Corona Centennial on Saturday

ASK HIGHWAY PAVING — Mayors of four N M towns met with Corona folks in Willard last week, to discuss methods of acquiring paving of a 36 mile stretch to increase tourist traffic in the area. In the picture all are from Corona except the Mayors of Mountainair, Estancia and Willard. (left to right) Front row: Babe Tracey,

Paving State Hiway 42 sought

Paving of thirty-six mile strip of state highway 42 from a point nine miles south of Ramon on highway 285 will result in vastly increased tourist travel through Corona, Willard, Mountainair, and Estancia, several officials and business men of Corona told a meeting at Willard last week. Pointing out that the improvement could shorten the distance from Roswell to Albuquerque by 14 miles, they said that the proposed route would also be less apt to be closed in during the winter months than the present routing which passed through the higher elevations at Cline's Corners. They also emphasized that tourists traveling from Roswell to Belen or Socorro would save ten miles by traveling the new route through Mountainair. A portion of route 42 is now paved for twelve miles east of Corona. Mayor Thomas Huey of Corona said that his group had met previously with the Roswell Chamber of Commerce and members of the state highway commission in Roswell, and had received excellent cooperation and assurance of help in their effort to complete the project. It was proposed that money remaining from a Four Corners area project be used for the paving. Roswell Chamber of Commerce promised to make up a brochure listing reasons for the paving, he said, and it will be presented to a future meeting of the highway commission in Socorro. Mayor Huey pointed to the difference in mileage, the fact that area suffered less snowstorms and bad weather than the present route, and that truck drivers had said the route would bring a lot less shifting of gears than the longer route now in use. It was also pointed that much farm-to market and ranch use was put to the road, but that the unpaved portion was in "deplorable condition."

Lovelace in Santa Fe for committee meet

Lincoln County Commissioner Holt Lovelace was in Santa Fe Tuesday to testify before the constitutional convention local government committee. Commissioners from other counties were there and pretty much in accord on need to keep home rule, stagger the terms of county commissioners. Lovelace said he told the committee that the legislature should provide funds to go along with laws that are passed, instead of letting the financial burden fall on county commissions. There was quite a little talk of letting the state run the whole works, like roads, assessing, but Lovelace thought that a majority of the committee members would favor home rule. He talked with Robert Cox, Lincoln-Sierra delegate to the convention, and thought Mr. Cox was doing a good job for us.

Corona is a little town on the north edge of Lincoln County, the highest point on the Southern Pacific railroad at 6,700 feet. This week end Corona will live up in a way that harks back to days when horse drawn vehicles of all kinds lined the frequently muddy streets, Billy the Kid went that way every now and then, cattle thieves were common, and characters of the old west were just home town folks.

In those days there were the old Hip-Ch's down southeast of town and other big outfits, to say nothing of the numerous homesteads that dotted the entire countryside. Although part of the old ranches are still present, they are much smaller and one may see a ruin where once there were homesteaders living, mines back in the mountains that once flourished and sent ore to market are now still.

Corona had its day as a trading center for wool and beans, it had its days as a rail head, and those times were different not that people were different but living in most of its ways was surely different.

In 1898 the people of Corona community had to go to Pinos Wells or White Oaks for mail. A stage coach carried mail from Las Vegas to White Oaks, coming through the mountains west of Corona to Pinos Wells. Often times a patron would board the hack at Corona with writing materials, ride the 20 miles northwest to Pinos Wells, call for their mail, answer it, and then ride the stage hack back home. This route was known locally as the "Gringo Mail".

In 1902 the Corona post office was established in the front of a store owned by Franklin A. DuBois who was the first postmaster. The village hall stands on the site of the first post office. Now the Corona Postoffice serves patrons over a vast area and is the northern most office in Lincoln County.

On Saturday, August 23 people of the Corona area and many expected visitors will enjoy a day of fun, reliving many of the old times, enjoying a barbeque feed, take in a jackpot roping event, see lots of craft articles and art work plus antiques on display. It will be Corona Centennial Day.

The arts and crafts show will be in the recreation center, sponsored by the Corona Extension Club and open to all people. There will be oil paintings by Joy Lynch, Mr. Talley, Dorothy Bagley, and Gertrude Allen. Mrs. Dimmitt Bond will have a leather picture on display, Janice Gnatkowski will have ceramics on show and Mrs. Proctor will show a quilt that is over 100 years of age, plus many, many other items.

A barbeque lunch prepared by the Corona junior class will be served at the school starting at 11:00 a.m. and running until 4:00 p.m. This is a fund-raising project for the class.

Jackpot calf roping starts at 2:00 p.m. at the Eagle Arena and will run as long as any cowboy wants to contest for jackpot money. A big western dance will start at 9:00 p.m. in the old school gym with music by the Aggie Ramblers.

Officials of the several organizations sponsoring this day are: Mrs. Lewis Stratton, Royce N. Washburn, Rand Perkins and Holt Lovelace.

TAP assisting two projects

Two Lincoln County projects are being pushed by people of Capitan and Carrizozo, one a new building at the fair grounds to replace old building that burned down, and the other nursing home in connection with hospital in Carrizozo.

News Wednesday morning was that the Carrizozo golf course project was on the state priority list which means that this project should come along in good shape.

Plans are to build a 60 x 100 foot steel building at the fair ground in Capitan at a cost of approximately $15,000. The Lincoln County Technical Action Panel is assisting by investigating sources of funds, either loan or grant. The possibility of getting a building from the Job Corps camp at Mountainair and or Cloudercroft are also being investigated.

The nursing home in connection with Carrizozo hospital has been on the planning board of the Hospital for over a year but so far no matching funds from Hill- Burton are available. The Advisory Hospital Council, which designates hospitals to receive funds, will meet in September and members of the TAP will be present.

The plan is to construct a wing on the hospital for twelve bed nursing home. The hospital now has staff of 17 people including a medical doctor, administrator, registered nurse, three practical nurses, technician, attendants, cooks, etc.

Chiropractor to locate here

Dr. Roy D. Mitchell and family, including wife Geneva, Ronald and Donald 16, Joel 14, Pamela 10 and Annette 7, are planning to move to Carrizozo in the immediate future where Dr. Mitchell will set up practice. Dr. Mitchell is a graduate of Palmer College of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa. He practiced 14 years in Alamogordo before moving to Albuquerque and now wants to come back to this area. He was in town looking for a business location Friday and said he planned to move here and open his office as soon as equipment is available.

When asked why he selected Carrizozo, Dr. Mitchell said he knows about two-thirds of the people around here, that Carrizozo was the hub of this area and a good place to locate.

TROPHY SADDLE WINNER — Bill Gallacher Sr. is holding the $250 trophy saddle he presented to Gary Lovelace, the all-around cowboy winner at the Centennial Billy the Kid Rodeo Saturday. Gary Joe is holding Nip the horse that won first for him in flag racing, barrel racing and pole bending. Gary Joe and Mr. Gallacher are ranch neighbors north of Carrizozo.

STATE ROPING CHAMP — Sam Loya is getting a beautiful trophy buckle from Bill Gallacher Sr. for his first place in the Billy the Kid State Championship calf roping. Sam also got $50 cash.

Biggest crowd in years fills Zozo for Billy the Kid rodeo

The biggest crowd of people to be in the Lincoln County seat town of Carrizozo over the past several decades was here to attend the Billy the Kid rodeo and baile, and bowling tournament, a wedding dance, to visit relatives and friends, and enjoy the finest of weather Friday and Saturday.

It was a downright pleasure just to sit out at the Joe Sargent Memorial Arena and talk with people, watch the sun go down and the enchanted haze blanket mountains that surround the malpais country. The arena was so wet down good several times so the dust was at an absolute minimum.

There was plenty of good food real handy at the concession stand. Youngsters were having fun just riding around the arena before the rodeo started. Calves were bawling to add to the sounds of the occasion. Truck and trailer outfits started arriving early in the afternoon and a good many of them stayed over both Friday and Saturday nights, some with campers for sleeping, others using town accommodations.

This Billy the Kid Rodeo being a one-go-round affair and running two nights, it was not expected that a champion would win the $250 trophy saddle would show Friday and that was the way it worked out. The bulls were real rough to ride and no contestants qualified in this event Friday. Only Jim Hayes managed to stay on the broncs long enough to score a ride and he was beat out of first place the next night by Allen Phelps. It didn't look Friday like any 11-15 year old boy could win the saddle.

For boys 10 and under, none of the Friday flag race times stood up through Saturday and only Ward Alford posted a time good enough to win him 3rd place in the barrel race. Pals bending times Friday were all beaten on Saturday.

It was much the same for girls 10 and under although Robin Powell scored times Friday night that put her in the money. Joan Alford almost won the top money Friday for girls 11-15. She won first in all three events but was moved down to second place by James Leo Havens' good times on Saturday.

The youngsters were all real serious about the competition, some on ponies, some on horses a bit hard to handle. The goat milking was now for some contestants but it sure was a test of skill, riding hard up to a tethered goat, milk a dab in a Coke bottle then race back across the finish line.

The contest really began to shape up Saturday when Gary Joe Lovelace, age 9, also known as "Poggy" really reached out to grab the flag and get back home in 8.8, a full 9 seconds better than Danny Ray Flier who placed second.

Some other events were run off (no certain order) and up comes the barrel race which Gary Joe won in 21.1, 4 seconds better than Phil Straley's time of 21.5. Gary Joe was riding a big horse named Nip, and lots of youngsters could not have handled this 19-20 year old gelding. Gary Joe is growing up on the Malpais Livestock Co. ranch and riding a horse comes as natural as walking to him. His horse was ridden by his mother, Barbara when she was around a 12-year old, so you can see that Nip has been to the races often enough.

The clincher for Gary Joe, winning him a total of $96.00 cash plus ribbons and the trophy saddle, was in pole bending which he won in fine shape, going the route in 19.3 the only boy to get under 20 seconds either night. One of the real thrills of the two big days of rodeo was the wild ride by Alfred Lopez. He got on a raunchy, tough, bucking, jumping, and stomping type bull and flat-gave that bull a ride to win $48.00 cash money. Lots of cheers for Alfred.

There were four Milburn Brothers, Walter, Ronnie, Marlon, Gary just out of service on hand with real good rodeo stock and working to put their rodeo over big. Their father, Wayne Milburn, was announcer and he did a terrific job. The Milburns live in Alamogordo where about ninety percent of the rodeo contestants came from. Continued On Back Page

Marcos Barela injured

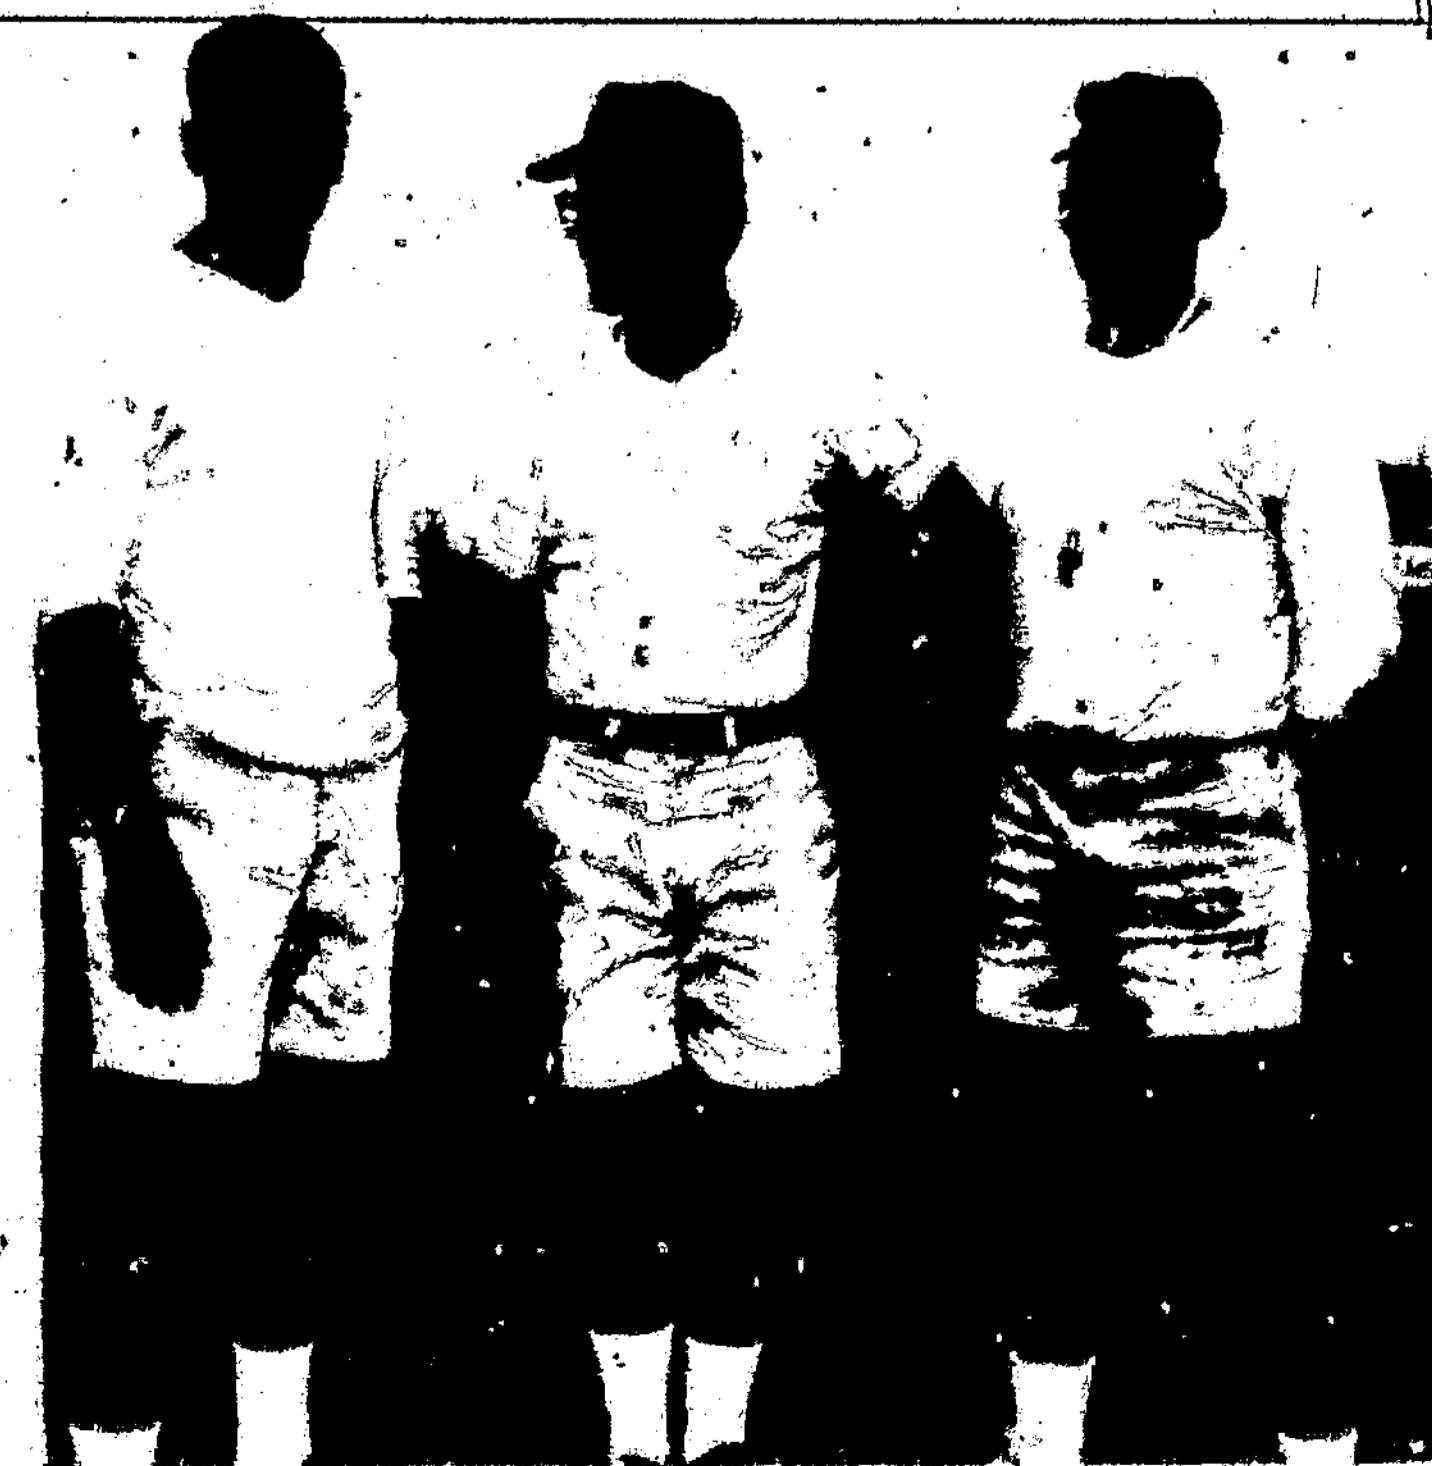

Marcos Barela, Jr. was injured while riding a bull at the rodeo Friday evening. Either the bull's head or horn struck him in the mouth, knocking out one tooth and loosening all of his lower teeth. He is in the hospital in El Paso where he had surgery yesterday. The report today is that he is getting along all right and will not lose his teeth. He will be in the hospital about a week.

"Yes" vote recommended by News

Qualified electors of Lincoln County, those who have paid a property tax therein during the preceding year, will be entitled to a vote on the 9th day of September, 1969, on this question:

Shall the County of Lincoln issue its general obligation bonds in the total sum of $665,000.00 for the purpose of securing funds for construction and equipping of a county hospital for Lincoln County -- at Ruidoso.

The Lincoln County News recommends that you vote "yes" on this question.

It may be hard to cast such a vote and we understand several of the reasons. With federal and state tax bites getting bigger and bigger, general cost of living going up faster than any kind of retired income and faster than wages are increasing in the local area... many people don't want more taxes for any reason.

A big lot of Lincoln County people will remember the vote on a new courthouse for Lincoln County -- at Carrizozo, when Ruidoso went against this issue 149 to 43, Bonito opposed 13-7, Green Tree opposed 49-19, Capitán opposed 61-41, Hondo opposed 37-14. People in all the towns named are ones who will benefit most from the hospital.

We really should direct this message to all those grand people of Ancho, all 26 eligible voters at Ancho cast their vote in favor of the courthouse while Carrizozo had 7 opposed, with 346 favoring the issue.

We've got to follow the rule that what's good for Ruidoso is also good for Lincoln County and we believe the hospital to be that kind of situation. We are real proud that the Ruidoso-Alto-Hollywood-Angus-Capitan area is growing like mad with around a million dollars of new construction each year.

All that new construction helps all tax payers by spreading the load. All that new development brings in more people and many of them will at least gas up in Corona, maybe visit Jackie's House of Old Things at Ancho, and stop to eat in Carrizozo on their way to the mountains.

We can well remember the time when race track people did not even support their own chamber of commerce and our feeling is that they don't give a damn about the rest of Lincoln County -- but the track is only a small part of this big county and we've got to overlook the way those people think and act.

We're telling you some of these tough nuts just so you'll have time to soberly consider the situation and hopefully arrive at the conclusion that we've got to try to help our area at the same time we're taking care of our own hide.

Ruidoso is growing, its hospital is running full up most of the time they are well staffed and really serving a big area. A hospital addition is genuine need in that area.

We honestly think that Ruidoso will appreciate help in voting itself a new hospital, help from Ancho, Corona, Carrizozo, and Nogal especially and we urge you property owners to vote for the good of our county. It's the best in the southwest.

and the number of entries expected another year simply could not be handled in one night. No doubt but that assignment of night to appear should be made in plenty of time for contestants coming 50-100 miles to know when to show up to rodeo.

The balls was a good cowboy dance as this town will see until maybe New Year and then it will be hard to beat. Lots of people, smart people too because they kept their hats on their heads, were having lots of fun, and an equal number enjoying a wedding dance at the Nike.

Bill Gallacher Sr., who grew up at White Oaks and knows this rodeo country as well as any man alive, was scheduled to present the trophy saddle. Little did he know, or anyone else, that it would go to his next-door neighbor. The Lovelace ranch adjoins the Gallacher spread.

People at the Lincoln County News are real proud of the publicity effort, particularly like the looks of the band bill -- but there are publicity angles that can be improved on, we know what they are -- another year..?

You gotta give if you want a take. The saddle actually cost $250.00 plus two unpaid trips to saddle maker, ribbons and buckles actually cost $137.52. We figure there should be some juggling around in that area, but not less money spent, a little more if anything to make all the young rodeo hands happy, like Gary Joe Lovelace is happy this year.

The News crew got to work shortly after 7:00 a.m. Sunday, after a big night and worked straight through to 2:00 p.m. -- tired bunch of people by then.

We've heard it for years -- that a rodeo in Carrizozo does no good for nobody. That thought can now be turned to Austin for proper handling.

After all this talk about a Carrizozo event, let us suggest that you try on things at Corona this Saturday for fun. It's bound to be a dandy day, and then the following Saturday go to Lincoln for a participation sort of day, bound to be fun there too. The Centennial is really in gear this month.

Congratulations

First, thanks to each person having any part in this memorable event. A Special thanks to each of the Expressmen, Young and Old and to Mr. Roy Harmon and Mrs. Edgar Phillips.

Although Trotters, North Dakota is some 1300 miles north of all this action, excitement mounted when the mail arrived 10:25 a.m. July 29, 1969. For in the pouch that morning along with the general run of circulars, ads, and window envelopes there appeared a first class letter bearing a Gold Seal which read: Carried By Lincoln County Centennial Pony Express - White Oaks to Lincoln, New Mexico July 29, 1969.

Enduring some very tense moments these riders, while enjoying the trip helped to make this all possible. They also helped to prove at least to all horse lovers, that it is still great to ride a Good Horse.

Also showing even in this Jet-Ago, it sometimes pays to rely upon horse power.

Now as a matter of record - First class mail dispatched for Trotters, North Dakota from any of the near by offices in Lincoln County usually arrived the morning of the fourth day.

However when the Speedy Mr. Zip accompanies a letter it is to arrive much sooner. Sorry to say, such is not the case. With or without Mr. Zip the arrival time is the same...?

However though carried by a horse with his own Zip through regular dispatching channels, the mail does arrive.

As you know, through rain, sleet or dark of night, the Mail must go through.

May each of you in Lincoln County have a Great Centennial Year.

Sincerely,
Leonard Hall

Dear Paul:

The July 31 issue of your paper reproduces the play bill for the pageant at Lincoln. I am surprised to see that Scene VI is "Three Day Killing." In my paper "Five Days of Battle" (Denver Westerners Brand Book, 1955) I pointed out that the Regulators took up positions in the village on the night of July 14. Fighting started the next day and they were finally driven out of town on the 19th. I quoted the official report from L. Col. Dudley, who said that this party "held the same fortification for five days." The most recent book on the subject, Maurice G. Fulton's History of the Lincoln County War, says "On Friday, July 19, the fifth day of the conflict..." (p. 258).

In the interest of historical accuracy I should appreciate your bringing this to the attention of whoever is responsible for the pageant. The mistake has already been perpetuated for 14 years after the publication of my paper, which would seem to be quite long enough.

Sincerely,
Phillip J. Rashch

BY PATE

We're all the time trying to figure out ways to make life easier and more enjoyable and there are naturally a few ways that our Billy the Kid Rodeo can be improved. The good Lord willing and if the Malpais don't flare we're liable to be at it again another year, like with these changes.

It became real apparent to Payton weeks before the rodeo date that no 11-15 year old boy was going to win the saddle. With both bull riding and bareback bronc riding to score in, the odds were stacked against those boys. So, next year maybe we should give four or five saddles, at least equal awards for each age group and the state champion roping.

Probably we ought to have a barbeque -- and make it free, with a slight increase at the gate. This year everyone paid at the gate, contestants got their money back later. Next year everyone, we do mean everyone, should pay at the gate and no money returned. Contestants should like the trophies well enough that they are willing to pay.

We've heard some talk about condensing to one day and don't think that will work. The two nights of rodeo were long enough, Friday events went slow, Saturday they went off in good time

Now is the time to be getting your exhibits ready for the Lincoln County Fair. The Fair will be held September 5th and 6th in Capitan. The standards for all exhibits are too lengthy to list here but there are some general standards and suggestions that might help you to show the best you have.

In clothing exhibits the judges will look for garments that display: attractive and suitable material for the pattern and purpose of the garment, well pressed, and clean, current styling or good basic style, true grain line and matching thread. Excellent workmanship throughout the garment will be closely scrutinized by the judges. Pay particular attention to: width and stitching of seams, darts and hems, fasteners neatly and firmly attached, belt, belt loops, buttonholes neatly made and sturdy, zipper covered and smooth and no loose threads.

For Baked goods ask yourself if your product: has an even and pleasing flavor, is the texture proper for the product, is the shape uniform, and does it have an evenly browned color?

For canned goods check your products for: a glass jar of appropriate size made for canning, pieces uniform in shape that are fresh, tender, round and firm, the liquid over top of food in jar and clearness and color best for product.

We know the Lincoln County Fair will be a nice one that you will want to be a part of.

Round-up

Screwworms have been found in the Pecos area. This is the first case in Lincoln County in five years. The screwworm has been practically eradicated from the Southwest by an extensive sterile fly program. Ranchers in the area should check their livestock for possible infestations. Also delay any branding or marking of livestock until after frost this fall. Spraying livestock for fly control will reduce the chance of becoming infested.

Screwworm are often brought into the area on livestock pets with wounds that are infested with the screwworm. If you have a suspicious animal put some of the worms from the wound in a bottle with rubbing alcohol and let the County Agent or livestock inspectors know.

It will be County Fair time soon in Lincoln County. The County Fair is slated for September 5th and 6th in Capitan. Many people have been concerned about exhibits since the fair Building burned. The fair board is pleased to report that there will be ample space for exhibits in the cafeteria and Home Economics laboratory in the Capitan School. The educational and commercial booths will be set up in the Activity Bus Building of the school. The livestock exhibits will be at the rodeo grounds.

An added feature of the Home Economics exhibits will be a Centennial cake decorating contest. This class will consist of cakes decorated in a Centennial theme and will be judged on decorating only - not the quality of the cake itself. The cakes are to be of standard size - not over 10 inches in diameter for a layer cake or 10 x 14 inches in a sheet cake.

For more detailed information about the exhibits and activities, the fair catalogues will be available at the County Extension Office in Carrizozo starting Aug. 26th.

SCIATIC PAINS

Sometimes people have difficulty distinguishing between their back pain, or pain in the hips, as to whether or not it is a sciatic condition. A true case of advanced sciatic gives pain from the low back all the way to the heel of the foot, and the pain is very sharp in character. Minor forms of this condition do arise which tend to lend to the confusion. At least in all types of this condition the basic problem and cause is usually a pelvic bone associated with vertebral subluxations, which compress upon the nerves leading to the legs and feet. The application of proven Chiropractic care will arrest and correct the majority of these conditions, thus enabling the patient to avoid continuing pain and discomfort. Delay in a condition like this invites serious trouble and prolonged therapy, so arrange a prompt appointment with your Doctor of Chiropractic at the first sign of such a condition.

This was a family-night potluck affair with freezers of ice cream turned by the men, just before eating at 9 p.m. All present ate delicious food, around large cable-pool tables at the cundeck at sundown. Colored slides were shown of Egypt and the Pyramids, taken by Alfred and Harriett on a Holy Land trip in 1956.

The first of this series of home-meetings was held at the home of Lions Club President Ken Reamy and his wife, Carol. That was a steak cook-out supper, followed by a spirited and lengthy volly ball game, after which many "seconds" of homemade ice cream were devoured in non-like fashion.

Old Lincoln Town

By Mrs. Edgar Phillips

On August 10th Mr. and Mrs. Barney Aldaz started their vacation trip. They drove as far as Truth or Consequences and saw a rodeo, then on to Ft. Bayard where they visited and spent the night with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Montano.

The next day they drove to Gallup, where they stayed all night then on to Silverton, Farmington into Colorado where they visited in Durango and Pagosa Springs. Near Pagosa Springs they drove over the high mountain pass called Wolf Creek Pass, then on to Del Norte and Alamosa.

Back in New Mexico they visited friends in Espanola then backed to Taos, Cimarron and Raton. In Albuquerque they visited a daughter and her family, then drove to Socorro where they attended a wedding fiesta and on home August 17. They had a delightful, trouble free trip and now are looking forward to the early part of September when their son Pat will return from Pakistan to his home in San Angelo, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dooky, daughter Kathy, and son Albert attended the Indian Ceremonial at Gallup and enjoyed it. Mrs. LeRoy McKnight invited Vera Beall to dinner at the Wortley on Tuesday. They had a nice visit.

A wedding shower for Susan Conley and Frank Butts was held at the home of Mr. Richard Phillips Sunday evening. A large crowd attended and the honored received many lovely gifts. Hostesses were: Mrs. Leo Joiner, Mrs. Alma Rogers, Mrs. Carl Radcliff, Mrs. Nina Nelson, Mrs. Corinne Clements and Mrs. Richard Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Lazaro Zamora, and children and friends Mr. and Mrs. Delgado from Albuquerque visited the Christoval Zamoras last week end.

I saw some lovely pictures taken while Mr. and Mrs. Cy Salas were visiting their son Robert and his wife in San Francisco recently. They flew to San Francisco and with Robert and Sheila saw many beautiful and interesting places. One of the most outstanding was the mission at Carmel. The bestry of this lovely old mission was reproduced on a 6¢ postage stamp issued recently commemorating the California Bicentennial.

Just about time for the school bells to ring again. Mothers are busy getting school clothes ready and their children are trying to decide whether they are pleased or displeased that it's school time again.

We enjoyed the nice big well-deserved writeup about our County News editors and their paper in the El Paso Times last Sunday.

White Oaks mine stories

1900 A.D. Compliments of PAUL MAYER Livery, Hay, and Grain Proprietor of White Oaks and Carrizozo Stage Line Regular trips twice a day to and from the railroad. Passengers carried to any part of the Good Rigs; Careful Drivers White Oaks, N.M.

WHITE OAKS, NEW MEXICO In a beautiful vale, surrounded by mountains clothed at their base with pinon and cedar trees, and farther up toward their lofty summits with giant spruce, pine and oak, is ideally situated the town of White Oaks, Lincoln County, New Mexico, one of the most flourishing mining camps in the Southwest.

The altitude of the town is 6,600 feet above sea level, and the climate is most healthful and delightful. The winters are short and mild, the surrounding mountains offer protection from high winds, and during the summer months the pine-perfumed air, laden with ozone, is wafted down from the cool heights, bringing health and delight to all who breathe it. There is always a cool breeze blowing during the warmest days of mid-summer -- and the summer nights! So cool and conducive of restful repose, they are calculated to inspire rhapsodies.

By every virtue of desirability of location and climate, White Oaks should be the most popular summer resort in New Mexico, but in view of the more material attractions of the place and its immediate surrounding, the climatic feature has been slighted. Gold was the lodestone that first attracted people to White Oaks, and the yellow metal is the main attraction to the place today.

WHEN WHITE OAKS WAS BORN Along in the latter '70's the finding of the rich placer gold in Baxter gulch, just west of the present townsite of White Oaks, brought a number of prospectors and miners to the region, and in 1879 the source of much of the rich placer dirt there found was opened up by the discovery of the North Homestake. This was the original lode location of the camp, and was discovered by a dissolute prospector, who relinquished the find to Jack Winters for $40 and a bottle of whiskey. Winters located the mine and shortly afterwards died. His heirs pursued the work of development, and marvelously rich ore was taken out even from the grass roots. They soon sold the mine for $50,000. The purchaser,

James M. Selgust, took from the mine in one year enough gold to pay for it, also for an extensive milling plant and all mine improvements, and came out with a surplus of $10,000. Ore running as high as $350,000 to the ton has been taken from this mine, and there has been as high as $35,000 in gold taken from it in two days time. The strike in this mine was made early in the spring of 1880, and in May of that year the townsite of White Oaks was surveyed. At that time Las Vegas was the nearest railroad market point, but the ore of the district being all free milling the camp's isolation from railway facilities was no great drawback to its rapid development, and Baxter mountain, where the first gold-bearing rock was discovered, was soon "gophered" all over by the energetic prospector, resulting in the location of the South Homestake, the Little Mack, Old Abe, Comstock, Rip Van Winkle and other mines, which have since become more or less famous as gold producers.

Since the time when the first shaft was sunk on Baxter mountain there has been steady progress in the White Oaks district and home capital, dug from the earth by home enterprise, may be given almost exclusive credit for the continuous progress and present prosperity of the camp.

GREAT RESOURCES All of the prominent mines of the camp are located on Baxter mountain, from four to seven hundred feet above and a mile and a half from the town. Prospecting in the hills immediately north of Baxter mountain has disclosed the fact that copper and iron exist there in large bodies, but no systematic mining operation has as yet been carried on there. Here is certainly a most favorable field for prospecting and it seems strange that it claims to little attention. It is a fact that must be admitted by all who investigate, that the mining districts tributary to White Oaks are the most inviting fields for the prospector as well as for capital seeking investment, to be found in the Rocky Mountains.

No ephemeral boom was responsible for the building of White Oaks. No railroad has as yet given an impetus to its growth and no town lot speculators have lauded its attractions to lure thither the restless tide of humanity. The fact that it is today a thriving town of about 1,000 contented people, a town of beautiful homes, numerous churches and excellent schools, is the result of the development of the natural resources of the place, and by virtue of its diverse and and rich resources

The history of the Old Abe mine is intimately coupled with the history of White Oaks from its inception, and so dependent on its mine has been the town that the vicissitudes of fortune experienced by the former have been the vicissitudes of the entire camp. This mine had produced close to a million dollars in gold, not withstanding the fact that the old shaft was once burned out, and after it had been rebuilt a cave-in necessitated the abandonment of the old workings. The past three years have been devoted to the management of Mr. John Y. Hewitt, to the establishment of the present workings. The working shaft is down 1,200 feet, and there are 3,500 feet of drifting. The ore is largely sulphide and is a true fissure vein averaging 8 to 9 inches in width. Rich ore is also taken from the side of the vein, in a species of shale about 14 feet in thickness. Free gold occurs in seams of lime, and the rock will average $20 to the ton. Some extremely rich leaf and nugget gold ore is being taken from this side vein matter in the 9 and 9 1/2 levels. The mine employs over 40 men, day and night shifts, and is now producing from 45 to 50 tons daily, the ore milled averaging in gold $12 to the ton. The company owning the mine have a 20-stamp mill, a 50-ton cyanide plant and a steam hoist capable of working to a depth of 3,000 feet. They also own 160 acres of coal land closed to White Oaks and are operating a coal mine. The company own a pumping plant with which water is pumped from a well in the valley about a mile from the mine, for it is destined in the not distant future to become a city of several thousand people. Immediately surrounding the town in connection with the gold mines, employing largenumbers of men and regularly producing rich returns to the owners as well as to the community, there are great beds of fine coal; iron in unlimited quantities; fine timber; different varieties of the most beautiful building stone; and abundant and nutritious grass on which thousands of cattle and sheep feed the year round. Add to those an inexhaustible supply of pure mountain water from living springs which may easily be piped down to the town; a climate unsurpassed, and an enterprising people, and there seems no condition lacking which contributes to the building of a populous and prosperous community.

THE WHITE OAKS ROUTE The El Paso & Northeastern, or, as it is more popularly known, "The White Oaks Route," is no completed to Carrizozo station, twelve miles west of White Oaks, and the probability is that it will be extended to this place on its way to its proposed connection with the Rock Island at Liv with the Rock Island at Liberal, Kansas, within the next year. The extension of this road will prive a great stimulus to the growth of White Oaks, and will greatly facilitate the development of its resources. A telephone line connecting White Oaks and Carrizozo station is now being built by a home company.

THE BOSTON BOY The Boston Boy is pronounced by many "the biggest thing in camp." Whether this is true or not remains to be demonstrated but there is no question as to its being a wonderfully promising proposition. The owners are Buffalo, N.Y., parties, and Mr. E. H. Preswick is the acting superintendent. The mine was located in 1893, but nothing but shallow prospecting was done on it until the summer of '99, at which time it was bonded by Messrs. Helmsman and Cray. During that summer a shaft was sunk in the main ore body 60 feet, and a cross-cut run from the east wall toward the west, disclosing a continuous ore body of 25 feet. The ore opened at milling and other purposes about the plant. Water is also supplied to the South Homestead and Lady Godiva mines. The Old Abe is one of the deepest dry mines in the world. At the bottom of the 1,200 ft. shaft it is as dry as on the surface. With the Old Abe Co.'s milling facilities and under the present capable management the mine is producing in a manner most satisfactory to the stockholders, 90 per cent of the ore values are secured from the stamp mill and the remaining 10 per cent is saved from the tailings by the cyanide process. All of the Old Abe stock is held by New Mexico people except one-twelfth, Mr. John Y. Hewitt of White Oaks holding one-third and Hon. H.B. Fergusson of Albuquerque, One-fourth of the stock.
