

A new concept; for enjoyable, carefree living

The small town of Carrizozo, New Mexico, continues to offer more and more for people who want to enjoy life with out a lot of worries, like heavy traffic, drug addicts, riots, vandalism, lots of strangers, smog, pollution, which go with living in the more thickly populated areas.

The day may come when such worries could bother people living in Carrizozo but that day ought to be several decades off -- and with good-luck-may-never-bother people here.

The most recent new development in Carrizozo is an Intermediate Care Facility. The reason behind this new development may be different than you are thinking.

First off, this new ICF is for people who just want to rest a spell, let others tend the year, prepare the meals, and do the chores that are part of taking care of your own place, if you just want to "get away" for a time, all you have to do is sign up at The Annex and you can be assured of a lot of peace and quiet -- for a month or a year.

Maybe you want to retire from business but have no place to retire to. The Annex could be your headquarters, comfortable surroundings, friendly atmosphere, while you take trips, go fishing, visit friends, and anything else you may want to do. You will not be confined at The Annex.

Could be you have a relative you would like have near you for an extended visit. What better place than The Annex. It is possible that you are alone in this world and just want to be near friends -- you will find a town full of friendly people in Carrizozo, while living at The Annex.

This new Intermediate Care Facility, known as The Annex, is not a hospital, or even an old folk's home in any sense of the word. Hospital and medical facilities are close and available but that is not the purpose of The Annex. This facility is for people of all ages, young or old, who need or want a home in beautiful mountain country.

Anyone who is able to help take care of him or herself, be up and around, is eligible. Guests at The Annex are free to go to town, to visit friends and family or do what they like. You can pretty much be your own independent self at The Annex.

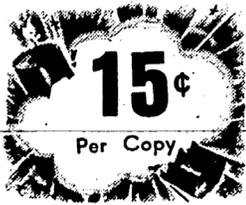

The grounds around The Annex are beautiful now and will be more so as the plantings grow and spread and lawns develop. The interior of The Annex has so many built-in advantages it is hard to list them all. You almost have to take "the tour" to get the full message.

Brochures about this new facility may be obtained by writing P.O. Box 705 in Carrizozo, or going to The Annex and getting them. They make a nice message to send to your friends.

The Annex in Carrizozo is all new -- also an "all new" concept in comfortable living.

Several business changes in Zozo

The business scene in Carrizozo continues change a little from time to time. Right now there is new management of three local business places.

David Ortiz has taken over the management of the Chevron Station, to be known as David's Chevron. He has Bunny Osorio, Louie Montano and Billy Ortiz as helpers. Sally Ortiz will continue with the bulk distributors-ship.

Robert and Margaret Sully, recently of Elmhurst, N.Y., are the new owners of Sands Motel. They are now engaged in putting in a camper and trailer park as part of the motel-setup.

George and Leona Hinds have taken over management of the Diner of US54 South. The Hinds have operated a truck stop at Alamogordo for a number of years. This business will go under the name of Leona's Diner.

Phillip Ortiz has taken over management of the Malpais Grocery with Bea Ortiz and Alice Oroscio as helpers.

Revenue Service snafus $157,951

An incident occurred in the Lincoln County District Court clerk's office this week which disturbed Clerk Edward Penfield no end, and at the same time cast a bad light on the legal ability of the Internal Revenue Service.

An amount of $157,951.64 was involved. No necessarily a small matter.

The story started back in March of 1971 when the Ruidoso State Bank filed an interpleader suit asking the District Court for release from obligations of escrow agreement whereby Newco Industries was to purchase the defendant Gene Hensley's interest in Ruidoso race track for total purchase price of $1,513,590.00.

Subsequent to this action the Ruidoso State Bank paid into the District Court fund the sum of $451,166.85 pending determination as to disposition of this tender. Shares of stock were also delivered to Clerk Penfield for safe keeping, amount not known because Penfield has not opened this envelope.

A lawyer representing the Internal Revenue Service presented himself at the District Court office in Carrizozo Monday and handed Penfield a Notice of Levy, made out to Lincoln County Clerk, Courthouse, Carrizozo, N.M. Penfield told him the Notice was made out to the wrong party, so the lawyer went out, pretty soon returned and again handed Penfield the Notice, this time made out to United States District Court.

Again Penfield told him the Notice was made out to the wrong party, that it should be made out to the Lincoln County District Court. When this was done, by Penfield, he accepted service of the certificate and signed his name, Edward Penfield, Clerk of Court, 6/28/71, 1:32 p.m.

At this time Clerk Penfield informed the lawyer that this Notice was strictly not in form, no way it could be honored, that the Federal Courts do not run the Lincoln County District Court.

There is only one way for the Internal Revenue Service to secure proper service of its Notice of Levy and that is to have their attorney intervene in the case before the court, file proper pleadings and take its turn when District Court convenes to hear the interpleader action.

As matters now stand, the District Court fund still has the $157,951.64 which the Internal Revenue Service hopes to acquire for unpaid tax balance they figure is owed by Eugene V. and Frances Hensley.

The Notice of Levy listed three items, 12/31/69 of $43,825.42; 12/31/70 of $25,065.84; and 6/24/71 of $89,052.88, with no statement of consequence to a court of law as to why said court should surrender an amount of $157,951.64.

Carlsbad -- In an effort to bolster the economy of southeastern New Mexico, the Eddy County commissioners have scheduled a meeting at Artesia July 7 to discuss the potential of the feeder calf industry in the area.

The meeting, held in Central Valley Electric, will open at 10 a.m.

Inside THE CAPITOL

by Fred Buckles

(Fred Buckles is on vacation. House Majority Leader David Salman, D-Union-Mora-Harding is guest columnist for Inside the Capitol this week. Rep Salman chairman of the Legislative School Study Committee.)
By Rep. David Salman

All of us know what's wrong with our schools today.

In fact, the easiest way to start a conversation, or indeed an argument, is to mention the schools. The responses will vary with the number of people present.

I, too, thought I knew what was wrong with public education in New Mexico, but the more I have thought about it, the more difficult I realize the question is to answer.

I have come to the conclusion that there are not and cannot be any pat definitive answers.

However, by avoiding specifics and speaking in broad generalities, I think I can articulate one of the more obvious problems with education in our state and briefly offer a possible remedy.

Let me preface my remarks by saying that I have made an honest attempt to study the problem, albeit superficially. Starting with the premise that complicated problems can sometimes be solved with simple answers, I have done some reading which I thought might enlighten me, I now find myself more confused but certainly more receptive and open-minded.

It is easier to begin with the obvious and proceed to the more obtuse because it is easier to deal with the known than with the hypothetical. Therefore, let me comment on the unbelievable confusion and inefficiency that has resulted from the organizational and jurisdictional trichotomy in New Mexico public education.

It is inherently inefficient organizationally to run a public school system in which the State Department of Education, headed by an elected board, is autonomous from the governor, the Public School Finance Division and the legislature. It is inconceivable that public education has progressed or regressed, to its present point in New Mexico without attempting to alleviate this obvious inadequacy.

To allow this triumvirate of overlapping, often warring bodies continue to direct education in New Mexico without radical change is unimaginable! To allow the continuation of the separation of policy and philosophy from that of planning and finance should not be tolerated.

First, the State Board of Education should be appointed rather than elected. Only those qualified should be selected for this most important board.

Bank and Fire Dept. tied for lead

Merchants 23
Ft. Stanton 19

It took two Marcos and a Ron to pull it out at Ft. Stanton. The Merchants, trailing after 5 innings 17-12, made 11 runs at the top of the 6th to bring victory home with the final score being 23-19. Fine Coaching by Marcos Villosco, Marcos Barela, and Ron Gambo.

Bank 9
Fire Dept. 6

It was a big win for the Bank on Friday since they had been tied twice in the past two weeks by a fine Fire Dept. Team. The Bank took what they said was an easy win by a score of 12-9. Coach Morales said he had to give a lot of credit to his infield. He has been told that he has the best.

Saturday 7
Fire Dept. 3
Ft. Stanton 6

Ft. Stanton lost a mighty close one to the Fire Dept. Team by a score of 7-6. They were some good defensive plays and that is why the score of 7-6 has been the lowest in the past three weeks. Nice improvement KIDS!

Merchants 9
Bank 6

The Mighty Bank lost their second game of the season to the scrappy team of the Merchants. The game was called off after four innings because of darkness. But not before the Merchants had scored 5 runs in the 1st, 2 in the 2nd, and 2 in the 3rd, to go on to win by a final score of 9-6.

Lots of tears at these games but the KIDS shouldn't be ashamed. That's Desire.

Carrizozo Rotarians profited considerably during the year J. E. Thornton was president of this club. There were 12 members when he took over a year ago -- now there are 19. The club had cash on hand of $359 a year ago -- now it has $736, and this after spending chunks like $250 on the Scout bus, Boys State, Junior Bowling, Sun Princess, Sunrise Services, and other things. In addition there was good fellowship every week with J.E. at the helm. That's a pretty good record.

At the last meeting presided over by President Thornton the Rotary Club voted to supply playground equipment for Spencer Park.

Fun and music of the late 20s and 30s was being remembered with considerable enjoyment by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wettstein and Buster Smoot last week. Bill played clarinet, Buster the drums, with the Gus Linn band of Roswell back in the days when they would leave town at noon to get to a dance, maybe in Roswell, Encino, Duran, Carrizozo, White Oaks or other places in the area. $5.00 pay for the trip and the music was pretty good, and there were times playing on a percentage it would not go that good. Buster remembered coming home from Encino with bass drum tied on side of Model T and they had to go through herd of cattle, a bull stuck his horns right through the drum head. Louise Coe played piano with this group and the Wettsteins went from Carrizozo to visit her in the Hondo Valley. Elmer Hest played bass fiddle, and Ernest Key was another old friend they visited here. The Wettsteins live in Aurora, Oregon.

Swiped from Duffy -- He who hesitates is not only lost -- he's miles from the next freeway exit.

The difference between a farmer and a gentleman farmer is that the latter is spared the harrowing details.

One thing you can say for a moth, he doesn't mind taking a back seat.

All men are born equal -- the tough job is to not grow it. From Dubleigh Sartin: A blow-out can make a man late to the office in the morning, especially if it was the night before.

A bachelor is a man who wipes lipstick off with his own handkerchief.

This one for Bill Wettstein -- The man in the upstairs apartment yelled to the man downstairs: "If you don't stop playing that clarinet, I'll go crazy."

"Too late now," the other fellow yelled back. "I stopped playing an hour ago."

Some people dance for rain, some beat on tubs, or send up smoke, but Brack Cornet goes to Church (how much he paid the preacher is his own business.) Dry spell has been a little long and Brack hasn't been there for that length of time but he went last Sunday -- and what do you know, it rained a good half inch on his ranch country.

After reading four Kansas newspapers we know they had a good wheat harvest with the yield averaging 30 to 40 bushel per acre area. An inch or two of rain (up to five inches) stopped them few days but did not hurt the crop. Cash market for wheat at Bucklin was $1.32 last week, mto $2.42.

Postmaster Fred Chavez going to the change-over ceremonies in Frisco

A Postal Service Day ceremony for the new Western States Postal Region will be held today, July 1, in San Francisco, Calif., at the Sheraton Hilton Hotel.

Invitations have been extended from the San Francisco Regional Office to all Sectional Center postmasters in the region, to selected major associate office postmasters, and certain other leaders in postal management organization.

Fred Chavez, Postmaster of Carrizozo Sectional Center, will attend this ceremony.

There will be a closed-circuit television broadcast at 5:00 p.m. showing the Postal Service Day ceremonies which will be held at headquarters in Washington Thursday. From 6 to 8 p.m. a reception will be held with a table designated for each of the 13 states in the Western Region. Fred will travel by plane, will be quartered at the Sheraton Hilton Hotel and will return Friday or Saturday.

On July 1 the United States Post Office Department will fade into history after nearly 200 years of service to the American people. Its place will be officially taken by a new organization, the United States Postal Service, an independent establishment of the government formed to meet the changing needs of our growing society.

Providing better, faster, more dependable mail service will be the goal of the Postal Service in the months and years ahead. Already plans are being initiated for a major mechanization program to streamline mail processing and special delivery.

About half of her 22 years in the clerk's office has been as county clerk. No elections races were even very close, as Inice remembers the several campaigns.

The work load in the clerk's office continues to increase, for two reasons, more government paper work required and more people in the county. They used to do much more recording using a typewriter than now. Photo copies have taken the place of much of the typing work.

Mrs. Hust said she had no special plans, except to stay home and be a housewife a while.

instead of piercing and damaging them. This is recommended for all knit fabrics as well as the nylon tricot.

Thread should be 100% polyester, polyester and cotton, nylon, or a silk thread on very fine tricot.

These are just a few of the things you will want to know about sewing lingerie at home. The undercover story is not complete until you try a garment yourself.

"What's your son going to be when he gets out of college?" "I'm not sure," was the reply. "But from the letters he writes home, I'd say he's going to be a professional fund raiser."

"Just For Fun"

Mr. Green was trying to enjoy the movie, but the two women behind him were carrying on an endless conversation.

"Excuse me, ladies," Mr. Green said politely, turning around, "but I can't hear a word."

"Listen, mister," answered one of the women, "what we're talking about isn't any of your business."

News and Notes

The latest in home sewing is an "underworld story" - lingerie. Have you been thinking about all those lovely, colorful underthings that add so much to your feminine feeling? Making garments may be the answer for you.

Sewing lingerie is easy and fun. You can select luxurious fabrics and stylish patterns to make your own unique lingerie wardrobe.

There are many patterns available from all major pattern companies. For economy select a pattern that offers several styles and garments. Fabric choices are: Nylon tricot knit, Woven nylon, Brushed nylon tricot, Woven lining fabrics and cotton.

Lingerie made at home can be very economical or quite expensive depending on the trim of the garment. Lace trim can be expensive. Watch for sales of notions and purchase when it is a good buy. Also, keep an eye on the remnant table at your favorite fabric shop, often enough lace to trim a garment shows up there at considerable saving.

As for all home sewing, lingerie sewing requires good tools for the job. Be sure shears are sharp. Ballpoint pins and needles are recommended for knits; the ballpoint pins or needles slip between the yarns.

Big parade on Sunday at 11:30

July Fourth parade will start Sunday at 11:30 a.m. They are giving away 8 trophies and $50. Lets make this parade the biggest success ever. There will be three rodeos, Friday night July 2, Sat. night and Sunday afternoon. Do come and enjoy your selves in the cool of our good climate.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Amaratone have their new garage and storage room built and in use. They are hoping it will rain so that they can start a lawn. They have everything ready for the planting but the shortage of water they have decided to wait until it rains.

This Monday morning our area is murky with smoke which is said to be coming in from the Pecos, N.M. forest fire. It was stated it has burned 6000 acres to date and the town of Pecos is in danger. It certainly must be a bad fire to have the smoke this far. Not funny and my sympathy goes to that area. Our country too is so very dry that a match and lightning could set it a fire.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pepper are preparing their home in readiness for their return this week from the Lakeview Christian Home in Carlsbad where they had lived for several months. All of us will help them live and do all that is possible to keep them happy.

We had two tenths of an inch of rain Saturday afternoon from out of a clear sky and unexpected and how we did appreciate it. Sunday night lase we had one tenth of an inch and that too we did appreciate.

Ruidoso has had several good showers of rain during several days. Sunday it was spotted. In Carrizo Canyon there was a light shower Sunday. Then in the Air port area.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred English of Carrizo and Dr. and Mrs. Frank English of Roswell spent last Sunday with their father Mr. Frank English on the Bonita and they all enjoyed dinner at the High Country Lodge Restaurant. Mr. Raymond Byne of El Paso, brother of Mrs. Birdie Pierce passed away Saturday and was laid to rest there Tuesday.

AMBUSH

of Captain Henry Whiting Stanton

BY FREDRIKA POWELL

WE WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY JULY 5

Two young captains, already well seasoned in Indian Territory, and with a combined force of 180 men, met just east of the Sierra Blanca Mountains in southeastern New Mexico. There, at the junction of the Bonto and Hondo rivers, they encamped January 13, 1858.

Capt. Richard S. Ewell — fondly called "Old Baldy" but with a bushy beard — had been two years the senior of Capt. Henry Stanton at West Point. Ewell was in command. Both men were under orders from Brigadier General John Garland to hunt down the Mesquero Apaches in their own haunts.

An alarming number of Indian raids on both Mexicans and Americans had decided Governor Meriwether to abandon all former policies for sterner measures. The Mesqueros stood at the top of his list. The latest report to come to his attention, accused this tribe of stealing along the Pecos river — what he didn't know until two years later, was that many of the raids had on the doorstep of the White Mountain Mesqueros, actually belonged with renegade tribes located south and west of the Sierra Blanca.

Ewell, stationed at Los Lunas, was under orders to travel east to the Rio Pecos, pick up the Indian's tracks — which proved futile — and then head west. Stanton and his company of the First Dragoons, stationed at Fort Fillmore, on the Rio Grande, traveled east across the desert and up through the mountain passes. The combined companies then headed south, skirting the east side of the mountains until they reached the Rio Penasco.

With Ewell was a young dragoon, James A. Bennett. He kept a diary which gives a first hand account of the following days:

Jan. 18 Moved up the river Camped in a ravine. . . 11 o'clock at night a dozen rifles cracked and a score of arrows came flying into our camp. The dry grass was set on fire around us. . .

Jan. 19 On the mountain in front of us at daybreak appeared about 100 warriors. They were dancing around a fire, "hallooing" and seemed to be daring us on. . . The main body of troops moved up the stream and small parties of Dragoons kept charging out after parties of Indians. A running fight was kept up until 4 o'clock, when we encamped.

Another version goes like this: Capt. Stanton with 12 men rushed up a deep ravine. The Indians in ambush fired upon him. He fell, a ball having passed through his forehead. One private soldier also was killed. . . The horse of one man fell wounded. The Indians gathered around him and filled the rider's body with arrows. Those in camp. . . ran to the rescue. . . had a hard fight. . . when the red men fled. We picked up the dead and brought them to camp. . . The dead bodies were buried and fires built over the graves to obliterate all marks of the burial place. (This action is thought to have occurred in James Canyon close to the present village of Mayhill.)

Jan. 21 Went up the river. . . Animals are dying fast, 8 to 12 per day. It is nothing but snow and ice. . .

Jan. 23 Turned back yesterday. Came to where we buried Capt. Stanton and the two men. Found the bodies torn from the grave; their blankets stolen; bodies half-eaten by wolves; their eyes picked out by ravens; their bones picked by ravens and turkey-buzzards. Revolting sight. We built a large pile of pine wood; put on bodies; burned the flesh; took the bones away.

(Back again at Ft. Fillmore, Bennett writes: "We rode into the fort. Mrs. Stanton, the Captain's wife, stood in the door awaiting her husband. If a person had one drop of pity, here he could use it. Poor woman! She asks for her husband. The answer is evaded. An hour passes. Her smiles are fled. Her merry laugh is turned to sighs, and tears stain her cheek. Him she loved, she never more shall behold."

(A later entry in the diary reads: Mar. 19 . . . Came upon the Rio Ruidoso and followed it down to the junction of Rio Bonita, which we followed upstream for 20 miles. Arrived at an encampment of United States soldiers, 300 men under the command of Lieut. Col. Dixon S. Miles. They are here for the purpose of building a fort to be called Fort Stanton in commemoration of the Captain who was killed three months ago. General John Garland selected the site for the fort today. The officers all got drunk."

Just where this site was located has not been established, but is believed to have been within a few miles of the present location which apparently dates from 1868.

Fort Stanton, just three miles south off the highway between Capitan and Lincoln, with many of the old stone buildings still in use, is today a branch of Los Lunas State Hospital and Training School for the Mentally Retarded.

Note: There exist at least two accounts identifying the Indian leader of the "running fight." Eve Ball, in her book entitled "Ruidoso" states: "Ewell reported that the band was led by Cuchillo Negro, whom he obviously thought to be a Mesquero. The Apache account of this incident is that Nana, a Warm Springs chief was in command, and that Cuchillo Negro was one of his head men. This version is given by James Kaywaykia, grandson of Nana, who received the story from Nana and others of his braves.

Cancer researchers in Colorado expect to harvest between 100,000 and 200,000 stalks of the yuca plant within the next few weeks to get the two to four million yucaflowers needed to produce an extract being used as an anti-cancer agent.

The yucaflowers will produce about 300 grams or 10 ounces of extract after being ground up and put through a distillation process.

Researchers at the American Medical Center at Denver have reported the extract to be effective on two types of mouse tumor, without the side-effects of current anti-cancer drugs. Similar research is also being carried on by a staff of scientists in Florida.

Second, the State Finance Department's Public School Finance Division should be joined with the Department of Education so that finance can be related to philosophy and planning, stopgap second guessing in the educational area and playing politically expedient games with the educational process.
New Mexico needs one cohesive, consolidated and coordinated Department of Education, directed by a highly qualified board, and staffed by people of wisdom and imagination in areas of finance, philosophy and planning. The legislature should provide this agency with the necessary monetary tools to carry out its designated task -- that of educating our children.
This is the obvious goal that our committee and the state should strive to reach. Unpopular though it may be, unreachable and seemingly impossible to attain, it is in this direction we as a committee have decided to focus our long-range efforts and energy.
If we can accomplish the essential reorganization which I have suggested previously, then it logically follows that we must do something about the 89 autonomous school districts which now exist. Admittedly, the concept of a statewide school system is politically unacceptable, but we must face the reality of the present untenable situation and consider other alternatives.
It is impossible to carry out rational long-range planning, define goals, establish fiscal consistency and develop an overall educational philosophy within the present fragmented framework.
We, as a committee, have decided on three immediate goals, and also to continue our study and interest in textbooks, preschool and bilingual programs, vocational education and school finance.
Our three immediate goals are to study and make recommendations to the legislature concerning year-around schools, special education and the New Mexico Activities Association. We will also study school insurance costs for the first time as a committee and make recommendations to the Legislative Insurance Study Committee.

Suggestions and recommendations from the public, legislators and educators would be welcome at any time on any of these subjects. Our meetings are open to all and we appreciate hearing from those who attend.

A Thank You
To Carrizozo Community
From Curly and Lois Burns and Dolly Ward

It has been a pleasant experience working with Carrizozo people and have appreciated your business and friendship during the past ten years. Dolly has been with Paden Drug Store for 27 years and is retiring this month.
We want to welcome the new owners of Paden Drug Store, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sanchez and family to the Carrizozo community. We recommend them and know you will like this new family. May their business relations and success be fully as good as we have enjoyed.
Again, we say thanks to everyone.
Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Burns
