

CONSERVATION PARTICIPANT — Ed Tinsley, right is signing contract with Ellis Schildknecht tologing on.

The Flying "W" Diamond Ranch joins Plains Conservation program

The Flying "W" Diamond Ranch owned by Ed Tinsley and operated by Ellis Schildknecht of Capitan, became the 19th Great Plains Conservation Program participant in the Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District on Oct. 18, 1963, when the contract was signed by Mr. Tinsley. The ranch, a cow-calf operation, is located approximately four miles north of Capitan.

Several erosion control structures, Cholla cactus control on the entire ranch, and stockwater development along with proper grass management are practices included in the ranch plan. Mr. Tinsley expects to complete the contract in a three year period.

The objective of the Great Plains Conservation Program is to assist ranchers and farmers in developing and carrying out, on a voluntary basis, a plan of operations that will bring about great stability through grazing and cropping systems and the application of enduring soil and water conservation practices. To carry out this program, Public Law 1021, 84th Congress, provides for assurance of continuing cost-share assistance to ranchers and farmers who present a satisfactory plan for their entire unit including a time schedule for establishing conservation practices.

Any land owner in Lincoln County desiring further information regarding the Great Plains Program or assistance in preparing a conservation plan for his ranch or farm is invited to visit the Soil and Conservation Service office in Capitan.

Beautiful country in own backyard

With Ray Serna and Ken Harby

Right in your own backyard lies some of the most beautiful country in the southwest. Towering mountains push their way above the tree line and into the clouds. Mountain streams—alkali free—tumble over worn rocks working their way into verdant valleys.

Open mountain pastures dotted with yellow, orange, red and violet wild flowers lie scattered below pine covered ridges.

This is the country that we will traverse in our first "Trip of the Week." The first tour is an easy one and can be made in a day or broken down into a weekend outing. Capitan and Lincoln are our targets. Both areas are rampant with the history of the southwest. This is the country of Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid; of great cattle barons like John Chisum; and of the Lincoln County War.

The suggested route for this trip begins where Highway 70 swings out of Tularosa and begins its climb into the mountains. Along the way it passes through the huge Mescalero Apache reservation and finally drops into the mountain resort village of Ruidoso. Turn left at the junction of U. S. 70 and N. M. 37 following Highway 37 up the winding main street of the village.

The road ambles over mountain ridges then finally smoothes out into the highlands covered with wildflowers, pinon and cattle.

Capitan, our first destination, lies 15 miles from Ruidoso. It's a typical small western town and if cowboys are just the thing the children are dying to see there are usually several sitting in front of the general store.

It's also known as the home of Smokey the Bear, that indefatigable campaigner against forest fires. Just across the street from the general store a log museum sits snugly in a small grove of trees. Take a few minutes to wander through the interesting little museum dedicated to Smokey and the prevention of forest fires.

After seeing the museum, pack the kids, mother and the dog into the car and head east again to the town of Lincoln—which somehow seems to have gotten lost in the passage of time. Abandoned adobe houses dot the rolling landscape which looks like a set from Gunsmoke or any of the dozen or so westerns which galloped across Mr. Minnow's vast wasteland before the doctors and nurses cut into the picture.

The best way to see Lincoln is to park your car and walk. Don't miss the Old Lincoln County Courthouse built in 1874 and the proud owner of a tempestuous and brawling past. The old courthouse was originally a store, but the Lincoln County War took its toll and in 1880 the building was bought by the county after the owners filed for bankruptcy.

Pat Garrett, the slayer of Billy the Kid, held forth as sheriff of Lincoln County from 1880 to 1882 and during that time the courthouse was his headquarters. William H. Bonney, better known as Billy the Kid, made at least two escapes from the old courthouse, one time killing two guards in the process. Garrett later killed the Kid at Fort Sumner and was in turn killed himself under mysterious circumstances near Organ, N. M.

The town was founded in the 1850's and has been known as La Placita del Rio Bonito (The Little Town by the Pretty River) and later as Rio Bonito. It took the name Lincoln when it became the county seat.

Incidentally, in 1890, Lincoln County was the largest county in the U. S. with an area larger than Connecticut, Delaware, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Vermont combined.

Other interesting buildings in Lincoln include the Torreón (a circular rock fort for Indian defense); the Wortley Hotel; the Tunstall Store Museum (his murder started the Lincoln County War); and generally all of the old houses still privately owned which border the town's main street like maternal grandmothers.

For your return to Alamogordo take the same route you came in on or follow Highway 380 (don't turn left in Capitan) to Carrizozo. The route to Carrizozo runs through scenic rolling pinon covered hills then down to flat grazing land in the shadow of Carrizozo Peak (there's gold mining country behind the peak, but then that's another story).

West of Carrizozo the vast black lava beds of Mal Pais stretch north and south where they were spewed out by a not-too-old volcano.

In Carrizozo, take Highway 54 south to Tularosa and Alamogordo a fast 45 minute to one hour drive.

Lincoln National Forest problem arises as far as camping is concerned. "Under a foot" accommodations ranging from antique to plush may be found throughout the area with the biggest concentration in Ruidoso. Restaurants and cafes also abound.

Abundant Apples

Apples are good mixers. They can be combined with diced chicken, ham, cheeses, vegetables or other fruits to make delightful salads.

The contrasting shiny jackets and mellow-toned interior of apples make them color-perfect. Their satisfying sweet-to-tart taste offers flavor intrigue. And their juicy, crisp and crunchy quality provides that important menu necessity texture.

And apples are arriving in heavy volume at local markets, according to market news offices of the Agricultural Marketing Service. In fact, this year's harvest of 122 million bushels is enough to give apples the "plentiful" tag.

Here are a few easy ways to make full use of the abundance and variety of apples now available:

Try Apple Mayonnaise. Grate a tart apple, including skin, and blend into 1 cup of mayonnaise. Stir to blend, and serve atop fresh apples or jelled fruit salads. Yields about 1-1/2 cups.

or, combine diced unpeeled apples, chopped celery and quartered dates. Toss with whipped cream, French dressing or mayonnaise thinned with little lemon juice. Spoon-into-lettuce cups.

Toss together sliced ham, turkey and carrots, unpeeled apple wedges, broken salad greens, and chopped parsley with thousand island dressing.

Blend together diced unpeeled apples, shredded carrots, salted peanuts, raisins and finely chopped cabbage with mayonnaise or French dressing. Serve on salad greens.

Sears, Roebuck and Co. will spend $60 million on newspaper advertising

CHICAGO — Sears, Roebuck and Co. expects to spend more than $60 million for newspaper advertising this year, the company has announced.

George H. Struthers, vice president in charge of merchandising, gave this estimate based on preliminary reports and forecasts for the remainder of 1963 from more than 750 Sears retail stores across the nation.

At the same time, he reported actual expenditures in 1962 established a new record of $58 million for newspaper advertising. This was $5 million more than the 1961 expenditure, he said, and represented the fourth consecutive year that Sears newspaper advertising has topped $50 million.

Struthers noted that in 1962 the company's retail stores purchased 286.5 million lines of white space in 921 daily and weekly newspapers — located in every state except Alaska, where Sears has no retail stores. Linage increased 7.9 per cent over 1961, he said, while the cost of space increased 9.4 per cent.

The $58 million represented 71.2 per cent of Sears total retail media expense of $81.4 million. Advertising through circulars, magazines, radio and television and miscellaneous media accounted for the remainder. Sears continuing expansion program has resulted in a steady increase in the use of newspaper advertising, Struthers pointed out. The number of Sears stores has increased from 625 in 1948 to a total of 748 at the end of 1962. In addition to this increased number of stores, nearly 200 new stores have been built to replace older, smaller stores.

In the same 15 years, Sears stores have invested more than $600 million in newspaper advertising. And the company's sales have doubled — from $2.3 billion in 1948 to $4.6 billion in 1962.

This is tangible evidence of our continuing faith in the potency of newspaper advertising," Struthers said.

"From the day Sears opened its first retail store," he said, "the company has made greater and greater use of newspapers. It is obvious that Sears store managers continue to regard the newspaper as their major medium for more than historical reasons. Their evaluation is based on the day-to-day results in their stores." Sears has previously announced plans to spend approximately $100 million for expansion this year. It plans to open 27 new retail stores, including 17 in communities which have no retail stores and 10 which will replace older stores with new and larger buildings.

Lincoln Station

By Roger L. Gordon

Christmas has come and gone and the word from the young folks is that since we didn't have any snow for Santa's Reindeer, he used a helicopter this year. Christmas day was a very pleasant one at Lincoln, a high of 51 degrees reported.

Mr. Ira D. Gilbert's mother visited the Gilbert family over the Christmas holiday. She is from Paduca, Tex.

Many of the families traveled to spend Christmas with friends or relatives. There are always a few who cannot leave on our holidays. These are the families of the men who have to work and keep the Lincoln Compressor Station running. A special thanks, I believe is in order, to these men. They are unable to spend Christmas eve and Christmas morning with their families.

The evidence of prosperity among our personnel is quite evident this year. A lot of new niceties are noticed among the old and young people.

Quite a rare gift for this day and age was received by the Hervol youngsters. Richard and Lucy received a bicycle built for two.

A New Years Eve dance will be held again this year at the Lincoln Station Recreation Hall. Friends of the personnel at this location are invited.

A HAPPY, HEALTHY, and PROSPEROUS New Year to all of you from all of us at El Paso Natural Gas Co., Lincoln Compressor Station.

GOOD LOOKING SIGNS — Ernest McDaniel (right), District equipment operator, on of Upper Hondo Conservation District signs.

Conservation highway signs go up

The Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District recently erected District road signs at three district boundary locations in south-central New Mexico.

These attractive signs measure 4 by 5 feet and are made of heavy 20-gauge steel with green and white baked enamel and read "Entering Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District" on one side and "Leaving Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District" on the other side.

The signs were purchased from the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and are used throughout the country to remind travelers, and local people, of the existence of soil conservation districts.

One of the signs was placed on Highway 70-390 at about the Chaves-Lincoln County line; another on Highway 70, just beyond the Ruidoso turnoff, near the Otero-Lincoln County line and the third one on Highway 380 between Capitan and Carrizozo.

MERIT STUDENTS

Should register for competition

All 1965 graduates of Carrizozo High School who wish to enter the 1964-65 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, V. J. Marr, principal, announced today.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the school at 9 a.m., Tuesday, March 10, 1964.

Students who will complete secondary school in 1965 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1964-65 Merit Program.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee on the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult V. J. Marr.

Awards in the Merit Program are granted on the basis of intellectual merit, but student financial needs determine the amount of individual stipends. The stipends are renewable each year without further testing.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college, Marr stated.

After the test, each participating student receives a Handbook for Merit Program Participants, prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency. The Handbook is designed to help students understand their individual test results, to make comparisons with scores of high school students across the country, and to use this information in making educational and vocational plans. Thus, Marr said, students can learn more about their educational strengths and weaknesses, whether or not they plan to attend college.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, about 175 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program. A considerable number of other scholarship agencies utilize the service of NMSC in awarding their scholarships.

NMSC was established in 1963 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. An additional Ford Foundation grant to extend the Merit Program through 1970 was announced in 1962.

In the period 1956-63, about 7500 students have received Merit Scholarship awards and thousands of other high-scoring students have been assisted in obtaining financial aid from other sources.

ASSESSOR'S NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS IN LINCOLN COUNTY

It is again time to remind property owners to render their taxes for 1964. Many have already attended to this when they were in Carrizozo to pay their taxes — which saves time and worry in remembering dates when the Assessor will be in their locality. A 5% penalty is charged after March 1st, 1964. Also veterans do not receive their exemptions if they fail to bring their Eligibility Certificates when rendering property taxes and sign for the Exemption on the Tax Schedule — and have their Certificates signed.

Fair rendering of property by every property owner would make our taxes lower — and make us proud we are taking a part in helping to run our County Government and schools.

We should render our house held furniture even though we do not own a house but have our own furniture — value furniture according to the price — if you do not have new furniture value it at 1/3 of the cost. A new house and new furniture should be rendered a little different; a new home at 1/3 the cost and furniture at 1/10 of the house cost. Grazing lands are to be valued at $1.62 or $1.73 an acre according to location. Irrigated lands should be put on the tax roll at $66.00 an acre. Lots should be valued at $100.00 and up. Machinery, equipment, fences, pipe lines, (plastic & other) wind mills, pumps and livestock should be put on our Tax Rolls. — Livestock should be rendered at 98% of the head, this includes elk, race horses, pigs, saddle horses, cows, bulls, goats and sheep.

It is real important to check your Tax Schedule, and your properties to see what you are being taxed on and know if your charges have been made. This is especially important for Ruidoso residents. — We don't want to pay in 1964 for property you sold in 1963 — at the same time new owners want this in their names so tax problems won't cause trouble.

A wonderful new year is here!

I pray that everyone in Capitán had as much joy making Christmas stand out as I did viewing them. I know that many others have had joy too. Thanks a million. This month was a wonderful and a New Year is here. Joy to all of you.

Christmas Eve found me out scouting to find just more had happened to the lighting. Behold, I found Santa and his pack, climbing up the north porch among the greens and a lighted tree near him against the wall at Boney Zamora's. At the Cleaning shop a lighted tree outside and the light from a distance appeared as a Star. Macle Edmondson and Dixie Sparks home had a nice lighted tree. At the Hattie Lacy home on the north displayed in the large window was a ceramic nativity scene on a table properly placed on a table and well lighted. Beautiful. Cable lights at the Soderback home.

A lighted tree on the inside of the Lee Smith home at the picture window, Louise Ferguson also had a nice tree. The pretty lighted tree on the inside of D. Chavez home and the Methodist parsonage. The Pete Freeland lighted tree on the inside was cheering. At the Darling home lighting outside was added among the cedar with a life size picture of Santa and it appeared that he was beckoning to us. At the Will Rogers home Christmas motifs on the windows and a lighted tree told us a happy story. Marie Walker told the joy with a lighted tree inside at the large windows. Dee Hickman displayed a lighted slyer tree inside and out a lighted red wreath and below that the three wise men. Cable lights with green bulbs. The lighted luminarios at the James Howard home were beautiful.

At the Bill Edgar home a beautiful large red wreath surrounded with red light distanced apart. At the Fletcher home on north Hill the face of Santa surrounded by greens greeted us where it stood by a most beautiful lighted tree. Next to it the Burrage home displayed a lighted tree on the inside. Further on the Charlie Pepper's had a beautiful large lighted silver star inside of a large red wreath with holly berries and a red poinsettia above on the wreath and below on the window sill were green boughs and poinsettias were among them and on the fire place mantle were greens and lighted so beautifully placed. Truly was an enchanting sight and what an elated happy feeling it gave me. At the Shaw home a silver tree had been added.

New Years Greetings to Mrs. T. E. Kelley because we want her to enjoy them. This grarious, elderly teenager has all the spirit of the southwest twinkling in her eyes.

New Year Greetings to the Town of Corona where considerable progress has been made in providing a better water system and natural gas for the town.

We want this last set of New Year Greetings to include a lot of people - it does - all 357 who voted "yes" on the court house ballot. That vote is a real success story. Any town voting that united can't miss.

May each of you (plus the other seven) enjoy the most prosperous of New Years.

EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD

The seven wonders of the world were all man-made - marvels of human ingenuity and engineering genius. The eighth wonder of the world is nature's masterpiece - the magnificent limestone formations of Carlsbad Caverns, built drop-by-drop over millions of years.

Here is breathtaking beauty lavishly expressed in sculptured magnificence. The spectacle of awesome beauty attracts visitors from throughout the world to Carlsbad Caverns National Park. Nearly 11,000,000 visitors have toured the caverns since they were opened and they come by the thousands every month.

Here, too, man's ingenuity and engineering skill have been applied to make this majestic fairyland of exquisite beauty more easily accessible and enjoyable. Ingenious lighting, easy foot trails, express elevators, underground lunchroom, impressive visitors' center have complemented nature's handiwork and help to make the caverns New Mexico's number one tourist attraction.

A Happy New Year to Bernie Laabs and the Zozo Grizzlies. These state champions brought much honor and glory to Carrizozo, with more attending state-wide publicity than our town received for such items as new paving, new school, new courthouse, new park.

A Happy New Year to all law enforcement men, sheriff's department, town marshal, and state police. Carrizozo has no serious delinquency problem, and no local groups roving the country looking for trouble. Of the 150 Christmas trees set up around town, some were torn down, light strings cut, and bulbs stolen, but this was a minor problem and parents more to blame than the youngsters.

A Happy New Year to Lincoln County Commissioners, Charley Jones, Roman Nunes, and Kenneth Nosker. They are men who have spent most or all of their lives in this county and have a great faith in both its present and future.

A Happy New Year to Mr. Zip "Roy Harman". This was an unexpected piece of growth when the Carrizozo post office became distribution center for

THE IMPARTIALITY OF GOD

Partiality is common among men. Favoritism is an acceptable procedure. Impartiality is a rare virtue. Racial, political, religious and social issues engender partiality in man. However, "There is no respect of person" with God. He shows his impartiality in many ways—ways that all can see.

First, God shows impartiality by inviting all—every accountable person—to his blessings. In Jesus he says, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." (Matt. 11:28). This is an unlike man on his level, or those whom he considers to be his social equal. God has no equals. He is not controlled by such motives.

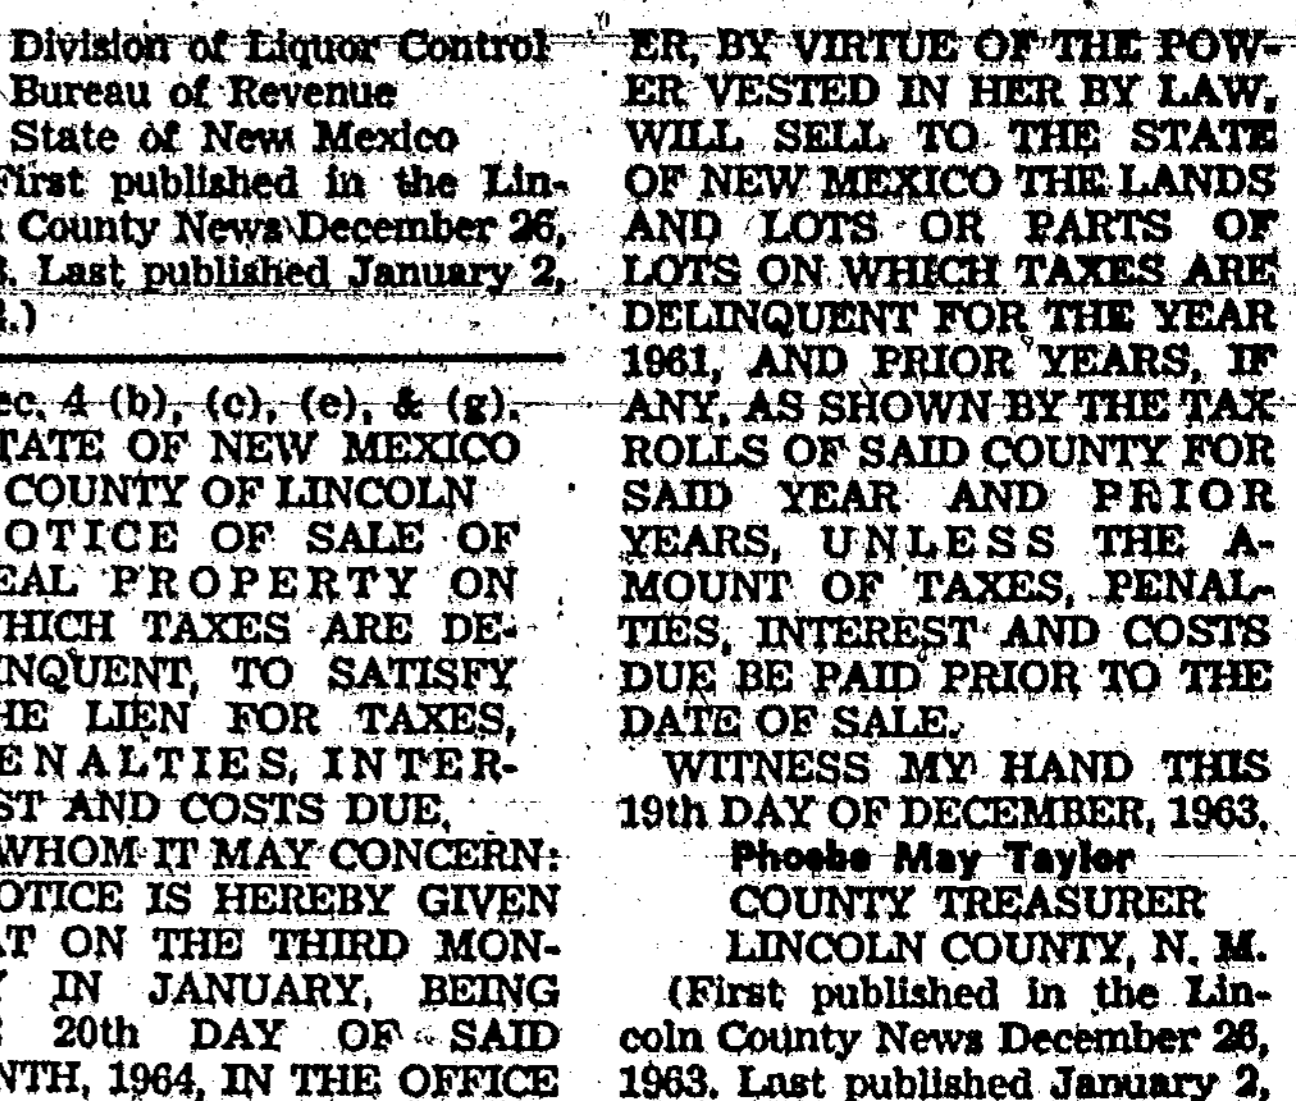

Secondly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all believe in his Son (Jn. 2:16; 3:24). Hence, no one can accuse God of allowing a mere or less desirable way to salvation to certain ones, or of favoring one nation or group above another.

Thirdly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all "love the lord" with all his heart, soul, and mind (Matt. 22:37). Love for God is not mushy sentimentality. It involves sturdy obedience (1 Jn. 5:3). Many a sentimentalist fails the test.

Fourthly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all obey his one gospel (Jn. 14:16; Heb. 5:8; Eph. 4:3). One must obey him to become a Christian (Mk. 15:15; Rom. 6:17; 2 Thes. 1:7-9), and must continue to obey him after becoming a Christian (Matt. 24:26).

Fifthly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all be members of his one church (Eph. 1:22, 23; 2:14-16; 4:4; 5:22-27). Each one, regardless of race or nation, must belong to God's one family (1 Tim. 2:15), and make the same sacrifice (Mk. 9:23) as everyone else, to be an heir of God's family blessings (Rom. 8:17).

Finally, God shows impartiality by demanding that all attend his worship (Heb. 10:24-26). Man needs the strength, edification and inspiration that comes through communion with God.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

It's time for us to wish each and every one a New Year filled with happy hours.

Thirdly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all "love the lord" with all his heart, soul, and mind (Matt. 22:37). Love for God is not mushy sentimentality. It involves sturdy obedience (1 Jn. 5:3). Many a sentimentalist fails the test.

Fourthly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all obey his one gospel (Jn. 14:16; Heb. 5:8; Eph. 4:3). One must obey him to become a Christian (Mk. 15:15; Rom. 6:17; 2 Thes. 1:7-9), and must continue to obey him after becoming a Christian (Matt. 24:26).

Fifthly, God shows his impartiality by demanding that all be members of his one church (Eph. 1:22, 23; 2:14-16; 4:4; 5:22-27). Each one, regardless of race or nation, must belong to God's one family (1 Tim. 2:15), and make the same sacrifice (Mk. 9:23) as everyone else, to be an heir of God's family blessings (Rom. 8:17).

Finally, God shows impartiality by demanding that all attend his worship (Heb. 10:24-26). Man needs the strength, edification and inspiration that comes through communion with God.
