

Building plans for Carrizozo H. S. to be discussed at PTA meeting

The library of Carrizozo High School will be the scene of a Parent-Teachers Association meeting which should be of interest to all parents and friends interested in the welfare and growth of the Carrizozo school system.

Following directly after a short business session at 7:30 p. m., on January 9, will be a panel discussion which will present to the people of the school district the projected plans and needs for the expansion of the physical school plant.

Seated on the panel will be members of the board of education, representatives of the school staff and parents.

An overcrowded condition in the home economics room, the shop and the science-mathematics departments has been a serious handicap to instruction for some time.

The board of education has been joined by townspeople who are interested in providing quarters to meet the basic requirements of these classes.

RELIEVE OVERCROWDING

Leo Wolgast, Santa Fe architect, has been retained by the board to draw plans for an addition to the present high school building.

The new wing would house a modern, sufficiently spaced and equipped home economics department, also a well-designed laboratory and work space for science-mathematics classes.

These additions and changes would then make possible a much expanded shop in the present junior high building.

Plans also would call for the housing of the junior high classes in the new structure, thus freeing much needed room for the band and music department in the old building.

The board of education has also employed as legal advisors Decker & Co., who would also handle the marketing of bonds if the school community supports the project.

The entire cost of the expansion is estimated to be approximately $185,000.

Parents and friends of the school are urged to attend the meeting and ask any questions regarding the proposed building program.

Peter Hurd discusses art in N. M. magazine

Peter Hurd, who is nationally famous for his paintings and drawings of the Southwest scene, discusses his ideas about art and what he tries to accomplish in the January issue of New Mexico Magazine.

Hurd, who was brought up in ranching country near Roswell, describes himself as "a guy with a pencil and a paintbrush who considers his commonplace in their everyday surroundings."

He sees drama in the "huge accident of the weather, the light, the shapes of the land and the happenstance of what people look like."

"It is these lovely areas" (of the Southwest), he writes, "that have a constant and ever fresh appeal to me."

The article is illustrated with examples of Hurd's work, and is prefaced with a brief introduction by Hurd's friend and neighbor, Pulitzer prize winning New Mexico author, Paul Horgan.

"We go through our days pretty much unaware that we are living and using the raw materials of art," says Horgan. "In his work, Peter Hurd says, 'this is your life, here are your plains, your skies, your ranches, your mountains.'"

Grizzlies to entertain in week end basketball

The Carrizozo Grizzlies, undefeated in conference basketball to date, resumed practice Monday, after the holiday recess.

Two home games are on tap for the week end—Corona on Friday night and the Hondo Eagles Saturday night.

Both the A games will be preceded by B games, starting at 6:30 p. m.

County Agent reviews results of '59 farm census

By RALPH DUNLAP
Lincoln County Extension Agent

I have received the first results from the 1959 farm census. The census gives numbers and values on all phases of agriculture in the county and state.

In the comparison of 1959 to 1958 several trends are evident. The first is that there are 295, or 50, fewer farms and these farms are a thousand acres larger in 1959 than in 1958. On the livestock side, Lincoln county has 9,000 fewer cattle and 33,000 more sheep than in 1958.

This is possibly due to the more assured income from the sheep due to the incentive price program on wool; whereas cattle prices have ranged from 16 cents to 35 cents extra per pound for calves and from 8 cents to 23 cents per pound for cows.

Since the drought the cattlegrowers have been slower to restock than the sheep raiser.

The apple grower, with 35 more bearing trees, has more than doubled production between 1954 and 1959. In 1954, 64,000 bushels were harvested and in 1959, 147,000 bushels were harvested. A major portion of this was due to better pruning, insect control, proper irrigation and fertilization. All of these factors, when combined properly through wise management, can double the production again.

In other commercial apple areas, production of 700 to 1,000 bushels per acre is common, yet in 1959 the apple growers averaged 121 bushels per acre.

These and other figures on the farm census give you considerable information to think about. They only can indicate some of the areas where improvement can be made, but it is the farmers who must take the initiative and find ways they can improve their income through better management and improved methods.

More I conclude, I would like to say that the census is only as good as the figures that are given to the census taker. For instance, if a farmer reported within 75% of accuracy, then the census will be off that much.

Couple celebrate golden wedding anniversary

(Written by One Who Was There)

On Saturday, Dec. 31, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harrison of Route 1, Mountainair, N. M., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, having been married in Texas on December 27, 1910.

Following their marriage they started out to settle in a new country, as Mr. Harrison had come West in 1909 and filed on a homestead in what is now known as the Centennial community—a raw wilderness at that time.

He established the boundary lines of his homestead with barbed wire on three sides and at this writing part of it still stands and a brush fence off the right of way on the other side.

Having the claim established, he set to work and built a barn. After it was completed Mr. Harrison went off to Texas to get his bride and bring her West to establish their home. In that day, travel was by horsepower. Mr. Harrison drove a team of horses to a wagon with a few necessities of life and their camp outfit. Mrs. Harrison followed with another team of horses to a buggy. It took nearly three months to make the journey.

They arrived in New Mexico in the middle of March 1911 on this place where they have resided ever since. Their first home was in what was later known as the barn. In July of 1911 they started to build a house and completed it in the fall. The house stands today as it was completed that year with the exception of a new roof and a closed in porch which was added for extra bedrooms needed to raise a family of three boys and five girls—all of whom they have seen married and scattered to different parts of the country.

Carroll and family are of Mountainair, Gertrude of Capitan, and her family were present for the occasion. Those unable to attend were Bonnie of Carlsbad, N. M., Karl, Lois and Mona of Anderson, Calif., Arnie of Shasta, Calif., and Pearl of Killeen, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison greeted friends and acquaintances during the day from the home community and from Grants, Portales, Albuquerque, Capitan, Carrizozo, Gran Quivira, Mountainair and Bowie, Texas. They received many gifts and cards of congratulations from friends unable to attend.

The day was an ideal one. It turned out nice and warm, though the ground was covered to a depth of about six inches of snow and the early morning temperature was near zero.

The group sang several songs and then followed reminiscences of how and where they had met the Harrisons. The Harrisons recounted how they had been very

In other commercial apple areas, production of 700 to 1,000 bushels per acre is common, yet in 1959 the apple growers averaged 121 bushels per acre.

These and other figures on the farm census give you considerable information to think about. They only can indicate some of the areas where improvement can be made, but it is the farmers who must take the initiative and find ways they can improve their income through better management and improved methods.

More I conclude, I would like to say that the census is only as good as the figures that are given to the census taker. For instance, if a farmer reported within 75% of accuracy, then the census will be off that much.

"I want to get the best man I can for these cabinet jobs and I don't care if they are Democrats, Republicans or Igorots," said Kennedy. Perhaps he should have selected an Igorot as secretary of agriculture, as an Igorot might be able to do what no Democrat or Republican has ever done — i.e., help the farmer.

"What is your prime objective for the New Year?" asks a psychologist. To live through it.

Among many arduous duties Kennedy will soon have is that of sitting up with a sick dollar.

A second snowfall has visited us. It started early last Friday morning, just as we got up at 5 a.m. This will insure ample moisture in the ground.

Aliens must report their addresses

Publication describes

Richard C. Haberstroh, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, advised this week that the annual alien address report program is again under way.

According to Mr. Haberstroh, some 65,000 aliens reported their addresses last year in New Mexico and West Texas. The number this year is expected to be slightly larger. Mr. Haberstroh attributes this anticipated increase to the continuing population increase in the area.

The immigration official pointed out that the address reports are required by law and willful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences.

Forms with which to make the reports are available at all post offices and immigration offices. It is an easy matter to fill out one of the cards and return it to the same office.

Trained personnel will be on hand in all immigration offices to answer any questions the reporting aliens may have regarding immigration and naturalization matters. Sufficient trained personnel are not available to furnish this service in all post offices.

Open House on Dec. 31

Open House was held at the home of Dr. H. C. Jernigan last Saturday from 2 till 4 p.m. There was a large crowd of employees and visitors in attendance, all of whom are in high praise for the entertainment and delicious refreshments furnished by the hosts, Dr. Jernigan and Col. Varner.

The above is an annual event in Fort Stanton and is looked forward to by everybody.

Follow these resolutions and win unpopularity!

1. Dismiss every rule on the highway and pass every yellow line and car at 90-mph.

2. Gulp down a pint of whiskey and smoke two packs of cigarettes; then get behind the wheel.

3. Watch television and blabber until midnight every night. You can stand it, why can't the others?

4. Leave a mess every time you use the bathroom and wash basins. The other fellow will have 'em spotless by the time your turn comes again.

5. Heed your musical inspiration when the other guy is sound asleep. He will not need an alarm clock that way.

6. Don't be old-fashioned. Disregard everyone of the above rules and become a candidate for Fort Stanton's Most Unpopular Person in 1961!

Leap Year is over—many still single

Leap Year of 1960 is over and many of the girls are still single and—without a mate—either too aggressive enough, or else the males were too smart and cunning and escaped the noose.

Present-day bachelors are too set in their ways and are becoming increasingly skeptical that two can live as cheap as one and there's the car payment to boot.

As one girl put it: "The cheap skato! I wouldn't carry him if he was the last man on earth!" We coincide with your opinion, sister, you'd be stamped in the rush.

Don't be down-hearted, girls! Give the boys enough rope and they'll hang themselves. It happens every time.

Tommy Adams and Godfrey Herrera went to El Paso on New Year's Day to attend the Sun Bowl football game.

Tony Padilla of the kitchen force has been called by Uncle Sam and will report for duty on January 11.

Clerk Mary Navarro was also out on vacation during the Yuletide.

The Fort Stanton "Highlights" was not published last week due to the fact that the editor, Diale Sparks, was away on vacation for the holidays.

Know Your Law

(Published as a public service by the State Bar of New Mexico.)

No. 1

GOVERNMENT OF LAWS

We are told frequently that we have a government of laws and not a government of men.

Some times we feel that what the law says is not "fair." But we can be pretty sure that a government of laws will mete out justice more often than that which might come from the whims of a ruler. That's why our ancestors insisted on the Bill of Rights.

What we have in mind right now is that under a government of laws, decisions in courts are based on evidence and not on anything else. So it's good to know just what may be taken into consideration as "evidence."

For example, if a lawyer during the trial admits that some statement of fact made by the other side is true, or if the lawyers on both sides, either before or during the trial, agree that certain things are true, the jury must accept the facts admitted. Of course, answers to questions by witnesses on the stand are evidence. So are documents, objects, records, and other items.

The sworn testimony of a witness written out in question and answer form before trial, just as it would have been given in court, is evidence. It is called a deposition.

On the other hand, pleadings—all the preliminary papers filed to bring the case to trial—are not evidence. Neither are statements made by lawyers on what they expect to prove, or what they claim they have proved. Even information on the case gained from sources other than that presented in court is not evidence.

A trial is not a contest between lawyers, but a search for justice according to the evidence received and the law as explained by the court.

New Mexico State U. to start Fall class in Police Science

University Park, N.M.—A new Department of Police Science will begin instruction in the fall of 1961, at New Mexico State University.

"The increasing problems of crime, delinquency, traffic, and security in the state and nation are worthy of our best efforts to produce trained, professional leadership," said Dr. Roger B. Corbett, president of New Mexico State.

Dr. A. D. Boston, dean of NMSU's College of Arts and Sciences, said "The new department will have a four-year professional program in the deepest and broadest meaning of police science."

It was developed at the request of the New Mexico Sheriffs and Police Association.

"The association presented one of the best proposals we have ever received," Dean Boston said. "It is well adapted to our facilities, requires only a slight increase in staff, facilities and special courses."

Magazine predicts some 1961 business lines will be slow

Business in 1961 will take its cue from the late 1960 trend, with no spectacular surges and no projected downturn, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine.

The December issue of the magazine in its "Months Ahead" a regular monthly feature, predicts that some lines will be more sluggish than others, but there will be no severe upsets. The editors report that trends for the early part of the year, are set, and from them can be read the probable business mood for the months to follow.

Production will sag some in the first few months of the year, a trend that is partly seasonal and partly a result of missing stimulants, according to the column. "Christmas business always puts a kick in year-end activity. But the zip won't last and the post-Christmas letdown may be a little more painful than normal."

The article notes that good news for shoppers is the fact that prices are under pressure and competition is feverish in many areas. That is interpreted to mean the retailing side will feel good. But the important fact, noted for shoppers, is that prices won't bounce back much—price levels will remain fairly stable.

GOOD NEWS

Sponsored by the Tri-C Ministerial Alliance

A recent news story told of a little blind boy who had undergone surgery and could now see for the first time. When the bandages were removed, his mother was the first person he saw. "Oh, mommy," he cried, "you look so pretty!"

How beautiful life could be for all of us if we would pull off the bandages of our hatreds—our religious and racial and personal prejudices and hatreds! Regardless of who put the bandages on, God will help pull them off—if we really want them off.

So many of us today are reading life by Braille, poking and pecking along life's way with canes of various kinds, when all the beauties of worthwhile friendships, of lovely experiences, and of fulfilled lives are all about us.

Oh, that today we might pull our bandages off and begin to see—to really see ourselves, others and God.

And tomorrow? Well, in a day or two now, the bandages of time will be taken off and we will see Jesus as He really is—and I'm sure we will all cry, "O, Jesus, You are so beautiful!"

—C. William Fisher.
"But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes." (1 John 2:11)

"If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" (1 John 4:20)

Riley Burrage is out of the Ruidoso Hospital and recovering nicely as this is written.

The Hugh Pucketts were here from Roswell enjoying the New Year's week end at their Eagle Creek Lodge home.

Friday last week we came up with another snow of about four inches. It did not stay on the highway or countryside long, as the sun did a fine job of melting it. Bill Smith was up from Roswell to see the Charlie Peebles Friday of last week.

Mrs. Lydia Peebles was here from Alamogordo Wednesday. She stopped in at the Lindamoods before going on over to the Charlie Peebles on Little Creek.

Mrs. Leel Cowden of Ruidoso and F. B. Lindamood of Alto made a trip to Alamogordo on Wednesday of last week.

The Jim McEuen entertained Mrs. Ellen Sherrill and children Alan, Robert and Eva Lois of Clayton and the Lindamoods at dinner and the bowl games on TV Monday.

Rules to follow in raising a delinquent

Juvenile delinquency, as FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and others emphasize, becomes a graver problem all the time—both in the extent of the crimes committed by juveniles, and in the crime's seriousness. If you, as a parent want to join the parade and raise a delinquent, there are certain rules to follow. Frank Brabant, an authority on the subject, who lectures around the country, recently listed them. Here are a few:

From infancy onward give the child everything he wants, so that he'll grow up thinking the world owes him a living. Don't give him any spiritual training. Avoid use of the word "wrong"—it may give him a guilt complex.

Do everything for him, so that he'll become accustomed to throwing all responsibility on to others. Give him all the spending money he wants, and never insist that he earn any of his own. Satisfy his every craving and sensual desire—after all, denial may frustrate him.

Take his part against neighbors, teachers and the police. When he gets into real trouble, apologize by saying, "I never could do anything with him."

These rules aren't hard to follow and abide by—great numbers of parents have, as surging juvenile delinquency shows. You, too, can produce a delinquent, simply and easily. The authority adds one more observation: "Prepate for a life of grief. You will be apt to have it."—Ind. News Review.

The Atomic Fish
The Triton, world's largest submarine, represents a major milestone in the annals of naval history. The 447 foot, 5,000 ton submarine, the first to be powered by two nuclear reactors, has recently returned from an historic underwater voyage around the globe—a distance of 51,400 miles—in a record-breaking 84 days.
A radar picket submarine designed to serve as an early warning station for U.S. Navy task forces, the Triton is an outstanding example of today's revolutionary changes in technology. The submarine also underlines the emergence of stainless steel as the Atomic Age successor to the traditional sea-going metals of the past.
Because of its strength, resistance to corrosion and ability to withstand the ravages of radioactivity, stainless steel is ideally suited to this modern role. Except for structural components, almost everything metal aboard the Triton is made of stainless steel—from thermal insulation in piping systems to the casing for the tracking periscopes. Many components of the two nuclear reactors, as well as the auxiliary equipment, are also made of stainless steel. The long lasting beauty of this metal, which requires little maintenance, will relieve the crew from the tedious spit and polish routine traditionally associated with the Navy, and enable them to work in greater safety and cleanliness—thanks to stainless steel.

Chicago, Ill.—Six young men, who were enrolled in National 4-H Club's first Automotive Care and Safety Program, were honored here when they each received $400 college scholarships from Raymond C. Fricke, president of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.
Presentation of the awards was made at a breakfast attended by 2,000 delegates to the 20th annual 4-H Club Congress. 4-H Club members in 31 states participated in the automotive project which was included as a 4-H activity only a year ago.
The national scholarship winners were selected from 31 state award winners who received a certificate and a trip to the 4-H Congress.

Bulletin describes science of composting

University Park, N. M. — How composting cotton gin wastes may reduce verticillium wilt is described in a paper by Dr. E. E. Staffeldt of New Mexico State University's biology faculty.

Temperatures developed in experimental compost piles killed any living portion of verticillium wilt. Dr. Staffeldt reports in a recent issue of the technical publication, "Compost Science."

In addition much of the morning glory seed found in the gin waste was also killed, the report notes. In Dr. Staffeldt's experiment, non-effective compost piles were as effective as treated piles. They do not present any problems in special handling of material during decomposition.

"Continued addition of non-treated, infested gin trash to productive land could lead to greater spread of wilt in New Mexico," the article says, while "composting of gin trash prior to addition to soil could aid in reducing the problem."

News Notes from Along the Benito

By LOUISE RUNNELS

The latest snowfall on the Benito was about 4 inches and it was beautiful!

Allie Wright was out on the Canyon last week. She spent Christmas with her daughter and family at Ruidoso and this week three of her nephews, Don, Bill and Johnnie Bailey, visited her one day. Johnnie has a medical discharge from the Navy.

Fred V. Sweet Sr. is in TorC and enjoying life, so a Christmas card tells us, and he sends best wishes to all his friends for the New Year. He spends some time with Hugh and Nina Truitt watching ball games on TV or having a home-cooked meal.

From Carlsbad, bringing Christmas and New Year cheer were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schreiner. They came to their Benito cabin by way of Ruidoso and brought Mrs. LaMar Bailey and family a beautiful basket of food, fruit and nuts. They also brought me and mine a basket of goodies, which was a wonderful present to a snowy mountain home.

Mike Gaydos from Organ, N. M., visited at the Roy LaMay Ranch this week and drove over to Benito City, too.

Mary, Roy and Megan LaMay had New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Joe West in Carrizozo. Jeanette stayed with the Snow family at Nogal. Roy and Mary enjoyed the dance at the Country Club New Year's Eve.

Fern Sweet Cole at Picacho so Paul and Lola opened all kinds of seasoned fish, olives, and even tasted our first rattlesnake meat, which was a lot of fun for all of us. At midnight the canyon was still and asleep, and the moon who should shoot four or five times into the air and waken us, but Paul Schreiner?

Ben Pfingsten came to Benito from Nogal Sunday and took Roy and Lloyd Summers over to the Ruidoso Hospital to see Steve Bonnell. They found Steve in his same good spirits and his burns from the explosion doing better last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crenshaw and some visitors at Benito City last week and Benny Runnels went back to White Oaks with them for New Year's, and had a real good time. Anyone who goes to the Crenshaw ranch is in for entertainment!

You and Your Pet

If Pet Looks Weary—Needs Your Help

Just as in humans, a dog's health and vigor in adult life are largely dependent on how well it survived the problems of growing up. For a puppy, one of the first battles is with roundworms, and with your help he can win.

Both dogs and cats are afflicted by roundworms, which get their name from the coiled position in which they're found. I've found it best to assume that every puppy does the job with a minimum of discomfort.

A drug called piperazone has several desirable qualities. It's effective, yet safe when given in proper doses; measures into dogs easily; and doesn't require a purgative to help perform the excretory function. Most important of all, it is less irritating than any other worming preparations.

Two preparations containing piperazone are available, a liquid called Glover's Vermifuge and for roundworms, capsules called Glover's Safe-O-Worm, are used both with excellent results and a minimum of irritation.

Choice of liquid or capsule is mostly a matter of your preference in either case the liquid or the contents of the capsule may be mixed with the animal's food. It's best to medicate half a meal and they feed the other half without complaint.

The amount of drug to give is extremely important, and is dependent upon the animal's weight. Best way to accurately weigh the pet is to weigh yourself, then get back on the scale with the animal in your arms. The difference is the pet's weight, and both Glover's liquid Vermifuge and Safe-O-Worm capsules for roundworms can be accurately measured into the proper dose.

The pup or kitten will have a day or two of discomfort, but expelled worms and better health will be the result. To prevent re-infestation, it's wise to repeat the treatment in ten days or two weeks, and then every three months thereafter.

New March of Dimes Funds Help Eric, Birth Defects Victim, Reach Age of 2

Eric Brantner is a frail and appealing little boy who achieved the "age of two years the other day in his crossroads home at Palouse, Wash.

Eric in his mother's arms on that great day, blue-eyed Eric could recognize his birthday well-wishers, among them his dancing band-dog Jupiter.

But not so long ago, Eric wasn't given much chance by most doctors to enjoy summer or other members of the household. He was born three months prematurely and also developed an enlarged head (hydrocephalus) due to excess fluid on the brain.

His despairing parents, Gail and Vanda Brantner, did not believe that a second birthday was in the cards for Eric.

Then, as the head grew alarmingly larger on the infant's small body, members of the National Chapter of the National Foundation came forward with an offer of March of Dimes funds if they were needed for patient aid.

They were urgently needed. Eric was rushed to Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane, 85 miles away. There, at the age of 18 months, he underwent surgery for nearly four hours. The surplus fund was drained away, relieving the pressure on the brain caused by blockage, and a plastic tube was inserted to carry off the accumulating fluid flowing from the head to the blood stream near the heart.

Although Eric's appearance today belies his 2-year-old status, the little boy looks scarcely more than six months old—the doctors' view is that he now has a good chance of survival. He cannot sit up by himself and he is only just learning to toddle unsteadily in a baby walker. But he engages in lively play with his mother and playmates in a motionless bed for the Great Northern Railway, with his doting brother Mark, three years and of course with his trunk but gentle four-footed companion, Jupiter.

On second birthday, which his parents never expected Eric to celebrate, his mother Vanda Brantner holds him aloft.

Birth defect to be given patient aid in continental United States under The National Foundation's expanded program, which includes arthritis in addition to continued work in polio. (The first instance of patient aid under this new program occurred last year in Honolulu where the local chapter organized March of Dimes contributions to carry to a Hawaiian island a boy with the birth defect of an open spine; the boy today is well along the road to a normal life.)

Otherwise, Eric's plight is not singular. Each year in this country, 300,000 babies are born with significant defects and 34,000 of them are stillborn or die within four weeks. The National Foundation, which helped develop both the Safe-O-Worm and the liquid Vermifuge, has moved into the area of birth defects because these congenital malformations comprise the largest unmet childhood medical problem in the nation today, and numerous reports of the New March of Dimes in January, hopefully the number of Eric will be more than many thousands saved.

FANCY THAT!

Hot weather comfort never presented a problem to one 19th century "genius." He invented a ventilating costume. Just like venetian blinds—it had slats that opened to let cool air in.

In 1847—another enterprising fellow invented a rocking chair different from most. Its motion operated a bellows that blew cool air into the face of the occupant.

Southern gentlemen have a tradition for keeping cool that's an important part of gracious living. They mix cold spring water, sugar, crushed mint and fine Bourbon. Result: mint juleps—refreshing and cool as a Spring breeze. The custom's now come North—and Yonkers, too, use Bourbon in a variety of warm-weather drinks.

While small girls and large vases may not mix, this picture was staged to show one of the most unique pieces of Bohemian Crystal ever made in Czechoslovakia.

Weighing over 200 lbs., and taller than our little lady's 4 feet, it has been acclaimed throughout the world—from Melbourne to London.

Long noted for its superiority in glass making, Czechoslovakia offers the American tourist the opportunity to see some of the most exciting designs ever created with glass. Hanging from delicate crystal chandelier glasses to vases like the one shown above, the tourist can cover 600 years of glass making in just a few days.

Czechoslovakia is a blend of old and new. From Roman statues to the world famous Glass Bridge to the brand new International Hotel, the tourist can now visit this historic country at a very favorable rate of exchange for his dollar.

FARMING AROUND

By Mark Welsh

Young animals are born with built-in protection against disease. At least they have the same antibodies that mothers built up through their life's fight with various infections, and these protect the baby for the first few weeks of life. In addition, the colostrum or first-milk-nursed by the young has a high concentration of vitamins, more antibodies and much energy-giving fat and other substances.

It's vitally important, however, that the young nurse as soon as possible of this colostrum for they seem to lose the ability to absorb its health-giving properties rather rapidly. Within a few weeks the protection from the mother wears out and the young has to build his own immunity and disease resistance from his own body tissues. This is usually a race between the invading infection and the rapid build-up of resistance with death or injury to the loser.

Vaccines and serums are helpful against specific infections, but antibiotics like Aureomycin to prevent exposure to disease organisms but the Aureomycin keeps down their growth so that the body cells have time to build up antibodies and prevent tissue damage. It also stimulates growth, improves the feed conversion and protects the investment and the profits.

Exhaust fumes are killers. The gas that kills is tasteless, colorless and odorless. When you start a car, tractor or farm motor indoors—get the doors open first. This is just another item in the long list of accident makers that ranks farming operations as most dangerous occupations.

TAX FACTS

GASOLINE TAXES HAVE GROWN TO SUCH AN EXTENT IN RECENT YEARS THAT THEY NOW PRODUCE MORE REVENUE THAN THE LEVY ON CIGARETTES IN SEVERAL STATES. FEDERAL AND STATE TAXES ON A GALLON OF GASOLINE NOW TOTAL 50 CENTS ON THE AVERAGE...OR NEARLY 50 PERCENT OF THE PRICE OF GASOLINE IN MANY STATES.

NOTHING'S BY AN AVERAGE OF 10 PERCENT ON EVERY 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE THEY BUY!

THE RECENT U. S. HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION CONFERENCE WAS TOLD THAT MOUNTAIN TAXES ON GASOLINE MAY JEOPARDIZE HIGHWAY FINANCING AND THAT GASOLINE TAXES SHOULD BE HELD DOWN AND DIVERSION OF HIGHWAY-USER TAXES TO OTHER PURPOSES HALTED.

IF YOU BUY 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE YOU PAY 50 CENTS MORE FOR TAXES THAN YOU DO FOR THE GASOLINE ITSELF.

IF YOU BUY 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE YOU PAY 50 CENTS MORE FOR TAXES THAN YOU DO FOR THE GASOLINE ITSELF.

IF YOU BUY 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE YOU PAY 50 CENTS MORE FOR TAXES THAN YOU DO FOR THE GASOLINE ITSELF.
