LINCOLN COUNTY CENTENNIAL 1869 - 1969

100 years of history and progress

In an area of the great southwest that has at various times been known as the largest county in the nation, most lawless and bloodiest—area-of-the-west—a country settled by white people long before the Pilgrims landed, and an area where in thirty minutes drive you can go from black lava and white sand desert to lush mountain valleys—all of that is Lincoln County.

No doubt that a great many people living in eastern sections of the United States and many foreign countries still think of New Mexico as a desert, inhabited by Indians and rattlesnakes, and with some reason. In the year 1852 Col. Edwin Voss Sumner made official report to Washington recommending that the government "return

New Mexico to the Mexicans and Indians, and even after Lincoln County was designated as a county Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman testified that ownership of the Territory of New Mexico was not worth the cost of defense.

Add to such early publicity the thousands of stories, both true and false, about Lincoln County's folk hero, Billy the Kid, and it is small wonder that so many people do not know the truth about New Mexico and Lincoln County.

The celebration of Lincoln County's 100th birthday is due in no small part to the effort of one man, Capt. Saturnino Baca, who as a member of the Territorial Legislature from Socorro in 1869 introduced the bill which created Lincoln County. At that time Lincoln comprised all the territory which now forms Lincoln, Chaves, Eddy, Roosevelt, Lea and part of Otero county.

Baca was born in Valencia County in 1830. In the early days he was sent to California with a survey party. At the start of the Civil War Baca offered his services to Governor Henry Connelly and in 1861 he was made first lieutenant in Company E, First New Mexico Cavalry, which was part of the regiment commanded by Kit Carson. Before the war was over Baca was promoted to captain.

Following the war Captain Baca served at Fort Stanton, Wingate and Bascom in New Mexico and Fort Defiance in Arizona. He became the first probate judge in Lincoln County. In 1875 he was elected sheriff and served for three years. Later he served as county commissioner.

Captain and Mrs. Baca had eight children, 40 grandchildren, and many great grandchildren, some still living in Lincoln County. He died at the age of 94 in Lincoln and was buried in the Lincoln Town Cemetery.

With the events surrounding Capt. Baca's life and many decades of notable events that followed, Lincoln County lives in a wealth of history and is celebrating its 100th birthday at a time when progress in the form of roads, new construction of all kinds, recreation facilties for all ages and people, airport, skiing, racing livestock, orchards, and all the things that make up a good life for Lincoln County people -- is making its greatest strides.

Starting with Sunrise Easter Service at the new Valley of Fires State Park west of Carrizozo, the schedule of special events continue without letup to climax with a Centennial Ball on December 6.

There will be a tour of historic old Fort Stanton and caves in that area soon to be developed. apple blossom tours when spring beauty is really on the land, horse shows and rodeos during much of the year for all ages of people and breeds of horses, the Hondo Fiesta, where the best of Mexican dances are performed, hospitality days in Alto, Corona, Carrizozo, and Ruidoso, dedication of White Oaks Cemetery, (Gov. McDonald first governor of New Mexico is buried there), rifle matches, square dancing, camp meeting, a big stampede in Capitan, richest horse race in the country, polo game, old fiddlers' contest, pony express races, folk pageant on Last Escape of Billy the Kid at Lincoln, a big fiesta, a fair, Aspenade, and many other events to liven up a full year of celebration in Lincoln County.

There is history on every side and beautiful natural surroundings for visitors in this vast land. It will take more than a week to get the full impact of Lincoln County, from its back roads where old mines abound, to its peaks where skiers take off to glide down the slopes.

On the south side is Three Rivers, notable for Indian pictographs, on the west, the black lava country where bootleggers and outlaws once hid, on the north is Red Cloud Canyon, with its beautiful valleys and camping sites, on the east is the Hondo Valley with its orchards and small communities as old as the United States itself.

In between the four points of the compass are miles and miles of scenic tours, around the Ruidoso recreation area, north of Capitan into the mountains, up the beautiful Bonito valley for fishing and picnicking, along the board walks of Lincoln Town, where gunfire once made it unsafe to loiter, in the halls of the county's original Courthouse, along any of the many vehicle roads that take off from main highways for a tour of country where you can almost believe you were the first person there.

It's a fabulous land, a land of strange and unusual differences, a friendly land, and it's 100th birthday is being celebrated this year.

OLD FRIENDS GET TOGETHER — R. T. Freeland of Capitan and John Harkey of Carrizozo, who have known each other for fifty years, got together to talk over old times during their half century of acquaintance.

96-year-old enjoys life

Mr. R. T. Freeland of Capitan age 96 and John Harkey of Carrizozo, soon to be 80, are good friends and talk a lot when they get together as you see in the picture. Both men have lived their long lives in Lincoln County.

John (just 80) asked Mr. Freeland (just 96) to what he attributed his long life and continued good health. Mr. Freeland's answer was that he lived by the health rules of the Bible. He figures he's still got the same body he had when he was 12 months old, can eat anything he wants, does not worry, hasn't an enemy on this earth, and still does ranch work.

Harkey's friend of fifty years was born in Polk County, Tenn. in 1873, his birthday is April 24. From Tennessee his family moved to Indian Territory in Oklahoma, later they moved to the village of Blue Water, east of the Capitan Mountains in Lincoln County where he grew up. He returned to Oklahoma to marry Ruth Gibbins. On his return to New Mexico he worked in the gold mines on Nogal Mesa.

In 1917 he filled a homestead on the north side of the Capitan and has been ranching eight sections raising both sheep and cattle every since. One of the worst storms for ranchers was in 1924 as Freeland remembers when there was 24 inches of snow on the level. He still drives his pickup truck and rides a horse about the ranch.

During this Centennial Year in Lincoln County there won't be many people who personally knew New Mexico's first governor, Freeland is one that did, he counted Gov. W. C. McDonald of Lincoln County as his personal friend.

Lots of history passed the Freeland lived here. He remembers the time he and a companion were trailed by Indians to a river bank. The river was too deep to ford, but Freeland knew of a crossing six miles upstream and thought they could elude the Indians that way. They made the crossing and turned back on the other side, however, the Indians plunged into the deep water on their horses and forded the river like a bunch of ducks and met the two men on the other side. Freeland and companion were lucky, they persuaded the Indians they were friends, and got away.

Back in the cattle-drive days, Freeland once drove 180 head of cattle from San Angelo to Roswell, this in 1890.

The ranch house north of Capitan was built by Mr. Freeland, a rock house with four rooms and 24-inch walls. In later years he added on three rooms and bath of wood construction.

Possibility is real good that R. T. Freeland is the oldest living member of I. O. O. F. Lodge, he's belonged to this lodge for 63 years and was given a life membership recently at Capitan.

On his last visit to Carrizozo when the picture of two old friends was taken, Mr. Freeland was accompanied by his daughter Mrs. Minnie James, who is staying with him now.

Church of Christ schedules meetings

Evangelist Bob Ross will be the guest speaker at meeting in the Corona Church of Christ starting April 6 and running through April 11. Meeting time will be 7:00 p.m. each day, 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend and "Hear Christ preached." Corona Church of Christ has the hope that this church may speak as the Bible speaks and be silent as the Bible is silent, preach the old news of salvation to the unredeemed, encourage the weary, lift up the fallen, strengthen the saved and point out the way of life everlasting to all whose lives we touch.

Zozo boxers are scrappy group

Carrizozo youngsters, from five years up to senior age, boxing Ruidoso boys at school Tuesday showed all the courage and spirit it takes to become fine competitors. The Ruidoso boys have been at the game longer and were skilled at the trade, showing up better in keeping their balance and in footwork, but the Zozo boys weren't outshown a bit, getting into some real battles as well as taking some hard punches. You see part of the action in this set of News pictures.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Booze On Sunday?

Some people will find it hard to talk rationally about having liquor dispensed over the bar or out of a package store on Sunday in Lincoln County, but they might as well start getting their thinking shaped up because in all likelihood the matter will come to a vote and soon.

The Legislation permitting county option on Sunday sale of booze became law last week, and it's a little soon for the wheels to start turning to get this matter to a vote of the people -- like next week, maybe.

One of the better arguments of people in favor will be that of putting this recreation area in better competitive position with neighboring states, and Old Mexico. The thinking being that more people will flock into Lincoln County for their Sunday drinks and good times.

A question, we think for Lincoln County people to decide, is what kind of recreation does Lincoln County want to be most noted for . . . the kind that requires some booze to hop it up, or maybe the kind where a picnic lunch, (maybe a six-pack bought on Saturday) a sightseeing trip, fishing, skiing, rifle shooting, rodeo, horse show, dinner with coffee to follow or any of the other enjoyable things people can do on Sunday -- is the main entertainment.

We need to go for more tourist trade, no argument there, but just how far Lincoln County should or wants to go in that direction is the question. It does not seem the thing for us to aim at being a 'Little Las Vegas,' nor do we want to be strictly wilderness where people do it on foot or horseback. Somewhere in between those two extremes, like where we are now, may be best for all concerned.

The question could also be asked, who or what small group will profit most from Sunday sale of booze. The ones who will profit are bound to be noisy in the campaign, but their numbers may be so small that the new legislation should not go into action here.

We can tell you now about how we think a county option Sunday sale of booze election would go -- Corona opposed, Carrizozo opposed, Captain opposed, Hondo area a draw, Ruidoso in favor but not enough to offset vote of rest of the county.

Better Look Now!

The view from Paul's cafe is rapidly changing and it won't be long until that section of town across from Spider Park will have complete new look. Right now the remains of four old timers are still in place and much history between their walls but the walls are slowly tumbling down, brick by brick. Fact is they've been tumbling down for years.

We like the old, especially old clothes and old houses. Always feel more comfortable in them. But, when care of the article is taken away and dust-wood-junk begin to gather it's time to do some cleanup.

Sorry about those old buildings. Sorry they've had no occupants for years who might have kept them in shape. Happy about their demise because the new structure to go up will certainly improve the looks of our town.

The annual cleanup time came, and has gone except for this government sponsored job.

An addition to news story being circulated state-wide about Lincoln County Centennial. Picture being sent out with news is of Capt. Saturnino Baca, founder so to speak of Lincoln County. Picture in the papers (including ours) will show only Capt. Baca but the original had baby shown below, undoubtedly one of Baca's grandchildren. Thought you would like to see the complete article.

We have a genuine feeling of loss over the McCollum family departing our town. Teaching is a transient-trailer no-part-in-community sort of life for most teachers and to lose a family that bought home, pitched in to help with community work, raised family here -- and were real fine people -- gives us a bad feeling. Happens every year, but this is the worst blow of all.

Swiped from Duffy -- Women get a lot of credit for things they shouldn't be buying in the first place. Mrs. Honpeck: "John!" "John!" "Yes my dear." "Mrs." "There's a corner torn off your pay check. What did you spend it for?" Being good isn't necessarily a virtue -- you have to be good for something. Parting thought: 'What America really needs is more young people who will carry to their jobs the same enthusiasm for getting ahead that they display in traffic.'

One special doctor served Lincoln County

El Paso, Texas
March 2, 1969

Mr. Paul Payton
Carrizozo, N. M.
Dear Mr. Payton:
I assume that the Lincoln County Centennial Committee got my name through you, as they sent me a letter and some literature with instructions for entering the contributor's contest which did not interest me.

Also I am sending a picture that belonged to my late husband, which substantiates a portion of my article, "Dr. Paden's prowess as a Hunter". On the left is Gus Wingfield, a very close friend of his.

I would like the photo returned, please.

Sincerely
Amanda A. Treat

Oaks from the East, attracted perhaps by the call of the fabulous West, and the rumors about the discovery of gold in White Oaks which was then the metropolis of Lincoln County.

Dr. Paden liked what he saw returned for his bride, a most charming lady who made quite a large contribution to the social and civil interests of the growing community. To this union three children were born, Brent, Melvin and little Virginia who died in infancy. Pneumonia which in those days was the people's most deadly enemy, took Mrs. Paden some years later.

Brent and Mel (as he was always called) were sent away to school, Brent to Military Institute and Mel to Medical somewhere in the east from which he returned as a fullfledged doctor. But Dr. Paden's cherished dreams of a father-son partnership was never realized, for Mel's untimely death destroyed those dreams. Brent also died several years later.

Interestingly enough, this unusual doctor was much of an out-door man in his younger days and his special hobbies were hunting and horcos. I will always remember the little red brick drugstore in White Oaks where as a child I used to admire in awe the assortment of deer heads that adorned its walls. Wild turkey and even one fierce-looking lynx, were arranged effectively on stands.

I have in mind one very special doctor who served Lincoln County well and faithfully for nearly three-quarters of a century, and surely there are many living testimonials here and there, between the ages of twenty and eighty who respect and revere his memory. He is Dr. Melvin G. Paden, who as a young doctor came to White

Dr. Paden's horses were also his pride and joy, and he drove one of the finest teams to be found in the county, and hitched to his sturdy buggy these beautiful, well-groomed animals carried him over many a rough and lonely road far and near, rain or shine, night or day, bringing help to all who needed it, to the most affluent ranchers as well as to the lowliest sheepherder's families in some remote hamlet.

With family gone, old age with its accompanying infirmities upon him, almost totally blind, he decided to return to his beloved White Oaks to spend the remainder of his days in that little house that held for him so many, many years of bitter-sweet memories, until the call came when he should join his loved ones in peaceful Cedar Vale.

One of my most cherished mementos is an old silver watch, worn to smoothness by much use, its crystal scratched and dulled, it no longer tells time. This old watch was presented to me by another very dear friend, who also has gone on, David L. Jackson, on one of his last visits to El Paso. Dr. Paden entrusted it to him shortly before he died, with the request that he would deliver it to me in person. He thought I should have it, (he said) "because her children were born by that watch." On second thought, it is quite possible that this old

"Tiffany" watch was already busy timing babies' arrivals when Dr. Paden delivered those same children's fathers and mothers some years earlier. Who knows?

EVERGREEN CEMETERY TO HAVE NEW FENCE

The Evergreen Cemetery Association is planning to build a new fence around the cemetery. This is badly needed in order to keep out livestock, prevent vandalism, and make the cemetery a more attractive place. Any help in the way of contributions or work by the lot owners and other interested people will be greatly appreciated.

Not too many noticed but a bit of life for a five-year-old was played out to good conclusion Tuesday night at boxing matches in Zozo school. All-around they were lively, well handled and nice addition to youth activity in this town. The minor drama came when a couple of real young ones were matched, one boy continually sticking his right hand in the face of the other boy until it got discouraging after a couple of rounds and the other boy was ready for tears. His coach was a genuine knowing sort of guy and censored that his little man needed a bit of bracing. So, he held the boy's big gloves up, talked to him, had the boy slug him (good sized man) in the face a few times just to let the boy know that he could start being a man. The little fellow went back out in the ring and acquitted himself real well, even though not as skilled as his opponent. Life is like that, glad to see those young guys face up to a fight, with fists, gloves, brains, or whatever it may be.

"Everyone Is Cordially Invited"

In humility we cherish the hope that this church may speak as the Bible speaks and be silent as the Bible is silent, preach the good news of salvation to the unredeemed, encourage the weary, lift up the fallen, strengthen the saved and point out the way of life everlasting to all whose lives we touch. To reproduce faithfully the church of the New Testament is our aim. That all believers may be united in loyalty to Christ is our plea. That God may use us as a channel through which His blessings may flow into the lives of others is our prayer.

BEAR FACTS

From Carrizozo School

Truman Spencer, a native born Lincoln County rancher appeared before the Humanities class in the Carrizozo high school on Friday as a guest speaker.

Mr. Spencer, whose grandfather was the first governor of New Mexico after statehood, traced the history of land ownership in the Tularosa Basin since the 1870's when the first land was patented by the U. S.

The juniors and seniors in the class were particularly interested in hearing Mr. Spencer tell the history of the Three Rivers Ranch under times of Pat Cogan, A.B. Fall, Mrs. McSween Barber, and various cattle companies and banks. Part of the original ranch today is owned by Thomas Fortune Ryan and others.

Scheduled to appear before the students today is Mr. Lucien Fife of Socorro, who is the editor of the Carrizozo Map of New Mexico. The New Mexico Department of Development has distributed 2,000,000 copies of the map to date.

The Freshman Class will go on a field trip Friday. Mr. Joe Fulton and Miss Kresyman will sponsor the group and Mr. Ellison will drive the bus. They will visit the library in Alamogordo and then have a picnic lunch at White Sands.

Mr. Arnold Boyce is the coach and sponsor of the Zozo team. Boyce says he needs one more car to make the trip with the boys, and he feels we have some winners.

A chess team is rated by boards. Board one is our best player who in this case was determined by play offs, and is Matthew Ellison. Next best player or board is # 2, Dan Heckert, #3 Jim Musto, #4 Albert LaFave, #5 Richard O'Brien. First substitute on the board is Richard Coca. These are the boys making the Zozo team.
