Patient load at Fort Stanton showing gain

Members of the Fort Stanton TB Hospital meeting in regular session at the Fort Saturday heard the report that the rate of admissions to the hospital had increased considerably since Christmas.

During the year 1964 there were 219 patients admitted to the hospital. Since Christmas day the hospital has admitted 50 patients and discharged 19 in the same period of time up to February 15. This increase is due to several things, one being the increased emphasis on state-wide TB control, the activity of the mobile X-ray unit, and the chest clinics that are being held in most all sections of the state.

Of the 219 patients admitted last year, 107 were cases first reported in 1964, 35 of the 219 were not TB cases, though thought to be so on admission. 62 cases had been reported prior to 1964, 4 cases were Indians from Arizona and 10 cases cannot be identified as to prior reporting.

Another interesting figure reported to the board was that 24 of these were known for the first time from information on their death certificate sent to the Health Department. This means that these 24 TB cases were potentially dangerous as TB carriers during their lifetime.

Of much interest to the hospital staff and board of directors is an expensive and detailed study of TB control made in Texas and just now released. The state of Texas is planning now for complete state-wide TB control, along much the same lines as New Mexico is now following, though on a much larger scale because about 10 times as many people are involved. Control of TB is one of the most expensive and most important from public health standpoint.

Should New Mexico succeed in TB control, as entirely possible, the gradual phasing out of TB facilities at Fort Stanton is to be expected and moving them to another medical center, probably Albuquerque. The facilities at Fort Stanton are valuable in several ways and their future use is a matter of importance to the board of directors.

The board named George W. Bryan, hospital superintendent for the past year, as the new administrative officer, replacing Dr. H. C. Jernigan, who remains medical director. This action leaves Dr. Jernigan free to supervise operation of the state's TB clinics, which have been increased from 21 to 25 in 1964. Use of the clinic is a contributing factor to the upsurge of patients now being admitted. Supt. Bryan was instructed to start making a master plan of hospital facilities immediately. Several basic reasons include: Potential future use of the Fort, immediate replacement needs, security ward, etc. A building housing 37 children needs additional plumbing facilities. This building is a former warehouse converted for a children's ward and whether to repair the building or tear it down is part of the problem. Chairman of the board, Dr. Gene Mann of Pecos, will contact Gov. Jack Campbell for further information about the future of the TB Hospital.

As a part of the Hospital's inter-agency cooperation program the TB Hospital staff is supervising removal of facilities from Villa Solano, moving some to Fort Stanton for storage, sending items to other state agencies, etc. This work will take about three more weeks. On completion of this project Fort Stanton technicians will be on the Fort to complete some projects held in abeyance there.

The last item of business on the agenda was election of officers. Dr. Mann was re-elected to another term as chairman of the board, and Mrs. Lena M. Pfeiffer re-elected as secretary. Other board members are Dr. Louis Leylin of Albuquerque, Mrs. Eleanor Jones of Captain and Paul Payton of Carrizozo.

CHEST CLINICS COVER STATE — Dr. H. C. Jernigan, medical director at Fort Stanton TB Hospital, is holding a state map with lines running from the hospital to the sites of all chest clinic locations in the state, which pretty well covers the state. This presentation was made at the regular hospital board of directors meeting Saturday. On the left is Dr. W. F. Rosenblatt, senior medical associate, and on the right is Pat Salas, secretary to the board. (News Photo)

Blizzard chilled area Tuesday

By Eleanor Payton
Who was it said, "Everybody's always talking about the weather but nobody ever does anything about it?"
Everyone in Lincoln County would have liked to do something about the weather Tuesday. What started out Tuesday morning like a forerunner of spring with a balmy temperature of 40 degrees, by ten o'clock had changed into a blustery winter day with a few flakes of snow falling. The editor was heard to remark that this is the way blizzards start in Kansas, and by noon we were experiencing a New Mexico blizzard with temperatures dropping into the low twenties and blowing snow that made visibility a matter of a few feet.

YOUTH TODAY

Judging from the grades they make, some teenagers must think they're too young to go steady.

By late afternoon traffic out of Carrizozo was pretty well tied up with roads icy and treacherous. A check of motels and hotels found them all filled by mid afternoon and stranded motorists looking for places to spend the night. Many were housed in private homes.

Superintendent J. T. Clegg reported that all school buses left school by three o'clock and made the trip without serious mishaps. Mr. Ralph Forsythe who drives the Nogal school bus said that the trip was slow. The bus stalled several times from snow blowing into the motor. He estimated the snow at Nogal at two feet on the level.

One woman tourist from eastern United States on her way to Tucson said that she had been in three blizzards this trip. The ice was so heavy on the wheels of her car that they would barely turn.

One motel reported having fifty calls for reservations within an hour after they were filled up.

The storm subsided about 6:30 in the evening. The temperature dropped to one below zero Tuesday night but Wednesday dawned bright and clear with rapidly rising temperatures and things got back to normal.

Caldwell services today at 2 p.m.

Harry Duard Caldwell, 49, passed away Feb. 22 at the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque from injuries received in an accident several weeks ago.

Mr. Caldwell was born July 14, 1915 in Covington, Ky. He had 22 years of service and saw action in Europe, Africa and Korea, retiring from military service as Master Sergeant in 1942. Mr. Caldwell was the recipient of the Bronze Star and other medals for outstanding service.

He was a member of the Assembly of God church. After his retirement Mr. Caldwell made his home in Carrizozo for some time, with the last months of his life spent at Ancho.

Survivors include: the widow, Gwen; two children, Michael and Susan of the family home; one daughter, Mrs. Betty Jo Gesquire and two grandchildren of Los Angeles, California; three sisters, June of Carrizozo, Earlene and Fern of Covington, Ky.; one brother, Ralph of Detroit, Mich.; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p.m. Thursday in the sanctuary of the Ancho Presbyterian Church.

Burial will be made in the Ancho cemetery. Pall bearers are: Ray Wells, Marvin Roberts, Cliff Zumwalt, Tommy Knight, L. Y. Jackson and Lee Straley.

SKREEN REPORTS Gambling bill in the House hopper

One of some 500 to 550 bills introduced in the House of Representatives would permit legalized gambling in the state. Representatives from Rio Arriba and Guadalupe counties were reported as sponsors of the bill, no other details known.

The county predatory control bill went through the Senate Monday with a unanimous vote and now goes to the House. This legislation will permit counties to petition to assess themselves for funds, through the county assessor, for predatory animal control.

Introduction of bills was what off Tuesday noon with 241 introduced in the Senate.

Senators bottle up convention bill, in spite of 85,000 to 29,000 vote

SANTA FE — The senate of 1965 is building what some consider to be a good case for scuttling that body and reorganizing its membership on a population basis.

Senators who are desperately trying to preserve their chamber just as it is looked like they might not be responsive to public opinion when they bottled up in committee the primary convention repeal measure after the public had voted last November 85,000 to 29,000 for repeal of the law.

MEASURE BURIED IN RULES GROUP

The house, which was reorganized in 1963 on a population basis, promptly approved the measure 60 to 13, and of the 13 who voted "no" only four were against repeal of the law. The other nine were expressing their opposition to frills that had been attached to the repeal measure.

In the senate the house bill was assigned to the rules committee which may never send it to the floor for consideration by all the senators. That would mean it would die in committee at the end of the session next month.

RARE RECORDING OF PUBLIC OPINION

The 1962 convention law which repealed the direct primary method of nominating state party candidates has provided a rare incident of indisputable public opinion.

The 85,000 to 29,000 vote against the convention law came from every one of the 32 counties. No where was the vote even close.

The November, 1964, vote was the second time the public voted against the convention system.

In 1950 the public voted against the same convention law 54,000 to 14,000 and also in that election the law was opposed in every county in the state with all but one recording a vote of more than two to one against the convention system. The exception, Dona Ana, also voted against the law but was 14 votes shy of a two to one margin.

ALSO STALLING LIQUOR REPEAL

The senate is also being accused of bucking public opinion in its delay of considering the house approved measure for repeal of the liquor price fixing law.

The house brought up the measure without delay and passed it 48 to 29.

This is another one that the people seem to want but it lacks the cold election figures that tell of the public feeling about the convention law.

KING, ROBERTS MAKE DEBUT

It is not unusual for the speaker of the house and the house majority floor leader to throw a party for their fellow members but it becomes quite an event when the speaker is a candidate for governor and the floor leader is going for lieutenant governor.

Such was this week's affair put on by Speaker Bruce King and Leader Austin Roberts at the Santa Fe Elks Lodge.

A report was repeated all over the place that King and Roberts had decided to run with or without Sen. Clint Anderson. Earlier it had been reported that governor-maker Anderson wouldn't approve the team.

MUCH DISCUSSION OF JOHN KELLY

King and Roberts made their debut while there was gabble talk going on among Democrats about Assistant Interior Secretary John Kelly of Roswell for the Demo nomination for governor.

Kelly made his showing in the company of Anderson at Sen. Fenrod Toles 100th Bill Party in Roswell last week. After the party Kelly came to Santa Fe for a couple of days to renew old acquaintances. He has been in Washington four years.

WHAT ABOUT JOE IN 1964 PLANS

There is a great deal of conversation about Joe Montoya's choice for governor next year with hardly a word about what Joe Montoya, who is also a senator, may think about the party ticket in 1966.

Montoya is safely cemented into the Senate for six years and has far too much interest in New Mexico politics to stand aside and let others do all the arranging.

Now that the Senate election is over Montoya's interests do not coincide perfectly with Senator Anderson's.

From things that went on in the past it would seem that Montoya would favor former Gov. John Burroughs or former Atty. Gen. Fred Standley for governor, both willing but neither of them acceptable to Anderson.

Burroughs had Montoya's brother Tom as head of the ports of entry and gave Montoya extensive patronage at the statehouse.

Standley who was also in the Burroughs administration, was Montoya's campaign manager and is presently his No. 1 man in the state.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICTS DUE FOR CHANGES

The 1964 legislative election districts that were responsible for most of the 18 Republicans in the house are due for some changes if the legislature approves a house reapportionment bill introduced by Bruce King and Austin Roberts. The bill changes the geography of many of the Republican districts. They used to call it gerrymandering.

EARLY MORNING FIRE DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Capitan volunteer firemen were called out at 4:00 a.m. Tuesday morning to fight a fire at the Sedillo residence. Mr. and Mrs. Sedillo and their 6-week-old baby escaped injury but the house and the family's personal belongings were almost a total loss. The fire was caused by a faulty flue. The property was owned by Godfrey Herrera.

Pherigo property sold to Murfin

Seven lots and a garage building in Carrizozo changed hands early in the year and the transfer is just now becoming effective. Marion Pherigo sold his garage building and seven lots to Ralph Murfin with the stipulation that Pherigo stay on and operate the garage as in the past.

Murfin is doing work to get the Capitan mill in operation and expects to use the garage property as a place to construct mining machinery.

Pherigo built the garage in 1951 and for a number of years lived in quarters at the back of the building, before buying a residential property.

Ford introduces LTD limousine, the ultimate

CHICAGO February 20 — The Ford LTD Limousine — a vehicle representing the ultimate in Ford-car luxury — was introduced here today by Donald N. Fry, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager.

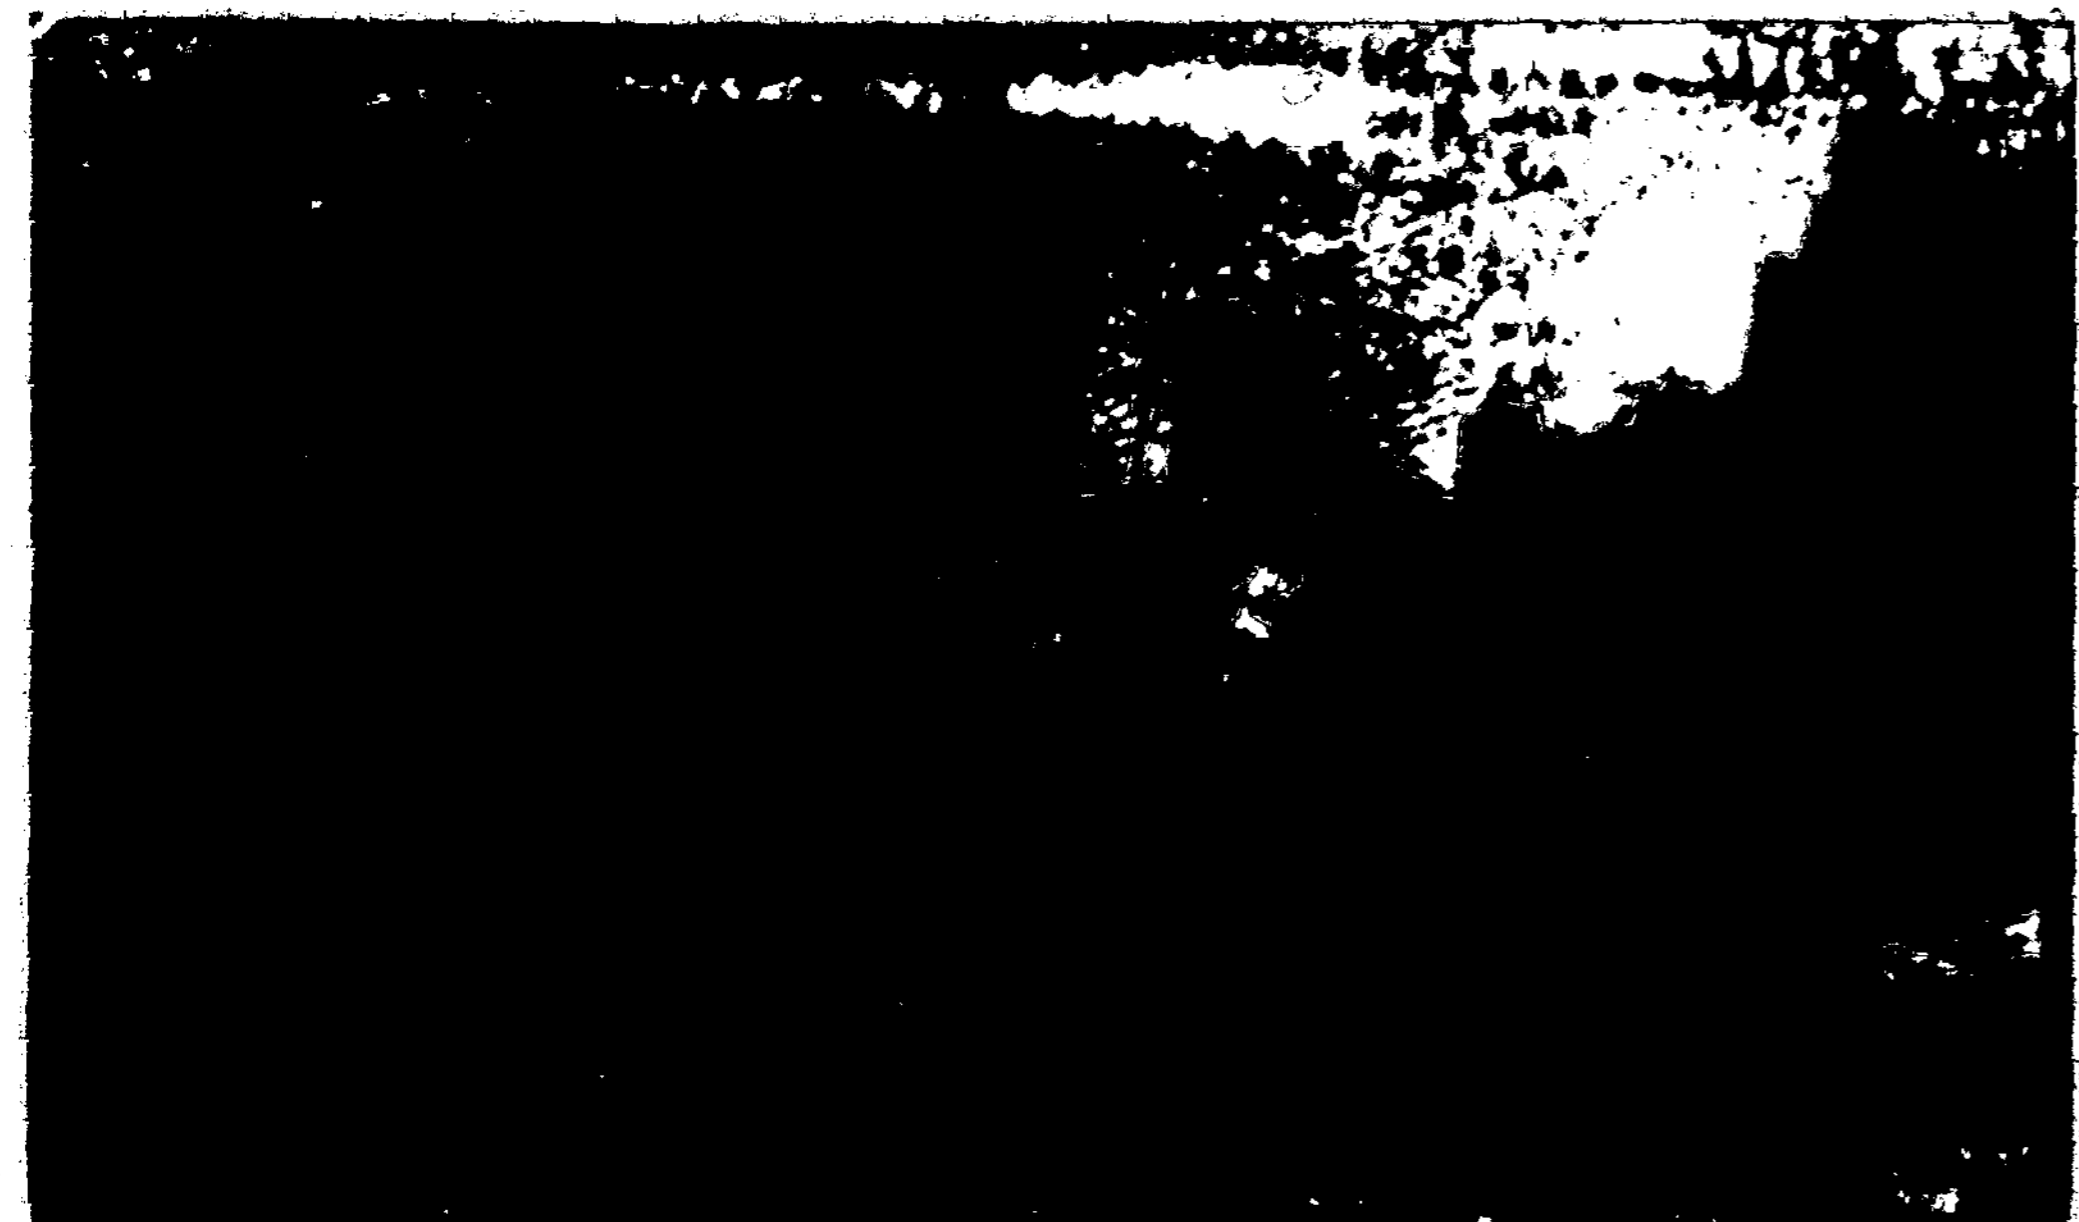

In unveiling the show car to newsmen, Mr. Fry said the new limousine has been built to "test public reaction to an eight passenger limousine that would sell for several thousand dollars less than similar units now on the market."

"The Ford LTD Limousine is possible because of the inherent luxury designed into the 1965 Ford Galaxie 500/LTD 4-door hardtop," he asserted. "The same quietness, smooth ride and elegance that mark the Mustang also are characteristic of our LTD.

"Even the appointments—including the dual pedestal-mount seats which provide seating for five in the rear compartment—are made of the same materials as those used in our LTD."

The Ford LTD Limousine was developed for Ford Division by the Dearborn Steel Tubing Co., a company well-known in the special-vehicle field. The body and chassis are extended 24 inches in length, with suitable body, chassis and suspension modifications to accommodate the added passenger load. The car has a rear compartment heater.

FIRST THE BELL — The old Carrizozo school bell was removed. A few more weeks of school hours is coming down to ground level fast good weather and the grounds will be cleared. from a start in the bell tower where the old (News Photo)

Old school bell will be preserved

The old school bell that hung in the bell tower of the old junior high building now being razed and has attracted people to school, probably since the original building was erected in 1908 is to be preserved.

At the February meeting of the Carrizozo Alumni Association, held at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Stephenson, Superintendent J. T. Clegg presented a sketch of the plan for the erection of the bell which will be placed in a towerlike structure on the grounds of the new school.

Other business transacted at the annual meeting was the setting of a date for the annual homecoming which will be June 25, 26 and 27. Two committees for the homecoming were appointed—the hospitality committee and the dance committee.

The next meeting will be March 3 at the Carrizozo County Club. All Carrizozo Alumni are urged to attend.

"Just for Fun"

There is a little about a popular song writer who wanted to write a song about the most beautiful thing in the world. Not being sure what that was, he asked a wife old friend of his: "What is the most beautiful thing in the world?" The old man pondered for a minute or two, then said: "It's faith, young man. FAITH is the beginning of heaven here and now. Faith is the thing that changes pain into gladness and sorrow into victory." Next the song writer asked a young wife. She knew without hesitation: "It's love, of course. LOVE makes wealth out of poverty and joy out of duty." Then he met a retired soldier and put the same question to him. "It's peace," replied the veteran wearily looking at his scarred hands. "PEACE is the most beautiful thing in the world and war the most hideous. Without peace there is no beauty."

Highway and subdivision work making Capitan a going community

Progress is still going forward in Capitan.

The Cheney subdivision will be known as the Del Norte subdivision when it is ready to start. The water line was delayed during the snowy cold weather but is going in now. Orris Smith reserved 5 acres of his land and the others he sold to a Roswell man.

The Crusee lot on East First Street is completely cleaned off now. The small building also was taken down. Only a trailer is standing in front of it. It was certainly a grand improvement.

North of Dean's and Cummins' near the creek, the land has been leveled and cleaned to stock pile gravel for the State. They have set up their rock crusher on the Ft. Stanton pasture.

Highway 48 north of Capitan is going forward nicely and soon will be ready for the surface coat. These new projects certainly make great improvement.

Mrs. Cab Lee Pruitt and son Steve of Cloudcroft accompanied by her nephew, C. N. Pruitt, were guests of Mrs. Daisy Gehring last Sunday. C. N. is going to a hospital very soon for his eyes. He is nearly blind. They reported a birthday party was given for his mother, Mrs. Pearl Pruitt, at the home of her daughter, Grace, in Alamogordo where she makes her home. February 12 was her 84th birthday. There were 58 children and grandchildren present. I wish you many more healthy and happy birthdays, Mrs. Pruitt.

We have had wintry weather with mostly clear skies this week. No snow. The White Mountains are still white and on the north sides of the hills, here, snow is holding.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wallace are proud owners of a 1965 blue two-door car.

Last week Cell Ware accompanied by Pearl Soderback went to Roswell on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Robinson and Joy recently moved to Albuquerque to make their home. Mrs. Connie Holloway and three children moved into their house across the street from the laundry which makes it easier for Connie as she operates the laundry.

Mary Bowden is holding her Beeline party at the Woman's Club House February 25.

The ladies of Capitan are organizing a basketball team for a benefit game during March. Anyone interested please talk to Shirley Goodloe or Mary Bowden. They met February 22 at the home of Ann Cearley to discuss this.

Lavon Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson, was killed in that barracks raid in Vietnam. I extend my sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Chavez, Sr. and four children of San Rafael were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Frances Peralta, Andy and Mike. Their four-months-old baby had spent two weeks here with its grandmother. On their return home, they took it and Mrs. Peralta.

Mrs. Wayne Hobbs made a business trip to Carrizozo last Wednesday.

The Lions Club held their pancake supper as scheduled Tuesday at the school cafeteria with 200 attending. It was a big success. The basketball games with Ruidoso were held afterward. Capitan won the first game but Ruidoso won the second one by one point. It was very exciting.

Guests attending the Pat Dixon 40th wedding anniversary Saturday from out of town were their son Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dixon of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs.

Russell Dixon of Utah, Mrs. Ward and daughter of Ruidoso. Friends from here called that day but many have called since who were not able to attend. I wish you many happy years.

Mayor and Mrs. Gerald Dean left Sunday for Carlsbad. Mrs. stayed with an aunt there who was ill and Gerald went on to Lovington. They returned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, ranchers at White Oaks, were Capitan business visitors last Thursday.

Mrs. Hollis Cummins made a business trip to Carrizozo last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cummins and grandson David went to Roswell Friday.

Ann and Virginia Robinson, Alma Walker and Janet Randle attended the banquet at the Four Winds in Carrizozo given in honor of the Grand Worthy Advisor, Miss Frances Anne Compton of the Rainbow Girls Wednesday night. Mrs. Compton of Portales accompanies her daughter, Frances Anne, on these trips to each order over the state and was present at this one. Alamogordo was well represented. It was a good meeting.

Mrs. Willa Morris of Fort Stanton left by bus Saturday for Ajo, Ariz., where her brother of California will join her and they will visit their brother and family there. Then they will go on to Flagstaff to visit another brother and family. She expects to be away 10 days.

Ten-year-old Boyd Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, was struck by a pick in the head while playing last Tuesday. He was taken to a doctor at Ruidoso. He is now at home and must stay quietly in bed for some time as he has a concussion.

Paul Jones, Jim McEuen and Mr. Bilsberry left Sunday to attend the Forest Service School at the Continental Divide. They returned Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Clark and son Tracy left Friday for Chama to spend the weekend with his parents.

Henry Clary was here from Mountainair to see the Harold Clarys — he returned home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams are planning a trip to the west coast very soon now.

Old Lincoln Town

By Mrs. Edgar Phillips

Mrs. Barney Aldaz spent last week visiting relatives in Albuquerque.

We are in the middle of a beautiful snow storm. It has been snowing all day (Tuesday) we welcome the moisture provided in a big way.

The Shrecengost home was the setting for a baby shower for the infant son of Kap and Judy Kelly last Tuesday afternoon. The baby was the star guest and seemed to enjoy it. He received many lovely gifts. The hostesses Micky Thomas and Betty Shrecengost served delicious refreshments of Jello with whipped cream and the best cake I have eaten in a long time.

Mrs. Audrey Longfit, formerly of Albuquerque is the new manager of the Wortley Hotel and I'm sure it is going to be a wonderful place to come to under her management. Day by day she is making changes and plans to improve it. I'm predicting she'll have great success. Here's hoping she finds she likes to live in Lincoln as a lot of people would if it were possible.

There are still several cases of chicken pox around, but they

Caution on applying immediate medicare

You should read the statement by Dr. Ward of Dubuque, Iowa, before reading this short piece. Ward's statement will help clue you in on the problem.

A feature of the problem of medical care, as we see it, is one the government cannot handle so easy with legislation because it deals with the amount of medical help available (number of doctors).

If you want to see the doctor or dentist now — you phone, maybe several times. If you are dying, or think you are, you head for the hospital — but first you phone because you need referral to get in the hospital either alive or dead.

Talking with a doctor recently we asked how busy he was. He told us that he used to refer new patients to the youngsters who should have more time because they had not been doctors long enough to build up a patient load. Now the young medics are telling him to quit calling on them, they have all they can do.

With some variation this situation is true all over the country.

What will happen if the doors are open to a lot of free medical service? Is the nation ready for a sudden rush to the doctor with both valid and imaginary ailments. The answer is "No".

Advice to the nicotine lorn!

A business as large as the Lincoln County News is one of many departments, all fully staffed with competent people willing and eager to speak out on the problems of the world and their fellow men. It comes to our attention that a great number of our fellow men have rolled all their courage into one fully-packed piece and have given up smoking except during those periods when in-laws come to visit, in which instance the smoke comes from inner fire not from cigarettes.

The News department with the most knowledge of kicking the smoking habit is the morgue. People in this department, where we file last week's pictures, clippings, and unused ham sandwiches, have seen how too much happiness ruins a man and they have given up smoking, drinking, sex, fishing and hunting. We don't see these people every day, they are mostly dead, but during our last visit we asked one of the bodies how he had managed to eliminate all the joys of life to achieve such great strength of character. His answers fill the following paragraphs.

Life is all a matter of substitutes, he told us. Where I used to smoke a good cigar each morning to start the day, cigarettes and more cigars later, I decided it would be much better for my constitution if each morning I slapped the wife in the chops before breakfast and kicked the kids out of the door on their way to school. It worked like a charm, I no longer smoked or had wife and kids to worry about.

I used to take a drink each evening after work, then a few more at several bars which would rev up my blood stream and clarify most of the problems of the day. Then one day I decided to show my character and quit drinking. I did. As a substitute for this activity I would go home, walk over to the neighbor's fence and cuss the hell out of him, his wife and his dogs. That usually resulted in a fight which revved up my blood stream just the same as whiskey.

After passing these two tests of character, giving up sex, fishing and hunting was easy. I took up dominoes, tidilywinks and racing, all of which I could play with myself, win one day and maybe lose the next. This kick had a side advantage that helped — I no longer had money or companions to worry about.

As we walked out of the morgue we heard this final message which is most important to those who give up smoking, etc. — "You got to live right, live right, live right. But then, I'm dead, dead, dead."

What do you know of medicare?

The Congress should give careful consideration to Elder-care, the medical profession's answer to Medicare, which it finds objectionable on several counts. Consider the argument of Dr. Donovan F. Ward, MD, of Dubuque, Iowa.

"Certainly, it is never too late to pass good legislation and defeat bad legislation.

"The one thing in this historic decision — the only thing — that may truly come too late, is regret," he asserted.

Dr. Ward declared the nation is not in a national health emergency of any kind after asking, "Are the senior citizens of America dying by the millions, neglected and unattended, because a thing called medicare is not on the books at this moment?"

The future health of all Americans is at stake in the deliberations over the health care measures now before Congress, Dr. Ward said, and he added: "This is a time for deep and careful deliberation. Are 200,000 doctors wrong in pointing out that our senior citizens should have a health program that does not turn its back upon the views of private medicine? Can the objections of the doctors be considered an asset in drawing up a national health care program?"

"Are 200,000 doctors wrong," Dr. Ward continued, "in asking that careful study be given to the Herlong-Curtis Elder-care bill, the only medical aid for the aging measure now before Congress that was drawn up in consultation with the medical profession?"

The AMA president cited a recent Gallup Poll that showed that 77 per cent of the American public was mistaken in their understanding of what medicare is, or did not know what the administration's proposal offers.

"Can anyone," Dr. Ward demanded, "honestly claim there is a mandate for medicare from the American people when three out of four Americans have a tragically mistaken understanding of its provisions, or honestly admit they do not know?"

"Are 200,000 doctors wrong in urging Congress to pause in the headline rush to exercise a mandate that does not exist?" Dr. Ward asked.

The AMA president questioned whether doctors are wrong in urging "the many new members of Congress, whose votes are already being counted on to swing the balance in favor of medicare," to first study the reasons why medicare has been defeated repeatedly in previous Congresses.

The Herlong-Curtis Elder-care Bill, Dr. Ward asserted, is the one measure now before Congress that offers genuine medical and hospital benefits to the needy and aging and he urged that both Congress and the public compare the bill feature by feature with medicare.

This is certainly a reasonable request.

Stinging Prayers

There's a chaplain of the state House of Representatives down in New Mexico who gets in some unusual digs at the politicians. The prayers of Rev. William Crews opening each daily session of the legislature raises many eyebrows—and some protests.

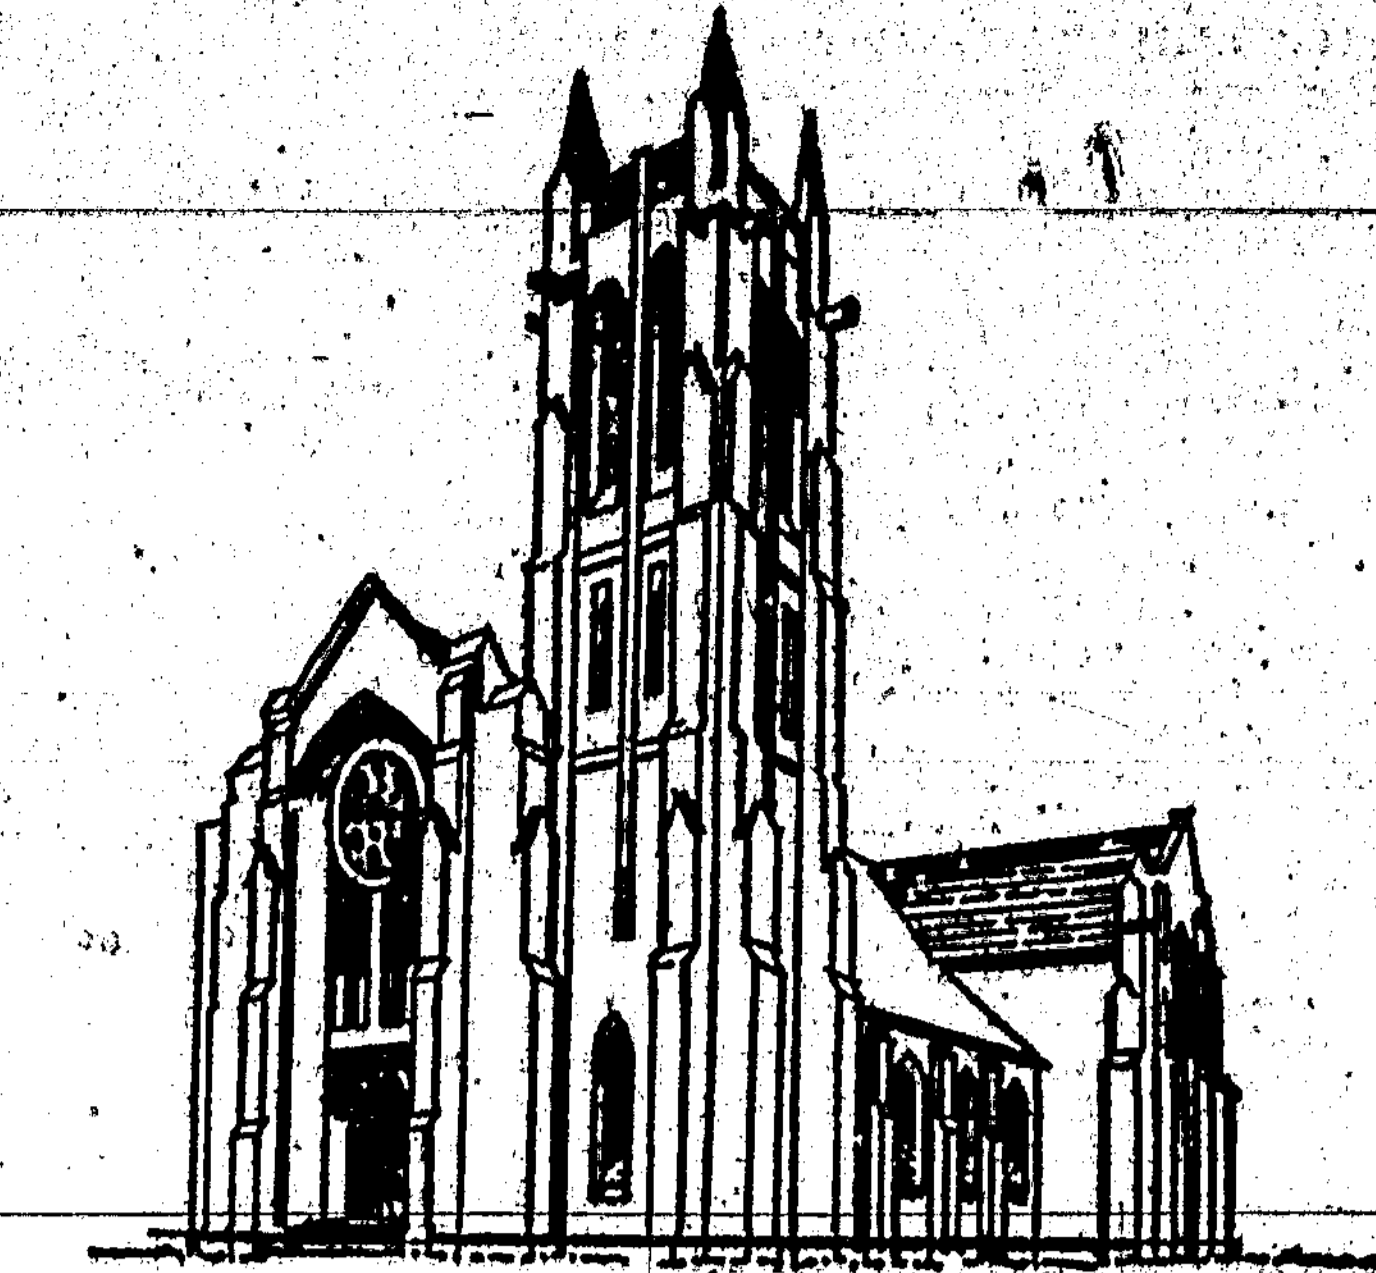

The opposition cites one prayer spoken when the House was to vote on appropriation bills for New Mexico schools. He prayed thus:

"Almighty God, we who spend $10,000 for a bus so our children will not have to walk and then budget $200,000 for a gymnasium so they can get exercise, do now seek your guidance in all matters financial."

Another time when one of his prayers jumped across party lines but struck a touchy nerve with too many legislators they tried to oust Crews, a 31-year-old Episcopalian. He was saved by one vote. He came right back with this prayer when the House was debating reapportionment:

"Put far from their minds the vested interests of particular counties and give to them a vision of the republican process of government so that by their action in vote they do not make a lie of our representative system."

That one also almost cost him his job. But he's still there, being quoted more than some of the legislators.

NMMI starts drive for chapel funds

The New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, has announced plans to direct a nationwide campaign among its alumni, patrons, and friends to raise monies for construction of a $600,000.00 cadet chapel on the school campus.

The announcement came from Dudley E. Cornell III, chairman of the New Mexico campaign drive. Cornell, an alumnus of NMMI, is President Teaching Machines, Inc.

Cornell explained that the interdenomination chapel will be gothic in design and will seat approximately 2,000 in the auditorium. A small Prayer Room dedicated to all cadets who have given their lives in the service of our country is included in the chapel plans.

Heading up the NMMI Chapel Fund national campaign as chairman for patrons is Hollywood actor-businessman Joel McCrea. McCrea has two sons: Jody, now a Hollywood actor, and David, an Oklahoma rancher, who are alumnus of the New Mexico Military Institute.

BY PAUL

The '63 to '64 June report of Department of Game and Fish contains one set of figures that are interesting. Cost per pound of trout produced (exclusive of capital outlay) is $1.15 at Glenwood, $1.17 at Lisboa Springs, $3.2 at Parkview, $3.1 at Red River, $1.29 at Seven Springs, making an average of $.967. The variance of cost was said to be due to the amount of maintenance of hatchery facilities and the amount of production at each hatchery.

The total increase of 12,706 licenses brought fishing license sales to a new all-time high.

In Bonito Creek (South Fork) 1,978 Rainbow 6 inches or over were planted. In Bonito Lake 10,943, Clayton Lake in Union County (about the same size) received 23,015 Rainbow. Nogal Lake received 14,220.

One of our favorite mayors is named Clyde Voshell, a red-faced Democrat (testotater) who is hell on wheels at being mayor of his town. He tells his constituents that if they don't like the way he runs things to get a new man, which apparently works because he's been in office for many years. Clyde knows from whence cometh his strength, one of his most recent WHEREAS (proclamation) reads like this: "members of the national hairdressers enhance and maintain one of our greatest wealths, the beauty of American women". How can the men of the town fight a guy like that.

Read where Tennessee is having trouble with Smokey Bear signs. Two men have received 60-day jail sentences for shooting Smokey twice with a shotgun. A better treatment would be to step off about 40 paces and let fly at the men with a load of buckshot. Next to litter bugs we hate sign defacers the worst.

Many people are wondering what will happen around the Capitan mill where work is now being done to get the mill ready for some milling. No one local knows much except that Lee Downing and Assoc., representing or being Gold International, Inc., have a fellow named Clifton James from Idaho Springs, Colo., getting the mill ready. The assumption is that custom milling will be done.

Tons of bat guano and dead bats in the ceiling of Los Lunas High School library do not constitute a threat to the children there, a district health officer has said. We think all that bat manure would constitute a serious threat to the custodian's job.

One of the several catalogues coming across our desk at regular intervals is unusual "Italy Presents", the Italian trade magazine published in Italy and distributed everywhere apparently, is unusual enough to make one look, and lots of retailers "buy". Italy seems to be behind the trend in one respect, they are showing small house trailers at the time we are going to compare and large house trailers. Italy does not have so many pickup trucks is one good reason.

Dear Paul:

Enclosed pubs. for Lincoln County News.

I did not see anything in your paper about the passing of Katie Lambert last August. New Mexico lost a pioneer citizen and I lost a warm friend. Katie was the wife of Fred Lambert, for 35 years Sheriff of Colfax County.

Her life story is in the book "Satan's Paradise", which is in your Capitan school library. She rode a big Palomino horse, and figured in many exciting adventures up in Cimarron. She was also a fast shot and her special gun is a handy one. She is buried in the cemetery on the old Santa Fe Trail in Cimarron. After a long, happy, eventful life, may she rest in peace.

Regards,
Lols Telfer

CITY GARAGE

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO

By County Agent Ralph Dunlap

Zana Hall, 4-H member of the month from the El Capitan Club, is shown riding her horse that she is taking as a project. She participated in the 4-H Rodeo every year and won a silver buckle as the best all-around Junior Cowgirl last year. This is her fourth year in the horse project.

She is secretary-treasurer and junior leader in her 4-H club this year and is taking clothing, knitting and fat lamb along with her horse project. Zana has exhibited at the County Fair every year and at the New Mexico State Fair in 1962.

She has taken 23 projects in her five years of 4-H club work. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hall and her leaders are Mrs. Ray Province and Mrs. Marie Walker.

Joe Skeeti is using the new plastic wool bags this year. These wool bags look good and seem to stay cleaner outside than burlap. The plastic stretches when the wool is packed in them the plastic contracts causing the wool to slowly rise. Once in a while this can cause problems in sewing when the bag is extra full.

Ewes that are gaining in weight at lambing season will raise more lambs than ewes in poor condition.

Many lambs can be saved each year by a little extra feed prior to lambing time. Ewes that are strong and gaining in weight will drop vigorous lambs and furnish plenty of milk.

Sheep raisers doing supplemental feeding in late winter should pay particular attention to the condition of the ewes. Most ewes are carrying a full fleece of wool and may appear to be in good condition, while actually losing weight. Poor quality roughage requires some protein, but it would be more important to add one-half to three-fourths pound of concentrate or cubed feed.

The Wool Bureau has announced that a new symbol now appears on selected items of men's and women's all-wool apparel made of "the world's best wool".

Purpose of the symbol is to dispel confusion caused by promotion of various fibers as being "like wool," "as good as wool," or having such characteristics of wool as warmth, durability, wrinkle resistance, resilience, or stain resistance.

Use of the new symbol will be limited to all-wool products meeting Wool Bureau standards of quality. Goods are subject to inspection at all stages of manufacture and distribution right up to point of sale. Inspectors have been training since to control the quality of goods bearing the new wool mark.

In countries where wool labeling legislation is inadequate or non-existent, the new symbol will enable consumers to identify pure wool products. In the United States, the wool mark goes beyond the legally required statement of fiber content to assure the consumer of a superior standard of quality.

Seed bargains are usually expensive in the long run. Common weed seeds can increase production costs, decrease yields and make harvesting difficult and result in a low quality product.

If seed of noxious weeds are in the seed, they can cause serious crop losses and may be a problem for many years. It is difficult and expensive to control noxious weeds once they are established.

All seeds offered for sale in New Mexico must be labeled as to variety or kind, purity, germination and noxious weed seeds present. If "Bargain" seed is not properly tagged, it may be unlawful as well as expensive.

It is unlawful to sell seed which contains seeds of bindweed, nutgrass, white top, poverty weed, camel thorn, Russian knapweed and halegeton. Other noxious weeds which must be shown on the tag are dodder, white horse nettle, wild oats, blueweed and Johnsongrass.

Producing a quality apple was discussed at the Fruit meeting held in Hondo last week. To do this the orchard must be managed properly throughout the year, not just at picking. Pollination is affected by temperature, poor pollen, and many other conditions. Only two per cent of the blossoms are needed for an apple crop.

Gene Ott, Extension Marketing Specialist at N.M.S.U., talked on the Apple Market - What Ails It. Some of the symptoms of the illness that ails the apple industry are that the New Mexico apple is not wanted by the grocer, he prefers Washington apples. He prefers these apples because they are uniform in size, free from worms and picked mature enough to taste good. Some of the prescriptions he gave for curing this illness are to spray to keep the worms out of the apples, grade the apples rigidly at picking time and keep the apple cool after picking as the orchard heat in the apple hurts its quality. The new apple spray schedules will be available by March first.

Dan Houston and Billy Glen Houston, and that Monday, March 29th, 1965, at 10:00 A.M. of said day, at the Court Room in Carrizozo, New Mexico, has been set for the hearing of said Petition, and you are hereby notified to appear and show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted.

Close of 1964-65 basketball season finds two winning, three scratching

Basketball in Lincoln County reached the end of regular season play and teams are now getting ready for the state playoffs. Corona, winner of the Bean Valley Tournament last weekend, and a winner of Hondo, rates as the best team in the county, Hondo with a 18-5 season record stacks up in tight second place.

Ruidoso and Carrizozo had 20-20 records, many injuries along the way, and no consistent win streaks to mark the season.

Hondo high ends year with two wins

HONDO - Hondo High School wrapped up a successful season with a winning weekend as they downed Carrizozo 64-52 in Hondo Friday night and traveled to Hagerman Saturday evening where they took the Bobcats by a 72-60 margin.

Warrior's loss finale to St. Pete Crusaders

Mike Clark, writing in the Roswell Record, gives this account of the St. Pete - Warrior game won by the Crusaders 47-44.

It was obvious from the start that the Crusaders were going to have trouble with the rowdy Warriors, having a hard time scoring and leading only 12-8 after the first quarter. A Ruidoso field goal by Larry Russell tied the game at 12-12 but the Crusaders led at the half 28-12.

Then the fun started. Early in the third Franchini drove for the bucket and was fouled by Darrell Stierwalt. Stierwalt, however, decided to try his hand at wrestling as he trapped Franchini in a headlock. Officials stepped in but it was a sign of things to come in the final two periods.

Going into the final eight minutes the Crusaders held a 37-33 lead. A free throw by Dillon and a field goal by Griffin made the count 40-33 before Ruidoso made its final bid. Field goals by Blizzell and Stierwalt made it 44-41. Franchini hit, Morrison hit making it 46-43 and St. Pete's had it won.
