Ft. Worth firm to finish appraisal

Lincoln County Commissioners Don Stark, Charles Jones and Holt Lovelace met with Haskel Smith of the Department of Finance and a representative of the American Appraisal and Consultant Co. of Fort Worth Monday at the courthouse in Carrizozo.

Subject to approval of the Board of Finance and Property Appraisal Department in Santa Fe, the Fort Worth firm will be employed to complete the re-appraisal of Lincoln County for a fee of $175,851.00 less $35,000 for use of maps and materials done by Nelson & Associates, the firm originally employed to do the job.

The firm will prepare records of property ownership on all parcels of real property in Lincoln County. Will prepare a complete set of property ownership maps of the entire county, including thereon a property identification coding system. Will provide a new set of aerial photos of Ruidoso, Capitan and Hondo Valley area, showing section lines, property lines and block lines. Will prepare one set of cards on each parcel of property showing the appraisal information. Will prepare one set of index cards as required by the state, showing name, address, code number, property description and land and improvement value. Will provide uniform and equitable valuations of all lands and the improvements within the county.

American Appraisal will post a performance bond in the exact amount of the contract price. The first re-appraisal contractor was not required to post a performance bond. This company has completed Sandoval and Valencia Counties and are well along in Mora and Rio Arriba Counties at the present time. The company has agreed that no portion of the program will be sub-let. J. W. McMorrie, a native New Mexican, will be in charge of the re-appraisal in Lincoln County.

Lunch program continues thru April

Carrizozo board of education is making every possible effort to continue the existing hot lunch program to the end of the present school year and the decision was made at the Tuesday night meeting to continue the program, same as during the past 15 days, for the rest of April.

There are 30 days of school remaining, May 28 being the final day. Salaries from April 1 to April 15 amounted to 274.02 for the hot lunch program, cash received during this period was 241.02, leaving a cash balance of 980.52 as of April 15.

There has been a drop in the number of cash customers taking part in the lunch program in the past 15 days. The practice has been to carry some cash balance over into the new school year because reimbursement checks are always two months late, and the school has kept enough inventory on hand to start the new year.

More information on the lunch program will come along later. Other business included --- Accepted resignation of Minnie Herrera as Title I aid, employed Ann Means for remainder of year.

Supt. James Stejneger reported that all teachers have accepted offer of employment for the 1971-72 school year except Esther Ortiz, 4th grade teacher, who is returning to college.

Title I application approved as recommended by the Title I committee for next school year. Amount of $14,000 provides for half day of kindergarten, additional teacher aids, equipment and supplies for kindergarten.

Insurance discussed with faculty insurance committee making recommendations for changes and bidding.

Carrizozo seniors will go to Colorado Springs on their graduation trip.

Budget preparation discussed, including vocational money, re-appraisal, education program, in both elementary and high school.

Recommended salary schedule accepted with $6200 base, means an average raise of 2.74 percent or $185 per teacher.

Calendar adopted for next school year, school to start August 24, school completed May 25. In between will be Labor Day vacation September 6, teacher convention vacation October 21-22, Thanksgiving November 25-26, seven days out for Christmas, school starting again January 3. Washington birthday February 21, students and teachers have asked for week out at Easter time, April 3-7. School dress discussed with student visitors.

There were eleven students from student council, six teachers, principal and two visitors at the meeting.

Supt. Stejneger will attend the Vocational workshop in Las Cruces today.

Lincoln forest area closed to entry

A proclamation issued Monday by Regional Forester Wm. Hurst states that all national forest lands within the Lincoln National Forest are closed to entry except to persons having entry permits issued by a Forest officer. No permit required of actual settler going to or from home. The order became effective April 14.

Permits for entry may be obtained at ranger stations in Capitan, Ruidoso or Cloudercroft.

Fire danger in the forest is extremely critical and is presently at the highest level in many years.

Campgrounds and picnic areas will be closed and logging operations as well as most construction activities will not be permitted.

THE WAY OF THE West

Letter from Phillip J. Rasch, historian in Jacksonville, North Carolina, who has compiled the long list of violent deaths in Lincoln County, includes paragraph from Las Vegas Optic edition of June 19, 1882:

"Down in Lincoln they have queer notions of social breaches. George Washington, a colored fellow was lynched for the simple offense of running away with a Mexican girl." Mr. Rasch says the wording of this same report in the Las Cruces Republican was slightly different, which is a normal thing even in those times, where an editor notes a happening and rewrites it for his paper.

There's something to be said for religion -- more than 115,000,000 (that's 115 million) individuals maintain a formal affiliation with some religious group.

Would you call a guy a nut if -- he preferred fishing to sitting at home -- or watching a football game to working in the yard -- would rather go to church Sunday morning than play golf -- would rather play the piano than bowl -- likes ham and beans better than steak -- won't take a job like being secretary, even president, unless he plans to be there and work at it -- will admit that maybe his neighbor's yard is a bit cleaner than his own -- who really likes those old beat-up hats better than any new one. There aren't many, but there are a few nuts like that in town.

Interesting article in New Mexico Business, publication of UNM, about 'Contrasting attitudes toward land in New Mexico.' The purpose of the study was to measure the differences in Spanish-American and Anglo attitudes toward land in north-central New Mexico. The article is interesting because of the historical and cultural background material.

The article does not have any precise answers to the land problems -- best reason being that there are none. It closes with this paragraph, "Any government should consider the overall benefit of all its constituents, but that benefit is not always or necessarily achieved by developing every resource for everyone's use -- particularly true of depressed regions, which need help to overcome temporary difficulties."

Been reading the daily press about how dry things are in other sections of the country. We don't really figure it's dry in Lincoln County until we see the horned toads turning on the faucet with their teeth.

Talked to fellow Sunday who had quite a hassle of cows, said we'd been reading about how the state was dry. He remarked, "Ain't it about like this every year?" We always have some wind in March-April and that Otero County real estate starts moving up this way in spite of all the things we tell those people.

Humming birds are back in town, arrived last week at Gretchen Lindsay's boarding house and were over at Paytons by Sunday.

Us Paytons are enjoying a special guest in our home, just like a breath of Kansas air that was freshened in the valleys of New Mexico before it reached Carrizozo. The guest is Kathleen O'Donnell from Ellsworth, Continued On Back Page

The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District is sponsoring a meeting April 20th in Carrizozo to review Cholla Cactus control as a conservation measure. The meeting will be held in the Commissioners Room, County Court House, starting at 9:00 A.M.

Representatives of SCS, ASCS, BLM, State Land Office, and New Mexico State University have been invited. Several ranchers and contractors will also be present. Other ranchers and interested people are invited to attend and enter into the discussion.

Carrizozo Housing Authority was sworn in by Atty. Efrid Jones at the town hall Thursday. Chairman Fred Chavez on left, Dan Wright, Billy Means and Charlie Castillo. Other members, Bud Payne, was not present at this meeting. Application papers were signed at this meeting to move along a housing project for Carrizozo.

Housing authority appointed by Mayor Stearns

Carrizozo town council passed a resolution at its last meeting stating that there is a need for a Housing Authority in Carrizozo and permitting the mayor to appoint the members.

Mayor Johnson Stearns has acted on the resolution by appointing five persons to the Authority, Fred Chavez, chairman; Dan Wright, vice chairman; Charlie Castillo, secretary; Bill Means and Bud Payne, members. Four of the members were sworn in last Thursday and the application prepared to send to the Regional Housing Assistance Administration. The application requests that Carrizozo participate in a low rent public housing program. The program is intended to provide decent, safe and sanitary rental housing for low income persons. It is a non-profit setup and set up so as not to compete with private enterprise. It is locally controlled and operated and pays for itself over the finance period.

Financing is achieved through the sale of revenue type bonds by the local Housing Authority with the assistance of the Regional Housing Assistance Administration.

As to operation, first call on the rents is for the tax payments and management and maintenance cost, with debt service last. If there is an insufficient amount for debt service, it is made up by the government guarantee.

This type of housing was first brought before the town council by Joe Bill Pierce, representing Pierce, Pace & Associates of Midland. Mr. Pierce was asked about how the houses would be taken care of and how they would look after being used a few years. His answer was that such care was all up to the Housing Authority. It was their job to see that proper care was taken of the several houses, as many as 22 in the project.

The application has been made to the Area Housing Assistance Office. The next step will be a survey from statistical data and maybe a site inspection to determine the need that is not satisfied. When this is determined, a program reservation giving number of units and bedroom distribution is returned to the town.

Mr. Pierce told the Housing Authority and the council that there was a long waiting line of towns wanting such housing assistance and that it might be as long as two years before such a project would actually get underway here.

The Housing Authority can buy property, clear the ground, and if there are more than 20 units in the project they do not have to be all on the same site but may be in several different locations around town.

By request of their parents the names of these people are being withheld. Their job, washing car windows at stop on mainstreet Corona to raise money for class activities.

California couple writes home

I had a couple of very nice letters from Mr. and Mrs. Whitley in Atascadero, Calif. They have a nice home there and are enjoying their life. They described the country with the mammoth oaks and beautiful green country so nicely it made me long to go there for a visit. They said they had spent 15 years here in Capitan so do miss us and we do certainly miss them for certain, and had lived in New Mexico for 30 years. They find people there from New Mexico, Texas, Okla., Minn., Ark., and Nevada. So they do have lots in common and can enjoy visiting with them. There are lots of cattle and horses grazing the natural area of growth. They said more girls ride horses there than here. Their town is 18,000 and not incorporated. It is nestled in the hills with many old oak trees some mammoth in stature. They do not get snow there but did get 14 inches of rain there last year. They like their Nazarene Church there. One hundred attend each Sun. Though sometimes 116. They do enjoy that. They would enjoy their friends here writing them occasionally. Do write to them. It gives them cheer.

Mrs. Bill Littlefield and Mrs. Charley Engelking are trying to organize a Jr. riding club. All junior riders, 15 years or under, are invited to bring their horses and a picnic lunch to the Capitan Rodeo Arena on Sat. April 17 at 10 a.m. for a morning of fun. Capitan needs some kind of organized recreation for young people and what could be any more wholesome than a riding club. We urge you to come out and participate.

We had beautiful weather for Easter. There are butterflies of all colors that seem to be trying to express their joy. Ants of all types. Robins and meadow larks singing their songs and enjoying their baths under the spray. Even though it is dry, surely their story of Spring is true. I do want to believe it anyway. Therefore I am acting accordingly and working in the yard. To me that is very important. I do have to have nature's beauty with me for the year. I pray everyone feels it as I do. For it gives so much joy and happiness.

Extension Council works at problems

The Lincoln County Extension Advisory Council formed to work with the County Extension staff has recently completed three initial meetings.

This Council has been working to determine problems of people in the county and ways the Extension staff can assist in solving the problems.

The four program areas considered were Youth, Family Living, Agriculture and Community Development. The Council listed two problems in each area that were of major concern.

We need for more youth in 4-H work along with more 4-H leaders was recognized by the group as one of the most vital needs of the County. There were also valuable suggestions on enlarging the program.

In the agriculture area, marketing of agriculture products and Brucellosis control were of major concern. Information is needed on how the farmer and rancher can do a better job of selling his product.

In the Family Living program area, the two recommendations were that vocational education and training of the homemaker in providing a better way of life be provided.

Many program areas overlapped. After eliminating this overlap, preventing pollution along with basic first aid for people were the problems chosen for emphasis in the community development area.

The Council listed many other problems that will be considered before the Council's fourth meeting in November.

Members of the Council are: Father Kevin Moynahan, LaMoyné Peters, Nina Nelson, A. T. Pfingsten, George Sisneros, Bill Stephenson, Mrs. Paul Pacheco, Walt Wilson, A. W. Gnatkowski, Dr. James Beall, John A. Cooper, Bill Edgar, Mrs. Rogene Alford, Bud Bagley, Nancy Knight, Mrs. Clara Snow, Mrs. Fred Chavez and Dave Parks.

News And Notes
By Mary Ellen Payne

Every homemaker is aware of the money she spends for food. We all try to plan meals that will not only be economical but nutritious.

Studies have shown that on a nation wide basis the American diet needs more milk, fruits and vegetables added. We hear so many adults comment they don't drink any milk, that it concerns homemakers who know how essential milk is for a balanced diet.

With concern for the economy of family meals and also in an effort to put more milk in the diet, this recipe is offered. It includes not only fluid milk but Cheddar cheese. It is a main dish, that with a salad and hot bread would be a simple, complete menu.

The "Busy Woman's Cookbook" is the source of this delightful recipe. The book is by the Food Editors of Farm Journal.

Potato-Egg Supper
4 stripes bacon
4 cups diced cooked potatoes
6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can condensed cream of chicken soup
1 cup milk
1/8 tsp. oregano
1/2 tsp. onion salt
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
1/8 tbslp. instant minced onion
1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

Fry bacon until crisp; crumble. Brush 2 qt. casserole with drippings. Layer potatoes, bacon and eggs in casserole. Blend soup, milk, seasonings and onion; pour over potato mixture. Sprinkle cheese over top. Bake in moderate oven (375) for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

News from the County Agent

The involvement of Little Miss Muffett with the spider is well known to all lovers of nursery rhymes. But, how many of us appreciate that spiders are helpful creatures to have around the home and garden? They are not ugly and poisonous as some folks seem to think. If we took a vote, we would probably find that most people are afraid of spiders, or at least have a strong dislike for them. This fear usually dates from childhood, and is learned from parents, fairy stories, science fiction or old wives tales.

Spiders are classified as arthropods which are invertebrate animals with jointed legs, segmented bodies, and external skeletons. True spiders have eight legs.

The web spinning ability of spiders is a normal inherited trait. In fact, they inherit the ability to spin their webs in a particular form, which is different from those of other species of spiders. Because of this, you can tell what kind of a spider made the web without ever seeing him. Most spiders are shy creatures who wait for an unlucky insect to become entangled in their web. Very few are really aggressive hunters who stalk their prey. After capturing an insect, all spiders crush a portion of it in their jaws and inject it with a digestive juice. Then, literally suck the carcass dry.

Spiders are very abundant around your yard and garden. There may be thousands around the average home. This may not be a very pleasant thought, but since they are active mostly at night, we are unaware of the large numbers which are present. Because of the many insects they eat, some scientists believe spiders are more important than birds in controlling these undesirable pests. But you may ask, how about the poisonous spiders? Are they not dangerous to have around? Actually the hazard is very low. Almost all spiders are somewhat poisonous, but few are seriously so.

In the last 250 years in the entire United States, there have been fewer than 100 human fatalities caused by spiders. This includes many very old, very young, or unhealthy people, who were quite susceptible to arthropod venom. The number of deaths among healthy adults is extremely low.

As long as a spider is not handled roughly, it will not intentionally bite a person. They cannot see clearly beyond a few inches. As far as they are concerned, a human is a very large object to walk across, and is definitely not very edible.

And so, enjoy the beautiful design of the spider webs on your shrubs and garden plants. Thank these little creatures for the many insects they destroy. Let them help maintain the balance of nature and control some of the pests which would otherwise damage your flowers and vegetables.

Your chance of having a one-car accident are about four times greater when towing a trailer. You can improve the odds and make your vacation or business trip safer and happier by following these suggestions:

Install a strong, safe trailer hitch with stabilizers bolted or welded to the frame of your car or truck.

Put heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers on your car or truck if weight on the hitch is more than 100 pounds.

Check electrical systems on both car and trailer to make sure all lights are working properly.

Adjust outside mirrors to give you a good view to the rear on both sides of the trailer. Add extra-long mirrors if necessary. Take extra weight into account.

Add additional air to car or truck tires to prevent sidewalls from flexing. Underinflation causes tires to overheat, and increases the possibility of blowout.

Remember extra length. Allow more time to pass other vehicles.

Over 300 people at Sunrise Service

By Chaplain Kline

The glory of "1971 Four Chaplains Easter Sunrise" began at dawn, which was also "Easter Moonset" of the full moon, at Valley of Fires State Park at 5:55 a.m. These two great lights appeared to be resting at almost opposite points on the horizon.

Approximately 400 persons, below the three 16 foot crosses on Sunrise Hill, were aglow with the glory of God. The weather was warm and windless.

The sweet shrill sound of twin trumpets, turned all eyes to the east, as the ancient sun once more softly shot its beaming blessings across the crest of Carrizo Mountain. Richard Coca and Juanita Chavez of Carrizozo high school, brought beautiful harmony of music to the opening moments of this fourth annual dawn dedication.

Mark Sloan Jr. in his third year at New Mexico State, presided with a fine sense of appreciation for the overtones expressed in each event. He also offered the benediction prayer.

The Alamogordo high school mixed chorus arrived the night before, and rehearsed in the light of the early rising of the full moon. They slept on the rugs of rooms in Clegg Hall of Carrizozo high school, using their own bed rolls. Mattresses for the girls were sent from Captain. Supt. James C. Steineprels, met the six cars bringing the chorus at 7:30 p.m. and attended to every courtesy of hospitality.

This dedicated and fine spirited group, matched in our human way, the inspiration of the radiating light, coming from Carrizo. They sang, "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory." Many tape-recorders captured the living rendition by these 35 voices, under the direction of Don Thorp.

Tamye Roberts, Chaplain of Zia Assembly 47 of Rainbow for Girls in Roswell, read the "Very Early in the Morning" Easter Story from Luke 24:1-12. Mrs. Tony Genta, Past National Chaplain of the American Legion Auxiliary, offered the invocation prayer. Twelve young ladies from Carrizozo Rainbow and Choir from Captain, wearing poncho-type white gowns with large red crosses, sang the first verse of "Christ, The Lord Is Risen Today." All present sang the other three verses, Proclaiming the Sunrise

Sermon was the National Chaplain of the 1971 American Legion Auxiliary, the Reverend Mrs. Isadore Fox, from the state of Vermont. She referred to times in history when seeming defeat turned to final victory, especially that of Christianity, during and after the earthly life of Christ. She concluded with references to her own tortured resistance for 21 years to accepting the loss of her husband, Chaplain George L. Fox, as a final fact. She said, "We wanted him back." She added that her husband believed we do best when we accept what happens to us, but use it to carry forward the loving purpose of God. Several years ago she accepted this high purpose as her own. Abby Allen invited all to come to the Rock Room on the high bank above the once-red-river-of-white-hot-rock, now black and frozen-into-waves-of-stone. "Crown Thy Good With Brotherhood" was sung by all in conclusion.

Chaplain Alfred Kline, Sunrise chairman, said: "More than 100 cars plus 18 campers from 12 states, brought those who came to worship and thank God for what Christ has done, and can do, for each generation as they take their turns trying to produce heaven on earth."

Cowboy coffee was prepared by Billy Stephenson, Lee Straley and Hap Allen. Parking was handled by George White and Ed Breckhelsen. Three 16 foot crosses were erected by Hob Lucero and 11 boys from Camp Sierra Blanca at Ft. Stanton. Public address unit was loaned by Don Driver. Nona Breckhelsen arranged for 1,000 donuts. County newspapers, plus statewide papers, Legion paper and others, gave outstanding coverage of pictures and informative items.

Eleanor's sister, the finest cook in Ellsworth County and among the top five bridge players of that area as well as a loyal and foot-stomping type of Kansas University fan, Kathleen was a professor at K U at one time and happily got out ahead of the coming of the street people on the campus at Lawrence, Kansas.

Some tough questions come up with times get tough and feed scarce. Rancher named Paul Lackey in Torrance County was out of feed and wanted to burn cactus to make do for feeding his calves. Forest Service advised him he could not do that.

Lackey came to Atty. Elfred Jones in Carrizozo for advice as to his rights. Jones called Rep. Ralph Petty, who in turn called the governor's office. Sure enough a "no burn" order had been issued from the governor's office, working in conjunction with the State Land Commissioner and the Forest Service. Cactus has carried more than one rancher when dry weather struck -- but apparently not in these kind of times. Seems like most ranchers could accomplish the burning without endangering forest property -- the rancher has as much at stake as does that government agency.

Gov. Bruce King signed a highly controversial bill continuing the University Study Committee with a balance of nearly $24,000 remaining from the present appropriation.

King said in the 1970 election campaigns the USC had served its purpose. Sen. I.M. Smalley, D-Luna-Hidalgo-Sierra, was committee chairman in 1970. Rep. Richard Carabajal, D-Belen, was on the committee. The bill Gov. King signed was effective immediately because it contained the emergency clause.

King also approved a bill by Sen. C. B. Trujillo, D-Taos, extending from 1966 to 1972 the deadline for lawmakers and the lieutenant governor to join the legislative retirement plan and obtain credit for prior service by paying contributions for previous years.

The governor signed six bills by Senate President Pro Team R.C. Morgan, D-Curry-Roosevelt, improving public employe benefits in the Public Employes Retirement Association. A Morgan police and firemen disability retirement bill was also signed.

Gov. King signed a bill increasing Legislative School Study Committee members from seven to nine. The bill also makes the LSSC independent of the Legislative Council. Speaker Walter Martinez, D-Grants, named Reps. Carabajal and Hoyt Pattison, R-Curry, to the Legislative Council. Veteran legislator Pattison was reappointed. Martinez also renamed Rep. David Salman, D-Union-Mora-Harding, to the Legislative School Study Committee. Salman is House majority leader.

The speaker chose Reps. Alvino Castillo, D-Colfax, and Ralph Pruitt, R-Clovis, on the Insurance Regulation Committee. Pruitt is an insurance agent. Senate members of the Legislative Council include Majority Leader Tibo Chavez, D-Belen, Morgan and Aubrey Dunn, D-Lincoln-Otero. Chavez and Morgan were reappointed. Senate members of the Legislative Finance Committee include Trujillo and Smalley. Trujillo was reappointed. Smalley is Senate Finance Committee chairman. The post automatically qualifies him for the LFC.

Atty. Gen. David Norvell, Clovis Democrat, asked President Richard M. Nixon to order total, complete and immediate withdrawal of all combat troops from Southeast Asia. Young Norvell's strongly worded letter to the President said under no circumstances should U.S. involvement extend beyond next December 31.

Gov. King appointed Filo Sedillo of Belen as district judge for the new Judicial District 13 of Valencia and Sandoval Counties. Sedillo, longtime Valencia County Democratic chairman, was chief assistant district attorney of former Judicial District 2 of Valencia, Bernalillo and Sandoval counties.

Sedillo, 61, helped King to carry Valencia County in the 1970 general election. King was president of the 1969 state constitutional convention. Sedillo was a convention vice president.

Gov. King named Norman D. Bloom Jr., Alamogordo lawyer, as district attorney for the new Judicial District 12 of Lincoln and Otero Counties. Bloom is a law partner of Rep. George Fettingler, D-Alamogordo.
