WASHINGTON TRIO ARE NOMINATORS

We've had conventions in New Mexico in which a few politicians picked the party candidates. Then there was the primary system with all the sap citizens allowed to vote on whom they wanted.

Now we have the Three from Washington setting up a deal to select the Demo candidate for governor next year.

ANDERSON ADDS NEW CANDIDATES

Our Clint the Senator came back from Washington on the other day with a plan, forecast earlier by this reporter, in which he and Reps. Santa Fe-Joe Montoya and Tom Morris would tour the state and report to the party on the best prospect for Demo nomination for governor.

Sen. Clint Anderson in making the statement added several candidates to the list who were only in the rumor stage.

Land Commissioner Johnny Walker, Atty. Gen. Earl Hartley and Albuquerque business man Helman Clites, long gossiped as Anderson's favorite for the place.

Anderson put these guys up front and mentioned as sort of also-ran Speaker Jack Cornwell of Roswell, Sen. Ed Mead of Albuquerque and Mayor Leo Murphy of Santa Fe, who have been spending money and losing sleep for months in quest of the nomination for governor.

They will be hard to pull out if the Anderson-Montoya-Morris pollsters pick another out for governor. If they don't pull out the result could be a split victory of the Democratic party in the primary campaign next spring.

HE RULES OUT JOHN BURROUGHS

Perhaps the most significant part of the senator's statement was his guess that the recent governor, John Burroughs, 1953-60, would not be a candidate.

That came while many political observers were guessing that Burroughs could win the party nomination in the primary, and while he and Bob Valdez, his revenue commissioner, were conducting an active campaign for Burroughs for governor in 1962.

Burroughs might be particularly hard to pull out when Anderson, Montoya and Morris announce their favorite for governor.

CHAVEZ TOO SICK TO TAKE A PART

Only three of New Mexico's four in Congress plan to participate in the governor-picking tour. The fourth, Sen. Dennis Chavez, is desperately ill, but probably wouldn't go along if he were as strong as a bear.

Chavez' physical condition is a major cause of the activity in the Demo party.

CHAVEZ CONDITION HOLDS THE ANSWER

If Senator Chavez should re-tire from the senate before the first of March filing date for the primary it would probably throw the Demo run for the senate nomination into the wildest, fiercest fight New Mexico has seen in a primary.

The United States senate is the biggest prize in American politics outside the presidency.

In all probability it would attract Santa Fe Joe Montoya the Representative and open his place in the house for another big battle.

TROUBLE HOVERS IN OTHER RACES

With uncontrollable contents like that going on for the senate and one horse party, isn't it likely that the party guys' heads could keep order in the governor's race or the run for the other place in congress held by Tom Morris.

The guys with the jobs should be being careful for the continued service of Senator Chavez.

FIGHTS AVOIDED BY APPOINTMENTS

If Senator Chavez should continue on the job until after the early March filing date for the primary and then retire, his place on the ticket would be filled by a Demo committee without the wreckage of a primary fight.

Democrats who hold a five to two margin over New Mexico Republicans lose when they shatter the party in primary fights.

REPULSE CRITICAL OF JOE SKREEN

Sen. Joe Skreen of Lincoln County who looked like a unanimous choice for Republican state chairman a week ago is encountering growing criticism.

He is vice president of the Wool Growers which places him deep in the heart of the public land user crowd which is not in good public repute. The legislature raised their rates, the land commissioner raised them again, and now the commissioner is launching on a program of selling the land for an even higher return.

As a member of the legislature he can take the chairmanship only upon a change of party rules which would permit him to continue as senator while chairman.

Time to pay those back county taxes

County treasurer Cummins this week urged that back county taxes be paid. Deadline for foreclosures is supposed to be in December, he said.

Property on which there are unpaid taxes is subject to sale by the state tax commission after a period of time, and meanwhile the taxes draw an interest penalty. Now is the time to call and see about this tax business, Cummins said.

"There are unpaid delinquent taxes for the years 1955, '56, '57, '58, and 1959 on the tax year books. If your property is among one or all of the above years, it is urged that you call at the office and investigate and see for yourself that these taxes have not been validated as of now. Your help in clearing the tax book records for these delinquent years will be greatly appreciated," he added.

Selective Service board gives info

Roy Shafer, chairman of the local Selective Service board, this week issued a release giving data on registration for the draft. Said he:

The Selective Service regulations state that each registrant will be considered available for military service until his eligibility for deferment or exemption from military service is clearly established to the satisfaction of the local board.

The board will receive and consider all information, pertinent to the classification of a registrant, presented to it.

If a registrant believes his classification to be in error he may, within 10 days after receiving his notice of classification, submit a written request for a personal appearance before the board or may appeal his classification to the appeal board.

Registrants should not wait until they receive their order to report for induction before submitting information they think will affect their classification.

The local board does not have the authority to reopen a classification after the order to report for induction has been mailed except in a few limited cases.

Sheriff Bradley is keeping busy

Sheriff W. G. Bradley is keeping busy these days, and spending a lot of time in Ruidoso. That town has been hit by a "flood" of worthless checks, so cold, and added that the tail end of the race season always brings a rash of minor crimes.

Two officers had to fight to subdue a pair of brothers in a bar two weeks ago there. Chief sheriff's deputy of Ruidoso Albert Richardson was hit on the head with the back from a miniature chuffie-board table during the fight, which he and highway patrolman Bob Miller won.

Two men were arrested for stealing saddles at the track recently. Roy Stewart of Ruidoso, wanted in Yuma, Ariz., on a bad check charge, is awaiting identification by Yuma authorities so he can be extradited, the sheriff said.

CROCKETT HAND FEEDING 150 HEAD OF COWS

Lincoln has been getting good rains but some resident ranchers haven't been living right and they have been skimped with moisture. Iv Crockett is long on snakes — the extra-long kind — and short on moisture.

He's between the rock and the hard place (rocks on the east and the hard place just over the hill to the west) and feeding hay to everything he's got, about 1000 pounds of hay a day and barely keeping 150 head of cows alive.

Crockett's goats are skimming the Mal Pais clean, which makes the view better for tourists but is small consolation to a dry rancher.

LOAN FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR NEW MEXICO VETS

An additional allocation of Direct Loan Funds has been made available for veterans in New Mexico. Donald E. Crow, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional office, announced.

The maximum direct loan that can be made is $15,000.00. The Veterans Administration also has funds available for commitments to builders in eligible areas under the direct loan program.

Crow said that there is no waiting list for loans as there has been in the past. Veterans who write requesting consideration for a loan will promptly receive the necessary application forms.

GROUND-BREAKING FOR METHODIST CHURCH

The planned new Methodist church in Carrizozo will be started with ground-breaking ceremonies a week from this Sunday. Completion is expected in about eight weeks.

Antelope and sheep licenses available

Charley Bird, conservation officer from Capitan, said that due to considerable increase in antelope licenses, sufficient applications have not been received and hunters can still make application.

Persons whose applications were returned for discrepancies of different types are encouraged to re-apply as well as people applying last year who did not receive an antelope license.

The regular application form is to be used, available at all license dealers. The application will be received by mail only. Antelope licenses will be issued by mail until the supply is exhausted.

There are 10 barbary sheep licenses still available. Sheep applications will be received in the same manner as for antelope. Dates for antelope hunting in this area are October 7-8. The supply is fair around Capitan, Ft. Stanton and in the Corona area.

Progress being made in Denver on city planning

The new base map for the city of Carrizozo and another for the immediate surroundings has been started by S. R. DeBoer and Company, city planners hired by the local planning committee.

Several meetings with the city trustees and city planning board were spent in discussing the preliminary plans to be drawn up. The first steps will be an analysis of the growth of the city and the resources on which it depends.

Carrizozo was platted by railroad engineers in 1893 and its whole economy centered on the railroad activity and the cattle industry. The latter used the city as a shipping point. As time went on, the importance of the railroad in the life of the city has become less. The roundhouse, which was an important item, has been taken down and cattle shipping has changed materially. This is the case in nearly all cities in the west.

With the change in transportation, highways have begun to be more important in many cities now and these cities are oriented to highway transportation. This is a material factor in the physical plan of a city and in the planning of Carrizozo this will be stressed. Highway transportation brings the need for sleeping quarters and supplies for travelers and especially for tourists. Carrizozo has many dormant resources in its surrounding area and the city plan will bring out each item, one after the other, which have possibilities for development.

The planning work is partially paid for by the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Administration, through the New Mexico State Planning Board.

DeBoer and one assistant were in the city last week, and are expected to be back soon.

The pool will be open Labor Day with this schedule: 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Move starts to close Institute

Legal moves to put the local "Dental Training Institute" out of business were started Tuesday.

The Institute, headed by W. G. Lewis, trains missionaries of all faiths to do basic dental work.

But no one connected with the Institute is a licensed New Mexico dentist.

The Institute has worked in Carrizozo for several years. Last year they were driven out by the same legal process in September. (They went to Haiti to complete the course of instruction, and says Lewis, "As a result, several hundred patients received work there that New Mexicans could have had.")

Lewis, well known and respected in Carrizozo, isn't a licensed dentist. (He does have three college degrees, including a masters in physics from Chicago University.)

Wednesday he issued this statement:

No charges have yet been actually filed against Lewis or the school but could come soon.

Fireplug busted, whole town without water

A fireplug near the town baseball diamond was knocked off by a hit-and-run driver early Wednesday morning and the entire city was without water for several hours while workmen repaired the damage.

The baseball field was covered with water before the loss was discovered. The open plug resulted in loss of pressure for the town and the pumps were turned off so workmen could get on with repairing the pipe.

The water was turned on again about 11 a.m.

Changes made in teacher posts

School superintendent J. T. Clegg this week announced some new teacher assignments.

"Due," he said, "to lack of enrollment in the elementary grades and increased enrollment in junior and senior high, we are transferring Mrs. Alma Sherrill, now one of the second grade teachers, to the sixth grade Mrs. Edna Laabs, now a sixth grade teacher, will go to junior high."

Clegg said the grades 1 to 6 have an average of 23 to 25 per teacher this year. In high school, classes vary in enrollment, from four in advanced mathematics to 15 in girls PE. Average, he said, is 15 to 21 per teacher.

Letter to Editor

(Ed's note: This letter was sent to the Carrizozo Rotary Club by the "Comite Norteamericano Pro-Mexico, A. C.")

Dear Friend,

Just a year ago we wrote you about rumors spreading north of the Rio Grande concerning anti-American feelings and a trend toward communism in Mexico.

We U. S. citizens who live in Mexico and know the situation first-hand want to bring you up to date, because the rumors—and they are vicious rumors—have been intensified this year.

First, we must admit there have been some minor incidents, but mostly so insignificant they were hardly noticed down here. These incidents, the malicious rumors spreading are truly the work of paid agents of certain foreign powers who exaggerated them out of all proportion for publicity purposes abroad.

These agitators are making every effort to disrupt the friendship between Mexico and the U.S., to frighten tourists out of coming here, and to alarm investors. Their efforts will surely be repeated since this is a long-term campaign to cause a break between our two countries. And if you believe them, you are playing into the hands of the communists. You will be doing just what they desire . . .

... We know. We live here, and are close to developments. We have our homes and businesses in Mexico. We attend the churches of our choice, our children go to schools we like.

And we ask you not to let the communists hoodwink you. The next time you see a headline shrieking "Anti-American Riot in Mexico," read the full story. It will probably say that only a few individuals were involved, and that they were led by known agitators, that no Americans were molested, that the government stepped in and broke it up.

Such a "riot" definitely does not represent "anti-American" feeling on the part of the people themselves. We who live here may not even hear about it until we read it in our hometown papers from the States.

Visit Mexico! See for yourself what this wonderful country has to offer. Let's all help keep Mexico where it belongs, one of the free and democratic nations of the world.

Bonito Bits

By Louise Rannels

(Ed's note: We once asked Louise Rannels, chief exponent of the gories of living in Bonito City, to write a column to get those grips off her chest. Lo and behold, in floats Louise's column this week. And lo again—net too many grips and a lot of good thoughts. Let us know if you like it. (We sure did.)

Folks along with me have been all torn up now for five or six weeks about the Bonito Dam moskidl—alias fish kill. News seemed to be scarce as to what was next. The Dam is stocked by the Game Dept. of New Mexico and many licenses sold were for fishing there—the 85 season permits are to be forgotten?

True, there is the Nogal Lake, but we wonder if this wasn't a way to close the Bonito Lake for keeps. It's no time to sleep again and let Alamogordo and Otero County take over more pay-co from Lincoln County.

First thing we know they'll want to monopolize our pinon trees, and the rattlesnake reputation, and already they are trying to get Smokey the Bear in their zoo. Bonito Lake and Nogal Lake are great assets to our part of the state. They are the only two within a two or three hundred mile radius and thousands of sportsmen would like to spend their time and money here if they possibly could.

The situation that now exists: no fish at Bonito Dam and Nogal Lake overstocked. This would determine a vacationer's mind quick—to go somewhere else. Let's get out of our rockin' chairs!

The past five weeks my time has been wasted telling tourists that there are no fish in Bonito Lake and why many had waited until they got to Bonito City to buy their fishing licenses. They left without them. "Nogal Lake will be fished out," they say, and "Ruidoso is probably too low" (which is true). This is some advertisement — and how! — for the county.

For months last year the U. S. Forest Service paid men to survey up the Bonito Canyon for an improved road which they and the county commissioners promised. Also, there were promises last year of recreation areas above Bonito Lake for overnight camping and picnicking: fireplaces, tables and shelters were to have been built to accommodate the many families who are there. The perfect spots are still waiting and the roads still have the narrow curves and washes.

School is another thing that bothers me; lots of mothers are like the little story I once heard. When the first day of school came, mother found herself in the usual fizz of getting her children off in time, then sat down when they were gone to watch them thru the window.

"Thank God, they are gone!" she sighed. The teacher watched them coming, through her window, and sighed: "My God, here they come!"

I wish we had another month or two of vacation.

Here in the mountains the summer vacation goes all top fast. Our boys and girls are about free as birds—more so, I suppose, cause the poor birds get it in the neck with BB guns if they aren't lucky—but gee whiz, they shouldn't be getting those cherries that are the first summer's treat for children.

There's the creek to dam up and catch "water slaters," sail boats and have water fights. Then the frogs have to hide fast or their hind legs may land in the little campers' frying pans (only they had to stop that when told there was a reason on those critters.)

Well, then, there were mountains to climb, fish to be caught, tree houses to be built, shelters to hide in and "chomp" on green apples and play "go fishin'" with those old discarded cards.

It is a rare treat to make one or two swimming trips; this year to the pool at Carrizozo.

Horsecback riding was fun, and there's no end to the trails. Only bad thing about the horses is when they have to be given up to the "town kids." They don't think town kids know much 'bout a horse or mule and cure enough sometimes they get fooled. Some of the town kids can darnear ride a horse to death!

Guess we're lucky these mountain kids are still here for school and didn't get up by the bears or knock a toe off in the rocks this busy summer and hope they will be good boys and girls at school.

Their week of vacation Bible school with Steve Dixon and other teachers won't be forgotten for their good influence in better living.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT SPEAKER AT ROTARY CLUB

An officer from the state industrial development office will be guest speaker at the next meeting of the Carrizozo Rotary Club, to be at noon Thursday, August 31, at the 4 Winds Restaurant.

Scene

By W. J. O.

This is my personal column, to express my personal thoughts and opinions. It's hard enough to keep them out of the news columns, and this might serve as an exhaust valve.

They say you can raise anything at Nogal that can be grown in Texas, (except Texans.) Well, for peaches, those from the Kelley Stephenson ranch southeast of town—will give Nogal a good run for the money.

The Stephensons have got red peaches, white peaches, varieties of apples, and plums—peach trees that bear two crops a summer and apricot-trees that don't bear at all.

We're certainly going to miss Joe Sargent around here. He was one of the town's biggest boosters, and when he went at something he got things done. As Marvin Roberts says, "Joe was a fighter."

That was quite a rain Thursday afternoon.

At L. Z. Manire's house the official measurement was 40", but at Roy Shafer's garage on main street the gauge showed 125 inches. It was a "chonk-floater"—for part of the town, anyway.

These suggested changes in the state constitution, to be voted on September 19, are causing a lot of confusion.

Some are dangerous, we think. Such as number 6, which would let state representatives and senators get their own salaries. Wouldn't that be a wonderful world if we could all set our wages at what we think we're worth?

But we're for amendment number 4, which permits absentee voting. New Mexico is the only state that doesn't permit those residents caught out of the state to exercise their right to vote.

The county commissioners are much in favor of number 5, which would let JP Quitta pay their own administrative costs instead of sending the JP income 100 per cent to the state and leaving you and me to pay the cost of running that office.

And a good many of the ranchers in Lincoln County are against amendment number 1, which would give one four-year term to elected officials rather than two-year terms like they have now.

The ranchers are mostly afraid of Johnny Walker, the land commissioner, remaining in office longer than necessary. He's selling state-owned lands for big prices to out-of-state groups who use the investment for losses (tax write-off), ranchers say. As our Lincoln County representative Bill Schreengost wisely puts it, "Four years is a short time for a good man but a very, very long time for a poor one."

You may (if able) read the proposed city sales tax ordinance on page 6. It's long-winded but the rate is simple enough—a one-cent city sales tax on all commodities purchased for use or consumption.

There's a few exceptions—live stock, city utilities—but not many.

Personally, we strongly favor it. No reason to coil the users of electricity to support every person in town, and those who pass through, and transients who expect and get fire and police protection, power and lights, garbage and sewer service—and you and me, brother, are paying it for them.

FARM NEWS

By RALPH R. DUNLAP

Read the Fair premium list carefully before selecting exhibits, and then follow the rules and regulations. If the premium list calls for five tomatoes, or 12 pods of snap beans, be sure to exhibit the exact number. Four tomatoes, or 10 pods of beans would disqualify your entries.

In collecting a prize-winning exhibit, it may be necessary to look over a bushel or more of carrots, beets or other of the root crops, or to spend some time in the collection of tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, cabbage or other crops so that identical specimens may be selected.

Individual specimens must be uniform in size, shape and color. They must be properly labeled, true to variety name, and must be free from insect and disease blemish. They must have a good "eye appeal," being clean and fresh looking.

The size should be medium or a good market size. Do not select overgrown or small sizes. Some premium lists include classes for the largest turnip, rutabaga, tomato, or other crop, so in this class largest size selection should be made.

Place yourself in the position of a judge in making selections for exhibiting purposes, so you will be more likely to select prize winning exhibits.

New orchard practices are being tried in orchards of the Lincoln County Livestock Company in the Hondo Valley.

Luis Zamora, orchard manager, has set out 200 acres of orchard in the past two years and has been using several new methods to get the trees into bearing faster.

He has used hay mulch and plastic around the base of the tree to reduce weed competition to the tree. Johnson grass and bermuda grass are especially troublesome but a four foot square of black plastic around the tree eliminates this problem, around the tree. The problems that he has with the plastic are running over it with a disc and fertilizer cannot be put close enough to the tree.

The straw mulch overcomes these two problems and he plans to use this in the coming years. He uses almost a bale of straw to a tree.

He leans the trees about 15 degrees to the southwest to compensate for the wind.

Water safety class completed at Ancho

By BECKY BARHAM
The Ancho Junior Ranchers started the course on water safety June 18 and had six phases of the fundamentals of water safety.

The projects learned in the six phases were: proper breathing, buddy system, cramps, causes of drowning, artificial respiration and shock.

The group learned how to hold their breath under water and how to expel it properly. The buddy system is important because if you need help, he can help you, if not he can get help. We were told about cramps, the different kinds of cramps, what causes them and how to remove cramps in the legs, arms and feet. The causes of drowning are panic or overwhelming fear. One of the main things to use in this event are the shepherds crook, life buoy, rope, clothing tied together, a long stick and even a spare tire out of the car.

The new, more efficient mouth to mouth breathing method of artificial respiration was demonstrated.

When a person is in shock, it is very important to keep them as quiet and as warm as possible.

4-H'ers attending this class were: David Locke, Jimmy Locke, Becky Barham, Gordon Barham, Danny Knight, Scott Shafer and Billy MacVeigh. All the 4-H members would like to express their appreciation to Mrs. Marian Spencer, for her time and patience and skill in teaching the class. So many needless drownings could be avoided if everyone knew the fundamentals of water safety.

Each and every credit, cash or C.O.D. sale to a recognized retail dealer, restaurant, wholesaler, distributor, jobber or manufacturer of tangible personal property, including alcoholic liquor and beverages, shall be considered for the purpose of this Ordinance to be a retail sale, unless the sale ticket or evidence of each such sale shall show the name and address of the purchaser, the description of the merchandise purchased and date of delivery.

Section 11. Specific Exemptions.

There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this Ordinance the following:

(a) All sales or services made or performed by societies and other organizations not organized or operated for gain or profit.

Section 12. There is hereby appropriated out of the Town of Carrizozo Sales Tax Fund an amount not to exceed five (5%) per cent of all moneys collected under this Ordinance equal to the amount determined by the Commissioner of the Bureau of Revenue of the State of New Mexico to be needed for costs of administration and enforcement of this Ordinance.

For the purpose of administration and enforcement of this Ordinance, the Board of Trustees adopts the administrative regulations of the Bureau of Revenue, School Tax Division, State of New Mexico.

Section 18. Board of Trustees Policy-Other sources of Revenue.

(a) It is hereby recognized that the continued dependence on the taxes imposed by this Ordinance as a permanent source of revenue is undesirable from the standpoint of the present and future economy of the Town of Carrizozo and its citizens. It is therefore declared to be the policy of the Board of Trustees that efforts be continued and intensified toward the solution of the Town's revenue problems by seeking revenues from other adequate and fair sources to the end that the taxes imposed by this Ordinance may be reduced or eliminated.

Plenty to see right close to home -- Trip of Week suggests near-by Las Cruces

The historic charm and romance of New Mexico lives compatibly with the missile age in the sunny Las Cruces area in southwestern New Mexico.

Here is a diversity of year-round vacation interests, coupled with the thrill of traveling the first road opened by Europeans in the New World. Spanish Conquistadores and supply trains were traveling El Camino Real (The Royal Road) through sunny Las Cruces before the pilgrims endured the cold New England winters. U. S. Highway 85 roughly follows the Royal Road, which span the supply line between Mexico and Santa Fe.

This is the land of the Armed Forces' rocket and missile research and development... historic crumbling frontier forts... the former Confederate capital of the Arizona-New Mexico territory... the City of the Crosses... and strange deserts, enchanting with bizarre plants and majestic blossoms against a backdrop of 9,000 foot jagged mountain peaks.

On the outskirts of Las Cruces today, the Tortugas Indians still perform an ancient three day ceremonial, starting December 10, on "A" Mountain behind N. M. State University, which recently launched a missile tracking program.

Las Cruces (The Crosses) was founded in 1828—two years after New Mexico became a part of the United States. It took its name from the crosses erected for a group of early travelers, massacred by Indians.

Only 2 1/2 miles south of Las Cruces on State Road 23 and a short distance west of busy Highway 85 is Old Mesilla, which was proclaimed the Confederate capital of the Arizona Territory in one of the most audacious campaigns of the Civil War. Signing of the Gadsden Purchase was confirmed in a military ceremony in Mesilla and the historic occasion still is celebrated there annually.

Even now a visitor can see the historic plaza which has become a state monument to the 20th century seems to drop away. But the quiet, typically early Spanish village comes to life on fiesta days when it echoes with vivid reminders of the fiery past when it was the largest town west of San Antonio, Texas, and an important stop on the Butterfield Stage. Fiesta dates include July 4 holidays and a mid-September Pan American Celebration.

Visitors can eat true New Mexico food in a restaurant called a "must" by Life magazine. Also, they can browse in intriguing candle shops, an art design center noted for its southwest books, and the private Arriandaz museum which has one of the finest santo collections in the state plus relics of the Billy the Kid trial held in Mesilla. Occasionally, some of the old homes with their Spanish furniture and finery, which came up the El Camino Real, are open to the public.

South of Mesilla on State Highway 23 are the world's largest cultivated pecan groves and the largest concentration of geese in the United States—all on the Stammann Farms. The farms are open to visitors with escorts, provided for tours.

Fourteen miles to the east on U. S. 70 are the Organ Mountains and San Augustine Pass—gateway to the space age, White Sands missile range. Rocket launchings are visible from the highway at times. Still farther on is the strange White Sands National Monument—450,000 acres of white gypsum dunes.

At 5,648 feet, San Augustine pass is the lowest pass through the spectacular mountains. It was here, without a single shot being fired, that a force of 700 Union soldiers carrying whiskey in their canteens surrendered to only 200 Confederate soldiers. This was after the Union Army evacuated Ft. Fillmore near Las Cruces.

Twelve miles north of Las Cruces on Highway 85 is Radium Springs with a hotel that offers hot mineral baths. Southwest of Las Cruces are extinct volcanoes. Local inquiry should be made about road conditions to the volcanoes due to the rugged country. In Las Cruces is the Amador Hotel, constructed in 1833 by Don

WELLS FARGO PRESIDENT DIES IN CONNECTICUT
 Elmer "R. Jones, 87, a retired president of Wells Fargo and Co., died in Silvermine, Conn., the middle of August. The onetime stage coach driver built the firm to leadership in its field and when its fortunes declined he kept it together.

In World War I, he served as an unofficial ambassador to Mexico, and helped preserve good relations between the U.S. and Mexico.

When You Stop To Think About It, Why Shouldn't You Get A Second Phone?

"Because your house is too small?" If you're not an active housewife, the size of your home is measured by the number of steps you take each day. Asking to you're fixing meals, cleaning, washing clothes and dishes, and picking up after the children, you're not living in a truly "small" house.

"Because an extension phone costs too much?" As a matter of fact, you and your family can enjoy all the advantages of a second phone for a few pennies a day. That's why an extension is one of the best time-saving bargains in your house.

"Because you don't know where you'd put it?" Here are a couple of suggestions. You probably spend a large part of your time in the kitchen. So, see if a shoulder-high wall phone won't make the day go by more pleasantly. Or, if you like to get away from the confusion in the rest of the house when you're on the phone—if you value privacy—but an extension in the bedroom.

"Because a telephone is just a telephone?" Not any more. You can order your extension in any one of three styles and nine colors. One of them will suit you and your home beautifully.

To order, just call our business office or ask a telephone serviceman. What could be easier?

The legislature shall prescribe the qualifications for these offices. Some arguments for and against the proposed constitutional amendments

FOR
1. Give officials and their offices time to learn job and develop program.
2. Would attract better people with a four year term.
3. The forced layout from office between terms would free them from a great deal of political duties and pressures now necessary with a second term possible.
4. Two-year terms are too short because administration of our government has become complicated.
5. Election dates for state officers would be in off-presidential years, and reduce influence of national politics on state offices.

AGAINST
1. A four-year term is too long if the wrong man gets in.
2. Opportunity for control by electorate is reduced.
3. The person elected cannot be elected for more than one term so would, after winning, ignore the people and do just what he wanted to rather than what the people wanted.
4. In four years he could build a machine, dictate his successor, ruin state programs and allow the wrong element to get control of political parties.
5. Reduces opportunity for turnover in state jobs.
6. May allow some officials currently serving to serve six or eight consecutive years, which is too long for public office.

AMENDMENT NO. 2
Allows governor to resubmit highway commission appointments if senate does not confirm first appointment.
FOR
1. Under present system the senate is sometimes forced to accept appointments even though it is not happy with them, rather than refuse to confirm and keep present commission.
2. The senate can prevent the governor from making his appointments by refusing to confirm, and the governor doesn't have a second chance under the present system.

AGAINST
1. Presently the governor can advise with the senate and get its approval prior to submitting the appointments, so there is no need to change the constitution.
2. If the governor can resubmit names, he may choose poorer candidates (for political reasons) the first instance, knowing he has another chance, rather than submit the nominees who are best qualified. This wastes legislative time and taxpayers' money.

AMENDMENT NO. 3
Allows legislature to prescribe reasonable qualifications for state mine inspectors.
FOR
1. The job is technical, and statutory qualifications would insure a qualified person. Other constitutional provisions make it doubtful that the legislature can set qualifications without this amendment.
2. Statutory qualifications would prevent or cut down on the possibility of politics in a job that is supposed to safeguard the lives of miners.
3. The ability to set qualifications would give the legislature a check on executive's power to appoint just anybody.
4. Rigidity in state government results when statutory material is imbedded in the constitution.

AGAINST
1. The legislature can't be trusted, they may write the qualifications to fit just the person they want, so that the governor cannot pick the man who would do the best job.
2. Statutory qualifications don't mean much. A man can have all the qualifications on paper and still be a bad choice.
3. Statutory qualifications may be such that the best man cannot qualify.
AMENDMENT NO. 4
Permits absentee voting.
FOR
1. New Mexico is the only state that disenfranchises voters who cannot be at the polls.
2. People should not lose the right to vote because they are serving in the armed forces, serving with the federal government, have to be out of town on business, or are confined to bed because of age, accident or illness.
3. Absentee voting is a necessity in these days of mass transportation and mobile populations.
4. Well-traveled people who are away from the polls are generally excellently qualified to vote intelligently, and should not be disenfranchised.

AGAINST
1. Absentee voting opens the way for possible fraud.
2. Absentee ballots could be used to stuff ballot boxes.
3. Counting the ballots would be expensive and time-consuming.
4. The safeguards of absentee or right to vote would be lost.
5. If you are an absentee voter, how could you vote on local matters intelligently?

Capitan

By MARGARET RENCH

Youth meeting at Capitan Baptist church

A youth meeting was held August 22 at the Baptist church in Capitan. Attendance from Carrizozo, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs helped swell the crowd to 45, according to youth counselor Don Means.

The program was planned and given by the youth of the Capitan church. Virginia Robinson presided during the program, which consisted of: congregational singing led by Jimmy Kerr with Ann Robinson at the piano; a flute solo, "My God is Real," by Glenda Peters accompanied by Judy Smith at the piano; a vocal solo, "Blessed Redeemer," by Jimmy Kerr accompanied by Mary Hela Wallace at the piano; a saxophone solo, "Whispering Hope," by Judy Smith with Ann Robinson at the piano.

A talk, "Youth in the Church," was given by Benny Sullivan. After the program, games were enjoyed by all present. Delightful refreshments of several kinds of sandwiches and lemonade concluded the program. Everyone had an enjoyable time.

Carol Alan Bonnell will return to New Mexico State university in Las Cruces soon. Jimmy Kerr and Joe Lee Smith will go to Thatcher, Ariz., to college. Gerald Dean, Jr., will return to Texas and Dale Trimble will enter Wayland College at Plainview, Texas. Jeff Shaw will be leaving for the Military Institute in Roswell. There are others who will go to college this fall but at this time I have not been informed of them.

Tasty favors at Roundtable club

Roundtable Club met at the home of Mrs. Corinne Provine August 17. The eight members present were Lorene Ferguson, Angelina Provine, Eltha Merrell, Millie Wallace, Ethel Howard, Grace Murphy, Geneva Walker and the hostess. Three special guests were Vera Beall, Judy Provine and Pat-ty Walker.

Fried chicken was the main dish. Grace Murphy baked a birthday cake honoring Angelina Provine whose birthday was this month. Since the program chairman was absent sewing and visiting was enjoyed for the afternoon. Party favors were small glasses of cur-rant jelly for place favors.

I enjoyed a pleasant surprise visit for a short time last Friday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Carpenter, and Kevin and Kerry of Houston. They had only one-week vacation and were enjoying our country with every scenic drive to various points near Nogal Lake. It was such a wonderful happiness to have them. They returned home Saturday morning.

Grace Williams underwent surgery at the Walker AFB hospital on August 23. At this time she is reported to be doing nicely. Martin Trujillo of Farmington, N. M., met his family, wife and five children in Alamogordo this past weekend to take them home after their two-week visit, here with relatives and friends. She is the former Emma Serna. She grew up here and finished school at Capitan.

Billy Ferguson of Cimmaron, N. M., was home last weekend. He, Ernest Trujillo and Virgil Hall went water skiing at Elephant Butte Lake.

New home

Mr. and Mrs. Treat on east First Street have torn down the adobe house on their property and where it stood they have the foundation laid for the new home which is going up as fast as each step is prepared. Mrs. Treat is a practical nurse at Ft. Stanton. They have finished the work shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Blevins of Roswell spent a few hours with Mrs. Daisy Gehring last Saturday evening. Newt Robinson visited her later in the day. He is her con-lawyer from Las Cruces.

The Candy Trujillo house on west Fourth Street is nearing completion. It now has its dark yellow paint on the outside but the trim to date has not been put on. Candy works on it on the weekends. The lumber house next to it has not been removed.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willis and five children enjoyed a one-week vacation with their parents in Deming and her parents at Duncan, Ariz. They reported the heat as terrific.

Mr. S. M. Cozzens will take up his duties as caretaker of Happy Acres ranch September 1. The former Henry Peebles ranch has been

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Frances will leave here September 1 for the winter at various points among their five children. If plans all go as they should they will celebrate their golden wedding at their daughter's home in Roswell during the Christmas holidays. We do hope Mr. Frances' health keeps improving and that you have a delightful time during your absence from here. The Trimbles will live in their home.

Allice Montes just returned from a weeks' vacation at Hondo with relatives and she is all ready for school which started August 28. Mrs. Winifred Cozzens attended Home Economics Teachers Conference in Las Cruces at N. M. State university the week of August 7-11. She has been on the job all of last week at the high school. The entire high school faculty met August 24 with Superintendent Darling and Principal James Dines. Mr. and Mrs. Goff will both teach in El Paso this year. She finished at the University in Albuquerque this month. Mr. Goff was caretaker in our schools this past year, and worked in Ruidoso all summer.

Mrs. Helen Price accompanied by her daughter and granddaughter of Fontana, Calif., was an overnight guest at the Hollis Cummins home last Sunday. She is teaching in California.

Mr. Woodward, who was a teacher here last year just moved his family to Hagerman, N. M., where he will teach this year.

Enjoy 3,000 mile trip

The Jack Shaws enjoyed an eight-day vacation that covered seven states and 3,000 miles. They enjoyed many things in Denver, as in Rushmore Memorial in South Dakota, Yellowstone Park and then went on to Salt Lake City. At the Mormon Square they enjoyed the organ recital in the Temple. They also went through the capitol there. They had been to all of the places before but wanted Jeff and Daine to see them. They report a very good trip.

Louise Ferguson received her BA degree at Las Vegas this summer and is here on duty with her teaching. We congratulate you Louise and are happy with you.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett James are moving their large trailer home from Pearl's Trailer Court to their newly-purchased lots at the west end of Capitan on Ruidoso Highway. Mrs. Willingham also purchased a lot on the west end and is moving her trailer home from Ft. Stanton very soon.

Rev. and Mrs. Harley Cannon and little three-year-old son moved to Capitan in June to the Nazarene parsonage where he has taken over duties at the Nazarene church. He works as an extra in the post office and at present is at the El Capitan Standard Sta-tion.
