Hopper spray contracts are let

MILITARY BAND — This delegation from Ft. Bliss, Texas, keeps the beat and the step for the Old Timers parade. More than 2,500 lined the route through Lincoln, then thronged to the afternoon performance of the Last Escape of Billy the Kid pageant.

Planes will spray half million acres

Contracts are presently being let to spray by plane approximately a half million acres of Lincoln County range land with pure Malathion to curb a severe hopper infestation, said Ralph Dunlap, county extension agent.

Approximately 70,000 acres in the Nogal Mesa area and 420,000 acres in the North Capitan area are having their outside boundaries flagged with large cheese-cloth strips by ranchers and plant pest control personnel.

"We expect to have the contracts let by tomorrow evening and spraying to start early next week," said Walt Wilson, chairman of the North Capitan group.

Dick Newton, mapper for the state plant pest control division of USDA, contacted the plant pest control in New Orleans, La., which has a list of certified multi-engine spray operators.

"It will probably require multi-engine planes to spray this much area, at least one for every 100,000 acres," Dunlap said. He noted that the contractors would choose their own strips to fly from and would probably use two or three in the county.

Spraying will probably take three to five days to complete, barring bad weather or an exceptional hot spell, Dunlap told. Winds would shift the eight-ounce-per acre of Malathion away and thermal updrafts from a hot spell would not allow the spray to settle, he explained.

"This is a big contract, involving more than $100,000, and will probably attract more than the usual four to eight bidders," Wilson told. "This rainy weather slowed down hopper development and we should mail them during their last hatch," he added.

Plant pest control is expected to have about 25 men working in the area when the spraying starts.

North Capitan committee members are Walt Wilson, chairman; Bill Edgar, secretary-treasurer; Nat Gnatowski and Mill Jones. "Charley Jones helped a lot too," said Wilson.

Nogal Mesa committee members are LaMoyné Peters, chairman; Fletcher Hall Jr. and Ellis Schildknecht.

"We expect a good kill. Weather conditions are ideal now," Wilson said.

Working also in the program are George Fulkerson, state director of plant pest control division of USDA, Dwayne Barthold, assistant director, and Bill Eubanks of the state grasshopper control board.

Mercantile sells stock

M Carrizozo Mercantile looks bare, there's a reason. Mr. and Mrs. M.V. Jones have sold all the ready to wear merchandise, lock stock and barrel, to a W.T. Wood of Colorado City, Texas.

"We're going to take a long-needed vacation," Mrs. Jones told. "When we get back we'll remodel and restock, probably western wear and carry a line of notions," she said.

Lawyer gives brand books

Brand books, showing cattle brands present in Texas and New Mexico before the turn of the century have just been donated to the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission, announces Bill R. Ward, curator.

Donating the volumes, written in longhand and published by the South Eastern New Mexico Stock Grower's Association, is Hiram M. Dow, retired rancher and lawyer from Mayhill. Mr. Dow was the second man admitted to the New Mexico bar, in 1908, Ward tells.

J.L. Dow, his father, was a deputy U.S. Marshall. The old volumes will be on display in the Old Lincoln Court-house, Ward says.

Commissioners are studying purchase act

Complying with the State purchasing act hits Lincoln County with force, note County Commissioners. Items not listed under Government Service Administration prices must be let for bid before being purchased.

Long distances between businesses in the county and the expense of phone calls have made a shambles of most savings that could be realized under the purchasing act, the commissioners noted. However, they added, they are doing their best to comply.

A $100 limit has been set for emergency purchases and items costing more than $500 must have a written contract, they told. County personnel have been cautioned to keep bids on anticipated purchases of items that have a limited life span like tires, batteries and spark plugs.

THE RAIN CAME — This was the scene Saturday afternoon following the downpour which left more than an inch and a half of rain on the Carrizozo area. Water runoff was great, luckily, damage was slight and in most cases showed where the leaks were. This is the view from in front of the Carrizozo Post Office.

FLAG BEARERS — Bert Pfingsten holds the United States Flag while Edgar Phillips holds the state flag. Both prepare to lead the mile-long Old Timers Parade in Lincoln.

Following specialized aircrew training in the B-52 Stratofortress, he will be assigned to the Strategic Air Command, the nation's combat ready intercontinental missile and bomber force.

A 1958 graduate of Carrizozo High School, Captain Ortiz received a B.A. degree in geology in 1961 from the University of New Mexico and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

His wife, Maxine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of 406 S. Hemlock, Roswell.

Third and main event will be the Afternoon Anniversary Assembly in the sanctuary of the church. The present District Superintendent, Dr. Joe B. Scripps of El Paso, will bring the Anniversary Message. Mrs. Leota Pfingsten will sing a solo. A quartet will sing and the Childrens Choir sing the anthem.

Co-chairmen Couples for inviting friends and old-timers are: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aldrich and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw. Couple as chairmen of local arrangements are Mr. & Mrs. Bud Smith of Fort Stanton.

To add to personal hospitality these leaders of the church would greatly appreciate generous donations of garden flowers for this memorable day. Banks of flowers would be beautiful.

Chaplain Kline is an optimist, but his shocked at the lack of response by our nation to the plea of the President of our United States to go to church for a "Day of Prayer and Reconciliation". He said "this plea apparently went unheeded by about everyone, except those who attend church regularly."

Sermon at Capitan Methodist Church Sunday before last was "Ruch Thy Good-Will Thru Us To Each Other". This was based on "The Lord's Prayer". He closed by saying "No one seems to believe we need to rush to really use this prayer we say and sing so often."

Preliminary work on the new rest-room of Capitan Methodist Church began last Monday with Neal Bergman as foreman.

Sunday School Stampede is moving into Capitan Methodist Church this Sunday at 9:45 AM. This is for every member of each family.

Capitan will be the scene of a Quarter Horse Show on Saturday, Aug. 19, starting at 8 a.m. The show is sponsored by the Lincoln County Fair Association, and is approved by the AQHA and NMQHA. Emma Gene Hall is secretary and Fletcher Hall is manager.

There will be the regular halter classes, youth activities followed by the open performance classes. A unique part of this horse show is the free lunch given to the exhibitors.

Many of those who showed last year at Capitan commented on the wonderful hospitality extended to them and certainly planned to return.

Coach Derrel Percy says:

Grizzlies to rebuild this year

After "losing" the entire 1966 backfield and backfield subs to graduation this year, Derrel Percy, Grizzlie head coach, expects to have a rebuilding year with a small fast team.

"We should field seven seniors and the rest juniors on the "A" team this year," he said.

This will be Percy's first year as head coach, succeeding Bernie

Laabs. He will be assisted by Joe Bernathy, assistant coach, and Don Harris, junior high coach. Corona for two years, then Grizzlie assistant coach for two years. He is a graduate of Seminole (Texas) High and West Texas State College.

Bernathy serving his first year as assistant coach was a three-year letterman at Midland (Texas) High and a four-year man at Southeastern State College at Ada, Okla. He will coach line and defense and will be the "B" squad coach.

Don Harris, junior high coach, started in January. He is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University.

Workouts are scheduled to begin on Aug. 14 at 9 a.m. A scrimmage game is scheduled with Alamogordo on Sept. 29 here, Percy told.

First "A" squad district game will pit the Grizzlies against Ruidoso here on Sept. 1 at 7:30.

"B" squad will get their baptism against T or C September 1 at 7:30. "B" squad will get their baptism against T or C September 9 at 3 p.m. there. Cub Grizzlies will face T or C there at 1 p.m., same day.

Coach Percy has set some tentative positions: Albert Gallegos and Buster Baker, halfbacks; Gordon Barham and Gilbert Archuleta, fullbacks; Danny Manriel and Steven Harper, quarterbacks; Frank Hine Jr. and Leroy Lopez, ends; Scott Shafer and Eric Lynch, tackles; Bill Hightower and Sam Vega, tackles; and the center slot is still vacant.

"We'll probably average a 160-pound line," Percy told.

Stratton to coach Corona Cardinals

Football activity will start August 14, 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., at Corona with a coach who is not new to the game by any means, but has been working as school principal (a job he will keep) and leaving the football coaching to other people.

Lewis Stratton will be coaching football, working with a probable 25-man squad, young, medium fast and not especially big.

Pads will be issued August 21, and practice gets serious on that same day. The Cardinals will have night practices through the 23rd and will fit into the school schedule on the 24th.

The first game is with Mountaintop, there, September 1 at 7:30. All of Corona's games will be at 7:30. Dexter, Melrose and Clouderoff come to Corona in that order following Mountaintop.

District governor installs

Capitan Lions Club officers

Monday Capitan Lions enjoyed a pot luck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins. During the evening the incoming officers were installed by district governor, Ray Dean, of Alamogordo. The Lions Club had a booth at Billy The Kid Pageant at Lincoln last Saturday and Sunday. The weather was in their favor and the booth was a big success. Lions are buying four picnic tables for the Womans' Club Park in Capitan. As you know, our whole community does benefit from their many projects. Always, remember that, when you see their booth and their work. They do wonderful things where they are needed for us. We are so proud of them and their efforts. Keep up the good work.

Our school starts August 21. Everyone is busy preparing for those days.

REA holds nice meeting

I accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young to Clouderoff last Saturday to the Otero County Electric annual meeting. There was a nice crowd. After business the door prizes were given. The REA employees were among the lucky ticket holders. It was a good meeting. It started raining after 1 p.m. and continued through the evening. We traveled through the mountains on the good graveled highway. The country with its beautiful mountains and scenery will long be remembered. As we neared highway 70 the rain stopped but it was cool and cloudy. It had rained here 1/2 inch. The day before we had 1 4/10 inch. So, it was delightful here too. It was a great day but we were tired persons but did enjoy all of it. There were several from Capitan present.

Title III money for Capitan band

Recently Mr. Bartley McDonough received word that the band application for Title III money had been approved. The band had taken part of a gift from Mrs. Jackie Spencer and the government matched this sum. Mr. McDonough will go to Albuquerque soon to pick up the instruments. These instruments include one piccolo, two trombones, one pair of 15 inch symbols and a fiber glass tuba which will be very light to carry. The chorus will receive a set of risers. All of this is in addition to the Title I received last year. Join the band, music is fun.

Bear Tracks

Mr. Meriwether and family of N.J. arrived last Thursday to stay at the Mountain Home through Monday night. They were guests of Mr. Blondie Lane during their stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Amaratone and John Paul returned last Saturday from two weeks vacation in Memphis, Tenn., with his mother and other relatives. They reported a grand time. Bonnie McEuen took care of their business during their absence and stayed in their home. We enjoyed little Corky who was riding his motorcycle. Jim helped her all that he could. It was good having them with us.

Last Friday was the last day of our summer recreation program, directed by Mr. Bart McDonough. It was successful and very interesting.

Recently last years majorettes received their awards, which was a gold letter "C" with a baton as a guard. The lucky girls were Janet Payton, Jan Randle and Kathy Taylor.

Our fire department was called to the Nazarene Camp at Angus 3:30 A.M. Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Danny Peterson and five children barely escaped without injuries. Their beautiful cabin was a complete loss by a fire of unknown origin. It did scorch the cabins near. The fire department was successful in getting it under control.

The Nazarene Camp Meeting closed with the midday services last Sunday. Many left earlier due to the fire. It certainly did frighten them with the realization of what a fire could actually do if it were not stopped.

Mrs. Jess Rains made a business trip to Ruidoso last Monday.

Nice crowds attended the pageant at Lincoln. The crowd was large. Such traffic. The state police and county sheriffs department were so busy, it looked to me as if they would welcome the end as it was hot and sultry. But, all went well. We enjoyed the art on exhibit. Met many old friends.

They did have an excellent parade. Everyone seemed very happy and smiling. Another pageant a success and over for another year. A job well done.

My son, Boise Rountree and his friend Mel Ward of California, were my guests last Friday night. They were my guests last Friday night. Left early Saturday to their place at Ruidoso where they flew on to Albuquerque. A very pleasant and happy surprise for me.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Smith of Kerrville, who had been weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Owens at Fort Stanton, pleasantly surprised me with a short visit while enroute home Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. Beula Patterson, who is 84 years old, is now in the Hilltop home at Kerrville. She was not well for a while but at this time she is in grand health and loves the home and is very happy there. It was good to see them.

Jane Dean attended the 4-H conference with a group from Lincoln County July 31 through August 4 at Las Cruces.

Mrs. Adda Sellers of Alamogordo is now at the home from the hospital there. She is doing nicely and is in good spirits.

Mrs. Hollis Cummins was in El Paso last week and she visited Kitty Black in the hospital who underwent surgery for gall bladder three weeks ago. She is doing well and sends her best wishes to her many friends in Lincoln County and hopes to be able to see them before the year is over.

Annie Petree, who has been hospitalized in the Medical Center in Roswell for three weeks, returned home last Saturday with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Petree and family. I wish you continued and speedy recovery. Travis Werner enjoyed this last weekend at Angus and at Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vossen of Wichita, Kansas, are here at this time on business and visiting Jack Mayfield.

Myrum Mayfield and her friend Margaret Therebrn of Ft. Bayard were also his guests for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Jordan (she is the former Reddie Taylor) of Williamsburg, accompanied by her niece, Shirley Galloway, who is a senator at Hatch; Mrs. Anna Miller of El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lawson (formerly Dorothy Dean), Porterville, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. I.E. Lindstrom (she is the former Merrill Dean) Denver, Colo. held the Dean family reunion in El Paso Sunday with the absence of only one brother. Monday they held a picnic at the old home place in Boca Canyon. It was good to see you Reddie. She looks so well and happy.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Owens of Ft. Stanton were El Paso business visitors last Monday.

Mrs. Glen Young of Silver City arrived last Thursday to spend one week with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Deane Darling and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Hartley and family spent one week at their cabin on Ruidoso and visited relatives here.

Dr. Frank Parsons and family of El Paso were here last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ray and children of Morton, are vacationing here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rice of El Paso were up for the weekend. Recent house guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaston and family of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simonton are here from Orange, Texas for their annual trip.

Sally McKinnon of Grand Junction, Colorado, is visiting the Charlie Cockerells.

The Jim Pagets of Torrance, Calif., are enjoying a vacation at Eagle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boeglin and family of Carlsbad vacationed at Villa Madonna last week. They came in for a "shop talk" since Bill is a member of the Post office crew in the Carlsbad office.

Hopper response

When an emergency arises, like the current hopper problem, residents of Lincoln County show that they can pull together for a common good. Look at the 420,000 acre North Capitan area of infestation with more than 100 property owners in a single subdivision. Hard work, many phone calls and the willingness to keep trying resulted in the necessary majority of landowners contracting to have Malathion sprayed on their pasture land. Most of the credit for this must go to the committee of Walt Wilson and crew who spent many long days chasing landowners, state and federal officials to get all rounded up in the right place at the right time and getting the spray program underway.

Now, thanks to their efforts, contracts for spraying are being let and the actual spraying will begin early next week.

A half million of hopper-infested pasture means a lot of winter pasture being eaten up. There are only a few who have not committed themselves to the program, they probably will before it ends.

Spectacular as the North Capitan effort is, credit must be given to the Nogal Mesa committee, headed by LaMoyno Peters, for getting a majority of landowners signed up practically overnight and getting the hopper spray program actually off the ground. They led the way.

Now all of Lincoln County stands to gain. Only the voracious hoppers will lose, none too soon.

FRED BUCKLES' "From The Capitol"

Contracting act gets airing

(Fred Buckles is on vacation. The guest columnist this week is W. Howard Parsons, Executive Vice-President of the Home Builders Association of New Mexico.)

One of the most significant legislative measures passed by the recent legislative session, and signed into law by Gov. David Cargo, is the Construction Industries Licensing Act.

Granted, there isn't an abundance of evidence at hand to support that assertion.

But the fact is that most within the contracting industry, and those who deal with the industry on a day-by-day basis, hail July 1, effective date of the act, as the day on which New Mexico's contracting industry attained its maturity.

Few pieces of proposed legislation, in the writer's mind at least, have been given the complete airing accorded this new act. The interim committee, chaired by Sen. I. M. (Ike) Smalley of Deming, held numerous hearings on the proposal before it was made ready for introduction to the legislature.

Every contracting group within the state was given ample opportunity to make known its position; every suggestion was thoroughly weighed by the committee before the final draft was made ready.

Similarly, the measure's passage through the session was marked by full hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee, chaired by Sen. Smalley, and the House Natural Resources Committee, chaired by Rep. Walker Bryan of Carlisbad. Full explanations were presented to both the House and Senate, and considerable time was devoted to frank debate.

So, the legislators, the contractors and the public had full opportunity to know the measure's contents and objectives.

Just what are the objectives? That, truly, is a fair question. Construction is a big business in New Mexico. And, as members of a major industry, the builders and contractors covered by the act should have a deep respect for the integrity of the industry in its relations with individuals and public bodies.

The act, with its demands for stringent compliance with the law by those who would operate within the construction industry, provides a strong foundation for that integrity. The act provides little room for those who would shirk their responsibility as an industry member; it provides no room for those who would flagrantly defy the law, construction codes and ethics of the industry in their relationship with the public.

For those who believe the industry must have high integrity the act is sorely needed.

In their relationship with the construction industry, individuals and public bodies have the right to maximum protection. They have the right to demand competency; the act provides for such. They have the right to demand a knowledge of business management; the act provides for such knowledge as a condition for licensing. They have the right to demand financial responsibility now and in the future; the act sets up ways and means by which that responsibility can be provided.

For the first time in New Mexico, all types of contractors covered by the act--general construction, mechanical, plumbing and electrical--will be licensed by a single body operating under uniform sets of rules and regulations. This is as it should be. A contractor is a contractor within the construction industry. Each has an identical ethical responsibility to an individual or public body for which he is performing a construction project.

The Construction Industries Commission, embracing three contractors, each of whom started out small and has progressed upward, and an architect and a banker, has been given a difficult assignment. But it is facing the challenge with action. The rules and regulations will be carefully thought out with fairness to the contractor tempered by demands for ethical and professional conduct in his relationship with the public.

There never was an effort by the legislature, nor those within the industry who supported the act, to restrain any individual from operating in the industry. In fact, the legislature leaned backward to make certain that the small operator could continue in the industry. It did make certain, however, that those who sought to operate in the industry would meet the reasonable standards of competency and business management so necessary in a time when all businesses bear heavy burdens of responsibility in taxes etc.

The Construction Industries Licensing Act is new in New Mexico. It long has been needed in an industry which requires much supervision and considerable control. The actions of those who serve in an effort to make the act work will come under attack; they will find the task most frustrating. But those close to the industry, and most of those in the industry, predict that the final result will be gratifying.

PAUL HARVEY SAYS:

TV blamed for riots

Television is being accused of worsening race rioting.

Missouri Congressman Durward Hall says, "Instant communications fan the fires." He says, "TV furnishes a nationwide audience for a Stokely Carmichael and thus does this one-eyed Frankenstein create monsters."

He says TV "transforms oddballs into persons of national prominence."

I second the notion. However, Congressman Hall's indictment should have gone further.

I say the new media have helplessly helped to worsen race rioting by quoting the President of the United States!

June, 1965, President Johnson told the graduation class at Howard University, Washington, D.C., "Our earth is the home of revolution. Nothing is freighted with more meaning for our own destiny than the revolution of the American Negro."

August, 1965, President Johnson told demonstrators, "I am proud to salute you as fellow revolutionaries."

Of course, our President did not intend to approve or incite violent revolution. That fact may have been clear to his immediate audience at the time. But in nationwide repetition and publication those words reached a lot of sub-par intellects appearing and encouragement of "revolution."

Both Vice President Hubert Humphrey and State Secretary Rusk said publicly that if they were Negroes, they, too, would demonstrate.

Later, of course, with American cities in flames, our President changed his tune.

July 27, 1967, the President publicly resolved that "violence will be dealt with forcefully, swiftly, certainly under the law."

He said, "We can stop it, we must stop it, we will stop it!"

Now, after scores are dead and many square miles of America the Beautiful are in ashes, our Vice President is "ashamed of those who protest grievances with violence. . ."

Little wonder our trumpet has an uncertain sound.

Indeed, after three nights of anguish and agony in Detroit had spread to more than a dozen other cities, President Johnson's "we can, we must, we will" speech went on by implication to blame Congress for not approving money for "rat control" and the President promised more "welfare. . ."

Thus, to many of us, it still sounded as if rioting is the way to get what you want. You want new neighborhood, burn down the old one.

So if the American press has blood on its hands, the terrible responsibility must be shared by public officials who have used the news media to make extravagant political promises and to harp on the "plight of the underdog" until a lot of people who had not previously felt like "underdogs" gradually did -- and became restless.

And then violent.

Schrecengost speaks to conservation assembly

William Schrecengost, State Representative from Lincoln and Socorro County, was one of the featured speakers on a panel discussion at the annual meeting of Zone VI Soil and Water Conservation Districts, held in Roswell last week.

In Bill's talk he brought out the necessity of keeping legislators informed of District activities and needs, in order that they can support them in their program of conservation. He pointed out that many legislators have no idea of what Districts are doing or how their accomplishments are related to food and fiber production. He clearly brought home to the Supervisors present the need for better information programs along this line.

Bert Pfingston of Hondo served as a moderator on the panel. The Carrizozo and Upper Hondo Districts were well represented at the meeting. Also, all members of the Macho Board, including those from Lincoln County, were present.

Mrs. R. L. Chilton of Moantair, President of the State Women's Auxiliary, was present to discuss the Auxiliary program. Mrs. Lee Straley of Ancho, Vice-President of the State Auxiliary, was also present.

Message from the Publisher

"How do you spend your income?" asked Mrs. Jones. "Oh," replied Mrs. Smith, "about 30 per cent for rent, 30 per cent for clothing, 35 per cent for food, 10 per cent for amusement, and 15 percent for incidentals."

"But that adds up to 120 per cent!" "That's right."

There are no Jones or Smiths on the staff of the Lincoln County News but many weeks our budgeting seems much like theirs.

The publisher was alerted this week by a survey of 207 weekly newspapers which indicated that the "average" weekly newspaper publisher in 1966 received 4 per cent less of his total revenue from advertising and 2 per cent less from circulation than he did in the previous year.

This survey also confirmed what we've known for a long time -- that local advertising is the bread and butter of the "average" weekly newspaper which includes the Lincoln County News.

Does it seem strange that we recommend advertised products and services to our staff members . . . particularly those advertised in the News?

The survey figures follow:

INCOME
Local Advertising	45.3%
National advertising	4.5
Classified advertising	6.5
Legal advertising	4.0
Total advertising	60.3
Circulation	8.2
Commercial Printing	27.4
Miscellaneous	4.1
Total	109.0%

There was a time when we did not depend quite so heavily on local advertising as we do now -- we once had a car account which came from Detroit, race track advertising which came from south of the border, dairy advertising which came from El Paso. What weekly newspaper publisher call national advertising is a thing of the past. We remember when a small weekly newspaper at Coldwater, Kansas, would have six big car ads (and not much else).

There is absolutely no reason for local business people to feel they need help: the local newspaper pay its overhead . . . but the local newspaper is doing its business to publicize the home area, and local advertising is the best possible means to let people know about Lincoln County.

BLM asks graze change

Bureau of Land Management asks changes in grazing rules. The Department of the Interior has proposed regulations to improve the multiple-use management of 18,000,000 acres of public lands not included in organized grazing districts in the West. The so-called "Section 15 Lands" were not placed in grazing districts under the Taylor Grazing Act of 1934 because of fragmented ownership patterns. Currently there are 158 million acres of public lands in organized grazing districts where Interior's Bureau of Land Management has concentrated administration of range resources. The proposed regulations would:

- (1) Utilize, when appropriate, a management plan jointly prepared by Bureau of Land Management and the livestock operator as a part of a grazing lease.
- (2) Strengthen the present regulations which require Bureau of Land Management authorization of the location, and construction of range improvements, Access to public lands offered through private lands will be considered among other factors in resolving conflicting grazing applications. In announcing the proposed regulation, Bureau of Land Management Director Boyd L. Rasmussen said, "These new regulations will strengthen the orderly use, improvement and development of an important segment of public lands now outside grazing districts." The proposed regulations were discussed with the industry-use committee of the National Advisory Board Council at its annual meeting in April. "We plan to further discuss them with livestock associations and other vitally concerned with our leased public lands," Rasmussen states. "The reactions will be studied carefully before we make any final recommendations." Interested persons may submit written comments, suggestions, or objections to the Director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C., 20240, for 120 days after publication of proposals in the Federal Register.
