LOST VOTE STILL BURNING DELEGATES Santa Fe—The one vote which New Mexico delegates claim they gave to Sen. Jack Kennedy but which he didn't get when Gov. John Burroughs called the score at 13 to 4 for Lyndon Johnson over Kennedy is still burning here.

DOUBLE CROSS HINTS ARE WHISPERED HERE The immediate embarrassment was painful to the governor and it is getting worse. The governor has refused to release the record on how the delegates voted and some of his people have been hinting that a couple of Kennedy-pledged people quit him in favor of Johnson in the secret ballot.

REPUBLICANS ENJOY RELIGIOUS BIAS State Republicans won't admit it but they are enjoying a big charge of confidence from what they see as big opposition to the Catholic Democratic candidate for president, John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

CHAVEZ NEEDLING STATE DEMOCRATS Sen. Dennis Chavez, who was a Johnson-for-president delegate at Los Angeles, chose the occasion of the Catholic Kennedy victory to call on Gov. John Burroughs of the rigidly Protestant area of Roosevelt county and Demo National Committeeman Tom Drown of Artesia, a big wheel Baptist, to become active in their areas for the Catholic candidate.

Physical exams start Friday for 44 football prospects

Frank Wagner, Carrizozo High School principal, said this week that physical examination slips will be issued Friday, July 29, through August 5 in the high school office.

Each boy must pay his $6 share of the athletic insurance before he is issued an examination slip. The school pays the remaining $6 balance.

No slips will be issued during the week August 8 through 12. Boys who have not obtained them will not be allowed to practice.

Practice for the full squads begins at 8 a.m. August 17, 18, 19 and 20 and at 3:30 p.m. on the same days.

Forty-four suits have been issued to prospective squad members up to this time, Bode says, and prospects are good for the 1950 season.

The Grizzlies' record last season was no losses in conference play, the single loss being against a powerful, veteran Menaul team for the conference championship.

The new athletic field is progressing and new bleachers with a seating capacity of over 500 have arrived. New light poles will be installed within a few days.

Pageant actors to have watermelon feed

John Meigs, director for this year's Lincoln pageant, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid," said this week that Friday night, July 29, is the last chance for riders to get into the pageant act.

There is to be a watermelon feed at 8:30.

Having attained the status of a first class county, the new Lincoln county budget provides for an increased salary schedule for county officials, starting January 1, 1951.

Carrizozo C. of C. ballots for directors

The ballots will be counted at 4 p.m. Friday to determine the six high men in a slate of twelve nominations for the office of director.

DOES NOT STOP: Edward Erickson Jr., Socorro, points to a sign in the old Southern Pacific Railroad station at Ancho, noting that trains no longer stop at the western Lincoln County hamlet. Geology students from New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology used the station as headquarters during a six-week geology mapping expedition in this area. The railroad made its last stop at Ancho last August.

ANKHO — Eight rugged, rattlesnake-eating geology students from the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology last week wound up a six-week field camp headquartered in this one-store, six-family Lincoln County hamlet and headed for home.

The rattlesnake eating episode occurred while the students were roughing it through rugged country, making geologic maps of a 65-square mile area at Ancho in western Lincoln County. Ancho is about 25 miles north of Carrizozo and a half mile off US Highway 84.

The students killed half a dozen rattlers during the field work and celebrated the events by eating steaks from the largest—a five-foot long character with eight big rattles.

"It tasted something like a mixture of chicken and lobster," John Wilkhusen of Fort Chester, N. Y., said. "It was tough but good."

John Wilkhusen of Las Vegas said it tasted to him "like fried rabbit."

Headquarters for the camp were set up in the old Southern Pacific Railroad station, which has been purchased by the Ancho postmaster, Mrs. Jackie Silvers, and moved off railroad property.

ANKHO POSTMISTRESS: Mrs. Jackie Silvers, postmaster at Ancho in Lincoln County, has purchased the old Southern Pacific Railroad station and plans to convert it into a museum. She has lived in the hamlet since arriving as a child in a covered wagon back in 1912. The bulletin board recalls days when Ancho was a bustling community.

In washing gold-bearing placer material. For Idaho, Ed Erickson, geology student from Socorro, tried his luck in panning gold and turned up seven tiny gold particles.

Members of the Straley family still operate ranches in the area. Mrs. Silvers is the third post office of the family to lead the post office. Her father was postmaster for 20 years, beginning in 1917; her late brother John C. Straley was postmaster 13 years and she has been postmaster since 1934.

The geology students, working mostly east, north and south of Ancho, mapped Permian limestone, intrusive rocks originating in a molten state, sediments, gravel overlying older formations, magnetite (an iron oxide) and other minerals.

Most of the students slept on beds in the Ancho railway station, which served as a house and workshop. Wilkhusen, however, rented a house from the railroad company for his wife and the children, James and Kathy.

The motorist, later identified as Homer Flatt of 211 South Main street, Roswell, was pleading for help. Mrs. Trujillo was not able to extricate him and told her she would go for help. He told her he could not wait that long, but go Mrs. Trujillo could do was to go and summon help.

By the time the wrecker arrived, Flatt had been pinned over two hours. The Shaw ambulance at Carrizozo was called at 9:30 and took the injured man to the hospital, where he was treated for bruised ribs.

Motorist pinned when pick-up leaves road CAPTAIN—Mrs. Hilario Trujillo and two children were coming from their ranch home north of Capitán Tuesday morning and about ten miles out of Capitán, they came upon a blue panel truck which had slid into the bar ditch. An elderly man was pinned between the door and the body of the truck. He was pinned from the waist down as the door flew open and he slid out in that position.

A RECENT VISITOR TO LINCOLN was Lois Telfer, a resident of New York City. Miss Telfer, a relative of Billy The Kid, was visiting Lincoln and other parts of New Mexico on her vacation. She is shown here with John Thomas, who plays the role of the outlaw in the Lincoln County "Last Escape of Billy the Kid" Pageant, August 5, 6, and 7. The three-day celebration draws thousands annually to historic Lincolntown.

Lincolntown little changed today from era when hatreds flared into war

Lincoln, N. M.—To this day, the infamous Lincoln County War of 1878 is a subject which will arouse intense feeling in some parts of New Mexico. The bitter feud, which was set off by the murder of John H. Tunstall, a young English businessman and friend of Billy The Kid, took place in and around the little town of Lincoln, parts of which are now a State Monument, restored and administered by the State of New Mexico. Lincoln may be reached by a paved road (US 380) 60 miles northeast of Roswell and is a short drive through beautiful country from either Tularosa or Carrizozo on US 64. In the heart of a famous resort area within the State, Lincoln is today a quiet village of some eighty souls. The visitor will find the town, which straddles US 380, a living museum of the past. The State has restored, over the years, four buildings of importance, and a gradual program of improvement and maintenance is planned. At the southeast edge of town is the Old Lincoln County Courthouse, the main part of the State Monument. In its heyday, the courthouse boasted a billiard room, storeroom, bunkhouse, Masonic room, general store, post office and other offices. A coolhouse and corral were built to house the visiting ranchers. In those days, it must be remembered, Lincoln County contained over 27,000 square miles, and was the largest county in the United States. Its area was greater than the combined areas of present day Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Here, in the courthouse, Pat Garrett, the man who finally wrote final to the Kid's career, maintained his office as sheriff, in 1880. Here also, the Kid was incarcerated in 1881, awaiting execution for murder. The building was the scene of his now legendary escape. The Kid shot and killed one guard, Bell, and then, from a window, shot his enemy, Deputy Sheriff Bob Olinger. A stone marker shows where Olinger fell. Billy then went out on the balcony, where, with the leg iron still on him, he danced his famous jig of defiance and leapt from the balcony to freedom. The courthouse has been converted into a museum and one may find photographs, guns and other relics of the old days, together with the bullet holes allegedly made by the Kid when he killed Bell. Just down the road is the newly-restored Wortley Hotel, which is back in business as a hostelry. Bob Olinger, according to a marker outside, was eating lunch there one day when he heard gunshots. He left the table and rushed outside to meet his doom at the hands of the escaping outlaw.

The Post Office: Profit or Service? (Editorial in the Bell-Maywood, Calif., Independent Post, July 17, 1960) Currently there are no less than 17 bills before Congress aimed at raising the rates on all classes of mail. Yet, just a year or two ago very heavy increases in postal rates were passed by Congress, and the last of the several increases in second and third class mail are just now going into effect. We hear it said that the Post Office should be self-supporting and that rates should be increased until it is. If that is logical, then all government departments—the Department of Commerce, Department of Agriculture, Department of Labor and others—should be self-supporting also. Recently, the Business Mail Foundation, a non-profit organization, had this to say: "The Post Office was established to facilitate communications among Americans. It was the will of the people that this be done, and it is still the will of the people that the best possible mail service be provided at the lowest possible cost. When the national interest compelled establishment of rural delivery service, the farmer at the end of the line was not required to pay any more postage than the city dweller living near the Post Office. This was, and is, as it should be." The Post Office does many other things besides deliver mail. For instance it handles the registration of aliens, sells documentary stamps and U. S. Savings bonds and stamps, distributes income tax forms, receives and transmits charity funds and so on. Users of the mail should not be expected to cover these costs. The Post Office is vital to local, national and international communications. Its basic value and function will be destroyed if rates are made so costly as to restrict its fullest use.

FAMILY PICNIC AT BONITO INN

The personnel and employees of Fort Stanton had a big family picnic at Bonito Inn, a short distance up Bonito Creek, on Sunday, July 17.

The day was spent in a variety of amusements, such as games, music and plenty of good food and refreshments. Those attending report a wonderful time and returned to their homes late in the afternoon.

The ambulatory patients were not to be outdoors, and they spent the afternoon with music and Spanish bingo at Los Amigos Club. Those having visitors spent the time with their loved ones, enjoying their visit and partaking of home-cooked delicacies.

Catalina Espino had the lucky star and she won four bingo's during the evening. Nep Lucero won the blackout and final game.

Mr. and Mrs. Luis Griego and Prospero Barela of Carrizozo were Fort Stanton visitors last Friday.

The painting crew have painted the employees' recreation building, the nurses' and employees' dining room and the bath house on the hill. The boys are always busy and seem to enjoy their chores.

Ruidoso Pony Leaguers edged Stanton, 8 to 7

The Ruidoso Pony Leaguers came from behind last Thursday afternoon to beat the Ft. Stanton Ponies in their last time at bat, when they were trailing 8 to 7.

With a walk and several errors in the top of the 7th, they managed to fill the bases. Grey came to bat with two out and hit a grand slam homer to account for four runs and the lead, 11 to 8.

Our boys tried desperately in their half, but the best they could do was to score one more run. Tommy of the locals also hit a home run in the 6th to put across two markers.

The Ponies made 8 hits to 5 for Ruidoso, but they also made more errors. Melea struck out 14 batters for Ruidoso and Lionel 10 for Stanton. Each issued 6 walks. Jerney of Ruidoso also hit for the circuit in the 5th inning.

The game was very interesting and much enjoyed by the large crowd. Umpires were Losoya and Gray.

Reminiscing...

When we were in Carrizozo recently we paid a short visit to our schoolmate, Elmer (Red) Eaker of Paden's Drug Store. Going back to our school days, we reminisce of two other classmates, Joe and Juan DeOlliver, identical twins. They tried to teach Red some Spanish, but he could not even pronounce a simple, one-syllable word. They finally shifted to long and difficult words (not to be found in the dictionary) and Red rattled them off like a professional orator.

Joe and Juan looked so much alike that our teacher, Miss Mamie Humphrey, had special seats for them to tell them apart. Once in a while, just to confuse her, they would change seats. They always dressed alike.

Killed for survival

The annual Billy The Kid pageant will be staged in Old Lincoln August 5, 6 and 7 under the direction of John Meigs. We have read several accounts by writers in magazines branding Billy The Kid as a juvenile delinquent from the New York slums — a cold-blooded murderer and a mercenary.

Old-timers who knew The Kid, and most of whom have gone to their rewards, would tell you that The Kid killed only for survival and to protect his friends from the so-called upholders of the law, who would mob and lynch a man without the least chance of a fair trial, just for the crime of stealing a horse or a cow.

Those lawmen lived off the fat of the land and rustled cattle by the herds under the cloak of a badge.

Coward or moron, the Kid is still the hero of old Lincoln County and more especially of the old and historic village of Lincoln. Make plans to go there and enjoy a good show and the hospitality of the few remaining inhabitants of the old county seat of Lincoln County, where history was made long ago and the memory of its participants is forever cherished.

Several of our people of those days gave hospitality in their ranch homes, not only to the Kid, but also to other outlaws and lawmen, as well.

The people in general looked on the youth and treated him like one of their own. They felt that he was being persecuted by older, more dangerous and more criminally-inclined men than himself.

When Gov. Lew Wallace came to Lincoln to interview the Kid, he promised him amnesty if he would lay down his arms. The Kid patted his .44 Colt and carbine and said: "Without these, I have no protection against my enemies," and rode off uninterupted.

To hear one small boy calling another's bluff, you'd think he was dead.—Changing Times.

THE BIBLE SAYS

By JOHN K. ASNEY
Church of the Nazarene
Captain, New Mexico

"Brethren, I write how new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning."

"Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth."

"He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now."

"He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him."

"But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes."

—1 John 2:7-11.

In India some years ago the famous leader Ghandi, entered into a Christian church. He stayed for the service, then left as quietly as he had entered. Later he was asked why he did not become a Christian. He replied: "I was told I had to sit on the back seat."

Ghandi might have become a Christian if there had been an attraction of love.

There are in America today just such churches. Men and women who profess Christianity and show no love for their fellow man. The Bible warns of such people. "He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now" (1 John 2:9).

The Bible says that God is no respecter of persons. We, as Christians need to practice the brotherhood we preach. God wants us to love one another and leave the consequence in His hands. Will we do it?

There is something that smells about a person who says that he is in the light and then curses his brother. I am convinced that any man or woman who is of a double mind as that is a liar and a deceiver.

The Bible says, "He that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes" (1 John 2:11).

One day a teacher asked a little boy to describe a friend. "A friend is one who knows all about you and keeps on loving you anyhow." Even though we know all about our friends, we need to love them anyhow.

To show love is the greatest commandment of Jesus. "To love thy neighbor as thyself." Jesus is our example. We must walk in His footsteps and do His commandments. Jesus says, "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments." God helps us to love one another.

News Notes from Along the Bonito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

The last word I heard the fisherman say when he came in Bonito Lake, was: "I'm trying to catch a fish!"

Honestly, the fishermen are so many you feel sorry for them. We need some fish in Bonito Lake for our tourists and dear natives—they are good advertisement, and good eating.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Greer and Tom Bragg from El Paso have been here this last week. Tom spent a few days at the Parsons Hotel. He and Alice Wright went into Carrizozo and back to Nogal on Monday. Peg and Leota Pfingsten came down from Nogal Canyon by Parsons Mine Sunday and visited with Alice and Tom. She and Peg stopped by Bonito City on their way out the canyon. Leota has two more weeks at school to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coe were on the Bonito from Ruidoso. With them was Derkley Stearns who's been visiting them a few weeks.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Lloyd Coe, Derkley Stearns, Mrs. Coe's uncle and wife Sgt. and Mrs. Carter and children from the Philippines, and Mrs. Coe's niece from Canutillo had a picnic at Elmo Hole. The Carters have been in the Philippines three years but are now to be reestablished in Phoenix.

New Polio Vaccine Requires No Needle

A Public Health Nurse of Costa Rica's National Health Service administers oral vaccine against poliomyelitis to a child of one of the houses in her district. These new vaccines are made with attenuated or "tamed" strains of live rather than killed poliovirus and are taken by mouth and not by injection. They are usually given in the form of pills or in fruit-flavored syrups. Costa Rica is only one of several Latin American nations now using oral vaccine in campaigns against polio.

The Pan American Sanitary Bureau, operating arm of the Pan American Health Organization and Regional Office for the Americas of the World Health Organization, assists the countries in combating this crippling disease.

CAPITAN

A prank that was far from being funny—

This is an account of a prank that is far from being funny. Last week someone turned on the water running all night at the home of an 82-year-old lady. The running water was not discovered until 8 the next morning.

Two boys climbed over her fence to turn on the water and they dragged the hose where it would run out of the yard and down the road.

The parents of these children did not realize such a thing was going on and there are many parents who just would not stand for such conduct.

Boys, you didn't realize what you were doing. Things like this take money that should go for necessities. The water must be paid for. Let's stop and think before committing an expensive and unnecessary act like this.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Silva and two children of Los Alamos arrived last Wednesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Isabel Gavi; his mother, Mrs. Silva, and other relatives. Mr. Silva is having an enforced vacation due to a strike at Los Alamos.

Mr. and Mrs. H Lee Miller of Alamogordo were home last week end. Their daughter, Joy Berlema of Las Cruces, came to Carrizozo on business, then joined her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovato and two sons are new residents in the Carrizozo property on North Hill. He is the operator of the Malco station.

Capitan improvements

Our new Malco Station had its grand opening last Saturday. We are proud to have the new station in Capitan. Welcome, and we wish you worlds of success.

The Smokey Bear Motel is still making improvements. The home has the double garage finished and stuccoed. It and all buildings have been painted buff to match the motel's roof. The new lawn is very attractive, with roses and other flowers in bloom.

A picnic area had been added to the motel's park just east of the motel, near the children's swings. Air conditioning and free courtesy coffee has been added to the motel as added services to the motoring public.

It is weed cutting time and Ray Provine, as well as many other people, have found a lush crop to work on. It will tidy up our town to have premises and streets free of weeds.

The Murphy Mercantile store has a new trim in brown. Also the store is being enlarged and more merchandise added. The Murphys are lovely people and we are glad to have them.

Outstanding lawns in Capitan are those of the Flores, Dolinar and Callaways, all close together. The Rensch, Annaratone, Wallace and Shaw lawns; also Earling, Miller, Lowe, Stanley Pepper, Dean, Soderback, Bird, Laramie, Howard, Hickman, Corrine Provine, White and Fletcher.

Let's all try to follow suit, for it makes all the difference in the world to have beauty around you. I wish everyone felt that way.

To join Serviceman husband in Germany

They expect to arrive August 4. Mac is in the Air Force and has a home waiting for his family.

Bridal shower honors Miss Betty Walker

A mother and daughter personal bridal shower was given Tuesday, July 19, for Miss Betty Walker in the home of Mrs. Ray Provino. Mrs. Jim Bonnell was co-hostess.

Sixteen were present. The bride-to-be received many lovely personal gifts. Carol Bonnell made the cake and it was served with punch and coffee.

Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Watkins and her three children, from Tucson came in last Saturday afternoon. Both are nurses. Mrs. Bush started to work at Fort Stanton on Tuesday and Mrs. Watkins will start to work later. She returned by bus to finish two more weeks at the hospital in Tucson. They plan to make their home in this county, the reason being the desire to get away from the very hot summers in Tucson. Mrs. Bush has lived in Tucson for 33 years. She was attracted to our delightful climate here.

Mrs. Dorothy Swanson of Riverside, Calif., has been visiting her cousin, C. Hatfield, and wife, for the past two weeks.

State Game Dept.

ANOTHER FISHING WATER OPENS
A mile and a half of fishing water has just been opened to the public on the upper Red River. A fishing easement obtained by the Game Department from Arthur R. McElreath Jr., opens this water immediately above the forest land at Aspen Park, and extending up to near the mouth of Fourth of July Canyon.

The angling public is permitted to fish from the river edge back 12 feet on both sides, up to where the main road crosses the stream. From there, only the east bank is open, as far as the north boundary of the property.

The easement permits only parking and fishing. It does not permit picnicking or camping. In recognition of the fishing privilege, the Game Department will build about 50 trash catchers on the stretch of river this summer. The stream will be stocked with trout in the same proportion as holds for other public waters.

The five-year easement is in line with the Department's plan to make more and more fishing waters available. Stream-improvement structures have already been installed in the Red River on the mile of National Forest land just below this property.

STUDENT FISHERMAN LEARNS THE HARD WAY
If you're teaching your buddy how to fish, and your pupil has the line in his water, and there's a baited hook on the line, then your pupil had better have a valid fishing license on his person, if he's over 14 years of age.

A 20-year-old Las Cruces resident, charged with fishing without a license, protested to Conservation Officer Motion Embrey that his companion was teaching him how to fish. When taken before the J. P., however, he pleaded guilty of fishing without a license. The experience cost him $30 in fine and court cost.

Like all such fines, the money went to the State School Fund. Education comes high.

SNYDER ON DUTY AGAIN
Biologist Walter A. Snyder has returned to the Department of Game and Fish and will be stationed at Carlsbad.

FARM NEWS

By RALPH R. DUNLAP
75 attend annual

NMSU Wool School
University Park, N. M.—About 75 wool growers from New Mexico, Texas and Colorado attended the recent annual three-day Wool School at New Mexico State University. The school featured training in sheep improvement, wool and lamb marketing and ranch management. Highlighting the three-day session was the practical grading of wool and fat lambs.

Dr. T. H. Belling Jr. veterinarian for the NMSU Experiment Station, told the sheepmen that the best approach to sheep disease control is through prevention.

Proper housing, correct breeding practices, good nutrition, and care at lambing time all come under good management which aid in prevention, he said. Belling also stressed the need for vaccination as a supplemental aid.

He cautioned wool growers to make sure that vaccines are not outdated, to buy only vaccines that are properly cared for by the supplier, and choose the correct time for vaccinating sheep.

Instructor P. E. Neale, animal husbandman with the NMSU Experiment Station, demonstrated his "squeezing machine" and told the wool growers how it would help with sheep selection programs. The machine, developed by Neale, estimates the amount of wool on a clean basis at the shearing pen.

Dr. Earl Ray, USDA geneticist stationed at NMSU, reviewed sheep research at the Southwestern Sheep Laboratory, Ft. Wingate, N. M. A two-year study on the differences in weight gains made by lambs run under fence versus lambs under herd, showed that lambs under fence gained an average of over 12 pounds more than lambs under herd from September 1958 to June 1959.

Ray said results of this study pointed up the fact that this change in management would provide the wool growers with more net returns as a result of increased gains.

A study on the difference in wool production of pregnant ewes and dry ewes showed that pregnancy and lactation lowered wool production from 4% to 25%. Tentative figures released by Ray show that ewes giving birth to and weaning single lambs produced only 23% as much wool as dry ewes; those giving birth to and weaning twin lambs produced only 75% as much wool as dry ewes.

These figures indicate that lamb production should also be considered in selecting ewes on the basis of their wool production, the geneticist said.

Ground water levels dropped in 1955

Water levels continued to decline in 1955 in most areas where ground water was used for irrigation in New Mexico; according to a report prepared by the New Mexico State Engineer and the U. S. Geological Survey and released this week by the State Engineer Office as Technical Report 16.

In general, declines were greater than in 1954 in the southwestern part of the State and smaller in the eastern and southeastern parts, where some rises were noted. Appreciable rises were noted in the Carlsbad area.

The report tabulates the annual measurements of water level in 1,490 observation wells in the various areas in January or February 1956 with changes in water levels in 1955 for each area in which observations were being made. Maps showing changes in water levels for longer periods of time are included for most areas.

The areas of observations included are House, Clovis, Portales Valley, Tatum-Lovington-Hobbs, Roswell basin, Carlsbad, Estancia Valley, Tularosa-Alamogordo, Hot Springs basin, Grants-Bluewater, and Animas, Platts, Virden and Mimbres valleys.

Copies of the report are available from the State Engineer Office in Santa Fe and Roswell. File copies may be inspected in the office of the State Engineer in Albuquerque and Deming, and in offices of the Geological Survey in Albuquerque.

Linda and Scotty Eden from Albuquerque visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sellers, for the past two weeks. At Bonito Lake, Scotty caught a fish measuring 11 inches. "It was worth all our trying for a couple of days," Frances said, since it was the first fish Scotty ever caught. Their parents came from Albuquerque Monday evening to get the children.

"Our Gal Dido" and daughter Dido City rode horseback at Bonito City Saturday. Macle Edmondson was good company while the girls rode.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Jackson and children from El Paso were in Bonito Canyon again this week end. They made the horse races at Ruidoso Downs (usually win a little) and this time on Sunday they hit up the South Park of the Bonito. "It's a beautiful hill!

Lula Rummel and Willa Morris went to see Jesse Morgan in the Capitan Mountains Friday. Jesse has had some rough, hot driving, going back and forth to Lubbock to see her father who was in the hospital there. Finally he brought him to their home, where she will care for him. Friday was Jesse's birthday and she was happy to see Willa and Lula.

Mrs. Elmer Iretch and son Ray Louis and family from Lamesa visited us Monday. I hadn't seen Mrs. Iretch for twenty years.

Oldest title company in area changes its name to First Title

El Paso — The Title Insurance Company, which guarantees property titles issued through the Lincoln County Abstract Company in Carrizozo, changes its name to First Title Insurance Company on August 1.

John Voss of the Lincoln County Abstract, said that Paul J. Huchton, president of First Title Co., had issued an announcement that the name of the regional title guarantor was being made more specific to keep pace with the firm's year growth in New Mexico, West Texas, and expansion soon into Arizona.

Upon establishment in 1943, the Title Insurance Co. was the first of its kind to be organized between Dallas and El Paso. A veteran of title work in El Paso for the past 25 years, toured West Texas and New Mexico by bus during those gas rationing days to sign up the company's first 15 agents.

Said Huchton: "The nice thing about it is we still have those first ones we signed, along with 19 others added through the intervening years."

First Title's assets have grown from $105,000 in 1943 to $681,000 at the beginning of 1960.

Farm accidents costly to nation

"Accidents to farm and ranch people cost the nation 1 1/2 billion dollars each year. That's why farm safety isn't just for farmers and ranchers alone," Joe Skeen of Picacho, president of the New Mexico Farm, Ranch, and Home Safety Council, said last week in calling attention to the observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 24-30.

The Week—co-sponsored in New Mexico by the Council and the New Mexico State University Extension Service—has as its theme "Enjoy Farm Life—Practice Safety."

Purpose of the Week, Skeen stated, is to focus national attention on the year around need for reducing the number of farm accidents which cause death, disability and grief to rural people and drain the nation's economy.

"By farm people, I mean more than just the 20 million farm residents alone," the Council president said. "Others who suffer indirectly include the six million persons who supply what farmers need, plus the 10 million transportation, store, processing and merchandising people."

"During the decade of the 1950's farm families have diligently reduced their accident death rate from 63.3 deaths per 100,000 farm residents in 1950 to 54.3 in 1958, the latest rate available," Skeen says.

"Non-fatal injuries were likewise reduced. Nevertheless, injury and death rates continue to be higher among farm people than for the rest of the population, and we may expect this year that one farm family in four will suffer a serious injury to one of its members."

"The remedy is to practice safety vigilantly in the 1960's. The reward is greater enjoyment of life for thousands of farm families."

Goup's have accident on vacation trip

Mr. and Mrs. Al Witham and Bobby Witham from Nogal drove over to Donito City Sunday. They said they had heard from their oldest daughter Martha, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Laird Soria, who wrote they were on their way here to visit and met with a tragic accident.

Their car hit another which ran a red light. The man in the other car was killed and Martha and Laird were hospitalized. Martha was injured the most severely, with head lacerations.

Their children were in the rear of the station wagon, in bed, and escaped injury, but the station wagon was ruined.

FARMING AROUND
By Mark Welsh

At Iowa State University they have studied the odor problem and are now able to make an artificial cow's milk so good that little pigs try to make it.

They try to make it by themselves in a hurry. According to Dr. Catron, the most critical period in a pig's life is from birth to 25 pounds weight. Pigs normally double their weight in the first week and usually triple it by the time they are 2 weeks old.

Getting the young pig on solid food as early as possible solves many problems. It's easier to give them a well-balanced diet with trace minerals, to stimulate their growth and control their infections with Aureomycin and to speed up their food intake.

Then, too, the weight of piglets on before he reaches 100 pounds are the cheapest gains he will make—and the most profitable too.

Frozen turkeys and chickens are going over big in several European countries, especially West Germany. The demand has been expanding for the past few years and the prices good. As usual, however, competition starts up when sales are good, and now Denmark and Holland are matching our quality, pricing and price. Poultry is still a Sunday and holiday meat in most countries other than this so we may yet sell a lot of our surplus grain as chickens, turkeys and ducks overseas.

Strangely, the goose is a favorite meat in many countries; yet you rarely see geese on the market here. Wonder why?

Last Wednesday night the Alamogordo girls defeated the Carrizozo girls, 23 to 16. In the boys' game the Alamo club broke the Zozo win streak at 5 games, winning 11 to 6.

A total of 18 boys have turned out for Pony League ball this summer.

Carrizozo unbeaten in league play

The Carrizozo town ball team defeated Willard Sunday at Willard, 10 to 4, and this Sunday traveled to Santa Rosa for a game. Torreon, losing Sunday to Santa Rosa, 20-10, plays Willard this Sunday. This will be a battle to determine which gets out of the cellar. Santa Rosa is in second place in the league and Carrizozo is still undefeated by any other league team.

The following Sunday Carrizozo plays its semi-final game at home. The final and last game will be here also.

J. Beltran was on the mound for Carrizozo in the Willard game, with Ronquillo receiving. For Willard it was Garley and Garcia.

Manager Tony Beltran says the locals played a fine game Sunday and that they are "cleaning their claws for the championship berth."

League Standings—
Carrizozo 6 0
Santa Rosa 4 2
Willard 1 5
Torreon 1 5
