

Reports on Stampede and trophies given Lincoln County Fair Association

The Lincoln County Fair Association met Thursday, May 26 at the Capitán City Hall to discuss the fair premium book, the second annual Smokey Bear Stampede, the Fair Queen Contest and to hear a report on trophies already donated.

The fair premium book will be printed this year for the first time. County Agent Ralph Dunlap, chairman of the fair premium book, gave an outline of its contents, noting that quite a few additions had been made for the convenience of fair visitors.

These include a sketch of the exhibits within the building, showing booths and spaces; the program for the two fair days; loose leaf entries, blank for the exhibit entries, quarter horse show and rodeo.

TROPHIES DONATED

Among the trophies already donated are those for beef cattle showmanship (Bill Edger); grand champion fat steer (Grady Edger); sheep showmanship (Carl Hiner); grand champion fat lamb (Shanley Frazier); champion fine wool lamb (Leo Stoen). Also first pen of three feeder steers, a traveling trophy; first pen of three heifer calves (Sommy Wright); first pen of three heifers (Truman Spencer Jr.); range bull (Lincoln County Farm Bureau); champion beef cattle, breeding exhibit (H. S. Foster); champion range sheep exhibit (9 H 6 Ranch); Capitán Woman's Club, women's division; also Carrizozo Woman's Club.

The Lincoln County Fair officials are also chairman of committees for the second annual Smokey Bear Stampede. Plans were completed for the rodeo during the meeting.

The Aggie Ramblers of State University, Las Cruces, will provide the music for the dance Saturday night, July 2, a featured event of the Smokey Bear Stampede.

Everything has been donated, such as meat, beans, and bread for the free barbecue on Sunday, July 3. The admission fee for the rodeo entitles the purchaser to attend the barbecue.

The Fair Association urges all cowboys of Lincoln County to enter the Fair Queen Contest.

Requirements are that each contestant be a sponsor, such as a civic organization or business house in the vicinity of the contestant. The Queen contest is for girls between the ages of 16 and 19 only; contestants to be judged 50% on horsemanship and 50% on personality.

The Queen will go to the state fair in Albuquerque, representing Lincoln County. The Fair Association will give a cash award to the Queen to help with her expenses to Albuquerque.

'Fastest bull' yarn won liar's contest.

FORT STANTON—Jim Cox was the winner of the Fort Stanton Liar Contest, with a yarn about a fast bull. Here it is:

"One day a group of farmers were sitting around the old country store wrapping ties, and the subject got around to who had the fastest animal.

"Everyone told about their fast horse or mule and the record they had set. Finally one old boy spoke up:

"I got a bull down on my farm that can run anything that ever moved. Why, every afternoon he stands at the north end of the field and when the express train comes by he races it and beats it to the other end of the field every time!"

"Some time after this, the same group of men went to this farmer's place to see the fast bull. His wife said he wasn't home; but he had just called from town 30 miles away and said he would be back home in a couple of minutes.

"She was asked how he was going to cover 30 miles in two minutes. Her reply was:

"Oh, he rode the bull."

He also plans to bring in a bulldozer and other equipment, and the News was informed this week, if the iron market holds strong, Lubajack may also use his equipment in iron ore mining.

Other men from Alamogordo are reported to be testing the placers on the Rice Group of Adolph Lobner, using trenching machine and tractor.

Wind and hail lash large area

TULAROSA—A wind and hail storm struck Tularosa around 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, resulting in complete loss of cotton, corn, oats and other crops.

The wind reached cyclonic proportions, carrying dust skyward like a giant dust devil.

The damage to shade trees, fruit trees, pecan orchards and vineyards was extensive and it is believed it may take several years to build them back to the condition they were in before the hail struck.

The roof of the H & J Food Basket collapsed and there was heavy damage to the merchandise.

The Tularosa Dry Goods store in mid-town suffered heavy damage when water was blown under the roof and ran through the ceiling, ruining much merchandise.

Plate glass windows in the Sims Home Supply, Sands Finance, Ferra Bureau office, H & J Food Basket and the Washateria were broken by the driving hailstones.

These buildings, all on Highway 70 and facing north, caught the full force of the storm.

Farmers of the area met Tuesday morning to discuss the possibility of replanting cotton.

Some decided to replant; others will seed land to quicker maturing grain and forage crops.

It will be several days before an estimate can be made of the total damage to crops, orchards, homes and pieces of business.

Mrs. Stella Mitchell of Tularosa recalls a similar hailstorm in 1923 but it was not spread over as wide an area as Monday's storm which struck every part of town. From the foothills on the east side past the railroad tracks along the west part of town.

Looking over Tularosa from the hillsides one could see a swath through the center of town where the trees were entirely stripped of their leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Clayton, returning from a trip from Big Bend National Park, at first planned to stay overnight Monday in El Paso. That act probably saved the lives of most of their birds, as they would have been caught in their pens by a heavy runoff of water from the melting hailstones.

Frank Vega of Carrizozo who was in Tularosa after the storm passed, said trees were stripped of their leaves and bushes and flowers were beaten to the ground. The streets were strewn with leaves and hailstone pellets and the highway had to be cleared for traffic to get through.

Neighboring Mayhill was said to have also had considerable damage from the hailstorm and wind.

Some hail fell in the Cox and James Canyons.

On Memorial Day two inches of rain fell at Donito City and hailstones measured 3 inches—enough to settle the dust and water the dry grass.

A hundred head of lambs were reported killed near the Willis Lovelace ranch headquarters, up to four inches of hail falling.

Hailstones fell at the Dimmitt Bond ranch and at Glanich where hail remained on the ground for several hours at the Ray Lovelace and Drack Sloan places.

Hailstones as large as marbles fell in the Jicarillas on the early part of the afternoon of May 30. A hard, drizzling rain followed.

Hiway 54 progress in advertising

Bob Coleman of Vaughn and A. J. Zimmerman of Santa Rosa stopped in Carrizozo May 24 to report on progress made by the Highway 54 Association in projects to advertise this excellent and popular artery of traffic from Chisago to El Paso.

The Highway 54 Association is contracting for a TV film to be used in advertising Highway 54, at a cost of $5,000.

Also, the Association has already this year erected two new signs, each 12 feet by 20 feet, one at Vaughn and one at Tularosa, directing traffic to Highway 54. The yearly rental on these two signs, alone, is $352, which rental is deducted from membership dues collected from businessmen and others living along this route.

These are only two of the many signs that have been erected along 54 at strategic locations, junctions and terminal points.

Each succeeding year sees a tremendous increase in traffic on Highway 54 and the impact of these tourist dollars is felt in each town and city.

A recent highway count showed over 4,500 cars daily passing Tucumcari on Highway 66; south of Santa Rosa cars traveling on Highway 54 amounted to over 800 daily.

This is a far cry from ten years ago when a large portion of the route between Carrizozo and Santa Rosa was a dirt road, and the only ones who used it were ranchers and local citizens, with an occasional "lost" tourist.

Almost 100% of the money from membership dues is used to advertise Highway 54, there being only one salaried part-time secretary for the National Association. All of the officers and others connected with the Association donate their time and efforts toward a "bigger and better" Highway 54.

Big Lake, which froze out last winter, was restocked this spring. There was a story going around that the employee who was supposed to pump air beneath the ice failed to attend to this duty properly. Other smaller lakes at about the same elevation did not freeze out.

Fishing was reported good at Holly lake near Show Low, at a new lake near Maverick and on the upper Black Water River.

More grads write of reunion plans

Graduates of Carrizozo High School continue to write in regarding their reunion plans, but the Alumni Association feels certain that some graduates have not been contacted.

They therefore ask that any graduate prior to 1935 who has not received correspondence from the committee to know that they are cordially invited to attend the reunion.

Also, any graduates since the year 1935, or other interested persons are welcome to attend meetings of the Association to complete preparations for the reunion. The Association will meet next Monday evening, June 6, at 7:30 in the fire hall.

"I am planning on attending at least part of the reunion," writes Rhea Boughner (class of 1930) of Albuquerque, N. M. "It sounds like you have a busy committee and I am looking forward to an exciting time. It's surprising, too, how many years have been able to contact after so many years. Will be seeing you soon (I have movie reservations)."

Dan Mayes replies to invitation: "To the class of '16, as I remember them: the Brunam sisters, Allie and Marjorie, Louis Adams and myself. I am living in Oakland, Calif., with my wife, the former Mirl Davis of Carrizozo. I left New Mexico 39 years ago and am now 68 years of age. I regret that I will not be present, as much as I would like to, but the distance stops me. Wishing you a very successful meeting. I remain, Dan Mayes, 203 Oakland Ave., Oakland, Calif."

Hopes to be able to attend: "I hope to be able to come for the reunion as I have not lived in Carrizozo since 1919. Have really been back there very few times in the past 41 years and would surely enjoy seeing all the old timers again. Think it is a wonderful thing for you to do and look forward to seeing you. In care I can come. I'll advise you. Sincerely, Mac Wright, Saint Rita Hotel, Tucson, Ariz."

"We expect to be present": "Your kind letter of May 9th is acknowledged in which you invite me to be present at the alumni reunion in Carrizozo Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the 24th, 25th and 26th of June. My wife and I expect to be among those present. Lois Bailey: "I appreciate very much your invitation to join you in this reunion. I would love to be there, but will have to decline. My plan is not well at all, so I plan on spending all of my vacation with her. No doubt you have heard from Mildred, as she forwarded your card to me. Have fun, maybe I can join you next year. BIG DEMOS FACE KENNEDY REVOLT

SANTA FE, June 1—New Mexico Democrats are struggling with their first split on a nominee for president in more than three decades, a period in which the wheels of the party selected the man the state delegation would support and the delegates went along.

This time the wheels are pressing for Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and it appears that the little ones prefer Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, and are ready to fight.

Declared for Johnson are Gov. John Burroughs, Sens. Clinton Anderson and Dennis Chavez, U. S. Reps. Joe Montoya and Tom Morris, State Chairman Seaborn Collins, National Committeeman Tom Brown, National Committeewoman Deslie Sawyer. That's the whole crowd.

That line-up would appear unbeatable and probably would be if they would put on the heat which they had not as this was written. A lineup of northside Democratic county chairmen has shown up to make a battle for a big share of the state's votes when the party convention assembles in Santa Fe this week end.

While professing all-out support for Johnson of Texas the governor and his party associates have made no move to perk into line a bunch of state payrollers working for Kennedy.

They apparently view the situation as one not worth the trouble and risk involved in forcing the Kennedy people to the other side. Kennedy's Roman Catholic Church which has been discussed all over the nation as a possible handicap seems to be an advantage in New Mexico. Many Catholics are supporting the Massachusetts senator here apparently because he is a Catholic.

PAYROLL CANDIDATES BACK ON THEIR JOBS

Dwight Robinson, the $1,000-a-month lawyer for the bureau of revenue who quit his job to run against Seven-Foot Pickett for the corporation commission, was promptly returned to the payroll after losing.

So was Pilo Sedillo, Demo Valencia county chairman who took off to run for lieutenant governor and was defeated by Albuquerque's Joe Montoya. He gets $500 for part-time work.

Floyd Cross of (ugh) Truth or Consequences and Albuquerque, who quit his $700 a month job as state personnel director to run for lieutenant governor, and then quit that race to serve as Gov. John Burroughs' campaign manager, was returned to the payroll as manager of the Albuquerque office of the bureau of revenue. Critics are complaining that Floyd is being maintained on state pay until he is needed again in the campaign.

That sounds like political free swinging. Cross or conditions of equal competence was needed in the Albuquerque office. If he is pulled out when the campaign starts the complaint will be legitimate.

SCHOOLS SPENDING OVER THE LIMIT

School budgeting for the year that starts next September looks like it is leading the state toward a crisis which will demand new or higher taxes to support public education.

The New Mexico Education Association which has been auditing the county budget hearings reports that the state will be three to four million short in the next year or two.

The New Mexico Taxpayers Association, which has also been sitting in on the hearings places the anticipated shortage at twice that much.

EDUCATION ASSOCIATION WOULD DOUBLE TAX

The New Mexico Education Association presently is backing a mild program for higher taxes on horse race betting and better organization by the tax collecting offices of the statehouse, but is considering a diller for the production of some real money from the state income tax.

That would be doubling the tax and installing a withholding plan which would perhaps triple the present revenue of about 4.5 million. The teachers are scheduled to act on the income tax proposition next October in advance of their annual convention.

RICH LEA COUNTY HOLDS DOWN TEACHERS

Lea, richest county of the state and the one that pays the teachers the most, around $6,000 average salary, has decided against taking any base increase and will pay the schoolmarms only their contractual increment for time on the job which will run around $200 a year.

EDDY POLITICAL LOSS WATER DEAL

Adair Gossett, a major political figure in Eddy county who was made eddy director at $11,000 a year on a stay-at-home job, has lost his application for water rights in the Lea county oil fields which could have produced a great fortune in a short time in selling the water for flooding exhausted oil areas. One of eleven applications by Gossett was granted by State Engineer Steve Reynolds, the only one in which he seemed to have an arrangement for use of the water.

Old-timers and newcomers to gather Sunday at grave of Gene Rhodes

Cavalcades to travel route west from Tularosa to grave of Eugene Manlove Rhodes in the San Andreas mountains.

By MRS. TOM CHARLES

Alamogordo's annual tour to the grave of Eugene Manlove Rhodes, Sunday, June 7, will bring many old-timers together, according to letters coming to the Tours committee.

Rev. Melburn Ramsey and Mrs. Ramsey of Roswell write their friend Rev. Lucy Sims that they plan to attend, and George Henderson, long-time friend and neighbor of Gene Rhodes, says that he and his daughter from Capitán will be there; also Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Letts of Amarillo, who come for the tour each year.

H. F. Finger, early day resident of Alamogordo, but now of Jackson, Mich., expressed hopes of coming and officials of the New Mexico Historical Association are expected to attend.

It was this group that placed the bronze plaque at Gene's grave which bears the inscription "Eugene Manlove Rhodes, Paso por Aqui."

Frank Doble, Texas journalist and writer, long-time colleague of Rhodes, writes of him: "Had he written nothing else but Paso Por Aqui, the passion of the few would persist."

"My copy of this story, bound with Once in the Saddle, is inscribed with black ink, and on that that follow, Monte's Spanish-English is corrected with red lead. On the fly leaf Gene Rhodes wrote, 'Why is joy not considered a fit subject for an artist?'"

"He never wrote the last book that he wanted to write. He did write the concluding sentence for it, a farewell salute to the gay, kind and fearless. That salute is at the Desert Aire meeting Saturday for you also, one of the 'Masterpieces' today night."

Men—You, Eugene Gene Cyran, Go Berperce Manlove Rhodes. Rhodes' literary career did not stop with his burial in Rhodes Canyon. His "Beyond the Desert" and "Fossil Hints" were published after his death and numerous books on his life and his writings have been released in recent years.

Among these are "

(From the files of the Carrizozo News, June 4, 1920.)

An old man by the name of Ben McGath, died suddenly at Lincoln, on the Ruidoso. He came there a week or ten days previously with two ponies hooked to an old wagon and a camping outfit. He appeared to be about 75 years old and was very feeble. In his possession was a box containing nearly $3,000 in cash and several hundred dollars in government bonds.

Will Cos brought the valuator to the First State Bank for safe-keeping until the identity of the mystery man could be determined.

Eight beavers, 12 muttons and $500 in cash was subscribed in Corona to stage a Fourth of July celebration there in a grand style. So as not to conflict with the 4th at Nogal, Corona's celebration was to start on the 5th and continue through the following day.

Los Amigos Club to have "Tacky Party"

The meeting was called to order last Thursday at 3 p.m., by Chairman Joe Contreras, with Secretary Mary Mantoya reading the minutes.

James Cox, winner of the Liars' Contest, presented a handsome and useful gift.

Addie Qualla, Little Joe, Seriffin Vigil and Dixie Sparks suggested other contests and plays for the club, which will be staged on the evening of June 23.

The tentative play is a "tacky party," in which contestants can wear anything feminine, excluding foundation garments. The contestants will choose their partners of either sex and there will be make-up kits available for all. The contents of the kits will be a secret and the contestants will have to utilize whatever is in them to dress and pretty up their respective partners. It will afford plenty of fun for all.

Trip to water plant set for June 9th

The trip to the water plant, which was postponed some time ago, will be held June 9, according to Mr. Vigil. There will be transportation for all those desiring to visit the plant.

Mr. Vigil also states that they will get in touch with TV channel 8 in Roswell and also channel 4 in Albuquerque and try to get them to send cameramen for that day.

Shirley Campbell was absent from duty last week due to the death of her grandfather in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lopez have returned from their trip to California and are back on duty.

Juan Rincon has gone to Las Cruces for a few days' visit with the home folks, after recuperating from his recent surgery at Roswell. He has had surgery three times since being hospitalized, but is rapidly regaining his normal weight.

Rincon is a fine guitar player and also plays the violin and mandolin. We all miss him very much.

Paulino Aldaz of Carrizozo spent the week end here with his daughters Frances Zamora and Mary Navarro and families. He is one of the remaining old-timers of old Lincoln and knows this part of the county like a book. He is now custodian of the town park in Carrizozo.

Mr. Merritt of Roswell visited his wife Evelyn last Sunday for a few hours and took in the baseball game.

Herbert Totten went to Ruidoso Downs for the opening of the horse racing. Several people from here enjoyed the races and the beautiful mountain scenery.

Steve Uhartret went to Lincoln last Sunday afternoon to spend a few hours with his friend, Ermaol (Gib).

Belea Madrid has returned from her furlough to Deming.

Pat Medina had visitors from home last Sunday.

Ramon Prudencio has come back to work in Fort Stanton and we are sure glad because he is one of the much-needed baseball players on the local team. Other new employees in Fort Stanton are Max Sanchez and Jose Cruz.

Virginia Soto has returned from a short furlough to her home in Socorro.

Congratulations to Eddie Womack of Fort Stanton and Miss Ellen Tay Taylor of Lincoln, who are to be married in the Lincoln Community Church on June 11 at 7 in the evening.

The ambulance made a trip to Albuquerque Monday to take Joe Wagers for tests. On the return trip they brought back Manuel Esquivel, who failed to pass the necessary tests for surgery.

Little Vicente Romero of No. 12 had visitors from home Sunday. Jessie Contreras and son Little Joe left last Friday for Albuquerque on a furlough of two weeks. Enjoy your visit, folks.

GRIST & GRITS

By OLIN MILLER

When he was asked which U. S. President he would have preferred to deal with, Krushchev quickly replied, "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

News item. It would be highly satisfactory to Americans if Krushchev would join Roosevelt and deal with him.

"Stevenson says the Administration gave Krushchev a hammer and a crowbar with which to wreck the summit conference."

Press report. Krushchev had no use for these tools, as he always carries an ample supply of monkey wrenches to throw into international diplomatic machinery.

Americans tend to consider the value or desirability of anything to be commensurate with its cost. This explains why they enjoy vacations enormously.

Fairy tale: Once upon a time there was a populated area in which the people were certain the census takers had counted everybody in it.

Some of the best acting day in and day out is done by a large number of people in the business world who are patient, polite and pleasant to unreasonable and obstreperous customers.

A far greater proportion of people these days are furious with more people than ever before. People are getting awfully tired of people.

Especially during spring, many an annoyed person has enough lead in his pants to protect a portion of his anatomy against nuclear radiation.

Another thing that doubtless irks the Russians, who are past masters at spying, is that American amateurs have been horning-in on the game.

ing at the dishwashing machine last Wednesday afternoon, receiving a severe blow on the back of his head. After being given first aid he was taken to the Ruidoso hospital, and is reported doing well.

Special services by Father Chavez of Carrizozo were held in the Catholic chapel Thursday morning.

Mrs. Donna Butler of T or C is now the executive housekeeper. She is a graduate of the Lewis Hotel Training School in Washington, D. C. She was also resident manager of the Shenandoah River Lodge in Louisiana and owns a motel in Truth or Consequences. We are glad to have her as a member of our hospital staff and sincerely hope she will enjoy her work here with us.

The Academy of Beauty Culture and all her many friends will miss Mary Jane Johnson. Good luck, Mary Jane!

The film "Eagle Foots" was shown at Los Amigos Club by Mr. Vigil last Friday afternoon. There were many discussions on the subject matter of the film.

Paulino Baca and Tony Esquivel have gone home on two weeks' furloughs.

Reading in the Lincoln County News where Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drent of Yuma, Ariz., were recent visitors in Lincoln and Mr. Brent presented the gun of his late father, Jim Brent, who was an early day sheriff of Lincoln County, to the Comstock Museum, let us add that Bill's mother, Carlotta, was a daughter of our late uncle and aunt, Captain and Mrs. Saturnino Baca, one of the first settlers in the old town of Lincoln.

Mrs. Sara Salazar of Lincoln is the only surviving member of the Baca family of olden times. She is well past 65 and has resided in Lincoln all her life. There were three girls and three boys in the family, namely, Carlotta, Josefa, Sara, Bona, Roman and Juan Baca.

Josefa was a beautiful girl, we have been told, and at one time won a beauty contest in Las Vegas, among participants from all over the then Territory of New Mexico.

We editors may dig and toil till our fingertips are sore, but some poor guy is sure to say I've heard that joke before!

—Dixie Sparks in Thursday Review.

Turn about fair play. It was Sunday afternoon and the father of the house announced that he would take his wife and four small children for a ride to the beach. Immediately his wife started for the front door. This time she said, "You put the child in the car and blow the horn."

THE CIVIL WAR IN NEW MEXICO
(Continuing an account of the Civil War in New Mexico.)

PART 4

"Everybody expected this to be the signal for the commencement of the fratricidal drama, but everybody was disappointed. After 'Patty Grayton' rode down into the valley on his gray pony, all alone, to within musket range of the southern column in line, turning and wheeling about like a circus man so as not to expose himself as a target to some sharpshooters, the Texans retired from their position, crossed the river and went into camp on the elevated plain on the other side, from where the federals could count their numerous camp fires and sometimes in the stillness of the night, with the wind from that direction, hear the loud voices of the rebels.

"Of course, the next day was one of great expectancy, and many conjectures were made by little groups of officers and men around Fort Craig whether General Sibley intended to go past that post up the country, to invade New Mexico, or whether he would draw on a battle on some favorably selected ground opposite the Fort, from where he might be able even to shell the garrison.

"Many were also the loudly expressed unfavorable opinions about the unwillingness of Colonel Canby to fight his brother-in-law Sibley the day before when everybody was ready for the fray, and even the raw militia troops had clamored to be led into battle.

"About noon on Monday, the 20th of February, a long string of wagons could be seen moving up the country, in sight of every man in the post, on the other side of the river. 'So the Texans intend to cut us off,' was heard from every mouth.

"Quickly the federal troops were called to arms with orders to take one day's cooked ration along in the haversack, and with a new supply of ammunition in every cartridge box. One company after another marched down the steep bank and crossed the Rio Grande, toward the bulge on the other side, to keep the enemy from cutting off the supply of water, or coming near enough to throw shells into the adobe fort.

"As soon as the advance guard of the federals reached the table lands in view of the Southern column, away blazed a number of cannons posted on top of the ridge. 'Sibley had the best position. His whole line was out of sight behind the mesa, and although his batteries showed the whereabouts and extent of his front, and the wagons continued to pass along undisturbed, the came as if inviting attack, Canby had no place whatever to allow him to form a line, and his followers had to be kept crouched behind rocks on the steep decline, to evade from being picked off.

"Thus the evening and night passed without any other casualty than one private of Captain B. L. Hubbell's Company B, 5th New Mexico Mounted Volunteers, in being placed hors de combat, by a spent ball hitting his heel. Most of the men on the federal side passed a night of misery and discomfort.

"Seeing their company commanders enter the river with full dress and accoutrements, few dared to take time to take off their coats, or roll up their pants, and of course landed on the other side wet to the hips. As all the clothing of Uncle Sam is made of wool, of course it takes a long time to dry, if thoroughly wet once, and therefore nearly every infantryman had to pass the night in damp clothes, most of them without overcoat or blanket; no warm cup of coffee to put life into their chilled bodies and spirits, and, of course, looked disconsolate and downhearted when they returned to the post next day to get another day's ration for a march up the river toward the hay camp, about four miles above Fort Craig.

"Colonel B. Roberts, Captain of the Mounted Rifles, in the regular army and Colonel of the 5th New Mexico Mounted Volunteers, in command of nearly all the regulars and a light battery, was ordered to reconnoiter in that direction. I doubt if he had instructions to bring on a fight; but as he was not amicably disposed towards the Texans—rumor has it that while being stationed in Texas, he at one time had created a bitter animosity between the officers and soldiers, and that the infuriated mob near the garrison even went so far once as to throw a lariat around his neck, intending to hang him, and certainly would have executed their threat but for the timely success of the troops—on reaching the present town site of San Marcial at once opened fire on the enemy in camp on the opposite bank of the Rio Grande, and advised Colonel Canby of that fact, causing that officer to march to his relief with all the other available troops under his command at and near Fort Craig.

"I here leave his marching the raw militia and native volunteer forces into line and order and receive the account of the battle of Val Verde the next week."

Latest Smokey Dance was big success

The Smokey Dance was a success, thanks to fine music and a good crowd attending. Those who donated sandwiches were Mrs. Soderback, Mrs. Virgil Wallace, Mrs. Guck and Mrs. Rench. Ann Earling donated the coffee and Mrs. Guck donated a cake which was given away. Betty Lou Jones being the winner. We appreciated, also, Mrs. Jansen's assistance at the dance.

Mrs. Dyer Forbus and her two daughters cleaned the hall for the dance and Mr. and Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Jansen and Mrs. Rench had to do a lot of work to get the building back in shape. It had not been used since February 13 and come one just about wrecked the building inside. Whoever is guilty of this vandalism should be ashamed and not repeat it. Please stay out of the building and off the grounds.

We had a good rain in the evening on Decoration Day and the rain continued most of the night, with lots of lightning and thunder.

Some lakes in state still locked with ice

In its June 2, newsletter, the New Mexico "Game and Fish" news states that Fisheries Chief Barker and Game Department pilot Luttrell made a spectacular flight last week to find out the condition of the high mountain lakes.

Barker said that many lakes were still snow-covered that he didn't tell where dry land ended and water began. He believes it will be mid-June before all the lakes are open. Trout plantings will be made just as fast as the waters open, Barker said.

In the upper Pecos basin, Spirit, Johnson and Stewart lakes were open, but Baldy, Katherine and Truchas were still frozen over. Hazel and Ruth of the Trampas Lakes were frozen over, but Alice had some open water. Pacheco and Encantada lakes, and Mirada and North Fork lakes of Rio La Casa were open and apparently full, but deep snowdrifts surrounded them.

In the Wheeler Peak area, Lake still frozen over were Jacero or Bear, Blue, Horseshoe, Lost and Williams. Middle Fork, Goose and Pioneer were open.

The six upper Latr lakes were frozen but the lower ones were partly open. Little Blue and Heart lake were frozen over.

SPECIAL WATERS OPEN FOR FISHING

Special waters that opened for fishing the week of June 3 were Bitter Lake and Bosque del Apache Refugio waters (opened May 30) and Bonito lake (opened June 1). September 5 is closing date for Bonito and October 15 for the Refugio waters.

Mark '60 "Living" Luxury Styling Conceals Home's Modest Cost

Selected by Living for Young Homemakers magazine as a house that sets the pace for better homebuilding performance, this version of the Mark '60 hides modest cost behind pioneering luxury features. It's designed in two models.

In the Deluxe version, a living-dining-family-room-kitchen center is grouped around a service core containing heating and laundry. And around the periphery of this "living center" are wrapped a quiet formal entertainment and dining patio, plus a family-living patio with luxurious pool; a three-bedroom wing with luxurious master suite and integrated garage that can be located to fit lot-width requirements.

The Custom model retains in their entirety many of the deluxe features and appointments—like optional Oriental eschutchons on the garage lock, and Vivid lighting in Oriental motif. In 60-foot other features are carefully scaled down to reduce costs while keeping maximum livability.

All of the ideas, elevation views, floor plans, the design, appointments and better-living features of the Mark '60 Living Home are included in a new four-color Design Book, available for $1, or write for free information to: Home Design Associates, Dept. 119, 2001 North Westwood, Toledo 9, Ohio.

SP's freight traffic even with last year

Freight traffic volume for Southern Pacific is generally matching last year's levels. D. J. Russell, president of the railroad, has reported.

A substantial increase was registered in trailer-flatcar traffic, he said, because of expansion of operations and introduction of piggybacking of automobiles, which previously moved from assembly plants to dealers in box cars.

Construction projects completed at Gran Quivira Nat'l Park

Construction of a water system, two residences and other improvements have recently been completed at Gran Quivira National Monument, according to Channel Howell, superintendent.

The water system consists of a drilled well, 635 feet deep, 1 1/2 miles of pipeline and a 50,000-gal. steel reservoir.

The well is equipped with an electric submerged pump which operates automatically to keep the storage tank filled for the gravity system. The water system has long been needed to adequately serve increased visitation.

Other improvements recently completed include relocation of the trails to provide an improved route to the Mexican and Indian ruins.

Bids will be let within a few weeks for construction and paving of the entrance road and parking area. Plans programmed for the near future include construction of a visitor center (museum) and other facilities for visitors to the area.

Gran Quivira National Monument is located on State Highway 10 between Carrizozo and Mountair and is open every day without charge.
