

The Hondo Corner
By DELLA JEAN FRENCH

The six weeks brought tests to all students in the high school and the six weeks' movie, which was shown Friday.

Dickens' "The Christmas Carol" is being presented by members of the student body under the direction of Mr. Montez and Mr. Booky. The date is December 17.

Fred P. Bowser, a former Hondo High School student, was initiated into the Chi chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science honorary society. The primary purpose of this fraternity is to recognize and encourage superior scholarship in the field of political science.

The school has installed a sign in the main corridor of the high school, reading: "If everyone did as I do, what kind of a school would we have?"

Reading this reminds the student that what each of us does reflects on the school. It is a motto that should be helpful to the students, teachers and school patrons.

Another step forward in the effort to develop the individual responsibility of the student is the Hondo High School Honor Creed that has been formulated after much research and consideration. The Hondo High School Student Council has adopted this honor creed, which they feel will be for the betterment of the individual, the school and the community. The Hondo High School Creed reads:

Honor and dignity are my greatest assets. I myself can control the extent and quality of these traits. It is important to me now and in the future to be a member of a school whose record for high honor is outstanding. Only by constant and voluntary effort on my part can Hondo High School attain a position of unexcelled reputation which I seek.

In order to further my personal position as an individual of high honor and in order to make my school outstanding in every respect, I shall do the best to abide by the following creed and to cooperate with my fellow students and teachers in furthering this creed:

1. I will at all times treat my fellow students in the same manner I expect them to treat me, having full respect for their property and rights.
2. I will intelligently follow the leadership of all properly elected student officers and abide by such decisions as they have been empowered to make by the will of the majority.
3. I will respect the authority of my teachers and abide by the rules set forth by the Blue and White Handbook. I will make a special effort to be helpful and cooperative at all times when a substitute teacher is in charge, for I realize a substitute teacher is, in fact, my guest.
4. I will make every effort to protect my school property and maintain its appearance, for I appreciate the fact that my school is frequently judged by its appearance and the appearance of the surrounding grounds.
5. I will neither give nor receive help from a fellow student during a test or examination. I will make sure that all work submitted as a part of a test or examination is honest in every respect.
6. I will do my best to do my own homework at all times, for I realize that homework is means for me to learn. Any help I seek in accomplishing my school work assignments will be for the purpose of increasing my understanding and will not include copying from another student's work or having anyone else do my work for me.
7. I will do my best at all times outside of school to act in such a manner that I can only bring honor to my home and school.

Teensters
Union No. 1

By PAM REID

Sometimes it is necessary to "oot one's own horn" and since I received a letter this week that will enable me to do it without too much fanfare, I'm going to do it. I get plenty of the other kind of letters—telling me the column "smells" and carefully saying that they never read it, etc. So—even though this letter is not all "flowers," I want to publish it. Here goes:

Dear Pam: I am in the Navy and stationed at Cecil Field, Fla. I just got back from a short cruise on the USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, an aircraft carrier. It was the first time I have ever been out to sea and quite an experience for a dry-land boy.

I read your column every week and enjoy it very much. Although I don't agree with you on every bit of advice you give, I think you approach the different problems with an open mind and intelligence far greater than one would expect from a girl of your age.

I'm not a teenager any more, but haven't graduated from that class too long ago. I still enjoy reading about the teenage world and their problems and experiences. I don't have any comments to make on your column. You see, I get the paper about a week late and my comment I have to make the next paper.

I do want to say that I think you are a great help to the teenagers in helping them solve their problems and as a teenager yourself, you can see their problems a lot better than any grown-up can. Keep up the good work!—FRANK MULKEY.

Dear Frank: I was thrilled to know that the Lincoln County News goes to sea—and that "Teensters Union No. 1" is read by the men of our Navy. Thanks for writing. I appreciate it very much and, of course, I understand that you couldn't agree with all my advice—nor with the members of the "Union"—but don't hesitate to write about anything. It wouldn't matter if it were a week or so late. Thanks again.—Pam.

ALTO BRIEFS

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Mrs. Charlie Harrington and Teddy were up from Alamogordo for the first day of hunting.

Floy Skinner was over from Nogal Monday and made a stop at the store and also at the George Dingwalls.

The John Von Rosenbergs are here from Albuquerque for the hunting season.

J. C. McCormick from Fortales is trying his luck this week at hunting.

Buddy Hightower and Kent Anderson are here from Alamogordo hunting.

The Peebles on Little Creek have the following here for the hunting: Bill Smith, the Don Smiths of Roswell, Rawley McAnally, of House, Harvey McAnally, Eugene King and Floyd King of Binger, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Adams have guests for the hunting season—the B. H. Webbs and three sons of Alamogordo, the W. B. Willowbys and Freddy Lehman from Canutillo—have been here, with the women staying only Wednesday, but the men remained to hunt.

The D. A. Kincaids are here from Albuquerque for several days of hunting.

The Leek Cowdens were hunting in the area on Wednesday from Rudoso and stayed to take pot luck with the Lindamoods.

The George Dingwalls were in Carrizozo last Friday.

Robert Creel was up from Carrizozo this week to hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Dungan of Albuquerque visited the Ernest Blooms the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl King and the E. H. King family of Roswell visited the Jim McEuen over Sunday.

The Bill Smiths and son Lester of Roswell were up to see the Charlie Peebles on Sunday.

The Frank Anderson family of Alamogordo were here the past week for the hunting.

Paul Davis and A. E. Bassett of Milnesand, N. M., were hunting in the community the past week end.

Albert and Billy Anderson of Roswell hunted last week at the Charlie Peebles' ranch, on Little Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Jones were here from Albuquerque for a few days trying their luck at hunting deer.

The Ronald Byrds had the following guests here for hunting: Jack Byrd and son Dickie of Tucumcari. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor of Albuquerque and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Haddon of Tucumcari.

Dear Pam: Please help me. I'm so mixed up. I don't know where to turn. This may sound terrible to you, because you have love and a good home. I can't help it. I feel as though I hate my parents. The house I live in is just that—a place to sleep and eat. My parents fight all the time. I can't tell them any of my problems or feelings without them telling me to shut up (and that hurts). I feel so mixed up. I'm afraid I might do something terrible to make them see how I feel. What can I do to make our house a home and for my parents to realize I'm alive? Even the furniture in our house is treated better than I am.

—"MIXED UP."

Dear "Mixed Up" — So many times I feel inadequate to give advice on some of the problems that are sent to me. I can sympathize, but that doesn't help much, does it? Maybe some of the "Teensters" would know how to advise you better than I. Why don't we ask them to write in? I will say this, though. Even I feel very "abused" at times although I know that my parents love me—but it's just one of those things that happens.

I feel that I'm not always understood and quite separated from my parents. These feelings pass (usually) so I guess it's just one of those things I too feel like doing something terrible to make them realize that I'm grown-up and a separate individual with rights and liberties; but if we can just realize that the best way to get attention is to do something good or constructive—it will keep us on the right road. It's hard to admit, but I guess my folks have gone over the same "road" I'm going over and they might have learned something while doing it! Keep writing — that's constructive; at least it relieves the tension. Good luck.—Pam.

P.S.—I hope some of the Teensters can give you more help than I can.

I received a letter from White Oaks, but misplaced it. I would cure appreciate if it they would write in again.

Confucius say: A girl's mind is always cleaner than a boy's because she is always changing it.

Keep 'em coming. —Pam.

Glenda Sue King was Homecoming Queen at Denver University

Glenda Sue King was crowned Homecoming Queen at the University of Denver's homecoming this past week end.

Chancellor Atter crowned Glenda, presenting her a dozen red roses and a silver tray, engraved with her name. The homecoming theme this year was "Homecoming in Progress."

Glenda reigned over the Greek skits, all-school show, two pep rallies, an informal dance given by the university alumni, and at the football game. There she and two attendants were presented in an open convertible and the alumni bestowed upon her a gold crown.

Glenda also reigned over the homecoming dance Saturday night.

She was a guest at the Queen's and alumni dinner. Her attendants were Carol Kites of Arlington, Va., and Sandra Toomy of Denver. Her escort was Frank Metzger of Bryan, Texas.

Glenda is a member of Kappa Delta social sorority; Associated Women Students, Dorm Council, Women's Student Council; Women's Inter-hall Council; treasurer of Aspen hall and Associated Women Students Handbook. She is also on a Greek Week sub committee.

Miss King was a 1937 Sun Princess from Carrizozo to the Sun Carnival in El Paso. She is a past worthy advisor of Carrizozo Assembly Order of the Rainbow for Girls. She is employed as stenographer for the Humanities division at the University.

Denver's Queen selection was made by two sets of eliminations.

Thanksgiving program at UPWA of Nogal

Mrs. Olivia Hulbert was hostess in her home in Carrizozo for the Nogal U. P. W. A. monthly meeting November 12.

Mrs. Ruth Aguayo and Mrs. Bernita Greer were guests and 11 members were present.

A lovely Thanksgiving program was presented by Leora Zumwalt in a service "My Heart I Give To Thee." Each member present told of something they were thankful for.

New officers elected for the year 1940 were: Mrs. Faye Wooten, president; Mrs. Martha Zumwalt, vice president, and the other officers were re-elected.

Plans for the December meeting are to have a Christmas motif with a gift exchange box.

The next meeting will be at the home of Margaret Stearns on December 12. Visitors will be welcome.

Madie Belle Cooper joins social club at Abilene Christian

Abilene, Tex.—(Special)—Madie Belle Cooper, Abilene Christian College sophomore from Carrizozo, has accepted an invitation to join Zeta Phi, one of ACC's 12 social clubs.

An elementary education major, Miss Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bradley of Carrizozo. She was a 1938 graduate of Roswell High School.

Three girls were then voted on at an all-school election. Judging was on personality, poise, posture, beauty and general appearance.

Glenda is a senior elementary education major. She will be home for the holidays December. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn King of Carrizozo.
