

New Carrizozo postoffice is approved

Congressman Ed Foreman, 2nd District New Mexico, today announced that approval has been given for new postoffice in Carrizozo at cost of $140,900. Foreman said the formal announcement of bid award will be made in the next few days. J. B. Roberts of Plainview, Texas was the low bidder for construction of the new building on east side of Sixth Avenue, between 12th and 13th Streets.

Construction is expected to be complete in November of this year. The new postoffice will consist of 5,566 square feet of interior space, 1,664 square feet of platform space and 20,212 square feet of parking space.

1869 - 1969

The Postoffice Department will rent the building and site for ten years with four 5-year renewal options at the annual rent of $16,320.

1869 - 1969

Since the inception of Zip Coding and designation of Carrizozo as Sectional Center August 13, 1963 there has been a continual growth of mail handled through this center. In the Christmas months literally carloads of packages came into Carrizozo and were dispatched the same day.

1869 - 1969

At the start in 1963 there were trucks coming to Carrizozo from Vaughn, San Patricio, Roswell, Alamogordo plus 2 night trucks of mails. As time went on another truck trip from Alamogordo was added as well as direct truck shipment of mail from Albuquerque. At the present time there are nine people working at the Carrizozo Sectional Center, Postmaster Harman said he expected to add one more employee in the near future. The authorized quota is ten people.

1869 - 1969

Within the past few weeks the redistribution system at Carrizozo has been redone, somewhat simplified, and now is considered to be the equal in mail handling of any postoffice in the state. At the present time 34 postoffices spread over a vast area of southwest country are getting their mail through the Carrizozo Sectional Center.

1869 - 1969

One of the more recent developments is airlifting of all first class mail and the possibility is good that air mail routes will start coming into Carrizozo reasonably soon.

Lettuce truck rolls on US 54

A big semi-trailer hauling a shipment of lettuce landed on its side in front of the Central Restaurant Tuesday morning about 11:30. The driver David G. Gilbert of Jim Thorpe, Pa., failed to make the turn on U. S. 54 in time and lost control of the truck. Neither he or the other passenger Kenneth Puckett of Orlando, Florida were injured. No citation was issued. The truck, owned by Florida Growers Co-operative was torn up come on the right side where it hit the ground. About one A. M. Wednesday morning an HIC Dierol Truck with an empty cattle van overturned on U. S. Highway 360, 18 miles west of Carrizozo. The driver, Ted Hladman of Albuquerque, apparently rounded a curve too close to the shoulder hit a culvert and the truck turned over on its side. There was slight damage to the trailer but the cab and front wheels were torn off the frame of the truck. The driver escaped with just a small cut on his head. The truck belongs to Floyd "Cheechee" Dearing of Albuquerque.

'Old timey' kickoff in Santa Fe for Lincoln centennial year

Centennial dates finalized Friday

A large group of people has been meeting each week to set up a calendar of centennial events to take place this year in Lincoln County. The calendar is not complete but will be closed out for publicity purposes in the New Mexico Magazine at the meeting March 14 in the Recreation Center.

Persons who have the urge to write stories about most anything connected with history of Lincoln County have the opportunity to help publicity of the county as well as win nice prizes. Stories about Lincoln County are invited by the centennial committee whether or not the writer wants to enter the contest, if you prefer, that your story not be in the contest, that is the way it will be handled. Please send your writings to, Centennial Stories, Box 100 Lincoln, N.M. 88338.

Several students hurt when pickup flips over

A 1963 Ford pickup driven by Katherine Leslie, high school senior, and carrying nine other high school students overturned when the right front wheel grabbed and the driver lost control of the truck. The accident occurred at eight p.m. Tuesday evening at the turn-off to the Diner on U. S. 54 just west of Carrizozo.

There were three other girls riding in the cab with Kathy, they were Rebecca Gallegos and Teresa and Mercy Samora. The six boys riding in the bed of the truck were: Alfonso Lucero, Christopher Montreal, Robert Schlarb, Willie Gallegos, Michael Parela, and Refugio Chavez.

They were taken to the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital where all were reported shaken up and some bones broken but none in critical condition.

The accident was investigated by State Policeman Robert Watson.

Lincoln - Sierra State Rep. Ralph Petty, Jr., has made arrangements for a real "old timey" kickoff of Lincoln County's centennial year, to be held in the House of Representative chambers in Santa Fe Monday, March 17 at 11:30 a.m. Gov. David Cargo will speak about Lincoln County on this occasion, both Senators Joe Skeen and Aubrey Dunn have been invited to attend. A party of 14 people all interested and working making plans for the year-long celebration, representing all communities of the county will be present and seated on the rostrum.

Rep. Petty said that apple pie and ice cream would be served to all the state representatives and guests, something never before done in the House Chambers. Gov. Cargo will be presented with copy of centennial coin by the Lincoln County delegation, this coin to be followed by the real silver coin when they become available. Expected to make the trip are: Walter Henn, Don Stark, Paul Payton, Ralph Dunlap, Art Galas, Dorothy Bagley, Lee Straley, Nina Nelson, Clara Snow, Bob Scribner, Truman Spencer and Vernon Petty.

Two Carrizozo coaches resign

Carrizozo Board of Education meeting Tuesday night accepted the resignations of four teachers and gave a two year contract to Prin. Ben Pritchett, Supt. Glen Ellison received his two year contract last year. Bernie Laabs, the winning Class B football coach in New Mexico and more recently Grizzly athletic director, has reached retirement age and tendered his resignation.

Darrel Pearcy who has done a good job with Carrizozo young people as coach following Laabs, has bought land in Oklahoma and will move to that area expecting to continue teaching as well as manage his agriculture interests. Lola Dooley, commerce teacher in Carrizozo schools for good number of years has reached retirement and tendered her resignation. Joe Fulkerson, English teacher, resigned with future plans uncertain at present.

Zane Leslie Heads Board
Capitan Board of Education met March five to reorganize, following district election. Zane Leslie was re-elected as president of the board, Eryson Lucy is vice president and John Able is secretary. Board members are George McBride and Pat Huey. Following the organization business the board members spent several hours discussing the hot lunch program in Capitan schools with Supt. Duane Darling.

Gnatkowski Is President
Corona Board of Education met Tuesday night for reorganization and elected the following officers: A. W. Gnatkowski as president, Frank Sultemeter as vice president, Willis Brunson as secretary. Other board members are Rogene Alford and Ernest Luercas.

TOUGH LUCK — Driver of big truck shown between road signs was not speeding as he entered Carrizozo from south, but let his truck drift off blacktop to right, strong wind hit as truck turned and over went the load of 782 crates of lettuce, the "buy of the week" following wreck.

Workers invited to attend stall raising

This is a year when Lincoln County will show its best in many ways, one of them being the quarter horse stock raised in the area. To get ready for the several shows scheduled, two set for weekend of April 26-27 much work is to be done at the Carrizozo arena.

The Rodeo Association is asking for help in erecting 20 new stalls at the arena. This Sunday, March 16 will be a work day at the arena and all interested people are invited to come help -- right after noon lunch time. Refreshments will be served to the workers.

Anniversary dinner March 15

American Legion 50th birthday dinner will be held March 15 at six p.m. at the I. O. O. F. hall in Carrizozo, when Carrizozo's Post 11 will join in with all other Posts across the nation to commemorate the founding of the American Legion in Paris, France on March 15, 1919.

The Carrizozo High School Stage Band will begin at 6 p.m. a program of appropriate songs and at 6:30 Rev. Dan Heckart will offer an opening prayer. The pledge of allegiance will be led by Commander Arnold Boyce and dinner will be served by the ladies of the Auxiliary. Carrizozo Mayor Mr. Johnson Stearns will be the toastmaster for the evening after bringing greetings from the Town of Carrizozo, Johnson will introduce the speaker of the evening Mr. Truman Spencer, Truman is the most decorated veteran in the state of New Mexico, according to Commander Boyce, and is sure to bring a vital as well as interesting message to the Legion, as he speaks on "What Patriotism Means Today."

Presentation of awards will take place following the speeches with three gold card awards for 50 years continuous membership among them. Most towns have no charter members of 50 years standing but Carrizozo can boast of three, says Commander Boyce.

Chaplain Alfred Kline New Mexico State Department Chaplain will offer the closing prayer.

Reappraisal motions under advisement

District Court Judge Garnett R. Burks of Socorro presided at hearing of two motions by Lon E. Nelson of Santa Fe, contractor for reappraisal of Lincoln County which are:

- 1) That the suit by Lincoln County should be dismissed because it did not name the state reappraisal division as a plaintiff, and
- 2) That the suit should be dismissed because it was not filed in the district court of Santa Fe County.

The suit was filed in September 1968 by Dist. Atty. Ernest Williams on behalf of Lincoln County Commissioners against Lon Nelson & Associates of Santa Fe.

After hearing arguments from Charles Solomon, attorney with Watson & Watson of Santa Fe representing Nelson, and Assistant Dist. Atty. Bill Payne of Carrizozo, Judge Burks took the matter under advisement and gave the defense three weeks to prepare a brief.

Judge Burks noted that the case should move along, that his docket was loaded and that another judge might be assigned to the case.

Soloman contended that all reappraisal business was controlled by the State Tax Commission, actually setting up two different appraisals one used by local county appraisers, and one following state guidelines. It was a case of the "dimly sighted" leading the "dimly sighted," said Soloman.

He said that the state is a party to the full case, all records and state officials being in Santa Fe, the case should have been filed in that County. It was a question whether or not the State had right to assume supervision of appraisal when contract was between county and Nelson. Payne pointed out that the contract and payments were between Lincoln County and the contractor (Nelson) and no mention made of Tax Commission. It is a pure and simple case of contract between two people and state's part in reappraisal was completely immaterial.

Soloman pointed out that Page 5 read, "Upon completion of program all records shall become property of Lincoln County and State of New Mexico."

Male Colorado Indians of Escudor plastered their hair with a paste called achote, scooped from the pod of a tropical plant, National Geographic says.

BUSY PLACE — Carrizozo Postmaster Roy Harman and his assistant Fred Chavez are standing in center of setting racks which crowd present postoffice building in all areas. This will be relieved when move to new building is made.

EDITOR'S CORNER

Penny pinching here, spendthrift there!

Somebody must have a lock on GOP Floor Leader Rep. Stephen C. Helbing of Chaves County, either that or the man is a fool. His announced intent to cut this year's spending for general government operations (exclusive of education) by at least five per cent is good -- but why that "exclusive of" jazz. We send a challenge to Rep. Helbing to test the method of his madness and ignorance of results of fifty years of educational progress, which might just give him second thoughts about exempting this most costly tax item from his scrutiny.

The challenge would be to select by lot some 100 "C" or average students from schools of his area and have them read for him personally so that he might check their fluency in this desirable part of education. And after he has made that check let the good representative of the people read to the same 100 or another 100 students and have them take down in long hand the words he reads, so that he might check their spelling ability.

Since about 1912 the educational system of this state has been short -- cutting both the student and the tax payer in the worst way. Every year talk crops up about quality education, and more million of dollars poured into the teacher hopper with little noticeable change in end result -- that being the ability of our average students to read and write well, let alone think constructively.

The approach of Rep. Helbing is almost a fraud on the tax payer. He's searching for pennies when the biggest budget of all is losing dollars as far as living up to its cost is concerned.

A prediction was made recently that the next series of campus revolts would be on the high school level. Little would we blame them.

We're certainly for budget cutting -- would that Rep. Helbing could do his work in Washington -- but this man is either practicing the worst kind of politics or he's simply not being honest with New Mexico people -- this from a life-long registered Republican.

Goody . . .

How good can a day be -- even though the weather is cold and wintry, when news like approval of new post-office strikes the town. . . it's simply the best day so far this year. There will be other good days this centennial year but right now Monday March 10 will do for us.

It's been almost like the pessimists didn't want our town to progress in this thoroughly good way, ever since the fiasco about locating the post office in restricted residential area. We hope such people are happy as pessimists can be, along with the optimists who continue to think that good things happen around these parts.

How about this for starters -- park, airport, two new school buildings, recreation center, paving, swimming pool, courthouse, remodeled hospital, natural gas, postoffice sectional center designation -- all those things in a short span of years almost amounts to progress.

There's a list as long as your arm of things that can be done to make Carrizozo a better town but this week we're just being happy about the good things that are happening right now.

For some time Kathleen O'Donnell of Ellsworth has been our best contributor of thinking of other publishers, glad to add Carl Thornston of Torrance and Jim Snow to this list. This from Carl -- What the federal and state government must decide is a question of values. Blessed as we are with natural resources, we long ago began to treat these natural assets as a sort of national pawnshop. The tragedy at Santa Barbara (where oil blackened miles of coast) demonstrated that the price of such a policy can be far higher than the profits.

Dear Pablo:
Please, note clipping! I refer this matter to your good office for interpretation. Upon first reading, it was my assumption they had intended the word "delicate." Secondly, it now appears that Linotype drivers may be smarter than most of us, at least, the adjective used more nearly describes our past foreign policy and, in turn, balance of power.

Surely regretted reading of Roy and Fulton. Should the opportunity present itself please convey my condolences.

Regards to Eleanor and staff.

Jim Snow.

Cattle Trails --

The flickering flames were burning low,
The red hot coals were glowing,
While softly thru the growing duck,
You could hear the cattle lowing,
The smoke was swirling 'round about'
The cook was washing dishes
But listening to the cowboy songs,
Composed of many wishes,
Old Paint and Dan are grazing near,
For they are tired and weary,
From travelling up the dusty trail,
And across the grassy prairie,
The cowboys all have hit the hay,
And everything is still,
But for the coyote's lonesome call,
From his home upon the hill,
Mrs. Charles F. Carter

White Oaks stories enthrall ZoZo Humanities Class

Miss Grace Jones, Carrizozo although now retired as a professional abstractor, but still active as a mining property manager, enthralled the students of the Humanities class at Carrizozo High School recently with stories of the people and mines of White Oaks before it became a ghost town.

Appearing before the juniors and seniors in the class as a guest speaker, Miss Jones reviewed the history of gold mining in the mountain community before it was discontinued in 1918. In that year, she said, mining became uneconomical when costs exceeded the prices paid for gold by the U. S. Mint in Denver, the only market for gold bullion at that time.

The vivacious Miss Jones, who was associated in the mining business for many years with the late Judge Andrew H. Hudspeth, told the students that three large mills, operated by electricity from a White Oaks power station and supplied by water from the town's wells and storage tanks, separated the gold from the rock taken from the mountain tunnels by pick-and-shovel wielding miners.

About two million of dollars in gold were taken from the White Oaks mines, which were not plagued by the water seepage that hampered mining operations in the Nogal area, she told the students.

The guest speaker explained that in New Mexico the lodes or veins containing free gold are generally found in the center of mining claims that run from the northwest to the southwest.

there were comparatively few "roughnecks" living in White Oaks and that many of the residents were well-to-do and cultivated people from the East who insisted on law and order and good schools and churches. There was even a colorful Chinaman, Ah Nu, who remained on the scene years after White Oaks expired as a gold town.

Beginning in April, Miss Jones added, the mines under her management and their tailings, will be re-worked. The rock ores will be hauled to Carrizozo for processing in the new mill now under construction on the south side of town.

A cold, changeable March

March is acting like it did a long time ago. Very changeable and cold with alternating moisture, that we do enjoy. But we do not know what and when next. At least its moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean Sr., left Thursday for Lovington where they spent two nights on business and traveled on to visit their children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randle of Plainview, Tex. returning home Sunday night. They reported it to be very cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins and four sons attended the ball game at Las Cruces Saturday night returning Sunday. They did see the Strattons of Corona.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Hall and Buddy attended the ball game in Las Cruces Saturday night. Rev. McNew who has been working at Cummins Store for several months left last weekend to join his family in Albuquerque. We will miss his cheery presence and smiles, but we do wish them well.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Ferguson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gallacher and Mr. Robert Shafer and Billy Bob attended the ball game in Las Cruces Saturday night.

Mr. Bronnie Cummins spent last weekend with his grandmother Mrs. Billie Clark in Ruidoso, they went on to Roswell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohio Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw, and Mrs. Rench attended Eastern Star practice last Sunday afternoon. The special meeting will be a pot luck supper held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, March 14, Remember the date and please do attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris of Ruidoso Downs visited Mrs. Maude Kingston last Sunday. They took Miss Lou Harris home with them after she had spent several days here.

Mr. Paul Kingston of Phoenix, and his son Norman Kingston of Prescott, Arizona attended the funeral of his father and granddad R. D. Kingston Wednesday. Also Mr. and Mrs. Halleck Kingston of Tularosa were present. Halleck is very ill and must undergo surgery very soon.

Mrs. Annie Petree moved near the first to Portales where she will make her home near her daughter. We miss you but wish lots of good health and happiness in your new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crandall of Roswell visited her mother Mrs. Allie Taylor last weekend and then took her home with them for a few days.

A twelve month old steer bred by Massey Hereford Ranch of Captain was judged the Grand Champion of the Ward County Livestock Show in Monahans, Texas. The steer was exhibited by Terry Kirkland of Monahans.

Rafaelita Pryor has story in magazine

By Mrs. Edgar Phillips
A true story written by Mrs. Rafaelita Salazar Pryor last summer is featured in Frontier Times Magazine this month. The name of the story is "The Siege of the McSween House."

The introduction tells something of Mrs. Pryor's family background, relating facts concerning her grandfather's (Capt. Soturnino Baca) life and also tells how Mrs. Pryor learned details of the Lincoln County War, first hand from Ygenio Salazar.

The story is accompanied by pictures of Old Lincoln taken at that time, a photograph of Mr. Salazar and a reproduction of a map showing the location of buildings that have been restored and places of interest throughout Lincoln. You'll be lucky if you get a copy to read.

It seems appropriate that although she submitted this story to the publisher last year it was not published until this year our Lincoln County Centennial year.

I expect to read a lot of good stories about "Lincoln County through the years," as people send in entries for the story contest. I'll bet they'd make up a good book, one that could be completely fascinating. I have heard some of the stories through the years and enjoy hearing them over and over.

Mrs. Julia Henn is enjoying her visit with her son Walter and his wife Nora.

Mrs. Roman Maes told me that it is amazing that her mother Mrs. Roberta Romero has made such good recovery after having been so ill from a stroke. She even walks around the house and does the little chores she enjoys from time to time. She is 96 years old.

Mrs. Eddie Womack stopped by on her way to Roswell, to mail some letters and we enjoyed visiting with her. They enjoy living and working at the G - F Ranch.

Joe Pfingsten spent last week end at home. He has been driving so steadily that he has little time to come home to visit.

Bert Pfingsten has been appointed as a member of the Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission. He served on the commission for several years previously.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay McGinnis of Roswell and Lincoln have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jean Elizabeth to Albert Merle Hill of Roswell.
Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ash of Ruidoso are the parents of a baby boy born in the Ruidoso Hospital, Mrs. Ash, the former Stella Padilla is the daughter of Mrs. Rafaelita Pryor. Needless to say they are all very proud of the little boy.
We're enjoying the weather, with every few days a little more snow falling to make moisture in the ground and the cold helping to keep the trees from budding out prematurely.

The latest information on applying chemicals to reduce insect and mite infestation on apple and pear trees in commercial orchards is now available in a just-published booklet, prepared by John J. Durkin, extension entomologist at New Mexico State University.

The booklet, entitled "Apple and Pear Spraying Recommendations," has been prepared for use by the fruit growers in the state and is available at the County Agents Office in Carrizozo.

A sound fruit - pest control program in your orchard will give you greater production, higher quality fruit and more profit. Good cultural practices, plus chemicals, are the only practical means now available for reducing insect and mite infestations in your trees.

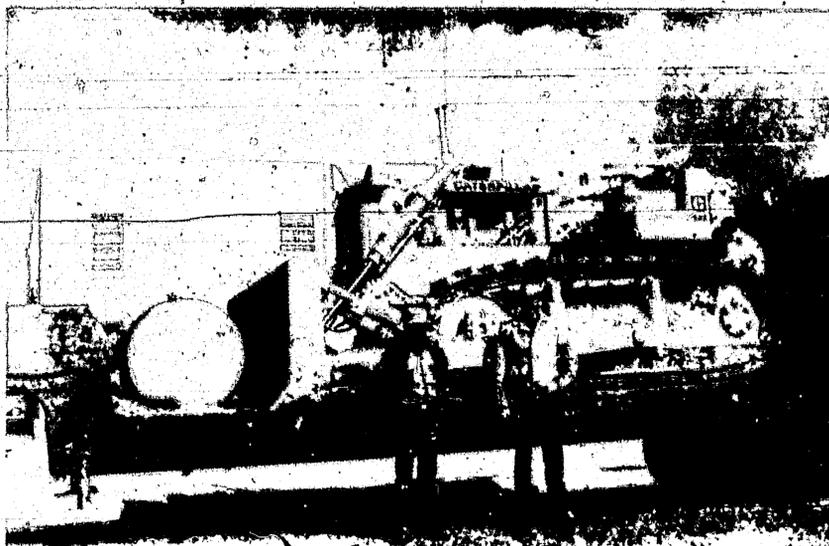

The new booklet provides a suggested spraying schedule for apples and pears, outlines safety rules and details control of specific pests of apples and pears.

New tractor starts to work

The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District received delivery of a new Caterpillar D6c tractor this week.

Supervisors of the District have been giving this careful consideration for about two months and have decided to continue giving top-notch service to the District Cooperators.

The new machine is more powerful and heavier than the same model traded in. It is equipped with a hydraulic tilt cylinder on the dozer to produce more per hour. This attachment is a great advantage in road work, pond construction and brush control.

Howard Harkey and Randall Greer with new Conservation District tractor

Financing for the machine has been arranged at the Citizens State Bank in Carrizozo. It is not intended to raise the rate for use of the tractor at this time even though about 10% more production is expected.

The Board of Supervisors of the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District appreciate very much the support of District Cooperators in their program. The new tractor was purchased to continue service to the Cooperators and thereby making the installation of conservation work easier and practical. Randall Greer continues to operate the equipment. He may be contacted at his home in Nogal or through the Soil and Water Conservation Office in Carrizozo.

However, I may surprise you (and myself) one of these days. You'll be the first one to know it, I promise.

Baptist Churches join crusade

The churches of the Mountain Valley Baptist Association have reported revival efforts to be conducted in March in co-operation with Baptists of at least seven conventions in South America.

In a day marked by riots, protests, sit-ins, and the like it is the earnest desire of these churches to demonstrate that "Christ is The Only Hope". The presence and prayers of each reader will be warmly welcomed.

The Crusade of the Americas is a thrust in personal, revival and educational evangelism that was launched by twenty million Baptist in South, Central and North America in January 1968, and continued through the summer of 1969. From the southern tip to South America to the mission in Kiana, Alaska, far above the Arctic Circle, Baptists of the Western Hemisphere will unite under the crusade theme "Christ is The Only Hope."

Planning for the crusade in the Southern Baptist Convention goes back to 1962. The theme for 1968-69 is "A Church Fulfilling Its Mission Through Evangelism and World Missions." In 1963 God moved in a great revival in the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The results were 42,000 baptisms and five hundred new churches in a period of two years.

The Brazilian Baptist leader, Rubens Lopes, challenged the Baptist World Alliance and the Southern Baptist Convention to project a "Crusade of the Americas." The date was set for 1968-69 and for Southern Baptists the Crusade of the Americas became the central thrust of the 1968 - 69 theme. More planning, prayer and participation has gone into the crusade than anything Southern Baptists have done.

Church Notes

Sunday evening the Baptist Church had a film, "Road to Endor." State Policeman Robert Watson gave his viewpoint on how alcohol and dope affected his work as a law enforcement officer. Mr. John McCollum gave a short talk on his views as a parent and teacher and the dope and liquor problem.

The UPW of the Presbyterian church met Friday evening with Mrs. Agnes Grause at Nogal. Those present were: Faye Woolen, Ola Dillard, Phyllis Zumwalt, Molly Bosh and Mrs. A. P. Sifton.

Rev. Frank Crown of Ruidoso spoke to the Ancho and Nogal Presbyterian people Sunday evening. They had a pot luck supper also.

Chaplain and Mrs. Alfred Kline of Captain were present. Rev. Wm. Hunt of Alamogordo will preach next Sunday.

The World Day of Prayer was held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon. The book of James was studied with Mrs. Dan Hecker in charge. The devotional was given by Mrs. Lewis Farris.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells are attending the revival at the Assembly of God church in Alamogordo again this week. The minister Tommy Lance spoke to the Carrizozo High School students Tuesday afternoon on the Pitfalls of Alcohol and Dope.

Biggest pebble deserves title

Australia's Ayers Rock deserves its title: "The biggest pebble in the world."

The sandstone monolith covers 1,200 acres and juts 1,143 feet out of a pancake-flat plain in the continent's central desert. A few trees on the summit are the only vegetation.

The rock is so huge that it makes weather. The great mass soaks up more heat during the day than the surroundings and radiates it faster at night, setting up fierce wind currents.

Thousands of travelers a year come from all over the world to marvel at the rock's kaleidoscopic color changes -- from fiery red to delicate mauve, depending on the time of day.

DISCOVERED IN 1873

Ayers Rock and other startling sights of the nation-continent are portrayed in "Australia: The Timeless Land," an hour long color special on CBS Television Network February 18. The unusual documentary is produced by the National Geographic Society in association with Metromedia Producers Corporation.

W.C. Gosse sighted the 2 1/2 mile long outcrop in 1873 and named it for Sir Henry Ayers, then Premier of South Australia. Writing in his journal, Gosse said, "When I was only two miles distant and the hill for the first time coming fairly into view, what was my astonishment to find it was an immense pebble, rising abruptly from the plain..."

Uplifted congs ago from an ancient seabed, the fold-rich rock resembles some mythical animal buddled in deep sleep. The unusual shape inspired myths and legends among the aborigines. They believed their first ancestors, semi-human heroes of the Dreamtime or Creation, rested on the red mound after it fell from heaven.

For these desert nomads, every crevice, stain, rock stratum, and stone recorded an incident in the mighty deeds of the hare-wallaby men, poisonous snake people, and other mythical beings who created landscape, laws, and tribal rituals.

BLOOD SMEARED ON ROCK Until recent decades, the Pitjantjara tribe celebrated manhood and fertility rites in sacred caves around the base of the rock. Faded paintings and religious symbols, smeared in ochre and splashes of human blood, decorated the cave walls.

The bleak land surrounding Ayers Rock remains appropriately wild. Nearby lies Yvendumu Reserve where aborigines live as they did centuries ago -- hunting kangaroos with homemade boomerangs in a primitive alliance with a pack of wild dogs.

Forced to develop survival skills in a drought-prone wilderness, the Ayers Rock aborigines are among the world's finest trackers. Some can read in the vaguest trail of a car, an EMU, or a mandrill that would astound even Sherlock Holmes.

They can tell the difference between a whiteman's, a half-caste's and a full-aborigine's footprints. Often they can verify an individual's tribe, age, sex, and state of health. Sometimes they even know who the person is before they find him.

Winters aren't what they used to be back in 1950. They're colder, and some experts say air pollution is to blame.

In both North America and Europe, the cooling trend has made winters a bit harsher and summers slightly milder, climatologists report.

The cooler weather contrasts with the warming trend observed during the first half of the 20th century, the National Geographic Society says. Yet, paradoxically, pollution may have contributed to both the warming and cooling trends. The contradiction arises from the different kinds of materials that pollute the atmosphere.

GAS TRAPS HEAT

The warming trend may have been caused by carbon dioxide, produced by burning coal and oil. Carbon dioxide absorbs heat so efficiently that a relatively small amount has a powerful effect.

A study by Dr. Syukuro Manabe of the Environmental Science Services Administration indicates that carbon dioxide keeps the world nearly 20 degrees warmer than it would be if the gas were totally absent. A 10 percent increase in the atmosphere's carbon dioxide might raise temperature in the lower atmosphere by about one-half degree Fahrenheit. This approximates the worldwide increase since 1900.

The effect of carbon dioxide may have been offset in recent years by another form of pollution -- dust, smoke, and other particles that man is pouring into the air.

If this theory is correct, says ESSA climatologist J. Murray Mitchell, "the pollution particles so conspicuous over our cities and industrial complexes are spreading into a nebulous veil that is virtually encircling the world.

"Robert A. McCormick, of ESSA's Air Resources Laboratory assigned to the Public Health Service in Cincinnati, and his colleagues have cited some alarming evidence that this has actually started to happen," Mr. Mitchell says. "Russian meteorologists have arrived at the same conclusion."

MORE DUST IN ATMOSPHERE

Dust is turning up in greater quantities in the atmosphere over such places as Davos, Switzerland, and Mauna Loa Observatory in Hawaii. Measurements there are thought to be fairly representative of conditions in the atmosphere at large.

Dust reflects some of the sun's heat back into space. The dust also may absorb a small portion of the sun's heat, preventing it from traveling farther.

The over-all warming trend from about 1900 to 1950 moved from the crop line 50 to 100 miles north on the Canadian prairies. In parts of northern New England and eastern Canada, warmer weather killed birch trees and damaged spruce and balsam.

The mockingbird, once a symbol of the American South, awakened New Yorkers. Opossums that once rarely ventured north of Virginia became common in Massachusetts. Such trends presumably now are reversed by air pollution.

Foreman preparing gun legislation

U. S. Representative Ed Foreman says he is preparing a bill to be introduced soon in opposition to the new requirements placed on the purchasers and dealers of guns and ammunition.

"I feel the major problems have developed from the interpretation of the law by the Internal Revenue Service," said Foreman.

The New Mexico Congressman continued, "Both sportsman and merchants have voiced opposition to the new regulations. Frankly I find it unreal the steps necessary for the purchase of 22 calibers and the type of guns used here in the west."

What can our weekly newspaper do for you?

The answers are here!

- 1) Weekly newspapers are an indispensable part of community life, they take you in as part of this community
- 2) Our circulation is concentrated in Lincoln County, Carrizozo, Capitan, Corona, reaching most families and businesses in this area
- 3) News and pictures are of local origin, providing high page-by-page reader interest for the advertiser
- 4) Weekly newspapers reach the same people week in, week out. They remain in the household throughout the week, providing a long life for the advertiser's message
- 5) People know each other, know the advertisers and have confidence in what they read in their weekly newspaper
- 6) Generally there is less advertising to compete with the reader's time, and the advertiser can achieve high visibility with a modest size ad
- 7) Pictures look as good or better than original photo, news is clean, sharp and easy to read. Our offset method of printing allows reproduction of any kind of advertising material
- 8) Advertising rates are low if you want what we have - the ability to deliver your message the way you want it, to most of the readers in this area
