

Will Harrison is lucky . . . he can appeal his case to higher court

WRITER SENTENCED TO DONA ANA JAIL

SANTE FE — A week ago this column was devoted to the approaching trial of this writer for contempt of court for writing about the case of Asst. Dist. Atty. C. N. (Bill) Morris of Carlsbad who killed five and injured five of a farm laborer's family while drunk driving and was given a suspended fine, assessed court costs of $500, and put on probation for a year pending final judgement of the court, by Judge Paul Tackett of Albuquerque.

We lost with Judge Tackett sentencing me a suspended fine, $250 court costs, and ten days in the Dona Ana county jail.

CASE SHIFTED TO HIGH COURT

The judgement was appealed to the New Mexico supreme court and meanwhile I am out on my own recognizance.

A pending jail sentence is about the most disconcerting thing possible to one who must go on with daily work, and defending one's self in court is costly, but it is really better that I was found guilty and the case transferred to the supreme court where it should be established once and for all what a citizen may say about the court.

DONT LIKE COMPARISON

The prosecution made much of the fact that I compared the case of the assistant district attorney who killed five humble people of the Gregorio Molina family and went free with the case of Elirio Trujillo, 20, of Santa Fe county, who killed three members of a prominent Santa Fe family while drunk driving and was sentenced to one to five years in the penitentiary, without mentioning that Trujillo had a record of previous offenses.

This was justified criticism. Perhaps Trujillo's record should have been cited. It was not, because it was impossible to compare it with any record of previous offenses the assistant district attorney might have had.

The record of the Morris trail shows that Tackett did not ask for his record before sentencing him to pay court costs and a year on probation.

DISLIKED REFERENCE TO BLACK FRIDAY

The court also castigated me for referring to the ominous Black Friday date of my trial.

That might have been bad taste on my part and if it was offensive to others I apologize. I was trying to ridicule my own sorry situation of going to trial before the same judge who accused me with no limit on how long the sentence or how much the fine the court could impose. Anyway, I was sentenced to jail for writing about a prosecuting attorney who was not sentenced for killing five people while drunk driving.

TRUMAN SPEAKS FOR JOE ONLY

The Harry Truman dinner in Albuquerque Saturday is a Joe-Montoya-only affair that has set off grumbling by others who are also running on the Democratic ticket.

The $25-dinner which promises to be the biggest event of the campaign year was set up to raise money for Montoya's run against Republican Sen. Ed Mechem.

Other candidates are not only cut out of the money from the dinner but might have trouble getting recognition at the affair.

THE HEAD TABLE IS A PROBLEM

As this was written the dinner managers were trying to work out the head table problem.

If they provided seats for all the incumbent state officials that would include Land Commissioner Johnny Walker who is a candidate for Congress and none for his opponent, Fabian Chavez; a seat for Corporation Commissioner G. V. Falls and none for his opponent Bob Valdez.

And if they cut out the little officials below the governor the displeasure would be multiplied.

$20,000 IN SIGHT FOR MONTOYA FUND

Ticket sales are indicated at more than a thousand which should net something like $20,000 for Montoya.

The $25-rate is for one diner, with $50 the cost for a couple. The $3 or $4 cost of the food, President Truman's expenses and the cost of bringing in a couple of senators for window dressing will be taken out of the proceeds.

Party officials acknowledged that there had been complaints from other candidates about the money going to Montoya instead of the party campaign fund but explained that Montoya needed the dough.

Over 100 tracksters here for Relays

The Grizzly Relays annually sees the best of Class B track competition in action on the Carrizozo track. This year the defending champion, T or C, will return in addition to Tulare, Socorro, Ruidoso, Capitán, Hagerman, Mescal, Estancia, Corona and possibly another team or two, and the hosts, the Zozo Grizzlies.

Cochi Darrel Bode reports the track is in fair condition but that a nice rain (before Saturday) would help.

The Relays get underway Saturday, April 4, at 9:30 starting with the 120 high hurdles.

Ten new records were set last year and one record tied.

Morning events are the high hurdles, 100 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 180 low hurdles, 220 yard dash, five quarter for finals. Three field event finals are in the morning, three in the afternoon.

The 440 relay opens the afternoon session promptly at 1:00.

Crusade to concentrate on volunteer training

The annual American Cancer Society Crusade to save more lives through research, education and service was launched in Lincoln County on April 1.

County publicity chairman Alleen Lindamood of Alto said preparation for this year's crusade will concentrate on more effective training of volunteers to do the door-to-door bell ringing which is so important in raising funds and educating the public in ways to protect themselves from death from cancer.

All those wishing to volunteer "in this vital struggle against possible death from cancer" are urged to contact Mrs. Lou Horton or Mrs. Daley Davis of Ruidoso, Mrs. A. N. Spencer of Carrizozo or Alleen Lindamood of Alto.

The Society's No. 1 goal in the April Crusade will be saving those lives that are lost unnecessarily and that means getting everyone to a doctor in time for early detection and prompt treatment. Delay can be fatal. One's best protection against death from cancer is an annual health checkup. The annual checkup should be observed as regularly as a birthday.

The second goal will be to raise money for research, education and service. The hope of saving half of those who develop cancer rests in research, and with the growing number of scientists involved in it.

State Highway Department working in Corona area

The State Highway Dept. survey crew began work in the Corona area this week. C. A. Bankston, assistant engineer of surveys for the state road department, reported in Santa Fe today.

Bankston said the crew is surveying possible alignments for the proposed improvement of a six-mile stretch of State Road 42, beginning about six miles east of Corona and extending easterly toward U. S. 265.

Construction of the secondary road project is scheduled for the 1964-65 fiscal year which begins July 1. The work is estimated to cost about $400,000.

James A. Simpson is in charge of the survey crew, which expects to be in the area about 30 days.

Four men are on the Corona official ballot for councilmen for four-year terms. Two will be elected. In the race are Ernest Yandell, incumbent, John E. Tracey, Myron (Colton) Yancey, and O. S. Simmons. Holdover councilmen are Bill Winchester and Ernest Lueras. William (Bill) Kessler has the mayor race all to himself. Jim Wherry had announced for mayor but withdrew. The election is April 7 at the Corona town hall.

Race to Captain
Joseph Bert Cheney and Johnnie Annarotone are both campaigning for the 2-year term as councilmen in the Village of Capitán. J. P. Randle and Fred W. Effington are going for 4-year terms as councilmen where two will be elected.

The lone mayor candidate is Gerald Dean, Sr. Mr. A. Huey is on the ballot for police magistrate. This election will be from 9:00 to 7:00 at the Capitán City Hall on April 7.

Zero will elect two of three
E. (Chevo) Baca, Jete Voss and T. B. (Boater) Smoot have filed as candidates for four-year terms on the Carrizozo Town Council. Two will be elected.

Voss was appointed mayor and finished out his councilman term in the mayor's chair. Smoot was appointed to fill the vacancy on the council.

Vernon Petty is on the ballot for mayor. There are three candidates for police magistrate. The incumbent, R. L. Sherrill, Tony Beltran and Ellis J. French.

60-mile tour covers Apache range land

A 60 mile tour of the 710 section Mesalero Apache Cattle Growers Association range has been scheduled for April 23, according to Frank Burris, manager of the association.

Visitors and buyers are invited to join the auto cavalcade at the Mesalero agency office at 7:00 a.m. in Mesalero. Seven stops will be made along the tour to survey conditions of grassland and livestock. A noon-day chuck wagon meal will be served at one of the stops.

More than 800 are expected to attend the tour. The association owns more than 6500 head of cattle.

Contract awarded for construction of new post office building at Corona

Construction of the new post office at Corona, was further advanced yesterday with the announcement by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski that a contract has been awarded to PDSIG, Inc.; Vaughn, to build and rent the building to the Post Office Department.

"We are continuing to build new post offices where they are needed," Mr. Gronouski said, "but we are constantly re-assessing our lease construction program to determine whether present buildings can be altered or remodeled to take care of our expanding volume of mail.

The construction program is being concentrated in those areas where the need is urgent and suitable space cannot be obtained except through new construction.

"We have about 45,000 post office locations throughout the country, handling a volume of 66 billion pieces of mail a year. By 1970 it is expected to rise to 90 billion. It is clear, therefore, that we must re-double our efforts, not only in expanding our capacity but also in developing new postal techniques to meet the demands of our growing population."

Under the Department's Lease Construction program PDSIG, Inc., will construct the new building on the northwest corner of Thompson Ave. and U. S. Highway 54 and rent it to the Department for five years.

The Department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment, while the building remains under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

"This formula," Mr. Gronouski said, "utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise for needed postal buildings."

The new post office as Corona will have an interior space of 1,112 square feet, with an area of 5,008 square feet for parking and movement of vehicles.

The Lincoln County Rural Area Development met in the Capitán School Lunch room on the evening of March 30. Many items of economic interest to Lincoln County were discussed and ideas advanced for furthering economic growth within the county. It is hoped to continue the freezer forecasts this year for fruit growers of the valley. This has been annually sponsored over the Roosevelt T. V. station by the Citizen State Bank at Carrizozo and the growers state has been very helpful. It is hoped to be able to move these meetings around the county to where more citizens can take part in them. Anyone who wishes to attend if they will ask county agent Ralph Dunlap to include their names on mailing lists, they will receive notice of the time and place of next meeting. These are open to people of every vocation and everyone interested in the county and its development are urged to attend. (Continued on back page)

Quality education is state goal

Gov. Jack M. Campbell called for quality education at the most economical cost Tuesday as the 1964-65 New Mexico school budget hearing opened in the local court house.

"The process being commenced here today is the most important public responsibility we exercise," the governor said. "It involves the development of our school children. It involves substantial amounts of funds received from the taxpayers of the state."

"We have the responsibility to provide quality education, something that's not always easy to identify," he said. "We need to do it by providing curricula and programs to give the youngsters the basic training to develop their own talents. This is the real basic need. "We have the responsibility to provide quality instruction and it can only come from good teachers," he continued. "To get good teachers we have to maintain our position in the competitive market."

"Unless we are able to get good teachers, and keep them, it makes no difference how good a basic curriculum we have," Campbell said.

All school budgets were reviewed with only slight reduction from their original plan, which showed that local boards had put considerable time and study into their preparation.

New salaries will range from $4,700 for a B.A. Degree, to $5,000 for an M.A. Degree, in the Ruidoso and Carrizozo schools. Hondo and Capitán only slightly lower. Most schools made an increase of $100 to $200 in their overall salary schedules.

Carrizozo school has resources of $339,442 of which $60,000 was a gift from the Spencer family. The total operational budget is $229,748, total expenditures set at $336,759, leaving an emergency fund of $10,156.

Ruidoso and Hondo will join to provide their own school nurse. Capitán, Corona, and Carrizozo will provide the cost of County Nurse Alma Bradley's travel expense, plus paying for supplies needed and she will serve only the 3 schools. This will allow her more time for school nurse care, and all five schools will have better nurse care.

Thank God, not one of our family was hurt

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Farris, whose daughter, Mrs. Jack Garrett and niece Mrs. Melvin Crall both live at Anchorage received the following air mail letter from their daughter, Wednesday morning.

Anchorage
Easter Sunday

Dear Mom and Dad,

You have received Jack's note by now and know we are alive. Thank God not one of our family got killed. It was the worst thing anyone can imagine. When it started I called the kids and we ran out and fell flat in the yard. The noise was something you could never imagine. Our whole street is going to fall in the railroad yards. A big crack opened right under my knee and we thought we would go in and be buried. Many people and homes were. The clothes on our backs is all we have. We are staying with Buddy and Fumiro till we can decide what to do. They live-out in a flat place and their house was not hurt.

Oh! My this is terrible. Big buildings right in town crumbled like J. C. Penny. Some just fell into the ground. Where we were I saw a half house and hill fall. Huge cracks in the frozen ground open up like a thousand shotgun blasts.

Jack was in our car about fifty feet up our street. The wind was awful and crashing sounds were everywhere. The whole school where Davy goes was buried. Thank God school was out.

Mary and Melvin are o.k. He was in the post office and got out o.k. Their part of town was not hurt. They say this was worse than the one in San Francisco years ago.

We slept last night but the rest of the time we all sat and every little while another tremor came and we prepared to run out and lie flat with the kids. We lay down with coats on ready to run.

It took us about an hour and a half to get out here to Buddie's house. The streets are all blown up and people by the hundreds were running like ants. I guess you all have read papers and heard on the radio all about this.

Whole families were separated. The president is sending help. Our camper is sitting in our yard but the Civil Defense won't let us get it because the whole area is liable to cave in. We got back in our house yesterday morning and they ran us out. We grabbed some blankets and a few cans of food. There's a crack clear through our basement and it looks like it was stirred with a spoon.

They say this is worse than the atomic blast in Japan during the war.

We are not hurt. My knee was hurt a little when the ground cracked under me. We are mostly in a state of shock and fear. I just talked to our preacher and will get a change of clothes today. Don't you all worry. We are alive and will make it o.k. now, I will write again and let you know all along how we make out.

Love to both,
Sis and family

Otero County State Bank appoints Richard B. Bauer as trust officer

Mr. Ted Bonnell, president of the Otero County State Bank, announces the appointment of Richard B. Bauer as trust officer, effective April 6.

A native of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, Mr. Bauer is a graduate of Michigan State University and the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Mr. Bauer previously served as Trust Officer of the Richland Trust Company in Mansfield, Ohio, and most recently has been engaged in private law practice in Saginaw, Michigan.

Mr. Bonnell further stated that Mr. and Mrs. Bauer and their three children will arrive in Alamogordo soon. They expect to take an active part in the community.

The Otero County State Bank was granted Trust Powers in their original charter in 1912, however they had not been used until August 23, 1960, when the bank actively opened their trust department.

Since the inception of the trust department, the senior officers have taken care of this with their other duties, but the tremendous growth has demanded the need for a trust officer. In today's business, so many of the area residents are taking advantage of the tax and management values offered by trust instruments managed by a competent trust department.

The trust department is now handling numerous estates, guardianships, living trusts, municipal trusts and court trusts.

The bank is happy to welcome Mr. Bauer and his family into the banking family in order that we may render further banking services with a qualified trust officer.

N.M. Extension has 50th birthday

New Mexico State University's Cooperative Extension Service observes its fiftieth anniversary this year.

The New Mexico legislature authorized New Mexico State University to set up cooperative extension work in the state in 1914. On September 1, A. C. Cooley was appointed as the first extension director in New Mexico. County agent work in the state was begun in October of that year with a nucleus of four men.

P. D. Southworth became the first county agent in New Mexico when he was appointed to Luna County on October 3, 1914. Later that month three other agents were appointed.

Home demonstration work was started in New Mexico with the appointment of Miss Dora Edna Ross as state demonstrator later in 1914. This pioneer worker did her work through home visits and teacher's institutes.

Special clubs for women interested in studying home problems were first organized by Miss Gall Richie in 1915. By 1916, Miss Richie had organized 25 groups of women in the state; however, no county home demonstration agents were employed at that time.

When war was declared in the spring of 1917, there was immediate demand for assistance in the food conservation program which resulted in the appointment of 12 temporary district home economics demonstrators. These emergency workers paved the way for establishment of a permanent county home demonstration program.

On August 1, 1917, Mrs. Wilma D. E. Hoyal became the first county home demonstration worker in New Mexico when she was appointed to a position in Colfax County. Later that year Mrs. Carrie Paden Phelps was employed in Grant County and Miss Lucille Woodward in Chavez County.

Extension work conducted by New Mexico State University goes back even farther than the formal organization of the Service in 1914.

About 1900, New Mexico State University began conducting farmer's institutes. These institutes were continued "of and on" until 1914. From 1907 to 1909, the University employed a worker who spent time perfecting county farmer's institute societies in several counties in order to reach and help the rural people through them. But this work was discontinued in 1909.

In 1911, W. T. Conway, a member of the University faculty, was appointed superintendent of extension work, but he was able to do little work away from the University. In addition to his teaching, Mr. Conway answered extension correspondence and gave lectures on agriculture to county teacher's institutes during the summer. During 1912 and 1913, he also conducted some boys' and girls' club work.

Clever Fellow

Having dined in a restaurant with her husband, a woman missed her gloves when she was on her way out. Murmuring something to her husband, she hurried back to the table to look for them. Not seeing them on the table, she lifted the cloth and began to grub around on the floor.

Just then the waiter came up. "Pardon me, madam," he said, "but the gentlemen is over there by the door."

HEALTH FOR ALL

No truce for TB

Special days come, special weeks go. Some deal with portentious trifles, like "Don't Forget to Water the Rubber Plant Week." Others aim at some meaningful problem that presses upon a community, a nation or the world.

In the latter category is World Health Day. This annual event, sponsored by the U. N. World Health Organization (WHO), will be observed around the globe April 7. This year its theme is tuberculosis, with "No Truce for Tuberculosis" as its slogan. And it's a peculiarly fitting subject for 1964, the 60th anniversary of the world's largest, most active organization formed to combat TB — America's own National Tuberculosis Association.

In the 60 years of NTA's existence the TB death rate in the United States has fallen spectacularly from 188 to 5.4 per 100,000. But the present rate of nearly 10,000 fatalities shows clearly that the problem has been overcome. Infinitely worse, however, is the international picture, with an estimated world total of 15,000,000 sufferers from active TB and three to five million deaths each year.

For the vast progress achieved in our country we owe much to the relentless efforts of government health services, local, state and nation plus the voluntary associations, the Christmas Seal organization and its more than 2,100 afflicted groups actively fighting TB and other respiratory diseases.

Throughout their affiliation with the International Union Against Tuberculosis, all contribute their share to the worldwide struggle.

No area is really safe from tuberculosis with the disease continues to flourish anywhere in the world. From our own standpoint, as well as from the world view, we Americans have a practical interest in supporting World Health Day and helping the forces that struggle to roll back the international TB tide.

Repub congressmen visiting New Mexico

Three Republican Congressmen riding as modern-day "Paul Reveres" will visit Colorado, New Mexico and California during the week of March 30 to alert the people to what is happening in Washington under the Johnson Administration.

The three, all members of a GOP Congressional "Paul Revere" panel, are touring the area to warn their countrymen of impending dangers in U. S. foreign and domestic policies. Altogether, seven three-member panels will visit 17 states during the one-week period to carry the Republican message to the country.

The panel will visit Albuquerque, New Mexico on April 2. Chairman of the panel will be Congressman John B. Anderson of Illinois. He will be accompanied by Congressman H. Don Clausen of California and Robert Dole of Kansas.

Pointing out that this year marks the 183rd anniversary of Paul Revere's ride, Congressman Anderson said:

"We believe that the people of America should be told of the true situation that faces their country — both at home and abroad. Although our mode of transportation differs from Paul Revere's, our mission is as important today to the future of our nation as was his message to colonists in 1775.

"Among the subjects we will discuss are foreign policy, state of the economy, and the record and performance of President Johnson.

"We cordially invite the public to attend this meeting and we will be happy to answer questions from the audience at the conclusion of our brief presentation."

Highlands Day

observed April 10-11

LAS VEGAS, N. M. — Top high school journalists, business and drama students will check into the Highlands University campus April 10-11 to participate in the eighteenth edition of Highlands Day.

Three state-wide organizations — The State Commerce Club, The State High School Press Association, and the New Mexico Thespians Conference, will bring approximately 1300 students to the campus for programs which in each case are highlighted by Awards Banquets.

And, as has become traditional, the Highland University music and drama department will provide a Broadway musical for the visitors, this year the hilarious "Guys and Dolls."

By far the largest groups to attend will represent the Commerce Club. These students will take special tests under the direction of Dr. Robert Tussing, head of the business administration department, and will receive awards on the basis of these tests and on the basis of the year-long testing program that has been directed from Highlands by Miss Lillian Rogers of the business administration department.

The program for the drama students, called the Spring Drama Festival centered this year on the plays of Shakespeare and their production, is under the direction of Dr. Richard O'Connell, head of the drama division at Highlands. Adjudicator for the student presentations will be Mrs. Catherine Kennedy O'Connell, former director of the Albuquerque Little Theater.

The student journalists will not only attend meetings, workshops, and receive awards in the newspaper writing contests sponsored by Highland University's division of journalism, but will also record the events of Highlands Day in a special newspaper that they will write and edit under the student editorship of Joseph Murielita of Grants High School.

Speaker at the Press Awards banquet will be Will Harrison, noted New Mexico political commentator.

Awards Banquets for the journalists and the business students will be held Friday evening and for the drama students on Saturday evening.

Zumwalt reunion on Easter Sunday

The home of Mrs. Effie Zumwalt was the scene of a family reunion Sunday when Mrs. Zumwalt's children and grandchildren came to spend Easter with her.

They included: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blair and two sons, Kelsey, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Zumwalt, son and daughter, McMinnville, Ore.; Cliff Zumwalt, Carrizozo; Mr. and Mrs. Gill Peters, Mr. and Mrs. LaMoyan Peters, Captain; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Armstrong, Deming; Irene Lindsay and Ronald, Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lindsay and three children, Alamogordo; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Zumwalt, Jr., and five children, Carrizozo; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zumwalt and baby, O-O Ranch.

Friends who were also present were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Null and two sons, Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. Will Harrow and two children, Alamogordo; and Miss Ladell Hatch, Portales.

On Dean's honor list

University Park, N. M. Della Darlene Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Payne of Carrizozo is named on the Dean's Honor List for the fall semester at New Mexico State University's College of Arts and Science.

A freshmen majoring in secretarial science, she is a 1963 graduate of Tularosa High School. She holds a tuition scholarship.

Specialist gives garden hints

Sprouting gardeners are always on the lookout for sound advice. So Douglas Bryant, horticulturist with the Cooperative Extension Service of New Mexico State University, comes with these timely tips for backyard farmers:

Planting seed: It's now seed planting time for some of our plants that take several weeks to attain transplanting size and for tender crops started inside. Some of these may include asters, snapdragons, petunias, tomatoes, peppers, and eggplant. Seed can be planted inside in sterilized soil, fine sphagnum moss, clean sand or vermiculite. Sixty-five to seventy degree is a good starting temperature. Locate seeds flat in full sun as soon as germination starts.

Plant propagation by cuttings: A rooted cutting made from a portion of the stem or leaf will produce a plant identical to the parent. Rooting mediums should drain well, and be easy to use. Clean, sharp builders sand is one of the best mediums. A temperature of 70 degree at the base is good for quick rooting and the air temperature can be 5 to 10 degree cooler. The air should be kept quite humid. Polyethylene or glass covers are of much help in holding humidity high around the cuttings. Commercial propagators use mist applicators to a large extent to maintain humidity and obtain uniform rooting.

Pruning ornamental trees: Ornamental trees may need pruning to improve their appearance, to remove broken, diseased or dead wood, or to remove branches that are growing too low and may become a menace to people or property. Pruning stimulates growth made early in the growing season, Bryant advises. Spring flowering trees are best if pruned after blooming. Other trees should be pruned now after severe freezes are past but before growth begins.

Bonito Water

By Louise Coe Runnels

Spring days being so pretty, make me want to visit with everyone. I know lots of Lincoln County folks, and natives who read the News like to know about Bonito Canyon. Usually at Easter time the Bonito Creek is high and cars get stuck trying to go above the dam to picnic. This year the creek is surprisingly low, after about 70 inches of snow, and this was up in Alice Wright's country. Maybe yet we'll see the spillway run over Bonito Dam.

Easter Sunday found several camps and cabins filled for the holidays. The Tommy LaMay and Lloyd Coe families had an egg hunt and picnic up in Philadelphia Canyon.

Enjoying themselves, from Jal, were the John Smiths and guest Saretta Crawford. They stayed in the Jal Dude cabin. Bud, Kenny and Bobby Dan Crenshaw were on the Bonito Saturday.

The Charlie Elam family, Joe Coe, Smiths, Runnels, and Ross Coe had an old-time get-together at the Bule Hole Easter Sunday.

The Harvey Talley family at Bonito Lake had relatives and friends for Easter.

On Easter evening we saw planes circling overhead and police cars were going up and down Bonito Canyon. Monday morning we learned that a Boy Scout had been lost in Monjou country, but had spent the night in a mine somewhere up the Bonito and was in good shape when some searchers in a Jeep picked him up.

Fred Sweet and family were here from Alamo some weeks ago to see about his father's house. Fred and his sisters, Mona and Fern plan to sell house and land.

Joe and Bonnie Coe and two sons spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Runnels, before leaving early Tuesday for their new home in Silver City. All their belongings and beds were packed in a big van. We will miss them. Joe is being transferred to another Community Public Service job.

Qualifications are 1 year in the state, 90 days in the county and 30 days in the precinct. A lot of tax money is spent to make registration and voting possible — every citizen should take advantage of helping our government be better.

Summer seems to be here or very near. The last few days have been warm and little wind. The grass is starting to green and our neighbors should not have to feed too much longer.

A lad once asked Mozart how to write a symphony. Mozart said, "You're a very young man. Why not begin with ballads?" The aspirant urged, "You composed symphonies when you were 10 years old."

"Yes," replied Mozart, "but I didn't ask 'how?'"

IT'S TRUE!

YOU

— And we mean you people living in Lincoln County where the News circulates in Alto, Ancho, Bonito, Capitan, Claunch, Corona, Hondo, Lincoln, Lincoln Station, Nogal, and Tinnie . . . with the best coverage by the best correspondents and reporters in the State of New Mexico.

SAVE

— And we do mean "save". If advertising was worth anything to you a year ago, it's worth a lot more now. The News added 400 new subscribers last October and — most pleasing of all — we have continued to gain new subscribers continuously since the campaign closed.

MORE

— More could mean "more than nothing" but at the News "more" means something. It means that your ads get the best of layout service, that they are carried in a newspaper full of live, local news, it means that our ad rate is very much in line.

ON

— What are you spending your advertising money on? New? Mailing pieces, give-away pencils, match books, school annuals, etc., etc.? The News knows (also knows news) that its advertising can succeed only with those merchants who have faith in their town and in their newspaper. These merchants know what helps their profit picture. How about your business? Want some help from your local newspaper?

YOUR

— Much like taxes . . . your advertising money is being spent now by other people. Every company you deal with is spending advertising money . . . part of it yours. Would you rather see an advertisement for you in your local paper, read by all your customers, or an ad in some other newspaper, radio, or TV.

EDITORIAL

"A page for independent thought"

Needed: a Paul Revere
By Dwight Payton

Now and then one comes across news articles, flashes of editorials analysis and documented reports which strike cold fear into the heart and makes one wonder at the great, luxury-surfleited, apathetic college-creamed mass of inertia that is the American people today. Makes one want to follow example of Paul Revere, in riding throughout the countryside calling to all citizens to awaken to danger, and more, to take action before it is too late.

Consider these experts gleaned from recent newspaper columns and periodicals if you think this writer is a lone voice crying alarm.

May Craig, Washington correspondent, writing in U. S. News and World Report: "Unless there is a change, deep down, in the American people, a genuine crusade against self-indulgence, immorality, public and private, then we are witness to the decline and fall of the American Republic." The entire article, page-long, is a stark resume of our national ineptitude and decadence.

Henry J. Taylor, syndicated columnist: "We do not have a foreign policy; we have a catastrophe." And he goes on to delineate the tragic points and parts.

Alice Weidener, columnist: "I feel compelled to state that our allies are not only beginning to doubt our willingness to defend them from Red aggression, but are seriously questioning whether we will defend ourselves from it."

And, writing as if in summation for all the above, Dan Smoot, in his March 23 Dan Smoot report says this: "It has been obvious for years that communists, hidden in key government jobs, have been directing American foreign policy. Look at the known record of communists in government. Examine also the consequences of American foreign policy.

"All over the world, American foreign policy has helped communists capture nations. For example: Algeria, Cambodia, China, Ghana, Indonesia, Laos, North Vietnam, Tibet, Zanzibar! Not to mention a complete tier of nations in Europe, from the Baltic to the Adriatic, which American policy helped communists conquer and enslave following World War II. And not to mention many other nations like.

Pakistan, whose governments once strongly-American and anti-communist, have been driven, by American foreign policy, into the arms of communists and into hatred of America!

On the other hand, I defy anyone to name one nation which American foreign policy has wrenched from communist control or led into stronger friendship for America-although our policy has been 'justified' with arguments that it would save the world from communism, and has cost American taxpayers so many billions of dollars that our national government is on the verge of bankruptcy."

Our state department has been a sacred cow for the past thirty years while this unbelievable record has been established. Recently the Senate Subcommittee came across a memorandum submitted by Scott McLeod (then Administrator of the State Department's Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs now deceased). "On the department rolls are some 800 individuals concerning whom the office of security has information which raises... questions as to possible past communist activity or associations, false statements, immoral conduct, homosexuality, intoxication, mental defects, etc. All have been cleared as qualified for access to classified information.

As of now there has been absolutely nothing done about the 800, unless they have been promoted and given increases in salary and access to even more top-secret information.

Today we need ten thousand Paul Reveres to alert the citizenry. One start is to let all candidates for Congress know that they will lose votes if they do not stand forthrightly for serious, relentless, thoroughgoing investigation of the State Department.

Southwestern Regional Science Fair has long list of special awards

Prizes ranging from two expense-paid trips to the National Science Fair in Baltimore to a set of encyclopedias await the winners of various categories in the Southwestern Regional Science Fair at New Mexico State University in Albuquerque, April 4.

Approximately 125 high school and junior high students from Catron, Grant, Hidalgo, Luna, Sierra, Dona Ana, and Otero Counties are expected to compete in the fair in the Chemistry building at NMSU. Competition opens at 10:00 a.m. and judging continues until 1:00 p.m. The remainder of the afternoon the exhibits will be open to the public view.

Awards and prizes will be given at the Awards Banquet in the Hubert Room of Milton Student Center on the campus.

Top prizes are the two trips to the National Science Fair, May 6-9. They will also exhibit at the New Mexico Science Fair in Socorro April 10 and 11.

Several other students will also be asked to exhibit in the state fair and awarded state qualifier ribbons. Among special awards to be given is the Navy Science Cruiser Award to the first place male exhibitor in the Senior Division. He will be guest of the U. S. Navy for a science-oriented cruise and tour of about one week during the summer. Two alternates for this award will receive certificates of achievement.

The New Mexico Dental Assn. will give awards in both the Senior and Junior Divisions. A $25 government bond will be given the student placing first in the Senior Division. The awardee's school will receive a $50 cash award for the purchase of equipment.

The Dental Assn. will give second and third place winners in the Senior Division certificates of achievement. They will also give $10 cash to the first place winner in the Junior Division (grades 7-9). Second and third place winners here will also receive certificates of achievement.

the temperature on all three steel walls is equalized to make sure that the two legs meet at the top.

Hollow Legs
The Arch will be made of 5,119 tons of steel and 6,238 cubic yards of concrete. The foundations, measuring 54 feet along each side at the base and tapering to 17 feet at the top, are sunk 60 feet below the ground, 30 feet into bedrock. The hollow walls of the legs will be filled to the 300 foot level with 12,127 tons of reinforced concrete, making the arch so stable that the pinnacle will deflect only 18 inches in a 150 m. p.h. wind.

When the Arch is finished eventually in 1965, some three million visitors each year will ride to the top in an unusual train-barrel shaped cars strung together like beads on a chain.

Water specialist named supervisor

Carter P. Qualls is to be the new supervisor of the Roubt National Forest at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, according to Southwestern Regional Forester Fred H. Kennedy of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service. Qualls, presently chief of the branch of Multiple Use and Watershed management in the Regional office division of Watershed management, will assume his new duties April 12. A 1948 forestry graduate of Michigan State University, the new Forest Supervisor obtained a Master of Science degree in Range Management at the University of California in 1949. Upon graduation he joined the Southwestern Region as Junior Forester on the Kaibab National Forest. He held positions as Assistant District Ranger and District Ranger in Arizona and New Mexico and Forest Staff Officer on the Cibola National Forest in Albuquerque, before accepting the watershed position in the Regional Office.

For the past four years, the Branch Chief has been responsible for formulating Multiple Use Management Plans for each of the 82 Ranger Districts in the Southwestern Region and for planning of watershed projects on 21 National Forests and the Panhandle National Grasslands in the Southwestern Region.

Qualls succeeds John C. Miller who is moving to the Division of Range Management in the Rocky Mountain Regional Office, Denver.

Residents of Albuquerque since July 1958, Carter and Miller Qualls have made their home at 3809 Calle del Monte N. E. They have one married daughter, Rita Taylor, in Montgomery, Alabama.

A smooth 10-hour trip put Paul and Eleanor well up in north central Kansas to spend the Easter weekend with Mrs. T. G. O'Donnell, Kathleen and Marian, and the Dwight Payton family. Think we've made a deal with Dwight Payton, more than 25 years a Kansas editor and author of "Needed: a Paul Revere" editorial in this issue, to publish the Lincoln County News a couple of weeks while Paul and Eleanor go to the world's fair. Dwight recently sold his Ellsworth paper and is being in no hurry about buying another. He will come to Carrizozo, work three days putting out the News, then spend the next four days in Ruidoso making his wages.

Under a head of "It takes all kind of people" we report from the daily press — A judge has ruled that Mrs. John Chapman of Los Angeles "the type of whom martyrs were made" can never attend her church again. Mrs. Chapman, 41, was accused of deliberately singing off key, loudly, and making faces at the pastor during services at Mar Vista Baptist church. Concluded the judge, "Mrs. Chapman did disturb the church in its worship and activities. Were she permitted to return, though she intends well, she would again (in the absence of change in church leadership and control) disturb it.

After reading "National Wildlife" April-May issue we've concluded Carrizozo and Lincoln County has a ready-made tourist stop they have overlooked ever since the gravel on U. S. 54 was blacktopped. An article "End of the rockhound's rainbow" brings to mind that Lincoln County has the "most" rocks, and a display of the "most" would make for wide interest.

About the best publicity job, making something out of nothing, has been done by Greensburg, Kansas, over the past several years. All the town of Greensburg has is a moderate sized hole in the ground. A dandy publicity job stops thousands of tourists each year to see the world's largest hand-dug well. As a whole, it's pretty common.

St. Louis arch to be tallest structure

Soaring 630 feet into the sky, the country's highest and most novel national monument — a gleaming steel arch crowned with observation platform — is under construction in St. Louis. It will cost $11,500,000 and will be 75 feet taller than the Washington monument.

By early 1965, according to the Reader's Digest, the huge Gateway Arch for the Jefferson Expansion Memorial will be open to the public. Passenger cars, balanced to keep riders on an even keel, will carry visitors up the long, slender arms of the arch to the top and back.

Famous Designer
Designed by world famous architect, Eero Saarinen, it is the only arch of its size and shape ever built, and its construction is a dramatic and unique engineering problem, declared Clifford B. Hicks in an article entitled "The Incredible Gateway Arch."

Two foundations have been constructed, the width of two football fields apart. Prefabricated steel sections will now be placed on top of one another until they are joined at the peak of the arch. Dimensions are so critical that continual surveying is done at night when
