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." Luke 12:15.

Since all things that are worthwhile come from the Lord we are warned not to forget Him (Deut. 8:11, 18). To say "I have no time for God" is to say "I have no time for life."

Unless we can say with Saint Paul "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain," we are missing the best our Lord Jesus has for us.

You can experience this now and lasting life if you believe in Him. Lord Jesus Christ, receive Him, and confess Him before men. Read carefully the Gospel of John 3:1-21 and II Cor. 5:17. Do this and no one will need to tell you life is worth living, you will know it.

HEADS RED CROSS DRIVE FOR LIFE SAVED

FOLKLORE CORNER

President of the United States appoints better men to office than you could elect to save your lives."

Rhodes replied: "I'll grant you that could be true, but at the same time we're not a bit worse off than the older states."

Rhodes bolstered his remark by mentioning that recently an entire U. S. grand jury had been arrested in Ohio, and that it had become a national scandal.

The storekeeper saw the color rising on the back of Jerome's neck, Rhodes went on to say that a scandal like the Ohio one would never happen in New Mexico.

About that time the storekeeper went into the kitchen to prepare lunch. He heard the argument continuing among the three. When it came time for the stage to leave for Engel, Rhodes asked the storekeeper if he would send his horse into Engel by freighter.

"I'd like to go in on the stage with them and see if they're any different from the common run of cattle," Rhodes remarked. "They never got too big for Rhodes to cross swords with," said the storekeeper.

NOT AFRAID OF BRONCS

"Everyone liked Gene Rhodes," said the old-timer. Gifted though the man was, "no job was too menial or too dirty for him to do on a ranch." Rhodes was a very impulsive person, the old-timer continued, and the cowmen generally "regarded him as an agreeable nut."

Rhodes could ride the worst bucking horse, but he did it with strength and awkwardness, not finesse. He never surrendered to a bucking horse.

"I never saw Rhodes ride a fat, gentle horse of his own," the old-timer said. "He would break a horse and sell it."

This incident was told to the old-timer.

Rhodes was breaking horses. He had four or five staked out at a time and tied to logs in a grassy flat. Rhodes had to take the horses to water. One of them seemed to be more gentle than the rest, and instead of leading the horse to water, he rode the horse with a half hitch around the nose. The pony ran away with Rhodes, and he roped a stump as he went by the run. Horse and rider had a terrific fall. Rhodes said he couldn't speak for some time after that.

Just before Rhodes went to New York State to be married, he got into a poker game at Engel and lost every dollar, as far as the old-timer knows. But, according to arrangements, Rhodes, as shipper, did leave Engel with a shipment of cattle for Kansas City. He asked the old-timer rancher if he had any money and the cowman handed him $35.

"I'll send this back to you as soon as I can," Rhodes said. "If I don't, you go out to the ranch and take any horse you want." Months later the cowman went to Rhodes' ranch and took a horse.

Some years later the cowman

Homemakers' College Scheduled for June

New Mexico AEM's second Homemakers College, featuring the latest practical and scientific progress in modern homemaking, is scheduled for June 2-5, Miss Elsie Cunningham, program chairman, announced this week. Miss Cunningham is state home agent with the College's Extension Service.

The theme for this year's college will be "Looking Ahead with New Mexico Families."

Enrollees in the 1958 college may choose their program from several major subject matter areas such as home management and home furnishings, clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, public affairs, family life, landscape gardening and successful meetings.

To balance out their curriculum, homemakers may select elective subjects such as photography, rocks and lapidary, floral design, crafts, western folk songs, New Mexico pottery, locating and framing pictures, and book reviews.

On the social calendar are luncheons, a banquet and a reception. Swimming, hiking and dormitory parties will highlight recreational activities. Evening programs will offer a variety of curricular as well as extra-curricular activities.

Conducting classes will be specialists and prominent lecturers from all over the United States. General assemblies will feature outstanding speakers on a variety of topics related to home, community, state, national and international affairs.

The New Mexico Association of Home Extension Clubs will hold meetings and conduct workshops in conjunction with the Homemakers College; and on June 6 the Association will hold its annual meeting and elect a president and treasurer.

Women who attend Homemakers College will be housed in college dormitories and will eat their meals in the college cafeteria. The fee for those who attend fulltime will be $3.50 for both in-state and out-of-state "students."

This fee covers payment for classroom instruction, lodging for four nights, linens and the final banquet. Meals will be paid for in the cafeteria line and cost determined by choice.

Over 500 homemakers attended the first Homemakers College last year.

If you are interested in attending, please write the county extension office for additional information. The two ladies from Lincoln county who attended last year, Mrs. Walt Wilson and Mrs. John Allen Hightower, can give more information from the point of view of those attending.

Cattle Growers' Ass'n Convention to Stress Youth Activities

Developing interest of rural youth in cattle production and all phases of the livestock industry is a major undertaking of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, according to Dick Snyder, Clayton, president.

"During our 44th Annual Convention in Albuquerque, March 23-25, special emphasis has been placed on ranch youth activities," Snyder said. He outlined the youth program for the convention as follows:

"Importance of Beef in the Diet" is subject of a panel discussion, which will take place Tuesday morning, March 25 on the convention program. Three outstanding students from New Mexico AEM College will participate. Marcella Doak, Greenville, will serve as moderator and the panel will include Violet Atchley Brockman and Georgia Boyland, State College.

Mrs. Nina Taylor, home economics department of State College, and Phillip Bidegahn, Montoya rancher, will supervise this part of the program.

The Junior New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association will conduct their annual convention the morning of March 24 and plan a breakfast in the Hilton Hotel for all junior members the morning of March 25. Miss Doak is president of the Junior Association.

An "Eat Meat for Health" poster exhibit will be on display on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton throughout the convention. Posters were made by public school students from throughout New Mexico and were entered in a contest sponsored by the New Mexico Meat Institute.

The New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association sponsors a half dozen contests for 4-H and PFA youth, and during the State Fair each year, Snyder said.

County Wool Growers Sweep Wool Show

At the recent wool show held in connection with the wool growers convention, Joe Sken of Picochito had the grand champion fleece. Slaughter ranch the reserve champion, and Walter Jones of Capitan had the champion of the junior show.

In the other parts of the show, Lincoln County growers took 19 ribbons in the first three places. Growers taking first place with their wool were Bob McNally, J. F. Sutherland Estate, Carroll Shanks, Fuller Ranch and J. L. Merritt.

The nautical term "Cumshaw" comes from the Chinese beggar's plea for alms, "Cum-a-shaw." With Navy men, the word has come to be synonymous with graft or take-off.

Wilbur Coes Returns From Vacation In Old Mexico

(Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Coe of Glasco recently returned from a vacation in Old Mexico. The following is an interesting report by Mr. Coe on some of the places visited.—Ed.)

Louis and I just returned from Mexico. We traveled 5000 miles without a single mishap. We entered Mexico at Juarez and returned via Reynosa and Brownsville, Tex. Besides Mexico City and Guadalajara, the first and second largest cities of the Republic, we rambled around and visited many interesting places between here and Acapulco, which is located on the Pacific 300 miles south of Mexico City. Acapulco is the Riviera of the Western Hemisphere.

At Tepoztlan, a delightful spot on top of a mountain near Cuernavaca, in the center of 11 wild Indian tribes, they were celebrating their annual Indian dances, spectacularly wild with constant firecrackers and gunshots.

Another interesting celebration was at San Luis Potosi, where we joined the Mexicans in a great street parade to welcome the new president, Lopez Mateos. The main avenue of the city was lined with horsemen mounted on small ponies and mules. There were a thousand of them lined up on each side of the street—each one wearing a big Mexican hat, chaparras, spurs and blanket and holding a banner of Lopez Mateos in his hand.

While we waited two hours for the president to arrive we were permitted by the police to talk to and take pictures of these primitive people far from their homes in the mountains. They told us they would be paid ten pesos (50 cents) for the two days involved. At close range we said "hello" to President Mateos as he passed and with a big smile he saluted us; perhaps the only American in this great welcoming crowd.

We spent several days at Comanilla, a beautiful hotel about 15 miles out of the City of Leon.

Hot mineral water bubbling from the ground nearby is piped to oversized bathtubs in each room of the hotel and to several large outdoor pools where guests may take a hot swim any time of the day or night. This hotel is operated by a German and the food is very good.

On Highway 80, Mexico, 12 miles out of Antigua Morelos, we stopped at El Naranjo Courts on the beautiful Naranjo river. Up this river about 12 miles from the village of Naranjo, we came upon El Salto, the most picturesque waterfalls in Mexico. These falls are higher than Niagara Falls and just as beautiful.

Near Naranjo we visited one of the large Pasquel cattle ranches. We were taken on a tour of the beautiful ranch home and were shown some of the 8500 fine Brahma cattle grazing on the Fortresses. We saw Brahma bulls that would weigh a ton each.

Being so near Tampico we decided to look it over. We were amazed at the large fields of tomatoes and the busy packing sheds which we passed on the way. At Tampico we drove over in the Gulf over a long pier and saw porpoise playing and jumping in the water, darning the fishermen in small boats to spear them.

Most of the fishing is in the rivers that almost surround Tampico. This interesting fishing resort is less than a day's drive from Brownsville, Texas.

How fortunate we are to have a foreign country, filled with interest, so near to us where one may travel over good highways, with pleasant and comfortable accommodations all along the way.

Some Indian tribesmen believe old elephants never die, because elephant carcasses are so rarely seen, the National Geographic Magazine says. Actually, animal remains of any kind are seldom found in Indian forests, thanks to clean-up squads of ants, vultures, jackals, and hyenas, aided by torrential monsoon rains and occasional forest fires.

Spanish War Vets Meet in Roswell

The United Spanish War Veterans, Department of New Mexico, Clay Green Camp No. 7, and the Auxiliary, held their annual meeting in the Ingalls Memorial Home, Roswell, on March 2, starting at 10 in the morning.

After the two groups completed their business and election of officers for the new year they adjourned to meet at 1 in the afternoon for smorgasbord dinner at the Nixon Hotel.

Commander Herbert M. Reddy of Ruidoso Downs, introduced the master of ceremonies, Commander O. K. Matthews, commander Max Luna Camp, Albuquerque, and aide to the national commander USWV.

The guest speaker, Comrade S. F. Newfield, Albuquerque, adjutant and quartermaster USWA Dept. of New Mexico, gave an interesting and informative talk on veteran affairs.

Auxiliary President Laura M. King welcomed the visitors and expressed her appreciation for the good attendance.

Dorothy Davison, Alamogordo, read an article on the sinking of the USS Maine. This was followed by group singing of songs popular during the Spanish-American war.

After the introduction of Past Department Commander Lewis Brown, the gathering was concluded by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and benediction by Laura King.

Others attending the dinner were Comrades Jim McNeill of Dexter; J. D. Freddy, Portales; E. C. King and Elmer Collette, Roswell; Mmes. Jim and Bob McNeill, Dexter; J. B. A. B. Stroope was born March 16, 1878 at Johnson City, Texas, and departed this life March 9, 1958 in his home at Corona.

He came to New Mexico with his parents at the age of eleven. In his younger years he worked as a cowboy on the Circle Diamond and Diamond A ranches near Roswell.

He came to Corona in 1913. On November 9, 1920, he was united in marriage to Ethel Myers of Cedarvale. To this union was born one child, Zelpha.

He was preceded in death by his parents, two sisters, and six brothers.

He lived an unselfish life, always willing to sacrifice for others, meeting all with a cheery word and a bright smile.

Rev. Bill Lytle of Corona conducted the funeral services at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Lytle in a kind and sympathetic manner spoke words of comfort and cheer to the sorrow stricken family.

Mr. Stroope leaves his wife, Ethel; his daughter Zelpha; and three grandchildren: Clarence, Janell and Bruce; besides a host of relatives and friends. The family were with him at the time of his passing.

Interment was in the Corona cemetery March 11.

We loved him. Yes, we loved him.

But the angels loved him more. And with farewells unspoken A. B. calmly entered home.

Miss Karen Lane Weds Jess Hodges of Corona

Miss Karen Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Lane of 6603 Cochiti S. E., Albuquerque and Jess Hodges of Corona were married recently at Fritch, Tex.

The bride is a graduate of Highland High School, Albuquerque. She attended Eastern New Mexico University, and is a graduate of the Keye Modeling School.

Mr. Hodges is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess E. Hodges of Fitch, Texas, a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, and is on the faculty of Corona High School. The couple will make their home in Corona.

Continuous Snow Interrupts School

Wednesday night it was still snowing, and drifted some during the night. We had at least 15 inches of snow here last week, altogether. Few school buses came in Monday, and school turned out at noon. Tuesday school turned out at about 2 p.m. There was no school Wednesday.

Children Under Five Have Greatest Polio Attack Rate in State

A special effort to have children under 5 vaccinated against polio was announced this week in the wake of new evidence that this is the age group with the highest polio attack rate.

Preliminary figures compiled by the New Mexico Department of Public Health's Communicable Disease Division on polio attack rates during 1957 indicate a substantially higher rate among children under 5 than in other susceptible age groups, according to Dr. Wellington Moore.

Dr. Moore, communicable disease control officer, said that 17 New Mexico children under 5 were stricken with polio last year. This represents an attack rate of 14.0 per 100,000.

Next Highest Rate
The next highest attack rate, 11.0 per 100,000 (11 cases), was in the 5 to 9 age group. The third highest attack rate was in the 10 to 14 and the 20 to 24 age groups, both having an attack rate of 6.7 per 100,000. Six cases occurred among those persons aged 10 to 14 and there were four cases in the 20 to 24 bracket.

"We are still urging persons who are 40 and under to be vaccinated," Dr. Moore said. In emphasizing the importance of adults to receive the vaccine, he noted that six persons between the ages of 35 and 41 contracted the disease last year.

Start Vaccination Now
Dr. Moore said that the Health Department is urging all parents to have their children vaccinated by their private physician or, if medically indigent, at their county health department.

He said that county health departments now have an ample supply of polio vaccine which may be administered to medically indigent persons under 19 and to pregnant women. "Persons who have not yet been inoculated, should begin their series of three shots now, in advance of the polio season," Dr. Moore said. He explained that if the first shot is given now, the second would be due in April and the third in November.

A book shop near the theatre where "The Ten Commandments" was showing in Philadelphia had a window display of Bibles with this sign: "You've seen the movie — now read the Book."

Feature Basketball Faculty vs. Jr. Class

Brownie Scouts Make Label Pins

The Brownie Scouts held their regular meeting Wednesday of last week. Their afternoon was an enjoyable one, making label pins out of corks.

Refreshments were served by Mary McCapthy.

Extension Booklet Gives Pointers On Fruit Sprays

"Fruit Sprays for New Mexico," a new guide to assist New Mexico orchardists with their control of insects and diseases, is now being distributed by the Extension Service, New Mexico A&M College.

John J. Durkin, extension entomologist, author of the publication, states that "A good fruit-pest control program will give greater production, better fruit, and more profit. Good cultural practices—plus chemicals—are the only practical means of reducing insect and mite infestations on trees. For good control," he says, "the right chemical must be used at the right time, in the right way, and in the correct amount to keep the orchard clean and the tree healthy."

In one section, Durkin lists information on promising new insecticides and miticides. Copies of "Fruit Sprays for New Mexico" may be procured free from county extension offices or by writing to the Department of Information, Box 757, State College, New Mexico.

Kennecott Reduces Production Week

Salt Lake City — Kennecott Copper Corporation will reduce its production week from six to five days at its operations in Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Nevada it was announced this week by C. D. Mitchellson, general manager of the company's Western Mining Divisions.

The reduction will be effective at the various divisions during the next two to three weeks. Production will be reduced from the present rate at the divisions by 12.5%, which, with previous cut-backs, will result in a production curtailment from former capacity operations of 29.5%.

The curtailment is made to keep demand and supply more nearly in balance, Mr. Mitchellson said.

INSIDE THE CAPITAL

Adair Gossett, former Carrizozo mayor, came to town with a plan to run for Demo nomination for Congress but didn't do it. He was scared out by State Secretary Natalio Buck who let it be known that she would also file if Gossett got in against her friends Congressman Joe Montoya and John Dempsey.

ODD ENTRIES FOR GOVERNOR

There are two odd ones in the Demo run for governor. Cole Moffett of Albuquerque, unheard of until the primary, specializes on slamming seven-foot Pickett. Robert Dow of Lovington is just a plain mystery in the race. His presence on the ballot is regarded as harmful to John Burroughs of Portales.

Dow tried to run against Judge John Brand a few years ago without being properly registered and it took court action to get him off the ballot. He is a brother of H. Dow, former lieutenant governor.

The Demo run for governor is a three-horse race—Joe Bursley of Santa Fe, Burroughs and Pickett. The first major development in the run is expected to come from the Chavez faction and organized labor. Both were left without an entry when Trigg fizzled. Some see signs of the Chavez strength going to Pickett—but they are only signs.

REPUBS STRAINED
Republicans strained and groaned before completing their ticket a few hours before closing of the entry list.

Among those utilized for ballot places were Tommy Thompson of Albuquerque, a welfare department employee, for Congress; Barney Gardner of Silver City, salaried manager of the party's state headquarters, for land commissioner; George McKim, Albuquerque chairman and sorely needed in that job, for Congress; Ted Cornman of Albuquerque, party treasurer and presently traveling in Europe, for treasurer.

The people at the governor's office finally pitched in and helped complete the ticket after it appeared that some places might go vacant. Gov. Ed Mechem had promised himself earlier that he wouldn't have anything to do with getting the

NEWS IN BRIEF

LEAVES FOR COLORADO

Mrs. E. C. Mallett left this week for Durango, Colo., to join Mr. Mallett. They have a new home under construction, 3 1/2 miles north of Durango on the Silverton highway. Mrs. Mallett invites friends to stop and visit them any time they are up that way.

Recent utility connections by the town of Carrizozo are: L. W. Harte into Albert Scharf rental house; Jas. H. Lostetter at Shaffer Trailer Court; Lois Jasper trailer home at lot in the McDonald Addition, north of the Carrizozo school; Atty. John W. Thompson into Brenton law office; Alfred Smith into Shorty Miller apt.; Don Thompson into Burnet Apt. 2.

Mrs. Gussie Johnson, who is a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital in Santa Fe, underwent successful major surgery Wednesday morning. Mrs. Johnson's niece, Mrs. Marian Schlarb, was in Santa Fe Tuesday to be with her.

State Sen. J. G. Moore also entered St. Vincent's Hospital Monday for medical treatment.

4-H Club Named 'Happy Homemakers'

"The Happy Homemakers" is the new name selected by members for the Carrizozo 4-H Club. President Margaret Pino presided at a meeting of the club on March 12. Carmen Pino was elected cong leader and Rosa Torres reported.

Irene Barela gave a demonstration on how to wash dishes. The next club meeting will be Friday, April 4. A demonstration will be given by Rosa Torres on how to set the table.

The girls will bring materials for their projects, pillow cases and duct mats. Martha Serna and Esther Torres will be the hostesses.

DISTRICT COURT

State vs. Ronald Larkin and Allen Shaw, charged with allowing themselves to be served alcoholic beverages. Entered plea of guilty. Fined $25 each.

State vs. Gordon Slinner, charged with reckless driving. Entered plea of guilty. Driving privileges restricted for 90 days; probation 6 months.

District court convenes March 20, Judge George T. Harris of Roswell presiding. The jury is to report for duty at 9 a.m. on the 21st unless otherwise notified. The case on the docket for March 20 is State of New Mexico vs. Gerald E. Thompson.

In district court Wednesday of last week several witnesses were called by both parties in the case of State of New Mexico vs. Lloyd Vigil, charged with serving liquor to a minor.

Following conclusion of testimony at 3:30 in the afternoon Judge Allen D. Walker found the defendant guilty and assessed $100 court costs; also a fine of $100, suspended on condition of no further violation.

Cases against two who were charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency were dismissed. They were State vs. Goodson and State vs. Gipson.

Ticket together, DEMOS COME BACK FOR SECOND DISH

The Demo list is marked by the number of aspirants coming back for more of the job they held in the past.

Tom Wiley wants more of the school superintendent place; Bob Castner is back again for auditor; Cecelia Tafoya and Beatrice Roach Gettleb are trying for a return to the state secretary office; Dick Robinson wants more of his old attorney general place.

Murray Morgan, the Demo land commissioner, looks like he is being punished with opposition because he backs Johnny Walker against Sen. Chavez. Lee Downey of Carrizozo who is running against Morgan was urged into the race by Chavez friends with promises of support.

RAMBLIN' AROUND

ed at the idea of surrender. They told me also, to rest easy and not to be alarmed as no harm would come to me from them.

They sent me out with a note demanding to know who the leader of the party was, and invited him into the house to talk the matter over. Carlyle, the leader of the White Oaks party, at first objected.

Greathouse putting himself as hostage for his safety while he was in there, he took off his arms and walked into the trap. In the meantime I was backward and forward between the two parties, carrying dispatches.

Getting hungry about 11 o'clock I went into the house to rustle up a dinner. I found Carlyle getting under the influence of liquor and insisting on going out, while the others insisted on his staying.

While I was getting dinner Mr. Cook, Greathouse's partner, carried dispatches between the camps. For some reason the White Oaks boys became suspicious; things were not as they should be with their leader, and they decided to storm the fort, therefore sent me word by Mr. Cook to come out as war would commence in earnest.

I stepped outdoors, intending to go to some safe place and witness the bloody conflict. After being out Cook called me to stop a moment and he would go with me.

I stopped and turned when a crash, a man came through a window. Bong! Bang! the man's dying yell, and poor Carlyle tumbles to the ground with three bullets in him—dead.

I started to run away from the house, with Cook behind me and toward a barricade of the White Oaks boys when they commenced to shoot at us, and so did all the other boys behind the different barricades.

About 60 or 75 shots were fired at us, bullets flying from all directions, and I began to feel decidedly uncomfortable — was afraid some of them might hit me.

I thought it was a ground hog case and I had better be the ground hog, so I jumped several feet in the air, threw my hands up over my head and fell flat on my face and lay there.

Cook, behind me, thought it was a good scheme, so he imitated my example. After three or four more bullets came by very close to my head the firing suddenly stopped. We crawled out amongst the boys when they told us all was a mistake; they thought we were making a feint to cover the retreat of the desperados.

That is about all there is to the trouble at the Greathouse ranch. Cook and myself went that night to Abel's ranch, about three miles from there and returned the next morning. We found poor Carlyle frozen stiff where he fell, tied a blanket around him and made a hole a little toward the east from where he fell, and buried him the best we could. He was afterwards taken up and put in a box by a sheriff's posse.

No more at present, I remain, yours truly, J. Steck.

If all the cars in the nation were placed end to end, some fool would pull out and try to pass 'em.

A stringless violin was displayed in the window of a secondhand shop. A sign on it read: "This is yours for $35—no strings attached."
