Population peak reached in '65

The January 1970 estimate of 1969 population of New Mexico counties prepared by Bureau of Business Research of University of New Mexico shows 14 of our 32 counties registering gains from mid-1968 to mid-1969. Three counties remained unchanged and 15 experienced a decline.

The five counties which gained the most were Otero, Santa Fe, Sandoval, Grant and Hidalgo. The five with the largest losses were Union, De Baca, Harding, Sierra and Torrance.

It should be noted that the people making up this report hedge in about every way possible concerning the accuracy of their figures with such statements as "Even if these estimates were 100 - per cent accurate, they do not reflect conditions as they will be in the future." This is a reasonable conclusion because some counties have experienced a leveling off and should gain in population in coming years -- Lincoln County is one that should gain.

Lincoln County population at midyear 1960 was estimated at 7,700. By 1965 this estimate had gone up to 8,300 and then declined gradually to 7,700 again in 1969.

Otero County started 1960 with estimated 37,000 population and then fell off bad to 31,800 in 1963. The years and federal government were good to Otero following 1963. That county gained with only one slump to total of 35,800 in 1969.

Torrance county to the north of us has actually been rather stable in population and should gain in coming years with influx of people from Bernalillo. Torrance was 6,500 in 1960, stayed above 6,000 through 1964 and then dropped in 1968-69 to 5,500 population.

Guadalupe County experienced much the same trend, going from 5,600 in 1960 to 5,700 in 1968 then dropping off to 4,800 in 1969.

It seems reasonable to conclude that counties where economy is based mostly on ranching - tourists have suffered some loss of population in the past two or three years. The trend to larger ranch units continues gradually, small towns of such counties continue to lose population to the larger centers, and tourist business is so seasonal that it does not add much to the population count.

Many people think that Lincoln County comes close to doubling its population during summer months, but little of that population gets counted as full-time residents.

The 1960 and 1969 population estimates for all counties follow:

County	1960	1969
State	954,700	1,024,500
Bernalillo	263,800	325,000

FROM 1965 CARRIZOZO NEWSPAPER - Shot from .45 stops runaway

Carrizozo - The unerring aim of J. F. Greer and the nerve of his wife prevented a bad runaway from being a tragedy on the Bonito this week. While Greer went back in the house to get something, the team of mules bolted, with four helpless children in the wagon and the mother on the ground holding the lines. The mules plunged for a hundred yards, dragging the woman by the lines. Greer appeared at the door of the house, pulled his gun, and dropped one of the mules in his tracks, stopping the runaway. The mother's clothes had to be cut from her to extricate her from the wheels. The wounded mule has recovered although he carries a .45 caliber bullet in his skull. Contributed by Mr. John Harkey.

Owls like darkness. In Junction City, Kansas an owl caused a short of a transformer in sub-station which blacked out all of Junction City for an hour.

Trout are biting at Nogal. Austin Wooten came home with five Tuesday and said other people were doing well. Firebaits were the bait.

Nick Vega and the Paytons finally gave up on Cable TV, any little wind and our reception went all to hell where it's too hot for TV watching.

John Hein was another example of man who came to the southwest and learned to love this country more than his home area of Wisconsin. John was stationed at Oscura Range Camp in 1942 and his wife says that he was ready to get right back on the train and head home when he first saw this area, but that opinion changed. John had two loves in his life, his family and the mechanic work that he did from the time he quit school and went to vocational school to take up mechanics. It worked out real well because the Heins raised a big family and John and the boys were always working on something. His folks were farmers but that wasn't for John. John's mother, still living, can remember the first thing John tore apart - naturally he put it together backwards and it ran backwards. Carl is in the Navy. Frank going to State College. Johnny working with county road crew. James with signal crew railroad. June and Dorothy both in school in Carrizozo, a real fine family that has helped Carrizozo in many ways. We'll miss John in our day - to - day living in this town.

From our reading we can pass on this information to mineral people of our county - The days of gold as backing for currency are numbered. It's too inconsequential the amount of gold our country has in comparison to our gross national product. Consumption of metals (silver, platinum, copper) is already exceeding production at an alarming rate. It's going to get worse. Estimate was made that the world will be using as much as 63 million tons of copper by year 2000 (only 30 years away) up from 7 million tons in 1968. This writer can see a price of $10 an ounce for silver by 1980 as compared with the current price of $1.80 per ounce. If no substitutes are found, he can see platinum selling at $230 an ounce during 1970, up from recent $160 an ounce.

Copy of Johnson (Kansas) Pioneer came our way, editorial writer there was in Carrizozo for News openhouse three years ago, sure a dandy newspaper. One item tells of Johnson freshmen, coached by Troy Sadler, winning the championship of tournament at Ulysses. Liberal is pretty big town on USSA, Johnson swamped them 74-31. Jay Baugh's editorial bites -- "Maybe eventually we will be able to find out how come the teachers association, organized labor and the Mafia are always on the same side of each controversy". We simply drool over the advertising that carries the news in that paper. Payton tramped around Johnson and Ulysses with a baton in his hand years ago.

It is real probable that Carrizozo people who have lived here no longer than ten years have become accustomed to "the look" whereas travelers up and down our highways, visitors in town are instantly aware of some of the unsightliness both in and around town. News people (10 year residents) like it here and are not about to leave but we do favor putting some muscle in cleanup.

Like a rather prominent citizen said "We're the most pathetic town in the country". Not only that but people are just plain lazy, including leaders of all civic organizations (us Rotarians talk up a storm then do nothing), clubs, lodges and the town. Really all it takes is energy to go along with a desire to make Carrizozo a better living place for us, to at least eliminate the unoccupied shacks and junk on vacant lots. We'll show you what we mean in pictures to come.

Otis and Waldo made their opinions of city hall very plain to see during vac Saturday. They left their mark on door casing into city office.

Lincoln Day Observance

GUESTS AT DINNER - Ed Balcumb, governor candidate from Albuquerque whose grandparents once operated the White Mountain Inn in Lincoln County, Mrs. Paul Grady of Lincoln, Andy Carter of Lovington who is on the senate campaign trail, and Bud Hanagan of Roswell, aide to Carter were enjoying the sight of a lot of wonderful food at Lincoln Day dinner at home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shrecengost in Lincoln February 10.

REAL SERIOUS BUSINESS - A. T. Bert Pfingsten of Hondo, Dale Wynn of Ruidoso and Prime Coxons of Capitan must have been talking about politics or the apple crop. Picture taken at Lincoln Day Diner Tuesday night.

LOOKS GOOD STATE-WIDE - Ed Balcumb who has visited all counties of New Mexico starting his campaign for governor, said there might be as many as five candidates in the race but that his chances looked real good. He's talking to Paul Grady and Bill Shrecengost of Lincoln.

Damage case settled

The case of Mr. and Mrs. James Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Reynaldo Gutierrez vs James Cox and State Highway Commission scheduled for jury trial in district court in Carrizozo Wednesday was settled out of court and district court clerk notified at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday.

All jurors except one were notified by phone, Erminio Sena of Corona has no phone and he showed up Wednesday morning ready for jury duty.

The case stemmed from collision and resulting damages October 7, 1968 at junction of US-70 and 380 in the Hondo Valley. Larson was suing for $30,000 compensatory damages and Gutierrez for $25,000, plus other minor amounts.

The plaintiffs were represented by Parsons, Triviz and Galvan.

Beauty salon week celebrated here

Both beauty salons in Carrizozo are joining in the celebration of National Beauty Salon Week February 8 - 14 with the theme "Joy is a new hair style. New spring styles are a part of the program and people at Erma's Beauty Salon and Pinkie's Lucky Star Beauty Shoppe are ready with suggestions.

The professional association of hairdressers and cosmetologists has been dedicated to maintaining and enhancing our country's most precious asset, the beauty of American women for the past twenty years.

Petty reports from Santa Fe

Sunday liquor sales on a local option basis passed The House of Representatives this past week.

The bill to allow this took more time than anything we've done this session. It will allow the people to petition their local government for an election, so that the voters may decide the issue. If the election went in favor of Sunday sales, liquor could be served by the drink only between noon and midnight on Sunday.

I have had a lot of mail from the people of Lincoln and Sierra Counties both opposed to and in favor of Sunday sales. Now if this becomes law, you the voters may decide what you prefer.

Legalized gambling has been quite a topic of conversation lately. The bill to completely open New Mexico for legalized gambling was killed, and a compromise bill for slot machines only has been introduced. This bill would allow slot machines to be owned by individuals, again on a local option basis.

Representative James Koch of Santa Fe and I led the fight against Dog Racing Monday a.m. We were successful in defeating it by a vote of 48 against 21 for. It was our feeling that Dog racing would definitely affect horse racing adversely. We need to protect what we have and not endanger it.

School financing is the next thing that we will consider. Public Schools are the largest single expenditure of our general fund, so we need to spend a lot of time trying to adopt our present method of funding to a more equitable basis.

Scouting has new life in Zozo

Scouting in America is celebrating 60 years of achievement by many thousands of boys this week and in Carrizozo the field of Scouting is on firmer ground with hopes of involving more boys in this work.

The Lions Club has been sponsor of Scout Troop 53 for a number of years with Weyland Hill, Jr. as Scoutmaster. This troop has grown a little and now includes the following boys: Raymond Beltran, Kenneth Kiefer, Donald McGinnis, Edward McGinnis, Arthur Ortiz, Fernando Padilla, Nat Palomarez, Richard Portillo, Ricky Segrist, George Verdugo, Gerald Wells, Arthur Wolguin III, Joseph Holguin, John Pritchett, Jody Ventura, Pat Sandoval, Tony Zamora, Leo Zamora, Jr. and Albert LaFave. They meet in the basement of the Masonic Lodge building.

Just last month Carrizozo Rotary Club agreed to sponsor the Carrizozo Cub Scout pack with Scott Lewis as Webelos leader. The Cubs are organized into two dens, one for young boys and the Webelos for boys 10 years and older.

Cub Den 2 has Analisa Lessau, Jo Lewis and T. J. Carey as den mothers for Cubs Russell Carey, Frankie Baca, Jimmy Lessau, Ben Pritchett, Jr., Gabriel Palomarez, Roy Swift and Darrel Lewis.

The Webelos Cub Pack includes Cubs Ricky White, John Kiefer, Jimmy Zamora, Edward Vega, Jr., Ray Hernandez, Michael Herrera and Scott Lewis Jr.

The Cub Packs are limited to eight boys in each den. The Webelos could take one more boy and if more boys indicate they want to participate in Cub Scouting another Den would be organized according to Scott Lewis.

Carrizozo Scouts could well use a better meeting place and this is a project that would well be undertaken by the town.

One of the aims of Scouting is to make boys into better men. There is not a big problem in motivating boys to Scouting, the big problem has been to motivate adult leaders. Thanks to Weyland Hill Jr. and Scott Lewis and the den mothers, Carrizozo is doing rather well at present.

COUNTY COMMISSION TO DISCUSS SANITARY FILL

A special meeting of Lincoln County commissioners with mayors and clerks of Lincoln County towns, the Forest Service plus airport committee people from all towns will meet in special session February 18 at 1:00 p.m. to discuss problems of sanitary fill sites in Lincoln County.

FHA has Festival

The sixth annual Blossom and Beau Festival was held in the Carrizozo Cafeteria Monday February 9, 1970. Rosebuds and beaus representing each of the classes were Lois Ortiz and Cristy Monreal, Kathy McBride and Carl Ortiz, Susan Harkey and Marc Ellison and Vigil Chavez and Ray Arragon.

A buffet dinner was served for FHA members, beaus parents and school administrators.

Following the dinner was a program with Ginger Armstrong singing a solo accompanied by LuEllen Harkey, Gloria Ortiz and Donna Wells performed in two skits between other numbers on the program. Carol Edwell played a piano solo. A cast of 21 FHA girls performed "Pantomime Mellerdrammer". Ginger Armstrong presented a slide talk of some of her experiences in attending the National FHA Convention in Fort Collins, Colorado. The 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award was presented to Nancy Lawson for obtaining the highest score on the Betty Crocker test given this past December. Nancy Lawson, FHA President, presided as Mistress of Ceremonies for the celebration.

The final event of the evening was the pomp and ceremony accompanying the crowning of the 1970 FHA Blossom, Miss Susan Harkey. Johnny Herrera carried the crown on a red pillow and handed it to Marc Ellison for the crowning. Then Debbie Wells, acting as flower girl, presented Susan with a large spray of red roses, the Future Homemakers of America official flower. LuEllen Harkey played the FHA prayer song throughout the crowning ceremony.

Pink and blue shower honors Mrs. Glen King

The Jennie Thornton Circle of W. S. C. S. met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Snow January 28th with the following ladies present: Mesdames Bill Gallacher, Jr., Lewis Farris, Brack Cornett, John Helm, C. E. Degner, Joe West, Glenn King Sr., Miss Grace Jones, Frances Degner, Glenn King Jr., Mrs. Champ Ferguson, and Mrs. Ed Merrell of Capitan, Sandra King and RoJean Murfin.

Followed by a short business meeting, Frances Degner gave the Devotions on Matthew. A review of the first chapter of our Study Book which is entitled "Sermon on the Mount" was given by Mrs. Gallacher.

Afterwards a Pink and Blue shower was given for Mrs. Glenn King, Jr. The new baby Sherry Lynn received many lovely gifts. The hostess served lovely refreshments during fellowship hour.

Flowers for spring

Gamma Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was honored at the January 28th meeting to have Babe Hanway of Tularosa as our guest speaker. She demonstrated several different flower designs. The first were colored plastic flowers made by shaping petals from wire and dipping them into a liquid plastic which dries immediately. She then made miniature roses from a bread and glue mixture. These tiny roses were displayed on two rounds of velvet and hung by a ribbon for a lovely wall ornament. Next a giant flower was made of paper ribbon cut in lengths, knotted, folded in half and placed on a long stem. Babe then told us many interesting things about her life with flowers and also answered several gardening questions.

The program was brought to a close with Blanche Straley, hostess for the evening, serving delicious refreshments of raspberry and whipped cream cake, nuts, mints, hot tea and coffee from a beautifully set table.

A short business meeting was held; at which time plans were discussed for a Valentine Tea to be held at Jane Shafer's on February 15th. Also final plans were made for an evening out on the town with dinner at the Chinese Dragon Restaurant and attending 3 one act plays at the Alamogordo Little Theater -- just us girls!

Lois Burris received the "traveling basket". Members attending this meeting were Anne Ferguson, Elizabeth MacVeigh, Lois Burns, Sharon Harker, Mary Ellen Payne, Margaret Stearns, Phoebe Taylor, Irma Wilson, our guests Babe Hanway and Mrs. Austin Woolen and our hostess Blanche Straley and Julianne.

News and Notes

Leftovers are welcome when they're potatoes. For one meal potatoes are just the start to tasty eating. Leftovers combine with many other foods to add an especially flavorful note to wintertime menus.

Potatoes will keep well for several months if stored properly. You'll find they keep and cook best if stored at from 45 to 50 degrees F., with some circulation of air around them.

Utilize leftover mashed potatoes in Potato Nests with Eggs:

1 1/2 cups mashed potatoes, 5 eggs, salt, pepper.

Mix potatoes with one of the eggs. Shape mixture into four balls, place on greased baking sheet. Press centers of balls to make cups. Break an egg into each cup. Season with salt and pepper. Bake in a 325 degree oven 20 to 25 minutes, or until eggs are as firm as desired. For variety, add 1/4 cup grated cheese and 1 teaspoon grated onion or onion juice to the potato mixture, or bake the potato cups and fill with a mixture such as creamed salmon and peas or creamed chicken and celery. To use two items that may be leftovers, try this tasty dish. Ham and potato cakes: 3 cups ground or finely chopped cooked ham or picnic ham 3 cups mashed potatoes

3 tablespoons chopped parsley salt and pepper, fat for frying Combine the meat, mashed potatoes and parsley. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Shape into flat cakes and fry in hot fat until brown. Serve piping hot. If both of these dishes make your mouth water, you may have decided to not wait for leftover mashed potatoes but make the dish for dinner today.

Red Cross trains instructors

Four Hondo High School students earned Red Cross first aid instructor certificates. Ralph Romero, first aid committee chairman conducted the classes. Romero explained to the new instructors that first aid education 1) helps develop personal health habits, 2) encourages good family health habits, 3) creates an interest in community-wide health problems. He said that the primary purpose of first aid training is the prevention of accidents. A secondary purpose is to prepare people, through skills and knowledge, to give proper care to the injured.

Students from Hondo completing the course were Miss Vicki McTeague, Donald McTeague, Gary Chapan and Corina McKnight. These 4 were from a group of Hondo High School students who completed the advanced first aid course in November. They are now eligible to teach standard and advanced first aid classes in their area.

Historians missed Lincoln violence

Editor
LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS
Lincoln, N. M.
Dear Paul:

I've taken you at your word. Here is a second installment of material on killings in Lincoln County. I have quite a supply left and thought it best to break them into two articles so that they would be easier to handle. The year 1880 seemed to be a convenient dividing point and anyhow the slaughter in Lincoln in July of that year seemed like a good climatic point.

I would appreciate your sending me eight copies of the issue in which this appears. Thanks.

Sincerely,
Philip J. Rasch

In the July 17, 1969 issue of this paper we dealt with a list of men who died in the Pecos Valley since 1877," as reported by the anonymous author of History of New Mexico its Resources and People. In presenting his list the writer of that text commented, "Many names are omitted as the men killed were not known to the authors of the information." It is the purpose of the present paper to extend the list by adding some names which were missed by our historian. For the sake of completeness some earlier murders which occurred in or near Lincoln have also been included.

Ben Horrell, accompanied by Dave C. Warner, E. Scott, Zacharias Crompton, and the ex-sheriff of Lincoln County, L. J. Gylam, went to Lincoln on business on December 1, 1873. The party drank heavily, became boisterous, and began firing their weapons indiscriminately. Constable Juan Martinez demanded that they surrender their guns. The visitors complied, but about an hour later secured other arms, congregated at a local house of ill repute and resumed their spree. The constable summoned four or five of the Police Guard to assist him in restoring order, taking with them a Mr. Warwick as interpreter. While Warwick was explaining the object of the posse, Warner suddenly shot the constable, killing him instantly. Warner was killed in the return fire, but Horrell and Gylam broke out of the house and ran across the acequia. They were pursued and wouldst. Apparently both of them surrendered and were then murdered in cold blood.

The Horrell family promptly demanded the arrest and trial of the murderers. This was refused, the Mexicans claiming that the Police Guard had simply done its duty. The Horrells promptly took matters into their own hands. Three days later Seferino Trujillo and another Mexican were found dead on the Horrell ranch. On the night of December 20 they raided a wedding party in Lincoln. Isidro (Pedro?) Patron, Dario Balizan, Isidro Padia, and Joe Candelaria were killed, Apolonia Garcia, Pilar Candelaria, and a young man were wounded. About the end of January, 1874 they made another raid on the village. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Haskins was taken out of bed and murdered by Edward "Little" Hart, Thomas Keenan, and C. W. King, apparently for no other reason than that he had a Mexican wife.

The Horrells now decided to leave the county. On their way out they were fired upon from ambush, allegedly by Martin Chavez, and Ben Turner was killed. The Horrells started back to wipe out Lincoln, but were unable to agree on a course of action and finally resumed their journey to Roswell. About fifteen miles west of that village they met a party of five Mexicans and killed them all. At some stage of all this fighting Reymundo and Ceberiano Aguilar, Pablo Romero, Severiano Apadaca, Juan Silva, Ramondo Aguilar, Leverian Apadaca, and Juan Lyban lost their lives. No doubt the total killed was considerably higher than those it has been possible to identify at this late date.

At Roswell the party rustled some horses and mules belonging to Aaron O. Wilburn, Wilburn and his brother Frank raised a posse and pursued the Texans to Hueco Tanks, east of El Paso, where they succeeded in killing Crompton and a man named Still.

Lyon Philliporske (Phillipowski?) was a deputy sheriff of Lincoln County. Late in the evening of October 21, 1874, very much intoxicated, he entered the Murphy-Dolan store and began insulting the clerk, William Burns. When he drew his gun and threatened to kill Burns, the latter procured a pistol and mortally wounded his heckler. The coroner's inquest found the killing justified.

Jose Domingo Valencia shot Daniel Fisher in Wortley's Hotel, Lincoln, about November, 1874. Since there was no county jail in Lincoln he was placed in the guard house at Fort Stanton. The Army authorities ruled that no civilian could be held there after sentence and he was perforce turned loose.

Juan Montoya was killed by Marlon Turner at Blazer's Mill on April 15, 1875. No details are known.

Robert Casey allegedly owed $8.00 to William Wilson, who had been working for him. On the morning of August 1, 1875 the two men had some words over the matter. Wilson left Lincoln but returned that afternoon with a Henry rifle. He stationed himself in the hotel and shot Casey at close range as he walked up to the building. A Charles Myrick was held as an accessory.

Wilson was sentenced to be hung on December 24, 1875. After hanging 9-1/2 minutes, the body was cut down and placed in a coffin. Signs of life being detected, he was removed from the coffin and suspended another 20 minutes. This is said to have been the first legal hanging in the Territory of New Mexico.

Thomas Archuleta, a servant in the McSween household, "visited" the house of a woman of doubtful reputation yclept Copetona" in Lincoln on December 11, 1875. He became engaged in a quarrel with Zenobia Romero and one Cruz. Romero held Archuleta by the hair and ears while Cruz drove a knife into his back.

William Riley was killed on the Penasco in 1875 or 1876 by John Jones. One story is that he tried to force Jones off a ranch he was homesteading.

Nicodemus Alvarez, a noted horse thief, was killed by vigilantes about June or July, 1876.

On July 10, 1876 Jose Segura was tried before Justice Wilson on a charge of horse stealing. Bail was set at $1,000 and the prisoner ordered held for the Grand Jury. Sheriff Saturnino Baca and a posse of three men set out for Fort Stanton with the suspect. Within three miles of the Fort they were overpowered by seventeen armed men who took Segura into their own custody. A few minutes later shots were heard.

In October, 1876 John Slaughter killed Barnew Gallagher at South Springs. There are so many versions of the affair that the historian can only despair of ever learning the truth.

About December 6, 1876 W. W. Campbell killed Thomas King on the Coe ranch, allegedly in self-defense. The justice of the peace acquitted Campbell, but then ordered one L. S. Tesson arrested as an accomplice in the murder.

Some time late in December, 1876 a man named Yopp, who was in charge of Robert K. Wiley's cattle camp some eighty miles south of Roswell, became enraged at one of the employees, William B. "Buck" Powell. He fired three shots, but had the poor judgment to miss. Powell then killed him with his Winchester.

Richard Smith foreman for Wiley, was suspected of being in league with cattle thieves. On March 28, 1877, at Loring's Bend of the Pecos, James M. Highsaw, a Chisum employee, accused him to his face. In the resulting altercation Smith was killed.

Paul Dowlin was murdered at his mill by Jere (Jerry?) Dillon, a former employee, early in May, 1877. Dillon lit out for Texas and seems to have escaped capture.

Hirald Jaramillo had some sort of difficulty with James J. Dolan a day or two before Dowlin was killed. When he drew his knife and began cutting, Dolan shot him through the heart. He was discharged on a plea of self-defense.

During the summer of 1877 Frank Coe and his brother in law, Abe Saunders, lost five valuable horses to a gang of rustlers. In August Jesus Largo was captured. Sheriff Baca set out for Fort Stanton with the prisoner, but six miles above Lincoln was stopped by Coe, Saunders, Charles Bowdre, Josiah G. Scurlock, and another man, who lynched the thief. Later Saunders and another man captured Nica Meras and invoked ley del fuga in what became known as Meras Canyon.

Frank Freeman, a noted desperado, became drunk in Aug., 1877 and commenced shooting up the town of Lincoln. After firing a number of shots into the McSween home, he was arrested by Sheriff William Brady. Justice Wilson ordered him held in default of $1,000 bail. En route to Fort Stanton he escaped from his guards. A few days later he was killed by a posse. Some accounts say that he was accompanied by a man named Armstrong, who was also killed.

J. M. Franklin, a Chisum cowboy, was shot in the back near Dowlin's Mill about August 23, 1877, by Ramon Garcia, who was crazy drunk. A number of the cowboys started for Fort Stanton to turn the murderer over to the authorities. For some reason he never reached their destination.

About midnight on July 15, 1878 Dan Huff died in agony, despite the ministrations of Dr. Ealy. Mrs. McSween later claimed that Mrs. Huff had poisoned him because of his attentions to her.

Thomas Cullins was one of the McSween henchmen. He was killed on July 18, 1878, during the Five Days Battle, and buried in the cellar of the McSween house.

Vincente Romero and Francisco Zamora were killed at the climax of the Five Days Battle on July 19, 1878. The evidence suggests that they had tried to escape from the burning McSween house via the north gate, but the concentrated fire of the sheriff's posse drove them to take refuge in a chicken house. When Robert Beckwith stepped forward to accept McSween's surrender, the two men cut him down. Joe Nash and Andy Boyle got a log, poked a hole in the structure, and Boyle killed the two murderers.

Admittedly this is a reconstruction from rather guarded material, but the writer believes that it is probably accurate.

After the Five Days Battle a gang of thieves, largely from Texas, looted, burned, and raped their way through Lincoln County. A contest for leadership of the thieves developed between John Selman and Edward "Little" Hart. One story is that Selman shot Hart without warning while they were sitting at the dinner table. The date appears to have been some time in September, 1878.

The bodies of James Irwin and Reese Gobly, members of the Selman gang, were found in a drift on the Pecos. "Rustling Bob," another of the rustlers, was also found dead on the Pecos. According to Billy the Kid, he had been killed by his own party. The dates of these affairs is indefinite, but would seem to be about September, 1878.

Some time in October, 1878 a number of Mexicans living at Black River, New Mexico, harvested their crops and set out to sell them in Texas. Apparently en route they killed a young man named Hart, who had been raised in the Jones family, John, Jim, Tom, and Billy Jones, and Sam Collins (Caleb Hall) overtook the Mexicans and allegedly killed nine of the men. Their names are unknown, although they were referred to as the Feliz family in contemporary reports.

John W. Irving was one of the Selman gang. In November, 1878 Pat Coughlin secured the help of the Army in capturing some rustlers who had stolen a bunch of his cattle. After a pursuit lasting three days Irving, Jake Owens, H. J. "Windy" Moore, H. J. Bassett, and Frank Wheeler were arrested by the troops. When the rustlers appeared in court, however, Coughlin was not there to testify against them. There was no alternative but to release the men.

In December Irving and Moore set out for Las Cruces. A few days later the mail carrier found their bodies about four miles east of the White Sands. Irving had been shot in the neck and breast; Moore in the left eye and breast. Tracks indicated that two men on barefooted ponies had shot them without warning, stolen their horses, weapons, clothes, money and Moore's boots and ridden off toward Dog Canyon.

The same day that Irving and Moore were released, a Mexican name unrecorded was killed about a mile from the Fritz home.

Huston I. (J.?) Chapman was Mrs. McSween's lawyer. He arrived in Lincoln on business on the night of March 3, 1879 and went to a neighbor's home to obtain a bread poultice for an aching tooth. While returning he met a number of the Dolan faction. One of them, William Campbell, demanded that he dance for them. When Chapman indignantly refused, Campbell killed him on the spot. He then went to Fort Stanton to kill Charles Sease, but was unable to find him. Some lurid—but apparently baseless—folklore insisted that Campbell was actually Jesse James. Chapman's death marked the official end of the Lincoln County War.

In July one of the rustlers, William "Babe" Gronso, stole a number of horses from the Casad family. There are conflicting reports about the consequences. One version is that Frank Wheeler killed "Babe", for which he was shot by Sam Perry. Whatever the facts, the Las Cruces Thirty-Four unfeelingly suggested that honest folks would sleep more soundly if Perry would now die of remorse.

On November 22 a party of men spent the night carousing in Lincoln. All departed the next morning except Dick Hardman, (Hardeman), alias Dick Turpin, who shattered the Sunday quiet by firing his pistol promiscuously and by pointing it at objecting citizens. When the disturber of the peace was arrested, he became abusive and made loud threats about what he would do when released. Since Lincoln had no jail, he was locked up in the back room of the Patton building, under the custody of Deputy Sheriff Tom Longworth. Sometime during the night a band of men rushed into the building and fired five or six shots into the prisoner, killing him instantly.

About a month later James Mc Davis killed a Mexican at Patos Spring.

Terrific wind unroofs antique shop

The terrific wind we had Sunday, February 1 unroofed the antique shop one mile west of Capitan on the highway and did other damage here. Certainly did move things here and took many tree limbs. One could hardly stand or walk in it but it did bring the 8 inch snow. Good moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. McCollum, the former Eva Howard, and family are now locating in Alamogordo. Maek has finished one year of duty in Vietnam and February 26 he will return for another tour of duty there. His family will remain in Alamogordo. She will be near her family Mr. and Mrs. James Howard who now make their home in Tularosa. Granddad Howard did bring his grand children to Capitan last Saturday to visit their friends for most of the day. The grand children were Norma Sutherland, James and Kathy McCollum.

Mr. Bert Minter visited his wife Allie Mae last week. She entered the St. Mary's Hospital January 31. The cast was taken off her legs. The doctor asks that she not walk for a while. She is depressed due to the deaths in her family and of course her fall was just before that. But she is improving, slowly. Chin up and try hard to get well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Whitley returned Monday February 2 from seven weeks vacation in California. They enjoyed every moment of it and had some wonderful experiences with friends they had not seen in many years.

Mrs. Peggy Roberts of Roswell with whom her mother Mrs. Betty Purcella went to the Sunset Villa Nursing Home and visited Mrs. Daisy Gehring and a few days later she returned and took Mrs. Gehring to visit her mother whom she recognized Mrs. Gehring and they had several hours of happy visiting. They have been friends since before 1900 when both were young ladies and had families. In the very early days. What memories those elderly friends do enjoy now when they get together. One is past 90 the other 95. I do think that was nice of Mrs. Roberts to bring them together.

Cody McBride and his aunt

Mrs. Allie Taylor spent the week end of January 31 in Mesclero with his parents Mr. and Mrs. George McBride. They could not return until Monday late due to the storm and snow.

The Smokey Bear Board of Directors meeting will be held February 18.

The last week the weather has been spring like and not too warm though today, Monday 9 is still and warm. Yard work has been in progress with pleasure galore doing it. Tree trimming etc. It may be fooling us but it has given us the spirit and ambition to do our part and take advantage of these lovely days. There is still a little snow and the moisture is holding of which we do appreciate.

The spring flowers are showing with their blossoms. Others are coming up.

Mrs. Rench and Mrs. Kingston made their business trip to Ruidoso last Friday and enjoyed a beautiful day and drive while doing it. We visited Miss Lou Harris at Ruidoso Downs before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dean and family of Tucson visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean in Capitan and her parents on the Ruidoso.

Sunday Mr. Harold Dean and Sally Ann of Bingham joined them here for the day with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Halleck Kingston of Tularosa were Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Maude Kingston for several hours.

Mr. Jack Aldrich entered the Ruidoso Hospital last Saturday. I wish you a good recovery Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean spent last week end in Plainview, Texas with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randle and Joe Paul. On their return they brought Joe Paul to be with them and his other grand parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Randle for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe and Mrs. Rench attended the regular meeting of Eastern Star last Thursday, February 5. Mrs. Jane Barker, District instructor of Alamogordo was present, which we did appreciate. She is very efficient. A good crowd attended. It was great having the visitors from other Chapters. The social hour after our meeting with the decorations of valentines was certainly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright went to Andrews, Texas, Sunday February 1 returning that night. Her mother Mrs. Elsie Kidd is out of the hospital and recuperating at the home of one of her daughters in Lubbock. She is progressing nicely. I wish you a good recovery and continued health.

Susan Strode of Alamogordo won the Bi - District Oratorical Contest at Artesia last Saturday in support of the rights and responsibilities set forth in our U. S. Constitution. A beautiful gold achievement trophy was presented to her. Susan is well remembered in Capitan High School for her rousing delivery of the same oration at a student assembly last November on Veterans Day.

Chaplain Kline and family were present for this National American Legion Contest. Kline is Oratorical Contest Chairman for District 5, which includes Ruidoso, Hondo, Capitan, Carrizozo, Corona, Alamogordo and Tularosa. State contest comes the 20th of next month at Los Alamos High School, where Susan will represent our district.

Valentine hearts will represent our own hearts this Sunday in Capitan United Methodist Church Sunday School. Theme of the day will be, "Who ever you are, Jesus loves your heart, and I love your heart."

George Washington Enchilada Dinner on Washington's birthday (Sunday, February 22) beginning at noon, was the subject of final planning at the joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary at the home of Herman and Tom Otero last week. Thanks to Capitan School Cafeteria, where families from towns around may come after attending church. Proceeds provide awards for the winner of the Oratorical Contest.

Four Chaplains' Day for New Mexico was centered in Our Lady of the Assumption Church in Albuquerque last Sunday. Music by the Shriner's Orchestra which accompanied the History of Our Flags Ceremony. More stirring music was played by the Post 13 Drum and Bugle Corps. Prominent persons presented the story of each of the four chaplains: Good - Jewish, Washington - Catholic, Fox - Methodist, and Poling - Reformed.

These four chaplains sank together in prayer on the torpedoed troopship Dorchester after putting their own life jackets on four soldiers who had none. This happened February 3, 1943.

Chaplain Kline called on all present to stand in silence to sense the message of brother hood from the living spirit of each of these 4 chaplains. He then offered the closing prayer. First meeting of the 1970 Lincoln County Sunrise Team is open to all old and new friends of this spirit - lifting event. All thoughtful friends are needed at this lift - off to prepare for 6 weeks of flying back and forth across our county, according to team captain, Chaplain Kline, of Capitan.

This team captain believes sunrise starts now. He has called for a head - to - head head - start meeting at his home on Outpost Hill above Capitan at 7:00 a.m. this Sunday, February 15. Continental breakfast 7 to 8 a.m. He believes this is no job for sottes, sissies nor sleep ins.

Easter comes exactly six weeks from this first Sunrise Team meeting. The Lincoln County Development Association voted last week to continue sponsoring this county - wide feature as an annual event, just as it did last year, to open the 8 month Centennial Celebration. President Tom Pertest proposed that Chaplain Kline be named chairman of the 1970 Lincoln County Easter Sunrise Service, that he select other members to serve with him, that he select the site for the service, and that he attend to all other details.

Lincoln boys visit legislature

By Ralph Dunlap

I have had several calls and letters on box elder bugs and their control. The box elder bug is about a half inch long and a red and black sucking insect. They are not capable of biting but feed on the plant juices. They often appear in large groups when it starts to warm up. They feed on flowers, leaves of plants but are more a nuisance this time of year. They can be controlled with diazanon or dibrom on the outside of the house and yard area. Use a pyrethrin spray inside the house.

Pink seeds are poisonous. All seeds that are dyed pink have been treated with a poisonous chemical, usually a mercury compound that protects newly planted seeds and the first roots that they produce from disease organisms in the soil. Store your seed - just like you do other poisons - out of reach of children, livestock, and irresponsible persons.

Three Lincoln County boys saw the legislature in action last week, as guests of the Lincoln County Centennial, Mel Gnatkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gnatkowski of Ancho, Johnny Lucero, son of Mr. and Mrs. "Hob" Lucero of Lincoln, and Buddy Godinez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nash Godinez of Capitan. They won the expense paid trip as an award for having the three best posters in the Centennial Poster contest. They were guests of Lincoln County legislators Ralph Petty, Jr., Joe Skeen and Aubrey Dunn at the session. They served as honorary pages during the Thursday session. The Sunday sales of liquor was considered in the house and they observed the legislative procedures in getting this bill considered.

They toured the capital building from the greenhouse above the capitol dome to the heating plant in the basement. Lincoln County Centennial medallions were given to each member of the senate and the house of representatives as a token of appreciation by the Lincoln County Development Association.

The following is from the West Texas Livestock Weekly:

Dom Echeverria, Longmont Colorado sheepman, says he thought something was odd when a man he had never heard of called him from Denver the other day to inquire about buying three rams. Echeverria pointed out that the Colorado breeding season was over.

"I don't want them for breeding," the buyer replied, "I want to mount the heads."

Echeverria gathered all his available big Rambouillet rams. One by one he legged them out, flopped them over and let the buyer carefully inspect the heads and horns. After a couple of hours of hard work, the Denver man had selected one ram. "Okay turn him loose," he said.

Echeverria pointed out that the ram would run away. "Not very far," said the city man, and brought down the ram with one shot from a high powered rifle. "When you get some more rams together, call me."

Echeverria is in no hurry to make that call. He still wonders if those Rambouillet heads are to be passed off as Bighorn bucks in some Denver trophy room.

Lincoln County wool growers will meet February 17th at the Carrizozo Recreation Center starting with coffee and donuts at 9:30 a.m. Gene Wright, Extension Marketing specialist will start the program off, with a discussion on Wool Market Trends for 1970. Custom Lamb Feeding will be discussed by John Divine of Roswell. Wool packaging materials will be on display at the meeting as well as a discussion on the different packaging materials. The noon meal will be served by the Carrizozo Junior Homemakers Extension Club.

The afternoon session will be on predatory animal control and will concern both sheep and cattle owners. Consideration of including cattle in the predatory program will be discussed at this time. All livestock owners are urged to attend this meeting and express their opinion.

Beef cattle will be the principle subject under discussion Feb. 23-24 at New Mexico State University during a Livestock Feeders and Cattle Growers Short Course. Subjects to be discussed include feeding, cross breeding, the beef industry in the Southwest, cattle merchandising, the feasibility of irrigated forage crops, livestock credit, commercial feedlots, trends in meat processing, and the economic feasibility of a cow-calf operator carrying cattle to the packer.

Nine areas for increased emphasis during 1970 were outlined at the Lincoln County Development meeting February 3rd at the monthly meeting. The areas to receive special attention with committees in each area are: aviation, water study, roads, liaison, education and training, Fort Stanton Caves, Red Cloud Recreation area, pony express race and Easter Sunrise service.

Members for each of these committees will be named by the new president to be elected at the March meeting. Chaplain Alfred Kline was appointed as chairman of the Easter Sunrise Service committee as there was so little time before this event. Bill Lyle with Sears store in Ruidoso was the first new member in the 1970 membership campaign.

Chaplain Kline said that he would like to see the Easter Service continued. The program this year would emphasize youth leadership. He would like to have the group sponsor and help with the program. Also any suggestions would be appreciated. He plans to have a meeting in his home at 7:00 a.m. Sunday, February 15 to start plans.

The group decided that the pony express race be continued under the sponsorship of the Lincoln County Development Assn. and that all parts of the County be asked to participate. Plans are to develop the official mail carrier earlier to allow for better coverage. The next meeting will be March 10th at Lincoln.

Mrs. Preston Lee Stone

Edgar-Stone vows in Capitan

Wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Willa Marie Edgar and Preston Lee Stone, Jr., on Friday, December 26, during a 3 p.m. ceremony at Capitan United Methodist Church. Chaplain Alfred S. Kline officiated, before an altar adorned with potted poinsettias and a 15 - branch arch candleabra holding white tapers and entwined with holly.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Edgar of Capitan. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Preston Stone of Mountainair.

Mrs. Emma Gene Hall, plantist, furnished nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Leota Pflingsten, soloist, in "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of white crepe styled with an Empire waistline and full length bell sleeves. Wide lace headed with pearls trimmed the Empire waistline and the hem of the sleeves and skirt. The gown was made by the bride. Her three - tiered veil of silk illusion was elbow length and was caught to a rose shaped head piece of satin bows, which was touched with seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of stephanotis centered around a white Catalpa orchid which was removed for the bride's going away suit. The bouquet was attached to a small white Bible which she carried.

Mrs. Gall Brinson, of Cincinnati, Ohio, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Miss Shelly Eldridge, 2 1/2 year old cousin of the bride was flower girl. Miss Betsy Eldridge, 9 year old cousin of the bride, served as candlelighter.

The bride's attendants were identically dressed in rich red velvet gowns which were floor length with elbow length bell sleeves and Empire waistlines banded with red satin ribbon. All wore red tulle circlet head pieces caught to a single bow of red velvet. The matron of honor and flower girl carried topiary bouquets of white button chrysanthemums with red velvet bows interspersed throughout. The candlelighter wore a white button chrysanthemum - red rose corsage.

John Hooker, friend of the groom, served as best man. Grady Lee Eldridge, 4 1/2 year old cousin of the bride was ring bearer. Jim Bird, friend of the couple, served as candlelighter. Ronnie Eldridge and Ken Brinson were ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a pastel pink wool - silk blend suit with black accessories. The mother of the groom wore a teal blue suit with black accessories. Both mothers wore white symbidium orchid corsages.

A home reception in Capitan was held following the ceremony with approximately 170 guests attending. The beverage table was pink with a red net and felt coverlet cloth. The scalloped hem of the cloth was trimmed with silver tinsel and miniature Christmas lights. It held two large silver punch bowls, one with cranberry delight punch and the other with hot spiced wine. The table also held a silver coffee service. An arrangement of white carnations and holly entwined on a candelabrum with four red tapers adorned the table.

The bride's table was identical in decoration and held a four tiered wedding cake with delicate pink roses of sugar. A bride and groom topped the table. Nuts and pastel pink rose mints were also on the table.

Reception hostesses included Mrs. Grady Eldridge, Mrs. Mitch Daubert, Miss Judi Bird, and Mrs. Jeri Bird. Mrs. Paul Randle attended the guest book.

Wedding pictures were by Mrs. Maurildia Perry and reception decorations by Mrs. Jeri Bird, both friends of the couple.

For traveling the bride chose a plum colored wool suit with black accessories, with the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A rehearsal dinner hosted by the bridegroom's parents was held at the Chaparral Motor Hotel

Proclamation

Whereas, the hairdressers and cosmetologists of our community are dedicated to the highest standards of professional beauty care; and

Whereas, the 20th Annual National Beauty Salon Week will be observed for such purpose in our community, as well as throughout the nation, during the week of February 9, 1970, by more than 60,000 members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association; and

Whereas, the members of this national professional association are continuing a public service program that enhances the physical and mental well-being of thousands of Americans throughout this nation by providing professional beauty care to women confined to homes for the aged, hospitals, and other institutions; now

Therefore, I, J. S. Stearns, Mayor of Carrizozo, New Mexico

do hereby proclaim the week of February 9, 1970, as "National Beauty Salon Week."

and entreat it to the consideration of all citizens as a week in which to give special acknowledgement to the cosmetologists of our community, to recognize their high sense of civic responsibility, and their dedicated attention to services for the beauty of women everywhere.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of in Ruidoso the night before the wedding.

Prenuptial courtesies included a luncheon shower at the Buster Bird home in Roswell with Judi and Jeri Bird as hostesses. Some 25 guests attended. A Christmas theme was carried out. The bride's colors were white and red.

A miscellaneous shower at the Fletcher Hall home in Capitan was hosted by Pauline Britton, Emma Gene Hall, Frances Shaw, Geraldine Randle, and Mary Dean. A theme using Christmas ideas and the bride's colors were used.

A linen shower at NMSU, Las Cruces, with Pat Johns, room mate of the bride as hostess. Some 10 college friends attended.

Mrs. Pauline Britton served a brunch to the bride's attendants, their mothers, and honored guests at her home on the day of the wedding.

Agnes Crouse Conducts Meeting

The Nogal UPW met at the home of Mrs. Dorothea Zumwalt for its regular meeting on Feb. 5th at 7:30 p.m. The business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. Agnes Crouse. Mrs. Dorothea Zumwalt presented the devotions entitled "A Cheerful Giver".

A round - table discussion on the Bible study from Hosea was led by Mrs. Jodie Sitton and Mrs. Jewel McCrory.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the hostess to the nine members present.

"Our own home" reflects personality

Gamma Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met January 14th in the home of Irma Wilson. Roll call was answered with members naming their favorite style of furniture. During the business meeting it was decided to temporarily change the meeting night from Wednesday to Thursday. Mary Ellen Payne received the traveling basket.

Mary Ellen Payne presented the program "Our Own Home". She brought to mind the important part that accessories play in the home, as the decorations reflect the taste and personality of the family. Mary Ellen showed us how to make 2 lovely decorations. The first was a tall candle holder made from various shaped bottles, jars, bowls, cans, etc., glued together, covered with a paper mache mixture, decorated and painted. This unique candle holder would add a nice touch to any home and would certainly be "Individual". Next the square was rolled, the end tied, petals slightly pulled and arranged; and a green hooked stem inserted in the center. She then made flowers from the left - over strings, added leaves and demonstrated how the flowers could be arranged on a plaque or burlap covered beaver-board, and hung for a lovely decoration. Hostess for the evening, Irma Wilson served assorted delicacies with hot tea and coffee from a beautifully arranged table.

Those participating in this meeting were Lois Burns, Anne Ferguson, Sharon Hecker, Elizabeth MacVeigh, Mary Ellen Payne, Jane Shafer, Margaret Stearns, Blanche Straley, Phoebe Taylor and hostess Irma Wilson.

Rods on hot streak

The toughest game of the first round of play in the town team league for Carrizozo Lightning Rods will likely be this Sunday at Hondo. The Rods will take an undefeated record to Hondo to go against a team that has lost one game. Second round of play in the league will start February 22, each team playing home and home games to complete the season.

Last Sunday the Rods took the Ruidoso Jaycees nicely on scoring by Vega, Fleming, Hase and Gallegos. Monday they played a fairly even game with the Zozo Rinky Dinks, about an 8-point spread at the half, until the Dinks ran out of steam and the Rods ran away with the game.

Why so many mining failures in Lincoln County?

I am writing this short article regarding mining. Why, as many people have asked me, why such mining failures? The interest I had several years ago could have been a going concern today. No if about that. But an unscrupulous associate can ruin many mining ventures, the one that likes to appropriate to oneself. There is very little excuses for mine failures, but as the saying goes you can lead a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink. Many deals can be ironed out successfully by mutual good will and understanding. Engineering is a profession of creation and construction, to create from dry bones of scientific facts the living body of industry.

To pick a mining property it must have merits of showing results of both geological chemical actions, the present forms and conditions of materials in the earth crust, the time unit must be considered measuring geological times, the study of the time measurement of the geological periods; chronological (order of time) classification of the earth history; this must be taken into consideration for favorable mineral deposits. In many years in looking over Lincoln County's various mining districts, in some districts flanked a predominant formation of andesite flow of the early tertiary age, cut by numerous syenite, diorite, and lamprophyre dikes. In a vein system a geological survey should be made of the earth crust, made independent of the stratification, foliation or the crystalline segregation of certain minerals of the enclosing rocks. The parallelism in certain directions the selvage, gouge, fluecan, the ore and the country rock should be carefully examined if it indicates any movement, if the rocks belonging to the miocene epoch of the tertiary period, I found in some districts some vein displacement, oxidation, and scorification have left their ineradicable marks. I found also in some districts ascending aqueous igneous disturbance. I found in all districts numerous shafts and adit's sunk and driven into the mountains, why I do not know. All had known basic material, and no chance for minerals what so ever. Lots of hard work for nothing. Advice from a good geologist would have saved these poor souls lots of hard work and disappointments. On a good vein system some diamond drill holes should be put down to determine type of vein structures at the water table, if structure looks favorable, then shaft should be sunk, or a tunnel driven to intercept the vein. We have a number of good prospects in silver, copper, lead, zinc and other metals. Some will make producing mines, but it will take many dollars, and not a few cents as you hear some talk. Many projects are ruined by under financing. Also by some incompetent and greedy partners that know nothing of mining. I saw some in my time. They think all you have to do is get a shovel and scoop it up and put it into the bank. It takes 100% cooperation with associates to "make any success, good will. Greedy people never succeed and never have in mining, it takes good will for success. Good engineering is the work of creation and of construction, of stimulation of human effort and accomplishment. I know of a project in Lincoln County that with good will and honest cooperation would have been a going concern today. But greediness ruined it. There is the moral and public obligations upon the profession. There are today the demands upon the engineers which are the demands upon their positions as leaders of the mining industry, you can not win as some think to speculation and chicanery, there is the duty of every engineer to diminish the opportunity of the vulture so far as is possible.

Let's try to make Lincoln County into a minerals production County. No mine is laid bare to study and resolve in advance. We have to deal with conditions buried in the earth especially in metal mines we can not know, when our works are initiated, what the size mineralization, or surroundings of the ore bodies will be. But if you have a good geological structure that will pave the way for development in making a mine. We must plunge into them and learn, all our works must be in a way double tentative, for they are subject to constant alterations as we proceed.
