

Town Board authorizes cut in power rates for consumers on Schedule I

Carrizozo electric power users, who pay their utility bills under the Schedule I rate, will be able to effect a saving, beginning March 1, 1958.

As a result of a rate study just concluded, the Carrizozo town board decided at their meeting Monday night to make a 10% discount on utility bills paid before the 10th of the month to all users in Schedule No. I.

Ashley G. Classen, El Paso engineer, whose firm was engaged to make a study of Carrizozo power rates, reported to the board that following examination of rates over a period of the past eight years, it was feasible to make a small reduction in the rates.

He recommended the saving be passed on to users in Schedule I as the consumers in this bracket pay considerably higher rates for kilowatt hours used than the consumers in Schedule II and Schedule III.

All users of electric power in Schedule I, effective March 1 will be given a 10% discount on all power used over the minimum charge, provided their bills be paid by the 10th of the month.

The minimum charge for power under Schedule I is $2.70 a month. The average utility bill for consumers in this schedule is $9.73 a month. The 10% discount will thus amount to a saving of 70 cents a month for the average consumer in Schedule I.

It is estimated that this reduction in power revenue will cost the town between $3000 and $3500 in monthly revenue.

Classen pointed out that the survey showed that the town's income from the sale of electric power at this time is $4,000 in excess of expenses. Expenses are for operating, bond retirement obligations and a small amount set aside for contingencies.

"All we can recommend at the present time," Classen told the board members, "is a 10% reduction in utility bills in Schedule I. He recommended that Schedule I users be given a reduction in rate because they are paying on an average more than twice as much for power used than consumers in Schedules II and III.

Users of power in Schedule I at the present time are paying an average of 8.8 cents per KWH, the survey showed.

"In numerous cases," he said, "large users of power in both Schedules II and III are paying less per kilowatt hour used than it costs the town to distribute the power."

Classen said the survey showed it cost the town 4 1/2 cents a KWH to distribute power to consumers in the 1953-57 period.

He said the survey showed that many consumers in Schedule II were being sold power at less than 4 cents per KWH, or less than it costs the town to distribute it, and that all power sold to consumers in Schedule III, amounting to over 75 KWH, was being sold at a loss.

The rate study showed that the number of meters in use in Carrizozo increased steadily until September of 1958 and since that time, there has been a decline in meters in use, numbering 563 at the present time.

Letter tells status of paving delay

Regarding status of the injunction brought against the Town of Carrizozo by Minnie Reil, et al, restraining the town from proceeding with the paving project, members of the board had before them Monday night copy of a letter written by their attorneys, E. Forrest Sanders and William W. Bivens of Las Cruces.

The letter was written to an executive of Boettcher and Company of Denver, and follows: "Thank you for your letter of January 28, 1958, in which you request information as to the status of the lawsuit re: Carrizozo, New Mexico, Paving District No. 1.

"As Mr. Sanders probably told you our two district judges have been disqualified, and the Supreme Court of New Mexico has designated the Honorable James M. Scarborough to try this matter.

"Judge Scarborough is District Judge in Santa Fe, and for that reason it is a little more difficult to obtain a setting convenient to all parties concerned. The attorneys for the plaintiff are located in Roswell, New Mexico. The first of December, while in Santa Fe I obtained several trial settings from Judge Scarborough, but after conferring with the counsel for the other side, it was impossible to settle on any of those dates.

"Before accepting this case for the City of Carrizozo, I researched the law in the State of New Mexico, and it is my opinion that we are in a good position to prevail in this matter. You can never predict the outcome of any case, but based on the decisions just in the State of New Mexico it appears that we are in good shape. It has been our position that the plaintiff brought this action merely as a delaying action."

"Respectfully yours, William W. Bivens."

Annual report of Upper Hondo Soil Conservation Dist.

A. T. Pflingsten, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Upper Hondo Soil Conservation District, has submitted the following annual report of the district for the year 1957:

Since the organization of the Upper Hondo Soil Conservation District in June, 1941, there have been five additions and three disannexations. The last disannexation was during the latter part of 1957 when some 112,000 acres in the southeast corner of the district was disannexed from the Upper Hondo and annexed to the Roswell district.

This change was mutually agreed upon by all concerned in order to serve the farmers and ranchers in that area out of Roswell rather than Capitan, in as much as the area is much closer to Roswell. The Upper Hondo District now has a total of 1,065,640 acres, with 243 operating units.

During the month of September the annual election for one supervisor was held and the present board now is: A. T. Pflingsten, chairman; Peter Hurd, vice chairman; Ernest McDaniel, secretary-treasurer; Ralph Bonnell, member and Charles A. Jones, member.

Jones is the new member, replacing Wilbur L. McKnight, a member for several years, who did not choose to run for another term.

The board meets the first Thursday of each month with most meetings at the Soil Conservation Service in Capitan, and occasional meetings at the homes of various supervisors. Eleven regular meetings and two special meetings were held during the year. Attendance of supervisors averaged about 80%.

In addition to the board and zone meetings, two of the Upper Hondo supervisors attended the national convention of the National Association of Soil Conservation districts held at Houston during the month of February.

One of the highlights of the year was acting as host to the annual convention of the New Mexico Association of SCD's, which was held at Ruidoso December 4 and 5, last year. From all reports it was a very successful convention and the board is proud to have had a small part in the preparations for this event.

The district participated in Soil Stewardship Sunday by furnishing material and pamphlets to churches in the area.

During the year the district has cooperated with the schools in furnishing materials, movies, etc., on soil and water conservation and the district again issued a calendar to all landowners in a calendar. A black and white reproduction of a painting by Peter Hurd was used on the calendar.

A display and grass judging contest was sponsored by the district at the annual Lincoln County Fair in Capitan.

TRACKS FINANCE DISTRICT COURT

Santa Fe, Feb. 17—The Chavez committee investigating the state court system reports that two race tracks have contributed $1,500 each to the probation fund of the Third Judicial District.

The tracks are Sunland at Anapra in Dona Ana County, and Ruidoso Downs at Ruidoso in Lincoln County.

The third district is composed of Dona Ana, Lincoln and Otero counties. The judges are William Scoggin and Allan Walker.

CHAVEZ QUESTIONS ALL CONTRIBUTIONS

State Sen. Fabian Chavez of Santa Fe, chairman of the committee, said the donations from the race tracks were not illegal but he questioned the propriety of "financing court services with donations from tracks or any other sources."

He said if more probation money is needed in the district it should be provided through legal channels.

Judge Scoggin of Las Cruces conducts an extensive probation program with a score of full-time and part-time workers.

GAMBLERS BUILT EARLY CHURCHES

CLINT OUTSHINES 1958 CANDIDATES

My operators down at the big Democratic whirling in Albuquerque all reported that Our Clint the Senator is better stuff for president than any of the candidates present. . . . There is a pronounced swing toward young Jack Kennedy among New Mexico Democrats who heretofore had been considered almost unanimous for Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Now Mexico will cast 17 votes in the Los Angeles nominating convention that opens July 11. The state will send 17 full-vote delegates or 34 half-voters. Half vote is as low as the rules allow. . . . They will be selected by a state convention in June.

SCHOOL BOARDERS IN FIRST ELECTION

If you would like to serve on the most important board in New Mexico you'd better get ready for the March 1 filing.

It's the state board of education. One member is elected from each judicial district and candidates run in the Democratic and Republican primaries like other candidates for nomination and stand for election in November.

Terms run for six years but those elected this time will draw lots for two, four and six-year terms.

The present board appointed by Gov. John D. Irgoin last year consists of Mrs. Harold Agnew for Santa Fe, Los Alamos, Rio Arriba, San Juan, McKinley; E. L. Jory for Dona Ana, Sandoval, Valencia; Dillie Holder for Otero, Dona Ana, Lincoln; Manuel J. Baca for San Miguel, Mora, Guadalupe; Virgil Henry for Lea, Eddy and Chaves; Ray Hughes for Luna, Hidalgo, Grant; Lena Romero Shelhorn for Catron, Socorro, Sierra, Torrance; Joe Dilzato for Colfax, Union, Teras.

J. C. Embury Wall for Roosevelt and Curry; H. I. Langley for Quay, De Baca and Harding.

The school board hires the state superintendent and can set the course of public education if it cares to use the authority.

BOND DEAL OK IF COMPLETED

Standard Statistics, the big New York firm that was hired by the Taxpayers Association and the New Mexico Education Association to study New Mexico's $27 million bond swap, reports that the deal is all right if the entire $27 million of local securities is exchanged, not all right if anything short of that.

The firm said that the syndicate of ten brokerage and bank firms offered the state $655,000 less than the state should have received for its securities but held that the margin was not too much for such a large transaction.

Under the contract the syndicate has a right to cancel the deal after it gets the bonds it wants.

The bankers got a good share of the cream last week when they took $11 million of the best of the municipal and school bonds held by the treasurer and gave federal securities that bear slightly higher interest.

The state stands to lose considerable if the bankers call off the trade after taking the cream.

The bond swap deal was entered by the state investment council without calling for competitive bids, without getting an authoritative study of the proposal and without an attorney's general opinion on the legality of the transaction until a month after the contract was signed.

The education association is still paying into the transaction. (Continued on back page)

If a lot more land is going to be put in the soil bank, like they say, it would be cheaper to give it back to the Indians and turn the buffaloes loose.

Maybe we'd better get that bomb-shelter built, just in case the world isn't so something that's never been done before — namely, stay out of war.

TALKING BACK

By HOMER REID

Thanks again for the letters expressing interest in this column and the questions and answers that have been printed. I would like to finish answering "Jack's" letter, but I'm not at all sure that I will be able to completely answer it today—and, of course, my answer may not satisfy Jack or anyone else; but it's satisfying to me—and until I receive more enlightenment, I'm stuck with it.

Before going to Jack's letter, however, I would like to say a word to a mother who is very much upset because of some evidence she found in her daughter's purse that she was leading an immoral and irresponsible type of life. Not only that, but what was so terrifying to this mother was the fact that her daughter seemed to be so complacent about it—stating that in order to be popular nowadays one needed to be "prepared."

She told her mother that now because of science—and "information" possessed by the modern girl—there need be no double standard and that if a boy could enjoy himself sexually speaking, there was no reason a girl couldn't do the same, since with a little care and intelligence there need be no "consequences." It was just being "smart." She accused her mother of being "old-fashioned."

Of course there is nothing "old-fashioned" about moral standards. This mother is shocked and rightly so—she is "crushed," so to speak, because her daughter is breaching the moral and spiritual laws that will inevitably lead to "hell." However, I must ask this mother if she ever gave this daughter reason to believe that "spiritual nourishment" was important.

I participated in a week of "evangelism" not long ago. One evening we had a question and answer session. An elderly lady rose and asked why it was that the young people seemed to have no moral standard or no appreciation of spiritual things anymore. I came back with this question: "How many of you present tonight had daily Bible reading and devotions in the home when you were growing up?" About 30% of those present raised their hands.

I then asked, "How many are having daily Bible reading and devotions in their homes now?" About 3% raised their hands! There is the answer! If we do not inculcate to our children at 6 years of age that the spiritual and moral values are important we certainly cannot expect them to think so at 16!

And this brings us back to Jack's question: "Quote, 'Why would a merciful God send anyone to eternal hell? Do you believe in un-pardonable sin? What is it?' I'm going to answer this question in reverse order. Do you believe in an unpardonable sin and what is it?"

In the first place, I do not believe that any one sin is unpardonable. There is no one thing you could do that would send you to eternal and endless Hell in Matt. 12:31-32 we read these words: "Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh against the Son of Man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him neither in this world, neither in the world to come."

Note that all sins are forgiven unto men—with one exception and that is blasphemy against the Holy Ghost! This same passage is repeated in slightly different words by Mark in Chapter 3:23-29. Read it for yourselves. In the letter Dr. Sturm wrote he says: "I have observed the effect of religious beliefs on mental and physical health. A person who believes he has committed the 'unpardonable sin' has a will to die that often is impossible to alleviate." The great trouble about this passage in Matt. 12:31-32 is that it is always the wrong people who worry about it, and these folk may be divided into two classes: (1) the very timid and sensitive people whose very timidity and sensitiveness make it impossible for them to have committed the unpardonable sin and (2) the people who are psychologically ill.

If you'll recall, I mentioned in a previous installment that the law of atrophy is not only effective in the physical realm but in the spiritual realm as well. If we refuse to exercise our spiritual perception we will lose the ability to use them at all! This is the unpardonable sin! It is not an unpardonable sin because God refuses to pardon it.

There is no sin that anybody is capable of committing but he may find pardon for it if humbly he seeks such pardon from God, longs to be in right relationship with God, and is ready to forgive his brother also and put his relationships with men as right as he can.

Hondo Valley 4-Hers elect new officers

The Hondo Valley 4-H Club held a meeting at the Harrington's on Thursday, February 11.

The following officers were elected: President, Douglas McKnight; vice president, Jack Thomas; secretary-treas, James Kinsell; reporter, Mary Harrington; recreation leader, Alene Kinsell; song leader, Kathleen Kimbrell.

The next meeting will be at the Thomases on March 10.

Valentine Motif for Chuck and Chat Club

The Chuck and Chat Club had its February 11 meeting at the John Purcella Ranch. A wonderful meal was prepared by the hostess, with covered dishes being brought by the members.

A Valentine theme was carried out. Visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Norton and Mr. and Mrs. Tennis B. Smoot.

Mystery pal gifts were exchanged and new officers were elected.

Members present were Messrs. and Meses Nick Brill, N. E. Britton, Floyd Hale, Bill Edgar, Graciano Wriart and Charles Jones—also Walter Jones.

Mrs. Purcella was hostess.

But the unpardonable sin is unpardonable because it leads a man into a situation where, through his own fault, he cannot discern what is sin nor can he discern what "spiritual enlightenment" is. He has lost his power to distinguish between light and darkness and therefore forgiveness is impossible. Man cannot be pardoned for a sin which he refuses to recognize as a sin. Concerning such a sin he is incapable of asking for pardon. His power to repent has gone!

God does not deny pardon to anyone, but if the tender growths of the soul are covered over with the sheet iron of a hardened conscience, which keeps away from the soul that tender messenger of grace, then the unpardonable sin has been committed.

The church and the Bible—the whole Christian movement—is meant to nurture that power of spiritual perception in the soul of every child, man and woman. If you refuse to take advantage of this, you are in danger of losing your ability to perceive the spiritual from the secular and materialistic. Do not forget that sin, carelessly regarded and complacently viewed is killing your power to make response. God will do everything in the world except use force to win you back, but he will not use force. He will have you because you choose him, and for no other reason.

Remember, Dr. Sturm, the sensitive person who is concerned for his spiritual welfare has not committed the unpardonable sin because, as Christ tells us, all sins are forgiven man except the one of closing our minds to His redeeming grace. The mentally ill person who has committed the unpardonable sin has so dulled his spiritual sensitiveness by constantly refusing to listen to the promptings of his conscience and the "voice" that seeks to tell him right from wrong that now he is no longer capable of knowing and feels no need for the Christian fellowship nor the church; no need for "brotherhood" and believes material things are all that matter—he can no longer be reached by the redeeming grace of God and is on the road to hell unless something awakens him to the danger he is experiencing.

Dance for Smokey Saturday, Feb. 20
The Smokey Bear dance will be Saturday, Feb. 20, at the American Legion Hall. Join us for a good time—we need your patronage. An anonymous donor gave $3 for the Smokey Bear Museum last Saturday. Thanks a million.

Tom Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, invited to Philadelphia to enter the Philco school for six weeks. Then he will be ready to accept a position. The company sent him to El Paso for ten days as instructor, returning again to Philadelphia. Mrs. Dan Preult and Ethelwyn went to Lubbock, Texas, on Wednesday the 10th on business and also visited relatives. They returned Friday after a good trip. Mr. and Mrs. John Werner and two daughters of Artesia are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Werner and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Phillips. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holmes left last Sunday afternoon for an extended vacation for their health and a good rest.

Jack Aldrich is still in the Ruidoso Hospital where he has been for several days. Mrs. Pauline Britton taught for Lois two days last week, as it was necessary for her to be with her husband. Get well fast, Jack. Errol Ferguson and his aunt, Miss Alice Erickson of Artesia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Travis Werner last Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Merrill and family of Albuquerque and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Merrill of Las Cruces visited their mother, Mrs. Ethel Merrill last week end. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mr. and Mrs. Collins Walker and daughter Sheri Lynn have been to Hobbs and in Texas visiting Mrs. Walker's parents and other friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sellers were on the Bonito Sunday. Snow is still pretty deep around their cabins on the south side of the canyon and around the Bryan Candler and Forrest Currell cabins. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomsen from Roswell spent the week end in their cabin. They have a brand new yellow Jeep. Word from Robbie Crenshaw, who is in California, is that she could stand at the window in her California home and see the ocean waves, raging in a storm they were having. She has registered to vote in Carrizozo, come election time. Arvel Rummels went to the Chamber of Commerce meeting at Ruidoso Monday night where they discussed the proposed ski run in the White Mountains, while Anna Mae LaMay and Louise Rummels went to see the cancer film and hear the speaker. Bamber Hayes has been in Lovington for a few days. He brought his little granddaughter back to Bonito for a visit. Ruth Hayes, their little granddaughter, and Jan and Anna Mae LaMay visited the Captain grade school Friday and enjoyed the Valentine parties and their visits with the teachers, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Peters. Visiting Mrs. Roy LaMay Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Joe West and Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaMay.

News Notes from Along the Bonito By LOUISE RUMMELS

Educational cancer film shown in Ruidoso
The cancer film at the Ruidoso grade school cafeteria Monday night was interesting and educational. Most of all, it made plain the symptoms of cancer. We can all watch for them—persistent coughing, sores that don't heal, constant indigestion, moles and warts that don't act normally—these are a few of the most common symptoms. Let's all help in the cancer drive for the cost of research that will stop this dread disease. Bert Flington from Hondo was on the Bonito the first of the week, checking the country and the probable water runoff. He stopped by to see his niece and great niece, Mary Helen LaMay and Megan. Guess the Bonito Creek will get pretty high this year, with all the snow melting. Roads to Bear Canyon are passable after Roy LaMay went through with his big "Cay" to make some roads for cabin sites. Roy and Jeanette LaMay went to the rodeo at El Paso with Junior Snow and children Sunday. Mr. Baldwin, caretaker at the Nazarene camp at Angus, has been very sick in the Carrizozo Hospital. Over the week end, Mrs. Baldwin became ill and also went to the Carrizozo hospital for medical care. Friends from Captain and Angus folks have been helping the

GRIZZLY FIVE ENDS MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON IN YEARS By MANUEL ORTIZ

Carrizozo's Grizzlies followed up their 22 point victory over Dexter high school by downing the Hondo Eagles on Saturday night by 23 points, with a closing score of 25 to 2. The Hondo-Carrizozo tilt ended the Grizzlies' regular season of play, concluding a golden year both in football and basketball. The local hoopmen had one of their best seasons in many years—a record of 12 wins and 5 losses. Rickerson played a fine defensive game and cleaned the backboards. Vega was high point man with 24. Also, the club members voted to pay the subscription to the Women's Club magazine. May 12 will be the installation date of new club officers. GAME DEPARTMENT BEAVER PELTS RING UP GOOD PRIZES
New Mex. beaver pelts brought relatively high prices this year at the fur auctions held in Denver in mid-January. The 394 pelts went at an average of $10.90 each. Last year the average was $6. Even the dark Idaho pelts, which are considered top, did not bring as high prices as the New Mexico pelts, which were knocked down at the highest prices of any western pelts. "Varmint" pelts that have been in little or no demand for several years are now bringing good prices on the Denver market. Average prices paid during the January sale were $14.50 for bobcat, $3.25 for coyote, and $3 and $5 for badger. This information comes from the Colorado Game and Fish Department. Levon Lee, New Mexico's game management chief, points out that trappers still have time to cash in on these good prices. Pelts will be in prime condition until the end of March, he said. Fifty at Sweetheart banquet in Corona

As general chairman, Mrs. Archie Cape did a fine job getting everything done. Guests having been bidden by clever invitations, admired the attractive place card-programs. These were designed by Mrs. Fern Shaw, chairman of the invitation-program committee.

The tables were attractively decorated in likenesses to a garden of love. Red tapers connected with narrow strips of green, from which waved red hearts on green stems, served as the centerpiece.

Kling, Woody Dame and Queen, Bonnie Eates, selected by the vote of the group, were placed in front of a large red picture frame in which there were two white hearts, outlined in red. Each window framed a large heart. Mrs. I. H. Carnell was chairman of the decorating committee.

Mrs. Jack Kilpatrick and her food and kitchen committee prepared a delicious meal of chicken and dressing with all the trimmings.

The young people presented a delightful and entertaining program with a leap year theme. The script was on a reminiscence theme, depicting scenes from childhood love to mature love and was written by Mrs. Wanda Carnell. As chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Everett Dame directed the play.

Following the scene of Ma and Pa, the program was highlighted by clever stories by the toastmaster, Miss Bernice Elliott, who is the state youth advisor.

Miss Eva Inlow, executive secretary for W. M. U. brought a message on learning to truly love, thus to truly live. Following the benediction, a film "A Job or a Calling," was seen.

Thanks all for their many kindnesses

Mrs. J. M. Shelton has asked that her gratitude be expressed to all of those who have sent her cards and remembrances, both on her birthday and during her extended time in the hospital.

Due to the broken wrist which she suffered previously, Mrs. Shelton has been unable to acknowledge these remembrances personally.

She wants it to be known that she deeply appreciates all of the kindnesses shown to her by her friends.

Club has program on "Art of Living"

A letter was read from the Baptist Children's Home in Portales expressing appreciation for the interest shown in them and for the box of toys sent Christmas.

Plans were discussed for rushing during the month of March. The program subject "Make an Art of Living," was ably presented by Mrs. Holleyman and Mrs. W. P. Lytle. Members answered roll call with a brief sketch of some one whom each considers a master of the art of living, and this recalled many of the artists among the neighbors and friends.

Refreshments of coffee and strawberry party cake with whipped cream were served. The next meeting is February 22, with Mrs. L. L. Carnell.

BIG SAVINGS ALL ON PAPER

The Legislative Finance Committee's recent report that huge sums belonging to State University, Silver City Western and other institutions had been claimed by the state bank crowd for the general state bank account referred only to a paper deal.

It's a deal to make the state's financial status look better and at the worst would cost nobody anything.

There have been squeals of robbery ever since the thing came out.

GROUP AGAINST SOME INSIDERS

The administration does not like Lt. Gov. Ed Mead; Secretary of State Betty Florina; Corporation Commissioner T. Ft. Pickett.

There is an all out fight to beat Pickett with Richard Robinson, the former attorney general (1955-58). The action against Mrs. Florina is still indefinite.

The Instant Potato Story

One potato, 2 potato, 3 potato, 4—5 potato, 6 potato, 7 potato, more. Remember that time we used to sing when we were youngsters? Potatoes have come a long way since then. In those days potatoes were lugged home from the store in sacks, and stored in bins. They had to be sorted for size and for sprouts, they had to be washed, peeled, cooked, and mashed.

Then, thanks to such progressive firms as The R. T. French Company, that clumsy 3-pound bag of potatoes was exchanged for a neat 7-ounce box of instant mashed potato granules.

But the old one still applies, for with these instant granules you can still have one potato (a single serving of creamy smooth mashed potatoes), 2 potato, 3 potato, 4 potato, 5 potato, 6 potato, 7 potato, more—for each box makes enough for 8 servings. And all in an instant.

To prepare, just take a box of instant granules from your shelf, combine the fine, free-flowing powder with water, salt and milk, and presto—fluffy mashed potatoes! The beautiful of potatoes made from these instant granules looks and tastes just like that made from the raw. That's because a unique drying and packaging process developed by French's in its Idaho plant preserves the original flavor and texture of the potato.

Use instant mast potato granules in many other ways—for small-portion infant feedings, for quick and decorative toppings for casseroles and meat pies, to thicken gravies and sauces, to coat foods for frying.

Now almost entirely forgotten "Captain Jack" Crawford was at one time one of the best known persons to ever live in this state.

Captain Jack was born in County Donegal, Ireland, in 1847. Named John Wallace Crawford, his family came to the United States in 1858 and settled down in Pennsylvania. He had no formal education.

After serving in the Union Army during the Civil War he moved West. During the 1870's and early 80's he was in the Black Hills scouting for the army and for a time was post trader at Ft. Craig, New Mexico. In 1886 Captain Jack settled on his ranch near San Marcial on the Rio Grande.

Although he traveled with Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show he was best known for public recitations of poetry composed by himself. Newspapers referred to him as the "poet scout."

Captain Jack always had a good press. In 1885 the Black Range, published at Chloride, ran a flattering story about him long enough to make a book.

Comparing him to Bret Harte, Robert Burns, and Moore, the editor of the Black Range quoted the following lines of Captain Jack as examples of his literary prowess:

"Rattlin' Joe was the next of the speakers,
And Joe was a friend of the dead,
The salt water stood in his peepers,
And these are words which he said:

"Just give him a corner, good Lord—
Lord—not on stools;
Fur a seat fur him back o' yer throne
And I'll bet my whole stack that the boy'll behave
If yer angles jist let him alone.

There's nuthin' but 'bout him un- less he gets fild—
The boy'll all back me in that—
But if anyone treads on his corns, then yer bet.
He'll light at the drop o' the hat.
"Jist don't let yer angels run over him, Lord,
Nor shut off all to once on his deak;
Break him in kind o' gentle and mild on the start

"Though this is a fair representation of the poet scout in dialect verse, yet it gives you no conception of his better work. There is a vein of pathetic tenderness running through all his verses which would hardly expect to find in the writings of a man whose whole life has been made up of hard knocks, misfortunes and dangers. Thus in his "Burial of Wild Bill":

Under the sod of the prairie land
We have laid the fearless Bill;
We called him wild, yet, a little child
Could bend his iron will!

"And again:
There's a green grassy mound in the valley I love
Where angels their vigils are keep- ing;
The sky peary teardrops is weep- ing;
And cooling on high is a bright turtle dove
O'er the grave where my mother is sleeping.

"Did Burns or Moore ever write a verse of more natural melody, more literary music, and the following contains:
And though I am far from that valley today
The deer are at water, the birds are at play
And the skylarks are all singing o'er me.
I think I can see my dear comrades of old,
The sound of each rifle seems ring- ing;
The echo comes back from the valley of gold,

A biographer of Captain Jack said:
"Crawford was a tall man of wiry build, with nervous, sensitive face. He wore his hair and beard after the fashion of his friend Buf-

Community needs a cleanup drive

By JUAN TORRES

The community is in need of many improvements which could be made by a united drive.

This drive could be more easily brought about if the town council, chamber of commerce, the service clubs and school got together.

Among the improvements necessary are road repairs, a new and complete athletic field, maintenance of the town as a whole and the up-keep of private property.

The method of improving our roads should be such that it won't endanger the property or cost the owner as severely as the proposed plan. A better way would be the setting up of a joint drive to raise funds for the improvements. Then the remaining costs should be divided evenly among the rest of the citizens.

The school could put on plays or suppers. The various town organizations could carry on similar projects. The various city tax funds could be used for the project.

An easier and very troublesome fault that is in need of remedying is the appearance of the town. Clean streets and neat vacant lots are a rare sight in Carrizozo. Altering these conditions would improve trade by beckoning tourists and other travelers to stop for a dinner or even a short stay.

School children and clubs could do this work and earn wages for themselves or their clubs. It would show the populace that the business man or property owner thought enough of them to keep up their possession or place of business for their privilege and benefit.

The up-keep of private property and homes would be as effective and maybe even more so than the downtown area.

The owner or resident of a home could very easily do his part in making the town more desirable. It would only take a small amount of his time to keep his yard clean and to maintain a moderate-sized lawn. Fence repairs would improve the appearance of a home, also.

We feel that if these improvements were made it would make our a better and more desirable community. People would feel more attracted to our town as a place of residence or business. The residents on the other hand, would feel a sense of pride in saying that this was their home town.
