Bank had a commanding lead of 14 to 3 at the end of the 4th inning and thought they had it in the bag. So the Coach's put in their PINCH HITTERS consisting of LUERAS, PORTILLO, VENT-URA, AND ORTIZ, (all little Guys) to give them a little experience. 'The Coach's had planned on time' running out since they are only allowed to play 1 1/2 hours or 6 innings. At the end of the 5th inning the score was 14 to 7 with the Merchants coming on strong. At the top of the 6th the Merchants scored 10 big runs to take the lead. But the Bank did not give up. They went on to score 4 runs at the bottom of the 6th and won 18-17.

Five Right this very day there are more good things to make life pleasant in Carrizozo than any small town of the southwest -but life in this Lincoln County town is going to get better -with good help from Mayor Johnson Stearns, Bill Payne, Duff May, Alton Whittaker and Engineer Tom Mann.

These five men were in Albuquerque Tuesday for pre-construction conference with Federal Aviation officials, Floyd Haake, contractor on this $112,726.00 improvement project for Carrizozo airport, was Airport Improvement Starts, Recreation Park Possible!

After concluding their business in Albuquerque the Carrizozo people drove to Santa Fe to meet with Richard Mutz and Keith Dotson, State Department of Planning, about proposed recreational park and golf course in Carrizozo. They found that money is available and the Planning Department was very encouraging about the project. Cost of the recreational park has increased about 35 percent and it will be necessary to resubmit the Carrizozo proposal as well as check to see if local sponsor money is available to go along with the increase in Carrizozo Town officials will want to know, prior to start, that this recreational park will have maintenance money provided for a number of years to give the new park a chance to. prove itself. It will also have to be determined that the area has an ade- ... quate supply of water. The new proposal will include more money for recreation and less money for golf facilities.

. Mutz and Dotson said they knew of no reason why the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation would not approve the project.

Mann, Payne, May, Whitaker and Stearns also met with the Office of Economic Development to find out what this agency could do for Carrizozo. They do have money to help with something that would provide permanent employment for a number of people, like building an industrial complex, but Carrizozo would have to show that employment

McGahan, academic dean,

It's real easy to get into an argument around Carrizozo about whether the New York Times is right in publishing of classified material concerning our country's involvement in Vietnam. The legal owkrings constitute a historic case over the question of "Preserving the freedom of the press as it confronts the efforts of the Government to impose prior restraint on publication of essentially historical data."

There are a multitude of arguments, such as the documents being used by the Times being stolen (if they were), being classified (which they were), our Government (past and present administrations being embarrassed, publication of these classified materials being harmful to national security, and others of less importance.

The News editor prefers to think that if less secrecy had been placed on government actions and the public better informed during the period of years from 1964 through 1965-66 -- we would not be in such deep trouble today. State's growth mainly in Bernalillo Co.

Over four-fifths of New Mexico's growth during the 1960's took place in the State's single Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA), Albuquerque, which includes all of Bernalillo County, according to a report issued by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce,

The report, based on the 1970 census, shows a State population of 1,016,000, 2 gain of 64,977 (6.8 percent) over 1960. The SMSA population totaled 315,774, an increase of 53,575 (20.4 percent) over 1960. By contrast, the population living outside the SMSA increased 1.7 percent, from 688,824 to 700,226.

New Mexico's white population grew by 5 percent from 876,000 to 916,000, the report says, and the American Indian population, which constitutes about three-fourths of the popu---lation of races other than white. grew by 29 percent from 56,000 to 73,000. Between 1960 and 1970, there was a net out-migration of 129,691 persons, the equivalent of 14 percent of the 1960 population. The entire net out-migration occurred in non-metropolitan areas. The fact that New Mexico did not lose population was due to its high natural increase (births minus deaths) of 194,668, Conservation is a broad word and includes the wise use of most everything. In relating it to Boy Scouting we think more in the terms of Conservation of youth and of natural resources. The two naturally go hand in hand, Certainly through the Scout program we are conserving our youth by better equipping them for the years ahead. Much of the Scout training is related to the out-ofdoors, and among the subjects included are the conservation of our wild life and our forests.

This summer hundreds of boys with their leader will enjoy hiking the beautiful woody trails, fishing for trout in a well stocked lake, learning about nature and how to live in and appreciate the great outdoors.

of us. W-W We talk a lot about cost of upkeep of our parks, recreation center, our paying, our schools, our hospital, in time our airport, and maybe a new . recreational park. These things do cost money to maintain -but consider that maintainence work -- means jobs for our people. Most of the money spent in taking care of our town is money that recirculates right here at home. Of course, we don't build a park to provide a lawn mowing job, or a swimming pook to make work for lifeguard -- never-the -less these beautiful additions to our town do a lot more than just add beauty to the surroundings.

Great changes have taken place in agriculture over the past few decades but the same serious problems containue to confront the industry. The most important of these are continued inflation which has pushed agriculture cost to an all-time high, ineffective government farm programs, a cheap food policy of the government to subsidize consumers and a lack of organization muscle to bargain for better prices and control production. Consumers and businessmen should be concerned about the should be concerned about the current disparity between agriculture and the general economy because a healthy agriculture is essential to the well being of the total economy. The operation of the American farm of the 70'sisasfar removed from the turn-of-the-century agriculture as the modern jetliner is from the steam locomotive.

Take production efficiency, for example. Corn average yields have jumped from less than 30 bushels to the acre to nearly 84 bushels. Wheat production per acre-has doubled. The livestock business has kept pace. Meat production has risen from about 19 billion pounds last year. In and the whole list of comfort, convenience and recreational purchases. Food prices since 1959 have risen only 22 per cent as compared to 43 per cent for services, 55 per cent medical care, 25 per cent for transportation. Since modern farming and ranching is the nation's biggest industry, it is a major factor in the economic health of virtually every manufacturing, processing and merchandising sector of the American economy. American farmers and ranchers are a $48 billion dollar market for goods and services. Farmers use more petroleum products than any other industry. Agriculture's need for steel accounts for some 40,000 jobs in the steel industry. Agriculture uses as many kilowatt hours of electricity as is used by Detroit, Boston, Chicago, Baltimore and Washington, D.C. This all adds up to the fact that three out of every 10 jobs in private employment in the United States have something to do with agriculture. * * * * *

But in spite of his increasing importance to a growing. population---and in spite of his constantly rising efficiency and performance---the economic abollongo facing today's farmer and rancher, becomes more formidable each year. More and more farmers and ranchers are being forced off the farms and ranches because of an inadequate income.

The price and income problems of farmers and ranchers have stimulated and unending stream of proposals to cure the situation--all to no avail.

These proposals have been mainly some type of government program.

An antiquated and inefficient marketing system is the major cause of agriculture price and income disparities. If the agriculture industry is to prosper and receive its fair share of the national income, it is time that farmers and ranchers turn their attention to the solid task of developing a greater bargaining power so that they can get the full market price and have an opportunity to improve it.

Forest Reopened

at noon, June 21

The Lincoln National Forest closed since last week due to the extreme fire danger, has been re-opened as of noon, June 21, 1971. For est Supervisor Robert A. Cook, announcing the re-opening, said "The rains of the past several days, while sporadic, have reduced the fire danger on the forest to the point. where we can again allow public! use." Cook said that rainfall' varied from nothing on some areas to nearly two inches at Cloudcroft and emphasized that the fire danger is still very high throughout much of the forest.

American farmers and ranchers are the producers of the largest amount of quality foods, at the cheapest relative prices, in the world.

They are proud of their productive efficiency but believe they should be properly compensated rather than penalized by inadequate prices. The parity ratio now stands at about 70, only three points above the low mark reached in the great depression of the 30's. Parity is a means of comparing how well agriculture is doing in relation to other segments of the economy and it is obvious that agriculture is not doing so well.

Standard features include exceptional diesel economy and ruggedness. Adjustable front and rear treads. Differenial lock and independent rear wheel brakes. #### Advertising value not ### to be judged on immediate sales . The whole value of advertising to a retailer can not be judged on the basis of immediate sales of an advertised product. True, returns on advertising are often immediate and obvious. However, the major aim of retail advertising should be to increase overall store traffic.

Usually when a customer enters a store to look at an advertised product, he will buy ther things before he leaves. More important, when advertising draws a consumer to a store one time, there is a good chance that he will return in the future.

An advertisement featuring a one dollar item may cause a shopper to come to a store in the first place, Often, however, the full value of the advertisement is not realized until that same shopper has spent perhaps hundreds of dollars on return

a. In this connection, the sales manager of a department store chain tells how his stores evaluate advertising:

"Day to day returns on individual ads mean little to us. We have learned that our total sales show a decline when we cut advertising, and that the sales curve rises when advertising is increased,"

News and Notes By Mary Ellen Payne

If you're a home sewer, then you've been faced with the tecision of which thread to use for your outfit. A general rule of thumb is to select a thread comnatible with the fiber content of our fabric. For an animal fiber such as wool or silk, select a silk thread. On rayon, acetate, cotton and cotton blends a 100 per cent mercerized cotton thread is the best choice. Mercerized cotton thread is less susceptible to shrinkage, is. stronger, and smoother. The polyester-core cotton wrap and 100 percent polyester threads are best for knits. This thread helps provide the necessary stretch in the seam that gives knits their comfort and allows freedom of movement. If you're looking for a thread especially for decorative stitching, top stitching or working hand buttonholes, then select silk buttonhole twist. ****

If variety in your meals is what you are looking for -- try cheese, it's a food that never runs out of variety. In unlimited sizes, shapes, consistencies and textures, cheese is a booster for any drab menu. The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service says that dairy products are on the plentiful foods list for May. -That means cheese, so try theseon your family.

Cheddar Cheese Biscuits 2 cups all-purpose flour l tablespoon baking powder 3/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese

1/3 cup shortening About 3/4 cup milk

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Add shredded cheese. Cut in shortening until well blended. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board. Roll to 1/2 inch thickness and cut with a biscuit cutter or into squares with a knife. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 425 degrees F (hot oven) for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 two-inch biscuits, Do you know the difference between natural and processed cheese? Natural cheeses are made by coagulating milk and then separating the curd, or thesolid parterrom the whey, or the watery part. They can be ripened (aged) or unripened, Processed cheeses are a blend of fresh and aged natural cheeses that have been melted, pasteurized and mixed with an emulsifier. Pasteurization prevents further ripening.

New livestock

law passed

Cleo C. Ainsworth, Chairman of the New Mexico Livestock Board, points out that many livestock owners in New Mexico are not familiar with the 1970 law passed by the New Mexico

> Drug addiction isn't somebody else's problem ... it's ours. Each of us is a loser when the addict, ravaged by physical and emotional damage, driven by growing dependence on his drug, turns his potential as a person and as a citizen into frantic scheming for ways to get his drug and pay for it. To support his habit, he almost certainly turns to crime. Most alarming — and of grave concern to parents — is the spread of drug addiction downward, into the classrooms of our high schools and even arade schools. There are no easy answers ... but stopping drug addiction begins by honestly facing its problems. We all share the responsibility to educate ourselves and our children about the dangers of drugs. We must: Learn the facts and fallacies about drugs. Set a good example. Don't misuse drugs . . . including alcohol and sleeping pills. Be prepared to understand and discuss drug problems. Support community efforts to combat drug addiction. By mobilizing sound knowledge, we can help to end drug addiction and its problems.

Vacation-Bound Families Can Hold Down Expenses With Car Care Check

"George Washington, if he were alive today, couldn't throw a dollar across the river. A dollar just doesn't go as "far now as it did in Washington's time."

The sixth-grader who spoke those words to his classmates will soon be leaving with his family on their summer motoring vacation. And he doesn't have to tell his mother or father that a dollar doesn't go far these days.

The budget-conscious vacationer can make sure his transportation expenses are kept minimal by doing the following:

Take your car to your favorite service outlet for a prevacation check-up. By doing so, you can avoid unexpected... problems that could take a huge blue out of your vacation budget.

· Maybe It's Time to "Re-Tire"

For example, suppose your service man finds a tire in need of replacement. He may have a tire sale and can replace the tire inexpensively. Or perhaps you will have time to visit a retail outlet for a new tire.

Should the tire blow on the road, you may have to replace it at the price the traffic will bear.

Still another benefit of caring for your car before the trip is the fact that you can control the expense as you wish. Likely, you have a credit card or other budget-payment provision at the place you have your car serviced.

So you charge the service to make more cash available

There is nothing as delightful as leaving the well-traveled highways on a summer vacation trip. Yet, these out-of-the-way roadsides can prove exasperating if your car should break down, far away from service facilities. To make certain this doesn't hoppen to you on your outing, take your car to your favorite service outlet for a thorough pre-trip check of all components, and have a fun filled, care-free vacation.

for your trip.

When out of town and in a strange facility, it's likely to be "Cash Only" and maybe your meal money for the next week is spent on an unexpected repair bill.

Also, a car that's put into top condition will cost less to operate.

Tuned Engines Hum

A freshly-tuned engine will reduce your gasoline bill, not to mention giving better, safer passing performance.

By proper wheel alignment, tire balancing and proper inflation, you'll save on tire wear.

In addition to financial consideration, a well-caredfor car will increase your vacation enjoyment. Riding in and driving the car will be more pleasurable.

You'll avoid unplanned-for stops caused by need for emergency repairs thus giving

Simple Steps Can Help Prevent Theft of Car

While waiting for a special theft protection device to be installed on your new car or "old faithful," there are several things that can be done to prevent having your car stolen.

Keep your car doors locked at all times.

States and Canada is now available, free. To receive one, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Camping, c/o Champion Spark Plug Company, P. O. Box 910, Toledo, Ohio 43601.

In Canada the address is: Camping, c/o Champion Spark Plug Company of Canada, Box 910, Windsor 12, Ontario.

you more time for sight-seeing and relaxation.

Read This Section

Read the contents of this section carefully, both the articles and the advertisements. They will tell you what it takes to make sure your car is ready for that long-awaited summer vacation.

Then see your favorite service man who'll make sure your vacation dollars go as far as you want them to in a car that goes as far as it needs to on your vacation.

Here's a Most Revealing Test One of the most revealing tests an experienced mechanic can make for you is a compression test, in which all spark plugs are removed and pressure readings are compared with specifications.

This procedure helps your mechanic determine if the problem is in valves, rings or both. Such a test usually is part of a major engine tune-up, or may cost about $5.00 or $6.00 when done as an individual operation. A compression test can be the first step toward putting new life in the old Car. WINTER WEATHER WAN After the winter's weather has gone, strong chemicals, used for melting snow and ice on roads, may still be on your car. A thorough paint cleaning and polishing helps prevent auto body deterioration.

a Car Care Quiz

Cowboys, riding the lonesome range, often talked to their horses for want of better conversational company, although there is no record of the horse ever answering in intelligible English.

Your car often communicates with you and when it does it's usually in the form of a complaint. See if you can identify the following sounds in terms of what your car is complaining about

- 1. Your brakes squeal when applied. Two of these conditions may be the cause:
  - A. Weather conditions are cold and damp, affecting linings.
  - B. You are low in brake fluid.
  - C. Steering linksge is rubbing against the brakes.
  - D. Brake linings are worn.
- 2. Upon sudden scceleration, there is an engine sound something like the rattling of B.B. shot in a tin can. The cause is most likely:
  - A. Air cleaner is loosely mounted.
  - B. Detonation (pinging) or spark knock.
  - C. Dirt particles in the cooling system.

- A. Preignition.
- B. Worn bearings.
- C. Worn pistons and/or rings.
- D. Thermostat needs adjustment.
- There's no sound but a click when you turn the ignition key. Two probable causes are:
  - A. Battery is dead.
  - B. Starter mechanism is defective.
  - C. Spark plug wire is WOFN.
  - D. You're out of gas.
- 6. There is a thumping sound from a tire. Assuming it's not the fault of the road surface, probable reason is?
  - A. A defect in the tie rod.
    - B. A power steering sys-

8. Ascreeching sound when you turn your steering wheel as far as it will go usually means:

Rumble

- A. Defective steering linkage.
- B. Underinflated tires.
- C. Worn or loose power steering belt.
- 9. Upon shutting off the ignition, the engine keeps running, sounding something like Jack Benny's old Maxwell. Two of the possible causes are:
  - A. Gasoline is of too high an octane.
  - B. The engine is running too cold.
  - C. The idle speed is set too fast.
  - D. Fuel mixture is too lean at idle.
- 10. There is the sound of a quick, insistent rapping

Never keep valuables inside your car.

Keep only necessary items in your trunk.

Another simple way to deter car theft is to keep your car parked under a light at night, if possible,

YOU DON'T NEED PULL

If your car begins skidding or pulling to the side when you apply your brakes, it may be a sign that your braking system needs attention. One brake is probably' exerting less stopping force sthan the other — thus causing the skid.

3. You hear what sounds like the chirping of birds from the engine compartment. A likely cause is: A. A dry fan belt. B. An unusual wind condition on the grille. C. Carburetor icing. D. Birds in the engine compartment. 4. Low-key rumbling sound in the engine, particularly accompanied by power loss and stalling, probably means two of the following:

tem leakage. C. A defect in the body of the tire. 7. Your car suddenly develops a "sports car rap" and makes excess noise under the chassis. The cause is undoubtedly: A. A leaking exhaust system. B. The gasoline you're using is too powerful for your engine. C. Due to fibrilation, your engine is experiencing horsepower surge.

Some Important Pointers on . . .

Proper Tire Care

Proper tire inflation is essential. Underinflation causes extreme sidewall flexing, builds up excessive heat, and causes rapid wear on the tire tread's outer edges.

Overinflation causes tires to run hard, subjects them to damage and weakening of the carcass, and causes excessive wear in the middle of the tread.

Check your owner's manual for recommended tire pressure

• •

Inspect tire exterior regularly for excessive or abnormal wear, fabric breaks, and cuts Remove imbedded foreign matter.

> TUNE-UP for Safety

Add an extra three or four pounds of pressure to cold tires prior to long trips where you anticipate driving at sustained high speeds.

Replace tires when tread is thinner than 2 32 of an inch, or the "wear indicator" on the tire appears.

Use the "air loss" method of spotting a potential tire failure. A tire that loses three or more pounds of pressure in a week or less, when the others remain the same, should be removed and inspected.

Carry a spare tire that is properly inflated and in good condition.

Increased Car Safety and Smoother Ride Are Rewards of New Shock Absorbers

Standard operating procedure in many homes at this time of the year is installation of screens in windows and doors. It is the time to check hardware, tighten a few screws here and there and add a drop of oil where necessary.

You may find an adjustment needed in the door closer, too. A combination of wear on the plunger and the lighter screen insert makes the door close differently.

This plunger is not unlike the shock absorbers on your car, which may be showing signs of wear after the rigors of winter. Shock absorbers are, essentially, plungers.

As the plunger on your screen door is designed to resist the forces of the closer spring, allowing the door to close gently, so the shock absorber resists the tendency of the wheel on your car to hop

as it bounces off an obstruction in the road.

Maintain Status Quo

Shocks also keep the car's body from bobbing up and down like a rowboat at sea. The shock absorber's philosophy is to maintain the status quo; the wheels shouldn't hop and the body shouldn't bop.

Eventually, with age, a worn shock absorber loses its control of the situation. Instead of easing your wheels over bumps in the road, it lets them bounce, sometimes setting up an oscillation like a ball on a long rubber band.

If this only caused an uncomfortable ride, it would be bad enough. But there are other problems created by worn shocks. Most importantis the safety factor.

When the wheel is bouncing a few inches in the air, it cannot contribute much to the steering and/or braking of your car. During this short but critical period you are virtually out of control.

Worn Shocks, Higher Bills

Tires and suspension parts also take additional punishment when shocks lose their control. If a worn shock absorber permits these parts to suffer two or three rebounds after a bump, they will have taken double or triple punishment. You'll feel this in your repair bills sooner or later.

As a rule of thumb, any time after your shocks are two years old, they may be due for replacement. New ones will give your car a whole new lease on life. Think about it the nexttime you are driving over a bumpy road. Or better yet, before you do.

New Car Service Equipment Saves Time, Money

Mechanical Technicians Now Use Electronic Instrumentation To Speed Auto Repairs

In automotive service, necessity has literally become the mother of invention. New developments in service equipment and techniques have been brought about by a growing shortage of mechanics.

In 1960, there was one mechanic for every 60 cars. Today the ratio is over one to 90 and conservative estimates raise that figure to one mechanic for 120 cars during the present decade.

How to handle the increased load? The automotive service industry has come up with several approaches to the solution, not the least of which is improved facilities, from build### ing design to space-age equipment.

Electronic instrumentation, power equipment and specialized tools make it possible for mechanics to diagnose and correct car troubles in a fraction of the time it took just a few years ago. Imagine having four tires installed, wheels aligned and balanced . . . all during a lunch hour stopj

Some Repairs Routine

Accident repairs which would have been prohibitively expensive if not impossible, now are routine, thanks to impressive new equipment which scientifically "decrashes" the car. Electronic testing equipment makes it possible for a technician to analyze an engine's condition with extreme accuracy, pinpoint potentially troublesome components and put the car back into optimum performance condition in much less time actually, than the old fashioned "guess and replace" tune-up used to take. In the long run, such service is a true bargain, since the owner is paying for the parts and service he needs, yet no failure-prone components go overlooked.

The tremendous increase in the popularity of air conditioning in cars has added another dimension to automotive service. Whereas these units once were handled only by a limited number of specialists, many shops now offer air conditioning service.

Developments in tools and training techniques have made this possible.

New training facilities are being made available to service stations and repair shop personnel by car factories as well as by manufacturers of parts and services equipment. This promises to add to ranks of qualified service technicians needed today and in the future.

Easing the Load

Improved dissemination of, information on new models, available to all service personnel, means that most routine maintenance operations can be handled by literally hundreds of thousands of service stations, garages and other outlets throughout the country. This helps to ease the load on franchised car dealers who then are able to accommodate customers with special problems requiring their service facilities.

Equipment such as that in use at the Auto Club of Missouri's St. Louis diagnostic center takes the guess work out of car service. This machine checks ignition condition in a matter of minutes with complete accuracy. It's just one of the new tools available to technicians to help them do their work more quickly, accurately and at a lower cost to the motorist.

and consumed in the combustion process.

Federal Requirement

Evaporative control systems were required for new vehicles sold in California starting with the 1970 models. Their introduction, under federal requirements, on a national scale is the third big step auto makers have taken in the past decade to eliminate emissions as a factor in air pollution.

The first two steps were eliminating emissions from crankcase ventilation and reducing pollutants that emanated from the exhaust pipe.

On cars built prior to the introduction of emission controls in the early 1960's, 60 percent of hydrocarbon pollutants were traced to the exhaust pipe, 20 percent to evaporation and 20 percent to crankcase ventilation.

Pollutant Reduction

Improvements in the design of engine components and modification of many engine adjustments resulted in sizeable reductions of pollutants emitted through the exhaust pipe.

Hydrocarbons which were formerly released into the atmosphere from engine crankcases are now sealed and recirculated for burning in the combustion process. Cars of today are 60 percent more pollution free than those of 1964 and in a few years the internal combustion engine will be virtually non-polluting. But conscientious maintenance will still be needed to keep them that way.

ANTENNAE UP

On a long trip, radio reception can sometimes become weak or full of static. Putting up the antenna will usually improve the quality of reception.

New Anti-Pollution Devices Are Built Into '71 Cars

Starting with the 1971 models, all new cars sold throughout the United States feature fuel evaporative control systems to help reduce air pollution that may be caused by automobiles.

 20 percent of the total emissions of hydrocarbons from cars that do not have controls. Hydrocarbons, parts of fuel not burned in the normal combustion process, are released into the air by both the exhaust system and by evaporation from the fuel tank and carburetor.

The evaporated fuel, which formerly was vented into the atmosphere, now will be eliminated by a system which stores the vapors in the crankcase or in activated charcoal canisters until they can be drawn into the engine The motorist can now do his share towards obtaining cleaner air by maintaining his car.

BANG

The backfiring car almost seems a relic of bygone days. However, the modern car can backfire, too — especially when the fuel mixture is too lean and the engine cold. Other possible causes are sticky or leaky valves or ignition leakage. If your car backfires, take it to your favorite service outlet.

Good Care of Car

Trade-in Value Enhanced the While Safety, Operational Economies Are Assured the Owner By MICHAEL KELLY

Automotive Editor, Cleveland Plain Dealer Spending a little money on proper car maintenance actually can save you money in the long run. Sound confusing? Actually it isn't, and here's why.

If you have bought a shiny new car, naturally you want to keep it in proper shape, not only because it is safer to drive. but because eventually, if you're like most people, you will want to trade it in A well maintained car, according to both new and used car dealers, is worth more at trade-in time than a car which has not been properly maintained. In many cases the difference can be as much as several hundred dollars.

We love to see a car that's in good shape both inside and outside, and especially maintained well under the hood," said one new car dealer. "We give top dollar in trade on those cars and we just don't get enough of them.'

There's another good reason to keep a car maintained properly, and that's the warranty which came with your new car. While the provisions of warranties are different for each of the major auto companies, and may vary from year to year, all of them require periodic maintenance to keep the warranty in effect.

Seat belts save lives, but you have to use them to find out.

Watch Your Warranty This means that if something miljor goes wrong with your car and is covered by warranty, you don't have to pay for replacement of it But if you haven't taken the proper steps to keep the warranty up to date, you will have to pay for the repairs yourself - and that might turn out to be very costly.

In general the provisions of a warranty require routing maintenance at specified in tervals. This includes oil change and lubrication, plus checks of the various parts of the engine, such as the cooling system, generator, brakes and steering. A modern car is composed of many complicated parts. any of which might go wrong ( at any time. It just makes/ good sense to have things inspected, and minor work performed at regular intervals

Tune-Up Important

A smart motorist also gets an engine tune-up which includes new distributor points, spark plugs and condenser, at regular intervals Generally this interval is about every 10,000 miles.

Tires should be checked regularly for proper inflation and should be rotated for proper wear, usually every 12,000 miles or so

Many people have their tires checked, and rotated, about twice a year — usually when they put on or take of snow tires.

Incidentally we probably won't have any more snow until late this fall, so if you've still got snow tires on the wheels, it's a good idea to take them off now.

Keeping the outside of the car clean also is a good idea. In weather like this many people prefer to wash, and wax when necessary, themselves. Others prefer to use the services of a car wash.

Car Protected Either way the finish o the car is protected and will last that much longer and look nicer in the process. If you plan to keep your car for many years, and don't plan to trade it in, it makes 'even more sense to keep it maintained properly.

The car-conscious students at Northwood Institute in Midland, Michigan, held an auto show on their attractive campus. Northwood's interest in autos also extends to their unique curriculum aining automobile aftermarket executives, giving the industry a good source of manpower.

Helpstop pollution.

You can help. A recent tune-up clinic conducted by engineering students at the University of Michigan found that on average, a tune-up will reduce a car's exhaust pollution by 55%. So please. Take your car in for a tune-up. You'll have a better, smoother running, more economical car.

LINCOLN CO. PROBATE CLERK CARRIZOZO 88301 NEW MEXICO

A new concept; for enjoyable, carefree living

The small town of Carrizozo, New Mexico, continues to offer more and more for people who want to enjoy life with out a lot of worries, like heavy traffic, drug addicts, riots, vandalism, lots of strangers, smog, pollution, which go with living in the more thickly populated areas. The day may come when such worries could bother people living in Carrizozo but that day ough to be several decades off -- and with-good-luck-may-never-bother people here. The most recent new.

development in Carrizozo is an Intermediate Care Facility. The reason behind this new development may be different than you. are thinking.

First off, this new ICF is for people who just want to rest a spell. let others tend the year, prepare the meals, and do the chores that are part of taking care of your own place. If you just want to "get away" for a time, all you have to do is sign up at The Annex and you can be assured of a lot of peace and quiet -- for a month or a year. Maybe you want to retire from husiness but have no place to retire to. The Annex could be your headquarters, comfortable surroundings, friendly atmos-phere, while you take trips, go fishing, visitfriends, and anything else you may want to do. You will not be confined at The Annex. Could be you have a relative you would like have near you for an extended visit. What better place than The Annex. It i possible that you are alone in this world and just want to be near friends -- you will find a town full of friendly people in Carrizozo, while living at The Annex. This new Intermediate Care Facility, known as The Annex, is not a hospital, or even an old folk's home in any sense of the word. Hospital and medical facilities are close and available but that is not the purpose of The Annex. This facility is for people of all ages, young or old, beautiful mountain country. Anyone who is able to help take care of him or herself, be up and around, is eligible. Guests at The Annex are free to go to town, to visit friends and family or do what they like. You can pretty much be your own independent self at The Annex.

The grounds around The Annex are beautiful now and will be moreso as the plantings grow and spread and lawns develop. The interior of The Annex has so many builtin advantages it is hard to list them all. You almost have to take "the tour' to get the full-message.-

Brochures about this new facility may be obtained, by writing P.O. Box 705 in Carrizozo, or going to The Annex and getting them. They make a nice message to send to your friends.

The Annex in Carrizozo is all new -- also an "all new" concept; in comfortable living.

Let me preface my remarks by saying that I have made an honest attempt to study the problem, albeit superficially. Starting with the premise that complicated problems can sometimes be solved with simple answers, I have done some reading which I thought might enlighten me, I now find myself more confused but certainly more receptive and open-minded.

I t is easier to begin with the obvious and proceed to the more obtuse because t is easier to deal with the known than with the hypothetical. Therefore, let me comment on the unbelievable confusion and inefficiency that has resulted from the organizational and jurisdictional trichotomy in New Mexico public education.

It is inherently inefficient organizationally to run a public school system in which the State Department of Education. headed by an elected board, is autonomous from the governor. the Public School Finance Division and the legislature. It is inconceivable that public education has progressed or regressed, to its present point in New Mexico without attempting to alleviate this obvious inadequacy. To allow this triumvirate of overlapping, often warring bodies bodies continue to direct education in New Mexico without radical change is unimaginable! To allow the continuation of the seperation of policy and philosophy from that of planning and finance should not be tolerated. First, the State Board of Education should be appointed rather than elected, Only those qualified should be selected for this most important board,
