Pantoleon berserk before taking nap

About 9:30 p.m. Tuesday Sheriff W. G. Bradley received a call from the Bill Treet ranch, 30 miles southeast of Pecos, about a ranch hand who had gone berserk. Undersheriff Leandro Vega went to investigate. He picked up Joe McKnight, a mounted patrol member. They met Mr. Treet and several other ranch hands about five miles from the ranch. When they arrived at the ranch they found Pantoleon Sandoval, formerly of Tularosa, sound asleep in bed with his .22 pistol and a box of shells. Pantoleon Sandoval, who worked for Mr. Treet for about 3 months, is being held in jail pending an investigation.

Second accident was embarrassing

About 10:00 p.m. Tuesday Clyde Lee Roy Stepp, 13, of Mountain View, reported to City Marshal Choncho Morales, that he had been shot by a hitch hiker. He said he left the hitchhiker out about 2 1/2 miles north of Carrizozo. Acting on this information the Sheriff, W. G. Bradley, Sgt. Bill Kruse of the State Police, and the City Marshal set up road blocks and searched the area. Unable to find anyone, they returned to the hospital to question Stepp further. After changing his story several times, he finally admitted to Sheriff Bradley that he had shot himself and the hitchhiker story was a hoax. The accidental shooting took place near Gran Quivira. There was a bullet hole in the front windshield to make police believe the hitchhiker did the shooting. The reason for all this make-believe was about two years ago Stepp had accidentally shot himself in the leg while rabbit hunting and thought a second accidental shooting would sound funny to the police. After spending the night in the hospital Stepp was able to go home.

Members of the Church of the Holy Mount Bishop's Committee and finance committee met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Drexler Monday night to discuss steps towards securing a home for the county's Episcopal minister, to be located in Ruidoso. ## They raise 'em rough in Chicago!

There was a story in the Lincoln County News, March 15, about four teenagers from Chicago stealing a car and being picked up by the police. We felt sorry for the girls because they said they were not involved with stealing the car and that the boys had picked them up later. The complete story now is that they not only helped steal the car but were in on the beating of their friend, who owned the car. The beaten boy will survive but he is in serious condition. The drums that they sold to finance the trip were not their own but their friend's. The two boys being held in Alamoogordo for the Chicago police are Eugene Hartline and Tony V. Amoroso, both 18. The girls, Mary Haroues, 15, and Sharon Woyelchowski, 17, are being accompanied by Sharon's father to Chicago — but there is a surprise in store for them when they arrive home... they will be met by Chicago police.

Note From Effie Mulkey

I noticed in the Albuquerque Journal March 15 issue that J. Truett Grant, Chief of Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office, found a man who had driven 20 years without an accident or citation. The man was Frank A. Hoover, manager of an electronics firm. He has been driving since he was 16. This reminded me of the fact that I have been driving for 40 years, and also without an accident or citation, and I have never had my driver's license checked or been stopped at any time by an officer of the law. I started driving when I was 14.

First track meet March 31

Track is off to a good start. Thirty-nine boys have reported for practice daily and are rounding in to condition for the first meet of the season March 31 on the Zoza track. This will be the 2nd annual Grizzly Relays. The track and field events will get under way at 12:30 p.m., Saturday, March 31. The first running event will be the 120 yard high hurdles. Bobby Dan Crenshaw, the defending state Class B high and low hurdles champion will be entered in his two favorite events, Jerry Beltran 2nd place Class B javelin thrower will try to improve on his school record of 174 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Teams entered so far in the Grizzly Relays are Cathedral and Canutillo of El Paso, Eunice, T. C. Estancia, Capitan, Hagerman, Tularosa and Corona. This will be a good meet with some of the best Class B boys in the state of New Mexico on show. Carrizozo's prospects are good this year. After being 4th in the state last year we have the same group back plus some others who are out for the first time. If these newcomers round into shape, as some look like they will, we will have more depth plus increased quality in the shorter dash and field events. In the past our field events have been the big weakness, but they are looking better this year. Much work has been done the past two weeks to improve our physical facilities, such as pack the track, good sand in the broad jump pit, lots of sawdust in the high jump and pole vault pit, making two new sets of hurdles and other minor things on the field. Track schedule for 1962: March 31 - Grizzly Relays, Roswell April 7 - NMML Relays, Roswell April 14 - Fox Relays, at Fort Sumner April 21 - Easter Vacation April 28 - Tularosa Invitational May 6 - District Meet May 12-13 State Meet at Albuquerque

Beauty of spring in April magazine

SANTA FE — The exhilarating beauty and freshness of spring is captured in the nine full-page color photographs that are included in the 44-page April issue of the New Mexico Magazine which goes on sale at newsstands March 20. The front cover of the April issue depicts fishermen on Fenton Lake surrounded by the pine-covered Jemez mountain peaks. Gracing the back cover are sunlit towers, carved by the winds in the mesa country near Cuba. Panoramic views of U.S. Highway 380 between Roswell and the Capitan Mountains, the Navajos' sacred Church Rock, a mountain stream through a forest, a profusion of poppies on the White Range Mistle Range, the strata-striped mesas of Chama Canyon, and the reservation highway leading to Navajo, New Mexico, are among the vivid illustrations contained in the April edition. Maurice Eby's spectacular camera series of Maria, the Potter of San Ildefonso, and her son, Popovi Da, is another of the color pages that stamps the trademark on the New Mexico Magazine. April features include "There's Elbow Room in Harding County," "Shakespeare - The West's Most Authentic Ghost Town," "Trees," "Bookmobile in Navajoland," "The First Weatherman," "The Virginia Warbler is a New Mexican," "The Civil War Years," and "Little Beaver Town."

Sheepmen given new restrictions

Sheep shearers in New Mexico were put under new restrictions Tuesday by the New Mexico Sheep Sanitary Board as an added precaution in the fight against sheep scab. The board said the disease is a threat to the state's sheep industry and is costly and difficult to eradicate. Many areas of the state are under quarantine and other states have embargoed shipments from New Mexico. The board issued Tuesday directed shearers working with fleeces designated as infected or exposed to the disease to launder all outer clothing before leaving one flock to move to another; disinfect all shearing equipment including tool boxes, shearing heads and gear after working in a flock using 0.6 per cent solution of lindane or a 50 per cent solution of alcohol; stop the practice of using wool, cloth or wrappings of an unclear or insubstantial nature for the protection and wrapping of tools and equipment. The board order said shearers found in violation of the order would be issued citations by board inspectors or inspectors employed by the federal government. The order will remain in effect for the duration of the emergency as determined by the board.

Other local merchants have cooperated with the class by lending garments so that their quality of cloth and workmanship could be studied as an aid in learning what things are important to look for when buying shirts, trousers, and jackets. Merchants who have cooperated are Pettys' Garment Store and Carrizozo Mercantile Company. The MYF Thrift Shop loaned trousers and jackets for the study. ## Spirit of enterprise moving New Mexico

SANTA FE, N.M. — Early Spanish settlers in New Mexico developed forty manufacturing industries, but in 1821 traders came over the Santa Fe Trail and Yankee goods eventually took over the market and killed off local manufacturing. New Mexico then turned to ranching and mining and this type of economy carried on to almost the present time. After World War II the atomic bomb and subsequent related federal research and development operations created large new payrolls and boomed a few urban centers. The production of oil, gas, uranium, potash and copper built up others, and agriculture lost its dominant role. But population kept on rising and by 1950 it was clear that all of these activities together would not be enough to sustain continued growth. As with have-not nations, productive industry was the indicated answer. New Mexico passed a law allowing communities to issue revenue bonds to develop new industries. The U.S. Government freed the hands of the Small Business Administration so it could lend more generously. The Area Redevelopment Act opened another road to industrial development. Information for self help was carried to all interested communities in the state by the staff of the Industrial Division, New Mexico Department of Development. Local development groups were formed in a score of towns and cities. Some have brought in, or are in process of bringing in, or setting up new enterprises. Some have used the municipal bond method to buy factories outright or build facilities to lease to manufacturing concerns. Others have taken the Small Business loan route. A few are adopting area development plans. Still others are raising local capital through chambers of commerce and civic committees. The industrializing spirit is on the move from border to border. Deming purchased the Auburn Rubber Company, toy manufacturer, which employs nearly 600 workers. Carlsbad brought in the Air Products Company to build light airplanes. Clovis is building a $2.5 million plant for the Swift Packing Company, and a Safeway milk processing plant is soon to follow. The Hobbs Chamber of Commerce has been successful in placing the Climax Chemical at nearby Monument; a $2 million plant is under construction. Tucuman Industrial Enterprises is raising money to finance a broom factory. Mora and wagon wheels have formed local societies to manufacture furniture. Mountainair is working on an SBA loan to establish a children's dress factory. At Las Cruces, the Mesilla Industrial Development Corporation is raising $100,000 for development purposes. Civic leaders at T or C are raising capital for a meat packing plant. Area Development plans are being activated in Artesia, Ruidoso, Socorro, Portales, Springer and Las Vegas, and in Otero and Luna counties. Socorro, under this plan, raised $70,000 locally and helped a soft drink bottling company to get a $130,000 loan to set up a $200,000 plant. Raton and Silver City are moving toward creating recreational lakes and other facilities to attract retirees and summer home residents. The active Albuquerque Industrial Service has announced the city's acquisition of a dozen new industrial businesses in the past year, including two nationally known electronics companies. Several hundred new jobs were created. The Kaiser Gypsum Company, manufacturers of wallboard, located 20 miles south of Santa Fe. Its coming to New Mexico, facilitated by work of the Department of Development, raised the sights of our state.

Somebody has to feed the mamma hog

These piglets are not worried about how comes their sustenance... nor are they much concerned about whether it will be there tomorrow... until tomorrow comes.

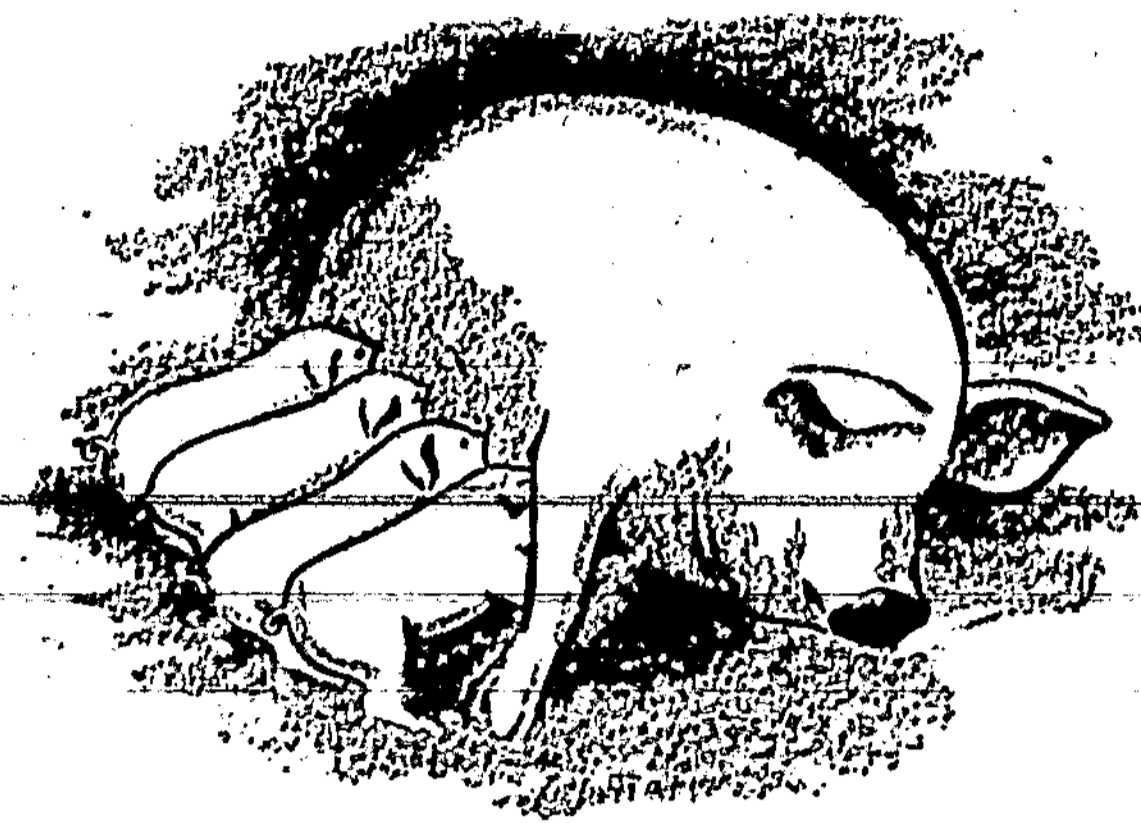

• Yet their welfare depends very much upon how well somebody feeds and cares for the mama hog. They grow fat or they grow lean in proportion.

• Even as our individual and collective prosperity depends on the vigor of this Local Economy which furnishes us with jobs, business, stable property values, and a handy source of emergency and daily needs.

• The difference is... we, ourselves, are the caretakers of this economy upon which we depend. It's within our power to feed it by trading at home... or to starve it by trading in some other town.

• City shopping... mail order buying... succumbing to the peddler's slick line... cutting the community's ration of trade volume by $3 or $4 every time $1 is taken out of local circulation... is a good way to dry up the economy that sustains us.

SMALLEST SCHOOL PAYS PREXY MOST

SANTA FE — Dr. E. J. Workman, head of the smallest state educational institution, the Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro with an enrollment of 222 full time equivalent students, is the highest paid college prexy in the state, $21,450.

Tom Popeloy, president of NNU at Albuquerque with 5,906 gets $20,900; Dr. Roger Corbett, president of New Mexico State at Las Cruces with 3,426 full time equivalent enrollment, gets $20,004.

Dr. Donald Moyer, president of Eastern at Portales with 1,619 enrollment, is paid $16,325, and Dr. Tom Donnelly, Highlands of Las Vegas with 1,045 enrollment, gets $19,500 pay. J. Cloy Miller of Western at Silver City, 781-student count, is paid $14,400.

All the college presidents except Moyer of Eastern are provided a residence.

STATE PAYING 94 $10,000-OR MORE

The state personnel department lists 94 people on the New Mexico State U payroll at $10,000 a year or better with four at $15,000 or more — Corbett, W. B. O'Donnell $17,004, Ira Ricchetti $15,300, Kaiser Kunz $15,000.

The personnel department listing shows UNM at Albuquerque with 100 at $10,000 or better and eleven at $15,000 or more.

They are Popeloy, Vern Conroyman $16,500, Harold Enarson $17,500, Reginald Fitz $16,667, Wayne Granneman $15,400, Stuart Northrup $15,550, Francis Scholes $15,500, Chester Travelstead $15,000, Hoyt Trowbridge $17,000, Kenneth Young $15,000, Eugene Zwayer $18,000.

MILITARY SUPER GETTING $14,400

Worlman's top pay at Socorro is related to the high academic level of the small school.

BAD CHECKS TROUBLE PRIMARY CANDIDATES

Bad checks have bounced two well known candidates off the primary ballot and there is a widely repeated report that a third will quit.

Blasido Morrison of Albuquerque the only one to file against Johnnie Walker for Demo nomination for land commissioner, was disqualified when his $575 check for filing was turned down by an Albuquerque bank for "insufficient funds".

house, was disqualified as a Demo candidate for county clerk when the Las Vegas Savings Bank refused to honor his check for $158.40.

Atty. Gen. Earl Hartley has ruled that candidates filing with bad checks should not be placed on the ballot.

WOULD CLEAR FIELD FOR JOHNNY BLOCK

Meanwhile the capital heard that Perfecto Maes of Rio Arriba, a Demo candidate for corporation commissioner, would quit before the April 13 deadline for withdrawing from the primary.

If he gets out it would leave Commissioner Johnny Block as the only Spanish-American candidate in a field of five. The others are Murray E. Morgan of Alamogordo, Marie Morgan of Albuquerque, Jim Lamb of Las Cruces, Tom Spear of Sandoval.

Maes, a former corporation commissioner, payroller who left for a better job in the bureau of revenue during the Burroughs administration, and tried to get back on the corporation commission payroll when Burroughs was defeated, was sore at Block when he plunked down $90 to run against him.

If Maes gets out it would decidedly improve Block's position, and might "cut" probably find something for him to do in the commission office.

1960 TRANSACTION ENDS IN GUN FIRE

In the last primary campaign Tony Montoya filed against Congressman Joe Montoya, was induced to withdraw, was given a job in the bureau of revenue but was fired a short time after the election.

Consequences of the deal materialized on filing day this year when Tony Montoya was suspected of being responsible for Joe E. Montoya, an Albuquerque salesman, filing against Joe M. Montoya, the congressman.

Two of Joe M.'s brothers, State Sen. Al Montoya and former State Sen. Tom Montoya, and Pancho Padilla, head of the retail liquor dealers association, confronted Tony Montoya in the De Vargas Hotel here.

One of the Montoya brothers had Tony around the neck from behind and the other brother and Padilla were in front when Tony's boy Art came running to the rescue and Tony was able to get his .32 pistol out of his pocket and blasted it off in the hotel lobby. Nobody was hit.

$560,000 DETAIL WORRIES OFFICERS

State Investment Officer Edmond Kaco and Investment Council Chairman Ed Hartman have joined the list of those asking the attorney general what to do about the sale of state held securities for $560,000 less than the state paid for them.

While the sale as it worked out will actually produce a profit for the state the procedure followed was apparently illegal and somebody could be held responsible for the loss as it shows on the state treasurer's records.

Earlier Auditor Bob Cantner and Treasurer Joe Callaway went to the attorney general for opinions on the transactions.

The case could have serious consequences, possibly requiring the state to reimburse the federally set up permanent funds for the $300,000 loss, or conceivably result in some individuals being held responsible for the sum. Hartman and Kaco are under bond.

ALTO BRIEFS

By AILEEN LINDAMOOD

Captain and Carrizozo folks think we're funny talking big snow — but it was here! Twenty-four inches fell at Sierra Blanca, and was a beautiful new world Wednesday morning. For awhile all the employees and citizens had to wait for the drifts to be cleared from the road. Lloyd Hobbs walked several miles to get a road machine. The State Highway men were busy too, cleaning the road Wednesday night as the last of the crew came down they ran into a snow slide and it was several hours before Laurence Peebles could get a grader and clear the snow slide away so they could come down. Wednesday night was a cool 4 degrees below here at Donito City, too. Thursday sliders got up the mountain O. K. and the skiing was great.

Lula and A. N. Rummels remember when they lived in South Fork Canyon some 35 years ago there was a big snow the middle of March, 45 inches. Graftons lived at Dear Canyon and they measured 45 inches too.

Mrs. Sam Cox is glad to be home in Nogal after spending a month with the Hoax family in Hobbs. Mrs. Hoax is the former Mary Ann Cox and is so happy to have a new baby daughter. Now Sam and Bly have five grandsons and one great-granddaughter.

Fishing news sounds good! New Game Warden Dwight Bowden reports there was a load of fish put in Nogal Lake last week. There was ice there after the snow but anyway, there's fish too!

Mr. Bowden said next week he expected a load of fish for the Bonito Creek. New licenses are due the 1st of April.

The Angus store owned by Charles and Eala Cordex has a new look inside with an overall paint job, new neon lights and shelves loaded with groceries. How the community did without this store so near, all these years before, I don't know. They save us gas, time and tires — and speaking of tires — Charles made a trip to El Paso last week and bought an air compressor, a "Quincy", for airing tires and also has a tire changer for flats. He plans to have re-cap and new tires for sale son. He has 2 gas pumps and sells Malco gas. They have a good stock of fishing equipment, picnic supplies and also frozen meats and groceries.

From Carrizozo visiting the Ski Run Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Eaker, and friends Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McGowen and Barbara and Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Spencer and children and Fred English and children.

From Elida, N. M. visiting the area were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dixon and children and Kenneth's dad, Orvel Dixon.

On Saturday Mayme Perry, Gladys Nosker, Janice Perry, from Glencoe, and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harn from Dell City, Texas.

Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Dunn from Nogal, and Jimmie's daughter from Brownfield Texas were at the Ski Run. Jimmie and Fern have learned to be good skiers since beginning in January and taking a few lessons.

Last week, also, Betty and Walter L. Jones from Captain, and friends were at the Ski Run.

Virgie Peters, State Highway official was in the area last week to look the road over for planting grass seed on the banks and along the road.

Seen at the Ski Run on weekends are: Gay Sombreros, (high tops), "big" "brim" "hat" "colors", long hair wigs on men folks, red, blonde and brunette "silk" caps of all colors and shapes. Big dogs and little dogs, babies and baby in buggies, little folk sipping and big folk helping them. It's a great life even if you fall down!

REGISTRATION DATE FOR VOTERS NEAR

April 9th will be the last day folks can register to vote in the coming primary and general elections.

To be eligible one must be 21, in the State of New Mexico one year, and in the County of Lincoln 6 months.

Every person should be registered and ready to vote. It might be said "Oh, I don't know any of the candidates and besides my vote wouldn't matter!"

Make it a point to know them, or at least come of them who are in or near your neighborhood. Then vote, your vote is very important and there's a satisfaction in helping your man or woman win or lose for a job.

Saturday Mrs. J. E. Pemberton of T or C stopped in to chat. The past weekend Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lowe of Roswell were here.

Bonnie McEuen was in Las Cruces the weekend just passed to compete in the state bowling tournament held there.

Mrs. Fred Segal of Ruidoso visited in the neighborhood last Friday.

Thursday Ignacio Torres of Honda was here at Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Jack Stewart of El Paso were here last Tuesday. Bill Carpenter stopped in Monday on his way home to Ruidoso Downs.

Jim McEuen was in Albuquerque the first of last week for a few days.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Rodney Courtney made a trip to El Paso last Tuesday for the day.

Tuesday and Wednesday of last week brought quite a snow storm to the area. Tuesday the snow didn't stay on the ground or pavement but by Wednesday it was sticking to both. Before it was over we had from a foot to fifteen inches with chains being needed to get around anywhere. Next day the sun came out and it was quite surprising to see how quickly the snow melted. The Sierra Blanca Ski Area had about two and a half feet of snow and it made sliding fine for the weekend.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS THURSDAY, MARCH 22, 1962

White Oaks

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Huffmyer of White Oaks had all four of their children and families home for the weekend. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Milton Huffmyer and four children of Las Cruces, Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Starkey and two daughters of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Smith and two children of Dexter and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby John Huffmyer and two children of Albuquerque, also Mr. and Mrs. Jay Haning and two sons of Las Cruces were there. Mr. and Mrs. Preacher Dobbs and Wrayland also visited with them on Sunday. Needless to say all had a good time and as Sunday was such a pretty day the 12 children really enjoyed the sunshine at Grandma's house in the mountains.

Last Friday morning Mr. Stan Walker of the North American Storage and Van Co. in Roswell flew to Carrizozo and brought Sally and Francine Starkey to spend the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Huffmyer at White Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Huffmyer returned Thursday from Albuquerque after a week's stay where they had been undergoing treatments as the result of their wreck over a year ago.

Cancer Society opens crusade

The American Cancer Society opens its annual Crusade here on April 1st on a hopeful note.

"By the end of the year, about 1,100,000 Americans will be able to say they have been cured of cancer," said Aileen Lindamood, County Publicity Chairman.

"That's the bright side of the cancer problem," said Mrs. Lindamood. "On the other hand, there are many thousands who die of cancer needlessly. About 87,000 men, women and children will probably die in 1962 who might have been saved by earlier and better treatment. A much greater effort must be made to urge people to see their doctors in time."

To emphasize this point, Mrs. Lindamood announced that the familiar slogan of the American Cancer Society, "Fight Cancer With a Checkup and a Check", will have a companion slogan in 1962 — "To cure more, Give More."

"To cure more," Mrs. Lindamood said, "more funds are needed to give people life-saving facts about cancer and to keep physicians informed of latest methods of diagnosing and treating cancer."

"To cure more, more funds are needed to support scientists in their search for cures and, let's hope, preventives for all types of cancer, including leukemia."

"To cure more, more money is needed for broadening the Society's service program to ease the burden of cancer patients and their families."

Pointing out that the public support of the Society's attack against cancer has grown from $800,000 in 1944 to more than $36,000,000 in 1961, all residents of Lincoln County are urged to give generously to the Crusade to make it the best in history.

The progress made in cancer control depends on the amount of money invested in the program to fight it," said Mrs. Lindamood. "Your contributions is one of the greatest investments in the world — to eliminate a disease which at present rates will strike 45 million Americans now living. Let us give more, to cure more."

Fire was reported at 6:30 P. M. March 16 at Jess Garrison's work shop. Gasoline on the floor was the cause of the blaze which was extinguished before the fire truck arrived.

THE VOICE of the NEW MEXICO TAXPAYER

While exploring the feasibility of a medical college in New Mexico, we can draw upon recent studies in other States. These reports will not provide answers for New Mexico, but they may provide clues to pitfalls which will have to be overcome.

Over a period of years, several Massachusetts governors have proposed the establishment of a state-supported medical and dental school. As an outgrowth of one such proposal, the New England Board of Higher Education was formed in 1954 and, as a result of subsequent interstate cooperation, some Massachusetts students are attending professional schools in the other New England states with state-subsidized tuition. Apparently this program is similar to the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education in which New Mexico participates with the other western States.

Massachusetts appointed an interim study committee in 1961. In December, the group recommended the establishment of a four-year medical school as part of the University of Massachusetts.

The interim committee was composed of three senators, five representatives, four appointees by the governor (two private university presidents, the director of a municipal hospital, and the professor emeritus of clinical medicine at Harvard Medical School) and three ex-officio department head members from education, mental health and public health.

The Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations, Inc., has taken the position that construction of a medical school under state auspices should be postponed because:

There is no additional revenue in sight to offset the added cost of constructing a medical school, estimated at upwards of $30 million.

(Note to Editor: Regarding question raised in my column last week about the various women employed by the postal department, after checking I find that I was correct in reporting them as postmasters. In the past, their official title was "postmistress" but several years ago by regulation of the post office department their title was changed to postmaster.)

Irma Wilson and boys, Woody and Mark, were Ancho visitors Saturday. Irma and Mark attended the baby shower given for Marilyn Gioanini and Woody was the guest of his cousins, Alton and Rex Wilson.

We were saddened by the death of our long time friend, Mrs. Eva Pfingsten, who lived here for many years. She had been away for several years. Ever since she fell and broke her hip and was living with her daughter, Winnie Miller, in Kentucky. Her husband Mr. Albert Pfingsten passed away several years ago. She is survived by three sons and three daughters and two sisters including their families. She was buried at Angus March 17.

Mrs. Giles is back at her home near Lincoln. She spent several days in El Paso with her sister who was quite ill.

Lloyd Hulbert has a birthday today. He is 83 years old, or perhaps I should say young. Congratulations and a wish that he has a lot more birthdays.

Lincoln folks were shocked at the untimely and sudden death of Mrs. Celling Guccenberry, daughter of Mrs. Sara Salazar and sister of Mrs. Pryor. She suffered a heart attack and passed away immediately. She was living in El Paso and was buried there. Her daughter Margie who (with her husband and two small sons) lives in California was in El Paso for the funeral.

Mrs. Linna Lambert of Mesquite, N. M. spent several days visiting the Schreengosts.

ground for the exploratory individual. Further south in the continuous ruggedness of the lava flow are to be found other ice caves, where few people have entered, so far as is known. Annis Deal of Albuquerque led this Column through three of them a few months ago.
One which lies deep underneath the massive lava bed had the profile of a sausage link—a continuation for three links. It consists of one large chamber all floored with ice; then through a small aperture, another chamber was located; and beyond that point another room of ice formations was found. Beall has explored that primitive region extensively, and knows much of the terrain; however, he is constantly looking for that which has not been found, for, he says, he makes new discoveries every time he enters the region.

Those ice caves are not yet open to the public. No roads are available. Those which do exist are only primitive ranch roads and logging trails, very hazardous to travel over in today's automobiles. And second the caves are very dangerous, since small stones cling to the ceilings of the rooms, and a slight vibration might start them tumbling down on the intruder below. They bear all the makings of being ready to fall any time, and some of the floors seem littered with fresh fallen ones. However, in case of water depletion while touring the region, the ice will quench thirst, since it is always available in those underground ice caverns, year around.

ARTHUR BIDO of Albuquerque is also another authority on the Malpais Country, his parents having settled in the region south of Grants along about the middle of the 19th century. He has done extensive work through the crudely mapped country for the Department of Interior, locating Indian properties held in question, representing them in many of their claims. His name is a synonym for historical and landmark data of that vast country south of Grants, from Route 66 south to Route 60; from the Rio Grande west to the Arizona line. He is now drafting a map of the region for this Column which will comprise in one package, old landmarks and historical routes, Indian trails, lost treasures and lost areas of which many exist in the area, old frontier forts, ranch headquarters, lakes, Indian ruins, geographical features, Continental Divide, and scores of other valuable information, such as has never heretofore been released. It'll be offered to the public before long.

We ramble again! THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS... When you become cave-minded, and ice cave-minded, too, at the same time, don't forget New Mexico's freakish wonders, and its astounding numbers. They are very interesting. Eat on the same token don't let this Column be instrumental in your entrance into those lava flows without due preparation, for many dangers lurk in those labyrinths—many of which the ordinary outdoorsman is not acquainted. Prepare! And prepare carefully.

David L. Candelaria, descendant of a long line of settlers of that country, has made it possible for eight years to tour the unique formation. He owns the land on which it is located, as did his forebears. Ice remains in the cave all year, never melting. The cave is 300 feet in length, 100 feet wide, and around 60 feet below the rugged lava surface. The cold ice floor of the cave is of a bluish tint, and very beautiful. A winding trail from a parking area leads over the short distance to the cave's entrance, where a flight of wooden stairs makes access comparatively easy. Huge pine trees which have pushed their growth from the lava flow make the area very picturesque, for an outing and for the study of Nature's works.

When explorers first stumbled onto the Candelaria cavity, artifacts of prehistoric Indians were found within—pottery and a few crude utensils of sort. Candelaria has them on display at his headquarters near the entrance to the ice cavity, along with other interesting findings of the region. This discovery lets us know that Indians had refrigeration long before civilized man ever made a track on the continent.

David L. is much of a historian of that section, having been supplied with much of the traditional information by his forebears. To his family has been attributed the first introduction of sheep on a permanent basis in that country. Early-day Spaniards were thought to have introduced a few head of the animals to the Zuni tribe, located a little ways to the west, along in 1616.

Candelaria charges 50 cents per individual for a tour of the ice cave, and affords a picnic area for those who care to linger in such environs to marvel at the bizarre workings of Nature. The mouth of Do la Bandera is elevated 1000 feet above that of the cave, and is approximately that depth. From the huge gaping mouth, many centuries ago, erupted the massive layers of lava which we see today, spread all over the country. The volcanic action created an untold number of caves, cavities, and channels underneath the flow. Many have been explored, while others remain yet to be found.

ALMOST annually a new story springs from the Malpais Country, telling of a new discovery in some remote place—that maybe of a few skeletons of long lost individuals, an array of artifacts of prehistoric Indians and their old camp sites and living quarters, along with a few rubbins of corn, and maybe a dried-up squash or two.

Not too long ago a Baque sheepherder came upon a strange cave in the lava flow, around Do la Bandera. After entering he found a few pieces of pottery, some corn and other articles which scientific tests declared had been left on the spot around 1300 A. D. His discovery marked the first disturbance of these artifacts since the departure of the prehistoric owner, somewhat further back into the ages that most people like to think about. A citizen of Albuquerque, who has explored around in the Malpais Country for many years, declares he has found over 600 such cavities in the lava flow, many of which he has not yet had ample time to search out the lava flow make the area very picturesque, for an outing and for the study of Nature's works.

WELL, these last few rambling relations have carried us away from the subject of ice caves; they were needed to be told. For that Malpais Country south of Grants is a very strange region, one of the most intriguing of the entire Southwest, and affords more bed as the Mal Pais, so Lincoln County could have an ice cave, since it possesses the potentials. Whether or not such has already been located and not noted, this Column is not aware. Hence we are led to believe that some daring, rugged spirit one of these days as he treks over those almost impregnable areas, may find such a cavity.

LITTLE explanation on the origin of ice caves has been made available to the public, possibly due to research on such a rare formation. E. R. Harrington in his "Origin of the Ice Caves" offers this explanation for their existence, and is very plausible, it seems. He studied the Shoshone cave as well as those in New Mexico. And I quote: "The writer's theory, as substantiated by tests in such caves in Idaho and New Mexico, shows that the origin of the ice is based on free circulation of air in winter and a restricted circulation in summer."

Other geologists add that the insulator qualities of the lava in which the caves are located prevents the heat of the summer from melting the ice formed during the freezing temperatures of the winter months.

NEW MEXICO'S ice caves are located in the midwestern portion of the state, Cerro do la Bandera, dormant volcanic cone located on Route 63 a little less than 60 miles west of Grants, is the mother of a massive spread of basalt, covering thousands of acres in the region south of Route 66. On the immediate fringes of Bandera is located the great ice cave of New Mexico.

David L. Candelaria, descendant of a long line of settlers of that country, has made it possible for eight years to tour the unique formation. He owns the land on which it is located, as did his forebears. Ice remains in the cave all year, never melting. Candelaria has them on display at his headquarters near the entrance to the ice cavity, along with other interesting findings of the region. This discovery lets us know that Indians had refrigeration long before civilized man ever made a track on the continent.

David L. is much of a historian of that section, having been supplied with much of the traditional information by his forebears. To his family has been attributed the first introduction of sheep on a permanent basis in that country. Early-day Spaniards were thought to have introduced a few head of the animals to the Zuni tribe, located a little ways to the west, along in 1616.

Candelaria charges 50 cents per individual for a tour of the ice cave, and affords a picnic area for those who care to linger in such environs to marvel at the bizarre workings of Nature. The mouth of Do la Bandera is elevated 1000 feet above that of the cave, and is approximately that depth. From the huge gaping mouth, many centuries ago, erupted the massive layers of lava which we see today, spread all over the country. The volcanic action created an untold number of caves, cavities, and channels underneath the flow. Many have been explored, while others remain yet to be found.

ALMOST annually a new story springs from the Malpais Country, telling of a new discovery in some remote place—that maybe of a few skeletons of long lost individuals, an array of artifacts of prehistoric Indians and their old camp sites and living quarters, along with a few rubbins of corn, and maybe a dried-up squash or two.

Not too long ago a Baque sheepherder came upon a strange cave in the lava flow, around Do la Bandera. After entering he found a few pieces of pottery, some corn and other articles which scientific tests declared had been left on the spot around 1300 A. D. His discovery marked the first disturbance of these artifacts since the departure of the prehistoric owner, somewhat further back into the ages that most people like to think about. A citizen of Albuquerque, who has explored around in the Malpais Country for many years, declares he has found over 600 such cavities in the lava flow, many of which he has not yet had ample time to search out the lava flow make the area very picturesque, for an outing and for the study of Nature's works.

WELL, these last few rambling relations have carried us away from the subject of ice caves; they were needed to be told. For that Malpais Country south of Grants is a very strange region, one of the most intriguing of the entire Southwest, and affords more

CAVES — ICE CAVES
Not many states of the Nation have ice caves—the rare natural underground cavities of ice formations and their preservative vaults. The caves are found in huge lava flows, and ice in them exist the year around, forming a natural refrigerator.

When first discovered, the peculiarities of such acts of Nature puzzled scientists for many years, and still demand a certain amount of study and speculation. Such caves are not common by any means; therefore not readily available for study and observation. Only three in America are open for tourists.

One ice cave exists in Idaho, and another is to be found in Arizona. Others are located in New Mexico, the Land of Enchantment. They are almost in the front door of Lincoln County; and there's a possibility one such cave might even be discovered under its front door.

A gigantic lava flow is located a short distance northwest of Carrizozo, Idaho's ice cave is located near Shoshone, about 10 miles north. It's located in a region geologically freakish, primitive and extremely rugged. In that same region is located Sun Valley, and a little north is the jumping off place to a wilderness where "The River of No Return" was filmed. Ketchum is also on its threshold where the eminent writer, Ernest Hemingway, spent his last days. The Salmon River flows through the picturesque country where the tuffest trout in the world live! This Column and Mrs. Carson not long ago toured that country and went to study and speculate. Such caves are not common by any means; therefore not readily available for study and observation. Only three in America are open for tourists.
