Basketball season wrapup this week

This is the final week of regularly scheduled games before start of district tournaments February 25-26.

Biggest upset of the late season was Clayton's 67-59 victory over Cimarron, the Number 1 rated team in the state for most of the season. Both teams play in District 1 along with Des Moines, a team that beat Clayton three times, Mora and Maxwell and other strong teams.

Clayton Yellowjackets took a quick lead and were never headed in the game with Cimarron. Clayton Coach Wayne Moore said, "We had a real great defensive effort. They were never able to penetrate, and they forced some shots."

In 2AA Mesa Vista, 18-1 is still up at the top followed by Pojoaque loser to a couple of 3AAA teams last week. In 3AAA Corona and Estancia are still battling it out. Estancia beat Magdalena while Corona was losing to Carrizozo.

Lordsburg in District 4 has poor 13-10 season record but are 7-2 in the district against Reserve's 7-3. The big one in District 5 remains Ruidoso with wins over Jal and Lake Arthur last week. Sports writer Jerry McDaniel says this about Carrizozo, "Corona ran aful of curious Carrizozo, a team that has been up and down with injury problems." The Grizzlies have their best season record in many years but no one is betting long odds that they can put together enough good games to come through a tough district tournament.

Dora, rated Number 3 in the state is the team to beat in District 6 with a 20-2 season. Fr. Sumner had two big wins over Grady and Santa Rosa last week. District 7 does not have a team in the top ten, Santa Rosa should be the pick. Rehoboth Mission is showing real power in District 8 with 17-2 season and wins over Laguna-Acoma and 3A power Shiprock.

Pairings for the district tournaments will be made at meetings over the state Sunday.

Grizzly record goes to 19-5

Carrizozo 96 Capitan 39
Carrizozo showed a balanced attack against Capitan on Friday as five Grizzlies scored in double figures to defeat the hapless Tigers by a score of 96-39.

The Grizzlies built up a 7 point lead at the end of the first quarter as five Carrizozo players chipped in the scoring while four of Capitan starting five managed a basket.

The second quarter saw the Grizzlies pour in 32 points to Capitan's 14 and the Carrizozo Grizzlies built up a 48-23 half time lead behind the scoring of Ellison, Lee, Gallegos, Chavez and Mike Barela. Ted Sisneros did the bulk of the scoring for Capitan.

In the second half the Grizzlies David Lee and Willie Gallegos took over and did most of the scoring as the built up quarter leads of 64-34 and 96-39. In the final quarter of play Capitan could not get a basket as they failed on 6 floor tries.

Top scorers for Carrizozo were: Lee (27), Gallegos (21), G. Chavez (12), Mike Barela and Matt Ellison (10) while Shawn Lock, playing sparingly, looked good as he scored 8 points along with Christy Monreal. Ted Sisneros was high for Capitan with 10 points.

Scoring by quarter:
ZOZO 16 48 64 96
CHS. 9 23 34 39

Carrizozo 61 Cloudercroft 51
Cloudercroft showed lots of determination and lots of desire in trying to upend the Carrizozo Grizzlies but their efforts fell a little short. Carrizozo playing below par after a previous outstanding performance against Capitan, could not put their powerful offense together. In the meantime Cloudercroft kept closing the gap behind the scoring of Castanon who finished with a game high of 23 points.

For Carrizozo Matt Ellison (14), David Lee (16), Gaby Chavez and Christy Monreal (12) were top scorers. The scoring by quarters indicates the strong playing of the Cloudercroft Bears as Carrizozo held quarter margins of 11-9, 21-19, 43-40, 61-51. At the free throw lane both teams made 13 charity tosses.
Season record 19-5.

Higgins proposes quota repeal

By Fred Buckles

Santa Fe — Jack Higgins of Tinnie would repeal the liquor license population quota law to boost tourist income for New Mexico.

Higgins is president of Tinnie Mercantile Co. The firm operates the Silver Dollar Restaurant and Sunset Bar at Tinnie, Lincoln County, and Legal Tender Steak House and bar at Lamy, Santa Fe County.

The business is an enterprise of National Republican Committeeman Robert O. Anderson of Roswell.

Higgins says: "Due to the falling economy in minerals and agriculture I think we should think seriously about what can be done to boost tourist income for the state.

"One thing we can do is modernize the liquor laws. At present the law allows one liquor license for every 2,000 permanent population. This is probably adequate for areas of stable population.

"But in the recreation areas, such as Ruidoso and many others, there are times when there are many times the number of people as the permanent population. This leaves the area without sufficient places to go for an evening out.

"Tourists who have a long wait in line at one of the few places where they can have liquor with their meals may think they will find a more accommodating area for their next trip."

Higgins says: "I propose that liquor licenses be issued to anyone that qualifies in any area subject to schools, churches and zoning. Any new license would cost $3,000 for an urban license and $1,500 for a rural license."

Higgins further recommends: "To be fair to the small operator I suggest that yearly license fees be based on one per cent of total purchases for resale for a calendar year. Total purchases for a calendar year could easily be determined after January 1 so that the fee could be paid by July 1."

Non-Transferrable Licenses Sought

Annual liquor license fees are $50 now. Last fiscal year the state collected $242,704 in license fees.

Higgins would make licenses non-transferrable. At present licenses are sold by a holder to a buyer for up to $70,000 $80,000. But the state receives no benefit.

Asst. State Liquor Director John Romero says the population quota should be lifted. Romero says the price for a license should be set at $5,000. He says this would produce responsible buyers.

Romero would also prohibit license transfers, a common practice now. Licenses would revert to the state, removing a source of high profits from speculators and license brokers.

Higgins and Romero would allow the economic laws of supply and demand to function. They say this would determine the number of operating licenses. Higgins says he does not fear competition.

In Conflict With Free Enterprise

Romero says the population quota law is in direct conflict with the free enterprise system. He doubts more liquor licenses "would produce more drinks." John says income could finance an alcoholism treatment program if licenses were sold by the state for $5,000.

The population quota is a farce anyway. Existing licenses were allowed to continue when the law was adopted in 1951. This produced ludicrous situations still in effect today.

For example, 174 dispenser and retailer licenses are in Albuquerque. Based on population, Albuquerque qualifies for 122 licenses. So it is 52 permits over the quota. Population projections show Albuquerque will not qualify for another liquor license until 1990.

Twenty-six liquor licenses are in Las Cruces although Las Cruces qualifies for only 19 on a population basis. Las Cruces also will not be eligible for another license until 1990 if census projections materialize.

Santa Fe counts 67 dispenser and retailer liquor licenses but should have 21 on the population quota. Santa Fe is 46 permits over the quota. Projections forecast Santa Fe will be ineligible for another license until the 2090.

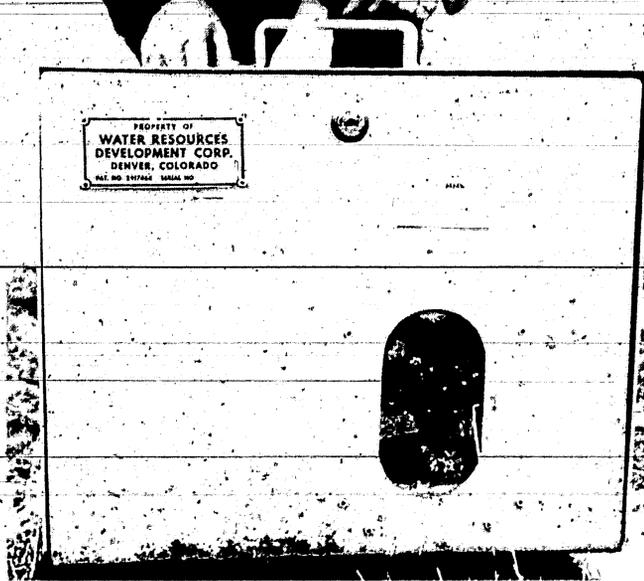

Farmington qualifies for 11 licenses on the quota law but actually has 14. Farmington will not justify another permit until 1985. Gallup has 39 licenses but qualifies for only 7 under the quota law so it is a thumping 32 permits above the quota. Gallup will be eligible for another license in the 2070 if projections are accurate.

Carlsbad has 20 licenses, qualifies for 11 and won't justify another license until the year 2000. Silver City has 11 licenses, qualifies for 4 under the quota law and won't warrant another permit until 1990.

Raton has 27 licenses, qualifies for 3, is 24 over the quota and will be eligible for another permit in the year 2090. Ruidoso has 12 licenses, is eligible for one and will justify another permit in the 2000.

Taos County outside incorporated municipalities has 26 licenses, but qualifies for just one under the quota law. Standing 25 licenses over the quota, Taos County will rate another license in the year 3570.

Ruidoso Downs will justify another license in the year 2000, Las Vegas in 2090 and Grants in the year 3100.

Three snow machines are operating in Lincoln County, this one in L. Z. Manire's yard. L. He had two calls in January and two, so far, in February and it snowed every time the machine went in action. A small flame is visible inside the looking glass at lower right. The machines will be here until April according to Mr. Manire.

Harkey trades for Fulton Duggar Ranch

In a trade of Lincoln County ranch properties consumated February 3, J. Fay Harkey acquired the Fulton Duggar Ranch of some six sections and his Malpais ranch property went to Steve Duggar. The Harkeys will move to their new ranch, and Steve to the former Harkey place.

Harkey sold his rock business to Frank Getman of Albuquerque the first of this year and will devote his entire time now to ranching.

Dutch Cox gets water well bid

Bids for drilling, casing, developing and testing two water wells to approximate depth of 160 feet for the Town of Carrizozo were opened February and the contract awarded to Dutch Cox on low bid of $8,613.36. Shamrock Drilling of Espanola next low at 13,184, then Huey Drilling at 14,716, Water Industry of Hereford 15,773 and Perry Bros. 18,299.

Working time on the drilling job is 60 calendar days. The intent is to bring in two wells of at least 500 gallons per minute capacity, to supply the recreation facility which will be built starting this year.

Attending the bid opening were Mayor Johnson Stearns, Councilmen Vernon Petty and Duff May, Engineer Tom Mann, Clerk Nellie Lee Baker, Atty. Bill Payne and Paul Payton.

Mayor Stearns, along with Welcolm Armstrong attended a meeting of counties and municipalities in Roswell Tuesday. Carrizozo officials are interested in HUD funds for the town.

Carrizozo was getting some snow on the day Duff May and Tom Mann went out to look over the stake location for water well which had been "watched" by Jay Withers. Good water in this location on the high side of the new recreation facility, according to Jay.

Brunson 4th In State Scoring

David Brunson of Corona with a 26.3 shooting average and total of 589 points ranks fourth among basketball shooters of the state. Top man is Art Serna of Pojoaque with (30.5 average) 670 points, Dick Hunsaker of Clovis is second with (27 average) 567 points and Gene Mathis of West Las Vegas is third with 513 and 27 average.

Chavez asks million for Old Lincoln

Santa Fe, N. M.—Fabian Chavez, director of Tourism for the New Mexico Department of Development, Wednesday said the priority project for his office at this time is to bring a feeling of cohesiveness to the state.

To accomplish this Chavez is establishing a program for cooperative advertising around the state. The plan is to funnel visitors from one tourist area to another until they have seen all the state has to offer.

Thus, a visitor who entered at Carlsbad would receive brochures which tell of the attractions in the Carlsbad area. The same brochure would also suggest that the tourist visit historic Old Lincoln and the Ruidoso area or travel on to White Sands National Monument. At each point the tourist would be directed to another in New Mexico.

To accomplish this end all must work together, Chavez said.

SOUTHWEST AREA

The tourism director said he is working on the advertising for the Southwest area of the state. This is the area which includes the Gila Wilderness, Gila Cliff Dwelling, ghost towns and open-pit copper mines.

Once this phase of the project is complete, Chavez said, he will turn his attention to the south central portion of the state; the White Sands, Las Cruces, Carlsbad and Roswell areas.

This portion of the state "has been treated like an orphan too long," Chavez said.

In these two areas "we have some of the most beautiful country in the world," Chavez said.

"The Carlsbad Caverns National Park and the White Sands are two powerful tourist magnets, and bound these areas of development," Chavez said.

The basic problem is to move the tourist around the state Chavez said. "Last year 1.2 million visitors were at Carlsbad Caverns and less than 15 per cent of them went further north."

Chavez also discussed his plans for the restoration of Old Lincoln Town.

LINCOLN COUNTY

"I have just recently applied to the Four Corners commission for $1 million in funds to restore Lincoln to what it was like during the Lincoln County War. In addition I applied to the American Revolutionary Commission, which is an organization devoted to our country's 200 year celebration in 1976, for additional money."

"Very few towns in the U. S. have the history of Lincoln, that's what makes it special," Chavez said.

Chavez said if the project succeeds it should induce industry to the area which would bolster the economy.

"While we would not allow it in the town we would need tourist facilities such as motels, restaurants and gas stations. Within Lincoln itself we would probably need concessionaires, buggy drivers, since we will not allow automobiles, and restaurants.

"We are aiming at a situation much like Williamsburg, Va."

"We have 100 per cent cooperation from those living in Lincoln and I hope that they will pass on ordinance in the next year for historical zoning so that proper buildings will be in Lincoln."

After tying all the areas in the state in the advertising campaign Chavez said: "You could turn the state into a place where tourists would stay a week."

Chavez said all these plans are relative. He said, "We have so many attractions for visitors we must properly showcase them. Our ski slogan for next year is related to this idea. Our slogan will be: "Ski New Mexico, And Then Some."

New Mexico law states that all elections municipal and on up, must be done on the new machines. The law also states that in such a municipal election the candidates must run as teams or "parties." Two incumbents are one party and the recently declared candidate is of another. Two of the three will be elected. There's the rub. As voting machines are now set up it would not be possible to vote for Jack Davidson and the incumbent immediately above. That's not fair. Putting Jack's name with no name about would make it possible to vote for all three and that's not legal.

Capitan Women hear EIA representative

The Capitan Woman's Club held its regular meeting Thursday Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in their club house, with nine members and guests present.

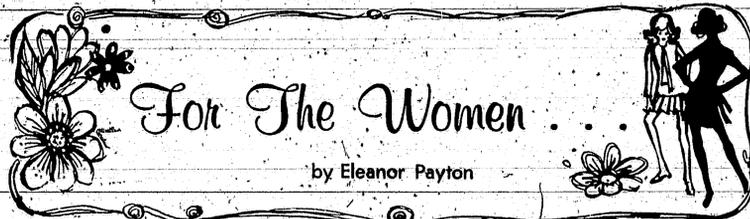

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Kathy Dean, the president, who then turned the floor over to the program chairman, Mrs. Hildie Polasky who introduced the guest speaker, Mr. John Gwen. Mr. Gwen is the environmental manager for the Environmental Improvement Agency for District six of New Mexico with main offices in Roswell. Mr. Gwen explained what the E.I.A. is and what its objectives are. He passed out a number of pamphlets to the members and guests and answered the many questions asked by those present. Mr. Gwen also mentioned that Mr. Mike Richardson is the EIA representative for Lincoln County with his office in the Ruidoso City Hall building. Anyone with questions or problems connected with clean air and water, sanitation, clean eating establishments, and clean food products can contact Mr. Richardson in Ruidoso or Mr. Gwen in Roswell.

Following Mr. Gwen's presentation, Mrs. Dean conducted a brief business meeting. Among the business taken care of was the decision of the club members to contribute $3.00 to CARE.

The business meeting was followed by refreshments served by the hostess Mrs. Tommy Allen. The drawing of the door prize won by Hildie Polasky.

After the meeting, the club members filled the Valentine boxes, which were raffled off on Saturday Feb. 12, with home made candy. The drawing for the candy was held at Dean's Hardware Store in Capitan at 2:00 p.m. Saturday. The first prize name, Mr. Hank Lacy, of Capitan was drawn by Heather Polasky and the second prize name, Mr. Mike Capps, of Ruidoso, was drawn by Ramona Langford.

MARY ELLEN PAYNE ATTENDS 4-H COMMUNITY PRIDE CONFERENCE
Mary Ellen Payne returned Monday night from a three day conference in Albuquerque and Santa Fe on "4-H Community Pride and Citizenship." Amy Foster of Corona and Cecelia Pacheco of Tinnie were the 4-H members who were official delegates to the conference. The group learned how to take action in their own counties on environmental control.

The group met at the 4-H Center in Albuquerque. The banquet held at the Holiday Inn Mid-town, featured Dr. Eugene Ross, associate director of Extension Service, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces as the main speaker.

The 4-H'ers traveled Monday to Santa Fe for a day of activities highlighted by a reception at the Governor's mansion and a tour of the Capitol building.

Mrs. Payne had the opportunity to visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Joe Wilkerson of Colorado, formerly of Alamogordo and visit with the Lincoln County legislators.

Miss Monrreal is Blossom

Carrizozo Future Homemakers of America held their annual Blossom and Beau Festival Monday night, February 14, in the high school cafeteria. About seventy guests and members enjoyed a buffet dinner of covered dishes furnished by members with ham and hot rolls prepared by the Future Homemakers.

The tables were decorated with a Valentine theme of cherubs and hearts on tables, piano top, and along the walls. A Valentine-decorated mailbox held a sealed envelope until the end of the program when it was removed and opened to find who the 1972 Blossom was to be.

A short program was given by some FHA members, including a skit featuring Nancy Dross, Cheryl Johnson, Barbara Knight, and Carla Stuteville with Lisa Zumwalt acting as a wall for the background. Leanne Straley played a piano solo of "Love Story." Then there was another skit featuring Carol Harkey as the wall, Patsy Samora, George Portillo, Margaret Chavez, and Marie Herrera.

The final portion of the program was that for which all had been waiting, the crowning of the 1972 FHA Blossom. Rosebuds, representing each of the four classes were Tami Lindsey who selected Leo Samora as her beau, Lynn Steinepreis with beau, Jody Ventura, Shirley Herrera with beau, Ronnie Beltran, and Margaret Monrreal with Tony Padilla. When FHA President, Kathy McBride, finally ripped open the mighty envelope, it was disclosed that Margaret Monrreal had been elected the Blossom. Tony crowned Margaret with a crown borne by Patrick Ortiz, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Ortiz, and the spray of a dozen beautiful red roses was presented to the Blossom by flower girl, Sandra Ware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Ware.

All in all, the evening was pronounced a big success.

Former resident weds in Albuquerque

Miss Martha Lyn Jackson became the bride of Dennis E. Burns, of Hawaii, in a January 15 ceremony held in the Immanuel United Presbyterian Church in Albuquerque.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Y. Jackson Jr., of Albuquerque. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden E. Burns, of Hobbs, formerly of Carrizozo. Rev. Denton J. Simms, brother of Rev. Lacy Simms, of Alamogordo, and the late Dr. Eugene Simms, officiated during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her formal-length gown, of white satin was designed with a Victorian neckline and trumpet sleeves. A yoke of English net and Alencon lace trimmed the bodice and sleeves. The brides' Wateau train fell into a Cathedral length. Fresh flowers held in place her waist-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade of brown cymbidium orchids, shades of brown mums, and Lily of the Valley.

Miss Claudia Jackson, sister of the bride, served as maid-of-honor. Also attending the bride were Miss Alice Jackson, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Don Call.

The attendants formal-length gowns were in shades of brown and they wore fresh flowers in matching colors in their hair. Each carried a bouquet similar to the bride's bouquet.

Best Man was Gordon Hall, of Albuquerque, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Hall, of Alamogordo. Groomsmen, ushers were Carl A. Thornton, brother-in-law of the groom, of Torrance, California, L. Dale Caton, brother-in-law of the groom, of Hobbs, and Sherwood Y. Jackson III, brother of the bride of Albuquerque.

Candlelighters were Lynn Caton and Crit Caton, of Hobbs, niece and nephew of the groom. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jackson wore a dress of brown, and her corsage was a Cymbidium orchid with pom-pom mums. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of green. Her corsage, also, was a Cymbidium orchid and pom-pom mums.

A reception at the Hilton Hotel followed the ceremony and was attended by some 250 relatives and friends of the happy couple.

A four-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table and was flanked by two tall silver candelabras, each holding five tapered candles. Lilly of the Valley and greenery encircled the edge of the round table with miniature nosegays accenting the table skirt.

Matching tablecloths, of cutwork design, made by the brides' grandmother, covered the punch table and the hors d'oeuvres table. Dudley, are invited to contact him in the judge's chambers at the Lincoln County Courthouse during those hours.

Following a honeymoon in Ruidoso, Mr. and Mrs. Burns spent brief visits with their families, in Hobbs, and Albuquerque, before leaving on January 27, for Kailua, Hawaii, where they are making their home.

The bridegroom is employed as a pharmacist for Hughes Drug Stores and the bride will be a student at the University of Hawaii, where she will complete work towards her degree, in Mathematics. She expects to graduate in June of this year.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. S. Y. Jackson Sr., who was associated with the New Mexico Board of Education some 30 years, before his retirement last spring.

How to stay slim and trim

By Mary Ellen Payne CHA

"Slim and Trim Meals" was the topic at Leader Training meeting for Extension Club members this past week. The club women attending will take the lesson and the materials to their respective clubs at future meetings.

The lesson taught by Mary Ellen Payne, Lincoln County Home Agent, featured three main dishes, two vegetable dishes and two salads. Information was given on proper nutrition to maintain the glow of good health while reducing.

The meeting was attended by Extension Club members and the Home Economics class at Hondo High School. The students were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Hazel Arthurs.

One of the low calorie dishes was "Fish Creole." The recipe taken from the Pillsbury Family Weight Control Cook Book.

- Fish Creole
 - 1 lb. haddock, cod or halibut fillets, thawed
 - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 - 1 cup (8 oz. can) stewed tomatoes, cut into pieces
 - 1/4 cup (1/2 med.) chopped onion or 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped celery
 - 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon leaf oregano, if desired
 - 1/8 teaspoon pepper
 - Oven 350-4 servings - 203 calories each
- Rinse the fish fillets and dry with a towel. Arrange in 9 inch square or 11 x 7 inch pan. In medium saucepan, melt butter. Stir in remaining ingredients; mix well. Carefully pour tomato mixture over fish fillets. Bake at 350 for 40 to 50 minutes until fish flakes.

Old land mark soon gone

Capitan By Margaret Rench

An old land mark will soon be gone forever. The second story of the old drug store is down. Soon the remaining part of the building will be gone then the debris cleaned and there is a big change.

Then across the street north east is the new bank building going up fast. The walls are nearly all up and the rafters.

The School Cafeteria is standing with the steel in place. Block is being hauled in and placed. When it is warmer that too will progress. A beautiful 60 foot x 12 foot trailer home has been moved in this last week. It is gold and white. It was placed on the Reil lot that was recently cleared and filled. It has a nice wire fence around it. The owner is Alfred Trujillo. He has done a great job there and it looks so very nice.

The former Pearl's Bar and Cafe business which was sold to Cora Dutton and then named Capitan Bar has been purchased recently by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp owner of The Little House Barbecue. They took over January 3. The name of the business now is The Branding Iron Saloon. They have separated the bar from the restaurant by oak paneling, with a nice double door to enter. They have an outside entrance if you desire not to go through the bar. You can enter either way.

They have eight tables and there is a very nice modern kitchen. The barbecue is very large and is outside. Apple wood is used and they do custom barbecuing as well. Their specialty is 8 and 16 oz. steaks with their bradn IB. They barbecue all kinds of meats.

They opened the restaurant three weeks ago. It is a nice place. I do wish them success and happiness. They do know their business. It is good to have new people arrive here and see the opportunity.

I am happy to report this progress. Everyone who has lots of old houses, do please lets help clean our town. Lets help make these changes brighter our town.

The State Forestry House and Office is being painted white and it truly looks nice. Candelario Trujillo recently purchased the Forbus house just west of his home and soon he will have it modern and nice.

The walls of the first Forest Ranger Station House built in 1938 by WPA workman are down. Only debris remains to be cleared. The second house there the former office has all of the lumber out and soon these walls will be down.

The home of the deceased Emma Herrera was sold recently and it is being remodeled for living. We were saddened by the death of Mr. Jack McGarry last Friday morning in the Ruidoso Hospital. His body was taken to Carlsbad, their former home and the funeral services were Monday, February 14.

Pearl Soderback had a one car accident last Thursday morning as she was driving to work. At this time she is still in the Ruidoso hospital. The car went into a deep arroyo. It did take the large wrecker to get it out.

Mrs. Bruce Brinner arrived last Saturday to visit her uncle Mr. Charles Pepper who is seriously ill. She will remain a while. She is staying with Mrs. Pepper and takes her to see Mr. Pepper daily.

Other guests of Mrs. Pepper this week has been Mrs. Mary Johnson and Mrs. Harte of Carrizozo. Mrs. H. Lee Miller of Alamogordo and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart of Roswell. Mrs. Hardy of Ruidoso visits Mr. Pepper daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gossett and Dana spent last weekend in Portales with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Gross and with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Gossett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferinando Trujillo are the proud parents of a son, James Alfred, born at the Carrizozo hospital February 3, and weighed 6 lbs 4 ozs.

John Soderback has been in the Ruidoso hospital for three weeks though is improving. I wish you and Pearl a good recovery.

Mr. Bill Merrell of Las Cruces brought his mother Mrs. Eltha Merrell who is recuperating at their home, to Capitan last week after her check up by her doctor at Ruidoso. We are happy to learn she is doing nicely.

Mrs. Vera Beall is now at home in Alamogordo convalescing after her surgery. Though the report is that she is not doing too well. I wish both of you ladies a good recovery.

Mrs. Rafaelita Pryor who underwent surgery at the Ruidoso hospital is now back at her duties of teaching school. I wish you good health too.

The Capitan Boosters Club was organized in September. Anyone is welcome to become a member if they are interested in helping to improve parent-student relationship. Dues are $2.00 for a single person $3.00 for a couple or family. They meet the 4th Tuesday of every month in the School Cafeteria. March will be election of officers for the ensuing year. They agreed that April would end the meeting until next school year. They and the Farm Bureau are trying to get a doctor from El Paso to talk to parents and students on drug problems.

Happy Birthday to Miss Terry Cartwright, who enjoyed her birthday February 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland and Rhonda Kay left Sunday, February 6, for Humble City to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Strickland and his baby sister, Mr. and Mrs. Mathak Green who became parents of a son, William born February 3 weighing 6 lbs 10 ozs. at Lovington.

Mr. Dean Strickland of Lovington spent last Thursday with his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Votaw are new residents of Capitan in the Sellers house. February 8, they moved from California. We are happy to have you and hope you remain with us.

A phone call came in to Mrs. S. M. Cozzens and Jane Sunday morning early to come to Albuquerque, that Mr. Cozzens was not doing too well.

Mrs. Jonelle Lucas and Fern Tipton of Ruidoso Downs visited her sister, Mrs. Howard Wright last Tuesday.

Our Twiligigs performed well in El Paso last Tuesday, February 8, in the South Western Livestock and Rodeo Parade. Miss Tina Goodrich with her class, nine year old Becky Jones, nine year old Altina Proctor, eleven year old Lisa Goodrich, six year old Jan Huey and four year old Tiffany Huey marched two miles and did a beautiful job. They were dressed in Western costumes with hats, black, white and turquoise.

Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Stubby Huey and baby daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Huey and son Billy and her mother Mrs. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodrich, Mrs. Dee Proctor, Tim and Todd and Nicholette Nethaway.

The Capitan 4-H judging team went Wednesday and participated in the activities.

Mrs. B. F. Goodrich arrived in Albuquerque and was met by her son Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodrich. She came by plane and they brought her home with them in Capitan for a visit while she was enroute to her home in Bedd, Oregon. She has been visiting in Indiana, West Virginia and Albuquerque.

Happy Birthday to Kenny Jones on his 16th birthday February 10.

Those who attended the funeral services of Jack McGarry, Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr., Mrs. Marion Raley and Mr. Ray Taylor.

Mrs. Doris Pounds was ill with the flu last week for several days. She was unable to attend the Eastern Star practice last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw, Mrs. Tom Pope, Mrs. Rench, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe did attend. We are prepared for the official visit of the Grand Officers February 23. There will be a delicious dinner that night at the Masonic Hall at 6:30 p.m. Those of you who have been asked to bring certain items, be certain you remember. Come and bring everything needed. See you then.

The Grade School students had their Valentine Party last Friday. They passed out valentines and all had a great time.

A meeting was held last Wednesday February 9 afternoon in the Class Room of remedial reading teacher, Jo Anne Lease to discuss the progress of the reading of the students involved. There are 25 to 30 students in this program.

The Home Ec Students made their plans and are prepared for the FHA Daddy-Date Tuesday night February 15.

The Tigerettes were in Hagerman February 7. In the first game the Bobcats slipped past the Tigers 26 to 25. Goose Jenkins was high point scoring 12. Hagerman won the A game 63 to 35. The starters were Mary Runnels, Martha Romero, Carol Larson, Donna Hobbs and Kathy Robinson. B Team Captain was Sara Jobe and A Team Captain was Martha Romero.

The Dexter girls were here February 12. The B game was won by the Demons by one point. High point was Sara Jobe.

The A Team lost with 25 points. Dexter was coached by Pam Hall Daubert.

The Tigerettes will be in Ruidoso on February 16 and 17 for the District Tournament.

The title of the senior play is "I Was A Teenage Drocula," by Gene Donovan.

The Tigers played the Carrizozo Grizzlies Friday and got beat.

Loyd Carwright, Ted Sisneros and Robert Abercrombie were high point scorers Saturday night against Hagerman.

The Band received some new pieces this last week. Among them were "Hogans Heros," theme, "Rainy Days," "Monday 5" and a new Rock piece and "Close to You."

Fond memories of statehood

The day that New Mexico became a state 60 years ago has fond memories for the girl who raised the 47-star flag over the capitol on January 6, 1912.

The girl was Madeline Mills, daughter of William J. Mills, the last Territorial governor of New Mexico. Today, she is Mrs. Herbert W. Gehring and lives in El Paso.

In a letter to George Fitzpatrick, member of the Statehood Commemoration Commission, Mrs. Gehring related the events of that day.

"My father, Governor William Joseph Mills, was in his office, which at that time was the front right hand corner of the Capitol as you face the building, on the first floor," Mrs. Gehring wrote.

"A telephone call came from his office to the Executive Mansion, which was across the street above the river. I was at home, and it was about one o'clock. He told me to come right over and hoist the flag, because President Taft had signed the Statehood Bill.

"Former Governor Miguel A. Otero had had a flag made years before in anticipation of statehood. It had been tenderly and hopefully cherished since, and now it would be raised over the capitol, with 47 stars. . . . I was sixteen years old at that time. How very happy it made me!"

Mrs. Gehring wrote that "a great celebration was held that night with bonfires and a large fire on Fort Marcy." She wrote that she visited Santa Fe ten years ago and that officials of the Museum of New Mexico showed her the flag which she had raised over the Capitol. The flag was used again for the 60th Anniversary Celebration.

Around Town

By Eleanor Payton

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lock went to Tucson last weekend to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Sgt. and Mrs. Jim Lock. While they were there the Jim Locks became parents of a son born Feb. 12. They have named him Vance.

Mrs. Wm. Whittaker and baby daughter, Allison, of Albuquerque, arrived in Carrizozo Saturday and are the house guests of Mrs. Alton Whittaker, Jr. and family. They will also visit Allison's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Whittaker, Sr.

Mrs. L. W. Harte was hostess to the members of the Town and Country Bridge Club Friday afternoon. After a one o'clock luncheon the afternoon was spent at bridge. Mrs. Albert Roberts was a guest. Mrs. A. N. Spencer was high score winner.

For those of you who may have missed the picture in last week's News showing Mrs. Bettie Lou Snapp, state chairman for Vocational Education Week with Governor Bruce King, Mrs. Snapp is the former Betty Lou Grogan who will be remembered by many as a popular teacher in the Carrizozo Schools some years ago.

Billy Ortiz and Ginger Armstrong, students at U.N.M. were home last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ortiz and Gloria, were in Roswell last weekend visiting their son, Major Gilbert Ortiz and family. Major Ortiz left Thursday for Forbes Air Force Base at Topeka, Kansas. His family will follow as soon as he finds living quarters.

Mr. John Wilson of Lovington was here last weekend to attend to business matters and to visit his mother, Mrs. B. W. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Gieser of Cleveland, Ohio, are expecting this week for a visit with Mrs. Gieser's brother, George V. Nicholas and family. The Giesers have just returned from South America.

This Saturday evening the First Baptist Church will be hosts to the Associational Youth Rally. A youth group from Eastern New Mexico University will present the drama "The Black Sheep." The public is invited.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. John Hein, Sr. over the weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. John Hein, Jr. and children of Silver City, New Mexico; Mr. Jim Hein of Santa Rosa, New Mexico; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hein, who have just returned from Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Frank Hein is leaving for Schwetzingen, Germany February 24, where he will be stationed for eighteen months. His wife will leave in about six weeks to join him there. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hein are also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Samora.

Carrizozo Senior Extension Club met in the Medallion Room on Feb. 14. Hostesses were Rachel West and Effie Chisholm who carried out the Valentine theme in their refreshments.

Members present were Fay Woolen, Clara Snow, Lillian Richard, Connie Morales, Rachel West, Dorothy Current, Effie Chisholm, Elva Wilson, and Dorothy Simmons. Cora Dutton was a guest.

Pat Dunning has fabulous trip to Egypt

Pat Dunning recently returned from an archeological study tour of Egypt under the leadership of Dr. Cyrus Gordon, author of "Before Columbus" and fourteen other books on The Near East.

Dr. Gordon's specialty is Egyptian hieroglyphs which he can translate with ease from the thousands of inscriptions on tombs and temple walls - a fascinating insight into the life and times of Egypt's amazing 5000 year old "modern" civilization. He also speaks fluent Arabic.

The ancient Egyptian's engineering feats have never been matched until the 20th century.

Dr. Gordon's small group visited known and little known ruins whose marvels the Greek Herodotus (Father of History) wrote about 500 years before Christ. They traveled up the Nile from Cairo to the Sudan by plane, ancient sail-boat, modern-cruiser, horse-carts, 1948-taxis, and, above the Aswan Dam, by hydrofoil.

Pat's interest over many years is checking out the similarities between Mexico, Peru and Bolivia's pre-Columbian pyramids and architecture with those of The Near East. She found similarities too numerous to be accidental. Also some things you don't usually read about in history books.

Did any of you ranchers ever see a bull tomb and mummy?

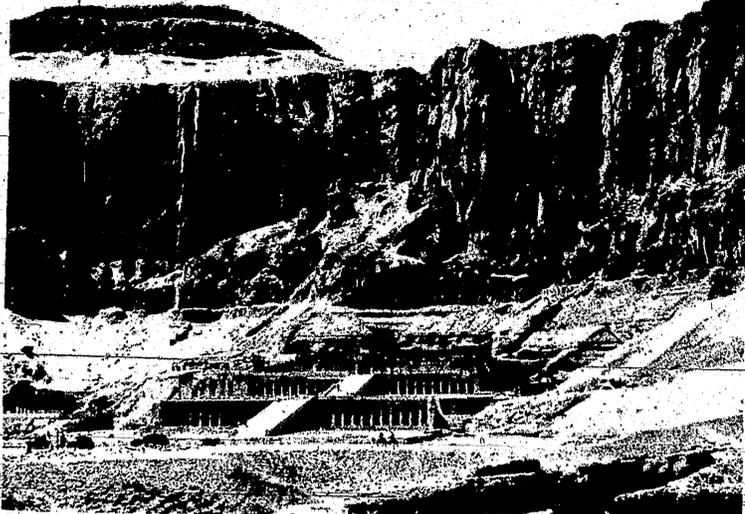

Before 1400 B. C. Egyptian Pharaohs were excellent cattle-breeders. To build up their herds in a priestly oriented society, it was religiously taught that the God Ptah demanded a sacred bull called the Apis.

Modern town in upper Egypt, Nubia.

The best young bull in all of Egypt was chosen with much care, pomp and ceremony and for 40 days the choicest feed was lavished upon him. Then the best cows of the land were brought to his court. It was considered a great honor to have a cow chosen from your herd.

Upon the bull's death, another was chosen the same way, and from the looks of the myriad wall paintings on tombs and temples, the breeding program was excellent. From the size of their coffins and mummies, they were also tremendous.

The famous tomb temple of Queen Hatshepsut.

As time passed the Apis (or sacred bull) became deified and huge subterranean tombs were built tunnelled in the rock. After their death they were embalmed like the Pharaohs and buried with great respect and pomp in beautifully carved rose on black granite coffins set in large chambers opening off a 350 yard long gallery called the Serapeum. Above this immense underground structure was eventually built a large temple for the cult of the dead god Apis - "Lord of the Western Land."

The pavement and ceilings of the Serapeum are cased in white limestone brought from far away. Twenty-four huge sraphogues are still in the burial chambers. Each of them weighs 65 tons, measures about 15 feet long, seven feet wide and 10 1/2 feet high, which is room for a lot of bull.

We walked through about four miles of heavy desert sand to get to this off-the-tourist trail monstrosity - and you can imagine my rancher's reaction when I found I'd used my last camera flash. A member of the group promises to send me one; however, I did get some good shots of another bit of history I was unfamiliar with which were taken at the famous Temples of Karnah, who's gigantic buildings were begun in 2500 B. C. and added to by each great Pharaoh competitively all the way down to the Roman period.

In 1520 B. C., the female Pharaoh, Queen Hatshepsut, built two beautiful still gleaming obelisks 105 feet tall, one of which still stands (see picture). According to the text on the lower part of the obelisk, both of them were cut, transported 93 miles from the granite quarries of Aswan and erected in seven months! (Wonder if it could be done that fast now?) The French removed a smaller one that is now in Paris, and it was from this design that the U. S. built our Washington Monument!

Unlike movie versions of chained slaves whipped into dragging tons of stones for the egomania of cruel Pharaohs, we found this an utter fabrication, except perhaps in times of invasion.

Every year when the Nile flooded there was nothing for the farmers and people to do until it subsided, leaving its rich fertility behind for new crops.

So the government had sort of a W.P.A.-C.C.C. program. It employed thousands upon thousands of yearly unemployed on public works projects. One ancient Pharaoh built a "Suez" canal and Nile dam a couple of thousand years before the French and Russians! The laborers were well-fed and enough beer doled out to keep them singing while they worked! Thousands of food and drink lists down through the centuries have been translated.

Queen Hatshepsut, 1520 B. C.

Egypt's great civilization began in 3200 B. C. and died in 2400 B. C. Many of its tremendous monuments, including the Sphinx, were covered by the sands of the Sahara and are still being rediscovered.

One of the later Pharaohs, a very smart young man, was caught in a sand storm one day and took refuge behind a rocky mound. Much to his surprise, the winds blew clear the long forgotten face of the Sphinx. It was supposed to have told him that he would be the next Pharaoh. When he went home and repeated his story, the people laughed at him until he got them out and uncovered this great, mysterious, unknown statue. The people fell down in wonder and he became Pharaoh.

In about 1680 B. C., what is known as the New Kingdom began and continued despite invasions

Obelisk of Queen Hatshepsut, Karnah, Egypt, built in about 1520 B. C.

(notably the Persians lasting from 535-332 B. C.) until the Greek take-over by Alexander the Great in 332 B. C. and the Roman Conquest in 30 B. C. which lasted until 638 A. D.

After Cleopatra's death, the Egyptians who had become Christians (Copts) stayed with Rome against Constantinople until conquered by the Arabs in 640. Then came the Crusades, etc. and recently the French and English and again the Arabs, which might give anyone who's managed to read this far an idea of up-to-date difficulties. (Forgive me; History Teachers, if I've missed or misrepresented anything! My history and dates come from one of the curators of the Cairo Museum.)

Now the Russians are heavily installed and after visiting several weeks with Egyptians, I had the feeling they didn't know who to be more nervous about - the Russians or the Israelis!

Certainly Egypt is in a tough spot. The huge Russian-built Aswan dam has backed up one of the largest inland lakes in the world. Should the dam ever be destroyed, Egypt would be wiped out in a worse than biblical flood.

Perhaps it is this reason why every English speaking Egyptian and Arab-Egyptian I talked with - guides, Copt Christians, Mohammedans, scholars, lawyers, army and politicians - all wanted to emigrate to either Canada or the U. S.!

Egypt is the great cultural center of the modern and ancient "Old" World. All the countries down through history who have ever captured or controlled her have realized this. I hope she survives in peace.

Yet the wonderful "New" World ruins of Mexico, Peru and Bolivia, often overlooked, most favorably compare with many architectural resemblances that are eerily similar although to date we can offer no absolute proof of cultural exchange. Among well-known similarities, of course, are the step-pyramid at Saqqara and those in both Mexico and Peru.

A highlight of the trip was when our boat became stuck in the locks that by-pass one of the barrages (small dams) below Aswan. All this high powered electricity - "enough to furnish all of Africa" - and there was an embarrassing power failure! Those lovely pyramid-building decadents immediately gathered and did everything by hand - which took only about 1/2 hour longer than the electricity. From their grins and heave-ho enthusiasm one wonders if it wasn't a bit of "modern inconvenience" nose-thumbing.

One has the rather startling picture of every Egyptian home and cave (The latter much cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter) sporting a light-bulb while the people go their merry way doing everything quite efficiently and happily by hand.

I'm rather glad the U. S. didn't build the Aswan dam. Already it has ruined the fishing where the Nile spreads out on the Delta into the Mediterranean. All the rich, fertile silt is backing up behind the dam and not bringing its life-giving floods and fertility to the lower, absolutely rainless valley.

This bothers the Egyptians, and huge smoke-belching, air-polluting chemical fertilizer plants are being installed. Already the sparkling clear air is hazy. They give the valley and delta about 15 more years unless a cheap, effective way can be found to fertilize along that thousand-odd mile fertile strip below the dam.

The dam has turned upper Egypt into a huge inland sea. We travelled up Lake Nasser by hydrofoil at 45 mph for 5 1/2 hours, much of the time out of sight of land, to Abu Simbel, the great Rameses Temple (built in about 1293 B. C.) which twenty-eight nations (including the U. S.) combined together in a last ditch effort to raise 200 feet above the flood. Rameses would be proud it's probably the greatest piece of artistic engineering since his day and immortalizes him for another 5000 years.

The whole tremendous statues and temples built into solid rock were lifted piece by piece and rebuilt into a huge hollow artificial mountain enclosing the mammoth machinery involved in the effort (a stadium within a mountain), the result so geologically and artistically perfect, it is as if the modern nations competed to match the genius of that ancient builder of monuments who designed them to last forever, come wars, desolation and Dark Ages - but not Aswan dams! One wonders about the ancient treasures lost forever beneath the far-reaching waters in the name of electricity and "progress." (New Mexico, take note.)

The Aswan dam has drowned everything way back into the Sudan. Even at Abu Simbel the huge lake continues south as far as the eye can see. Ecologically, you wonder what will happen. A lot has already.

Here the drifting sands are literally golden and both sky and water a blazing blue. No towns or villages in sight anywhere en route. The natives and their villages were moved elsewhere when the waters rose. I could feel the businessmen among us visualize marinas, Hilton Hotels and a million dune buggies rising triumphant on a new Miami Beach or Riviera! Along with the 65 foot Rameses statues, we had seen only a few mountain top ancient temples and Greek and Roman forts the entire distance. Not even a sail or fishing boat. Evidently the Russians are taking no chances. Somewhere in these vast spaces another army is supposed to be hiding and airports being built. One hears there is one near Cairo.

Republicans might be amused that despite Lyndon Johnson and his camel-driver, not one Arab or Egyptian seemed to recognize my western hat! Finally, walking down the hundreds of steps from the Aga Khan's beautiful new tomb, I met about 30 Russians (usually very serious) walking up. They were in the open air and quite gay. I got a rounding ovation of "Hi, Texas!"

It was a fabulous trip, but, if anyone ever tells you (as we were advised) that upper Egypt (which is very far south) is warm in December, pack your long-handles - the temperature was about 40 degrees in the morning and sometimes rose to 60 degrees at noon. We froze day and night because most of the hotels were underheated. Had to wear layers of summer clothes and run a lot.

If modern civilization ever blows up and we go back to the Dark Ages, survivors ought to go to Egypt. Everything anyone needs to know to start up again is carved on subterranean walls - from ship-building, fishing, poultry-raising, planting, harvesting, weaving, calving, building, wine and beer making, cooking, child bearing, operating - all very explicit - hundreds of miles of both pictures and writing. It was almost as if the Old Kingdom had this in mind! Certainly, the New Kingdom had no difficulty in picking up where they left off after more than 700 years of comparative darkness.

Montoya boosts San Miguel

U. S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., is seeking to have the historical village of San Miguel del Vado designated as a national monument as a means of boosting tourism and preserving some early New Mexico history.

Sen. Montoya has written Gov. Bruce King, asking that he look into the idea with the ultimate goal of requesting the National Park Service to designate the village as a national monument.

Designation of the once-bustling Mexican port-of-entry could result in the federal government purchasing most of the village properties, restoring them, and operating the village as a tourist attraction.

"San Miguel came into prominence back in 1822 when the wagon trains began rolling westward through the territory," Sen. Montoya said. "The wagon trains were funneled through San Miguel because of the easy crossing of the Pecos River at that point."

Earlier, the state asked that the federal government designate the village as a historical site. However, this designation would only result in a road marker and a listing in the historical register.

El Paso Natural donates radio

By Linda Caldwell

El Paso Natural Gas Company has donated a two-way radio to the village of Corona. Lack of such a unit had made it impossible for the Rescue Unit to communicate with police or hospitals while carrying out its jobs.

According to Byron Yancey, Corona volunteer fireman, rescue workers can now call for help or notify hospital so their coming. The two-way radio is on the same frequency as the police out of Carrizozo and the Albuquerque rescue units. Jim Wise, Senior Communications Technician at Lincoln Station, installed the unit.

Shower for Lori Tarpley

Miss Lori Tarpley, bride-elect of William R. Tyree, was entertained at a bridal shower last Sunday. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Emery-Owen, Mrs. Myron-Yancey, and Mrs. John Tracey.

Miss Tarpley is the daughter of Mrs. Virginia Tarpley of Albuquerque and Mr. Lake Tarpley of Vaughn. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tyree Jr. of Corona are the grooms' parents.

Wedding vows will be exchanged Sunday in Christ Methodist Church in Albuquerque.

Mrs. Eunice McKibben Dies
Mrs. Eunice McKibben died Saturday morning in Lovington. She was the mother of Wayne McKibben who formerly lived at Lincoln Compressor Station.

G. C. Brown of Corona has returned to his home after a 10 day stay in the Carrizozo Hospital.

Extension Club invites all former members

The Corona Extension Club will celebrate its 30th anniversary at the regular meeting February 24th in the Recreation Room. Susan Huey and Lucille Penix will be hostesses for the covered dish luncheon. A special invitation is extended to all former members and especially to charter members and past presidents of the club.

Johnnie Bond and Neria Stratton will present the program, "Bread Making the Modern Way." The program will of necessity start promptly at 10:30 in order to get the bread started before the noon hour.

In the afternoon, while the bread is rising, Lucy Lueras will demonstrate how to make flour tortillas. This should be very interesting and something to look forward to seeing.

Cardinals beat Cuba and AIS

Corona varsity basketball team won both games last weekend. Cuba fell to the Cardinals 67-51, and Albuquerque Indian School lost to Corona 99-50.

The team will play Magdalena next Friday at Corona and Vaughn on Saturday in Vaughn. These will be the last games before the district Tournament February 25-26.

Corona junior high will play Moriarty on Tuesday and the eighth grade will play in the Santa Rosa tournament this weekend. These will be their last games of the season.

Corona News

Earl Porter was here over the weekend to visit his sister, Mrs. Floyd Proctor and family.

The Larry Sharps are spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sharp and the Wayne Tubbs. Larry and family live at Milan.

G. C. Brown was home for a few days but returned to the Carrizozo hospital on Sunday. Drop him a card there.

Mrs. W. A. Smith was called to Longmont, Colo. by the death of her brother, Frank Tonkinson. She was accompanied by her sister, and by a daughter, Mrs. E. H. McCloud Jr., and by her sons, Frank and Leon for the services which were held Monday.

Mrs. Mary Gillett Hancock, formerly of Corona, and William A. Winder of Deming were recently wed in El Paso. After a wedding trip to Denmark, Greece, and Africa, the couple will be at home in Deming where Mr. Winder has ranching interests.

Wise transferred to Tucson

Jim Wise, Senior Communications Technician at El Paso Natural Gas Lincoln Compressor Station has been notified of his transfer to Tucson in the near future.

He will continue to work in a similar capacity at Tucson where he will be responsible for the maintenance of all EPNG communications systems from Gila Bend to Benson, Arizona.

Jim, wife Janice, and children Carl, Timmy, and Nonie have lived at Lincoln Station for over five years. They are active in Corona Church of Christ and Janice also participates in activities of Corona Schools Parents Work Committee.

Mrs. Wise was honored at a farewell tea last

Jackie Spencer featured in "Highlights"

A new publication intended as an information newsletter to all staff and to those friends of the New Mexico Department of Corrections interested in the prevention and treatment of crime and delinquency - features Mrs. A. N. "Jackie" Spencer in its January issue, and with good reason.

Mrs. Spencer is secretary and member of the Corrections Commission and has contributed much of her time, as well as considerable money, in the cause of prevention of crime and delinquency since 1966 when she first became a member of the Board of Trustees of the N. M. Boys' School at Springer.

The feature article in "Highlights" follows.

Commission Highlights - Mrs. A. N. Spencer Commission member Mrs. A. N. (Jackie) Spencer was born in Kansas City, Missouri, on June 19th, 1925. Her family moved to Denver, Colorado, in 1938 where she attended public schools. She is a graduate of Connecticut College for Women in New London, Connecticut, receiving a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Philosophy.

In 1948 she married Hugh Bancroft, Jr., and moved to Capitan, New Mexico, to live as a rancher's wife. Her husband died of cancer in 1953 leaving her with three children and a cattle ranch. She married Dr. A. N. Spencer in 1954 and moved to Carrizozo where she now resides.

She loves to work with children and has spent many active hours with Cub Scouts, Brownie Scouts, and 4-H Clubs. She initiated and still sponsors a Ski Club at the Carrizozo High School. At the request of the local police, she helped establish a recreation club for boys to keep them off the streets at night. In 1967 she and her husband gave the town of Carrizozo a badly needed $250,000 bowling alley and community recreation center.

"Jackie" has always enjoyed working in community improvement organizations. She has been a member of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, is a past president of the Carrizozo Women's Club and is a member of the Carrizozo Recreation Commission. She served as Secretary of the Carrizozo Municipal Schools from 1963 to 1966, and has been Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital for the past five years.

In 1966 Governor David F. Cargo appointed her to the Board of Trustees of the New Mexico Boys' School at Springer. She served as Vice-Chairman of this Board until the Department of Corrections was formed July of 1969.

While on the Board of the New Mexico Boys' School, was instrumental in construction of a $100,000 Trades Building on the Boys' School campus, and donated a 45 passenger bus, color television sets, wall to wall carpeting, carpentry and lapidary equipment, and a cable television receiving equipment to the Camp Sierra Blanca Juvenile Forestry Camp, satellite of the Boys' School. Outside the Department, she has been the principal financial sponsor for a half-way house for juveniles in Albuquerque (Casa Hogar Inc.), and a major sponsor of a residential treatment program for youth in Las Cruces (Council for Youth).

Jackie has not confined her interests solely to youth work. Her past experience also includes working for a year and a half with the Seventh Step Foundation, where she purchased a home for use as a half-way house for ex-inmates. Similarly, she is a member of the New Mexico Council of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, and in the fall of 1970 was awarded an unprecedented "Life" membership in the New Mexico Corrections Association for her contributions.

Concerning her membership on the Corrections Commission where she serves as Secretary, Mrs. Spencer states as follows: "I consider it a privilege and an honor to be allowed to serve as a Commissioner of the Department of Corrections in New Mexico," she says, "and I will do all in my power not only to effectively support the already fine work done by so many dedicated people, but also to work diligently to promote more harmony and strength in direction of the total departmental effort to help bring about the development of the most outstanding program of any group, anywhere, in this noble field of human endeavour."

Track shorts get shorter

Carrizozo Booster Club members have received information that the school does not have funds to finance a track program this spring and as of now there will be none.

Club members are asked to meet at the Rec Center Saturday, February 19, at 12 noon to discuss the situation and see if the club wants to raise sufficient money to help the school put on a track program this year.

In past years the Grizzly relays have been one of the big events on the school calendar and the Grizzly track squad has participated in several other meets.

Payne appointed town attorney

The Carrizozo Town Council met in regular session last week with two jobs to do brought about by the death of Alfred Jones who had been town attorney for many years.

Atty. Bill Payne resigned his position as magistrate and was appointed as town attorney. Lloyd Kirkpatrick was appointed to the magistrate position.

The council will open bids today for drilling of water well to supply the recreation facility which will be constructed in the near future.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Johnson Stearns, Councilmen Duff May and Vernon Petty, Payne, Kirkpatrick, Clerk Nellie Lee Baker and Friday Sherrill.

By the time these two friends of Alma Hobbs of Glencoe are four months old they will be started on their life's work, that of treading coon and bear. The pups are part of a litter of seven, raised by George, Alma's husband, who hunts with the half-bloodhound and half-coondog mix. Alma said they sure get around good for their age.

Runnels' Rep. here today

Dud Dudley, an area representative from Congressman Harold Runnels' area office in Las Cruces will be in Carrizozo from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., Thursday, February 17, to meet with residents of the Carrizozo area.

Persons having messages they wish to convey to the Congressman, questions they desire to ask, or matters they wish to take up with Mr. Dudley, are invited to contact him in the judge's chambers at the Lincoln County Courthouse during those hours.

Oktoberfest Meeting in Tularosa

The first meeting of the Cowboy Oktoberfest group in 1972 will be held February 21 at the Dew-drop Inn, 12 noon, in Tularosa. Dick Mound of Ruidoso, secretary, has called the meeting.

Be sure you read Jack Higgins comments and ideas on liquor licensing in New Mexico. Seems to us Jack is real right.

Roman Nunez of Picacho is out getting soundings on a possible campaign as county commissioner from District 1 in Lincoln County. He has four years previous experience as commissioner. As of this day, Roman is the first possible candidate we know about for any office.

Jim Ham has more projects going than you can shake a dowsing rod at. He will drill the two water wells, contracted by Dutch Cox, for the Town of Carrizozo, and then on May 16 is going to marry Irene Wilson of Pryor, Oklahoma. Sure wish Jim lots of luck with his drilling and much happiness with his bride-to-be.

Lots of visitors in the News office recently. Bob Wilson of Clayton stopped Tuesday on his way to Ruidoso to see Lee Wimberly. Bob sold the Blue Front Ranch in Union County to Lee many years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Voshell of Bucklin, on their way home from Tucson, stopped in Monday. Clyde has been mayor of Bucklin for 20 years, his wife says he is not going to run again. Farmers been doing rather well in Ford County, Kansas according to Clyde.

Everyone reads the Lincoln County News but not all those same people read The National Observer so we need to tell you what the Observer says about our winter weather. Main reason for such fluky weather over most of the United States, two storms in Lincoln County and the rest beautiful - is that the jet stream that normally runs along the Canadian border has slipped way south until it crosses about over Dimmit Bond's ranch house and then cuts back north. Such things as winter vegetables maturing too fast, lilacs blooming in January, snow in Little Rick, Yuma down to 51.5, 54 inches of snow in Washington - those kind of things have made the 1972 winter unusual.

By the by, the jet stream is a meandering current of high-speed winds several miles above the earth. w-w

Don't know why they are making such a fuss about wire tapping - just like it was something new. We had it years ago, but then it was called a party line.

The up-to-date idea of roughing it is to have to sleep without an electric blanket.

This would be a fine world if all men showed as much patience all the time as they do when waiting for a fish to bite.

We check around with the most reliable sources - O Bar O ranch has not been sold.

Also check around on another - it's only partially true that Earl Fenter plans to throw a big free barbecue for all the people who vote for him. He going to throw it alright, but you bring your own barbs and ques.

Bill Edwards, former Clouderoft editor now Spanish editor with Laredo Times, has cold remedies - stock up on prune juice and bubble gum. These two remedies keep various parts of your body so busy you never get real cold.

Wonder what your town is worth? State bulletin gives these municipal assessed valuations: Capitan 954,823, Carrizozo 1,004,448, Clouderoft 1,576,674, Corona 200,948, Ruidoso 6,852,069, R. Downs 900,000. Floyd would be the cheapest buy, assessed at 53,430.

Scabies found in Lincoln County

By County Agent Ralph Dunlap: Plan to attend the Feeders Day and Cattle Growers Short Course at New Mexico State University February 21st and 22nd. The Feeders Day Monday morning, will have reports on feedlot performance of crossbred and straight bred cattle and the nutritive value of fertilized Blue Grama.

Crossbreeding, herbicide toxicity and beef outlook will be among the topics discussed at the Cattle Growers Short Course on Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

R-R-D Cattle scabies has been found in Lincoln County. Cattle owners must have their entire herd inspected by a state or federal inspector, before they can move any cattle. This is being done so that if any cattle have scabies it can be found before it spreads. The Federal quarantine includes Lincoln, Guadalupe, Torrance and Harding counties. The effects of the quarantine are:

1. All known scabies infected cattle require two official treatments in toxaphene solution.
2. All exposed cattle one treatment.
3. Inspection of all herds in county.

(a) Interstate movement of any cattle from

Lincoln County News, February 17, 1972, Page 8 the county required inspection of the animals to be moved and a one time herd inspection before movement.

(b) Inspection can be performed by a federal or state inspector (official federal inspection forms or state inspection forms) to be used - Form 251.

4. When all herds in county have been treated if they are exposed or infected, and when non-infected or non-exposed herds have been inspected with no further outbreaks of scab, the quarantine will be released.

If you notice an abnormal scratching, itching and loss of hair in your cattle, let the livestock inspector or County Agent know. There is also quarantine on cattle entering New Mexico from Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Kansas and Georgia. Cattle from these states must be sprayed or dipped with 0.5 percent toxaphene solution within 10 days prior to entry.
