Both political parties guilty of stacking the deck

BOTH PARTIES SNUB THE BAPS

SANTA FE — The public wrath against the party conventions is aimed mostly at the Democrats but the Republicans have been nearly as bad.

Democrats are offering only Joe Montoya to the party members when they go to the primary election booths to select a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Republicans are giving their people the choice of Ed Mechem only, who is an incumbent senator only because he appointed himself to the office.

Russians would understand such elections, although they have a little more range of choice in being permitted to vote "no" if they dislike the single candidate offered. There is no "no" lever on primary voting machines.

NOT MUCH CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

The Democrat convention gave their people the choice of Jack Campbell only for the governor nomination.

Republican leaders tried to do the same for Merle Tucker in a little huddle at Robert O. Anderson's Ladder Ranch but were unable to scare off Bobby Jordan, Jordan, who had been campaigning for governor for months wasn't even invited to the conference.

ONLY TWO NAMES ON THE BALLOTS

Last year's repeal of the direct primary and return to the convention system had its most serious consequence in limiting the people to consideration of only two men in the filling of the first U. S. Senate vacancy since 1948.

Sen. Clint Anderson and Montoya himself may be said to have elected Montoya as the Democratic nominee for the Senate.

Mechem wasn't crammed down the Republicans throats but it is quite possible that there would have been others running had the direct primary not been repealed.

TWO INNOVATIONS NOT POPULAR

The conventions and the recent special "annual session" of the legislature left many legislators in the mood to kill them without the prudence exercised in off-year sessions.

RARE COMPLIMENT EXTENDED JUSTICE

The political parties extended a rare compliment to 78-year-old Justice Cleve Compton in giving him another 8-year term without opposition in the Democratic primary or the November general election.

The only other state official ever to receive such a double free ride was Justice David Chavez in 1960.

CAMPBELL RUNNING LIKE A RABBIT

Gov. Jack Campbell who faces what appears to be easiest run a New Mexico governor has had in the past 15 years, is digging for November like a scared rabbit.

His extensive political traveling and hard grinding work on the legislators sent him to the hospital for treatment for high blood pressure but not for long. He popped back in a few days to the same routine.

COMPLETE VICTORY IN LEGISLATURE

Campbell's big spending program was obviously motivated in some degree by the approaching election, and his effort for junior colleges, vocational schools and state office buildings in cities all over the state appeared to most observers to be more political than practical.

The junior college and vocational school measures were rather severely amended by the legislature and the state office buildings bill was defeated.

Aside from these minor losses Campbell got everything he wanted from the legislature including a $149.2 million budget that was almost exactly as he requested.

A last hour effort in the senate to reduce the spending fell short by two votes. Trying to cut the spending were Buddy Wamel of Hidalgo, Ike Morgan of Roosevelt, Ike Smalley of Luna, Joe Skeen of Lincoln, Howard Shaw of Catron, Bill Duckworth of Curry, Vince Vestley of Grant, Lon Shurbert of Harding, Harold Runnels of Lea, George Amaya of McKinley, Vince Leo of Otero, Al Greer of San Juan, Bob Holcomb of Sierra, Don Hathaway of Socorro, Tibo Chavez of Valencia.

The "annual session" which was called this year by the governor will be on the ballot in November in a constitutional amendment which would make a 30-day meeting mandatory in all even numbered years.

Even years are election years, a circumstance that contributed to much of the difficulty in the 1964 session.

Election-year legislatures are prone to raise teachers' salaries and to set up spending programs favorable to large groups

NO CONTEST FOR TREASURER

Race for commissioner shapes up as toughest

Lincoln County political parties came up with candidates in all offices except for county treasurer where Phoebe Mae Taylor, Democrat of Lincoln, will be unopposed all the way. Miss Taylor is the incumbent and has served the county well as treasurer.

Seven candidates filed for county commissioner and the incumbent, R. C. Nunez, Democrat of Picacho, has Nick DiPaolo of Ruidoso to beat in the primary then takes on Joe W. McKnight of Picacho in the general election. All three candidates are in the first district.

Zane Grey Leslie of Capitan, Democrat, was early in the commissioner race in the second district, Robert Shafer, Republican living north of Carrizozo, entered the race on filing day.

The third commissioner district race will be between J. Max Oliver, Republican of Ruidoso Downs, and Romeo F. Klein, Democrat of Hollywood.

There will be four county races in the primary election. For county sheriff, Sanchez vs. Ortiz; for commissioner first district, Nunez vs. DiPaolo; for JP in Precinct 19 Graham vs. Savage; and for constable in Precinct 19 Daniel vs. Atwood. All are Democrats.

Hollis escapes from Otero County jail

Floyd Hollis who is charged in connection with a burglary at the Riverside Cafe in Riverside, January 20, was one of the escapees from Otero County Jail last Thursday morning.

The pair was captured by Sheriff James George and Capt. Carrell after a short-lived freedom of about one hour, south of the Prestige Mill and west of the H-D-Ho Grocery, in Alamogordo.

The 35-year-old one-time Ruidoso Barber was transferred from the Lincoln County Jail earlier this month, at the request of Sheriff Glen Bradley, as a security measure.

In an hour-long session before District Judge W. T. Scoggin on February 23, re-captured escapee Hollis pleaded guilty to breaking jail Thursday.

Hollis, after agreeing to a change of venue for the proceedings, also admitted to the burglary of the Riverside Cafe.

He received two sentences of from 1-5 years each in the state prison.

Otero County sheriff James George and sheriff Glen Bradley accompanied Hollis to the penitentiary in Santa Fe on Wednesday.

Joyce Irene Kile, both of Ruidoso, were married Feb. 25 by Rev. Wayne Joyce, minister of the First Baptist Church in Ruidoso.

Walter K. Roger and Orphia J. Mooney, both of Alamogordo, exchanged wedding vows before James Saylor, pastor of the First Christian Church in Ruidoso on Feb. 29.

Marriage license was issued to Jack Berg, Ruidoso, and Caryl Lavis, also of Ruidoso.

TOWN DISCUSSES NEW BROOM

Filing date and election set at Tuesday session

Mayor and Trustees of the Town of Carrizozo meeting Tuesday night had a full docket of important business, one pertinent item being issuance of election proclamation calling for the regular, biennial town election which will be Tuesday, April 7, in the fire hall. Deadline for candidates to file is Tuesday, March 17, at 6:00 p.m.

Trustees Fred English and Arrell Posey are holdovers on the Board. The terms of Mayor Jete Voss, Trustees Leandro Vega and Buster Smoot expire. None have announced for reelection. Also to be elected is a police magistrate with Friday Sherrill the only announced candidate at this time.

Judges, clerks and alternates for the town election were selected.

Fred Wilson, representing the Burroughs Corp., spent considerable time explaining a budgetary accounting system which has several advantages over accounting now being used by the Town.

The Town has bank accounts and funds for various departments. How these accounts stand from day to day and week to week is not known, except in a general way. It's sort of like your wife's personal account which could show a nice bank balance but then be overdrawn the next day by checks that were outstanding at the time you checked the account. The Town has the same problem exactly.

Under the Burroughs system all balances would be encumbered, that is, at the times debts were incurred they would be charged to the proper account so that the several Town bank accounts and funds would be in exact balance at all times.

The new system would simplify billing for water and street paving items as well as save considerable time in the Town office.

Cost of the recommended Style 1403 machine is $5,030. The Town is considering this purchase.

Two representatives of street sweeper manufacturers talked to the Trustees and this discussion was carried over to the closing hour of the meeting, around 11:30 p.m. There was difference of opinion all around the table. Some Trustees are for the town owning and operating $18,000 more or less worth of equipment to maintain and care for town's dirt streets but do not want to spend any money for equipment to maintain the $231,314.88 worth of new paving. Giving considerable oral testimony on this side was E. Alfred Jones, town attorney, who was of the opinion that no town in New Mexico of the size of Carrizozo owns a street sweeper because they can't afford this type of equipment. The Trustees were probably equally divided, half against such purchase, half for the purchase.

The two types of equipment were Austin-Weston and Wayne sweepers. The total cost of the Wayne is $9,725.00, length of life depends some on care of the machine but such a machine should last 10 to 20 years.

Wayne Withers was asked about certain dirt streets and could he start grading them now. Withers said the streets were too dry, they would blow with Spring winds. The Trustees said start grading now, wet or dry, and such work was under way Wednesday morning.

During the discussion on street sweeper it was pointed out by Mayor Voss that the Town spent $700 on street sweeping by hand last summer in just a few days, that the same streets needed sweeping again in just a short time. He was not for that type of expenditure.

Utility Manager Withers was instructed to use prisoners for street cleaning, but was not given authority to employ supervisor for the prisoners, so it is doubtful that they will be used immediately. The brig is full at present.

Building permits were issued, $128.46 permit to Hutherford Construction Co. for construction of $25,632.00 Mountain States telephone building. A $600.00 permit to Hitter Distributing Co. for doing $12,000 remodel job on Monte Vista Service Station.

Occupation licenses received and approved. Bills allowed.

The Town received request from local school to relinquish the Town's part of .00445 levy on ad valorem taxes for general municipal purposes. The school collects the full amount, then remits $1700 to Town as its part. The Trustees instructed Clerk Nellie Baker to check the accuracy of the town's portion at the courthouse, if correct the request was approved.

Request received to close alley in west half of Block 58, from Ricardo Gonzalez. The Town will do this if permission will be granted by property owners to open up east-west alley in same block.

The Trustees meet Friday with state and federal aviation officials and that is the last day for the Town to make up its mind about the Corcoran airport equipment. The Trustees were in agreement about need of airport, the only question was the amount the Town could spend, something around $7,500 to $13,000.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Jete Voss, Trustees Ar-

Sosa is third man in judge race

A three-way race developed today in the Democratic party for the Third District, Division 2 position as district judge. Dist. Atty. Dan Sosa, Jr., of Las Cruces, announced his candidacy for the post now held by Judge George L. Zimmerman.

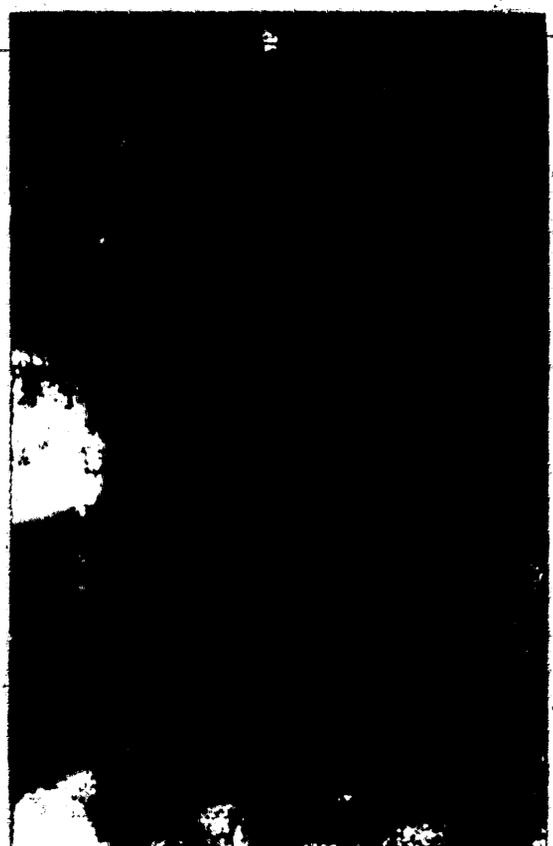

Both Zimmerman, who was appointed to the post by Gov. Jack W. Campbell succeeding Allan D. Walker, and lawyer Richard A. Stanley of Alamogordo, have filed in Santa Fe for the office.

Sosa lists his qualifications for office as including 13 years as a practicing attorney with strong emphasis on trial work.

A former school teacher and former special agent for the Federal government, Sosa is a former city judge in Las Cruces. He was assistant district attorney for the Third Judicial District and presently is district attorney for the district.

Large group of Republicans attend primary convention in Albuquerque

Senator Ed Mechem, speaker at the Republican pre-primary convention held at the student union building in Albuquerque Saturday, accused the Democratic state administration of spending surpluses left by the Republicans, and said Gov. Jack M. Campbell has taken credit for improvements that were not his doing.

Mechem noted that state funds have been raised. But with the additional income, he said, "We see on the state level the same ill-considered, short-sighted money politics which are being

Dear Eleanor and Paul:

My status as President of the Carrizozo Woman's Club expresses the pleasure and gratitude of all the clubmembers for your Lincoln County News editorials. Its been said to pass the news you can telegraph, tell a woman or tell "The Woman's World" by Eleanor.

The Carrizozo Woman's Club is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the largest group of organized women in the world. Mrs. D. Olla Arnold is President of GFWC and advocates freedom of the press. The GFWC's aim is "To Strengthen the Arm of Liberty"; not by mere idle social meetings but by challenging and making known the problems of international peace, world affairs, the Senate Reports and How to Fight Communism.

Last April in Roswell the Sperry Hutchinson "Newscast" selected four of New Mexico's most outstanding editors. Paul Payton was one of the honored. The "Newscast" stressed the power of editorial news to all the club women in New Mexico and its imminent value in our programs. So every club member realizes your tremendous cooperation in advertising has been excellent. Your News editorials, "The Way of the West" by Fote are a mirror of the progress of the woman clubber.

Thanks for making us known to the West.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bryce Duggar

CHEVELLE! by CHEVROLET—a great highway performer

Chevelle balanced performance is best!

Passing, cornering, threading through traffic, sudden stops—Chevelle excels all around! Chevrolet's new surprise package has what it takes to meet any driving challenge: Six or V8 engines, hefty brakes, Full Coil suspension—and a trim size that makes the most of them!

Chevelle means performance plenty—standard 120-hp Six or 195-hp V8—and optional at extra cost, a 155-hp Six, a 230-hp V8, a new 827-cu.-in. V8! But Chevelle's performance means more. Chevelle's a foot shorter than the big cars. And the space Chevelle saves in size comes off the ends, not the middle. So it rides like you want a car to ride.

Chevelle lets you choose Power-glide*, 4-speed manual* or 3-speed manual transmission. Knowing how people like the custom touch, we wrote out a long list of extra-cost options. Knowing all this, what's keeping you from a test drive? Certainly not your Chevrolet dealer!

Curses, insults scarcely resented

Report written for Southeastern New Mexico Grazing Assoc. by L. D. Marchant. Meeting has been postponed, report is now being released for publication.

IN THREE PARTS

Without further consideration of causes and effects, this report might very well be concerned only with our personal affairs as producers of beef cattle and related products of the cattle and sheep industries.

We are alerted to and reminded of the freedoms we are enjoying, now in progress in the political campaigns, and in particular with special enthusiasm in our Fourth of July Declarations.

We no longer speak of statesmanship with reverence to political candidates, but always of political maneuvering and non-existent partisan platforms calculated not necessarily to be in the best interests of all the people, and generations to come after us, but of misleading pretenses by which the party is best calculated to win an election.

Political parties have been designated as "Leftists" or "Rightists", and as "Liberals" or "Conservatives", broad and simple terms, but completely confusing with misunderstanding of the practical application of the terms.

No longer the people appear to be capable or able to be permitted by the politicians to re-assume that cherished privilege of naming and supporting candidates for high public office and for leadership out of the mire of corruption which has engulfed the destiny of this nation.

A generation of young men and women have grown to maturity since the end of the shooting wars, which has culminated in the so called cold war which has a thousand times more than the shooting wars tended to destroy the satisfaction of security we have enjoyed through the sacrifice of those who have paid for our freedoms which we have inherited as a sacred trust.

Political partisan affiliation is being considered as essential as a guide for action, for the determination of casting a vote, for good government and national security for ourselves and those to come after us.

We have stood alone in a world of frequent disorder and clashes of armed might, in most of which we have been more or less involved, and have commanded the respect of friend and foe alike with the morale of our people steadfastly committed to our ideas of government.

Do our actions belie our words? Are our young men and women inspired still and yet by the traditions handed down from our forefathers, that there are yet some things worth fighting for.

The assassination of President Kennedy has deeply shocked the American people, and no doubt the rest of the world, in that our system of democracy in our administration of government, has failed in this instance to demonstrate to the world and to ourselves, that the ballot in our open and free elections, does not necessarily settle our differences and guarantee to ourselves and to our posterity and to a questioning world, that we stand as one nation indivisible and ready without question in total defense of this nation.

In this hour and time of uncertainty, are we ready to face facts as they actually exist? Is it not time that our determinations become realistic and that prevailing sentiment of emotion has no place in our conclusions?

It is not the purpose of this account to dominate the thinking or action of this or any other group of people, but since we do have a totally common interest in this greatest of all controversies in the history of this country and in our way of life, it is my firm conviction that, as President of the Association and the presentation of this report, that I should enumerate to the best of my ability and my manner of thinking, circumstances related to and as having direct bearing on the present, and the future as well of this great responsibility which is the responsibility that all of us must share.

A so called moratorium on political activities and maneuvering out of respect to the memory of the late President Kennedy was a gesture commanding the respect of the American people and assuring a wondering world of the solidarity of our government and our ability to continue without hesitation our processes of this government. The sincerity of such a moratorium is in no sense blighted or diminished nor to be forgotten with the urgency of remedial action in steering the course of thinking and action by every citizen.

We must face up to the fact that there will be ten thousand differences of opinion, and of obstructions, and of political and personal vantage angles, and of religious pressures, and of war mongers, and of pacifists, and of compromisers and of dogooders and don't give a damners. Should we continue to adhere to the slogan, "He kept us out-of-war?" With the eventual prospect of slavery for Americans with communism in control, as we now may be facing such alternatives.

Threat, of Communism has lived with us for so many years that we have accepted it without change or relief. We are being brain-washed in the ideology of co-existence with continual threat of attack in reprisal in a cause of defense of this country. We have scarcely resented curses and insults for our government and soldiers and citizens in military service with risk and loss of life in every part of the world to carry on and win wars with American boys sacrificing all in order that a concealed plan as yet unrevealed might begin to take shape.

While the American people are being bled through taxation in order that the rest of the world may enjoy the bounties of a country which has degenerated to a position of tribute and appeasement for any and all who pose a threat of going communistic, we may now be certain, that successes for which we may claim, do not result from a glowing prospect of freedom such as ours, but rather the lure of the American dollar by tactics of black mail.

Before you have taken offense at a blunty taken circumstance, and perhaps so diplomatically stated, please be reminded, that the purpose of this article is not to white-wash or camouflage any thoughts or influences pertinent to complete understanding and recognition for whatever they may be.

The matter of influence of the Roman Catholic church in our American government, in our educational systems, in our relations with foreign powers and governments, is a very old story and has fitted in with our every day living and in full compliance with the intent and the letter of the law with the constitution of the United States. The very mention of this matter should reassure our Catholic friends of the position they now occupy as citizens of this great country, and the full and unquestioned allegiance of every citizen, with everything you have including your life when necessary.

Resigning the presidency of the United States is not done, the president of the United States is not a conscientious objector, he cannot be a conscientious objector under the most simple requirements of an ordinary citizen. Dead men cannot defend themselves, and every conceivable consideration and interpretation of governing rules is to be made in their defense. I am frank to believe and to state that every man's religion should be respected and whether or not it may be in line with my own beliefs, it is entitled to the highest respect and our most ardent admiration for his faith and his unwavering adherence to the religious faith of his choice, even while posing the question of choice or reconciliation of both to the entire satisfaction of the American public and most of all his own conscience and a high order of allegiance to the laws and traditions of the country he must defend.

A more diplomatic approach to so delicate a subject may have saved the friendship and respect of many who will resent these statements in whatever manner they might be presented, but I will beg that no offense be taken and that your unprejudiced consideration be given to the merits of the political campaign now being waged. (Continued next week)

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bishop of Hondo Valley visited me a few hours Friday then enjoyed lunch at Pearly's before visiting several friends here and at Ft. Stanton before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Brown became the proud parents of a son born Friday. Details later.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitley and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean visited Mrs. Bessie Cummins at the Roswell medical center Friday.

Lewis Roswell returned Friday from Roswell where he had been staying with his wife, Bessie, since surgery Monday.

Mrs. Elma Campbell and three children spent the weekend with their grandmother Campbell at Hobbs.

On February 6 Grace Murphy, Corinne Provine, Eltha Merrill and Lorene Ferguson enjoyed noon lunch at the Summit and then went on to Tularosa to visit Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ferris and Mrs. Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Titaworth enjoyed Sunday evening at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson at their ranch home. They also enjoyed a delicious evening meal with them.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howard returned from their several days vacation with their daughter at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz. Mr. and Mrs. McCollum and family.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Jr. and son Grant were Orville Perry of Carlsbad for the weekend, Jeffie and Leon Tally of Las Cruces came Sunday.

Bert Piper of Arizona recently spent a few days here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Piper. Dixie Sparks accompanied by her mother Maele Edmondson spent last weekend with her brother Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edmondson. Dixie visited friends as well.

The students of the Carnegie course from Capitan are Hollis and Gloria Cummins, Sid Goodloe and Carlton Britton. In the second session Sid Goodloe won the most improvement pencil.

There will be a 3 act play, "Ten Terrified Territes" also "The Storm" at the High School gym Friday the proceeds of which will go to buy annuals. Do remember the date and attend.

The 10 following boys: Jackie Walker, David Martinez, Don Crawford, Tom Taylor, Sam Boyd, Tony Montoya, Ray Sanchez, Frankie Silva, Johnny Walker and Rolland Zamora accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bergman went to Albuquerque on a school bus to partake in wrestling at the Rio Grande School, Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22. They did have a nice time.

Friday, February 23, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reed of Alaska visited Mrs. Ethel Keathley while enroute to Clouderth. They have been away from their home three months. It will still be another month before they get home. They have a nice bus properly equipped to make living nice for travel. They certainly are enjoying it. They have visited relatives in several states.

The progress of the new buildings is grand. The new cafe building has the side walls and windows. Work is going on daily. The new addition to the Ray Provine home has the heat-olater in, the base floor and the framework. Trees are being trimmed and yards are being cleaned. Truly gives one the feel of spring.

I was so pleasantly surprised by a few moments visit from Paul and Eleanor Payton Sunday P.M. as they were enroute home from a nice drive. They had been around Nogal Lake. They reported the atmosphere there sharp and breezy, cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley McDougall's daughter's name is Gayle Louise and weighed 7 pounds one-half ounce. Her grandmother, Mrs. Viola Reeves of Colorado Springs, spent several days with them since her daughter returned home with the little darling. We know the joy all of you are experiencing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins and Trankle Silva attended the Democratic convention in Santa Fe February 22.

Bronney, Kerney and David Cummings went to Loveland, Tex., with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Waltrip for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr. went to Lovington last Monday and returned by Carlsbad Friday enroute home to visit an ant. They reported a peaceful time.

Mrs. Lewis (Bessie) Cummins entered the Roswell medical center February 24 and underwent surgery Tuesday. At this time she is doing OK but perhaps will have to remain another week. I wish you a very speedy and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson went to Tinnie February 24 to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Titaworth and also his sister, Frances, Mrs. Conley, who was visiting them at that time.

Roy Caedill finished remodeling the LeRoy Owens home near Corona. At this time he is starting to build a home for Fred McDaniels at Ancho. Will Rogers is working with him. They are at present hauling brick for that home.

A one day clinic on Quarter Horses will be held March 21 at New Mexico State University. The program will be on selection or judging of Quarter Horses and emphasis will be given to unsoundness as they affect the value of the horse.

The Quarter Horse is sponsored jointly by the New Mexico Quarter Horse Association and New Mexico State University.

The program will begin at 8:00 a.m. at the Agriculture Building auditorium. A color movie prepared by the Quarter Horse Association will be shown, followed by a lecture from Dr. Ted Bolling, veterinarian and associate professor in the Animal Husbandry Department.

At 9:00 a.m. the program will continue at the Aggie Rodeo arena with a series of demonstrations on judging halter and performance classes. Halter classes will consist of aged geldings, aged mares, and aged stallions. Performance classes will include roping, reining, cutting, and western pleasure riding. Official judge and instructor for the demonstrations will be Tom Finley, nationally recognized horse breeder and judge from Gilbert, Arizona.

Horses used in the clinic will be provided by members of the N. M. Quarter Horse Association.

FORMER FT. STANTON NURSE DIES IN MEXICO

(45c per ad., three week minimum)

Word was received from Leo Payman, in Mazatlan, Mexico, that his wife Helen, had died suddenly on February 26 and the funeral was held there February 28th. Mr. and Mrs. Payman were in Mexico for the winter.

Many years ago, Mrs. Payman was a nurse at Fort Stanton and Leo, her husband, the druggist there. Since their retirement they went south for the winter and came back to their home in Kildoso for the summer.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Payman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Jahtzen of A-Jaska, and several grandchildren.

die; but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more portion forever in anything that is done under the sun."

So far as the inspired record is concerned Mary went to the grave to "come up no more," nor does she have any "portion forever in anything that is done under the sun."

The Bible contains the complete will of God. (Gal. 1:8; 2 Tim. 3:16,17; Rev. 22:18,19). Beware of any doctrine not found therein.

HIM, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them." (Heb. 7:25)

Of mortal man who dies (Mary was one) Job declares: "As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away; so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more. He shall return no more to his house neither shall his place know him any more." (Job 7:9,10).

Solomon, being among the wisest, if not the wisest man ever to live, plus being inspired of God, said, "For to him that is joined to the living there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion. For the living know they shall die; but the dead know not anything, neither have they any more portion forever in anything that is done under the sun."

Mary was a good woman, but, like all others, she had to depend upon the blood of Christ to save her. The word of the Lord does not declare Mary, but "Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God." (1 Cor. 1:24). It is not through Mary that we are saved, for "We have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins." (Eph. 1:7). The apostles did not preach Mary but "Christ." (1 Cor. 1:23). The confidence of inspired men was in the Lord, not Mary. "He is able to save them to the uttermost that come to God BY

New aviation weather station established at Lincoln Station

For the Aviation enthusiast in our area, a new aviation weather observation station has been established at Lincoln Station. Reports of current weather conditions are sent daily and hourly, according to the observation. These reports are available from the FAA.

Visiting at Lincoln Station this past week were: Mr. E. W. Woody, Southern Division Superintendent, Mr. H. C. Doan, Division Asst. Superintendent, Mr. Lloyd Mayton, Area 3 Electrical Supervisor. Working at Lincoln Station this past week were Mr. Harold Crump, electrical and Mr. Marshall Blakely, J., instrument.

Flying into Lincoln Station last week were Mr. Alex Caramerous, Division Engineering Superintendent, Mr. J. E. Vaughn, Asst. to Mr. Caramerous, Mr. T. J. Chrestman, Pipeline Superintendent, Sou. Div. and Mr. Clint McClure, Division Pipeline Efficiency Engineer.

In bowling last week the Flames won four from Standard Oil. The Jets won one and lost three to the Easersers.

One little, Two little, Three little Indians, Four little Five little Indians, and oh how they play basketball. The tallest man on the AIS team was 5' 10", and the rest were smaller. These boys play a good game of keep away. In their game against Corona, the Indians kept the ball in their possession several times for nearly two minutes, without shooting a basket. I have never seen a basketball game played in the manner of which this AIS, Corona, game was played. The majority of the Corona team is over six feet. The stalling game that the Indians played was the only way they had a chance to win. When they did shoot a basket, they were almost sure that they would make it. Having never played this type of ball before, the Corona team was very confused. An interesting part about this game which shows how well the Indians played keep away is the score at the end of the quarters, 1st. quarter Indians 3, Corona 2, 2nd quarter, Indians 5, Corona 4, 3rd. quarter, Indians 11, Corona 10 with the Indians winning 34 to 20.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Jackson and children of Tularosa visited Sarah's mother, Jackie Silvers over the weekend. Sorry to hear Deann has rheumatic fever. Take care of yourself Deean and we are sure you will soon be well.

Bryan Hightower visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pruitt of Tularosa on Sunday. They all paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. George Goodson in Alamogordo in the afternoon.

The Ancho UPW will meet at the home of Dorothy Straley on March 10th for covered dish luncheon. The Bible study will be chapters 5 and 6 in the study book. Secret Pal names will be revealed.

The February meeting of the Ancho U. P. W. met at the home of Mrs. Elva Wilson on February 19. A delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by ten members and two guests. Rev. Paul Westberg and Mrs. Katie Crow of Corona. Paul led a lively Bible study on the book of Colossians. Elva Wilson gave the devotional and Vernelle Hightower presided over the business meeting in the absence of Nancy Knight. Dorothy Straley has been chosen to be one of eight delegates to attend the National Meeting at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana the last week in June. She will also serve as a campus hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Knight and children were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Westberg last week.

Steve Harkey was confined to the Carrizozo hospital Sunday with tonsillitis.

Its good to have Katie Mae Straley home from the hospital after major surgery. She wishes to thank everyone that sent cards, gifts and good wishes. I'm sure they all helped her to a speedy recovery.

Rev. and Mrs. Conrad Nugent spent Friday afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leo Straley. Leo and Conrad sawed wood for the fireplace. Mildred also visited Katie Mae Straley in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stone-man hosted the Ancho 42's last Friday evening. Vernelle Hightower and Larry Lynch were high scorers.

County Corral

By Louise Runnels

Making tax schedules in this part of the county is over for 1964. Everyday all over the county was pleasant, as was last year. Picocho with friendly ranchers, Polly and Fred Kimbrell, setting up a nice table and chairs for us and then bringing good sandwiches at noon. At Tinnie the Arabella folks and those at Tinnie made a jolly day gathering to make their schedules. There a nice lunch with Alma Torres and Maria Nelson.

To San Patricio, and did you know Tom Barber is a good cook? Sure is and so is Louise. We rendered taxes in the San Patricio Post Office to the fun of snow and blow.

Hondo for two days kept us busy. I felt at home there visiting with some old Hondo high school mates.

At Glencoe more snow and a real fine meal prepared by Mrs. Shorty Ellis fit for a king.

To Ruidoso Downs, two busy days. Took an hour out to have a little chill at noon at Biscuit Hill with Dude Browning and another treat of sandwiches made by Mollie Reddy and delivered by our health model of the county, Helen Reddy. Ruidoso Downs has a nice city hall, new tables, chairs, and lots of space.

Ruidoso city hall is fun, its a busy, busy place. There you are welcome to coffee and sweets all day. The Ruidoso business men and some residents, hope will render this week, that is — those who forgot or were out of town perhaps.

March 1st at Sierra Blanca set run, a wonderful way to spend a day. How I wish every Lincoln County resident, visitor or tourist, would go to the White Mountain Park before the snow season is over. The roads are good and the drives up and down are beautiful. Up there you're out of this world in a cheery atmosphere, cool clean air and to ski or watch skiing, to me is the greatest sport.

You can take your sled, or saucer sled and ride there in the park. There's cats, seats gondola to ride to near the top of Baldy to look toward Carrizozo, Tularosa, Three Rivers and as far as you can see over the beautiful N. M. mountains.

Claunch News

By Betsy Hooker

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Miller of Roswell spent last Saturday with the latter's aunt, Mrs. Frank Maxwell, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hooker and granddaughter Elva Reed of Silver City were overnight guests in the home of their son and family, the Johnnie Hookers on Saturday. They visited Jackie Silvers' House of Old Things in Ancho on Sunday and returned home that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee were in Big Springs, Texas, Friday through Monday visiting their son, Charles, who is attending college there.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Talley of Las Cruces and Miss Sharon Talley who is a student at Lubbock Christian College spent the weekend in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Talley in Claunch.

The Assembly of God Church held their monthly singing on Sunday. Visitors attending included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams of Mountainair, Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Well of Gran Quivira, Mr. and Mrs. Al Seay and sister, Mrs. Mary Jo Sellers and Rev. James Wells all of Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lovelace and son Butch were in Mountainair Friday evening for the community singing at the Nazarene church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDaniel of Roswell are beginning work on their new home to be located approximately 12 miles south of Claunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvice Jobe of Ft. Stanton were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stapp on Friday.

Weekend guests in the Joe Petross home were his mother, Mrs. Mary Petross of Artec and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery and daughter, Jonnell of Bayfield, Colorado.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Berle Tally Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kite of Gran Quivira, Monty Bussey and Miles Waldon of Corona, Jimmy Bussey of Santa Fe, Red Best of Elida and Roy Connell of Gran Quivira.

The Alton Talley family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Dean Sunday.

Capitan annual staff presents 'Eh', 'The Storm', 'He's having a baby'

Three one act plays will be presented by the Capitan Annual staff on March 6, beginning at 8:00 p.m. in the High School Gym.

The first of these three plays "Eh", a very interesting play, is about two young people that want to get married, but the future father-in-law doesn't want a son-in-law that can hear better than he. Will they or will they not be joined in holy wedlock? The cast includes: Becky Silva as Louise Davison; Wayne McDonald as Bud Richards; John Padilla as Eustace Van Slyde; Thomas Laitter as Elmo Davisor and Ginne R. Peralta as Mary.

"The Storm", the second play of the evening, is set on a rather dark stage as a cold winter night approaches. Each time it storms a man relives an accident. Two Angels and a Hunter appear each time there is a storm. Is there only a hunter, oh do all three really live? The cast for this play is made up of: Jackie Walker as Jeff Mulkey; Janice McKnight as Mary; Rose Jeanette La May as the Woman and Darrell Lee Wright as the girl.

"He's having a baby", a very out of the ordinary situation, will be the last of the plays. Women in the Waiting room? Men having babies? Come see how the women take the news of the birth of their children. Cast: Jeanette La May as Mrs. Murrey; Ginne R. Peralta as Mrs. Foster; Janice McKnight as Mrs. Groton; Becky Silva as Mrs. North and Darrell Lee Wright as Nurse Williams. Pam Hall, Reporter

All superintendents of Lincoln County attended a budget workshop in Portales last week. Resulting from that workshop a meeting of all Lincoln County superintendents was held in the office of J. T. Clegg Wednesday. The purpose of this meeting was to work out minor details which come to all schools.

More than 94 ninth- and School will include an inventory of student educational aspirations and plans which, when used with the scores obtained on other parts of the tests series, will enable advisors and guidance counselors to immediately identify potential dropouts and other students who need special counseling.

Mr. Harry Wugalzer of school finances has requested that all local school budgets be in his office 2 weeks prior to the scheduled budget hearing on March 30 in the courtroom of the courthouse.

The Board of Education will be calling for bids for the demolition of the old Junior High building, March 31. Work on this building will not begin until June 1.

After the area is cleared, it will make additional playground space for the elementary school children.

By recommendation of the alumni committee the bell now located on top of the old school building will be transferred to the new building. No decision has been made as to whether it will be put on the building or on the ground surrounding the school.

The Junior High school was erected in 1908 and the annex, consisting of 2 classrooms, the kitchen and the auditorium were added in 1928.

Film Showing Well Attended About 30 were in attendance for the pot-luck supper held at the First Baptist Church on Wednesday night, preceding the showing of the film "Jerusalem, The Holy City," which was well attended by the public.

A film will be shown for the next 4 weeks, beginning at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday at the church.

Students to take NEDT tests

More than 94 ninth- and tenth-grade Carrizozo High School students will take the three-hour National Educational-Development Tests Monday and Wednesday, March 9 and 11, according to V. J. Marr, Principal.

"The NEDT battery," he said, "is a series of tests in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences, and word usage, which have been designed to measure each student's ability to apply basic learning skills rather than his ability to memorize particular facts or specific subject matter."

"They are being used this year for the first time in an effort to help students, parents, and teachers identify strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and to help them make a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational objectives," Marr said.

"One of the most interesting aspects of this program," Marr said, "is that students who do exceptionally well on the tests battery are singled out for formal recognition. Each student who scores in the top 25 percent nationally is awarded a special certificate of merit signifying his high achievement. These certificates serve to stimulate a respect for academic excellence among the student body."

This year for the first time, the NEDT program administered in Carrizozo High

Mrs. Clara Gallegos dies in Roswell

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for Mrs. Clara B. Gallegos, 89, who passed away at her Roswell home Tuesday morning.

In New Mexico... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In New Mexico... beer goes with fun, with relaxation

The Year 1974

About the only real positivity concerning years to come is that more cans of Coors will litter the country-side. Other things are not so certain. Judging by the nation-wide trend of past two decades, towns the size of Carrizozo will be smaller. There will be fewer business places, fewer youngsters in school, fewer jobs. One could say there will be less of everything, except solitude, and be right.

There has been a lot of talk and some writing in this newspaper about what a town council could do for the town. Not much of this information touched on the most vital business confronting the town — which is to induce more people to live here, or business interests to locate here that will provide jobs for more people.

Such projects as paving, airport, park, swimming pool, removal of eyesores and health hazards, street fixing . . . all are worthwhile. The time has arrived when the available resources of the town should be pooled for one purpose — that of reversing the downward population trend.

The Chamber of Commerce met a few weeks back and staged a repeat performance of many previous meetings . . . talk was about industrial development. The talk was both enthusiastic and interesting — nothing has happened since.

The council has access to financial resources, they meet regularly, should be interested in seeing their town go forward instead of backward. The town council should take on this job, but they will need help. If there be doubt in any voter or tax payer's mind, let them count the empties on Twelfth Street.

We Know The Sweetness

For years and years and years we've been seeing those dim, smoky pictures of opium dens where men got over that tired feeling and just relax, having their every need taken care of by some beautiful female. Have wondered on many occasions what sort of a jag an opium den would be.

We've read many accounts of the cozy effects obtained from the use of hashish and how a person could literally be transported to any land — his mind desired if one just chewed enough or smoked enough of that stuff. That joy supreme has

February 17, 1964 Editor: Lincoln County News Carrizozo, New Mexico Dear Ed:

Well, the snow finally got melted enough for the mail to get in the Canyon. See where the Shepherders Convention in Santa Fe, is in hot session. Supposed to know this week if they raise the fishing license or not. They say that the Game Department don't have any money to operate on. No wonder the way they squander it. The boys in the field all drive Fords but the big shot in Santa Fe had to get the highest priced Buick he could find. I believe that it is time for the taxpayers in the state of New Mexico and in the United States to start speaking out about some of the things that are going on in our state and nation. Especially the budget that the Governor handed in at the Shepherders Convention. One of the best ways that I know of to run the tourists out of New Mexico is to raise the fishing and hunting licenses in the state. That will sure get the job done. Many people from Texas are already making reservations in Colorado and Arizona. A lot of money could be saved here in our state by selling about half of the state owned automobiles, all the state owned airplanes and ground the Governor and all the state politicians in Santa Fe, so that they could not do so much travelling. Make 'em earn their money. Cutting a bunch of salaries of the politicians in Santa Fe would help a lot also. Let us look at the picture in Washington. We have a bunch of old dudes up there that have been there for the past fifty years. Some of them so old that they can hardly get around. For the past three years, they have been fighting over "Medicare Bill" and also cutting the Income Tax. Why is it necessary for the Congress and Senate in Washington to be in session the year around, I think that a session of 90 days a year would be enough. They could do enough damage in that length of time, without being in session the year around. We tax payers are lured to sleep with the soft words. Of the billions that they are going to spend in our state. For over 30 years now we have had the "New Deal", the "Free Deal", the "New Frontier", and now the one that LBJ has come up with is the poverty stricken people in the United States, where everyone has a television set and an automobile to drive even people that are on welfare. Many thousand bushels of fruit went to waste here in our country last summer because of lack of pickers and every year taxes going higher to keep the welfare people going. Many of the politicians in Washington are hollering loud and long about France and England selling Castro Buses and trucks. Yet the same "square heads" that are hollering about this are voting to sell our wheat to Khrushchev in Russia. It all stinks to me. Let's get back to being real Americans again, with the real American principals. Putting the old flag back where it rightfully belongs in our lives. So long Old Mac over in the Canyon

A hotel guest awakened everyone screaming: "It's in the phone book! It's in the phone book!"

The manager and the house detective let themselves into the guest's room, roused him from his nightmare and asked what was the matter.

"I was having a terrible dream," he explained. "I dreamed the income tax people wanted to send me a big refund, but they'd lost my address."

On a recent expedition to Taos we had some interesting conversation with an eminent psychiatrist. When the talk veered to earrings we knew that it was clear out of our territory. Seems the ear pendants have more to do with feminine thinking than we knew. Gals wear them as compensation for what they don't wear on other occasions. For instance, the psychiatrist said, when you see a person wearing the real large type, she probably sleeps completely bare, etc.

Tularosa beat Hatch in the finals 64-61 to take the District 4B basketball championship, and along the way beat Cliff which brings an interesting piece of news to mind.

Within recent days there was a Spanish-Anglo marriage in the Cliff area, neither side favoring the union. The bride and groom were peacefully in bed at their home when some person chucked a burning log from the fireplace on their bed. The groom resented this action and grabbed a gun and shot the intruder, small calibre gun and the intruder was not seriously hurt. They grappled, the groom's finger was stuck in the trigger guard and as they struggled the gun continued to go off, injuring both bride and groom and the intruder again.

Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce is missing a bet. Read where Richard Mithoff was named chairman of the El Paso "Thought Survey Committee" of the C of C projects and that type chairman is just what the Zozo C of C has been needing. What a field for a chairman.

THE STRANGE STORY OF VICTORIA PEAK TREASURE GROWS STRANGER!

The story of the $350 million treasure that lies deep in Victoria Peak, west of Carrizozo not too many miles, grows stranger with the passage of th days. I've had a story published about the fabulous wealth; and so has just about everybody else, in one form or the other.

Lots of people have become entangled in the exotic mystery, as new leads, new facts, and, certainly, stranger stories continue to spring into the light. And th fantastic ego just won't die.

The whole thing, as it commenced, is something like this—in so few words as this space will permit. In the 1930s Doc Noss of Hot Springs found an ancient mine shaft, Victoria Peak, probably of early Spanish origin, with gold and ancient Spanish artifacts, armor, etc., and treasures inside, worth well in the excess of $350 million—besides that much more in raw gold ore, hanging from the ceiling of the shaft, never mined!

Doc worked secretly a few years in the old shaft and recovered a few of the gold bars, which he sold in the black markets, for a grubstake.

He met a Texan. They formed a partnership, to recover the wealth from the shaft. Result—a murder in Hatch, with Doc the victim. The Texan was tried and acquitted of the murder charge. The Government took over the land and Victoria Peak for a military reservation. This put a quietus to the Noss heirs working the claim. Some three ago a soldier from the Holloman AFB found a couple of gold bars on the Peak, while hunting; and reported it to his commanding officer. The Pentagon and the Army officials entered the picture.

The Noss heirs, in support of their legal mineral claim, stepped again onto the scene, to protect their rights. A probable final result—The New Mexico Department of Anthropology, headed by the world-famous Dr. Fred Wendroff, hired a mining concern, Gaddis Mining Co. of Denver, to dig in the Peak to settle the issue for once and for all about the fabled treasure. They dug around, and finally pulled out, saying they could find nothing. What's further from that Department, we don't know.

What the general public believes in the situation amounts to just about what was heard in the reception room of the Lovelace Clinic a few weeks back: "They say they didn't find anything—of course! Because they didn't dig in the right place!"

Soon thereafter I had a story to appear in an issue of REAL West. It had hardly hit the stands until here came a letter from a Mr. J. Wm. Smith, Walnut Ridge, Arkansas. He knew the story, and lots more. In 1943 he was working in the California shipyards with a Mr. Coulter (or Coltrup). Suddenly the man announced he had to leave his job for a few days, and go to Hot Springs, New Mexico, on an urgent mission, he said. Two weeks later the shipyard worker returned to his post, and his working companion, Mr. Smith. He told Smith why he had gone to Hot Springs. His brother-in-law, the Doc Noss, had discovered the gold and wealthy Spanish artifacts in Victoria Peak. Doc had wanted him to quit his California job and assist him in the recovery of the treasure. He told how he had made the trip deep into the subterranean chamber where the treasure was neatly stacked, and saw it with his own eyes—and described all about it, including the several human skeletons scattered about in the room. All just the same as it had been told to this writer a few years ago by a retired Mexican army captain in Del Rio, Sally Calderon, who was in Hatch when Doc was gunned came out with the same exotic story when he had no rightful reason to stretch the privilege of conversation. What about such things. Is this a fantastic story that will eventually surpass that of Cabeza de Vaca, Fray Marcos, and the search of the Southwest's greatest treasure hunter, Francisco Vasquez de Coronado? What about the two gold bars the Holloman soldier discovered while hunting? And the Government, who rarely becomes entangled in such proceedings, especially a fabled treasure story—such as for dreamy fellows like me. And what fantastic tale lured the Anthropology Department into activity? Most certainly it was more than hearsay!

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT IS . . . There's stranger stories to the fabulous wealth at Victoria Peak than the strange stories that already told!

What about all these tales, coming from all over the country, told by people who claim to have viewed the wealth with their own eyes, and deep in the underground cavity. And they are people still living today; still talking about the tale! What about the tale of the California shipyard worker who went into the deep tunnel, and

Robinson becomes 20th contract holder

Jack Robinson, of Capitan New Mexico, recently became the 20th Great Plains Conservation Program participant in the Upper Hondo Soil and Water Conservation District. The Robinson ranch, a cow-calf operation, is located approximately one mile west of Capitan.

Conservation work to be done under the contract is as follows: 20 erosion control structures involving approximately 43,000 cubic yards of earthwork; 4,000 feet of stockwater pipeline to improve grazing distribution; 1,100 acres of plow and juniper brush control and range proper use on the entire ranch.

The objective of the Great Plains Conservation Program is to assist ranchers and farmers in developing and carrying out, on a voluntary basis, a plan of operations that will bring about great stability through grazing and cropping systems and the application of enduring soil and water conservation practices. To carry out this program, Public Law 1021, 84th Congress, provides for assurance of continuing cost-share assistance to ranchers and farmers who present a satisfactory plan for their entire unit including a time schedule for establishing conservation practices.

Any land owner in Lincoln County desiring further information regarding the Great Plains Program or assistance in preparing a conservation plan for his ranch or farm is invited to visit the Soil Conservation Service Office in Capitan.

Plains program counted a success

The Great Plains Program was started in Lincoln County in 1958 and has been quite successful in getting complete conservation plans applied. About 50 ranchers in Lincoln County have entered into Great Plains contracts and applications are on hand for several more.

Great Plains conservation plans provide an orderly sequence of applying conservation work and cost-sharing is included to make these plans feasible. The program is completely voluntary and decisions as to what is included in the plan of operations are the ranchers but must meet basic conservation principles.

The ranchers decisions are written into contract and cost-share money is set aside for the duration of the contract. The contracts are flexible to allow for changing conditions, bad weather and other factors which might arise. Each individual contract is tailored to fit the particular ranch.

Once the contract is signed work can progress on the conservation plan. This work is scheduled according to the individual situation. As each item or job is completed, cost-share is made. The cost-share varies from 80% on revegetation to 60% on erosion control and brush control and 50% on most other practices.

Any landowners interested in assistance under the Great Plains Conservation Program should contact the Soil Conservation Service representative serving their location for additional information.

Mr. Manuel Cumin and J. T. Clegg attended a language workshop in Albuquerque Saturday, to determine the equipment for the new language room, which will be located in the school building now under construction.

Old Lincoln Town

By Mrs. Edgar Phillips

Mrs. Addie Salter who was operated on last week at St. Mary's in Roswell is doing as well as could be expected. She was very ill, when she went in to the hospital. It will be quite some time before she will be able to be back on the job at Tode's Trading Post. Meanwhile, Tode is taking care of the store.

Mrs. Ramon Macs is steadily gaining her strength back and we hope will soon be back to her normal good health.

Betty Shreeve spent the weekend in Santa Fe. She found the legislators very busy trying to get all their work done before time ran out.

Otto Laster is in the hospital in Carrizozo. He has been quite ill but is better now.

The Lincoln Ditch Association held a meeting Sunday afternoon and agreed to make some needed improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. Nethaway are starting on their house. They plan to remodel and perhaps add on to it.

Christmas trees now big business on Smokey Bear's home range

Christmas Trees cut on the Lincoln National Forest during 1963 formed the focal point in some 20,000 homes this past Christmas. Trees cut from all parts of the Lincoln Forest found their way to homes, churches, military bases and municipal parks in all parts of New Mexico, Arizona, and Texas, reported Lincoln National Forest Timber Management Officer, T. J. Loring, at the Forest headquarters in Alamogordo, New Mexico, during a recent interview.

In spite of increasing competition from metal and plastic trees, the traditional fir or spruce tree still is a must for most families. In addition to 17,000 trees sold to dealers for resale, nearly 4,000 individual permits were issued by Forest Officers during the three weeks immediately before Christmas, Loring stated. The individual permits, sold at one dollar each, allow the holder to cut his own tree from a designated location on the National Forest. Many families living in the Alamogordo, El Paso, Artesia or Roswell area took advantage of this permit provision and cut their own tree during a weekend outing in the mountains.

Municipal Christmas trees handled by various service clubs or Chambers of Commerce, were also obtained on the Lincoln, according to Loring. These trees, real beauties from 30 to 45 feet tall, were erected in Alamogordo and Las Cruces, New Mexico, El Paso and Crosbytown, Texas, among others. As in all timber cutting operations on the National Forests, Loring further explained, cutting of young trees is retained on the high mountain slopes. With more intensive management it is expected that the Lincoln Forest will eventually be able to furnish over one million Christmas Trees annually.

This is getting to be really big business for the National Forest known only to most people as the original home of Smokey the Bear. As Loring pointed out, many of the large fire scars, such as the one in which the young Smokey was found, are now being put back into tree growth through intensive reforestation and timber stand improvement measures.

As with other products from the National Forest, the Lincoln's Christmas Tree crop will contribute in a very real sense to the economy of towns or counties within or adjacent to the National Forest. This contribution takes the form of payments for meals, gasoline and oil by the individual permit holders, wages paid to those cutting for commercial dealers and payments in place of taxes to local governments. It is expected that for the Christmas season just past returns to the several counties involved will amount to better than $3,000,000 from the Lincoln National Forest. This money helps finance roads and schools within the respective counties.

Walter Hubbard made a business to Alamogordo Friday. Rev. Jessie Allen, pastor of the Happy Valley Baptist church in Carlsbad, is seriously ill in the Memorial Hospital of that city. Rev. Allen is a former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Carrizozo.

Traffic accidents cost lives, money

Winter's hazards are greatly reduced this time of year, with spring right at hand, and only a few muddy roads to cope with, driving is much more pleasant than it was several weeks ago. Each driver can contribute to make driving even more pleasant by helping to enforce the traffic safety rules set up for our protection and benefit, by the State Police. It will take the wholehearted support and effort of every citizen in this community, state, and nation to bring down the rising number of fatal accidents and reduce the number of minor accidents to a minimum. There were 8 traffic fatalities in Lincoln County in 1963, compared to 12 in 1962, this is a slight reduction in our county, but still 8 lives were lost. Fatal accidents are very costly not only to the loved ones left behind but also to the state and the entire motoring public.

More accidents mean increase in cost of automobile insurance. It is the duty of every driver to begin traffic safety with himself, by obeying all traffic signs and being courteous as well as careful at all times. It will take the unlimited cooperation of 5 out of 6 citizens to cut down this wasteful expense and human suffering.

"SOULS IN CONFLICT" WILL BE SHOWN MARCH 11

The Billy Graham film "Souls in Conflict" will be shown at the First Baptist Church on March 11 at 7:30 p.m.

"Souls in Conflict", with spiritual lift for all, was filmed during Graham's world-publicized London Crusade. It is a feature-length film in color. Joan Winmill, star of the British TV spy thriller, "Epitaph for a Spy", and herself a convert to full-time Christian service, plays the actress. Eric Micklewood is the jet pilot and Charles Leno the factory worker.

"Souls in Conflict", a full-length feature in color, joins the two earlier Billy Graham dramatic films, "Mr. Texas" and "Oiltown, U.S.A." All three are well known for their quality drama and challenge.

J. L. Sandoval in Operation Backpack

USS HORNET (FHNC) — J. L. Sandoval, aviation boat-swain's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sandoval of Carrizozo, is participating aboard the anti-submarine warfare carrier USS Hornet in a coordinated U. S. National Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan.

Backpack is an exercise to test the amphibious capability and readiness of the forces of the Seventh Fleet and the Nationalist Chinese Navy. The exercise, with over 40,000 men and 140 units participating, will culminate in an amphibious assault on beaches of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate the effectiveness of the United States Seventh Fleet to rapidly move a significant combat force to a troubled area in order to assist an ally.

Early fish license buyers will save

The early bird will catch the saving on license fees. Increases approved by Legislature and signed into law by the Governor will be effective May 26. But licenses will be in the hands of vendors late this month, and buyers may take advantage of the old fees for about two months.

New fees are shown below, with the old fees in parentheses: Resident: Big Game $7.50 ($5.00), Fishing $5.50 ($3.00), General Hunting $9.00 ($6.50), General Hunting and Fishing $12.00 ($9.00), Bird $5.00 ($4), Trapping $2.50 (1.10). Nonresident: Fishing $10.00 ($8.00), Five-day Fishing $5.25 ($3.00), Ten-day Fishing (not previously available) $9.00, Bird $17.00 ($15.25). Other license fees are unchanged.
