BRINGS BACK FUGITIVE

Sheriff W. G. Bradley was in Oklahoma first of the week, to pick up Marlin Sasser, who is accused of swindling a Lubbock doctor in Ruidoso this summer.

Sasser, said the sheriff's office, was to buy some rodeo livestock for the Texas doctor, who eventually got $3,000 into the deal when Sasser left the country. They were to arrive here Tuesday night.

New book has lots about Lincoln County and local folks; Dorothy Neal is author

Mrs. Dorothy Neal's book "Captivo Mountain Waters" on which she has been working for two years, will be formally introduced at an autograph signing at McCalla Park December 3.

The book is about pipelines and people in the early days, and a large part of it is set in Lincoln County. Mrs. Neal said in El Paso Tuesday that she leaned heavily on the late Floy Skinner for information.

She spent a good deal of time in the Bonito area and hopes, she said, to have an autographing at Bonito City "soon."

Mop-up operation clears out hunters

It was just a question of finding the hunters that were in need of food or warmth last weekend, and the local men that made the rescue continued to do the fine job that is believed to have saved the lives of several hunting parties immediately after the big storm last week.

By Thursday of last week most of the hunters that wanted to get out were taken out or had made their own way, and by Friday some of them started back in after their equipment—traveling when the temperature was below freezing, for drifts up to four feet started to melt during the day and turned the ground into a bog.

Last Saturday and Sunday were warm days again and those hunters who hadn't filled their bag took to the hills again in numbers. Few failures are being heard about.

District Court

Delfine Zamora pleaded guilty to reckless driving in court Monday. He was given six months probation; 90 days restricted driving privileges; and $150 probation costs.

John W. Forman, charged with "offering property with intent to cheat or defraud" in the "Ruidoso Acres" lot swindle, pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Forman could get a lawyer.

Dick Harris, Ruidoso, charged with larceny, pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to two years probation; two years deferred sentencing, and $250 probation costs.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

Carrizozo school board met Monday night. They accepted Mr. Heffner's resignation as janitor of the junior high school building effective January 1. He is retiring. No replacement has been named yet from the two applicants.

Two Culligan water softeners were installed at the school, one in the junior high building which takes care of the kitchen, boiler and home ec department; another in the high school, for showers and boilers. Reason: Carrizozo's high school water resulted in the last school boiler lasting only two years.

Superintendent J. T. Clegg and teacher Ernsto Laubs will go to Albuquerque December 8 and 9 for meetings of the state teachers' association salary policies committee—purpose: to seek an "adjustment" of salaries between the rich and poor counties.

FIRST JURY TRIAL

A jury trial has been set for December 4 in district court—and it won't be postponed, as the first one was.

Several complaints hinge on this trial, which is the village of Ruidoso vs McCarty, et al, involving condemnation of private land for widening of Ruidoso street.

Presiding judge will be George L. Reese, Jr., of Roswell. He was appointed by the state supreme court to hear the case after disqualification of district judges W. T. Scoggin and Allan D. Walker.

The McCalla Park signing is planned for 3 to 6 p.m. at the art design center.

37 hoopsters out for practice, first game with Corona December 1

Nazarene revival at Capitan

The Capitan Church of the Nazarene will hold a revival from November 27 to December 3. Featured speaker will be Rev. Kenneth Frey from Roswell.

The revival will consist of daily evening services starting at 7:30 p.m. There'll be lots of congregational singing, with piano accompaniment Mrs. Frey, anyone needing a file to the church should telephone EL 4-2245. Rev. Harlan Cannon is pastor of the Capitan church.

December draft call takes six

Six Lincoln County youths will be drafted December 14. Called for induction are:

Armando Dominguez, 23, Yeso; David Richards, 22, Ruidoso; Antonio Archuleta, 22, Corona; Robert Fior, 22, Ruidoso Downs; Ernest Trujillo, 22, Capitan; Ruben Romero, 22, San Patricio.

The call for men to take physicals prior to induction dropped to only four, for December, after reaching a high of four times that number a couple of months ago.

"Didn't know the difference" between elk and deer?

A 14-year-old boy from Albuquerque told Judge W. T. Scoggin in district court Monday that he "didn't know the difference" between an elk and a deer—and that was why he had shot the elk, near Corona.

The boy was hunting with his father when he shot the illegal elk. The boy's father called the game warden, who issued the complaint.

The judge gave the youth two years probation, with the provision that he not be issued a big game license during probation time, and said that he must complete a course in learning how to hunt before he could again get a big game license. He also was to pay the state game and fish department for the elk, which they judged to be worth about $200.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT IN ADVERTISING

The Lincoln County News is constantly on the lookout for more and better ways to serve its customers, merchants of Lincoln County, and toward this end an unusual ad has been designed (and printed this week) for Don Tripp Jewellers in Carrizozo.

It's the sort of ad where the local newspaper "carries the mail" as it does each week for merchants who invite business.

WORTLEY HOTEL OPEN THROUGH WINTER MONTHS

The famous Wortley Hotel in Old Lincoln Town is open during the winter months on Sundays and holidays serving family-style meals and will be open for Thanksgiving from 11:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Billy's future is looking brighter

The first legal hurdle in bringing the bones of Lincoln County's Billy the Kid home was crossed last week when Judge E. T. Hensley gave the go-ahead for actual hearing of the petition for removal of the body from an obscure graveyard near Ft. Sumner.

The judge denied the "motion to dismiss" filed by De Baca county commissioners, which would have thrown the whole shebang out of court.

Attorney C. C. Chase, representing Miss Lois Teller of New York City, Billy's nearest relative who has been active in the battle to bring Billy's bones back, made the court presentation. He said the defendants would have 10 days to file responsive pleadings, which they probably won't do, and then the going was clear to get to the heart of the matter—the petition for removal of Billy to Lincoln County. Judge Hensley set December 15 as a tentative trial date for the petition.

The court decision moved Bill Fritch, reporter-poet for the Roswell Record, to pen these words: "Oh, where are your bones Billy Boy, Billy Boy; Oh where are your bones, infamous Billy!"

Said the rest of the story:

This question is a major facet regarding a New York woman's petition seeking a court order authorizing her to remove the remains of William H. Bonney from the old Ft. Sumner cemetery to a burial place at Lincoln.

This was borne out in testimony at a hearing last week. Frank Silva, a resident of Ft. Sumner for the past 43 years, testified that the marker on the presumed resting place of the outlaw was not placed there until the late '20s or early '30s.

Billy was buried in the old military cemetery near Ft. Stanton after his death of gunshot wounds on or about July 14, 1881.

Silva also testified that the spot marked as the young man's grave was selected by his grandfather and two other old-timers, after much argument.

Silva, who said that his grandfather came to Ft. Sumner in 1870, when he was in his early 20s, explained that his mother and father and several other relatives are buried in the abandoned cemetery and the only grave locations he is sure of are those of his parents.

Carlos Ciancy, also of Ft. Sumner, testified that when he first viewed the cemetery in 1893 at the age of nine it was covered with high grass and there was no indication as to which grave was Billy the Kid's.

Ciancy further testified that after the flood of 1904 he doubted if any of the graves could be located for certain. (The cemetery is located near the Pecos River, about 10 miles southeast of Ft. Sumner.)

Walter Julian, Ft. Sumner funeral home director, testified that the last time a burial was at the site was in 1940. At that time, three or four graves were disturbed before a vacancy was found, he added.

Miss Teller's petition claims that through the years the authorities in control of the cemetery (De Baca county commissioners) have allowed the burial place of Bonney to be desecrated by the curious and have permitted commercialization of the location of Billy's grave.

That large billboards have been placed on highways in the Ft. Sumner vicinity inviting the public to view the grave of Billy the Kid.

And that such conduct on the part of the commissioners and Mrs. J. V. Allen, who has a business near the cemetery, is in violation of the dignity, decency and respect to which the deceased is entitled.

SAN JOSE BELL

The Long and Short Of It Is . . .

By Kit Carson
885 Ortiz NE
Albuquerque

Many strange and ancient relics are to be found in the Land of Enchantment but none, I believe, so bizarre as the old San Jose Bell that today hangs in the San Miguel Chapel in Santa Fe. The historical background surrounding both the Bell and the Chapel is colorful and exciting.

The origin of the bell dates from 1350. It was molded in the villa of San Jose, Andaluca, of southern Spain, along about the time the Spaniards were at war with the Moors. The Spaniards had promised Saint Joseph that should they emerge victorious in the raging conflict, they would mold a great bell. They won and they molded the bell, as promised. Metal was scarce and great amounts of gold and silver of precious, personal jewelry went into its molding. The bell is of unusual weight and size.

After the molding of the bell and it had served the Andaluca for a long, long time. It was placed in the hold of a ship and brought to the New World, Vera Cruz, Mexico, along about 1712. It remained there for almost a century. During the frontier days of the New Mexican Territory, two sisters, Senoras Ortiz, came up with the strange idea that they must have the great bell for their chapel in Santa Fe. Captain Wm. Beckwith had not even then opened the Santa Fe trail, and all supplies for the territory were freighted in over the Chihuahua Trail from Mexico. The pioneers of those days were hell for what they wanted, and the San Jose Bell was one of the things they wanted. A freighter was contacted and agreement drawn up for movement of the gigantic bell.

Over 1,800 miles of treacherous deserts, barren territory and hostile Indian country, the huge chunk of metal was hauled in an old carreta, drawn by desultory oxen, to Santa Fe, all to appease the desires of the Ortiz sisters. It remains there today to attract thousands to view the ancient thing-dangar.

It weighs 780 pounds, measures 32 1/2 inches in diameter and 8 1/2 feet in circumference at the lip. The lip is 4 1/2 inches high and averages 3 1/2 inches in thickness. The metal contents of the bell amounts to this: 67 per cent copper; 2 1/2 per cent gold; 12 per cent silver. It is suspended in the souvenir room of the San Miguel Chapel by the same rawhide thongs which first suspended it in 1812.

Its tones, through broadcasts, have been heard around the world. Doubtless, it has been declared, the San Jose's notes have been received behind the "Iron Curtain."

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS: Things of beauty have a lasting endurance.

CHS junior class will present 'Finders Creepers' mystery Nov. 28

The junior class of Carrizozo High will present "Finders Creepers," a mystery comedy, at 8 p.m. November 28 in the school auditorium.

Come help Billy Greer and Tommy Snell, our two laughable teenage "Detek-a-tives," solve a murder. They need your help. Is the villain Roger McDaniel, the jovial mortician, or Esther Ortiz, his wife? Maybe it is John Clegg, the kindly country doctor, or Johnny Welsh, the clever lawyer. It might be Sharon Banks or Lillian Ortiz, girl friends of our teen-age detectives; or Rosal Torres, a hep-cat grandmother; or Loretta Lovelace, whose tears for her brother seem to be false.

You don't think it could be Billy Wrye, the slow moving hired hand, or LeAnne Ladd, the silent housemaid? Judy Sulley, who is only 11 years old but she is always ready to help solve a mystery. One thing is certain—it isn't Gramps Steve Duggar; he's the one who got served the cyanide-flavored moo-juce. Be there Tuesday and find out. Tickets will be sold by high school students before the play, and will be available at the box office. Proceeds go to finance the junior-senior prom. Play director is English teacher Joe Allen.

ST. PETERS OPENS SEASON WITH WIN OVER CLOUDCROFT

The St. Peter's Crusaders opened their season basketball play with a 60-38 victory over Cloudercroft at Cloudercroft last weekend. St. Peter's opens in Roswell next week against the Roswell Coyotes Friday night.

NEED TWICE AS MUCH WATER

Dr. Nathaniel Wollman, economist with the University of New Mexico, reviewed the national water situation recently. Indicated requirements by 1980 in the Upper Missouri, Rio Grande, Pecos, Colorado, Great Basin and South Pacific are 83 billion gallons per day, he said. Indicated requirements exceed maximum supply by 50 per cent.

ALTO BRIEFS

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD

(In the interest of correct semantics, Eileen writes that she is a "Postmaster" and not a "Postmistress" because her appointment says so. That's one problem we won't have to worry about any more.)

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Maples and daughter, Darlene, left for Bellflower, Calif., Friday for an extended visit there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Botkin are here from Duncan, Okla., spending some time in Ruidoso and Alto.

Mrs. Sidney Preston and son, Larry, are on a trip to Muleshoe, Texas, this week and will bring her mother home with them for a long stay.

Mmes. Truman Spencer, Jr., and George Dingwall came up from Carrizozo Friday and visited the Lindamoods.

Master Sergeant Rodney and Mrs. Courtney of Mon Jean Retreat were at Walker AFB several days the past week.

The big snow storm we had really caused a bit of excitement in the community. The school buses to Captain and Ruidoso did not make a full week of it due to the heavy snowfall. Many hunters were getting out on Monday and those who stayed had a difficult time getting home from here during the middle of the week.

PROMOTED

Andrew T. Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie W. Hale, Ruidoso Downs, recently was promoted to private first class in Germany, where he is a member of the 537th Ordnance Company in Stuttgart.

E. V. (Dude) Wright, about 60, of Albuquerque, a former resident of Corona and Cedarvale, died suddenly of a heart attack while on a hunting trip with his brother, Marvin Wright of Belen, November 21 near the Paul Lackey ranch in the Gallinas mountains.

He had been ill for several months, but felt well enough to go hunting and was in good spirits during the hunt. His wife, Marnie Wright, passed away a few months ago.

He is survived by two sons, Frank Wright of Belen and George Wright of California, and two daughters, Mrs. Dora Harris of Albuquerque and Mrs. Cora Tappley of Belen; and several brothers and sisters, including Marvin Wright of Belen and Mrs. Edna Gaunce of Willard. The Wrights were long-time residents of Cedarvale and Corona (a few miles northwest of Corona.) Funeral services were held in Albuquerque November 14.

Abe Flores called back into service

Abe Flores, formerly of Corona, has been called back into service. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ignacia Flores, now living at Tierra Amarilla, N. M.

26 inches of snow blankets Corona

Corona had 26 inches of snow and three inches of moisture in the form of rain last week according to records kept at the depot. There was much more snow reported in the Gallinas mountains and east of Corona in the hills, and many hunters are still digging out their cars and camp equipment this week. Many ranchers and hunters could not get into town, except by four-wheel drive, Jeeps or horseback last week. There was no school until Friday, and not all the children were able to get to school that day.

Hunting was very good both Saturday and Sunday, around Corona. But, Sunday night about 6:30 or 7, it began to snow, and continued throughout the night and part of the next day, and Tuesday also. Traffic was blocked because of a huge transport truck getting acrossways in the road, north of Corona near the overpass on Monday, and cars were off the roads and stuck in the snow on all roads leading in all directions, with traffic finally making it through on main highways with the help of highway crews and local people. Many people stayed their homes to stranded motorists Monday night of last week, but by Tuesday many were able to move on to other places. This week many hunters are back trying again to get that deer they failed to get last week. Hunting season will be over Sunday evening, November 26, in this area.

Buddy Welch killed by accidental gun shot

Nelson (Buddy) Welch died in Mountainair hospital Sunday, November 12, after an accident gun shot wound in the back which occurred November 11, first day of the deer season, southwest of Corona. A 30-30 went off in the hands of Mr. Welch's 10-year-old son, who was in the back of his pickup. Mr. Welch was sitting at the driver's wheel. He was taken to Mountainair hospital by state patrolman Brooks of Corona.

Welch is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nelson Welch of Deming, his 10-year-old son and two other sons who are in college, his mother, Mrs. Clint Welch, four brothers: Neil, Asa, Lee and Lonnie Welch, and four or five sisters and other relatives.

He is a graduate of Corona High school and the son of the late Clint Welch of Cedarvale. He has worked for a number of years for the Southern Pacific Railway. Funeral services were at Deming one day last week.

Dear Mr. Olds,
It is my sad responsibility to inform your readers of the passing of Mrs. Caroline Dolan Vorwerk. Mrs. Vorwerk, elder daughter of one of Lincoln County's most prominent businessmen, John J. Dolan, and his wife, Mrs. Caroline Fritz Dolan, was born at her grandfather's South Spring Ranch on Feb. 15, 1882. With her husband and their eight children she moved to Glendale, Calif., about 1919, residing there until her death.

Mr. Vorwerk died about 1941, and his wife followed him on October 27, 1961. She was survived by her entire family, 10 grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and her sister, Mrs. Beattie Dolan Chester. Requiem Mass was sung at the Holy Family Church, Glendale, on October 31. Cause of the death was attributed to shock after a fall in which she suffered a broken wrist. In her last illness her thoughts often returned to Lincoln County and the days of her girlhood. May she rest in peace.
Sincerely,
Philip J. Rasch

Letters to Editor
The casualties of the deer hunting season with its lengthened period should give every sober-minded person pause. The scarcity of the game is plainly evidenced. Slaughter-brought-the-remaining-but-also, then the herds of antelope, and now even the deer are going as the result of open seasons on bucks, does and even little fawns. As one man plainly expresses it "I'll kill a cow this year, I have no calf next year!"

Yet the Game and Fish department have the effrontery to use public money and pay for a half-page advertisement in the November N. M. Farm and Ranch magazine saying:
The Land-owner—To raise the game
The Sportsman—To harvest the crop
The Game Dept.—To manage the herd
The rancher, contrary to this, wants grass for the cattle which he raises and manages, with increasing herds and he like all others in the West, does not want his property over-run by wild hunters, many of whom have no respect for property they invade.

But Lincoln County, aside from being a great cattle country, has its large area of timber in the Lincoln-National-Forest which is richly endowed with mineral and other natural resources. This holds a great potential which can be developed and exploited to bring a much-needed industrial bulwark to the local economy, particularly because Carrizozo is at the crossroads surrounded by the Bonito, Nogal, Parsons, Capitan, Oscura, Bingham, White Oaks, Jicarilla and Gallinas mining districts.
These mining districts, which for the most part are in the Forest, have been set aside for mining by the federal government for mining purposes. Mining, however, is pioneering; it necessitates the building of access roads to bring in material and later machinery. Lode mining takes time to prepare, and to develop—and it can be rugged.
The rancher raises the food, the mines produce the raw materials for industry to make the tools, etc. All are indispensable, but mining is regarded, and rightly so, as highly speculative in financial circles who have to have even the products of mining to provide the medium of exchange or yardstick for all banking. But under intelligent, honest management, the means justify the end, an industrial growth with benefits for all.
The point to be made is that no businessman would close his doors for 10 days, perhaps at a crucial time, or try to work with the shooting of high-powered rifles within talking distance—and that is just what is being faced in the Jicarilla mining district today where lode mining is being developed.
The very privately built and maintained access roads are used for invasion by herds of hunters. Warning signs are flagrantly disregarded and attempts even made to set up camp right where one is living and working. Settling these affairs takes time and interruption from work. There is constant menace also of mis-directed shots for when "duck fever" hits a hunter, he forgets all else but the game and the direction a shot might travel if it misses the target. And these are high-powered rifles often in the hands of amateur hunters.
Obviously, a climax is at hand; a number of ranchers have taken legal means provided for them to protect the game and improvements on their ranches; the federal law provides the miner protection against all forms of trespass, especially when life and property are menaced.
With hunters so crowded that there is not 1,000 feet between them, the game has no chance against slaughter; and the jeopardy to human life is multiplied. There will be no more toleration of work because of the menace of hunters. The progress of mining should make fully justified the closing of the district against hunting as the permanent type of answer.

FARM NEWS
How was your pump during the last irrigation season? Did the flow drop or surge during the heavy pumping season?
Perhaps you need to lower the bowls to reach the water table or perhaps also deepen the well itself. Your pump may be at fault when the flow drops and the water level is still high on the bowls. It may need new impellers, bearings, column or shaft. A call to your pump repair man for a check on efficiency will give him a chance to determine if an overhaul job is needed, or if you need to go down for water.
How about the power costs on your motor or engine? Is it running efficiently? An overhaul job may be needed, or a new unit installed if you have to lower the bowls. If you buy a new pump or power unit, be sure they are designed to fit your well in capacity and lift, and the power unit is the right size for your pumping job. An oversize unit costs more to operate, while an undersize unit won't stand up because of the strain.

LINCOLN COUNTY IN BYGONE YEARS
40 YEARS AGO

Richard Brockman, the plumber and copper smith at Ft. Stanton, spent Thanksgiving in Carrizozo. Mr. Brockman is well known between here and the Fort, where he has been attached to the Public Health Service for many years. Aside from his dissecting a Carrizozo gobbler he had business with the railroad ticket office.
Rev. L. E. Conkin, pastor of the M. E. church, and Mrs. Conkin are spending the week in the hills in the vicinity of Eagle Creek. No, he is not on a hunting trip; but if he should happen to run onto that fellow with the cloven hoof, you bet he'll make him hard to catch.
G. B. Greer was in Friday and Saturday from Parsons on his way to his goat ranch in the San Andres. He loaded a wagon with commissary and hit the trail next morning.
Dr. J. T. Stone was shot and killed last Friday evening at Corona by Dr. R. R. Davis, Drs. Stone and Davis it appears, had returned to Corona from Carrizozo after both had been here attending district court, wherein Dr. Stone had pleaded guilty to shooting and wounding Dr. Davis some time last spring. A fine of $500 and costs had been imposed by the court. Dr. Stone had practiced medicine for a number of years in Corona, and was a member of the county board of commissioners. Dr. Davis was also a practicing physician, having located there about two years ago. The trouble originated from business jealousy, and is

Bonito Bits

BY Louise Runnels

We are fortunate to have willing and efficient men like brothers Roy, John and Tommy La May to clear our roads with graders when there's a big snow like the one last week.

They worked day and night and it wasn't easy. They had to clear other parts of the county at the same time. Not too many days ago when it snowed a lot we just stayed in until it melted and then traveled only at night or early morning after the ground was frozen.

Hunting is going strong again and several big bucks have been killed in the Bonito country. I saw one with 15 points weighing more than 200 pounds. The only woman I've heard about killing a buck was Cora Dutton; she killed him in Philadelphia Canyon. Cora is looking for a man and wife to stay on her ranch this winter—her address is Nogal, N. M.

Tennis Smoot from Carrizozo was on the Bonito this week to visit Fred Sweet; he had heard he was sick and thought he would be home.

From Carrizozo on business in Ruidoso Saturday were Mrs. Hardy Shrum, daughter Margaret and little granddaughter, Patty. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Purcell from Roswell are hunting on the Roy La May ranch.

Snow is still piled in the middle of the four-lane highway in Ruidoso left by the city grader. It's nice to drive through the town and not have the many chucks piled and the snow ridge is only a dividing line as the snow slowly melts.

Lem Salles, who brought horses to Bear Canyon for the Jal Dudes and two to Bryan Cazier took some of them out Sunday as some of the hunters had filled out and gone home. Wives of the Jal Dudes were in camp this week but the snow was a little deep to get out.

The Odessa boys brought a half pig from Odessa and made deer sausage while they were snowed in the first part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Stuart from Alamogordo and other guests have been at the Roy La May ranch to hunt. R. G. killed a 10-point buck.

Dee Johnson from El Paso spent the night in his sleeping unit on back of his pickup when we had the most snow and the graders hadn't gotten here. He was on his way to see Tom Bragg. Later a wrecker was seen taking his pickup out, perhaps a burned out clutch trying to go up Tanbark Canyon.

Bill Blakley's wrecker from Ruidoso spent eight hours getting a car out of Lileston Canyon that was stuck in the snow.

Bud Morris, Kent Hayes and relatives of Hayes and Barnie Hayes hunted in Mills Canyon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins Walker were again happy to have Bill Lettwich and family over from Ruidoso Downs this week—for a hunters supper for 18 people. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elam and girls were in the party. Last week Bill gave 10 or 15 of his books "The Cow Killers" to hunters and guests at Walkers. This is a valuable and interesting book. Bill wrote and illustrated it.

Bill Hart who has a hunters camp located at Cinezita on the edge of Rinconada in the White Mountain area reported he had 11 hunters in his camp and so far five deer killed the first day and four the second. In the camp also is one Indian game warden, Juan Gallarite and two Indian guides, Sammy and Paul Hernandez. Cooking for Bill is B. J. Watkins from Ruidoso and Jan McElhany is the horse wrangler.

Joe and Jim Hawkins from Ruidoso got their deer in this area. Jim is Joe's son and a teenager.

After eating DJ's cooking and when he was home for meals he told his mother she could not cook as good as BJ.

Benny Runnels, age 14 killed a 9-point buck.

Marvin Jones killed his buck and wife Bursy, missed hers. Their doe deer, Bambe is 1 1/2 years old and had a narrow escape as did Dickie last week. Bambe had a red ribbon round her neck and was a little distance from Jones' house—but Dickie was outside and knew where Bambe was about the time some hunters came near and were getting ready to fire—Dickie ran to Bambe calling to them not to shoot his pet—his mother held her breath as in a split second a hunter could have shot Dickie instead of the deer Bambe.

Manual Jones from Carrizozo was hunting in the Jicarilla Mts. when the snow storm hit—but managed to kill his buck and get out just in time.

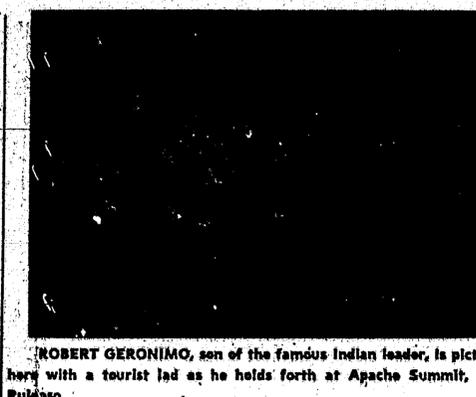

At Angus—Several deer were killed by guests at the Charlie Elam home. Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Sparkman were in their cabin to enjoy the beautiful snow. Visiting and hunting with Corders and Sparkmans last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Art Moon from Lovington, Mr. Shady Harvey from Midland, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Harvey from San Antonio, Texas and James Daniels from Graham Texas. James got his buck.

On the 23rd, Thanksgiving Day the Nazarenes will have a dinner at the Nazarene camp. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baldwin, caretaker there, happily will see their son, Oliver Baldwin and family here for Thanksgiving.

Starting the 27th of Nov. there will be a Revival at the Nazarene Church in Capitan. Rev. Frey from Roswell will hold the meeting. Gil Peters got a 10-point buck on his ranch. Leslie and Wayne Armstrong also hunted on Peter's ranch and got their bucks.

At Mr. and Mrs. Barnie Hayes home hunters this week were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fogleman and family from Morrow, La. Mrs. J. E. Fogleman and Alvin are Ruth Hayes brother and sister. Two deer have been killed so far by their guests.

Mrs. Joe Cox visited Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Runnels and Dannie Sunday. Dannie age 5 has had a serious operation on one of his eyes—and then the other has to have treatment too. At present we don't know the outcome.

ROBERT GERONIMO, son of the famous Indian leader, is pictured here with a tourist lad as he holds forth at Apache Summit, near Ruidoso.

Cardinals belt Morarity Pintos

Big Woody Dame, still hobbling from a football injury, paced the Corona Cardinals to a 44 to 30 victory Saturday night over the invading Morarity Pintos. Unable to move at full speed, this stellar forward poured in 15 points for top scoring honors. Corona's "Gung Ho" twins, J. T. and Clint Roper, accounted for another 21 points, J. T. ripping the nets for 12 points, Clint following close behind with 9.

The green-clad Pintos, playing at reduced strength for this game, made a strong bid to contain the Cardinals in the first quarter. The Cardinals led only 10 to 6 at this point. By the half the Cardinals, playing in red for the home game, had built up a 22 to 14 lead. The third-quarter score was: Corona 35, Morarity 23.

Defensively, both teams used a man for man defense. The Pintos picking their men up at the half line, while the Cardinals occasionally playing tight in the backcourt.

On offense the Cardinals relied mainly upon superb ball handling, quick effective passing and superior team speed to keep the Pintos off balance. The Cardinals were especially effective underneath the basket with Woody Dame blasting with a hard to cover jump shot. The other players were cutting sharply for close shots underneath the baskets.

Morarity relied upon a blocking game with roll outs, attempting to shake loose a man close under the basket. They lacked the finesse in passing to make this maneuver pay off against the alert Cardinal defenders.

The Pintos had a fine offensive man in Morrison who banged away for 12 points. Salz followed with 7 points.

The B game was a thriller from the first whistle. Battling neck to neck right down to the wire, the

Barbe the deer weathers the storm

By Louise Runnels

Sunday, November 12, 1961, at Bonito City where the snow lies 22 inches deep and the thermometer rests on 10 degrees, a little pet fawn doe deer four months old lies just outside the window of a log cabin.

She chose to make her bed there where she is next to the fireplace chimney and on top of the dog house which has been there a long time.

As the snow is falling fast in big flakes Barbe seems peaceful there looking in the lighted living room chewing her cud. In the yard always before she had plenty to eat like fruit-tree leaves on the hillside and lots of nearby brush. She is wearing a red shirt to protect her from any eager hunter when she is away from the cabin—although few hunters would shoot a deer her size.

On Monday morning Barbe could do alright finding food after her bottle of powdered milk, and through the day as the snow kept falling she kept pawing the snow from her bed on top of the dog house when she wanted to rest.

By night her bed was becoming a nest as she lay peacefully again chewing her cud and looking into the lighted living room window. On Tuesday morning the snow was heaped up around Barbe. Deer, making a pretty white nest.

After her quart bottle of milk—here were no leaves to be found. Snow covered everything, and she

WATER DEVELOPMENT TO COST BILLIONS

University Park, N. M. — Dr. Nathaniel Wollman, economist with the University of New Mexico, reviewed the national water situation for 400 conferees at the Sixth Annual State Water Meeting here. Dr. Wollman is author of a recent report on the situation which was based on investigations by the U.S. Senate Select Committee on national water resources.

Indicated requirements by 1960 in the Upper Missouri, Rio Grande, Pecos, Colorado, Great Basin and South Pacific are 83 billion gallons per day, he said. Indicated requirements exceed maximum supply by 50 per cent.

Wollman indicated that by the year 2,000, the Western Great Lakes region will join the original five as a water-shortage region. Large waste dilution requirements were cited as the main cause for coming shortages in many areas.

Using high projections of population growth and economic activity, Wollman estimated that by the end of this century, ten of the country's 23 regions will be water deficit areas. He said the major problem in the year 2,000 will be attaining a proper regional reallocation of water from surplus to deficit areas.

The economist estimated that water development between now and the year 2,000 will cost tremendous sums of money. Annual costs of treatment and storage to provide water of adequate quality will be between $4 and $5 billion. Expenditures for facilities to store and distribute water are expected to exceed $100 billion.

James Guck elected secretary expressed in the name but all too often lost sight of in our pre-occupation with Thanksgiving dinner. Thanksgiving is a time for giving thanks for all the good things we enjoy . . . to the Creator from whom all blessings flow. What better way to express your gratitude than by attending Thanksgiving services in the church of your choice.

I wish everyone everywhere the most grateful and happy Thanksgiving.

Another good conscientious and beloved citizen and friend of our town passed away in his sleep sometime between 4:40 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Saturday, November 18. He was Clarence A. Morris. By trade he was an electrician and a very good one. He did his duties well and thorough and was honest in all his dealings. He was a genuine good friend. He has been in ill health for several years though he worked all he could. He is at peace and he left his good marks behind with pleasant memories to us all.

Twin sons who were born to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Zamora are nearly two weeks old at this time. They were born in Tularosa. I have not learned their names or their wt. Eddie, their father, grew up here and received his education. Though he has been away several years, he and his family live in the Kingstone house near the school house and he is employed with the ski area. He has a wife and a little daughter besides the twins.

Mac Thorp will be remembered to his employer and many friends as a good, honest and conscientious person and he left so much good with us and pleasant memories. He is just away at rest and peace.

The Roundtable Club was to have been held at the ranch home of Marie Edgar November 15 but was postponed due to the 24 inches of snow there at that time and more was falling. The next date of the club meeting is not known at this time.

Speaking of the snow. We had between 31 to 36 inches of snow. It rained for several hours the Sunday night before. The coldest was six degrees above zero one night. It now is leaving us. What a blessing it is to our country and how grateful we are. It did interfere with the hunters, many of whom had to be rescued. But the wonderful moisture we had was worth it all.

Mr. O. B. Kingston and family of Portales, who spent the first week here hunting, returned this last Sunday to get their pickup which was broken down during their time here. They left it and returned to Portales in their car. None of their party killed a deer. Tom Guck arrived home November 10 after completing six months Army training at Fort Sill. He left November 15 for Montana where he is employed with the National Guard.

It is probable that with the snow in the mountains only pine trees will be available for Christmas. They are pretty and do make good ones so be grateful. It is time now to start getting ready for the lighting and passing of that Great Spirit of Christmas. So, get busy. Time is at hand.

Carroll Bonnell, Leslie Armstrong, Nick and Mary Guck are enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays at home from studies at the N. M. State University.

Bill Merrell of Las Cruces and a friend of his from Roswell Air Base camped out and hunted the first weekend. They were in the forest. They came in on Thursday in their truck but had to leave their trailer house until a later date. They said it was rough but they enjoyed it though they did not get a deer. They both were experienced hunters.

Johnnie Hobbs and David Williams of Albuquerque hunted the first weekend of the season but no deer.

Charlie Province of Roswell and his brother Eddie of Las Cruces hunted together the first weekend of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Williams Sr. of Albuquerque spent the first week of hunting season with their son and family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White and two boys of Albuquerque spent Sunday here hunting, then went on to Carrizozo and spent the night. They killed two deer in that vicinity Monday. What happy hunters.

J. R. Taylor of Las Cruces, on the weekend of the 2nd, killed his deer and returned home before the storm.

Winter blew into Ancho last Monday bringing 13 inches of snow with drifts up to four feet.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sechrist and daughter, Lila, and her husband, were visiting in Ancho for a short while last Friday. They were returning from a vacation in Indiana and points east.

Mrs. Ola S. Drake, Mrs. William Cathey and daughter, and Mrs. Hugh Cathey from Washington are visiting the Price Millers. Many of Ollie's friends will be interested to know that she is now a star route mail carrier serving 600 families just out of Puyallup, Wash.

One of her acquaintances in Washington whom she enjoys talking with is a Mr. Beaumont, formerly associated with the First National Bank in Las Cruces. Mr. Beaumont's father was a judge in the Billy the Kid trial and personally knew the Fountains. Mrs. Drake, Lavona's mother, plans to spend the winter here.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Hoger and sons, Carlton Jr. and Tim, from Tularosa were visitors of Jackie Silvers and Sara and L. Y. Jackson over the weekend.

Visiting the T. A. Knights and enjoying the hunting season were the Shelby Greens from Las Cruces.

The B. W. Wilsons and Walter Wilsons had the welcome mat out for stranded hunters during the snow storm. Numerous hunters flocked to their houses for assistance of various kinds and several families who had been caught in the storm were overnight guests there, as well as at the Straley Store.

Sheriff Bradley, state policeman Jim Clayton and Lt. Col. Jim Snow were all kept busy with their crews getting into the hills, clearing roads and rescuing hunting parties. Larry Lynch, Cope Straley, Walt Wilson and Clyde Stoneman worked along with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Stoneman and Cassandra Lynn were guests of his parents, the Clyde Stonemans, for several days last week. Sammy will be in Farmington for the winter working with Northwestern Construction.

Also visiting the Clyde Stonemans and taking in hunting were Barney Roper and Sam Roper, brother and father of Irene, both from Ft. Sumner.

Gary Armstrong of Carrizozo was a weekend guest of the Cope Straley at Luna, as were Jo Ann and Tom Barnett and children of Hatch.

Family night and the Thanksgiving praise service was held at Ancho on Monday night. Originally scheduled for the preceding Thursday night, the service was postponed due to the bad weather. A nice crowd enjoyed the service led by Dorothy Straley and Dixie Bond with Blanche Straley as pianist. All were delighted with the first performance by the Ancho children's choir as they presented two numbers. Concluding the program was a report from Maud Ringer on her recent trip to the national UPW meeting in Perdue. Refreshments of punch, coffee, pop were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gorman of Las Cruces were weekend guests of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Crowder and family of Albuquerque were guests of the J. A. Hightowers the early part of last week.

May we extend to all of our neighbors at wishes for a joyous Thanksgiving.
