Capitan coach in hospital, Tigers are healthy Carrizozo ready to go with Title I project

This will be "The week that was"

This will be "The week that was" in many ways for the Capitan community. First, their Tiger football team completed the regular season with a 7-1 record, champions of the southern District 2-C and a shot at the state title. The title game will be played Friday at 2:00 p. m. at Roy, the northern champion.

Second, Tiger Coach Melvin Romero left Capitan between 6:00 and 7:00 p.m., Thursday headed for Santa Fe to spend the night before going on to Tierra Amarilla to scout the Roy Longhorns in their final game. Coach Romero is in St. Vincent Hospital at Santa Fe as a result of this trip. It happened as follows:

When Romero pulled into the parking lot of the Holiday Inn at Santa Fe two fairly young fellows got out of a car that had followed him in. They said they did not like the way he had passed them on the highway. Romero later said he didn't recall having passed them. Some conversation followed, finally Coach Romero said he was going to bed and headed for his room.

No sooner had he turned his back than they jumped him. In the ensuing scuffle Romero took a blow squarely on his right eyeball, in addition to having his clothes torn real bad. He later stated he did not know whether or not the two fellows had any sort of weapons in their hands.

That blow to the eye put him in the hospital and surgery was performed Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. to repair a broken bone behind the eyeball, necessary to straighten out the eye muscles.

The News report comes directly from Prin. Mayfield at Capitan who went to Santa Fe Sunday and talked at length with Coach Romero. Prin. Mayfield said that Romero had talked by phone with his wife Monday night and reported he could open his eye wide for the first time.

Whether or not Coach Romero will attend the championship game depends on progress of his recovery. Chances are good he may be there, but how active he can be in guiding his team is not known.

Coach Romero gave Santa Fe police the license number of the car the two fellows were driving. Santa Fe Police Chief George Craig told the Associated Press that the license number of the car had been traced, and an arrest was expected momentarily. Mrs. Romero has been real critical of Santa Fe police action, stating that "rowing gangs" were commonplace in Santa Fe and that officers were reluctant to press investigations out of fear of reprisals against their own families.

Third (in "The week that was"), most of Capitan will be in Harding County for the game Friday. Prin. Mayfield said that if weather permits, their band, directed by Bartley McDonough, will make the trip. The band has 35 members. In addition the girls drill team of 20 members will go and around 200 Tiger boosters are expected to travel north for the game.

The Tiger football squad (27 players) will leave after lunch Thursday and stay at Tucumanari that night. Coaches Neal Bergman and Jerry Durman, also Prin. Jack Mayfield will accompany the team.

Roy's main claim to fame is Tommy McDonald who played high school football on the Longhorn team and is now with the Los Angeles Rams, a pro team. Last year Roy played the championship game against Carrizozo and lost 26-7. This year Roy has a 7-1 record. Roy lost to West Las Vegas and tied with Springer, a club it later beat, 30-14.

Mayfield said the Tiger team was in good physical shape, with a week off most team injuries have healed and he believes they are in a good frame of mind to go into a championship game.

6,713 tax payers receive notices

The county treasurer's office mailed out tax notices this week to 6,713 taxpayers. Of this number 530 are new taxpayers this year. Tax notices go to 3 foreign countries, Hong Kong, China, Monte Libano, Mexico, Tampico Tamps, Mexico, and Ahmadia 4, Kuwait, Arabia and 37 of the 50 states.

Taxes to be collected in Lincoln County total $382,731.00 an increase over last year of $151,496.92. This increase is due to the two new school bond issues in the county and the special assessment voted by sheep ranchers for predatory animal control to protect sheep and goats.

Estimated valuation of the county was set at $21,231,674.00, an increase of $5,356.70 over the 1964 figure.

With the thousands of tax payments reaching the county treasurer's office in November, it will no doubt be the busiest place in the county.

Carrizozo schedule of coming holidays

Carrizozo Municipal School will turn out at 3:30 Friday and no school will be held Monday, November 15, for deer season.

School will be dismissed Nov. 24 at 2:00 p.m. for Thanksgiving.

Christmas holiday will begin at 2:00 p.m. December 22 and school will reconvene on January 3, 1966.

WRECKAGE OF PARSONS MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin finished off the wreckage of the Old Parsons Mill, up Tanbark Canyon, sometime late Tuesday.

Walter Hubbard and Ralph Murfin were using a cutting torch to remove some 3-inch shafting during the day Tuesday, but left at 2:30 p.m. after putting dirt on the embers around their work. There was no sign of fire or smoke at the time they left according to Mr. Hubbard.

Lincoln County gets 4-wheel drive truck

One feature of the Hondo Valley flood disaster cleanup worked well for Lincoln County. A 4-wheel drive IHC truck was rented by the day, with the understanding that the county could, at the end of the spraying program the truck was used for, pay the difference between new cost and rent paid and own the truck.

For the price of $210.00 Lincoln County now owns a 4-wheel drive truck in good condition. That was the balance due and paid by the county from the road fund. The disaster fund paid the rent.

Bill Harman wins carbine

The sporting rifle raffled off by Carrizozo golf club Tuesday was won by Bill Harman. The winning ticket was sold by Wayman Gray with Peg Pfingsten drawing the winner out of the box. The club will use the raffle profits for improvements on the golf course.

Total of $22,481 for Zozo project

Mr. Cal Taulbee of the State Department of Education told the Lincoln County News Wednesday that all paper work had been cleared, that approval had been made, and that money would be available as soon as signed vouchers were received — to implement nine Title I projects in Carrizozo Municipal Schools.

Supt. Glen Ellison said that work has been going on for five weeks including the Board of Education and school officials, that the nine projects are in good shape and coordination and installation of equipment will start shortly. Supt. Ellison had only praise for State Department officials, Cal Taulbee, Mildred Fitzpatrick and Bob Esparanza for their fine cooperation and encouragement.

Mr. Taulbee said that Carrizozo's project was the 5th or 6th in the state to get underway. There was some confusion as to guidelines at the start of the program but that work has smoothed out and his office expects to be caught up, by working over the Veterans Day week end. Mr. Taulbee thought some real good ideas were back of the Carrizozo project, and it was one of the better plans.

Under this Title I project will be included a reading teacher and grade school secretary (classified as a teacher aid), both yet to be employed. Materials and equipment for a reading lab, money to modify the commerce room by taking out a partition, installation of a sliding door to facilitate teaching of Typing I and II, and installation of 30 new combination desks.

Some new music instruments will be purchased, and be available for students who cannot afford to buy or rent an instrument. Such teaching aids as tape recorder, phonograph, TV and movie projector will be purchased. An automotive and metals shop program will be carried on during the winter.

Certain types of transportation will be provided for students and a health fund will be set up to take care of needs of economical or educationally deprived students.

The nine plans were developed through teacher workshops, and final clearance was made through the Board of Education.

Students of Santa Rita School may participate, or otherwise benefit in the projects to any extent their school officials see fit. Carrizozo Municipal School has no control over Santa Rita School, but is responsible for making programs available to Santa Rita. The total amount of money involved in the Carrizozo Title I project is $22,481.61. Supt. Ellison believes that a good program has been worked out and that with good cooperation from the community, the nine projects can be carried out for the benefit of the entire school district.

A mobile historical exhibit, "400 Years of Historic Trails", will be shown in Carrizozo November 13. It is free and open to the public. The exhibit tells the history of New Mexico in terms of the trails used by early explorers and traders from Mexico or the East to Santa Fe.

The exhibit was produced by the Museum of New Mexico and is sponsored by the Museum, the Capital Buildings Improvement Commission and the Department of Development. It features historic pictures, maps, and a large model of the capitol building complex in Santa Fe.

Lucille Smith held the pot while Mayor Gerald Dean drew the winning number. Money from the raffle will be used at the Forestry Camp.

ACTION IN THE HIGH COUNTRY — A minor miracle is being completed along Highway 24 (Cloudcroft to Mescalero) where the Otero County Electric Cooperative is running a power line to provide power for a new sawmill going up on the Mescalero Reservation. Time is important in this instance and a Helicopter is helping in a big way. Lineman Darrell Huber is reaching out to bring the cable in as the copter drifts it by. See the Cooperative news letter for more pictures and news story of this exceptional piece of construction. (Lincoln County News Photo)

INSIDE THE CAPITOL — By Will Harrison

Burroughs' prospects revive Republicans

SANTA FE — The improving prospects of former Gov. John Burroughs for the Democratic nomination for governor have set people in impressive numbers to nagging former Republican Govs. Ed Mcchem and Tom Bolack to try for the office again.

TWO RUNNING REDMAN READY

Already two Republicans have announced for governor, Albuquerque Reps. David Cargo, a liberal Republican, and Cliff Hawley, conservative.

Both are minor figures in the party but Dr. Jack Redman of Albuquerque, the party's top vote man in the last two elections, is also interested in the governor run if it appears that Burroughs is to be the Demo nominee.

Mechem and Bolack, the big guns of the Republican party, have retreated far into political retirement but might be induced to emerge. Mechem, after four terms as governor and two years in the U. S. Senate is still several years younger than Burroughs, and Bolack is younger than Mechem.

POLITICAL PROS LIKE BURROUGHS

Burroughs was extremely unpopular and unsuccessful when he was governor in 1959-60 and was defeated for reelection by Mechem in 1960 when the nation went Democratic with John F. Kennedy.

He was not unpopular, however, with the party pros and wanted to run again in 1962 when he could probably have won the nomination but was thumbed out of the race by Senator Anderson.

Sen. Joe Montoya is against Lusk and for Burroughs which offsets the governor.

NOBODY WANTS BRUCE KING

With Anderson against Burroughs and Montoya against Lusk it seems that the two party leaders would consider the third major candidate, Speaker Bruce King of Santa Fe, but there has been no indication of such a compromise.

King doesn't have any serious enemies among the half dozen figures at the top of the party but none wants him for governor, so far anyway.

LYNDON'S MAN IN CAMPAIGN

Burroughs is a little harder to oppose now than he was in the past.

Last year he was the manager of the Lyndon Johnson campaign in New Mexico which was somewhat successful with the biggest election margin the state ever gave a presidential candidate.

And Anderson must not have been too sore at Burroughs considering that he had one of the former governor's daughters on his Washington payroll until she left for school a couple of months ago.

Gamma Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi will entertain husbands November 20

Pinkie Ruth Rickerson was hostess when Gamma Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met on November 2nd for a combined business and social meeting.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Elizabeth MacVeigh. Roll call was the modeling and history of each member's dress. The year range was from 1850 to 1965. Reports were given by Standing Committee Chairman. Plans were completed for a Thanksgiving Progressive Dinner for members, husbands and guests to be held on November 20th.

The program "History of Dress" was given by Jane Shafer. It was very interesting and informative.

Following the business session and program the Chapter presented Mrs. Marlene Dross with a stork shower. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Refreshments of sandwiches, donuts and hot spiced punch were served from a decorated table which carried out the stork shower theme.

The door prize was won by Jane Shafer.

Aims and goals viewed at meeting

The Lincoln County Democratic Women viewed their aims and goals as an organization at their October 8th meeting in Capitlan.

Phoebe May Taylor, secretary and treasurer, presided at the meeting in absence of the president and vice-president. After dispensing with the business at hand, Miss Taylor asked each member to give their opinion as to what the organization should accomplish. The two outstanding thoughts were to work toward total voting registration and to keep the women of Lincoln County informed about their government at the county, state, and national levels.

Fern Dunn, Democratic County Chairwoman, was the featured speaker. She pointed out problems of the Democrats in Lincoln County. Apathy to voting, laxity in registration, and non-synchronization of party actions were three of the points Mrs. Dunn emphasized.

Mrs. Georgia Harkoy, Carrizozo, New Mexico, was elected as second vice-president for the organization.

The Capitlan women prepared the meal themselves and served it in the school cafeteria. The tables were decorated with fall leaves, pumpkins, and turkeys.

The next meeting will be held in Carrizozo the second Monday of December, which was voted the regular meeting night each month for the Democratic Women.

Frank Hoff believes many parents at fault

A few youths in our nation are giving a bad name to all youth, but 17 Methodist young adults spoke out and sang out clearly and constructively at Trinity last Sunday. The pastor had no part at any point, except to sit in the congregation.

The sermon by Frank Hoff was on "Faith". He believes the faith of youth is falling because so many parents put priority on petty programs, instead of choosing church first. These 17 leaders of worship proceeded down the aisle in the recessional to the rear of the church, where they formed a fellowship line and gave greetings to all present as they departed.

Today is Veterans' Day. To us, this means veterans of our "Christian cross and of our courageous country. Many are veterans of both. Trinity pays tribute to all veterans who have and who now risk their lives for Christ and our country. We pay tribute to our Carrizozo public schools because of the Veterans, Day program in the gymnasium this morning. We salute the forestry boys in Camp Sierra Blanca for the same this afternoon.

Tomorrow (Friday) 1:45 p. m. WSCS at church second study of The Acts.

Special Official Board meeting this Sunday at church at 2:30 p.m. Important that every member be present.

Sermons in Song will be sung in Trinity by 32 high school youths from Lydia Patterson Institute in El Paso. They lead us during 11 a.m. worship on Sunday Nov. 21st. All families in the Carrizozo community are invited to share in this rare relationship.

Helicopter is hitched to cable line, the spool (foreground) will soon hum.

Lineman Darrel Huber is on top of pole setting cable in dolly, copter hovers.

Helicopter has log balance in air with cable attached and is ready to move.

The C. J. Dugan Sawmill on the Mescalero Reservation is rapidly nearing completion. They need electric power, more than the line presently serving that area will provide. This sawmill will have available 14,400 volts of electric power on or about the 15th of November made available by your Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc.

The work is now going on, with a Bell helicopter doing a kind of work that is new in this area — an altitude of some 8,000 feet is also new for the helicopter. It's something to watch and we hope you get some idea of the kind of job being done from the pictures on this page and the story that follows.

The helicopter is fast coming into wide use to handle jobs in high country where it would take months to string a line, or over water where speed is essential, or even in jungles where there are no roads and access near impossible.

Power-transmission towers are airlifted, poles are being airlifted, and unreeling wire to string on the poles is a job a copter does real well, no matter what the altitude. On many jobs helicopters are saving money for the companies, and though the Otero County Electric Cooperative does not expect to save money in this particular instance, the use of a copter is providing service to a manufacturing industry that is ready to work, and the Cooperative is gaining valuable experience that will be put to good use when other lines need to be run in areas that are inaccessible — such work is definitely in future planning.

Actually the Cooperative is shooting against time on this particular job. There are 17 miles of line to construct, from the optical surveillance site northeast of Cloudercroft, going generally northeast along State Highway 24 (Cloudercroft to Mescalero) to the Dugan Sawmill on the Mescalero Reservation about three miles northeast of Camp Geronimo. This line is in rough country and not accessible by truck if the wire had to be pulled by hand. It would take a half day or longer to pull a mile of wire — a job the helicopter does in times from 6 to 20 or 30 minutes, depending on the number of curves, the cable line makes.

A major factor is getting the sawmill in business before bad weather sets in which could seriously hamper running the cable.

Eventually this 14,400 volt line, which will replace the old 7,200 volt two-phase line, will be used as a loop line between Cloudercroft and the Mescalero system.

When it was decided that the line was to be run, and that time was of the essence, Arizona Helicopter, Inc. of Chadler, Arizona, was contracted along with Hill Pole Line Construction Co. of Al-biquerque to work with Otero Electric's crew. After some minor hitches, and a period of learning the first day, the work has moved right along in highly satisfactory fashion.

It works like this: A reel of cable, one mile to a reel, is mounted on a truck with large timber held against the reel to act as a brake. The helicopter hovers over the pickup area, with a good-sized log dangling beneath and a catch hook to hold the cable. The helicopter operator has a cargo release button he can push to release cable if necessary.

The log is a necessary part of the operation. It serves to keep the pull of the cable from tilting the helicopter, and serves as a drag balance as the copter moves out with the wire.

Pole crews are real busy out ahead of the copter. Some new poles had previously been set, and all the framing done. The copter hooks on to the cable, goes up and starts down the line of poles, a man on top places the wire on the dolly and the copter moves right along. In instances where the line curves it is necessary to rope winch the line in, or reach out and grab the line as you see in one of the pictures. When the lineman gets through on one pole he moves on ahead to climb another.

The copter sometimes attains an altitude of 2,000 feet. As soon as one mile of line is strung the copter goes right back for another, maybe stopping only for gas. There are three strands of No. 4 aluminum conductor, which makes three trips for each mile. It is not necessary to wait on sagging and tying in, this work is done after the helicopter completes its work.

John R. Holefelder is the helicopter pilot and does a skillful job. The record time for a mile up to Tuesday was six minutes. This string of poles were all in a line. He said this job was the highest he has ever operated stringing wire. Ground level is 8,000 to 8,500, plus the altitude the copter attains carrying the cable.

Another important man on the job is line superintendent L. L. "Sparky" Rogers who does the talking, via shortwave radio, to Holefelder which keeps the work moving. "Sparky" is on the ground looking up all the time, the copter is moving fast, he is talking fast when necessary.

Darrel Huber and Frank Padilla of Albuquerque are members of the Hill Pole Line Construction Co.

With mountains and tall timber all around "Sparky" Rogers has the mike and is talking to pilot John Holefelder high in the air to guide the cable. Picture was taken on one of the curves where cable had to be pulled in and anchored.

Why consider heating with electricity

There are many reasons why you should consider Electric Heat for your home. The main reason is comfort. With electricity, you have an even distribution of heat with no drafts. With no moving parts you are guaranteed quietness and a maintenance free operation. And with fingertouch control thermostats in individual rooms you are assured of ease of operation.

If you are planning a new home you should consider that with electric heat you have freedom of planning without worrying about providing space for furnace, ducts, radiators, or fuel storage, you can let yourself go having the time of your life planning the most efficient layout for each room allowing for maximum use of space.

You will be surprised at the money you save because of no furnace, boilers, ducts, pipes, fittings or tank to buy or keep in repair. Also no expensive plumbing, chimney or sheet metal to install and maintain.

But the money you save isn't everything . . . You get peace of mind, too with electric heating! If you are used to worrying about dust, dirt, smoke, leaks, spills and about burns and maintenance expenses, worry no more, these are all eliminated when you heat your home with electricity.

And don't worry about running out of fuel either, because you are hitched to a coast-to-coast network of power lines.

To sum up we can't see how you can't afford NOT to have your home heated with ELECTRICITY. . . .

If you have questions about electric heat or any other uses of electricity contact Joe Light, Cloudercroft office, Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc. Box 227. Ph. 682-2761

EDITORIAL

"A page for independent thought"

Let some sense guide your heart

Spending money is no problem. Even an easier way to get rid of money is giving it away (maybe a kinder word would be donation).

We have been a skeptic of national fund drives for many years. In the first place they take the sentiment out of giving because they are promoted so hard. In the second place there are so many con games played and a lot of them have to do with getting people to give — so a flock of gypsies can live in the manner to which they have become accustomed. The Salvation Army has no trouble in our place, their work is well known. A Negro church in Wichita did well out through western Kansas, and now a similar church in Las Cruces covers the Lincoln County area.

Las Cruces should take care of its own churches and here is our personal message about giving. Be sure the local area is first in your heart and be a little cautious about the fund raiser who come around and the mail request for money.

If you give all you feel you can afford — locally — you should have a good holiday spirit.

Walter Cronkite said it

"It is impossible by the spoken word to communicate all the information that the individual citizen needs", said CBS's anchor man speaking to editors in New York. "We are charged with a responsibility which in all honesty and candor we cannot discharge. We do such a slick job that we have deluded the public into thinking that they get all they need to know from us". End quote.

Computerized appendicitis

Under medicare, groups of doctors are to form utilization committees. The duties of these committees will be to determine who should be in the hospital, for how long, and what organ should be removed, when.

Did you hear about the woman who went to six different doctors before finding one that diagnosed her case the way she thought it should be. Those first six doctors will form the first committee.

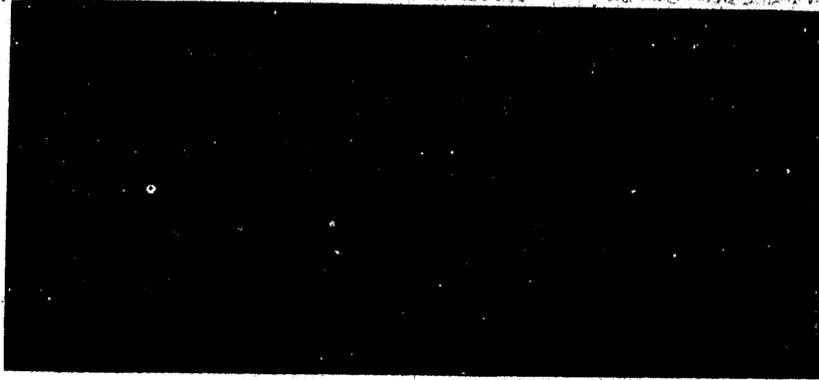

The utilization committees have a real job. How well doctors can work together, especially with government guidance, will have much to do with the success of medicare.

A trend in recent years has been to see all patients either in a clinic or a hospital. House calling has simmered down as population increased along with the doctor shortage. Besides that, a doctor can see many, many more patients in a clinic than going from house to house. Money interests doctors the same as the rest of us.

It will be the job of the utilization committees to determine when appendix is ready to come out, not literally, but if any one doctor tends to fill his hospital with surgery cases (part pay by the government), then the utilization committee is supposed to check the records and review the cases of this hospital.

Here is where computers will be of big help, strictly our own idea. All the elements of an appendix can be fed into the computer, and out will come the exact time and day when the offending organ should be removed. It follows that the computer may recommend another organ, such as the bladder, liver or lungs but we're certain that utilization committees are going to need help — people don't often agree, and doctors are people.

THE WAY OF THE... West

Note from former Kansas publisher, Bill Owens who has been at Gettysburg, S. Da., for 10 years or more, says this column should be called "The Wayward West". We thank Bill for his reading interest.

Two men were seated in a bus. One of them noticed that his friend had his eyes closed. "What's the matter, Bill?" he asked. "Feeling ill?"

"No, I'm all right," answered Bill. "It's just that I hate to see all these ladies standing."

Tony Payton and partner Tom Dickerson published their first issue of the Gardnerville, Nevada, Record-Courier November 4. All they need is lots of business, the paper seemed loaded with news and average on ads. The major question today in Douglas County, Nevada seems to be whether or not to dump sewage effluent into the Carson River.

Bob Means has made a big start toward making his used auto parts location more attractive. Lots of old car bodies removed, the rubbish from the courthouse covered up, and much trash removed.

A few major eyesores do remain, like the falling-apart service station south of town, junkyard east of town, and tumble weeds lining some otherwise pretty streets.

The old minister was, without question, the world's worst golfer. One day, on a fairly long, straight hole he uncorked a towering drive dead to the pin. The ball hit the hard turf and began rolling. As if it were drawn on by a magnet, it continued to roll.

The ball reached the apron, crossed it, then headed over the green straight for the flag. With its last shudder of momentum it dropped into the cup.

The astounded clergyman turned his eyes supplicatingly toward heaven. "Father, please," he pleaded, "I'd rather do it myself!"

Up near the top of our Christmas list is the new book published by Horn & Wallace, "Profile of a State — New Mexico". The book has been compiled and edited by George Fitzpatrick editor of the New Mexico Magazine, and John L. Sinclair. It is full of color pictures of New Mexico and provides for people who do not know, a mighty fine view of our state.

The question continues to come in — it always will — do we charge for this or that kind of news. Of course, the answer is "no". We do not charge for obituaries, many papers do. The key to the entire matter of trying to make a living in the newspaper business... is to charge when people are out to make money through sales, or by performing a service expected to make money. We try to be fair in this respect and apply the charges the same to all customers.

maintain their protection. "Where family physicians are unavailable," he urged, "mothers and fathers should take the children to the county health department for the immunizations." Despite recent successes against these diseases in the United States, he noted, they are still a clear and present danger. Gains were made against disease only by a widespread and continued acceptance of immunization protection. But, as health officials point out, more than five hundred persons die in the United States each year because of these five diseases. Most of the victims are children. Continued vigilance by parents and doctors is needed to keep these killers from becoming prevalent again, said Dr. Fair. He repeated his plea that all children under the age of one year be immunized as soon as possible.

Cholla cactus uses lots of moisture

Bureau of Land Management District Manager J. W. Young at Las Cruces announced today that 4,000 acres of Cholla cactus grubbing and stacking has been completed on the Gary Lovelace and W. W. Gallacher ranches west of Carrizozo, New Mexico.

Young said that cholla cactus is undesirable because it uses a great deal of moisture that is needed for the growth of desirable forage species. He further commented that proper livestock movement in areas dominated by dense stands of cholla cactus is restricted which often leads to over grazing of areas where there is less cactus.

The work was accomplished on public land under the Bureau's range improvement program.

My job to teach American heritage

By Al Booky
(Address given at Republican Women's Convention, Ruidoso)

I am a teacher by profession and it is my job to teach young people our American heritage. What is our heritage? Does it teach us to be willing to surrender our Republican principles and our Republican form of government for a philosophy which has come to us recently from foreign shores? Are we to follow England, Norway, Sweden, and others down the road to an unworkable socialist society? Are we to turn the clock back to a strong centralized government, the kind of governments which dominated Europe and the rest of the world at the time of our American Revolution? I think we all know the answers to these questions. So let's close ranks and stop attacking ourselves and let's start throwing snowballs at Daddy Bird and his congress of robots. We need to build courage, regain our pride and faith in Republicanism, we need to create hope where hope has disappeared.

Let us rally around our flag, our Constitution, our Declaration of Independence. Let's rally around God. These should be our rallying points. They will teach us to be strong, proud, never to admit defeat and never to be arrogant in success. If we take the lessons of history and apply this knowledge to the present and future, we cannot fail.

Yes, this is our heritage, a rich heritage that comes down to us from the ancient past. Ours is a heritage which has the greatest respect for the dignity of man; a heritage which has the greatest respect for our free enterprise system; a heritage which has the greatest respect for incentive. Ours is a heritage which was born in ancient Greek times and it has stood the test of time. We owe much to these brave people who faced a world of strong, centralized government. Let us look at this ancient past for a moment. What do we remember first about the pharaohs and the strong centralized government of Egypt? We think of pyramids and mummies, a symbol of death. The Egyptian masses were obsessed with death. They lived a horrible and wretched life under their rulers. Many waited for death to come with relief, for they believed that life in the next world would have to be better than life under the pharaohs.

In comparison, let's look at what the Greeks left us to remember them by. They were a people who considered freedom and the value of the individual as supreme. They left us the olympic games, literature, beautiful architecture, etc. These are symbols which tell us that they enjoyed life. When a handful of Greeks met King Darius of Persia at the Battle of Thermopylae, one Greek told his countrymen that there were so many Persians that when they fired the arrows into the sky the sun would be blotted out. "Good," replied his countrymen, "we will fight in the shade." These men preferred death to slavery under the Persians.

The Greek philosophers taught us to look any and all problems straight in the eye — to think for ourselves. When a people begin to think, nothing can stop them. The Greeks disagreed with one another but they would defend the right of their opponents to express their opinions.

This is our heritage also. But today anyone disagreeing with those in power too often find themselves labeled a radical or an extremist. Washington, Jefferson, and Franklin were also considered radicals in their time, and I venture to say that many considered Lincoln as belonging to the lunatic fringe. Especially congressmen who opposed his reconstruction program. You know, some people consider anyone who thinks there should be two TV stations in Austin, Texas an extremist!

I am not a slave, you are not slaves, a slave is a person who cannot speak his own thoughts. Many Americans, however, are approaching this degree of servitude because they are letting others think for themselves. This is our job, the job of educators, to teach children to think for themselves. Freedom has looked for a home for centuries. It looked for a home in Europe and was turned away. It looked for a home in Asia and was turned away. It looked for a home in Africa and was turned away. It looked for a home in our thirteen colonies and we gave it a home; let's not turn it away now. Greek democracy died but from this glorious past comes a warning from one of her great teachers, Aristotle, who once said, "Republics decline into democracies and democracies degenerate into despotism." Republicanism was reborn in Rome, but died. It was reborn again in America. Our first political party was the Federalist Party. Its leader was Alexander Hamilton who believed in a strong, centralized government. He believed that the President should be elected for life and that very few people should have access to him. He believed that the senators should be elected for life and that the governors should be appointed by the federal authorities, etc. Thomas Jefferson opposed this philosophy. He had faith in the individual. To oppose this trend, he started the anti-Federalist Party which later became the Republican Party. To smear Jefferson, the Federalists who controlled the press attached the dirtiest words that could be applied to any political group in those days and that word was democrat. So the Republican Party became the Republican Democrat Party. Later the word Republican was dropped. Jefferson's philosophy is the philosophy of the conservatives today. He would be much more at home in the Republican Party today than in the Democratic! Jefferson said in his first inaugural address that the federal government's powers should be limited. He believed that the states should retain their power. He believed that the majority should rule but that the minority should be protected. Remember, the majority is not always right. The majority crucified Christ. The majority thought that Columbus was insane. The majority believed that the world was flat. The majority believed in slavery in our early history. Jefferson believed that no official should be trusted, but should be chained to the Constitution. He was thinking of Johnson when he said this.

A builder must have a plan to build wisely and well. So must a people have a Constitution to guide them. It seems that the majority of Americans agree with Senator Fulbright of Arkansas when he says that the Constitution is obsolete and that it was written for an agrarian society.

"We are a minority party, but not for long because we have the dedication, the love of country, the love our republican form of government. Let us stand tall, let us stand straight, so that when people see us walking down the street they will say, there goes a Republican. In closing I'd like to read a quotation from Lincoln. "You cannot . . . Abraham Lincoln said: "You cannot bring prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

Joke's On Who
"Look here," said the boss to the clerk, "What does this mean? Someone just phoned and said you were sick and wouldn't be in the office today."
The clerk thought for a moment and then burst out laughing. "Ha! Ha! The joke's on him. He wasn't supposed to call in until next week."

There's more than a smile for you to share
There's old timey things and sittin' chairs
There are things to say and friends to see and You'll find them all at

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes
Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Lincoln County postmasters meet to prepare for Christmas deliveries

Sunday November 7th at 2:00 p.m. the Lincoln County Postmasters met for their annual meeting prior to the Christmas mail rush, for the purpose of giving the public better and faster service with their Christmas mail.

Postmaster Frances Fuller of Corona and Dixie Sparks of Ft. Stanton planned a fine program and a delicious turkey dinner went into the plans. The business meeting was held first and the turkey dinner followed at 5:30 p.m.

Frances Fuller, president of the County NAPUS, presided over the meeting with the able assistance of Dixie Sparks, secretary-treasurer, of the organization. They were both put back into the same offices for another year and the meeting place for next year will be Capitan.

Fred Chavez, clerk in the Carrizozo office, operated the machine to give us the latest and most informative details on the Zip Code. The second film was entitled "1104 Sutton Road" or "You and Your Company"—it was quite interesting and the main theme was "to get more we must produce more" and that was aptly applied to our postal service given to the public.

The next part of the program a very important part was presided over by Charles Arroyo, Field Services Officer, from Albuquerque and Roy Harman, Postmaster of Carrizozo and head of the Sectional Center there.

They both gave the postmasters the full instructions on how to better our service during the holiday season. Then there was a question and answer period that always proves satisfactory and worth while to all.

Mabel Wimberly, Postmaster at Hollywood, gave a very interesting report on the Postmasters' Training Institute held at Scottsdale, Arizona in September. The postmasters present were: Gladys Nosker of Glencoe, Jackie Silvers of Ancho, Tommy Zumwalt of Nogal, Roy Harman of Carrizozo, Mary Phillips of Lincoln, Louise Joiner of Hondo, Frances Shaw of Capitan, Isabel Rumsey of Orogrande, G. P. Sandoval of Duran, Estevan Gutierrez of La Luz, Frances Fuller of Corona, Dixie Sparks of Ft. Stanton, Mabel Wimberly of Hollywood and Aileen Lindamood of Alto.

There were a number of welcome guests at the affair and they were all graciously received and enjoyed. With Charles Arroyo, Field Services Officer, was his charming wife, Postmaster Ford Sadler of Dexter and his wife and his sister, Mrs. W. A. Holt of Haskell, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Goldston of Roswell, he is the star route contractor in our territory. Clerks, Marie Hanson and Joyann Yancey of the Corona office, Myron Yancey arrived for the dinner hour, Mrs. Zumwalt of Nogal, Fred Chavez, clerk from the Carrizozo office, J. E. Phillips of Lincoln, Ken Fuller of Corona, Jack Shaw of Capitan, and E. L. Gutierrez of La Luz.

County the success we believe it to be. Thank you.

Leaders Awards were presented by, Joel Barham, Dan Harkey, Mary Hernandez, Gloria Chavez, Carol Sidwell, Eva Karen Holleyman, Gloria Luera, Floyd Goodloe, Fred Province, Arturo Pacheco, Christie Simeiros and Lorena Marie Torrez.

Mrs. Angie Province, the very able El Capitan 4-H leader, presented the Awards to the Dress Revue Winners of last April.

Completion Pins were then presented by the various 4-H Leaders to those having completed their project for the past year.

Refreshments of cookies, brownies, punch and coffee brought from the home of the 4-H families were then served.

The Morgan Maxwell family came up Sunday from Carrizozo.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spencer, Jr., stopped by to see us Sunday on their way to Ruidoso.

Also due to the illness of Mrs. Nancy Knight, the meeting of the Ancho UPW will be held at the home of Mrs. Sue Buchtel in Corona on Nov. 17th, preceeded by a covered dish lunch.

Mrs. Tom Knight who has been in the hospital for a week was released Friday and is now convalescing at home and is feeling much better, altho still a little shaky. Hurry up and get well, Nancy. Don't know whether you can rest better in the hospital or at home, Nancy has had a steady stream of visitors.

Gary Hightower was home for the weekend from his studies at NMSU and was in time to help ride and ship the Hightower calves on Saturday. Altho slower than in former years, there is now more cattle bought and shipped out to feed lots.

Some of the Ancho children have had the 3 day measles, altho none are reported to be very sick. Leland Jackson and Steve Harkey were out of school and feeling under the weather, and Des Ann Jackson is home with the 3 day measles. Mrs. Jackie Silvers attended the Lincoln County Association of Post Masters meeting, which was held at Corona last Sunday afternoon. Jackie rode up with Mrs. Gladys Nosker of Glencoe and Mrs. Aileen Lindamood of Alto.

The Larry Gloanin's of Tularosa visited with the E. I. Harkey's over the weekend. Also guests in the Harkey home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bingham of Tularosa. Tom is Mrs. Harkey's brother.

Several of the families from Ancho attended the 4-H Award night held at the cafeteria in Carrizozo, which was conducted by the Junior leaders. Barbee Knight was the recipient of the jacket given to a member of the Ancho Jr. Ranchers each year. Several of the local youth won awards of merit. Ancho Tracks

Beginning Sunday Nov. 14, the Ancho Presbyterian Church will hold services at 3:30 p.m., with Sunday school preceding the church services at 2:30. The new times will be on a trial basis for a month, at which time, the congregation will decide whether to continue meeting in the afternoon or go back to morning worship. Reasons for having services in the afternoon are to cut down on the traveling time for our pastor and also would mean a saving of money to National Missions.

Confirmation class will now be held during the Sunday School hour at 2:30 and will be conducted by the Rev. Wayne Buchtel.

Johnson Stearns was guest speaker at the Ancho Church last Sunday, which was Laymen's Sunday. His topic was entitled "Inquire, concerning the Book." Also taking part in the service were Walt Wilson, J. A. Hightower and Lee Straley.

Due to conflict in schedules, the Study on Predestination will be held Nov. 18, at the Howard Harkey home, instead of the 11th as announced before.
