Historic district ordinance passed

A crowd of around thirty people attended the hearing on the Lincoln County Historic District Ordinance held in the courthouse Friday by the county commission.

At the conclusion of the two hour hearing the ordinance was passed by unanimous vote of the commission.

The only feature of the ordinance that really needed clarification by the commissioners and Atty. Bill Payne who drew up the ordinance, was in reference to White Oaks. This ordinance does not apply to White Oaks, only the Old Lincoln Town area.

Chuck Wetzel told the commission that White Oaks wants the same ordinance to apply to White Oaks. The answer to this request came at the end of the meeting when Chairman Don Stark, chairman of the commission, appointed Walt Jones of Capitan as chairman of a committee to set out what White Oaks wants in the way of an ordinance. Four committee members will be elected by White Oaks people to serve with Jones.

Robbie Crenshaw thought the White Oaks boundaries took in too much ground, but these will be up to the new committee.

Leland Stone, Ruidoso attorney, questioned wording of paragraphs four and five. They will be reworded somewhat so that action required on proposed exterior construction and new businesses will be the same.

Elmer Parelli pointed out that this ordinance is the way a majority of Lincoln people want it to be.

J. G. Red Ramey entered into discussion of buildings now in Lincoln. Clark Pfingsten read letter he had prepared on architecture in Lincoln, pointing out that no pattern was followed over the construction years and many variations resulted.

Harvé Abercrombrie said he thought a historic ordinance for Fort Stanton was equally important. Stark said the commission would look into it.

Otero Road To Be Widened

Jack Kannady reported information that the road from Mescalero to Tularosa was to be widened right away and that one old church would be wiped out. Something ought to be done to preserve that historic building.

Some talk of who in White Oaks could vote to elect their ordinance committee. Leroy Aker asked if cemetery lot owners would qualify as property owners. Answer, they should.

Old Lincoln buildings not like they were in 1885

By Clark Pfingsten

Stated purpose of ordinance is misleading. Has nothing to do with promoting or protecting public welfare of Lincoln County. Looks to me like an added hazard to welfare of Lincoln County.

As to preserving buildings that have historic significance, the state presently owns a good part of such buildings in Lincoln. To my mind, preserve has to do with protecting from harm, in a sense to hold intact in shape or other features of distinction.

For your information, the state's own administrators of these properties have so altered the features of the buildings presently in their charge that it is foolish to use the word preserve. Not to mention the fact that there is not one building in Lincoln that could be recognized by its colonial or territorial picture!

In a word, we are about 75 or 80 years too late to preserve any historical buildings! I know there are certain ones of the come-lately tribe that have fixed in their mind's eye a certain type building as being representative of the period in question. Such features as entrance door with small window strip on either side and perhaps even a transom over the door. There certainly were a number of these.

But, the one dominant feature of the period is only a hazy memory. That is the flat mud roof. I seriously doubt that there were ever (before 1885) more than two or three houses with any other kind of roof!

Likewise the favoring of adobe or appearance of adobe in new construction to develop appropriate setting for historic buildings. Here too, the thinking is being done by the come lately tribe. Matter of fact is that the jacal or pole picket house was as common or even more plentiful than adobes. While rock walls generously bedded with adobe mud were not scarce.

While another feature entirely overlooked is mud floors. Who wants them? Yet, for all that, they were very serviceable, easily repaired, exceedingly common and uniquely distinctive.

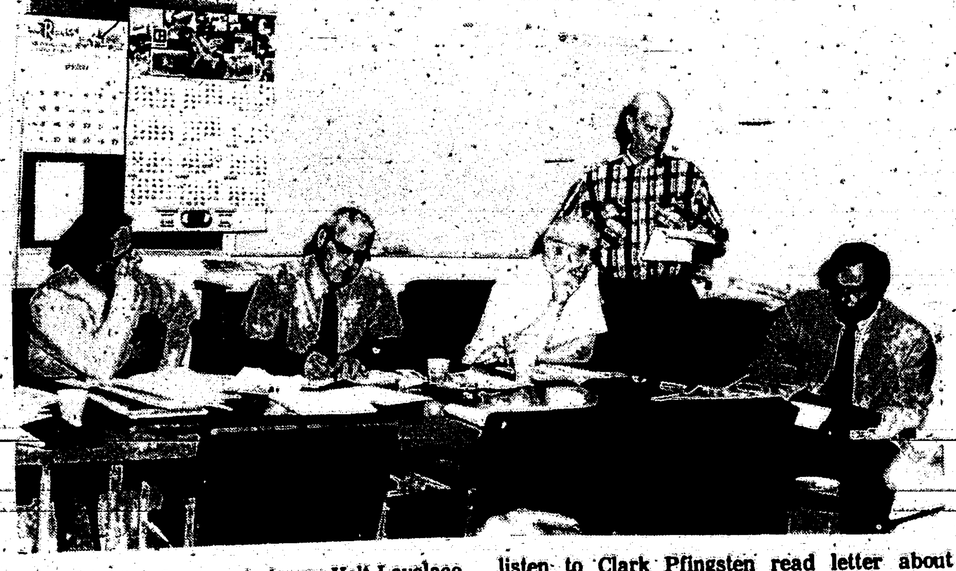
What I am driving at is, who is to say what shall be the correct features to distinguish Lincoln from its beginning to about 1885? For most people of the present time assume that houses always had windows and doors, wood floors, shingle or tin roofs. When the fact is that great alterations have continually been made from floor to roof.

As proof of my contention, nearly all the older houses still have their mud roof under their shingle, tin or tarpaper roofs.

Now then, if the State of New Mexico is unable or unwilling to preserve those buildings now in its charge, but continually add new rooms and other alterations that were not there even 50 or 60 years ago, then by the same token the whole ordinance falls apart for lack of definition.

Therefore it is null and void and of no effect. For how can we develop an appropriate setting for these historic buildings, when these have been altered continually from their erection to the present time?

True, there are are a few small features of the ordinance that should appeal to all of us, such as size and components of billboards, removal of junk, new business limitations. But the restrictions otherwise as to construction on private land or change of use of the land is of no concern to anyone, except for general rules of maintaining a public nuisance or other encroachment on the rights of others.



Lincoln County commissioners Holt Lovelace, Don Stark, Charles Jones and Atty. Bill Payne listen to Clark Pfingsten read letter about historic buildings at Old Lincoln Town.

A second man appeared from the back of the car, puffing and complaining, "What's the big idea?" he asked, "I'm pushing my car to a gas station, and you're the third quick thinker I've met in the last two blocks!"

How Scouting began:

Have you heard the story of how scouting began and how it came to this country? It's an interesting one, beginning in South Africa in the early 1900's.

A young British army officer, Robert Baden-Powell, was stationed in the wild South African country to train new soldiers from England in the skills of tracking, trailing, and wilderness living.

He found that his men were so used to city living that they could not stand the vigorous life of the outdoors. He recalled his own early days, his love of nature and outdoor living. He remembered tracking wild boars and tigers in the jungle; hunting wild buffalo, elephants and rhinos in West Africa and the Sudan.

Remembering his own training, he worked out a series of games and activies to make his men physically strong, self-reliant, and able to live comfortably in the wilderness. The men enjoyed these games and quickly became skilled. The idea soon went back to England. There, boys picked it up, and started to practice scouting for themselves.

When General Baden-Powell returned home to England he was persuaded to develop his idea into a great game for boys. He studied many organizations, like those of Dan Beard and Ernest Thompson Seton in the United States. In 1907 he took a group of twenty boys to camp on Little Brownsea Island, off the coast of England to try out the new program. That was the first Boy Scout Camp. In 1908 he published the first Boy Scout handbook, Scouting for Boys.

How Scouting Came To America:

It was on a very foggy day in 1909, that William D. Boyce, an American publisher, was searching for an address in Old London. All day long the city had been covered with a heavy fog. Street lights had been turned on before noon. Now night was coming on, and it was almost impossible for the stranger to find his way.

Mr. Boyce was surprised when a boy approached and asked if he might be of service. He told the boy where he wanted to go, and was more surprised when the boy saluted him, and said "Come with me, sir."

Upon reaching the address, Mr. Boyce reached into his pocket and offered the boy a shilling. He was more surprised than ever when the boy refused it.

"No thank you, sir. I am a Scout. Scouts do not accept tips for good turns."

"Good turns? Scouts?" asked Mr. Boyce. "What are the Scouts?"

The boy told him, and showed him the way to Baden-Powell's office nearby. There, Mr. Boyce found out about the Boy Scouts and decided that American boys would like the great game of scouting.

On February 8, 1910, Mr. Boyce and others interested in the idea, formally incorporated the Boy Scouts of America. This day, February 8, is celebrated today as the birthday of scouting in the United States.

So it was that scouting began in South Africa as an idea for training young men in outdoor skills, and came to America by way of England, because of a good turn. Today, in America, there are Scouts in nearly every city, town and village, from coast to coast.

There stands, in Gilwell Park, England, a bronze buffalo statue, in memory of the unknown British Scout. The inscription reads:

"To the Unknown Scout whose faithfulness in the performance of the daily good turn brought the scout movement to the United States of America."

The first year of scouting troops sprang up like mushrooms all over America because both boys and men were eager to have scouting. Men from all national organizations interested in boys got together in June, 1910, and out of that meeting came the permanent organization plan of the Boy Scouts of America. Officers were elected, President Taft became honorary president. Ever since then, every president of the United States has been honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, and former President Thedore Roosevelt became honorary vice-president and chief scout citizen, and Ernest Thompson Seton was chief scout. Dan Beard, author and artist, was a national scout commissioner, and James E. West became chief scout executive.

In 1911 the first Handbook for Boys was published and the scout oath and law were developed. The first scout uniforms and badges were manufactured.

Scouts gave notable service in times of flood, fire, hurricane, and other disasters, as well as helping at parades and at civic gatherings during the years that followed. They justified their motto, "Be Prepared."

On June 15, 1916, because they had proved themselves such useful citizens, congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts of America, protecting the name and insignia, and authorizing the Scout uniform so that no one but Scouts might use the uniform of Scouting.

When the first World War came, Scouts rushed to help their country. They sold Liberty Bonds and Stamps totalling $406,859,262; located 20,758,660 feet of walnut for airplanes; collected 100 carloads of fruit pits needed for gas masks; conducted war gardens; distributed 30,000,000 pieces of Government literature, besides helping the Red Cross.

In 1920, 301 Scouts went to the First World Jamboree in England, camping with Scouts from 32 countries. The Second World Jamboree was held in Denmark in 1924; the Third in England in 1929; the Fourth in Hungary in 1933; the Fifth in Holland in 1937; the Sixth in France in 1947, and the Seventh in Austria in 1951 and there have been six more since in such places as Greece the United States and Japan.

In 1937 the first National Jamboree was held in Washington D. C., at the invitation of the President. 27,232 Scouts and leaders took part in that big camp at the foot of the Washington Monument. During 1950, the second National Jamboree was held at Valley Forge, Pa., and some 47,000 Scouts and leaders camped together on the historic battleground. Forty-five thousand took part in the third National Jamboree on the Irvine Ranch in Southern California in 1953. The fourth National Jamboree was (1957) held at Valley Forge, Pa. The fifth National Jamboree was (1960) held at Colorado Springs, Colorado, with over 56,000 attending. The sixth National Jamboree was also held at Valley Forge, Pa. in 1964. The seventh was held in Idaho in 1969 and there are plans now for two Jamborees in 1973 one in Pennsylvania and the other in Idaho. These are to go on at the same time and all boys will have the choice of going to the one of his choice. The plans are to take all boys wanting to go and there should be over 36,000 at each campsite.

The Boy Scout of America continued to grow. In 1930 the Cub Scout Program for younger boys was added. To Sea Scouting, which had been popular almost from the beginning, were added Explorer Scouting and, in 1939, Air Scouting. This senior program became Exploring in 1949.

In the Second World War, Scouts lived up to their traditions. They helped Civil Defense as messengers, fire watchers, and aids to emergency medical units. They raised Victory Gardens. They salvaged waste paper and collected scrap metal. They served as Official Dispatch Bearers for important Government messages. They orgainzed Emergency Service Corps to aid the community.

During Boy Scout Week, 1952, the Boy Scouts of America announced a Three Year Program built on the theme "Forward on Liberty Team." Thus Scouting recognized its unsual opportunity as a powerful force for freedom, to help our nation maintain its freedom and grow stronger in the ideals of our democracy.

In 1968 Chief Scout Executive Alden Barber announced the Boypower-Manpower program known as Boypower '76, the goal being to have 33 per cent of all Scout aged boys in the program either as a Cub Scout, Boy Scout, or an Explorer.

The Anniversary Celebration of the Boy Scouts of America during the month of February, 1972, marks the 62nd birthday of the nations largest youth organization. The slogan, "America's Manpower Begins With Boypower," continues in the fourth year of our Boypower '76 program. A special emphasis during the anniversary celebration is "to deeply involve" boys in their school, church and community.

The second year of Project Soar (Save Our America Resources) will be launched during the anniversary celebration.

Also Operation Reach, the B. S. A.'s action plan related to drug abuse will start during February.

Cub packs and Scout troops will have blue and gold Banquets, troop parents' night, courts of honor, etc. There will be many window displays through out the area. Be sure you visit the local merchants and look at what scouting is doing.

New buildings in Capitan

CAPITAN - By Margaret Rench

Two weeks ago Martha Romero made high point in the basketball game with Lake Arthur instead of Mildred Morris. Those girls do play good games.

The frame work on the new Bank building and for the new gym and cafeteria are up and everything seems to be progressing nicely. The old drug store building is being taken down by Marguerito for the lumber. They have gone ahead rapidly. The big west windows have been removed and the building is boarded.

There is dirt being filled in a lot on first street. We are moving forward slow by surely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Masmar of Roswell have purchased property in Capitan and are now starting to get it in order. Welcome new people. We are so glad to have you. We constantly appreciate you coming to make your home here.

Miss Carolyn Lucas another one of our lovely young ladies was installed as Worthy Advisor last Sunday at the Rainbow Installation. Sunday Jan. 30, 1972 at the Masonic Hall. A large crowd from Capitan and Ruidoso attended. It was a lovely installation.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas moved to Ruidoso several months ago and how we did hate to lose them.

Carolyn I wish you lots of happiness and success.

I had the pleasure of visiting Mary Alice and Jerry Foster and their two sweet little daughters Becky and Melonie. They were in process of moving from their present address to their new home, which has just been finished. A three bedroom home all carpeted with a bath and a half. I am so happy for them and feel they will have so much joy there.

Mr. Bert Minter and his grandson Mr. Davis Barber visited his wife, Mrs. Ila Mae Minter who was seriously ill in Albuquerque last week. Bert stayed there for several days. At this time she is improving.

Paul Jones left Capitan Jan. 17, and Earl Blan of Ruidoso also attended the Law Enforcement Forest Service School and returned last Friday night 28.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Datsun an aged couple in the 80's of Colorado City, Texas spent last summer here at the Milton Jones town house and returned home in the fall. Last Thursday night Mr. Datsun was found dead and had been so for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Jones were called and they at once went to her.

Mrs. Rench accompanied by Mrs. Kingston and Miss Harris went to Roswell Tuesday morning early. Mrs. Rench attended the Avon Sales meeting at the Roswell Inn while her companions visited their niece Mr. and Mrs. Goins. We enjoyed the day and did the necessary shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Trollinger and Tyana of Phoenix are home for a few months. Welcome home. It is nice to have you back with us.

Mrs. Bob (Yessie) Bates was in the Ruidoso hospital for one week very ill with pneumonia. She came home last Wednesday. I wish you a good recovery.

Happy Birthday to Miss Kaye Cornelius and Mrs. N. C. (Catherin) Grantham, Jr. whose birthdays are on the same day January 28th. I wish you many more.

Last Wednesday the fire alarm called in late afternoon and they went to the Bedoe residence where their Buick car was burning.

Thursday night The Smokey Bear apartment was on fire, caught on the inside of the wall in the fire place. Luckily they did get it out in time for the damage not to be to extensive. But there was lots of fast and sincere work.

Mrs. Otho (Clara) Lowe entered the Ruidoso hospital Monday 24, and is still there at this time. I wish you a good recovery.

Janie Randle and son Joe Paul went to Las Cruces two weeks ago where Janie entered the N. M. State University. She is working too and doing just O. K. good luck Janie.

We have some boys here with BB guns who need to be reprimanded. I hope the parents stop, look and listen for they need attention as they are not to use them within our city limits. They have been shooting out window lights and at birds. They broke a tame robins leg, etc. Therefore if they do not use those guns in a proper place then they need to have them taken away from them. The robin was nursed back to health. But the other damage cannot be mended. Please advise them not to do damage to others, but to go where they can shoot and leave our birds alone, we do need them.

Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr. spent all of last week in Albuquerque with her sister-in-law Charlene Dean at the hospital. Saturday her husband, Doc Dean of Claunch came and visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean and his brother Gerald then he and Gerald drove to Albuquerque and Gerald and Mary returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. Harold Dean and Sally Ann of Bingham visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw, Myrtle Pope, Doris Pounds and Margaret Rench, and Mr. Lowe attended the Eastern Star practice meeting held at 4 p.m. at the Masonic Hall in Carrizozo. We enjoyed supper todether and had more practice, and were home by 10 p.m. Our regular meeting will be Thursday Feb. 3.

Billy Turner who is riding on the rodeo circuit came here from Santa Barbara, California, to visit his aunt Mrs. Doris Pounds for two weeks. He will ride in the rodeo in El Paso Feb. 7.

The Twirligigs a group of baton twirlers which is Miss Tina Goodrich class, have been invited to march in the South Western Livestock and rodeo parade Feb. 8 in El Paso representing Capitan.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Perks celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary January 31. Their youngest daughter Mr. and Mrs. Burl Altimore of Albuquerque spent the weekend with them.

The Hitchin Post has added a hitching post in the front and all new vegas have been added which has made a fine improvement. It is good to see the old property revived. How we do appreciate that. I love to know the new people do see the opportuity in our area. For we do have a wonderful locality.

The Capitan Jr. basketball team had a game last Monday with the Corona Cardinals. The 7th lost and the 8th won.

The basketball team A and B, played Carrizozo Grizzlies last Friday night and Carrizozo won both games.

The Pep Club did their routine "Hang On Sloopy," last Friday night. The basketball girls had a game last Saturday.

The officers for the Pep Club this year are Abby Allen, Beverly Cornelius, Pam Lacy and Patsy Walker.

School groups took pictures of the Band, FHA, Pep Club and most of the activities.

The Juniors are expecting their class rings real soon. Their sweaters should be in March or sooner.

The freshman in the band will all letter this year.

The regular meeting of the Capitan Roundtable Club was held at the home of Mary Dean on January 20.

Ten members and one visitor Pauline Britton were present. Vera Beall and Eltha Merrell were in the Ruidoso hospital following surgery.

The usual bontiful luncheon was served by the hostess. Birthdays of Mora Titsworth and Gladys Hale and the anniversary of Bessie Jones was observed. Bithday cake and ice cream was served in their honor.

The business meeting was conducted by the President Mora Titsworth with Alta Cumpsten acting as secretary in the absence of Vera Beall.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Marie Edgar.

Sickness hits in Lincoln

Old Lincoln Town - By Hattie Phillips

The Nethaway family were flu victims last week. Nicollette in particular was very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis have enjoyed being at home for the first time since his recent stay in the hospital. He is making good recovery - so per hope by gardening time he can enjoy one of his favorite hobbies.

Esmael Salas (Sy) was in the Ruidoso hospital for several days but is back at home - feeling quite well. His son Arthur and daughter-in-law, Pat and grandson Adrian had flu last week and were very ill, but only Adrian had to be hospitalized. He is back at home now feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Aldaz enjoyed having some of their children from Albuquerque and Alamogordo visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Proctor have leased their ranch and bought a trailer home which they have set up in Salazar Canyon. They plan to stay there until school is out and then move it to the ranch they are buying near Corona.

Pat Ward was quite ill with flu for several days.

Mrs. Fred Pfingsten (Leola) gave me a wonderful Sunday afternoon and evening. We drove to Ruidoso by way of Hondo, saw the progress made on the highway '70' construction, and followed roads in Ruidoso, seeing many beautiful new houses. We ate at High Country Lodge and visited with Pearl Soderbach and then went back to Ruidoso to the Dedication of the new Noack Pipe Organ and heard the lovely music played by Mrs. Janet Miner, wife of Father Miner. It was a rare treat. Afterward we attended the reception held in the church recreation room, enjoyed visiting with friends and drove home by way of Capitan.

One of the most delightful and inspiring sights was the beautiful snow covered White Mountains. We are so privileged to live in such a beautiful area, which includes my favorite, the Capitans Mountains.

And how could anyone live without all of their wonderful friends!

Valley 4-H projects set

The Hondo Valley 4-H Club met Wednesday January 19th at the Hondo School cafeteria with twenty-five members present. A junior leadership report was given by Marcella Montes and Cecelia Pacheco. The Christmas tree donated by Ray Sisneros had been delivered to the Fort Stanton Hospital the week before Christmas. The tree was placed in the hospital's "Canteen" and decorated with ornaments donated by all club members. Marcella and Cecelia were assisted by Carol Cooper, a former 4-H'er.

Members were informed of projects they were enrolled in and dates for project meeting were set. Twelve Home Living I girls have attended three project meetings already and will receive their "Know Your Sewing Machine" certificate at the February meeting. It was decided that the girls would meet every Wednesday afternoon after school, and members enrolled in Mix and Match will meet Saturday, January 29th at 2:00 p.m. Livestock judging practice will be held every Sunday at 2:00, taught by leader Sam Massey. Several teams from Lincoln County will be sent to the El Paso International to participate in the judging contests there.

At the next meeting a film will be presented by State Policeman, Mr. Dunahoo, on safe driving and Mr. Dunahoo will speak to the club afterwards.

Refreshments were brought by Gretchen Torrez, Vicki Chavez and Dina Salas and Kathy Salas.

Time to check fire precautions

By Ralph Dunlap, County Agent

Now is a good time to check how well you are prepared to fight and hold in check a fire on your ranch until the fire department arrives. First and most important rule to follow, is for you and your family not to take any unnecessary chances in attempting to deal with a fire--lives are irreplaceable, property is not. But it's good sense to be equipped with "first aid" fire fighting tools, and for you and eveyone on your farm to know how to use them.

One important tool is the fire extinguisher--of adequate size and proper type for the kind of fire expected. Your local fire department can advise you on types and sizes; the most reliable ones are those approved by nationally recognized testing laboratories.

Extinguishers should be placed strategically in all fife danger areas--in home kitchens, barns, machine sheds, storage tanks of gasoline and kerosene. The best extinguisher in the world won't be ready to go into action when needed most, unless it is check and recharged regularly. Follow the manufacturers insturctions on this. And don't wait for a fire emergency to read the directions on how to operate the extinguisher--know how to use it and make sure everyone on the farm knows how. Another good fire fighting tool is a graden hose sprayer. Filled water puckets are also useful in spots in and around buildings.

Particularly for home safety, ladders to reach the highest roof tops and windows should be quickly available at all times.

Be prepared for field and brush fires--with pump tanks, or sprayers, fire swatters, brooms and burlap bags and water to wet them.

Several hundred at land exchange meeting

By Hugh Stiles

Several hundred people were in attendance at an informal public hearing, Saturday, January 22, at the Chaparral Motor Hotel's Convention Center, Ruidoso Downs, regarding the proposed request by the Mescalero Apache Tribe for 2,240 acres of Lincoln National Forest Lands, "to be exchanged between the U.S.D.A. Forest Service and the U.S. Department of Interior, held in trust for the Mescalero Apache Tribe."

Definite differences of opinion were voiced by dozens of individuals regarding the proposed land exchange's effect upon the area economy, environment, water rights, public use of lands and the question "Do the Mescalero really have to have the land held in trust in order to secure a loan for their proposed expansion of the famed Sierra Blanca Ski Area?"

The U.S.D.A. Forest Service statement, read by Ken Evans, Lincoln National Forest Service Supervisor, Alamogordo, contended that the lands should not be transferred because of the questioned ability of the Mescalero Apache Tribe, under the supervision of the Department of Interior, to manage the lands. They also questioned environmental factors, the future water rights and public land use if the exchange was made.

The Mescalero Apaches held that the lands are necessary for their proposed 4 million dollar expansion program of the Sierra Blanca Ski Area. The lands, according to tribal officials, must be "held in trust for the tribe" before financial arrangements can be secured for the ski area expansion.

Wendell Chino, Mescalero Apache Tribal president, told the large gathering that "This obvious effort (by the U.S.D.A. Forest Service) to raise questions and doubts to undermine the leadership of and management capabilities of the Tribe must be answered first before some of the other issues raised in the (Forest Service) statement are answered."

Chino called attention to the Tribe's large cattle industry, the fact that the Tribe manages more personnel and administers larger fiscal affairs than the Forest Service in Lincoln and Otero Counties, and that the Tribe operates the Sierra Blanca Ski Area with the highest financial return above that of the other four major ski areas in New Mexico.

Chino and Tribal attorneys repeatedly made it known that all existing water rights on the lands proposed for exchange would be legally honored. They stated that their proposed land exchange was for surface rights only and not water rights. "We are claiming no water rights," tribal officials stated.

Evans in his presentation stated; "The proposal could have adverse effect upon the environment," but that, "the Forest Service is not opposed to the Ski Area expansion."

Fred Collins, Field Representative for the Department of the Interior, told the group, "We are friends with the Department of Agriculture (the Forest Service is under the Department of Agriculture), but there are times when we have to draw the line."

He continued, "The practice of this administration is to return to the Indians their land to develop and manage." Collins also stated, "I am going to do everything in my power to see that they get it."

It was noted that the lands in question for exchange originally were legally owned by the Mescaleros under a title honored in 1852 by both the United States and the Mexican governments. In 1873 an Executive Order created the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation and included within its boundries the lands in question. A second Executive Order in 1876 adjusted the Reseration in favor of private mining interests and removed from Indian status most of the immediate mountain lands north of the present Mescalero Apache Reservation. The lands became under the control of the U.S.D.A. Forest Service on July 26, 1902.

In 1968 the U.S. Government reportedly paid the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe, at the rate of forty-three cents per acre, for the lands removed for mining interests in 1876 and these lands are included in the proposed request by the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

Stiles corrects record

An area newspaper, Tuesday, January 25, published a six column front page story with headlines that read, "Land Controversy Stirs Misconception." A large head under the main line stated, "Ski Area Expansion Possible Under Present Setup."

The story alledged that the Mescalero Apache Tribe did not need the land for financial resources to secure a loan for the ski area expansion.

Two statements are reprinted here for clarification and are directly quoted from the area newspaper, "Through public confusion the belief has arisen that no financing can be obtained unless the land is held 'in trust' by the federal government. This is untrue."

The second statement stated, "Tribal officials have pointed out that financing for the ski area expansion has been turned down by the EDA (Economic Development Administration). It is now accepted, through the confusion, the project was turned down because of the ownership of the land. This is untrue."

The article also stated that the Mescalero Apache Tribe applied false statements contacted tribal officials in Washington, D. C. late Tuesday night and also contacted EDA officials in the Austin, Texas regional office. The regional office controls all EDA grants and loans for this section of the United States.

In response to the article tribal officials in Washington stated, "The story is absolutely untrue, the tribe is not currently eligible to receive EDA lands of grants for the present ski area expansion because the lands are only on a special land-use permit and not technically held in trust for the Mescaleros."

Jim Swearingin, EDA Regional Indian Officer for the Southwest Region, Austin, Texas, told The Ruidoso News, when asked if the Tribe had ever applied for a grant or loan for the Sierra Balnca Ski Area expansion, replied, "No!" He stated, "The land now used by the Tribe is under a land use permit by the U. S. Forest Service and is not eligible for Indian Reservation EDA grants or loans because of the ownership status of the land. The land must be held 'in trust' by a federal agency for the Tribe before EDA grants and loans are available. The Mescalero Apache Tribe does not come under

Truckers should be taxed

Santa Fe--New Senate President Pro Tem I. M. (Ike) Smalley, D-Luna-Hidalgo-Sierra, says long distance interstate truckers' taxes and fees should be boosted by the legislature.

A 20-year legislator, Smalley, a Deming lawyer, says interstate truckers pay proportionately less truck taxes and fees than smaller intrastate motor carriers.

Rep. Ralph Petty, D-Lincoln-Sierra, favors "killing the whole truck tax bill." In original firm the bill "calls for as much as an 800 per cent increase for big interstate trucks and more than 100 per cent for some small intrastate trucks," Rep. Petty says.

Petty voted for Roswell Republican Rep. Colin McMillan's House amendment, approved by only 36-34, to cut added truck taxes and fees from $6.5 million to $2.5 million a year. The hot fight over the bill continued this week.

The McMillan amendment vote included: For the cut from $6.5 to $2.5 million increase: Reps. Petty, John Bigbee, R-DeBaca-Guadalupe-Torrance; George Blocker, D-Jal; Robert Johnson, R-Clovis; Clifton Moreland, D-Quay; Hoyt Pattison, R-Curry; Ralph Pruit, R-Clovis, and William Upton, D-Deming (Luna-Hidalgo Counties).

Against: Reps. Richard Carbajal, D-Belen; Alvino Castillo, D-Clofax County; Fred Luna, D-Los Lunas; David Salman, D-Union-Mora-Harding, and Alfonso Vigil, D-Ranchos de Taos.

Sen. Smalley says of his new president pro tem's post: "It's a good job. The work flow of the Senate is moving very smoothly. There have been very few disputes on bills in committees before they come out on the floor."

He said the Wednesday (Feb. 2) cutoff introduction date for bills will allow time for printed bills to be returned for adequate consideration in the 30-day legislative session. Sen. Smalley says: "There seems to be a very sincere effort by all committees to take care of their work as quickly as possible."

Smalley says district, Court of Appeals and Supreme Court judges should receive pay raises. He believes the amount will be compromised between Gov. Bruce King's $7,000-a-year recommendation and the Judicial Council's $12,500 proposal. Salaries are $20,000, $21,500 and $22,500 now.

Sen. Smalley introduced a King administration capital improvements bill that inculdes $140,000 for an academic classroom at Carrie Tingley Hospital for Crippled Children at Truth or Consequences. Largest of 11 items on the $5 million-plus list are $1.562 million to finish the state microwave radio system and $1.5 million for a new building to house the Motor Vehicle Department and Revenue Bureau in Santa Fe.

Smalley, the University Study Committee chairman, strongly supports a pending USC bill in the House authorizing $10 million in property tax bonds for books for state universities' libraries. He said requests came from students to the USC at statewide hearings last Fall.

Rep. Petty will strongly oppose in the House the increased horse race track bill that cleared the Senate 23-18. Petty says the boost in unnecessary because the state expects a $19 million general fund surplus June 30.

He said total New Mexico tracks' pari-mutuel tax payments jumped 23 per cent last year over 1970. "The base on the pari-mutuel handle is broad enough that taxes should never be raised," Rep. Petty said.

The Senate-approved bill would add a total of $232,210 a year to state revenues. The effect on Ruidoso Downs: Pari-mutuel tax, up $9,941; admissions tax, up $82,830; 20 per cent of "breakage," up $35,701, and 50 per cent of unclaimed pay tickets, up $9,269.

The effect on La Mesa Park, Raton: Pari-mutuel tax, $143,537, unchanged from 1971; admissions tax, up $11,702; 20 per cent of "breakage," up $13,039, and 50 per cent of unclaimed pay tickets, up $4,465.

The Senate vote on the racing tax revenue increase included: For the bill: Sens. Tibo Chavez, D-Belen; Finis Heidel, D-Lovington, whose district includes Jal and Eunice; Smalley; C. B. Trujillo, D-Taos, and Bob Wood, D-Curry-Roosevelt.

Against: Sens. John Conway, R-Lincoln-Otero; Aubrey Dunn, D-Lincoln-Otero; Odis Echols, D-Curry-Roosevelt; John Morrow, D-Union-Harding-Colfax. Sen. Emmett Hart, D-Quay-DeBaca-Guadalupe, was excused from voting because he has a financial interest in a New Mexico horse race track.

Ex-State Sen. Joe Skeen, R-Picacho, Lincoln County, predicted the House will kill the racing tax boost bill. Skeen represents New Mexico Horse Breeders Association as a registered lobbyist.

The Legislative Finance Committee sponsored the bill. In retaliation Rep. Petty introduced a bill, co-signed by Rep. Moreland, raising LFC membership from 7 to 15---9 representatives and 6 senators. He said the House voting will be close on the racing tax increase.

A settlement conference on the major Permian Base natural gas price case is set to resume Feb. 8 in Washington. New Mexico seeks a sharp price boost.

Famariss Oil and Refining Co. of Hobbs settled a Santa Fe District Court suit with Navajo Refining Co. of Artesia out of court on purchase of state royalty oil. The Famariss firm operates a refinery at Monument in Lea County. Navajo attorney Joel Carson of Artesia said the Famariss company had been buying all available state royalty oil. Under settlement terms Famariss will sell part of the state royalty oil to Navajo Refining. Navajo had sued Famariss and Land Commissioner Alex Armijo on Famariss' 1967 and 1971 state contracts to buy state royalty oil. Navajo had offered a higher price.

Runnels dinner date changed

Hobbs--Congressman Harold Runnels, D-NM, has announced that the date for a fund-raising dinner on his behalf has been changed from January 27 to Friday, February 11.

Runnels said the change was necessary because of scheduling problems encountered as a result of a back ailment to Congressman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who will be the speaker at the $100 stag or couple dinner. Congressman Mills has been advised by his doctor to rest for two weeks.

A reception is set for 6:30 p.m. and the dinner will be at 7:30 on February 11 at the Hobbs Holiday Inn, Runnels said.

"We regret the necessity for the change, but it couldn't be helped," the Congressman said.

Harry Eaves, chairman of the dinner, said ticket sales are going well and that he expected about 500 people to attend.

Su Seguro Social

Por John C. Rincon, Representante

PREGUNTA: Acabo de empezar a trabajar y pagar contribuciones al seguro social. Cuanto tiempo tiene una persona que trabajar bajo el seguro social para tener derecho a los beneficios al cumplir la edad del retiro?

RESPUESTA: Cualquiera que empiece a trabajar ahora, estara plenamente asegurado para recibir beneficios del retiro al acumular 40 trimestres (10 anos) de trabajo bajo el seguro social. No olvide que los trabajadores de incapacidad y sobrevivientes mucho antes de haber trabajado todo ese tiempo.

QUESTION: I have begun to work and to make contributions to Social Security. How much time does a person have to work under Social Security before they will have enough credit to draw social security benefits when they attain retirement age?

ANSWER: Anyone who begins to work now will be completely insured under social security, and will qualify for social security retirement benefits when they accumulate 40 quarters (10 years) under social security. But don't forget that young workers also have the protection of social security disability benefits and survivors insurance benefits even before they have completed that many years of work.

REPORT FROM. . .

Senator Conway

This past weekend was probably the last one this Session during which we did not meet on Saturday. I had planned on being home, but on Monday my wife, Dorothy Anne, called with the bad news that our 9-year old son Matthew had come down with the mumps. Since I hadn't had them, we decided that I would stay in Santa Fe this past weekend. At this time I don't know when I will be back home this Session as we will be meeting on Saturdays and we have two more boys who have been exposed to the mumps.

As I wrote last week, one of the important bills this Session is the mobile home tax bill. I had the New Mexico Taxpayers Association compute the tax on a $6,000.00 mobile home which would then be on the tax rolls at $2,000.00. This is their estimate of your tax by cities in the two counties I represent: Alamogordo, $61.70; Tularosa, $86.54; Cloudcroft, $86.50; Ruidoso, $109.18; Ruidoso Downs, $66.98; Carrizozo, $124.18; Corona, $35.94; Hondo, $71.94; Capitan, $101.94.

At the present time most mobile home owners are paying $20.50 per year for a license. As you can readily see, if you live in Carrizozo you are faced with an increase of six times what you paid in 1972.

I am going to offer an amendment to the bill to reduce the tax to 50 per cent of the tax rate for 1973; 75 per cent for 1974, and then it would be the full rate in 1975. Most of the mobile home owners I have talked to indicated they feel an increase is warranted, but I am sure none of them are thinking in terms of a 600 per cent increase. This bill will assess a mobile home at the same rate as houses are now assessed and attempts to have all home owners paying at the same rate."

The bill will probably come before the Senate on Monday so when you read this we will have already voted. If I can't get my amendment to the bill, I will vote against it.

The land subdivision bill has received considerable attention in the House this week. It was heard in the Natural Resources Committee last Thursday and Friday, and several amendments were made to it. I will summarize it next week if it has reached the Senate.

I sent out 2,000 questionnaires at random to residents of Lincoln and Otero Counties on several of the issues before us this Session. Cost prohibited me from sending one to every resident as I would have liked to do. The last question was: "Should the laws on marijuana be relaxed?" The responses are running ten to one "no." In one of my last columns I will list all of the questions and the percentages of yes-no responses.

I hope that any of you who want to discuss any legislation with me will call my office in either Ruidoso or Alamogordo, as I am in daily contact with these offices. Those numbers are in Ruidoso 257-4678, and in Alamogordo 437-1840. In the event any of you are planning to visit in Santa Fe during this Session, bring along your 4th, 5th or 6th grade children so that they can be pages, as this a very beneficial experience for them. If you will let me know when you are planning to be in Santa Fe, I will make the proper arrangements.

Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301

Dear sir:

Years ago - when I was a young man I lived in Lincoln and knew many friends in that area - now it is getting near time for my wife and I to retire - at my Doctors orders, because of arthritis - and he advises a dry climate so naturally my thoughts turned to Lincoln, Capitan, Carrizozo and Roswell - of course I realize there isn't much going on in that area, but I would like to know a little about my old friends - so I'm enclosing $1.00 with this note, please mail me a copy or two of your paper - would also appreciate any information you can give me about So. West N. Mex. or So. E. Ariz. - understand, please, we want to slow down - not stop living - so we will want to become involved in some sort of activity.

Many thanks for any trouble you may go to in my behalf.

Very truly yours,

Valley 4-H projects set

The Hondo Valley 4-H Club met Wednesday January 19th at the Hondo School cafeteria with twenty-five members present. A junior leadership report was given by Marcella Montes and Cecelia Pacheco. The Christmas tree donated by Ray Sisneros had been delivered to the Fort Stanton Hospital the week before Christmas. The tree was placed in the hospital's "Canteen" and decorated with ornaments donated by all club members. Marcella and Cecelia were assisted by Carol Cooper, a former 4-H'er.

Members were informed of projects they were enrolled in and dates for project meeting were set. Twelve Home Living I girls have attended three project meetings already and will receive their "Know Your Sewing Machine" certificate at the February meeting. It was decided that the girls would meet every Wednesday afternoon after school, and members enrolled in Mix and Match will meet Saturday, January 29th at 2:00 p.m. Livestock judging practice will be held every Sunday at 2:00, taught by leader Sam Massey. Several teams from Lincoln County will be sent to the El Paso International to participate in the judging contests there.

At the next meeting a film will be presented by State Policeman, Mr. Dunahoo, on safe driving and Mr. Dunahoo will speak to the club afterwards.

Refreshments were brought by Gretchen Torrez, Vicki Chavez and Dina Salas and Kathy Salas.

Time to check fire precautions

By Ralph Dunlap, County Agent

Now is a good time to check how well you are prepared to fight and hold in check a fire on your ranch until the fire department arrives. First and most important rule to follow, is for you and your family not to take any unnecessary chances in attempting to deal with a fire--lives are irreplaceable, property is not. But it's good sense to be equipped with "first aid" fire fighting tools, and for you and eveyone on your farm to know how to use them.

One important tool is the fire extinguisher--of adequate size and proper type for the kind of fire expected. Your local fire department can advise you on types and sizes; the most reliable ones are those approved by nationally recognized testing laboratories.

Extinguishers should be placed strategically in all fire danger areas--in home kitchens, barns, machine sheds, storage tanks of gasoline and kerosene. The best extinguisher in the world won't be ready to go into action when needed most, unless it is check and recharged regularly. Follow the manufacturers insturctions on this. And don't wait for a fire emergency to read the directions on how to operate the extinguisher--know how to use it and make sure everyone on the farm knows how. Another good fire fighting tool is a graden hose sprayer. Filled water puckets are also useful in spots in and around buildings.

Particularly for home safety, ladders to reach the highest roof tops and windows should be quickly available at all times.

Be prepared for field and brush fires--with pump tanks, or sprayers, fire swatters, brooms and burlap bags and water to wet them.

Several hundred at land exchange meeting

By Hugh Stiles

Several hundred people were in attendance at an informal public hearing, Saturday, January 22, at the Chaparral Motor Hotel's Convention Center, Ruidoso Downs, regarding the proposed request by the Mescalero Apache Tribe for 2,240 acres of Lincoln National Forest Lands, "to be exchanged between the U.S.D.A. Forest Service and the U.S. Department of Interior, held in trust for the Mescalero Apache Tribe."

Definite differences of opinion were voiced by dozens of individuals regarding the proposed land exchange's effect upon the area economy, environment, water rights, public use of lands and the question "Do the Mescalero really have to have the land held in trust in order to secure a loan for their proposed expansion of the famed Sierra Blanca Ski Area?"

The U.S.D.A. Forest Service statement, read by Ken Evans, Lincoln National Forest Service Supervisor, Alamogordo, contended that the lands should not be transferred because of the questioned ability of the Mescalero Apache Tribe, under the supervision of the Department of Interior, to manage the lands. They also questioned environmental factors, the future water rights and public land use if the exchange was made.

The Mescalero Apaches held that the lands are necessary for their proposed 4 million dollar expansion program of the Sierra Blanca Ski Area. The lands, according to tribal officials, must be "held in trust for the tribe" before financial arrangements can be secured for the ski area expansion.

Wendell Chino, Mescalero Apache Tribal president, told the large gathering that "This obvious effort (by the U.S.D.A. Forest Service) to raise questions and doubts to undermine the leadership of and management capabilities of the Tribe must be answered first before some of the other issues raised in the (Forest Service) statement are answered."

Chino called attention to the Tribe's large cattle industry, the fact that the Tribe manages more personnel and administers larger fiscal affairs than the Forest Service in Lincoln and Otero Counties, and that the Tribe operates the Sierra Blanca Ski Area with the highest financial return above that of the other four major ski areas in New Mexico.

Chino and Tribal attorneys repeatedly made it known that all existing water rights on the lands proposed for exchange would be legally honored. They stated that their proposed land exchange was for surface rights only and not water rights. "We are claiming no water rights," tribal officials stated.

Evans in his presentation stated, "The proposal could have adverse effect upon the environment," but that, "the Forest Service is not opposed to the Ski Area expansion."

Fred Collins, Field Representative for the Department of the Interior, told the group, "We are friends with the Department of Agriculture (the Forest Service is under the Department of Agriculture), but there are times when we have to draw the line."

He continued, "The practice of this administration is to return to the Indians their land to develop and manage." Collins also stated, "I am going to do everything in my power to see that they get it."

It was noted that the lands in question for exchange originally were legally owned by the Mescaleros under a title honored in 1852 by both the United States and the Mexican governments. In 1873 an Executive Order created the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation and included within its boundries the lands in question. A second Executive Order in 1876 adjusted the Reseration in favor of private mining interests and removed from Indian status most of the immediate mountain lands north of the present Mescalero Apache Reservation. The lands became under the control of the U.S.D.A. Forest Service on July 26, 1902.

In 1968 the U.S. Government reportedly paid the Mescalero Apache Indian Tribe, at the rate of forty-three cents per acre, for the lands removed for mining interests in 1876 and these lands are included in the proposed request by the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

Stiles corrects record

An area newspaper, Tuesday, January 25, published a six column front page story with headlines that read, "Land Controversy Stirs Misconception." A large head under the main line stated, "Ski Area Expansion Possible Under Present Setup."

The story alledged that the Mescalero Apache Tribe did not need the land for financial resources to secure a loan for the ski area expansion.

Two statements are reprinted here for clarification and are directly quoted from the area newspaper, "Through public confusion the belief has arisen that no financing can be obtained unless the land is held 'in trust' by the federal government. This is untrue."

The second statement stated, "Tribal officials have pointed out that financing for the ski area expansion has been turned down by the EDA (Economic Development Administration). It is now accepted, through the confusion, the project was turned down because of the ownership of the land. This is untrue."

The article also stated that the Mescalero Apache Tribe applied false statements contacted tribal officials in Washington, D. C. late Tuesday night and also contacted EDA officials in the Austin, Texas regional office. The regional office controls all EDA grants and loans for this section of the United States.

In response to the article tribal officials in Washington stated, "The story is absolutely untrue, the tribe is not currently eligible to receive EDA lands of grants for the present ski area expansion because the lands are only on a special land-use permit and not technically held in trust for the Mescaleros."

Jim Swearingin, EDA Regional Indian Officer for the Southwest Region, Austin, Texas, told The Ruidoso News, when asked if the Tribe had ever applied for a grant or loan for the Sierra Balnca Ski Area expansion, replied, "No!" He stated, "The land now used by the Tribe is under a land use-permit by the U. S. Forest Service and is not eligible for Indian Reservation EDA grants or loans because of the ownership status of the land. The land must be held 'in trust' by a federal agency for the Tribe before EDA grants and loans are available. The Mescalero Apache Tribe does not come under

Santa Fe--New Senate President Pro Tem I. M. (Ike) Smalley, D-Luna-Hidalgo-Sierra, says long distance interstate truckers' taxes and should be boosted by the legislature.

A 20-year legislator, Smalley, a leading lawyer, says interstate truckers pay proportionately less truck taxes and fees than smaller intrastate motor carriers.

Rep. Ralph Petty, D-Lincoln-Sierra, favors "killing the whole truck tax bill." In original firm the bill "calls for as much as an 800 per cent increase for big interstate trucks and more than 100 per cent for some small intrastate trucks," Rep. Petty says.

Petty voted for Roswell Republican Rep. Colin McMillan's House amendment, approved by only 36-34, to cut added truck taxes and fees from $6.5 million to $2.5 million a year. The hot fight over the bill continued this week.

The McMillan amendment vote included: For the cut from $6.5 to $2.5 million increase: Reps. Petty, John Bigbee, R-DeBaca-Guadalupe-Torrance; George Blocker, D-Jal; Robert Johnson, R-Clovis; Clifton Moreland, D-Quay; Hoyt Pattison, R-Curry; Ralph Pruit, R-Clovis, and William Upton, D-Deming (Luna-Hidalgo Counties).

Against: Reps. Richard Carbajal, D-Belen; Alvino Castillo, D-Clofax County; Fred Luna, D-Los Lunas; David Salman, D-Union-Mora-Harding, and Alfonso Vigil, D-Ranchos de Taos.

Sen. Smalley says of his new president pro tem's post: "It's a good job. The work flow of the Senate is moving very smoothly. There have been very few disputes on bills in committees before they come out on the floor."

He said the Wednesday (Feb. 2) cutoff introduction date for bills will allow time for printed bills to be returned for adequate consideration in the 30-day legislative session. Sen. Smalley says: "There seems to be a very sincere effort by all committees to take care of their work as quickly as possible."

Smalley says district, Court of Appeals and Supreme Court judges should receive pay raises. He believes the amount will be compromised between Gov. Bruce King's $7,000-a-year recommendation and the Judicial Council's $12,500 proposal. Salaries are $20,000, $21,500 and $22,500 now.

Sen. Smalley introduced a King administration capital improvements bill that inculdes $140,000 for an academic classroom at Carrie Tingley Hospital for Crippled Children at Truth or Consequences. Largest of 11 items on the $5 million-plus list are $1.562 million to finish the state microwave radio system and $1.5 million for a new building to house the Motor Vehicle Department and Revenue Bureau in Santa Fe.

Smalley, the University Study Committee chairman, strongly supports a pending USC bill in the House authorizing $10 million in property tax bonds for books for state universities' libraries. He said requests came from students to the USC at statewide hearings last Fall.

Rep. Petty will strongly oppose in the House the increased horse race track bill that cleared the Senate 23-18. Petty says the boost in unnecessary because the state expects a $19 million general fund surplus June 30.

He said total New Mexico tracks' pari-mutuel tax payments jumped 23 per cent last year over 1970. "The base on the pari-mutuel handle is broad enough that taxes should never be raised," Rep. Petty said.

The Senate-approved bill would add a total of $232,210 a year to state revenues. The effect on Ruidoso Downs: Pari-mutuel tax, up $9,941; admissions tax, up $82,830; 20 per cent of "breakage," up $35,701; and 50 per cent of unclaimed pay tickets, up $9,269.

The effect on La Mesa Park, Raton: Pari-mutuel tax, $143,537, unchanged from 1971; admissions tax, up $11,702; 20 per cent of "breakage," up $13,039, and 50 per cent of unclaimed pay tickets, up $4,465.

The Senate vote on the racing tax revenue increase included: For the bill: Sens. Tibo Chavez, D-Belen; Finis Heidel, D-Lovington, whose district includes Jal and Eunice; Smalley; C. B. Trujillo, D-Taos, and Bob Wood, D-Curry-Roosevelt.

Against: Sens. John Conway, R-Lincoln-Otero; Aubrey Dunn, D-Lincoln-Otero; Odis Echols, D-Curry-Roosevelt; John Morrow, D-Union-Harding-Colfax. Sen. Emmett Hart, D-Quay-DeBaca-Guadalupe, was excused from voting because he has a financial interest in a New Mexico horse race track.

Ex-State Sen. Joe Skeen, R-Picacho, Lincoln County, predicted the House will kill the racing tax boost bill. Skeen represents New Mexico Horse Breeders Association as a registered lobbyist.

The Legislative Finance Committee sponsored the bill. In retaliation Rep. Petty introduced a bill, co-signed by Rep. Moreland, raising LFC membership from 7 to 15--9 representatives and 6 senators. He said the House voting will be close on the racing tax increase.

A settlement conference on the major Permian Base natural gas price case is set to resume Feb. 8 in Washington. New Mexico seeks a sharp price boost.

Famariss Oil and Refining Co. of Hobbs settled a Santa Fe District Court suit with Navajo Refining Co. of Artesia out of court on purchase of state royalty oil. The Famariss firm operates a refinery at Monument in Lea County. Navajo attorney Joel Carson of Artesia said the Famariss company had been buying all available state royalty oil. Under settlement terms Famariss will sell part of the state royalty oil to Navajo Refining. Navajo had sued Famariss and Land Commissioner Alex Armijo on Famariss' 1967 and 1971 state contracts to buy state royalty oil. Navajo had offered a higher price.

Runnels dinner date changed

Hobbs--Congressman Harold Runnels, D-NM, has announced that the date for a fund-raising dinner on his behalf has been changed from January 27 to Friday, February 11.

Runnels said the change was necessary because of scheduling problems encountered as a result of a back ailment to Congressman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., who will be the speaker at the $100 stag or couple dinner. Congressman Mills has been advised by his doctor to rest for two weeks.

A reception is set for 6:30 p.m. and the dinner will be at 7:30 on February 11 at the Hobbs Holiday Inn, Runnels said.

"We regret the necessity for the change, but it couldn't be helped," the Congressman said.

Harry Eaves, chairman of the dinner, said ticket sales are going well and that he expected about 500 people to attend.

Por John C. Rincon, Representante

PREGUNTA: Acabo de empezar a trabajar y pagar contribuciones al seguro social. Cuanto tiempo tiene una persona que trabajar bajo el seguro social para tener derecho a los beneficios al cumplir la edad del retiro?

RESPUESTA: Cualquiera que empiece a trabajar ahora, estara plenamente asegurado para recibir beneficios del retiro al acumular 40 trimestres (10 anos) de trabajo bajo el seguro social. No olvide que los trabajadores de incapacidad y sobrevivientes mucho antes de haber trabajado todo ese tiempo.

QUESTION: I have begun to work and to make contributions to Social Security. How much time does a person have to work under Social Security before they will have enough credit to draw social security benefits when they attain retirement age?

ANSWER: Anyone who begins to work now will be completely insured under social security, and will qualify for social security retirement benefits when they accumulate 40 quarters (10 years) under social security. But don't forget that young workers also have the protection of social security disability benefits and survivors insurance benefits even before they have completed that many years of work.

REPORT FROM..

Senator Conway

This past weekend was probably the last one this Session during which we did not meet on Saturday. I had planned on being home, but on Monday my wife, Dorothy Anne, called with the bad news that our 9-year old son Matthew had come down with the mumps. Since I hadn't had them, we decided that I would stay in Santa Fe this past weekend. At this time I don't know when I will be back home this Session as we will be meeting on Saturdays and we have two more boys who have been exposed to the mumps.

As I wrote last week, one of the important bills this Session is the mobile home tax bill. I had the New Mexico Taxpayers Association compute the tax on a $6,000.00 mobile home which would then be on the tax rolls at $2,000.00. This is their estimate of your tax by cities in the two counties I represent: Alamogordo, $61.70; Tularosa, $86.54; Cloudcroft, $86.50; Ruidoso, $109.18; Ruidoso Downs, $66.98; Carrizozo, $124.18; Corona, $35.94; Hondo, $71.94; Capitan, $101.94.

At the present time most mobile home owners are paying $20.50 per year for a license. As you can readily see, if you live in Carrizozo you are faced with an increase of six times what you paid in 1972.

I am going to offer an amendment to the bill to reduce the tax to 50 per cent of the tax rate for 1973; 75 per cent for 1974, and then it would be the full rate in 1975. Most of the mobile home owners I have talked to indicated they feel an increase is warranted, but I am sure none of them are thinking in terms of a 600 per cent increase. This bill will assess a mobile home at the same rate as houses are now assessed and attempts to have all home owners paying at the same rate.

The bill will probably come before the Senate on Monday so when you read this we will have already voted. If I can't get my amendment to the bill, I will vote against it.

The land subdivision bill has received considerable attention in the House this week. It was heard in the Natural Resources Committee last Thursday and Friday, and several amendments were made to it. I will summarize it next week if it has reached the Senate.

I sent out 2,000 questionnaires at random to residents of Lincoln and Otero Counties on several of the issues before us this Session. Cost prohibited me from sending one to every resident as I would have liked to do. The last question was: "Should the laws on marijuana be relaxed?" The responses are running ten to one "no." In one of my last columns I will list all of the questions and the percentages of yes-no responses.

I hope that any of you who want to discuss any legislation with me will call my office in either Ruidoso or Alamogordo, as I am in daily contact with these offices. Those numbers are in Ruidoso 257-4678, and in Alamogordo 437-1840. In the event any of you are planning to visit in Santa Fe during this Session, bring along your 4th, 5th or 6th grade children so that they can be pages, as this a very beneficial experience for them. If you will let me know when you are planning to be in Santa Fe, I will make the proper arrangements.

Letters to Editor

Mr. Paul Payton, Editor,
Lincoln County News,
Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301

Dear sir:

Years ago - when I was a young man I lived in Lincoln and knew many friends in that area - now it is getting near time for my wife and I to retire - at my Doctors orders, because of arthritis - and he advises a dry climate so naturally my thoughts turned to Lincoln, Capitan, Carrizozo and Roswell - of course I realize there isn't much going on in that area, but I would like to know a little about my old friends - so I'm enclosing $1.00 with this note, please mail me a copy or two of your paper - would also appreciate any information you can give me about So. West N. Mex. or So. E. Ariz. - understand, please, we want to slow down - not stop living - so we will want to become involved in some sort of activity.

Many thanks for any trouble you may go to in my behalf.

Very truly yours,
T. C. Murray

SCMRA will do study on land exchange

The executive committee of the South Central Mountain Resource Area met January 18 in Ruidoso, the meeting called to order at 10:15 by Robert Bell.

It was voted that the committee meet at the N. M. Assoc. of SWCD meeting in the fall with the project coordinator's council, and a coordinating meeting to be held in Albuquerque this spring for all project conservationists and officers of RC&D's.

Two new measure adopted for presentation to the steering committee were: assistance to Claunch-Pinto SWCD in getting 38 miles of State Road 10 paved from Gran Quivira to U.S. Highway 54. Approval of a proposal to consider a study of the 2240 acre exchange of lands between the Forest Service and the Apache Indians in the Sierra Blanca Ski Area.

The porposition of consolidation of SCMRA and the Southeastern N. M. RC&D into one unit was discussed and discarded.

Progress on a number of projects were reported as follows.

PM - 92 Wood Sales: The U. S. Forest Service let bids on December 15, 1971 for 3 units consisting of 45 cords, 110 cords and 50 cords. Two units were sold on December 22 on 60 cords and 57 cords. Bids were also put up on January 12, 1972 for 60 cords with a minimum of $.50 per cord but there were no bidders. Additional bids are scheduled for January 19 and February 2, 1972.

Other measures on which some progress had been made were PM - 90 Capitan Park; PM - 72 Lincoln Cemetery; PM - 22 Cox Canyon; PM - 82 Grazing Systems; PM - 78 Christmas Tree Program; PM - 85 Carrizozo Recreation Park; PM - 71 Caution Light near La Luz; and PM - 80 Ft. Stanton Land Use Planning.

Don Winslow of the U. S. Forest Service discussed the proposed exchange of 2240 acres of land being pursued by the Apache Indians, and he exhibited plats showing Sierra Blanca, the ski area, and White Mountain Wilderness. Robert Scribner outlined a 30 page statement of the Mescalero Indians.

The Executive Committee approved a recommendation to the Steering Committee that the proposed exchange of land between the USFS and the Indians be rejected.

The steering committee of SCMRA convened at 1:00 p.m. the meeting called to order by Robert Scribner, Chairman.

The program of the afternoon was presented by Vince Yegge of the University of N. M. Bureau of Business Research. He outlined the various divisions of the Bureau and told of their function.

Proposals coming from the executive committee were discussed. The Claunch-Proposals coming from the executive committee were discussed. The Claunch-Pinto road project approved. Robert Scribner summarized a 30-page statement on the 2240 land exchange with the Indians. The Steering Committee adopted a resolution opposing the exchange of lands and a latter to that effect was to be sent to the Forest Service.

The next meeting will be February 29 in Alamogordo.

Down The Way Of The... West

Letter from T.C. Murray at St. Petersburg, Florida asks information about southwest New Mexico or southeast Arizona. He says, "I realize there isn't much going on in the Lincoln, Capitan and Carrizozo area, but I would like to know a little about my old friends. We sent him some papers -- hope the Murray family decides to move in our area.

Hugh Stiles, Ruidoso News editor, thought the area newspaper (he means the Roswell Record) reporting on land controvery in ski area committed several falacies in their reporting. Stiles' report is in this issue.

This is what Kansas people want to know about New Mexico. Where do ranchers live--in town. Answer, no, most live on their ranches but you can't see the headquarters. Are the homes nice? Answer, yes, real nice. Where are the farms? Answer, there aren't any. What about snow, how much rain in a year, what was in all those old Zozo buildings, what hours for Mass at Catholic Church, how big is a ranch, personal to Payton--how can your business grow in such a small town, where I can I get my tires balanced.

w-w

These questions were asked by three Kansas families visiting with the Paytons over the weekend. They got pretty good answers plus some information they didn't ask for. Two of them farm and other family in newspaper business. We took Larry Viethaler, the editor, to Ruidoso for basketball game--didn't show off so good there, best action was at the Win-Place & Show. Little gal in blue dress had as much hair and a lot more moves than any of the basketball players.

w-w

When you can't stop them up the middle, under the bucket or at the free throw line, there's not much more to be said and that's the way it was, Grizzlies vs. the Warriors. Zozo would have to be in peak form to beat the Warriors, our guess is that the Warriors will have to play over their heads to win in regional and state playoffs.

w-w

Cheers for the Corona Cardinals -- they've won their second tournament and that's really some going.

On the home front -- pair of robins in for water this week, drove off sparrows Monday. Cats in the yard when dogs are out (same rules should apply to them as to dogs). Otis and Waldo got their annual bath last week.

Charlie Leslie says his calf crop is coming along good. He'd just as soon have another month like January. Most of the calving ought to be done in February.

Many, many people are no good at counting calories and they have the figures to prove it.

When a woman turns around to look at another woman--that's mink!

Push-button warfare: Two people competing for the same self-service elevator.

A modern woman is a creature who can throw together a 20-minute meal that looks like she spent five hours on it--and then spend five hours at the beauty shop getting her hair to look like she'd just thrown it together.

Charitable Contributions Require Proof

Albuquerque--Many taxpayers lost all or part of their deductions for charitable contributions last year because they failed to keep the necessary records.

Substantiation of charitable contributions is one of the most frequent problems encounted in the audit of tax returns, Maurice E. Johnson, District Director of Internal Revenue, reminded New Mexico taxpayers today.

Another problem in the contribution area that appeared on last year's returns was the claim of the full amount paid for a ticket to a charity ball, theatre benefit, or banquet as a charitable contribution.

Mr. Johnson said that only that part of the ticket price in excess of the value received by the buyer may be considered a charitable contribution.

"When $10 is paid for a ticket to a charity banquet and the meal would normally cost $4, then only $6 may be considered a charitable gift," he said.

To help taxpayers avoid this mistake on 1971 returns, IRS has requested all charitable organizations selling tickets to fundraising affairs to clearly indicate on the ticket the amount that is deductible. Identifying the deductible portion of the ticket price should end this problem, Mr. Johnson said.
