COMMITTEE ROOM WAS OFF LIMITS

Santa Fe Mayor Leo Montoya the Congressman was here this week trying to square things with the state highway department and the federal bureau of roads which has cut off payments on $9 million worth of construction and ordered no new starts.

Neither Montoya nor Rep. Tom Morris so much as stuck his head in the two-week Blatnik committee hearing that derailed the state road program. And neither of the senators made an appearance although Charles Davis of Sen. Dennis Chavez' staff was frequently in the audience.

SANTA FE MAYOR BUSY IN CAPITOL

Santa Fe Mayor Leo Murphy was in Washington most of the time during the road hearings but he didn't come around either to sit at the side of the suffering contractors or engineers.

Murphy is straining for Washington support for Demo nomination for governor next year and apparently felt it would do him no good to show up with the contractors who were being peeled for their political activities.

POLITICIANS FACE AUSTERITY PROGRAM

The drastic results of the Blatnik investigation are likely to knock road contractors out of the picture as a major source of campaign money.

None has admitted giving any considerable sum to a political candidate but for 30 years the group has been commonly regarded as the No. 1 source of campaign money for both parties.

HARTLEY BELIEVES RANCHERS WILL PAY

Atty. Gen. Earl Hartley thinks New Mexico ranchers will return most of $373,903 illegally given them in 1958 without recourse of suing for the money.

Hartley sent claims to 3,118 ranchers on July 3 and asked for payment by July 23.

The claims run from less than a dollar to $7,000 for the money given the ranchers on their signed affidavits that they could not maintain their basic herds without public help.

The give-away was held illegal by the supreme court in 1957. Hartley's move this week was the first to recover the money.

The attorney general is empowered to sue those who do not come through voluntarily with the refunds.

SEE LEAN TIMES FOR COMMISSIONERS

Highway commissioners Harold Leonard and John Sudderth refused to go along with a proposed resolution last week which would have held against commissioners selling to road contractors working for the state.

Both indicated they would continue business with contractors & Leonard had testified in Washington that it would be difficult for him to stay in business without the contractor trade.

Chances are that both will have very little business with contractors whether there is a resolution or not.

The Blatnik committee was so severe in denouncing the practice that the frightened and jittery contractors are not likely to be buying very much from the commissioners.

Leonard deals in tires and trucks, Sudderth in oil and gas. CHAVEZ LOOKS SAME IN PRESS PICTURE

A press association picture of Sen. Dennis Chavez attending a bill-signing ceremony with President Kennedy and other senators showed the veteran legislator looking like he usually looks and not a hair off the speculation about his being dangerously ill.

The senator is continuing treatment for a throat ailment after surgery in Albuquerque last month.

WORK COMING UP FOR LEGISLATORS

A special session of the legislature became almost certain some time later this year as the business year closed June 30 without producing the extra money that the schools need, and as new causes arose for legislative action.

The legislature's box hoo of giving $3 million of new cigarette tax money to the county and city municipal programs rather than the state general account as intended needs legislative action if the money is to be protected, and the road mess may call for new laws before the state is entirely cleared by the federal government.

John Simms of Albuquerque, governor 1954-56, is being mentioned more and more for the Demo nomination for governor next year. Simms hasn't uttered a peep publicly but some of his intimates have been telling that he would like to try it again. Such a run would probably be against Republican Ed McQueen who beat Simms for re-election in 1956.

Camp meetings to be soon

The Nogal Ranchman's Camp Meeting will get underway on July 19, 1961, with an evening service at the camp meeting grounds on beautiful Nogal Mesa 12 miles from Carrizozo.

Through July 23, each day will see a full schedule of worship services and supervised play is arranged for the small fry in the Kiddie Korral.

The hills and canyons will again echo to the voices of hundreds of visitors to these sacred grounds, as they sing favorite hymns that are sung in churches "the world over" but given added inspiration and charm by the fact of their being heard in these wide open spaces on a mountain top where it seems that the creator has laid particular emphasis on the greatness of our surroundings.

From the tabernacle, one may see spread out before them the northern end of the Tularosa Basin, a limitless expanse of desert and mountain ranges, the badlands of the Lava Flow, the village of Nogal and the town of Carrizozo, all at a glance.

To bring the messages this year, it will be a pleasure I again hear the Rev. Paul Gaston from the Community Church in San Francisco suburb. For the first time we will enjoy hearing from Rev. Howard Hansen of the First Presbyterian Church in Colorado Springs, Colo. An inter-denominational meeting, this brings together folks from town and country.

The camp grounds may be reached from a turn-off on Highway 290 about 10 miles east of Carrizozo and also on State Road 37 by the Nogal Lake cutoff.

Chuck wagon type meals are served thrice daily to those attending the worship services and sharing in the fellowship of this once-a-year delivery type church meeting.

Remember to wear or bring wraps — the days are warm but the evenings and nights are chilly.

LOTS OF WATER

The city's water pumps are still showing no signs of let-up, says Ed Penfield, and the Alamogordo well, which took an alarming drop recently and is near the Carrizozo pumpage, has come back to normal.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

June 1 — Beverly Bolles, 27, Alamogordo, to Michael Allen Neal, 21, Holloman AFB.

July 3 — Theresa Jane Barajas, 23, Ruidoso, to Van Ray Trotter, 24, Ocala, Texas.

TOM ARCHULETA DIES

Tom Archuleta of Carrizozo was found dead Thursday morning near the wreckage of the truck in which he and a companion were driving to work at White Sands.

The companion, name not known at press time, is in the hospital.

Mr. Archuleta is the father of three children, and is survived by his widow and his mother, Mrs. Florencio Archuleta of Carrizozo.

ROTARY CLUB SELLS RECORDS BY BLIND

Members of the Carrizozo Rotary Club will take orders for records made by the chorus of the School for the Blind at Alamogordo.

Records are $1.25. Profit goes into the Rotary Foundation, which provides overseas scholarships. The school's profit goes for a trip for the senior class.

The record of New Mexico songs, contains numbers written by the daughter of Pat Garrett, sheriff who shot Billy the Kid.

CLINIC WELL ATTENDED

Twenty-seven pre-school children got the first of a series of immunizations Monday at a shot clinic held by the county health department. Mrs. R. H. Bradley, county nurse, said next clinic will be August 7.

RUIDOSO GETS PLANNING MONEY

A federal grant of $1,185 has been given for growth and development planning of Ruidoso Downs by the urban renewal commission. Work will be coordinated with similar work underway in Ruidoso and is scheduled to be completed in six months. The federal grant will be matched by local funds.

A similar grant for Carrizozo has been discussed but actual matching of funds by the town hasn't been formally accepted by the city trustees yet.

Frank Kelt Services Today

Word was received in Carrizozo Wednesday of the death of Frank Kelt who grew up in Lincoln County. Services were held in Portales today and burial in Tucuman.

CORONA WOMAN TO INDIANA CHURCH MEET

Mrs. Mauda Reisinger of Corona was one of 42 New Mexico women who attended the triennial national meeting of United Presbyterian Women held last week in Lafayette, Ind.

Composer of "El Chivato" at work in Lincoln church

The fabled story of Billy the Kid is being set to music in the form of an opera named "El Chivato" by Ze Elliott, composer known over most of the world as the writer of "Long, Long Trail A Winding." Elliott has been in Lincoln for several weeks working on his opera, doing his work in the Community church which was a school house in the days of the Lincoln County War.

Elliott is a citizen of Manchester, New Hampshire. He has a great love for New Mexico and has spent much time in this state. It was during a drive from Silver City back to the University of Arizona that the idea of "El Chivato" was conceived.

The opening scene of the opera is in the graveyard where the spirits of Billy and his two friends are talking. The first draft of the opera is well along but much polishing remains to be done and Elliott is doing that this summer in Lincoln County. About a fifth of the opera is in Spanish. Elliott was singing a tuneful aria, sung by Billy in the opera, which has the words, "There's no place on earth that I like better than here," as the News photographer took this picture.

Where the opera might be produced is a good question. The composer said he had kept some party-waiting-tee-tee-tee and "El Chivato" might have to be produced abroad to get a first hearing. Most all available sources of information have been used in plotting this opera and the atmosphere was gained first hand in Lincoln, the scene of the most violent parts of the Lincoln County war.

One does not think of music as serious as most operas in the "sheet 'em up" vein but "El Chivato" will have its rousers and dramatic scenes aplenty.

The composer expects to be in London later this summer where the opera score will be gone over by British critics and after that Elliott will do the orchestration.

Pageant plans set

Lincoln County's annual pageant—the staff of Disney Studios. Bickston's home is now Columbus, N. M., where he maintains a gun-smithing shop and the Pancho Villa Museum. He carries on a busy life in community service, teaching young people gun safety along with marksmanship drill in a Jr. N.R.A. group. Recently he was made deputy sheriff of Luna County. He is currently technical director for the show, "Southwestern," produced by TV station, KTSM, in El Paso. The Bickstons will be guests of the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission at the Wortley Hotel in Lincoln, during pageant preparation and production.

The "Last Escape of Billy the Kid" had been produced annually for the last 12 years by the Lincoln County Historical Society. Participants are Lincoln County folks, many of whose ancestors fought in the bloody Lincoln County War. The pageant will be produced Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 4th, 5th and 6th. Bickston will be in Lincoln the week beginning July 31st to cast the show and direct rehearsals. Dates for rehearsals will be scheduled next week.

A mean man with a gun himself, Bickston has downed hundreds of desperados in TV movies. He was casting director as well as actor at Corriganville, Calif., and at the Charlie Aldrich Movie Ranch in California, where movies are made. Many times he died in battle while with the Bill McGraw show, "Tournament of Thrills." He worked as stunt man on the Riverboat at Disneyland, and served on

All former members of the cast as well as newly-interested persons, are invited to come and take part in the fun of putting on the show. "The Billy the Kid Pageant" is one of the few genuine folk-pageants being produced in the United States today," says Mr. Boylan, "and I believe it is a tribute to the energy and interest of Lincoln County people that the pageant has attracted so much attention on the national scene."

Carrizozo alumni enjoy Sunday picnic up Nogal Canyon

The weather was perfect, the food as choice as any to be found, and a good sized crowd of grade of Carrizozo High school gathered two weeks ago up in Nogal Canyon for a picnic. Last year was the first big gathering of alumni in recent history and plans were made for a big meeting every five years with a get-together such as was held Sunday every year. There will be a dance before the picnic next year.

Three thousand rodeo fans turned out to watch a rough-and-tumble riding display at the Smokey Bear Stampede at Capitlan over the Fourth of July holidays. The crowd, estimated to be but slightly less or the same as last year, was shrunk by two days of heavy rain during the four-day event. About a thousand turned out for the free barbecue at noon July 4, and were fed in an hour and a half.

Quiet Fourth no accidents in the county

It was an unusually quiet Fourth of July for county law enforcement officials.

There wasn't an accident reported in the county, and only a few arrests made.

Shorliff's officers, state policemen and New Mexico Mounted Patrolmen were out in force over the four-day holiday, and roving madlocks were established over the county.

In Carrizozo six juveniles were arrested for shooting off "explosive type" firecrackers, prohibited by state law. They were turned over to the probation officer.

In Ruidoso seven juveniles were arrested July 4 for drinking beer in a car and "raising Cain," said the sheriff's office.

Albert Collier wins fireworks drawing

Albert Collier of Carrizozo held the winning ticket at the July 4th fireworks display put on by Carrizozo volunteer fire department. He wins an expensive camera.

The display started about 8 p.m. hour. Brilliant bursts of color and loud reports brought the night alive against a background of dark clouds left over from the afternoon rains.

Several hundred people watched the display at the baseball diamond.

Among those helping with the fireworks display were Willis Hill, Duff May, Earl Crook, Dick Butts, Russ Eddings, Sonny Smoot, Kenneth Means and VVelta Ladd.

Lack of buyers for teacherages

Only three teacherages of the 10 put up for sale by the school district in Carrizozo were sold when bids were opened this week. The remaining seven are being offered for $1,200 each, including lot, with a Saturday deadline.

Two of the houses have been optioned by Gallup schools, but superintendent J. T. Clegg said they would be sold to local folks first if bids received before July 8. If no one wants them locally, they'll be sold to Gallup schools and moved there.

Three houses were sold, and will be used as residences. They were bought by J. P. Aguilar, Carrizozo, Mrs. Selma Teague, local teacher, and Rev. James L. Wells, pastor of the Assembly of God church here.

Letters in Behalf Of Road 10 Requested

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce has been working with the Mountaineer C of C endeavoring to come up with a plan that would be acceptable to the State Highway Department, whereby State Road 10 from Gran Quivira to a point where it intersects Highway 54, could be blacktopped.

A good many letters have been written to highway and state officials asking help in this project. Residents of the area who are interested are urged to write these highway commissioners, John Sudderth at Hobbs, N. M., and Frank Tutsch at Silver City, N. M.

Highway 54 association opens drive soon

The Highway 54 membership drive is to take place soon. President Robert H. Coleman of the National Highway 54 Association was in Carrizozo this past week and reported that the association had set $15,000 as their goal for fiscal 1961-62.

Pres. Coleman said that a great number of new Highway 54 signs had been erected and that there had been a large amount of advertising done in newspapers and on TV.

It is necessary, he said, that Highway 54 compete against other national highways for tourist traffic. An all-out effort is being made this year for new dues. At Vaughn the association was successful and obtained $700 during the drive there this past week.

Pres. Coleman urged that the people of Carrizozo contribute their share to Highway 54 as the tourist traffic in 54 greatly boosts the town's welfare.

Teachers change, new principal at high school

New junior high and elementary school principal will be John L. McCollum, shop and driver education teacher. Former principal Fred Miller has resigned the position.

McCollum is finishing his masters degree in guidance, counseling and education at ENMU in Portales this summer. He has been with the local school system for eight years.

Superintendent J. T. Clegg said this week: "Mr. Miller has been a most capable teacher and principal and we're sorry to lose him."

Resignations have also been received from Eldon Beard, music teacher, who has taken a job at Raton High school, and Edward Dueno, band director, who is going back to La Joya, Texas, as band director.

No replacement for the music and band teachers has been found yet, said Clegg.

Stucco coat for old courthouse

County commissioners met in their shortest session of the year—the first that adjourned before 5 p.m.—Wednesday. They gave the go-ahead for asking for bids to stucco the old brick courthouse.

Work on the old building is to start this fall. It's also planned at that time to plow up the grounds and plant grass seed.

H. O. Smith met with commissioners, got a favorable reply to his request for road improvement of the cutoff road from Gnatkowsk's ranch to Capitlan.

Walter Hubbard's request for road improvement from his mining claims to the road in the Jicarillas was approved. The county maintainer will do the work, Hubbard will pay the bill.

Commissioners pointed out that it was with regret that they disapproved the budget request for a county home demonstration agent, but that the money simply isn't available at this time.

County enjoys two big rodeos

The rain that wet parts of Lincoln County on July 4 fell pretty hard at White Oaks but dampened the ground a lot more than it did the spirits of rodeo contestants and people attending this annual affair.

The entire day went off smoothly in a wacky sort of fashion. It was hard to tell what sort of animal might come out of the chutes next or who the rider might be. The word at White Oaks was that they had riders for everything, from wild milk cows to burros that would duck suddenly and pitch their rider in the dust.

It was rough in some ways. The first two bulls in the chutes came right on out—over the steel gate, apparently not interested in being ridden that day. One of them jumped another gate after being put in the pens. The stock was rugged for the most part and the rides were as good as the riders.

Bobby Dan Crenshaw was knocked out while bulldozing a calf, when a horse ran over him, but no permanent injuries resulted. One bull went to the slaughterhouse after having a leg broken. It was a passel of fun watching the youngsters ply their trade as cowboys and cowgirls in goats and burros, equally fun for the crowd to watch the wild cow milking contest. The wild mare race was a dead plenty of helpers rode, even part way to the finish line.

The largest crowd in recent White Oaks history put away 400 pounds of choice barbecued beef and enough beans to march an army from here to Juarez, Car tags showed up from several adjoining states and most counties of southern New Mexico.

The entry lists and winners follow:

RESULTS

Jerry Sidwell, Rand Perkins, Randy Workman, Regeno Alford, Willis Kilepatrick, Roy Payton, Fred Hale, Les Lawson, Les Fleming, and James Littlejohn.

Smokey's tail: flame to fame

By ELLIOTT S. BARKER

In 1950 a game warden in charge of one of many crews of men fighting a disastrous forest fire in the Lincoln National Forest near Capitan, heard a faint noise like that of a whimpering child. When he stopped to listen little did he dream that pitiful whimper would be heard throughout the nation, and its echoes, in chain reaction, become the greatest influence of the century in forest fire prevention. But that is just what happened!

The men were crossing a strip of burned area — blackened and charred, logs smoking and the ashen forest floor hot. What living thing could have survived the holocaust? Something had, for sniffs and whimpers continued. But from whence?

Not from the charred, ashy forest floor. But to escape the heat of it a tiny cub bear was clinging to the charred-barked trunk of a blackened - crowned pine tree. Quickly the little five-pound, brown cub was rescued. His fur was singed and the soles of his feet almost burned off. He was hungry and exhausted.

That was the beginning of the real Smokey Bear's career. Those were the whimpers heard throughout the nation that was Smokey Bear destined to become the living fire prevention symbol and captivate the hearts of men, women and children not only in America but internationally.

The tiny little cub was taken to camp, then to a ranch, and cared for overnight. Next day the game department pilot flew him to Santa Fe where, in the care of a veterinarian, his burned, raw feet slowly healed. Then for a time charming seven-year-old Judy Bell became his nurse and mentor and they became great pals. He was a scrappy little fellow with others but bestowed great affection on Judy.

Soon the writer, then state game warden, gave Smokey to the U.S. Forest Service to be dedicated as a living symbol, to the cause of forest fire prevention. He was flown to Washington, D.C., where senators and other high government officials participated in big ceremonies at the airport, and elsewhere next day. After that he was given a permanent home in the Washington zoo where many thousands visit him every year. The writer and his wife paid Smokey a visit last March.

But let's fly back to Capitan. It is just a nice, country village of a few hundred people situated on highway 380 between Roswell and Carrizozo. Portals east and west of town greet the traveler, proclaiming Capitan as the "Birthplace of Smokey Bear." The citizens are justly proud that in 1958 President Eisenhower awarded the first gold Smokey "Oscar" to Capitan for conservation accomplishments.

Now the people of this placid, little mountain village have constructed a unique, rustic, log cabin Smokey Bear Museum. The natural resources of Lincoln County are displayed in Museum exhibits. The pictured life story of Smokey covers the north wall, and photographs of wildlife are on the west. A native stone fireplace on the east shares space with a Mexican hand-woven Smokey Bear rug. There are conservation displays provided by the Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service and the department of Game and Fish illustrating forest uses and resource conservation.

The Museum is a growing attraction, especially for young folk. First opened in 1960, there were more than 3,000 visitors in a short summer period. Admission is entirely free. The purpose of the Museum is to commemorate Smokey, the tiny, foot-burned cub rescued from a forest fire in the nearby mountains. It is an altruistic project undertaken in the public interest. Worthy, though it is, operation and maintenance of the Smokey Bear Museum has become quite burdensome on the good people of Capitan.

Anyone desiring to assist these people to maintain and operate, for educational and conservation purposes, the Smokey Bear Museum at Smokey's birth place may do so by sending their contributions, large or small, to Mrs. Virgil Wallace, president of the Smokey Bear Museum, Capitan, New Mexico. It will be greatly appreciated.

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT ORTIZ

Smith-Ortiz wedding told

Santa Rita Catholic church in Carrizozo was the setting for the double ring ceremony in which Miss Maxine Smith became the bride of Lt. Francis Gilbert Ortiz, at 10 a.m. June 17.

Officiating in the Holy Rites was Father Clay Dennis. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Roswell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvador M. Ortiz of Carrizozo.

The altar was decorated with large bouquets of white gladioli. Music prelude and the traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Joe Ventura at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of clipped white Chantilly lace and tulle, styled with a jeweled Sabrina neckline, finger-tip sleeves and an elongated bougainvillee bodice. The bouffant skirt, formed in tiers of pleated tulle and lace, cascaded into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a jeweled coronet. She carried a lace-covered prayer book, with a white orchid and feathered carnations.

For something old the bride wore a diamond in her shoe, something borrowed, a white lace handkerchief belonging to her mother, something blue, the traditional blue garter. The bridegroom's gift to the bride, for something new, was a wristwatch, surrounded by tiny diamonds.

Flower girls, Misses Carmen Vidauri and Pauline Mackley, wore blue lace, street-length dresses with square necklines, of blue satin. Their accessories were of matching blue and they wore short illusion veils, held in place by pearl coronets. They carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bea Loyola, Misses Della Jean Frequez, Lillian Ortiz, Terri Frequez, Paty Nuncz and Joyca Frequez. Their dresses were identical to the maid of honor but were light pink, with matching accessories. Their bouquets were of pink carnations.

Flower girl Gloria Ann Ortiz, sister of the groom, wore a miniature copy of the bride's gown, and carried a basket with white carnations. She was escorted by little Master Dale Russell Smith, brother of the bride, who carried the wedding rings on a satin and lace cushion.

Best men were Patrick Aguilera and Ed Sanchez, serving as escorts were Richard Leyba, Manuel Ortiz, Robert Ortiz, Richard Smith, Ray Torres and Bob Ortiz. The bride's mother wore a beige lace sheath, with light blue accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a dusty pink lace dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Carrizozo Country Club for about 300 guests. The Marching Orchestra from Juarez provided the music.

Mrs. Beatrice Ortiz presided at the guest book. Rita Vega, Mrs. Angelina Harney, Rita Ortiz, Mrs. Eugenia Vega, Mrs. Danny Ortiz, Mrs. Petra Lopez and Mrs. Jovita Torres assisted with serving at the reception.

Out-of-state guests were Mr. Lucio J. Vidauri of Los Angeles, Calif., uncle of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Cordova and family of El Paso, and Lt. and Mrs. Jack Voss of Chanute AFB, Ill.

Seventeen 4-H members and leaders from Lincoln County were among the 153 attending the 4-H Camp, last week. Camp was from Monday through Thursday. The other counties at the camp, were: Otero, De Baca and Chaves. It rained some every day of the camp. Members and leaders attending were: Mrs. Duff May, Donna Jo May, Lois Dunlap, Neva Kilpatrick, Jean Sidwell, Wayne Dunlap, Jimmy Loet and Tommy Sidwell of Carrizozo; Mrs. Ray Provine, Fred Provine, Shirley Galloway, Zana Hall, and Jana Dean from Capitan; and Frank Sineros, Harold Radcliff and Preston Radcliff of Hondo. The group was accompanied by the County Agent.

Insects are starting to appear in the yard and garden in large quantities now. I have noted Harlequin bug in the garden and on the weeds around the garden and home Malathion at two teaspoonful of the 57% emulsion to a gallon of spray will control this pest. Malathion is also good for aphids. For control of other pests, get the new revision of the "Insects and Diseases of Vegetables in the Home Garden," from the County Agent.

Anyone wanting to set up a county booth for Lincoln County should make an application to the New Mexico State Fair before August 23rd. In previous years, I have set up a county booth at the State Fair with the help of Nancy Knight. As the booth is required to be set up by Thursday noon, September 14th and I will not be there until Saturday with the other exhibitors I cannot make an extra trip just to set up a booth. I will be glad to help anyone who wants to get material together to set up a booth.

Over 90 people attended the sheep demonstration at the Fuller Ranch last week. The morning program was highlighted by a discussion on cactus eradication led by Wesley Drexel of Capitan. He pointed out that the cactus can be removed economically and that over 20,000 acres have pulled in the county during the past year. Cactus pulled during the winter may not need to be piled and this will reduce the cost by over 50%.

Philip White discussed with the group the need for having all sheep when they are marked or sold. He stated that during the last 15 months there has been five outbreaks of scab and they have been unable to trace the animals. It has been estimated that the scab outbreak during the past year cost the sheepmaster a cent a pound on his lambs or over $300,000. Anyone needing a brand should contact the sheep Sanitary Board in the Korber Bldg. in Albuquerque.

The need for the wool grower to know more about his wool has been the object of the research project on care and hook sampling conducted by W. D. McFadden. He told the group how the cotex has helped and could be expected to help in the future.

A delicious barbecue was served by Charles Fuller with Ray Izzard as chef. The program was concluded by a discussion by the grower of problems of concern to all of them. Some of the problems discussed State and Federal lands, and disease.

If you have any apples or pears left after the freezes and June drop, apply another series of sprays to control the second brood of Codling moth that appear in July. Use Sevin, DDT, or Guthion for Codling moth; if mites are a problem use Guthion Kelthane or Sytoxol. Tedion can be trees with heavy mite infestations. Even if you don't have an apple crop this year, you need to keep the tree healthy as next years fruit buds are formed this year.

ruined town of Kelly. Lead-zinc ore was discovered here in 1862 by J. S. Hutchison, a prospector. Andy Kelly, who gave his name to the town, operated the mine for a while, but lost it back to Hutchison in a claim-jumping dispute.

Kingston, in Sierra County, is nine miles west of Hillsboro on State Road 180. The discovery of silver at Kingston followed the boom of nearby Hillsboro.

The townsite was laid in 1882, and within a year lots on the main street were selling for $500 a piece. It was first a tent city, but permanent buildings were constructed during the first two years of its existence.

A mountain road was hacked out between Kingston and Hillsboro, and twenty-seven silver producing properties were located near the boom town. More than $7 million was taken from the mines before silver was demonitized in 1893.

At its height, Kingston had a population of 7,000, in spite of frequent raids by the Apache chiefs, Geronimo and Victorio. Partially deserted today, Kingston now caters mainly to summer visitors.

Lake Valley is 17 miles south of Hillsboro on State Road 27. The discovery of silver at Lake Valley in 1878 brought a 15-year boom to the town, which owed its growth to the fabulous Bridal Chamber mine. Rich silver, sometimes almost pure, lay within 40 feet of the ground's surface, and additional millions in lead and manganese were extracted. It became an important railroad, and was the shipping point for ore from Kingston and Hillsboro.

Lake Valley prospered in spite of frequent Apache raids, but began to fade in 1833 with the silver panic. Only four or five buildings remain standing in Lake Valley, and the population is less than 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Cab Callaway and 2-year-old niece, Patricia, of San Francisco, have just returned from a two-week vacation in California where they visited two sons and their families, also got acquainted with their very grandsons. We enjoyed a good rain Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ethel Keathley recently read an article concerning her nephew, Garth Hyde, in the Grace Church of the Nazarene church letter. The letter is edited by Edam Bird and ran as follows: "We want to welcome our fine young pastor and his family to Grace Church. Rev. Hyde has really been kept a busy man, and he does each job well. He has already performed a marriage and dedicated Debbie Jean Bailey. The newsletter is happy to have him on its staff."

Rev. Garth Hyde was born and reared in Capitan, but left almost seven years ago to enter Pacedena College. Rev. Hyde did graduate work until last May at which time he received his MA degree. He and his family moved immediately to Los Angeles where he took up his duties as pastor of Grace Nazarene Church.

Many of Garth's old friends may not know that three years ago he married a former New Mexico girl, Norma Hubbard, and that he now has two children.

Here's trip of the week . . .

Other parts of the country boast of an occasional haunted house. New Mexico, however, goes a lot farther than that—out here we have entire ghost towns.

Easily accessible from main highways in most cases, the State's nine totally or partially abandoned communities which can be visited by the public, fall roughly into two categories. First there are the once-thriving towns, usually mining centers, which are entirely deserted today, and secondly the towns containing whole sections which are deserted, but still have inhabitants in newer sections.

There are a number of ghost towns on privately owned lands which are not open to the sightseer, but the nine mentioned here may all be visited. Eight of these towns are within one hundred and thirty miles of Truth or Consequences, which is a pretty good starting point for visiting them.

The exception is Elizabethtown, which is five miles north of Eagle Nest, on State Road 39.

The first location states for a copper mine at Elizabethtown were driven in 1856 by William H. Moore and W. H. Kroenig, who were led to the spot by an Indian guide. The townsite was laid out in 1858, by which time 7,000 people crowded the village.

When Elizabethtown's first newspaper, The Lantern, appeared in 1869, the camp had seven saloons, five stores, one drugstore, two hotels and three dancehalls. Millions of dollars worth of copper were taken from the area during its fifty boom years. Today Elizabethtown is deserted, and all mining operations there have ceased.

Hillsboro, in Sierra County, on State Road 180, 17 miles west of U. S. Highway 85 is still an inhabited community. Its abandoned portion, however recalls the early boom days of the 1870's and 1880's when Dan Dugan and Dave Sittel, prospectors, discovered high-grade gold on the east slope of the Black Range. In spite of frequent Apache raids, Hillsboro produced a total of six million dollars in silver and gold.

The trial for the Fountain murderer—one of New Mexico's most famous unsolved crimes—was held in Hillsboro's Sierra County Courthouse in 1896.

Two miles southeast of Magdalena, on a gravelled road, is the

To all my friends in Lincoln County . . .

I wish to extend my most sincere thanks for making my success in the restaurant here in Capitan come through.

My thanks to you good people, also from other places in the world, near and far!

I'll still be here with Mr. and Mrs. Trimble to keep in touch with you!

Thanks a lot to each and every one of you!

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

There's a whole wagonload of Ford features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you.

First, there's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field. The tailgate opening is seven inches wider than last year, too.

There's more convenience. You can have an electrically controlled roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon . . . it's standard in all Country Squires and 9-Passenger Country Sedans. In their field, only Ford wagons have all seats facing forward.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (shown above) is the one and only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings, too. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes, brakes adjusted automatically, mufflers are made to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers, and the finish never needs waxing.

STOP putting off that station wagon you've always wanted. SWAP for a '61 Ford wagon now while your Ford Dealer's celebrating record-breaking sales. SAVE with the wagon America loves most . . . made by FORD . . . America's station wagon specialists for 32 years!

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Ray Bryant and little daughters Fannie and Shellee accompanied by Mr. Bryant's young brother, Virgil Earl, spent Sunday visiting with Dave and Norma Wofford and small daughter, Darlene, of Artesia. Highlight of the visit was water skiing on McMillan Lake where they all had a wonderful time and got a little sunburned. It's not as hot over that way, though, as Phoenix, where the Bryants spent last weekend. They reported a temperature of 166 degrees in the Arizona metropolis.

Mrs. James W. Nance and little sons David and Warren, of Dallas, Texas, are spending a couple of weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. The parishioners of St. Francis do Paula church gathered at the parish hall on the evening of June 20 to honor Father Celestino Chinn with a farewell pot-luck supper. Father Celestino is being transferred to California. The affair, was well attended by his many friends and parishioners to wish him God-speed.

Donald and Jeffery Powell, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powell, spent a wonderful week at camp

Bridal shower for Miss Lopez

Miss Corina Lopez was honored by a bridal shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Lopez, on June 25, given by Mrs. Tony Cordova and Mrs. Ralph Vigil, Jr.

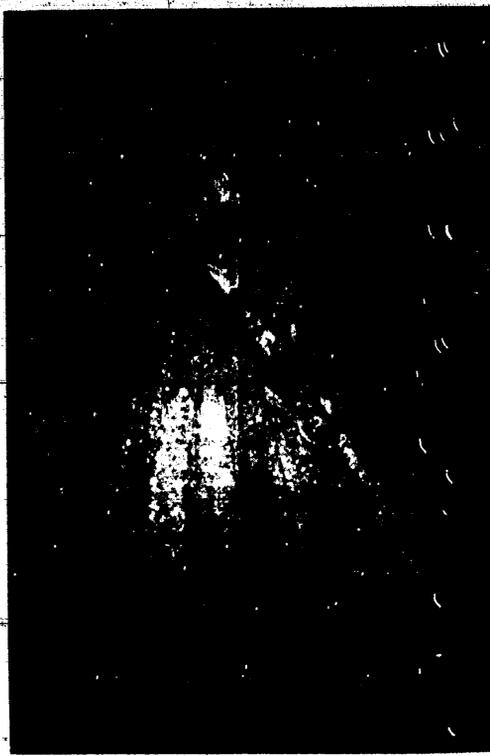

About 50 well-wishers and friends attended the shower. Of special note was the lovely centerpiece on the tea table, created by Mrs. Raymond Young, composed of an upside-down miniature umbrella filled with little pink rosebuds and lillies of the valley, with white streamers rippling down from a cluster of the same flowers at the handle. The beautiful cake was surmounted by wedding bells and bore the inscription, "Corina and Alfonso."

Miss Lopez's green eyes sparkled as she opened the many useful and lovely gifts which will go to make her home more comfortable and attractive after her marriage. She will wed Alfonso Aguilar, son of Mrs. Ralph Vigil, Jr., on July 15 at 9:30 a.m. at St. Francis de Paula church. Miss Lopez was graduated from Tularosa High school in 1960, where she was one of the most popular students of the class. She was active in school politics. She was football queen in her sophomore year and annual queen during her senior year. She was chosen to represent Tularosa as Sun Princess at the 1960 Sun Carnival in El Paso and was runner-up in the recent Otero County Maid of Cotton Show. Her fiancé, Mr. Aguilar, was graduated from Tularosa High school in 1958 where he was active in the athletic department. Since his graduation he has been busy with Uncle Sam in the Air Force.

Mrs. Clarence Palmer of Okemah, Okla., who has been visiting with relatives in Albuquerque, will arrive in Tularosa for a visit with her sister, Mrs. C. W. Coe, on Wednesday or Thursday. Both women will join a third sister, Mrs. L. E. Hunt, in Roswell on Sunday. Two other sisters, Mrs. Bertha Douglas and Mrs. Joe Hennel of Los Angeles, Calif., plan to join the others. This will be the first time in 20 years that all five of the sisters have been together.

Father Mahoney returns here

Father Dennis Mahoney, O.S.M., has arrived in Tularosa to take over the duties of pastor of St. Francis de Paula church. He comes to this church from St. Elizabeth's in Oakland, Calif. ## New Electric Range Units Increase Kitchen Efficiency

Built-in electric cooking units add great flexibility of design to a kitchen remodeling project. Instead of being limited by planning around an old stove, the family can design the cooking center for its own specific needs.

One big advantage of electric wall ovens and surface cooking units is that they can be placed at the most comfortable height for the homemaker, with controls at eye level, if she chooses. A built-in double oven—one large oven with a smaller one below—may be the housewife's choice, or she may want two completely separate ovens.

Electric surface cooking elements may go into a counter next to the built-in oven to make a compact cooking center, or they can be built into a cooking "island" across from the oven. Many families, when remodeling a kitchen, add an electric griddle, grill, or second built-in surface unit in another section of the kitchen to serve as a supplementary food preparation area.
