Dedication, openhouse at new school Sunday

School patrons of Carrizozo school district are invited to attend dedication services for the new Carrizozo school at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, August 23.

This new building is unusual in many ways and patrons will have the opportunity to view the new faculty immediately following the dedication. Under the one roof are quarters for cafeteria, home economics, music, library, English classes and elementary science class rooms.

The dedication program will open with musical prelude by the Carrizozo band, directed by Arnold Boyce. Glen Ellison, principal, will preside during the ceremonies.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Conrad Nugent, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. John L. McCollum, elementary school principal, will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Mayor Vernon Petty is scheduled for remarks, followed by music from the high school clarinet quartet composed of: Beth Flynt, Paula Pherigo, Nancy Lawson, and Glenda Ellison.

John A. Hightower, president of the Board of Education, will introduce the board members. Presentation of special guests will be by J. T. Clegg, superintendent of schools.

The guest speaker is Charles H. Wood, executive secretary of N. M. Education Association.

A community chorus composed of Veda Lou Stephenson, Maxine Roberts, Joyce McCollum, Helen Lock, Pinkie Ruth, Rickerson, Elizabeth MacVeigh, Rev. Walter Greaser, Ray Wells, Marion Pherigo, Paul Payton, Buddy Groves, and Vernon Petty will sing "Bless This House."

Supt Clegg will direct the guests for the open house part of the program. The benediction will be given by Rev. John Rebold, Santa Rita Catholic Church.

Corona school faculty complete

Bob Buchanan, superintendent of Corona Schools, stated this week that their faculty has been completed with the hiring of a second grade teacher, Mrs. Jessie Alford who comes from Amistadt, N. M. and Ron Salughter from Wink, Texas, who will be head high school teacher, and teach social studies and science. The new sixth grade teacher and elementary principal, is Dick Purcell, of Andrews, Texas.

Corona school opens Monday, August 24 running until 1:00 p.m. and a full day of school on Tuesday. An enrollment of 225 is expected.

There will be an all-school picnic for students and parents at Red Cloud Canyon on Sunday, August 23, at 1:00 p.m.

C of C meeting tonight

Mr. J. H. Fulmer has called a special meeting of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce for Thursday (tonight) at 7:00 p.m. in the city hall, at which time eleven directors will be elected.

Three hiway accidents keep "Powder" busy

Three minor traffic accidents kept State Policeman Powder Knoblock busy over the weekend.

Mr. Daniel C. McIntyre of Alamogordo was going south on US 54, from Albuquerque to Alamogordo, Saturday afternoon, when after coming to a stop at intersection US 54 and US 380 (Monte Vista and Four Winds), he pulled into the road and side swiped a 1964 Pontiac heading west, driven by Carrol D. Ford of T or C.

Mr. McIntyre was cited for failure to yield right of way. No one was injured.

A warning citation for failure to use due care, was issued to Leslie Ray Taylor of Union City, California, after he fell asleep at the wheel, causing his 1962 Buick stationwagon to run off the right side of the road hitting a slide post, about 3:30 a.m. Sunday 10 miles east of Carrizozo on US 380.

Taylor and his four passengers who were en route to visit an aunt in Carlsbad were not hurt.

Damage to the Buick was estimated at between $600 and $800.

About $200 damage was done to the front of a 1957 Chevrolet driven by Masario Marquez of Carrizozo as a result of a car-pickup collision at the intersection of Aspen and US 380 Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

Joe Leal, driver of a 1950 Chevy pickup, was cited for passing at an intersection, after he attempted to pass the west-bound Marquez vehicle, which was making a left turn. Damage to the pickup was only slight.

Communication Problem

Now it turns out a space-gal showed up on earth—this time smack in the middle of the Congo. "Can you please," she asked of a native, "take me to your leader?"

"Mobutu or Lumumba?" "I said, take me to your leader!" answered the gal. "We'll dance later!"

EXTRA WATER — Carrizozo town wells have been dropping during the dry days and the council has purchased the McBride well which pumped around 325 GPM on extended tests. Wayne Withers, utility manager, has his hand in the water, it's cold and has fine flavor. The town will extend water lines to this well if it becomes necessary. (News Photo)

INSIDE THE CAPITOL — By Will Harrison

AFL - CIO labor organization slams New Mexico Cattle Growers Assn.

SANTA FE — The state AFL-CIO labor organization which is backing Joe Montoya for the U. S. Senate took on trouble for itself and possibly Montoya in last week's labor convention in Albuquerque.

The organization slammed the big New Mexico Cattle Growers Assn. and allied agriculture groups, and voted for the defeat of Boston Witt, Demo nominee for attorney general.

There was immediate speculation on what effect the hell-grenade action would have on Montoya who is commonly identified with AFL-CIO in his run against Republican Sen. Ed Mechem.

WITT BEAT LABOR IN MAY PRIMARY

The labor organization isn't so strong as to be picking fights with the powerful agriculture groups or even Boston Witt.

The unionists tried to defeat Witt in the May primary with Emmett Hart of Tucuman and are now in an awkward position backing Republican Lawrence Prentice who is running on the same ticket with Mechem.

GAIN IN SANTA FE, TROUBLE IN VEGAS

Meanwhile Montoya won encouragement in Santa Fe and was confronted with trouble in San Miguel.

Frank Ortiz, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor with Mechem in 1952 and a former Santa Fe mayor, came out as an organizer for Montoya.

In San Miguel the followers of Dist. Atty. Tiny Martinez of Las Vegas consisting of practically half the Democrats in the county were threatening to sit out the election unless State Rep. Chief Gonzales is recognized as San Miguel Demo chairman.

Apples Duran is recognized as chairman by the state party organization and has the backing of statehouse officials and the Democratic congressional group.

NEEDS HIS VOTE IN SAN MIGUEL

Montoya needs a big vote in Spanish-American San Miguel to counter the racial vote against him expected in the eastern part of the state.

In the last congressional race, he scored in the county against Republican Jack Redman 4,549 to 3,389, and there was no Democratic split at the time.

The nine counties of heavy Spanish-American population — Guadalupe, Mora, Rio Arriba, Sandoval, Santa Fe, Socorro, Taos, Valencia and San Miguel — in 1962 voted 25,798 for Montoya and 23,382 for Redman.

15,000 MARGIN IS INDICATED

That was 60 per cent for Montoya.

If the same margin holds against Mechem, and if the counties turn out the usual big presidential-year vote, it would mean a margin of about 15,000 for Montoya in the nine-county group.

Montoya campaign leaders are talking about 25,000 from the counties which is extreme but possible considering the low ebb of Goldwater in the area.

DIVORCE STARTED LOS LUNAS PROBE

The intensive investigation of the Los Lunas Hospital and Training School which is being conducted by Atty. Gen. Earl Hartley at the request of Gov. Jack Campbell was set off by charges that grew out of the divorce of Superintendent Phil Carter from his wife Marjorie Carter last month. State Sen. Tibo Chavez is Carter's lawyer.

The hospital board responded to the investigation with a $2,000 raise for Carter — from $12,000 to $14,000 a year.

SEBASTIAN'S MAN DRAWING $12,000

State Finance and Administration Director Caesar Sebastian has been advanced from $15,000 to $16,000 a year and four secondary officials in the department are up from $11,000 to $12,000. Harry Wugalter, Ben Mason, Luis Fernandez and Jim Gruber.

A fifth, Bill Giron who was promoted to deputy director, is up from $11,000 to $12,500.

NMEA EMPLOYEES BOARD CHAIRMAN

The New Mexico Education Assn. has hired the chairman of the Santa Fe school board, George Graham, as attorney.

The NMEA is competing in the state with American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) for teacher membership, competition that is lively in Albuquerque and some other school districts, but not yet present in Santa Fe.

The NMEA is often at odds with local school boards, a situation that Graham handled by stipulating that he would not represent the organization against his own board.

CONSERVATIVES EYE SPEAKER BRUCE KING

Conservative Democrats who were strong but not strong enough to control the legislature last year have been quietly at work on organizing next winter's legislature to their satisfaction.

The plans call for continuation of Rep. Bruce King of Santa Fe as house speaker which might not work out too well for the conservatives with King being a prominent prospect for Demo nomination for governor in 1966. Candidates are often inclined to big spending, something not in the conservative group's program.

State Police receives outstanding award

The New Mexico State Police was one of the nine State Law Enforcement Organizations who received the National Outstanding Achievement Award for their 1963 operations.

The National Safety Council and the International Association of Chiefs of Police administer the overall national annual traffic awards, based upon performance evaluations.

They use a formula of 20% for the area of training, 20% for the amount of selective enforcement, 20% for quality of enforcement and the remaining 40% for other aspects of operation such as records, reporting administration, accident investigations and general traffic control.

The New Mexico State Police have on four previous annual occasions been awarded National Certificate of Achievement for their evaluation score in the 85 to 90 per cent bracket. This year's "Outstanding Award" is based upon the top evaluation of 90 to 95 per cent.

F H A making drouth loans

Applications for drouth loans in Chaves and Lincoln Counties are now being received and processed by the Roswell office of the Farmers Home Administration. These loans are designed to assist ranchers unable to obtain additional loans from their regular credit sources. Official word of local emergency loan designation came today from Washington.

These loans can be made to larger units that have been established for several years. These loans are not designed to increase the size of units but are aimed primarily toward helping individuals overcome the hardships caused by the drouth. The loan assistance to smaller units is definitely available and not restricted to growth or expansion.

Money advanced can be used for many purposes. Mr. Richard Floyd, County Supervisor of the FHA said. These purposes include: 1 - Purchase feed or pay other operating expenses, 2 - Purchase replacement machinery, 3 - Purchase livestock to replace those animals sold during the drouth because of feed shortages, 4 - Rental payments of not more than one year, 5 - Payment of taxes and insurance premiums, 6 - Pay certain bills incurred, provided they are eligible debts, 7 - Payment of interest not to exceed one year, 8 - Payment of reasonable depreciation for one year, 9 - Meeting family living expenses, 10 - Other minor miscellaneous items.

Mr. Floyd stressed the need for applicants to be referred to Farmers Home Administration by their bankers. He explained the loan as being a 3% simple interest loan with payments amortized over a period of time which would permit orderly repayments. The loans must be scheduled for repayment in accordance with ability to pay.

The repayment record here in New Mexico on Emergency Loans points out an outstanding secured balance of $889,929. The amount loaned totaled $15,462,298. Collections of interest and principal have amounted to $14,351,427. This repayment by ranchers and others in emergency situations is considered very good and points out the ranchers drive to pay his accounts.

Persons needing FHA loan assistance are urged to come to the local office in Roswell and discuss their needs with Mr. Floyd. The office is located at 110 East 4th, 2nd Bldg. Suite 104, just across the street south of the courthouse.

cross 50 states. "In years past," continued Postmaster Lucero, "postmasters were installed with little or no public recognition. The installation events, first started in 1962 and now expanded by Postmaster Gronowski to cover smaller cities, provides an opportunity for the people to know their postmaster better and to call attention to her post office, its people and its service. All this, in turn, pays dividends of better postal service for the community.

The new acting postmaster has lived in Capitan, except for short intervals, since 1949. She owned a beauty shop for a number of years; she also served as Instructor of Cosmetology and Rehabilitation Clerk at Fort Stanton from 1958 to 1961. She was sworn in as acting postmaster at Capitan on August 7, 1963, serving the Capitan community until May, 1964 when she started her duties as acting postmaster at Ft. Stanton.

Dixie Sparks is a member of the Capitan Woman's Club and is correspondent for Ft. Stanton and Capitan to the Ruidoso News. Attending the installation was her daughter Dixie Kay Wheat of Las Cruces.

The newly appointed acting postmaster was honored with a reception, following the installation, given by H. C. Jernigan, M. D., Medical Director, New Mexico State Tuberculosis Hospital, Mrs. H. C. Jernigan presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Grace Schneider, Assistant Chief Nurse, poured coffee. Refreshments of sandwiches, relishes, cookies, punch and coffee were enjoyed by the many attending the installation, among these were: F. E. Lucero, postmaster, Espanola; Tony Martinez, Sup't. of Station, Fairview; Dr. H. C. and Mrs. Jernigan; George G. Johnson; Commander Frankle Silva; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw and daughter Diana, Capitan; Dixie Kay Wheat and Mary Ann Ortega, Las Cruces; Mr. and Mrs. Halls Cummins, Capitan; Ken Fuller, Corona; Roman Nunez, Hondo; F. Corona makes friendly visit

The Corona Gamma Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi has worked industriously all summer to get a chapter started in Carrizozo. This was finally accomplished Friday night, August 7, with a ceremony in the Social Hall of the Methodist Church. To the background of the wonderful sound of rain, the beautiful pledge ritual was given to the ten lovely ladies, eight pledges and the Chapter's sponsor, Mrs. Lois Burns, and director, Mrs. Eleanor Payton. These two gracious ladies will be of great service to the new chapter, Gamma Tau. Also much to our delight, Mrs. Bennie Knoblock, a transferee from Grants, joined the group.

The pledges are: Elizabeth MacVeigh, Evelyn Petree, Veda Lou Stephenson, Phoebe Taylor, Georgia Harkey, Marlene Dross, Pinkie Ruth Rickerson and Margaret Stearns.

The ritual was performed by Corona's Gamma Theta Chapter. Their sponsor, Geraldine Perkins, read the ritual with Jean Lovelace and Paty Mulkey in attendance.

Others in attendance were: Dorothy Straley, June Tye, Betty Knox, Eva Mae Holleyman, Pat Davidson and Jeanne Kessler, extension officer.

Some of the prospective pledges were unable to attend but will be given the ritual at a later date.

A social hour followed the ritual. The table was covered with a white cloth, the traditional yellow rose centerpiece and silver service. Tea, coffee, cake, mints and nuts were served. Each pledge was presented with a yellow rose.

RUTH BUSH JONES AWARD RECEIVED — Mrs. Hellis Cummins, right, president of the Capitan Woman's Club and Mrs. Ralph Solether, president of Smokey Bear Club, are shown placing a silver bowl, inscribed "1964 Forest Conservation Award, presented by Ruth Bush Jones, to Capitan Woman's Club" and the New Mexico Federation of Women's Clubs State Award Certificate of Achievement in Forest Conservation, in the Smokey Bear Museum, in Capitan, New Mexico.

Capitan Woman's Club honored

In 1950 a tiny cub bear was found clinging to a pine tree and was rescued by men fighting a forest fire in El Capitan Mountains, north of the Village of Capitan. Over 17,000 acres of valuable timber was destroyed by that fire. The tiny cub recovered and became the living symbol of the U. S. Forest Service poster Smokey Bear.

Capitan was inspired not to let the nation forget the reason for Smokey's plea, "Only you can prevent a forest fire." Under the leadership of the Capitan Woman's Club, combined with local civic organizations, the entrance portals were placed in Capitan, proclaiming it "The home of Smokey Bear." The dedication took place in May 1955 and was attended by people from many states.

This started the program of the Capitan Woman's Club in forest conservation that has continued throughout the years.

In 1956 another ravaging fire burned 6,000 acres of forest land nearby. The Capitan Woman's Club realized that a more intensive forest fire prevention program was needed. The results of a community meeting was the Smokey Bear Museum, a log cabin, dedicated to Smokey and serving not only as a stopping place for tourists but giving the story of Smokey and forest fire prevention material and suggestions to the public. Fired with great enthusiasm, Capitan villagers donated land, money, and material for Smokey's museum.

In 1963 President Eisenhower presented a gold Smokey Oscar, its inscription reads, "To Capitan, New Mexico, birthplace of Smokey Bear, for outstanding support in forest fire prevention by Association of State Foresters and U. S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service, 1958."

November 1, 1958, saw the dedication of the Smokey Bear Museum with an all-day program presented by the Capitan Woman's Club and attended by Washington, D. C., and New Mexico Forest Service officials.

In 1964 the Capitan Woman's Club was awarded the Ruth Bush Jones silver bowl for their extensive program for forest conservation.

The museum is now open from May through Labor Day. There isn't any admission but the museum is kept open by the sale of Smokey Bear souvenirs, membership to Smokey Bear Club, donations, and fund raising drives.

Anyone caring to make a donation may mail it to Mrs. Ralph Solether, president of Smokey Bear Club, Capitan, New Mexico.

Dixie Sparks installed as Ft. Stanton PM

Mrs. Dixie B. Sparks was sworn in Sunday, August 16, 1964 as acting postmaster at Ft. Stanton.

A certificate of appointment, signed by Postmaster General John A. Gronowski, was presented to Mrs. Sparks during the installation ceremonies in Los Amigos Club by Postmaster F. E. Lucero of Espanola.

Postmaster Lucero remarked during the installation, "It symbolizes the continuity of management that President Johnson wants us to maintain in all branches of the Federal government. It also insures the smooth daily operation of your post office as part of our vast communications network stretching a-

Lincoln County declared drouth stricken area

Haying and grazing privileges on diverted cropland are to be granted farmers and ranchers in four drought-stricken counties, the state director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service announced.

Bill Morrow, Albuquerque, said Chavez, Lea, DeBaca and Torrance counties will receive the privileges. Other counties previously named were Colfax, Curry, Harding, Quay, Roosevelt, Union, Guadalupe and Santa Fe.

Meanwhile, six counties were dealing with the Farmers Home Administration for emergency 3 per cent loans. These were Chaves, Colfax, DeBaca, Harding, Lincoln and Union counties.

Morrow said the State Disaster Committee has indicated readiness to approve a livestock feed program at a reduced price through the Commodity Credit Corp. in Chaves, Colfax, Harding, Lincoln, Quay, Roosevelt, Torrance and Union counties.

and 30c for high school, Darling said.

Bus contractors are Claudio Montoya, Encinosa and Tucson mountain extension and Frankie E. Silva, Indian Divide, Fort Stanton, Lincoln, Alto and Re-ca Canyon.

Administrative personnel remains the same with Duane Darling, superintendent; Jack Mayfield, principal; and Mrs. Lydia E. Hall, secretary and lunchroom manager.

Most experts attribute high failure rates of small business to financial problems. Not so, says a University of Michigan study. It's simply poor management.

Shopping in Al-Khobar, Saudi Arabia, is a philosophical exploration to Kit

Al-Khobar, Saudi Arabia — Shopping in most lands is an adventuresome necessity. In Saudi Arabia it is a philosophical exploration. From Abqaiq in the Rub al-Khali, I traveled some 70 kilometers to al-Khobar, located on the placid coastal waters of the Persian Gulf. The journey was over burning-hot desert sands, in lumbering equipment, designed for such trips.

Al-Khobar today is staggering under a plague of uncertainty by the Arabians. They seem unable to make up their minds whether to accept demanding modernistic customs, or still cling to the ancient Christian period modes.

A stroll along the streets, however, indicates that it will ultimately go American! And probably fast.

Regardless of the outcome, the fence-straddling situation seethes with a humorous and amusing picture as the Americans mix with medieval customs, and all shuffle along, jammed together, in al-Khobar's narrow streets.

Thursday is shopping day in Saudi Arabia, known in the United States on Saturday as butter and egg day. However, it is certainly more strenuous and fantastical — especially to an American, practically a tin-horn in the Middle East! On this day, Americans from all along the Gulf flock into al-Khobar, with purses brimming full of freshly-earned Saudi Riyals, ready and raring to spend.

A Saudi Riyal is worth $0.222 of American currency. It consists of 20 qirsh, of three coins, the one, two, and four-qirsh denominations. It's a pleasure to spend it, even ticklish. A fist full of it goes further than it would in the States, and buys more. And there's no end to the forms of which we read so much and modern Americanism. What a fantastic scene such a clash produces! On one side of the street you might think you should see at any time Joseph and Mary, or like characters. On the other, or perhaps all mingled together, the modern American family.

The ancient transportation of the lowly donkey is predominant, and is seen trudging along side by side of the late American-made auto. There are the fanciful-dressed Americans, in Bermuda shorts and cool wash-and-wear apparel, short-sleeved shirts, bare-headed, all quite appropriate for the sun-scorched village. All rubbing shoulders, in a friendly fashion, with the camel herders, the sea-going people, the converted Arab industrialists, and the strangely-clad individuals in long-sweeping tunics and turbans, with exotic-shaped moustaches and goates.

There are no tourists in this bustle of people. Presently no such visas are granted! There is something more to entering Saudi Arabia than just the fanciful idea.

The nationals do not spend much money. They don't have it. A sailor is said to earn sometimes as much as fifty American dollars on a nine-months voyage, or trading expedition. A camel is valued at 60 riyals; donkeys sell for a thousand.

The streets and alleys are literally lined with alms-seekers, of every age, and description, from the cradle to the staggering senile. The Arab scope of life, it might be mentioned, does not include a great number of years. The average life span is declared to be 35 years! A woman is old at 30; the man venerable at 40!

On the crowded streets American women in their modern dress are to be seen with the black-robed Arablan women, the profile and physical appearance of whom no one views. What a contrast; if, indeed, not a curiosity! Even the husband never saw his wife before the marriage. There is no before-hand wooing; no courtship; no partying; no roadside parking; no necking parties, or smooching capers; and certainly no pre-wedlock sexual experiments, etc!

When the would-be husband wishes to acquire a harem member, he contacts the girl's father who has a youth available, and a bartering commences. The father may also contact him. The old sire describes the daughter to the prospective husband; a price is agreed upon. Sometimes the legal tender is head of camels, goats, or sheep. When the price is met, the bride is delivered to the bridegroom. There are no love expressions or ceremonies or fabulous descriptions, and I'm quite sure the event doesn't make the social columns!

Should the marriage go on the rocks, a divorce is usually granted without trouble. The man obtains the divorce. A woman's only plea for separation stems from impotency. Generally a sort of love-it'd be awful to think what kind it would be-springs from the marriage, and a course of normal Arab life follows. This information came from one who had the rare privilege of studying the Arab family.

And another thing. An alien doesn't invade the romantic female circles of Saudi Arabia, as has happened so often in other lands. This is a man's country, and it is often heard that the countrymen predict the next prophet will be born of a man!

On the streets, or anywhere else, visiting Americans don't easily obtain photographs of these blackrobes. I've made the attempt, and got nowhere. I quit. I have hopes of coming back to Lincoln County, and the News office.

All day long the suq-keepers sit on the cash registers. They extend hospitality to the Westerners as they examine and finger around sagaciously with the wares. He likes to talk, and especially shake hands. Occasionally he will discuss his Moslem beliefs, and the numerous times he prays each day. And a little of his everyday life, affording a rare glimpse of the strange manner in which they live.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS . . . It's no trouble while shopping in al-Khobar to become nostalgic for the good old U. S. merchants, such as Woolworth's, Foley's, Neiman-Marcus, Penny's, Tiffany's, et al — all of which certainly lend thoughts of a great land.

"That'll Feel 'Em"
Entering the hotel, a shy bride whispered to her husband, "Let's act as if we've been married a long time . . . I don't want them to know we're newlyweds."
"All right," replied her husband. "Think you can carry both of these suitcases?"

"A page for independent thought"

Two going up, three losing ground

This week is a gala occasion for the town of Carrizozo and its school system. A brand new building will be dedicated Sunday, appears to be fine in every respect and will certainly round out the facilities of the Lincoln County seat town. Congratulations to all those people who brought about this new building.

There are some sobering thoughts to go along with this new school construction. Maybe they are only indications, the figures about to be quoted, but in Carrizozo's instance they appear to be more than just an indication.

When grades 1-2-3-4 of the school year 1963-64 become high school students — Carrizozo school will be smaller by exactly 60 students. Instead of the 370 enrollment in 1963-64 there will only be 310. That downward trend is bad.

The cash loss to the Carrizozo school district at that time will be approximately $15,900.00 a year.

Capitan school had 113 in high school last year, and 105 in the first four grades. Using the same projection Capitan will be down 8 students.

Any number less than 10 would not seem to mark a trend. There are drop-outs and transfers each year which could bring Capitan up, or cut its total enrollment down. Trend of population in the Capitan area should go up in the years ahead.

Corona could be due for a small drop. There were 75 students in grades 1 to 4 last year (figures released by the State Department of Education), and 84 students in high school. When those first graders become high schoolers, it will mean a drop of 9 in total enrollment. Two or three families moving into Corona could take up this slack.

Hondo Valley school is going to grow. There were 121 students in the first four grades last year only 93 in high school. When these lower classes start moving into high school total enrollment should increase at least 28 students, maybe more.

The growth area of Lincoln County, Ruidoso, will increase even more than Carrizozo is going down. There were 295 students in the first four grades at Ruidoso last year, 206 in high school. Ruidoso will have a gain of 89 in high school during the same period of years that Carrizozo is losing 60 students.

Less students means less teachers, a shortened and curtailed program of education, less students to play football, march in the band . . . in fact less of everything.

There is only one answer, and only the most optimistic today view it as necessary — that is for some of the town leaders to change their outlook to a belief that Carrizozo can grow, get off their dead behind and start getting the town in a condition that will invite people to move here to live.

The last election was most certainly a vote to halt progress and it can be interpreted as a vote to seriously cut down the enrollment in our schools.

Is that what the people of Carrizozo want?

5 per cent said "yes", and a strong 40 per cent asked, "Are they a part of the local goat herder association. If so the answer is 'no'."

The head of the News research department interprets the results of this confidential poll to mean that local opinions are "extreme" on some subjects, and "liberal" on others — and, that counting legs and dividing by four is a more accurate means of checking local voting strength than counting heads. Heads are more woolly than legs which tends to confuse opinions in this poll.

Very Different

Professor: "Tell me the properties of iodine."

"Well, tell me the properties of bromine."

"Very different from those of iodine."

ON THE MOVE — The Grizzly band summer program operates in the new building and will enjoy permanent quarters there.

The Lincoln County News provides a great variety of services but never in the past have we been able to recommend a responsible mid-wife. Now that we can make the recommendation it makes us extremely proud to let our readers know that this person has only the best of qualifications — trained (short course), thoroughly dependable, has long record of reliability, probably the most available person in the county, has gentle touch, is careful and equipped with crash helmet, the experience of this person would fill a book, so to say "experienced" would be putting it mild. Last, but not least, the rates are reasonable. Any of you women fixing to have a baby and needing a person with abilities as outlined . . . contact State Policeman Frank "Powder" Knoblock.

P. S. — That name "Powder" did not originate from the baby type of dust.

The woods of Lincoln County have been full of tourists this summer and most of them equipped with questions. Alleen Lindamood provides the answers but was stumped for a minute at this one. A man came into the country store at Alto and said, "I've been to the top of the ski run, how do I find the bottom?" Alleen finally came to and told the man, "You couldn't possibly have got to the top unless you started at the bottom."

Guas New Mexico could be drought stricken — by patches. Not much moisture last winter, late rains this summer and those spotted, which is about the only way we get rain. Traveling from Carrizozo to Alpine, Arizona, the past weekend we saw some beautiful green country. Turned off at Datil and headed up Highway 12 to Luna and over the line into Arizona. South of Datil there's miles and miles of green grass, as pretty a section of New Mexico as you will see any where.

Met Dick Rhodes of Silver City (grew up with Dick) for fishing at Luna Lake. This old-timer (our age) in the state knew the angles about fishing Luna and it's different. Dick had said bring fly rod, he had "sinking" lines, fixed up with a run of leader line and peacock fly we would work those lines out, the line sinks to the bottom, then you start drawing it across the moss 3-6 inches at a yank. We caught trout and in the early spring or late fall a person could fill their creel in a hurry.

Local business people at Alpine had the same gripes you hear in Lincoln. Of 85,000 fish supposed to have been planted in Luna Lake, local estimates ran around 5,000. Some commercialism in the Alpine area but not to much. Cabin rent $8 a night, restaurant prices a-foot like here. Gas 4c higher.

The telephone manager from Clayton, D. T. Bradley with wife and daughter, stopped in Carrizozo Monday and said to tell Gabehart we're putting in a better installation at our hospital than you have here. Hope the word gets to Ray.

Officer: "Sorry, miss, but swimming ain't allowed in Nepal Lake."

Girl in scant bathing suit: "Well, why didn't you tell me before I undressed?"

Officer: "Well, there's no law against undressing."

Downtown parking

Santa Rosa News

'Tis a shame. The town of Santa Rosa spent many hundreds, possibly thousands, of dollars to provide downtown Santa Rosa with a spacious, paved parking lot.

There can be no question that the lot was provided for the benefit of the downtown merchants.

But, there seems to be a question as to who should use it.

We don't think this is good business, nor do we believe that it was the intent of the Board of Trustees when they spent our tax money to provide the downtown merchants with parking space. We believe that the lot was paved so that the merchants and their employees could park their cars there — leaving the parking space in front of the businesses free for use by the merchant's customers.

When a merchant parks his vehicle in front of his place of business, we believe that he may unnecessarily cause his customers an inconvenience . . . an inconvenience that we do not believe the City Fathers had planned.

Poll shows voters prefer outdoors

A confidential poll conducted by the Lincoln County News opinion research department shows that nearly half the voters in Lincoln County who have heard about the Burch Bark Society would vote against a presidential candidate supported by that organization, and the report further proved conclusively that this society opposed dogs.

The poll, taken locally to measure public approval and disapproval of several major politically oriented organizations, found there are several undercover here, generally small groups, who are working after dark to form opinions in this area. Their meetings are secret and marked only by empty cans the next morning.

Only 9 per cent of the membership of the 7 after-dark organizations said they would be "more likely to vote for" a presidential candidate, whereas 49 per cent said they wanted to oppose any man who was for our high liquor prices. The poll found there were more "against" than "for" — against paying paving taxes, going to church, against working, against strangers, against education. The poll found that, of this "against" group, only 31 per cent were "for" going to the bathroom. They preferred the large outdoors.

One of the questions asked by the News research poll takers was: "If you learned that your neighbor was going to vote for a certain presidential candidate, would you vote for the same man?" The answer was a conclusive 49 per cent "no". The poll takers formed private opinions that neighbors did not represent a true cross-section of voter opinion.

When asked about the NAA CP the poll takers were stumped by the variety of answers. The question was, "Are you for or against the NAACP." Of the answers, 2 per cent said "yes",

THE LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 20, 1964

FARM NEWS

By County Agent Ralph Dunlap Apple harvest starts this week in the Hondo Valley. A. T. Pflingsten, and Lucio Zamora plan to start shipping from their sheds the latter part of this week. The cool nights have started the apples to color up well. Late worms will cause a larger percentage of culls than previously expected.

Last week recommendations were sent to the state ASC committee to have Lincoln County included in the drought disaster area. When approved, this would make feed grains available at 75% of support price or $1.50 per hundred weight for milo. This grain is only to be used to maintain basic breeding herds and cannot be used to fatten livestock.

Grub worms are causing damage to the range in the Capitan area. These grubs which are the larvae of the June bug eat the roots of the grass causing it to die in patches from three to 30 feet in diameter. There is no economical control as too much insecticide is needed to control the grub in the soil. Around the home dieldrin or chlordane can be used to control the grub when it occurs in the lawn.

The Lincoln Co. Fair books are out and available at the county agents office in the courthouse. Classes for Angus and Herefords have been added to the range beef cattle show which will be held September 12. The classes include feeder steers, heifer calves, heifer yearlings and cow with calf at side. Plan now to enter the range beef show at the Lincoln County Fair.

At the Soil Conservation meeting last week it was pointed out that it takes as much moisture to produce one pound of wood on mesquite or cedar as it takes to produce four pounds of grass.

Kit Carson has magazine feature

SANTA FE — When Mount Taylor erupted, it spewed forth enough volcanic lava to have blanketed the entire state of New Mexico to a depth of six inches, reports Kit Carson in the August New Mexico Magazine.

These eruptions took place in prehistoric times, but they left behind miles and miles of territory with nothing but eroded lava beds. Much, much later during the first Pueblo Period, another flow called by geologists the McCarty flow, covered an area thirty miles long and several miles wide. Located near Grants, this part of the State is known as the Malpais, and it has been a source of consternation to travelers ever since the first Spanish explorers sought to bypass it on their push west.

The history of these badlands is a series of melodramatic misadventures, writes Mr. Carson. It was the scene of frightful Indian massacres; the most famous gold mine in the Southwest, the Lost Adams Diggings, was discovered and then lost again near the rugged terrain; in 1897, a daring train

Lincoln Station

By Roger L. Gordon

Many of my friends have expressed their dismay at my quitting this column some time ago. At the urging of a few, I have decided to again try to bring you the news of our small settlement. I will endeavor to bring you the news as I see it.

I would like to ask that you remember Mr. I. D. Gilbert in your prayers this week. Mr. Gilbert was involved in an auto accident last Thursday. He is in Saint Mary's hospital, Roswell. Returning from vacation this week were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Benham and family. They spent much of their time travelling around the country. They ventured as far north as South Dakota.

Mrs. Billy Pierce has gone to Littlefield, Texas, to await the arrival of her third child.

Several new families have moved to Lincoln since our last writing. They are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ira Anders and two daughters from Wilcox, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCutchen and two daughters and two boys, also from Wilcox; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wetzel, Jr., and two daughters from Wilcox; and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jeffcoat, and two boys and one daughter, from Denver City, Texas.

Congratulations to Wayne Lightfoot. Wayne won the calf roping in the youth division at Three Rivers, winning a $100 watch and $37 in cash.

Congratulations to Roy Ray and Fran Bryan on their engagement.

RAWHIDE STARS AT FAIR — "Wishbone" and "Rowdy", two of the regular stars on the highly-rated weekly "Rawhide" television series, have been signed to star at the 1944 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

"The signing of the Rawhide pair completes the star lineup for this year's fair, and is the brightest array of show-business names ever offered at the exposition," said Manager Finlay MacGillivray.

Just for fun Court Record

The Lucky Second

"My husband was born on the second hour of the second day of the second month of the second year of this century, the second child of a second daughter and a second son," said the wife.

"Has number Two been lucky for him?" his friend asked. "Well, I'll say this. He's come out second best in everything he ever did."

A young businessman returned home tired from a hard day at the office to find his two children rushing madly about the house. He gave them both a scolding and sent them to bed as soon as possible. The next morning he found this note pinned to his bedroom door: "Be good to your children and they will be good to you. Yours truly, God."

Chop Shop

As the devil sat by, enjoying his last cigar for the evening, a group of executioners were bragging to each other.

First executioner—Is that so? Well, I cut off more heads than you'll cut off in your whole life.

Second executioner—Listen, bud, I've brought that old slicer down on the crowned heads of five countries.

Third executioner—Come, come boys, let's not talk chop.

"I'd like some consecrated lye," said the man to the druggist. "You mean concentrated lye," corrected the druggist. "It does nutmeg any difference," came the reply. "What's it sulphur?" "Fifteen cents. I never have cinnamon with so much will save myself. "Well, ammonia beginner. Peroxide better aspirin elsewhere."

Last Stop

A woman slipped on a station escalator and started to tumble down to the bottom. Halfway down she collided with a man, knocking him down, and the two continued downwards together.

After they reached the bottom the woman, still dazed, continued to sit on the man's chest. Looking at her he politely said:

"I'm sorry, madam, but this is as far as I go."

"All right, all right," snapped the wife to her husband, "so I like to spend money, but name one other extravagance."

All For Me?

It had been a difficult evening for the young man. A convertible, the moon, and the ocean had failed to help him, but just as it turned 11:00 o'clock he succeeded in getting a good night kiss from his date.

"That is a reward for being a gentleman," the girl cooed. "Reward?" he snorted, "that's more like Workmen's Compensation!"

When Julius Caesar first saw Cleopatra, did he exclaim: "Wow! A perfect XXXVI, XXII, XXVII!"

Only Explanation

six year old girl wrote the following essay: People are composed of girls and boys, also of men and women. Boys are no good at all until they grow up and get married. Men who don't get married are no good either. Boys are an awful bother. They want everything they see except soap. My Mom is a woman, and my Pop is such a nice man that I think he must have been a girl when he was a boy.
