Lincoln County

(The News... dedicated to the Wheeler...)

EARLY DAYS
IN LINCOLN COUNTY

Billy the Kid was sentenced to be hanged at Lincoln on May 13, 1881...

Two days before the killing of the deputies, Ollinger and Bell, Garrett had occasion to again warn Bell of getting too close to the Kid...

Garrett pushed Bell aside and warned him of the danger of passing too near the Kid with his gun exposed...

"You don't think I'd do a thing like that," said the Kid laughing.

The day before the killing of Bell and Ollinger by the Kid, Sheriff Garrett was called to White Oaks on business...

Just now the Kid killed Bell is not known, as both of the participants in the tragedy were dead and there were no eye-witnesses.

Ollinger had gone to dinner, leaving Bell to guard the Kid. During Ollinger's absence Bell was killed. In the room upstairs there is yet to be seen a bullet hole in the floor...

In the stairway are yet to be seen three bullet holes in the wall; as only one shot struck Bell, two of the Kid's shots missed the mark...

The Kid then went to the room used as an arsenal by the Sheriff and securing a double barreled shotgun and went to the window of the southeast room of the court house upstairs...

"Look out there," the Kid said to Ollinger. Just as Ollinger looked up, the Kid fired both barrels of the gun shooting Ollinger through the heart...

He then called Sam Wortley, who was the gardener at the jail, and forced him, by threats of shooting him if he disobeyed, to go downstairs and get him a file from the storeroom...

While Wortley was getting the horse ready the Kid sat out on the front porch of the court house, up stairs, and filed the shackles from one of his feet leaving the other on Wortley's back...

The horse upon which the Kid escaped belonging to W. O. Bert and it was afterward returned to Mr. Bert.

While the Kid was out on the porch filing off the shackles whenever a person would show up on the street or in doorway he would command them in a strong language to get back, which request was obeyed...

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1939

(Outlook, Volume 52, No. 38)

Re-signing at Intersection and Status Of Red Canyon Discussed by C. of C.

J. A. Kennedy, traffic services engineer for the State Highway Department, has recommended that traffic safety measures be taken in Carrizozo at the intersection of Highways 54 and 380 at the overpass.

His suggestions were made by letter to T. H. Card, district engineer at Roswell, and a copy was sent to the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce which some time requested additional safety precautions at this point.

Marvin H. Roberts, C. of C. president, presented the letter to a meeting of the board of directors last Thursday night.

The recommendations include re-signing the junction, installation of additional caution signs at strategic points, stenciling stop bars on the pavement and investigation into lowering posted speed limits at the intersection.

Mr. Roberts also presented for consideration a letter from Congressman Joe Montoya regarding the status of Red Canyon Range Camp. The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Roberts: Mr. M. H. Roberts, President Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce Carrizozo, New Mexico

Further reference is made to the correspondence you addressed to me in Santa Fe with respect to Red Canyon and Oscura Range Camp. I have done considerable checking on this matter, but I have delayed writing you until I had what I could feel were reasonable assurances.

Colonel Walters of the Air Force tells me that as of today they have no plans to drop either Red Canyon or Oscura. He says that the Nike missile firing under the auspices of Fort Bliss will be moved to McGregor Range since they want it near Fort Bliss, but he informs me that White Sands Proving Grounds has use for Red Canyon to fire other missiles, and he says everything including personnel at Oscura will remain at approximately the same level.

I am always a little cautious about these unequal assurances, and should any adverse information come to your attention, I wish you would let me know. With my kindest personal regards and best wishes, I remain Sincerely yours, /s/ Joseph M. Montoya

The survey will determine the varieties and production of apple orchards in New Mexico and will provide valuable information in assisting the marketing of apples.

Another goal of the Council is to improve the overall quality of apples in the state.

The Las Cruces organizational meeting was the first annual meeting of the Council. Attending from Lincoln county were Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, W. G. Shreevogost, Tom Babers, Walter Linscher, Clarence Wheeler, Ralph Dunlap, commander and that he was not in the habit of having his orders disobeyed.

Services in Capitan For Edd Downing

Lincoln County lost one of its most prominent citizens in the death this week of Edd Downing, Capitan ranchman, who died Sunday in St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell. He had been in ill health for several months.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon, January 20 at the Capitan Baptist Church with Rev. Pat Henderson of Fort Stanton and Rev. J. M. Kerr of the Capitan Baptist Church officiating. The Ballard Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Interment was in the Capitan cemetery with graveside rites by the L. O. O. F.

Edd Downing was born in 1897 at Jackboro, Texas. He had been a Lincoln County ranch owner for 39 years and during that time was active in farm and ranch affairs. He was a member of the Wool Growers Association and was on the board of directors of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau. He was a member of the Odd Fellows.

He is survived by his widow, Lora Downing, two step daughters, a brother, three sisters, two nephews and by four nieces.

County Legislators Are Minority Leaders In Both Houses

Two Lincoln County members of the State Legislature have been named minority floor leaders in both the house and senate.

They are Republicans Glen W. Bradley, State representative, and J. G. Moore, State senator.

Representative Bradley has been named to committees on taxation and revenue, the transportation committee, rules and order of business and the printing and supplies committee.

Senator Moore is a member of the committees on committees, the rules committee and public affairs committee.

None in Lincoln County over the week end, Rep. Bradley said the legislature was still in the process of getting bills printed and that committee work would start in earnest the first of this week.

He said he would like to discuss with the people of Lincoln County any legislation that they are interested in.

4-H Award Night in Carrizozo Friday

The Lincoln County 4-H Annual Award Night is to be in Carrizozo Friday, January 23, at the L. O. O. F. hall, starting at 7:30 p.m.

A film on the National 4-H Congress will be shown and plans made for the coming year.

COLD IN YELLOWSTONE PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Robinson and family have returned to Tower Falls (Yellowstone National Park) after a week's visit with Lincoln County relatives. While here they received word that the park had experienced some 38 degree below zero weather.

Plan to Treat Nogal Lake Saturday

Plans are being made by the State Game Department this week to treat Nogal Lake this coming Saturday.

Game Conservationist Charley Bird informed the News yesterday that the lake will be rotenoned to rid it of rough fish, as was planned some time ago.

Cold weather at that time froze the surface of the lake, making it impossible to apply the insecticide, Mr. Bird explained.

The lake is now open and unless it freezes over again the treatment will be started Saturday morning.

It will probably be after noon before the fish come to the surface, Mr. Bird says, but any who wish to come earlier and lead a hand with boats, or otherwise, will be welcome.

Fire Department Elects Officers

At a meeting January 15, officers of the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department were elected. They are:

Arrell Posey, chief; Duff May, first assistant chief; Pick Warden, second assistant chief; Mervyn Smoot, secretary; Manuel Ortiz, treasurer; Joe Ventura, fire marshal and Jess Garrison, assistant fire marshal.

The board of directors are Kimo Ortiz, Charlie Hodgkin, B. G. Barnum and Tom O'Rear.

Another Oil Test Well Started Near Capitan

A driller from Odessa, Texas, was reported this week to have started an oil test well on the Pearson ranch near Capitan.

The location is across the highway from the Rodeo Bar.

Pipe has been brought in to case the first Bullay test well, two or three miles north of the Rodeo Bar. There have been good oil indications in this well at a depth around 1700 feet, it is reported.

A third driller plans to put down a test well early this spring.

H. RAY BAKER.

Empire Editor of Denver Post, is one of the principal speakers during the New Mexico Press winter convention to be held in Alamogordo January 23-24.

Mr. Baker, who is one of the nation's top authorities on typography, will conduct a brief type clinic during the Alamogordo convention.

'Dimes' Basketball Game Was Success

The March of Dimes benefit basketball game Tuesday night was a great success, according to Mrs. Marvin H. Roberts, who sponsored the event.

She estimates that about $200 will be realized for the polo fund, $63.75 of which was made from the auction of nine cakes to adults and two smaller cakes to the children. The latter brought $3 and $5.

NO CRIMINALITY IN DEATHS OF THESE VANDALS

An unfortunate occurrence during the evening was acts of vandalism on cars of Service personnel who were taking part in the fund-raising activities.

Radio antennas on three cars were wrecked and the air let out of the tires on another car.

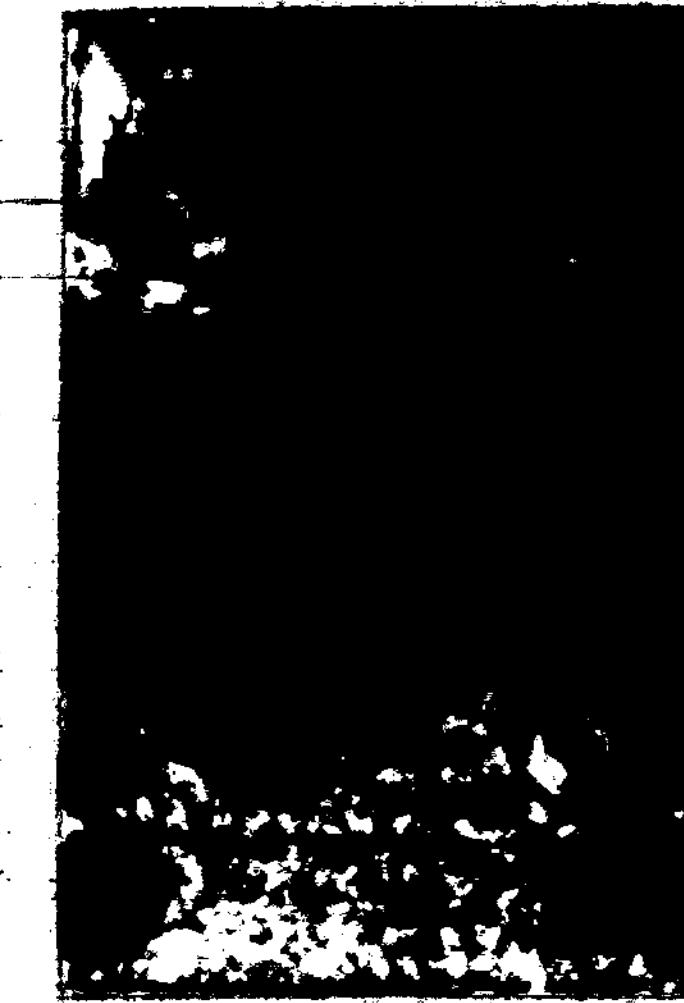

The vandalism has been reported to the authorities.

Highlight of the evening was the game between the Carrizozo "A" squad and the Red Canyon Rockets, won by the Grizzlies 58 to 34.

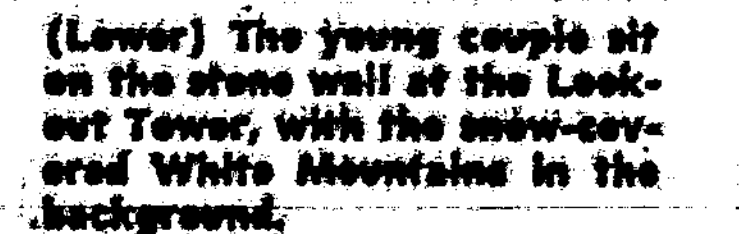

The rocketmen gave a very good account of themselves, considering they had no practice together as a team.

Mrs. Roberts asks the News to express her thanks to the referees, auctioneer, ticket sellers, ladies who baked the cakes, the "B" squad cheerleaders, and all others who helped in the success of the benefit.

Noted Criminologist to Be Speaker at Lions Club Tenth Anniversary Party

Captain Al Hathaway, noted criminologist, will be guest speaker at the Lions Club Tenth Anniversary dinner next Thursday evening.

Capt. Hathaway who is nationally known for his work with the "polygraph" (lie detector) will demonstrate the use of it in detecting crime to the Lions and their ladies and guests at the anniversary dinner to be held in the lunch room of the Junior High school.

Capt. Hathaway is retired from the Albuquerque police force because of a heart ailment but has probably done more for the prevention and punishment of crime since his retirement in 1933 than any other single person in New Mexico.

He is the only official polygraph operator in this state and is constantly in demand for his services and for his advice in solving crimes.

Capt. Hathaway received the "Policeman's Award of the Year" for his work in solving a murder. He did this while under an oxygen tent recovering from a heart attack.

Many of his solutions and stories of his work have appeared in national magazines such as True Detective and others dealing with police activities.

Rev. Homer Reid, program director, says for wives to make a list of questions they'd like answered by their husband — Capt. Hathaway will get the truth out of them, with the polygraph — however, he said the original "lie detector" was made out of a man's rib — and you can guess who that was, can't you?"

A telegram was received by the Capitan mayor and board of trustees this week from Senator Clinton P. Anderson announcing the approval of a sewage treatment plant for Capitan, totaling $47,523. The federal contribution to this sum is $12,712.

W. F. Turvey & Associates are Capitan's consulting engineers on the sewage project.

Acts of vandalism are also causing the town of Carrizozo considerable annoyance and expense. Street lights are being broken and every time an electric meter is willfully destroyed it costs the town from $25 to $30 to replace.

It will be a public service for any citizen to report such an act of vandalism to the town authorities.

Putting solid objects into telephone booths such as broken glass, bottle caps, and pieces of tin, is also definitely not in the public interest. Such objects have been appearing at the sewage disposal plant and could cause a major stoppage in the sewer line.

Responsibility of parents for the actions of their minor children was established by a law in 1937. Two cases have been filed in district court, as reported in the Albuquerque Journal:

"Two suits have been filed in two separate courts aimed at collecting damages from parents on account of actions of their minor children.

"In small claims court, James and Helen McBride sued a couple identified as "Mr. and Mrs. Gunn" and asked $200 for damages to the McBride residence at 129 La Plata NW. The McBrides claim the Gunn children broke into their home June 23, 1938, and damaged it.

"In district court, Ernestine Evermon asked $1250 from Fred Ramirez and his son, Fidel, and said Fidel took her car from 1410 Grand NE last October 18 and wrecked it near San Fidel, N. M.

"A 1937 law permits such suits under a parental responsibility law for malicious acts of minor children. The law sets a limit of $300 plus court costs to be collected in such cases.

"A court observer said the suits are the first to be filed here under the 1937 law."

A total of $25 has been contributed to the Hazel Melanof fund.

Any who wish to add to the fund, may make their contribution to Johnson Stearns at the town hall. Next week the money will be sent to the account of Miss Melanof at a Carlsbad bank.

We are enclosing money for renewal to the Lincoln County News for another year. We are enjoying the paper very much and find the paper continues to improve.—Fred Burleson, El Rito, N. M.

INFORMATION WANTED

Does anyone have information about a brochure on Fort Stanton, printed in 1912?

Dr. H. C. Jernigan of Fort Stanton would like the loan of such a copy or he would pay a nominal sum for it.

Senator Clinton Anderson announced in Washington last week that Danna Kustanovich, Albuquerque newspaperwoman, will join his staff beginning February 1.

Miss Kustanovich attended school in Capitan and is a graduate in journalism of the University of New Mexico. She has been on the staff of the Albuquerque Journal since 1935.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kustanovich, formerly of Fort Stanton, now of Albuquerque.

Miss Kustanovich has completed her flying training and is a pilot—one of the very few with "jet" experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Kustanovich left Albuquerque with their daughter last Saturday, helping her drive East.

Editor, News:

I have been here in Fort Smith, Ark., since Nov. 6th but expect to return late in February. I've had a wonderful visit and seen some of the loveliest autumn colors one could ever imagine.

I'm truly enjoying the mild winter weather and have had the pleasure of a visit to Eureka Springs. It truly is picturesque in a dozen different ways. I also visited Natural Dam, located about 25 miles out of Fort Smith. It is all rock, high enough to back water three-quarters of a mile up Leo's Creek, and wide and smooth enough that people drive cars over it (when there isn't too much water flowing over the top).

It truly is something I shall remember. — Ethel Keathley, 4609 Grand ave., Fort Smith, Ark.

Hi Teensters — Boy! Those semester tests sure were rough. I just about died, how about you? Gee, isn't our new English teacher nice? She comes from a long line of teachers as well as being from Texas. Anyway, her mother is a teacher and her father a principal.

I hear the new band teacher is really something, too. From the talk going around he is handsome as well as single!

I am glad to have this opportunity to welcome two wonderful young people into our school system. There is always an unhappy side to any new change in a situation like this. Losing Mr. Riggins is that side. We will certainly miss you, Mr. Riggins, and when you get to feeling better we hope you will come and visit us.

Well now, how about a letter? Dear Pam—I am fifteen and I have a real swell girl friend. I go out with her brother and anytime I break up with him, she gets mad at me. — L.B.

Dear L.B.—Does this girl friend feel the same about you? Does she think you are real swell? Why don't the two of you have a good heart to heart talk and see if your friendship can't be just be-

Oh by the way, GI Joe, everyone is wondering if you came to MYF. Come on in and enjoy yourself with the other boys from the base.

Did you hear about the little girl warned to be on her best behavior when company came. And was her mother upset when she asked the caller her age. And the tactful reply was, "I'm just as old as your mommy." Her mother relaxed a little too soon.

After a short pause the little girl replied in a quite grown-upish voice:

"My, you're large for your age, aren't you?"

"He Sees Tax Cut If Budget Holds."—Headline. Only a taxpayer hopefully addicted to unmitigated optimism would pin a hope on this "if."

Self-service elevators are dangerous, fellows. Recently a man caught between floors with a girl in an elevator of this type that stalled, innocently struck up a conversation with her, and in less than two months she had led him to the altar.

In recognizing Castro's Cuban government, the U.S. not only acted expeditiously, but, more to the point, expediently.

"Henry Wallace suggests that health and intelligence records be kept on everybody in order to improve posterity."—Press report. An excellent idea. Our descendants must be a big improvement over us, if they are to pay the enormous debts we're handling on down to them.

Castro could have picked up a sizeable check by offering to appear on an American television commercial and have his beard shaved off by the sponsor's electric razor.

"Man Killed by Suicide Victim."—Headline in the Beaver (Pa.) Valley Times. This is news of the first water, as it is exceedingly rare that a suicide victim misbehave.

"Mrs. Blank was treated at the hospital for injury to the angles."—From a news story in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. Skinny dame, eh?

It seems a large percentage of Americans believe in living dangerously. For example, the consumption of cigarettes increases at about the same rate as evidence piles up that smoking is injurious.

"You evidently think that all politicians are crooks," some one post cards us. Oh, no, we don't. We believe a few of them are comparatively honest.

Another reason a youngster considers adults dumb is that any grownup who sees him after not having seen him for a year or so is surprised silly at how much he has grown.

"Broken" is too mild a word to express the condition of most New Year resolutions. A more appropriate word is "shattered."

Even yet, now and then somebody says something flattering about television programs. The other day a critic said that most of them are mediocre.

As water is supposed to be wear-proof, the man who said he fished in one place so many years he wore a hole in the water was probably lying.

"Harvard anthropologists discover ancient purple bones in Argentina."—Press report. This may help answer the question as to which term is correct: Purple people eaters or purple people-eaters.

This world is an expensive and hazardous place to live in, but it's well worth the trouble and danger imposed, just to observe the funny antics of the so-called human race.

"It's said that poets are born, not made—And thus the blame on heav'n is laid."

"There are four kinds of women a man should be aware of," says a judge. Most of us men had been thinking there was only one kind we should be aware of—those who wear dresses.

"Do you know how to avoid getting lost in a swamp?" asks a writer in a sportsman's magazine. Yes indeed.

"Investigators have been unable to find out how the umbrellaer spent $75,000 in a year."—From a news story. Maybe he is a heavy eater.

Teensters
Union No. 1
By PAM REID

Hi Teensters — Boy! Those semester tests sure were rough. I just about died. How about you? Gee, isn't our new English teacher nice? She comes from a long line of teachers as well as being from Texas. Anyway, her mother is a teacher and her father a principal.

I hear the new band teacher is really something, too. From the talk going around he is handsome as well as single!

I am glad to have this opportunity to welcome two wonderful young people into our school system. There is always an unhappy side to any new change in a situation like this. Losing Mr. Riggins is that side. We will certainly miss you, Mr. Riggins, and when you get to feeling better we hope you will come and visit us.

Well now, how about a letter?

Dear Pam—I am fifteen and I have a real swell girl friend. I go out with her brother and anytime I break up with him, she gets mad at me. — L.B.

Dear L. B.—Does this girl friend feel the same about you? Does she think you are real swell? Why don't the two of you have a good heart to heart talk and see if your friendship can't be just be-

Oh by the way, GI Joe, everyone is wondering if you came to NYE. Come on in and enjoy yourself with the other boys from the base.

Did you hear about the little girl warned to be on her best behavior when company came. And was her mother upset when she asked the caller her age. And the tactful reply was, "I'm just as old as your mommy." Her mother relaxed a little too soon.

After a short pause the little girl replied in a quite grown-up plain voice:

"My, you're large for your age, aren't you?"

Goodbye and see you next week. — Pam.

News Notes from Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Payton from Roswell are taking a little vacation in Rulidoso Downs and came to Bonito City to look the country over. Elmer logged some thirty-five years ago for Jim Hogland up near the mouth of Argentine Canyon. The country had changed some as he remembered it. We drove up in the country and he told of some interesting adventures hereabouts. Once when he and his family lived in Mesalero he roped a big buck deer while out riding the range. The buck had only one antler. Elmer snubbed him to trees, dragged him and outran him until he got the buck near home. Then he and his son Roy took the deer the rest of the way

NOGAL NEWS

By ROSALIE DUNLAP

This Tuesday morning it is very snowy and stormy. At noon Nogal already had 2 to 3 inches of snow. Mrs. Rosalie Dunlap and Mrs. Blye Cox gave a March of Dimes coffee Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. It was very successful and we wish to take this opportunity to thank all the ladies who helped to make it successful.

We were very pleased to have a group of ladies from Carrizozo, Nogal and Bonito. Also to have Mrs. Paul Baker of the Lincoln County News and Mrs. Jane Turner, our county chairman for the March of Dimes. The coffee brought in $34.

Floy Skinner returned from his second trip Friday to T. or C. in a few weeks.

He had a grand time sitting in the hotel visiting with old friends and making new ones. Among those he saw were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cochran, (Mrs. Cochran is the former Eva Copeland) and L. D. Cain. On Thursday he had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Truit, formerly of the Bonito. He reported fishing wasn't very good, at least for him.

I've had so many people ask about who the Hubberts are, so here goes.

Lloyd and Eva Hulbert grew up in Lincoln County, mainly Lincoln and Carrizozo.

Eva is the former Olivia Kennedy of Carrizozo. Her family were her brother Jesse, sisters Lee, Mae and Pearl Kennedy.

Eva and Mae were school teachers. When Mae first started teaching she stayed with the A. B. (Bowen) Zumwalt, Sr. family and taught some of the Zumwalt children, Wayne and Chloe (Peters) among them.

Bertha Greer had talked to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Frye and family in Chicago.

Judy and Tommy are liking their new school better but Judy says she really has to work.

Molly says it has been cold but in her last letter last week they had a warming spell — it was 10 above.

They are busy getting settled in their new home, are getting acquainted and are liking it more every day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sifton went to Carlsbad Friday to visit a close friend, Mr. J. A. Herfort, who is seriously ill in a hospital there.

Albert May has been visiting relatives in Alamogordo and is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bivens and family in Lordsburg.

Friends of Marshall West may be interested to know he is in an old folks home.

Mrs. Ruth Aguayo of Belch has been visiting friends and relatives the past 10 days.

Mrs. Faye Wooten returned home from the hospital Thursday. She wishes to thank everyone for the many cards and their thoughtfulness during her stay in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Zumwalt and Mrs. Ted Zumwalt and Lisa were Artesia visitors last week, returning home Friday.

We express our heartfelt sympathies to Mrs. Edd Downing and family.

Lincoln loses another long time rancher and friend in the passing of Edd Downing on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Greer visited the Randall Greer family and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hulbert last Wednesday through Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sharpe of Hixton, Colo., are the proud parents of a baby boy, born January 14.

Kelth Sharpe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sharpe who have mining interests at the Helen Ray.

Mrs. Joe Bivens and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. May and family from Medicine Bow, Wyo., Mrs. R. D. Douglas and family, Mrs. Johnny May and family were up over the Christmas and New Years holidays. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert May.

Value of Fleeces Discussed in New NMSU Bulletin

Value of wool, computed by the "Top Turnout" method, showed no significant differences between yearling and mature fleeces when measured on a per pound of clean wool basis, Dr. Wm. D. McFadden, assistant animal husbandman of New Mexico State University Experiment Station, reports in a bulletin.

The bulletin, just issued by State University, is entitled "Value Differences in Mature and Yearling Fine Wool Fleeces."

"The wool trade," McFadden says, "has long differentiated between yearling wool and mature fleeces of the same grade. Yearling fleeces are said to have a 'wasty' top and, in general, are discounted (on a clean basis) by buyers in the western United States."

McFadden said that because no direct comparisons of value between the two fleece types had been made previously it was considered necessary to investigate the differences "as a part of an over-all inquiry into the factors which give value of New Mexico fine wool."

The research showed that both greasy and clean fleece weights were greater for mature than for yearling fleeces mainly because of the smaller size of the yearlings and the fact that the yearling fleeces had only an 11-months growth against 12-months for the mature ones. Measured fineness of the yearling wools was significantly finer than the mature. Length of staples differed between the two groups but this was accounted for on the 11 and 12-months basis.

The research dealt with both production and marketing, and manufacturing factors.

Bulletin 430 may be obtained by writing to the Department of Information, New Mexico State University, Box 757, State College, N. M. or at county agents' offices.

IRS Requires SS Tax Paid On Farm Labor

If you're a farmer or rancher-employer and have one or more agricultural employees, then Ernest W. Bacon, New Mexico, district director of Internal Revenue Service, has some questions.

"Have you paid an employee $150 or more in cash wages during 1953, or has the employee performed agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days during 1953 for cash wages figured on a time basis?"

If your employees meet either of these two tests you must withhold social security tax from the cash wages paid to the employee at the rate of 2 1/2% of such cash wages. This 2 1/2%, together with another 2 1/2% representing your share—as the employer, must be sent to the IRS district director in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mr. Bacon says that if you find that you are subject to this tax, you're required to file a return, Form 943, with the district director before January 31 of the year following the year covered by the return.

IRS recommends the "Farmers' Tax Guide, 1953 Edition," for non-technical explanation of income tax rules. It's free for the asking at Revenue, or from your agricultural agent.

Farmers' Tax Guide Available at County Extension Offices

The 1953 edition of the Farmers' Tax Guide is now available at county extension offices in New Mexico. C. R. Keaton, extension economist with New Mexico State University, said this week.

The publication is written in plain language and explains most of the income tax rules which apply to farmers and those who have tax questions about farming.

The economist said it should be of invaluable assistance to farmers when they prepare their income tax returns for the calendar year 1953 or fiscal year ending in 1953.

The booklet contains numerous examples to show how the rules work in actual situations. It also reflects the 1953 changes in tax law.

The Farmers' Tax Guide is prepared by the Treasury Department Internal Revenue Service. It is available free of charge to farmers and others who request a copy.

Four New Mexico 4-H'ers to be Honored

Four New Mexico 4-H'ers, two boys and two girls, who have shown outstanding ability in leadership and community service will represent New Mexico club members at the National 4-H Club conference in Washington, D. C., June 13-19.

Names of county nominees must reach the State 4-H Club Office at New Mexico State University, State College, not later than January 31, according to Miss Tiny Faye Jones, associate state 4-H leader.

Nomination forms are available at county agents' offices. Each county may nominate one boy and one girl. A state judging committee will review county nomination forms and select the four state delegates. Their names will be announced by March 15, says Miss Jones.

YOUR JOB

By REV. CHARLEY SPARKS

I guess that the greatest job in the world, the greatest skill, the greatest profession, and the greatest call of God is your job if it is good. Your job is more than a way to make a living. It is more than just eight hours of work. It is more than a paycheck. Your job belongs to God, for you in your way are helping to build the Kingdom of God here on earth.

God created this world for man to live and work within. God created you to live and work for Him and His world. God created your job for you to help fulfill His promise and to bring His Kingdom into reality.

Out of all the good jobs in the world that needs to be done, and out of all the good people in the world, God has called you to do your job.

He expects you to fulfill and complete your mission in the highest performance, in the highest glory, and with the greatest spiritual attributes that can be attained by one image-bearer of God.

Your job belongs to God. You must not fail, you cannot fail to magnify the God-given importance of your job, to beautify your job as a Kingdom builder, and to dignify your job with all the spiritual images that one soul can contain.

Your job is important. There are two immediate and Divine reasons why this is true. First of all, God took a chance with you. He dared to implant within you a part of His glorious and Divine image—believing that you would not fail Him when life had to be lived, when a job had to be done, and when a Kingdom had to be built.

Secondly, God further took a chance by placing within you the Kingdom of God—hoping that you would not let Him down when the going got tough by destroying His Kingdom with selfish methods, with an impudent mind, and with dishonor and shame.

You belong to God, your job belongs to God, and your soul belongs to God. Let God be your boss tomorrow as you go to work or as you stay at home, and live as an image-bearer and a Kingdom builder. Take Christ to work with you and He will bring you home a happier person than you were the day before.

And when Sunday comes, why don't you go to Church and try His way, and take time to thank God for His blessings.

Mrs. Wingo's 4-H'ers have been interested in a variety of projects. The girls have taken clothing, baking, food preservation, crafts and livestock projects; the boys have worked on range management, tractor maintenance, electric, beef cattle, crafts, sheep and swine projects.

Many youth have been trained in junior leadership, and are now assisting other clubs. In addition her 4-H members have enthusiastically supported and contributed to community and county civic programs.

Magazine Article Tells About 'Slave Blanket'

The story of a rare and beautiful "Navajo Slave Blanket" from the village of Punta de Agua on the slopes of the Manzano Mountains is told by Joseph H. Toulouse Jr. in the February issue of Desert Magazine, now on the newsstands.

Toulouse was in this area several years ago supervising the excavation and stabilization of the Mission of San Gregorio de Abo ruins.

There are only about a dozen known "slave blankets", he reported, and it was his good fortune to find one at Punta de Agua.

It had been woven by the mother of Senora Manuella Otero — a Navajo girl who had been captured by villagers in the Estancia Basin while attempting to escape from the Bosque Redondo where the Navajos had been confined by the Army.

The Navajo girl — Guadalupe Salaz — later married one of the villagers. Her daughter had two blankets woven by the Navajo girl — one a typical Spanish-American "Rio Grande" blanket, the second the rare striped slave blanket.

Army Bazooka May be Answer to Hard-Rock Miner's Dream

SOCORRO, N. Mex., Jan. 13.—An improved method for mining the world's minerals — using the same penetrating technique which made Army Bazooka warheads so effective — is the goal of a research project now underway at the Bureau of Mines Division of the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology.

The project is under the direction of Dr. Carl F. Austin, 26-year-old geological and mining engineer.

Dr. Austin is making research studies of lined-cavity shaped charge explosives on the firing range in the Socorro Mountains three miles west of the NMIT campus and at other localities in the state, including the famous Jackpile Mine near Laguna.

Dr. Austin said the best known example of shaped charges are the warheads of Bazookas which were used to pierce the thick armor plate of tanks, reinforced concrete blockhouses as well as other targets.

He said virtually all research to date on shaped charges has been for the military. Of 1800 scientific papers he has been able to locate on the subject, all but about 50 were classified secret and thus unavailable for commercial use.

Dr. Austin said that as far as he knows he is carrying on the only investigation into the use of shaped charges for mining in the United States.

For the laymen, Dr. Austin explained that the term, shaped charges, refers to the shaping of an explosive charge in such a manner that the force of the explosion can be concentrated in a limited area, thus creating a tremendous local force which punches holes in such materials as armor plate, concrete, or in the case of mining, hard rock.

The early Incas may have had the first shaped charges. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the Peruvian Indians recorded debts by tying knots in colored cords at definite intervals.

The up-to-date house has wall-to-wall carpeting, wall-to-wall windows, and back-to-the-wall financing. — Changing Times.

This 1959 Ford Country Sedan is one of six models in the Ford station wagon series. Ford station wagons are available in two- and four-door models, accommodating six or nine passengers. The new, longer Ford station wagons have a cargo space that is eight inches longer and 11 cubic feet greater than in 1958. The second seat has a locking device that prevents the seat from folding forward in a sudden stop, and the foam rubber cushions from the third seat can be removed and used as ground cushions.

MEXICO TODAY

By KARL GUTHMANN

(Former publisher of the Rey Record who, with Mrs. Guthmann, have a winter residence in Guadalajara, Jalisco Mexico.)

In Mexico where sacred holidays are all too numerous, Christmas has real emphasis and many are the drives to raise funds to provide treats for the underprivileged children who throughout the year receive no gifts, except possibly a few centavos from the hand of a sympathetic tourist. Leading the organizations which conduct the gift programs is the Lions Club; reputedly the foremost civic organization in Mexico, and they are aided by various other civic and church groups.

Driving down the main thoroughfare, Juarez avenue, one day last week end was mystified by the thousands of cases of soft drinks — 7 Up — which were placed about six feet apart in the center line of the street and stretching for more than 20 blocks. Inquiry disclosed that the soft drinks had been placed free of charge by the bottling company, of course as an advertising stunt — but with a penalty attached. In the event a car driver even as much as brushed one of the cases, a fine was levied, commensurate with the driver's ability to pay, and this went into the Christmas fund.

Saturday was the occasion for opening of the Woolworth store on the busy corner of Calle 16 de Septiembre and Avenida Juarez and throngs of curious Mexicans milled about the store and its six floors of parking space above. This is the second American chain-enterprise to enter Guadalajara, with the Sears store starting business only a few years ago. The story hereabout is that Woolworth had a difficult time in retaining the trade name; certain Mexican leaders insisted on a name to identify it with Mexico and it was only after appeal was made to heads of the government that the huge perpendicular sign at the building's front reads "WOOLWORTH".

Inquiry inside the store disclosed that it would be operated strictly on the Mexican plan, this manifest by placards throughout the store proclaiming that 97% of the merchandise on sale were products of Mexico. Further, that there would be none of those frills so popular in Estados Unidos — coffee breaks — which are paid for by the consumer or taxpayer.

From 2 to 4 each afternoon comes the siesta hour, the period when the Mexican worker breaks for coffee, alpa Nescafe, Coca Cola, Pepsi Cola or some other soft drink, or possibly has a sandwich — all on his own time. Back on the job at 4 he works thru until 8 and is home for dinner at 9.

Strange to the tourist in Mexico's second largest city is the almost negligible number of crimes attributable to juvenile delinquency. For instance, this city with a population about five times that of Albuquerque has less than one-tenth of the juvenile delinquencies. Hub cap thefts and tire slashings are unknown to Mexican youth and never is he involved in an automobile accident. This latter for the reason that the youth cannot secure a license to drive; quite different from the dispenser practice in vogue in Estados Unidos. And for the adult, securing of a driver's license here is no simple process. Written, oral, and practical exams are given in addition to color and signal tests, the half-day ordeal being described by many as equivalent to a pre-entrance college test in the States.

Telephone installations, quite rare throughout the city a year ago, are now fast growing in numbers, due to a drive being made by Telefonos Federal, the Department which manages all communications, both telegraph and telephone, government owned.

Noticeable to this writer was that although the greater part of the new telephone equipment was produced by the Bell Company the trademark reads Antwerp, indicating that it was manufactured

Gran Quivira Visitation Continues to Increase

Visitation to Gran Quivira National Monument during 1958 increased by almost 1,000 persons over the previous year, according to Channing Howell, superintendent. Recorded for the past year were 9,051 visitors, compared to the previous high of 8,061 persons during 1957. Visitors were recorded from every state in the Union, including Alaska, plus the Territory of Hawaii and 12 foreign countries.

The imposing ruins of two Spanish mission churches at Gran Quivira give silent testimony to the one-time importance of this former Pueblo Indian village. When the Spaniards first began to colonize New Mexico, over 350 years ago, they found at Gran Quivira a thriving village of 1,500 people.

The pueblo had a strategic importance because of its location on the frontier between Pueblo territory to the north and west, Plains Indian territory to the east, and Apache territory to the south. Not only did it serve as a minor trading center, but also acted as a "buffer" between the warlike Apaches and the more peaceable Pueblos. The Spaniards realized this, and soon established a large mission there.

Whatever plans the Spaniards may have had for further development of Gran Quivira as a base for Spanish operations, however, were not realized. Misfortune plagued the Indians, and the entire village was abandoned less than 50 years after the mission was established.

New Car Sales

Highest in December

LANSING — Oldsmobile new car sales in December were higher than for any month since June of 1950, Jack F. Wolfgram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and a vice president of General Motors, reported recently.

"Our dealers delivered over 37,000 new Oldsmobiles to their customers during December," said Wolfgram, "to establish a monthly sales record that had not been matched in the past 2 1/2 years."

abroad — no doubt on account of the high cost of American labor.

It's just 7 in the morning and the fourth lad of under-teens has been turned from the door with the word that the car was washed twice yesterday. Shoe shines and car washers of juvenile age are a veritable pest—but here the kids must work or go hungry instead of mooching on Dad's America. Lucky indeed is the kiddo here who can own his own bicycle—he just doesn't believe the stories told about Estados Unidos, a land where unfortunate is the tot who doesn't boast a steering wheel or two.

IRS Lists Rules For Deducting Taxes

"If you itemize deductions on that Federal tax Form 1040, you can deduct most state and local taxes. However, Federal taxes are never deductible except for those paid in connection with a business or profession," Ernest W. Bacon, New Mexico district director of Internal Revenue Service said this week.

Other deductible taxes include those on personal property, state income, real estate, state or local sales, state gasoline, state capitation or poll taxes, and auto license fees.

Non-deductible taxes include Federal excise taxes paid on your personal expenditures, such as taxes on theater admissions, furs, jewelry, cosmetics, transportation, telephone, etc., Federal social security; water taxes, hunting licenses, dog licenses, auto inspection fees, and taxes paid for another person.

Mr. Bacon said that if you had state income taxes withheld from your salary, or if you made estimated state income tax payments under a pay-as-you-go plan, you can deduct such amounts.

REAL ESTATE TAXES

Whenever real estate is sold, the deduction for real estate taxes is apportioned between the buyer and seller according to the number of days in the real property tax year that each held the property. The tax is apportioned to the seller up to but not including the date of sale and to the buyer beginning with the date of sale, regardless of the accrual or lien dates under local law.

If you are a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative housing or apartment corporation you can deduct your proportionate share of the real estate taxes paid by the cooperative. In most cases, you are not permitted to deduct taxes assessed for pavements or other local improvements, including front-porch benefits, which tend to increase the value of your property.

SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES

Social Security taxes paid on the wages of your maid or other domestic help are not deductible. Neither can you deduct Social Security or Railroad Retirement taxes withheld from your wages by your employer, nor may you deduct any self-employment tax you may pay on your earnings from self-employment.

Mr. Bacon advised taxpayers with questions regarding the deduction of taxes paid, or any other matter on their Federal income tax return for 1958, to telephone or visit the local office of Internal Revenue. Taxpayer Assistance Day every Monday is the best day to get such help.

Corona Plans Recreation Center

At a town meeting last Friday night, a special committee was formed including the following persons: Herb Estes, chairman; Ronnie Ray, Ivan Carnell and Bill Lytle.

The committee was delegated to choose the site location, start building plans and direct the program of the recreation center.

At a called meeting of the Corona Village Council, the special committee was recognized and the possibility of locating the community center on the property directly adjacent to the present Village Hall on the south was discussed.

By common agreement between the Village Council, the Fire Department and the Recreation Committee, it was decided to use a part of the above lot for the recreation center, leaving enough room next to the village hall for a double garage to house the two fire trucks.

Donations are now being received by the Special Committee named above for the purpose of erecting a building, both for general recreation purposes and a bowling alley.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rivera of Albuquerque announce the arrival of a daughter, Lydia Troyce, born January 8. The Riveras have two sons also. Mr. Rivera was manager of the Texaco station in Corona, and formerly from Encino. He is now employed in Albuquerque.

Little Sara Ann Donovan, daughter of Sally (Pfeiffer) Donovan, had a party Sunday celebrating her first birthday. Guests were her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Hillemyer; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pfeiffer; great-uncle Ben Roberts, and great aunt, Dell Roberts. Also Mr. and Mrs. Willis Strode and daughter Susie of Alamogordo and the Ken Roberts family from Belen.

Billy T. Mitchell of Tularosa, editor of "Common Sense" a political publication for New Mexico Republicans, was a visitor in Corona one day last week.

Gertrude (Watson) Allen is again in charge of Corona Service Station which she owns and had leased to Pete Porter. She returned from El Paso where she has been living for the past few months. Walter Bryan is helping out at the station.

Corona Baptist Church News

By MRS. FERN SHAW

Members of the Corona Baptist Church are busily engaged in redecorating the parsonage and making some improvements in the church building prior to the arrival of the new pastor and his family.

Rev. Don Baker, Mrs. Baker and little daughter, Sara will have their first Sunday with us Feb. 1.

Each church member is urged to attend services at ten o'clock and then participate in the basket dinner which will be served as a part of our welcoming reception for the Bakers.

Rev. W. F. Taylor of Estancia will preach for us Sunday, January 25. All members are asked to come and take part in preparing for the arrival of our new pastor and family.

"We would like to have 100% attendance of our church members on Bro. Baker's first Sunday with us. It can only be done if each member accepts his responsibility. Won't you accept your challenge and come? This is an opportunity that you will have only one time. Come and worship in the church you chose to join."

Plans for the annual Sweetheart Banquet are progressing under the leadership of Mrs. Everrett Damer as general chairman.

Visitors are cordially invited to attend all our services.

WAK DECLARED! WHO'S FIGHTING?

SANTA FE, Jan. 20 — Sen. Dennis Chavez' telegram declaring that "the fight starts right now for 1960, so do your damndest!" has raised the question around here of who's he fighting.

The message was addressed to Ed Felter, Santa Fe legal associate of U.S. Rep. Joe Montoya and attorney for organized labor who isn't running for anything in 1960 that anybody knows about.

It sounded like the old senator is getting ready to go all out against the state Democratic administration headed by Gov. John Burroughs who is currently punishing the Chavesites in the firing and firing at statehouses.

CLINT ANDERSON, JOE MONTAYA

Chavez, possibly jealous of the rapid rise of Congressman Montoya, could be playing at him, too, and he might also have in his sights the Chavez families who have obtained an annual lease with Chavez ever since he went to the Senate in 1945. Anderson is up for re-election next year.

The complete text of the Chavez telegram, filed after Felter and other representatives of organized labor had agreed to give up the fight to retain jury trials of workmen compensation cases in a conference with Governor Burroughs, was this:

"If you, Tom Robles, J. B. McCoy, greedy and selfish office holders, prefer insurance companies to the laboring people of New Mexico, go to it. The fight starts right now for 1960, so do your damndest."

Robles is secretary of the state AFL-CIO organization, McCoy is a union official elected to the legislature last November. Our Clint is the biggest workmen's compensation insurance operator in New Mexico.

Insurance companies for years have fought the jury trial system of workmen's injury cases because of the large awards often given by juries. Chavez sent a copy of his telegram to Anderson.

OUT IN THE OPEN FOR FIRST TIME

Since Chavez has been in the Senate (started 1935) he has fought or dragged his feet on more Democratic candidates for governor than he has helped but always while claiming party regularity.

Some observers think that maybe this time the old senator (71 April 8), buttressed by six years of security in the Senate, may make a wide open fight on the Democratic state leadership which he has opposed, under the table, for so long.

SMALL GROUP KEEPS SECRETS

Up until a couple of hours before the nomination of Frank Tutsch of Silver City and Joe Kastler of Raton, Republicans for the highway commission, statehouse reporters and other snoops hadn't heard a word of their consideration. It topped off a long series of surprises sprung by Burroughs without advance leaks. The record of secret-keeping indicates a very small group in the governor's inner council. It is regarded here as consisting of Harold Leonard and Paul Case of Albuquerque, Dick Valdez, the governor's handy man, and perhaps Charlie Spann, Albuquerque lawyer.

CHAIRMAN'S WORK ALL IN VAIN

Red faced chairman; Jess Mitchell of Colfax who went to Springer at what he said was the governor's request to get suggestions for the board of the Springer boys school. The locals, pondered, consulted and recommended John Wright, J. W. Wilketh, Bill Miller, Max Moss and Harry Smith. Five other guys were appointed.

THEY FIND JOBS FOR THEMSELVES

Among the payroll chairmen: Ed Richards of Union, Charlie Shelburn, Catron, D. K. Kelly, Albuquerque; Jess Mitchell, Colfax; Ruben Miera, Sandoval; Johnny Vigil, Santa Fe; Filo Sedillo, Valencia; Emilio Narvaez, Rio Arriba; Larry Garcia, Mora. Mrs. John Romero, wife of the McKinley Demo chairman, is state license agent for the county. A couple missing from the state payroll are Ernesto Paralta, sheriff of Socorro, Apolonio Duran, San Miguel treasurer, J. B. Martinez of Tusa has been trying but with no luck.

It is rather evident that to date this winter about twenty have been
