Basic rights discussion to cover access road

Legion conference Friday - Saturday

Can any division of government, town - county - state, or a sub - divider widen or otherwise alter a road under the guise of maintenance? Can a division of government or a sub - divider start maintaining and otherwise improving what has been a 79-year-old road considered private?

These questions, with some ramifications, will be argued when the case of Pat Dunning Turner, owner of land in the developing Ruidoso area, vs. the state (or county) comes to court October 20 at 9:00 a.m. in Carrizozo.

Lincoln County Commissioner Joe McKnight told the News that the commissioners originally had a fair agreement that the county would gravel — only — this road. That the work got out of hand and some widening was done, but not with the sanction of the three commissioners.

Contrary to some printed reports Pat Turner Dunning kept a man at the gate Sunday night and Monday to open for school bus, court order issued Monday and gate left open.

Quote Pat Dunning Turner, "It's the principle of the thing."

Grasshoppers thick in Nogal Mesa area

By Ralph Dunlap

Grasshoppers have been reported in several areas in Lincoln County. They were heavy in the Nogal Mesa - Capitan area and new areas are reported south of Glencoe and on the east side of the Jicarilla mountains.

Range caterpillars have been found in an area north of Capitan. These caterpillars are the same ones that have caused so much damage in Northeastern New Mexico. The caterpillar, or worm, is yellow with black markings. It has many short spines that prevent birds from eating them and livestock refuse to graze where there is a heavy infestation. If you want to see what this pest looks like I have one in my office.

Although there has been a survey in Lincoln County for these pests, your area might have been missed. If you have an infestation of hoppers or range caterpillars, let me know. It is too late to control these pests this year but you need to make plans to control them next year if the need arises.

On Tuesday, October 11th, I will be in Hondo to meet and accompany Mr. Harley Roath, ex-agent for the Montana - Wyoming area who has just completed a two - year agricultural

County Republicans to host congress party

On Sunday, October 16, starting at 2:00 p.m. in the Chaparral convention center in Ruidoso the Lincoln County Republican party is fixing to serve two thousand pounds of barbecued beef and beans as the menu for a congressional "party".

Robert Davidson

chance to appraise their candidates first-hand on a catch-as-catch-can basis.

Chairman Pfingsten said there were a lot of Democrats in the county who need feeding up and he wants them to come out to the party and enjoy themselves.

This will be a party from the word on, lots of time to visit, plenty of food, and should be an enjoyable fall afternoon.

Just a Shame

A guide was showing tourists through the Corcoran Art Gallery at Washington. Pausing before a beautiful statuette, the guide said: "This is Venus at the Bath — executed in terra cotta."

One of the tourists exclaimed in horror: "What a pity! How barbarous those Asiatic countries are."

Game was total loss, other events a success

By Carol Hunter

The Corona Cardinals played the Vaughn Eagles on home grounds Friday night October 7 for their homecoming game. Though the game was a loss, other homecoming events were an equal success.

The homecoming parade was held at 2:00 Friday afternoon with thirteen floats, the grade and high school bands, plus many children on their decorated bicycles participating. It was all very beautiful. The senior float took first place, the Juniors took second place and the sophomores third.

Although the other class and organization floats received no prizes, they too deserve mentioning. Everyone worked very hard trying to win this year. The theme was New Mexico History. The senior float which won first place, depicted the American Cowboy and the Mexican peasant pushing the state (which was vividly constructed in brilliant orange and yellow) together establish a union for statehood. Lerry Bond was the cowboy and Loren Tracey the peasant.

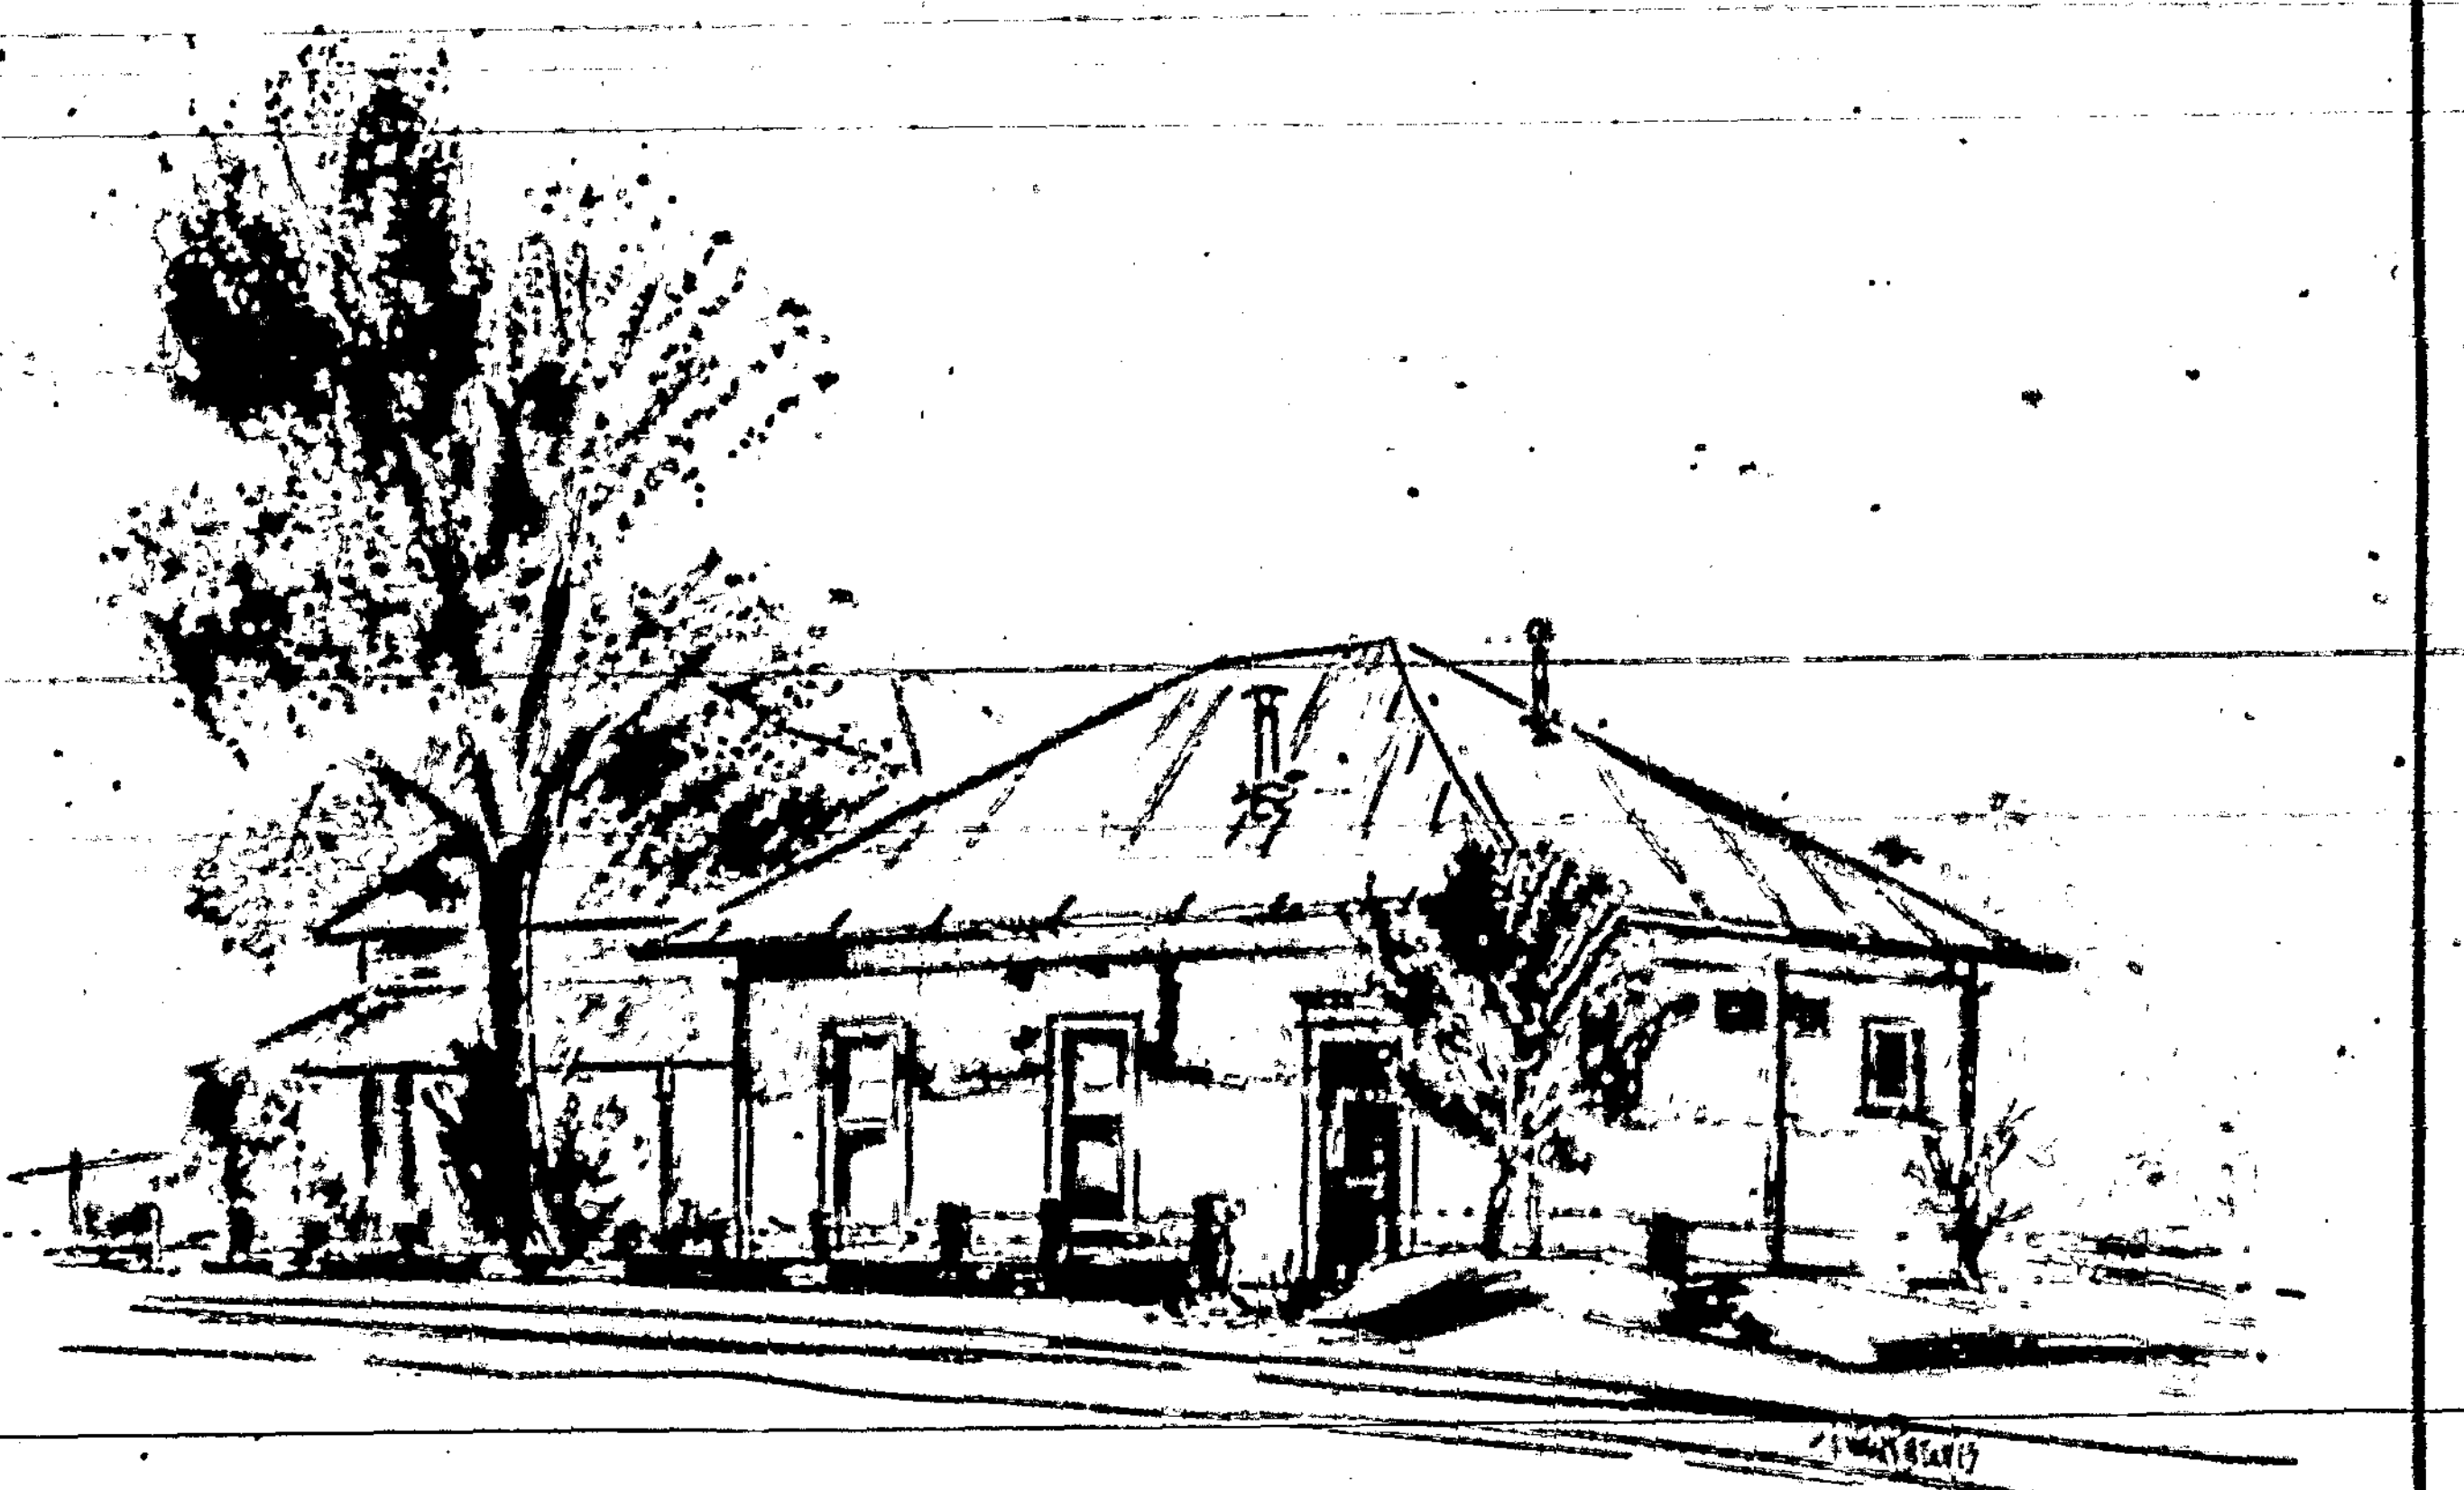

The Pen Club beau was Edner Hindi (senior).

The homecoming court were as follows: Joy Lowder, freshman attendant; Beverly Schofield, sophomore attendant; Sue Brown, junior attendant. The three senior attendants, all three candidates for queen were, Janie Sharp, Carolyn Binham and Jaquie Davidson.

The members of the football squad voted among the three senior attendants for queen, but the selection was kept untried.

LANDMARKS OF LINCOLN COUNTY . . . By Walter Henn

Wade Apartment at Corona

What appears to be a neat residence in Corona, the Wade Apartment home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wade, is actually the first school building to serve northern Lincoln County and brings back more memories to pioneers in the Corona area than most any other building in the county.

Five people still living in the Corona area attended this first school when it was located west of the present school grounds. They are: Stella Jones, Bessie Dishman, Grace Simpson, Hilah Sultemeier and her brother Dan Simpson. Max and Bert Penix, also attended this school.

Joe Ledbetter, Jr., whose father was an early - day resident of Corona, came back to Lincoln County for a visit recently. In a conversation with William Dishman he summed up the school situation in those early days. Joe Jr. went to school, went to third grade, the next year he went to work and never went back to school.

We did not find out exactly when this first school was constructed. Wilbur Dishman says it was there when he came to the county in 1906. Mrs. Callie (Thompson) Franks taught most everyone in the countryside around Corona, a period spanning 40 years starting in 1905 and ending in 1945. She tutored around in ranch homes before the school was built.

The first school had quite a history after it served its school time. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Franks (she was postmaster) were fixing to get married and bought the school, moved it to its present location behind the city hall, and used for living quarters.

What Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wade now use for living room was once Corona community's school auditorium. Another part of the school was sold to the Baptist Church moved to where old high school now is, and eventually sold to Jess Jones for residence later burned.

The part owned by the Wades had a lean-to added. Two bedrooms on each side of the auditorium used to be class rooms. Jesse Wade thinks the lumber for the school was probably saved in the Gallinas Mts. and hauled to Corona.

Mrs. Pete Arnold once operated an eating house in the building, a very popular place because train crews would stop to eat at her place. Jesse Wade bought the property for a residence for his mother, Ethel

Anderson Carter

Anderson - Carter, Schuble Cook, Robert Davidson, Republican congressional candidates, are to be the honored guests. Other state candidates are expected to attend. Lincoln County Republican candidates Max Oliver, Joe McKnight, Bob Shaffer, Inice Hust, Lloyd Vigil, Leonardo Vega will serve the feast of barbecued beef.

A. T. Bert Pfingsten said there would be no spellbinders on the speakers stand, but Lincoln County voters would have the

S. SPENCER APPOINTED TO NMMI HONOR BOARD

Stirling Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spencer, Jr. of the Bar W Ranch, Carrizozo, and a 2nd classman at NMMI was one of eighteen cadets appointed to the NMMI Honor Board for the 1966-67 academic year. The honor board, composed entirely of cadets, govern the investigation and hearing of honor offenses and makes recommendations to the superintendent on the disposition of each case.

Zip Code Week is here

This week October 10th to 16th, has been designated National Zip Code Week. Post offices in the area have been busy distributing cards for their patrons to use in having Zip Code numbers added to the addresses of their correspondents. Increased use of Zip Code is deeply appreciated.

The defensive minded Grizzlies held the Cloudercroft Bears to 4 first downs the entire ball game Friday night and won the game 33-0.

The Grizzlies took the opening kickoff and in 10 plays marched the ball 70 yards and scored on a one yard plunge by fullback Tom Ortiz. The PAT was successful and the score early in the ball game was 7-0.

Carrizozo kicked off to Cloudercroft and 4 plays later the Bears were forced to punt. Carrizozo took the ball and after several short gains Mike Petty found a hole and sprinted 37 yards for the second touchdown. The PAT failed and the score was 13-0.

Just before the half Tom Ortiz bulled his way eight yards through the center of the line and scored his second touchdown of the night. The extra point was added as Max Zamora connected a pun with Leroy Lopez in the end zone.

The half ended with the score 20-0 in the Grizzlies' favor.

After the half Cloudercroft's defense stiffened and it was late in the third quarter before Albert Gallegos found a hole and raced 39 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed.

Carrizozo's final touchdown came late in the fourth quarter when big Mike Petty blasted his way through the line from 10 yards out and raced across the goal line. The PAT was successful and the score when the final gun sounded was 33-0.

The whole defensive squad turned in a fine effort in allowing only 54 yards rushing all night.

Lucero and Zamora pick Melrose to win

The jackpot football contest cards on the Melrose - Capitan game were evenly divided half for Capitan, half for Melrose.

Mrs. Bernice Zamora and Gilbert Lucero performed the difficult trick of giving Melrose 13 points and Capitan 12, the way the game ended to split the money this week.

Read the football ad and get a card. You've got three more chances to cash in on the jackpot cash money.

The tough part of the 1966 football season for Dexter Demons could well be the next two weeks — it's Demons vs. Grizzlies on October 14, and Demons vs. Tigers on October 21. District 2C has an outside chance of being in a big fat three or four-way tie on the 21st of October.

Cloudercroft and Vaughn at 1-4 are out. Tatum at 0-5 never was in. Corona at 2-3 was in until last Friday when the Cardinals let their hair clear down after playing good ball through four games.

The Zozo Grizzlies have to go all the way for even an outside chance at the crown and they've been up and down, big win over Vaughn, 6-point loss to Capitan, big win over Tatum, 1-point loss to Corona, big win over Cloudercroft — the pattern does not look good when the Grizzlies line up against the Demons this Friday.

Just for the sake of saying, let's say the Grizzlies win October 14. That makes Dexter 5-1, Capitan has beat Corona to go to 5-1, Melrose has beat Cloudercroft to go to 5-1.

Carrizozo is now at 4-2 and looking, looking, looking. On October 21 Capitan goes to Demonland, and that's tough cotton country. How can Lincoln County come out with a skin over there? A good question. The way we've lined it up here, Capitan or Dexter is going to wear the crown.

There are three ad ally quarterbacks at the News, Pete and Max any, well what if Corona beats Capitan, and Zozo beats Dexter on the 14th. You'd have Capitan at 4-2, Zozo at 4-2 and Dexter at 5-1. Then if Capitan would beat Dexter on the 21st, while Zozo was knocking off Melrose you'd have Capitan at 5-2, Dexter at 5-2, and Zozo at 5-2.

Melrose plays Cloudercroft and Carrizozo in that order. Winning both games Melrose would finish 6-1 and could share a piece of something. Melrose has wins over Tatum, Corona, Vaughn, and Capitan so don't count them out. Their one loss 6-7 to Dexter.

Dexter barely beat Corona 12-6 then took Vaughn, Melrose, Cloudercroft and Tatum — leaving the Demons two toughies.

It's been an interesting race all the way. Injuries made some difference, especially to Corona, but that's part of the game.

Corona plays at Capitan, Dexter at Carrizozo, Vaughn at Tatum, Cloudercroft at Melrose this weekend.

Defensive battle staged at Capitan

Coach Melvin Romero said the Tiger game with Melrose last Friday was a real defensive battle. Melrose is well balanced and well coached, Gibbs a good boy, QB Lay does a fine job and their big boy, Bruce, knows the game.

Capitan went ahead in the first quarter when Don Crawford went three yards for TD, point failed. Melrose went ahead one point when Gibbs broke away for long run and they made the extra-point in the second quarter.

Capitan took the lead again in the second on a 70 yard pass from Sedillo to Herrera, the kind of play that has been a winner for the Tigers, but it again they failed to convert and there was the difference.

The Tigers held Melrose on the Tiger 15 in the last quarter, to take over the ball, only to fumble on the first play and give it back. Melrose tried three running plays for little gain, then a pass from Lay to Bruce clicked, point failed and final score was Capitan 12, Melrose 13.

No injuries all season at Capitan. Coach Romero, talking about his game this weekend with Corona, thinks Pat Casey is a better coach than he is a prophet, and probably ought to stick to the work he knows best.

High riding Demons beat Tatum 47-12

Dexter overwhelmed Tatum by a score of 47-12 to remain undefeated.

Dexter scored six TD's in the following fashion. Jim Orozco, a two-yard plunge. Tom Davidson pick up six points when he fell on the ball in the end zone after a bad pass from center on a Tatum kicking situation, a 30 yard pass play from Fidel Sosa to Tom Surface, a ten yard run by Dick Shaw, a 35 yard pass play from Sosa to Surface, and a screen pass play from Sosa to Finch.

Tatum got two TD's on an eight yard pass play and a two yard plunge by Pickrell.

Dear Mr. Fayton,
I'm very sorry the boys played so poorly against Vaughn. Two quick fumbles and we're out of it. When Emory Owen received a sprained ankle, the kids that hadn't given up did so at that point. As far as I'm concerned they can take all of the Homecomings and floats, stack them on the 50 yard line, and I'd be the first to touch a match to them.

The mental aspect is at least 50% of winning and losing. We weren't ready mentally and couldn't have beaten the school for the blind if someone had turned the lights out. I think we had the ball six plays during the 1st half. That must be some sort of record. Vaughn didn't do anything we didn't expect. They came to play and my "Dirty Dozen" didn't. Now we're without Emory Owen! This will certainly be a handicap for the "Dirty Dozen." Now we must re-act like a good prize fighter and not let a knock down result in a knock-out.

You can at least verify as to our physical condition. It takes a lot of tape to hold some of the kids together. Emory Owen played with the flu which accounts for his mistakes and finally his injury. Most kids wouldn't suit up under this condition.

Two boys played well considering their experience. Sam Davidson a sophomore on defense and Joe Winchester a frosh on offense.

This much I do know about our game with Capitan. We'll show up and I expect to give them all they want, with or without Emory Owen.

Counties share in forest funds

Twenty New Mexico counties have received shares of $213,697.74, representing 25 percent of all National Forest Fiscal Year 1966 income from timber, grazing fees, and other land use charges. Southwestern Regional Forester William D. Hurst announced in Albuquerque today.

Each county's share, earmarked by law for roads and schools, is determined by the amount of National Forest land within its borders, Hurst said. New Mexico also received $359,234 from revenue produced from State school sections administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service.

New Mexico's 1966 payment was $33,256.66, greater than the 1965 total. Nationwide, Hurst said, Forest Service income in Fiscal Year 1966 was $174 million — $27 million more than for the previous year.

The major income sources are timber sales and grazing fees. Other income is derived from land and power use permits, mineral leases, and recreation concessions, Hurst said. He noted that "besides direct shares in National Forest income, many New Mexico communities benefit from Forest-based industries and the tourist business generated by the natural beauty and recreational opportunities provided by the National Forests."

Rebecca Torrez selected for cooperative program
Rebecca Torrez of Hondo is among 38 students selected for the second year of New Mexico State University's teacher education cooperative program. This new group joins the 40 initial co-ops who entered the program last fall.

Miss Torrez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eloy Torrez. The freshman coed is majoring in mathematics education.

As a teacher education cooperative student at NMSU, she is alternating semesters of full-time work as a teacher aide in public schools with studies in education at the university.

This semester Miss Torrez is a teacher aide at Mealla Park Elementary School in Las Cruces. She will attend classes the spring semester.

PRICES CUT ON STEEL BUILDING DEMONSTRATION STRUCTURES

To initiate an intensive sales program for a new line of all-steel farm and commercial buildings, we need several demonstration structures in this area. And because they're needed now, we are discounting the regular price. In return for this savings, our only request is that the owner permit our representatives to show the structures to prospective customers. Many extras will be built-in at reduced prices, including a choice of colored or galvanized panels. Every building is warranted for 5 years and financing is available. If an occasional visitor would not interfere with your operation, we'd like to discuss erecting one of these demonstration structures on your site. For complete information, write:

Lots of tape holds Corona together

Homecoming Friday at Corona was rainy, generally the kind of weather ranch people like but other factors were working and there was little shouting over weather or anything else in north Lincoln County Friday.

The Cardinals took the field but didn't do anything with it, timing off, tackles missed, in fact they shown only a short minute of spark as the second half opened and a 35-yard penalty put that out.

Final score of the homecoming game was Vaughn 36, Corona 0.

Note to News from Coach Pat Casey about the game reads as follows:

OTERO COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

Members Benefit From Control

The auditorium full of people shown above are consumer members of Otero County Electric Cooperative. They own and control part of an unique organization — simply by joining and becoming an electric consumer each person has become a member with full voting rights and by exercising their vote in the election of a Board of Trustees, each member is helping operate your cooperative in a democratic way.

Your membership in Otero County Electric Cooperative is important, your vote at the annual meeting is equally important, Otero County Electric considers each consumer the most important single factor in its organization.

There are over 3,000 consumer members in Otero Electric Cooperative receiving electric service at cost . . . the co-op way.

We invite your suggestions, as member-owners of this enterprise, as to how your organization can better serve you.

COMMENTARY

I early found that when I worked for myself alone, myself worked for me; but when I worked for others also, others also worked for me. — Benjamin Franklin

The Ole' Pressure

Corona Coach Pat Casey has a few choice words to say about what homecoming activities do to the mental attitude of a football team. Brings back memories of the bus trip taken by the Zozo Grizzlies when they voted for a queen on the way then got walloped on the field of battle by an inferior team. Thoughts of girls, floats, girls parades, girls, praise from the crowd — such things as that can take a young man's mind completely off important business like winning the game. The pressure of being up each Friday is making more difference in District 2C, the toughest small-school league in the state, this year than ever. Why would Zozo beat Vaughn 34-19, Captain beat Vaughn 12-7, Corona lost to Vaughn 0-39... and in the same season Zozo loses to Captain and Corona if it weren't for outside pressures. Why would the Lobos clobber Utah in their opener at home then let their hair down completely against the Miners in El Paso, if it were not for the fires turned up under one team and the burner turned down under another. Quote Pat Casey, "The mental aspect is at least fifty percent of winning or losing and we were not ready and couldn't have beaten the school for the blind if someone had turned the lights out." Interesting feature of this season is that the pressure is just now building up under the possible District winners.

A bastard child

Sen. Joe Skeen told us some of the backlash he had heard recently from both Captain and Carrizozo communities concerning troublesome boys at Sierra Blanca Boys' Camp. Skeen added that he was in full agreement when the legislature set up this camp for boys and that he was anxious to keep the camp going. Further report from Skeen included result of conversation with Supt. Glen Walker at Springer, where administration for the Boys' Camp is headquartered. Walker's replies to Skeen's questions sounded like the good old "run around." A few people in Lincoln County are aware that the Boys' Camp has been a bastard child, unwanted, unintended from the very beginning. People at Springer apparently did not want any of their play things spread around the state, like splitting off part of the Industrial School for Boys and sending it down to Lincoln County. The basic idea was to get first offenders, boys with good chance of going straight, out of the prison atmosphere and away from bad performers, into the wide open forest country. It seems like an idea that can't miss if Springer people would just cooperate. They have not and the Boys' Camp has problems. We hope Sen. Skeen looks into the situation far enough to find the real cause of trouble at Springer. not in Lincoln County.

Fee serious

Constitutional Amendment No. 10 has less than a fifty-fifty chance of getting the necessary majority at the November 8 election, is our guess but it has merit and this amendment is worthy of study. The amendment proposes to abolish justices of the peace and establish magistrate courts. This move is not the saving factor in the amendment. New Mexico is now served by both Justices of the Peace and Magistrates, and in various sections these courts give poor service, even biased and unfair service, if such can be a service. An important factor is in Section 6 which says, "All fees collected by the judicial department shall be paid into the state treasury, no judge or magistrate shall retain any fees. We count Section 6 as an improvement over the present situation. You should read, or have read to you, Section 1 of Amendment 10, which follows: "The judicial power of the state shall be vested in the senate when sitting as a court of impeachment, etc." From our reading of the amendment the qualifications for magistrates is left up in the air, a most important factor in any court. The matter of fees is serious but not so serious as poor legislation and Amendment No. 10 leave many unanswered questions.

LETTERS

October 10, 1966 Board of Trustees Carrizozo Municipal School John Allen Hightower, Pres. Ancho, New Mexico Dear Sirs:

I am writing you to inform you that I have not yet received an answer to my letter of September 23rd from Superintendent Glen Ellison. I feel that my letter deserved a prompt and courteous reply. Surely Mr. Ellison must have realized this, and I am unable to understand his motives in not responding in the accepted manner.

Furthermore, on making inquiry concerning Sid Club plans, I find that the first meeting is scheduled for early November. Surely Mr. Ellison recalls that early October has always been the time to start the ball rolling. Mr. Ellison cannot expect the Sid Club to be a success if he turns the whole responsibility over to Mr. Kelley who has never studied and knows nothing of our former program. It is Mr. Ellison's duty to work closely with Mr. Kelley this year, guiding his step by step, as I helped Mr. Ellison the year we started the Sid Club. Sid rentals must be lined up now. Ray Hyde, owner of the Sierra Blanca Sid Shop in Ruidoso, is the man to see this year. If Mr. Ellison throws the whole responsibility on Mr. Kelley's shoulders and does not work closely with him, at least until after the first sid trip is made, it would appear that he does not really want the Sid Club to succeed, regardless of what he professes. There is no use in wasting time and money, disappointing the students, in making heart-hearted chowing at starting a Sid Club only to have it fail for lack of proper timing and coordination. I pray that you Board Members can persuade Mr. Ellison to be sincere in this endeavor, for I know that he has the ability to succeed at anything to which he really sets his mind.

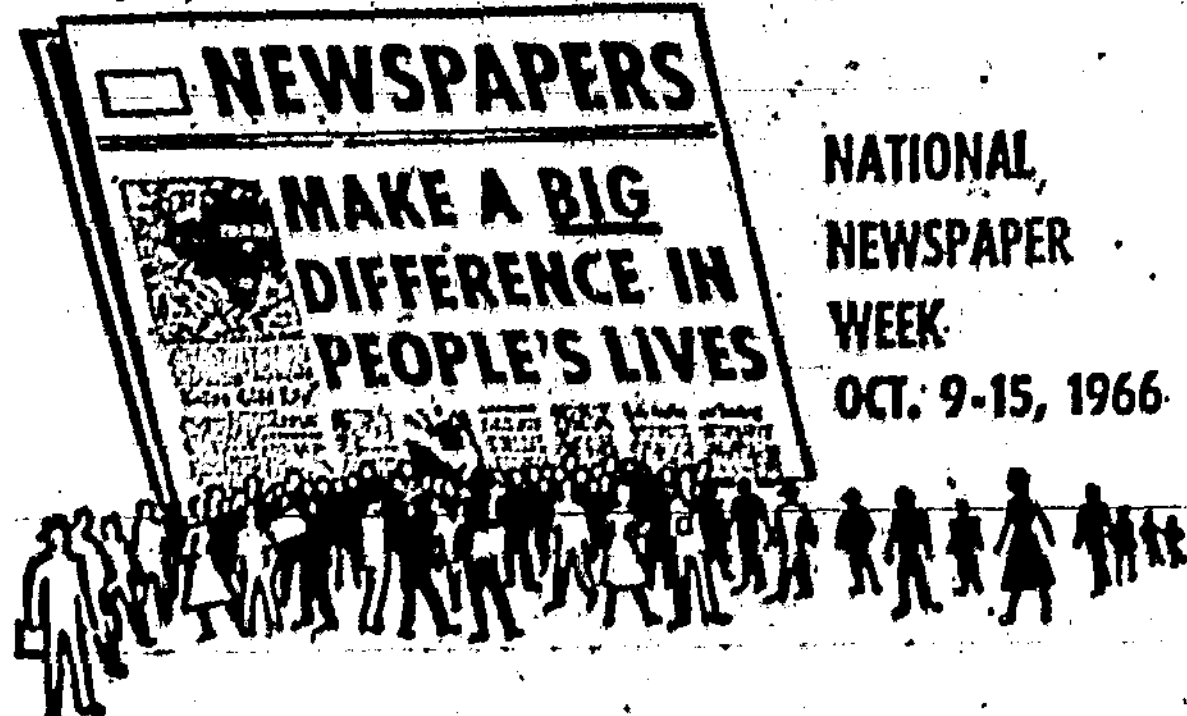

I will very much appreciate an answer from you or Superintendent Ellison, at your earliest convenience, informing me of your intentions regarding the sid program. Thanking you for your kind attention, I am Sincerely, Jackie Spencer

October 10, 1966 Lincoln County News Dear Mr. Editor:

Your observations on the time-saving value of Freeways in New Mexico call for further comment. The paving of what is now State #3 from Corona to Las Vegas is only about 85 miles but it would save over 100 miles over the El Paso - Las Cruces - Socorro - Albuquerque route to Denver and the great central and northern net - works, as well as being the most direct and shortest route from the Canadian border to the Mexican border, to stimulate new commerce and tourist travel through the center of New Mexico. No railroad parallel this district, time and money saving route. The rough estimate of its cost by Chief Highway Engineers White was only four mil-

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK OCT. 9-15, 1966

A great many newspaper people think that we don't blow our own horn enough. The News editor agrees with that thought in this way — people don't understand how we make a living out of a newspaper, they generally feel that after our paper is printed we are through for the week, they don't realize that some separation should be made between news and advertising. We're not going to talk about those items here, but maybe some others more interesting. This is National Newspaper Week, Oct. 9-15.

We've always figured that a small town merchant "can make it" if he hustles enough. If you don't have business at home you simply go further out after enough business to keep the wheels turning. Tillery Chevrolet in Estancia is selling school buses statewide, Frank Phillips is selling food nationwide, Cliff Zumwalt has customers all over the country, Bill Engle is selling Ford's in Albuquerque as well as Mountainair, there are ways and means.

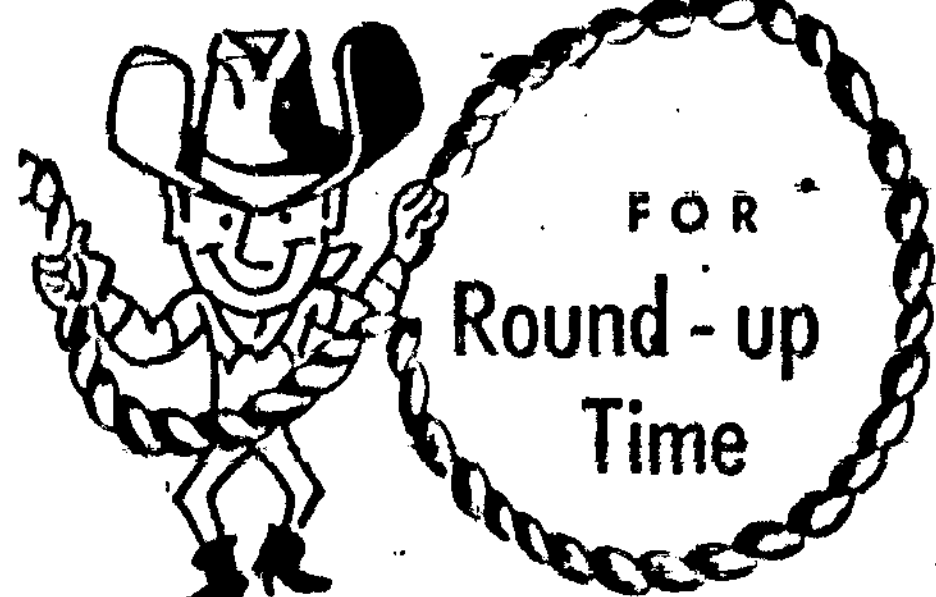

The Payton family now owns all or part of seven newspapers, or is about to own that many. How'd we come to get in the newspaper business? W. E. and Clara Payton were pioneer newspaper people in Kansas, they raised three boys, two became publishers. The two boys, Paul and Dwight, raised eight boys, all of them printers, four or five now in the newspaper business.

Who developed printing? Johann Gutenberg, born in 1399 in Germany, is given credit for developing movable type and is considered the father of printing. He died poor, other people making money from his idea. Where was the first newspaper in the United States? The first attempt to publish was in 1639, suppressed after the first edition. The first licensed paper in the colonies started in 1704, the Boston News Letter. Within the next century, many more newspapers sprang up in the 13 colonies. All were weeklies or semi-weeklies until 1783 when the Pennsylvania Evening Post and Daily Advertiser became America's first daily newspapers.

The News editor knows most all of the weekly newspaper publishers in both New Mexico and Kansas, none of them are wealthy people from their publishing venture. It's the kind of business where if you attend all the meetings in the county, sit around plenty for news, listen to people's stories, both good and bad — you wind up working nights to get the newspaper printed, and you work short-handed if you make any money at all.

Newspapering is a growth industry. Lincoln County has an extra newspaper now, and we feel that Chaves County is going to have a new publication in coming months. There are more than 9,000 weekly newspapers published in the United States now, and 1,751 daily papers. Newspaper production ranks among the largest industrial activities in the country.

The Lincoln County News is a growth industry in a way. Back three months ago we had some $30,000.00 worth of equipment that was busy only part time. Like our newspaper press which operated four hours a week — small profit there. So to get better use out of our $15,000 Intertype and other machines we bought another newspaper and succeeded completely — our work load is doubled and Thursday when we print the other newspaper the day starts at 8:00 a.m. and runs close to the following 8:00 a.m.

Cargo between rock and hard place on future of medical school in N. M.

SANTA FE — GOP candidate Dave Cargo was between two rocks and three hard places recently when attempted to give his opinion on the future of a full medical school at the University of New Mexico.

Republicans in the past have openly opposed the idea, claiming it isn't necessary and it would be too costly.

Cargo's problem came in either having to disagree with his former cohorts in the GOP Party or in risking damage with some Democrats he's been courting.

He evaded the situation by saying that the basic medical education seemed to be in good order at the present time and that he'd be reluctant to make any "sudden change." This was no answer.

The present situation is a plan to add one year each year, to the present basic system until a full medical school is available for the state. To be "reluctant to a sudden change" is not telling the taxpayer what to expect if he (Cargo) is elected Governor of the state.

Any taxpayer should continue to look at the proposal from two directions.

First, several noted physicians over the state say that New Mexico offers ample background for students to qualify at other existing schools.

Second, the immense amount of money needed to build and maintain a medical school is staggering for a state already bogged in money problems.

A tax raise looms during the next administration in view of existing circumstances.

To take on the extra - and perhaps unnecessary - cost of a full medical school in New Mexico would well be more than the state could handle.

First Definite Remark On Running As A Team

Cargo recently came out for the first time with a definite statement on the necessity of running as a "team" with his GOP Lieutenant Governor candidate Lee Frances.

It's been said that the law requiring the top two men to run as a team could be detrimental to Cargo. Then he confirmed it.

Cargo says he "would prefer" running on his own name only and allowing the people to split the ticket for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor if they wished.

"The remark probably won't win any friends among the ranks of some top Republicans, but he's honest about it. And he agrees he'd like to see the situation changed."

Disagreement On Refund Of Taxes

Either there's some breakdown of communication or there are some state officials hedging on the refund of state taxes.

Recently Gov. Jack Campbell was asked about the amount of state taxes already refunded and he said all has been returned except for those where problems may have cropped up in accounting.

Following this statement, dozens of people called from Santa Fe alone, claiming they had not received their state refunds.

Most said they were owed small sums - $30 to $70 - but still were curious.

If you spread this situation across the entire state, you'll have to agree there's a considerable chunk of money involved.

Then consider that these funds will come from the state's general fund.

The general fund has represented the major claim to prosperity for New Mexico during the waning days of the current administration.

Even if the total in the fund is impressive, tax payers might still be interested in obtaining

Agreement Over Hot Issues Is Recorded

Although Gov. Campbell has officially endorsed Demo Governor candidate Gene Lusk, it's worth noting that Lusk has selected to agree with the Republicans over the hot issues.

Whether or not Lusk will do the same over refund of state income taxes is yet to be seen.

Gene did join in blasting the Highway Department, the Department of Development, the Personnel Department to some extent, and the alleged money inequities regarding officials in the Department of Finance and Administration.

New Warrior Due Next Week

SANTA FE — You've probably noticed that Fred Buckles is now writing this column.

Because of mailing dates, you'll have to listen to me one more week, however.

Fred began his duties early this week, but this column is also mailed early in the week, so you'll have Fred's first offering next week.

Two Sides To The Personal Dispute

For my last whack at trying to get across something worth thinking about, I'd like to mention the recent dispute over whether or not state personnel applications may be made public.

The argument hinged over an employee of the State Corporation Commission who had dealt in voting machine business with State Rep. Johnny Walker.

The SCC employee had a prison record, but Personnel Director Harold Bibb wouldn't release his application form to an Albuquerque newsman who wanted a copy.

The situation undoubtedly hinged around the fact that the SCC man may have hedged on his application, or he told the truth on his application and political pressure was used to turn eyes the other direction.

Rep. Walker was obviously embarrassed about it and said he had tried to "save his conscience." The Republicans had control in the state when Walker sold his machines to New Mexico, although there was a change in administration as he sold the franchise to the man in question.

Despite the outcome of the current fracas, the main problem is whether or not a job application for work with the state should be of public record.

One reaction is that a person may have made a mistake in past years, and that an honest application may lead to uncovering old and unnecessary wounds.

The argument has merit and would probably apply in most cases.

But it also has to be admitted that every resident of New Mexico plays at least a minor role in the operation of the state.

From the Governor on down a tiny portion of every salary represents what some New Mexican ticked in on taxes.

Deception on the part of public officials has notoriously evolved from situations that prohibit open publication of transactions.

The state is operated by the people, and without the money doled in by the people would collapse.

But as such, any record of any state employee should be open to publication. It may be an original application or an expense account of a department head.

If it's state business, New Mexicans should be entitled to evaluate it through publication. If you make exceptions to this, you'll be hard put to find any stopping place.

Publicity, After All, Can Bring About Changes

Given a certain amount of publicity, crusaders can bring about a change.

It remains the odd element that most politicians jump on the bandwagon only after it's become too obvious that there'll be a counting of noses of those who didn't jump.

It has to do with the conflict of interest situation. It became popular in the press and now just about every candidate has pushed it.

But perhaps it can't matter too much why any particular politician backs a certain measure.

But perhaps it can't matter too much why any particular politician backs a certain measure.

Politics are temporary and laws are regular permanent. This is to the advantage of the state.

Some Disappointment Co-ed: "Did I ever show you where I was tattooed?" He: "No." She: "Well, we can drive around that way."

PORTRAITS FOR CARVINGS — Mrs. Bismark Schafer, Glasscock County, (Texas) artist, holds two wood carvings for which she traded two oil paintings of William H. Bonney (a copy of which is shown to the left). The portraits hang in an ancient saloon in Lincoln, N. M., the scene of Billy's dramatic career. To the right is a portrait by Mrs. Schafer of Pat Garrett, the sheriff who gunned the kid down.

Two 'St. Anthonys' For 'Billy the Kids'

(From Big Springs Herald By Sam Blackburn) Mrs. Bismark Schafer traded two Billy the Kids for two St. Anthonys and figures she made a very good swap.

The two items she traded are displayed in honored places in a squat adobe building, just across the road from where Billy the Kid shot down two deputy sheriffs and escaped from jail April 28, 1881. Witnesses of the escape peered that day from inside that same old adobe building across the street as the most celebrated New Mexico gunman made his bloody break for liberty.

The unusual trade developed in 1965 when Mrs. Schafer and her husband, a pioneer rancher of Glasscock County, were in Lincoln.

Attracted by a display of primitive wood carvings which adorn the front porch of the ancient saloon, they made the acquaintance of Roman Maes. Maes is operator of the saloon and his hobby for years has been wood carving.

He and his wife are the grandchildren of New Mexicans who were directly involved in the Lincoln County War in which Billy the Kid was a star. Her father was aligned with the forces in which the Kid was a leader, the ancestors of Maes were on the other side. But these things all happened nearly a century ago. None of those who took part in the Lincoln County War still lives.

Interested The Maes' are interested in the bloody, exciting history of the little community where they have spent their lives. Mrs. Schafer told Maes she was a painter. This led to a suggestion that Maes give her two of his wood carvings and in exchange, she would paint him two portraits of Billy. "There is only one existing picture of Billy," Mrs. Schafer said. "It is an old tintype which is so badly faded and reproductions of which have been so altered and changed that you can hardly tell what the Kid really looked like. "I may have taken a few liberties — I just don't believe the boy could have been quite as homely as that tintype indicates."

Two Pictures She painted one portrait of the Kid posed as he is in the tintype and a second of him standing at a corner of the bar in Maes' saloon. Incidentally, the bar in the old saloon is the identical bar that was there in the time of the war and, very likely, the Kid actually stood at the corner just as Mrs. Schafer portrayed him.

Maes is a self-trained wood-carver. He uses cotton wood stumps and other native woods. His work is definitely primitive in execution and has some features reminiscent of his Aztec ancestors.

Mrs. Schafer, on the other hand, studied art in college as a girl. Later, when she and Schafer married, she found herself too busy raising a family to continue her art work.

Many Hours In more recent years, with the family grown and away, she has resumed painting. She likes to deal with Western subjects, and her home is filled with her work. She has a studio in one room of the house and puts in many hours painting.

Her husband is the son of a family that came to Glasscock County in 1887. The Schafer's still live on the old ranch homesteaded by his father. Schafer, who is 75 but doesn't look it, was born just a short distance from where he now lives.

Mrs. Schafer is also a native-born, West Texas. Her parents from the Schafer ranch.

Mrs. Schafer works primarily in oils. She also tries her hand at times with water colors.

The two portraits of the Kid which adorn the walls of the Maes' saloon in sleepy, picturesque old Lincoln, are done in oil.

Garrett

At her ranch home she has

Pat Garrett, the sheriff who shot the Kid to death about a year after the latter had slain No. 20 and 21 in his break for freedom.

Some time she may go back to Lincoln and it may be that her painting of Pat will join that of the Kid in Maes' saloon. And possibly another of Maes' strangely fascinating wood carvings may find a niche mission recently released a report covering changes from 1963 through 1965.

A quick glance at business in New Mexico shows that domestic corporations chartered in the state dropped from 884 to 811 over the two-year period.

Non-profit corporations dissolved went from 92 to 127. Foreign corporations cancelled dropped from 194 to 130.

CAPITAN NEWS - By Margaret Rench

McDonough's band playing up storm with new uniforms and instruments

Our band received an appreciation trophy at the Roswell Fair. They left Capitan Wednesday, Sept. 28 at 7:30 and were home by 5:30 p.m. They marched in the parade and played well. Everyone had a great day, returned home tired but so happy. They marched in the Aspencade Parade at Ruidoso Saturday, Oct. 8. As did our Girls Drill team. Friday night they marched here at the homecoming. So they did have a very busy weekend. I am truly proud of the progress of these children. They do a fine job. Mr. McDonough tells me that the band will go to Dexter when we play football game over there.

Mr. McDonough is anxiously awaiting to see the sample of the band uniforms which Mrs. A. N. Spencer will receive soon. The Hoffman-Melody of Alamogordo will soon deliver 9 of the 12 new instruments that the Capitan school received under Title I program. It will take over three months for the Ludwig Manufacturers to make and deliver our six new drums purchased by Mrs. Spencer.

I do wish at this time to express my deep heart felt gratitude and sincere thanks for our community to this good and lovely lady for her kindness and generosity. It is truly appreciated.

The Girls Drill team each have purchased a tiger hat from the Humble Oil Company distribution. It is a good emblem for the Tigers. That is a cute idea. The do look nice too.

I attended the Aspencade parade Saturday at Ruidoso. It was interesting. All did their part well. The bands were wonderful. It was with pride that I watched it all. The autumn colors were pretty but, to me, they did not seem as pretty as usual due to not having very heavy frost. There was a nice large crowd in attendance. The square dance at the Dee Plaza entertained many people by their nice performance in the parking lot before the parade.

We have light frosts these last few nights. They were late arriving but it is growing colder daily just as it should.

Last Thursday morning another truck loaded and with a semi loaded too, coming from the west jack knifed on that curve that crosses the bridge north of the Jack Robinson Ranch on Highway 390. It truly did unload the lumber easily. In the creek and across it. But no one was hurt which was fortunate. They had a watchman parked there until the lumber could be picked up. That driver did have a narrow escape.

Mrs. Bob Bixler's nephew who was 20 years old Monday, Oct. 3 was killed in Viet Nam Tuesday Oct. 4. His twin brother is stationed in Colorado. The funeral services will be held some time this week in Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Bixler will attend.

The ambulance from the Ruidoso Hospital came last Thursday night and picked up Mrs. Pat Dixon who is seriously ill and took her to the Ruidoso Hospital. I wish you a speedy recovery.

A strange thing happened a few days ago and I am certain not purposely. Surely some one was shooting at a bird on the wing with a B-B gun, and 8 shots penetrated through the north plate glass window of the H. Lee Miller home on west fifth street. Then other windows on the west had one and two shots. Boys, you must think about this before you shoot.

Mrs. Barney (Rebecca) Luck who makes her home near her daughter in Clovis, recently spent one week with Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Clary at Alto and visited many friends. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kingston enjoyed her and Mrs. Clary for a few hours. It was nice seeing you again. Mrs. Clary's foot was in a cast at that time. I hope you are well again.

Our Fashion Gallery has lots of new fashions at this time. It is steadily growing.

George McBride leased the Ranchman's Restaurant and he took over Monday, Oct. 11. The Wortley Hotel of Lincoln has as guests 37 people from North Carolina who are touring the states. They arrived there the sixth day of their tour Wednesday, October 5. They had two meals and over night. The Hotel was full and some had to stay at the Smokej Bear Motel here.

Tuesday noon October 12 the Dexter Woman's Club will eat dinner there.

Mrs. Clara Snow of Carrizozo spent last Friday with her sister Mrs. Champ Ferguson at her ranch home.

Some mighty fine apples are coming in now from Nogal. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steinke have moved to the former Beula Hartley home on W. Second now owned by the John Soderbacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Freeland went to California last Friday to visit relatives and will bring their sons' wife, Rita and baby son, Joe home with them to visit until Joe joins them in December.

Wayne and Roberta Clark are the proud parents of a son, Terry LeRoy born 7:27 p.m. Oct. 1, 1966 at the Union County General Hospital in Clayton, N. M., weighing 7 lbs. 4 1/2 ozs. and 20 1/2 inches long. His brothers Tracey and Tim think he is the greatest.

Those of Capitan who attended the regular meeting of the Eastern Star Thursday, Oct. 6 in Carrizozo were Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw, Mrs. James Howard and Mrs. Rench.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins and Danny returned safely last Monday night from their trip to Bronte, Texas where her grandmother Mrs. Hannaford was laid to rest. She was 84 years old and was the sister of the deceased Gertrude Morris.

Chaplain Kline has received notice from the American Legion Department Commander of New Mexico, that he is to teach the class on "Service to God in Public Worship, in Family Prayer, and in Religious Education of Children." This class is part of the Leadership Conference to be held in the Chaparral Motel in Ruidoso this weekend, beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, October 15th. The conference closes at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Nine persons were present among the pines on the banks of the Alto Reservoir to celebrate the birthday of Beth Kline, who was 9 years old last Thursday, October 6th. Ham burgers were roasted over an open fire. Too much breeze prevented lighting all of the candles on the birthday cake at the same time. Beth was not exactly celebrating the 2nd week of wearing a cast on her right ankle, but she was thankful to know she will remove it on Halloween.

This Sunday will be "Sierra Blanca Boys' Camp Day" at Capitan Methodist Church at 11:00 A.M.

Some mighty fine apples are coming in now from Nogal. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steinke have moved to the former Beula Hartley home on W. Second now owned by the John Soderbacks.

Proper care of deer means the difference between good eating or spoiled meat.

After the deer has been shot, bleed it at once. Blood lowers meat quality and hastens spoilage. Dress out the deer promptly and wipe the body cavity well with a dry cloth or dry leaves after removing the insides. Do not use water because wet meat spoils more quickly than dry. Keep the heart, liver and tongue, because they make nutritious, palatable dishes.

It is better to take the animal home on top of the car or in the back of a station wagon because the fender is too close to the hot motor. Meat should be cooled as quickly and thoroughly as possible to avoid a disagreeable flavor. To cool the deer, hang it by the head in the shade where there is good air circulation and prop the flanks open with a stick 8 to 10 inches long, sharpened at both ends.

Deer can be aged by hanging the carcass with the skin attached in a refrigerated or cold area for a week. Aging will improve the edibility of mature carcasses. Leave the skin intact because it keeps the meat from dehydrating and turning dark.

Lincoln County 4-H members met last week and formed a county council. Officers elected were: Arturo Pacheco, president; Jane Dean, vice - president; Randy Kirkpatrick, secretary; and Pete Gnatkowski, treasurer.

They made plans for the 4-H Award Night to be held November 5th in Carrizozo.

Good health is important all the time. But it's most important, and hardest to safeguard, in time of emergency. Disease could run wild following a natural or nuclear disaster. To insure your good health in an emergency you would have to:

1. Drink only safe liquids and know how to purify drinking water.
2. Know how to turn off the water service valve in your home, and where to get water for emergency use if your regular supply were cut off.
3. Eat only safe foods.
4. Have an emergency method of disposing of human wastes in case flush toilets weren't working or you could not get to them.
5. Know how to care for any sick or injured members of your family until help could be reached.

You can prepare now for any possible disaster situation. Safe water can be stored in clean, tightly capped, rust proof containers. Empty plastic bleach jugs make excellent containers.

Try to keep a 2 weeks' supply of food on hand at all times. Keep your stock fresh by using the older foods in your daily meals and replacing them. Store this extra food where it would be safe from fallout or other contamination in case of disaster. Most kitchen cabinets, pantries, or closets have doors that close tightly enough for safety.

Every family should encourage at least one of its members to enroll in a local medical self-help training course.

No one likes to think of being sick enough or hurt badly enough to have to go to the hospital. Nobody likes to think that an enemy attack or natural disaster could force us to take emergency shelter.

When people get sick, when accidents happen or disaster strikes, it is comforting to know that we have trained medical personnel available as well as the necessary hospitals and supplies to administer to the needs of those affected.

In the event of a nuclear disaster, we would not necessarily have available the services of a doctor, nor be able to obtain hospital care. Thus, every family should have a member enrolled in a self-help training program.

This program offers training for what you may have to do for yourself when outside medical help cannot get to you. This training is good emergency preparedness for everyone and especially for rural people and others who live or work in some what isolated areas.

A Medical Self - Help Program is planned for late October. If you are interested, con-

Homecoming

Miss Janie Sharp was crowned queen for the 1966-67 homecoming.

Acting county agent in Carrizozo, Mrs. Frankie Gibson in Ruidoso Downs, or Mrs. Tom Knight in Ancho.

High color for variety invites shoppers to buy generously. For good eating apples, take a peak beneath the eye-appealing color though. When growing conditions are favorable, some varieties develop bright colors, especially — long before the sugar content rises and the acid content falls to the desired levels. The ground color tells the stage of ripeness. Somewhere, even on highly colored apple, there'll be a spot sheltered by a leaf where the ground color shows through. The ground color changes to a pale green, then a yellow green, and later to a pale yellow to signify that the apple is reaching full maturity and its top flavor. A deep yellow or brownish-yellow signals that the fruit is past its top quality.

Keep apples cool to keep them crisp! Apples lose quality rapidly at room temperature in low relative humidity.

Any variety of apple can be served in any way. But differences in texture, flavor, and juice content will give different results. The Delicious apple — Reds and Golden — are excellent for using raw, eating out of hand, salads, and with cheese. Rome Beauties bake well, they're good for slicing and frying, thinly sliced they make delicious pies. Winesaps and Jonathans make excellent pies and tasty, attractive sauces. They're good raw for those preferring a more tart, firm apple.

After the ceremony the Intra-City Council of Alpha Delta Kappa honored Mrs. Pflingsten at a reception in the Desert Room of the Student Union Building on the campus of the University of New Mexico. Receiving with Mrs. Pflingsten were Beta, Gamma, and Iota sub-chapter presidents. Refreshments of tea, coffee, cookies, minis and nuts were served to a hundred guests.

Jerry Sharp, president of the Corona High School Student Council, crowned the queen. All attendants and candidates for queen received corsages. The queen also received a beautiful bouquet of red roses and white mums. Mr. Payton, of the Lincoln Co. News was on hand to take pictures of the coronation and class attendants.

After the game the homecoming dance was held in the Recreation Hall of the gymnasium. Refreshments of cake, punch, chips, and dips were served. Everyone danced and enjoyed themselves right up until the last minute, when it ended. Surely none of us shall forget it.

At this time we would also like to take the opportunity to thank Mr. Payton once again for coming Friday night to take our homecoming pictures

Wade Apartment

Wade. On her death in 1961 Jesse and wife moved in.

The story about getting ready for Christmas in 1963 is still remembered around Corona. Old Man Ledbetter volunteered to get a tree to put in the school for a community Christmas. He had a set of mules and wagon, said, "Don't Worry."

Mr. Ledbetter was fully as good as his word. He cut a nice big tree in the Gollins, skidded it to town — it arrived all covered with mud, and big enough to fill a three story building. Fins Atkinson and Wilbur Dshman got another to fit the school.

The rock building at Corona was put up in 1910, probably the end of the frame school. This rock school was taken down by WPA workers and made into a fence, still to be seen on the school grounds.

The Wade Apartment can be seen today, one block off Highway 54, just back of the city hall, a place full of memories for Corona residents.

Around Town

Spending the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clegg were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anthony and boys, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wadie Anthony, all of Elida; and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cronk and three children of Albuquerque. On Saturday afternoon, the party all enjoyed a picnic dinner in Nogal Canyon, and some fishing in Bonito Lake. Mr. Wadie Anthony had not been in Carrizozo since 1905, and he enjoyed, along with the others, the Valley of Fires and just seeing the country in general. He had attended the Ranchmans Camp Meeting at the Nogal Camp Ground as a boy, and has many pleasant memories of this part of the country. The Cronks went back to Albuquerque Saturday night, and the Anthonys went home Sunday afternoon.

The Adult Study groups are again being held every other Thursday night at 7 p.m., concentrating on different religions. A study on 7th Day Adventism was held Thursday at the home of John Allen and Vernelle Hightower with 11 present. The next study will be on Jehovahs Witnesses.

Word has been received that Bill Chase (otherwise known as "Hop-a-long" Chase) of Akron, Ohio will enter the hospital for surgery on his spine. Bill was the work boss for the Akron Youth camp that was at Ancho this summer. We hasten to add that Bill had already had trouble with his back, before his famous ride on the bronc at the local arena. Best wishes go to Bill and Sue from the Ancho Community.

Susan Harkey spent the week end in town with her friend, Ronda Lindsey. They attended the Homecoming game Friday evening. On Saturday, Mrs. Lindsey took the girls to Alamogordo to shop.

Steve Harkey spent the week end with G. L. Straley.

Barney Roper took his father Sam Roper, Sr., to his doctor in Clovis last Monday.

Mr. Roper, Sr. has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. "Dutch" Stoneman, and family in Ruidoso for a few days, and had just returned to his home, when he became ill. Lois drove the school bus.

Herman Kelt, Sr. stopped by Jackie Silver's home on Sunday. He was accompanied by his granddaughter, Jean Kelt and her friend, Leslie Ann Parr, all of Alamogordo. Mr. Kelt is a former citizen of Carrizozo and was the post master preceding Roy Harman. Mr. Kelt was a resident of White Oaks during the early 1900's and his wife the late Pansy Palmer Kelt, lived in Ancho as a child. Mr. Kelt and the two young women enjoyed the tour thru Jackie's "My House of Old Things"; much of the history and life in which Mr. Kelt lived recorded is a part of the times as a boy and young man.

Gary Hightower was home for the weekend from his studies at NMSU.

Old Lincoln Town

By Mrs. Edgar Phillips

Last week a group of women who are members of the American Business Women's Association, Inc. - Bega Chapter, Burlington, N. C. spent the night of Oct. 6 at the Wortley Hotel and toured Lincoln before leaving Oct. 7. They were delighted with the accommodations at the hotel and with Lincoln in general.

One lady, Mrs. Claude W. Jeffreys wanted Pearl Soderback's recipe for salt - rising bread, and in her note stated she would give a glowing account of the Wortley when she gave her report on the trip.

It was nice to meet two of the ladies who had sons working for the Post Office Department; one, Mrs. F. E. Copeland has a son who works in the post office and Mrs. Patti Robertson has a son who is a mail carrier. We enjoyed having this lovely group in Lincoln.

Wayne Dunlap was home over the weekend to help on the house and brought a guest, Joe Tydlaska of Roswell with him.

The roofers have finished putting the roof on their house.

The Dunlaps were very busy at the Fair, assisting in every way they could. They told me only that they attended the Fair.

Mrs. Wright is staying at her home in Lincoln now and is feeling much better.

Mr. George Ree has been unable to teach for two or three days because of a severe cold.

Paul Gardner, Ernest and Robert McDaniel and the McDaniel's niece and husband attended the Flamenco dances at the Chaparral and say they were wonderful. That is a great compliment as Paul and Ernest have each seen many of them in Spain.

The Wards are about settled in their house here now and like it very much.

The Wortley had a group of twenty ladies for dinner on Tuesday evening.

The Chris Zamoras are putting a new roof on their house.

Mrs. Rosalie Dunlap attended the UPW meeting at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Zumwalt in Nogal and visited with friends.
