Holiday Homes starts building project here

Bob Hutchinson, representing Holiday Homes with office at 1313 14th Street in Alamogordo has announced the purchase of six 50-foot lots on E Avenue between 5th and 6th Streets in Carrizozo where he plans to build a total of five homes under the Section 235 FHA program.

Mr. Hutchinson said the first home would be started right after the 4th of July. It will be a 3 bedroom house with bath and three-quarter garage, kitchen-family combination room, living room, fully carpeted, tile bathroom, of frame stucco construction with wood panel front. There will be central heating with evaporative cooling to each room.

The house will be fully insulated walls and ceiling. There will be a front sidewalk and concrete drive, equipment in kitchen will include built-in range and garbage disposal unit.

There will be a mix of 2-3-4 bedroom homes in the proposed five to be built on E Avenue.

Sen. Montoya says census counting was incredibly haphazard thruout

U. S. Senator Joseph M. Montoya (D. - N. M.), citing evidence of "incredibly haphazard" census enumeration throughout New Mexico, has asked that a new census count be conducted in several key areas of New Mexico. These include the counties of Santa Fe, Chaves, Los Alamos, Rio Arriba and San Juan. The Senator maintained this course was necessary because routine follow-up procedures the Census Bureau says it will undertake will be of minimal use in correcting errors of the magnitude reported.

The New Mexican, The Rio Grande Sun, The Farmington Daily Times and several other newspapers in New Mexico have brought the situation to public attention and have led the fight for a new census count for their areas.

"These claims cannot be brushed aside by the Bureau of the Census. Frankly, the Bureau will just not be believed. Earlier this month it corrected a mathematical error, thereby doubling the entire population of Espanola, New Mexico. Other evidence indicates this new figure should itself be doubled."

Preliminary population figures from the 1970 census for the four towns in Lincoln County are:

Carrizozo	1,068
Ruidoso	2,040
Corona	255
Capitan	451

The final population count is expected to be presented to states, counties and all incorporated places some time between August and December 1970.

Stampede kicks off Friday night

One of the biggest celebrations held annually in Lincoln County comes off this Fourth of July weekend at Capitan when the Smokey Bear Stampede starts Friday at 7:00 p.m. at the fair grounds with the first rodeo performance and selection of Queen of Lincoln County to reign over the Stampede, the Lincoln County Fair and later represent this county at the state fair in Albuquerque.

The really big day is Saturday, July 4 which starts with a colorful parade at 11:00 a.m., followed by a free barbeque, afternoon and night rodeos and dance.

The rodeos are put on by Ratjen Bros. of Happy, Texas and bring to Lincoln County some of the roughest stock seen here any year. The events include bareback bronc riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and bull riding all with $50 added money. Ladies barrel race and ladies pole bending events carry $25 added money. There will be a calf scramble for boys and girls 12 years and under.

The Saturday parade is a colorful event with floats and many entries of all kinds from around the area. This parade will form at the school grounds and start down the main street (US 380) at 11:00 a.m. ending at the stampede grounds. Theme of the parade this year will be "Freedom Is".

The barbeque will be served immediately following the parade hopefully making use of the new building at the fair grounds. The 4th of July rodeos start at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m.

The southwest's most popular western band, the Aggie Ramblers, will play for dancing Saturday night.

All rodeo entries will be handled by Walt Jones the rodeo secretary. The rodeo books will close at 11:00 a.m. Friday.

Preparations made for four big days of racing at Ruidoso Downs track

Ruidoso Downs, N. M. -- With the weekend of July 4th approaching, preparations are being made for the four days of racing which will be conducted there. Racing will be held Thursdays, starting July 2, for the rest of the season.

The featured race on Thursday July 2, will be a six furlong affair, made up of three-year-old thoroughbreds which have never won two races. The closely matched field includes three last-time winners. They are Elmo Walker's Cameo Bound; Nabset, owned by Lewis Shaw; and Bernie's Way, representing the partnership of William Erdwurm and Bernard Erskine.

Picked by many observers as the horse to watch, is You Know What, owned by Andy L. and Fanny Lovelady. You Know What, has had only two starts in his career; both coming this season at Ruidoso Downs. On the first occasion, You Know What led the entire distance at six furlongs, and won going away by eleven lengths. In his next out, the son of Flying Fury, was barely nosed out at the wire by Pierson, who has won three straight outs at Ruidoso.

Completing the list of starters, will be E. Lloyd Kelley's Near Admiral; Primway, owned and trained by Louis Schaefer; Lee Kirk's Congo Bar; Watchette, representing J. M. Frost III; Joe Scott's Cooking Right; and John W. Meacom's Tricky Games.

Most of the pre-race favoro item is expected to center around You Know What, Cameo Bound, and Cooking Right, who have all shown a liking for the Ruidoso Downs oval.

Racing continues through Sunday July 5th, for the first of the continuing "four day weekends" at Ruidoso Downs.

First post for Thursday's card will be 1:30 p.m. MDT.

Look your loveliest!

By Mildred North of Medical Arts

"God has given you one face, and you make yourselves another." Shakespeare.

Have you ever realized that you never actually see your own face? Think about it for a minute. You see a reflection of your face in a mirror. You see photographs and portraits. You may see your "face" in your children who look like you. Or the reaction of people who look at you. But all the days of your life, the one face you carry with you twenty-four hours a day is the one face you will never see in the living flesh.

It is an irony of life that the face we present to the world is the one we never truly see ourselves. It is essential for every woman to become a portrait painter with artistic skills to create the most beautiful picture possible.

Making up your face is like doing a three-dimensional self-portrait in glowing color. You have to know about contour, about shading, about texture — and all in relation to the basic canvas that is your complexion.

Let's start with your eyes. Shape, coloring and makeup mean nothing if your eyes are dull and tired-looking. Sleep is essential for sparkling, exciting eyes and the skin area around them.

Before applying makeup, study the shape of your eyes. Are they round? Almond-shaped? Do they turn up or droop down in the outer corners? Are they too close to your nose? Too widely spaced?

Do your brows and lashes have definition or are they pale? Eye-liner can be your best friend — or your worst enemy — if it can enhance your eye shape, or make you look like a clown in a four-rate circus. The idea is to use eye-liner to achieve exactly what you want and nothing more.

The color of your eyes can be highlighted in several ways. If you like your own color and merely want it to come on stronger, use a darker shade of shadow that either match your eyes or contrasts sharply with them.

With pale blue eyes, a bright blue is a good color. With gray eyes, turquoise is exciting.

Apply white or ivory shadow on your upper lid, directly under your eye brows for brightness. Smooth a one-eighth-inch-wide line of brown along the eyelid crease to deepen your eyes. Apply a glowing shade of shadow on the lower lid — now you have painted your picture — your own eyes.

If you've never worn false lashes — now is the time — and you'll never know how you lived without them.

You can wear a $50-brand eye makeup with diamond dust, but if your eye expression is cold, calculating or disinterested, you might just as well wear eyepatches. Eyes are the windows of your personality. They also reflect your interest, enthusiasm and warmth. Let them do some of your talking for you. Once you start to think with your eyes, you will see how much more completely you can express yourself and how much more quickly and easily you reach people.

So, study your face, paint your own picture. Very few women are born beautiful, but there are many beautiful women.

With pale blue eyes, a bright blue is a good color. With gray eyes, turquoise is exciting.
Apply white or ivory shadow on your upper lid, directly under your eye brows for brightness. Smooth a one-eighth-inch-wide line of brown along the eyelid crease to deepen your eyes. Apply a glowing shade of shadow on the lower lid — now you have painted your picture — your own eyes.
If you've never worn false lashes — now is the time — and you'll never know how you lived without them.
You can wear a $50-brand eye makeup with diamond dust, but if your eye expression is cold, calculating or disinterested, you might just as well wear eyepatches. Eyes are the windows of your personality. They also reflect your interest, enthusiasm and warmth. Let them do some of your talking for you. Once you start to think with your eyes, you will see how much more completely you can express yourself and how much more quickly and easily you reach people.
So, study your face, paint your own picture. Very few women are born beautiful, but there are many beautiful women.

July Fourth

★ "And the Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave." On the Fourth of July, it's heartening to see our flag flying proudly before home after home. Show your colors . . . on Independence Day, display the Red, White and Blue symbol of our nation's heritage.

★ Most of all, that heritage is freedom. Through the days and the years since July 4, 1776, there have been times of struggle and sorrow, of danger and difficulty, but through even the darkest hours the bright light of freedom . . . symbolized by our flag . . . has sustained us and led us onward to rich and abundant blessings.

★ This Fourth of July, say a prayer of thanks for priceless freedom . . . honor the flag and all it stands for . . . show your colors.

See you at the Smokey Bear Stampede

New building ready for Stampede

The new fair building will be ready for the 4th. It is light green and very beautiful. Be sure to attend the Rodeo July 3 and 4. There will be a dance both nights for you to enjoy and it will be in that building. All of Lincoln County should be proud of it and when you can display your wares at the fair it will add to it for it is truly a nice building. Something for all of us to be proud of. Meet us there this holiday.

There are lots of nice things adding to our progress. The El Paisano Cafe has added a porch. Marguerite is painting the outside of his rent house white. The Lowe home has been painted Aqua with white trim. The sweet William blooming in front of their very pretty fence and the pretty lawn makes it stand out. All of the big trees have been cut at the Catholic parking lot. There has been lots of cleaning of yards, etc. Truly looks nice.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland have purchased the F. R. Whitley home and will move in this week. The Capitan Roundtable Club met at the home of Emelia McKnight ranch home June 18. Nine members attended. They enjoyed hot tamale pie with all the good trimmings.

Discussions of an anniversary party for two members, Frances Shaw and Mora Titsworth was held. October 31 was the tentative date set. Other details were to be announced later.

Mora Titsworth won the raffle. All enjoyed a delightful and happy day as usual.

The next meeting will be held at Eltha Merrell's home July 16. The Senior High Youth Group meeting will start this Monday June 29 through Friday noon July 3. The College group will start Friday afternoon through Sunday noon at the Nazarene Camp at Angus.

Mr. Bob Yankee has as guests his sister and her husband from Houston, Texas. Last Wednesday 24, Bob had a stroke and was taken to the Ruidoso Hospital. They will remain with him for a while.

I wish you a good recovery and very soon. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Otero and Mrs. Esther Clark and families are enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Norton Clark and son Norton, Jr. of West Springfield, Penn. They arrived last Saturday morning and will remain for a while.

Mrs. Charles Greene and two sons are spending some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones.

Mr. N. E. Britton of Mesquero was in Capitan on business last Monday.

Mr. Wayne Langford was shot in a gun accident Friday 19th. He spent the weekend in the hospital in Ruidoso and is now convalescing at home. He is doing OK. I wish you a good recovery.

Mrs. Mayme Greison and granddaughter Patsy Coor left Wednesday 16 for a vacation in California with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cheney and her mother Mrs. Maude Clark left Monday 29 by plane to Virginia to visit their son Mr.

and Mrs. Joe Bert Cheney and family.

Mrs. Ona Lair is in the Lubbock hospital again. She has advised friends here she will not be back to live here and all she has will be for sale. Her health will not permit. Sorry, but we wish you a good recovery and lots of good years just the same and much happiness though we will miss you.

Mr. Lionel Griego of the Cummins meat market is on vacation. They have moved their trailer home south of the Malco Station.

State Police Darrell Austin and son Keith left Sunday 21 for Lubbock, Texas for one week to help his brother reconstruct their home that was completely destroyed in the tornado recently. It was blown out from under him, his wife and three children. They were not injured. Darrell has been on his month's vacation. He and his family spent some time camping on the Bonito. They have had a good time. He will be back by the 4th to help with the holiday items at the fair grounds as usual.

Miss Lou Harris of Ruidoso Downs was bitten on the left ankle by a big dog. She was hospitalized in the Ruidoso Hospital for three days and then was brought by her brother Mr. and Mrs. Jess Harris to their sister Mrs. Maude Kingston's home to convalesce. She is doing OK. I wish you a good recovery.

Mr. Kenneth Stone took his 1950 Ford Coupe to Farmington and it was upholstered inside and carpeted and then painted a dark green. Certainly is a good looking vehicle. I cannot blame him for being very proud of it as it runs like a new one and most certainly looks nice.

Mr. Red Ramey who suffered a heart attack nine weeks ago is slowly improving at the Ruidoso Hospital. Everyone sends their love and best wishes to him for a good and complete recovery. Mr. Dude LaMay is in the Ruidoso Hospital. Was quite ill but is doing better at this time. We send our best wishes for a quick recovery.

Mrs. Jose Otero who has been in the Ruidoso Hospital for several weeks was taken to a specialist in El Paso last Saturday. It was good to find her looking better. I too wish you a good complete recovery very soon.

Little Jana Harris of Gallup is spending some happy time with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs.

LeRoy McKnight at their ranch home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe attended Friendship night at Eastern Star, at the Masonic Temple in Roswell last Friday night. They enjoyed pot luck dinner as well. They had the most delightful time and such a happy evening. The Ruidoso Chapter was well represented of which I am happy to learn.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Maude Kingston were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris of Weed, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brice of Jal and Mr. and Mrs. Halleck Kingston of Tulsa. Mr. and Mrs. Brice spent the night and all of Monday then journeyed on to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jess Harris.

Mr. Joe (Rita) Freeland and two sons have arrived to spend a week with Grandpa Robert Freeland in whose home she is staying. She visits her mother, Mrs. Elma Campbell and her grand parents Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ellis daily. Joe is attending school in San Francisco, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Britton and little daughter are living in Perris, California in Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Smith's home this summer and Carlton is attending school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Smith and three children of Perris, California spent last weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith. Their children are now with her mother, Mrs. Crucita Garcia in Lincoln. Joe Lee and Rose Marie returned to Silver City where Joe is attending summer school.

Little Cynthia and Stephanie Wyre spent one week with their grand parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kerr, Rocky and Tammy of Clovis were there with them the same week.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Darling and Garry accompanied by Kenny Cummins left for their new home in Loving, N. M. where Mr. Darling will take up his duties as Supr. Kenny has been helping pack and will continue to assist until they are settled. He may be with them for two weeks. We will miss this nice family. Our loss is certainly the other city's. Continued On Page Six.

June was wonderful month for Jackie

The month of June, now almost gone, was a wonderful month for visitors to "My House". The most lucrative June since our formal opening in 1963. Of course we are grateful "the word is getting around" that we are here with a nearly complete and interesting display of relics of the past. Visitors came from Nogal, Clovis, Roswell, Mountainair, Albuquerque, Alamogordo and Las Cruces in our own fair New Mexico. Other states were Texas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arizona, Kansas and California.

The Carrizozo Alumni Reunion was good for Ancho and "My House of Old Things" too. Mr. Wm. H. Moss of Johannesburg, California came to see us first. His family ranched around Coyote from 1910 to 1923. He said the relics of "My House" brought back memories of his life on the ranch situated so near us and we recalled many memories of our long time mutual friends.

Mrs. Lois Jones Bailey with her son Billy M. Reynolds of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Mildred Jones McPike and her husband Addison McPike of Lansing, Ill., and Helen Stirling Stewart of Merced, Calif. came too. We had a most delightful time reminiscing of the old days around Ancho and the Coyote and Luna Pump Stations. The late Mrs. Howard Bullard, mother of the Jones girls and her husband Howard and the girls lived at both stations. Howard lives in Springfield, Mo., and will be remembered by many old time friends. Lois, Milly and Helen are very pretty and charming as always and right here I will have to say Billy and Addie were real sweet guys and it was a real joy to greet them all again for a nice long visit and a tour thru "My House". Then there was Richard Means, his wife and three children of Fruita, Colo. who came by to see us. It was a real pleasure seeing Richard again after such a long time and meeting his nice family. Richard was a tiny little boy when the Means family "panned gold" in the Jicarillas in the 1930's.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Bowman, their daughter Jan, Shirley Baker of Phoenix, Arizona, Kyoko Salts of Sendai, Japan and Yohko Yamamoto of Saltama Japan were here for a tour thru "My House of Old Things". Kyoko and Yohko are exchange students from Japan and Kyoko had made her home with the Bowmans for the past year. The girls were getting ready for their return home so the Bowmans wanted to show them as much of the old west as they could. They had been to Carlsbad Caverns and we felt privileged and honored that they came to see "My House". Mr. Bowman had been here before, without his family, so wanted them to see it too.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Randall of Ft. Worth, Texas were by to see us. Mrs. Randall is the former Ada Mae Ashby whose father and grandfather both homesteaded southwest of Ancho. They lived here for a number of years and Ada Mae attended the Ancho school. It was great to see them and renew the old friendships.

Mrs. Louise Bohn, grand daughter of Mrs. Charles Stone-man of Capitan came to see us. She was accompanied by her daughter, Carolyn, her husband Oscar and their three little children. They enjoyed the relics of the past very much and Louise was especially pleased to see a picture painted by her grand mother when she was 78 years of age. Louise visited on her grandmother's ranch in Ancho's more prosperous and active years. It was good to see Louise and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Faubion of Las Cruces were week end guests of the Tommy Knights. Their two young sons were fishing in Mexico with a group of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Jackson, Dee Dee, Leland and Gerald Posey attended the funeral of our dear, young friend Jake McCarty last Monday at Cloudercroft. Jake and Leland had grown up together in El Paso and he visited here with us last summer. He was killed in an auto accident. We will miss Jake.

We were also saddened by the death of Roy Tinguely and his wife Dolores of El Paso. They were also killed in an auto accident. Roy traveled for many years for Cromble-out of El Paso to Tucumcari. Everyone loved and admired our dear friend Roy.

The death of Alan Rhodes came as a severe shock to us. We know he was ill with a heart ailment but we are never ready when death takes a loved one. We feel we were privileged and honored by his visit to "My House of Old Things". Our love and sympathy are extended to his wife Betty and their daughter.

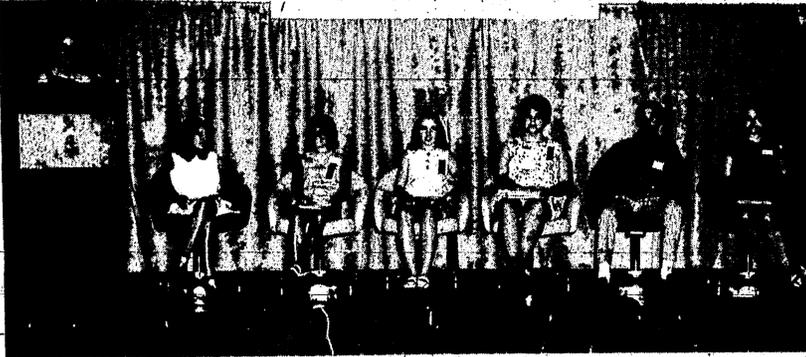

Corona

In the Way of the West last week, we noted quotes from a talk by George R. Dawson, head of the Dept. of Agriculture Economics at NMSU. Friends in Corona will remember him as Robert when he was doing his high school work here.

Mrs. B. J. Winchester took Karen to Inloe Baptist Youth Camp Monday where she will remain until the 29th.

The Baptist Church is getting good response to their weekly movies held in the school multipurpose room each Friday at 7:30. There is no charge.

The Billy Glen Bryans are spending a few weeks with the Walter Bryans. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bryan and sons, Walter and Jimmy Jr., Granite City, Ill. arrived last week for a few days visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryan, and other relatives here.

Mrs. Ward Thomson and Tim came over from Laguna Saturday to pick up Perry who has been spending some time with relatives here.

Nancy and Crystal Campbell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell, Pueblo, Colorado, arrived Saturday for a visit with the Winchester families.

George Hobbs is transferring from Ft. Sumner to replace the late T. W. James. He has tentative plans to rent the Ernest Otero property.

The Fire Dept. - Village Council fireworks display Saturday night was appreciated by a large audience of children and adults. Thank you.

Guests of the Walter B. Capes Monday were Mrs. Lynn Stone-man and Brent, Capitan, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Berenek, El Paso, and Major and Mrs. Tommy S. Armstrong and three sons, Tommy, Terry, and Teddy of St. Louis, Mo. The Armstrongs are being transferred to Monterrey, California for intensive studies before being sent on to an assignment in Panama. Mrs. V. C. Waldon has returned home after three weeks in an Albuquerque hospital. Her sister, Mrs. Emmett Miller, Los Lunas, came over with her and spent the week end.

News and Notes

The United States Department of Agriculture, through research and inspection, is achieving safer food products for the American consumer. Meat and poultry are probably the biggest items in your family food budget, but they are hearty and nutritious ones. Since meat and poultry are such costly items you want to make doubly sure they are safe to eat.

Five new United States Dept. of Agriculture bulletins discuss various phases of meat and poultry care and handling. These bulletins, entitled "Meat and Poultry, Wholesome for You" No. 170, Meat and Poultry, Standards for You" No. 171, "Meat and Poultry, labeled for you", No. 172, "Meat and Poultry, Clean for You", No. 173 and "Meat and Poultry, Care Tips for You, No. 174 are available at the Extension Office.

If you are an average American woman you buy 20 pairs of stockings a year. With the current fashion emphasis on the total look and the "year of the leg," as some writers have called it, you may be spending more than the proportionate share of your clothing budget on hosiery. For all types of hosiery, price is not necessarily an indication of quality. There is a wide range of prices in both varieties. Such factors as fashion, colors, sheerness or unusual size or length tend to affect price more than quality.

The market offers irregulars and seconds for lower prices. Irregulars are imperfect either in dimension, size, color or knit which are usually slight and almost unnoticeable. Seconds have imperfections in construction or finish and do not wear well. When buying hose, consider these tips. Buy several pairs in one size and color at a time unless they are an unfamiliar brand -- then try only one or two pairs. Day time or walking sheers provide more serviceability than evening sheers. The currently fashionable opaque hose are thought to be the most serviceable of all. Always follow the manufacturer's directions for putting on hose, especially panty - hose.

CADET JUD A. COOPER IN MILITARY LEADER TRAINING

Cadet Jud A. Cooper, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cooper, Arabela Route, Tinnie, N. M., is receiving six weeks practical application in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps' basic summer camp at Ft. Knox, Ky. from June 12 to July 23. Cadet Cooper is one of approximately 4,000 young men expected to attend ROTC basic camp at Ft. Knox this year.

Cooper is a 1970 graduate of the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, N.M., with a bachelor of arts degree. He is currently a student at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, N. M.

Senator Clinton P. Anderson
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.
Dear Senator Anderson:

This letter is to inform you that I am very disappointed in your representation of the people of New Mexico. I would like to remind you it was the confidence of interested citizens like myself that has enabled you to serve us in this high position. You, Mr. Anderson, have been duly elected repeatedly by the people of this state. Do you actually feel that you are serving these voters when you fail to stand up for the right of private land ownership?

It seems that throughout history the federal government has taken New Mexico soil from private ownership. First, the Pueblo and Apache Indians with the surrendering of Geronimo in 1886, and now it appears that the United States Government is continuing to determine the ownership of this land in New Mexico by forcing ranchers to sell at a low price, land that was bought and paid for by its residents. This being the least important factor in our reluctance to sell. The most important being that the land is our home and there are many who feel if the land is gone they have nothing left to live for.

We have given up enough land through lease for the White Sands Missile Range. At the beginning of World War II my grandfather, father, and uncles were forced to move from their homesteaded land and start anew on the present land. These men have worked hard and are presently in their sixties and are again, being forced off by the enlargement of the White Sands Missile Range.

My husband has served our federal government in two wars, Korean and Viet Nam, both fought on foreign soil for the preservation of these people's land. I trust you appreciate the irony in this situation. He was, and others still are fighting for the prevention of such seizure for use of a few politicians with out responsibility to the people.

I fear that this type of aggression is one reason for the unrest and bloodshed on our college campuses in the past few weeks. If this is allowed to continue we face the possibility of the land being of no importance to any one.

You may rest assured that you will not receive the support of my vote and I feel certain those of my family and fellow ranchers concerned in the next election if you do not take immediate preventive measures.

Sincerely,
Billy Withers Wyatt

in their new location. It is a nice community.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Pelt of Alto are now happily located in the former Brubaker house north of Lane Store. Welcome to Capitan.

Rev. and Mrs. Prince and family of Tularosa visited Mr. and Mrs. John Able and family last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Fillingim and family of Haskel, Texas spent last weekend at their ranch home. Beverly Cornelius returned hom with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Litterfield and family spent last week end in Las Cruces.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClure of Pie Town, N. M. spent a few hours visiting Mrs. Allie Taylor last week. The ladies had not seen each other for 20 years. They used to be neighbors. Mrs. Annie McInnes was there and they had a delightful visit while enroute to a family reunion in Lovington.

A long letter from Mr. and Mrs. Howard McGuire, who lived one week on Outpost Hill in March in their mobile home was recently received from Albany, New York, by the Kline family. The McGuires circled from south to north after leaving Capitan, including some points on the west coast.

They were most favorably impressed with the striking snow setting on Sierra Blanca and the then white covered range of mountains, to and including Nogal Peak.

SIXTY-FOUR WHEELER — A special 64-wheel trailer was required to carry Jumbo across the desert to Trinity Site. Because the scarcity of plutonium, Jumbo was built to recover the active material in case the nuclear explosion failed to take place. By this time, however, scientists had more confidence in the implosion method of detonation, and recovery plans were abandoned.

tearing sound of breaking timbers. What he saw when he reached the basement, drained the blood from his face and he ran to a telephone. "You'd better get on a plane, quick!" he shouted at a Manhattan Project representative on the other end of the line. Later, in the basement of the plant the awed official stood with the plant manager. Both men gazed silently at the 428,000 lb., jug-shaped monster embedded in the crushed basement floor.

That's only part of the story. Orders reportedly were issued to seal the first Jumbo in cement, and supposedly it's still there. The contractor got paid for his work and received a voucher for the cost of repairing the ruined floors.

However, the troubles with Jumbo were far from over. By virtue of a round-the-clock work schedule, the monster was finally constructed. However, no sooner had the finishing touches been put on the jug than the Ohio people discovered to their dismay that there was no truck in the United States large enough or rugged enough to haul it.

Worse, the "whiz kids" of the Manhattan Project gloomily reported that only a few bridges existed in the country sturdy enough to withstand the tremendous load weight.

However, Major General Leslie R. Groves, the director of the Manhattan Engineer District, was not a man easily discouraged. He ordered a special reinforced flatbed rail car built which would take Jumbo to a JUMBO — Jumbo stands unscathed, its tower crumpled around it, following explosion of the world's first atomic device at Trinity site.

MUTE REMINDER — A White Sands Missile Range employe examines 14-inch skin of Jumbo, now lying in a small gully near Trinity Site. An experiment in April, 1946, involving 500-pound demolition bombs, blew out the ends of the steel vessel.

The biggest bang in the world was in New Mexico on July 16, 1945

America's first atomic bomb test operation, known as Project Trinity, took place early in the morning on Monday, July 16, 1945, in the north-central portion of the old Alamogordo bombing and gunnery range, now a part of White Sands Missile Range.

After the detonation of the atomic device, the tower from which it had been suspended had virtually disappeared. Only the metal stumps of the tower legs, which had been imbedded in concrete, remained.

That, and a green glass-like substance where the sand had melted and solidified again, and Jumbo.

Jumbo was one of the costliest unused schemes involved in the super-secret Manhattan Project to develop the atomic bomb. Jumbo was conceived because, about a year before the Trinity test, there was barely enough plutonium available to conduct the essential experiments and the outlook for increased production was bleak. It seemed absolutely imperative that the active material not be wasted in an unsuccessful test.

One idea, which was adopted after several others were considered, was to have a steel vessel built strong enough to contain the plutonium if it were only scattered by the dynamite, rather than a full scale nuclear explosion.

Although the container, promptly dubbed Jumbo, became a high priority project at the outset and all test plans, until the last minute, were based on the assumption that it would be used, there is little evidence that the idea met with much enthusiasm at Los Alamos where the bomb was being built.

Even J. Robert Oppenheimer, director of the laboratory at Los Alamos, wrote that "the probability that the reaction would not shatter the container is extremely small."

Despite the high priority, fabrication of the vessel was easier said than done, and Jumbo turned out to be one of the most agonizing of the Manhattan Project's endless procurement headaches.

In May, 1944, scale model "Jumbos" were delivered to Los Alamos where numerous tests were conducted to prove the feasibility of the design. Although the design appeared practicable, there was scarcely a steel man in the country who felt he could manufacture the container.

Specifications required that Jumbo must, without rupture, contain the explosion of the implosion bomb's high explosive material and permit mechanical and chemical recovery or use active material.

To do this required an elongated vessel 25 feet long and 12 feet diameter with 14-inch thick walls and weighing 214 tons. Steel company heads expressed strong doubts that Jumbo could be manufactured to specifications.

Eventually, an Ohio firm agreed to take a crack at the job and the order was placed in August, 1944. At this point, an unconfirmed story indicates this company had more than its share of troubles in building the monster vessel.

The manufacturer, so it goes, assigned the entire third floor of his plant to assemble the jug, and put his people on a feverish work schedule.

Then, about three weeks before the vessel was due to be finished, the plant manager, working in his office late, felt a terrible shudder go through his building, followed by a thunderous, crunching and Jumbo was delivered to the siding at Pope. The train crew, which had promptly named their cargo "The Thing" had orders to reach Pope at exactly 9:30 a.m. . . . not before, not after.

The Thing had become the biggest mystery along the Santa Fe line. On several occasions, high winds had caused the canvas covering Jumbo to flap about considerably, thus revealing what Jumbo looked like, and at Pope the spring winds finally blew off the canvas altogether.

To the railroaders Jumbo looked like a huge thermos bottle liner, made of steel, but no one could rightly guess what it was for. Many of them saw it during the next several days, for it sat on the siding for no apparent reason except nothing was available to carry it away from there.

One day a huge trailer arrived at Pope, which had been an old Santa Fe station that served as a link with the Southern Pacific and the Pacific Coast in the 1890's.

A real piece of engineering know-how was required to unload Jumbo from its huge flat car and place it onto the trailer. Then, four caterpillar type tractors were hooked up to the trailer to make the slow overland trip to Trinity Site.

But it was too late. During the last months before the test, all of the elaborate recovery schemes were abandoned. By then there was greater confidence in the success of the bomb and, more importantly, there was increasing protest that Jumbo would spoil nearly all the sought after measurements which were, after all, the prime reason for conducting the test at all.

The fate of Jumbo, however, was not absolutely settled until the very last minute. On June 11, 1945, Kenneth Bainbridge, the test director, wrote that "Jumbo is a silent partner in all our plans and is not yet dead. . . . We must continue preparations for (its) use until Oppenheimer says to forget it for the first shot."

And a silent partner it remained. The decision was made to detonate the atomic device on top of a tower, without Jumbo. The huge vessel was erected on a tower near Ground Zero to stand idly by during the test. It survived the explosion unscathed.

Today, Jumbo lies in a gully, invisible from the road which passes by Trinity Site, one of the last artifacts remaining that played a part in one of the greatest scientific achievements of all time.

Jumbo was taken by rail car to Pope, New Mexico on the Santa Fe line in southern Socorro County, then transported east a distance of some 50-60 miles by 64-wheel trailer to Trinity Site.
