Writer Calls Two States True Heart of All Southwest

New Mexico and Arizona, defined as the heart of the American Southwest, are "an experience to be shared, a romance to be loved, a beauty with which to wander," says Jack Schaefer in the March issue of Holiday magazine.

A resident of New Mexico and author of the novel, "Shane," Schaefer challenges other definitions of the area encompassed by the name "Southwest."
"There are definitions by the dozen," he writes. "Some expand it eastward to take in Texas; others northward to include part of Colorado and Utah; still others westward to the coast. Nonsense like that robs it of all unity except a vague geographical kinship. My Southwest consists of New Mexico and Arizona."

He recalls the American territorial days when these two states, roughly what they are today, were a single piece—New Mexico Territory.

"This is both the oldest and youngest part of the continental country," Schaefer writes. While it is the site of the atomic city of Los Alamos, here also, is where the aboriginal inhabitants, when the countries of Europe were just coming into being, had already developed a culture that endures, not much changed, to this day.

"Three cultures exist here now, side by side: Indian, Spanish-American and American. These three have played out the old familiar story of man's inhumanity to man," Schaefer says, "yet each culture retains much of its individual character and integrity." Nowadays, to a surprising degree, the peoples of the three live together with an increasing shared tolerance that is slowly conquering the animosities of past injustices, he adds.

Here is a land of infinite variety, the article says, which also suffers deficiencies, primarily the lack of water. But out of its poverty it creates its riches.

"Just a simple increase in the average annual rainfall and my Southwest would cease to be," writes Schaefer. "Its strange rugged mesas and ridges and mountains would soften and diminish into the rounded hills and elevations of other regions. Its mesas, plains, deserts would become prairies inviting the plow. The splendor of its sky would shrink to the overcast of moister areas. Its sunlight would lose much of its golden glory. Its wilderness would give way to fast-spreading settlement. The living presence of history would dwindle, the exhibits of the mighty outdoor museum crumble away, the land be overrun by us Anglos disregarding, pushing aside, creating the other cultures."

Territorial Governor Helped Negotiate New Mexico's "Conquest"

When President Lincoln appointed Dr. Henry Connelly governor of the Territory of New Mexico in 1861 he chose a man already recognized as a leader.

Connelly, merchant and freight hauler, was selected to run for governor by the state constitutional convention, and was elected, according to an article by Calvin Horn in the March issue of New Mexico Magazine.

However, Congress refused to grant statehood at that time and Connelly had to wait 10 years to become governor — and then by appointment.

Horn cites Connelly's important role in General Kearny's negotiated "conquest" of New Mexico in 1846. As personal emissary of the Mexican governor, Manuel Armijo, Connelly conferred with Kearny at Belknap. Following which, Armijo cancelled plans for defending the capital and departed for Mexico.

Governor Connelly effectively rallied state forces to oppose General H. H. Sibley's Confederate invasion and co-operated with General Canby in the campaign, the article says.

This is one of the series of articles Mr. Horn is writing for New Mexico Magazine about the territorial governors.

The purposes of the almighty are perfect, and must prevail, though we erring mortals may fail to accurately perceive them in advance.—A. Lincoln, (1864)

Teensters Union No. 1

By PAM REID

Well! Well! It would seem that we've got a "wildcat" by the tail on this question of dancing! How interesting, though. Each person who has written in is sincere and really believes in what they say. Let's get at it. Here are the letters—and they speak for themselves:

Dear Pam: Your column the past week brings tears to many eyes. One reason is, your father being a Methodist minister. Ministers are to bring the good news of the gospel of Jesus-Christ, not down-fall of youth. Your father needs to read and preach Matthew 7:6, or Matthew 7:13-23. I was raised a Methodist. My father was a Methodist steward. You could not be a Methodist and dance, play cards, or attend picture shows, and I think it should be that way today... Baptists do not dance! Baptists are not a people of the world, they are people of God... Kneel on the dance floor with a lost person and pray until he is saved and you will break up the dance, Salvation is not of the dance floor. I am a Baptist. Why not publish the tract Don Baker sent you? May God have mercy on the church members who dance—Jesse Allen, P. S. You may publish this.

Dear Jesse Allen: Thank you for your letter. I read it with much interest. I hope you will read the letter that follows since it comes from East Vaughn too. Of course I couldn't print your entire letter because of the lack of space—and for the same reason I couldn't print the entire tract on dancing—I did give the address where it could be obtained. I hope you will write again.—Pam.

Dearest Pam: I have read your column with a great deal of interest. What a wise father you have! He is not only leading you in the right direction, but he is encouraging you to think and speak for yourself. I thought perhaps you would like to hear from an older person—someone who loved to dance and did dance when I was younger. How very right you are that one can sin in any form of entertainment. How well we all know—the sorrow and heartache a group of supposedly Christian gossips bring to a lot of wonderful people and to a lot of wonderful children. They should read St. Matthew—7th Chapter. I am glad that "Our Heavenly Father" is our Judge. Aren't you, Pam? I know when I have pleased God—don't you?

I agree with you Pam that if one loves to dance—their heart is so filled with love and joy—that sin just could not enter in... Pam, perhaps those that feel there is real sin in dancing have never known the joy of dancing. They perhaps were deprived of ever learning the great art of the rhythm of dancing.

It is the same in fine arts—literature and classical music. Those who have never had the privilege of studying the fine arts—their too are missing so much in life. The happiest days of my life—are the dances that my folks and their friends got up—they took their children. The children danced with the grown-ups as well as with each other. We didn't go out to parked cars because our folks were there to supervise us. We didn't want to—we were having fun. Square dances, waltz, fox trots, etc., and at midnight—our parents served coffee and sandwiches. We stood around the piano and sang. What great fun and a memory I will always cherish: "A Family That Prays Together, Plays Together, Stays Together..."

Remember always Pam—we all found many good things in this world when we came into it. Let's leave as many good things as we possibly can for others. I think God will be pleased—and I don't think he will frown on young people having fun dancing when it is a good clean, Christian dance. One that has almost reached the half-century mark—but I still think our world is great—and that our younger generation is great. Believe me I do.—Sincerely, Lela H. Sims (East Vaughn, N. M.).

Dearest Lela: Thank you so much for your letter. I only wish I could publish it all. It is wonderful and so full of understanding and faith. There are so many letters this week and I want to publish them all—but I don't think my editor can do it. I'll just submit them and let him use what he can. But I did want to put your letter in because your attitude is so much like mine and so much in the true spirit of Christianity as I've been taught it.—Pam.

Dear Pam: I say, if you don't believe in dancing and still go out to dance because everyone else does—you're a hypocrite. You either believe in it or you don't. My folks is that I do; but my folks don't. What do I do in that case?—"Puzzled!"

Dear "Puzzled": As long as you are under age and being supported by your folks I suggest you do what they think is best.—Pam.

Dear Pam: So much fun over nothing! All these opinions on dancing or anything else is not going to make a bit of difference. They who want to dance are going to dance—whether it's against their religion or not. That's the trouble with most church-people today—they're still living in the dark ages. I don't think it makes a bit of difference in your character if you dance or don't dance; if you eat fish on Friday or don't eat fish; if you eat ham or don't eat ham—all this is of such little importance. I'm surprised you'd use up so much space on it!—"The Martian."

Dear Martian: Mars is the God of War isn't he? Well, brother, you are really starting one! You sound "out of this world"—better get back to earth. It happens that the things you mentioned are very important to a lot of people.—Pam.

Dear Pam: I must agree with Don Baker on the dancing question. You say that it is a "form of self-expression"—so is smoking, so is drinking, so is playing cards—and if you really want to be "broad-minded" about it—so are murder and rape and a few other "self-expressive" activities! Just because it is self-expression doesn't make it right. There are some things we shouldn't express and the dance, as I've observed it, is not the kind of self-expression that is wholesome or very edifying. I think you are influencing many young people in the wrong way and I just hope it causes no trouble. There are enough bad influences confronting our teenagers already. Yes, I'm a Baptist—but one who really lives what he believes—and dancing isn't one of them! I'm signing my name but I'd prefer you didn't publish it—as my children think I'm an old fogey and maybe I am. What do you think?—"Old Fogey."

Dear "Old Fogey"—I don't think you are, but I do think you are an extremist. Anyone who can classify dancing with murder is a bit radical, to say the least.—Pam.

Dear Pam: In spite of all the talk against dancing—kids are going to dance, like it or not! Shouldn't it be done under the proper supervision and in a proper manner? I'd say it is not going to do any good to condemn dancing, because people are going to dance. Since dancing of some sort has been going on for thousands of years—and among the "best" people—there must be something to it. Something that is worth preserving. Let the "blue-noses" rant and rave, the world goes on in spite of them—"Joe" (you know who)

Dear Joe: No I don't know "you know who"—because I know about 20 Joe's, but since your letter was from Albuquerque, I can imagine. Thanks for your opinion.—Pam.

Dear Pam: Looks like a lot of people have wasted a lot of time learning to dance. I'm assuming the "ban on dance" includes modern dance, ballet, top, soft-shoe, acrobatic, and all other types as well as ball room and square dancing. Right? Well, I guess 20-million Americans are on their way to h-l. There's no accounting for tastes. Some folks just don't dance. Others do. George Washington did (minuet), Abraham Lincoln did (country dances), and (ahem!) I do!

I swim, fish, bowl, play tennis, and drive a car—and expect to continue to do so. Like the Englishman who objected to the nude dummies in the store windows you mentioned—it's just what you are looking for—look hard enough and you'll find it. I hope you get a lot more comments on this—I'm real interested.—"Man of Distinction"

Dear "Man of Distinction"—One thing you do that George Washington never did—that's drive a car. Otherwise you are just alike! Forgive me, but you asked for that! I really appreciate your letter. Sorry I couldn't publish it all.—Pam.

Mr. Editor: This is awfully long, I know—and I had to leave out some letters that I would like to include. You'll just have to pare this down to fit, if necessary. See you next week.—Pam.

RICHER WITH DEPTH
A correspondent of the Denver Mining Reporter, signed "Old Quartz" in speaking of the value of deep working, says:

"I suppose it is presumptuous for a plain old prospector to put up his ipsi dictum against such eminent authority as Professor T. A. Richard, state geologist, etc., etc."

Mr. Richard in his address to the students at Golden said "mines do not grow richer with depth."
The deepest mine we ever saw was in Nevada at Virginia City about 3,000 feet deep. The largest and best ore body in that mine was below the 2,000 foot level.

I have failed to see or read of any very rich ore found in mass and in place in Cripple Creek above the 500 foot level. The large and rich ore bodies in Leadville are be-

Tigers Place 3rd in Cardinals Capture District Tournament

By C. JONES AND LOCKHART

The Capitan Tigers, who weren't supposed to do anything in the District 5-B Basketball Tournament, knocked off Carrizozo and Ruidoso Wednesday and Thursday nights. This moved Capitan into the semi-finals against Eunice, defending state champion in basketball. They fought Eunice into an overtime before going down to defeat 64-59.

In the final seconds of regulation play, Smith of Capitan hit three quick baskets to tie the game. Kerr, Capitan's leading scorer, fouled out in the last few minutes and Capitan was without his services during the overtime.

Kelley hit a quick basket for Eunice in the beginning of the overtime and the Cardinals stalled the ball. The Tigers had to foul to get the ball and Eunice didn't miss their freeshots in the overtime period. This gave them an overwhelming lead and a 64-59 victory.

Kerr led Capitan in scoring with 18 points before fouling out while Kelley and Pippen hit 24 and 23 points respectively for Eunice.

The defeat by Eunice put Capitan against the loser of the Dexter-Hagerman game for third-place in the tournament.

The Tigers met the Hagerman Bobcats Saturday night and earned the third-place trophy by a score of 51 to 45. As usual the Tigers started off slowly, trailing until the final period. In the fourth quarter Capitan came to life, scoring 19 points to the Bobcats' 11. With the 51 to 45 victory Capitan took home the third-place trophy for the District 5-B Basketball Tournament.

Kerr again led the Tigers with 22 points while Barnett paced the Bobcats with 13.

Tigers 52, Ruidoso 47

Archrivals Capitan Tigers and the Ruidoso Warriors met Thursday, Feb. 26, in the District 5-B basketball tournament at Roswell. The Tigers had lost to Ruidoso three times before in the regular season. They came from behind in the third quarter to win by a score of 52 to 47.

The Tigers started slowly as Ruidoso led at the end of the first quarter 13-0. The Warriors kept their four point lead in the second quarter as each team scored ten points.

The game broke wide open in the third quarter. Capitan came out of the half, scored three quick baskets and went on to outscore the Warriors 19-8, earning a 38-31 lead. Ruidoso came back in the final period, scoring 16 points to the Tiger's 14. Capitan met the challenge and held their lead to win a 52-47 victory.

Kerr led the Tigers with 17 points, followed by Smith with 14. Reynolds was the big gun for Ruidoso with 20 points.

TRACTORS NEED REAR-VIEW MIRRORS
A rear-view mirror on a farm tractor is a good safety device. Some New Mexico farmers have already found this to be a very satisfactory aid to safety in the field as well as on the highway.

Rear-view mirrors enable the farmer to keep his attention on the road ahead and at the same time make it practical for him to view traffic approaching from the rear.

low the first contact. Gilpin and Clear Creek counties show larger and richer and more continuous ore bodies in their lower levels than they do in their upper working.

The old theory held by many was that the first 500 feet of a vein was all that was worth working. That rule was probably true when the miner had to work with a windlass or horse whim, or pack his ore up a ladder on his back. But in these days of modern machinery when you can get a hoist that will elevate five tons of ore, 5,000 feet in a minute.

I think it has been demonstrated that the third, fourth or fifth 500 foot lift is worth all that there is above and we will leave it to the record of the deep mines for proof.

Cardinals Capture District Opener

The Mountainair Mustangs were completely subdued by a spunky Cardinal five in the opening game for both teams of the district 3-B tournament. The hardwood machine of Coach Moses ran at top efficiency in dropping their rivals 53 to 46.

Jay Willingham turned in a sterling performance by holding the Mustang ace, Wendell Gilliam, to only 12 points. Willingham kept a hand in Gilliam's face constantly pressing him so close that Gilliam couldn't get balance to fire his lethal jump shot.

To make things even worse, Gilliam was assigned to cover Jay Willingham. This was Willingham's day, as he was so hot with his jump shot he could have scored consistently with a medicine ball.

Willingham spent most of the first half looking eye to eye with Gilliam and shooting over his head or shaking loose to hit from the top of the key. The majority of Willingham's shots were taken from 20 feet out and he was sudden death to the Mustangs as he hit 65% in the first half.

This began to break the Mustangs. But the crusher was added in the second half when Johnny Erramouspe, the Cardinal guard, found himself alone at 30 feet from the basket and no Mustang ever bothered to cover him.

Erramouspe cocked for a "two-hand set shot as if to say, "Excuse me, is this the way it's done," and delivered the coup de grace. At this point the handwriting could be seen on the wall.

All five Card starters played superbly. Willingham ended with 26 points and fellow Sophomore Lee Mulkey took up the slack in the second half hitting 8 points.

OLOS 59, Corona 56

The power-laden OLOS Mustangs remained undefeated in the 3-B district tournament by capturing a 59-56 verdict over the Corona Cardinals.

As for the Cardinals, the old bugaboo of inability to hit from the charity stripe came back to haunt them. Corona hit a frigid 61% from the free shot line on 14-23 as compared to the Mustang's scorching 81% on 13-16. The score at half time was 29-

"Lil' Smokey" Taken to Duke City for Vitamins And Physical Checkup

Charley Bird, our resident game warden, Mrs. Bird and their two children, and our baby cub bear went to Albuquerque last Sunday, for several days. They will take "Little Smokey" to the veterinary to have her checked and get the necessary vitamins, etc. We are trying to keep her healthy and strong as she has a big role to play in our community history.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Hall of Albuquerque spent some time here this past week making plans for the Ranchers Camp Meeting. They visited many people and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Gil Peters. They also visited Mrs. Henry Peebles, Mrs. Dorothy Guck and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox and Floy Skinner at Nogal.

H. C. Otero is another one who has improved the looks of his place and our town by trimming his trees.

Bill Holmes left Sunday the 22d for Old Mexico, where he is going to spend several weeks visiting interesting points.

Charley Pfingsten, who was our home town boy but has been gone for many years, was a guest at our dance. He has a very lovely daughter and son, who were with him. It was grand having him with us, and he regretted not seeing more of the old timers. Do come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Armstrong and sons spent last week end in Alamogordo with relatives.

Mr. Wilson, who works on the dam construction job for the Armstrong Construction Company, fell and seriously injured his left leg. Forms fell on top of him. He will be on crutches for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMarr Bailey are the proud owners of a 1953 gray Cadillac.

29. At the end of the third quarter the score read 49-41 in favor of the Mustangs.

The Cardinals slowly hacked away at the Mustangs lead and with less than one minute went ahead 56-55. The Mustangs then hit two quick sets to give them a comfortable lead.

Lee Mulkey, Sophomore, slumped from a terrific 65% shooting clip to a 31%. Mulkey hit four of 13 shots in the defeat. After the game, Mulkey remarked, "When I missed my first few shots, I started pushing the ball and lost the range completely."

Birthday Party for Ronnie Petree, 4

A birthday party was given for 4-year-old Ronnie Petree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Petree at his home Monday, March 2. Several little friends enjoyed cake and cocoa and they played games. He received many nice gifts. Those present were George, Shain and Jerry Crawford, little Johnny Annaratone, Dale and Kenny Petree.

Many of our citizens attended the basketball tournament in Roswell this past week. Thursday night Capitan and Eunice had to play three minutes overtime to break a tie. The game ended 59 to 65 in favor of Eunice. That was really good playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beverage are the proud parents of a son, born February 25 at the Carrizozo hospital. His name is Norman Anthony and he weighed 8 lbs., 13 ozs. at birth.

Mrs. India Maryfield is very ill and is in the Medical Center at Roswell. All of her children are with her at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Martin are the proud and happy parents of a little daughter, Chloe Jean, born February 4 at the Belen hospital, weighing 8 lbs., 4 ozs. They returned to their home here when she was four days old. Both are doing just fine.

Mrs. Audrey Holwick underwent surgery at the Medical Center in Roswell last Friday. She is OK, which we are glad to hear.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Forbus and daughters went to El Paso last Saturday for Irene's checkup which must be made each month.

Mr. and Mrs. George McBride and family went to Roswell last Monday night. Miltie stayed for the remainder of the week, as she has to be near her doctor. She has been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Ethel Keathley returned last Monday morning on the bus from her three months' vacation with her son and wife in Arkansas. She had a wonderful time and enjoyed it all, but was glad to get home.

Mrs. Irene Lockhart underwent surgery at the hospital at Fort Bliss last Monday morning. Rev. and Mrs. Sparks are taking care of the children in her absence.

Mrs. Covey and Mrs. Sorrells of Carrizozo were business visitors in Capitan last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sparks and children who live on a ranch near Corona were in Capitan over this last week end and attended our dance of which we did appreciate.

"Make a Door" for the Smokey Museum by Patronizing Next Dance

The Smokey Bear dance at the American Legion Hall last Saturday was a success, thanks to all of you who made it possible.

We "made a window" this time and next time hope to "make a door" for the Smokey Museum—this makes it nearer completion.

So many have asked "Why do we not get the museum finished?" The reason is that material costs money and we must earn it. This we are doing by these dances, so everyone who attends is helping build our museum.

Please join us for a good time Saturday, March 14, at the same place. Let's all enjoy ourselves for a good cause that will benefit all of us in the future. See you at the dance.

The White Mountain Ramblers will give us their good music and also they are going to give a special prize. There will be free door prizes and other surprises.

Those who donated sandwiches for last Saturday's dance were Mrs. Dorothy Guck, Mrs. Adelaide Holmes, Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. R. D. Kingston, Mrs. Jenkins of the Jenkins General Store, Mrs. Rench, Mrs. Pearl Soderback and Mrs. Mary Trujillo. Rench gave the coffee, cups, prizes, etc. Thanks to each of you. Let's stand united and we will win.

At the lowest ebb of donations locally for the museum, help came from the outside. C. A. Glover of the Gulf Oil jobbers of Alamogordo donated $100. He has great confidence in our village and has many plans, one of which is to build a beautiful new Gulf station here. We sincerely thank him and assure him of our deepest gratitude.

Fred English of the Carrizozo Hardware Company donated $50 to the Smokey Bear Museum. He, too, has faith in us. Thank a million. We appreciate this.

Billy Ferguson visited the zoo in Washington, D. C. While there he took a picture of Smokey. After all, Billy and Smokey are old friends, as Billy was working at the forest fire during the time of Smokey's rescue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dora Galloway and Mrs. Lloyd Taylor left last Monday to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Lucy Spiller in Albuquerque. She was formerly of Lincoln County. She was a sister of A. R. Dean and was in her 80's.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Purcella of Roswell were guests at the dance last Saturday night. They visited his mother and other relatives while here. We appreciated having them.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

10-cent an hour minimum wage increase for people who work for 65 cents an hour, and at the same time favoring so far anyway—a $2,500 a year increase for elected state officials.

That $2,500 jump for the elected ones, incidentally, amounts to a little more than $1.20 an hour increase on the assumption that elected officials actually do work 40 hours a week.

CHAVEZ IS SORE ABOUT PRIMARY

Sen. Dennis Chavez who called the legislature a "bunch of bums" for voting down the minimum wage increase and accused them of forsaking the little man in giving up jury trials for injured workmen, is the maddest of all about the program to repeal the primary. Chavez, alone among the major politicians, has consistently and belligerently defended the primary system.

He's sore about so many things that next year's election should be interesting with the big Democratic senator out to beat the Demo governor.
