Saddles stolen from Pine Lodge

Sheriff W. G. Bradley received a call Friday from Hubert Hatch, owner of Pine Lodge on Highway 88 northeast of Carrizozo, reporting that two expensive saddles had been taken from the lodge.

The saddles are black, trimmed with white and decorated with silver brads. The robbers lost one set of breast harness as they drug the equipment out, and left matching bridles. The saddles were special make, and will be easy to recognize.

Sheriff Bradley spent some time in Roswell investigating the robbery and asks any person seeing these saddles to contact the sheriff's office.

Tuesday, May 1, 7:00 P. M. High School Gymnasium

In behalf of the Board of Education of Carrizozo Municipal Schools, the teachers and administrators take pleasure in extending to you, the parents and friends of the school, a special invitation to attend the May Day Program. This program is an outgrowth of the physical education activities as conducted in grades 1 through 12 by the individual teachers, and the teachers who handle physical education classes in junior high and senior high schools. The program in brief is as follows:

1st grade, Mrs. Baker, Bouncing Ball Game

2nd grade, Mrs. Teague, Singing Games and Exercises

3rd grade, Mrs. Williams, Folk Dancing

4th, 5th, and 6th grades, Mrs. Eherigo, Mrs. Palish and Mrs. Sherrill, Rhythm Dances

Boys P. E., tumbling, weight lifting, etc., Mr. Sadler

It has been recognized by former President Eisenhower that physical activities was a most essential part of the youth education program for the development of physical fitness on a national level. The Carrizozo Schools, recognizing the importance of the objectives set forth in this program, appointed Mr. Bernard Lanis to set up physical educational activities which would help develop our students in keeping with the standards which should be maintained for the growth of a well developed child.

May we encourage you to be with us May 1, at 7:00 P. M. in the High School Gymnasium and enjoy the program which will be presented by your children.

Safety Patrol checking speeders

Safety patrols were working on the Highway, April 17, from 9:00 A. M. to 3:00 P. M. The method used in checking speeders was a stop watch. A number of speeders were apprehended.

The money that is collected on these fines goes into the School Fund in Santa Fe.

Even though the traffic fatalities have increased in New Mexico for 1962, Lincoln County has recorded one death to date. The police are always on the lookout for speeders and potential traffic violations and the roadblock is one way of finding out who these people are.

New Zealander talks of 36 to 50 inches rain

By Ralph Dunlap

Paul Franken, International Farm Youth Exchange Delegate from New Zealand, gave a good talk on his country to the Carrizozo Rotary Club last week. Using slides, he described his country. Some of the things that I can remember readily are they have 36 to 50 inches of rain over most of the country. Romney is the major breed of sheep, with some Merino and Lincoln used under certain conditions.

Their meat is only classified as lamb until five months of age, then it is "hogget" until fourteen months of age. The most desirable lamb carcass is 28 pounds.

They have an overabundance of deer and hire professional cullers or hunters. Otherwise the deer kill all the trees and cause excessive erosion. The rabbit or hare is a tremendous problem and they hire special rabbit hunters. When they first started controlling the rabbit, one person could kill 2000 in an afternoon.

There are no predators that kill sheep other than wild pigs which kill young lambs. They use seven smooth and one barb wire for a fence and the fence costs up to $1000 per mile.

Cut worms are causing some damage to flowers, new gardens and lawns, in the area. This worm cuts off the plant at or just below ground level. This pest can be controlled with dieldrin, chlordane or toxaphene dust, put on the ground around the plants.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION FOR ELECTION OFFICIALS

Bill Thompson of Ruidoso will conduct a school of instruction for election officials and interested persons on Friday, May 4, at 2:00 p.m. in the district court room in Carrizozo. The instruction will be on use of voting machines.

N. M. make Boone and Crockett list

Two of New Mexico's game animals have won high places in the Boone and Crockett 1961 competition.

The antelope taken by P. K. Colquitt, Jr. in Sierra County won second place with a score of 23-4/8. First place score was 23-0/8. Fourth place for male deer went to the buck taken by Juan Monarcho in the Jicarilla Apache Reservation. It scored 204-1/8. Top score was 214-2/8.

The Boone and Crockett Club states, the sportsman who will pass by a number of mediocre heads in his search for one of the outstanding dimensions, is doing more for conservation than one who is ready to shoot the first animal he encounters.

E. M. Long, a Boone and Crockett representative for New Mexico, points out that the state has many trophy animals. He encourages hunters to contact him at the Department of Game and Fish, when fine heads have been obtained. The 1961 entries are New Mexico's first in the competition, and should be an incentive to go after more.

Outdoor recreation bureau established

Secretary of the Interior last week signed an order establishing a Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in the Department. This action is in accordance with President Kennedy's instructions regarding coordination of federal outdoor recreation programs.

Director of the new bureau is Dr. Edward C. Crafts of Chevy Chase, Maryland, who is now assistant chief of the Forest Service. President Kennedy in a special message on conservation, said, "This new bureau will serve as the focal point within the Federal Government for the many activities related to outdoor recreation." The President called for legislation to establish a program of matching grants for developing state plans for outdoor recreation.

The new Bureau will assist Secretary Udall in carrying out his federal outdoor recreation coordination responsibilities. It will sponsor and conduct recreation research, develop a nationwide recreation plan, and disseminate outdoor recreation information.

Creation of this new Bureau is the first step in implementation of recommendations by the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission.

Bonita tribute to Bowen Zumwalt

How he loved the great outdoors and all nature. This must have made him live the pleasant life he led always inspiring others with his ready laugh and words. It did not seem an effort for Rev. Thomas A. Banks to preach one of the most wonderful sermons I've ever heard. No word of praise seemed to have been left unsaid.

Bowen loved to come to his old stomping grounds and fish, prospect, visit friends, hunt bee trees or just sit through the valley. Effie, we will miss him along with you. — Louisa Ruessels.

Sheriff Bradley has a message for Jim Carey

James Carey, driver of the dairy truck in Ruidoso for the Mountain Gold Dairy of Carrizozo, has been charged with stealing Jim Miller's check book. Miller is the dairy owner. Four of the checks, each in the amount of $127.50, were reportedly forged with Jim Miller's signature by Carey.

Carey has three complaints filed against him, one for assault on his wife, one for obtaining money under false pretenses by means of worthless checks and the Sheriff, W. G. Bradley, has signed a third complaint of forgery against him.

All of the checks, forged by Carey, were cashed Saturday afternoon after the bank had closed. Carey, who is on probation for fraudulent checks, was last seen Sunday morning. There is a police alert out and officers would appreciate any information that would lead to his apprehension.

The Four Hundred Club medal is awarded to those Commerce Club members who have earned a total of four hundred on more State Commerce Club points during the school year. These points are earned by the students when they have reached a high degree of proficiency in any business subject.

In addition to the individual awards earned at the Highlands Day convention, the total points earned, combined with the points earned by all the club members during the year, were sufficient to secure an Excellence Pennant for the school. This is the highest award that can be earned by a school. To qualify for this pennant, the Commerce Club members must have earned a total of 6,000 or more points during the year.

Friday evening a banquet was held for the club members. After the banquet they attended "Brigadoon" a musical stage production put on by the university.

The students were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Guy L. Casey, high school principal. On their return trip they visited Santa Fe. This was the first opportunity for some of the students to see the capital city.

Smokey Bear is now 12 years old

Editor Lincoln County News Carrizozo, New Mexico

Dear Mr. Payton,

"Smokey Bear" is now 12 years old, and so is the "burn" in Captain Gap. Although the celebration in the forests seemed above average when I was up there last weekend, it is still the uneasy time of year.

Some may think there is too much carping and nagging about the conservation of natural resources, but I submit that the reiteration of the principals of our common partnership in this Divine Mandate need not be unpleasant or humdrum.

True is the maxim, "Say it with flowers." Truly and more forcefully some "Say it with poetry." As an incentive for doing so, I have been offering prizes through The Poetry Society of Texas for such concentrated literature. In 1961, The W. B. Payne Memorial Award of $1000 for best poem on the subject was won by Miss Kay Beasley, of Odessa, Texas. Her's was a short, but delightfully appealing lyric.

Perhaps you will see fit to publish in your interesting weekly this true account I have written.

BALLED OF SMOKEY BEAR

By Vernon Payne

Snowless Winter willed its mantle To unshowered, grudging kind; O'er grazed mountains thrined With the mal-contented wind.

Mother Brain papped her nurseries From a famins-riven fare; O hard, on Captain Fontaine, The birth of Smokey Bear!

From up a height, late afternoon I saw the tuming spread; From Sawville shanties had escaped The desolating Dread!

Ho hastened, Dad and I, with truck And tank and pump and gear To join the guard on Captain, The hearth of Smokey Bear.

The Dread retreats, the guards depart. Out, stealthily, again On Fifty's first fifth-month rest A Dread-ered flamed.

Alarm the lingering sentine! Aning them, Dad was there; Fell-mell they mustered up to quell The scourge of Smokey Bear.

They strove beyond the might of men To keep it on the ground; The fault was none of theirs when The Dread began to crown!

"The pines explode, the Ranger screams, 'Get out! Get out of here!'" That moment doomed the mother who Gave birth to Smokey Bear.

The paint was burning on their trucks, They felt their way along; Pandemonium was the chorus In the Demigogon's song.

We pitted squirrel, fawn and Blue Jay As we watched the balsams flare; Had a mind for quail and turkey And we grieved for Smokey Bear.

Quick to the sky the jumper babes Gave up the shimmering ghost; Their aged fathers offered theirs In a suppliant pose.

But whence the anguished whimper which "Badly burned, but he's alive!" New Birth for Smokey Bear!

Ho wills goodbye to Paradise Who curses earth and sky. Who plots the bier of Smokey Bear And bids a forest die!

Sincerely Yours, Vernon Payne

Arthur Chavez best at coloring

Judging the coloring contest was a very hard task since all the boys and girls are very good artists. We hope the children had lots of fun and will be looking forward to next year's Easter coloring contest which we hope will be bigger and better. Probably the next contest will be for different ages since it is very hard for a six-year-old to compete with an eleven-year-old. But since this was our first one, we weren't sure of all the details.

Our congratulations go to Arthur Chavez of Capitan who was the first place winner out of 42 "best ideas from each store" entries. The children may pick up their first place prizes from each store shown on the list. Arthur Chavez may pick up his $20.00 at the Lincoln County News office. Our congratulations to all the children and business people who helped make the Easter coloring contest a real success. Holsum Bakery grows from start of 3 routes to over 700 accounts

On November 15, 1930, Mr. J. R. Rolschman and his son, Gene, bought the bakery that was later to become the Holsum Baking Co. In the beginning, two routes covered Roswell, and a third took care of Dexter, Hagerman, and Artesia. Only twelve employees were required.

Today, Holsum Baking Co. employs eighty-five people, and delivers to some seven hundred wholesale accounts. About thirty-two trucks and four transports are necessary to serve the twenty-two routes, and the present volume of business is well in excess of a million and a quarter dollars a year.

From the very beginning, both Mr. L. J. Rolschman and Gene were alert to new methods, new innovations in equipment, new ideas incorporated by leading bakeries throughout the nation, to improve the texture, flavor and quality of the Holsum loaf. The immediate installation of modern mechanical equipment, soon after their purchase of the bakery in 1940, was a fortunate step for both the business and the trade area.

When the Walker Air Force Base and the Prisoner of War Camp were established in this vicinity, soon after war was declared in 1941, this bakery was the only one adequately prepared to meet the demands of these installations for bread, and they were able to produce enough bread to satisfy the Base and the Camp, in addition to the civilian population, throughout the war.

Early in 1941, the Rolschmans introduced the name, Holsum, and as the Holsum Baking Co. they have continued to keep pace with this area's rapid growth and population expansion.

In December, 1945, Holsum enlarged plant facilities, and purchased the Holsum and Sunlight trailers in Carlsbad.

The following year, Kenneth Smith became associated with the firm, and in 1952, Mr. Smith became a full partner in Holsum Baking Co.

Four years later, in 1956, Holsum again re-equipped the entire plant with machinery that facilitated speedier operation and more than double operating capacity.

Holsum Baking Co. is practically a pioneer, having been a prominent firm in southeastern New Mexico for the past twenty-one years, and contributes to the economic prosperity of the area today, with an annual payroll in excess of $350,000.

In addition to the original routes in Roswell, Dexter, Hagerman and Artesia, Holsum now provides daily service for Ft. Sumner, Vaughn, Santa Rosa, McIntosh, Clovis, Fortale, Elida, Lovington, Tatum, Hobbs, Ruidoso, Bernalillo, Tularosa, Alamogordo, Carrizozo, Capitan, Lincoln and Las Cruces. Eighty-five people are employed in the production and distribution of Holsum products, namely all white bread, buns, rolls and sweet goods.

The modern, mechanized, air-conditioned plant now covers an approximate 15,000 square feet, and produces over a million pounds of bread every second month, using four thousand pounds of flour each hour of operation, a carload

Matress fire in vacant house

Mrs. Cheryl Bace discovered a fire in a vacant house Monday morning and reported it to Joe Ventura, who called the fire department. The house, owned by Joe Ortiz, is located three doors north of the Vidaurri store.

The fire chief, Ken Means, used a gas mask to enter the smoking building to locate the exact position of the fire. He found a burning mattress, which was dragged outside and the fire extinguished.

It was also necessary to spray water into the bedroom to prevent any sparks from setting the room on fire.

Twenty members of the Hondo-Ruidoso general hospital staff made a surprise visit to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Treat in Capitan last Tuesday night. The occasion was an informal house-warming in honor of the new home nearly completed

Alert NM officer nabes suspects

Two youths wanted for a wave of thefts across Texas and southwest New Mexico were being held in the Ruidoso Downs jail after they were nabbed Wednesday in a stolen car.

The pair, Kenneth Richard Meeks, 19, Big Springs, Tex., and Gerald Phillip Kelly, 20, were captured after State Policeman Bob Miller heard an alert for the suspects on his police radio.

Miller gave credit to Ruidoso Downs Village Marshall Tommy Byers and to Deputy Sheriff Albert Richardson for aid in getting the men's story after several hours questioning.

ARTICLE ON ROSWELL TO APPEAR IN N.M. MAGAZINE
SANTA FE — The Roswell

Story — "Building A City" by Frieda Bryan Hyatt, a resident of Ruidoso, will be the lead story in the May issue of New Mexico Magazine. Editor George Fitzpatrick has announced.

The article is a colorful and historical report on the phenomenal growth of Roswell, one of New Mexico's leading southeastern cities.

Also included are statistics on the spectacular rise in the city's population during the past two decades and growth of industrial development. The magazine will be on sale at news stands Thursday.

Lt. Gov. Bollack will see Apple Festival

New Mexico's Lieutenant Governor Tom Bollack will be on hand to crown the queen of the 1962 Apple Blossom Festival in the Hondo gymnasium the night of April 28, Mrs. George Perry, Jr., chairman, announced.

Also to assist in the program will be two former queens, Mrs. Dan Griffith, the former Joan Marie Matthews of Ruidoso Downs, who is to be vocalist, and Mrs. Ethelyn Warner of Elida, the former Ethelyn Phillips of Lincoln, who will be pianist. Mrs. Griffith was picked as queen in 1957 in the third annual festival and Mrs. Warner was picked in 1955 as the first Apple Blossom Queen.

There are to be eleven contestants, representing 11 communities in Lincoln County, who will each present an entertainment number of some type as a part of the competition. Beauty, poise, charm and scholastic standings are also to be considered in the judging by a panel of out-of-county residents.

The festival is sponsored by the Red Valley Garden Club and Lincoln County members of the New Mexico Apple Council. It will start at 7:30 p. m.

Master of ceremonies is to be Ray Simms of Roswell. A welcome is to be given by W. G. Shreengost, member of the New Mexico Apple Council.

Names of the eleven contestants, their escorts and the numbers they will present will be announced in a later issue of this publication.

PTA officers installed

PTA officers for 1962-63 were installed at the regular meeting on the evening of April 9. The following officers were installed by Mrs. John L. McCollum, outgoing district director for the New Mexico Congress of PTA: Mrs. Fred English, president; Mrs. Vernon Searcy, first vice-president; Mr. Frank Wagner, second vice-president; Mrs. Juno Straley, secretary; Mrs. W. J. Kruse, treasurer; Mr. Richard Rondo, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Selma Teague, historian.

Installation followed a very informative educational film presented by Mr. Guy Casey, high school principal. The film concerned questions most asked by parents regarding the educational program in the United States. It concerned curriculum, buildings and testing programs.

Another feature of the program was a demonstration and explanation of the PTA emblem by the local chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. Mrs. Emma C. Lawson is sponsor of this group. During the business meeting, it was reported that the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner netted $108. It was voted to buy materials for signs advertising the park and swimming pool to be placed on highways leading to Carrizozo. The Industrial Arts classes will construct the signs under the direction of Mr. Troy Sadler, shop teacher. The PTA will also continue to sponsor one boy to the annual Boys State in Roswell in June.

The local PTA plans to send two delegates to the state PTA convention in Roswell April 25-27.

Next PTA meeting will be May 14 in the Junior High Auditorium. The program will be a style show by the Home Economics girls and display of projects by the Industrial Arts classes. Also, honorary life memberships for three teachers of the Carrizozo school system in the New Mexico Congress of PTA will be presented. The money for these memberships will be placed in a scholarship fund for people entering the teaching profession.

PTA district director

Mr. G. C. Agnew of Alamogordo, has been selected as district director of the New Mexico Congress of Parents and Teachers for District 7. Study the Facts of Life (economic)

A community such as ours is built . . . and maintained . . . and prospered by the trading that goes on within it; not by the dollars which we allow ourselves to be persuaded to send off or carry off to some other community.

• Our schools . . . our churches . . . most of our homes and jobs or businesses . . . the number and sort of neighbors we have . . . the ability of our stores and service establishments to take care of our daily and emergency needs . . . all of these depend upon local trade . . . money spent here at home.

• One of the cold facts of life (economic) is that the prosperity and better life which our dollars naturally help to pay for in the community where they are spent can be far more valuable than the goods or service those dollars buy for us.

• But an equally undeniable fact of life is that we don't share in the enjoyment of these more important things paid for by our money . . . unless we spend it at home.

Alpha Delta Kappa met with Mrs. Louise Coe

New Mexico Eta Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa met April 14 at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Louise Coe in Glencoe. The meeting was called to order by Ofelia Salas, acting chairman, in the absence of the president, Leota Pfingsten, who was ill.

All members were urged to attend this state convention in Las Vegas April 28.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Nellie Ruth Jones, vice president; Marjorie Cunningham, secretary; Mary Hela Wallace, treasurer; Irene Watkins, historian and keeper of the archives; Winifred Cozens, sergeant at arms; Alma Sullivan, chaplain; and Bernice Morrison, parliamentarian.

After the business meeting Mr. Paul Zink from Roswell gave a most interesting talk on travels he has made through different European countries.

Following Mr. Zink's talk the group enjoyed delicious refreshments served by the hostess, Inez Pacheco, assisted by Elsie Kimbrell.

All enjoyed Mrs. Coe's lovely home and Mr. Coe's original stilet figures. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. C. P. Shultz, Mrs. F. S. Montes, and Mrs. B. C. Knight. — Alma Sullivan, reporter.

BARBARY SHEEP COUNTED THIS WEEK

Plans are under way for a three day aerial survey of the Barbary sheep on the Canadian River. Weather permitting, Orville Luttrell and John Goodwin of the Department of Game and Fish will fly the area between Taylor Springs and Conchas Reservoir.

Such a survey is made annually for the purpose of censusing the herds. However, so far no accurate count of the Barbary sheep has been possible.

Levon Leo, chief of game management, describes wild sheep as perhaps the most difficult of all species to count. They are extremely shy, and their camouflage makes identification questionable, whether from the air or on the ground.

MURPHY A TYPICAL

Murphy is a picture of the traditional Irish politician and radiates the political personality. He has picked up scores of professional politicians who would be with Campbell ordinarily and is plugging his campaign on his relationship with the Kennedys and the lure of federal money and jobs for New Mexico.

Perhaps eighty percent of support Murphy holds would be Campbells if he were not in the race.

There never was any likelihood that Murphy, recent mayor of Santa Fe, would quit but backers of Campbell tried every trick they could think of to discourage him out of the race.

The situation stands in the light of the May 8 vote by Murphy and Campbell are riding the political pros while Ed Mead, Albuquerque enters big money and is defined backing in the political arena.

CLINT AND JOE
HELP AND HURT

Under ordinary circumstances Campbell would be a shoo-in with Clint Anderson, Santa Fe Joe Montoya the congressman, and most all the old political pros behind him, but not this time.

The Roswell candidate, speaker of the house last year, is intelligent, experienced and highly qualified for governor, but lacks the warm personality characteristic of successful politicians, and if suffering from some of the company he has picked up in the campaign from the repudiated Burroughs administration.

He has in his camp many of the politicians who contributed to the defeat of the Democrats in four of the last six gubernatorial elections.

stand to divide 100,000 votes May 8.

There were 120,000 votes cast in the 1930 Democratic primary but that was a presidential year when there was wide interest in politics and there was a lot more money spent in that campaign than is present this time. Most observers think the total vote in May will be right at 100,000.

There isn't much chance of any candidate getting a majority. The circumstances suggest that 40,000 will be enough to win.

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE
IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin the English drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, wouldn't think of it! They know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance at a milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER
"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS
It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6, 7, even 8-to-1. As a result, the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 70.5 proof to an overwhelming 83 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS
Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

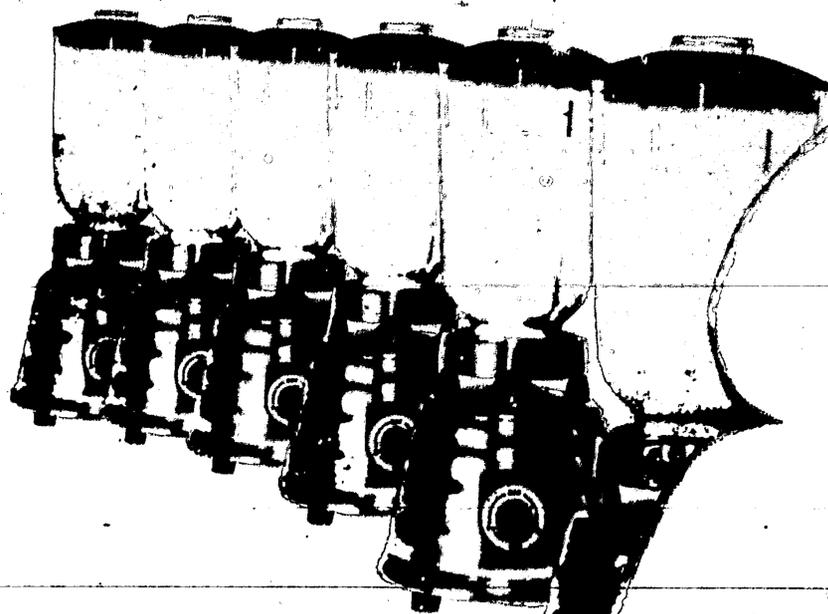

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS
When you mix a tall drink, like a Collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin 'n' taste. You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

LITTLE AMERICA

A mention of LITTLE AMERICA to most people spontaneously creates thoughts of the frigid Arctic Region and the famous South Pole Explorer Admiral Richard E. Byrd, and a cold, cold country where nothing exists except endless plateaus all covered with ice — a place where the sun never effectively sheds its warming rays and nothing is expected except life-taking frigidity.

The Little America we most often think of is located on Ross Ice Shelf, South of Bay of Whales, and was established in 1929 by Richard E. Byrd and used subsequently by him and other explorers as they forced their entrance into the polar regions.

BUT there's a LITTLE AMERICA in the United States, too — in Wyoming. And should you ever become smared by one of those roaring blizzards which most frequently haunt certain areas of that State, you'll remember more about it than the one near the South Pole. At least, that's what one lone Wyoming sheepherder found out, back in the early days of the Territory. The blizzard branded such a lasting impression upon him that he did something about it, besides harbor remembrances.

This is the story:
ALONG just before the turn of the century a young Englishman by the name of S. M. Covey was running a few sheep in a desolate southwestern Wyoming, about fifty-five miles northeast of Fort Bridger. The land was mostly bar-ren, sparsely covered with scrubby sage brush, and no one except the strongest individuals braved the natural elements to run a few livestock there. Only overland trails pierced the country and settlements were few and far between.

Even today not a heluva lot exists in the region except the universally famous landmark erected by a former sheepherder, designating the spot where he was whipped within an inch of his life during a raging blizzard while tending his woolies. That landmark is not a plaque, as some might think, it's everything a man would dream of while in the frenzied clutches of an icy storm.

In those days, as it is today, Salt Lake City was many miles to the southwest, and few villages existed in that portion of the country; and once a blizzard swept down upon the plains, man might as well have been in Little America of the Polar Region, as far as protection from the icy fangs of a frigid storm was concerned.

And people today, with all the modern protection against such icy onslaughts, still say the same thing. They have been known to freeze to death within a short time, in that section, where only a few hours before they motored along, enjoying a fresh spring-like atmosphere.

As the ancient dinosaurs have been found, frozen in the Northern ice fields, with mouthfuls of buttercups which they did not have time to devour before the sudden gust of frigid air placed them in eternity and perpetuity, leaving something for today's scientists to scratch their heads over. With almost equal ferocity, Wyoming blizzards rage.

It was in one of the icy storms of that state which Young Covey found himself in January of the 1890's, while herding a few sheep in the dreary region. Suddenly, from a balmy spring-like day, the temperature dropped to forty below, as a Nor'easter swept down upon the lone herder and his flock. Darkness immediately enveloped the country and the wind howled terrifically across the plains at fifty miles per hour.

He protected himself the best he could as he crouched underneath a small sage brush, with no blankets or anything to break the cold onslaught. The night was unbearably long. Far into the next day the storm raged, and finally caused its frigid drive. By then the shepherd was almost a frozen corpse, with nothing much left except a vow to live and save other people from just such an ordeal.

During the long, frigid January night, as the storm howled, it's only logical to believe that Covey made his peace with God — that he had all sorts of visualizations of a cheery, glowing, warm fire; of cozy rooms with plenty of good, warm blankets, hot steaming viands of choice quality, people to talk to, and kindly attention; and, too, maybe access to a cozy bar where intoxicants could be obtained to warm the blood stream under such icy conditions — where a strong door could close out the miserable howl of the icy wind.

No doubt such visions were foremost in his thoughts during that endless night, and they ultimately became a life-long goal.

TODAY on the spot where the lone sheepherder froze to death but refused to die, stands one of the best hostleries to the wayfarer in the Nation. It's not a make-shift inn, even though it had its beginning in a small sort of way. It grew, and grew fast. It ranks as tops in America, and costs are much cheaper than its equal.

The doors of the elaborate center are never closed — none of them. And throngs of travelers hunt the limits twenty-four hours every day. When Covey saw Admiral Byrd's picture of "Little America," he hung the same shingle on his Wyoming hooter. The name subsequently found its place on the Nation's map. Speaking of Byrd's picture on Little America, Covey remarked, "It reminded me of my experience in that Nor'easter, there on the bleak plains of an isolated section of Wyoming!"

Well over a million people crack the doors of Little America annually, with as many as six or seven thousand stopping daily during the summer months. Paul Cooley, assistant manager of Little America, told this columnist. It boasts the world's largest filling station with fifty-five pumps, a garage, a 300-capacity dining room and coffee shop with the best of cuisines, 150 luxurious and comfortable rooms, three gift and souvenir shops, and a unique cocktail lounge.

Everything for the traveler's comforts and needs are available in Little America, whether the weather is stormy or just pleasant. What's so rare, in so desolate a region, the prices are no higher than elsewhere!

As a result of vows made during the terrific blizzard in Wyoming in the 1890's today stands a wayfarer's haven worth "well in the millions!" — on a spot where a few years ago nothing existed except a few small sage brush, a little flock of sheep, and a frozen sheepherder crouched under the bush fighting for his life in arctic conditions.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS — Things most beneficial to man and the Nation are usually an aftermath of much suffering and hardships, as of the American Nation.

LFC wants T B Hospital policy explained

By John Marlow

LINCOLN — The Legislative Finance Committee Monday directed a letter be written to the Fort Stanton Tuberculosis Hospital to determine its policy on accepting patients.

A volunteer came up for discussion after the committee toured the hospital, about 12 miles west of Lincoln, which is owned and operated by the state.

The committee is holding this month's meeting at Old Lincoln. It met for a brief session this morning and then toured a number of historical sites in the town restored to the days of Billy the Kid and the Lincoln County War.

The tour of Fort Stanton was taken after lunch. The committee then met to discuss Fort Stanton operations and other matters. One of the other things taken up was school bus transportation.

Before it got too involved on several questions in this area, the committee agreed to hold off on further discussion until it could meet with J. T. Reese, school transportation director.

Inez Gill, fiscal analyst for the LFC said Reese has indicated the desire to meet with the committee to discuss several matters on school transportation and review the operations of his office.

After the Fort Stanton tour, several of the legislators indicated a desire to find out more about the hospital, policy on whether it is requiring patients, if they are able, to pay for treatment.

"I don't see that the state has an obligation to furnish that type of treatment to people who can afford it," Sen. Gordon Melody, D-San Miguel, said.

Promotion Control Law Suggested
SOCORRO — New Mexico real estate developers and brokers meeting in Socorro were told Friday a law may be needed to control promotional and buy-by-mail operations.

Ast. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Calkins, Jr. said the law would require that subdivision promoters provide the New Mexico Real Estate Commission with facts on available water, climate and distance from a city.

ALTO BRIEFS

By ALBEN LINDAMOOD
Patriot's Day at Lindy's Country Store.
Thanks to our neighbors the Sonny Wrights, we had a lovely bell to ring last Thursday at 11:00 a.m. letting the world know that we are proud of being Americans. The bell was given to Sonny Wright by his hunting friend, Parker Jones with the Sandia Corp. in Albuquerque. He brought it to him from Switzerland and it's to be used in locating their horses when they go on their hunting trips.
The tone of the bell is lovely and although my arm was a bit weary before the four minutes had passed I kept right on ringing it. Some cars passed while I was in front of the store ringing the bell and if those people were concerned with my sanity they need not worry — it was my great pleasure to be a Patriot that day and each day of my life.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Montell of T or C were business visitors last Friday.
Friday Mr. and Mrs. Basil Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graves and their grand-daughter, Julie Walton, spent the day in Ruidoso, Alto and Eagle Creek lodge. They returned to El Paso in the late afternoon.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Matthew 10:23 "Jesus said to them "Do not be afraid. Go tell my brother to go to Galilee (their home) where they will see me."
Fear caused the disciples to abandon Jesus at the cross. They were afraid that his death would separate them from their Master. The sin of the world killed Jesus' body. The power of God carried Jesus beyond physical death into unlimited existence. An Easter message to all believers from our risen Lord is, "Go home, you will find me there. Lo, I am with you always." A fair test of the meaning of the resurrection is, does it take away our fear of death and does it give us power to overcome sin at home, in daily life.

WEATHER CANCELS

Dwight Bowden, Conservation Officer, stationed in Capitan, reported last week that bad weather forced cancellation of pellet transects in the Capitan area, until sometime this week. Most of the transects had been read by last Thursday, but on Friday morning a very wet, heavy snow was falling and since none of the back country roads in the higher elevations of the Capitan area are in good shape, the transect readings had to be scheduled for this later date.
Conservation officers and biologists of the Game Department are in the process of reading pellet transects all over the state in order to obtain information which will help to determine dates and other factors pertaining to the 1962 Big game season recommendations.
Game Department employees assisting Officer Bowden are Walter Snyder, George Hansen, and Charles Cockerell.

REPUBLICAN MIDDLEBURY IN DEMOS' PRIMARY
SANTA FE — Republican meddling in the Democrats' primary reached a new high this spring in efforts to soften Demo Rep. Joe M. Montoya for the November main event.

There is strong evidence that Jim Thorsen, Albuquerque candidate for the Republican nomination for the Montoya place in Congress, has been involved to some degree in the series of harrassments that have beset the Democratic official since filing day.

BLAME THORSEN FOR OPPOSITION
Within a few hours after two nuisance candidates filed against Montoya, brothers of the congressman, Tomas and Alfonso, accused Thorsen's campaign manager in an altercation that broke up only after Thorsen's man blasted out a pistol shot that cleared the hotel lobby.

They accused Thorsen's man of filling the opposing candidates. When Joseph E. Montoya, an unemployed Albuquerque man who put up $675 to run against the congressman, tried to get the supreme court to require that the congressman be listed on the ballot under his christened name of Jose Manuel Montoya, he was represented by lawyer Dale Dilts of Albuquerque, Republican and a friend of Thorsen's.

MORE CONFUSION IN NEW LEAFLET
The latest indication of the Republican candidate's participation in the Democrat primary was the printing of thousands of campaign leaflets urging Democrats to vote for all candidates with first place listings on the ballots and voting machines which would include Joseph E. Montoya, the nuisance candidate.

It was learned that Thorsen's campaign manager, Tony Montoya, had arranged for publication of the leaflet.

SOFTEN HIM NOW FOR LATER VOTE
Congressman Montoya's opponents aren't hiding themselves about beating him in the May 8 primary but are trying to force him into a weak showing in preparation for the big battle in the November general election.

Montoya needs big, repeated, wins in the primary and the general elections if he is to hold on as a top prospect for the U. S. Senate in 1964. That's when Sen. Dennis Chavez next comes up.

PARTY LEADERS OPPOSE THORSEN
Thorsen who is getting credit for the Montoya giving and for getting the nuisance candidates in the race against him, is not the Republican organization's action for the congressional nomination.

Most of the Republican wheels want Dr. Jack Redman of Albuquerque but there is some question whether they can put him over Thorsen seems to be way ahead in the campaigning.

LEG MURPHY FRIEND JARS LOOSE MONEY
Frank Gomez of Santa Fe, state treasurer of the Democrats, surprised people all over the state when he jumped Sen. Clint Anderson and Rep. Montoya for holding in their possession $11,000 of party money and refusing to pay bills.

hanging over since the 1960 campaign.

The explanation seems to lie in the circumstance that Gomez is a hater of Leo Murphy for governor and Anderson and Montoya are trying to nominate Jack Campbell, and the Murphys were fearful that the eleven thousand bucks would be used in the primary campaign.

The Gomez blast jarred $4,300 from the bundle, $3,000 of it going to pay Schifani Brothers of Santa Fe for 1960 campaign printing, and the balance to pay past due rent on the state headquarters office in Santa Fe.

The money, which Anderson said he was holding for fall campaign expenses, represented the profit from a party dinner held in Albuquerque last December.

TIME TO PUT UP OR RISK LOSING
The three major candidates for the Demo nomination for governor are nearing the day when they must each put up $30,000 or more to meet the expenses of their election day workers in the counties or risk losing the election for lack of dough.

The $30,000 estimate for election day costs is low; it usually costs more in a closely contested race for Demo governor.

The money goes to county and city leaders who presumably use it to hire automobiles for transporting voters for hiring checkers and clerks and telephone workers, employing baby sitters and errand runners, all in the process of getting out the vote for their candidates.

NO DINERO, NO TRABAJO
The election day money is vital. If it doesn't come through the local workers fold and let the election take its course.

In 1952 Luke Franzer of Roswell who looked like a winner during the campaign, didn't come through with promised money on election day and lost the voting by 600 to Everett Grantham who had prudently held back enough for election day expenses.

LEADERS RETAIN MOST OF MONEY
Most all of the election money winds up in the pockets of the local leaders despite their budgets for the employment of all kinds of workers.

Among politicians it is accepted as a sort of pay-off for work done during the campaign.

Capitan School

By Sale Grimes - Judy Lebs

The Future Homemakers of America sponsored an assembly last Thursday afternoon for the school. It was an excellent program with each class participating. The theme of the program was "America." The songs sung by each class were reflections upon America and the American way of life. The Sophomores sang, "Dixie," the Juniors presented the song, "Oklahoma." The Seniors sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The Freshmen girls presented a cute little skit which showed the many different vocations that a person may go into if he or she should major in Home Economics in College.

The FHA Sweetheart and Beau were also crowned during the program. Pam Hall and Jimmy Montoya made a lovely couple as the Sweetheart and Beau. Candidates for the honor were Freshman Pam Hall and David Montoya; Sophomores Becky Silva and William Valley; Juniors Ann Robinson and Ronnie Eldridge; Seniors-Ellie Vigil and Jimmy Montoya.

We are very sorry to have lost two pupils from the Capitan School System. Patricia Henderson, a Junior, and her brother Allen, an eighth grader, have moved to Roswell where Patricia will attend Roswell High School. Our loss is Roswell's gain.

Once again, report card time has rolled around and the honor roll is as follows:

SENIORS — La Dell Hatch, Sue McCree, Glenda Peters, Diane Shaw, and Gale Grimes.

JUNIORS — Bob DeVries, Joe Zamora, Kenny Cozens, Deloris Gavi, Ann Robinson, and Larry Willis.

SOPHOMORES — Johnny Zamora Johnny Walker, Danny Crawford, Wayne McDonald, and Marilyn Coor. — David Montoya, and Karen Haley.

EIGHTH GRADE — Kathleen Edwards, Wila Edgar, David Barber, Steven Montoya, George Hobbs, Willadean Escobedo, Virginia Robinson, and Elizabeth Rosenblatt.

We wish to congratulate Miss Ellen Willis on her fine essay, "I'm proud to be an American, because". Her essay rated as Honorable Mention in the contest sponsored by the society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of New Mexico.

There were 346 essays entered in this contest and carefully judged by the Essay Committee. It was extremely difficult to declare the first and second-place winners and the eleven Honorable Mention winners, in view of the fact that all of the essays were of the highest calibre.
