

What's wrong with cowboys

(Way of the West this week is written by Tony Payton, sometimes visitor from Nevada who is once again filling in for his father). One of the best originals overheard in Carrizozo this week was what a cowboy was saying to a city dude: "You're just like Duane Thomas, you don't like the Cowboys either." Think about that one . . . St. Patrick's Day this weekend is, among other things, about my third most favorite holiday (following, in order, Ground Hog Day and Election Day). I mean, like, St. Patrick's didn't use to be that high on my list until The Church several years ago decided Patrick wasn't a saint after all. Now one can celebrate, perhaps, in the mood of one going to a casket party—and you know what those are like. An ad in this week's issue of the News says the Republican U. S. Senate candidate, Pete Domenici will be in Carrizozo Friday as guest of honor at a little function at the Four Winds from 1 to 2 p.m. I suppose that this is slightly more than newsworthy, particularly in light of the fact that some of the state's political pundits are now casting Pete as the frontrunner, not only for his party's nomination, but to take all the marbles. Like the old saying, "if the election were tomorrow, for whom would you vote." Apparently, if it were tomorrow, he would be the next senator from New Mexico . . . Speaking of politics, today's word to the wise is: Watch out for Presidential candidate Henry Jackson, senator from Washington. He's a comer . . . The most interesting tidbit of wisdom picked up from reading the big city newspapers this week was the results of a survey that shows that while blonds have loads of fun, redheads have even more . . . The question of the week: I wonder what the national surveys would show about professional sports followings now that football season is completely out of the picture and its baseball's turn? . . . One, too, likes to wonder what folks back east and in the big cities of the west would say if their kids had to be bussed as far as some of those are in Lincoln County. Some rural kids here in New Mexico are known to have to ride as far as 50 miles one-way to school each day . . . In fact, one superintendent here in New Mexico—in a district that has about 40 percent of its students bussed more than half an hour—is considering a scheduled class aboard the busses, perhaps with a closed circuit television, or something . . . The latest thing in horse racing is not, as folks in southern New Mexico would like to think, quarterhorse racing, but, so they say, appaloosa racing. It's already catching on big in California . . . Two primary results of the current lengthy dry spell: skiing has gone to pot and prognosticators are already saying we're in for a drought as severe as last year's. Neither of these are particularly joyful prospects.

Carrizozo students lead NMSU livestock judging team win

New Mexico State University's Intercollegiate Judging Team, which includes two Carrizozo students registered its third straight victory in national and regional competition by winning last week's Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Livestock Judging Contest.

Earlier this academic year, the team won the Grand National competition at San Francisco and the Carload Judging Contest at the National Western Stock Show in Denver.

Competing against 14 other regional collegiate teams, the NMSU students took top honors overall and first in cattle, sheep and horse judging.

The university's team garnered a total of 4,100 points followed by Tarleton State, 4,014; West Texas State, 4,011; Panhandle State, 3,981; and Texas Tech, 3,918.

Gordon Barham and Danny Knight, both of Carrizozo, won second and fourth place overall individual honors respectively.

The NMSU team is composed of Barham and Knight, Carrizozo; Wesley Grau, Grady; James Duffey, Lovington; Nick Cortese, Fort Sumner; Larry Roberts, Aztec; and Mike Casabonne, Hope.

Booster Club benefit bowling Tourney Saturday

A benefit bowling tournament is slated at the Carrizozo Recreation Center Saturday afternoon and evening.

The tourney, sponsored by the Grizzlies Booster Club, is to benefit the high school athletic club.

The handicap event, with a $10 entry fee, is to be run in three shifts, at 5, 7 and 9 p.m.

In addition, an enchilada supper, hosted by the booster club members, will be served. The price is $1.50 per plate.

Zozo to host music meeting

Carrizozo next weekend will host the Rio Grande Gospel Singing Convention, to which some 150 singers and musicians are expected to attend.

Singing groups from Portales, Albuquerque, Alamogordo, Roswell, Las Cruces, Capitan, Mountainair and Silver City, as well as other New Mexico cities, are expected here for the two-day event, as are groups from Plainview, Floydada and Lockney, Texas.

The convention is a semi-annual event which has, in past years, been performed in numerous cities in southern New Mexico. The current president is Clyde Powell, of Alamogordo. Evelyn Seay, of Carrizozo, is secretary-treasurer.

The convention begins at 2 p.m. March 25 with singing by various groups until 4 p.m. After a supper break, singing resumes at 7 p.m. with class performances and special numbers.

On Sunday the singing begins at 9:45 a.m. until noon. There will be a basket-lunch and fellowship during the noon break, with singing again slated from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Federal grant for Zozo schools

Carrizozo Municipal School District has received more than $3,700 from the federal government's "impacted aid grant" fund.

The grant was announced last week by senator Joe Montoya.

Superintendent Jimmy Steinpreis explained that Carrizozo schools have some 58 students whose parents are employees of the federal government or are ranchers with more than 50 percent of their land leased from the government.

The payments to the district are made to offset income that would ordinarily be coming from local property taxes. Federal property is not subject to local property taxes which are used to finance the local district.

Steinpreis said that of the 58 children classified as "B-type students," the majority of them are from families employed at the northern end of White Sands Missile Range. Almost all of the rest of the "B-types" are from ranching families.

The superintendent said the exact amount received for the current year was $3,723. He added that the district has also already received the funding for next year, which totals $3,648.

Carrizozo's school district is only one of many throughout the state receiving funding for impacted aid. The largest amount went to the Gallup-McKinley School District, which received nearly $2 million.

New faces expected

Candidates 'fish or cut bait' in 20 days

Its only 20 days until potential Lincoln County political candidates will be faced with the proverbial "fish or cut bait."

For an eight-hour period on April 4 candidates for the county's eight elective offices must file their petitions of candidacy, along with a wallet-socking filing fee.

Only one of the county's eight current office holders is eligible to seek re-election, so filing day at the courthouse obviously will produce a number of new faces.

County treasurer Mabel Vigil is the only incumbent serving a first two-year term in office and is eligible to run for one more term. The other seven will be stepping aside at the end of the year.

At this time, almost three weeks before filing day, candidates have already announced for seven of the eight offices. The announcements at this time have produced only one contested office, while one other office still is without a candidate.

Two men have announced they will seek election to the county commissioner's district one seat to replace current commissioner Charles Jones, of Capitan. The candidates are Republican Ercoso Salcido, of Hondo, and Democrat Walt Jones, of Capitan.

On the other hand, no one has yet publicly announced they will run for the commissioner's district two seat, which is currently held by Willis Holt Lovelace, of Corona, a Republican. The other county offices slack up like this:

County commissioner district three: Don D. Stark, a Republican from Ruidoso, is the current office-holder, but cannot run again. Leland Stone, an attorney that lives at Alto, has announced he will be a candidate. He is a Republican.

County clerk: Alice King, a Republican, is the current office-holder, but cannot run for reelection. Her office deputy, Barbara Lovelace, has announced she will run for the office. She, too, is a Republican.

County assessor: The current office-holder, Republican Marian Schlarb, cannot run again, but her office deputy, Julia Samora, also a Republican, will be seeking election to the office. Sheriff: incumbent Ernest S. Sanchez, a Republican from San Patricio, cannot run again, but deputy sheriff Leandro Vega Jr., a Carrizozo Republican, will run for the office.

Probate judge: Republican Ken Nosker, of Glencoe, is in office now, but cannot seek reelection. Already announced as a candidate is Carrizozo Democrat Austin Wooten.

Candidates for office must be a member of their political party for one year prior to the April 4 filing date, the county clerk explained. The filing fee is six percent of the first year's salary for the office sought.

Mine access road results in fine

James C. Rayburne of Alvarado, Texas, and Carrizozo, was found guilty in U. S. Magistrate Court in Alamogordo on March 11, of violating National Forest regulations. He was fined $50 by Judge Thomas Sandenaw for constructing and maintaining a mining access road on the Smokey Bear Ranger District without a permit. Mr. Rayburne is employed by Robert B. Means, Jr. of Carrizozo, claimant of the Means Group Mining Claims in the Jicarilla Mountains.

Unauthorized construction of roads for prospecting and dubious mining ventures has been a problem on the Smokey Bear Ranger District for many years, according to a statement made by District Ranger Tom Goodrich.

Apparent suicide Tuesday night

The body of J. C. Hutchinson was discovered behind the Wheeler residence at Lava Vista Courts around 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and death by self-inflicted gun shot was estimated to have occurred at 7:30 p.m.

A. N. Spencer, coroner, was called and came to the scene. He requested an autopsy, which was performed at Chapel of Roses Mortuary. Hutchinson was shot in the right temple by a 22-short pistol. Age not known.

Luciano doing his best

A fire of unknown origin broke out Friday in adobe on East Central belonging to Mrs. Vincent Reil. First fire fighter on the scene was neighbor

Luciano Gallegos using garden hose and not much of a stream but he was helping. Fire Department came along shortly to finish the job.

Mrs. Lemon recalls history

Early days of White Oaks Church

By Mrs. R. E. Lemon
I feel quite honored and very humble on this occasion to tell the story of early history and of my work in this church. I do not recall anything outstanding, just one of the many others doing the work of the church. It has been so long ago, many of the things are rather dim in my memory.

When we had our dedication short time ago, the Bishop's wife and I were going over the old church record, the time her grandfather was Pastor in White Oaks we found the record of my baptism by him. This was a surprise to me as I do not remember my first recollection when I united with this church at age of 12 years in White Oaks, 76 years ago. I made one or two detours, but always got back on main highway.

Here I want to tell you, any good deeds or work I have done during these years, I give credit to my sainted mother, one of the most devoted Christians I ever knew.

Being the daughter of an English missionary from Church of England to San Juan Islands. She was raised and taught the strict principals of Christian religion. These truths she kept all her life and taught her children.

My mother played the old fashioned accordion and had a very sweet voice. How well I remember the many evenings in our home when we three, my brother Jim, my sister May, Ellyn

Molly and myself would gather around her. She would tell us stories of the Bible and we would sing such sweet old songs as, "Jesus Loves Me - I Think When I Read That Sweet Story Of Old - Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross", many others.

My first real work in the church was teaching Primary Sunday School Class, soon after uniting with the church. I'm sure some of you remember the little cards. A beautiful picture in colors on front relating to the lesson, on the back was the Bible story, which you told - (not read) to children, and 3 or 4 questions they must answer from the story. Quite different from todays, literature, was very interesting and I loved

17 ZoZo girls at FHA meet

Future Homemakers of America held their annual state convention March 10 and 11 in Albuquerque. Seventeen chapter members attended from Carrizozo accompanied by two mothers and their advisor.

A very interesting and informational talk was given by Dr. Clifton on making the most of one's individuality - each person has his own private "drummer" and he goes through like-keeping time to this "drummer." The important thing is to grow to greater heights as we "do our own thing in time to our private drummer."

Another highlight of the meeting was a beautiful skit on today's life portrayed against the background of "Desikarate."

Those attending from Carrizozo were Mary Ann Padilla, Rosie Portio, Carla Stueville, Lisa Zumwalt, Cheryl Johnson, Lynn Steinpreis, Kathy McBride, LeAnne Straley, Carol Harkey and Nancy Dorsey.

They had the nucleus of the house built and are still working on it, themselves finishing it up. They have beautiful views through the many windows in every direction, and are surrounded by cedars and pinon trees and rainiers. Beautiful!

The Boylans sent hellos to their friends here. They are very happy in their location and I

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Know what happens to you, Lib, when you indulge in too much work and precious little play? Of course you know. You are dull, dull, dull. And snobby, too. Watch this tendency in week ahead. Before fifth day, treat yourself to an emotional goody. Follow Olga's advice and you wind up the week with a giggle.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Weak ahead could be a real-dandy, Scorpio. One who cares deeply for you wants to give. You must know that on certain occasions it is more blessed to receive than to give, contrary to popular opinion. Before end of last day, coded message arrives. Study carefully. Week ends brightly.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Slow down in week ahead, Sag. In fact, turn off your motor completely. A tiny rest will improve your physical health and your mental disposition considerably. Should message arrive from old flame (whose name you do not instantly recall) don't stir up old ashes. They may still be warm. On last day you communicate with gestures, not words.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): In week ahead, you experience great feeling of depth concerning relationship with close friend. Memories may plunge you into depression concerning past error in judgment. If so, chase the blues away with anything handy. By fifth day, the sun shines and your skies brighten. Last day a singeroo.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Now see here, Aquari, you simply MUST stop ramming around town looking for trouble. Suppose you find it. What then? As week draws to a close, new romance could throw you for a loop. So go ahead and loop-de-loop. And happy landings!

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Hang on, Pisces honey. Week ahead will really challenge your ingenuity. You've been wondering, perhaps, how far you can go before getting caught in a sea of matrimony. Well, in week ahead, you'll have your chance to find out. Olga wishes you luck. You're going to need it.

Beta Sigma Phi meets with Mrs. John Tracey

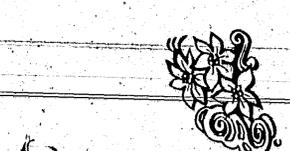

Xi Beta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. John Tracey on March 6, 1972. Mrs. Tommy Tyree presented the program, "Pictures and Mirrors" from the book, "The Home We Make."

Mrs. Tyree said that there are two important accents in a room, the pictures and mirrors on the walls. The frames relieve the monotony of wall surfaces. Both look best when perfectly flat against the wall and at eye level. To make them art of their surroundings, the frames should pick up some of the qualities of color and light already in the room, preferably accenting these colors. She said that any picture that you liked was a good picture for you to use in your decor.

Fifteen cindermen turned out this week for practice with Carrizozo High School's track team.

The team went through "semi-formal" workouts last week, before starting in earnest this week in preparation for the season opener next weekend at Melrose.

Coach Roger St. Louis said yesterday the Grizzly track and field team "should be pretty strong this year."

The 1972 spring team is following one of Zozo's strongest contingents. Last year the Grizzlies finished second in district and went on to tie for sixth place in the state meet.

St. Louis said he has high hopes for the 440 and 880 yard relay teams this year. Returning this spring are Willie Gallegos and David Roper, both sprinters on the baton teams that placed second in state in the quarter mile and fourth in state in the half mile event.

The coach said Rusty Leslie will be added to the crack sprint team, but that he is still looking for the fourth member.

In addition to the relay teams, distance runners Marcos Barela and Koen Hoff are both expected to score points for the Grizzlies this year. Both runners qualified for the state meet last year in the two-mile event. Barela won the district title, with Hoff finished second.

Another potential strong spot on the Zozo team is Matt Ellison in the 120-yard high hurdles. Ellison ran to a fourth place finish in the district meet last season.

The school's premiere hurdler, Paul Pino, who was second in district and fifth in state, is not out for track this year.

Following the season opener at Melrose March

25, the team will host the annual Grizzly Relays here April 1. Teams already scheduled to compete are last year's winner, Socorro, Cloudercroft, Capitan, Dexter, Ruidoso and Tatum. St. Louis said several other teams probably will be added to the field.

The schedule also calls for the Grizzlies to travel to Tatum April 15 and to the Rose Relays in Tularosa April 22. The district festival in Artesia is May 13, followed by the state meet in Albuquerque May 20.

So I took that job and one I kept until church was moved to Carrizozo.

One very interesting event, when Bro. Adams was Pastor, he was a big revival minister by name of L. L. Gladney came to do preaching. I was a great success, many who had not attended services for years came, at the close of the meeting and united with the church, among them 3 outstanding musicians, Mrs. Wingfield who took over the job as organist, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leighner (two sweet singers of Israel) several of our businessmen, who did not attend services regularly, always came when they heard Mr. Leighner was singing one of his deep bass solos, with Mrs. Leighner took over work with young people and also my organizing a choir which was very successful.

Next Brother Adams was so elated over the success, he came up with the suggestion, that we invite the District Conference to meet in White Oaks. After contacting the people regarding providing room an board for visitors, the response was so successful an invitation was sent and conference date set, and it was held with Bishop Morrison presiding.

The church prospered and grew until the day when mines closed and the big exodus began. Many, many leaving their beautiful homes for new location. Some came to Carrizozo even moving their houses here and soon became evident that our church would be moved to Carrizozo.

First few years was rather tough, finding a suitable place for services. We brought pulpit, and organ, few of benches. Here again I was against and taught girls class in Sunday School. Here today I find another one of my early day pupils Mrs. Rachel West. Time went by and many changes, some good, some not so good. We managed to keep things working. I served 4 or 5 years as S. School Supt., and taught young peoples class, and I find a few of my pupils, Agnes Hein, Alice King and Catherine Cornett still here. One other resident I often recall was when they opened a W.P.A. Camp for boys, here.

The man in charge, and his wife were very interested and attended our church. He told me there were many nice boys at the Camp and thought they would be interested to attend S. School. I was invited to Camp for dinner one Sunday to talk with the boys. I told them of our young peoples class, and if they had no other church affiliations. They might be interested, I invited any who cared to come. The next Sunday I was amazed when about 20 of them showed up, not all continued to come. Some did and were always present, 2 or 3 of them are still around, married to our local girls and still living here.

A little later Frances Spencer came to me, said she wanted to do something to keep with the young people. I thought, Oh here is a Supt., she thought she would rather work directly with young people. So took over the Young People Class. For several years long as her health would permit, she worked and did a wonderful job. Now I would like to add before closing. I am a charter member and Past Pres. of W.S.C.S. a side from being interested in Music Dept. and singing in Choir for many years, this closes the story of my Life in Church. If I have been helpful, or helped one soul along the way, I am truly thankful.

Rainbow Girls sporting green

To celebrate St. Patrick's Day, members of the order of Rainbow for girls from Carrizozo will be sporting green in the form of "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" tags as Carrizozo joins the rest of America in the third annual nationwide fund raising crusade - "Shamrocks for Dystrophy" Day - to benefit Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

In the spirit of St. Patrick, who performed many miraculous cures as well as chasing the snakes out of Ireland, these young women will be handing out green Shamrocks for Dystrophy tags.

Miss Lynn Steinepreis has been named Carrizozo Shamrocks for Dystrophy Chairman. She urges local residents to help put St. Patrick back into St. Patrick's Day, and give some green and watch it grow. The local Rainbow girls will be calling on Carrizozo residents for help in this cause on Sunday afternoon, March 19, from 3:00 to 4:00.

There will be a dance at the Fair Building Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Music will be by the Western Roundups.

There has been a new and elegant business sign placed on the property of The Branding Iron Saloon and Restaurant. It is neon, with red Branding Iron, Lounge and Steak House. It is outstanding.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw had their trees trimmed by a tree surgeon, from Roswell last week. They used heavy equipment to trim them. The new bank building is progressing nicely. The metal is being put on the new cafeteria.
The weather is helping them along with its warmth and beauty.

Be certain to watch. There is something new coming to Capitan. It is going to be very interesting.

Couple will reside in Canada

Trinity United Methodist Church in Carrizozo was the setting of the nuptial vows of Sharon Janice Smoot and Charles W. Letchworth on Feb. 26. Rev. Dan Wright officiated the double ring service.

The bride was decorated with two arrangements of white gladioli and seven point candelabra, trimmed with fern and large white bows.

Mrs. Robert Shafer served at the organ with traditional wedding music including "Theme From Love Story," "We've Only Just Begun," "Walk Hand in Hand," and "Wedding Prayer" among other selections.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dennis B. Smoot of Capitan and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Letchworth of San Diego, Calif.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white velvet trimmed with heavy embroidery. The gown featured a low round neckline and lantern sleeves. The bride fashioned her gown. A head piece of pearls and crystal held her midback length veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of hand-painted centerpieces by an orchid atop her Rainbow Bible.

Mrs. Preston Harper of Silver City, N.M., was her sister's Matron of Honor. Her gown was avacado velvet with bone embroidery styled identical to that of the bride. Her handpiece was a circle of white mums and greens.

Flower girl was Debra Kay Gallacher of Carrizozo, who is a cousin of the bride. Her gown was of the brides chosen colors also. She dropped petals from a basket of felt and satin bows.

Candle lighters were Timmy Curtiss and William Robert Shafer of Carrizozo who are friends of the family.

Bestman was Preston Harper of Silver City. Leland Jackson of Ancho and Gerald Posey of El Paso served as ushers.

Mrs. Smoot chose a two piece gold, double knit dress with "full length" sleeves and bone accessories. A white and avacado carnation corsage enhanced her dress.

The reception was held in the church's fellowship hall. The refreshment table was covered with a white lace trimmed cloth. An arrangement of white mums and fern centered the table flanked by avacado candles in double crystal holders. From one end a triple columned cake topped by a cluster of bells was served guests by Mrs. Gerald Posey of El Paso, Texas.

Lime punch was served by Miss Linda Moore from a crystal bowl from the opposite end of the table. Hand made mints and nuts completed the table setting. Mrs. Grace Long assisted with the courtesies.

A white crepe lace trimmed cloth covered the guest book table. It was complemented by a heart shaped red, white and pearl center piece. Registering the guests was Miss Becky Barham of Las Cruces, N. M. Net rice bags were furnished. These were displayed in a natural basket with avacado velvet trim. Eighty guests were registered, many from out of town.

For something old and borrowed the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother Mrs. John Purcell of Roswell. She wore a single pearl necklace which was a gift from the groom for something new. The traditional garter worn was made by the bride's mother of blue peacock feathers, satin and lace.
The bride chose a lavender sheath with lavender and gray plaid sleeveless coat of knit with an orchid corsage as her going away outfit. Her accessories were black.

The bride completed high school in Carrizozo where she was a member of the National Honor Society and active in many school organizations. She was in Rainbow for Girls and Sun Carnival Princess representing Carrizozo at El Paso, Texas in 1970. She also attended two years at ENMU, Portales and Roswell campuses. She was employed at the Citizens State Bank in Carrizozo.

The groom received his education in Wyoming and served in the U.S. Navy for four years. Both the bride and groom were recently employed at the Box K Ranch at Moran, Wyoming.

After a short wedding trip to El Paso, and Carlsbad Caverns the couple will leave for Williams Lake, B. C., Canada where the groom will join the Letchworth guest ranching business.

It was reported that a man who had seen the car months before had said that there was evidence the car had been stuck in the sand, and that a four-wheeled drive vehicle had pulled it back onto the road where it was left. Ups and Downs of '72 Tourney

By Frank Maestas,
Journal Sports Writer

The 1972 state tournament is history and now its time to pass out some of the honors of the three-day meet. As usual there were heroes, near heroes, and disappointments.

If we were passing out awards we'd pass out the following:

Best Class AAAA Player: Junior Melvin Baker of Gallup who does it all. Baker led his class in scoring with 65 points and 46 rebounds.

Best Class AAA Player: Bill Allen of Deming. Allen set a class record for most point in a single game with 37 against West Las Vegas in the opener. He finished with 76 points and led all rebounders with 50.

Best Class AA Player: Richard Crum of Kirtland Central averaged almost 20 points a game and it was his overall play in the opener against Cimarron that carried the Broncos to the upset.

The I Feel Sorry For Award: Also to Crum who had the misfortune to blowing a layup with no one within 20 feet of him that would have given his team the Class AA title. It came with five seconds left and his club one point behind. Runnerup: AHS for losing to Highland after beating the Hornets three times during the season.

Coming Through In The Clutch Award: Allen Sultemeier of Corona in a photo-finish over Jim Hart of Highland and Dick Pool of Deming. Sultemeier sank a pair of free throws with only three seconds showing to give the Cardinals a one-point victory over Mesa Vista. Hart sank six straight free throws in the last 1 1/2 minutes to keep Highland ahead of AHS. And Pool's free throw with three seconds showing gave Deming a one-point win over Portales.

Most Dissappointing Team: Cimarron.

Runnerup, Carlsbad (the Cavemen were No. 1 last year).

Comback Award: Corona, coming from 20 down to whip Mesa Vista. Runnerup: Deming for overtaking Portales' 17-point margin.

Most Surprising Team: Gallup, which stunned Carlsbad in the opener and followed that with a win over once-mighty Hobbs.

Boo-Boo Award: The New Mexico Sportswriters Assn. for its failure to name Bruce Hudson of Highland and Dick Pool of Deming to its all-tournament teams. Runnerup: Referee Billy Rapp who tagged Gallup Coach Larry Dunaway with a technical he didn't deserve.

The We'll Try Harder Award: The officiating in general.

The Small Town Innocence Award: To Class AA champion Reserve which wasn't aware it was entitled to cut down the nets.

Top Tournament Scorer: Larry Knowles of Portales who scored 88 points, 12 more than Bill Allen of Deming who was second.

Best Looking Cheerleaders: Silver City, Runnerup, Los Alamos.

Accuracy Award: The the Journal Board of Coaches who picked Hobbs, Portales and Cimarron as the state's top teams. The second place teams didn't win the tourney either.

It's the Season you'll be needing a Homelite Lawnmower!

Basketball season was fabulous for the Corona Cardinals

When one thinks back to early December 1971 and the start of the basketball season, it ended, and consider all the highly rated teams "that didn't make it" there is almost an end to the discussion, plenty of ifs, ands, and probably some argument, about why they didn't get there.

In December everyone picked Cimarron to be state champion, so they get knocked off but good in their first state tournament game with Kirtland Central. Cimarron is in District 1 along with a least four other teams that could have been in the state matchup with just a little luck.

Jojoaque with Art Serna the state's top scorer couldn't make it nor did any of the 13 teams in District 2.

The Corona Cardinals clearly dominated District 3, winning first place in four tournaments involving all or many of the Bean Valley teams. Of the 10 teams in District 3, Estancia gave the Cardinals a match on occasions but couldn't do it when the chips were really down.

District 4 is one of the small one with only seven teams but two of these got real hard to deal with before the season closed. Lordsburg beat Reserve a couple of times, both teams made to the state playoff, and Reserve went all the way to the top.

People in District 5 are used to seeing their teams play in the state tournament and thought they had several possibilities. Ruidoso swept the boards during the season, Carrizozo came on strong, Jal came on stronger, Euncie wasn't bad and Dexter played some tough ball. So what-Ruidoso didn't make it out of the district, and no team from District 5 made it out of the regionals so these people can start saying, "Wait until next year."

District 6 with nine teams has had some winners and produced a good prospect in Ft. Sumner this year. Lordsburg put them out of their misery in the first game of the state tournament.

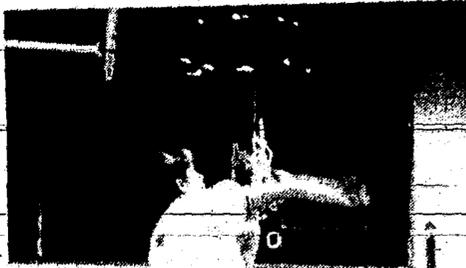

Santa Rosa was the powerhouse in small District 7, seven teams in all. Santa Rosa had the bad luck of drawing the soon-to-be state champion and Reserve cut short Santa Rosa's time in Albuquerque.

Lot of people do not know where Kirtland Central is. So happens it's out in Indian Country near Farmington and plays basketball in District 8 along with Laguna-Acoma, Navajo Mission, Rehoboth, Quemado, Zunithorgau, Tohatchi, Crown Point and Ramah. Hardly an Indian name on the Kirtland team. Kirtland-Central was one of the big surprises in the state tournament beating Cimarron and then Lordsburg before losing to Reserve in a one-pointer that could easily have gone the other way.

What team other than the Corona Cardinals won four tournaments during the basketball season just past? We don't know of any. It has been a wonderful year of basketball in and all around Corona.

What did it take to do all the kind of winning? Courage, skill, endurance, smart, sportsmanship, enjoyment of the game, good coaching - all those things were with the Cardinals.

Lincoln County is full of things we can be proud of - the Corona Cardinals are right up at the top of this list.

Tim Talley, Jimmy Stratton and Bobby Clouse get nets after Regional win.

Tournament a long time coming

Going to the State Basketball Tournament has been on the minds of the starting five players for a long time.

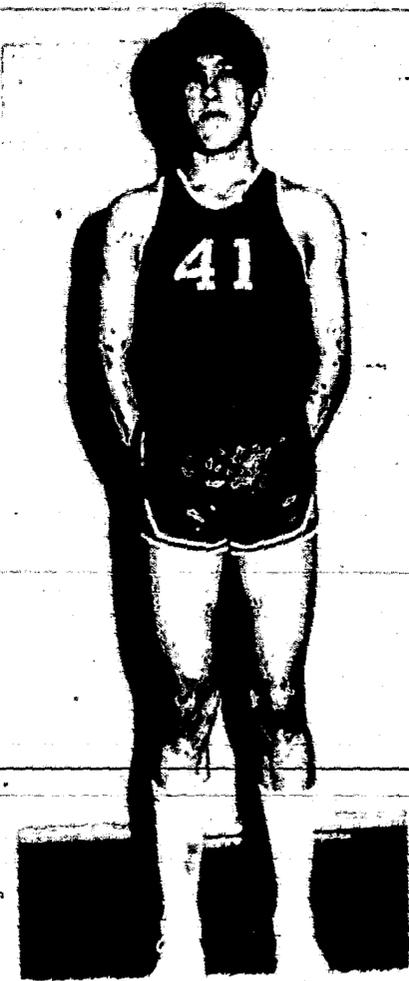

Miss Sherrill Perkins, fifth grade teacher at Corona, remembered the boys talking about going to state when they were in her class seven years ago. "We're going to go to state when we're seniors," they'd say, and then they'd spend all their play time with a basketball.

But the boys say their plans had been formed long before then when they were in first or second grade. Since way back then, David Brunson, Danny Lueras, Allen Sultemeier, Lincoln Sanchez, Joe Lueras, Richard Tenorio, and Tim Talley have been playing and dreaming together.

This year they made their dream come true.

Cardinals finish fourth in state

Corona Cardinals came home from the State Basketball Tournament last weekend with the fourth place in AA play. After defeating Mesa Vista on Thursday and losing to Reserve on Friday, the Cardinals played in the consolation game against Lordsburg on Saturday night.

Corona trailed throughout the game. Despite some good playing and close scoring during the first quarter, it was Lordsburg 16, Corona 11 at the end of the period.

Fouls plagued the Cardinals during the second quarter; Lincoln Sanchez, Richard Tenorio, and Danny Lueras each made three fouls in that period alone. David Brunson got two to add to the two he drew during the first quarter. Allen Sulzemeier and Robert Tenorio entered the game to replace Sanchez and Brunson, but the Cardinals just couldn't get the rebounds. It was 44-32, Lordsburg, at the half.

Brunson scored the first two points of the thjrd quarter. Again the Cardinals had trouble with rebounding, evidently for fear of fouling. Even so, Richard Tenorio fouled out and left Corona trailing 64-49 at the end of the period.

Rebounding seemed to improve during the last quarter, but Corona couldn't close the gap. Brunson fouled out with over two minutes left in the game. A series of fouls followed with Lordsburg winning 95-63. The loss put Corona in fourth place, Lordsburg third, Kirtland Central second, and Reserve first in the Class AA State Basketball Tournament.

FIRST ROUND

With only three seconds left in the game, Corona came from behind to defeat Mesa Vista, 62-61, in their first game of the State Basketball Tournament last Thursday. The necessary points came when Allen Sulzemeier made two free shots after being fouled.

First half of the game was all-Mesa Vista as Corona trailed by 10 points and more. It was 35-23, Mesa Vista, when the half ended. The Cardinals seemed to gain momentum during the third quarter; Richard Tenorio led his teammates with a "do or die" attitude as he battled for the ball. Joe Lueras repeated his performance at the regional tourney by coming up with a couple of fantastic two-pointers. Even so, Corona still trailed 51-39 at the end of the third period.

Turning point of the game was the beginning of the fourth quarter when Corona scored nine points before allowing Mesa Vista to hit the basket. With a 51-48 lead, Mesa Vista ran up the clock; but the Cardinals managed to close the gap to one point, 52-53. Lincoln Sanchez fouled out as the scored see-sawed to a 57-57 tie; then David Brunson made one of two free shots, bring Corona to a 58-57 lead. Mesa Vista regained the lead until the final seconds when Sulzemeier was fouled, made the two free shots, and won the game.

SEMI-FINALS

Corona lost to Reserve, 45-51 in the state semifinals Friday in Albuquerque. Corona led through three quarters, but a foul-filled fourth period soured the Cardinal drive.

Fouls riddled the Cardinals even in the first period of play as Lincoln Sanchez and Richard Tenorio received three each. Even so, Tenorio managed to make several important points to close the gap and eventually pull to a 13-11 lead when the buzzer sounded.

Corona moved farther ahead and held on. David Brunson and Danny Lueras led the scoring, and it was 26-21, Corona, at the half.

Reserve managed to close in to 26-25 during the first minute of third quarter see-saw game, brightened by some of Joe saw game, brightened by some of Joe Lueras razzle-dazzle shots. Corona again pulled out a five-point lead during the last seconds of the quarter and ended it with a 38-33 score.

Corona held its lead until David Brunson fouled out with 5:20 remaining in the ball game. With a 41-37 lead, it seemed that Corona would be in the finals, but Richard Tenorio, Lincoln Sanchez, and Allen Sulzemeier were fouled out. The Cardinal reserve until just couldn't seem to get it all together as Reserve moved ahead to the 51-45 win.

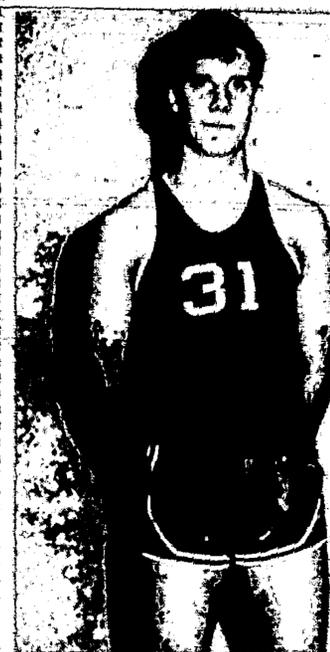

Brunson near top in scoring

The top scorer in the prep basketball race turned out to be Art Serna of Pojoaque, a team that did not make the state tournament. Second place in the scoring race went to Dick Hunsaker of Clovis, another team that did not make the state.

Just about a percentage point behind Hunsaker was David Brunson of Corona, No. 3 scorer for all teams playing basketball in New Mexico during the 1971-72 season. David's team was in the state tournament but this did not leave any way for him to move to the top.

Another Pojoaque player, Jerry Trujillo, won the scoring title last year. Blaine Miller of Ruidoso was in 19th place.

1. Art Serna	30	905	30.2
2. Dick Hunsaker, Clovis	26	741	28.5
3. David Brunson, Corona	28	759	27.1

Profiles of a winning cage team

Randall Burke, Corona Cardinal coach, has the experience necessary to put together a winning team. Before coming to Corona, he worked at San Antonio Academy in San Antonio, Texas, for 11 years. Burke also coached at Latexo and Trinity, Texas. He received a BS degree from Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas, and a M.Ed. from Sam Houston State in Huntsville, Texas.

The modest Burke gives credit to his boys, saying, "We wouldn't have made it without a great team effort." He admits that a 6'6" player helped, but the boys worked hard as a team and allowed one another to do their share of playing.

David Brunson, a senior is rated among the top scorers in the State. Son of Willis and Nettie Ann Brunson, David enjoys doing leathercraft. He is a member of the Student Council and C-Club and is "Mr. Corona High School." He plans to be a civil engineer.

Danny Lueras plans to attend Highlands University in Las Vegas after graduating from Corona. He is presently a member of Student Council and C-Club and likes leathercraft. He is the son of Ernest and Lucy-Lueras.

Allen Sultemeier is the son of Ernest and Allene Sultemeier. A senior, he enjoys riding and playing football as well as basketball.

Lincoln Sanchez enjoys track and football along with basketball. He plans to attend T.V.I. in Albuquerque after graduation next year. He is the son of Toby and Betty Sanchez.

Joe Lueras, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lueras. He plans to attend Highlands University in Las Vegas. He enjoys riding motorcycles, bowling and playing pool. Becoming a high school counselor is his goal.

Robert A. Clouse likes all sports and is a member of C-Club. A junior, he plans to join the Navy after graduation next year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Clouse.

Bernal Lueras is a senior who wishes to attend T.V.I. in Albuquerque. He likes to ride horses, swim and ride motorcycles. Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Lueras are his parents.

Richard Tenorio, son of Roman Tenorio and Mary Ann Tenorio, is a junior. He likes any sport that is active.

Jimmy Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stratton, enjoys horseback riding, rabbit raising and swimming. He plans to attend college and play football there.

Charles Lueras, a sophomore, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emiliano Lueras. He likes basketball and football and track.

Tim Talley, is a sophomore who likes all sports. He plans to attend college after graduation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Tournament play not new

Corona has a long history of basketball prowess. Longtime residents can remember the team going to state as long ago as 1932. The town has always been sports-minded, and several Corona residents were instrumental in the organization of the Bean Valley Conference in 1936. Since then,

Corona has won innumerable Bean Valley trophies. Other prominent events in Corona basketball history include district runner-up in 1952 and going to state as there was no regional competition at that time.

In 1955, the Cardinals were District 3B champs; in 1956, they were again District 3B champs and were runner-up in regional competition and went to state. Again in 1955, they were District 3B champs and Region 1 champs. In 1970 and 1971, Corona was District 3AA runner-up.

The Cardinals this year have capped their long history with a 25-6 season record. This included playing in the Estancia-Bean Valley, District 3AA and Region 1AA Tournaments and winning them all before going to the state tournament and winning fourth place there.

Many Thanks To Lot Of People The Lincoln County News staff is proud of its Corona reporter, Linda Caldwell, and we thank her for helping put the Champions

LINCOLN County News

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1972 VOLUME 66, NUMBER 12 P.O. DRAWER 459 CARRIZOZO, N. M. 88301

At county convention.

Five Demos announce for commission race

Five Lincoln County men announced last week they will be candidates for county commissioner in the Democratic Party primary election. The announcements came at the party's county convention last Wednesday evening in Carrizozo. At the county meeting, 12 members were named delegates to the party's state platform convention in Albuquerque at the end of this month.

The five announced Democratic candidates for county commissioner add up to one of the more hotly contested local elections in recent years in Lincoln County. Three Republicans have also indicated they will file for the commissioners' races.

For the district one commissioner's seat, Captain rancher, Walt Jones and Pecho rancher R. C. Nunez, a former commissioner, announced they would seek election to the post now held by fellow-Democrat Charles Jones, of Captain, who cannot succeed himself.

And, two Ruidoso men indicated they will be candidates for the district three commissioners' seat, which is currently held by Republican Don D. Stark, also of Ruidoso. Announcing their intentions to become candidates were real estate broker Bill Hart and Tom Jones, who was in the electric business in the Ruidoso area. Stark, too, cannot run again.

Announcing for the district two position was Sally Ortiz, of Carrizozo, who some years ago was sheriff in this county. He will run for the post being vacated by Willis Holt Lovelace, of Corona.

County Democratic chairman Fern Sawyer, of Nogal, said there were no candidates announcing for the five other courthouse offices—other than probate judge candidate Austin Wooten, of Carrizozo, who had announced his election plans earlier in the month. "We just haven't got anyone to run for these offices yet," Mrs. Sawyer said.

Local Democrats filled the commissioners' meeting room for the convention, at which the 12 delegates to the state conventions were named. The delegates are Mrs. Sawyer; county vice chairman, Rev. John Miner, of Ruidoso; R. C. Nunez; Cleo and Dale Dodd, of Ruidoso; Bill Payne, of Carrizozo; Welcolm Armstrong, of Carrizozo; and Georgia Harkey, of Nogal.

The delegation, headed by Mrs. Sawyer, is to attend the state platform convention in Albuquerque March 31 and April 1. And the same delegates were designated to attend the state party election convention June 21, also in Albuquerque.

Mrs. Sawyer said she believes all members of the Lincoln County delegation will go to the state election convention as uncommitted to any Presidential candidate.

Mrs. Sawyer added that she expects it will be extremely difficult for any real county delegates to win a place on New Mexico's state delegation to the national Democratic convention in Miami Beach. But she said she plans to attend the national meeting—as she has for a number of past conventions.

Also attending the convention were district judge Richard Stanley, of Alamogordo, who is a candidate for re-election to a six-year term to the post he now holds; another Otero Countyman, Page Carter, who is a candidate for the state House of Representatives in the 52nd district; and district attorney Norman Bloome, who is also running in the up-coming elections.

Sen. Montoya says economic development grant available

Up to $100,000 is "ready and waiting" to aid Carrizozo in its economic development program, according to a spokesman in the office of Senator Joseph Montoya.

The announcement by the senator follows a town meeting here several weeks ago where the economic development program was aired and direction was given by federal Economic Development Administration representative Chuck Garrett, of Austin, Texas.

The "near" approval of the federal money for Carrizozo was one of two grants announced by Montoya. The other is in Santa Fe.

The United Press reported from Washington, D. C. that Montoya said he was told by the EDA officials that preliminary approval of the two sites "practically insures final approval of the formal applications once submitted."

The senator's economic development liaison in the state, Jim Boyer, told this newspaper yesterday that he plans to be in Carrizozo in about four weeks to help local officials "keep the ball rolling."

Boyer, who also serves as Montoya's press officer in Albuquerque, said he expects to be here around the 12th or 13th of April and will bring with him several officials from so-called management firms—the type being studied for implementation into Carrizozo's industrial park.

Boyer explained that the grant now "nearly" available from the federal government, announced by the senator, includes $60,000 from EDA, as well as $20,000 from the Four-Corners Commission. Another $20,000 would be put up by the Town of Carrizozo.

He said the funding is available through what is referred to as the "eight-A" program, which "is tailor-made for towns like Carrizozo." The program is directed through the Small Business Administration.

Land for the proposed industrial park is owned by Joe West who will trade for a piece of land owned by the town, reserving only small area where his Cable TV tower now stand. The railroad spur runs right through this piece of land.

Of the three steps to an industrial park outlined by Garrett, the town has already gone through

Industrial development rides on chicken or egg theory

A good-sized crowd attended the town meeting in Carrizozo recently to hear discussion of possible industrial development and construction of industrial park.

The meeting was friendly, government people stated that they were here to help set up an industrial park, not to find reasons why such action should not be taken.

But, after a couple of hours of questions and answers, the situation on the part of Town of Carrizozo and government agencies who would be putting in money all boiled down to "What comes first, the chicken or the egg."

And by what comes first they mean that an industry will have to be secured, one that will sign a firm intent to locate in Carrizozo, before either the town or the government will make a move to establish an industrial park.

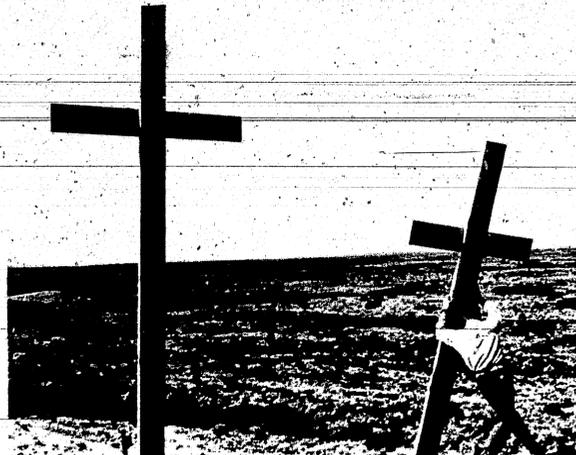

It seems rather logical that once such a park were established that other industries, maybe 10 to 50 employees, would come along.

Chuck Garrett, from the Austin regional office of the Economic Development Administration, told the group that the questions he would ask were intended to "find a way," but he was not long in making it clear that the EDA would not spend $60,000 on anything, and Mayor Johnson Stearns agreed that the Town of Carrizozo did not want to go that route.

Land for the proposed industrial park is owned by Joe West who will trade for a piece of land owned by the town, reserving only small area where his Cable TV tower now stand. The railroad spur runs right through this piece of land.

High on a hill . . .

THIS HILLTOP IN the Valley of Fire State Park west of Carrizozo will be the setting for the fifth annual sunrise celebration on Easter Sunday. Here, a 16-year-old youth raises the second of three crosses on Sunrise Hill. The "Four County Easter Sunrise Musical Drama" will begin at 6:06 a.m. April 2.

Four county choruses in Easter sunrise program

Chorus groups of young people from four southern New Mexico counties will participate in the fifth annual sunrise celebration at Valley of Fire State Park on Easter Sunday.

The singing groups will be from Lincoln, Chavez, Otero and Socorro Counties. This is twice the number of groups that participated in the colorful service last year.

Theme of the performance this year will be the same as last—"brotherhood in unity without uniformity," said Sunrise director chaplain Alfred Kline.

In addition to the choral performers, there will be instrumental music, as well as costumed players. Mr. Kline added that dressed in native attire, just below the three 16-foot crosses, will be pairs of Indian Americans, Japanese Americans, Black Americans, Mexican Americans and Anglo Americans.

Following the 40-minute dawn celebration, refreshments of coffee and donuts for 1,000 persons will be served. And, Mr. Kline said, an "open house for friends, neighbors and all visitors to the park" will be hosted by the chaplain and Mrs. Kline on the Saturday before Easter from 2 to 6 p.m. in their home on Outlook Hill overlooking Capitan.

The performance—touched off by the first ray of sunlight—will start with the Otero County chorus singing "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory. Other music in the program includes "Echoes of Glory," "Low in the Grave He Lay," "Up From the Grave He Arose" and "On a Hill Far Away."

In the event of inclement weather, the performance will be moved into the high school gym in Carrizozo.

Civilians stay put

Military moves out of Stallion

White Sands Missile Range officials announced today that military personnel will no longer be stationed at the W.S.M.R. Stallion Range Center near Socorro.

Effective April 1, the action affects 41 military personnel, including four officers and 37 soldiers. Elected personnel will be transferred to other activities on W.S.M.R.

With the transfer of troops from Stallion some facilities used for their support will also be closed. These include the mess hall, barracks, military security operations office and commissary, post exchange and NCO club annexes.

The facilities will be reverted to a stand-by status for future use as required.

The move, according to White Sands officials, will not affect 108 other Department of Army civilians and 104 contractor personnel now headquartered at Stallion and engaged in such activities as recovery, communications, and facilities engineering operations.

The main gate into the Stallion-Range-Center complex of U. S. Hwy. 380 47 miles west of Carrizozo will continue to be manned by military police during normal working hours. During non-working hours and non-duty days a soon-to-be erected gate will be kept locked.

Persons desiring entry will be required to call for the center care-lab for entry.

New brochure for Valley of Fire park

A new brochure publicizing Valley of Fire State Park has been published by the New Mexico Bureau of Mines in cooperation with the State Park and Recreation Commission.

Among the features in the new, two-color publication is a definition of the geology of the malpais, a classification of the plants and animals found in the park, the history of the black lava, as well as other tourists sites in the immediate area around Carrizozo.

The brochure calls the six-year-old park "A vivid example of some of the dynamic processes that have shaped the face of the earth."

Learning to read . . .

Scoop favored but HHH gets The marbles

(Way of the West column has, again this week, as its guest composer, regularly featured Paul Payton's number two son, Tony P., occasional southland visitor from Nevada.)

Getting the inside dope: Lincoln County's Democratic chairman—or is that chairwoman—Fern Sawyer, of Nogal, says she's high on Presidential hopeful Henry "Scoop" Jackson, the Washington senator. But, she adds, last time's standard-bearer Minnesota senator Hubert Humphrey will probably win her party's nomination in Miami. Until death do us part. Sunday was the final day of skiing at the last three areas still open in New Mexico—Sierra Blanca being one of them. And I liked the little story out of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., which said as some 50 persons watched, a paper snowman was burned in effigy in the middle of a tennis court on the Lake Superior State College campus Monday to mark the end of winter. . . . With appropriate notice: the regulars on the staff of the Lincoln County News were with shining faces this week. David LaFave is back in the fold. . . . Speaking of spring: folks around town say when an early springs comes—sort of an Indian summer in reverse—that we always pay for it later in terms of lousy weather. But it is getting awfully late to start snowing seriously. . . . For your calendars: racing starts at Ruidoso May 20, which is just 59 days from now. That, if anything, probably can signify the official start of the tourist season throughout Lincoln County. . . . On the other end: the All-American Futurity on Labor Day comes on Sept. 4 this year—making for a total tourist season of 107 days. Which probably is just about the right length of time in which to get tired of the out-of-louers-and-be plenty glad to get Lincoln County back for a while. . . . You meet the strangest peoples Monday evening at the Nike tavern this guy came in. He looked familiar, but just not familiar enough. After wondering for at least an hour-and-half, he finally comes over and says the usual opener: "Don't I know you from someplace." Sure enough, fellow classmate from Clayton High School Ronnie Street—now working for Lockheed at White Sands—was there hadn't seen him in 12 years. . . . In the big hotels in Nevada, one attending a show featuring a big name star can send free postcards to his friends. Two things are accomplished: the one being entertained can brag to his friends about what he's doing and, two, the casino gets the advertisement that covers one side of the card. Local folks there, however, make much fun and games out of sending such cards, but without signing them. One came to Carrizozo this week from someone—whomever it was—who was having a good time at Harrah's in Reno seeing Sergio Franchi on stage. . . . Have I recently recalled for faithful readers my long-standing opinion of national columnist Jack Anderson? Well, from past experience I figure that only about 40 percent of what's in his column can be believed. The other 60 percent shouldn't see the light of day because its either not of sufficient value to rate news coverage or, sometimes, it just out-and-out wrong. . . . A breather here and there; this probably won't happen too often in the next couple of months, but, to my knowledge, no state-wide political candidates are slated to pay visits to Carrizozo during the next seven-day period. . . . My traveling father, back from three days on the road to Ft. Stockton and Alpine, Texas, reports that Ft. Stockton and that part of the Lone Star State doesn't appear to amount to much; but that Alpine is something else—a nice town in nice surroundings. . . . The National Livestock and Meat Board reports that 25 years ago Americans spent six percent of their disposable (after taxes) income on meat. Today, they spend only five percent—yet Americans consume nearly 25 percent more meat per person now than then. There's something wrong with that and it likely isn't the ranchers. . . . Enough is always enough. Isn't it?

THE WAY OF THE WEST
