LAND COMMISSIONER HIRKS HIS PARTNER

SANTA FE — Land Commissioner Johnny Walker has placed his business partner, Santos Quintana, on the land office payroll at $700 a month.

Walker said Quintana, chief clerk of the land office 1863 in Walker's first administration would devote full time to bringing the office's vast volume of book-keeping and records control under mechanized operation.

Quintana is Walker's partner in the operation of the Adobe Motel at Santa Fe and in the state agency for Automatic Voting Machines which has what amounts to a state monopoly and which a year ago enjoyed a $350,000 sale to the state.

QUINTANA JOBS SHIFTS TO OTHERS

Walker said the Adobe Motel, a $200,000 operation, had been placed in the hands of his wife and his sister, Mrs. Pauline Huff of Albuquerque.

The voting machine business, he said, is at a standstill since last year's sale, and if it should require Quintana's attention he will do it on leave-without-pay from the land office.

EDUCATION BOARD FORCED TO YIELD

The state board of education, the biggest state agency operating outside the state personnel program, will be brought into the system before the end of the year according to whispered information from officers in the education department.

Pressure against the holdout became too great for further resistance to the Republican area of the state government is under the program, the big Democratic corporation commission and land office have come under the program and there has been increasing demand from Democratic quarters that the education office get in line.

Jack Campbell, the Demo for governor, has been advocating a bigger and stronger personnel program, and State Rep. Larry Goodell of Roswell, sponsor of the personnel law, has practically threatened the education board with legislative action if it did not voluntarily enlist in the program.

The board of education is composed of ten Democrat members, all elected on a platform calling for a merit system for public employees.

So far the education department has stayed out of the program, said State School Superintendent Tom Wiley, because of the professional and technical requirements of many of the posts in the department.

THE SCHOOL PROS AND HEALTH PROS

Wiley's professional and technical people are educationalists who might have to be cleared by personnel examinations if the school office came under the personnel program. He said he didn't think this was practical.

The state health department has been operating under a personnel merit system for 25 years, together with the new one in the state-house and hiring such professionals as M.D.'s, epidemiologists, sanitary engineers, radiologists, and others of advanced academic training.

The worst hazard that the education department professionals face is the possibility that personnel board examination of their qualifications might result in lower pay for some positions in that department.

PRE-ELECTION GRAND JURY

There's hardly a chance that the grand jury which will be seated here next week will find anything illegal in the purchase of a Queen Air plane without competitive bidding, but there are all kinds of possibilities for embarrassing the Republican administration in other areas.

The jury call was worked up by persons unknown to the court but pretty well known to everybody else around Santa Fe to investigate the airplane purchase and incidentally everything else in the state-house.

It was by people in the aircraft sales business who didn't get in on the Queen deal and Democrat politicians in Santa Fe.

OFFER OPENING FOR INVESTIGATION

The Queen Air was bought in a sneaky and ill advised but apparently completely legal procedure. It gave critics of the administration, however, a fine opening for an investigation of the whole state-house.

The sponsors of the grand jury will look pretty weak if they don't find somebody to indict in front of the November election, among all the thousands working for the Republican governor, driving state cars, collecting daily expense accounts and collecting taxes from most everybody in the state.

POLITICAL EFFECT COULD BACK FIRE

The Demos are gambling on a good political effect but could suffer an adverse reaction from the voters if the jury doesn't produce anything impressive.

Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hatfield observed their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a picnic at White Oaks with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Miller of Alamogordo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield were married at Wellington, Kansas, July 30, 1912. They had two children, a son having died in infancy. They moved to Capitan in 1947 from Jet, Okla.

Mrs. R. L. Berleman (Joy) and husband of Omaha, Neb., were unable to attend. Joy is a granddaughter of the Hatfields. They have one great grandson, Richard Louis Berleman.

Cheerleaders win first at workshop

Janet Greer, Barbara Kruse and Rosa Torres took first place at the state cheer leaders workshop at the University of N. M. in Albuquerque on August 3.

The three girls attended the workshop from July 29 to August 3. Cheer leaders from all over New Mexico and part of Texas attended the affair at the University.

On the last day of the workshop, the girls from each school were judged on their cheer leading ability. Janet, Barbara and Rosa captured first place with "Yo Team Fight" and won a blue ribbon and trophy for Carrizozo high school. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. B. J. Kruse.

N. Y. woman hurt in one car accident

Josephine R. Palermo of 64 Dirby St., Jamestown, N. Y., was injured August 2 in a one-car accident 23 miles north of Carrizozo on Highway 54.

Miss Palermo said that she lost control of her '59 Ford as she pulled over close to the shoulder when a car traveling at a high rate of speed passed her automobile.

As she lost control of her car, it flipped a half turn pinning Miss Palermo in the wreckage. Miss Palermo, who was traveling with relatives in two separate cars, was extricated from the wreckage by State Police officers, Sgt. W. J. Kruse and Jess Brooks, and Undersheriff, Leandro Vega.

She was taken to the Carrizozo hospital suffering from possible back injuries and a deep cut on her head.

Lincoln County Commissioners have water problems following heavy rains

A regular meeting of the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners was held August 6 commencing at 9:30 a.m. Present were Kenneth Nosker, chairman; Charles A. Jones and Ignacio Torres, members; Aliso King, clerk; Leandro Vega Jr., deputy clerk.

Deputy Sheriff Vega formally opened the meeting. Minutes of the July 9 meeting were read and approved.

Bids for a car and trailer for the sheriff's department were opened and read. The low bid of $2,200.00 from Lincoln County Motors, Inc., Carrizozo, for a 1962 Ford Fairlane Fordor Sedan V8 engine was accepted. The low bid of $270.00 for a guaranteed factory rebuilt Motorola model 60 watt, installed radiator was accepted. Til Thompson of Roswell was the bidder.

The Board of Commissioners expressed their appreciation in behalf of the county to Mr. Til Thompson for giving his time and services to the county before and during the primary election. He did not charge the county. He helped prepare the voting machines which were used for the first time May 8.

Mr. Mauro Sanchez, whose residence is one mile west of post office at Hondo met with the Commissioners. His property received heavy flood damage during the recent rains and another heavy rain could mean the loss of his home which is located approximately 100 feet from an arroyo. The Commissioners promised to send out a tractor immediately to help clear the canyon before another heavy rain should hit in that vicinity.

Mr. Alfonso Soto of San Francisco was fit to see the Board in regards to asking for aid to help correct and repair heavy water damage to his property since the rain. The Commissioners promised help in repairing damage in that locality.

E. E. Miller, Ruidoso Downs, requested a county cattle guard located at Gavilan Canyon be cleaned. Mr. John Lacy, north of Capitan, requested a cattle guard. Both requests were approved.

Mr. Paul Payton, editor of the Lincoln County News, was by for a few minutes to visit with the Commissioners. Justice of Peace monthly reports to the Commission-

Two Zumwalt service stations are robbed

Saturday and Sunday nights, Cliff Zumwalt's two stations were robbed. Zumwalt's bulk station located west of town on Highway 550 was broken into sometime Saturday night. The robbers, who had to be children because of the small space through which they entered the building, escaped with $225 in clothes and pencils.

Not that Cliff didn't have enough headaches, his brand new station located in the center of town was also robbed. But this time, it could have been just plain vandalism since the new 60 gas pumps were tampered with and several parts stolen off of the pumps.

Police are now investigating the two break-ins.

Football Practice Starts Aug. 29

All boys who will be playing football this coming year, and who have not paid for their insurance should do so this week. The insurance is $6, teeth protector $2, and lock $1.

Any new boys in town who want to go out for football should contact Mr. Darrell Dode. Football practice starts August 29 at 7:30 a.m.

Robbie Wieland to be married

Clarence — Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wieland of Claunch announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Robbie, to Charles Parish of Earth, Texas.

Miss Wieland has a B. A. degree in elementary education from Eastern New Mexico University and has taught first grade in Zumwalt school in Albuquerque for the past three years.

The couple will reside in Earth where Mr. Parish is farming.

Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McKnight of Mesquite announced the marriage of their daughter, Judy Ann, to Roy Kelly of Artesia.

The young couple were united in marriage at the First Presbyterian church of Roswell. Rev. Homer Ziegler officiated. A few friends and members of the family were present.

Kap Kelly will be remembered in Lincoln County as the Farm Bureau insurance agent. They will be at home at the Town Plaza apartments in Roswell.

Pre-School Clinics

Mrs. Alma Bradley, nurse for Lincoln County, started a very busy schedule this week in preparation for the opening of school. The infant and pre-school clinic for Carrizozo was held Monday morning with 36 people attending. Other clinics will be held in Capitan on August 8 and in Hondo on August 9.

There will be a clinic in Ruidoso on August 14. Also at this time, Mrs. Bradley will meet with Miss Josh, health consultant for the State Health Department to discuss the Mobile Dental Health Unit being brought to Lincoln County. It is most essential that the County nurse know the immunization records of the children to enter school. If there are any new families in the district, they should contact Mrs. Bradley if they have children entering school.

Most recent escape of Billy the Kid packs 2,250 people in Lincoln Town Attending at the three performances of "The Last Days of Billy the Kid" this past weekend totaled 2,182.

"A Day in Old Lincoln" festivities were well attended all day Sunday. Winners of events were the following:

McKnight Trial Opens

In Los Cruces — The trial of Pauline K. McKnight, 43, opened in Los Cruces before a jury of seven men and five women in the 3rd District Court Monday morning.

Mrs. McKnight is charged with the alleged slaying of her husband, Wilbur L. McKnight, on January 23 at their ranch home near Hondo.

The trial is being held in Los Cruces on a change of venue granted by the prosecution and a recording taken the day after the slaying were presented in court on Monday and Tuesday.

Two more state exhibits were entered in Tuesday afternoon following arguments by attorneys in the absence of the jury.

Marriages

Patricia A. Nickson, 29 of Roswell to James Ray Dudley, 23 of Roswell.

Mary Lou Stegland, 21 of Ruidoso to Edward Ross Holstein, 28 of Ruidoso.

Coach Ferguson will open football practice August 18 at 9:30 in the morning.

Equipment will be issued Thursday afternoon after physical examinations and Friday morning. All boys wishing to get their physical should be at the high school August 10 by 12:30 p.m.

Town could buy hunk of Mal Pais

The Carrizozo Town Council, in regular session August 7, discussed some interesting possibilities about making a park in the Mal Pais around the crater. Information that General Services, a federal agency, holding title to the Mal Pais country north of Carrizozo would be interested in selling this rough rocky ground to the Town if the Town will construct a park in the area. The price would be nominal. The Council voted to inquire into such a possibility and to work with the Women's Club in their park project.

Building permit to construct two rooms, and bath, cost $1200, allowed to Mrs. Jake Herrera. Three occupation licenses paid. One local cafe has not paid and the item has been due since January. The Council instructed Clerk Penfield to have the city's attorney to get the money or padlock the place.

The swimming pool came within a few dollars of breaking even in July. The Council listened to two bonding companies discuss paying bonds, no action necessary on them. A new lawn mower for the Town was discussed, decision not to buy until next year.

Attending this meeting were Mayor W. F. Ball, Fred English, Leandro Vega and Arrell Poney, Councilman, Edward Penfield and Pri-day Sherrill.

Fort Stanton

By J. S. C.

Paulita Zamora has been dismissed from the Fort Stanton hospital and left for her home in Anthony. Paulita is a very sociable and religious young lady and will be missed by everybody in Fort Stanton. She speaks very little English, but is well-versed and highly educated in her native tongue of Old Mexico.

Patricia Flatley of O. T. Department made a business trip to Albuquerque, Friday, July 27.

Dr. H. C. Jernigan attended a meeting of the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association Board of Directors at Santa Fe, the weekend of July 28-29.

Esmal (Cy) Salas, L. P. N. of Fort Stanton, played the part of Sheriff Wm. Brady in the Lincoln Pageant, and his picture appeared in the Roswell Daily Record of July 27.

Alfred Silva has taken leave-of-absence from his kitchen duties due to illness in the family.

Noyola and Minnie Noraez have their quarters in the Nurses Home, but they accompany their father, Jake Narvaez to go and spend the weekend at home in Carrizozo. Jake lives in one of the cabins on the hill.

The other morning, when June, Gertrude, Rosa, Marie, Minnie, Noyola and Patricia of the Administration Building, lined up in ranks to go to their coffee break, some smart alec made the remark, "There goes the Covey." We took offense and took up for those defenseless girls right there. "Looky here," we said, "you have no right to call those girls feathered fowls. From now on, they will be known as 'Rose Petals' you understand?" "Why?" he said and gave us a mean glance, "Because we think you have no sense of taste or smell. Can't you smell the sweet fragrance clear to No. 37?"

No flattery for votes, girls. We have been beaten more than once before, but never snowed under. "Where there is life there is hope," June and I say, have you pulled any more rabbits out of that magic hat for Mr. Blalock?

Luz Lopez was all smiles last Sunday as she had the home folks from Las Vegas visiting her. Luz says that doing the Twist was too strenuous and dangerous for reducing and she is now doing more mild and safe exercises and is on a diet of raw carrots, but no avocados whatsoever.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Escobedo and the children spent last weekend visiting in Albuquerque. They are out on their annual vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Montana and daughter visited relatives in Socorro one day last week. The Montanos moved here with the Sanatorium in 1953.

We had two baseball games in Fort Stanton, Sunday, July 29. In the first game, the Little Leagueers beat the Mescalero Papooses by a score of 5 to 3 in 4 innings. The Little Leagueers have now won 3 in a row without a loss.

In the second game, it was murder for the Fort Stanton Blues, as the Apache Red Hats walked away with the plum by the one-sided score of 15 to 1. The game was stopped after the first inning for about 20 minutes because of a light shower just to wet the field and make it miserable for the boys.

Mesdames Ray Chambers, Fred A. Vigil and Lupe Baca were at the Trading Post, dispensing cold drinks, candies and chewing gum.

Solomon Martinez of Espanola is one of the new employees in the Fort Stanton kitchen. Solomon is a brother of Mrs. Fred A. Vigil, and incidentally is a good baseball player.

Sixto Aguilera has returned from furlough to his home in Hatch. Father John Zibinsky gave Mass in the Fort Stanton Catholic Church last Sunday morning. There are Masses every Sunday except the first Sunday of the month.

Rev. Wm. Brown held services in the Chapel of Our Redeemer at 10 in the morning.

All these services are well attended.

50th STATE ANNIVERSARY. This year being the 50th Anniversary of New Mexico statehood, we have a reminder in Fort Stanton of the first year of statehood.

The first concrete walk was built here in 1912. One of the builders of that project left his inscription at the edge of the walk in front of No. 4 - B. N. Co. - 1912. The inscription has been protected all these years from trampling feet, by a lamp post adjoining it.

When W. C. McDonald was elected the first governor of New Mexico in 1911 we were residing at Magdalena. We moved back to Lincoln County soon after; our mother, sister and brother-in-law coming by train, while our father, brothers, Saturnino and Alex and myself, made the trip in a big wagon loaded with household goods and drawn by two teams of horses.

Several years before, the White Oaks-San Antonio stage line had been discontinued and what was left of the old road, was in very bad shape and impassible in some places. It took us one week to make the trip from Magdalena to Carrizozo. When we came to a deep gully, we had to fill in with rocks, debris and soil in order to get across.

That short trip left a good impression on us, of what the old pioneers had to go through, when they freighted from Lincoln to Las Vegas in wagons and ox-carts. It took them three months for the roundtrip, but coming back they were a merry bunch when they punched holes in the whiskey kegs, took their fill and more, of white lightning and then plugged the holes beyond detection.

They always had a musician or two in the wagon trains, so the first item they bought was a harmonica and a concertina to keep the spirits high and happy.

As we went on, many women and children looked forward to those trips, for they would have some nice toys to wear on Sundays, to horse races and fairs. These 'hombres' were content with these kobs and plenty of Panchito to smoke.

Our grandmother used to tell the story of Juan Aban, a young Indian captive, who once joined one of those Caravans to Paso del Norte (El Paso) and they never saw him again. The lust for Mescal, enchanting music, incandescent bright lights and gay serenitas, got in that young Apache's blood and he stayed in the turmoil. They searched for him high and wide for several days and when they found no trace of him, they had to leave on the return home without Juan Aban. He was not in the falls or dungeons; and they surmised that he had been a victim of a Mexican slittado and his body thrown into the Rio Bravo.

The wagon master wore Buckskin pants and blouse, long hair and whiskers, which commanded respect and obedience, and when one of the party got too drunk and boisterous, they would put him in the stockade (tied his hands and feet to a wagon wheel) until he became sober and reconciled. We know of several who would spend their coffee breaks in the stockade, on one of those trips, not including the writer and some of his associates of Fort Stanton and Carrizozo.

Office girl - Why do you pick on the office girl only? Because, from bitter experience, we have much respect for badges, uniforms and stripes, but the policemen, nurses or the top brass in the Armada. It might mean the poky, demerito or Spartan barracks, 'was our reply.

We are not as shiftless as you might think, so will turn our dial on the weather forecast for Fort Stanton. We have been having showers after shower for more than a week, and looks like our short summer is at an end. The days and nights have been cool enough to warrant the wearing of wraps and for the powerhouse crew to turn on the steam valves. We have Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas to look forward to, wonderful seasons in which we bestow our thanks and gratitude to Almighty God, our fine doctors and nurses, the personnel and employees, Father Dennis and Zabinsky, Reverends Brown, Kerr and Sullivan, for their painstaking care of our needs the year around. May God bless them and all of the patients.

Espinoza Carabajal and Fil Garcia of the maintenance crew put new paper roofing and tar on the roof of the Fort Stanton Station last week. The boys of the station have captured one of the marauding owls of Fort Stanton and have him behind bars in a cage under a tree. Several ambulatory girl patients have gone to try and point a finger at him, but he has not been identified so far. He hissed at one girl and she almost fainted.

We made a visit to the O. T. Department and viewed some of the many nice things the boys and girls have made, and are on display in a long showcase. Patricia Flatley supervises the work, which is a credit to her and the hospital in general.

Teenager Mike Martinez is nearing his 14th birthday and tips the scales at 104 pounds. He is a well-rounded, (Pachucal) as we call him, and when he goes to the store on errands, some of the boys holler at him, to sit down and rest, while others urge him to run and fly. He is all out of breath when he completes the trip and sits in a large rocker on the porch.

The Old-timers never knew what a Coffee Break was, but they had a Sista. How and where never knew when it was up, unless their clothes caught on fire or the shade had shifted.

Fido and Rover licked their chops but that only made them more comfortable and relaxed, because the canines wagged the files away with their bushy tails. Indeed, these were the good old days, and our kids will be repeating this fifty years from now.

Lightning struck some utility wires Wednesday morning and peeled the bark off a big tree in front of the Nurses Home. A few years back, a terrific bolt struck a tree in front of Dr. Jernigan's home split a large chunk, which was later sawed off, but the tree is still charred from that fiery bolt.

Mrs. Kerr, nurse in Fort Stanton has resigned and she and Rev. Kerr will move from Captain to Clovis. They will be missed here and at Captain and everyone wishes them luck and success in their new home.

BAD FINDER OF ROAD
An election time is now at hand, those Fort Stanton workers who travel from San Patricio to Fort Stanton day in and day out, asked us to remind the County Commissioners, that the road in Devil's Canyon is badly in need of repairs.

This takes us back again, when you had to have lots of stamina and fortitude, when you rode a model T on a long stretch of wash-board type of road. Don't see why they didn't come out with seat belts at that time. When you come out on a 20-mile stretch of that type of road (if you had survived). Your internal organs were all jumbled up and your seat felt like that of a baboon exiled in the Sahara desert.

They had a big fire in the Fort Stanton kitchen - cook stove - last Thursday afternoon, and the local firemen responded by giving the fire engine and equipment a good airing-out on the baseball diamond. After they enjoyed a good supper of broiled steaks, prepared in that sizzling hot stove. No damage was done, only more Carrizozo, New Mexico.

Dear Sir:
I have appreciated your continuing to send your newspaper to my new address. I am sorry for the delay in renewing my subscription, but I have had a time of it moving. Enclosed is the $3.75 and I'm looking for the following issue of your newspaper as I find it a real enjoyment in reading after a hard day at the office.

I hope some day I can be able to live in a pleasant town such as yours instead of the big city like Los Angeles where I work.

Is it possible that you have newspaper morgue files back to 1900, or 1904? I am interested in obtaining the obituary notices of two early day pioneers, and if you have files of newspaper that far back is it possible that you have some way of making photostatic copies of certain items?

If you can find the time to write it would be a pleasure to hear from you.

Sincerely,
Lewis Keiring Jr.
(Editor's Note - Just last week we dug a lot of old papers out of the attic. Will take a month or more to sort. In the meantime if we don't have the paper you want, the courthouse should.)

Savings bonds sales recover

Residents of Lincoln County invested $825.62 in U. S. Savings Bonds during June, according to Tom Hood, Chairman of the Lincoln County Savings Bonds Committee. The total for June, 1961, was $2,658.59, he recalled.

In the first six months, people of this County placed $48,173.40 in these E and H Bonds, the Chairman further revealed, compared to the $22,649.92 in the first half of 1961.

State-wide, purchases in June of $1,200,212.35 were larger by 7.51 per cent than the $1,116,318.52 in June of last year. Series E Bonds attracted the largest amount, $1,110,212.35, of any June since 1945.

The total for the first six months period reached $7,314,705.24, smaller by 2.20 per cent than that of $7,479,678.94 in the first half of 1961. The State has reached 47.19 per cent of its $15,500,000 annual goal.

Nation-wide, sales of E and H Bonds, totaling $307 million were down two percent in June under that of June, 1961. In the first half year, $2,277 million worth were purchased, below that for the similar period of last year by five percent.

Central N. M. Electric Co-op. has large crowd
The Central N.M. Electric Co-operative, Inc. Mountainair, New Mexico, held its thirteenth Annual Meeting at the Mountainair Community Building at 11:00 A.M. August 1, 1962.

Election judges presiding at the ballot box were as follows: District No. 2, Robert Crisp; District No. 4, F. S. Lovato and District No. 6, G. W. Shanks.

There were 462 registered voting members present with other members of their families attending. Fourteen hundred twenty-six attended the session and enjoyed the barbeque dinner served by Jettons of Fort Worth, Texas.

The program for the all-day meeting included registration at 10:00 A.M., followed by reports from the President, J. L. Merritt, Secretary, F. A. Hall, and Treasurer, Noble Dunlap.

Two-year plans were presented to the following employed by J. L. Merritt: Lou Anne Hewett, Dairi Goar and Lee Thomas.

During the afternoon session the program was addressed by the following: Mr. Supurier Chambard, Public Comm.; Mr. R. B. Moore, Mgr. Lovington Elec. Co-op.; Mr. Carl Turner, Mgr. N.M. Rural Elec. Co-op. Assn. and Mr. R. B. Moore, Electric Heating Specialist.

Election results showed the following Trustees elected: District No. 2, H. J. Sewell; District No. 4, F. A. Hall and District No. 6, Donald Marlin. Entertainment was provided throughout the day by Dean Kirk and the Western Swing Kings playing the favorites for the group.

Winners of door prizes were as follows: Battery Charger, E. R. McDowell; Hair Dryer, James S. Tomon; Pete Alderete; Waffle Iron, Manuel L. Ullbari; Toast Grill, Blas Garcia; Electric Sittlet, Paul Lackey; Mrs. Ray O. Brown, L. D. Bassett; Clock Radio, Promesa Lopez; Radio, W. A. Thomas; Verne L. Wells; Mixerette, Bill Bass, Joe A. Garcia, Melquiades Sedillo; Perculator, Lynn Chilton; Cam Opener, W. C. Whittmore; Electric Iron, Leonard H. Hobbs; Clock, Gertrude Luera, Charlie Gonca; Albert Sanchez, Salvador Jaramillo, W. E. Ferguson, Filbert Archuleta, Andalecio Lopez, R. L. Sharp; and Trouble Light, T. A. Taul.

Sirs: Enclose find check for $3.75 for renewal of our subscription for another year.

Mr. Dillard enjoys very much reading his old home town and community news.

Please change our address. We have a new post office and new street so we are sometimes 3 days late in getting the paper.

Dear Sir:
I have appreciated your continuing to send your newspaper to my new address. I am sorry for the delay in renewing my subscription, but I have had a time of it moving. Enclosed is the $3.75 and I'm looking for the following issue of your newspaper as I find it a real enjoyment in reading after a hard day at the office.

I hope some day I can be able to live in a pleasant town such as yours instead of the big city like Los Angeles where I work.

Is it possible that you have newspaper morgue files back to 1900, or 1904? I am interested in obtaining the obituary notices of two early day pioneers, and if you have files of newspaper that far back is it possible that you have some way of making photostatic copies of certain items?

If you can find the time to write it would be a pleasure to hear from you.

OPEN YOUR EYES WHEN YOU BUY INSURANCE!
Somewhere later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Yet often, the promise of a fast, generous dividend falls to the ground.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not out of town when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. That's it.

THE KID'S RIGHT HAND!

Some time ago this Column offered a quandary on the normalcy of Billy the Kid's right hand, whether certain fingers were missing from that hand, and asked for comments. It brought many notes, valuable words; for it is in this manner that many questions are solved, by piecemeal notes, so to speak.

From Mrs. Pat Murphy comes a letter revealing incidents about the Kid's life, one of which was humorous even in all of its serious circumstances—one time a flour chest served purposes other than a bread-ingredient container!

Carrizozo, New Mexico
June 23, 1962

Mr. Kit Carson—
Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of the Lincoln County paper I read your article regarding the finding of a picture of Billy the Kid, and Pat Garrett. You stated that Billy's one hand looked as if it had some fingers off. He did not have any fingers off, but he did have a bad scar on his right hand.

Soon after moving to Lincoln County it was my good fortune to know the late Mrs. Anne Lesnett well. She had come to Lincoln County as a bride before the Lincoln County war. She knew and liked Billy and had befriended him on numerous occasions.

It was while the Lesnetts owned and were living at the old Mill at Ruidoso that Billy hid in Mrs. Lesnett's flour chest when he looked out the door and saw Pat Garrett approaching. Garrett sat on the chest and drank a cup of coffee.

Several years ago when Mrs. Wayne VanSchayek had the store at White Oaks, an elderly man drove up to the store and during his conversation with Mr. VanSchayek insisted he was Billy the Kid, who had made his escape into Mexico and had lived there all these many years. He discussed many Billy the Kid events with Mr. VanSchayek. So, I went to see Mrs. Lesnett, and reported all that Mrs. VanSchayek had told me. This man had told others he was Billy the kid. I asked Mrs. Lesnett what she thought. She immediately said it was not Billy, or he would have asked about her, and come to see her. I asked if she would have known him, and she said if she saw his right hand she would have known whether the man was Billy, that Billy had a bad scar on his right hand that would go with him to his grave. So I know Billy had all his fingers or Mrs. Lesnett would have said so. I have always wished I had asked what caused the scar on his hand.

Three of Mrs. Lesnett's daughters still live in Carrizozo. They are Mrs. Edith Crawford, Mrs. George Dingwall, and Mrs. Allan Johnson.

I thought you might like to have this information about Billy's hand.

Yours truly
Mrs. Pat Murphy.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS. Personal notes, once in print, very often become valuable; for published words, as a whole, are very enduring.

Want to buy some lamb or beef? The Lincoln County Fair plans on having several lambs and calves for sale on September 8th. These animals will be sold on the carcass weight and at market prices. The calves will be sold in either a half or whole carcasses. There will be six calves and 20 lambs to sell. The lambs carcasses will weigh around 45-55 pounds each. If you want to buy a lamb or calf see the county agent or Charles Jones, at Captain.

I made a quick trip to Monte Vista, Colo., last week. The country from Santa Fe on up, is still dry. The grass is just green. Lambs were being clipped to Denver, last week, for $24.00 per hundred weight, a jump of a half a cent per pound during the past week.

Apples in the Honda Valley area starting to color, with excellent size. Many of the apples are already three inches or bigger. Picking will start around August 20th.

DETERGENT TREATMENT REMOVES GREASE STAINS

Grease stains are a special problem on plain-colored, resintreated cotton, Dacron polyester, and other cotton and rayon blended fabrics. Prompt attention and the right method makes stain removal easier and saves time and money. Pre-treat spotted areas by rubbing full-strength liquid detergent into the stain, then let stand 15 minutes. Wash the garment in hot water with soap or synthetic detergent, but avoid using too much detergent. Oversudsing is not desirable. Rinse garments thoroughly, then hang to dry.

If a spot remains after detergent treatment, you may use a cleaning solvent. Be careful when using solvent. Fumes from these solvents are poisonous, so work with them only outdoors or in a well-ventilated room.

To apply cleaning solvent to the spotted area, place a pad of paper towels or soft white cloth, such as an old bath towel, on a work surface. Always work from the wrong side of the fabric to force the stain out instead of embedding it. Apply only enough solvent to dampen the fabric. Take extra care in sponging stain around edges, making sure there will be no definite line when fabric dries. Allow fabric to dry as quickly as possible, then launder garment.

If a ring shows up after laundering, it may be necessary to dry-clean the garment. Make a special point to identify stain for the dry-cleaner.

Corona Baptist Church held a successful Vacation Bible School last week, with Parents night, Aug. 5. There were 83 young people enrolled in the school. Larry Cobb, of Pro-medical School of Baylor College, and Robert Bigler of South Western Syn. Fort Worth, were helpers in the school. Others assisting were: Mrs. Paul Franklins with the Intermediate, Mrs. L. H. Carnell, juniors, Mrs. Minnie Dayncourt, primary, and Mrs. Dave McCloud and Mrs. Walter Bryan with the beginners. Mrs. Jack Kilpatrick and Mrs. Leroy Gannell helped each day with the refreshments.

Frances Alirez, daughter of Mrs. Molley Alirez is home from Tingly Hospital at T. or C., and will be home until about August 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Clark are back from Oklahoma, and getting ready for school. Coach Clark attended a coaching school in Albuquerque last week. Clark will teach English in Corona High School, and Mr. Clark besides Coaching will teach History.

Vernon Wade of Albuquerque was visiting his parents and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wade and Mrs. E. L. Jernagin the past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simmons and daughters, Sylvia and Claudian, of Artesia were visiting his brother, O. S. Simmons and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kilpatrick and daughter, Jackie, and son, Willis Frank, from Encinitas, Calif., were visiting here this week. Willis Frank was home on leave from Huntsville, Ala. Also Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zumwalt from Nogal and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bates and children from Mountainair were visitors in the Jack Kilpatrick home last weekend.

Harold Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fuller of Corona left Albuquerque last Wednesday for Washington, D. C. on Santa Fe Railway, and then flew from Washington, D. C. to San Antonio, Texas Lockheed Air Force Base, where he will take 8 weeks basic training in the Air National Guard.

Mrs. Claude Stovall and daughter, Donna, and son, Mike, were in Ft. Worth, Texas this week visiting her parents.

Miss Fara DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DuBois of Albuquerque, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Mary DuBois and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins and family this week. Tom Perkins, brother of Archie Perkins, was here this week from Pueblo, Colorado visiting in the Perkins home.

Mike Ingram of Santa Maria, Calif., was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ingram, and other relatives here this week.

Miss Ethel Perkins, accompanied by her friend, Miss Madge Canoyer of Albuquerque, made a trip to Hobbs last weekend where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mins, and they were bridesmaids at the wedding of their Sorority Sister, Miss Nelda Sue Mins.

Mrs. Allen Sultemeler and Mrs. Pat Bagley and their children visited this week at Bayfield, Colo. with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hester.

Paul Otero Jr., has returned home after spending ten months with the Reserves in Louisiana. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Otero Sr. of Corona.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Casey have sold Casey's Sweet Shop and Western Store. They are owners of Corona Motel and Casey's Barber Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol L. Womack of Denver are the new owners of the Sweet Shop and Western Store. They have one daughter, Lucy May, now 7 1/2 months. Mr. Womack attended a Gonsmith school in Denver, and plans to do gunsmith work, and saddle and leather work. He is formerly from Carlsbad. His father, Dr. C. L. Womack Sr., is with the Veterans Administration in Albuquerque. Mrs. Womack is formerly from Sanderson, Texas.

A technical mining discussion

By Walter Hubbard

By the early and mid-twenties, the discoveries and patents in the fields of flotation began to mount. Chemical re-agents has come into firm recognition as all important to the art. The work of educators like Gaudin, Taggart, Fahnestock and others pioneering in this day brought out a better understanding of the role of chemical effects to produce desired results on mineral surfaces to activate, promote, depress and disperse minerals for selective action.

In 1925 patents were issued to Keller and Lewis introducing xanthates as 'promoters.' These alkaline xanthates from a whole series as they are made by bringing together molecular equivalents of an alcohol, an alkali, and carbon-bisulfide, the xanthate being named after the alcohol, and indicating promotional ability; For example ethyl-xanthate is not as strong a promoter as the longer chain amyl-xanthate. When the xanthate is used for promotion, it combines with the oxidized films to produce the resulting metal-xanthate, and in so doing it selects the metals preferentially. The time-element is, therefore to be noted and is utilized very effectively to make selective separations. One mineral can be put thru a cell before action on the other begins, or else there can be, as in case of badly altered minerals, a conditioning in agitators or mechanical mixers with chemicals, gases etc. ahead of the promotional action that takes place in the flotation-cell with its re-agents added there. Timing is very important in making selectivities.

The use of soluble sodium sulfide as a conditioner for badly oxidized ores of some carbonate ores, converts the mineral surface into a sulfide that is floatable with a suitable promoter. So gradually the development of all kinds of special re-agents and methods have come into being aimed to give better recoveries with more selectivity. These advances boosted the art to make selective froth-flotation the greatest ore-dressing tool known to mining. Today, one might say that anything can be floated, though the recoveries are not always high. However, the potential in the field of re-agents and ideas to make the art more and more an exact science continues to hold research. The fields of surface - physics, absorptions, films surface-tensions and in general the physico-chemical relations between gas, liquid and solid phases and the condition of such solid surfaces toward the other phases have become highly theoretical but they have advanced the understanding of the art and provided more definite direction for the course of improvements.

From such work it has become known that native metals and their sulfides, arsenides, antimonides, selenides and tellurides are amongst the minerals most easily floated. Further that a slight oxidation of their surfaces require stronger promoters, or perhaps a conditioning before flotation. The oxides, carbonates, sulfates of the metals as natural change from weathering, or chemical actions to produce alterations, require some prior treatment, or conditioning before flotation, and such recoveries are not always very high. The field of flotation of the non-metallic minerals is even more complex, requiring very special considerations to achieve any kind of results. In this field have come the development of more special reagents to affect a given mineral, although the fatty acids like cello acid, soaps, sulfenated oils, and sulfated alcohols and their derivatives are used.

Manufacturers provide tested recommendations, and generally patent reagents as have free use, monopoly by the manufacturer and holder of patent.

During the years many men have contributed ideas to the development of machines, re-agents, and the art, as well as the theory. The future still holds great promise, not only in its own field, but help other fields to bring about economic and industrial benefits. Flotation may always remain an art, though highly scientific, because of the physio nature of a mineral surface and surface-effect phenomena that can not always be defined as wholly scientific in its behavior. It is like an allergy, fickle and unaccountable physically, but can be controlled. It has been found that the identical mineral belonging to an older geological age will not respond exactly alike in flotation, and the operator must adjust in the mill to obtain the best result which his observations from experience have taught him. Whereas formerly large amounts of oils and acids were used, the trend has been to use smaller amounts and do so more effectively, until the consumption of oil and special reagents, although more costly, require only a fraction of a pound per ton. The use of both acid and alkali circuits for selectivity brought about the need for H (hydrogen ion content) to control the acid or alkalinity range just as in chemistry. The trend has been to use less water even down to a 1:1 ratio and not over the ratio of 4 water to 1 of ore to obtain better results. The understanding of surface-tension and that substances are polar, and the ability of definite reagents to be attracted to and envelope (to adsorb) a mineral particle to repel writing by water, yet attract and cling to an air-bubble, has led to the minimum use of air-injection process that depresses, and so improve recoveries.

The varieties of re-agents and their special functions have been advertised by those manufacturers to assist the plant operators. Some of the large flotation re-agent manufacturers even offer testing of difficult ores in their laboratories to buyers of their re-agents as an added service. Manufacturers list the properties of their products towards definite minerals, or their general properties, as the case may be.

Activators are chemicals or re-agents, or salts which will give a new surface to mineral as a film coating so that it can present a surface that will be amenable to flotation. Copper sulfate was the first in this field, as already mentioned. 'Conditioners' transform an oxidized mineral into a mineral with a sulfide surface so then the 'promoter' that floats such a sulfide readily will take it.

Sodium sulfide as a high soluble and very active sulfiding agent, is a conditioner which will transform the surface of some carbonate minerals into a sulfide surface so they will be floatable. The 'promoters' and activators may often merge into one, but the promoter or collector is essentially a re-agent which is attracted to a mineral to change its surface as an absorption film that will repel wetting by water, and at the same time attract by its opposite polarity, an air-bubble and cling to it to ride up to the quiet surface of the cell.

'Frothers' are generally oils which help maintain the air-bubble with its mineral particle and permit a collection of rim bubbles as a froth so that the froth may be recovered as a continuous operation from surface of the cell or flotation machine. Pine oil and cresylic acid are the common frothers. There are also special manufacturers.

The opposite of 'promoters' are depressants, and chromates and the use of sodium cyanide has been mentioned in this field already. Colloidal substances act as depressants, and no doubt this is one of the troubles behind lower recoveries in extremely fine grinding. Inhibitors, retarders, dispersion agents are also re-agent classifications to provide special effects. The different ore problems require ingenuity of the operator to meet the conditions from what is known, or through new combinations. For a long time, the need for conditioning in a separate mechanical device of a pulp before introduction into a cell with aeration was unrecognized. After this was recognized, and time required to produce the desired change by the chemicals, thought was later advanced to embrace still more special needs in the art to make cleaner separations and to make the timing less critical, hence the retarders, inhibitors etc. so slow action on one mineral and to permit the rapid action on another. Heating the water also brought accelerated activity. And so the art developed into a highly refined tool, indispensable to mining today.

lin considerations to achieve any kind of results. In this field have come the development of more special reagents to affect a given mineral, although the fatty acids like cello acid, soaps, sulfenated oils, and sulfated alcohols and their derivatives are used.

Manufacturers provide tested recommendations, and generally patent reagents as have free use, monopoly by the manufacturer and holder of patent.

During the years many men have contributed ideas to the development of machines, re-agents, and the art, as well as the theory. The future still holds great promise, not only in its own field, but help other fields to bring about economic and industrial benefits. Flotation may always remain an art, though highly scientific, because of the physio nature of a mineral surface and surface-effect phenomena that can not always be defined as wholly scientific in its behavior. It is like an allergy, fickle and unaccountable physically, but can be controlled. It has been found that the identical mineral belonging to an older geological age will not respond exactly alike in flotation, and the operator must adjust in the mill to obtain the best result which his observations from experience have taught him. Whereas formerly large amounts of oils and acids were used, the trend has been to use smaller amounts and do so more effectively, until the consumption of oil and special reagents, although more costly, require only a fraction of a pound per ton. The use of both acid and alkali circuits for selectivity brought about the need for H (hydrogen ion content) to control the acid or alkalinity range just as in chemistry. The trend has been to use less water even down to a 1:1 ratio and not over the ratio of 4 water to 1 of ore to obtain better results. The understanding of surface-tension and that substances are polar, and the ability of definite reagents to be attracted to and envelope (to adsorb) a mineral particle to repel writing by water, yet attract and cling to an air-bubble, has led to the minimum use of air-injection process that depresses, and so improve recoveries.

The varieties of re-agents and their special functions have been advertised by those manufacturers to assist the plant operators. Some of the large flotation re-agent manufacturers even offer testing of difficult ores in their laboratories to buyers of their re-agents as an added service. Manufacturers list the properties of their products towards definite minerals, or their general properties, as the case may be.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862—the same year that

IN NEW MEXICO, the Butterfield Stage line was in operation. Actually constructed for in 1857 by the Post Office Department, the line was developed to carry the California mails overland, extending 2,775 miles from St. Louis to San Francisco, the Butterfield Stage line crossed New Mexico near Fort Comanche.

Even then, beer was New Mexico's traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for New Mexicans, and a good living for many of them—not only the employees of the Brewing Industry itself, but also for other businesses and suppliers who provide materials and services the industry must have to do business in New Mexico.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to ensure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

We think we have the most reasonably-priced source of supply for any office forms you need—get our price before you buy.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Leslie have anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Leslie on their wedding day — 1912

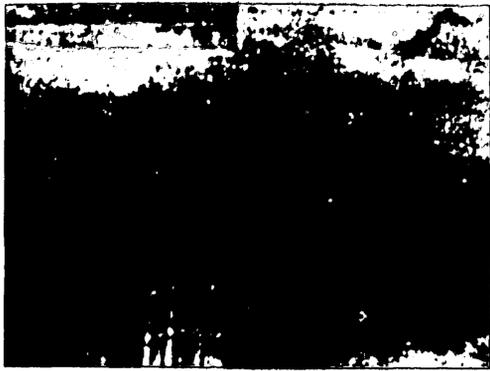

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Leslie will celebrate their Golden Anniversary at their ranch home on Sunday August 12. All their friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend an all day open house celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Leslie were married August 9, 1912, in Lincoln, by Mr. Raymon Lujan. They have spent their entire married life at White Oaks, and on the ranch where they are now living.

Mr. Leslie was born only five miles from where he now lives, but on the same ranch, known as the Texas Park in 1886. Mrs. Leslie (Eva Ward) was born at Gustin, Texas in 1897. The Wards moved from Gustin, Texas to Rodeo, N. M. in 1907, from there to White Oaks in 1911.

There were ten children born to Mr. and Mrs. Rob Leslie. Ben, Jim, Gertrude, twin girls Dora and Nora, Flora, Dorothy, Zane, Alfred, and Bob. The only remaining ones are: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Freeland and two children, of Hope, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Payne, and four children, of Tulamea, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Leslie and four children, of Capitlan, and Bob Leslie of Seligman, Arizona.

Livestock Report

By Steve Treadway - Lewis, Kans.

Range Conditions
July has produced more rainfall in a large part of the Western range country than in most years past. There are some dry areas, mostly in New Mexico and Southwestern Texas, but generally speaking the west is tops in grass, feed and moisture. Wheat harvest is finished and farmers are finding it difficult to keep ahead of the weeds on summer fallow ground.

Maize crops are looking the best and are a good deal earlier than usual. Hay crops are some of the best ever cut. Many operators in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma are saying they can't remember the better feed prospects. Hay prices have backed up some from early asking prices. All in all it looks like a great season in the plains area.

for $24-$25. There seems to be a fairly broad demand at this figure. This is a good $1-$2 higher than last year's at this time. Some yearlings for immediate delivery have sold from $25-$26 weighing up to 1000 lbs. Heifer yearlings have also been in good demand, mainly from the western feedlot interests. Choice quality heifer weighing from 650-700 for fall delivery have sold quite freely at 22 1/2-23 1/2 cents. Lighter weight heifers up to 24 cents. Steer quality heifer at 21-22 cents.

Cattle Picture
Interest in cattle for fall delivery has picked up greatly in most of the west. There is also a big demand for cattle to go for summer feed fields. However, very few cattle moving at present and this has caused a more or less "soft" market price wise, in the range area.

The greatest interest at present seems to be in calves for fall delivery. A large number of calves have been contracted in the past ten days in New Mexico, Texas and other cow and calf countries. Several buyers for better quality yearling cattle have also been active recently. Prices have been generally $2-$4 cwt higher than last year's early sales. A great deal of the prices are tied pretty well to the expected weights of calves at delivery. A large part of the plains yearlings were sold to West Coast interests earlier. Midwestern buyers are beginning to inquire of present. Asking prices on these better quality yearlings are $1-$2 higher than last year's figures. Continued strong fat cattle prices at terminal markets. Along with big feed supplies have had a bearing on the asking prices.

Yearlings
Early sales on plains type yearlings looked higher to most people, but appear about $1 cwt. cheap right now. A large number of these cattle contracted early for $21.00-$22. These same quality cattle are bringing $22-$23 1/2 at present and are getting sold in large volume. After a somewhat slow start the market on choice native yearlings is getting underway. A large number of these steers to weigh 475-750 for October have sold in the past ten days.

BONITO BITS

BY Louise Runnels

Now this sounds fantastic but figures at the Bonito Lake Guard's cabin show some 5,000 visitors have been in the "canyon" and the same number of people have fished in the lake. This should prove that we need some better roads and some parking and picnic accommodations. Through July, 8 inches of rain has fallen. Bonito Creek is running clear and lots of water. A few cars have been stalled above Bonito Lake but not many.

As an "Old Timer" I enjoyed the "Day at Old Lincoln" very much and the Pagant that night. The cast was great with all the costumes and the story by Bert Pfingsten along with voices for the actors that sounded so real you'd almost lived back in the "Billy The Kid" days. It was fun to watch Mark Storm do his rope tricks, and I hope none missed looking at the pictures he has painted that were in the Lincoln Library; two also hang in the Ruidoso State Bank. Peter Hurt was another person one is glad to get a chance to see and hear. Louise and Wilbur Coe made it perfect with short welcome speeches and Wilbur singing a Mexican song. The Square dancers were beautiful and furnished good entertainment. Our new neighbors, the Mayfields played a good part in the pagant with music and young Mayfield acting a part in the play. Alice Wright and Tom Bragg have had lots of company this summer. Folks will always be interested in old mines and hotels so the road is pretty well beat out up Tanbark Canyon. Last week guests at Alice Wright's mountain home were: Mr. and Mrs. Fat and Eida Fudge from Big Springs, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Jones and little granddaughter from Ruidoso.

Garvis Tubbs and Marion Pherigo from Carrizozo fished at Bonito Dam last week. Also, Eddie Zamora and son Eddie Jr., from Tularosa, were fishing at the Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schreyer from Carlsbad were in their mountain cabin over the weekend. Lloyd Taylor continues work on his cabin and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas have his parents here from Tres Ritos, N. M.

Bobby Pfingsten, uncle Ben and Bobby's girl friend, Pat Williams, were visitors at Bonito City Saturday on their way to the "Mystery Spot" in Ruidoso Downs and then to see the "Billy The Kid" Pagant at Lincoln Town that night.

Lester Greer and Randall Greer were in the canyon doing some assessment work last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ealom fished at Bonito Lake last week. They live in Roswell where Bobby is employed at a missile site.

It was good to have a visit with Old Timers, Mrs. Mary Bailey and sons, Vester, Anbry and Henry last week. They lived at Alto, some 40 years ago. Mrs. Bailey is 88 years old and to me seemed as jolly and active as I remember her at Alto. One daughter, Madge was also here with the family at the Nazarene Camp; other members of the family gathered there too. They visited Mrs. Bailey's brother Dan Jones and family. The oldest son, Henry, lives in Midland, Tex., and the others live at Calif.

Francis Hutchinson from Alamogordo and her daughter Pearl and family from Oklahoma City who are visiting Hutchinsons in Alamogordo were on the Bonito sight-seeing last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lott and family from Lamesa, Texas, visited last week with Ed Tinsley at the Old Morris Ranch north of Capitlan. They enjoyed visiting friends here and fished at Bonito Lake before going back home. They are some of our Lincoln Co. Boosters. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wright from Fort Worth, Texas spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomsen at Bonito City last week. Mrs.

Wright is Mrs. Thomsen's sister. June Shook and son Mark and Dola Leslie and grandchildren and Ben Leslie from Alamogordo drove over to Bonito City Sunday and then to the pagant at Lincoln Town to see Billy The Kid make his last escape.

The new Booklet "History of Lincoln Co. Postoffices" is on sale now. Several were sold Sunday at Lincoln. It is one for our historic collection. Alleen Lindamood and Hattie Phillips helped sell them at Lincoln Sunday.

Kelley - Friedrich Wedding at Clovis

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Falls announced the marriage of their granddaughter, Louise Kelley of Clovis to Adolf Friedrich of Cannon Air Force base.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Earl Parrish of Clovis and A. C. Kelley of Ruidoso.

Faye Falls, aunt of the bride was maid of honor and David Voberg was best man.

The double ring ceremony took place Saturday evening, August 4, at the bride's home.

The couple will make their home at 501 Pils St., Clovis.

Otero Electric Opens Bids

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc., July 25, 1962, held in the office of the Cooperative in Cloudcroft, bids were opened for the construction of 157 miles of distribution line located in Lincoln and Chavez Counties. Twelve bids were received and the low bidder was Kirby Construction Co. of Jackson, Miss. for the amount of $227,021.95. The construction of this 157 miles of line will provide electric service to some 50 or 60 ranches north and east of Capitlan and west of Roswell. In addition to this contract, it is planned to include some 40 miles of distribution line in Otero County, located in the Sacramento River area and along the West Side Road, which will make electric service available to some 25 ranches in this area.

The board, at their regular meeting held in June, approved a rate adjustment for "all Farm, Non-Farm and Residential consumers which becomes effective with the July 15 billing.)

Attempted Jail Break

Three prisoners being held in the Lincoln County Jail attempted to stage a jail break Sunday night. Stanley Hazz and Vincent Slight, both 18, and awaiting transfer to the State Penitentiary and Don Murdock, being held on the charge of vagrancy, tore up their coats and tried to move a steel panel in their cell. The jail break attempt, the second such in two months, proved futile.
