PICTURES PORTRAY SENATOR'S HEALTH
SANTA FE — The daily press last week carried a picture of Sen. Dennis Chavez on furlough from his hospital for a few hours to see his family at home.

The news photo followed by a short time news pictures of the New Mexico senator with former President Truman, present at the signing of a bill, and receiving an award from the Mexican government.

They have made the veteran senator about the most photographed senator in Washington.

INTENDED TO COUNTER RETIREMENT GUESSING
 The rash of pictures of the cancer-stricken senator seem to be intended to counter the much repeated talk in New Mexico and Washington about the seriousness of his illness and the possibility of his retirement.

The pictures that show him carrying on as a not-very-able man have no doubt served to maintain his influence as the No. 4 man in the Senate and have not shown him as one about to retire.

However, the possibility that the cancer might destroy his capacity to speak, and the possibility of the dread disease becoming more serious has kept alive speculation about the possibility of Senator Chavez stepping aside.

CRITICAL DATE IS MARCH 6

March 6, the date for primary filing, is the critical time in the Chavez speculation.

If he should retire before March 6 his place would be thrown open for a primary battle that could top anything seen in New Mexico primary politics.

It is generally assumed that U.S. Rep. Joe M. Montoya would try for the Senate nomination leaving his House place open for another bone rattling battle.

EASIER PROCESS AFTER MARCH 4

If the senator should retire after March 6 next year and before Oct. 7 (will explain that date below) candidates for the senate would be selected by the relatively simple action of the party committee. For the Democrats the state executive committee consisting of the county chairmen has the authority to fill such vacancies.

For instance Rep. Joe Montoya could win nomination for the House, resign, and accept appointment as the party candidate for the Senate. His House place on the ticket would also be filled by appointment.

THE LAW COVERS 30-DAY PERIOD

If a senator should retire within 30 days of the Nov. 6 general election his place in the Senate would be filled by the governor and the place would not come up for election until the 1964 general election. There is a special provision in the law on senate vacancies coming up within 30 days of a general election.

McMANUS RULING CLEARNS BOLACK

Judge John McManus of Albuquerque ruled favorably for Tom Bolack on two vital points raised in Albuquerque Joe Montoya's contest of the election of the lost guy which seemed to assure the Republican Bolack of time to finish his two-year term.

CARL TURNER HURE IN AUTO COLLISION

Carl Turner, former legislator from Socorro and now director of the state association of REA coops, got a black eye, and a smashed car in a collision with another Santa Fe driver on an Albuquerque street intersection.

SECRETARY FIORINA IS BACKING PEACHES

State Secretary Betty Fiorina favors Pedro Alberts (Peaches) Miller as her successor. She likes Pedro Ed Mead for governor. Pete Richardson, the only lady we know named Pete, has quit the secretary's office to have a free hand in backing Betty Doak for the Demo nomination for secretary.

MURRAY MORGAN WORKING AGAIN

Recent Land Commissioner Murray Morgan is on his second 60-day assignment with the federal bureau of public lands. It's a study involving public land use. Sixty days is as long as one may work for the agency without Civil Service clearance.

TREASURER VALUES SMALL-TOWN BANK

State Treasurer Joe Callaway pulled $200,000 state moneys out of the Farmers and Stockmen Bank of Clayton to strengthen the state checking account, but the small town bank was left with $920,000 state funds, a bigger deposit than any except big town banks. The treasurer values the Clayton bank's service in financing livestock deals.

45,000 PACKAGES MYSTIFY BUREAU

Failure of the cigarette tax increase to produce what it was supposed to has set bureau of revenues to looking for 45,000 packages of cigarettes a day which they suspect are being consumed without the eight-cent a package state tax. It could be a big boot-legging racket or a mighty lot of people swearing off because of the new 35-cent price of smokes.

TO TRAVEL—All set to compete in the state "Make It Yourself with Wool" contest is Mrs. Betty Walker Jones of Capitán who took first place in the senior division at the district finals held in Capitán. Women under 21 were entered in this division of the contest. (All Wool Growers style show photos taken by Paul Payton of the News.)

Hunter escapes charging deer

A hunter was gored by the buck he wounded while hunting north-west of Carrizozo Saturday morning.

The 200-pound eight-point buck was knocked down by a shot from Claude Caruthers of Roswell. Caruthers walked up to the seemingly dead animal. Then, says he: "Suddenly he leaped from the ground and charged me. He knocked me down and ripped my right leg pretty bad."

Caruthers wrestled with the deer, and cut his hands on the horns as he bulldozed the buck to the ground. Then a companion reached the scene and finished the buck off.

Caruthers was taken to the hospital in Carrizozo where he received tetanus and other shots. He was later discharged here and taken to Roswell medical center, where he was released after a day.

Eighteen sent for army physicals

Eighteen Lincoln County men were sent for army induction physical exams last week. This compares with 17 called for physicals in October.

Two men will leave November 27 for army induction. They are Roger Pope, Ruidoso, and Hariston Griffin, Holywood.

Draft calls are still in the over-21 age group for Lincoln County.

The local selective service board this week asked to be contacted if anyone knows the location of Carlos Wesley Adams, formerly of Hollywood and whose last address is Oklahoma City. Uncle Sam wants him.

DANCE

White Oaks Ropers club will have a dance at the country club this Saturday night. George Hut and band will play.

Postal receipts take big jump

Postal receipts for the quarter ending October 13 showed a 17 per cent jump this year over the same quarter of 1960, according to postmaster Roy Harman.

He said there were no large purchases that accounted for the jump. Postal receipts are considered a general business barometer.

The quarter before, that ended June 23, showed a "slight" increase over the same period a year ago, Roy added.

NO JURY TRIAL

The jury trial slated for Tuesday was called off when the parties got together and settled out of court.

Stallion Site soldiers rush to give blood to aid stricken two-year-old

White Sands Missile Range, N. M. — Twenty-two White Sands Missilemen have stepped forward to help save the life of a two-year-old boy facing delicate heart surgery.

The donors of 22 pints of blood are personnel at Stallion Center, the isolated range control and radar station near Socorro, N. M., in the northwest corner of the 4,000 square-mile missile range.

The youngster whose plight brought forth more than enough volunteers in a matter of hours is 2½-year-old Russell Whitely, a bright-eyed boy still too young to understand the seriousness of the openheart surgery he will undergo at Colorado General Hospital in Denver.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Whitely, live on a farm in a tiny community located between Socorro and the missile range's center.

They got help from both directions. Socorro businessmen had rounded up part of the 20 pints of blood needed to pull the child through his operation and were looking for additional donors when Mrs. Whitely contacted Stallion Commander Lt. Col. James A. Snow.

Within two and a half hours, personnel working on radar and electronic installations throughout the Stallion Center area had signified their desire to help the Whites.

The first group of donors went to Albuquerque on Friday to contribute blood; a second group was transported to the Duke City on Monday, a third on Tuesday.

The only compensation demanded by the Missilemen is that Russell come visit their installation after he has recuperated.

ESTANCIA — Carrizozo, motivated by the 56-point performance of Jerry Beltran and Bobby Dan Crenshaw, romped to a 57-0 victory over the Estancia Bears Friday afternoon to win their second straight New Mexico Class C football championship in three consecutive attempts.

Crenshaw kicked off for Carrizozo from the south end of the field with a slight westerly wind blowing. Quarterback David Lockhart returned the ball to his own 34. After three plays and only five yards gained Estancia was forced to kick.

Beltran returned the punt to his own 43. In five plays the Grizzlies moved the ball into the Bear's territory to their 25. Then Crenshaw broke loose and went in for the score, only to have it nullified because of a personal foul against Carrizozo.

Estancia then took over the ball on their 32. On their fourth down the Bears went into punt formation, the hike from center was too high for halfback Joe Garcia and he was forced to cover the ball on his own four yard line, where the Grizzlies took over.

On the first play Carrizozo was penalized 15 yards for having too many men on the field. Beltran then gained eight yards on the second down. The next play saw Crenshaw go off right tackle and scoot in for the score. The run for extra point by Crenshaw failed.

Lockhart returned Crenshaw's kickoff to his own 44. On the 4th down, eight yards to go, Garcia kicked out. Crenshaw returned the punt to his own 45.

In four plays Beltran, Crenshaw and Lynn Stoneinan moved the ball to Estancia's 25. Then Beltran took the screen pass from Crenshaw and went around left end for the

RAGING SNOW STORM

Plenty of deer killed in spite of blizzard; many violations, too

State Game Department officials estimated that 30 per cent of the thousands of hunters in Lincoln County got their buck or doe on the first two days of the season, last Saturday and Sunday.

Game warden Charlie Bird said it was comparable to last year. Violations ran high, too. On Monday Mrs. Bird, in Capitán, had 12 deer and one elk in the Bird garage, all impounded from hunters. Charlie said he and his eight Game Department helpers had issued more than 20 citations as the season started.

Impounded game is first offered to charities, schools, hospitals, etc. Then it's sold, the proceeds going to the game department. Mrs. Bird had sold three deer and one elk Monday (the elk brought $25.)

Noted preacher to speak

One of the outstanding preachers in the Anglican Communion, the Reverend John McCausland, will speak at the service of evening prayer at 8 p.m. this Sunday at the Church of the Holy Mount in Ruidoso.

The public is invited to join the congregation of Holy Mount, St. Ann's, Glencoe, and Our Redeemer, Ft. Stanton, to hear this "much in demand" missioner, according to the Reverend William R. Brown of Ft. Stanton. Vicar, Father McCausland has 21 major engagements to conduct missions, retreats and quiet days during the next nine months. He is conducting a mission at St. Andrew's in Roswell from November 12 to 19.

How the Christian faith is applied to modern living is a feature of Father McCausland's preaching. He has written several books, including "The Church's Answer," "The Prince of Christian Truth" and "The Church of Your Choice." He is the assistant superior of the Society of St. John the Evangelist, popularly known as the Cowley Fathers, in the Canadian Congregation at Bracebridge, Ontario.

A snack supper will be served after the service in Ruidoso. Father McCausland will speak to the patients at Ft. Stanton hospital at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

to Sammy Seck for the extra point was incomplete.

Crenshaw kicked off and Lockhart returned the ball to his own 31 yard line as the quarter ended. The Bears finally made a first and 10, gaining 10 yards in two plays. On their fourth down Garcia was again forced to kick. Beltran returned the punt from his one yard line to the 30.

On the first down Frank Galleagos went for 11 yards; again Galleagos carried, this time for three yards. In seven plays Beltran and Crenshaw alternated in moving the ball to the Estancia two-yard line and then Crenshaw slipped around right end and was in for the score. Crenshaw ran over the extra point.

Beltran kicked off for the Grizzlies.

Hunter on critical list from wound

A 19-year-old Roswell hunter was critically injured Sunday from a gunshot wound received while he was hunting northeast of Capitán near the Block Ranch.

The man, James Laxson, was shot through the middle by a high-powered rifle slug. He was taken to the Carrizozo hospital, then sent on to Alamogordo for extensive surgery.

Laxson's liver was shattered, his stomach almost cut in two by the single bullet.

Sheriff W. G. Bradley is holding Neezes Porras Yzanos, 25, on a charge of "reckless handling of firearms" filed by the state game department, for the shooting of Laxson. Yzanos is from Roswell.

North of Corona, over the line into Torrance County, a youth riding in the back of a pickup had his loaded gun discharge and shot his father, who was driving the vehicle.

Room for one more?

Sleeping and eating facilities for stranded hunters were overtaxed in Lincoln County as the blizzard hit the first of the week.

Sixteen hunters shared the jury room at the courthouse in Carrizozo, as motels quickly filled up.

At Capitán the school was pressed in service to shelter army personnel who were making rescue attempts into the Capitán mountains.

Postpone Capitán play and supper

The Capitán Junior play scheduled for this Friday has been postponed because of the blizzard. So has the enchilada supper that was to precede the play.

Both events will be rescheduled at a later date, probably in December, said superintendent Duane Darling.

NEW FIRM

Articles of incorporation have been filed for W. M. Associates, Inc., by four Alamogordo men. The corporation is to have an office in Carrizozo, will deal in importing such articles as battery-powered electric razors. Authorized capital stock is $250,000, actual stock issued is $10,000.

Rescue teams start bringing stranded hunters from hills

A paralyzing snow storm trapped hundreds of deer hunters in the Capitán and Jicarilla mountains Monday as up to three feet of snow blanketed the county.

Rescue operations started Monday as three teams of army personnel with trucks from Stallion Site were called in, and four teams and vehicles from Holloman AFB near Alamogordo.

They were aided by sheriffs of floors, 10 game department employees, forest service men and state police.

A bulldozer and hoist truck arrived in Carrizozo Wednesday morning from Holloman as the seriousness of the situation became apparent. More than 100 hunters (and their wives and families) had been brought out of the mountains by Tuesday night, but there were still more than a hundred stranded in the deep snow.

Game protector Charlie Bird said at Capitán Wednesday morning that the hunter situation is "pretty bad." Three army six-wheel trucks with chains were leaving for another rescue mission up in the Capitán. Bird said one woman brought out apparently had pneumonia from exposure and lack of food, and another woman who was rescued at 1 a.m. Wednesday was ill and vomiting.

Similar operations were taking place above Ancho in the Jicarillas. There state patrolman Jim Clayton and army trucks and men had brought out 31 hunters by 3 p.m. Tuesday. Then they had a hurried meal—first of the day, cooked by Jackie Silvers at Ancho—and went back for a hunter reported to have appendicitis. He was brought out to Ancho by 9 p.m., where Sheriff W. G. Bradley took him to the Carrizozo hospital. Turned Several minor accidents were reported, and cars and trucks lined the ditches along most of the highways. One four-car accident occurred east of Carrizozo Monday, and at least one big truck turned over north of Corona from icy road conditions.

Mail trucks were late, and much mail was routed via the railroad. Trains ran from one to five hours late Tuesday.

County and state road-clearing equipment was working full tilt all during the storm to keep highways and main roads open.

All schools in the county were dismissed Tuesday. All reopened Wednesday except Corona. In Carrizozo Superintendent J. T. Clegg said about 60 per cent of the students were present. Area radio stations will give notice whenever schools are dismissed, he said.

Several individual stories of hardship came out of the storm. One deer hunter—and his wife—had to walk seven miles out of the back country when their pickup truck froze up Monday morning.

Jackie Silvers said at Ancho she talked with two hunters who said they had just completed a 12-mile walk from their camp to Ancho. They'd gotten their deer along the way, incidentally. Army teams went after the men's wives Wednesday, who were left in camp.

Sheriff Bradley and game warden Bird agreed that there was little danger for hunters stranded in the hills—if they stayed in camp and didn't panic. "The best thing for them to do is hole up, keep warm, and wait for the storm to quit or help to come." But do not make the trek out of camp and back to civilization the first few days of this week.

The Grizzly Store at Ancho was a sort of outpost for rescuing stranded hunters. Jackie Silvers was playing host to more than a dozen hunters and several trailers that had been brought out of the mountains Sunday night, when the storm began. She said she was down to three loaves of bread by Wednesday.

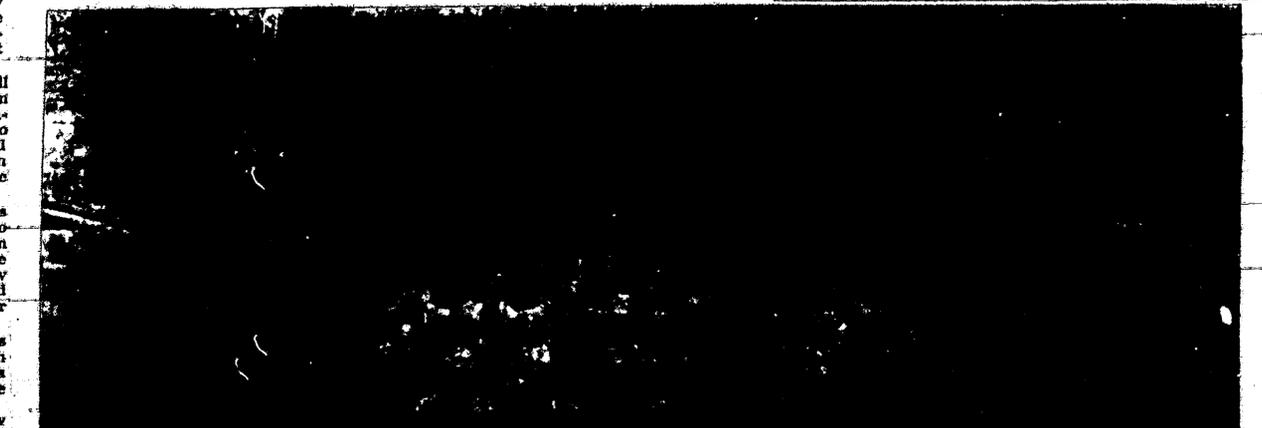

Rescue teams were bringing out individuals only, not their equipment. One hunter estimated he had left $1,000 worth of belongings in his camp, and like many others, he was waiting out the storm in Carrizozo to return and get his guns and possessions.

Several short-lived power failures occurred in Carrizozo Monday night. The local telephone company reports the biggest day in three years Monday for long distance calls as hunters reported themselves safe—120 more long distance calls than usual.

CAPITAN THANKSGIVING SERVICE WEDNESDAY

The Capitán Ministerial Alliance will be in charge of the union community Thanksgiving service to be held Wednesday, November 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Capitán.

The service will be in the Church of the Nazarene. Rev. O. L. Knowlton will deliver the Thanksgiving message. A community choir, directed by Rev. Cannon, will furnish music.

The Long and Short Of It Is . . .

By Kit Carson
685 Ortiz NE
Albuquerque

Fallout shelters have rapidly become a problem of great concern to every citizen of the United States. Almost unbelievable rapid developments in the great nuclear age have caused the people to realize the imperative need for such protection.

Almost every city, town and village in the United States has commenced some sort of program for protection during the dreaded fallout period following hydrogen bomb explosions; and the aftermath of enemy attacks. Previous plans in almost all the family homes for a den, playroom, swimming pool and etc. have been laid aside and steps have been taken in their stead for construction of shelters to protect the family unit during fallout.

The recent explosion of Russia's 50-megaton strength bomb, declared to be "the mightiest man-made blast in history," has hurried those plans greatly. And the same country is threatening the set-off of a 100-megaton, to make the situation even worse.

The Defense Department has fallen custodian to the civil defense fallout shelter program, and has been "moved under" handling out information to civilians on the proper construction of such shelters and how to cope with the situation so it will conform to the budget of every member of the Nation. They too have suddenly jumped up and decided, the last few days, that something must be done also for the protection of the military.

Future plans will probably incorporate a protective, fallout unit in every military structure, a problem within itself an enormous undertaking.

The provision of fallout shelters throughout the Nation has reached such heights, with the advertising and services for providing such shelters, that the Federal Trade Commission has entered the picture. The Commission has rolled up its pants legs, hitched up its girth and declared that they will not see the people "hooked" by awindlers in making their hasty selection of a fallout protection—a condition of which not many people are familiar.

In fact, the issue has not only become the problem of the Civil Defense, the Federal Trade Commission, or any other Federal agency, but also the direct concern of every citizen of the United States. The fallout program has reached staggering heights, even before the ink is dry on the sheets of the Civil Defense Department which, so short time ago, set forth instructions on "how to evacuate in case of attack."

Not very long ago, Mrs. Carson and I were driving through New Orleans, headed east on the Old Spanish Trail Route. Traffic was furiously bad. It was a bumper-to-bumper proposition for many miles. Along the Route, the familiar "Evacuation Route" signs dominated the highway. Additional automobiles in great numbers, not already jammed into the traffic, were parked by the business institutions and dwellings along the Route.

Traveling was at a snail's pace, and I had time to notice and think. That day, the miles of jammed traffic was moving under peaceful conditions. It does not take a dreamer to realize what would have happened on the "Evacuation Route" had suddenly the attack alarm been sounded, throwing every vehicle along the street into the already congested condition—to say nothing of what the panic of the situation would have caused.

It's not only in New Orleans where such conditions are found on the Evacuation Route, but every other city in the Nation.

The "Evacuation Route" is not worth a hoot in hell and the time and effort co-ordinating such a program must be presumed to be no longer adequate as more serious problems confront the American people. Today that problem is fallout shelter. What tomorrow will be, we don't know. But only God knows that we must stay abreast of times, regardless of whether they are efficient for just one day—or for a month or longer.

Provisions of fallout shelters for every man, woman and child in the United States is definitely a major problem—one that will tax the capacities of the greatest of brains.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT IS . . . Enmassing this great American population under the ground, as a protection from fallout, is not a minor operation.

People a few weeks ago had the opportunity for an insight of what has been going on in the Atlas missile construction in Lincoln County's backyard, around Roswell. Open house was held as the first phase of work was completed on one of the sites.

Twelve complexes are nearing completion of the first phase of construction. Much work has already been accomplished, and engineers tell us that the work has only commenced as the second phase of work will start.

The second phase will involve the installation of pertinent equipment and mechanical work for activation of the massive warhead. Many men will be employed during that stage of construction of the launching pad. Work being completed on the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile sites around Roswell has been done by the Maeco Corporation, with the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers serving as project engineers. The sites fall under the command of the Walker Air Force Base of Roswell.

Not long ago I stopped in the Wortley Hotel of Old Lincoln. I sought a reservation in the hotel. It was a beautiful morning, one characteristic of Lincoln County. Mrs. Edna Norton met me at the desk. Salutation was extended both ways. I greeted Mrs. Norton, "How are you today?"

She replied, "If I felt any better there would have to be two of me!" "Sit down. The coffee pot's on and a new batch is just made."

That's the way it is—Lincoln county does just that for anyone.

Economics of ground water irrigation gives

University Park, N.M. — An agricultural economist discussed and illustrated the economics of ground water irrigation at the sixth annual New Mexico Water Conference held here.

W. P. Stephens of New Mexico State University told the more than 400 water-conferers, "From an economist's point of view, I believe that many of the decisions made by the office of the State Engineer with regard to the Lea County basin have been wise."

The cost of pumping water in Lea County in 1960 was about $8.70 per acre foot or $1.08 per acre, according to Stephens. In 47 years or by 2007, the cost per acre will have increased to about $30.70 per acre. This would be called the economic limits of pumping, he asserted. The economic limits are close to the physical limits, according to the economist. Physical limitations are based on estimates of the present ground water supply and withdrawals during the next 47 years.

"The outlook for Texas is much less favorable than in New Mexico," Stephens said. "Well drilling on the Texas side of the Lea County basin is not controlled and it is very likely that both economic and physical limits of pumping irrigation water will be reached much sooner than in New Mexico."

Pointing to the economics of well development, Stephens said, current estimates show that a 200-acre dryland farm in Lea County might expect a net return of $17.25 per acre. By adding an irrigation well the net income could be increased by about $14.68 per acre. He explained that cost factors which affect returns on the land irrigated by wells vary depending on the efficiency of the pump, size of well, number of hours that wells are used, number of acres feet pumped, the lift, and kind of fuel used.

Letters to Editor

San Patricio, New Mexico
October 31, 1961

To the Editors, Lincoln County News, Carrizozo, N. M.
Dear Sirs:

Allen Lindamood suggested I write up the press conference I attended in Denver and send it to you.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day, attending the convention of the National Association of Postmasters in Denver, was the first PMG to invite the editors of the state publications along with the members of the press, TV and radio to a press conference on October 24. He opened the meeting by saying he was happy to be there with the postmasters and their new officers. He assured them the postal department would not interfere in the association nor in their elections. He spoke of the department's desire to reduce the cost of operations, while not curtailing any of the services now given.

He is in favor of raising the rate on all classes of mail, saying the individual would feel it very slightly, and that it would greatly increase the revenue needed to reduce the budget. He praised the postal workers of the U. S., calling them dedicated civil servants who are endeavoring to do their complex and demanding jobs with a minimum of expense and waste. Mr. Day came to this post office from a top management position in the third largest corporation in the world, and against this background he said that postal operations in general are not inefficient nor do they suffer from lack of attention, to competent research in improved methods and management.

He closed with the statement that it was his fervent hope and warm expectation that—through thoughtful and well-planned improvements in our postal installations, the machinery which goes into them, the methods of moving the mail, and the policies which guide our managers and employees—we will, together, approach a bright new frontier of rapid mail delivery.

In the question and answer session that followed, he was asked by Louise Babers if the stamp commemorating New Mexico's 50th year in 1962 had been designed yet. He said it had been, by a New Mexico artist whose name he did not give. It will be released January 6, 1962, in Santa Fe.

Livestock-Report

Edited by: Steve Treadway
LEWIS, KANSAS

RANGE CONDITIONS —

Dry, warm weather has prevailed over most of the Range Country in October. Cattle movement has been very orderly and rapid. Wheat has been retarded in many spots due to lack of moisture. Maize harvest is in full swing with record yields reported in most areas. Most farmers report very good quality and moisture content low enough for safe storage. Hay and forage supplies look to be adequate for winter feeding. Protein feeds plentiful and market about steady.

CATTLE PICTURE —

Stocker and feeder cattle have been moving at a rapid pace the past month. Most operators report very good gains from the summer season. Cattle are fleshy and in strong condition. Prices at most points have remained strong to slightly higher from earlier contracts. Corn belt demand has been very good on yearling type cattle the past two weeks. These cattle range from $1.00 to $2.00 higher than summer contracts. A stable fat cattle market along with broad feeder demand would indicate a firm market for the balance of the fall. Recent rains in the wheat belt should push calf prices higher. The big movement of range cattle will be over by early November.

YEARLINGS —

Quite a bit of strength in yearling steers during the past month. Corn belt feeders, who were a little slow in these cattle earlier, are now bidding up to get cattle. Some choice quality steers bought at 22c in September have resold at 24c. Most better quality steers weighing from 700-750 will bring 23½c to 24½c at country points. Some lighter weights up to 25c to 25½c. Bulk of the larger strings of this type cattle have been sold. Some plainer quality steers at 22½c to 23c. Very few heavier left at this time.

Heifer yearlings have been in strong demand all fall and are hard to find. Most of the early buying activity was for heifer yearlings. Some heifers still being sold at auction markets. Better quality heifers from 625-650 at 23c to 24c. Plainer feeder heifers at 22c to 23½c.

CALVES —

A large part of the calf crop has been delivered at this writing. Some areas still have calves to gather but these are scattered. The market on good light weight calves has been moving upward as deliveries are made. The dry spots in the wheat belt kept some buyers out for awhile, but large supplies of silage and grain crops have prompted many to go ahead and buy with hopes that later moisture will make wheat pasture during the winter. This has caused a steady delivery and price on calves in the country. Mid-Western interests are still slow to meet asking prices on better quality calves. Heavy heifer calves have been somewhat slow to move. Prices vary with weighing conditions and delivery dates. Generally speaking the better quality calves from 420 down will bring 28c to 30c for heifers and steers. However, some choice light weights from 220-320 have brought 22c to 24c. Heavier calves from 26c to 28c. A recent report from El Paso stating 4000 choice Mexican calves were to cross the border in December at 34c. These steers have a 360 pound weight limit at border point. Several thousand calves from the Southeast have been brought in to the Panhandle areas for wheat grazing. These calves are light weight mostly and of the better quality for that origin. It would be safe to assume that calves will stay firm in price for the balance of this season.

COWS —

Cows continue strong in price and demand. Most of the better bunches of stocker cows are sold at this time. There won't be as much "big wheat" as last season and this will curtail the grazing demand somewhat for thin cows. However, packer demand is very good and continued to bid steady to slightly higher for killing cows. Better kinds of slaughter cows from 17c to 18c at auction terminals. Cull to utility kinds at 13c to 15c. Shelly canners from 12c to 13c. Better wheat cows continue to bring 14c to 15c at the auction markets.

Along the Bonito

(Crowded out last week)

Our little "Trick or Treaters" had a fine time last week. They were treated royally at each home they visited. Mrs. Baldwin at the Nazarene Camp even played music for them on the organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cole from Picocho were on the Bonito to visit the Runnels families Sunday. They had been to Ft. Bayard to visit Mrs. Cole's dad, Fred Sweet. Fred is a pretty sick man. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taylor from Center, Colo., are with him and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sweet, Jr., will go there next week. Fred is still in the VA hospital.

For 1962...an all-new kind of Ford!

the car that's just right for just about everybody

You've never seen anything like it, because there's never been anything like it . . . until today. On the outside the new Ford Fairlane 500 measures a quick 107 inches from stem to stern. A good foot shorter than the cars from which it borrowed its name, it calls the suggest parking places home. At the same time, on the inside the new Fairlane 500 is every inch as big as some of the biggest Fords ever built.

The new Fairlane 500 is priced way under previous Fairlanes, well under many compacts. But Fairlane economy doesn't stop with a pretty price tag. It runs to amazing gas savings—with the world's first economy V8 or the nickel-nursing Fairlane Six. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—$9,000 miles on many items, only twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. And it adjusts its own brakes.

RIGHT! Big-car room, ride, performance.
RIGHT! Compact-car price, economy, handling.
RIGHT! Only car anywhere near its price with the twice-a-year maintenance schedule first introduced by Galaxie.
RIGHT! Unique economy choker the world's first economy V8 or the delightfully thrifty Fairlane Six.

RIGHT! Fine-car upholstery, appointments, luxuries.
RIGHT! The built-in value that pays off in pleasure now—and in profit when it comes time to trade.
RIGHT! Quality and precision craftsmanship you've never before enjoyed in any car anywhere near its low price.

SATURINNO BACA—The father of Lincoln County—is featured in "More Tales of the Tularosa," new book just issued by Mrs. Tom Charles of Alamogordo.

'Tales of Tularosa' volume is issued

Mrs. Tom Charles, whose home is in the Tularosa basin country, has written a second volume of "Tales of the Tularosa" which will be displayed on area newstands this week.

In this volume, entitled "More Tales of the Tularosa," the author has expanded her field by inclusion of additional stories of the area as it was in the past.

The new book is a companion volume to Mrs. Charles' earlier work. It follows the general format of the first book, with a new cover design.

In her new book, Mrs. Charles has taken Alamogordo as a point of departure as the midpoint of an historical area extending into Lincoln County, across the Organos to Las Cruces and up and down the Basin as far as Carrizozo and Orogordo.

She has written of such pioneer citizens as Saturnino Baca, the redoubtable captain whose resolution in the Territorial legislature of 1859 created Lincoln County, a vast area destined to live in history for more reasons than one; but one and a major one, was the Lincoln County War and its figures, including Billy the Kid—and Mrs. Charles writes here of the Kid and his pals, and of George Coo and his missing trigger finger, shot off at Blazer's Mill.

Included are some rare photographs—one of the most unusual, a photo of Billy the Kid and his slayer, Pat Garrett, during a time of amity preceding the Wars and their final bitter drama.

The Peace Corps comes to Carrizozo

Postmaster Roy Harman announced this week that the entrance test for the Peace Corps will be given on November 23 and 29, 1961.

Within a few days information showing the place and time for the examination in this area will be posted on the bulletin board of the local post office.

If interested in taking the test, contact Harman for more details.

Storm hits at Alto

Sunday night a storm arrived with thunder, lightning, rain and their snow. At daylight it was still snowing and we had two or three inches on the ground. By mid-morning we have about five or six inches and the going is very bad on the highway. Chains are the style today and some of the hunters trying to break camp are having a difficult time getting out even with chains.

PEACE CORPS EXAMS

Postmaster (Shouldn't it be "Postmistress"?) Alleen W. Lindamood announced this week that the entrance test for the Peace Corps will be given on November 23 and 29.

Within a few days information showing the place and time for the examination will be posted on the postoffice bulletin board.

Fallout and food

Carl Henderson, food section chief at the State Health Department, has been conducting classes on food sanitation in relation to fallout protection for various home preparedness study groups. After a recent appearance before a group at Atoka school near Artesia, he has been booked to return to present the topic before two other groups November 13 and 15, one meeting at Atoka, another in Artesia.

"You can live without a refrigerator," he advises families concerned with the problem of fallout shelter preparedness. "Prepare only the foods that will be eaten immediately, so there will be no leftovers of a perishable nature. You cannot have meat, milk, eggs, poultry and fish sitting around. They are readily perishable and could produce illness—staph infections. Also dried milk should be reconstituted only in the amounts to be used."

In stocking fallout shelters, he further advises canned foods which can be used without boiling for protection against botulism, in case heat is lacking for the purpose.

"Prepare for a situation as of 70 years ago, when it was known that certain foods must be omitted as there was no refrigeration," he points out.

Mr. Henderson is also continuing the series of training courses for radiological instrument monitors in various localities. Twenty-five persons completed the course in Carlsbad recently, given at the request of the city fire department and law enforcement agencies.

Kirsch Goets, Germany
November 7, 1961

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to my newspaper which I have not received in four weeks. It used to be that I got the paper every Monday afternoon without fail. I don't think my subscription has expired, but if it has please let me know and I will renew it immediately, as I was reading about my County. Could you please tell me why the JSC column is not being printed, that is the first thing I missed reading in my last paper.

About the best news I can give you from here is that it isn't as hot around Berlin as it was a few months ago, and every man has taken it like good American Soldiers should with pride to defend the freedom of our world.

We just had our first snow fall today, and it reminded me very much of the hunting season which is probably going full blast up there by now, and about the best thing I can say since I am not present to participate in my best sport is happy hunting fellows.

Sincerely,
PFC Antonio L. Beltran

Bonito Bits

BY Louise Runnels

Hunters are buzzing up the Canyon like years before, and Charlie Bird reports that game is not as plentiful as last year. However, bear should be easier to come by as they have come down to lower elevations because of less food in their usual areas.

Game protector Bird will have eight men helping him in this area during hunting season. He urges all hunters to study their hunting guides to learn where to hunt and even though there are 200 hunting permits available for hunting in the Apache Indian Reservation, only one deer is allowed per person. Bird also asks that hunters let their families know where they will be hunting in case of emergency.

The weather has calmed down last week. The temperature dropped to one degree above zero at Bear Canyon, freezing water pipes at cabins there. Snow from five to eight inches was reported falling at Sierra Blanca ski run which is almost complete.

The ski run is supposed to be ready by December 16. A hundred men are at work in the park with Jack Adams road construction crew.

Nine luxury motel units will be ready in December. The huge restaurant and gondola chair lift will not be ready until 1962, but a small restaurant and snack bar will be opened for motel guests and others.

Sierra Blanca Corp. will have two sporting goods stores, one in White Mountain park and one at their office in Ruidoso. The one in Ruidoso will join Lonnie's Drive-In Grocery on Highway 37 as the road turns left from the east going to the ski run.

T-bar lifts are ready. One, the El Capitan, at 1,800 feet; the Lincoln is 2,700 feet and the baby T-bar is 900 feet. There is a aid club formed and anyone in the county may join. Ski lessons are planned for club members.

Lester Greer and Tommy Zumwalt from Nogal were visiting in Bonito Canyon Monday.

Herman Collins from Denver was in Tanbark Canyon to see Alice Wright on mining business this week.

Most every resident in Bonito Canyon from Angus on up have had hunting guests to try their shooting skill for deer, bear or turkey—hope a Texan doesn't shoot our pet doe "Barbie"—she will wear a red ribbon round her neck to aid eager sportsmen in identifying her.

Some folks will remember the Collins family that lived at Jicarilla, N. M., in 1938-39. One of the children, Freddie Collins, now full grown and with a family, lives at Ruidoso Downs. Freddie is with the police department. He likes this country and plans to visit in Jicarilla soon to see Joe Hennessy and Adolph Lobner.

S. B. Boykin from Ruidoso is a new subscriber to the Lincoln County News. He is a real estate agent with the Davis Development company in Ruidoso and enjoys reading the News each week. The family has lived in Ruidoso the past three years.

Frank Stearns killed the first deer I heard about in Philadelphia Canyon the first morning of hunting season.

What a nice surprise the first morning of deer season to have Wally Olds and Mrs. T. E. Kelley come from Carrizozo to have breakfast at 7 a.m. Mrs. Kelley is one of Carrizozo's favorite women. She has been a wonderful piano teacher there for years and still has students every day. We couldn't count occasions where she has been the pianist. Attractive, alert, and sweet is Matalie Kelley. Cora Dutton has been to T or C lately. She saw Mr. and Mrs. Sharp who live there; they expect "Uncle Bill" Copeland from Ruidoso Downs soon. He will visit them and then go on to Hillsboro to visit relatives. Mrs. Sharp is Uncle Bill's sister.

Bob McFroud and hunting partners were on the Bonito this week checking on hunting country. On Sunday Mrs. McFroud and guests joined the party.

From Nogal on Saturday were: Blye Cox, her daughter Mary Ann Houx and sons Kenny and Little Sam, Pauline Rumin and Mae Sharpo who are visiting in Nogal from Denver. Pauline is Mr. Sharpo's sister. The party came by Bonito City to take pictures of the children with Barbie, the pet deer, and then were on their way sight seeing to Ruidoso.

Johnnie Coderback from Capitan is hunting with Robert Kirk Runnels on their ranch this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sellers of Alamogordo are spending the weekend in their cabin—and fixing frozen water lines.

Mr. Albert Thompson from Roswell and guests are in their cabin and are busy hunting this week; on Sunday Albert received word from his wife in Roswell that his grandmother, who has been ill for some time, had died back east.

Mrs. Collins Walker is back from Ft. Worth where she spent several weeks with a very sick sister. On Sunday Walker's hunting guests, and Den Pfingsten, celebrated Collins Walker's birthday with a big dinner. Collins said he could tell how old he is when he started climbing hills hunting—I believe he said he was 102.

One distinguished and popular person and son—Bill Leftwich of Ruidoso Downs—has visited the Walkers recently. As most of us know, Bill is an artist and writer. One of his famous books is "The Cow Killers," written about government men in Mexico helping combat the hoof-and-mouth disease in cattle. Bill drew a picture while at Walkers which is different—a dish-washer at work (rear view).

Just as I finish this news (Monday) we have snow, snow, snow! Six inches and still coming. The school at Angus has been turned out as only eight children had come out this snowy day. It is amusing to see the eager hunters in Jeeps (open tops) all bundled up, going slowly up and down the road. Not nearly as many of them as were traveling Saturday and Sunday.

Kenneth Dixon from Elida, N. M., is in Bear Canyon hunting for bear. He killed a big 10-point buck the first day of season. Also taking bucks in Bear Canyon were Fug Eckland and son Donnie from Carlsbad.

Very expensive turkeys

Two non-residents walked into the Raton office of the department of game and fish last month to buy licenses for private-land elk hunting. Area supervisor Elmo Tralor, who has been with the department long enough to have developed a sixth sense, just got a hunch that these men had already killed their elk.

A good law enforcement man doesn't divulge his methods, but Tralor uncovered the following: the men had taken their two elk, as he supposed. Each of them had legally taken two deer in a two-deer area. Each had taken a turkey, legally. Between them, they had illegally taken five extra turkeys.

The judge assessed a fine of $145 on each elk and $50 on each illegally taken turkey. That comes to $390. Add the cost of their big game non-resident licenses, travel and maintenance during the hunting trip, and information of Bear Ed Field comes up with the figure of $1,118.45 that the trip cost them.

The convicted men are also liable for civil damages with respect to the illegally taken game. The minimum for elk is $300 each; for turkey, $10 each.

NEEDLE and thread girls—Developing Wool" contest. They are, left to right, Alma Walker, first in sub-deb division; Zana Hall, first in pos-woo division; and Janie Dean, second in sub-deb class. All are from Capitan.

About People

Manuel Jones and son Mike got their deer last Saturday and Sunday.

Joe Moore, Fred and Toby English attended the Wyoming-Lobo football game in Albuquerque Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Strohmeier left Saturday afternoon for Waynoka, Okla., to attend the funeral of Emil's brother, Homer, who died of a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Payne and two boys from Yuma, Ariz., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rickerson and family. Also visiting the Rickersons were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rickerson and baby and Gary and Sharon Jones from Roswell.

Joe Moore and Albert Roberts were among the lucky deer hunters. Joe got a six-point buck and Albert a four-pointer.

We are happy to see Mrs. Charlotte Ladd home again after spending quite some time at the hospital in El Paso, where she had treatments for her hand. Leanne and Carla stayed with Donna Jo May while their mother was away.

Charles Hodgkin and Wally Olds drove to Socorro after church Sunday, where they played 26 holes of golf. Charles shot a 44 and a 47 which is not bad for an old hacker like him.

The WSCS members met at the 29.

church Wednesday night for their regular meeting which was well attended. Mrs. Charles Hodgkin had charge of the program (which was titled, "World Council of Churches.")

Friends of Minnie Neill will be glad to know that she has been dismissed from the local hospital and is now at her home again.

Mrs. Ann Gnatkowski returned to her home Sunday from Roswell where she has been in the Eastern N. M. medical center for the past month. We are glad to have you home, Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Degner and family had as their guest over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Embrey and family from Grants and Mr. and Mrs. Dee McDaniels and family from Deming.

Guests of the Elmer Huts this weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kolbush (Vivian Greer) and son, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, all from Albuquerque.

Cecilia Ortiz is laid up with a hurt back. It happened as she lifted a log for the fireplace.

Experts compare ground water administration

University Park, N.M. — New Mexico, Texas, Colorado and Arizona have very little in common in the administration of ground water, according to officials of these states. However, they agreed that each state has critical ground water areas.

The officials — Steve Reynolds, New Mexico State Engineer, Santa Fe, R. M. Dixon, Board of Water Engineers, Austin, John H. Cuykendahl, Colorado Ground Water Commission, Denver, and Charles Royal, assistant attorney general, Phoenix, discussed ground water administration at the 6th Annual State Water Conference at New Mexico State University early this month.

It was pointed out that ground water is considered a property right in Texas and that the landowner can use all the ground water he can capture.

Colorado has designated critical or restricted districts. In these districts new irrigated land cannot be developed. And all wells must be registered and well drillers must be licensed.

Arizona, like Colorado, has designated critical ground water areas but underground streams are not included as ground water. The Arizona law prohibits drilling of new irrigation wells in these critical areas. The critical areas may be established by petition from one-quarter of the users, whereas in Colorado the critical areas are determined by investigation by hydrologists.

New Mexico's ground water law is based on the doctrine of prior appropriation. The state engineer has the authority to declare any area of the state a closed basin and prohibit drilling. To date he has found it necessary to declare 15 areas of ground water control to prevent impairment of existing rights, insure beneficial rights of water, and provide for orderly development of ground water resources. The areas aggregate almost one-fifth of the state's total acreage.

CITY OF ROCKS—The huge rocks which make up City of Rocks State Park seemed to have been put in place with a deliberate intention of resembling a city. Children love to clamber around on the rocks, and the many "streets" among them are perfect for hide-and-seek.

'Trip of the Week' suggests visit to the City of Rocks near Deming

DEMING, New Mexico—Nature has created some awesome spectacles in America, but it is seldom she has come up with an amusement park.
That is the best way to describe City of Rocks State Park, one of the oddest of oddities among the many rock deposits flavoring the New Mexico landscape.
Kids love it. The rocks are perfect for climbing, and "most of them can be likened to dinosaurs or elephants or other animals. The labyrinth of paths among the rocks are perfect for hide-and-seek.
To reach City of Rocks you drive 24 miles north from Deming on U. S. Highway 250, and turn at a Scenic-Historic marker directing you to the park, eight miles off the highway over a well-maintained unpaved road.

LINCOLN COUNTY IN BYGONE YEARS

10 YEARS AGO
The woods were full of hunters 10 years ago, with the sheriff's office, locating lost ones, Henry Purcella, 78, of Albuquerque, died of a heart attack while hunting in the Capitan Mountains.
Barbara McKnight was named carnival queen at Hondo school's annual affair.
The following Lincoln County men were inducted into the army this week: Leo Zamora, Carrizozo; Joe G. Maes, Tinnie; Ramon S. Mirabal; Carrizozo; Rafael Aragon; Ancho; John Gray, Tinnie; Windell Petree, Capitan.

20 YEARS AGO
On November 12, 1941, George W. Coe of Glencoe passed away in a Roswell hospital after an illness of only a few days. He came to New Mexico in 1874, and was in demand as speaker at many of the public events, especially where anything concerning Billy the Kid's exploits or the Lincoln County War were discussed.
Servicemen and their location listed this week by the American Legion (post): Pvt. Ben F. Leslie, Philippine Islands; Pfc. A. D. Herrera, Texas; Pvt. Joe Rogers, Texas; Pfc. Thomas Truax, Texas; Pvt. M. A. Pearce, Philippine Islands; Marvin J. Williams, Philippine Islands; Ralph E. Dow, at sea.

40 YEARS AGO
Dear season was all in the news, even 40 years ago. A resident big game license cost $1.50, which entitled the hunter to one deer "with horns" and three turkeys. Game, says the paper, is "getting scarce in the hills."
Dr. R. E. Blaney left this morning for Oscura to join friends with whom he will make a hunting trip to the Mogollons in a drive for big game.

46 YEARS AGO
The high school chorus is now learning "Smiles" and "Tripoli." W. H. Sevier, former county commissioner from the Lincoln District, was here Monday from his home in the Capitan.
Pick Warden was down Wednesday from his Ancho ranch. He says he was preparing to ship a bunch of cattle.
A grand jury charged the county commissioners with spending for road supervision an amount in excess of that allowed by the law authorizing a budget. Judge Mechem instructed the jury to bring in a verdict in favor of the board after hearing the case in district court.

Net earnings down due to strikes and price
Net income of the Keimcort Copper Corporation for the third quarter of 1961 was $1.04. This compares with $1.82 per share in the corresponding period of 1960. The decline in earnings was due mainly to strikes and lower copper prices. Total shipments in the third quarter were approximately 130,000 tons as compared to 148,000 tons in the same quarter a year ago. The demand for copper both in this country and abroad continues to be well sustained, but shipments by our Chilean subsidiary were reduced because of a strike there in the third quarter.
Net income for the first nine months of 1961 was $4.32 per share as compared to $5.68 for the same period of 1960. Total copper shipments for the first nine months in 1961 were 447,238 tons, at an average selling price of 29.20 cents per pound. For the comparable period of 1960, shipments were 407,418 tons, at an average price of 31.78 cents per pound.

Music teachers to have convention

Members of the New Mexico Music Teachers Association will hold their 1961 convention Nov. 17-18 at the University of New Mexico.
Included in this year's program will be a special "Student Affiliates' Day," for students of NMMTA members. The students have several preliminary activities scheduled for Friday, Nov. 17, and a full day of rehearsals, recitals, quizzes and workshops for Saturday.
A highlight of the convention will be a recital and a workshop by Hungarian-born pianist Bela Nagy, now of the Indiana University School of Music. Dr. Nagy will instruct a piano workshop for four hours Nov. 18, after playing a concert Nov. 17.
The convention agenda also includes numerous lectures, workshops and meetings, and two banquets.
The NMMTA has over 100 members. Members in the Carrizozo area include Mrs. T. E. Kelley of Carrizozo.

and that vacation truly was good for them.

Albert Zamora of Los Angeles arrived at the home of his sister, Priellana, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Trujillo and Frankie, at Lincoln last Tuesday for the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Montes and baby daughter Lilly of Alamogordo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Carvajal, for a while last Wednesday and returned for several days during this hunting season.

Mrs. Troy Prather and two children Dearl Gene and Nancy Gay of Roswell, accompanied by Mrs. Bahringer of Riverside, N. M., called last Wednesday for a few minutes. Their husbands still work for the Armstrong Construction Co. Mrs. Prather's oldest daughter, Linda Jones, attends school in Roswell and is in the seventh grade. She went to school here so will be remembered by her many friends here. Troy and the Jones boys called "The Mavericks" played a dance at Riverside last Saturday night. Their music is good and makes you want to dance. They desired their friends here to know they had hoped you could come down there. They want to book a dance here when they can locate the proper contacts which they have not been able to do yet.

Hunt Hobbs is still in the Carrizozo hospital, not much improved. Mrs. Gertrude Morris has been there too, for some time, with little improvement. Although she never complains, I wish both of you a quick recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prodnico are new residents of Capitan, on Fourth Street. He is employed in Ft. Stanton.

Capitan

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Cosme Montoya and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Candelario of Ruidoso Downs, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Franky Montoya who is her brother. While enroute to their home from Las Vegas, N. M., where they spent three days.

Bobbie Powell from Houston, Texas, is here for the hunting season. He is home from the Navy on leave from boot training.

RICH GRISSOM EYES AUDITOR'S OFFICE

Rich Grissom, the school finance officer under Burroughs and a former state treasurer, is talking about running for Demo nomination for auditor. Bob Castner can't run again.

RANCHERS CONTINUE PAYMENTS FOR HAY

The law suit questioning the right of the attorney general to recover state money given to ranchers to buy hay in the outlaw program of 1956 hasn't stopped ranchers from paying it back. Nineteen have sent in checks totaling about $2,000 since the suit was started.

and that vacation truly was good for them.

Albert Zamora of Los Angeles arrived at the home of his sister, Priellana, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Trujillo and Frankie, at Lincoln last Tuesday for the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Montes and baby daughter Lilly of Alamogordo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Carvajal, for a while last Wednesday and returned for several days during this hunting season.

Mrs. Troy Prather and two children Dearl Gene and Nancy Gay of Roswell, accompanied by Mrs. Bahringer of Riverside, N. M., called last Wednesday for a few minutes. Their husbands still work for the Armstrong Construction Co. Mrs. Prather's oldest daughter, Linda Jones, attends school in Roswell and is in the seventh grade. She went to school here so will be remembered by her many friends here. Troy and the Jones boys called "The Mavericks" played a dance at Riverside last Saturday night. Their music is good and makes you want to dance. They desired their friends here to know they had hoped you could come down there. They want to book a dance here when they can locate the proper contacts which they have not been able to do yet.

Hunt Hobbs is still in the Carrizozo hospital, not much improved. Mrs. Gertrude Morris has been there too, for some time, with little improvement. Although she never complains, I wish both of you a quick recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prodnico are new residents of Capitan, on Fourth Street. He is employed in Ft. Stanton.
