Explosion raises roof of Yucca bar and grill

Sheriff's Office News

An explosion in the basement of the Yucca Bar and Grill Monday afternoon about 4:01, put Henry Sandoval of Albuquerque in the Carrizozo hospital in serious condition with 3rd degree burns on his hand, face and body.

Sandoval, who is employed by Adolf Coors, went to the basement in order to check the cold draught beer plant and as he turned on the light switch an explosion raised the roof and dislocated the walls so badly, that the building was condemned by the State Fire Marshal Tuesday.

State Gas Inspector, A. W. Peterson, was called and with the assistance of the local gas company employees, Steve Rizo and Marvin Rowin, and Bob Lynn of Tularosa, inspected all Butane Gas lines, no leaks were determined. All lines seemed to be in good condition. An explosive meter was used and the basement still registered 100% explosive Tuesday night. An expert on gases from the Mining Institute in Socorro has been called, to check the beer plant, which uses chlorine gas, and could possibly be the cause of the explosion.

Deputy Sheriff Leandro Vega and Fire Chief Kino Ortiz were also assisting in the investigation.

Federals hunting trouble

SANTA FE — The federal Civil Rights Commission is investigating charges of discrimination against Spanish-speaking people in New Mexico.

The federals revealed that the probe had been under way here and in three other states for several months but would not reveal who brought the charges or what they were. They said the investigation was far from complete.

STATE AGENCY HANDLES CASES

If they put enough people on the case and work them long enough they can surely find discrimination against Spanish-speaking people, against people who speak with a Harvard accent, certainly against Texas drawlers, and also discrimination against just plain English-speaking people.

The federal hunting for trouble comes after 15 years of operation here of a state fair employment practices commission that has handled a few cases a year relating to the treatment of Spanish-speaking people but which has never been burdened with very many complaints nor confronted with anything very serious.

SMALL GROUP BIG EMPLOYMENT

New Mexico's 28 per cent Spanish-name population is the highest in the country. There is a tradition of pride in New Mexico of the successful blending of the big minority in the population and the absence of friction except in isolated instances.

The lower grades of public schools all over the state are geared to a pace to accommodate Spanish-speaking children with a temporary language difficulty and the group has more than doubled its population ration in public employment.

70 PER CENT OF ROAD CREW

The highway department's payroll of 2700 is approximately 70 per cent Spanish-American.

The state prison's staff of 210 is 92 per cent Spanish-American; the state hospital staff of 485 is 86 per cent Spanish-American.

The state bureau of revenue staff of 315 is 70 per cent Spanish-speaking, the state motor vehicle division force of 350 is 72 per cent Spanish-speaking, the state ports of entry force of 119 is 66 per cent Spanish-speaking.

SPANISH HIRE FEW GRINGOS.

On the other side of the picture Spanish-American officials have shown a marked reluctance to the employment of non-Spanish people.

Anglo names are highly unusual on courthouse payrolls in counties of heavy Spanish-American population.

State Auditor Alex Armijo's staff of 80 per cent Spanish speaking employes has been the subject of wide comment.

CAMPAIGN PERIOD INVESTIGATION

The federal investigation of alleged mistreatment of Spanish-Americans in New Mexico was leaked to the public as the general election campaign was getting under way.

The race issue is present in only one of the contests, U. S. Rep. Joe Montoya vs. U. S. Sen. Ed Mechem for the Senate, and here again the record shows the state free of serious racial conflict in its congressional representation.

During most of the 1940 and 1950 decades New Mexico was represented in Washington by two of Spanish names and two anglos.

LOS ALAMOS SEEKS LOCAL EMPLOYMENT

The people of Los Alamos, the federal government's atomic city in the Jemez mountains, want to change the New Mexico constitution so they can have a free hand in setting up their county and city government.

The 70,000-acre county already has all the authority of a county and all the authority of a city in its courthouse, but is seeking to change the state constitution so it can set up in detail the particular kind of governing body the people want.

FRANK IWEN AND FRIEND — The only black mice in the world are the subject of considerable study by Frank Iwen who is completing work for his doctorate in zoology at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Iwen and daughter spent several weeks camped next to the Mal Pais north of Carrizozo where the black mice are found. They have shipped a number of the Mal Pais mice back to the university where the studies will continue. The black mice are distant relatives of the white mice that inhabit the White Sands. In addition to mice the Iwens saw jack rabbits, other kinds of mice, brown squirrels, horned owls, three kinds of lizards, and rattlesnakes in the black rocks. The large picture is a blowup of the mouse on Mr. Iwen's hand. (News Photo)

Two new doctors at Ft. Stanton TB hospital

All board members of the Ft. Stanton TB Hospital were present for the regular September meeting last Saturday. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Eugene Mann, chairman, of Portales.

The first order of business was to set a date for the October meeting. The state TB Association has been invited to hold its next meeting at Fort Stanton which will be on October 17, and the Ft. Stanton hospital board will meet that same day to get acquainted and work with this group.

An "open house" for people of the area to visit Ft. Stanton is being planned for the near future, probably around Thanksgiving.

Dr. Paul Smith, who took up his duties at Ft. Stanton last week, was introduced to the board members. Dr. Smith has been in general practice at Stratford, Texas. Dr. Paul Owen comes to Ft. Stanton on September 15 which will make a full medical staff at the Fort for the first time, according to Dr. Mann.

An arrangement has been worked out for Dr. Dale Wynn, optometrist, and Dr. Howard Tate, dentist, to come to Ft. Stanton every two weeks and take care of patients' needs. The pay will be on a fee-per-case basis. The hospital buys glasses where needed.

The possibilities are good that operation of the state mobile TB unit will be taken over by Ft. Stanton. Fernando Rodriguez, laboratory technician, started work at Ft. Stanton last week and is helping with the new drug testing program and will do work with the mobile unit if arrangements are completed to add this work to the load at Ft. Stanton.

Dr. Mann said that Betty Lehman, representing the National TB Association from New York, has been in the state to help build up the TB Association program. Much help is needed on the local level before clinics are held and the mobile unit makes its calls over the state.

Dr. Louis Rosenblatt, member of the Ft. Stanton medical staff, will speak at the Western TB Conference to be held in Albuquerque September 28-30. Dr. Mann will also attend.

Thirteen states participating in this conference. Miss Leyman spent a day at Ft. Stanton and was impressed with procedures used at the hospital. She stated that hospital part was far in advance of the rest of the TB program in the state. The TB Hospital was host to several foreign nurses last month. One of these nurses will be in charge of 200 nurses when she returns to her home country. George Johnson was acting superintendent during the installation of acting postmaster Dixie Sparks.

The Ft. Stanton medical staff does a complete job of checkup for the Capitan football players, at no charge to the school. The hospital also provides an ambulance for the games and Dr. Rosenblatt attends as team physician. This same service is extended during the Smokey Bear Stampede.

During his vacation Dr. Rosenblatt visited with doctors and physicians about TB in Mexico. He said they have no facilities for long-term treatment of patients. He was tempted to give invitations to Mexico doctors to visit Ft. Stanton. The board of directors encouraged him to extend the invitations.

Employee housing report was on the agenda but was put off until the October meeting at which time more information will be available.

The new forest camp on Ft. Stanton property has been named the Sierra Blanca Camp. Eem Mason, department of finance; Glen Walker, superintendent of Springer boys school; Kern Smith, architect, and Jack (Continued on back page)

If you have pets in your home, fleas may become more of a problem in the cooler days ahead when the animals spend more time inside.

Treat dogs with a powder containing DDT, lindane, malathion, methoxychlor, rotenone or pyrethrin. Short-haired dogs do not retain enough powder to control the fleas for more than a short time if there is a source of infestation from other animals repeat treatments may be necessary. Use pyrethrin, rotenone, or malathion on cats.

It is just as important to treat sleeping quarters of the animals as it is to treat the animals. Clean out dust from sleeping quarters and spray with DD T, methoxychlor, malathion, or lindane.

If quarters and premises are not sprayed, the animal will become reinfested.

Fleas that have left the animals inside the home may be controlled by pyrethrin sprays. Pyrethrin does not have a residual effect. Repeat spraying may be necessary.

Parents told how to help encourage children taking school music lessons

Is it the school band for your children? Then now's the time to think how you can help a beginner, and encourage that youngster who is already playing an instrument.

Free music lessons in Carrizozo public schools are given by the band director. But parents can be of vital help in shaping the talents and attitudes of their grade and high school children.

Arnold Boyce, band director at Carrizozo High School, sums up the objectives of the music program this way:

"The whole idea is to get a broad musical education. Teaching a child to play an instrument is not a main objective, nor is it a vocational type of instruction. It's merely one of the many ways in which a student becomes acquainted with music. We're concerned mainly with the mental, physical, social, cultural, emotional and spiritual development of each student. We want to give every pupil the chance to gain the best understanding and appreciation of music his interest and ability will allow."

Start early
How can you, as a parent, help? In the case of the beginner you can start well in advance of enrollment time, with selection of an instrument. The best way to go about this, Boyce advises, is to consult with the music teacher who will instruct your son or daughter, or with any qualified music teacher. There are good reasons for this.

Some youngsters are physically incapable of playing certain instruments, and it's much better to know beforehand. For instance, a grade schooler who wants to play the trumpet because uncle Charlie's old horn is still in the house, might discover he can't blow it properly because of uneven teeth, lip formation, or other factors. He might do much better with a clarinet, and take to it enthusiastically if given the proper guidance. Regardless of which music teacher is consulted, it is still best to confer with the school's instructor before enrolling your child.

Once your youngster is on his way, you can be helpful both at home and at school. If you have musical training, so much the better. If not, you can still listen, encourage and supervise.

Take the home situation: Boyce advises showing as much interest as possible in your child's music studies. Arrange a regular time for practice and stick to it, because after the novelty wears off practice often becomes "work."

Some parents get good results by scheduling practice first thing in the morning when the child is more relaxed and fresh. This might be a hectic time in many households, so individual situations should be your guide. Practice ideally should come without other distracting activities. It can even be a mid-evening "music break" between homework assignments. Some students do better practicing just before bed time. At any rate, get a regular schedule and make it a habit with the child.

Find a quiet place where he can practice and help wherever possible, with counting, or with studying the text of music books, if you know enough about music.

And here's a cardinal rule: Never make fun of the strange sounds your budding bandman will make at the outset. He's trying, and that's what matters. Eventually those "moose calls" will develop into real music, and you'll see a gratifying development in the child as well.

Give him a safe place to store his instrument and keep it in good repair. The beginner has enough challenge ahead without the additional problem of a horn that won't toot or a violin with damaged strings.

Teach your child to be prompt for lessons and rehearsals and make faithful attendance at all music activities a priority item. He should also be encouraged to play for others when the chance arises at home, at school and in the community. This does not mean he should be pushed. But a child who feels capable of performing for an audience will have all the more reason for keeping up his practice.

Boyce points out that parents are always welcome to visit classes at the schools, as well as rehearsal sessions. Other ways parents can show interest and help at school is to Keep a record of the child's activities and dates, notify the teacher if he will be late or absent for a lesson and see that he takes his instrument and music along on the day of his lesson.

Special problem

If your child has a special problem, be it musical, emotional or physical, the teacher would welcome discussions from time to time. Such talks help the instructor understand your child and make for a more effective teaching job.

Also see that your youngster does not neglect his other studies and makes up work he might have missed.

Finally, says Boyce, attend concerts in which your child appears, and come to parents' meetings. An extra effort in these areas will not only be a morale booster for your boy or girl, but will give you a feeling of participation which is an important aspect of any good educational relationship.

All these points are vital for your child's musical future, whether or not he goes on to become a professional or part-time musician.

After several trips the family returned in 1916 to make their permanent home in Corona. They homesteaded at what is now Claunch and have ranched in this area since that time. Mrs. DuBois has operated the ranch under her individual Spear K brand since the death of her husband in 1948. One of the floral tributes was the Spear K in red roses.

She served her community as postmaster and as U. S. Commissioner helping many of the homesteaders with their filings and proofs. She was a notary public for 40 years, was sub-registrar, and an insurance representative.

"Old Mac Says"

Give A Dam Canyon Not Fur From Capitan Editor Lincoln County News Carrizozo, N. M.

Dear Ed: Recently the Democrats had a meeting in Roswell also a dinner at $10 a throw. Before eating guess that they all signed their loyalty oaths. And after eating Rep. Montoya made a speech. A good thing that he made it after they ate, because I hardly think that the dinner would have tasted good after listening to him.

He was introduced by a Democrat from Roswell, who made a great statement saying that Rep. Joe Montoya was the only man who can help this community and area out of its present economic plight.

Now that is rather confusing as Montoya, Tom Morris and Clint P. have been up there in Washington along with a lot of other welfare socialistic minded Democrats for quite some time. And if there are economic plights in that community surely must be their fault.

The prize statement of Montoya was that when the Democrats took the reins of the government, that the communists had infiltrated every nation and its power was flourishing. Guess that it must have just slipped his mind about the Alger Hess, the Browder, Bridges and the great Silversmith that worked in the State Department during the FDR administration.

What Montoya forgot to mention in his talk, was the fact that he sat up there in Washington along with Tom Morris and Clinton P. and allowed bills to be passed to import beef to come in to the United States, and this along with the drought has ruined many a good rancher here in New Mexico.

Montoya, in his speech, said that the American people were not going to surrender their philosophy to a drug store cowboy from Phoenix, Arizona. It's better to do that than to surrender it to a "Bull Shooter" from Texas. He also stated that there are more jobs for workers and more workers and high income under the Democrats. What's all this poor poverty stricken people, that LBJ is talking about.

He did not in his talk give any figures, on what he had helped save for the tax payer in New Mexico, neither did he explain the $8.8 billion in the red in the government under the Democratic administration. He also failed to tell the people how hard he worked to get the salaries of the representatives and the senators raised $7500.00 a year. Must have just plum slipped his mind.

Am sure glad that the roads in the canyon are so rough as am not bothered with many politicians out here.

FHA meeting in Capitan

Richard T. Floyd, county FHA supervisor, has scheduled a technical action panel meeting for 11:00 a.m. on September 16 at the Ranchman's restaurant in Capitan.

A young man walked into a pawnshop, pawned a valuable camera and then proceeded to select and buy a wedding ring from a nearby counter. The following day he returned with the bride, pawned the wedding ring, redeemed the camera, stepped outside and photographed his bride in all her wedding finery.

Two hours later the couple returned, pawned the camera, and the wedding dress, selected two pieces of luggage . . . and left on their honeymoon.

She's persistent

The attractive, but slightly dizzy stenographer had been late every morning for a week and repeated warnings from her employer had no effect. Finally, she was called into the boss' office.

"Miss Jones," he said in exasperation, "I am tired of talking to you about your tardiness. Therefore, I am suspending you for one day without pay. When would you like to take the day?"

"Well, if it's all right with you," was her quick reply, "I'd like to use it up being late." F. G. Kernan

Janell Sickles - Michael Dayton REPORTERS

Donald McKibben, injured in the Cloudercroft game, was unable to play in the first home game with Mountainair. But, he will be able to play in the game against Dexter, September 11, at Dexter.

Last Thursday the Annual Staff took a trip to Carrizozo. The purpose of the trip was to call ads for the 1964-65 annual. Members of the annual staff are as follows: Michael Dayton, Carolyn Hunton, Leroy McCloud, Paula Owen, Roy Ray, Allen Brunson, and Noble Snodgrass. The members were sponsored by Mr. Charles Page.

There is a new physical education program being initiated in grade school. The aim is not to produce athletes, but to encourage physical fitness through a continuous, coordinated program.

The classes participating in this program are the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades. Forty-five minute classes are held daily. In charge of the boys is Mr. Percy, and Mr. Purcell is in charge of the girls.

In this program each child can develop at his own rate. Emphasis is placed on self-competition (as in track and exercises), rather than team competition. By setting up new goals each child is constantly building up his body and his endurance.

Cardinals upset

Mountainair 13-0

The Corona Cardinals upset Mountainair last Friday night at Corona. The key to Corona's win was its defense.

The Cardinals scored their 1st TD by marching the ball to the 6-yard line. Leroy McCloud scored from that point behind blocks from Dale Brown and Will Locke. Locke ran the extra point to make the score 7 to 0.

Mountainair marched the ball from their own 48-yard line to Corona's 8-yard line with the help of two penalties and the passing of Bill Castor, Corona, led by Alvin James, Johnny Otero, O. B. Simmons, Carlos Marquez, Lerry Bond, Dick Bagley, Will Locke, and Leroy McCloud, threw Mountainair back to the 17 yard line. The half ended with the score 7 - 0.

During the 3rd quarter, under the quarterbacking of Richard Herval, Corona scored from the 50-yard line with a pitch-out from Herval to Leroy McCloud who weaved in and out of numerous would-be tacklers to score. McCloud had two TD's called back because of penalties.

During the 4th quarter Corona was marching for another TD behind the running of McCloud and the blocking of Will Locke, Dale Brown and Gordon Owens. However, time ran out on the 18-yard line. The final score was Corona 13, Mountainair 0.

Remember . . . to come to the Fair

Remember to come to the Lincoln County Fair Friday and Saturday held at the fair grounds at Capitán. Make this a record breaking one by your attendance. Enter something. Take good interest.

Today is work day there, getting ready for the big event. Many good citizens are working hard to have everything just OK.

The Smokey Bear Museum closed September 8 for the season. There was a greater number of visitors this year than ever before. The rock wall was not completed but it is hoped to be later this year. There are many plans to make it more attractive which it is desired to have ready for the next season.

The horse racing season closes September 13 at the Downs. Many of us who have enjoyed our employment there will be back at home for the winter. It certainly has been a busy season with large crowds.

Seldon and Joy Burks and sons, Eddie and Brian, were visitors at the Leslie Ranch Saturday. They had camped out on the top of the Tucson Mountains and Seldon killed a bear at Goat Springs which is located on the Leslie Ranch. Zane and his sons helped to carry the bear out. It was a beautiful, shiny black one. Seldon is very proud of it. It is the first bear he has ever killed.

It is raining now at noon, September 8. Seems chilly as it is blowing from the west. We had a good shower yesterday. I hope it has reached other points. It most certainly does feel good.

Mrs. Zane Leslie went to Las Cruces to visit relatives last Thursday, returning home Friday. She stopped in Alamogordo to visit Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Burks. Seldon is principal of the Oregon Elementary School.

Sunday, September 6 Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary by going to the horse races. I do wish you many more happy years together.

Mr. Bill Jenkins entered the Ruidoso Hospital August 31. He has been very sick but at this time is improving. I wish you a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Clyde Maryfield and Mrs. Wayne Hobbs enjoyed a business trip to Roswell August 28.

Mrs. Miles Williams and her daughter Carol Ann accompanied by Mrs. Champ Ferguson went to Carlsbad Wednesday and returned Thursday. Carol was bridesmaid at the wedding of her room mate at college in Las Cruces last year.

Carol will leave the middle of this week to register at college in Las Cruces for this year. She hopes to finish this year if all all possible. She went to school at Pagosa Springs this summer. I do wish you worlds of luck Carol Ann. I know you will have it as you are a good student.

Howard and George Hobbs, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hobbs enjoyed their camping out Saturday and Sunday in Tortillita Canyon while bear hunting. Had lots of fun but no bear.

Mrs. Bert Minter who has been ill for several months in an Albuquerque hospital was moved to St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell a week ago Wednesday. She has improved greatly and can have visitors. I wish you a speedy complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Smith and baby daughter, Rhoda Kay are leaving for "Silver City" where Joe will enroll in college.

Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Taylor is going to Silver City where she will enroll in college. She too leaves Wednesday.

Mrs. Alton Tiffin of Grants came last Friday to get her mother, Mrs. Daisy Gehring so that she can spend a couple of weeks with them.

Mrs. Wayne Hobbs became an employee at Cummins Grocery and Dry Goods this past week. She is pleasant and a good worker. I know that she will enjoy her time with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Cummins and two daughters, Cynthia and Kimberly arrived last Sunday from Lake Winona, Indiana, where he has been in Seminary all summer. They will be here for nearly two weeks visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cummins and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins and family. They will return to Pasadena to enter seminary for the winter. Today, it is good to see you and your lovely wife and daughter. I wish you worlds of success.

Mrs. Ramon Padilla went to Phoenix, Ariz. by bus last Wednesday to visit her daughter, Dorothy and family returning Friday evening.

Mrs. Clyde Fort of Lubbock, Texas spent the Labor Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Britton. Mr. and Mrs. Luther McInnis and two daughters, Diane and Shirley were in Capitán from the ranch Monday. Diane is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Huey during the week going to school.

Mrs. Annie McInnis is improving in health. Last Sunday she was driving her car. Glad to hear this news.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leslie left Saturday on a vacation in California for 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones are the proud parents of a daughter born September 1 at the Roswell Medical Center. She weighed 7 lbs. and 6oz. Her name is Claudia Anne. Her little 21 months old sister, Yvonne, certainly loves her.

Yvonne did get to spend three weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones. Miss Lou Harris of Ruidoso Downs is spending a few days with her sister Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kingston.

Hand (Bryson) Lacy killed a big black bear September 1, the very first day of the season.

Fletcher Hall and his party treed a big brown bear Sunday and let his son Buddy shoot it. A proud little boy, he was to have done it with the first shot.

THE LONG AND SHORT — By KH Carlen

Camel milking produces strange sounds and froth on the goatees

Uthmaniyah, Saudi Arabia-- I have just witnessed my first camel milking. It came about in a very convenient manner in the desert wilderness. Stationed in one of the devil's mainstay of operations that I am, I see nothing except a very few foolhardy Americans, Arabs, many herds of camels, flocks of black sheep and goats with great huge tails far different from the goat or sheep found in Lincoln County, and the desert nomads, called the bedouin.

These people of the desert seem to know nothing except camels, the milk they produce, and the dung they provide for fuel. It is taken for granted that they have very comprehensive knowledge of the Koran. However,

This herd of about 50 old mother camels, with little ones at the side, had escaped from the bedouin's harem member, the eternal wearer of the black-robe. She was mounted on a camel, and making a desperate attempt to control the cantankerous beasts.

A 24-inch pipeline crosses the northern fringe of the Rub al-khali desert at this point. A camel crossing is constructed every two kilometers along the pipeline, by Saudi government regulations. The construction is costly to the oil companies. The only cost to the king is the enforcement of the regulation; therefore the camel crossings are installed. This makes it possible for the bedouins to cross his her of camels almost anywhere at his convenience.

For some unknown reason, not being very familiar with the idiosyncrasies of camels, this herd refused to mount the crossing. Such a crossing is Bernie's band of football players looked up to par — that's state champion calibre — at Ruidoso which makes them the team all opposition will be gunning for. Arnold's band is much better. From a start of nothing they had only one way to go and they've surely gone up several notches. After one more year Carrizozo will be in both the football and band business.

Sure got a good feeling from the Corona Cardinals win over Mountainair. Shows what a band of boys can do when they are determined. Congrats to both the Cardinal team and Coach Peary.

Eddie, Elfred and Ruth finally got the Parsons Hotel back in business. We visited up there Monday and sat around talking with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy LaMay. Mrs. LaMay lived in the Parsons when she was six years old and attended school in the Mon Jeau school house, not too far from the Parsons. The Parsons will be housing guests through the hunting season and by next summer should really be in business. The road up Nogal Canyon to Parsons is our choice of the most beautiful drive in the county.

what like a person's grumble, except louder. The camels plodded about in the hot desert sand, and the Arabs hung onto the teats, milking for all there could be gained from the operation.

In a short length of time some of the containers began to run over, and the culprit would hold it to his lips and lower the level, and then milk more into it. Soon they all emerged from the depths of the herd, with a supply of milk. Each had a broad grin on his dark-skinned face, which spread from ear to ear. Those who wore mustaches and goatees had milk froth clinging to the hairy structure. It appeared every way except inviting.

After the Saudis had filled their guts, they offered the old bedouin's madam assistance in forcing the obstinell camels over the crossing. But the Middle East's mainstay of beast of burden refused to cross. They plodded, with the double joints swinging in necessary motion, down the pipeline, and away, with the unusual vocals echoing over the endless sand dunes.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS . . . It's hell to have to come to such a hell hole to watch such a scene. It is also another hell that curious travelers never have the opportunity to observe such a cranky action, and will never be granted the opportunity. Few people in the world will see such. If they do, it'll likely be in Saudi Arabia.

Letters to Editor

Mr. Paul Payton, Editor Lincoln County News Carrizozo, New Mexico

Dear Sir:

A hearty "amen" to your final editorial comment regarding the New York Times. Your opinions carry more weight in Lincoln County than those expressed in that ossified, ponderous daily.

It is natural that certain classes of people oppose Sen. Goldwater. In addition to the New York Times, one might mention Nikita, Fidel, Jimmy Hoffa, Billy Sol, Bobby Baker and Malcolm X.

Our temporary President, who so ardently favor now social legislation, could propose a lay which many citizens would support. Since it is private enterprise that pays the taxes that pay our civil servants and make welfare disbursements and foreign aid possible, the franchise might be restricted to those who actually pay the freight. Beneficial changes could follow.

The idea is not as fantastic as it appears at first glance. Time was in these United States when only property owners could vote, and we now include transients and some illiterates, mental defectives, felons, and the deceased.

In New Mexico... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer.
