STATE REPUBLICANS SHOOTING THE WORKS

SANTA FE — Republicans are putting on more steam for next year's election than capital observers have seen in that party for a long time.

Joe Skeen, young, flying sheep-herder from Lincoln, has made a job of work out of the state chairmanship that is intended to bring the party out in full force in 1962 with serious candidates for every county and state job.

Gov. Ed Mecham has given him his head and several strange ones have showed up on the payroll—outlaw Democrats such as Dan Sedillo, the former corporation commissioner, Juan Tutoya of Gallup, David Branch's wife, and several lesser known ones.

SOME PRESSING MEECH FOR SENATE

Howard Wilson of Gallup, 1956 candidate for land commissioner, and now $650 a month statehouse field man, and Lt. Gov. Tom Bolack are pressing hard for political organization via the state payroll.

Both would like to see Mecham appointed to the Senate in the event the ailing Sen. Dennis Chavez retires.

That would probably result in a Republican ticket headed by Mecham for the Senate and Bolack for governor which many Republicans think would be the strongest possible.

A LONG HARD HILL FOR REPUBLICANS

Skeen, who was able to come in as chairman after the Republican by-laws were amended to permit an elective officer (state senator) to hold the job, has a long way to go to put the Republican party in position as a major contender for state and local affairs.

In 1960 the Republicans put up no opposition in 17 of 23 judicial races, letting them go to the Democratic incumbents. (Demos, in unprecedented action, offered no opposition to the one Republican judge in the state, Luis Armiño of Las Vegas.

28 LEGISLATORS, 10 REPUBLICANS

Republicans elected but four of 32 senators, six of 60 state representatives, 23 of 265 county officials.

They let six house places and one senate place go by default without filing candidates.

It's a long pull but the Republicans will never know what they can do until they give it a try.

SOCORRO REPLACES ASSENT OFFICIAL

State Rep. E. E. Barco of Socorro has moved to Clovis and the county commissioners down there have appointed former mayor Frank Dalley to his place in the house—but Barco hasn't resigned.

JIM LAMB BUDDIES EYE THE BIG RACE

There are some buddies of Jim Lamb, the former corporation commissioner, telling that he wants to run for Demo nomination for governor. He's due back in December from two years in Afghanistan. Why not go for governor? A lot of others are figuring on it.

MEAD GETTING A FREE RUN

The governor-running Ed Mead of Albuquerque is on a six-year term in the state senate that could give him shots at higher jobs in 1962 and '64 without interrupting his senate service. His corporation commissioner and U. S. senators, our state senators don't have to resign to run for something else.

MITCHELL STAYS WITH ED MEAD

Joe Mitchell of Colfax county who was personnel officer and Demo headquarters manager under Gov. John Darrroughs has put down a rumor that he had broken with Mead and that he would stay with the Albuquerque senator until the end of the line.

ELECTION CONTEST ACTION PROMISED

Albuquerque Joe Montoya's contest of Republican Tom Bolack's election as lieutenant governor is due to come to a head in a few days. May 8 the supreme court ordered District Judge Jack McManus to determine what bond each Montoya and Bolack must post for continuation of the suit.

Six months later when questioned about it McManus reportedly promised "something within a couple of weeks."

If the bond should be in the $25,000 to $50,000 range it would probably force Montoya to drop the suit, if less he might make it. DELAY FAVORS THE DEMOCRATS

Demos are trying to keep the suit alive as a club over Mecham's head if he should want to have himself appointed to the Senate. In that event Bolack would come up as governor and if Montoya should get the suit decided in his favor—and it could be open—then Bolack would be out and Montoya would be in as governor.

POLITICAL BUGS IN WHITE SEASON

Terry Moynihan, manager of the big Rex Carson REA cooperative in Tose, has been making sounds like a Demo candidate for lieutenant governor.

George Anaya, the McKinley county senator, is acting like a candidate for Congress.

Sonny Mims, Sierra Demos chairman, is regarded here as a likely starter for state auditor.

"Make it yourself with wool" contest will be decided at Capitan Saturday

At least 43 contestants will display their "Make it yourself with wool" clothing at the contest finale planned for 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Capitan school.

Winners in the junior, senior and adult classes will go to Albuquerque for the state contest.

Each of the contestants, from Lincoln and Chavez counties, will get a $5 cash bonus from the Lincoln County Wool Growers Assn., and the association will give two winners a $25 savings bond.

Prizes are being donated by merchants for the winners; each contestant also gets a skirt-length of wool from Pendleton Mills.

Four classes—adult, seniors, juniors and sub-adults—will display garments at the Capitan school on Saturday. The contestants will all have dinner at the Wortley Hotel at Lincoln, courtesy of the N. M. Wool Growers Assn. The finale of the contest will be at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

The "Talent Find" contest of the county Farm Bureau also will be held during the show. No admission is charged. Mrs. Charles Jones is chairman of district 9 (Lincoln and Chavez counties) for the contest.

LINCOLN

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gomez are having a well drilled near their home above Lincoln.

Mr. Pond celebrated his birthday on October 30. His many friends hope he has many more to celebrate.

Andy Wright came up last Friday and took his mother, Mrs. Mattie Wright, home with him. She spent the night in Roswell, saw her doctor Saturday and came home. She is feeling much better.

Each of two Lincoln hunters, Jimmy Gipson and Roy Taylor, bagged an "it" while hunting in Colorado.

Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Jimmy Gipson's mother, of San Antonio is visiting her grandson, Frankie, and most all little Raythe.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shrecongost went to Roswell Tuesday where Bill attended a luncheon and the ceremonies turning Altan missile site number ten over to the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Oana and children drove from Albuquerque in a new station wagon to spend the weekend with Mrs. Oana's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanchez and the family.

Mr. Lon Merchant visited the Shrecongosts Tuesday morning. Mrs. Adelle Salter had guests from Roswell Sunday.

Reasonably quiet Halloween night

Well, it was a fairly quiet Halloween night for Carrizozo Tuesday. Of course, a quantity of easy was used up coating windows of cars and houses, but that's expected. There wasn't any malicious vandalism, unless you put tipping over privies in that class.

Marshal Choncho reports no arrests were made during the night, although officers were very much in evidence on the streets.

HUNTERS MEETING

The Mid-County Farm and Livestock Bureau local is sponsoring a county-wide meeting about hunting on state land. The meeting will be held in the Capitan school lunch room starting at 7:30 p.m. November 7. Two state game department employees will discuss privileges and agreement limitations of the hunter on state land.

Football team off to Estancia for class C championship playoff

The Grizzlies will travel to Estancia for an afternoon game November 10 to decide the state 2C football championship.

It's expected that the Grizzlies will win by 50 or 100 points. Kickoff time is 2 p.m. The Carrizozo High school will be dismissed at 10:25 a.m. that morning (Friday) and a school bus will take the cheerleaders and Pep Club to Estancia.

By Andy Lopez
The Carrizozo Grizzlies scalped the Ruidoso Warriors 27-7 last Friday night on the Carrizozo field while a wintery wind set spectators' teeth on edge.

It was an upset for Ruidoso, as they recently won over Tulareza—the only team to beat Carrizozo this season, in the first game of the year.

J. Watley kicked for Ruidoso from the south end of the field, to start the game off. Jerry Beltran returned the kick to his own 34. On the first play Bobby Dan Crenshaw gained six yards and then Beltran went to his own 46. Three plays later and six yards to go the Grizzlies were forced to kick. Crenshaw booted the ball, it rolled out of bounds on the Ruidoso 34; there was a five-yard penalty against the Warriors and the Grizzlies got the down over, then Carrizozo carried the ball to the Ruidoso 43 yard line.

Frank Gallegos, Beltran and Crenshaw alternated carrying the ball to the Warrior's 12 yard line. Then Crenshaw broke loose around left end and went in for the score. Beltran carried over for the point after touchdown.

Crenshaw put the shoe leather to the ball for Carrizozo; J. Capps returned it to his own 49 before being downed by David Ortiz. On the first down Watley gained two. Then Carrizozo recovered a fumble on their opponents' 27.

After four downs the Grizzlies were forced to kick and the Warriors took over on their own 30. M. Cook gained two on the first down. A pass to G. Russell was too long for the second down. The pass play was again incomplete, this time intended for A. Lane. On the fourth down Cook was set for the punt, the hike from the center was too high and he fumbled. Carrizozo again recovered, this time on the Warriors' nine yard line.

Crenshaw gained five more yards on the first play. Then Beltran carried, this time going into the end zone for another Grizzly tally. Crenshaw carried for the PAT. Crenshaw kicked off, Lane returned the ball to his own 29 where he was dropped by Garvin Griffin. On the first down Watley was downed for a loss of one yard by Rookie Straley. The next play saw Cook connect a pass to Rus-

To start federal school aid survey

Carrizozo school superintendent J. P. Clegg this week said he was starting the annual survey to determine how many students attending the local schools come from federally-employed families, in order to get assistance from the federal government.

Said Clegg: "President Kennedy signed the bill extending the expired provisions of P.L. 874 on October 3, 1961. 'P.L. 874 authorized payment of about $181.00 per pupil to the public school which provides educational facilities for the children of parents who are employed on Federal property or who are in active military duty within this area.'

"The Carrizozo schools became active participants in the P.L. 874 program in 1956-57. During this five-year period, we have received $18,966.15 from the Federal program as a partial reimbursement for educational expenditures for the children of military and federally-employed parents.

"It is again time for us to make a school survey and get a list of all students whose parents are federally employed or in some branch of the military service.

"We are now ready to make the survey for the school year 1961-62 and fill out the necessary forms. Your cooperation is asked in helping us assemble the necessary information. Should we fail to contact you through your child at school, please call the school at phone 99; we will then send you the proper forms. An accurate report of the federally-connected pupils is most important to your school."

UNICEF Halloween drive a success

Mrs. Johnson Stearns, chairman of the UNICEF drive that had kids "Trick or Treating" for pennies for underprivileged children instead of candy, termed the drive a "huge success" on the morning after.

"I don't know how exactly how much was collected as it's still being turned in," she said, "but the grade school kids collected $29 that was turned in that night."

It was the first time the UNICEF drive had been tried in Carrizozo—but probably will become an annual event. A party was held in the high school after most of the town had been Trick or Treated.

About 200 children participated. The grade schoolers were identified by UNICEF tags while making their rounds.

Power system sale goes over easily

The people went to the polls Tuesday and calmly voted to sell the city's power system to the Otero County Electric Co-Op for a quarter of a million dollars.

The count was 156 for, 38 against.

The $228,000 that the city is being paid for the power plant and lines will go to retire that much bonded indebtedness of the town of Carrizozo.

That leaves the city with some $358,000 still owed, a relatively small debt. A breakdown of outstanding bonds shows $225,000 in general obligation bonds, which is being paid from ad valorem taxes (it's a reducing payment plan that will require less tax money each year over the next 20 years—there's a chance that property taxes will even be lowered next year because of the yearly reduction.) The other two city debts are $70,000 in water revenue bonds, paid from the city's profit on water bills, and $35,000 for the new swimming pool, which is being paid off through a cigarette tax levied by the state but returned to the city.

Thus the city is in pretty good shape financially, and with every prospect of the new one-cent city sales tax putting it farther into the black.

The sales tax is to replace revenue that has been coming from six-hundred electric bills in Carrizozo. The vote Tuesday to sell the system to the Co-Op was conditional—approved for to vote a month ago—one cent city sales tax.

The sales tax won't go into effect during November, and possibly December—not until the actual bill of sale with the Co-Op is signed and approved.

The next move is up to the Otero County Co-Op. Jay Lasater, manager at Cloudcroft headquarters, said Wednesday that approval must be sought from the state Public Service Commission and the Federal Administration in Washington, although he "anticipates no difficulty" in getting the okay.

The takeover certainly won't be any later than February 1," Lasater added.

First step for REA, he said, will be for company engineers to survey the town's needs to bring it up to standard for transmission of Co-Op electric power. (He said the Co-Op probably would build the "entire" Carrizozo system.) The work will be let in contract, with a 90 day completion time, and probably will be done next spring.

Lasater stressed that outages would be kept to a minimum during the rebuilding. Carrizozo will still be served by the power line that comes in from Capitan, with a "standby" line that goes south to Alamogordo. Either line is capable of handling the full load of Carrizozo power users, he said.

"We will have a qualified service man and a helper full time stationed at Carrizozo, Bill Randall, service man at Capitan, won't be affected. We will operate from the Carrizozo city hall, but all bookkeeping and billing will be done from the Cloudcroft office," explained Lasater.

Voting Tuesday was light—but about half the eligible voters turned out—and the results were tabulated early. The forces favoring the sales tax and sale of the plant again put on a strong last-minute campaign to get approval, with three cars taking voters to the polls, and a blanket of handbills distributed Monday night. Mayor W. F. Ball personally has led the move to get the high power rates lowered and a sales tax enacted.

The city council meets again November 7.

Pat Dunning's quarterhorses win at El Paso show

"Prizeo Billie," three-year-old Registry of Merit (performance) filly who has qualified for top New Mexico working quarterhorse of 1961, racked up more points toward this goal by winning her performance class against 17 entries at the El Paso show October 28.

Able ridden and shown by trainer R. C. Barham, she was also grand champion mare at halter and high-point all-around quarterhorse of the show.

For high-point she received a magnificent two feet high engraved trophy. Other winnings included two silver cups and the AQHA trophy.

"Betty Chief," three-year-old filly trained and ridden by Bob Curtis, placed fourth in the same large class.

"Toma Teco," a 1960 gelding, consistent winner this year, won his class.

"Pepper Tona," 1960 filly, shown for the first time, won her class. Ray Lewis, long-time quarterhorse judge and exercising commissioner, judged the show.

Next show for Pat will be in Artesia the last of the month.

Upon completion of the 12-hour course Mrs. Simeros will be certified to teach in the Hondo Valley schools where she is a member of the board of education.

Alma Bradley, county health nurse, conducted a school clinic at San Patricio Tuesday. She will hold a Carrizozo clinic November 6 in the health department office.

The Long and Short Of It Is . . .

By Kit Carson
805 Ortiz NE
Albuquerque

I'll be meeting you people, the readers of The Lincoln County News, through a column each week for a while. It won't be my first appearance in the publication, as most of you are already aware. I hope this one is long and continued.

The heading of a column might be called anything, and its destiny depends on the contents. Countless inches of space are allocated to writers in chronicles, annually, throughout the world, for expression of their views as an interest to the readers. Such space is known by various captions. Yet, the subjects of each cover numerous incidents and happenings that are staged all over the world, past and present.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS—It's a place where the author blends in a few of his thoughts with subjects which he hopes will interest the circulation that he is trying to reach. They, the readers, in turn, either crown or condemn him. I hope I meet with your approval.

I grew up on a small farm in northeast Texas—in the shadow of the Old Jefferson Trail. The farm was all covered with relics of the frontier days—branding irons, home-made tools and a sort of everything that the first settlers acquired when they occupied the timber country. The relics were cast aside as more modern things took their place, and remained only as a constant reminder of the most recent days when Grandpa cleared the land, ranged hundreds of head of cattle on the Denton Prairie and freighted over the Jefferson Trail.

As soon as I was old enough to hone and strop the old Shumate razor and rake the fuzz off my face, I pulled my freight for the west. (Yes, I used the selfsame razor-strop that only a few years back had made a well-disciplined child of me.) I turned my back to the east and looked west, just as my grandparents had done, the same as their parents and so on down the line since the first-old patriarch of the Carson lineage pulled his roots from the Irish soil, landed on the east coast and settled where the Empire State Building now towers high into the sky.

The operation of keeping a little flour in the barrel, a few frijoles in the bag has carried me, since then, to various regions. I survived the Great Depression by the skin of my teeth. It stunted me to such an extent that I doubt that I ever reach the ripe old age of the one who caused it. I have spent quite a little time in New Mexico, and, of all my travels, it is in one place I felt like sinking a few hard-earned shekels into a home. Much of my subject matter comes from the State, as well as other portions of the Nation. The history of New Mexico is colorful and intriguing, and the future of the country is one of the brightest.

Where the saying, "The long and short of it is," originated I do not know. As far back in the years as I can remember it has been quoted around me. It must have come over the pioneer trails with my grandparents when they came from Tennessee to Texas in an ox-wagon and delivered it to my parents. They, in turn, enjoyed its usage for many years. They passed it on to me. I have heard it used many times, and notice that occasionally it makes an appearance in print.

Anyhow, the "saying" captioned practically every decision reached by my parents—whether the question was how many ears of corn a mule should be fed or whether John Doe should be elected next country sheriff—or whether three fryers, or one, should find their way into the skillet on Sunday; for, as my mother would say, "The long and short of it is, the preacher might come home with us from church!"

After their consistent and dogged use of it to me, I have carried it around for more than half a century. THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS—It's still active! You, the readers, may have something to say about this!

So, THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS—Regardless of the colloquialism, this column will be the views on various subjects by the author in a sincere attempt to entertain and benefit the reader.

I'm not a politician. Neither do I approve of apple-polishing.

Some years back, I was in daily contact with a certain character who might have been classified as a "joke-teller." For almost two years, he related a joke each day—some clean and some not so clean—and none of them seemingly were reiterated.

This one, above all others, has lingered in my memory: The setting was in timber country and it happened in a barber shop of a small sawmill village.

A one-armed man had just received a shave in the barber shop. The barber, for some unknown reason, had cut his customer's face very badly during the shaving process, leaving it all cut up like the cats had clawed it.

So, as the customer arose from the chair and presented payment for his shave, the barber, apologetically and in a manner as to patch up the bungle he had made during the shaving procedure, remarked, "Say, feller, haven't I seen you come place before?"

Wherein, the one-armed customer belligerently replied, "Hell, no! I lost this arm in a sawmill accident!"

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS—Apple-polishing won't pay every time.

ARTIFICIAL MEAT marbling at University Park.

Researchers discover new meat marbling technique

University Park, N. M. — A new technique for artificially marbling meat was demonstrated this week at a meeting of sheep breeding scientists from land-grant colleges in 12 western states.

The technique, which involves the simple injection of a mixture of liquid beef tallow and corn oil directly into the steak or roast, was demonstrated by Dale Zinn and Henry Elliot of Texas Technological College, Lubbock. Zinn is a former animal husbandman and meat specialist with the New Mexico State University Experiment Station.

The injection, which produces a steak or roast with a natural marbling effect in a matter of seconds, holds promise of revolutionizing the meat industry. Tenderness tests made by the Texas Tech researchers indicate that the artificial marbling offers good possibilities for improvement of beef and lamb at the consumer level. Besides producing the marbling effect by injection, the researchers also claim that any type of flavor could be injected in the meat and many low-grade cuts could be upgraded.

Marbling, which are the streaks of fat used as a basis for quality, is usually associated with a high degree of fat. In order to achieve the desired marbling through feeding and finishing of the animal, much excess fat cover is produced. By use of the new technique, meat specialists can produce a well-marbled steak or roast without waste fat, yet having the desired fat streaking in the lean.

The researchers will continue their experiments with the new injection technique and explore other possibilities for improvement of beef and lamb at the consumer level. Dr. Earl Ray, meat specialist in charge of the carcass study work at the NMSU Experiment Station.

Fred Miller and family this week moved to Clovis. They took both of their trailer houses. Mrs. Miller reportedly has a position with the hospital there.

About that little note from the Baptists in last week's issue . . . It was a joke by the kids, and printed with the approval of the minister.

But reaction to it shows us dramatically the three classes that we're all divided into. There were those that got angry, without knowing the facts. There were those who were amused, without knowing the facts. And there were those who withheld judgment, and tried to get the facts.

And wouldn't it be a wonderful world if that third class was a majority?

We're sorry to see Fred Miller go. (He was often a dissenter, but an able one.) Best of luck to him in Clovis.

Question: "You publish unsigned letters to the editor?"
Answer: "Nope."

A wife pointed to her husband stretched out in a hammock and explained, "Fred's hobby is letting the birds watch him."

"Remember this advice, my sweet,"
"Memorize it completely."
"If you are ever indiscreet,"
"Be indiscreet, discreetly."

Plenty of rumors about iron ore mining development this week, but nothing concrete, except a few families moving to Carrizozo who work for Wells Fargo, which is hauling ore from the mine at the north end of the Mal Pals.

The John Birch Society advises us, through a mass-mailing piece, that we can buy 960 stickers for $1 that say: "This is a republic, not a democracy—let's keep it that way!"
A Bargain?

LINCOLN COUNTY
IN BYGONE YEARS

10 YEARS AGO
The names of the following Carrizozo students have been placed on the honor roll this month at the High School: Scott Lewis, seventh grade; Sport Harkey, Anne Gallacher and Jan Hurley, ninth grade; Rita Baldonado, Lou Hydag, Jane Delgado and Tino Lopez, 10th grade; Alma Eaker and Glenn Thornton, 11th grade; and Walter Brininstool, Roberta Key and Elaine Shultz, in the 12th grade.

The J. T. Fulmers have returned to Carrizozo after spending the summer months in Ruidoso.

It will be necessary to hold an election to determine whether or not the Carrizozo gas plant is sold if the monetary consideration involved is more than $500, according to a ruling from the attorney general's office.

20 YEARS AGO
Miss Ida Vega and Mr. Joe Herrera were united in marriage Saturday morning at the Catholic church by the Rev. Fr. Salvatore. Over 100 guests were present.

Mr. W. N. Hightower, 78, ranchman and retired water service man passed away at his home at Alto last Saturday. He had lived in Lincoln County for more than 60 years.

Mr. R. A. Walker, manager of the Lyric Theatre, has installed a Frequency Sound which will result in better service for patrons attending this theatre.

Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Shrum, October 23, a son weighing eight pounds.

Miss Betty Shafer of the local Mountain States office, attended a district telephone meeting in Roswell last week.

Corporal Jack Harkey of Ft. Bliss is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harkey, for a few days.

Ernest Key, county treasurer, gave notice that 1941 taxes were due.

Many people from Carrizozo attended the fourth Sunday Singing Convention in Tinnie last Sunday. An election of officers was held for the ensuing year: W. J. Ferguson, president; J. F. Tom, vice president; Mrs. Don English, secretary.

40 YEARS AGO

T. H. Kirkland of Hondo was in Carrizozo the first of the week, and states that the News was a little shy in its estimate a couple of weeks ago when it said he had gathered 74 boxes of apples from one tree, as he filled 76 boxes from the tree in question, and there still remains on the tree sufficient to fill 174 boxes, boxes, and as many on the ground, which would make the yield of that tree at least 250 boxes.

There are two reasons why the ladies have given up the idea of carrying their money in their stockings. Their petticoats are so short that there is no room at the top, and their hosiery is so thin that the nasty porch climber can see whether the "bank" has enough money in it to justify him robbing it.

The Rev. W. E. Dawn will hold service at the Baptist church Sunday, morning and evening.

Floy Skinner was down Wednesday from the Mesa. He says most farmers have finished harvesting their crops, which have been bountiful, but in most instances will have to feed the produce to stock, as the price will not justify transportation to market.

The residence under construction across from the Exchange Bank is rapidly taking form. The walls will be of cobblestone, and marks a new class of architecture in the town. Jay Vaughn is superintending the work.

WITH APOLOGIES TO WALT WHITMAN

Of all the sheets from east to west, the local paper is the best.

Deep is our love and deep our debt; to Record, Journal, and Gazette.

When first I landed on this ball, a bit of flesh wrapped round a squall, it welcomed me with joy and pride my life has never justified.

It follows me my whole life through, with words all kind and mostly true; and even after I am harked 'twill tell the best and hide the worst.

When in Oshkosh or Wickup I wander homesick as a pup, or if in foreign lands I roam, it brings me pleasant news of home.

Across the sands, across the sea, the old home paper comes to me. It is a friend both true and tried, and to it, cents, I point with pride;

Yes, I will hock my Sunday pants, to pay up six years in advance.

KEEP COOL, I ASK!

Bonito Bits

BY Louise Runnels
Bill Harcrow, his trucking crew and other highway men were busy last week putting the seal job on Highway 42 from Angus to Captain. They hauled gravel from Bonito Creek where it was stockpiled, but did not have quite enough to finish the road into Captain—a total of nine miles of road.

Tommy La May worked the road up and around Bonito Dam this week. He thinks we need rain to make better roads as it is terribly dry to fill ruts and chuck holes.

Mrs. Hugh Truitt and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson from Kansas, have been on the Bonito on a sight-seeing tour for the Kansas folks. For the past few weeks they have been in T or C taking health baths, where Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Truitt spend each winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sellers of Alamo have been on vacation and have spent most of it here adding another room and basement room to their "Hill Haven" cabin. He sold his barber shop in Alamo and as yet hasn't decided where he will settle. He's a dandy barber and we wish Bonito City was as big as it sounds and he'd set up a barber shop here. May do it yet. I saw him take a barber chair up the hill to his cabin recently (shh, shh, quiet!).

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Eden and children from Albuquerque spent the weekend with the Sellers and also Mrs. Seller's mother has been here with them several weeks to visit. She loves the mountains. "Budge" Haggee and friend were round the country, taking a demonstrator pick-up over some Jeep roads near Loma Grande and down the Bonito Canyon, past the "Big Lakes" and out at the old Allison place on Sunday. "Budge" said they made 'em all—like a Jeep could do.

Bob Shook and friend Pat Matlock were on the Bonito Friday from Las Cruces. 'Twas Matlock's first trip here and he thought the country the real place to bring his family on a vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cruse and family and friends from Roswell spent Sunday in the Bonito Canyon picnicking. Cruses have bought a small farm near Roswell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sparkman from Lovington spent the weekend in their Idle Moments cabin and with Charles and Eula Corder. The Sparkman's guests over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Crow and son, and Katie Castleberry and son, also from Lovington. Mrs. Crow and Katie work in the office with Vera Sparkman.

Mrs. Gil Peters spent the day last week in Carrizozo with her parents. Her mother is feeling real good these days, and Boan is still doing some fishing at Nogal Lake as the weather hasn't been bad.

Budro Morris killed a spike elk on the hunt to Colorado and J. C. Hayes killed a buck deer. Budro made a 500-yard shot and got the elk with one bullet.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buckner and Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield from Budoos were in Tanbark Canyon visiting Alice Wright Sunday evening, and stopped by Bonito City for a short pleasant visit.

Bobby and Toots Corder from Roswell and sons spent the weekend with Corders.

To Roswell on Wednesday for a business trip were Rachel West, Mary Helen La May and Louise Runnels.

Everyone is invited to a barn dance on the Champ Ferguson farm Saturday night. Champ has a space 20 by 30 feet and a fairly good floor for dancing—but Lorene warned: "Brogans are in order." The Fergusons just remodeled their barn and it is classed as "new."

Elmer Reinhardt and Cruz Padilla visited the Bailey family in Tanbark Canyon during the school holidays.

Capitan high school sends the news

The football game between Tularosa and Capitan has been changed to 1:30 p.m., November 3, at Capitan High school.

This is the last football game of the season for the Tigers. At half-time the Capitan High school band will entertain with a short program.

On Friday, October 20, the B-Team cheerleaders were elected. They were: Elizabeth Taylor, Alma Walker, and head cheerleader, Pam Hall.

The junior class will present their annual class play on November 17, at the school. The play is "Stop the Wedding." Everyone is invited.

The school yearbooks are now on sale. The sale of the annuals will be over around Christmas.

ALTO BRIEFS

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD
Louise Babers of San Patricio, Gladys Noaker of Glencoe, Mabel Wimberly of Hollywood and Aileen Lindamood of Alto returned the past weekend from attending the convention of postmasters in Denver.

New Mexico was well represented by having 43 postmasters there along with their guests that made a total of 67 people telling the rest of the states what we had to be proud of in the "Land of Enchantment."

Gladys Noaker had her mother, Mrs. Mayme Perry and her sister, Mrs. Ruth Roscoe of Del City, Texas, with her. Mrs. Perry had the honor of being with two daughters who were postmasters.

The weatherman was very cooperative giving us beautiful days and the "Queen City of the West" went all out to show the world what western hospitality really is.

A TRIBUTE TO "AUNT MOLLY" COPELAND

By Louise Runnels
It does seem a mystery that the best of us have to leave and the next best stay here to grieve; but we who knew Aunt Mollie know she wasn't comfortable here any longer and needed a rest; she who you will remember as never idle when she was younger.

If her house work was done, and immaculately done—as was her way—she was out helping her husband, Uncle Bill, carry mail, get wood, build fence, work cattle, or farm . . . or she was helping some neighbor.

Her only two sons were killed in a motorcycle accident more than 25 years ago, and with this burden she still made life beautiful with her thoughtfulness for others—and helped other boys and girls go to school. It's no wonder Uncle Bill was so kind and patient with her the last few years when she was in bad health. She truly stayed close by his side all through their married life. Together they taught youngsters to be good citizens and made happy times for them in their home when entertainment was scarce and traveling a few miles was expensive. A good stepping stone was Aunt Mollie Copeland. We need more, many more like her.

Announce engagement of Miss Davila

Mr. and Mrs. Benito Davila of Grandfalls, Texas, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Alicia, to Etc. James Luff.

Miss Davila is the Spanish teacher at Carrizozo High school, and this is her second year of teaching there. Mr. Luff is currently stationed at Stallion Site.

The couple plan to be married November 4, and will make their home in Carrizozo.

Bridal shower for Miss Frances Warner

A bridal shower was given for Miss Frances Warner by Bertha LaFaye, Mrs. Joe Ortiz and Mrs. Ramona Ortiz at the home of Mrs. Joe Ortiz on October 29.

Miss Warner will be married November 4 to Mr. Paul Utily of Holloman AFB, whose home is in Michigan. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warner of Carrizozo.

The bride-to-be is a 1947 graduate of Carrizozo High school. She worked at the local hospital for about three years. The couple will make their home in Carrizozo after the wedding.

There will be a reception at the home of Mrs. Bertha LaFaye. Everyone welcome.

HOW BANKS HELP YOU TO
Mail funds safely

One way is by providing checking service: To mail checks is to avoid the risks of mailing cash. It is estimated that in 1960 alone Americans drew 11½ billion bank checks — to the tune of some $4 trillion! Another way in which banks such as ours can help you mail funds safely is by providing Bank Money Orders. The procedure: You fill in an application form here and pay us the money you want to remit; we issue a money order, payable to whomever your name, which you then mail to its destination. Until or unless you have a checking account here, make use of our Bank Money Orders!

PLAZA at Mesilla is now a state monument.

State moves to preserve plaza of old Mesilla near Las Cruces

A New Mexico State Monument—administered by the Museum of New Mexico for the preservation of its important historic character—has been created at the plaza in Mesilla, a small village two miles from Las Cruces in the southern part of the state.

In 1852, two years after the Mexican War ended, Mesilla was founded by a group of Spanish-speaking people who wished to remain citizens of the Republic of Mexico. The little village and the surrounding land remained as a part of the Mexican state of Chihuahua until the following year when the Gadsden Purchase was concluded, and the area made a part of the United States.

On November 15, 1854, a stirring ceremony took place in the plaza as the Mexican flag was lowered and the Stars and Stripes raised. With this ceremony the final boundaries of the continental United States were set.

Lying in the fertile Mesilla Valley, two miles from the Rio Grande, the little village prospered. It became an important off-duty center for the surrounding army posts—Fort Fillmore, Selden, Thorn and Cummings—and provided a friendly meeting ground for the citizens of America and Mexico.

Most of Mesilla's inhabitants were then, as they are today, of Spanish descent. In the early years of the Civil War Mesilla and the nearby army forts were occupied by Confederate troops. For a brief period in 1860-1861, Mesilla was the Confederate capital of the Territory of Arizona—a region which comprised all of New Mexico south of the 34th parallel.

In the later years of the 19th century, Mesilla was a vital trading center, and lay on two important routes, the Camino Real from Chihuahua to Santa Fe, and the Butterfield Stage Route, which stretched from Missouri to California.

The colorful little plaza is surrounded by interesting buildings of Mexican-American architecture. On the southeast corner is the old adobe building where Billy the Kid was tried and convicted for a murder; other houses and public buildings reflect the Territorial style of architecture, and a fascinating historic museum is located near the plaza.

Every year on September 10 Mesilla holds a fiesta in honor of Mexican Independence Day—a south-of-the-border version of the Fourth of July. During the Christmas season nightly processions, called "Las Posadas" (The Inns), are held, commemorating the search of Mary and Joseph for lodging in Bethlehem.

Bustling Las Cruces, just two miles north of Mesilla, has long surpassed the little village in population, and has become a thoroughly Americanized city. Mesilla, however, although no longer an important trading center, has retained much of its colonial atmosphere and charm. The creation of La Mesilla State Monument promises to preserve this historic charm for succeeding generations.

The 1962 incentive level for short wool has been set at 62c, the same rate which has been used since the program began in 1953. The only change announced by the USDA is for mohair. This rate had been set at 74 cents for 1962, an increase of one cent over last year's 73c level.

The wool incentive payment is authorized by the National Wool Act of 1954 and is designed to encourage greater production and improve the quality of domestic wools. To date, wool production in the United States has been increased by over eleven per cent since the incentive program was begun, Ruddle added.

The present wool program was extended this summer and will be in effect until March 31, 1966. Funds for making incentive payments to U. S. wool producers are derived from duties collected on imports of wool, both raw and manufactured that enter the United States.

It took five years of breeding work to create the new chile variety. All kinds of shapes and degrees of pungency are possible from cross breeding, Dr. Nakayama points out.

For those who may wonder what makes a chile hot, Dr. Nakayama explained the function of a viscous substance called "capsicin." This material, which extends inside the pod through "veins," creates the pungency.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

SOME "COMMON TALK" BY ROY H. LONG

As it is known to the American public there is an American communist party. And also they are now attending the communist Congress in Russia.

The chairman of the American communists party who checked in to the Kremlin as delegates from America is Mrs. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, 70 years old.

Also since 1949 the U. S. Govt. has supplied $2.24 billion to the communist government of Tito's Yugoslavia in armaments, etc.

Tito accomplished this aid by a supposedly rift with Russia. Now Kennedy is investigating—get the word investigating—to see should we continue to support them since Tito has sanctioned the Russian Govt.

May I suggest Mr. Kennedy let Mrs. Flynn and her delegates over there do the investigating for him. Oh yes, and pay them a billion or so for their trouble.

Then we'd be sure to gain their friendship when they take over our government. Americans, it is time for us to act—more than talk and expose. We've talked enough.

It's time to declare the communist party outlawed in the U. S., and contrary to all American principles—try them and give them their choice—get out or be shot.

Letter to Editor

I want to give an expression of thanks to Mayor Ball and all of the city council for their fine work in promoting the passage of the sales tax ordinance and sale of the power system in Tuesday's election.

Not everyone agreed; that's the way things operate in this world; but now that the election is over, we can all join hands and go forward with progress in Carrizozo! Again, my thanks to Mayor Ball and the trustees for their good work in selling the power plant. John Hankley.

Notice to Hunters

The hunting rights on the E. T. Bond Ranch 10 miles south of Corona, N. M., have again this year been leased for private hunting.

In order to prevent difficulties and hard feelings it is requested that all persons, local or new comers, please observe this posting. Thank you, E. T. Bond 27-3c

WET CLOVIS GETS TWO CONVENTIONS

Since Clovis went wet it has been designated for the 1962 bar convention and the 1962 liquor dealers convention. Neither of those groups could hold forth in a dry town.

Doc Halderman, state representative from Artesia, is building a fall-out shelter 14-feet by 50-feet big on his farm. It's intended to shelter him and his wife and the families of four married children living on the farm with him.

There was a long silence on the other end of the line. "I guess I have the wrong number," the man stammered and quickly hung up.

Father: "And what did you learn in school today?" Little Joe: "I learned to say 'Yes sir' and 'No sir' and 'Yes ma'am'." Father (greatly pleased): "You did?" Joey: "Yep!"

For Fun

The 3-year-old boy was ordered by his mother to carry all those cloth animals in his room to the washing machine in the basement so that they could give them the cleaning they badly needed. While she was busy in the laundry room, the telephone rang and her son ran back upstairs to answer it. A man's voice inquired, "Is your mother at home?"

"Yes, she is," the youngster said, "but she can't come to the phone right now. She's busy putting an elephant into the washing machine."

Employee: "May I have the day off to go shopping with my wife?" Employer: "Certainly not!" Employee: "Thank you very much!"

A friend being questioned by his psychiatrist sought the answer to his problem. Psychiatrist: "What kind of car do you drive?" Patient: "A 1961 Cad. Lac." Psychiatrist: "Where do you live and where do you vacation?" Patient: "Live in a $100,000 man-sion and go to Florida for six months every year." Psychiatrist: "With all that, what's your problem?" Patient: "I only make $75 a week!"
